HENRY the Eighth, by the Grace of God, King of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and of the Church of England, and alſo of Ireland, In Earth the Supream Head, to the honour of Almighty God, and for the concord, quiet, and wealth of this Realm, and Subjects of the ſame, begun this third Seſſion of this moſt High Court of Parliament, at Weſtminſter, the fourteenth day of January, in the five and thirtieth year of his Majeſties moſt noble and victorious Reign, and there held and continued the ſame third Seſſion till the nine and twentieth day of March, in the ſaid Five and thirtieth year, wherein were eſtabliſhed theſe Acts following.

CAP. I.

An Act for the Eſtabliſhment of the Kings Succeſſion.

Crown, Raſt. 5. The Kings Succeſſion in the Crown.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the Eighth day of June, in the Eight and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt dread Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, an Act was had and made for the Eſtabliſhment of the Succeſſion of the Imperial Crown of this Realm of England; by which Act amongſt divers other things, it was enacted, That the Imperial Crown of this Realm, with all Dignities, Honours, Preheminences, Prerogatives, Authorities and Juriſdictions to the ſame annexed or belonging, ſhould be to the Kings Majeſty and his Heirs of his body lawfully begotten: that is to ſay, to the firſt Son of his body between his Highneſs and his then lawful Wife Queen Jane, now deceaſed, begotten, and to the Heirs of the body of the ſame firſt Son lawfully begotten. And for default of ſuch Heirs, then the ſecond Son of his Highneſs body, and of the body of the ſaid Queen Jane begotten, and to the Heirs of the body of the ſame ſecond Son begotten, with divers other limitations of the eſtates, conveyance, and remainders of the Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes.

In what ſort the Crown of England was entailed by the Statute of 28 H. 8. 7.

II. And it was alſo enacted further by the ſaid Statute, That for lack of Iſſue of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings body lawfully begotten: That then his Highneſs ſhould and might give, will, limit, aſſign, appoint, or diſpoſe the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes, to what perſon or perſons, and give the ſame perſon or perſons ſuch eſtate in the ſame, as it ſhould pleaſe his Majeſty, by his gracious Letters Patents under the Great Seal, or by his laſt Will in writing, Signed with his moſt gracious Hand, as by the ſame Act amongſt divers other things therein contained more at large it doth appear; (2) Sithen the making of this Act, the Kings Majeſty hath only Iſſue of his body lawfully begotten, betwixt his Highneſs and his ſaid late Wife Queen Jane, the noble and excellent Prince, Prince Edward, whom Almighty God long preſerve. (3) And alſo his Majeſty hath now of late, ſithen the death of the ſaid Queen Jane, taken to his Wife the moſt vertuous and gracious Lady Katherine, now Queen of England, late Wife of John Nevil, Knight, Lord Latimer deceaſed, by whom as yet his Majeſty hath none iſſue, but may have full well, when it ſhall pleaſe God. (4) And foraſmuch as our ſaid moſt dread Sovereign Lord the King, upon good and juſt grounds and cauſes, intendeth by Gods grace to make a voyage Royal, in his moſt Royal Perſon, into the Realm of France, againſt his ancient enemy the French King: (5) his Highneſs moſt prudently and wiſely conſidering and calling to his remembrance, how this Realm ſtandeth at this preſent time in the caſe of Succeſſion, and poiſing and weighing further with himſelf, the great truſt and confidence that his loving Subjects have had, and have in him, putting in his hands wholly the order and declaration of the Succeſſion of this Realm: (6) Recogniſing and knowledging alſo, that it is in the only pleaſure and will of Almighty God, how long his Highneſs or his ſaid entirely beloved Son Prince Edward ſhall live, and whether the ſaid Prince ſhall have Heirs of his Body lawfully begotten, or not, or whether his Highneſs ſhall have Heirs begotten and procreated between his Majeſty and his ſaid moſt dear and intirely beloved Wife Queen Katherine that now is, or any lawful Heirs and Iſſues hereafter of his own body begotten by any other his lawful Wife. (7) And albeit that the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, for default of ſuch Heirs as be inheritable by the ſaid Act, might by the authority of the ſaid Act give and diſpoſe the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes, by his Letters Patents under his Great Seal, or by his laſt Will in writing, ſigned with his moſt gracious Hand, to any perſon or perſons, of ſuch eſtate therein as ſhould pleaſe his Highneſs to limit and appoint: yet to the intent that his Majeſties diſpoſition and mind therein ſhould be openly declared and manifeſtly known, and notified as well to the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, as to all other his loving and obedient Subjects of this his Realm, to the intent that their aſſent and conſent might appear to concur with thus far as followeth of his Majeſties Declaration in this behalf: (8) His Majeſty therefore thinketh convenient, afore his departure beyond the Seas, that it be enacted by his Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, and therefore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid. That in caſe it ſhall happen the Kings Majeſty, and the ſaid excellent Prince his yet only Son Prince Edward, and Heir apparent, to deceaſe without Heir of either of their bodies lawfully begotten (as God defend) ſo that there be no ſuch Heir Male or Female of any of their two bodies, to have and inherit the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other his Dominions, according and in ſuch manner and form as in the foreſaid Act and now in this is declared: That then the ſaid Imperial Crown, and all other the premiſſes, ſhall be to the Lady Mary, the Kings Highneſs Daughter, and to the Heirs of the body of the ſame Lady Mary, lawfully begotten, with ſuch conditions as by his Higneſs ſhall be limited by his Letters Patents under his Great Seal, or by his Majeſties laſt Will in writing Signed with his gracious Hand. (9) And for default of ſuch iſſue, the ſaid Imperial Crown and other the premiſſes, ſhall be to the Lady Elizabeth, the Kings ſecond daughter, and to the Heirs of the body of the ſaid Lady Elizabeth, lawfully begotten, (10) with ſuch conditions, as by his Highneſs ſhall be limited by his Letters Patents under his Great Seal, or by his Majeſties laſt Will in writing, Signed with his gracious Hand; any thing in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid Eight and twentieth year of the ſaid Sovereign Lord, to the contrary of this Act notwithſtanding.

The Kings intended voyage into France.

If the King and Prince Edward ſhall die without heirs of either of their bodies, then the Crown ſhall remain to the Lady Mary, &c.

The remainder to the Lacy Elizabeth.

III. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the Lady Mary do not keep and perform ſuch conditions, which the Kings Majeſty ſhall hereafter by his Graces Letters Patents, Sealed under his Great Seal, or by his Majeſties laſt Will in writing, Signed with his Highneſs Hand, declare and limit to her ſaid eſtate, in the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes: That then and from thenceforth, for lack of Heirs of the ſeveral bodies of the Kings Majeſty and the ſaid Prince Edward lawfully begotten, the ſaid Imperial Crown. and other the premiſſes, ſhall be and come to the ſaid Lady Elizabeth, and to the Heirs of her body lawfully begotten, in ſuch like manner and form, as though the ſaid Lady Mary were then dead, without any Heir of her body begotten; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The eſtate of the Lady Mary tied with conditions.

IV. Provided alway, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Lady Mary do keep and perform ſuch conditions, which the Kings Majeſty ſhall hereafter by his Graces Letters Patents, Sealed under his Great Seal, or by his Majeſties laſt Will in writing, Signed with his Highneſs Hand, declare and limit to her ſaid eſtate, as is aforeſaid, and that the ſaid Lady Elizabeth, for her part do not keep and perform ſuch conditions, which the Kings Majeſty ſhall hereafter by his Graces Letters Patents, Sealed under his Great Seal, or by his Highneſs laſt Will in Writing, Signed with his moſt gracious Hand, declare and limit to her ſaid Eſtate in form aforeſaid: That then and from thenceforth, for lack of Heirs of the ſeveral Bodies of the Kings Majeſty, the ſaid Lord Prince, and of the ſaid Lady Mary, lawfully begotten, the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes, ſhall be and come to ſuch perſon and perſons, and of ſuch Eſtate and Eſtates, as the Kings Highneſs by his Letters Patents Sealed under his Great Seal, or by his laſt Will in writing, Signed with his Majeſties Hand, ſhall limit and appoint.

A limitation of the Crown, if the Lady Mary do break her conditions, and the Lady Elizabeth die without iſſue.

V. Provided alway, That if the ſaid Lady Mary do not keep and perform ſuch conditions which ſhall be limited and appointed to her ſaid Eſtate in the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes as is aforeſaid, and the ſaid Lady Elizabeth being then dead without any Heir of her Body lawfully begotten; that then and from thenceforth, for lack of Heirs of the ſeveral Bodies of the Kings Majeſty, and the ſaid Lord Prince lawfully begotten, the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes, ſhall be, come and remain to ſuch perſon and perſons, and of ſuch Eſtate and Eſtates, as the Kings Highneſs by his Letters Patents, Sealed under his Great Seal, or by his laſt Will in writing, Signed with his Majeſties Hand, ſhall limit and appoint.

The eſtates of the Lady Mary and Elizabeth, if the King limit no conditions.

VI. Provided always, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That in caſe the Kings Majeſty do not declare and limit by his Letters Patents, or by his laſt Will, in form as is aforeſaid, any condition to the Eſtates and Intereſt afore limited to the ſaid Lady Mary, and Lady Elizabeth, nor to the ſtate or intereſt of any of them: That then every ſuch of the ſaid Lady Mary, and Lady Elizabeth, to whoſe Eſtate or Intereſt no condition ſhall be limited by the Kings Majeſty in form aforeſaid, ſhall have an enjoy ſuch intereſt, eſtate and remainder in the ſaid Imperial Crown, and other the premiſſes, as is before limited by this Act, without any manner of condition; any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

VII. And foraſmuch as it ſtandeth in the only pleaſure and will of Almighty God, whether the Kings Majeſty ſhall have any Heirs begotten and procreated between his Highneſs and his ſaid moſt entirely beloved Wife Queen Katharine, or by any other his lawful Wife, or whether the ſaid Prince Edward ſhall have Iſſue of his Body lawfully begotten, or whether the Lady Mary and Lady Elizabeth, or any of them, ſhall have any Iſſue of any of their Bodies lawfully begotten, and if ſuch Heirs ſhould fail (which God defend) and no proviſion made in the Kings life, who ſhould rule and govern this Realm, for lack of ſuch Heirs, as in this preſent Act is afore mentioned: That then this Realm, after the Kings tranſitory life, and for lack of ſuch Heirs, ſhould be deſtitute of a lawful Governour to Order, Rule and Govern the ſame:

The King by his Will or Letters Patents may aſſure the reverſion or remainder of the Crown to ſuch perſon as he will.

VIII. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Kings Highneſs ſhall have full power and authority to give, diſpoſe, appoint, aſſign, declare and limit by his gracious Letters Patents under his Great Seal, or elſe by his Highneſs laſt Will made in writing, and Signed with his moſt gracious Hand, at his only pleaſure, from time to time hereafter, the Imperial Crown of this Realm, and all other the premiſſes, to be, remain, ſucceed, and come after his deceaſe, and for lack of lawful Heirs of either of the Bodies of the Kings Highneſs and Prince Edward begotten, and alſo for lack of lawful Heirs of the Bodies of the ſaid Lady Mary and Lady Elizabeth, to be procreated and begotten, as is afore limited in this Act, to ſuch perſon and perſons in remainder or reverſion, as ſhall pleaſe his Highneſs, and according to ſuch Eſtate, and after ſuch manner and form, faſhion, order or condition, as ſhall be expreſſed, declared, named and limited in his Highneſs Letters Patents, or by his laſt Will in writing, Signed with his moſt gracious Hand, as is aforſaid; any thing contained in this preſent Act, or in the ſaid former Act, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

IX. And for further corroboration of this preſent Act, and of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid Eight and twentieth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, and alſo utterly to exclude the long uſurped power, authority and juriſdiction of the Biſhops of Rome, where in the ſaid Act made for the eſtabliſhment of the Kings Succeſſion, at the ſaid Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the eighth day of June, in the Eight and twentieth year of the Kings Majeſties Reign, there is one Oath limited in the ſaid Act, as in the ſaid Act amongſt other things appeareth.

X. And where alſo at the ſaid Parliament there was another Statute made and ordained againſt ſuch as would both extol and ſtand to the juriſdiction, power and authority of the See and Biſhop of Rome, in which Statute there is compriſed another Oath, in ſuch wiſe as in the ſame Statute amongſt other things is mentioned. (2) Foraſmuch as in both the ſaid Oaths, mentioned in the ſaid ſeveral Acts, there lacketh full and ſufficient words, whereby ſome doubts might riſe: Therefore be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the laſt day of this Seſſion, all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, which be ordered and limited by the ſaid ſeveral Acts, to take the ſaid Oaths mentioned in the ſame Act, ſhall from thenceforth, in lieu and place of thoſe two Oaths, take and ſwear this corporal Oath, according to the tenor enſuing. (3) And that they which have already ſworn the other aforeſaid Oaths, or any of them, ſhall take and eſteem it of the ſame effect and force, as though they had ſworn this. (4) Which former Oaths notwithſtanding, becauſe they be not ſo pithy to all effects, nor ſo plainly ſet forth as were convenient: Therefore be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, that after this preſent Seſſion, the ſaid Oaths ſpecified in the ſaid ſeveral Acts, ſhall not thereafter be miniſtred, nor any perſon hereafter be compelled to accept the ſame, and this Oath hereafter mentioned in this Act, to ſtand in force and place of the ſaid two Oaths.

They which have ſworn the foreſaid oaths ſhall eſteem them as if they had ſworn this.

XI. I A.B. having now the vail of darkneſs of the uſurped power, authority and juriſdiction of the See and Biſhop of Rome clearly taken away from mine eyes, do utterly teſtifie and declare in my conſcience, that neither the See nor the Biſhop of Rome, nor any foreign Poteſtate, hath, nor ought to have any juriſdiction, power or authority within this Realm, neither by Gods Law, nor by any other juſt Law or means. (2) And though by ſufference and abuſe in times paſſed, they aforeſaid have uſurped and vindicated a fained and an unlawful power and juriſdiction within this Realm, which hath been ſupported till few years paſſed; therefore becauſe it might be deemed and thought thereby, that I took or take it for juſt and good, I therefore now do clearly and frankly renounce, refuſe, relinquiſh and forſake that pretended authority, power and juriſdiction, both of the See and Biſhop of Rome, and of all other foreign Powers: (3) And that I ſhall never conſent nor agree that the foreſaid See or Biſhop of Rome, or any of their ſucceſſors, ſhall practiſe, exerciſe, or have any manner of authority, juriſdiction or power within this Realm, or any other the Kings Realms or Dominions, nor any foreign Poteſtate, of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever he be, but that I ſhall reſiſt the ſame at all times to the uttermoſt of my power: (4) And that I ſhall bear Faith, Truth and true Allegiance to the Kings Majeſty, and to his Heirs and Succeſſors, declared, or hereafter to be declared by the authority of the Act made in the Seſſion of the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the fourteenth day of January, in the Five and thirtieth year, and in the ſaid Act made in the Eight and twentieth year of the Kings Majeſties Reign: (5) And that I ſhall accept, repute and take the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors (when they or any of them ſhall enjoy his place) to be the only Supream Head in earth, under God, of the Church of England and Ireland, and of all other his Highneſs Dominions: (6) And that with my body, cunning, wit, and uttermoſt of my power, without guile, fraud, or other undue mean, I ſhall obſerve, keep, maintain and defend all the Kings Majeſties Stiles, Titles and Rights, with the whole effects and contents of the Acts provided for the ſame, and all other Acts and Statutes made, or to be made within this Realm, in and for that purpoſe, and the derogation, extirpation and extinguiſhment of the uſurped and pretended authority, power and juriſdiction of the See and Biſhop of Rome, and all other foreign Poteſtates, as afore: (7) And alſo as well the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid Eight and twentieth year, as the Statute made in the ſaid Seſſion of the Parliament holden the Five and thirtieth year of the Kings Majeſties Reign, for eſtabliſhment and declaration of his Highneſs Succeſſion, and all Acts and Statutes made, and to be made in confirmation and corroboration of the Kings Majeſties Power and Supremacy in earth of the Church of England and of Ireland, and of other the Kings Dominions, I ſhall alſo defend and maintain with my body and goods, and with all my wit and power, (8) and this I ſhall do againſt all manner of perſons, of what eſtate, dignity, degree or condition they be, and in no wiſe do, nor attempt, nor to my power ſuffer, or know to be done or attempted, directly or indirectly, any thing or things privily or apertly, to the let, hinderance, damage or derogation of any of the ſaid Statutes, or of any part of them, by any manner of means, or for or by any manner of pretence. (9) And in caſe any Oath hath been made by me to any perſon or perſons in maintenance, defence or favour of the See and Biſhop of Rome, or his authority, juriſdiction or power, or againſt any the Statutes aforeſaid, I repute the ſame as vain and annihilate, and ſhall wholly and truly obſerve and keep this Oath. So help me God, all Saints, and the holy Evangeliſts.

A former oath reputed vain and void by the party that ſweareth.

XII. And it is alſo enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons, Spiritual and Temporal, ſuing Livery, Reſtitution, or Ouſter le main, out of the Kings, his Heirs or Succeſſors hands, or doing any Fealty to his Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, or which ſhall be ſworn to the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, or that ſhall have any Office, Fee or Rowme of the moſt gracious gift of the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, or ſhall be received in ſervice with his Grace, his Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall make, take or receive the ſaid Oath.

Who ſhall take this oath.

XIII. And that alſo all and every other Eccleſiaſtical perſon, at the time of his taking of Orders, (2) and all and every other perſon which ſhall be promoted or preferred to any degree of Learning in any Univerſity within this his Realm, or other of the Kings Dominions, at the time of his or their promotion or preferment, or every of them, ſhall make, take and receive the ſaid Oath by this Act ſet forth and declared, as is aforeſaid, before his or their Ordinary, or the Commiſſary of ſuch Univerſity. (3) And that all and ſingular other the Kings Majeſties Subjects and Reſiants within this his Graces Realm, and other his Majeſties Dominions, at his Highneſs will and pleaſure ſhall accept and take the ſame Oath before ſuch Commiſſioner or Commiſſioners as his Highneſs ſhall appoint for the ſame.

XIV. And it is alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons limited or commanded by the authority of this Act to make and take the ſaid Oath, or commanded by any other perſon or perſons authoriſed by the Kings Highneſs Commiſſion under his great Seal to make the ſaid Oath, obſtinately refuſe that to do: That then every ſuch offence and contempt ſhall be high Treaſon, (2) and the offenders thereof being lawfully convicted, ſhall ſuffer pains of death, and other forfeitures, penalties and loſſes as is limited and accuſtomed in caſes of high Treaſon, by any Laws or Statutes of this Realm heretofore had or made in any wiſe concerning the ſame.

It ſhall be high Treaſon to refuſe to take the aforeſaid oath. Rep. 1 Ed. 6. 12, 1 M. 1.

XV. And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, of what Eſtate, Degree, Dignity, or Condition ſoever they be, at any time hereafter, by words, writing, imprinting, or by any exterior act or deed, maliciouſly or willingly procure or do, or cauſe to be procured or done directly or indirectly, any thing or things, and for the interruption, repeal, or annullation of this Act, or of any thing therein contained, or of any thing that ſhall be done by the Kings Highneſs, in the limitation and diſpoſition of his Majeſties Crown, and other the premiſſes, by authority of the ſame, or to the peril ſlander or diſinheriſon of any the Iſſues and Heirs of the Kings Majeſty, being limited by this Act, to inherit, and to be inheritable to the Crown of this Realm, in ſuch form as is aforeſaid, or to the interruption or diſheriſon of any perſon or perſons to whom the Imperial Crown of this Realm, and other the premiſſes is aſſigned, limited and appointed by this Act, or ſhall be by the Kings Majeſties Letters Patents under his Highneſs Great Seal, or by his laſt will in writing, ſigned with his moſt gracious Hand, limited and diſpoſed by the authority of this Act, as is aforeſaid, whereby any ſuch Iſſues or Heirs of the Kings Majeſty, or ſuch other perſon or perſons, might be deſtroyed, diſturbed or interrupted in Body or Title, of the inheritance of

CAP. II.

An Act for the Trial of Treaſons committed out of the Kings Dominions.

Treaſon 10. Where, and before whom Treaſons committed out of the Realm ſhall be tried.

FOraſmuch as ſome doubts and queſtions have been moved, That certain kinds of Treaſons, miſpriſions and concealments of Treaſons, done, perpetrated or committed out of the Kings Majeſties Realm of England, and other his Graces Dominions, cannot, ne may by the Common Laws of this Realm be enquired of, heard and determined within this his ſaid Realm of England; (2) For a plain remedy, order and declaration therein to be had and made, Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all manner of offences, being already made and declared, or hereafter to be made and declared by any the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, to be Treaſons, miſpriſions of Treaſons, or concealments of Treaſons, and done, perpetrated or committed, or hereafter to be done, perpetrated or committed by any perſon or perſons out of this Realm of England, ſhall be from henceforth inquired of, heard and determined before the Kings Juſtices of his Bench, for Pleas to be holden before himſelf, by good lawful men of the ſame Shire where the ſaid Bench ſhall ſit and be kept, (3) or elſe before ſuch Commiſſioners, and in ſuch Shire of the Realm, as ſhall be aſſigned by the Kings Majeſties Commiſſion, and by good and lawful men of the ſame Shire, in like manner and form to all intents and purpoſes, as if ſuch Treaſons, miſpriſions of Treaſons, or concealments of Treaſons had been done, perpetrated and committed within the ſame Shire where they ſhall be ſo enquired of, heard and determined, as is aforeſaid.

CAP. IV.

The Bill for the better Appearance in the Niſi prius.

Jurors 19. &c. What kind of Jurors ſhall appear upon a Niſi prius, &c.

FOraſmuch as the Iſſues joyned in every Action, Suit and Demand between party and party at the Common Law, are by the Laws of this Realm for the moſt part tried, and triable by the verdict of twelve men, wherein is daily ſeen great delay, partly for lack of appearance of the perſons returned to try ſuch Iſſues; The occaſion whereof cometh by reaſon of maintenance, imbracery, ſiniſter labour, and corrupt demeanors, and partly by reaſon of the challenges of the parties to the Jury or Jurors ſo returned, to the great coſts, charges and hindrance of the Parties to the ſaid Actions, Suits and Demands, and to the great delay and hindrance of Juſtice:

II. For reformation whereof, and for the more expedition of Juſtice hereafter to be had in ſuch manner trial of Iſſues:

The form of a Venire facias.

III. Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That in every caſe, where ſuch perſons as ſhould paſs upon the trial of any Iſſue joyned in any of the Kings Courts of Record, commonly holden at Weſtminſter, ought by the Law to diſpend fourty ſhillings by the year, of Freehold for term of life, that the Writs of Venire facias, which from and after the firſt day of April next coming, ſhall be awarded and directed for the Impanelling of ſuch perſons as ſhall try the ſame Iſſue, ſhall be in this form, Rex, &c. Precipimus, &c. quod venire fac' coram, &c. xii. liberos & legales homines de vicineto de B. Quorum quilibet habeat quadraginta ſolidat. terræ, tenement. vel reddit. per annum ad minus, per quos rei veritas melius ſciri poterit: Et qui nec, &c. And ſo forth the reſidue of the ſaid Writ, after the ancient form. (2) And in every caſe, where it is not requiſite that the perſons that ſhall paſs upon the trial of any iſſue joyned, in any of the Kings Courts aforeſaid, ſhall diſpend fourty ſhillings by the year of Freehold: that then the Writ of Venire facias that ſhall be awarded after the ſaid firſt day of April, ſhall be made after the form aforeſaid, omitting this clauſe, Quorum quilibet habeat quadraginta ſolidat. terræ, ten. vel reddit. per annum ad minus. (3) And that upon every ſuch Writ and Writs of Venire facias that ſhall have the ſaid clauſe, Quorum quilibet, &c. the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the making of the pannel ſhall appertain, ſhall not return in any ſuch pannel any perſon, unleſs he may diſpend fourty ſhillings by the year at the leaſt, of Eſtate of Freehold out of ancient demean within the County where the Iſſue is to be tried. (4) And alſo ſhall return in every ſuch panel upon the ſame Venire facias, ſix ſufficient Hundredors at the leaſt, if there be ſo many Hundredors within the ſaid Hundred where the Venew lieth, (5) upon pain to forfeit for every perſon being returned in any ſuch pannel, that cannot diſpend fourty ſhillings by the year, as is aforeſaid, twenty ſhillings. (6) And for every Hundredor that ſhall be omitted in ſuch return of the number aforeſaid, twenty ſhillings. (7) And in every Writ of Venire facias, wherein the ſaid clauſe, Quorum, quilibet, &c. ſhall be omitted, the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the making of the pannel ſhall appertain, ſhall not return in any ſuch pannel any perſon, unleſs he may diſpend ſome lands or tenements of Eſtate of Freehold out of ancient demean, within the County where the Iſſue is to be tried; (8) And alſo ſhall return in every ſuch pannel upon the ſame Venire facias, ſix ſufficient Hundredors at the leaſt, if there be ſo many Hundredors within the ſaid Hundred where the Venew lieth, upon like pain as is aforeſaid.

Where each Juror muſt diſpend fourty ſhillings yearly, and where he need not.
27 Eliz. 6.

Six hundredors ſhall be returned by the Sheriff.

IV. And furthermore, be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That upon every firſt Writ of Habeas corpora, or Diſtringas, with a Niſi prius, delivered of Record to the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the making of the return ſhall appertain, the ſaid Sheriff, and other Miniſter and Miniſters, ſhall from and after the ſaid firſt day of April, return the Iſſues upon every perſon impannelled and returned upon any ſuch Writ, at the leaſt five ſhillings. (2) And at the ſecond Writ of Habeas corpora, or Diſtringas, with a Niſi prius, upon every perſon impanelled and returned upon any ſuch Writ, ten ſhillings at the leaſt. (3) And at the third Writ of Habeas corpora, or Diſtringas, with a Niſi prius that ſhall be further awarded upon every perſon impanelled and returned upon any ſuch Writ, thirteen ſhillings four pence. (4) And upon every Writ that ſhall be further awarded to try any ſuch Iſſue, to double the Iſſues laſt before ſpecified, until a full Jury be ſworn, or the proceſs otherwiſe ceſſed or determined, upon pain to forfeit for every return to be made contrary to the form aforeſaid, five pounds.

What iſſues ſhall be returned upon Jurors.
St. 27 El. 6.

V. And for a more ſpeedy trial of Iſſues to be tried by the verdict of twelve men, hereafter to be had,

VI. Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in every ſuch Writ of Habeas corpora, or Diſtringas, with a Niſi prius, where a full Jury ſhall not appear before the Juſtices of Aſſiſes or Niſi prius, or elſe after appearance of a full Jury, by challenge of any of the parties, the Jury is like to remain untaken for default of Jurors: That then the ſame Juſtices, upon requeſt made by the party plaintiff or defendant, ſhall have authority by virtue of this Act, to command the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the making of the ſame return ſhall appertain, to name and appoint as often as need ſhall require, ſo many of ſuch other able perſons of the ſaid County then preſent at the ſaid Aſſiſes or Niſi prius, as ſhall make up a full Jury, which perſons ſo to be named and impanelled by ſuch Sheriff or other Miniſter or Miniſters, ſhall be added to the former panel, and their names annexed to the ſame.

St. 5 El. 25.

VII. And that every of the parties ſhall and may have his or their challenge to the Jurors ſo named, added and annexed to the ſaid former panel by the ſaid Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, in ſuch wiſe as if they had been impanelled upon the Venire facias awarded to try the ſaid Iſſue: (2) And that the ſaid Juſtices ſhall and may proceed to the trial of every ſuch Iſſue with thoſe perſons that were before impanelled and returned, and with thoſe newly added and annexed to the ſaid former pannel by virtue of this Act, in ſuch wiſe as they might or ought to have done, if all the ſaid Jurors had been returned upon the Writ of Venire facias awarded to try the ſaid Iſſue.

Challenges of the Tales.

VIII. And that all and every ſuch trial had after the firſt day of April, ſhall be as good and effectual in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if ſuch trial had been had and tried by twelve of the Jurors impanelled and returned upon the Writ of Venire facias awarded to try ſuch Iſſue.

IX. And in caſe ſuch perſons as the ſaid Sheriff, Miniſter or Miniſters ſhall name and appoint, as is aforeſaid, or any of them, after they ſhall be called, be preſent, and do not appear, or after his or their appearance, do wilfully withdraw him or themſelves from the preſence of the Court; That then ſuch Juſtices ſhall and may ſet ſuch Fine upon every ſuch Juror making default, or wilfully withdrawing himſelf, as is aforeſaid, as they ſhall think good by their diſcretion, (2) the ſaid Fine to be levied in ſuch manner and form as Iſſues forfeited and loſt by Jurors, for default of their appearance at the Common Law, have been accuſtomed to be levied.

X. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That where any Jury that ſhall be returned by the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, ſhall be made full by the commandment of the ſaid Juſtices, by virtue of this preſent Act, that yet nevertheleſs, ſuch perſons as were returned in the ſaid panel, by the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, to try any ſuch Iſſue, that ſhall not appear, but make default, ſhall loſe the Iſſues upon them returned in ſuch wiſe, as though the ſame Jury had remained for default of Jurors.

The Jurors making Default ſhall loſe Iſſue.

XI. Provided always, and be it enacted, That upon a reaſonable excuſe for the default of appearance of any Juror or Jurors ſufficiently proved before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe or Niſi prius, at the day of their appearance, by the Oaths of two lawful and honeſt witneſſes, that the ſame Juſtices ſhall have authority by their diſcretions, to diſcharge every ſuch Juror of every ſuch forfeiture of Iſſues upon him returned. (2) And that the Sheriff and Sheriffs, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, having commandment by the ſaid Juſtices, to omit the returning of ſuch Iſſues as is aforeſaid, upon ſuch Juror or Jurors, ſhall be therein diſcharged of the penalties aforeſaid, for the not returning of the ſaid Iſſues, and that yet notwithſtanding, the ſaid return to be good and effectual in the Law; Any Law, Uſage or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Jurors ſhall be diſcharged of Iſſues upon cauſe.

Iſſues diſcharged by the not coming of the Juſtices.

XII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Juſtices afore whom any ſuch Jury ſhould appear, in the County where ſuch Iſſue is to be tried by virtue of a Writ of Niſi prius, do not come at the day and place appointed, but that the Aſſiſe or Niſi prius for that time ſhall be diſcontinued for not coming of the ſaid Juſtices, or for any other occaſion, other then by default and lack of Jurors; that then every one of the ſame Jurors ſhall de diſcharged for forfeiting of any Iſſues upon him returned in the ſame Writ. (2) And the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, ſhall be likewiſe diſcharged of the penalties of this Eſtatute, for the not returning of ſuch Iſſues as are before limited in this Act; any Article or Sentence herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Iſſues returned upon a Jury not lawfully ſummoned.

XIII. And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if upon any ſuch Writ of Habeas corpora, or Diſtringas, with a Niſi prius,, Iſſues be returned upon any Hundredors, Juror or Jurors, by the Sheriff or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the execution of the ſame Writ or Writs ſhall appertain, whereas the ſame Hundredors and Jurors ſhall not be lawfully ſummoned, warned or diſtrained in that behalf; that then every ſuch Sheriff or other Miniſter or Miniſters aforeſaid, ſhall loſe for every ſuch offence ſo committed, double ſo much as the Iſſues returned upon ſuch Hundredors or Jurors not lawfully ſummoned, warned, or diſtrained, ſhall amount unto; (2) the moiety of all which forfeitures contained in this preſent Act, other then the Iſſues to be returned upon the Jurors as is aforeſaid, ſhall be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint or information in any of the Kings competent Courts, in which no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed ne admitted: (3) Saving to all manner of perſons, and bodies politick and corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors, having lawful right, title and intereſt to have ſuch Iſſues to be before any ſuch Juſtices of Aſſiſe or Niſi prius, at any time or times hereafter loſt and forfeited, (4) all ſuch right, title and intereſt, as they or any of them ſhould or might have had to any ſuch Iſſues, to be loſt and forfeited, as though this Act had never been had or made.

The right of others to Iſſues forfeited, ſaved.

This Act ſhall not extend to any Sheriff or Miniſter of a Town-corporate.

XIV. Provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any City or Town corporate, or to any Sheriff, Miniſter or Miniſters in the ſame, for the return of any Inqueſt or Panel to be made and returned of perſons inhabiting in the ſaid Cities or Towns corporate, but that they, and every of them, ſhall and may return ſuch perſons in every ſuch Inqueſt or Panel, as before this time they might and have been accuſtomed to do, and as if this Act had never been had or made: ſo that the ſame Sheriff, Miniſter or Miniſters, return upon ſuch perſons as ſhall be impanelled, like Iſſues as are before mentioned in this Act; any thing in the ſame contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. CAP. X.

The Bill concerning the Conduits in London.

London, Raſt. 5. The Mayor and Commonalty, &c. at all times needful may make and amend Conduits in and about London.

FOraſmuch as it is very commodious, neceſſary and profitable to all Cities, Towns and Habitations, to have ſweet and wholſom running Waters, and freſh Springs to ſerve the ſame for their Buſineſſes and Neceſſaries, and ſpecially within great Towns and Cities, to be conveyed by Conduits and Fountains, whereunto requireth abundance and copioſity, for the ſerving of the Inhabitants of the ſame, whereof the City of London hath been before this time well furniſhed, and abundantly ſerved, till that now of late, that either for faintneſs of the Springs, or for the drineſs of the Earth, the accuſtomed courſe of the Waters, coming from the old Springs and ancient Heads, are ſore decayed, diminiſhed and abated, and daily more and more be like to appeire and fail, to the great diſcommodity and diſpleaſure, both of the Citizens and Inhabitants within the ſaid City and Suburbs thereof, as to all other perſons having recourſe to the ſame, to the great decay of the ſame City, if ſpeedy remedy the ſooner be not therein had, foreſeen and provided: (2) For remedy whereof, Sir William Boyer Knight, now Mayor of the ſaid City, intending and pondering the ſame Neceſſity, much willing to help and relieve the ſaid City and Suburbs with new Fountains and freſh Springs, for the commodity of the Kings ſaid Subjects, calling to him as well divers grave and expert perſons of his Brethren, and other of the Commonalty of the ſaid City, as other perſons, in and about the conveyance of Water well experimented, hath not only by diligent ſearch and exploration, found out divers great and plentiful Springs, at Hamſtead-Heath, Maribone, Hackney, Muſwel-hill, and divers places within five miles of the ſaid City, very meet, proper and convenient to be brought and conveyed to the ſame, but alſo hath laboured, ſtudied and deviſed the conveyance thereof by Conduits, Vaults and Pipes to the ſaid City, and otherwiſe, to his great travel, labour and pain, and alſo to the great charges and coſts of the Citizens of the ſaid City: which good and profitable purpoſe cannot ſort to concluſion, nor take good effect, without the aid and conſent of the Kings Majeſty, and of his High Court of Parliament: (3) Wherefore may it pleaſe the Kings Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, to eſtabliſh and enact, That it ſhall be lawful to the Mayor and Commonalty of the ſaid City of London for the time being, and to their ſucceſſors, aſſigns and ſervants, at all and every time and times hereafter, to enter into the grounds and poſſeſſions, as well of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, as of every other perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, where they ſhall find or know any ſuch Springs to be, or may be found for the intent aboveſaid, (ſo that it be not into their Houſes, Gardens, Orchards, or places incloſed with ſtone, brick, or mud walls) (4) and there to dig pits, trenches and ditches, to erect Heads, lay Pipes, and make Vaults, and to do all and every ſuch things in the ſame places and grounds which ſhall be meet, propiſe, and neceſſary only for the conveyance of the ſaid Water and Springs to the City, and the Suburbs of the ſame, (5) and alſo to have free ingreſs, egreſs and regreſs in and to all ſuch places where ſuch Heads, Pipes or Vaults ſhall be erected, laid or made, to view and ſee from time to time the ſaid Heads, Pipes, Suſpirals and Vaults, and them to amend, repair, tranſlate, and do all things neceſſary and convenient, as well for the finding of new Springs, as for the conveyance of any Water or Springs new found, or hereafter to be found, to the City and Suburbs aforeſaid, without interruption, let or impediment of the owners of the ground, their leſſees, aſſigns or miniſters, or any other perſon.

The Mayor of London may dig in any perſons ground, and lay pipes, and erect heads to convey water into the City, &c.

II. And further be it enacted by the ſaid authority, That the ſaid Mayor and his Succeſſors, and every of them, for the digging and breaking of any ſuch ſoil or ground, in any place or places for the intent and purpoſe aforeſaid, ſhall within the ſpace of one month next after any ſuch ground ſhall be broken by the miniſters or workmen of the ſaid Mayor or his ſucceſſors, or their aſſigns, for the intents and purpoſes aforeſaid, ſatisfie, content, and pay unto the owners or poſſeſſioners of the ſaid ſoil or ground ſo broken or digged, as much money for the ſame digging and breaking, as ſhall be adjudged and taxed by the determination and judgment of three or four indifferent men, to be aſſigned by the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, by virtue of the Kings Commiſſion from time to time to them directed at the coſts of the ſaid Lord Mayor and Commonalty, and that to be uſed for evermore hereafter. (2) And that all ſuch ſums as after the ſaid time ſhall be taxed by the ſaid three or four men, by virtue of the ſaid Commiſſion, for ſatisfaction of any ſuch breaking or defacing of the ground, ſhall be paid and ſatisfied to the poſſeſſioner or poſſeſſioners, owner or owners of the ſaid grounds, or to their miniſter, aſſigns or officers by the ſaid Mayor or his ſucceſſors for the time being, within ten days next after the ſaid taxation or judgment ſo made and adjudged, (3) upon pain the ſaid Mayor or ſucceſſors, ſo denying or refuſing the payment thereof, for every ſuch offence to forfeit Thirteen ſhillings four pence, over and above the ſum ſo to be aſſeſſed; the one half of which forfeiture to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moyety to the party grieved that will Sue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by Action of debt, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe; in which action, bill or plaint, no wager of Law, protection or eſſoin ſhall lie. (4) And nevertheleſs the party whoſe ground hereafter ſhall be ſo broken or digged, for non-payment of all ſuch ſums of money, as by the ſaid three or four men for the time being ſhall be taxed and adjudged, ſhall have an action of debt againſt the ſaid Mayor or his ſucceſſors, by whoſe commandment any ſuch ground ſhall be ſo broken, in any of the Kings Courts of Record, for the recovery of the ſame debt ſo taxed; in which action, no wager of Law, no protection nor eſſoin ſhall lie.

The Mayor, &c. of London ſhall make recompence to the owners of the ground digged.

A remedy for the party whoſe ground is broken to recover the money taxed againſt the Mayor, &c.

III. And if it ſhall happen that the ſaid three or four men ſo named by the Lord Chancellor, in form aforeſaid, do not, nor ſhall not agree in making any ſuch taxation for any digging, trenching, or breaking of ſuch ground within the ſaid time to them limitted, or that the ſaid Mayor or his ſucceſſors for the time being, do not offer or tender to the party ſo grieved a reaſonable amends and ſatiſfaction for the breaking, digging or trenching his or their ſaid ground, that then the party or parties ſo grieved, and whoſe land or ſoil ſhall be ſo hereafter ſubverted and broken, ſhall have his lawful remedy againſt the ſaid Mayor and his ſucceſſors, by whoſe commandment any ſuch ſoil or ground ſhall be for the purpoſe aforeſaid digged or broken, by action of treſpaſs, and to recover damages for the ſame; any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Mayor, his ſucceſſors, officers, miniſters or workmen, ſhall be interrupted, moleſted or prohibited at any time hereafter, to dig and trench any grounds for the intents aboveſaid, or for the laying of Pipes, making of Heads, Vaults or Fountains, concerning the conveyance of Waters and Springs to the ſaid City and Suburbs, or for the ſearch, repairing and amendment of the defaults of the ſame, or for the conveyance of any new Springs, or Water, or other things requiſite and neceſſary to be had, made or done at any time or times hereafter concerning the premiſſes or any of them, by any owner, leſſee, miniſter, officer, or other perſon whatſoever he be, then every ſuch perſon, owner, poſſeſſor, or perſons ſo moleſting, reſiſting or letting the ſaid Mayor or his ſucceſſors, or his or their officers, miniſters or workmen, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence, fourty ſhillings ſterling, the half thereof to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moyety to the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of London, and their Succeſſors, and the ſame to be recovered by action or plaint of debt, in any of the Kings Courts, in the which no protection, eſſoin, or wager of Law to be admitted or allowed.

The forfeiture of him who letteth the Mayor or any of his workmen to dig.

V. Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That it ſhall not be lawful to the ſaid Mayor nor

No water may be conveyed away that is brought to any perſons houſe.

Commonalty, nor to their ſucceſſors or miniſters, to take away any Water or Spring, now brought, or that hereafter ſhall be brought or conveyed by Pipes, or Trenches to the manſion of any perſon or perſons for the neceſſary uſe of their houſhold: nor that any perſon or perſons, by any way, deceit, mean, or other crafty conveyance, ſhall undermine, miniſh, withdraw or abate any Spring or Springs found, or hereafter to be found, now brought or conveyed, or at any time hereafter to be conveyed, fetched, and brought to the ſaid City, whereby the Water ſhall be miniſhed, ſtopped, abated, or otherwiſe altered from his due courſe and conveyance, upon pain to forfeit to the party grieved treble damages, the ſame to be recovered againſt the party offending, by action or plaint of debt in any of the Kings Courts, in the which no protection, eſſoign, nor wager of Law to be allowed.

No digging in the Kings ground without his licence.

VI. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to give any liberty or authority to the ſaid Mayor and Commonalty, or to any of their ſucceſſors, to enter, or dig in any of the Kings grounds, for or concerning the conveying of any Water in or to the ſaid City, without the Kings licence therein firſt had and obtained; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A pound of pepper ſhall be paid for fetching water from Hamſted-heath.

VII. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Mayor and commonalty of the City of London, or their ſucceſſors, at any time hereafter do fetch and convey any Water from any Spring or Springs within the ſaid Heath called Hamſted-heath, unto the ſaid City, and there erect and make Heads and Vaults for the conveyance of the ſame Water, that then they the ſaid Mayor and Commonalty and their ſucceſſors, ſhall for ever yield, bear and pay yearly unto the Biſhop of Weſtminſter for the time being, and to his ſucceſſors, at the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, one pound of Pepper, in and for the acknowledging him and them for the Lords and very owners of the ſaid Heath. (2) And that for the ſure payment thereof unto the ſaid Biſhop for the time being, and to his ſucceſſors, the ſaid Mayor and Commonalty for the time being, ſhall within three months next after the erection and making of any ſuch Heads and Vaults upon the ſaid Heath, make or cauſe to be made to the ſaid Biſhop for the time being, and his ſucceſſors, a ſufficient grant in writing under their common Seal, with clauſe of diſtreſs, within any their lands or tenements within the ſaid City of London, when and as often as it ſhall happen or fortune the ſaid pound of Pepper at any time after the grant thereof to be behind unpaid by the ſpace of ten days after the ſaid Feaſt, above limited for the yearly payment thereof, and it be lawfully asked or demanded by the ſaid Biſhop, or his ſucceſſors, or his or their aſſigns, of the ſaid Mayor and his ſucceſſors, upon any Court-day within the Guild-hall; this preſent Act of Parliament, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A ſpring at the foot of Hamſted-heath.

VIII. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Mayor and Commonalty, or their ſucceſſors, ſhall not any time hereafter meddle with the Spring at the foot of the Hill of the ſaid Heath called Hamſted-heath, now cloſed in with Brick, for the eaſe, commodity, and neceſſary uſe of the Inhabitants of the Town of Hamſted, nor do cauſe or procure to be done any thing, act or acts, to the impairing, hurt or diminiſhing of the Water of the ſame Spring at any time hereafter; this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

IX. And alſo, it ſhall and may be lawful to the ſaid Biſhop and his ſucceſſors, to dig, find and convey, or cauſe to be digged, found and conveyed from any Spring or Springs, in any ground or grounds on the left ſide of the high way leading from the Town of Hamſted aforeſaid towards Hendon, to the manor place of Hamſted aforeſaid, Water ſufficient for the uſe and commodity of the ſaid manor place, the ſaid Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

the Manors, Granges, Meaſes, Lands, Tenements, Reverſions, Rents, Services, Tithes, Penſions, Advowſons, Patronages, Rights, Entries, Conditions, and other Hereditaments, appertaining and belonging to every ſuch Monaſtery, Priory, and other Religious Houſes, not having, as is aforeſaid, Lands and Tenements above the ſaid clear yearly value of Two hundred pounds, in as large and ample manner, as the Abbots, Priors, Abbeſſes, Prioreſſes, and other Governours of ſuch Monaſteries, Priories, and other Religious Houſes then had, or ought to have had the ſame, in the right of their Houſes. (3) And that your ſaid Highneſs ſhould have to you and your Heirs, all and ſingular ſuch Monaſteries, Abbeys, and Priories, which at any time within one year next afore the making of the ſaid Act, had been granted to your ſaid Majeſty by any Abbot, Prior, Abbeſs or Prioreſs, under their Covent Seals, or that otherwiſe had been ſuppreſſed or diſſolved, and all and ſingular the Manors, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Services, Reverſions, Tithes, Penſions, Portions, Churches, Chappels, Advowſons, Patronages, Rights, Entries, Conditions, and all other Intereſts and Hereditaments to the ſame Monaſteries, Abbeys or Priories, or to any of them then appertaining or belonging, to do and uſe therewith your Highneſs own will. (4) And furthermore by the ſaid Act it was ordained and eſtabliſhed, That all and every the premiſſes ſhould be in the order, ſurvey, and governance of your ſaid Highneſs Court, then erected and called the Court of the Augmentations of the Revenues of your Highneſs Crown, (5) except alway, and reſerved ſuch and as many of the ſame Manaſteries, Priories and Houſes, with all their Hereditaments and Poſſeſſions which your ſaid Highneſs by your Letters Patents under your Great Seal, ſhould then declare and limit to continue and be in their eſſential eſtate, and perſevere in the body and corporation, as they were before the making of the ſaid Act.

A tenure in capite and a yearly rent of the tenth part of the value, reſerved to the King upon every alienation.

II. And where alſo it was then further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That upon all and ſingular Letters Patents then to be made under the Great Seal of England, of any manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments belonging or appertaining to any of the ſaid houſes compriſed in the ſaid Act, and committed to the ſurvey of the ſaid Court, to any perſon or perſons, or body politick, of any Eſtate of Inheritance, there ſhould be reſerved to your ſaid Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors, a tenure by Knights ſervice in capite, and a yearly rent of the tenth part of the yearly value of the ſame lands, to be compriſed in every ſuch Letters Patents, according to ſuch rate as the ſame manors, lands and tenements given, ſhould be declared and expreſſed to be of yearly value in the ſame Letters Patents; any thing or clauſe contained in any Warrnt to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding: as more plainly at large it may appear by the ſaid Eſtatute; (2) ſince the making whereof, a great number of your moſt bounden, loving and obedient Subjects have purchaſed and obtained of your ſaid Highneſs, by your Graces Letters Patents, divers and ſundry houſes, lands, tenements and hereditaments, parcel of the premiſſes, by ſmall quillets, parcels and portions, according to their powers, abilities and ſubſtance, towards the ſuſtentation of themſelves, their wives and children.

What tenures the King may reſerve upon thoſe Abbey-lands which exceed not the yearly value of xl. s.

III. And foraſmuch as they be not able to maintain their poor family of the yearly iſſues and profits coming and growing of the ſaid ſmall quillets, houſes and tenements, paying and doing the rents and ſervices reſerved for and upon the ſame, in ſuch manner as of right appertaineth, (2) it may therefore pleaſe your ſaid excellent Majeſty, of your moſt abundant Grace, that in conſideration of the premiſſes, and for the eaſe and relief of your Subjects, that it may be enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by your Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That from and after the four and twentieth day of April, in the Five and thirtieth year of your moſt noble Reign, that your ſaid Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall or may at your will and pleaſure, upon your Letters Patents of any manors, lands, tenements, reverſions, rents, ſervices, tithes, penſions, portions, advowſons, patronages, or other hereditaments, not exceeding the clear yearly value of Fourty ſhillings, which were belonging to any of the ſaid houſes compriſed in the ſaid Act, whereby any Eſtate of Inheritance doth, or ſhall paſs from your ſaid Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, (houſes, tenements, cottages and gardens, whereunto no lands, tenements or hereditaments do appertain, only excepted) reſerve unto your ſaid Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors either a tenure by Knights ſervice in capite, or elſe a tenure in ſoccage, or free burgage, and not in capite, at your free will and pleaſure, with the yearly rent of the tenth part of the ſaid lands and tenements to be compriſed in every ſuch Letters Patents, according to ſuch rate and value as the ſame manors, lands and tenements ſhall be expreſſed and rated to be of the yearly value in the ſame Letters Patents; (3) and the ſaid rent to be paid to the Officers of your Highneſs ſaid Court of the Augmentations of the Revenues of your Crown, to your ſaid Highneſs uſe, according as other Revenues there be and ſhall be paid by the authority of this Act.

Of houſes and gardens whereunto no land doth belong, no tenth ſhall be reſerved.

The Bill for the preſervation of Woods.

Woods 1. An Ordinance for preſervation of Woods.

The King our Sovereign Lord perceiving and right well knowing the great decay of timber and woods univerſally within this his Realm of England to be ſuch, that unleſs ſpeedy remedy in that behalf be provided, there is great and manifeſt likelyhood of ſcarcity and lack, as well of timber for building, making, repairing and maintaining of houſes and ſhips, as alſo for fewel and fire-wood, for the neceſſary relief of the whole commonalty of this his ſaid Realm: (2) Wherefore be it ordained and enacted by his Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That in and upon all and ſingular ſeveral woods, commonly called Coppice, woods or under-woods, which from or after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, M. D. XLIIII. ſhall be felled at xxiv. years growing or under, there ſhall be left ſtanding and unfelled for every acre of wood that ſhall be felled within the ſaid coppice, xij. ſtandils or ſtorers of Oak: (3) and if there be not ſo many ſtandils or ſtorers of Oak, that then there ſhall be left ſo many of other kind, that is to ſay, of Elm, Aſh, Aſp, or Beech, as ſhall make up the ſaid number of twelve ſtandils or ſtorers, likely to prove, and to be timber-trees, (4) the ſame ſtandils or ſtorers to be of ſuch ſtandils or ſtorers, as have been left there ſtanding at any the felling of the ſame coppice, woods, or under-woods in times paſt: and in caſe there be no ſuch ſtandils or ſtorers there ſtanding, which were there left at the laſt felling of the ſame coppice or under-woods, then the ſame ſtandils or ſtorers there to be left, ſhall be left, at this now next felling of the ſaid coppice, woods, or under-woods of ſuch moſt likelieſt Oaks: and if there be not ſufficient of Oaks, then of the moſt likelieſt Elms, Aſh, Aſp, or Beech, to prove and to be timber-trees, as ſhall grow within any ſuch ſeveral woods, coppice or under-woods, (5) and that the ſame ſtandils or ſtorers ſo left, ſhall be preſerved and not felled or cut down till they and every of them ſhall be of ten inches ſquare within three foot of the ground, (6) upon pain that every owner of every ſuch ſtandils and ſtorers having an eſtate of inheritance, or an eſtate for term of life of free-hold, or by copy of Court-roll, or for years in the ground or ſoil where the ſame ſtandils or ſtorers ſhall grow, cauſing or commanding any ſuch coppice, woods or under-woods, to be felled or cut down, and not leaving the ſaid ſtandils or ſtorers there ſtanding in form aforeſaid, to loſe and forfeit for every ſtandil or ſtorer ſo not left ſtanding in the ſaid coppice, woods, or under-woods, iij. s. iv. d. (7) And upon pain that every owner, as is aforeſaid, of any ſuch coppice, woods, or under-woods, cauſing or commanding any of the ſaid ſtandils or ſtorers ſo left, as is abovesaid, to be cut down contrary to the form of this Act, to forfeit and loſe for every of the ſaid ſtandils or ſtorers which ſhall be cut down, iij. s. iv. d. (8) the one half of which ſaid forfeitures to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to be to the party that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in which action, bill, plaint, and information, no protection, wager of law, nor eſſoin ſhall be admitted or allowed.

There ſhall be left xij. ſtandils in an acre of wood under twenty four years growth.

Woods preſerved of or under fourteen years growth. Cok. pl. fol. 366.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular coppice and under-woods, which after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, ſhall happen to be felled or cut down at the age of xiv. years growth or under, and not being above the ſaid age, from and after the xx. day of April; next after the felling thereof, during the term of four years then next enſuing, ſhall be ſufficiently encloſed, or the ſprings thereof otherwiſe ſaved and preſerved from deſtruction by any manner of cattel or beaſts, by him or them which then ſhall have lawful intereſt and poſſeſſion in the ſaid woods, coppice or under-woods, as is aforeſaid, (2) upon pain of every perſon or perſons ſo bounden to encloſe, fence, ſave, or preſerve the ſaid coppice or under-woods, to forfeit and loſe for every rood thereof ſo not encloſed, fenced, ſaved or preſerved during the ſaid four years, three ſhillings four pence for every month that the ſaid coppice or under-woods ſhall happen to lie or be encloſed, not fenced, ſaved or preſerved, as is aforeſaid. (3) And that all and ſingular coppice or under-woods, which after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, ſhall happen to be felled or cut down, being above the age of fourteen years growth, and not above the age of four and twenty years growth, from the twentieth day of April, next after the felling or cutting down thereof, during the term of ſix years enſuing the ſame twentieth day of April, ſhall be ſufficiently encloſed, or the ſprings thereof otherwiſe ſaved and preſerved from the deſtruction thereof by any manner of cattel or beaſts, by and at the coſts of ſuch which then ſhall have lawful intereſt and poſſeſſion in the ſaid woods or coppice, as is beforeſaid, (4) upon pain of every perſon or perſons ſo bounden to encloſe, fence, ſave or preſerve the ſaid coppice or under-woods, as is aforeſaid, to forfeit and loſe for every rood of land ſo not encloſed, fenced, ſaved, or preſerved during the ſaid ſix years, three ſhillings four pence, for every month that the ſame coppice or under-woods ſhall happen to lie or be uncloſed and not fenced, ſaved or preſerved, as is aforeſaid.

Woods above fourteen years growth.

No woods ſhall be converted to tillage or paſture.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, after the ſaid Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, ſhall convert or turn into paſture or tillage, any ſuch coppice or under-woods, containing in quantity two acres or above, which now be wood or under-wood, and put or reſerved to the uſe or encreaſe of wood or under-wood, and being two furlong diſtant from the houſe of the owner thereof, or from the houſe whereunto the ſaid wood doth lie, appertain or belong: (2) upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every acre of wood ſo to be converted or turned from wood into paſture or tillage, fourty ſhillings.

IV. Provided alway, That this Act ſhall not extend to any coppice, woods or under-woods, deſtroyed or turned into tillage or paſture within twenty years laſt paſt, although the more part of any part thereof be now overgrown with buſhes or under-wood.

Woods above xxiv. years growth.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, which have, or hereafter ſhall have any ſeveral woods, or coppice growing and ſet with great trees, being above the age of twenty four years growth, ſhall at the felling or weeding thereof, leave ſtanding within the precinct of the ſaid wood and coppice, for every acre ſo felled, twelve trees of Oak of the ſame ſuch great trees, if there be ſo many trees of Oak there to be left, and for lack of Oaks, then to leave for every acre ſo felled as many other trees of Elm, Aſh, Beech, or Aſp, as ſhall make the full number of xij, of ſuch as ſhall be then there growing, (2) the ſame trees there ſo left, to ſtand, continue, and to be preſerved by ſuch owner or owners as is aboveſaid, during the ſpace of twenty years next after ſuch felling of the ſame woods. (3) And alſo ſhall from the twentieth day of April next after the felling thereof, during the term of ſeven years then next following; ſufficiently encloſe them, or the ſprings thereof otherwiſe ſave and preſerve from the deſtruction thereof by any manner of cattel or beaſts, (4) upon pain that every ſuch perſon or perſons, or bodies politick or corporate, being owners of the ſaid great woods as is aforeſaid, to forfeit and loſe for every ſuch great tree of the ſaid number lacking, and not left ſo ſtanding in the ſaid wood as is aboveſaid, vj. s. viij. d. (5) And upon pain that every owner of the ground or ſoil whereupon ſuch great trees, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be left ſtanding or growing, cauſing or commanding any of the ſaid great trees there ſo left ſtanding as is aforeſaid, to be cut down contrary to the form of this Act, to forfeit and loſe for every of the ſame great trees ſo left, which ſhall be ſo cut down as is aforeſaid, vj. s. viij. d. (6) and upon pain alſo to loſe and forfeit for every rood of ſuch great wood, ſo not encloſed, fenced, ſaved or preſerved during the ſaid ſpace of ſeven years, for every month iij. s. iv. d.

The wood ſhall be encloſed for ſeven years, or preſerved from cattel. Goulbolt. 167. pl. 235.

In what caſes the owners may fell their ſtandils.

VI. Provided alway, That it ſhall be lawful to every owner or owners of any the coppice, woods, under-woods, ſtandils or ſtorers, great woods and trees afore rehearſed, to fell, cut down, and take any of the ſame for building, repairing, encloſing and maintaining of houſes, orchards and gardens, and every of them, and for pailing, railing, or encloſing of Parks, Foreſts, Chaſes, or other grounds, and for making or repairing of water-works, damps, bridges, flood gates, making, repairing or amending of ſhips, and all other veſſels, and for all other things concerning their own uſes or affairs, in ſuch like manner and form, as he or they ſhould or might lawfully have done before the making of this Act; any thing in this preſent Act before mentioned to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The felling of wood wherein others have common.

VII. And further be it enacted by the authority afareſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful to any perſon or perſons, which after the Feaſt of Saint Michael, ſhall have any woods or underwoods, wherein any other perſon or perſons juſtly hath, or hath uſed time out of mans remembrance, to have common of paſture, to fell or cut down the ſaid woods and under-woods there growing or being, or that ſhall grow or be in any ſuch woods or under-woods (except it be to his own uſe and occupation) until ſuch time as the fourth part of ſuch woods or under-woods or grounds, where the ſaid woods now grow, or as much as the fourth part of the ſaid ground or ſoil whereupon ſuch wood is or ſhall be growing, ſhall amount unto, ſhall be by the Lord or Owner for that time being, of the ſaid ground or ſoil, divided, ſet out, meted, bounded, fenced, and encloſed in manner and form as by this Act hereafter ſhall be declared, ordained and provided: That is to ſay, The ſaid Lord that then ſhall be owner of the ſaid ground or ſoil, ſhall call together the tenants and inhabitants being commoners in the ſaid ground or ſoil, or the more part of them, and upon the aſſembly and meeting of the ſaid Lord, tenants and Inhabitants, or the more part of them, the ſaid Lord owner, by the aſſent, conſent and agreement of the ſaid tenants and inhabitants, or of the more part of them, ſhall ſever, divide, ſet out, meet and bound the fourth part of the ſaid woods and underwoods, or ſo much thereof as ſhall amount to the full fourth part thereof. (2) And if the ſaid Lord, and the ſaid tenants and inhabitants, or the more part of them, cannot, will not, or do not aſſent, conſent and agree, for and upon the ſevering, dividing, ſetting out, meting and bounding of the ſaid fourth part of the ſaid woods and under-woods, or of as much thereof as ſhall amount to the full fourth part thereof, that then two Juſtices of the Peace, not being of the kin, alliance, councel or fee of or to the ſaid Lord or Owner, being thereunto appointed by the more number of the Juſtices of the Peace of the Shire where the ſaid ground or ſoil lieth, in their open quarter Seſſions, upon requeſt and ſuit made unto them by the Lord or Owner, or by his or their lawful Deputy or Deputies of the ſaid woods, under-woods, grounds or ſoil, ſhall have full power and authority to call before them, upon ſuch pains and penalties as the ſaid Juſtices ſhall limit and appoint, ſuch twelve of the ſaid commoners and inhabitants, nigh unto the ſame woods or under-woods, as by the diſcretion of the ſaid two Juſtices ſhall be thought meet and convenient: (3) And upon or after the apparance of the ſame Lord, owner, commoners and inhabitants, or the more part of them, the ſame Juſtices ſhall open and declare unto the ſame Lord, owner, commoners and inhabitants, the cauſe of their aſſembly and apparance, and that done, ſhall by the advice and aſſent of the ſaid Lord, owner, commoners and inhabitants, or their lawful deputy or deputies, or of the more part of them, effectually proceed to the ſevering, dividing, meting and bounding of the ſaid fourth part of the ſaid woods and under-woods or of ſo much thereof as ſhall amount to the fourth part thereof. (4) And if the ſame Juſtices, owners, commoners and inhabitants, or the more part of them, cannot or will not agree upon the diviſion, bounding, or ſetting out of the ſaid fourth part thereof, as is aforeſaid: that then the ſaid Juſtices ſhall have full power and authority by this Act, to ſever, divide, and ſet out by mete and bound, the fourth part of the ſaid woods and under-woods, or ſo much thereof under the ſame fourth part of the ſaid woods and under-woods, as ſhall by the diſcretions and wiſdoms of the ſaid Juſtices, be thought neceſſary and requiſite to limit and ſet out: (5) And within three months next after ſuch ſeverance and ſetting forth thereof, the owner or owners of the ſame woods or under-woods, in form afore declared, ſhall ſufficiently encloſe the ſame part of the ſaid ground or ſoil ſo ſet forth as is aforeſaid; (6) and after ſuch encloſure made, the ſaid owner of the ſaid woods or under-woods may at his liberty and pleaſure, fell, cut down, and take the ſaid woods and under-woods, being, or that ſhall be in or upon the ſaid coppice, woods, under-woods, ground or ſoil ſo ſet forth or any part thereof.

Where the wood ſhall be divided by two Juſtices of Peace.

Within what time the wood divided by the Juſtices ſhall be incloſed.

VIII. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That there ſhall be left ſtanding and unfelled in and upon the ſaid part of every the ſame woods or under-woods, ground or ſoil ſo ſevered, bounden and ſet out diſtinctly in manner and form as is aforeſaid, at every felling thereof, ſuch and like number of ſtandils or ſtorers of young Oaks, or other young trees of Elm, Aſh, Aſp or Beech, if it be coppice or under-woods, which ſhall be ſo felled or cut down, and if the woods that ſhall be felled, ſhall be great trees or great woods, then ſuch number ſhall be left ſtanding of great trees in or upon the ſaid part to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, and upon like and the ſame penalties as is before limited and appointed for not leaving, reſerving and preſerving of ſtandils and ſtorers above appointed to be left ſtanding in ſeveral wood and grounds: (2) And that the ſaid part or parcel ſo ſevered, bounded and ſet out in manner and form aforeſaid, after every felling or cutting down of the coppice, woods or under-woods, for the time being, in or upon the ſame by the authority of this Act, ſhall be ſufficiently encloſed and fenced, and the incloſure thereof ſufficiently and continually kept, made, repaired, preſerved and maintained by the ſpace of ſeven years next after every felling thereof, in like manner and form to all intents and purpoſes, and upon the ſame and like pains and penalties, as is before limited, rehearſed and appointed for the not cloſing or fencing, and for the not keeping, maintaining, repairing and preſerving of the ſaid ſeveral coppice, under-woods and woods. (3) And alſo that the ſtandils, ſtorers, and great trees, limited and appointed to be left ſtanding in or upon the ſaid part, ſhall be there left ſtanding, preſerved and not cut down in ſuch like manner and form, and by all ſuch time, and upon ſuch like penalties, to all intents and purpoſes, as is afore limited, appointed and declared, for the preſervation and not felling of the ſaid ſtandils, ſtorers and great trees, limited and appointed to be left in and upon the ſaid ſeveral coppice, under-woods and woods. (4) And that after the ſaid felling of the ſaid coppice, under-woods and woods, ſtanding, growing or being, or that ſhall ſtand, grow or be in any ſuch part of any the ſaid woods, grounds or places, as is before declared, no beaſts or cattel during the ſpace of ſeven years next after the felling of the ſame woods, ſhall willingly by any perſon or perſons be put in, or ſhall be ſuffered to feed, or to continue in any parcel of any ſuch part ſo ſet forth as is aforeſaid, during the ſaid term of ſeven years next after the felling thereof, (5) upon pain of forfeiture and penalty of iv. d. for the putting in of every beaſt, or wilful ſuffering of every beaſt or cattel to be put into any of the ſaid ſeveral coppice, under woods or woods.

How long common woods incloſed ſhall be kept ſeveral. Alt, 13. El. c. 25.

Preſerving of ſtandils from cutting down.

How long woods incloſed from the common ſhall be preſerved from cattel.

IX. And if it ſhall happen any perſon or perſons, being owner or owners of any ſuch woods, under-woods or coppice, ſet, lying and being in any waſte ground, as is aforeſaid, to cut down any trees or under-woods, contrary to the form aforeſaid: that then every perſon or perſons, owner or owners ſo offending contrary to this Act, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every tree ſo cut down, vj. s. viij. d. (2) the one half of all the ſaid forfeitures to be to our Sovereign Lord the King, and the other moiety to ſuch perſon that will ſue for the ſame by bill, plaint, action of debt, or information in any of the Kings Courts of Record; in which ſuit no protection, wager of Law, or eſſoin ſhall be allowed nor admitted.

The forfeiture for cutting of wood in waſte ground.

X. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That foraſmuch as the ſaid tenants, commoners and inhabitants, ſhall be by authority of this Act excluded of their Common in the ſaid part ſo to be ſevered and ſet forth as is aforeſaid, by all the ſaid ſpace and term of ſeven years next after the felling or cutting down of the ſaid coppice, woods, and under woods, that ſhall grow in or upon the ſame part from time to time, that in recompence thereof, the ſame commoners, tenants and inhabitants, ſhall and may uſe, take and have their common for their cattel within the reſidue of the ſaid woods, under-woods, ground and ſoil not being encloſed, in manner and form as if this Act had never been had ne made. (2) And that the Lord being owner of the ſaid ground or ſoil, ſhall be by the authority of this Act excluded and foreclosed, to put or have any cattel or beaſts in or upon the ſame reſidue, or to take any profit of the paſture in or upon the ſaid reſidue, during, and by all the ſaid term and time of ſeven years next after the felling or cutting down of the ſaid coppice, woods or under-woods, being or growing, or that ſhall be or grow in or upon the ſaid part which ſhall be ſo ſevered, divided, ſet out, bounded and encloſed as is aforeſaid: (3) And that from and after the ſaid ſeven years expired and ended, until the next felling or cutting down of the ſaid coppice, woods, or under-woods being upon the ſaid part, being ſo ſevered and divided as is aforeſaid, as well the ſame part as the ſaid reſidue of the ſaid ground and ſoil, ſhall lie and be uſed in common, and the paſture and other profits thereof ſhall and may be uſed and taken as well by the Lord, being owner of the ſaid ground or ſoil, as by the ſaid tenants, commoners and inhabitants, in like manner, form and condition, as it ſhould or ought to have been before the making of this Act, and as if this Act had never been had or made; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The Lord of the wood excluded of his common and paſture in the reſidue.

XI. Provided alſo, That it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſons to fell and to incloſe all their coppice, woods and under-woods in any waſte grounds, which before the making of this Act have been uſed to be encloſed, preſerved and kept for the maintenance of wood and under-wood; any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Woods uſed to be encloſed.

XII. And whereas peradventure the Lord or owners of the foreſaid woods and under-woods, after that they have encloſed and fenced the fourth part thereof, or as much of the ſame as ſhall be to them limited and aſſigned by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace or Commoners, will not or do not fell the ſame woods and under-woods ſo encloſed or to be encloſed, but ſuffer the ſame to ſtand and grow, whereby the Commoners, who ought to have their common of paſture ſture within the ſame part ſo encloſed, ſhall loſe and be put from their ſaid commons therein: (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſame part of wood and underwood ſo encloſed be not felled within four months next after the encloſing thereof; that then, and ſo long as the ſame woods ſhall not be felled, it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid Commoners to put their Cattel into the ſame wood and ground ſo encloſed, and that the owner thereof ſhall leave open convenient places within the ſame encloſure, whereby the Commoners beaſts may have acceſs, and come into the ſame wood ſo encloſed, and there to paſture and feed as long as the ſame wood ſhall ſtand and be unfelled; any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Woods growing in the Wilds of Kent, Surrey, or Suſſex.

XIII. Provided alway, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That this Act ne any thing therein contained or expreſſed, extend or be prejudicial to any of the Lords or owners of the woods, under-woods, or wood-lands, growing or being within any of the Towns, Pariſhes or places, commonly called or known to be within the Wilds of the Counties of Kent, Surrey and Suſſex, or of any of them, other then only to the common woods growing and being within any of the ſaid Wilds of the ſaid Counties of Kent, Surrey and Suſſex; any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Bargains for wood made before the Statute.

XIV. Provided always, That this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend, or be prejudicial or hurtful, or extend to charge any perſon or perſons, which before the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, in the four and thirtieth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, have bargained and bought woods or great trees, growing in any the ſame woods, for or concerning the felling and cutting down of the ſame woods or trees, or not leaving of any ſtandils or ſtorers of and in the ſame, according to the tenour of this preſent Act; any thing, penalty or forfeiture in this preſent Act contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

CAP. I.

A Bill for Cuſtos Rotulorum and the Clerk of the Peace.

Clerk of the Peace 1. Who ſhall appoint the Cuſtos Rotulorum, and Clerk of the Peace in every County.

Inconveniences enſuing by the ignorance of the Clerk of the Peace.

WHere before this time the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, hath by reaſon of his Office of the Chancellorſhip, the nomination and appointment of the Cuſtos Rotulorum within all and every Shire of this Realm of England and Wales, and other the Kings Dominions, Marches and Territories of the ſame, (2) And that in like manner all and every perſons which had and enjoyed the ſaid Office of the Cuſtos Rotulorum, hath had until now of late, the nomination and appointment of the Clerk of the Peace within ſuch Shires where he or they had and enjoyed the ſaid Office of the Cuſtos Rotulorum: (3) And where now of late divers and ſundry perſons within this Realm, being not learned, nor yet meet ne able for lack of knowledge and learning to occupy and exerciſe the ſaid Office of the Cuſtos Rotulorum, and of the Clerkſhip of the Peace, have of late years by labour, friendſhip and means, attained and gotten for term of their lives, of the Kings Majeſty, ſeveral Grants by his Highneſs Letters Patents to them made of the ſaid Clerkſhips of the Peace: By reaſon whereof, and for that the parties to whom the ſaid ſeveral Grants have been ſo made and granted, have not been ſufficiently learned to exerciſe and occupy the ſame Office and Offices, many and ſundry endictments, as well of felony, murder, and other offences and miſoemeanors, and the proceſs awarded upon the ſame endictments, have not only been by reaſon thereof made clearly fruſtrate and void, ſometime by reaſon of the negligent ingroſſing and keeping of the ſaid endictments, and ſometime by reaſon of the imbeſilling or raſure of the ſame endictments, (4) but alſo divers and ſundry bargains and ſales of divers and ſundry manors, lands and tenements had and made between party and party, have been made fruſtrate and void for lack of ſufficient enrollment of the bargains and ſales to be had and made, by the Clerks of the Peace, to the great hindrance of Juſtice, and to the diſinheritance of divers of the Kings moſt loving Subjects.

II. For reformation whereof, to the intent that Juſtice may be the better hereafter preferred, and that the ſame Offices may hereafter be occupied and exerciſed by ſuch perſons learned in the Laws of this Realm, as ſhall be able to exerciſe and ſupply the ſame: (2) Be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons ſhall from henceforth be nominated and appointed to the ſaid Office and Offices of the Cuſtos Rotulorum within any Shire of this Realm of England, Wales, and other the Kings Dominions, Marches or Territories of the ſame, but ſuch as ſhall have a Bill ſigned with the Kings hand for the ſame; (3) which Bill ſigned ſhall be a ſufficient Warrant by the authority aboveſaid, to the ſaid Lord Chancellor of England, and the Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being, to make from time to time Commiſſion or Commiſſions, aſſigning and authorizing thereby the ſame perſon to be Cuſtos Rotulorum, until the King hath by another Bill aſſigned with his own hand, appointed and ordained one other perſon to have, occupy and exerciſe the ſame Office of the Cuſtos Rotulorum, (4) and that the ſaid perſon appointed and aſſigned to be Cuſtos Rotulorum, as is aboveſaid, ſhall and may occupy, exerciſe and enjoy the ſame Office of the Cuſtos Rotulorum, by himſelf, or by his ſufficient Deputy, learned in the Laws of this Realm, and meet and able to ſupply the ſaid Office according to the tenor of the ſaid Grant or Commiſſion.

The Cuſtos Rotulorum ſhall be appointed in every County by Bill ſigned with the Kings own hand. Alt. 3 & 4 Ed. 6. 1.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every Cuſtos Rotulorum for the time being, ſhall at all times hereafter in every Shire of this Realm, Wales, and other the Kings Dominions, Marches and Territories of the ſame, nominate, elect, appoint and aſſign all and every perſon and perſons which hereafter ſhall be Clerks of the Peace within any of the ſaid Shires of this Realm of England, Wales, and other the Kings Dominions, Marches and Territories of the ſame, (2) and to give and grant the ſaid Office and Offices of Clerkſhip of the Peace, to ſuch able perſon inſtructed in the Laws of this Realm, as ſhall be able to exerciſe and occupy the ſame, to hold and enjoy the ſame during the time that the ſaid Cuſtos Rotulorum ſhall occupy and exerciſe the foreſaid Office of Cuſtos Rotulorum: ſo that the ſaid Clerk demean him in the ſaid Office juſtly and honeſtly: (3) And that it be lawful to every ſuch Grantees of the ſaid Clerkſhip, to occupy and enjoy the ſame Office of the Clerkſhip of the Peace, by himſelf, or by his ſufficient Deputy, inſtructed in the Laws of this Realm, ſo that the ſame Deputy be admitted, taken and reputed by the ſaid Cuſtos Rotulorum, to be ſufficient and able to exerciſe, occupy, keep and enjoy the ſame Office of the Clerkſhip of the Peace.

The Cuſtos Rotulorum ſhall appoint the Clerk of the Peace.

The Clerk of the Peace may make a Deputy by the aſſent of the Cuſtos Rotulorum.

IV. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aboveſaid, That all ſuch as now have any of the ſaid Offices of Cuſtos Rotulorum, or Clerkſhip of the Peace, by the Kings Letters Patents of Commiſſion to them made, ſhall and may enjoy, have and exerciſe their ſaid Offices by virtue of the ſame Letters Patents, or Commiſſion by themſelves, or by their ſufficient and able Deputy inſtructed in the Laws of this Realm; Any thing in this preſent Act had or made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Perſons having authority to aſſign Cuſtos Rotulorum, or Clerk of the Peace.

V. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by authority abovesaid, That the Archbiſhop of York, the Biſhop of Durham, the Biſhop of Ely, and every of their Succeſſors, and all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, Corporations and bodies corporated, to whom the Kings Majeſty, or any of his noble Progenitors by his or their Letters Patents have given and granted any liberty and authority, or otherwiſe have authority by other lawful means or ways, to ordain, make and conſtitute any of the ſaid Officers of Cuſtos Rotulorum, or Clerk of the Peace within any County Palatine, or other place, ſhall and may have and enjoy the ſame liberty and authority, according as they have had and enjoyed the ſame; Any thing in this preſent Act had or made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. IV.

A Bill for Colledges, Chantries, &c.

Monaſt. 14. That all Chappels, &c. ſhall be in the Kings diſpoſition. 3 Bulſtr. 152.

IN their moſt humble wiſe ſhewen unto your Royal Majeſty your loving Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That where there have been divers Colledges, Free Chappels, Chantries, Hoſpitals, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, and ſtipendary Prieſts, having perpetuity for ever within this your Realm of England, Wales, and the Marches of the ſame, of which, ſome of them by the licence of your gracious Highneſs, or of your noble Progenitors, and ſome of them by Feoffments and Wills thereupon declared, and ſome of them by other deviſes, conveyance and aſſurance, have been incorporated, eſtabliſhed, founded, erected, had or made by divers names, ſirnames, degrees and corporations, to have had a perpetual continuance forever: (2) ſithence which time divers and many of the donors, founders or patrons, or ſuch as pretend to be donors, founders or patrons, of the ſame Colledges, free Chappels, Chantries, Hoſpitals, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, and ſtipendary Prieſts, and divers other, of their avaricious and covetous minds, and of their own authority, without your gracious licence, have of late entred into the manſion houſes, manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, to the ſame Colledges, free Chappels, Chantries, Hoſpitals, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, and ſtipendary Prieſts belonging and appertaining, and have expulſed the Prieſts, Wardens, Maſters, Miniſters, Rulers, Governours and Incumbents of the ſame, out and from the poſſeſſion thereof, and they, their heirs and aſſigns, do occupy and enjoy the ſaid manſion houſes, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, and do receive, take and employ, and convert the rents, iſſues, revenues and profits of the ſame to their own proper uſes: (3) And ſome of the ſaid Prieſts, Wardens, Maſters, Miniſters, Rulers, Governours and Incumbents of the premiſſes, by covin between them and the patrons, donors or founders of the ſame, or of ſuch as pretend to be patrons, donors or founders of the ſame, or other, have alſo of their own authority, without your Graces licence, bargained and ſold all, or part of their manors, lands and tenements annexed, united, pertaining or belonging to their ſaid Colledges, free Chappels, Chantries, Hoſpitals, and other the ſaid promotions: (4) and ſome of the ſaid Prieſts, Wardens, Maſters, Miniſters, Rulers, Governours and Incumbents, by the aſſent and conſent of their patrons, donors, founders, or ſuch other as have had intereſt in the ſame: and ſome of the ſaid Prieſts, Rulers, Governours and Incumbents, of their own authority, without the aſſent of their patrons, donors or founders, or of ſuch other as have had intereſt in the ſame, have now of late made leaſes for term of life or lives, or for term of years of their ſaid free Chappels, Chantries, Hoſpitals, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, or other the ſaid promotions, or of the manors, lands, tenements, and other the premiſſes, or of part thereof, and have not reſerved the cuſtomable rent and farm that the ſame hath been uſed to be letten for: (5) And ſome of them by covin have ſuffered recoveries, levied fines, and made feoffments, and other conveyances of all or part of their ſaid poſſeſſions, by reaſon whereof divers of the ſaid free Chappels, Chantries, Hoſpitals, and other promotions abovesaid, been clearly diſſolved, extinct or determined, contrary to the wills, minds, intents and purpoſes of the founders, donors or patrons of the ſame, and to the great contempt of your Majeſty, and of your Authority Royal. (6) And we your Graces moſt loving, humble and obedient Subjects right well knowing and perceiving the exceeding great and ineſtimable charges, coſts and expences which your Majeſty hath had and ſuſtained, and daily doth ſuſtain, as well for the maintenance of theſe preſent wars againſt the Realms of France and Scotland, and for the preſervation and defence of us your ſaid Subjects, againſt the invaſions and malice of your enemies the Frenchmen and Scots, (who daily do ſtudy, deviſe and attempt to grieve, annoy and hurt your ſaid Subjects) as alſo for the maintenance of your moſt Royal eſtate, honour, dignity, and eſtimation, which all your ſaid loving Subjects of natural duty been bound to conſerve and increaſe by all ſuch ways and means as they can deviſe: do therefore with our whole voice, petition and interceſſion, moſt humbly beſeech your Majeſty, that it may be edacted, ordained and enabliſhed by your Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, by the authority of the ſame, in manner and form following, that is to ſay:

The ſeveral means whereby the lands of Colledges, Chantries, &c. have been abuſed by the Governours thereof, and others.

Several cauſes of the Kings great expences and charges.

II. Be

All Colledges, Chantries, Hoſpitals &c. made to have continuance for ever, and all their manors, lands, and hereditaments given to the King.

II. Be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular the ſaid Colledges, free Chappels, Chantries, Hoſpitals, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, and other the ſaid Promotions had or made to have continuance in perpetuity for ever, and being, or that hath or ought to be contributary or chargeable to the payment of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, according to the Laws and Statutes in that behalf had and made, by what Name, Surname, Degree or Corporation, they or any of them were founded, ordained, eſtabliſhed, erected, named, called or known, and all and ſingular the Manſion Houſes, Manors, Orchards, Gardeus, Lands, Tenements, Paſtures, Woods, Waters, Rents, Reverſions, Services, Commons, Tithes, Penſions, Portions, Churches, Chappels, Advowſons, Nominations, Patronages, Annuities, Rights, Intereſts, Entries, Conditions, Leets, Courts, Liberties, Priviledges, Franchiſes, and other Hereditaments whatſoever they be, appertaining or belonging, or that did appertain or belong, or were aſſigned or appointed to any ſuch Colledge, free Chappel, Chantry, Hoſpital, Fraternity, Brotherhood, Guild, ſtipendary Prieſt, or other the ſaid Promotions, or to any of them, or accepted, known, or taken as part, parcel, or member of them, or of any of them, and to the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, free Chappels, Hoſpitals, Fraternity, Brotherhood, Guild, ſtipendary Prieſt, or other Promotions, or to any of them united or annexed, which between the fourth day of February, in the ſeven and twentieth year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, and the five and twentieth day of December, in the ſeven and thirtieth year of the ſaid Kings Reign, by reaſon of any ſuch Entry, Expulſion, Bargain, Sale, Feoffment, Fine, Recovery, Leaſe, or other Conveyance thereof had or made, been diſſolved, determined, relinquiſhed or extincted by any of the ways, means or conveyances aforeſaid, or otherwiſe, other then ſuch of them as now be, or were in the poſſeſſion of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, or that been granted or aſſured by his Highneſs licence, agreement, conſent or Letters Patents, to any other perſon or perſons, or have been lawfully obtained, or recovered by any perſon, by any former right or title, without fraud or covin, or by the Kings licence, ſhall from henceforth (by authority of this Act) be adjudged and deemed, and alſo be in the very actual and real poſſeſſion and ſeiſon of the King our Sovereign Lord, and of his Heirs and Succeſſors for ever, (2) in as large and ample manner as the ſaid Prieſts, Wardens, Maſters, Miniſters, Governours, Rulers, or other Incumbents, or any of them, or the patrons, donors, or founders of them, or of any of them, at any time ſithence the ſaid fourth day of February, in the ſeven and twentieth year aforeſaid, had, occupied or enjoyed, or now hath, occupieth or enjoyeth the ſame, and as though all and ſingular the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, Hoſpitals, free Chappels, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, and other the ſaid promotions, and the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, hereditaments, and other the premiſſes whatſoever they be, and every of them, were in this preſent Act ſpecially, particularly and certainly rehearſed, named and expreſſed by expreſs words, names, ſurnames, corporations, titles and faculties, and in their natures, kinds and qualities, the ſaid entries, expulſions, bargains, ſales, fines, feoffments, recoveries, or other aſſurance or conveyance whatſoever they be, had or made (except before excepted) to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Rents or annuities granted by other in conſideration of any bargain of the ſaid lands.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all covenants, bonds, and grants of any rent or annuity, made by any perſon or perſons to any Chantry Prieſt, or other, having any of the ſaid promotions, for and in conſideration of any bargain, grant, or other aſſurance made of any of the ſaid promotions, or any part of them, ſhall be void and fruſtrate.

He that hath ſold and taken money for any Chantry, Colledge &c. lands, ſhall repay the ſame money again.

IV. And over that it is ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons, being in life, which have or hath for any ſum of money to him or them paid, bargained or ſold any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, that did belong or appertain to any of the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, free Chappels, Hoſpitals, Fraternities, Guilds, or other promotions aforeſaid, diſſolved, relinquiſhed or determined after the ſaid fourth day of February, as is abovesaid, ſhall repay to ſuch perſons as ſo bought any of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, or to his executors or aſſigns, upon a requeſt therefore made, as much money as he or they received for the ſale of the thing ſo by him or them ſold: (2) and for non-payment thereof, ſuch perſon and perſons as purchaſed or bought the ſaid lands, tenements, and other the premiſſes, or any parcel thereof, ſhall be enabled by the authority aforeſaid, to ſue and maintain an action of debt at the Common Laws of this Realm, againſt ſuch perſon or perſons as ſo bargained or ſold to him or them, or to their Teſtator, any of the premiſſes belonging to any Colledge, Chantry, free Chappel, Hoſpital, Fraternity, Guild, or other promotion aforeſaid; in which action of debt, no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Aſſurances made to the King of the lands of any Colledge, Chantry, &c. ſhall be good.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every gifts, grants, ſurrenders, and all and every other aſſurances, had, made or done to the Kings Highneſs of any of the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, and other the ſaid promotions, or of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments to any of them annexed, united or belonging, at any time between the ſaid fourth day of February, in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings Reign, and the ſaid five and twentieth day of December, in the ſeven and thirtieth year of his moſt gracious Reign, ſhall be by the ſaid authority taken, judged and deemed good and perfect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as well againſt the ſaid Chantry Prieſts, Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Governours, Rulers, and other having any the ſaid promotions, their ſucceſſors and aſſigns, and the ſucceſſors and aſſigns of every of them, as againſt all and every founder, donor and patron thereof, and every of them, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of them, and every of them.

All letters patents granted by the King, & all aſſurances made by his conſent of any Colledges and Chantries, &c. ſhall be good.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Letters Patents made by the Kings Highneſs to any perſon or perſons of any of the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, Guilds, Fraternities, or other the ſaid promotions, or of any part or parcel of the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, Hoſpitals, Guilds, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, or other the ſaid promotions: and that all fines, feoffments, recoveries, and all other aſſurances and conveyances thereof had or made by the Kings aſſent, conſent, licence or agreement, to any perſon or perſons, by any Chantry Prieſt, Maſter, Warden, Miniſter, Ruler, Governout, or other having any the ſaid promotions, of any the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, Hoſpitals, Guilds, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, or any of the ſaid promotions, or of any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, belonging, annexed or united to any of them, or of any part, parcel or member of the ſame, ſhall ſtand and be in their forces and effects according to their tenors, forms and effects, and ſhall be by the authority of this Act, good, perfect, and available, as well againſt the ſaid Chantry Prieſts, Wardens, Maſters, Rulers, Governours, and other having any of the ſaid promotions, and their ſucceſſors, and the ſucceſſors of every of them, as againſt the founders, donors and patrons of the ſame, and the ordinary of them, and every of them, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them; any Law, Statute, Ordinance, or other thing to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The rents and lands of Hoſpitals, Chantries, &c. be not employed to ſo good uſes as they were given for.

VII. And where alſo at this preſent time there be a great number of Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, free Chappels, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, and ſtipendary Prieſts, having perpetuity for ever, and being charged or chargeable to the payment of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, according to the Statute in that behalf had and provided, and all Colledges, as well chargeable or not chargeable to the payment of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, ſet, lying and being within this Realm of England, Wales, and other the Kings Dominions, or the Marches of the ſame, having divers manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, and other hereditaments, to the ſame aſſigned, appointed, limited, united or annexed, by the patrons, donors or founders of them which have been eſtabliſhed, ordained, founded, had or made by the ſaid patrons, donors or founders, for ever, to the intent that alms to the poor people, and other good, virtuous and charitable deeds might be made, done and executed by the Wardens, Maſters, Miniſters, Governours, Brothers and Incumbents of the ſame: (2) And for ſo much as it is right well known, that the ſaid Governours, Wardens, Maſters, Miniſters, Brothers and Incumbents, or the greateſt number of them, hitherto have not, ne yet do uſe, exerciſe, order and uſe their ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, free Chappels, and other the ſaid promotions, nor the manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments to the ſame belonging, ne yet do beſtow, expend and employ the iſſues, rents, revenues and profits of the ſame, in alms, and other deeds of charity, according to ſuch vertuous and godly intents and purpoſes as the ſaid Chantries, free Chappels, Colledges, Hoſpitals, and other the ſaid promotions, were firſt founded, eſtabliſhed, erected, ordained, had, made or incorporated, to the great diſpleaſure of Almighty God, and to the diſcontentation of the King our Sovereign Lord: (3) And for that the Kings Highneſs, of his moſt godly and bleſſed diſpoſition, intendeth to have the premiſſes uſed and exerciſed to more godly and virtuſus purpoſes, and to reduce and bring them into a more decent and convenient order, for the commodity and wealth of this his Realm, and for the ſurety of his Subjects of the ſame:

The King may grant a Commiſſion to certain perſons to enter into the Hoſpitals, Chantries, &c. and their lands, &c. and to ſeiſe them to his uſe.

VIII. Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Majeſty ſhall and may at his Highneſs will and pleaſure, from time to time hereafter, during his natural life (which Almighty God long preſerve) make and direct his Graces Commiſſion or Commiſſions, under his Great Seal (every ſuch Commiſſion to be had and made upon a Warrant ſigned with his Graces hand) to ſuch number of perſons, and into ſuch Counties, Shires and places, as by his Highneſs ſhall be thought expedient and requiſite, (2) giving unto the ſaid Commiſſioners, or to two of them at the leaſt, full power and authority by virtue of the ſame Commiſſion or Commiſſions, for and in his Highneſs name, to enter into all and ſingular ſuch and ſo many Chantries, free Chappels, Hoſpitals, Colledges, and other the ſaid promotions, and into all and ſingular ſuch manors, manſion houſes, meaſes, lands, tenements, paſtures, woods, waters, rents, reverſions, ſervices, poſſeſſions, and other hereditaments whatſoever they been, or into any part and parcel thereof, for and in the name of ſeiſin and poſſeſſion, of all the hereditaments annexed, united, belonging or appertaining to any Chantry, Hoſpital, free Chappel, Colledge, Fraternity, Brotherhood, Guild, or any other the ſaid promotions, or whereof any Prieſts, Provoſts, Governours, Rulers, or other Incumbents of them or any of them, by what name, ſirname, degree, title, or corporation they and every of them, or any of them been founded, erected, ordained, eſtabliſhed, named, called or known, now hath or enjoyeth, or hereafter ſhall have and enjoy, to the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, free Chappels, Colledges, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, or other the ſaid proportions being chargeable to the payment of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, and all Colledges chargeable or not chargeable to the ſaid payment of Firſt-fruits and Tenths, as is aforeſaid, or to any of them, as ſhall be named, expreſſed and appointed in the ſaid Commiſſion or Commiſſions, (3) and to ſeize and take the ſame Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, free Chappels, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, and other the ſaid promotions, manors, lands, tenements, and other the premiſſes mentioned in the ſaid Commiſſion and Commiſſons, and every of them, and every part, parcel, and member of the ſame, into the Kings poſſeſſion and hands: (4) To have and to hold the ſame to the Kings Highneſs, and to his heirs and ſucceſſors for ever: (5) And that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, may enter into any part or parcel of the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, free Chappels, Colledges, and other the ſaid promotions, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments mentioned in any ſuch Commiſſion, for and in the name of all the Chantries, Colledges, free Chappels, and other the ſaid Promotions, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments whatſoever they be, annexed, united, belonging or appertaining to any of the ſaid Chantries, Colledges, Chappels, or other the ſaid promotions, and expreſſed, mentioned and named in any ſuch Commiſſion: (6) which entry ſo had and made into any part or parcel, for and in the name of all the premiſſes mentioned in any ſuch Commiſſion, ſhall by the authority of this Act be of as good force, value and effect in Law, to all intents, reſpects, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſaid Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, had entred into all and every part and parcel of the ſame Chantries, Hoſpitals, free Chappels, Colledges, and other the ſaid promotions, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments mentioned in any ſuch Commiſſion, although the ſaid Chantries, and other the ſaid promotions, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments expreſſed within any ſuch Commiſſion, ſhall happen to be in ſundry and ſeveral Towns, Places, Shires or Counties within this Realm, Wales, and other the Kings Dominions: (7) And that upon and by any ſuch entry had and made by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or by any two of them at the leaſt, into all, or into any part or parcel, in the name of all the manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions and hereditaments to the ſaid promotions, or any of them united, annexed, pertaining, or in any wiſe belonging, and mentioned in the ſaid Commiſſion, all and ſingular the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, free Chappels, Colledges, and other the ſaid promotions, manſion houſes, manors, orchards, gardens, lands, tenements, medows, paſtures, woods, waters, rents, reverſions, ſervices, tithes, penſions, portions, parſonages appropriate, Churches, Chappels, advowſons, nominations, patronages, annuities, rights, intereſts, entries, conditions, commons, leets, courts, liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, and other hereditaments, whatſoever they be, to the ſaid promotions mentioned in the ſaid Commiſſion, or to any of them belonging, or appertaining, united or annexed, ſo entred into, ſeiſed or taken, ſhall forthwith, and immediately after ſunch entry had and made (as is aboveſaid) by authority of this Act, be veſted, adjudged and deemed, and alſo be in the very actual and real poſſeſſion and ſeiſon of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, and of his heirs and ſucceſſors for ever, (8) as though all and ſingular the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, free Chappels, and other the ſaid promotions, and the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, hereditaments, and other the premiſſes whatſoever they be, and every of them, were adjudged and deemed by expreſs words, ſentences and terms in this Act, to be hereafter in the actual and real poſſeſſion and ſeiſon of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, and were in this preſent Act ſpecially, particularly and certainly rehearſed, named and expreſſed by expreſs words, names, ſurnames, corporations, titles and faculties, and in their natures, kinds and qualities, without any inquiſition by the oaths of twelve men, office or other entry, or further circumſtance thereof to be had or made: (9) And that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, after ſuch entry and ſeiſure ſo by them had and made by virtue of the ſaid Commiſſion or Commiſſions ſo to them directed, ſhall certifie and return the ſaid Commiſſion and Commiſſions, and every of them (making mention in writing of their doings in the ſame, according to the words and authority to them given by the ſaid Commiſſion) into the Kings Court of the Chancery, at ſuch day as ſhall be limited in the ſaid Commiſſion or Commiſſions, there to remain of Record for ever.

The Commiſſioners may ſeiſe to the Kings uſe any Hoſpitals, Chantries, &c. and their lands named in their Commiſſions.

After the Commiſſioners entry into any lands ſpecified in their Commiſſion, the ſame ſhall be veſted in actual poſſeſſion of the King.

The Commiſſioners ſhall return their Commiſſion into the Chancery.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well all and every the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, free Chappels, and other the ſaid promotions, and all the manſion houſes, manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions and hereditaments, and other the premiſſes whatſoever they be, and every part and parcel of them, which (by authority and virtue of this Act) been veſted, adjudged and deemed, and alſo ſhall be in the Kings poſſeſſion and hands, as alſo all other the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, free Chappels, and other the ſaid promotions, and all the manors, manſion houſes, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions and hereditaments, whatſoever they be, to them or any of them belonging or appertaining, and every part and parcel thereof, which hereafter ſhall happen to come to his Highneſs hands and poſſeſſion by any ſuch entry, ſeiſure or taking into his Graces hands, by Commiſſion or Commiſſions, as is aboveſaid, from and after the ſaid entry, ſeiſure and taking into his Majeſties hands, ſhall be in the order, rule, ſurvey, and governance of our Sovereign Lord the Kings Court of Augmentations of the Revenues of his Crown, (2) and to be granted, letten and ſet to farm by the Chancellor, Officers and Miniſters of the ſame Court, in ſuch manner and form as other manors, lands and tenements appointed to the ſaid Court of the Augmentations of the Revenues of his Graces Crown, been to be granted or letten: (3) and that all the farms, iſſues, revenues and profits coming and growing of the premiſſes, or of any part thereof, ſhall be taken and received to the Kings uſe by the Officers and Miniſters of the ſame Court, in ſuch manner and form as is uſed and had of other manors, lands and tenements, and of the iſſues, revenues and profits of the ſame, committed to the order, rule, ſurvey and governance of the ſaid Court of Augmentations; any Act, Statute, Ordinance, Cuſtom or uſe heretofore had, made or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

All Chantiles, Colledges, Fraternities, &c. and their lands ſhall be in the Order and ſurvey of the Court of Augmentations.

X. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all matters, variances, demands, ſuits, contentions and debates to be had or made of or for any matter or thing, whereby the manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments ſo appointed to the ſaid Court of the Augmentations, ſhall be charged, asked, demanded or challenged, to the hurt, detriment or prejudice of the King, ſhall be heard, examined, tried, ended and determined by and in the ſaid Court of Augmentations, in ſuch form, manner and condition as other matters and cauſes appointed to the ſaid Court, be ſued, heard, examined and determined, or by ſuch other ways and means as to the ſaid Court ſhall ſeem convenient and meet for the adminiſtration of juſtice indifferently between the Kings Highneſs and his Subjects.

All ſuits for the lands of Chantries, &c. ſhall be heard and determined in the Court of Augmentations.

XI. And be it further ordained and enacted by the ſaid authority, That all other matters, variances, contentions, ſuits, claims and demands, to be had, made or done between any of the Kings Subjects, of, for or concerning the ſaid manors, lands, tenements and other the premiſſes, or any part thereof, or for any treſpaſs or other offence touching the ſame, ſhall be ſued, asked, demanded, tried and determined at and by the Common Laws of this Realm, and according to the rules, orders and judgment of the Common Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and not in the ſaid Court of the Augmentations of the Revenues of the Kings Crown; any Law, Statute, Ordinance, or other thing had, made or done to the contrary notwithſtanding, and as though the ſaid Court of the Augmentations of the Revenues of the Kings Crown had never been had ne made.

Suits between one of the Kings ſubjects and another, touching the ſaid lands, ſhall be determined by the Common Law.

All aſſurances made by the Governours of the ſaid Chantries, &c. of any of their lands without the Kings aſſent, ſhall be void.

XII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all recoveries, fines, feoffments, and other conveyances to be hereafter had, made, done or ſuffered, for or of any eſtate of inheritance or free-hold, without the Kings Majeſties aſſent, conſent, or agreement, by any of the ſaid Chantry Prieſts, Wardens, Maſters, Miniſters, Governors, Rulers, or other, having any of the ſaid promotions of the ſaid Chantries, Colledges, Guilds, Fraternities, Hoſpitals, and other the ſaid promotions, or of any manors, lands, tenements or other hereditaments, to the ſaid Chantries, Colledges, and other promotions united, annexed, belonging or appertaining, or to any part or parcel of them, and being not had, made, done or ſuffered to the Kings Highneſs, ſhall be utterly void, fruſtrate, and of none effect, as well againſt the Kings Majeſty, as againſt the ſucceſſor and ſucceſſors of every ſuch Chantry Prieſt, Governors, Rulers, and any other having any of the ſaid promotions, and every of them:

The right of others ſaved, except, &c.

XIII. Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them, other then the Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Governors, Rulers, Prieſts and Incumbents of the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, free Chappels, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, and other having any of the ſaid promotions, or any of them, and the ſucceſſors of them and of every of them: and other then ſuch as be and pretend to be founders, patrons, or donors of the premiſſes, or of any of them, or of any part or parcel thereof, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them; And other then ſuch perſon and perſons, and their heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns, as claim or pretend to have any eſtate, right, title, intereſt, uſe, poſſeſſion, or condition, of, in or to the premiſſes, or any part or parcel thereof, by reaſon of any feoffment, fine, bargain and ſale, or by any other ways, means or conveyance to them made of any eſtate of free-hold, or inheritance, without the Kings aſſent, conſent or agreement, by any of the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Governours, Rulers, Prieſts and Incumbents, or by the founders, donors or patrons of them, or any of them, (2) all ſuch right, title, claim, poſſeſſion, intereſt, rents, annuities, commodities, commons, offices, fees, leaſes, liveries, livings, penſions, portions, ſinodies, proxies, debts, duties, and other profits, which they or any of them have, claim, ought, may, or might have had, in, of or to any of the premiſſes, or in, of or to any part or parcel thereof, in ſuch like manner and condition, to all intents, reſpects, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had nor made, and as though the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, and other the ſaid promotions had ſtill continued and remained.

Leaſes of lands reſerved for the maintenance of hoſpitality, made within one year before, &c.

XIV. And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Rulers, Governours, Prieſts, Incumbents, or owners of any ſuch Chantry, Hoſpital, free Chappel, Colledge, Fraternity, Brotherhood, Guild, or other the Promotions aforeſaid, or of any of them, within one year next before the three and twentieth day of November, in the ſeven and thirtieth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings Reign, have made, or hereafter ſhall make any Leaſe or Grant under his or their common Seal, or other Seal, or otherwiſe for term of years, life or lives, of their ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, free Chappels, Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, and other the ſaid Promotions, or of any part thereof, or of any manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions or hereditaments whatſoever they be, to them or any of them united or annexed, belonging or appertaining, or to them or any of them limited or appointed, which manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, or other hereditaments whatſoever they be, were not before the ſaid Leaſe for the more part of twenty years laſt paſſed ſet, nor let to ferm, but kept and reſerved in manurance, tillage or occupation, or now be in the manurance of the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Rulers, Governours, Prieſts, or Incumbents of the premiſſes, for the maintenance of hoſpitality and good houſe-keeping: (2) Or within one year next before the ſaid three and twentieth day of November, hath made, or hereafter ſhall make any Leaſe, or Grant for term of lives, or for term of years, of any of the ſaid manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, hereditaments, and other the premiſſes whatſoever they be, whereof and in the which any eſtate or intereſt for term of life, year or years, at the time of the making any ſuch Grant or Leaſe, then had, or ſhall have his being or continuance, and then was or ſhall not be determined, finiſhed, or expired: (3) Or within one year next before the ſaid three and twentieth day of November, hath made, or hereafter do make any Leaſe or Grant for term of life, or for term of years, of any of the ſaid manors, meaſes, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, or other hereditaments whatſoever they be, upon which Leaſes and Grants, the uſual and old rents and ferms accuſtomed to be yielden and reſerved by the ſpace of twenty years next before the ſaid three and twentieth day of November, be not or ſhall not be thereupon reſerved and yielden: (4) Or if any of the ſaid Prieſts, Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, or other the ſaid Governours or Rulers ſithence the ſaid xxiij. day of November, hath made any bargain or ſale of his or their woods, which woods be yet growing and ſtanding, (5) that then all and every ſuch Leaſe and Grant of any of the premiſſes, and every ſuch bargain and ſale of wood or woods, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect.

Leaſes of land in leaſe for life or years made within one year.

Leaſes whereupon the old rent is not reſerved made within one year before, &c.

Woodſales of woods yet growing.

Lands or leaſes whereof the Governours were ſeiſed or poſſeſſed to their own private uſes.

XV. Provided alway, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, or hereditaments, which the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Chantry Prieſts, Incumbents, or other the ſaid Governours or Rulers of the premiſſes, or of any of them, hath, or is, or hereafter ſhall have, or be poſſeſſed or ſeiſed of, in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, general or ſpecial, for term of life, term of years, or otherwiſe, to his or their own proper uſes by inheritance or purchaſe, and not being united or annexed to his or their ſaid Colledges, Hoſpitals, free Chappels, or other the ſaid Promotions, nor to any manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, rents, annuities, or yearly penſion or penſions of any yearly ſum or ſums of money, heretofore given or granted, or hereafter to be given or granted by the King our Sovereign Lord, to any of the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Chantry Prieſts, Incumbents, Governours, or Rulers of the premiſſes, or of any of them, for term of life only, under his Penſions given by the King for term of life.

Great Seal of England, or under the Seal of the Augmentation of the Revenues of the Kings Crown: (2) But that all and every the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Chantry Prieſts, Incumbents, and other the Governours and Rulers aforeſaid, and every of them, ſhall and may have, hold, poſſeſs, enjoy and keep, to their own proper uſes, all and ſingular ſuch manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions and hereditaments, rents, annuities, and yearly penſions, not being annexed or united to his or their ſaid Promotions, according to ſuch Intereſt, Eſtate, Title and Inheritance, as they or any of them hath, or ſhall have, of, and in the ſame; any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding, and as though this Act had never been had ne made.

XVI. Provieed alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every of the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Chantry Prieſts, Incumbents, and other the ſaid Governours and Rulers, from whom the Kings Highneſs, by virtue of this Act, ſhall have, take or ſeiſe any of his or their manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, or other hereditaments, by any of the ways or means aforeſaid, without giving or aſſuring any recompence for the ſame, that they and every of them from thenceforth ſhall yearly be defaulked, abated, and allowed out of their yearly tenths hereafter to be paid, and alſo of their firſt fruits, as they ſhall happen hereafter to be due to the King in his Court of firſt fruits and tenths, ſo much money, and after ſuch rate and portion, as the ſame manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, which by authority of this Act ſhall come to the Kings hands and poſſeſſion by any of the ways or means aforeſaid, were aſſeſſed, valued, rated and taxed at, in and by the taxation of the tenths and firſt-fruits now remaining of record in the ſaid Court of firſt-fruits and tenths, by force of the Statute thereof made, had and provided.

They from whom the King ſhall take any lands, ſhall be abated of their Tenths and Firſt-fruits.

XVII. Provided alway, and be it ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons that before the making of this Act had or enjoyed any manner of annuity or rent to be taken or had of any of the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, or other promotions aforeſaid, ſhall have and enjoy the ſame in like manner and form as they ſhould or ought to have done if the ſaid Chantries, Hoſpitals, Colledges, and other the ſaid promotions had ſtill remained and continued in eſſe, and full being; any thing in this Act mentioned to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A proviſion for ſuch as had annuities or rents out of the lands of the Chantries, &c.

XVIII. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons have juſtly and truly, without fraud and covin, paid or given any ſums of money to any ſuch Maſter, Warden, Miniſter, Governour, Ruler, or to any other having any of the ſaid promotions, for the bargain and ſale of any woods growing in and upon any of the premiſſes, and not yet felled (as is aforeſaid) which bargain and ſale by this Act is made void and of none effect, that the ſame buyers, their executors or aſſigns, upon requeſt by him or them made to the Chancellor of the Court of Augmentations, for the time being, ſhall be well and truly contented and repaid of and with the Kings treaſure remaining in the hands of the Treaſurer of the ſaid Court of Augmentations, for the time being, by the hands of the ſaid Chancellor, Treaſurer, or other Officers of the ſame Court of Augmentations, within one year after any ſuch requeſt, and after the diſſolution of the ſaid Chantries, Colledges, Hoſpitals, and other the ſaid promotions, or after the ſeverance of any part of them: or elſe the ſaid bargainers and buyers of the ſaid wood ſhall have and enjoy, cut, take, and carry away the ſame woods ſo being by him or them bought; any thing above mentioned to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

He that hath bought and paid for any wood, ſhall have his money again, or the ſame wood.

XIX. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch Governour, Ruler, Warden, Maſter, Miniſter, or other having any the ſaid ſpiritual promotions, have or ſhall compound for their firſt-fruits for any ſuch ſpiritual promotions, according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and the days of payment of any part thereof at the entry and ſeiſure thereof, as is abovesaid, ſhall not then be expired or paſt, that all ſums of money ſo to be payable at any day or days then to come, ſhall ceaſe, and be not payed, asked or demanded; any Bond, Recognizance, Surety, or other thing had or made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A remedy for any Governour that hath compounded for his firſt-fruits.

XX. Provided alway, and be it enacted, That all ſuch Rents, Services, Iſſues, Profits, and other ſums of money due and payable for any cauſe or matter concerning the premiſſes, or any of them, in the Kings Court of Exchequer, ſhall continue, and be continually and yearly levied, charged and payed in the ſame Court, in ſuch manner and form as heretofore have been uſed; any Law, Cuſtom, unity of poſſeſſion in the Kings Highneſs, or other thing to the contrary notwithſtanding, and as though the ſaid promotions, manors, lands, tenements, and other the premiſſes, had not come to the Kings hand or poſſeſſion. Stat. 1 Ed. 6. 14.

Money due out of the premiſſes in the Exchequer ſhall be payable as before.

CAP. V.

The Bill for them that be in value in Goods of 400 Marks in London, to paſs upon Attaints.

Humbly beſeechen your moſt excellent Majeſty your obedient Subjects, the Mayor and Commonalty of your City of London, That whereas amongſt divers and ſundry Liberties and Franchiſes, granted by your moſt noble Progenitors to the City of London, for divers reaſonable reſpects and conſiderations in their Charters expreſſed and mentioned, one Liberty is, That all Inquiſitions to be taken by the Juſtices and Miniſters of your Highneſs, of the Citizens of London, ſhall be taken at Saint Martin the Grand, or at the Guild Hall of the ſaid City of London, and not elſewhere, except Inquiſitions before the Juſtices in Eyre at the Towre of London, and for delivery of the Goal of Newgate, as in the Charters of your ſaid Noble Progenitors, to the ſaid Citizens of London granted, and by your Majeſty confirmed, plainly appeareth; (2) which Liberties the ſame Citizens have continually ſince the ſaid Grants thereof to them made, exerciſed, uſed and enjoyed accordingly, as by divers matters of Record in your High Courts of Weſtminſter evidently appeareth:

Attaint 14. What perſons ſhall paſs upon trial of an Attaint in London; and where the ſame ſhall be tried. Where the Kings Juſtices ſhall take Inquiſitions in London.

II. And where alſo an Act of Parliament concerning Perjury and puniſhment of untrue Verdicts, was made and eſtabliſhed in the xxiij. year of your moſt gracious Reign, amongſt 23 H. 8. 3.

other then and there made and ordained, that upon every untrue Verdict made after the ſaid Act, between party and party, in any ſuit, plaint or demand made, and Verdict thereupon given, extending to the value of xl. l. and not concerning the jeopardy of mans life, the party grieved by the ſame verdict ſhall have a writ of attaint againſt every perſon which after the ſaid Act would give an untrue verdict: (2) And that in the ſaid attaint there ſhould be awarded againſt the petit Jury, the party, and the grand Jury, Proceſs of Sum. Resum. and diſtreſs infinite: (3) which grand Jury ſhould be in like number as the grand Jury is now in attaint, and that every of them that ſhall paſs in the ſame, ſhall have lands and tenements of the value of xx. marks by the year of free-hold out of ancient demean. (4) And alſo it was then further enacted and eſtabliſhed, That all attaints afterwards to be taken, ſhould be taken before your Majeſty in your Bench, or afore your Juſtices of your Common Place, and in none other Court: (5) And that the Nisi prius ſhould be granted by the diſcretion of the Juſtices, upon the diſtreſs.

III. And foraſmuch as the ſaid Act cannot be duly put in execution by the Citizens of the ſaid City for lack of ſufficient perſons having lands and tenements to the clear yearly value of xx. marks, out of ancient demean, according to the tenor of the ſaid Act, and alſo that the appearance of the ſaid Citizens, to be had out of the ſaid City, is againſt the Liberties and Franchiſes of the ſame City, and no Proviſo made within the ſaid Act for the ſame Citizens to enjoy their ancient Liberties and Priviledges before rehearſed: (2) It may therefore pleaſe your Majeſty, of your moſt abundant Grace, to condeſcend, that it may be enacted by your Highneſs, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all and every manner perſon and perſons, being Citizens of your ſaid City, and being in value of goods and cattels to the ſum of CCCC. marks, may be impanelled and returned by the Sheriff of your ſaid City in every attaint hereafter to be brought by virtue of the ſaid Eſtatute, upon Verdicts hereafter to be given by your ſaid Citizens, without any Challenge for the inſufficiency of free-hold of any of them, to be made by any of the ſaid parties, in any ſuch Attaint, upon ſuch Verdicts hereafter to be given. (3) And that the Juſtices for the time being, ſhall ſit only at the Guild-hall of the ſame City, or at ſome convenient place within the ſame City, and there to ſwear the grand Jury, and to take the Verdicts in ſuch Attaints hereafter to be taken. (4) And that the ſaid Citizens hereafter be not compelled nor diſtrained to appear in any ſuch Attaint hereafter to be taken upon any untrue Verdict given, or hereafter to be given in London, but only within the limits of the ſaid City, of and for the trial of the ſame; the ſaid former Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Of what eſtate thoſe perſons muſt be which ſhall paſs upon an attaint in London. 11 H. 7. 22.

Trial of attaints ſhall be in London, notwithſtanding the ſtatute of 23 H. 8. 3.

CAP. VI.

The Bill for the Burning of Frames.

Burning 1. Conduits 1. Burning of a frame of timber prepared for the building of an houſe, &c. made felony.

Several new and wicked devices tending to the damnifying of others.

WHere divers and ſundry malicious and envious perſons, being men of evil and perverſe diſpoſitions, and ſeduced by the inſtigation of the Devil, and minding the hurt, undoing and impoveriſhment of divers of the Kings true and faithful Subjects, as enemies to the Commonwealth of this Realm, and as no true or obedient Subjects unto the Kings Majeſty, of their malicious and wicked minds, have of late invented and practiſed a new damnable kind of vice, diſpleaſure and damnifying of the Kings true Subjects, and the Commonwealth of this Realm, as in ſecret burning of Frames of Timber prepared and made by the owners thereof, ready to be ſet up and edified for houſes, cutting out of heads and dams of pools, motes, ſtews, and ſeveral waters: cutting of conduit-heads, or conduit-pipes: burning of wains and carts loaden with coals or other goods: burning of heaps of wood, cut, felled and prepared for making of coals: cutting out of beaſts tongues: cutting of the ears of the Kings Subjects: barking of apple-trees, pear-trees, and other fruit-trees: and divers other like kinds of miſerable offences, to the great diſpleaſure of Almighty God, and of the Kings Majeſty, and to the moſt evil and pernicious example that hath been ſeen in this Realm:

It ſhall be felony, unlawfully and ſecretly to burn or cut a frame of timber prepared for the making a houſe. Rep. 1 Ed. 6. 12. 1 M. 1.

II. For remedy whereof, be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons, at any time after the firſt day of May next enſuing, maliciouſly, unlawfully, willingly and ſecretly burn, or cauſe to be burned, cut, or cauſe to be cut or deſtroyed, any frame or frames of timber of any perſon or perſons, made and prepared, or hereafter to be made or prepared, for or towards the making of any houſe or houſes, ſo that the ſame ſhall not be able for the purpoſe for the which it was prepared: that then every ſuch act and acts ſo to be committed, perpetrated and done by any perſon or perſons, ſhall be deemed and adjudged Felony, and the offender or offenders therein being lawfully convicted or attainted, ſhall have and ſuffer pains of death, (2) and ſhall loſe and forfeit goods and cattels for ever, and the profits of their lands, tenements and hereditaments for term of his life or their lives.

This felony doth not make the wife loſe her dowry, nor any corruption of blood in the heir.

The offenders heir ſhall ſatisfie the party grieved.

III. Provided always, That ſuch Attainder ſhall be no avoiding of any womans Dower, ne corruption of blood againſt the heir or heirs of ſuch offender or offenders, (2) but be it enacted, That the wife and wives of ſuch offender or offenders ſhall have their Dowers: and that ſuch heir and heirs ſhall after the deceaſe of the ſaid offender, have and enjoy the ſaid lands, tenements, and hereditaments of ſuch offender and offenders, in like manner and form as they ſhould have had, if this Act, or any ſuch Attainder had never been had ne made. (3) And that the heir or heirs having the ſaid lands, tenements or hereditaments of any eſtate of inheritance, ſhall yield unto the party grieved for ſuch offence or offences, his damages of the profits of the ſaid lands, tenements or hereditaments of ſuch offender or offenders, whereunto he ſhall be inheritable by action of debt, to be taken in the common Bench at Westminster; in which Action no wager of Law, eſſoin, ne protection ſhall be allowed.

The penalty for cutting the head of any ſeveral waters. ALT. 5 El. 1.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, after the ſaid firſt day of May, maliciouſly, wilfully and unlawfully cut, or cauſe to be cut out of the head or heads, dam or dams of any ponds, pools, motes, ſtews, or other ſeveral waters, or the head or heads, pipe or pipes of any conduit or conduits of any other perſon or perſons: (2) or maliciouſly, willingly and unlawfully, after the ſaid firſt day of May, burn or cauſe to be burned any wain or wains, cart or carts laden, or to be laden with coals, or any other goods or merchandiſes of any other perſon or perſons: (3) or maliciouſly, willingly and unlawfully, after the ſaid firſt day of May, do burn, or cauſe to be burned any heap or heaps of wood of any other perſon or perſons, prepared, cut and felled, or to be prepared, cut or felled, for making of coals, billets or talwood: (4) or maliciouſly, unlawfully and willingly, after the ſaid firſt day of May, cut out, or cauſe to be cut out the tongue or tongues, of any tame beaſt or beaſts of any other perſon or perſons, the ſaid beaſt then being in life: (5) or maliciouſly, willingly or unlawfully, after the ſaid firſt day of May, cut or cauſe to be cut off the ear or ears of any of the Kings Subjects, otherwiſe then by authority of the Law, chance-medly, ſudden affray, or adventure: (6) or after the ſaid day, maliciouſly, willingly or unlawfully bark any apple-trees, pear-trees, or other fruit-trees of any other perſon or perſons: (7) that then every ſuch offender and offenders ſhall not only loſe and forfeit unto the party grieved, treble damages for ſuch offence or offences, the ſame to be recovered by action of treſpaſs to be taken at the Common Law, but alſo ſhall loſe and forfeit to the Kings Majeſty, and his Heirs, for every ſuch offence x. l. ſterling in name of a fine.

Burning a cart loaden.

Burning a heap of wood prepared for coals.

Cutting out the tongue of a beaſt.

Cutting off the ears of another.

Barking of fruit-trees.

CAP. VII.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 33 H. 8. 10. concerning the eſtabliſhment of the ſix weeks Seſſions, and a repeal of the ſame. Exp. And all the offences in the ſame Statute mentioned ſhall be enquired of, puniſhed and reformed at a quarter Seſſions.

Juſtices of Peace, 20.

CAP. VIII.

The Act of Vi & Armis left out of any Indictment lacking theſe words, Vi & Armis, ſhall be good.

Where before this time it was, and yet is commonly uſed in all Indictments and Inquiſitions of Treaſon, Murder, Felony, Treſpaſs, and divers other, to have compriſed and put in every the ſame Indictments and Inquiſitions theſe words, vi & armis, and in divers of the ſame Indictments, to declare the manner of the force and arms, that is to ſay, vi & armis, videlicet, baculis, cultellis, arcubus & ſagittis, or ſuch other like words in effect, where of truth the parties ſo indicted had no manner of ſuch weapons at the time of the ſaid offence committed and done: (2) yet in default and lack of the ſame words, the ſaid Indictments were, and yet be taken as void in the Law, for to put any perſon to anſwer thereunto: (3) and the party and parties ſo indicted, for lack of the ſame words, not being compriſed and put in the ſaid Indictments, have taken advantage thereof, and have avoided the ſame Indictments by Writ, or Writs of Error, or by Plea upon his or their apparance, as the ſame caſe did require: (4) For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God next coming, theſe words, vi & armis, viz. cum baculis, cultellis, arcubus & ſagittis, or ſuch other like, ſhall not of neceſſity be put or compriſes in any Inquiſition or Indictment: (5) nor that the party or parties being hereafter indicted of any offence, ſhall have or take any advantage by Writ or Writs of Error, Plea, or otherwiſe, to adnul or avoid any ſuch Inquiſition, or Indictment for that, that the ſaid words, vi & armis, viz. baculis, cultellis, arcubus & ſagittis, or any of the ſame or like words, ſhall not be put or compriſed in the ſaid Inquiſitions or Indictments: (6) But that the ſame Inquiſitions or Indictments, and every of them, lacking the ſaid words, vi & armis, videlicet, baculis, cultellis, arcubus & ſagittis, or any of them, ſhall from henceforth, by the authority aforeſaid, be taken, deemed and adjudged, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as good and effectual in the Law, as the ſame Inquiſitions and Indictments, having the ſame words, vi & armis, videlicet, baculis, cultellis, arcubus & ſagittis, compriſed and put in every of the ſame Inquiſitions and Indictments were, or heretofore have been taken, deemed or adjudged; any Law, Uſage or Cuſtom heretofore had and uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Clergy 13. Indictments lacking vi & armis ſhall be good in Law; and Clergy ſhall not be granted to Horſe ſtealers. The words cum baculis, cultellis, arcubus & ſagittis ſhall not of neceſſity be put in an Indictment.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, at any time after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God next coming, do ſteal any Horſe, Gelding, Mare, Fole or Filly, and thereof be found guilty by the verdict of twelve men, or by his own confeſſion, be attainted; (2) or otherwiſe be indicted for the ſtealing of any Horſe, Gelding, Mare, Fole or Filly, and thereupon arraigned, and do ſtand mute of malice or froward mind, (3) or challenge peremptory above the number of twenty, (4) or elſe will not anſwer directly to the ſame Indictment or Felony whereupon he is ſo arraigned, (5) that then every ſuch perſon and perſons ſhall not from henceforth be admitted to have the benefit of his or their Clergy, but utterly be excluded thereof, and ſhall ſuffer death in ſuch manner and form, as they ſhould have, if they were no Clerks.

He that is attainted for the ſtealing of a Horſe, ſhall not have the benefit of Clergy. 1 Ed. 6. 12.

CAP. IX.

A Bill again Uſury.

Where before this time divers and ſundry Acts, Statutes and Laws have been ordained, had and made within this Realm, for the avoiding and puniſhment of Uſury, being a thing unlawful, and of other corrupt bargains, ſhifts and chevilances, (2) which Acts, Statutes and Laws been ſo obſure, and dark in ſentences, words and terms, and upon the ſame ſo many doubts, ambiguities and queſtions have riſen and grown, and the ſame Acts, and Statutes, and Laws been of ſo little force or effect, that by reaſon thereof little or no puniſhment hath enſued to the offenders of the ſame, but rather hath encouraged them to uſe the ſame: (3) For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every the ſaid Acts, Statutes and Laws heretofore made, of, for or concerning uſury, ſhifts, corrupt bargains and chevilences, and every of them, and all pains, forfeitures and penalties concerning the ſame, and every part thereof, ſhall from henceforth be utterly void and of none effect to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes.

Uſury 1. How offenders in Uſury ſhall be puniſhed. 3 Bulſtr. 71.

All Statutes concerning uſury repealed. 20 H. 3. 5. 3 H. 7. 5. 6. 11 H. 7. 8.

II. And

Selling of wares, and buying them again.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, of what Eſtate, Degree or Condition ſoever he or they be, from and after the laſt day of January next coming, ſhall by himſelf, Factor, Attorney, Servant or Deputy, ſell his Merchandiſes or Wares to any perſon or perſons, and within three months next after by himſelf, Factor or Attorney, Deputy, or by any other perſon or perſons to his uſe and behoof, buy the Merchandiſes or Wares, or any part or parcel thereof, upon a lower price, knowing them to be the ſame Wares or Merchandiſes that he before did ſo bargain and ſell, upon the pains and forfeitures hereafter limited in this Eſtatute.

CAP. XII.

An Act for Tythes in London.

Tithes 19. In what manner they ſhall be puniſhed who refuſe to pay Tithes due to be paid in London.

WHere of late time contention, ſtrife and variance hath riſen and growen within the City of London, and the Liberties of the ſame, between the Parſons, Vicars and Curates of the ſaid City, and the Citizens and Inhabitants of the ſame, for and concerning the payment of Tythes, Oblations, and other Duties within the ſaid City and Liberties: For appeaſing whereof, a certain Order and Decree was made thereof by the moſt Reverend Father in God, Thomas Archbiſhop of Caterbury, Metropolitane, Chief Primate of all England, Thomas Audley Knight, Lord Audley of Walden, and then Lord Chancellor of England, now deceaſed, and other of the Kings Majeſties moſt honourable Privy Councel, and alſo the Kings Letters Patents and Proclamation was made thereof, and directed to the ſaid Citizens concerning the ſame, whereupon it was after enacted in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter by Prorogation the fourth day of February in the xxviij. year of the Kings Majeſties moſt noble Reign, by authority of the ſame Parliament, that the Citizens and the Inhabitants of the ſame City ſhould at Eaſter then next coming, pay unto the Curates of the ſaid City and Suburbs, all ſuch and like ſums of money for Tithes, Oblations and other Duties, as the ſaid Citizens and Inhabitants by the order of the ſaid late Lord Chancellor, and other the Kings moſt honourable Councel, and the Kings ſaid Proclamation, payed or ought to have payed by force and vertue of the ſaid Order at Eaſter, which was in the year of our Lord God, M. D. XXXV. (2) and the ſame payments ſo to continue from time to time, until ſuch time as any other Order or Law ſhould be made, publiſhed, ratified and confirmed by the Kings Highneſs, and the two and thirty perſons by his Grace to be named, as well for the full eſtabliſhment concerning the payment of all Tithes, Oblations, and other duties of the Inhabitants within the ſaid City, Suburbs and Liberties of the ſame, as for the making of other Eccleſiaſtical Laws of this Realm of England, (3) and that every perſon denying to pay, as is aforeſaid, ſhould by the commandment of the Mayor of London for the time being, be committed to Priſon, there to remain until ſuch time as he or they ſhould have agreed with the Curate or Curates for their ſaid Tithes, Oblations and other Duties, as is aforeſaid, as in the ſaid Act more plainly appeareth: (4) Sithen which Act divers variances, contentions and ſtrifes are newly riſen and grown between the ſaid Parſons, Vicars and Curates, and the ſaid Citizens and Inhabitants touching the payment of the Tithes, Oblations and other Duties, by reaſon of certain words and terms ſpecified in the ſaid Order, which are not ſo plainly and fully ſet forth, as is thought convenient and meet to be: for appeaſing whereof, as well the ſaid Parſons, Vicars and Curates, as the ſaid Citizens and Inhabitants have compromitted and put themſelves to ſtand to ſuch Order and Decree touching the premiſſes, as ſhall be made by the ſaid Right Reverend Father in God, Thomas Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Metropolitane and Primate of England, the right honourable Sir Thomas Wryotheſly Knight, Lord Wryotheſly, and Lord Chancellor of England, the right honourable Thomas Duke of Norfolk, Lord Treaſurer of England, the right honourable Sir William Paulet Knight, Lord St. John, Lord Preſident of the Councel, and Lord great Maſter of the Kings moſt honourable Houſhold, the right honourable Sir John Ruſſel Knight, Lord Ruſſel and Lord Privy Seal, the right honourable Edward Earl of Hertford, Lord great Chamberlain of England, the right honourable John Vicount Liſle, high Admiral of England, Sir Richard Liſter Knight, chief Juſtice of England, Sir Edward Mountague Knight, chief Juſtice of the Common Bench at Weſtminſter, and Sir Roger Cholmely Knight, chief Baron of the Exchequer, for a final end and concluſion to be had and made touching the premiſſes for ever. (5) And to the intent to have a full peace and perfect end between the ſaid parties, their Heirs and Succeſſors, touching the ſaid Tithes, Oblations, and other duties for ever, Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſuch end, order and direction, as ſhall be made, decreed, and concluded by the fore-named Archbiſhops, Lords and Knights, or any ſix of them, before the firſt day of March next enſuing, of, for and concerning the payments of the Tithes, Oblations, and other Duties within the ſaid City, and the Liberties of the ſame, and enrolled in the Kings high Court of Chancery of Record, ſhall ſtand, remain and be as an Act of Parliament, and ſhall bind as well all Citizens and Inhabitants of the ſaid City and Liberties for the time being, as the ſaid Parſons, Vicars, Curates and their Succeſſors for ever, according to the effect, purport and intent of the ſaid Order and Decree ſo to be made and enrolled; (6) And that every perſon denying to pay any of his or their Tithes, Oblations or other Duties contrary to the ſaid Decree to be made, ſhall by the commandment of the Mayor of London for the time being, and in his default or negligence, by the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, be committed to priſon, there to remain till ſuch time as he or they have agreed with the Curate and Curates for his or their ſaid Tithes, Oblations and other Duties, as is aforeſaid.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 27 H. 8 21. concerning the payment of Tithes in London.

Arbitrators choſen between the Parſons, Vicars and Curates of London, and the Citizens and Inhabitants of the ſame, touching the payment of Tithes.

The penalty of them which refuſe to pay their tithes according to the Arbitrators Decree.

The Decree.

II. As touching the payment of Tithes in the City of London, and the Liberties of the ſame, It is fully ordered and decreed by the moſt Reverend Father in God, Thomas Archbiſhop of Canterbury, Primate and Metropolitane of England, Thomas Lord Wryotheſly, Lord Chancellor of England, William Lord St. John, Preſident of the Kings Majeſties Councel, and Lord great Maſter of his Highneſs houſhold, John Lord Ruſſel, Lord Privy Seal, Edward Earl of Hertford, Lord great Chamberlain of England, John Viſcount Liſle, high Admiral of England, Richard Liſter Knight, chief Juſtice of England, and Roger Cholmely Knight, chief Baron of his Graces Exchequer, this preſent xxiv. day of February, Anno Domini, ſecundum curſum & computationem Eccleſiæ Anglicanæ, milleſimo quingenteſimo quadrageſimo quinto, according to the Statute in ſuch caſe lately provided, (2) That the Citizens and Inhabitants of the ſaid City of London, and Liberties of the ſame, for the time being, ſhall yearly without fraud or covin for ever pay their Tithes to the Parſons, Vicars and Curates of the ſaid City, and their Succeſſors for the time being, after the rate hereafter following, that is to wit, Of every ten ſhilling Rent by the year of all and every Houſe and Houſes, Shops, Ware-houſes, Cellars, Stables, and every of them within the ſaid City and Liberty of the ſame, ſixteen pence ob. (3) And of every twenty ſhillings Rent by the year of all and every ſuch Houſe and Houſes, Shops, Ware-houſes, Cellars and Stables, and every of them within the ſaid City and Liberties, two ſhillings and nine pence. And ſo above the Rent of twenty ſhillings by the year, aſcending from ten ſhillings to ten ſhillings according to the rate aforeſaid.

London.

Parſons, Vicars, Curates Tithes.

Co. Inſt. 2 par. 659.

III. Item, That where any Leaſe is, or ſhall be made of any dwelling houſe or houſes, ſhops, ware-houſes, cellars or ſtables, or any of them, by fraud or covin, reſerving leſs rent then hath been accuſtomed, or is, or that any ſuch Leaſe ſhall be made without any rent reſerved upon the ſame, by reaſon of any fine or income payed beforehand, or by any other fraud or covin: that then in every ſuch caſe the tenant or fermor, tenants or fermors thereof ſhall pay for his or their tithes of the ſame, after the rate aforeſaid, according to the quality of ſuch rent or rents, as the ſame houſe or houſes, ſhops, ware-houſes, cellars or ſtables, or any of them were laſt letten for without fraud or covin, before the making of ſuch Leaſe.

IV. Item, That every owner or owners, inheritor or inheritors of any dwelling houſe or houſes, ſhops, ware-houſes, cellars or ſtables, or any of them, within the ſaid City and Liberties, inhabiting, or occupying the ſame himſelf, or themſelves, ſhall pay after ſuch rate or tithes as is aboveſaid, after the quantity of ſuch yearly rent as the ſame was laſt letten for, without fraud or covin.

Meaſes.

V. Item, If any perſon or perſons have taken, or hereafter ſhall take any meaſe or manſion place by Leaſe, and the taker or takers thereof, his or their executors or aſſigns, doth or ſhall inhabit in any part thereof, and have or hath within eight years laſt paſt before this order, or hereafter will or ſhall let out the reſidue of the ſame; that then in ſuch caſe the principal fermor or fermors, or firſt taker or takers thereof, his or their executors or aſſigns, ſhall pay his or their tithes after the rate aforeſaid, according to his or their quantity therein, and that his or their executors, aſſignee or aſſignees, ſhall pay his or their tithes after the rate aboveſaid, according to the quantity of their rent by year.

VI. And if that any perſon or perſons have, or ſhall take divers manſion houſes, ſhops, ware-houſes, cellars or ſtables, in one Leaſe, and letteth, or ſhall let out one or more of the ſaid houſes, and keepeth or ſhall keep one or more in his or their own hands, and inhabiteth or inhabit in the ſame; that then the ſaid taker or takers, and his or their executors or aſſigns ſhall pay his or their tithes after the rate aboveſaid, according to the quantity of the yearly rent of ſuch manſion houſe or houſes, retained in his or their hands: And that his aſſignee or aſſignees, of the reſidue of the ſaid manſion houſe or houſes, ſhall pay his or their tithes after the rate aboveſaid, according to the quantity of their yearly rents.

VII. Item, If ſuch fermor or fermors, or his or their aſſigns of any manſion-houſe or houſes, ware-houſes, ſhops, cellars or ſtables, hath at any time within eight years laſt paſt, or ſhall hereafter let over all the ſaid manſion houſe or houſes contained in his or their Leaſe, to one perſon, or to divers perſons: that then the inhabitants, leſſees or occupiers of them, and every of them, ſhall pay their tithes, after the rate of ſuch rents as the inhabitants, leſſees or occupiers, and their aſſignee or aſſignees have been or ſhall be charged withall, without fraud or covin.

VIII. Item, In any dwelling houſe within eight years laſt paſt, was, or hereafter ſhall be converted into a ware-houſe, ſtore-houſe, or ſuch like, or if a ware-houſe, ſtore-houſe, or ſuch like, within the ſaid eight years, was, or hereafter ſhall be converted into a dwelling houſe: that then the occupiers thereof ſhall pay tithes for the ſame, after the rate above declared of manſion houſe rents.

IX. Item, That where any perſon ſhall demiſe any Dye-houſe or Brew-houſe, with implements convenient and neceſſary for Dying or Brewing, reſerving a rent upon the ſame, as well in reſpect of ſuch implements, as in reſpect of ſuch Dye-houſe or Brew-houſe: that then the tenant ſhall pay his tithes after ſuch rate as is aboveſaid, the third peny abated: (2) And that every principal houſe or houſes, with Key or Wharf, having any Crane or Gibit belonging to the ſame, ſhall pay after the like rate of their rents, as is aforeſaid, the third peny abated; (3) and that other Wharfs belonging to houſes having no Crane or Gibit, ſhall pay for his tithes as ſhall be payed for manſion houſes, in form aforeſaid.

X. Item, That where any manſion houſe with a ſhop, ſtable, ware-houſe, wharf with crane, timber-yard, teinter-yard, or garden belonging to the ſame, or as parcel of the ſame, is or ſhall be occupied together, that if the ſame be hereafter ſevered or divided, or at any time within eight years laſt paſt were ſevered or divided: that then the fermor or fermors, occupier or occupiers thereof, ſhall pay ſuch tithes as is aboveſaid, for ſuch ſhops, ſtable, ware-houſes, wharf with crane, timber-yard, teinter-yard, or garden aforeſaid, ſo ſevered or divided, after the rate of their ſeveral rents thereupon reſerved.

XI. Item, That the ſaid citizens and inhabitants ſhall pay their tithes quarterly, that is to ſay, at the Feaſt of Eaſter, the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt, the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, and the Nativity of our Lord, by even portions.

XII. Item, That every houſholder paying ten ſhillings rent or above, ſhall for him or her ſelf, be diſcharged of their four Offering days: But his wife, children, ſervant or others of their family, taking their rights of the Church at Eaſter, ſhall pay two pence for their four Offering-days yearly.

XIII. Provided always, and it is decreed, That if any houſe or houſes which hath been or hereafter ſhall be letten for ten ſhillings rent by year, or more, be, or hath at any time within eight years laſt paſſed, or hereafter ſhall be divided and leaſed into ſmall parcels or members, yielding leſs yearly rents then ten ſhillings by year; that then the owner or owners, if he or they dwell in any part of ſuch houſe, or elſe the principal leſſee and leſſees, if the owner or owners do not dwell in ſome part of the ſame, ſhall from henceforth pay for his or their tithes after ſuch rate of rent as the ſame houſe was accuſtomed to be letten for, before ſuch diviſion or dividing into parts or members: (2) And the under-fermor and fermors, leſſee and leſſees to be diſcharged of all tithes for ſuch ſmall parcels, parts or members, rented at leſs yearly rent then ten ſhillings by year without fraud or covin, paying two pence a piece yearly for four Offering-days.

XIV. Provided alway, and it is decreed, That for ſuch gardens as appertain not to any manſion houſe, and which any perſon or perſons holdeth or ſhall hold in his or their hands, for pleaſure, or to his own uſe: that the then perſon ſo holding the ſame, ſhall pay no tithes for the ſame:

But if any perſon or perſons, which holdeth, or ſhall hold any ſuch garden, containing half an acre or more, doth or ſhall make any yearly profit thereof by way of ſale: that then he or they ſhall pay tithes for the ſame, after ſuch rate of his rent, as is herein firſt above ſpecified.

XV. Provided alſo, That if any ſuch gardens now being of the quantity of half an acre, or more, be hereafter by fraud or covin divided into leſs quantity or quantities, then to pay tithe according to the rate aboveſaid.

XVI. Provided alway, That this Decree ſhall not extend to the houſes of great men, or noble men, or noble women, kept in their own hands, and not letten for any rent, which in times paſt hath payed no tithes, ſo long as they ſhall ſo continue unletten: (2) Nor to any Halls of Crafts or Companies, ſo long as they be kept unletten, ſo that the ſame Halls in times paſt have not uſed to pay any tithes.

XVII. Provided always, and it is decreed, That this preſent Order and Decree ſhall not in any wiſe extend to bind or charge any ſheds, ſtables, cellers, timber-yards, ne teinter-yards, which were never parcel of any dwelling houſe, ne appertaining or belonging to any dwelling houſe, ne have accuſtomed to pay any tithes: but that the ſaid Citizens and Inhabitants ſhall thereof be quit of payment of any tithes, as it hath been uſed and accuſtomed.

XVIII. Provided alſo, and it is decreed, That where leſs ſum then after ſixteen pence half peny in the ten ſhillings rent, or leſs ſum then two ſhillings nine pence in the twenty ſhillings rent, hath been accuſtomed to be paid for tithes: that then in ſuch places the ſaid Citizens and Inhabitants ſhall pay but only after ſuch rate as hath been accuſtomed.

XIX. Item, It is alſo decreed, That if any variance, controverſie or ſtrife, do or ſhall hereafter ariſe in the ſaid City for non-payment of any tithes: or if any variance or doubt ariſe upon the true knowledge or diviſion of any rent or tithes, within the liberties of the ſaid City, or of any extent or aſſeſſment thereof, or if any doubt ariſe upon any other thing contained within this Decree: that then upon complaint made by the party grieved, to the Mayor of the City of London for the time being, the ſaid Mayor by the advice of Councel, ſhall call the ſaid parties before him, and make a final end in the ſame, with coſts to be awarded by the diſcretion of the ſaid Mayor and his Aſſiſtants, according to the intent and purport of this preſent Decree.

XX. And if the ſaid Mayor make not an end thereof within two months after complaint to him made, or if any of the ſaid parties find themſelves agrieved; that then the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, upon complaint to him made within three months then next following, ſhall make an end in the ſame, with ſuch coſts to be awarded as ſhall be thought convenient, according to the intent and purport of the ſaid Decree.

XXI. Provided always, That if any perſon or perſons take any tenement for a leſs rent then it was accuſtomed to be letten for, by reaſon of great ruine or decay, brenning, or ſuch like occaſions or misfortunes: that then ſuch perſon or perſons, his executors or aſſigns, ſhall pay tithes only after the rate of the rent reſerved in his or their leaſe, and none otherwiſe, as long as the ſame leaſe ſhall endure.

A Bill that Doctors of Civil Law being married may exerciſe Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction.

Eccleſ. perſ. 44. Doctors of the Civil Law, married or unmarried, may exerciſe all manner of Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction. The authority of the King as Supream Head of the Church.

In moſt humble wiſe ſhew and declare unto your Highneſs your moſt faithful, humble and obedient Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That where your moſt Royal Majeſty is, and hath always juſtly been by the Word of God, Supream Head in Earth of the Church of England, and hath full power and authority to correct, puniſh and repreſs all manner of Hereſies, Errors, Vices, Sins, Abuſes, Idolatries, Hypocriſies and Superſtitions, ſprung and growing within the ſame, and to exerciſe all other manner of Juriſdictions, commonly called Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction: (2) Nevertheleſs the Biſhop of Rome and his Adherents, minding utterly as much as in him lay to aboliſh, obſcure and delete ſuch power given by God to the Princes of the Earth, whereby they might gather and get to themſelves the government and rule of the World, have in their Councils and Synods Provincial, made, ordained, eſtabliſhed and decreed divers Ordinances and Conſtitutions, that no Lay or married man ſhould or might exerciſe or occupy any Juriſdiction Eccleſiaſtical, nor ſhould be any Judge or Regiſter in any Court, commonly called Eccleſiaſtical Court, leſt their falſe and uſurped power, which they pretended and went about to have in Chriſts Church, ſhould decay, wax vile, and be of no reputation, as by the ſaid Councils and Conſtitutions Provincial appeareth: which ſtanding and remaining in their effect, not aboliſhed by your Graces Laws, did ſound to appear to make greatly for the ſaid uſurped power of the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, and to be directly repugnant to your Majeſty as Supream Head of the Church, and Prerogative Royal, your Grace being a Lay-man.

II. And albeit the ſaid Decrees, Ordinances and Conſtitutions by a Statute made in the Five and twentieth year of your moſt noble Reign, be utterly aboliſhed, fruſtrate, and of none effect: yet becauſe the contrary thereunto is not uſed, nor put in practice by the Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Archdeacons, and other Eccleſiaſtical perſons, who have no manner of juriſdiction Eccleſiaſtical, but by, under and from your Royal Majeſty, it addeth, or at the leaſt may give occaſion to ſome evil diſpoſed perſons, to think, and little to regard the proceedings and cenſures Eccleſiaſtical made by your Highneſs and your Vicegerent, Officials, Commiſſaries, Judges and Viſitators, being alſo Lay and married men, to be of little or none effect or force, whereby the people gathereth heart and preſumption to do evil, and not to have ſuch reverence to your moſt godly injunctions and proceedings as becometh them.

III. But foraſmuch as your Majeſty is the onely and undoubted Supream Head of the Church of England, and alſo of Ireland, to whom by holy Scripture all authority and power is wholly given to hear and determine all manner cauſes Eccleſiaſtical, and to correct vice and ſin whatſoever, and to all ſuch perſons as your Majeſty ſhall appoint thereunto: That in conſideration thereof, as well for the inſtruction of ignorant perſons, as alſo to avoid the occaſion of the opinion aforeſaid, and the ſetting forth of your Prerogative Royal and Supremacy.

Fines 12.

FOraſmuch as divers good and beneficial Statutes, for the Commodity of the Kings Subjects within this Realm, have heretofore been made by authority of Parliament, concerning the levying of Fines with Proclamation, both for avoiding of ſtrife, and alſo for the ſurety of the Kings Subjects, to be had of and in lands, tenements and hereditaments, by them purchaſed or obtained; which good and beneficial Statutes do not extend to Fines levied in the County Palatine of Lancaſter:

Fines levied in Lancaſter, are of like force as fines acknowledged before the Juſtices of the Common Pleas.

II. Be it therefore ordained and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, That all and ſingular Fines, which at any time hereafter ſhall be levied or knowledged before the Juſtices of our Sovereign Lord the King, or of his Heirs or Succeſſors of the County Palatine of Lancaſter, commonly called Juſtices of Aſſiſe at Lancaſter, or before one of them, of any lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, lying or being within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, (2) which ſhall be openly read and proclaimed three ſeveral days in the open Seſſions, in the preſence of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe at Lancaſter, or of one of them for the time being, at the ſame Seſſions, that the ſame Fine ſhall fortune to be ingroſſed, and alſo that ſhall be openly read and proclaimed in the preſence of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe at Lancaſter, or of one of them for the time being, at the two next general Seſſions that ſhall be holden in the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, before the Juſtices of the ſame County, commonly called Juſtices of Aſſiſe at Lancaſter, or before one of them, next after the levying or ingroſſing of ſuch ſaid Fine, at three ſeveral days in either of the ſaid two Seſſions, after ſuch manner and form as is commonly uſed in the Kings Court of his Common Place at Weſtminſter, (3) ſhall be of like force, ſtrength and effect in the Law to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as Fines being duly levied with proclamations before the Kings Juſtices of his Common Place, be or ought to be of.

The Tenure of Lands of fourty ſhillings by year or under.

Tenures, Raſt. 10.

Tenures of lands under fourty ſhillings which are granted by the Kings Letters Patents, reſerved. 35 H. 8. 14.

37 H. 8. 28.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the fourteenth day of January, in the Five and thirtieth year of the King our moſt gracious Sovereign Lords Reign, it was among other things enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, That from the four and twentieth day of April then next following, the ſame our Sovereign Lord the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, upon any Letters Patents of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, not exceeding the clear yearly value of fourty ſhillings, belonging to any of the late Monaſteries or Religious houſes, which came to his gracious hands by the Act of Parliament made at Weſtminſter in the ſeven and twentieth year of his moſt gracious Reign: And upon any of his or their Letters Patents made of any houſes, tenements, cottages or gardens, whereunto no lands or hereditaments did appertain, not being

ing any of the Kings Princely houſes, reſerved and kept by a keeper thereof to his Graces uſe, which were belonging to any of the ſaid late Monaſteries or Religious houſes compriſed in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings Reign, by which Letters Patents, any Eſtate of Inheritance ſhould or might paſs from the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, might reſerve upon the ſame Letters Patents to his Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, at his and their own will and pleaſure, either a Tenure by Knights ſervice in capite, or elſe a Tenure in ſoccage or free burgage, and not in capite: any law, cuſtom, uſage, or any other thing to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding, as by the ſame Act made in the ſaid five and thirtieth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings Reign, amongſt other things more plainly appeareth: (2) Foraſmuch as divers and ſundry ambiguities and doubts have riſen and grown ſithen the making of the ſaid Act in the ſaid five and thirtieth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings Reign, as well upon the expoſition of the words contained in the ſaid Act, in that the ſaid Act doth not extend to any lands or tenements, other then ſuch as be expreſſed in the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the Kings Reign, as alſo upon the the Tenures of divers manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments by his Highneſs given and granted ſithen the ſaid four and twentieth day of April, in the ſaid five and thirtieth year of his moſt noble Reign:

II. Be it therefore now ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all manors, lands, tenements, rents, revenues, parſonages, tithes, and other hereditaments, not being at the time of the making of any ſuch Letters Patents heretofore made ſithen the ſaid four and twentieth day of April, above the clear yearly value of fourty ſhillings: and all houſes, meſſuages, cottages, curtilages, orchards, yards and gardens, whereunto no other lands, tenements or hereditaments were belonging or appertaining, not being any of the Kings Princely houſes, reſerved and kept by a keeper thereof to his Graces uſe, by whatſoever title or titles they or any of them came unto his Majeſties hands, heretofore given or granted by his Majeſty to any perſon or perſons, or bodies politick, ſithen the ſaid four and twentieth day of April, in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of his Reign, by his Letters Patents, whereby any Eſtate of Inheritance hath paſſage from his Highneſs, to hold the ſame of his Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, by fealty only, and not in capite, or in ſoccage, or free burgage, or by fealty only in free and common ſoccage, and not in capite, or by any manner of ſuch like words in effect, or to hold the ſame by fealty, as of any of his Graces honours, manors or lands, or by fealty only, as of any of his Graces honours, manors or lands, and not in capite, or by any ſuch like words in effect: ſhall from the date of every ſuch Letters Patents be adjudged, taken and deemed to all intents and purpoſes, to be holden in ſoccage, or burgage, and not in capite, according to the very expreſs and plain words contained in any ſuch Letters Patents, without any farther implication, conſtruction or explanation of the Law thereof to be made or had by any perſon or perſons againſt the ſame, and in no manner wiſe to be deemed, adjudged, or to be taken to be holden in capite; any ambiguity, doubt, or other thing heretofore riſen or moved, or hereafter to be moved, ſtirred or ſet forth to the contrary notwithſtanding.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, at any time or times within five years next after the firſt day of November laſt paſt, ſhall and may at his or their own wills and pleaſure, upon any Letters Patents made, or hereafter to be made of any manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices, parſonages, tithes, portions, penſions, and other hereditaments, not being rated or valued at the time of the making of any ſuch Letters Patents above the ſum of fourty ſhillings by year, whereby any ſtate of Inheritance hath, or ſhall paſs from his Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors (houſes, meſſuages, cottages, orchards, yards and gardens, whereunto no other lands, tenements or hereditaments do appertain, only except:) And alſo ſhall and may upon any like Letters Patents hereafter to be made within the ſaid five years, of any houſes, meſſuages, cottages, orchards, yards, curtilages or gardens, whereunto none other lands, tenements or hereditaments do appertain, (not being any of the Kings Princely houſes, reſerved and kept by a keeper thereof to his Graces uſe), by whatſoever title or titles the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices, parſonages, tithes, portions, penſions, houſes, tenements, cottages, gardens, and other the premiſſes, or any of them, ſo to be given or granted, become, or hereafter ſhall come to his Graces hands, his Heirs or Succeſſors, reſerve either a tenure by Knights ſervice in capite, or elſe a tenure by fealty, or in ſoccage or burgage, and not in capite. (2) And that all and ſingular the ſaid general tenures, as well heretofore reſerved and made ſithen the ſaid four and twentieth day of April, in the ſaid five and thirtieth year of our Sovereign Lord the Kings Reign, as hereafter within the ſaid five years next after following to be reſerved or made, and having theſe words, Et non in capite, ſhall from the date of every ſuch Letters Patents be deemed, adjudged and taken to be tenures in ſoccage or burgage, and not in capite.

The King during five years may reſerve other tenures and not in capite, upon lands not exceeding the yearly value of xl. s.

IV. And that the Patentees of the ſame manors, lands, tenements and other the premiſſes, or any part thereof, their heirs and aſſigns and every other perſon and perſons having the ſame, or any part thereof, ſhall hold the ſame manors, lands, tenements, houſes, cottages, and other hereditaments compriſed in any ſuch Letters Patents, of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, having the ſaid words, Et non in capite, by the ſervice of fealty, in ſoccage or burgage, according to the expreſs words contained in any ſuch Letters Patents, and ſhall not hold the ſame, or any part thereof, of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors in chief, or in capite, nor ſhall be compelled by reaſon only of the ſame, to ſue any livery, make fine for alienation, or ſue any licence or pardon for any alienation only thereof: (2) And the heir and heirs of every ſuch Patentees, or of their heirs and aſſigns, or of any other having any eſtate, right or title, of, in or to the ſame manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, and having no other lands, tenements, or hereditaments, holden of the Kings Highneſs in capite, ſhall and may freely and lawfully after the death of ſuch Patentee, their heirs and aſſigns, or other perſon or perſons having any ſuch eſtate, right or title, enter into the ſaid manors,, lands, tenements, houſes, cottages, and other hereditaments, compriſed, or to be compriſed in any ſuch Letters Patents, without ſuing of Livery, Ouſter le main or any fine or fee to be paid for any Livery only thereof, to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors for the ſame, by reaſon only of ſuch tenure in ſoccage or burgage, expreſſed or to be expreſſed in any of the ſaid Letters Patents; any Law, Cuſtom or Uſage heretofore had or uſed to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. CAP. XXI.

A Patent of land granted by the King with theſe words, Tenendum de nobis, &c. Et non in capite.

The Bill for the Union of Churches.

Eccleſ perſ. 31. Two Churches not being above a mile diſtant, and one of them being not above the yearly value of ſix pounds, may be united into one.

Where in divers and ſundry places within this Realm of England, there be many and ſundry Parſonages, the glebes, tithes and yearly revenues and profits whereof be not ſufficient to find a Prieſt or Curate to ſerve or miniſter to the Pariſhioners thereof, within a mile or leſs of the Church of which poor Parſonages, there is in many places another Church pertaining to another Pariſh, ſtanding as neceſſary and commodiouſly for the acceſs of the Pariſhioners of the other poor Pariſh, as their own doth:

II. And foraſmuch as the charges for the maintenance of ſuch two Churches and Chappels, with all manner of Reparations, Ornaments, and other accuſtomed Duties pertaining to a Church, be much greater then may be well raiſed or born amongſt ſuch poor Pariſhioners, and might and ſhould be eaſed and remedied by the uniting and knitting of ſuch two Churches in one:

12 Co. 7. Dyer 259. pl. 19.

III. It may therefore pleaſe the Kings Royal Majeſty, with the aſſent of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that it may be enacted and eſtabliſhed, That an union or conſolidation of two Churches in one, or of a Church and Chappel in one, the one of them not being above the yearly value of ſix pounds, as it is rated and valued at to the Kings Highneſs, in his Court of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, and not diſtant from the other above one mile, in any place or places within this Realm of England, may be from henceforth had or made by the aſſent of the Ordinary and Ordinaries of the Dioceſs where ſuch Churches and Chappels ſtandeth, and by the aſſents of the Incumbents of them, and of all ſuch as have a juſt right, title and intereſt to the Patronages of the ſame Churches and Chappels, being then of full age: (2) And that all ſuch unions and conſolidations had or made of two Churches in one, or of a Church and Chappel in one, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be good, ſufficient, lawful, firm, ſtable and available in the Law, to remain, endure and continue for ever united and knit in one, in ſuch manner and form, as by writing and writings under the Seals of ſuch Ordinaries, Incumbents and Patrons, it ſhall be declared and ſet forth.

A confirmation of all unions heretofore made.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all unions and conſolidations of all Churches and Chappels, which have heretofore been united or knit together in one by the aſſent of the Ordinaries, Incumbents, and true and lawful Patrons in fee-ſimple of them, as is aforeſaid, ſhall alſo remain and be from henceforth adjudged and deemed in the Law to endure and continue for ever united and knit in one, without any diſſolution, undoing, unknitting, or repeal of them or any of them by any manner of means or way:

The Kings Tenths and Firſt-fruits reſerved.

V. Saving unto the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, all the Tenths and Firſt-fruits of all ſuch Churches and Chappels as be heretofore united or conſolidated in one, or that hereafter ſhall be united and conſolidated in one, according to the ſame, or ſuch like rates and valuations as the ſame Churches and Chappels, or any of them now are rated or valued at to the Kings ſaid Majeſty, in his ſaid Highneſs Court of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths.

Unions ſhall not be in corporate Towns without conſent of the chief Magiſtrates thereof. 17 Car. 2. 3.

VI. Provided alway, That all unions and conſolidations, and every of them hereafter to be had or made of any Church or Chappel within any City or Town-corporate, within this Realm of England, without the aſſent of the Mayor, Sheriffs and Commonalty of the City where ſuch Churches, Church or Chappel be or ſhall be, or without the aſſent of ſuch bodies corporate of other Towns-corporate, where ſuch Churches, Church or Chappel be or ſhall be, by the names of their Corporations in writing under their common Seal, ſhall be clearly void and of no force ne effect; any thing before expreſſed, or any Ordinance, Law, Cuſtom or Statute to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The union avoided upon a competent living aſſured.

VII. Provided alſo, That where the Inhabitants of any ſuch poor Pariſh, or the more part of them, within one year next after the union or conſolidation of the ſame Pariſh, by their writing ſufficient in the Law, ſhall aſſure the Incumbent of the ſaid Pariſh for the yearly payment of ſo much money, as with the ſum that the ſaid Pariſh is rated and valued at in the Kings Highneſs ſaid Court of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, ſhall amount to the full ſum of eight pound ſterling, to be levied and paid yearly by the ſaid Inhabitants to the ſaid Incumbent and his ſucceceſſors, that then all ſuch unions or conſolidations hereafter to be had or made of any ſuch poor Pariſh, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be void and of none effect; any thing ſtatuted or ordained to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

VIII. Provided always, That this ſaid Proviſo ſhall not extend to any union or conſolidation of any Church or Chappel had or made before the making of this Eſtatute; any thing in the ſaid Proviſo mentioned to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. Stat. 1 El. 4. Sect. 12. N. 1.

CAP. XXI.

An Act to fill up the Jury de circumſtantibus.

Jurors, Raſt. 17. A Tales may be granted de circumſtantibus, where a full Jury doth not appear.

BE it enacted and eſtabliſhed by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and the authority of the ſame, That the Act for non-appearance in Juries to have de circumſtantibus, made at Weſtminſter at the Parliament holden the five and thirtieth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lords Reign, ſhall continue and remain unto the end of the next Parliament, in his full force and ſtrength, in as ample manner as in the ſaid Act purported. 2 Ed. 6. 32. made perpetual.

The Statute 35 H. 8. 6 continued until the end of the next Parliament.

CAP. XXIII.

Certain Statutes concerning the prices of Wines, &c. and alſo certain other Statutes continued.

THE Statutes made Anno 22 H. 8. 12. touching the relief of the poor, and the puniſhment of vagabonds. Anno 22 H. 8. 7. for reſtraint of conveying of Horſes and Mares out of this Realm. Anno 21 H. 8. 12. for the making of Cables, &c. Anno 23 H. 8. 17. for the true winding of wooll. Anno 24 H. 8. 9. againſt the killing of Weanlings. Anno 23 H. 8. 3. for the puniſhment of perjury upon untrue verdicts. Anno 24 H. 8. 4. concerning the ſowing of Flax and Hemp. Anno 23 H. 8. 2. for the making of Gaols in divers Shires. Anno 32 H. 8. 30. for the reformation of Miſpleadings, Jeofails and Attornies. Anno 22 H. 8. 2. for buying of Fiſh upon the Sea. Anno 32 H. 8. 16. for the making of Worſted-yarn in Norfolk. Anno 34 H. 8. 7. for the ſetting of the prices of Wine. Anno 34 H. 8. 16. concerning the ordering and diſcharge of Sheriffs by their oaths upon their accompts, ſhall continue until the laſt day of the next Parliament. EXP. Stat. 1 El. 18.

II. And whereas in the ſaid Act concerning the ſetting of prices of Wines, it is contained, that the Lord Chancellor of England, Lord Treaſurer, Lord Preſident of the Kings Councel, Lord Privy Seal, and the two Chief Juſtices, or five, four, or three of them, ſhould have power and authority by their diſcretions to ſet the prices of all kinds of Wines, as by the ſame Act more plainly appeareth: (2) Be it now ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, Lord Preſident, Lord Privy Seal, and the two Chief Juſtices, or five, four, or three of them, ſhall yearly ſet the prices of all kinds of the ſaid Wines mentioned in the ſaid former Act, between the twentieth day of November and the laſt day of December, and at no other time or times; (3) and that all and every perſon ſelling in groſs or by retail, any of the ſaid Wines mentioned in the ſame Act, ſhall not ſell any of the ſame Wines above the prices ſo by them ſet, upon ſuch pains and forfeitures as be made and provided in the ſame Statute made at Weſtminſter the eight and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt dread Sovereign Lord the King.

Wines 1. At what time the prices of wines ſhall be ſet by the Lords, according to the Statute of 28 H. 8. 14. 12 Car. 2. c. 25.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons now have, or hereafter ſhall have any manner of Wines to ſell in groſs within any City, Borough Town Corporate, or any other Haven, corporate Town or Towns within this Realm, or within any the Kings Dominions, or Territories of the ſame, and do at any time hereafter refuſe to ſell any kind of the ſame Wines, according as the price is now, or at any time hereafter ſhall be limited and appointed by the ſaid Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, Lord Preſident, Lord Privy Seal, and other the ſaid Chief Juſtices, or by any five, four, or three of them: that then it ſhall be lawful for the Mayor of the City of London, Recorder of the ſame City, and two of the ancient Aldermen of the ſame City, being no Vintners, for the time being, and to the Mayor, Bailiffs, Aldermen, and other the head Officers, or to any two of them, whereof the Mayor, or chief Alderman, or Bailiff to be one, within all and every other City, Borough, and Port-town within this Realm, wherein any Wines now be, or hereafter ſhall be ſo ſold, to enter into the houſes, cellars and places of all and every ſuch owner and owners of the ſame Wines, in any the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Port-towns, and the ſame Wines lawfully to ſell to the uſe of the owners of the ſame Wines, to any perſon and perſons willing to buy the ſame, according to ſuch prices and rate as by the ſaid Lord Chancellor, Lord Treaſurer, Lord Preſident, Lord Privy Seal, and the ſaid two Chief Juſtices, or by any five, four, or three of them is, or hereafter ſhall be ſet, limited and aſſigned, according to the tenor of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid eight and twentieth year of the Kings Majeſties Reign.

In what caſes chief Officers of Cities or Corporate towns may ſell other mens Wines. 24 H. 8. 6.

A Subſidy by the Temporalty.

GOD SAVE THE KING.

Anno primo EDWARDI Sexti.

Statutes made in the Parliament begun at Weſtminſter the fourth day of November, in the firſt year of the Reign of our moſt dread Sovereign Lord, Edward the ſixth, by the Grace of God, King of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and of the Church of England, and alſo of Ireland, in Earth the Supream Head: and from thence continued to the twenty fourth day of December then next enſuing; that is to ſay, in the firſt Seſſion of the ſame Parliament, as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act againſt ſuch as ſhall unreverently ſpeak againſt the Sacrament of the Altar, and of the Receiving thereof under both kinds.

THE Kings moſt excellent Majeſty minding the governance and order of his moſt loving Subjects to be in moſt perfect unity and concord, in all things, and in eſpecial, in the true Faith and Religion of God, and wiſhing the ſame to be brought to paſs with all clemency and mercy on his Highneſs part towards them, as his moſt Princely Serenity and Majeſty hath already declared by evident proof, to the intent that his moſt loving Subjects provoked by clemency and goodneſs of their Prince and King, ſhall ſtudy rather for love then for fear to do their duties, firſt to Almighty God, and then to his Highneſs and the Commonwealth, nouriſhing concord and love amongſt themſelves: (2) yet conſidereth and perceiveth that in a multitude all be not on that ſort, that reaſon and the knowledge of their duties, can move them from offence, but many had need have ſome bridle of fear, and that the ſame be men moſt contentious and arrogant for the moſt part, or elſe moſt blind and ignorant: (3) by the means of which ſort of men, many things well and godly inſtituted, and to the edification of many, be perverted and abuſed, and turned to their own and others great loſs and hinderance, and ſometime to extream deſtruction: the which doth appear in nothing more or ſooner, then in matters of Religion, and in the great and high Myſteries thereof, as in the moſt comfortable Sacrament of the Body and Bloud of our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, commonly called the Sacrament of the Altar, and in Scripture, the [a] Supper and [b] Table of the Lord, the [c] Communion and [d] partaking of the Body and Bloud of Chriſt: (4) which Sacrament was inſtituted of no leſs Authour then of our Saviour, both God and Man, when at his laſt Supper amongſt his Apoſtles, he did take the Bread in his holy hands, and did ſay, [e] Take you and eat this my body, which is [f] given and [g] broken for you. And taking up the [h] Chalice or [i] Cup did give thanks and ſay, [k] This is my Bloud of the New Teſtament, which is ſhed for [l] you, and for [m] many, for the [n] remiſſion of ſins, that [o] whenſoever we ſhould do the ſame, we ſhould do it in the remembrance of him, and to declare and ſet forth his death and moſt glorious paſſion, until his coming. Of the which [p] Bread whoſoever eateth, or of the which Cup whoſoever drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh condemnation and judgment to himſelf, making no difference of the Lords Body. (5) The inſtitution of which Sacrament being ordained by Chriſt, as is beforeſaid, and the ſaid words ſpoken of it here before rehearſed, being of eternal, infallible and undoubted truth: yet the ſaid Sacrament (all this notwithſtanding) hath been of late marvellouſly abuſed by ſuch manner of men before rehearſed, who of wickedneſs, or elſe of ignorance and want of learning, for certain abuſes heretofore committed of ſome, in miſuſing thereof, have condemned in their hearts and ſpeech the whole thing, and contemptuouſly depraved, deſpiſed or reviled the ſame moſt holy and bleſſed Sacrament, and not only diſputed and reaſoned unreverently and ungodly of that moſt high Myſtery, but alſo in their Sermons, Preachings, Readings, Lectures, Communications, Arguments, Talks, Rimes, Songs, Plays or Jeſts, name, or call it by ſuch vile and unſeemly words, as Chriſtian ears do abhor to hear rehearſed: (6) For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the Kings Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That whatſoever perſon or perſons, from and after the firſt day of May next coming, ſhall deprave, deſpiſe, or contemn the ſaid moſt bleſſed Sacrament, in contempt thereof, by any contemptuous words, or by any words of depraving, deſpiſing or reviling: or what perſon or perſons ſhall adviſedly in any otherwiſe contemn, deſpiſe or revile the ſaid moſt bleſſed Sacrament, contrary to the effects and declaration aboveſaid, that then he or they ſhall ſuffer impriſonment of his or their bodies, and make fine and ranſom at the Kings will and pleaſure. (7) And for full and effectual execution of the premiſſes before deviſed, ordained and enacted by this Act, Be it furthermore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That immediately after the firſt day of May next coming, the Juſtices of Peace, or three of them at the leaſt, whereof one of them to be of the Quorum, in every Shire of this Realm, and Wales, and all other places within the Kings Dominions, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, as well to take information and accuſation by the Oaths and Depoſitions of two able, honeſt and lawful perſons at the leaſt, (8) and after ſuch accuſation, or information ſo had, to enquire by the Oaths of xij men, in every their four quarter Seſſions yearly to be holden, of all and ſingular ſuch accuſations or informations to be had, or made of any of the offences aboveſaid, to be committed or done, after the ſaid firſt day of May, within the limits of their Commiſſion: (9) And that upon every ſuch accuſation and information, the offendor and offendors ſhall be enquired of, and indicted before the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or three of them at the leaſt, as is aforeſaid, of the ſaid contempts and offences, by the verdict of twelve honeſt and indifferent men, if the matter of the ſaid accuſation and information ſhall ſeem to the ſaid Jury good and true.

Sacraments 1. The penalty for unreverend ſpeaking againſt the Sacrament of the Body & Bloud of Chriſt, or againſt the receiving thereof in both kinds. The King mindeth to have unity in Religion by clemency.

II. And it is alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or three of them at the leaſt, as is aforeſaid, before whom any ſuch preſentment, information and accuſation ſhall be made or taken, as is aforeſaid, ſhall examine the accuſers what other witneſs were by and preſent at the time of the doing and committing of the offence, whereof the information, accuſation and preſentment ſhall be made, and how many others then the accuſers have knowledge thereof, (2) and ſhall have power and authority by their diſcretions, to bind by recogniſance to be taken before them, as well the ſaid accuſers, as all ſuch other perſons whom the ſaid accuſers ſhall declare to have knowledge of the offences by them preſented and informed, every of them in five pounds to the King, to appear before the ſaid Juſtices of Peace before whom the offendor or offendors ſhall be tried at the day of trial and deliverance of ſuch offendors.

What proceſs ſhall be awarded againſt the perſons indicted.

III. And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or three of them at the leaſt, as is aboveſaid, by virtue of this Act, ſhall have full power and authority to make proceſs againſt every perſon and perſons ſo indicted, by two Capias, and an exigent, and by Capias utlagatum, as well within the limits of their Commiſſion, as into all other Shires and places of this Realm, Wales, and other the Kings Dominions, as well within Liberties as without, and the ſame Proceſs to be good and effectual in the Law to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, (2) and upon the appearance of any of the offendors, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, and the Commiſſion of Peace, to determine the contempts and offences aforeſaid, according to the Laws of this Realm, and effects of this Act: (3) And that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or three of them at the leaſt, as is aboveſaid, ſhall have full power and authority to let any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo endicted, upon ſufficient ſureties by their diſcretions, to bail for their appearance, to be tried according to the tenor, form, and effect of this Act.

Juſtices of Peace may determine the offences.

Bailment of perſons indicted.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or three of them at the leaſt, at their quarter Seſſions, where any offendor or offendors ſhall be or ſtand endicted of any of the contempts or offences aboveſaid, ſhall direct and award one Writ in the Kings name to the Biſhop of the Dioceſs wherein the ſaid offence or offences are ſuppoſed to be committed or done, willing and requiring the ſaid Biſhop to be in his own perſon, or by his Chancellor, or other his ſufficient Deputy learned, at the quarter Seſſions in the ſaid County to be holden, when and where the ſaid offender ſhall be arraigned and tried, appointing to them in the ſaid Writ the day and place of the ſaid arraignment; (2) which Writ ſhall be of this form: Rex, &c. A writ directed by the Juſtices to the Biſhop.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority abovesaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be endicted of any of the contempts or offences abovesaid, but only of ſuch contempts or offences as ſhall be informed or preſented within three months next after the ſaid offences or offence ſo committed or done.

No indictment but within three months after the offence.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all trials, for any ſuch offenders before the ſaid Juſtices, as is aforeſaid, the perſon or perſons being complained on and arraigned, ſhall be admitted to purge or try his or their innocency, by as many, or more witneſſes in number, and of as good honeſty and credence, as the witneſſes be which depoſed againſt him or them, or any of them.

The defendant may try his innocency by witneſſes.

VII. And foraſmuch as it is more agreeable, both to the firſt inſtitution of the ſaid Sacrament of the moſt precious Body and Blood of our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, and alſo more conformable to the common uſe and practice both of the Apoſtles, and of the Primitive Church, by the ſpace of 500. years and more after Chriſts Aſcenſion, that the bleſſed Sacrament ſhould be miniſtred to all Chriſtian people under both the kinds of Bread and Wine, then under the form of Bread only: (2) and alſo it is more agreeable to the firſt Inſtitution of Chriſt, and to the uſage of the Apoſtles, and the Primitive Church, that the people being preſent ſhould receive the ſame with the Prieſt, then that the Prieſt ſhould receive it alone: (3) therefore be it enacted by our Sovereign Lord the King, with the conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid moſt bleſſed Sacrament be hereafter commonly delivered and miniſtred unto the people within this Church of England and Ireland, and other the Kings Dominions under both the kinds, that is to ſay, of Bread and Wine, except neceſſity otherwiſe require: (4) and alſo that the Prieſt which ſhall miniſter the ſame, ſhall, at the leaſt one day before, exhort all perſons which ſhall be preſent, likewiſe to reſort and prepare themſelves to receive the ſame. (5) And when the day prefixed cometh, after a godly exhortation by the miniſter made, (wherein ſhall be further expreſſed the benefit and comfort promiſed to them which worthily receive the holy Sacrament, and danger and indignation of God threatned to them which ſhall preſume to receive the ſame unworthily, to the end that every man may try and examin his own Conſcience before he ſhall receive the ſame) (6) the ſaid Miniſter ſhall not without a lawful cauſe deny the ſame to any perſon that will devoutly and humbly deſire it; any Law, Statute, Ordinance or Cuſtom contrary thereunto in any wiſe notwithſtanding: not condemning hereby the uſage of any Church out of the Kings Majeſties Dominions. Exp. 1 M. 2. Reviv. 1 Eliz. 1. Stat. 5 Ed. 6. 1.

The bleſſed Sacrament ſhall be delivered unto the people under both kinds of Bread and Wine.

The uſage of other Churches not condemned.

CAP. II.

An Act for the Election of Biſhops.

Foraſmuch as the Elections of Archbiſhops and Biſhops by the Deans and Chapters within the Kings Majeſties Realms of England and Ireland, at this preſent time, be as well to the long delay, as to the great Coſt and Charges of ſuch perſons as the Kings Majeſty giveth any Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick unto: (2) And whereas the ſaid Elections be in every deed no Elections, but only by a Writ of Conge d'eſlire, have Colours, Shadows or Pretences of Elections, ſerving nevertheleſs to no purpoſe and ſeeming alſo derogatory and prejudicial to the Kings Prerogative Royal, to whom only appertaineth the Collation and Gift of all Archbiſhops and Biſhopricks, and Suffragan Biſhops within his Highneſs ſaid Realms of England and Ireland, Wales, and other his Dominions and Marches: (3) For a due reformation hereof, be it therefore enacted by the Kings Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That from henceforth no Conge d'eſlire be granted, nor Election of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop by the Dean and Chapter made: (4) but that the King may by his Letters Patents at all times, when any Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick is void, confer the ſame to any perſon whom the King ſhall think meet. (5) The which Collation ſo by the Kings Letters Patents made, and delivered to the perſon to whom the King ſhall confer the ſame Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, or to his ſufficient Proctor and Attorney, ſhall ſtand to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, to as much and the ſame effect, as though Conge d'eſlire had been given, the Election duly made, and the ſame confirmed. (6) And thereupon the ſaid perſon to whom the ſaid Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, or Suffraganſhip is ſo conferred, collated, or given, may be conſecrated, and ſue his Livery or Ouſter le main, and do other things as well as if the ſaid Ceremonies and Elections had been done and made.

None but the King ſhall collate to a Biſhoprick.

II. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch perſon to whom any Collation and Gift of any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick or Suffraganſhip ſhall be given or collated by the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall pay, do and yield to all and every perſon all ſuch Fees, Intereſts and Duties, as of old time have been accuſtomed to be done; any thing in this Act, or in any other to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A Biſhop collated by the King, ſhall pay the uſual fees.

do uſe to make and ſend out their Summons, Citations and other Proceſs, in their own names, and in ſuch form and manner as was uſed in the time of the uſurped power of the Biſhop of Rome, contrary to the form and order of the Summons and Proceſs of the Common Law uſed in this Realm (ſeeing that all Authority of Juriſdiction Spiritual and Temporal is derived and deducted from the Kings Majeſty, as Supream Head of theſe Churches and Realms of England and Ireland, and ſo juſtly acknowledged by the Clergy of the ſaid Realms) That all Courts Eccleſiaſtical within the ſaid two Realms, be kept by no other power or authority, either foreign or within the Realm, but by the authority of his moſt excellent Majeſty: (2) Be it therefore further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Summons and Citations, or other Proceſs Eccleſiaſtical, in all Suits and Cauſes of inſtance betwixt party and party, and all Cauſes of Correction, and all Cauſes of Baſtardy or Bigamy, or Inquiry de jure patronatus, Probates of Teſtaments, and Commiſſions of Adminiſtrations of perſons deceaſed, and all Acquittances of and upon Accounts made by the Executors, Adminiſtrators, or Collectors of Goods of any dead perſon, be from the firſt day of July next following, made in the name, and with the ſtyle of the King, as it is in Writs original or judicial at the Common Law: (3) And that the Teſte thereof be in the name of the Archbiſhop or Biſhop, or other having Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, who hath the Commiſſion and Grant of the Authority Eccleſiaſtical immediately from the Kings Highneſs, and that his Commiſſary, Official or Subſtitute exerciſing juriſdiction under him, ſhall put his Name in the Citation or Proceſs after the Teſte.

Every Biſhops, &c. ſeal of office ſhall have the Kings Arms ingraven upon it.

IV. Furthermore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all manner of perſon or perſons, who have the exerciſe of Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, ſhall have from the firſt day of July before expreſſed in their Seals of Office, the Kings Highneſs Arms decently ſet, with certain Characters under the Arms for the Knowledge of the Dioceſs, and ſhall uſe no other Seal of Juriſdiction, but wherein his Majeſties Arms be ingraven, (2) upon pain that if any perſon ſhall uſe Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction (after the day before expreſſed) in this Realm of England, Wales, or other his Dominions or Territories, and not ſend or make out the Citation or Proceſs in the Kings name, or uſe any Seal of Juriſdiction other then before limited; that every ſuch offender ſhall incur and run in the Kings Majeſties diſpleaſure and indignation, and ſuffer impriſonment at his Highneſs will and pleaſure.

Uſual fees ſhall be taken.

V. Provided that no more, nor other Fees be taken or paid for the Seal and Writing of any Citations or other Proceſs then was heretofore accuſtomed.

VI. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Archbiſhop of Canterbury for the time being, ſhall uſe his own Seal, and in his own Name, in all Faculties and Diſpenſations, according to the tenor of an Act thereof made: (2) And that the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops ſhall make, admit, order and reform their Chancellors, Officials, Commiſſaries, Advocates, Proctors and other their Officers, Miniſters and Subſtitutes, and Commiſſions of Suffragan Biſhops, in their own Names, under their own Seals, in ſuch manner and form as they have heretofore uſed: (3) And ſhall certifie to the Court of Tenths their Certificates under their own Names and Seals, as heretofore they have uſed, and according to the Statute in that caſe made and provided: (4) And likewiſe ſhall make Collations, Preſentations, Gifts, Inſtitutions and Inductions of Benefices, Letters of Order, or Dimiſſories, under their own Names and Seals, as they have heretofore accuſtomed; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Certificates into a Court of Record ſhall be in the Kings name, Teſte the Biſhop.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Proceſs hereafter to be made or awarded by any Eccleſiaſtical perſon or perſons, for the trial of any Plea or Pleas, or matters depending, or that hereafter ſhall depend in any of the Kings Courts of Record at the Common Law, and limited by the Laws and Cuſtoms of this Realm, to the Spiritual Courts to try the ſame, that the Certificate of the ſame, after the trial thereof, ſhall be made in the Kings Name for the time being, and with the ſtile of the ſame King, and under the Seal of the Biſhop, graved with the Kings Arms, with the Name of the Biſhop or Spiritual Officer, being the Teſte of the ſame Proceſs and Certificate, and to every of them. Vagabonds, Faſt. 1.

A Repeal of all Statutes heretofore made for the puniſhment of Vagabonds, and of all Articles compriſed in the ſame. (2) If any perſon ſhall bring to two Juſtices of Peace any Runnagate Servant, or any other which liveth idlely and loiteringly by the ſpace of three days, the ſaid Juſtices ſhall cauſe the ſaid idle and loitering Servant or Vagabond to be marked with an hot Iron on the Breaſt with the mark of V. (3) and adjudge him to be ſlave to the ſame perſon that brought and preſented him, to have to him, his Executors or Aſſigns, for two years after, who ſhall take the ſaid ſlave, and give him bread, water, or ſmall drink, and refuſe meat, and cauſe him to work by beating, chaining, or otherwiſe, in ſuch work and labour as he ſhall put him unto, be it never ſo vile: (4) And if ſuch ſlave abſent himſelf from his ſaid Maſter within the ſaid term of two years, by the ſpace of fourteen days, then he ſhall be adjudged by two Juſtices of Peace to be marked on the Forehead, or the Ball of the Cheek, with an hot Iron, with the ſign of an S. and further ſhall be adjudged to be ſlave to his ſaid Maſter for ever: (5) And if the ſaid ſlave ſhall run away the ſecond time, he ſhall be adjudged a Felon. (6) No Clerk convict ſhall make his purgation, but ſhall be a ſlave for one year to him who will become bound with two Sureties in twenty pound to the Ordinary, to the Kings uſe, to take him into ſervice: And he ſhall be uſed in all reſpects as is aforeſaid like to a Vagabond. (7) A Clerk attainted or convict, which by the Law cannot make his purgation, may by the Ordinary be delivered to any man, who will become bound with two ſufficient Sureties, to keep him as his ſlave five years: And then he ſhall be uſed in all reſpects as is aforeſaid for a Vagabond, ſaving for burning in the Breaſt. (8) It ſhall be lawful to every perſon to whom any ſhall be adjudged a ſlave, to put a Ring of Iron about his Neck, Arm or Leg. (9) A Juſtice of Peace and Conſtable may bind a Beggar mans child Apprentice to the age of fourteen years, and a woman-child to the age of twenty years, to any that will require them. (10) And if the ſaid child run away, then his Maſter may retain and uſe him for the term aforeſaid, as his ſlave. (11) All impotent, maimed and aged perſons, who cannot be taken for Vagabonds, ſhall have convenient Houſes provided for them, and otherwiſe be relieved in the Cities, Boroughs and Towns where they were born, or were moſt converſant by the ſpace of three years, by the willing and charitable diſpoſition of the Pariſhioners: And none other ſhall be ſuffered to beg there. CAP. IV.

An Act for Tenures holden in capite.

WHere before this time ambiguities, queſtions and doubts have been moved and ſtirred in divers and ſundry the Kings Courts of Record, whether ſuch honours, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, are holden of the King in capite, which any his loving Subjects do hold by Knights ſervice, ſoccage, or other ſervices of the King, as of his Dutchies, Earldoms, Baronies, Honours, Caſtles, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Fees and Seigniories, which have come to the hands and poſſeſſion of divers of his Highneſs moſt noble Progenitors by attainder of Treaſon, miſpriſion of Treaſon, attainders of Præmunire, and proviſion had and done by Act of Parliament, by verdict, confeſſion, conviction or utlagary, and Offices or no Offices thereupon found, or by the diſſolution, ſurrender, or giving up to the King, or to any his noble Progenitors, of any Religious or Eccleſiaſtical Houſes or Places, or of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments to any of the ſame Religious or Eccleſiaſtical Houſes or Places in any wiſe appertaining or belonging, or no: by means of which doubt ſo moved, his ſaid humble and obedient Subjects and Tenants have been heretofore much unquieted, moleſted and grieved: (2) Wherefore the King our Sovereign Lord minding, and entirely deſiring the quietneſs of his ſaid Subjects, and that the certainty of the Laws in that behalf might be known and declared to his ſaid loving Subjects, (3) for a plain declaration and reſolution to be had, of, for and concerning the premiſſes, at the humble petition and ſuit of the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, doth ordain, declare and enact, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, (4) That all ſuch honours, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements and other hereditaments, and every of them, which now be, or at any time hereafter ſhall be holden of the King, or of any of his Heirs or Succeſſors, by any of his ſaid Subjects, by Knights ſervice, ſoccage or otherwiſe; as of any of his or their Dukedoms, Earldoms, Baronies, Caſtles, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Fees or Seigniories, which be come to the King, or his moſt noble Progenitors, or hereafter ſhall come to the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, by means of any ſuch attainder, conviction, utlagary, or of any ſuch diſſolution, ſurrender, or giving up of any Religious or Eccleſiaſtical Houſes or Places, or of any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, to any of the ſaid Religious or Eccleſiaſtical Houſes or Places in any wiſe belonging or appertaining, ſhall not from henceforth be adjudged, deemed, taken or conſtrued to any intent conſtruction or purpoſe, to be holden in capite, or as tenure in capite; any ambiguity, queſtion or doubt heretofore moved to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Tenures I. Lands coming to the Kings hands, by attainder, diſſolution or ſurrender, &c. ſhall not be holden in capite.

CAP. V.

An Act for not conveying of Horſes out of this Realm.

WHere before this time divers of the Kings Subjects, and namely of the North parts of this Realm, as well in time of Peace as of War, have conveyed, ſold, given and delivered out of this Realm, as well into Scotland, as into other foreign Realms beyond the Sea, many and divers great multitudes of Horſes, Geldings and Mares, which have been thought as well great accaſion, ſtrength and boldneſs to the Scottiſh men, and other the Kings foreign Enemies, having in poſſeſſion the ſame Horſes, Geldings and Mares, in time of War to invade this Realm, as alſo a great decay of the good breed of Horſes and Mares which before time hath been within this Realm, to the great detriment and hinderance of the Kings poor Subjects, towards the defence of this Realm and other his Dominions: (2) For remedy whereof, be it therefore enacted by our Sovereign Lord the King, and by the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons after the firſt day of January next coming, do ſell, exchange, give, convey or deliver into the Realm of Scotland, to the uſe of any Scottiſh man, (3) or do carry, give, exchange, ſell, ſend, convey or deliver in any place beyond the Sea, out of this Realm, or the Dominions of the ſame, any Horſe, Gelding or Mare, without ſpecial licence therefore to be obtained of the Kings Highneſs, or of his Heirs, under the Great Seal of this Realm, or under the Privy Signet: (4) or if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid firſt day of January, do ſell, exchange, give or deliver to any Scottiſh man within this Realm of England or Wales, the Town of Berwick, or the Marches of the ſame, to the intent to be conveyed into Scotland, any Horſe, Gelding or Mare, (5) or do convey or carry any Horſe, Mare or Gelding into any foreign parts beyond the Sea, without like ſpecial licence obtained of the Kings Highneſs, or of his Heirs, under the Great Seal, or Privy Signet, as is aforeſaid: (6) that then the ſame perſon and perſons ſo offending contrary to this Act, ſhall loſe and forfeit to our Sovereign Lord and his Heirs, the ſame Horſe, Mare or Gelding ſo carried and conveyed, (7) and alſo ſhall loſe and forfeit the ſum of fourty pound, for every ſuch Horſe, Gelding or Mare ſo to be conveyed and carried in form aforeſaid: whereof the one moiety to be to the King, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by information, action of debt or detinue, in any of the Kings Courts of Record; in which ſuit no wager of law, eſſoin, ne protection ſhall be allowed. (8) And that alſo all and every perſon and perſons ſo offending contrary to this Act, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one whole year.

The Wardens in their Courts, and Juſtices of Peace may enquire of offenders.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful, as well to the Warden and Wardens of the Eaſt, Weſt, and middle Marches for the time being, in their Warden Courts, as alſo to all and every the Kings Juſtices of Peace in every Shire, as well in England as in Wales, in their Quarter Seſſions, to enquire of all and every offence or offences hereafter to be perpetrated, committed or done contrary to this Act: (2) And that it ſhall be lawful to all and every perſon and perſons being the Kings Subjects, to arreſt and impriſon every Scottiſh man, and all and every other perſon or perſons, which ſhall lead or convey, contrary to the meaning of this Act, any ſuch Horſe, Gelding or Mare, out of this Realm into the ſaid Realm of Scotland, or into any other foreign place beyond the Sea, other then ſuch perſons as hereafter ſhall have ſufficient warrant by or from the Kings Highneſs, or his Heirs, under his or their Great Seal, or Privy Signet, according to the meaning of this Act.

The Kings Licence to tranſport horſes and licence to give licence.

III. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors, at any time hereafter, under his Great Seal or Privy Signet, do give licence to any perſon or perſons to carry or convey any Horſes, Mares or Geldings into Scotland, or into any parts beyond the Sea, or elſe do give authority, power or commandment to any perſon or perſons, by warrant under the Kings Great Seal, to licenſe any other perſon or perſons to carry and convey any Horſes, Mares or Geldings into Scotland, or into any parts beyond the Sea: that then it ſhall be lawful, as well to all and ſingular perſon and perſons having ſuch licence under the Kings Great Seal, or Privy Signet, as to all and every other perſon and perſons having licence in writing under the Seal of ſuch perſon or perſons to whom the King ſhall give authority, power or commandment in form abovesaid, to licenſe other perſon or perſons to carry or convey any Horſes, Mares or Geldings into Scotland, or into any parts beyond the Sea, to carry and convey ſuch number of Horſes, Geldings or Mares, or any of them into Scotland, or into any of the parts beyond the Sea, as ſhall be mentioned in any ſuch licence, as is before ſpecified; any thing mentioned in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Carrying of horſes to ſerve the King in his Wars.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, ne any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to any perſon or perſons, which at any time hereafter ſhall carry or convey any Horſe, Mare or Gelding into Scotland, or into any other foreign parts beyond the Sea, to ſerve the King in his Wars, with the ſame Horſes, Mares or Geldings; any thing mentioned in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Licences ſhall be ſhewed to the Wardens of the Marches.

V. And to the intent the Kings Majeſty ſhall not hereafter be deceived in the number of ſuch Horſes, Mares or Geldings which hereafter ſhall be carried or conveyed into Scotland, ye that the parties which hereafter ſhall obtain any licence by force of this Act, for the carriage or conveyance of any Horſes, Mares or Geldings to be carried or conveyed into Scotland, (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every ſuch perſon and perſons which hereafter ſhall be licenſed according to this Act, to carry or convey any Horſes, Mares or Geldings into Scotland, ſhall before the ſame carriage or conveyance, upon the pain or forfeiture of the ſaid Horſe, Mare or Gelding, or the double value thereof, (whereof the one moiety to be to the King, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by ſuch like action, as before is limited in this Act) ſhew his or their ſaid licence to one of the three Wardens of the three Marches of England, to the intent that one of the ſaid Wardens ſhall cauſe the number of the ſaid Horſes, Mares or Geldings ſo licenſed to be conveyed into Scotland, not only to be kalendred in a book, to remain in his own cuſtody, but alſo to be endorſed, and written on the backſide of the ſaid licence, and the ſame endorſement to be ſigned with the hand of the ſaid Warden.

Every perſon that goeth beyond the Sea, may take a horſe with him for his own uſe. Rep. 5. El. 19.

VI. Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful to every of the Kings Subjects that ſhall paſs over beyond the Sea, to ſhip or carry with them Horſes or Geldings, for their own occupation in their journeys, and not to the intent to ſell the ſame beyond the Sea: (2) and that intent to be judged by the oath of him or them that ſo will carry over any Horſe or Gelding: which oath ſhall be taken before the Cuſtomers or their Deputies, or Searcher of every ſuch Port where the ſame Horſe or Gelding ſhall be ſhipped, before the ſhipping thereof.

The Warden of the 5 Ports may give certain horſes.

VII. Provided always, That the Warden of the five Ports now being, or hereafter to be, may yearly at his pleaſure, give ſix Horſes or Geldings, and no more, within one year, at one or divers times, upon like pain as is aforeſaid, to any perſon or perſons, in the parts beyond the Seas, being in amity with the Kings Highneſs, or his ſucceſſors; this Act, or any thing therein to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. VII.

The Continuation of Actions after the death of any King.

Diſcontinuance 1. The death of the King ſhall not diſcontinue any ſuit &c. 3 Bulſt. 314.

Where the Kings Subjects heretofore have to their great coſts, charges and expences, proſecuted and ſued divers and ſundry Actions, as well real and perſonal, as all other Actions mixt or otherwiſe, in the Kings Majeſties Courts, and other Courts of Record, not only by Writs, but alſo by plaint or bills; which actions, ſuits, bills and plaints, by the death or demiſe of the Kings of this Realm, have been diſcontinued, (2) and the parties in every ſuch actions, ſuits, bills and plaints, thereby have been put without day, whereby the demandants, plaintiffs and actors in every ſuch action and ſuit, were compelled and driven by the order and laws of this Realm, for their further remedy, to commence and begin again his or their ſaid actions, ſuits or plaint, or elſe to proſecute and ſue reſummons, attachments, Scire facias, or ſuch other like proceſs, to revive his or their ſaid actions, ſuits or plaints, (3) which was not only to their great coſts, charges, expences, hinderances and delay of their cauſes and ſuits, but alſo a great let and hinderance of juſtice: (4) For reformation whereof, be it ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from thenceforth by the death or demiſe of the Kings Majeſty that now is, (whoſe life Almighty GOD long preſerve, keep and maintain in his moſt Royal eſtate) nor by the death or demiſe of any that hereafter ſhall be King of this Realm, any action, ſuit, bill or plaint, now, or that hereafter ſhall depend between party and party, in any of the Courts aforeſaid, ſhall not in any wiſe be diſcontinued or put without day: (5) But that the proceſs, pleas, demurs and continuances in every action, actions, ſuits, bills or plaints, which now or that hereafter ſhall depend, ſhall ſtand good and effectual, and be proſecuted and ſued forth, in ſuch manner and form, and in the ſame eſtate, condition and order, as if the ſame King had lived or continued in full life, the death or demiſe hereafter of any King of this Realm notwithſtanding. (6) And that all, and all manner of judicial proceſs that hereafter ſhall be had or purſued in the time of the Reign of any other King, then reigning at the time of the purſuit of the original, or other former proceſs, ſhall be made in the name of the King that for the time ſhall reign and be King of this Realm, and that variance touching the ſame proceſs between the names of the Kings ſhall not be in any wiſe material, as concerning any default to be alledged or objected therefore.

Variance between the original and judicial proceſs ſhall not be prejudicial.

Suits not diſcontinued by death, new commiſſion, or aſſociation, or not coming of Juſtices.

II. And alſo be it further eſtabliſhed and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, Aſſiſe of Mortdanceſtor, Juris utrum, and attaint, which at any time hereafter ſhall be arraigned, commenced or ſued before any of the Kings Juſtices of Aſſiſe, ſhall not from henceforth be diſcontinued, or put without day, by reaſon of death, new commiſſion, aſſociation, or not coming of the ſame Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or any of them; but ſhall ſtand good and effectual in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, the death, new commiſſion, aſſociation, or not coming of the ſame Juſtices, or any of them, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Preferment of the plaintiff to a name or dignity.

III. And over that, be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That albeit any demandant or plaintiff in any manner of action, bill or ſuit, ſhall fortune to be made or created Duke, Archbiſhop, Marqueſs, Earl, Vicount, Baron, Biſhop, Knight, Juſtice of the one Bench or of the other, or Sergeant at the Law, depending the ſame action, bill or ſuit, yet that notwithſtanding, that no writ, action or ſuit ſhall for ſuch cauſe in any wiſe be abatable or abated, but ſhall remain in like force, goodneſs or ſtrength as the ſame was before; any law or uſage to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Preferment of a Juſtice or Commiſſioner to a name of dignity.

IV. And alſo be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That albeit any perſon or perſons, being Juſtice of Aſſiſe, Juſtice of Gaol-delivery, or Juſtice of Peace within any of the Kings Dominions, or being in any other of the Kings Commiſſions whatſoever, ſhall fortune to be made or created Duke, Archbiſhop, Marqueſs, Earl, Vicount, Baron, Biſhop, Knight, Juſtice of the one Bench or of the other, or Sergeant at Law, or Sheriff, yet that notwithſtanding, he and they ſhall remain Juſtice and Commiſſioner, and have full power and authority to execute the ſame, in like manner and form, as he or they might or ought to have done before the ſame.

New Juſtices may give judgment of a priſoner found guilty of felony and reprieved. Cok. Inſt. 4. p. 691.

V. And be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all caſes where any perſon or perſons heretofore have been, or hereafter ſhall be found guilty of any manner of treaſon, murder, manſlaughter, rape, or other felony whatſoever, for the which, judgment of death ſhould or may enſue, and ſhall be reprieved to priſon without judgment at that time given againſt him, her, or them ſo found guilty, that thoſe perſons that at any time hereafter after ſhall by the Kings Letters Patents be aſſigned Juſtices to deliver the Gaol where any ſuch perſon or perſons found guilty ſhall remain, ſhall have full power and authority to give judgment of death againſt ſuch perſons ſo found guilty, and reprieved, as the ſame Juſtices (before whom ſuch perſon or perſons was or were found guilty) might have done, if their Commiſſion of Gaol delivery had remained and continued in full force and ſtrength.

VI. And over that, That no manner of proceſs or ſuit made, ſued or had before any Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Gaol-delivery, Oyer and Terminer, (Juſtices of Peace) or other of the Kings Commiſſioners, ſhall, ne in any wiſe be diſcontinued by the making and publiſhing of any new Commiſſion or Aſſociation, or by altering of the names of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Gaol-delivery, Oyer and Terminer, (Juſtices of Peace) or other the Kings Commiſſioners, (2) but that the new Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Gaol delivery, and of the Peace, and other Commiſſioners, may proceed in every behalf, as if the old Commiſſions and Juſtices, and Commiſſioners had ſtill remained and continued not altered. Stat. 1 M. 8.

No ſuit before Juſtices ſhall be diſcontinued by a new Commiſſion. Stat. 11 H. 6. 6. 2 & 3 P. & M. 18.

CAP. VIII.

The Bill for the City of York.

Union. Raſt. 3. Certain Churches within York united and drawn into a fewer number.

Where in the ancient City of York and Suburbs of the ſame, there are many Pariſh Churches, which heretofore, the ſame being well inhabited and repleniſhed with people, were good and honeſt livings for learned Incumbents, by reaſon of the privy tithes of the rich Merchants, and of the offerings of a great multitude, which livings be now ſo much decayed by the ruine and decay of the ſaid City, and of the trade of merchandiſe there, that the revenues and profits of divers of the ſame Benefices are at this preſent not above the clear yearly value of ſix and twenty ſhillings and eight pence, (2) ſo that a great ſort of them are not a competent and honeſt living for a good Curate; yea, and no perſon will take the Cure, but that of neceſſity there is ſome Chantry Prieſt, or elſe ſome late Religious perſon being a Stipendary, taken and appointed to the ſaid Cure and Benefice, which for the moſt part are unlearned, and very ignorant perſons, not able to do any part of their duties; (3) By reaſon whereof the ſaid City is not only repleniſhed with blind Guides and Paſtors, but alſo the people much kept in ignorance, as well of their duties towards God, as alſo towards the Kings Majeſty and the Commonwealth of this Realm, and to the great danger of their ſouls: (4) In conſideration whereof, and for the better relief and order of the ſaid City, it may pleaſe the Kings Majeſty, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth it ſhall be lawful to the Mayor and Recorder of the ſaid City, and to the Ordinary or his Deputy, and ſix Juſtices of Peace in the ſaid City, to unite and knit together the ſaid Pariſhes into fewer number, that is to wit, ſo many of the ſaid Pariſhes into one Pariſh, as to them ſhall be thought convenient to be a living for one honeſt Incumbent, ſo the clear yearly value of one Pariſh exceed not xx. l. by year, and ſo to proceed thorow the ſaid City and Suburbs of the ſame.

It ſhall be lawful to the Mayor of York, &c. to unite ſo many of the Pariſhes in York, as to them ſhall ſeem convenient.

Pulling down of Churches, and beſtowing them.

II. And that it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Mayor, Recorder and Aldermen, to pull down the Churches which they ſhall think ſuperfluous in the ſaid City and Suburbs of the ſame, and to beſtow the ſame toward the reparations and enlargement of the other Churches, and the Bridges of the ſaid City, and to the relief of the poor people. (2) And further, That the ſaid Mayor, Recorder, Ordinary or his Deputy, and ſix Juſtices of Peace being Aldermen, ſhall allot and appoint the preſentment and patronage of the Church ſo united, to the Patrons of all the Churches ſo knit in one Pariſh, that they may make their preſentments by turn, every one according to their quantity of his former patronage.

A proviſion for the Incumbents of the Churches pulled down.

III. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch Incumbents of the Churches aforeſaid, that ſhall be put down by virtue of this Act, ſhall have the yearly value of their Benefices, after the rate they do pay tenths, during their lives, ſo they will do ſervice therefore in the Church called the Pariſh Church, according to their former duties. And if they refuſe to ſerve, then they only during their lives, to have the third part of the value, as is aforeſaid, and to be payed at the hands of the Incumbent of the Pariſh Church to be appointed.

By whom the tenth to the King ſhall be paid, and how levied.

IV. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the Incumbents of every ſuch Church, which by virtue of this Act ſhall be made and ordained for the Pariſh Church, and whereunto any other Pariſh or Pariſhes ſhall be united, ſhall after the union thereof, yearly pay the tenths to be due for the ſame. to the Kings Majeſty, his heirs and ſucceſſors, of the ſame Church, and of all other Churches thereunto united and annexed. (2) And the ſaid Incumbent of the Pariſh Church ſo united, to have his allowance of the Incumbents of the Churches ſo united thereunto, during their ſeveral lives, according to the rate and portion of the Churches ſo united, as ſhall be aſſigned by the aboveſaid perſons having authority by this Act to unite the ſame. (3) And the ſucceſſor and ſucceſſors of every ſuch Incumbent of every ſuch Church as ſhall be made the Pariſh Church, and whereunto any Church or Pariſh ſhall be united by force of this Act, ſhall pay or compound for the firſt-fruits thereof at every avoidance, before his induction to the ſame, according to ſuch yearly value as ſuch Church or Churches as ſhall be made a Pariſh Church, and whereunto any Church or Churches, Pariſh or Pariſhes ſhall be united by force of this Act, ſhall be of, at the time of the union thereof, and as if it had been of ſuch like yearly value at the time of making of the Statute for firſt-fruits and tenths, and of no greater value; any ordinance, ſtatute or law to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Who ſhall pay the firſt-fruits, and according to what value.

CAP. X.

The Bill for Exigents and Proclamations in Wales, and in the County Palatine of Cheſter.

Exigent 6, &c. 27 H. 8. 26.

Exigents and Proclamation ſhall be awarded out of the Kings Bench and Common place, againſt any perſon dwelling in Wales or Cheſter.

Where in the high Court of Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Seven and twentieth year of the moſt proſperous reign of the late famous King Henry the eighth, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons aſſembled in the ſaid high Court of Parliament, it was enacted and eſtabliſhed by authority of the ſame Parliament, That his Highneſs Dominion and Principality of Wales, and all manors, lands, tenements, and other Dominions within the ſaid Dominion and Principality of Wales, ſhould be divided into twelve Shires or Counties, that is to ſay, the Shires or Counties of Glamorgan, Radnor, Brecknock, Caermarthen, Pembroke, Cardigan, Merioneth, Montgomery, Flint, Caernarvan, Angleſey and Denbigh, (2) in every of which ſaid Counties and Shires, amongſt the Officers yearly appointed, it was then ordained, that there ſhould be diſtinct and ſeveral Sheriffs yearly; (3) and alſo where the Counties Palatine of Cheſter, and of the City of Cheſter, be ancient and ſeveral Counties Palatine of themſelves, in all which ſaid Counties the Kings Writ hath not, nor yet doth run; ſo that the Proclamation awarded upon any Exigent againſt any perſon or perſons in any action wherein proceſs of Outlawry doth lie, according to the Statute made in the ſixth year of the reign of the ſaid late King, cannot be directed unto the Sheriff or Sheriffs of any of the ſaid Shires or Counties, but unto the Sheriff of the County next adjoyning: (4) So that the party dwelling in any of the ſaid Shires or Counties againſt whom any ſuch Exigent and Proclamation ſhall be ſo awarded, ſhall not, nor can have any knowledge of the ſame ſuit or proceſs, by reaſon whereof many of the perſons inhabiting in the ſaid Shires and Counties, without knowledge or cauſe of ſuit, have been wrongfully and unjuſtly outlawed to their utter undoing:

St. 6 H 8 4.

II. Be it therefore, and for divers other good conſiderations, by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, That if and whenſoever any writ of Exigent, at any time after the firſt day of April next coming, ſhall be awarded at the ſuit of the King, or of any other perſon or perſons, plaintiff or plaintiffs, in any action or ſuit, in any of the courts of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, commonly called the Kings Bench, and the common Place, againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling in any of the aforeſaid Counties in Wales, or in the ſaid Counties Palatine of Cheſter, or the City of Cheſter, or in any of them, That then immediately upon the awarding of every ſuch Exigent, the Juſtice or Juſtices before whom any ſuch writ or Exigent, upon ſuch ſuit or action ſhall be ſued, ſhall have full power and authority to award one writ of Proclamation according to the tenor and effect of Proclamations awarded upon Exigents, directed out of any of the ſaid Courts in London, againſt any perſon dwelling in any other Shire where the Kings Writ is currant, according to the order and form of the ſaid Statute made in the ſixth year of the ſaid late King, to be directed to ſuch of the aforeſaid Sheriffs of any of the aforeſaid Counties in Wales, and of the Counties Palatine of Cheſter, and of the City of Cheſter for the time being, where it ſhall happen to the ſaid defendant, againſt whom any ſuch action ſhall be ſued as is aforeſaid, to be dwelling: (2) And that every ſuch Writ of Proclamation ſhall have the ſame Teſte, and day of return, as the Exigents, whereupon every ſuch Writ of Proclamation ſhall be awarded, ſhall have; (3) and that every ſuch Sheriff to whom any ſuch Writ of Proclamation ſhall be directed, ſhall make Proclamation of the ſaid Writ of Proclamation, according to the tenor of the ſame, and ſhall make true return of the ſame in ſuch Court, and before ſuch Juſtices as the tenor of the ſame Writ ſhall require and demand. (4) And that all outlawries hereafter to be promulged, or pronounced againſt any perſon or perſons upon any ſuch Exigent or Exigents awarded againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling in any of the ſaid Counties of Wales, and the Counties Palatine of Cheſter, and of the City of Cheſter, and no Writ of Proclamation awarded in form aboveſaid, to the Sheriff or Sheriffs of the County where the party defendant ſhall be as is aboveſaid dwelling, or not returned, to be clearly void and of none effect nor force in the Law.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Sheriff and Every Sheriff in Wales, and of Cheſhire, and Cheſter ſhall have Deputies in the Kings Bench and Common place. 23 H. 6. 10.

Sheriffs of every of the ſaid Counties of Wales, and of the Counties Palatine of Cheſter, and of the City of Cheſter aforeſaid, ſhall have in every of the Courts of the Kings Bench, and of the Common place, one ſufficient Deputy at the leaſt, to receive all Writs directed to ſuch the Sheriff or Sheriffs for whom the ſame Deputy or Deputies ſhall be appointed, in like manner and form, and upon like pains as by the former Statutes and Laws of this Realm, other Sheriffs of other Shires or Counties within this Realm of England, be bounden to have in either of the ſame Courts. (2) And that all Writs of Proclamation aforeſaid, ſhall be delivered unto every ſuch Deputy of Record in the ſame Courts, (3) and alſo like fees ſhall be paid for making every ſuch Writ of Proclamation, and for enrolling the ſame of Record, as is limited in the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid Sixth year of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Henry the eighth.

To whom proceſs againſt any perſon outlawed ſhall be directed.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon dwelling in any of the ſaid Counties of Wales, after the aforeſaid firſt day of April, ſhall be outlawed in any ſuit or action aforeſaid, That then Writs of ſpecial Capias utlegatum, ſingle Capias utlegatum, non moleſtand. and all other proceſs, for or againſt any perſon outlawed, ſhall and may from thenceforth be directed to the Sheriff of any of the ſaid Counties in Wales, as immediate officers to the Kings ſaid Courts of the Kings Bench, or Common place in that behalf: (2) and that every ſuch Writs may be delivered of Record to the Deputy of ſuch of the ſaid Sheriffs to whom any ſuch Writ or Proceſs ſhall be directed, and that every ſuch Sheriff ſhall make execution and return of every ſuch Writ or Proceſs to him directed, upon like pain and penalty as is above limited.

The Sheriffs forfeiture for not returning of a Writ of Proclamation.

V. The puniſhment for the third offence, being twice convicted.

ſons, other then the King of England for the time being, is, or ought to be by the Laws of God, Supream Head of the ſame Churches, or of any of them, (3) or that the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors Kings of this Realm, is not, or ought not to be King of England, France and Ireland, or of any of them; (4) or after the ſaid firſt day of March do compaſs or imagine by open preaching, expreſs words or ſayings, to depoſe or deprive the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors Kings of this Realm, from his or their Royal Eſtate or Titles to or of the Realms aforeſaid; (5) or do openly publiſh, or ſay by expreſs words or ſayings, that any other perſon or perſons, other then the King, his heirs or Succeſſors Kings of this Realm, of right ought to be Kings of the Realms aforeſaid, or of any of them, or to have and enjoy the ſame, or any of them; (6) that then every ſuch offender being thereof duly convicted, or attainted by the Laws of this Realm, their aidors, comfortors, abettors, procurors and counſellors, for his or their ſuch firſt offence, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the King all his and their goods and chattels, and alſo ſhall have and ſuffer Impriſonment of his and their bodies, at the Kings will and pleaſure. (7) And if any perſon being once convicted or attainted of any of the ſaid offences, ſhall after his conviction or attaindor eftſoons commit, or perpetrate any of the offences before mentioned, other then ſuch as be expreſſed in the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſaid Twenty fifth year of King Edward the Third, and ſhall be thereof duly convicted and attainted by the Laws of this Realm; then every ſuch offendor, their aidors, comfortors, abettors, procurors, and counſellors, for his or their ſaid ſecond offence or offences, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the King, the whole iſſues and profits of all his and their lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, benefices, prebends, and other Spiritual promotions, for term of life, of ſuch offendor or offendors; and ſhall alſo loſe and forfeit to the King all his and their goods and chattels, and alſo ſuffer during his and their lives, perpetual impriſonment of his and their bodies: (8) And if any perſon being two times hereafter convicted or attainted of any of the ſame offences, ſhall after his ſaid ſecond conviction or attainder, eftſoons commit or perpetrate again any of the ſaid offences, and be thereof duly convicted or attainted according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm; that then every ſuch third offence or offences, ſhall be deemed and adjudged high Treaſon, and the offendor or offendors, their aidors, comfortors, abettors, procurors, and counſellors, being therein convicted or attainted, according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, ſhall be deemed and adjudged high Traitors, and ſhall ſuffer pains of death, and loſe and forfeit all their goods and chattels, lands and tenements to the King, as in caſes of high Treaſon.

It ſhall be high Treaſon to affirm by writing, printing or deed, that the King is not ſupream head of the Church, or that any other is, or &c. Rep. 1 & 2. P. & M. 8. St. 13 El. 1. St. 26 H. 8. 13.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, at any time after the ſaid firſt day of March next coming, by Writing, Printing, overt-deed or act, do affirm or ſet forth, That the King of this Realm for the time being, is not, or ought not to be Supreme Head in earth of the Church of England and Ireland, or of any of them, immediately under God; (2) or ſhall by Writing, Printing, overt-deed or act, after the ſaid firſt day of March affirm, or ſet forth, that the Biſhop of Rome, or any other perſon or perſons other then the King of England for the time being, is, or ought to be by the Laws of God or otherwiſe, the Supreme Head in earth of the ſame Churches, or any of them, (3) or do after the ſaid firſt day of March compaſs or imagine by Writing, Printing, overt-deed or act, to depoſe or deprive the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors Kings of this Realm, from his or their Royal Eſtate, or Titles of the King of England, France or Ireland, or of any of them, (4) or by any Writing, Printing, overt-deed or act, do affirm, that any other perſon or perſons, other then the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, is, or of right ought to be King of the Realms of England, France or Ireland, or to have and enjoy the ſame, or any of them, (5) that then every ſuch offence and offences ſhall be deemed and adjudged high Treaſon, and the offendor and offendors, their aidors, comfortors, abettors, procurors, and counſellors, therein convicted or attainted, according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, ſhall be deemed and adjudged high Traitors, and ſhall ſuffer pains of death, and loſe and forfeit all their goods and chattels, lands and tenements to the King, as in caſes of high Treaſon.

To which Acts of Parliament this Statute extendeth not.

St. 27. H. 8. 2.

VIII. Provided always and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Statute or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to repeal, annul, or make fruſtrate or void, any Act or Acts of Parliament, Statute or Statutes made concerning the counterfeiting or forging of any of the Coins of this Realm, (2) or the Coin of any other Realm or Realms, currant within this Realm, (3) or for clipping, waſhing, or filing any of the ſaid Coins, (4) or for, or concerning the bringing into this Realm, of counterfeit Money or Coin; (5) ne to any Statute made in the xxvij. year of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, concerning the falſe forging and counterfeiting of the Kings Signs Manual, privy Signet, or privy Seal, (6) ne to their counſellors, procurors, aidors and abettors, (7) nor to any article or branch concerning the ſame offences, or any of them, contained in the ſame Statutes or any of them.

It ſhall be high Treaſon to interrupt any perſon to whom the Crown is limited by the Statute of 35 H. 8. 1.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any the Heirs of the King our ſaid Sovereign Lord that now is, or any perſon or perſons to whom the Crown and Dignity of this Realm is limited and admitted by Act of Parliament made in the Five and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, or the Heirs of any of them, do at any time hereafter uſurp the one of them upon the other, in the Crown of this Realm, or demand, challenge or claim the ſame otherwiſe, or in any other form or degree of deſcent or ſucceſſion, or in any courſe, form, degree or condition, but only in ſuch manner and form as is declared by the ſaid Statute; or if any of the ſaid Heirs or perſons aforeſaid, do interrupt, or let the Kings Highneſs that now is, peaceably and quietly to keep, have and enjoy the ſaid Imperial Crown; that then all and ſingular the offendors, their aidors, comfortors, abettors, procurors, and the counſellors therein, ſhall be deemed and adjudged high Traitors, and ſhall ſuffer and incur the pains of death, loſs and forfeitures, as is aforeſaid, in caſes of high Treaſon.

The offendors in theſe felonies ſhall be excluded of their Clergy and ſanctuary.

X. And it is further ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons that heretofore hath been, or at any time hereafter ſhall be in due form of the Laws, attainted or convicted of murder, of malice prepenſed; or of poyſoning, of malice prepenſed; (2) or of breaking of any houſe by day or by night, any perſon being then in the ſame houſe where the ſame breaking heretofore hath been, or hereafter ſhall be committed, and heretofore hath been or hereafter ſhall be thereby put in fear or dread; (3) or of, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in the high-way, or near to the high-way; or for felonious ſtealing of Horſes, Geldings or Mares; (4) or of felonious taking of any goods out of the Pariſh Church, or other Church or Chappel; (5) or being indicted or appealed of any of the ſame offences, and thereupon found guilty by verdict of twelve men, or ſhall confeſs the ſame upon his or their arraignment, or will not anſwer directly, according to the Laws of this Realm, or ſhall ſtand wilfully, or of malice mute, (6) ſhall not be admitted to have or enjoy the priviledge or benefit of his Clergy or Sanctuary, but ſhall be put from the ſame: (7) And that in all other caſes of Felony other then ſuch as are before mentioned, all and ſingular perſon and perſons, which after the firſt day of March next coming, ſhall be arraigned or found guilty upon his or their arraignment, or confeſs the ſame, or ſtand mute, in form aforeſaid, or will not anſwer directly in form aboveſaid, ſhall have and enjoy the priviledge and benefit of his or their Clergy, the liberty and priviledge of Sanctuary, in like manner and form, as he or they ought or ſhould have done, before the four and twentieth day of April, in the Firſt year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth.

XI. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all clauſes, articles, and ſentences mentioned or ſpecified in any Act or Acts of Parliament, Statute or Statutes made in the time of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, touching or in any wiſe concerning any manner of challenge for the County, Hundred, or peremptory challenge, or any of them, or touching, or in any wiſe concerning any manner of trial of foreign pleas pleaded by murderers, felons, or other offendors, ſhall, as concerning the ſaid challenges and trials, remain in their force and ſtrength not repealed; any thing in this Act mentioned, ſounding or ſeeming to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Statutes made during the reign of King H. 8. touching challenges and foreign pleas, confirmed. St. 3. H. 8. 6. 4 H. 8. 2. 22 H. 8, 2.

XII. Provided alſo, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act of Parliament, or any thing therein mentioned as concerning the repeal of any Eſtatute or Eſtatutes made touching Treaſon, or miſpriſion of Treaſon, ſhall not in any wiſe give any manner of benefit, advantage or commodity to any perſon or perſons, being the laſt day of October laſt paſt, arreſted or impriſoned for Treaſon, petit Treaſon, or miſpriſion of Treaſon, or to any perſon or perſons heretofore being indicted of Treaſon, petit Treaſon, or miſpriſion of Treaſon, or to any other perſon or perſons being likewiſe convicted, outlawed or attainted of Treaſon, petit Treaſon, or miſpriſion of Treaſon; or being fled beyond the Seas, or into Scotland, before the ſaid laſt day of October laſt paſt, for any Treaſon, petit Treaſon, or miſpriſion of Treaſon, but that they and every of them ſhall ſuffer ſuch pains of death, loſſes, and forfeiture of lands and goods, as in caſes of Treaſon, as though this Act had never been had or made; any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding; and that the Laws and Statutes repealed by this Act, ſhall ſtand againſt them, and every of them, in full ſtrength, virtue, force and effect, concerning all and every offence by them, or any of them heretofore committed or done.

This Statute ſhall not extend to thoſe that be arreſted, impriſoned, indicted, convicted, outlawed, attainted, or fled for Treaſon.

XIII. Provided alſo, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all wilful killing, by poyſoning of any perſon or perſons that at any time hereafter ſhall be done, perpetrated or committed, ſhall be adjudged, taken and deemed wilful murder of malice prepenſed; (2) and that the offendors therein, their aidors, abettors, procurors and counſellors ſhall ſuffer death, and forfeit in every behalf, as in other caſes of wilful murder of malice prepenſed.

Wilful killing by poyſoning ſhall be adjudged murder. 1 Bulſtr. 87.

XIV. And over that, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all and every caſe and caſes, where any of the Kings Majeſties Subjects ſhall and may upon his prayer have the priviledge of Clergy as a Clerk convict, that may make purgation in all thoſe caſes, and every of them, and alſo in all and every caſe and caſes of felony, wherein the priviledge and benefit of Clergy is reſtrained, excepted, or taken away by this Statute or Act (wilful murder, and poyſoning of malice prepenſed only excepted) the Lord and Lords of the Parliament, and Peer and Peers of this Realm, having place and voice in Parliament, ſhall by virtue of this preſent Act of common Grace, upon his or their requeſt or prayer, alledging that he is a Lord or Peer of this Realm, and claiming the benefit of this Act, though he cannot read, without any burning in the hand, loſs of inheritance, or corruption of his bloud, be adjudged, deemed, taken, and uſed for his firſt time only, to all intents, conſtructions, and purpoſes, as a Clerk convict, and ſhall be in caſe of a Clerk convict, which may make purgation without any further or other benefit or priviledge of Clergy, to any ſuch Lord or Peer, from thenceforth at any time after, for any cauſe to be allowed, adjudged, or admitted; any Law, Statute, Uſage, Cuſtom, or any other thing to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A Lord of the Parliament ſhall have his Clergy for the firſt offence of felony, though he cannot read, and without burning.

XV. Provided always, That if any of the ſaid Lords of the Parliament, or any of the Peers of this Realm for the time being, ſhall fortune to be endicted of any of the offences limited in this Act; that then they and every of them, ſhall have his or their Trial by their Peers, as it hath been uſed heretofore in caſes of high Treaſon.

ed or found, within five years next before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, (which were not in the actual and real poſſeſſion of the ſaid late King, nor in the actual and real poſſeſſion of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is) (5) and alſo all annual rents, profits and emoluments, at any time within five years next before the beginning of this preſent Parliament, imployed, payed or beſtowed, toward or for the maintenance, ſupportation or finding of any ſtipendary Prieſt, intended by any act or writing to have continuance for ever, (6) ſhall by the authority of this preſent Parliament, immediately after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, be adjudged and deemed, and alſo be in the very actual or real poſſeſſion and ſeiſon of the King our Sovereign Lord, and his Heirs and Succeſſors for ever, without any office or other inquiſition thereof to be had or found (7) and in as large and ample manner and form as the Prieſts, Wardens, Maſters, Miniſters, Governours, Rulers or other Incumbents of them or any of them, at any time within the five years next before the beginning of this preſent Parliament, had, occupied or enjoyed, or now hath, occupieth or enjoyeth the ſame, (8) and as though all and ſingular the ſaid Colledges, Free-chappels, Chantries, Stipends, Salaries of Prieſts, and the ſaid Manors, Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments and other the premiſſes whatſoever they be, and every of them, were in this preſent Act ſpecially, particularly and certainly rehearſed, named and expreſſed by expreſs words, names, ſurnames, corporations, titles and faculties, and in their natures, kinds and qualities.

Where lands have been given to the finding of Prieſts for years.

III. And over that, be it ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that where any Manors, Lands, Tenements, Tithes, Penſions or Portions, Rents, Profits or other Hereditaments, by any manner of aſſurance, conveyance, will, deviſe or otherwiſe, at any time heretofore had, made, ſuffered, knowledged or declared, were given, aſſigned or appointed, to or for the maintenance, ſuſtentation or finding of one Prieſt, or of divers Prieſts, for term of certain years yet continuing, and that any Prieſt hath been maintained, ſuſtained or found with the ſame, or with the revenues or profits thereof within five years laſt paſt, that the King from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, ſhall have and enjoy in every behalf, for and during all ſuch time to come, every ſuch and like things, Tenements, Hereditaments, profits and Emoluments, as the Prieſt or Prieſts ought, or ſhould have had, for or toward his or their maintenance, ſuſtenance or finding, and for no longer or further time, nor for any other profit, advantage or commodity thereof to be taken.

He in reverſion may enter after the years expired.

IV. Provided always, and it is ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that when and aſſoon as the time aſſigned for the maintenance, ſuſtentation or finding of the Prieſt or Prieſts, ſhall be expired and run; that then it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſons, to whom any Manors, Lands, Tenements, Tithes, Portions, Penſions, Rents, and other Hereditaments, or any of them, ſhould have belonged or appertained, if the ſaid former Act and this Act had never been had or made, to enter into, take, perceive, have and enjoy the ſame, without any manner of livery, Ouſter le maine, petition, or other ſuit to be made to the King, in like manner, form and condition, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as though the ſaid former Act, and this Act had never been had or made, and as though the King had never had any ſeiſon or poſſeſſion thereof; Any thing in the ſaid former Act, or in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Lands wholly given to the maintenance of an Obit, &c. Co.pl.f.209.377. Godb. lt 309. pl. 417.

V. And be it ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that the King our Sovereign Lord, his heirs and ſucceſſors, from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, ſhall have, hold, perceive and enjoy for ever, all Lands, Tenements, Rents and other Hereditaments, which by any manner of Aſſurance, Will, Wills, Deviſe or otherwiſe, at any time heretofore had, made, ſuffered, knowledged or declared, were given, aſſigned or appointed to go, or be employed wholly to the finding or maintenance of any Anniverſary or Obit, or other like thing, intent or purpoſe, or of any light or lamp, in any Church or Chappel, to have continuance for ever, which hath been kept or maintained within five years next before the ſaid firſt day of this preſent Parliament.

Part of the iſſues of lands imployed to the finding of a Lamp, Obit, &c.

VI. And alſo that where but part of the iſſues or revenues of any manors, lands, tenements, rents or other hereditaments, hath by any of the ways or means aboveſaid been given, aſſigned or appointed to be beſtowed or imployed to the finding or maintenance of any Anniverſary or Obit, or other like thing, intent or purpoſe, or of any light or lamp, in any Church or Chappel, to have continuance for ever: that then our Sovereign Lord the King ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, for ever have, perceive and enjoy every ſuch ſums of money, that in any one year within five years next before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, hath been expended and beſtowed about the finding or maintenance of any ſuch Anniverſary or Obit, or other like thing, intent or purpoſe, of any light or lamp, to him his Heirs and Succeſſors for ever, as a rent-charge to be paid yearly at the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, and the Annunciation of our Lady Saint Mary the Virgin, by even portions in the Kings Court of the Augmentations and Revenues of his Crown, or in any other Court or Courts, as the King hereafter ſhall appoint. (2) And that it ſhall be lawful to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, for non-payment of any ſuch ſum or ſums of money, to diſtrain in the ſaid Manors, Lands and Tenements, of the iſſues and revenues, whereof the ſaid Anniverſary or Obit, or other like thing, or any ſuch light or lamp was found, ſuſtained or maintained: (3) And that for lack of ſufficient diſtreſs, in or upon any the premiſſes, whereof any of the ſaid yearly rents, or ſums of money ſhould be paid by the ſpace of one month next after that any of the ſaid rents ſhould be paid, and be not paid within the ſaid month; That then it ſhall be lawful to and for our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, by virtue of this preſent Act, to enter into, and to have, and poſſeſs as much of the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments whereof the ſaid rent or rents ſhould be levied or paid, as the rent or rents that ſhould be levied or paid out of the ſame, doth or ſhall amount or come to in yearly value, and the ſame Lands, Tenements and hereditaments, to hold and keep, and to have to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Aſſigns for ever, or for ſuch eſtate as our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, had or ought to have had, of or in the ſaid rent or rents.

The Kings diſtreſs for the rent, and entry for default thereof.

VII. And it is alſo ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That our Sovereign Lord the King, ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, have, perceive and enjoy, all and ſingular ſuch ſums of Money, Profits, Commodities and Emoluments, which by virtue of any manner of Aſſurance, Conveyance, Compoſition, Will, Deviſe or otherwiſe, heretofore have been given, aſſigned, limited or appointed to have continuance for ever, which in any one year within five years next before the beginning of this preſent Parliament, have been paid, beſtowed or employed by any manner of Corporations, Guilds, Fraternities, Companies or Fellowſhips of Myſteries or Crafts, or any of them, being in England, Wales, and other the Kings Dominions, or by the Maſters, Wardens, Governours, or other Officers or Miniſters, or by the Maſter, Warden, Governour, or other Officer or Miniſter of them, or any of them, toward or about the finding, maintenance or ſuſtentation of any Prieſt or Prieſts, of any Anniverſary or Obit, Lamp, Light or Lights, or other like thing, as is aforeſaid, to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors for ever, to be paid yearly as a Rent-charge, at the Feaſt of S Michael the Archangel, and the Annunciation of our Lady, by even portions, in the Kings Court of Augmentations and Revenues of his Crown, or in any other Court or Courts, as the King hereafter ſhall appoint.

Money given to the finding of a Prieſt, Obit, Lamp, Light, by a Corporation.

VIII. And that it ſhall be lawful to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors, for non-payment of any ſuch ſum or ſums of money, profit, commodity or emolument, or for non-payment of any of them, to diſtrain in all the manors, lands and tenements of every ſuch Crafts, Corporations, Guilds, Fraternities, Companies or Fellowſhips of Myſteries or Crafts, or any of them, by whom, or by the Maſters, Wardens, Governours or other Officers or Miniſters, or Maſter, Warden, Governour or Miniſter, of the which any ſuch ſum or ſums of money, profit, commodity or emolument, have or hath been paid, beſtowed or employed: (2) And that all and every of the ſaid ſums of money, profits, commodities and emoluments, ſhall from the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, without any manner of inquiſition or office to be had or found, be judged and deemed to be in the actual and real poſſeſſion of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, in like manner and form to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſame had been particularly and ſpecially mentioned in this preſent Act.

The King may diſtrain for the money or profit.

IX. And furthermore be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the King our Sovereign Lord, ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, have and enjoy to him, his Heirs and Succeſſors for ever, all Fraternities, Brotherhoods and Guilds, being within the Realm of England and Wales, and other the Kings Dominions: and all manors, lands, tenements and other hereditaments, belonging to them or any of them (other then ſuch Corporations, Guilds, Fraternities, Companies and Fellowſhips of Myſteries or Crafts, and the manors, lands, tenements and other hereditaments pertaining to the ſaid Corporations, Guilds, Fraternities, Companies, and Fellowſhips of Myſteries or Crafts above mentioned) (2) and ſhall by virtue of this Act be judged and deemed in the actual and real poſſeſſion of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, from the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, for ever, without any inquiſition or office thereof to be had or found.

Fraternities, Brotherhoods, and Guilds given to the King.

X. And alſo be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, at his and their will and pleaſure, may direct his and their Commiſſion and Commiſſions under the Great Seal of England, to ſuch perſons as it ſhall pleaſe him: (2) And that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, and of the ſaid Commiſſion, as well to ſurvey all and ſingular Lay-Corporations, Guilds, Fraternities, Companies and Fellowſhips of myſteries, or Crafts incorporate, and every of them, as all other the ſaid Fraternities, Brotherhoods and Guilds within the limits of their Commiſſion to them directed, (3) and all the Evidences, Compoſitions, Books of Accompts, and other Writings of every of them, to the intent thereby to know what money and other things was paid or beſtowed to the finding or maintenance of any Prieſt or Prieſts, Anniverſary or Obit, or other like thing, Light or Lamp, by them or any of them: (4) as alſo to enquire, ſearch and try by all ſuch ways and means as to them ſhall be thought meet and convenient, what manors, lands, tenements, rents, and other hereditaments, profits, commodities, emoluments and other things, be given, limited, or appointed to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King by this Act, within the limits of their Commiſſion.

Commiſſions ſhall be directed to ſeveral perſons, and what their authority ſhall be to do thereby.

XI. And alſo that by the ſame Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, by virtue of this Act, and of the Commiſſion to them directed, ſhall have full power and authority to aſſign, and ſhall appoint (in every ſuch place where Guild, Fraternity, the Prieſt or Incumbent of any Chantry in eſſe, the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, by the Foundation, Ordinance, or the firſt Inſtitution thereof, ſhould or ought to have kept a Grammar-School, or a Preacher, and ſo hath done ſithen the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel laſt paſt) lands, tenements and other hereditaments of every ſnch Chantry, Guild and Faternity, to remain and continue in ſucceſſion to a School-maſter or Preacher for ever, for and toward the keeping of a Grammar-School, or Preaching, and for ſuch godly intents and purpoſes, and in ſuch manner and form as the ſame Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, ſhall aſſign or appoint: (2) And alſo to make and ordain a Vicar to have perpetuity for ever, in every Pariſh Church, the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, being a Colledge, Free-chappel or Chantry, or appropriated, annexed or united to any Colledge, Free-chappel or Chantry, that ſhall come to the Kings hands by virtue of this Act, and to endow every ſuch Vicar ſufficiently, having reſpect to his Cure and Charge, the ſame Endowment to be to every ſuch Vicar, and to his ſucceſſors for ever, without any other Licence or Grant of the King, the Biſhop or other Officers of the Dioceſs. (3) And alſo the ſaid Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, ſhall have authority by forcce of this Act, to aſſign in every great Town or Pariſh, where they ſhall think neceſſary to have moe Prieſts then one, for the miniſtring of the Sacraments within the ſame Town or Pariſh, lands and tenements belonging to any Chantry, Chappel, or Stipendary Prieſt, being within the ſame Town or Pariſh the firſt day of this preſent Parlia-

XII. And over that, the ſaid Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, and of the Commiſſion to them directed, to require and try by ſuch ways and means as they ſhall think meet and convenient, what money, profit and benefit any poor perſon and perſons by virtue of any conveyance, aſſurance, compoſition, will, deviſe, or otherwiſe, heretofore had or made, intended or meant to have continuance for ever, had or enjoyed within five years next before the beginning of this preſent Parliament, out of any Colledge, Free-chappel or Chantry, and other the premiſſes, given, limited or appointed to the King by this Act, being within the limits of their Commiſſion: (2) And thereupon to make aſſignments and orders, in ſuch manner and form as all and ſingular ſuch ſaid money, profit and commodity ſhall be paid to poor people for ever, according to ſuch ſaid aſſurance, compoſition, will, deviſe, or other thing had or made for the ſame: and to aſſign and appoint lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, parcel of the premiſſes, for the maintenance and continuance of the ſame for ever: (3) and alſo to appoint to Fraternities, Brotherhoods, Guilds, lands, tenements and hereditaments, parcel of the premiſſes, towards and for the maintenance of piers, jutties, walls or banks, againſt the rages of the ſea, havens and creeks. (4) And that all and ſingular annuities, penſions, and other recompences ſhall be half yearly paid to the perſons to whom the ſame ought to be paid by the Kings Receiver for the time being, of his lands commonly called the ſuppreſſed lands, or other his revenues, lying in the County or City where ſuch Colledge, Free-chappel, or Chantry, or other the premiſſes, given, limited and appointed to the King by this Act, the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, were or remained without any fee or reward therefore to be payed: The firſt payment to be begun at the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming: (5) And that every ſuch receiver, upon his accompt, ſhall have full and due allowance of all ſuch annuities, penſions and other recompences by him paid, by virtue of any ſuch aſſignment to be made by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt.

The Commiſſioners oath for the favourable execution of the Commiſſion towards the Deans, &c.

The force of the Commiſſioners aſſignments and ordinances.

XIII. And it is ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Commiſſioners, and every of them, that ſhall take upon him the execution of any of the ſaid Commiſſions, ſhall be bound, as he will anſwer before GOD, to execute the Commiſſion to him and other directed, beneficially towards the Deans, Maſters, Wardens, Provoſts, and other Incumbents and Miniſters aforeſaid, and towards the poor people, concerning the ſaid aſſignments, and alſo towards the maintenance of piers, jutties, walls or banks, againſt the rages of the ſea, havens and creeks. (2) And that all manner of aſſignments and ordinances to be made by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, and certified under their ſeals, or the ſeals of two of them at the leaſt, into the Kings Court of the Augmentations and Revenues of his Crown, or to any other Court or Courts, by the Kings Majeſty to be made or aſſigned, ſhall be by virtue of this Act and of the ſaid Commiſſions, be as good and effectual in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as though the ſame had been aſſigned and ordained by authority of this preſent Parliament, by expreſs and apt words, terms and ſentences.

No officers, annuity or penſion, ſhall extend to more then it did before.

XIV. Provided alſo, That ſuch annuities, or penſions, or other recompences, that the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any of them, ſhall aſſign or appoint to be paid yearly to any ſuch Dean, Maſter, Warden, Governour, or other Incumbent, Fellow or Miniſter, ſhall not extend to any more clear yearly value, then ſuch Dean, Maſter, Warden, Provoſt, Governour, or other Incumbent, Fellow or Miniſter, or his Predeceſſor, lawfully had, or enjoyed in money, meat, drink, livery or allowance of the ſame yearly, within five years next before the beginning of this preſent Parliament.

His penſion ſhall ceaſe that is promoted to a better living.

XV. Provided alſo, That if any the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Provoſts, Governours or other Incumbents, Fellow or Miniſter, ſhall at any time hereafter during his life, be promoted by the King to any Benefice, or other Spiritual Promotion, being of a better clear yearly value then his ſaid annuity or penſion, or other recompence ſhall be of: that then the annuity, penſion, or other recompence, that any ſuch Dean, Maſter, Warden, Governour, Provoſt or other Incumbent, Fellow or Miniſter that ſo ſhall be promoted ſhall have, ſhall immediately after ſuch promotion had, ceaſe and utterly determine.

XVI. And be it ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Commiſſioners, or two of them at the leaſt, to whom any Commiſſion by vertue or mean of this Act ſhall be directed and delivered, ſhall be bounden upon the forfeiture, every of them, of an hundred pound, to make certificate under their Seals, or the Seals of two of them at the leaſt, into the ſaid Court of the Augmentations and Revenues of the Kings Crown, or into any other Court, as is aforeſaid, within one year next after the Commiſſion to them directed, of all manors, lands, tenements, rents, tithes, portions, penſions, hereditaments, and recompencies by the ſame commiſſioners or two of them, aſſigned or appointed to any of the uſes, intents or purpoſes above mentioned.

XVII. And alſo be it ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That our Sovereign Lord the King, ſhall have and enjoy all ſuch goods, chattels, jewels, plate, ornaments and other moveables, as were or be the common goods of every ſuch Colledge, Chantry, Free-chappel, or Stipendary Prieſt, belonging or annexed to the furniture or ſervices of their ſeveral foundations, or abuſed of any of the ſaid Corporations, in the abuſes aforeſaid, the property whereof was not altered nor changed before the eighth day of December, in the year of our Lord God, M. D. XLVII.

The King ſhall have the goods of every Colledge, Chantry, &c.

XVIII. And it is alſo ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that all ſuch debts and ſums of money as ought or ſhould without fraud or covin hereafter be paid, of the money or goods of any of the ſaid Colledges, due or payable by reaſon of any contract, ſpecialty or promiſe had or made before the ſame eighth day, ſhall truly and fully be paid by the Treaſurer of the Kings Court of the Augmentations and Revenues of his Crown, or by the Treaſurer or Receiver of any other Court to which any of the premiſſes ſhall be appointed, of the Kings Treaſurer, being in his or their hands, with as convenient ſpeed as the ſame may be payed.

The debts of Colledges ſhall be paid by the King.

XIX. Provided always, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that this Act, or any article, clauſe, or matter contained in the ſame, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any Colledge, Hoſtel or Hall, being within either of the Univerſities of Cambridge and Oxford, (2) nor to any Chantry founded in any of the Colledges, Hoſtels or Halls, being in the ſame Univerſities; (3) nor to the Free-chappel of S. George the Martyr, ſituate in the Caſtle of Windſor; (4) nor to the Colledge called S. Maries Colledge of Wincheſter, beſides Wincheſter, of the Foundation of Biſhop Wickham; (5) nor to the Colledge of Eaton, (6) nor to the Pariſh Church commonly called the Chappel in the Sea in Newton, within the Iſle of Ely, in the County of Cambridge; (7) nor to any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, to them or to any of them pertaining or belonging; (8) nor to any Chappel made or ordained for the eaſe of the people dwelling diſtant from the Pariſh Church, or ſuch like Chappel, whereunto no more lands or tenements then the Church-yard, or a little houſe or cloſe doth belong or pertain; (9) nor to any Cathedral Church or Colledge where a Biſhops See is, within this Realm of England, or in Wales, nor to the manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments of any of them, other then to ſuch Chantries, Obits, Lights and Lamps, or any of them, as at any time within five years next before the beginning of this peſent Parliament, have been had, uſed or maintained within the ſaid Cathedral Churches, or within any of them, or the iſſues, revenues or profits of any of the ſaid Cathedral Churches, to which Chantries, Obits, Lights and Lamps, it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that this Act ſhall extend.

To which Colledges &c. this Act ſhall not extend.

Cathedral Churches wherein any Chantries, Obits, Lamps or Lights have been maintained.

XX. And it is ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that our Sovereign Lord the King, at any time during his life (which God long preſerve) may at his will and pleaſure alter and change the name or names of all and ſingular Chantries, and the Foundations of the ſame, being in any of the Colledges, Hoſtels or Halls of any the ſaid Univerſities, according as to his godly wiſdom ſhall be thought meet and convenient.

Cok pl. f. 365. The King may altar the names of Chantries.

XXI. Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them (other then the Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Governours, Rulers, Prieſts, Incumbents, Fellows and Brethren of the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, Free-chappels, and other the premiſſes, given, limited or appointed to the King by this Act, and the ſucceſſors of them, and every of them, (2) and other then ſuch as be, or pretend to be Founders, Patrons or Donors of the premiſſes, or any of them, or of any part or parcel thereof, and the heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns of every or any of them; (3) and other then ſuch as be, or were feoffers, recoverees, coniſees, grantees, or deviſees of any of the premiſſes, to, or for any of the uſes, purpoſes or intents above mentioned, or to the uſe of any of the ſaid Colledges, Free-chappels, Chantries, or other the premiſſes, given, limited or appointed by this Act to the King, or to the intent to imploy the rents or profits thereof to the uſe of the Maſters, Rulers, Incumbents or Miniſters of them, or any of them; (4) and other then ſuch perſon and perſons, and bodies politick and corporate, their heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns, as claim or pretend to have eſtate, right, title, intereſt, uſe, poſſeſſion or condition, of, in, or to the premiſſes, or any part or parcel thereof, by reaſon of any feoffment, fine, bargain and ſale, or by any other ways, means or conveyance to them made, of any eſtate of inheritance, without the ſaid late Kings licence, aſſent, conſent or agreement, and without the licence, aſſent or agreement of the Kings Majeſty that now is, by any of the ſaid Deans, Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Governours, Rulers, Prieſts or Incumbents, or by the Founders, Donors or Patrons of them, or of any of them) (5) all ſuch right, title, claim, poſſeſſion, intereſt, rents, annuities, commodities, commons, offices, fees, leaſes, liveries, livings, penſions, portions, debts, duties, and other profits, which they, or any of them lawfully have, or of right ought to have, or might have had, in, of or to any of the premiſſes, or in, of or to any part or parcel thereof, in ſuch like manner, form and condition, to all intents, reſpects, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had nor made, and as though the ſaid Chantries, Colledges, and other the ſaid promotions, had ſtill continued and remained in their full being; (6) and ſaving to all and every Patron, Donor, Founder or Governour of any ſuch Colledge, Chantry, Free-chappel, Stipendary Prieſts, and other the premiſſes, given, limited or appointed to the King by this Act, and the Donor, Feoffer and Giver of the foreſaid lands, tenements or hereditaments, to them or any of them, or to any uſes or purpoſes before mentioned, (7) all ſuch rents, ſervices, rents ſeck, rents charge, fees, annuities, profits and offices; and alſo leaſes for term of life, lives and years, whereupon the accuſtomed rent, or more is reſerved, as they or any of them lawfully had, perceived and enjoyed in, out, or of any the ſaid promotions, or out of any of the ſaid lands, tenements or hereditaments, before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament.

The right of ſtrangers ſaved.

Certain rents and duties ſaved to every Donor, Founder, and Governour of a Colledge, Chantry, &c.

Every perſon that hath ſold any lands due to the King by this Act, ſhall repay the money.

XXII. And over that, it is ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that all and every perſon and perſons being in life, which have or hath for any ſum of money to him or them payed, bargained or ſold, any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments aforeſaid, whereunto the King our Sovereign Lord is intituled, by virtue of this Act, ſhall repay to ſuch perſon as ſo bought any of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements or other hereditaments, or to his executors or aſſigns, upon a requeſt therefore made, or within three months then next enſuing the ſame requeſt, as much money as he or they received for the ſale of any thing ſo by him or them ſold; (2) And for non-payment thereof, ſuch perſon and perſons as purchaſed or bought the ſaid lands, tenements, and other the premiſſes, or any parcel thereof, and their executors and adminiſtrators, ſhall be enabled by the authority of this preſent Parliament, to ſue and maintain an action of debt at the Common Law of this Realm, againſt ſuch perſon or perſons as ſo bargained or ſold to him or them, or to their teſtator, any of the premiſſes belonging to any Colledge, Chantry, Free-Chappel, or other promotion ſpiritual; in which action of debt, none eſſoin, protection or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

All Chantry, Free-Chappel, &c. lands ſhall be in the order of the Court of Augmentations.

XXIII. And be it further enacted by the anthority aforeſaid, that all and every of the ſaid Chantries, Colledges and Free-Chappels, and other the premiſſes given, limited or appointed to the King by this Act, and all the manſion-houſes, manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions and hereditaments, and other the premiſſes whatſoever they be, given, limited and appointed to the King by this Act, and every part and parcel of them, which by authority and virtue of this Act been veſted, adjudged and deemed, or ſhall be in the Kings Majeſties poſſeſſion and hands, or which the King ſhall be intituled unto by virtue of this Act, ſhall be in the order, ſurvey, and governance of our Sovereign Lord the Kings Court of the Augmentations and Revenues of his Crown, or in ſuch other Court as the King at any time hereafter ſhall aſſign, name or appoint, and ſo ſhall and may be granted, letten and ſet to farm by the Chancellor, Officers and Miniſters of the ſame Court, or of any other Court ſo to be appointed, in ſuch manner and form as other manors, lands and tenements appointed to the ſame Court of Augmentations and Revenues of his Graces Crown, or other Court ſo to be appointed, been to be granted, or letten: (2) And that all the farms, iſſues, revenues, and profits coming and growing of the ſame premiſſes, and of every part thereof, ſhall be taken and received to the Kings uſe, by the Officers and Miniſters of the ſame Court or Courts, in ſuch manner and form as is uſed and had of other manors, lands and tenements, and of the iſſues, revenues and profits of the ſame, committed to the order, rule, ſurvey and governance of the ſaid Court of the Augmentations and Revenues of the Kings Crown, or any other Court ſo to be appointed; Any Act, Statute, Ordinance, cuſtom or Uſe heretofore had, made or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Leaſes made by the Governours not reſerving the old rent ſhall be void.

XXIV. And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that if any of the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Rulers, Governours, Prieſts, Incumbents, or owners of any ſuch Colledge, Chantry, Free-Chappel, or of any the premiſſes given, limited or appointed to the King by this Act, or of any of them ſithence the three and twentieth day of November, in the xxxvij. year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, have made any Leaſe under his or their common Seal or otherwiſe, for term of years, life or lives, of their ſaid Colledges, Chantries, Free-Chappels, or other of the ſame premiſſes, or of any part thereof, or of any manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions or hereditaments whatſoever they be, to them or to any of them united or annexed, belonging or appertaining, upon which Leaſes the uſual and old rents and farms accuſtomed to be yielden and reſerved, or more, by the ſpace of twenty years next before the ſaid three and twentieth day of November, be not reſerved and yielden, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect: (2) and that all Leaſes and Grants heretofore made of any of the premiſſes given, limited or appointed to the King by this Act, ſhall be as good, available and effectual in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had or made; any thing in this Act, or any other Act heretofore had or made, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Lands whereof the Governours of any Colledges, &c. were ſeiſed to their own uſes.

XXV. Provided always, and be it further ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions or hereditaments, which the ſaid Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Chantry Prieſts, Incumbents, or other the ſaid Governours, Officers, Miniſters or Rulers of the premiſſes, or of any of them, hath or is, or hereafter ſhall have or be poſſeſſed or ſeiſed of in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, general or ſpecial, for term of life, term of years, or otherwiſe, to his or their own proper uſes, by inheritance or purchaſe; and not being at any time united or annexed to his or their ſaid Colledges, Free-Chappels, Chantries, or other the premiſſes given, limited or appointed to the King by this Act: (2) Nor ſhall extend to any manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, rents, annuities, and yearly penſion or penſions, or to any yearly ſum or ſums of money, being united, or parcel of any the ſaid Colledges, and other the premiſſes aforeſaid, or any of them, heretofore given or granted by the ſaid late King, or given or granted, or hereafter to be given and granted by the King our Sovereign Lord, to any of the ſaid Deans, Maſters, Wardens, Miniſters, Chantry Prieſts, Incumbents, Governours or Rulers of the premiſſes, or of any of them, for term of life only, under his great Seal of England, or under the Seal of the Court of the Augmentations and Revenues of the Kings Crown, or any other of the Kings Seals of any of his Courts; any thing contained in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Lands, annuities, &c. not united to the ſaid Colledges, &c. but granted by King H. 8. or by the King that now is.

Every perſon which had rent or yearly profit out of the lands of any Chantry, &c. ſhall enjoy them.

XXVI. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well all and every Patron, Donor, Founder and Giver of any of the ſaid promotions or premiſſes, or giver, donor or feoffer of any their lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, or other hereditaments, as all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, which before the making of this Act lawfully without fraud or covin, had or enjoyed any manner of rent, or other yearly profits to be taken, perceived or had of any Chantries, Colledges, Free-Chappels, or other the premiſſes given, limited or appointed to the King by this Act, or out of any manors, lands, tenements, or other poſſeſſions of them, or any of them, ſhall have and enjoy the ſame in like manner and form as they ſhould or ought to have done, if the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, Free-Chappels, and other the premiſſes given, limited or appointed to the King by this Act, had ſtill remained and continued in eſſe and full being; Any thing in this Act mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

XXVII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch Governour, Ruler, Warden, Maſter, Incumbent, Miniſter, or other, having any of the ſaid Spiritual Promotions, or Incumbents, have or ſhall compound for the Firſt-fruits of any ſuch Spiritual Promotions, according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and the days of payment of any part thereof, not expired before the firſt day of this Parliament, that all ſums of money ſo to be due and payable ſithence the ſaid firſt day of this Parliament, ſhall ceaſe and be not paid, asked or demanded; any Bond, Recogniſance, Surety or other thing had or made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

If a Governour have compounded for his firſt-fruits, the payment thereof ſhall ceaſe.

XXVIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch rents, ſervices, iſſues, profits, and other ſums of money payable out of, or for any of the premiſſes, or any of them, in the Kings Court of his Exchequer, ſhall continue, and be continually and yearly levied, charged, or payed in the ſame Court, in ſuch manner and form as heretofore hath been uſed; any law, cuſtom, unity or poſſeſſion in the Kings Highneſs, or other thing to the contrary notwithſtanding, and as though the ſaid promotions, manors, lands, tenements, and other the premiſſes had not come to the kings hands or poſſeſſion.

Money payable out of the premiſſes yearly into the Exchequer.

XXIX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Letters Patents made by the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, or by the Kings Majeſty that now is, or hereafter to be made by his Highneſs to any perſon or perſons, or to any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, of any the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, Free-Chappels, or other the premiſſes, or any part or parcel of them, or of any lands, tenements or hereditaments belonging or appertaining, or that did belong or appertain to them, or to any of them, and all fines, gifts, grants, feoffments, recoveries, and all other aſſurances and conveyances thereof had or made by the aſſent, conſent, or licence under the great Seal of England, of the ſaid late King Henry the eighth, or of the Kings Majeſty that now is, to any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, by any Chantry Prieſt, Maſter, Warden, Miniſter, Ruler, Governour, or other having any of the ſaid Promotions of any the ſaid Colledges, Chantries, Free-Chappels, or other the premiſſes, or any of them, or of any part, parcel or member of the ſame, ſhall ſtand and be in their forces and effects, and ſhall be good and effectual in the Law, for ſuch eſtates and intereſts given, granted, limited or appointed in any of the gifts, grants, aſſurances or conveyances thereof had or made according to their purport, form and manner, and according to the true intent and meaning of the ſame aſſurances, (2) and ſhall be by authority of this Act good, perfect and available, as well againſt the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, as againſt the ſaid Chantry Prieſts, Wardens, Maſters, Rulers, Governours, and other having any of the ſaid promotions, and their ſucceſſors, and the ſucceſſors of every of them; as alſo againſt the Founders, Donors, and Patrons of the ſame, and the Ordinary of them, and every of them, and the heirs and ſucceſſors, of every of them; any Law, Statute, Ordinance or other thing to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

XLII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Grants, Licences, Confirmations and Letters Patents, which our late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, or our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, have made under the Great Seal of England, to any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, of any Colledge, Chappel or Chantry now being in eſſe or ſtanding, or now not being in eſſe or not ſtanding, or of any lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments annexed, united, belonging or appertaining to any Colledge, Chappel or Chantry, now being in eſſe or ſtanding, or now not being in eſſe or not ſtanding, or of any other thing or things mentioned or expreſſed in this Act, and all and every matter and thing mentioned, expreſſed or contained in any ſuch Grant, Licence, Confirmation, or Letters Patents, ſhall from henceforth be deemed, taken, expounded and judged good and effectual in the Law, according to the words, ſentences, meanings, intents, form and effects of the ſame Grants, Licences, Confirmations and Letters Patents, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this Act, and the ſaid Act made in the ſaid ſeven and thirtieth year of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, had never been had or made: (2) And that this Act, or the ſaid Act made in the ſaid ſeven and thirtieth year of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, or any Clauſe, Article, Sentence, or other thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any Colledges, Chappels, Chantries, or other thing or things mentioned in this Act now being in eſſe or ſtanding, or now not being in eſſe or not ſtanding, or to any manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, revenues, or hereditaments annexed, united, belonging or appertaining to any Colledge, Chappel, Chantry, or other thing mentioned in this Act now being in eſſe or ſtanding, or now not being in eſſe or not ſtanding, or to any other thing or things mentioned or expreſſed in this Act, which any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate have had or obtained by the Aſſent, Licence, Confirmation, Grant or Letters Patents of the ſaid late King, or the Kings Majeſty that now is; nor ſhall extend to any manors, lands, tenements, revenues, poſſeſſions, hereditaments, or other thing or things mentioned, expreſſed or contained in any ſuch Licence, Confirmation, Grant, or Letters Patents; (3) but that every ſuch perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns, and the heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns of every of them, ſhall have, hold and enjoy, all and every the ſame Colledges, Chappels, Chantries, manors, lands, tenements, revenues, poſſeſſions and hereditaments, and all and every other thing and things whatſoever, ſo by them had or obtained, by the Aſſent, Licence, Confirmation, Grant, or Letters Patents of the ſaid late King, or of the Kings Majeſty that now is, according to the words, ſentences, form, effect, meaning and intent of the ſame Licences, Confirmations, Grants, and Letters Patents; this Act, or the ſaid Act made in the ſaid ſeven and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, or any Clauſe, Article, Sentence, matter or thing mentioned, expreſſed or contained in any of the ſame Acts to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XV.

The Kings general and free Pardon confirmed by Parliament, except, &c.

Anno ſecundo & tertio EDWARDI ſexti.

Pardon, Raſt. 45.

ACTS made in the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, holden upon Prorogation at Weſtminſter the fourth day of November, in the ſecond year of our moſt dread Sovereign Lord, Edward the Sixth, by the Grace of God, King of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and of the Church of England, and alſo of Ireland, in Earth the Supream Head, and there continued and kept to the fourteenth day of March, in the third year of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act for Uniformity of Service, and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments throughout the Realm.

Service, Raſt. 1. The penalty for not uſing uniformity of Service, and adminiſtration of Sacraments, &c.

Where of long time there hath been had in this Realm of England, and in Wales, divers forms of common Prayer, commonly called the Service of the Church; That is to ſay, the uſe of Sarum, of York, of Bangor, and of Lincoln; and beſides the ſame now of late, much more divers and ſundry forms and faſhions have been uſed in the Cathedral and Pariſh Churches of England and Wales, as well concerning the Mattens, or Morning Prayer, and the Evenſong, as alſo concerning the holy Communion, commonly called the Maſs, with divers and ſundry Rites and Ceremonies concerning the ſame, and the Adminiſtration of other Sacraments of the Church: (2) And as the doers and executors of the ſaid Rites and Ceremonies, in other form then of late years they have been uſed, were pleaſed therewith: So other not uſing the ſame Rites and Ceremonies, were thereby greatly offended: (3) And albeit the Kings Majeſty, with the advice of his moſt entirely beloved Uncle, the Lord Protector, and other of his Highneſs Council, hath heretofore divers times aſſayed to ſtay Innovations, or new Rites concerning the premiſſes; yet the ſame hath not had ſuch good ſucceſs as his Highneſs required in that behalf, whereupon his Highneſs by the moſt prudent advice aforeſaid, being pleaſed to bear with the frailty and weakneſs of his Subjects in that behalf, of his great clemency hath not been only content to abſtain from puniſhment of thoſe that have offended in that behalf, for that his highneſs taketh that they did it of a good zeal; but alſo to the intent a uniform, quiet, and godly Order ſhould be had concerning the premiſſes, hath appointed the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and certain of the moſt learned and diſcreet Biſhops, and other learned men of this Realm, to conſider and ponder the premiſſes, (4) and thereupon having as well eye and reſpect to the moſt ſincere and pure Chriſtian Religion taught by the Scripture, as to the uſages in the Primitive Church, ſhould draw and make one convenient and meet order, rite and faſhion of common and open Innovators not puniſhed, for that they did it upon good zeal.

Prayer,

The Book of Common Prayer, by the aid of the holy Ghoſt, is ſet forth by the Biſhops, and learned men of the Realm.

The penalty for not uſing the Book of Common Prayer, and other Rites and Ceremonies, according to the Uſe of the Church of England.

Uſing any other manner of Prayer.

The penalty for depraving the Book or any thing contained therein.

The penalty for the firſt offence.

The penalty for the ſecond offence.

The penalty for the third offence.

Prayer, and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, to be had and uſed in his Majeſties Realm of England, and in Wales; the which at this time, by the aid of the holy Ghoſt, with one uniform agreement, is of them concluded, ſet forth and delivered to his Highneſs, to his great comfort and quietneſs of mind, in a Book intituled, The Book of Common Prayer, and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies of the Church, after the Uſe of the Church of England. (5) Wherefore the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, conſidering as well the moſt godly travel of the Kings Highneſs, of the Lord Protector, and of other his Highneſs Council, in gathering and collecting the ſaid Archbiſhop, Biſhops, and learned men together, as the godly Prayers, Orders, Rites and Ceremonies in the ſaid Book mentioned, and the conſiderations of altering thoſe things which be altered, and retaining thoſe things which be retained in the ſaid Book, and alſo the honour of God, and great quietneſs, which by the grace of God ſhall enſue upon the one and uniform rite and order, in ſuch common Prayer and Rites, and extreme Ceremonies to be uſed throughout England, and in Wales, at Calice, and the Marches of the ſame, do give to his Highneſs moſt hearty and lowly thanks for the ſame, (6) and humbly prayen, That it may be ordained and enacted by his Majeſty with the aſſent of the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular perſon and perſons that have offended concerning the premiſſes, other then ſuch perſon and perſons as now be and remain in Ward in the Tower of London, or in the Fleet, may be pardoned thereof; (7) and that all and ſingular Miniſters in any Cathedral or Pariſh Church, or other place within this Realm of England, Wales, Calice, and the Marches of the ſame, or other the Kings Dominions, ſhall from and after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, be bounden to ſay and uſe the Mattens, Evenſong, celebration of the Lords Supper, commonly called the Maſs, and adminiſtration of each the Sacraments, and all their common and open Prayer, in ſuch order and form as is mentioned in the ſame Book, and none other, or otherwiſe. (8) And albeit that the ſame be ſo godly and good, that they give occaſion to every honeſt and conformable man moſt willingly to embrace them, yet leſt any obſtinate perſon who willingly would diſturb ſo godly order and quiet in this Realm, ſhould not go unpuniſhed, That it may alſo be ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any manner of Parſon, Vicar, or other whatſoever Miniſter that ought or ſhould ſing or ſay Common Prayer mentioned in the ſaid Book, or miniſter the Sacraments, ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, refuſe to uſe the ſaid Common Prayers, or to miniſter the Sacraments in ſuch Cathedral or Pariſh Church, or other place as he ſhould uſe or miniſter the ſame, in ſuch order and form as they be mentioned and ſet forth in the ſaid Book, (9) or ſhall uſe, wilfully and obſtinately ſtanding in the ſame, any other rite, ceremony, order, form or manner of Maſs openly or privily, or Mattens, Evenſong, adminiſtration of the Sacraments, or other open Prayer then is mentioned and ſet forth in the ſaid Book: (open Prayer in and throughout this Act, is meant that Prayer which is for other to come unto or hear, either in common Churches, or private Chappels or Oratories, commonly called the Service of the Church) (10) or ſhall preach, declare or ſpeak any thing in the derogation or depraving of the ſaid Book, or any thing therein contained, or of any part thereof, (11) and ſhall be thereof lawfully convicted, according to the Laws of this Realm, by verdict of twelve men, or by his own confeſſion, or by the notorious evidence of the fact, (12) ſhall loſe and forfeit to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, for his firſt offence, the profit of ſuch one of his Spiritual Benefices or Promotions as it ſhall pleaſe the Kings Highneſs to aſſign or appoint, coming and ariſing in one whole year next after his conviction: (13) And alſo that the ſame perſon ſo convicted, ſhall for the ſame offence ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of ſix months, without bail or mainpriſe: (14) And if any ſuch perſon once convict of any ſuch offence concerning the premiſſes, ſhall after his firſt conviction eftſoons offend, and be thereof in form aforeſaid lawfully convict, that then the ſame perſon ſhall for his ſecond offence ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one whole year, (15) and alſo ſhall therefore be depriſed ipſo facto of all his Spiritual Promotions; (16) and that it ſhall be lawful to all Patrons, Donors, Grantees of all and ſingular the ſame Spiritual Promotions, to preſent to the ſame any other able Clerk, in like manner and form, as though the party ſo offending were dead: (17) And that if any ſuch perſon or perſons, after he ſhall be twice convicted in form aforeſaid, ſhall offend againſt any of the premiſſes the third time, and ſhall be thereof in form aforeſaid lawfully convict, that then the perſon ſo offending, and convicted the third time, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment during his life. (18) And if the perſon that ſhall offend, and be convict in form aforeſaid, concerning any of the premiſſes, ſhall not be Beneficed, nor have any Spiritual Promotion, that then the ſame perſon ſo offending and convict, ſhall for the firſt offence ſuffer impriſonment during ſix months, without bail or mainpriſe: (19) And if any ſuch perſon not having any Spiritual Promotion, after his firſt conviction ſhall eftſoons offend in any thing concerning the premiſſes, and ſhall in form aforeſaid be thereof lawfully convicted, that then the ſame perſon ſhall for his ſecond offence ſuffer impriſonment during his life.

The penalty by Plays, Songs, or Tunes, to deprave the Book of Common Prayer, or to compel any to uſe other prayer.

II. And it is ordained and enacted by the authority abovesaid, That if any perſon or perſons whatſoever, after the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, ſhall in any Enterludes, Plays, Songs, Rhimes, or by other open words declare or ſpeak any thing in the derogation, depraving or deſpiſing of the ſame Book; or any thing therein contained, or any part thereof; (2) or ſhall by open fact, deed, or by open threatnings compel, or cauſe, or otherwiſe procure or maintain any Parſon, Vicar, or other Miniſter, in any Cathedral or Pariſh Church, or Chappel, or in any other place, to ſing or ſay any common and open Prayer, or to miniſter any Sacrament otherwiſe, or in any other manner or form then is mentioned in the ſaid Book; (3) or that by any of the ſaid means ſhall unlawfully interrupt or let any Parſon, Vicar, or other Miniſters in any Cathedral or Pariſh Church, Chappel or any other place, to ſing or ſay common and open Prayer, or to miniſter the Sacraments, or any of them, in ſuch manner and form as is mentioned in the ſaid Book, (4) That then every perſon being thereof lawfully convicted in form aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit to the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, for the firſt offence, ten pounds. (5) And if any perſon or perſons, being one convicted of any ſuch offence, eftſoons offend againſt any of the premiſſes, and ſhall in form aforeſaid be thereof lawfully convict, that then the ſame perſon ſo offending and convict ſhall for the ſecond offence forfeit to the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, twenty pound: (6) And if any perſon after he in form aforeſaid, ſhall have been twice convict of any offence concerning any of the premiſſes, ſhall offend the third time, and be thereof in form aboveſaid lawfully convict, that then every perſon ſo offending and convict, ſhall for his third offence forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King, all his goods and chattels, and ſhall ſuffer impriſonment during his life: (7) And if any perſon or perſons, that for his firſt offence concerning the premiſſes, ſhall be convict in form aforeſaid, do not pay the ſum to be paid by virtue of his conviction, in ſuch manner and form as the ſame ought to be paid, within ſix weeks next after his conviction, that then every perſon ſo convict, and ſo not paying the ſame, ſhall for the ſame offence, inſtead of the ſaid ten pound, ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of three months without Bail or mainpriſe. (8) And if any perſon or perſons, that for his ſecond offence concerning the premiſſes, ſhall be convict in form aforeſaid, do not pay the ſum to be paid by virtue of his conviction, in ſuch manner and form as the ſame ought to be paid, within ſix weeks next after his ſaid conviction, that then every perſon ſo convicted and not ſo paying the ſame, ſhall for the ſame ſecond offence, in the ſtead of the ſaid twenty pound, ſuffer impriſonment during ſix months, without Bail or Mainpriſe.

The penalty for the firſt offence.

The penalty for the ſecond offence.

The penalty for the third offence.

III. And it is ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, or Juſtices of Aſſiſe, ſhall have full power and authority in every of their open and general Seſſions, to enquire, hear and determine all and all manner of offences that ſhall be committed or done contrary to any Article contained in this preſent Act, within the limits of the Commiſſion to them directed, and to make proceſs for the execution of the ſame, as they may do againſt any perſon being indicted before them of treſpaſs, or lawfully convicted thereof.

Juſtices of Oyer Determiner and Aſſiſe, ſhall have power to hear and determine thoſe offences.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Archbiſhop and Biſhop ſhall or may at all time and times at his liberty and pleaſure, joyn and aſſociate himſelf by virtue of this Act, to the ſaid Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, or to the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſiſe, at every of the ſaid open and general Seſſions to be holden in any place within his Dioceſs, for, and to the enquiry, hearing and determining of the offences aforeſaid.

A Biſhop may joyn with the Juſtices.

V. Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful to any man that underſtandeth the Greek, Latine and Hebrew tongue, or other ſtrange tongue, to ſay and have the ſaid prayers heretofore ſpecified of Mattens and Evenſong, in Latine or any ſuch other tongue, ſaying the ſame privately as they do underſtand.

Who may uſe Prayers in another language.

VI. And for the further encouraging of learning in the tongues, in the Univerſities of Cambridge and Oxford, to uſe and exerciſe in their common and open Prayer in their Chappels (being no Pariſh Churches) or other places of Prayer, the Mattens, Evenſong, Litany, and all other Prayers (The holy Communion, commonly called the Maſs, excepted) preſcribed in the ſaid Book, in Greek, Latine or Hebrew; Any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

When the Service-Books ſhall be gotten.

VII. Provided alſo, that it ſhall be lawful for all men, as well in Churches, Chappels, Oratories, or other places, to uſe openly any Pſalms or Prayer taken out of the Bible, at any due time, not letting or omitting thereby the ſervice, or any part thereof mentioned in the ſaid Book.

VIII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Books concerning the ſaid Services, ſhall at the coſt and charges of the Pariſhioners of every Pariſh and Cathedral Church, be attained and gotten before the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next following, (2) and that all ſuch Pariſhes and Cathedral Churches, or other places where the ſaid Books ſhall be attained and gotten before the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt, ſhall within three weeks next after the ſaid Books ſo attained and gotten, uſe the ſaid Service, and put the ſame in ure according to this Act.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be at any time hereafter impeached, or otherwiſe moleſted, of or for any of the offences above mentioned, hereafter to be committed or done contrary to this Act, unleſs he or they ſo offending be thereof indicted at the great general Seſſions to be holden before any of the Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, or Juſtice of Aſſiſe next after any offence committed or done contrary to the tenour of this Act.

X. Provided always, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Lords of the Parliament, for the ſaid offences above mentioned, ſhall be tried by their Peers.

XI. Provided alſo, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Mayor of London, and all the Mayors, Bailiffs, and other head Officers of all and ſingular Cities, Boroughs, and Towns corporate within this Realm, Wales, Calice, and the Marches of the ſame, to the which Juſtices of Aſſiſe do not commonly repair, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to enquire, hear and determine the offences aboveſaid, and every of them yearly, within fifteen days after the Feaſt of Eaſter, and Saint Michael the Archangel, in like manner and form as Juſtices of Aſſiſe, and Oyer and Determiner may do.

Chief Officers of Cities and Corporate-Towns may hear and determine theſe offences.

XII. Provided always, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and every of their Chancellors, Commiſſaries, Archdeacons, and other Ordinaries, having any peculiar Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, as well to inquire in their Viſitations, Synods, and elſewhere within their Juriſdiction, at any other time and place, to take occaſions and informations of all and every the things above mentioned, done, committed or perpetrate within the limits of their Juriſdiction and authority, and to puniſh the ſame by Admonition, Excommunication, Sequeſtration, or Deprivation, and other Cenſures and Proceſs, in like form as heretofore hath been uſed in like caſes, by the Kings Eccleſiaſtical Laws.

These offences enquirable and puniſhable by the eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction.

But once puniſhed for one offence.

XIII. Provided always, and be it enacted, That whatſoever perſon offending in the premiſſes, ſhall for the firſt offence receive puniſhment of the Ordinary, having a teſtimonial thereof under the ſaid Ordinaries Seal, ſhall not for the ſame offence eftſoons be convicted before the Juſtices; and likewiſe receiving for the ſaid firſt offence, puniſhment by the Juſtices, he ſhall not for the ſame offence eftſoons receceive puniſhment of the Ordinary; any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

This Statute was repealed by 1 M. 2. ſeſſ. 2. But the ſame 1 M. being repealed by 1 Jac. 25. this preſent Statute ſtands now in force, ſave that it is in part altered by 5 Ed. 6. 1. and by 1 El. 2.

CAP. II.

An Act for the Reformation of Captains and Soldiers ſerving in the Wars.

Captains 1. Captains and Soldiers not doing their true ſervice, and neglecting their Offices ſhall be puniſhed.

Where before this time divers of the Kings Majeſties loving and obedient Subjects according to their bounden duties, have aſſigned, appointed and ſet forth, as well in the parts beyond the ſeas, and to the ſeas, as alſo into Scotland, and other places, divers times both within this Realm, and without this Realm, many able Perſons or Soldiers well furniſhed with good Horſes and harneſſes meet to ſerve the King in Wars, to their great charges and coſts; yet ſome of the ſaid Soldiers ſo ſent to ſerve, contrary to their Maſters, expectation, and contrary to their bounden duties to the Kings Highneſs, have ſold, loſt, exchanged or altered their Maſters Horſe and Harneſs, or otherwiſe by deceit or covin, converted the ſame; by mean whereof the Kings Highneſs hath not only been deſtitute of the ſame Soldiers in time of need, but alſo the owners of the ſaid Horſes and Harneſs, who ſent them thither, have been untruly deceived of their Horſes and Harneſs, being thereby leſs able to re-furniſh other the like Soldiers with Horſe and Harneſſes, at ſuch time as they ſhall be thereunto commanded by the Kings Highneſs:

II. And ſometime the Captains of ſuch Soldiers departed, have demanded, had and taken of the Kings Highneſs, wages for the ſame Soldiers ſo departed, by mean whereof the Kings Majeſty hath ſuſtained and born great payments, and yet his Majeſty hath not been truly ſerved for the ſame, not a little to the diſpleaſure of the King, and to the great charge of the poor Subjects being commanded to ſet forth ſuch Soldiers:

The penalty of a ſoldier that maketh away his horſe or harneſſes. Stat. 4 & 5 P. & M. 2.

III. For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any Soldier hereafter ſerving the King in his Wars in any his Dominions, or on the Seas, or beyond the Seas, or in Scotland, after the firſt day of April next coming, do ſell, give away, or willfully purloyn, or otherwiſe exchange, alter or put away any horſe, gelding or mare, or any harneſs wherewith he ſhall be ſet forth; that then every ſuch Soldier ſo offending, upon due proof or teſtimony to be taken before the Lieutenant, high Admiral, the Kings Deputy, Vice-admiral, Warden or Captain, and in their abſence, before any of their Deputies, ſhall be impriſoned by the ſame Lieutenant, or any other before named, there to remain without Bail or Mainprize, until he have ſatisfied to the party owner of the horſe, gelding, mare, or harneſs ſo by him ſold, purloyned, exchanged, wilfully loſt, altered, or otherwiſe made away.

IV. And if ſuch Soldiers ſo offending, fortune to eſcape from the Lieutenant, and other the foreſaid perſons, without the puniſhment and reſtitution aforeſaid, That then the ſame Soldier upon complaint made by the party grieved, or his executors or adminiſtrators, upon due proof thereof to be made to any Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace, in the parts where ſuch Soldiers ſo offending ſhall be found, ſhall be by ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices committed to ward, there to remain without Bail or Mainpriſe, until he have ſatisfied the party grieved, his executors or adminiſtrators, of and for ſuch horſes, geldings or mares, and harneſs ſo by any ſuch Soldier wilfully loſt, exchanged, altered, or otherwiſe purloyned.

A remedy if the horſe or harneſs be loſt, or appointed to another.

V. Provided alway, That if the ſaid Soldier bring any ſufficient warrant or teſtimony before the ſaid Juſtice, from the ſaid Lieutenant, or any of the perſons above named, in writing under the ſeal of any of them, teſtifying that the ſame horſe or harneſs were loſt in the Kings Service, againſt the will of the ſaid Soldier, or that the ſame horſe or harneſs was taken by the ſame Lieutenant, or any of the others before named, from the ſaid Soldier, for any reaſonable reſpect, and appointed to ſome other, to ſerve in the place and ſtead of the ſaid Soldier; that then every ſuch Soldier not bringing to the owner the ſaid horſe and harneſs, ſhall be diſcharged thereof againſt the owner thereof: And that then every ſuch Soldier to whom the ſaid horſe or harneſs ſhall be appointed, as is aforeſaid, not bringing home to the owner the ſaid horſe and harneſs, after he ſhall be diſcharged, to ſuffer like pain as is aforeſaid.

It ſhall be felony for a ſoldier to depart from his captain without licence. Stat. 18 H. 6. 19. 5 El. 5. 1 Jac. 25. 4 & 5 P. & M. 3.

VI. And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Soldier ſerving as is aforeſaid, depart without licence of his Lieutenant, or any of the other abovenamed, with booty or otherwiſe, being in the enemies Countrey, or elſewhere in the Kings ſervice, or out of any Gariſon where he or they ſhall be appointed to ſerve, that then every ſuch Soldier ſo departing without licence, to be taken and judged as a felon, and to be executed as in caſe of felony, without having any advantage of his Clergy or Sanctuary, (2) and that the Juſtices of every Shire where any ſuch Soldier ſhall be taken, ſhall have full power to enquire, hear and determine all and every the ſaid offences concerning every ſuch departure, as they do and may in other caſes of felony committed in the Shire where ſuch Soldiers ſhall be taken.

VII. And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Commiſſioner or Captain, to whom the King ſhall direct his Commandment by Commiſſion or Letters, for the levying or ſetting forth of any man to ſerve the King in his wars, ſhall at any time after

The penalty of a Commiſſioner licenſing a ſouldier to depart, and aſſigning another for gain.

after the ſaid firſt day of April, for any gain, reward or other lucre, diſcharge any perſon or perſons by him appointed to ſerve the King as a Captain, Souldier, or Pioneer, of his ſervice ſo appointed, and do aſſign any other perſon or perſons in his or their ſtead, for any lucre or gain as is aforeſaid, That then every Commiſſioner or other perſon ſo offending, ſhall forfeit to the King for every ſuch default of every man ſo diſcharged, twenty pound, to be levied of his goods and chattels.

A Captain licenſing one in his retinue to depart.

VIII. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Captain being appointed to have the order of any number of Souldiers under any other higher Officer, do for any cauſe licence any Souldier in his Retinue to depart from the Field or Fortreſs where they ſhall be appointed to ſerve, without the ſpecial aſſent and licence in writing of the Lieutenant, or the others before named, he ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch Souldier ſo by him licenced to depart, twenty pound, to be levied as is aforeſaid, to the uſe of the King.

A Captain demanding more wages for his ſouldiers, then there is cauſe.

IX. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Lieutenant, or any other before named, having the order of any number of Souldiers ſerving as is aforeſaid, upon the Sea or Land, do at any time after the firſt day of April, demand, receive, or take of the Kings Highneſs, or any of his Treaſurers, any wages for any more Souldiers then ſerved in ſuch manner and form as the wages was paid for, or for any more days then ſuch Souldiers ſerved, and do not note the day of every Souldiers entry into wages, and day of his death and departure, and deliver the ſame to ſuch Treaſurers as ſhall pay the ſaid wages every month, in writing, ſo as the truth of the number of the Souldiers may appear to the Kings Treaſurer, and Maſter of the Kings Muſters for the time being, in that behalf, that then every ſuch Lieutenant, and other before named, ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe to the King for every ſuch default, five pound, to be levied as is aforeſaid, to the uſe of the King, and to be impriſoned by the ſpace of one month, and to loſe his Room and Office.

None but the Lieutenant ſhall give a ſouldier licence to depart.

X. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that no Captain after the ſaid firſt day of April, ſhall give to any of his ſouldiers, appointed to ſerve under him in any Town or Fortreſs, kept with gariſons of Souldiers, any licence or paſports to depart from his ſervice, but only the Lieutenant, or any others, as is aforeſaid, upon pain of impriſonment, as well of the Captain as Souldier ſo offending, at the diſcretion of the ſaid Lieutenant, or the others before named.

Proclamation of this Act.

XI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Lieutenant, and other before named, upon the pain of ten pound, ſhall cauſe to be proclaimed the whole effect and contents of this Act, that is to ſay, every Lieutenant of an army, in every field under his charge, to proclaim this Act every month, and that every of the Kings Deputies of every Fortreſs, and Captain of any other Fortreſs, to proclaim this Act within his charge once every quarter of a year.

Reward for informing of offences.

XII. And alſo be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, for the better execution of the premiſſes, that every perſon or perſons, giving to the Lieutenant, or the others above named, true information of any of the offences above remembred, ſhall have for his labour one months wages of him that ſhall be found faulty, to be paid by the hand of the Treaſurer, upon warrant of the ſaid Lieutenant, or any of the others aforeſaid.

XIII. Provided always, that nothing herein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to touch or infringe any Orders eſtabliſhed for the government of Calice, and the Marches of the ſame, or any other place of the Kings, now governed, or hereafter to be governed by the ſame Orders, or by ſuch Orders as may pleaſe his Grace hereafter to ſet forth for the ſame.

Retaining of wages.

XIV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for all and every of the ſaid Lieutenants, and other the ſaid perſons, to retain in his or their own hands, to their own uſe, of the wages of his or their Souldiers, the ſums following, that is to ſay, ſix ſhillings eight pence for the Livery or Coat of every yeoman Souldier, and thirteen ſhillings four pence for the Livery or Coat of every Gentleman Souldier for one whole year.

In what caſes a Lieutenant ſhall not be prejudiced for lack of his number.

XV. Provided always and be it further ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of Lieutenant, or any other the ſaid perſons, ſhall hereafter be charged or prejudiced by virtue of this Act, or any thing therein contained, for lack of his or their number retained, as is aforeſaid, for or concerning any Souldier or Souldiers, as ſhall happen to die during his ſervice, or to be ſick by the viſitation of God, or that ſhall depart againſt the will of his Lieutenant, or other before named, unleſs it ſhall be in the default of any of them.

Houſhold-ſervants ſhall not be compriſed in this Act.

XVI. Provided always, that this Act be not prejudicial or hurtful to the ſaid Lieutenant, or any other the ſaid perſons, or any other having under them retinue of Souldiers, nor any of them, for non-payment of the Kings wages, to their houſhold-ſervants and other, to whom they ſhall daily find and give meat and drink, during the ſaid ſervice of war.

Relief of tenants or friends.

Stat. 4 & 5. P. & M. 3.

XVII. Provided alway, That this Act, nor nothing therein contained, ſhall extend to charge any perſon or perſons for the taking or receiving of any gift or reward, of any of his or their tenants or friends, towards the relief, aid, or help of the ſame perſons, being commanded by the Kings Majeſty to ſerve in wars, or otherwiſe to find men on horſeback or on foot, as well within this Realm as without: (2) Nor for the gift, reward, aid, or help, reſerved or covenanted to be paid or given to any perſon appointed to ſerve in wars, or to find horſe or men to ſerve by reaſon of any grant, covenant, reſervation, cuſtom or tenure.

Lawful cauſes of detaining wages from ſouldiers.

XVIII. Provided, that this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to charge any Lieutenant or others above named, for detaining or retaining any part of any the ſaid Souldiers wages, toward, or for the payment of victuals, harneſs, weapons, or for any preſt money provided and delivered to any ſuch Souldier.

CAP. III.

No Purveyor, or other perſon, by authority of any Commiſſion or other Warrant, ſhall, during three years next; purvey, or take for the proviſion of the Kings houſhold, his ſiſters, or any other perſons, any Corn, Beeves, Muttons, &c. Wood, Coal, Straw, Hay, or any kind of victuals, without the full conſent of the owner, and at ſuch price for ready money, as the Owner and Purveyor can agree: or ſhall take for any of the Kings affairs, or the Wars, or otherwiſe, any goods, Chattels, or other things whatſoever (ſaving Barges, Ships, Carts, and things neceſſary for Carriages) without the conſent of the Owner, and at ſuch prices for ready money, as the Owner and Purveyor can agree, except Poſt-horſes, for which ſhall be paid a Peny a mile.) And if any Taker, or other perſon ſhall offend in any point contrary to the Ordinance aforeſaid, he ſhall forfeit to the party grieved treble the value of the thing taken, ſuffer impriſonment a quarter of a year, and make fine at the Kings pleaſure. The King will allow to the owner of every Cart taken for his Houſhold, four pence a mile, and for the wars, and other carriages, three pence a mile. EXP.

CAP. IV.

An Act for the Sheriffs of England to have certain allowances upon their Accompts.

Sheriffs 38. Sheriffs upon their accounts in the Exchequer, upon their Oath taken, ſhall be diſcharged of all ſuch moneys as they cannot levy, and ſhall have their due allowances.

MOſt humbly beſeechen the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, his true and faithful Subjects, the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, that where in the Parliament begun at Weſtminſter the ſixteenth day of January, in the Three and thirtieth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, and by Prorogation holden at Weſtminſter the two and twentieth day of January, in the Four and thirtieth year of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord, and there continued until the twelfth day of May, in the Five and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, upon divers and ſundry conſiderations, there was enacted and made an Act by the authority of the ſame Parliament, concerning the Account or Accounts of Sheriffs, to be made in the Exchequer, as in the ſame Act more plainly at large it is contained:

II. And albeit it was meant, at the time of the making the ſaid Act, as it may appear by the words of the ſaid Act, that Sheriffs ſhould not be charged upon their Accounts, but only with ſuch ſums of Money as they might lawfully levy; (2) And alſo that the ſaid Sheriffs ſhould have allowance, not only for all ſuch charges and expences as they ſhall ſuſtain and bear for the diets and charges of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, but alſo for other neceſſary charges and expences by them ſuſtained in and about the exerciſing of their ſaid Office: (3) Yet nevertheleſs, the ſaid Sheriffs are and have been ſithen the making of the ſaid Act, more and ſorer charged, vexed and troubled then they were before, to the great impoveriſhment of men of worſhip, and Gentlemen within this Realm, that have been Sheriffs, and ſo is very like to be to all ſuch as hereafter ſhall be Sheriffs, if remedy be not provided in this behalf:

The Statute of 33 H 8. 16. touching Sheriffs, rehearſed and repealed.

(4) It may therefore pleaſe the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, that it may be enacted and eſtabliſhed, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this Preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid former Act, and all Clauſes and Sentences in the ſame contained, ſhall be from henceforth clearly fruſtrate and void, to all intents and purpoſes, other then hereafter in this Act ſhall be ſpecified.

Every Sheriff ſhall have tailes of reward.

III. And that it may be enacted by this preſent Parliament, That the Sheriffs which ſhall be made from henceforth within all the Shires of England, and alſo ſuch as have not made or finiſhed their Account or Accounts, ſhall have ſuch and like tailes of reward, and all ſuch other allowances as they had before the making of the ſaid former Act, (2) or elſe the ſame Sheriffs which ſhall be, or heretofore have been, to be at their election and choice to account, and all other things to do, according to the aforeſaid former Act: (3) And that they, and every of them that ſo ſhall account, and take no taile of reward, ſhall be in, and by all things intreated in the Kings Exchequer, as though the ſaid former Act were and ſhould continue in his full ſtrength and effect, any thing before ſpecified notwithſtanding.

IV. And that the ſame tailes of reward, and every of them by force of this preſent Act, without any further Warrant or Warrants to be obtained for the ſame, ſhall be levied or ſtricken at the Receipt of the Kings Majeſties Exchequer, in due manner and form, with ſuch like Letters or Writings upon the ſame tailes, and every of them, as before the making of the ſaid former Act were and have been accuſtomed to be levied and ſtricken.

V. And that the ſame tailes ſo hereafter there to be levied and ſtricken, ſhall be delivered unto every of the ſame Sheriffs, or their ſufficient Attorney, for them, without preſt, or other charge to be ſet upon them for the ſame.

VI. And that this Act ſhall be a ſufficient warrant and diſcharge unto the Treaſurer of England, and all other Officers within the ſaid Receipt, for ſtriking, levying and delivery of the ſaid tailes and every of them.

Sheriffs allowances that have no tailes or reward.

VII. And further, That all thoſe Sheriffs that hereafter ſhall be made within thoſe Shires of England, whereas no tailes of reward have heretofore been by the Kings Majeſties moſt noble Progenitors given and granted, and ſuch Sheriffs as ſhall hereafter take no taile of reward, ſhall in conſideration of their great coſts, charges and expences which they ſhall bear and ſuſtain, as well by the Diets of the Juſtices of Aſſiſes, as by any other means, have upon the end of their Accounts, and of every of them, ſuch allowances upon a Petition to be made by the ſame Sheriffs and every of them, in a Bill to be brought in by the ſame Sheriffs and every of them, of their ſaid coſts and charges, upon which Bills the ſame Sheriffs to be ſworn in their own proper perſons, or by their under-Sheriffs, or lawful Attorney, thereunto admitted to be true, without warrant or taile ſuing for the ſame.

VIII. And alſo that all Sheriffs which herafter ſhall take no taile of reward, and every of them, ſhall be diſcharged upon their accounts of all ſuch ferms, goods, chattels, profits, caſualties, and ſums of money, which they might or ſhould be charged with upon their accounts in the ſaid Exchequer, by what Title or Name ſoever they be named, or upon whatſoever perſon or perſons they ſhall be ſtreated, or out of whatſoever lands and tenements they ſhall be going forth, as they cannot levy or come by.

Sheriffs allowances for ſuch Vicountels concerning poſſeſſions as be come to the Kings hands by unity of poſſeſſion.

IX. And that all other Sheriffs which hereafter ſhall take any taile of reward, ſhall in like manner be diſcharged of all ferms and ſums of money aforeſaid (except only of the Vicountels of their Shires wherewith they ſhall be charged, and anſwerable as they were before the making of the foreſaid former Act.) (2) And alſo the ſame Sheriffs of every Shire of England that now be, or heretofore have been, or that hereafter ſhall be, and every of them, ſhall have plain deduction and allowance in their ſaid Accounts of all ſuch ſum and ſums of money as they or any of them ſhall make, or have made true Petition of, for, or concerning ſuch Poſſeſſions and hereditaments as become unto, or were in the Kings Majeſties hands, or any his Progenitors, by unity of poſſeſſion, or by any mean, out of the which any part or parcel of the foreſaid Vicountels, were at any time heretofore leviable or levied. (3) And that the Lord Treaſurer, Chamberlain, Chancellor and Barons of the ſaid Exchequer, or in the abſence of the ſaid Lord Treaſurer, Chamberlain, and Chancellor, the ſaid Barons ſhall by authority of this Act, give and make allowance, deduction and exoneration to every of the ſaid Sheriffs, of the ſaid ferms, and of all other things, without any other warrant.

The Sheriff ſhall be ſworn to bring into the Exchequer Rolls of parchment of money which he hath or might have levied.

X. Provided alway, That every of the ſaid Sheriffs at his day of prefixion, immediately after that he or his Deputy or Attorney is ſworn to account for the iſſues and profits of his Office of Sheriffwick, ſhall by himſelf or by his Attorney or Deputy, ſworn for him, when he ſhall anſwer before the Lord Treaſurer, Chamberlains, Chancellor and Barons of the ſaid Exchequer, or in the abſence of the ſaid Lord Treaſurer, Chamberlain or Chancellor, or of any of them: then before ſuch of the ſaid Lord Treaſurer, Chamberlains, or Chancellor, and of the ſaid Barons, as then ſhall happen to be preſent in the ſaid Court of Exchequer, to bring in and deliver into the ſaid Court, Rolls or Cedules of Parchment, containing in them truly, without omiſſion or concealment, all ſuch particular ſums of money which he hath levied, or lawfully might have levied, to his witting or knowledge within his Bailiwick, as part or parcel, as well of the ſaid ferms called Vicountels, in the ſaid former Act expreſſed, as of all other ferms, of what name or title ſoever they be called, being ſtreated, written, or otherwiſe charged to any of the ſaid Sheriffs, out of the ſaid Court of Exchequer, (2) making expreſs and diſtinct mention in the ſame Rolls or Cedules, as nigh as he or they can or may, of what perſon, and what Lands and Tenements, and for what cauſe the ſame particular ſums of money, and every of them be levied or leviable: (3) and that after the ſame Rolls or Cedules ſo delivered, and the particular ſums of money in them contained, appertaining to their proper ferms, caſt and rated in the ſaid Court, the ſaid Lord Treaſurer, Chamberlain, Chancellor and the ſaid Barons, in the abſence of the ſaid Treaſurer, Chamberlains or Chancellor or any of them for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority by this Act, for the levying and recovery of ſuch parcels belonging to any the ſaid ferms, called Vicountels, or any other ferms, by what name or title ſoever they ſhall be called, being omitted out of the ſaid Rolls or Cedules, and for ſaving of other the Kings ancient Rights and Inheritances, anſwerable in the ſaid Exchequer, which be now wrongfully withdrawn, or unjuſtly withholden from the Kings Majeſty his poſſeſſions: (4) and ſhall have power and authority from time to time to award ſuch progreſs, and uſe ſuch convenient ways and means by Commiſſion or otherwiſe, according to the courſe of the ſaid Exchequer, and further as ſhall be deviſed by their diſcretion: ſo that the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, may be truly anſwered of the iſſues and profits of the ſame; this Act, or any other Statute, Act, Ordinance, or uſe heretofore, to the contrary had, made or uſed in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Proceſs ſhall be awarded out of the Exchequer to enquire of the Kings debt.

XI. And furthermore, That the ſaid Treaſurer, Chamberlains, Chancellor, and Barons of the ſaid Exchequer, or the ſaid Barons in the abſence of the ſaid Treaſurer, Chamberlains, or Chancellor, or any of them for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority by their diſcretions, from time to time, to give and allow unto all and every ſuch Commiſſioner or Commiſſioners as they ſhall aſſign and appoint by their diſcretion, to enquire of the ſaid ferms, and other the Kings Rights withdrawn, their reaſonable coſts and charges, as from time to time to them ſhall ſeem good and convenient.

Allowance made to Commiſſioners for their coſts.

CAP. V.

Such fee-ferms and ſums of money paid for fee-ferms, as by any City, Borough, or Town corporate within England or Wales or by the bodies corporate or politick, Officers or Miniſters of the ſame, ought to be due and payable to the King, &c. during three years next enſuing, ſhall ceaſe, and not be due: and ſhall be beſtowed about repairing of Walls, Bridges, ſetting poor on work, or other good deeds in every ſuch city, &c. But if the King hath granted the fee-ferm to any other, he ſhall enjoy it. Exp. St. 3 Ed. 6. 18.

Fee-ferms, Raſt. 2.

CAP. VI.

An Act that the Admiral of England, or any of his Officers, ſhall not exact any ſums of money for Licence to traffique to Ireland, &c.

Fiſh, 2. No Officer ſhall exact any money of any merchant or fiſherman travelling into Ireland for fiſh.

Foraſmuch as within theſe few years now laſt paſt, there hath been levied, perceived and taken, by certain of the Officers of the Admiralty, of ſuch Merchants and Fiſhermen as have uſed and practiſed the Adventures and Journeys into Iſland, New-found-land, Ireland, and other places commodious for Fiſhing, and the getting of Fiſh, in and upon the Seas or otherwiſe, by way of Merchandiſe in thoſe parts, divers great exactions, as ſums of money, doles, or ſhares of Fiſh, and ſuch other like things, to the great diſcouragement and hindrance of the ſame Merchants and Fiſhermen, and to no little damage to the whole Commonweal;

II. And whereas alſo great complaints have been made, and informations alſo yearly to the Kings Majeſties moſt honourable Council: for reformation whereof, and to the intent alſo the ſaid Merchants and Fiſhermen may have occaſion the rather to practiſe and uſe the ſame trade of Merchandiſe and fiſhing freely without any ſuch charges or exactions, as is before limited, whereby it is to be thought, that more plenty of Fiſh ſhall come into this Realm, and thereby to have the ſame at more reaſonable price:

III. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That neither the Admiral nor any officer or miniſter, officers or miniſters of the Admiralty for the time being, ſhall in any wiſe hereafter exact, receive or take by himſelf, his ſervant, deputy, ſervants or deputies, of any ſuch merchant or fiſherman, any ſum or ſums of money, doles or ſhares of fiſh, or any other reward, benefit or advantage whatſoever it be, for any licence to paſs this Realm to the ſaid voyages or any of them: nor upon any reſpect concerning the ſaid voyages or any of them, (2) upon pain to forfeit for the firſt offence, treble the ſum, or treble the value of the reward, benefit or advantage, that any ſuch officer or miniſter ſhall hereafter have or take of any ſuch merchant or fiſherman; for the which forfeiture the party grieved, and every other perſon or perſons, whatſoever he or they be, ſhall and may ſue for the ſame, by information, bill, plaint, or action of debt, in any of the Kings Courts of Record, the King to have the one moiety, and the party complaining the other moiety: in which ſuit no eſſoin, protection, or wager of law ſhall be allowed: (3) and for the ſecond offence, the party ſo offending, not only to loſe or forfeit his or their office or offices in the Admiralty, but alſo to make fine and ranſom at the Kings will and pleaſure.

CAP. VII.

Penſions, Raſt. 3.

Thoſe Penſioners that by the crafty practices of others, did ſell them ſuch Penſions as by the Kings Patents were granted unto them out of Abby and religious lands, for life, ſhall have their Penſions again, ſo that they pay or tender ſo much money as they received for their ſaid Penſions. Exp.

CAP. VIII.

An Act for finding of Offices before Eſcheators.

Office 1. Livery 3. Traverſe 2. Tenures 4. Wards 17. How offices in ſome caſes ſhall be found before Eſcheators. 1 Inſt. 77. Leſſees for years or copyholders being put forth of poſſeſſion by the King, by the Common Law ſhall have no remedy.

Where many and divers perſons holding, or that have holden lands, tenements, or hereditaments, ſome for term of years, and ſome by copy of Court-Roll, have been expulſed and put out of their terms and holds, by reaſon of inquiſitions or Offices founden before Eſcheators, Commiſſioners and other, containing tenures of the King in Capite, intituling the King to the Wardſhip or cuſtody of ſuch lands or tenements, and ſometime intituling the King to the ſame upon attainders of Treaſon, Felony or otherwiſe, by reaſon that ſuch Leaſes for term of years, or intereſt by Copy of Court-Roll of ſuch perſons, have not been found in ſuch inquiſitions or offices: (2) after which expulſion, or putting out, the ſaid perſons have been without remedy for the obtaining of the ſaid terms and holds during the Kings poſſeſſion therein, (3) and can have no traverſe, Monſtrance de droit, ne other remedy for the ſame, becauſe their ſaid intereſt is but a chattel in the Law or cuſtomary hold, and no eſtate of freehold.

II. And alſo where any perſon or perſons hath any rent, common, office, fee, or other profit Apprendre, of any Eſtate of freehold, or for years, or otherwiſe, out of ſuch lands or tenements ſpecified in ſuch offices or inquiſition, the ſaid rent, common, office, fee, or profit Apprendre not found in the ſame office or offices, ſuch perſons are in like manner without remedy, to obtain or have the ſaid rent, common, office, fee or profit Apprendre, by any traverſe or other ſpeedy mean, without great and exceſſive charges, during the Kings intereſt therein, by force of ſuch inquiſition or office.

The intereſt of others ſhall be ſaved though they be not found by office.

III. For remedy whereof, be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That where any ſuch office or inquiſition is or ſhall be founden, omitting ſuch titles, intereſts or matters, as is aforeſaid, that in all ſuch caſes, every Leſſee, tenant for term of years, or copy-holder, and every ſuch perſon or perſons that have or ſhall have any intereſt to any rent, common, or profit Apprendre, for term of years, life, or otherwiſe, out of any of the lands, tenements or hereditaments contained in ſuch office or inquiſition, where the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors is or ſhall be entituled, as is aforeſaid, to any ſuch lands, tenements or hereditaments, ſhall have, hold, enjoy and perceive all and every their Leaſes and Intereſts for term of years, or by Copy of Court-Roll, rents, commons, offices, fees and profit Apprendre, in ſuch manner, form, ſtate and condition, as they and every of them ſhould or might have done in caſe there had been no ſuch office or inquiſition founden, and as they ſhould, or lawfully might or ought to have done, in caſe ſuch Leaſe, intereſt by Copy of Court-Roll, rent, common, office, fee or profit Apprendre had been found in ſuch office or inquiſition; any law, cuſtom, or uſage to the contrary heretofore uſed in ſuch caſes, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

IV. And alſo where it is or ſhall be founden for the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, That the heir or heirs of his tenant or tenants, is or ſhall be within age, where indeed ſuch heir or heirs, is or ſhall be at the ſame time of full age, or of a more or greater age then is or ſhall be contained within ſuch office,

A remedy where an heir of full age ſhall be found within age.

V. Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in every ſuch caſe, ſuch heir and heirs ſhall and may at his or their very full age, or after, proſecute a Writ of Ætate proband. and ſue his or their liberty, or ouſter le main, as his or their caſes ſhall lie, and have the profits of his or their lands, tenements or hereditaments, from the time of his or their very full age; any ſuch untrue office or inquiſition, or any law or cuſtom to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

VI. Alſo where one perſon or mo, is or ſhall be founden heir to the Kings tenant, by office or inquiſition, where any other perſon is or ſhall be heir, (2) or if one perſon or mo, be or ſhall be founden heir by office or inquiſition in one County, and another perſon or perſons is or ſhall be found heir to the ſame perſon in another County, (3) or if any perſon be or ſhall be untruly founden lunatick, ideot or dead: (4) Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons, grieved or to be grieved by any ſuch office or inquiſition, ſhall and may have his or their traverſe to the ſame, immediately, or after, at his or their pleaſure, and proceed to trial therein, and have like remedy and advantage, as in other caſes of traverſe upon untrue inquiſitions, or offices founden; any law, uſage or cuſtom to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Traverſe to an untrue office found after the death of the Kings tenant, or upon attainder of Treaſon, felony, &c. Goldsb. 304. pl. 417

A traverſe though the King be entituled by double matter of record.

VII. And where it is or ſhall be hereafter untruly founden by office or inquiſition, That any perſon or perſons attainted, or that ſhall be attainted of Treaſon, Felony, or Præmunire, is or ſhall be ſeiſed of any lands, tenements or hereditaments, at any time of ſuch Treaſon, Felony, or offence committed or done, or any time after, whereunto any other perſon or perſons hath, or ſhall have any juſt title or intereſt of any Eſtate of free-hold, that then in every ſuch caſe, every perſon and perſons grieved thereby, ſhall have his or their traverſe, or Monſtrance de droit to the ſame, without being driven to any petition of right, and like remedy and reſtitution upon his or their title, found or judged for him or them therein, as hath been accuſtomed and uſed, in the caſes of traverſe, although the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs or Succeſſors, be or ſhall be in ſuch caſe entituled to any ſuch lands, tenements, or hereditaments, by double matter of Record; any law, cuſtom or uſage to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Traverſe to an office. 13 H. 7. 11. b. Office devant. Br. 59.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That where any inquiſition or office is or ſhall be founden by theſe words, or like, Quod de quo vel de quibus, tenementa præd. tenent. Jurat. prædict. ignorant. or elſe founden, holden of the King, Per quæ ſervic. ignorant. or ſuch like, that in ſuch caſe ſuch tenure ſo uncertainly founden, De quo vel de quibus tenementa prædict. tenentur ignorant. ſhall not be taken for any immediate tenure of the King, nor ſuch tenure ſo founden of the King Per quæ ſervic. ignorant. ſhall not be taken any tenure in capite, but in ſuch caſes a Melius inquirend. to be awarded, as hath been accuſtomed in old time; any uſage of later time to the contrary notwithſtanding.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That where it is or ſhall be founden by any office or inquiſition, that any lands, tenements or hereditaments, are or ſhall be deſcended, remained, or come unto any heir within age, and in the Kings Ward, or that ought to be in the Kings Ward, and that ſuch lands, tenements or hereditaments, are holden of the King immediately, where indeed the ſame are or ſhall be holden of ſome other common perſon, and not of the King immediately: that in ſuch caſe, ſuch heir or heirs ſhall and may have their traverſe to the ſame, within age, and like remedy and reſtitution upon his or their title found or judged for him or them therein, as hath been accuſtomed and uſed in other caſes of traverſes; any law, uſage or cuſtom to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Traverſe to an office where a wrong tenure is found.
29 Ed. 1. pag. 66.

X. Alſo where the Kings Majeſty by his Prerogative ought to have as well ſuch lands and tenements as be holden of other perſons, as holden of himſelf immediately, whereof his tenant holding of him in chief dieth ſeiſed, his heir being within age, until ſuch time as livery be ſued by ſuch heir, and that the mean Lords of whom the ſaid other lands and tenements of ſuch heir be holden, uſed to ſpare the rents due to them for the ſame lands or tenements holden of them during the Kings poſſeſſion: (2) And when ſuch heir hath ſued his or their livery, they uſe by diſtreſs or otherwiſe to compel the ſaid heir to pay to them the arrearages of ſuch rents, for ſuch time as the ſaid lands and tenements were in the Kings poſſeſſion by ſuch minority, where they ſhould have ſued by petition to the Kings Majeſty to have obtained the ſame out of the Kings hands, if they would have the ſame, which is to the great detriment, loſs and hindrance of ſuch heir and heirs: (3) For redreſs whereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from henceforth ſuch mean Lords, during ſuch minority, ſhall have, receive and take the ſaid rents by the hands of ſuch the Kings Officers as ſhall be appointed to have, receive and take the iſſues, revenues and profits of the ſame lands and tenements ſo holden of ſuch mean Lords, during the minority and non-age of ſuch heir and heirs, and until ſuch heir and heirs ſue his or their livery, (4) and that ſuch heir and heirs until ſuch time as he or they ſhall have ſued their livery, or might conveniently have ſued their livery, ſhall be thereof clearly diſcharged.

A remedy for the rents of the mean Lords, where the King hath the wardſhip.

XI. And that ſuch Officer or Officers ſhall upon requeſt made, pay the ſame to ſuch mean Lords (they giving to ſuch Officer and Officers a ſufficient Acquittance or Acquittances for the receipt of the ſame:) (2) And that ſuch payment thereof made, with Acquittance or Acquittances thereof ſhewed, ſhall be to ſuch Officers a ſufficient diſcharge againſt the Kings Majeſty and his Heirs, upon his or their account in that behalf; any law, uſage or cuſtom heretofore had or uſed to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

XII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any inquiſition or office taken or founden at any time before the twentieth day of March next coming, nor to hinder, prejudice, or take away the title, intereſt, or poſſeſſion of our Sovereign Lord the King, or of any other perſon or perſons grown or come by virtue, mean, or occaſion of any inquiſition or office taken or found before the ſame day, (2) but that as well our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, as all other perſon and perſons having any title, intereſt, or poſſeſſion by virtue, mean or occaſion of any inquiſition or office found before the ſame day, ſhall and may have, hold and enjoy the ſame in like manner and form, as though this Act had never been had or made; any thing in the ſame Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

An office found before the xx. day of March next being, Anno Dom. 1548.

XIII. Provided alſo, and it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in all ſuch caſes as any perſon or perſons ſhall be enabled by this Act to have any traverſe, and ſhall purſue his or their traverſe: That then he or they that ſhall purſue ſuch traverſe, ſhall ſue one Writ or ſeveral Writs of Scire facias, (as the caſe ſhall require) againſt all and ſingular ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall have intereſt by the King, or by his Patent or Patents, in like manner and form as is requiſite upon traverſes or petitions heretofore purſued: (2) And that in every ſuch Scire facias, the Patentees or other Defendants ſhall have like pleas and advantage, as they had in any Scire facias before this time awarded again any Patentee in any caſe of petition: (3) And alſo that upon every traverſe that ſhall be purſued by virtue or mean of this Act, in ſuch caſe as the party or parties that ſhall purſue any ſuch traverſe, ſhould by the order of the Common Laws of this Realm, have been put to ſue by petition to the King, there ſhall be two Writs of ſearch granted in manner and form, as like Writs have been granted upon petitions made to the King.

Upon a traverſe a Scire facias ſhall be awarded againſt the Kings Patentees.

Writs of ſearch upon a traverſe.

XIV. Provided alſo, and it is enacted by the authority abovesaid, That if after any judgment ſhall be given upon any traverſe, that ſhall be tendred or ſued by virtue or mean of this Act, it ſhall appear by any matter of Record, that the King hath any other former title, right or intereſt, to the manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments mentioned in the ſame traverſe, that then the ſame title, right and intereſt, ſhall be ſaved to the King, the ſaid traverſe and judgment thereupon given, in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Cok. Inſt. 77. b. 243. a.

Notwithſtanding a traverſe, the Kings former right ſhall be reſerved.

CAP. X.

The Bill for true making of Malt.

Where divers and ſundry perſons taking upon them the Art and Myſtery of Malt making, and tendring more their own private lucre, gain and profit, then the wholſom victualing of the Kings Majeſty, the Nobility of this Realm, and other his Graces Subjects, have now of late by their unſatiable, covetous and greedy minds, accuſtomably and commonly made much Malt unpure and unſeaſonable, for that they have made the ſame Malt in eight or nine days, where indeed the ſame cannot be well and perfectly made, unleſs it have the time and ſpace of twelve days in the making thereof: (2) And where alſo divers and ſundry of the ſaid makers of Malt, commonly have, and do ſlackly and deceitfully dry the Malt ſo by them made, for that they would have an inordinate increaſe thereof by the ſwelling of the ſaid Malt, whereby the ſame Malt not being ſufficiently dryed, cannot be kept any long time or ſpace, but it will be muſty and full of weavels, whereby no wholſom drink for mans body can by any means be thereof made, which is not only to the great peril and danger of the Nobility, and other the Kings Highneſs Subjects within this Realm, and alſo to the great loſs and decay of the Common-wealth of the ſame, but alſo an utter impoveriſhment of the Brewers of this ſaid Realm, for that the ſaid Brewers (over and beſides the unwholſomneſs of the drink which is commonly made thereof) cannot make ſo much drink of fifty quarters of Malt, being ſo evil dried and made, as they might and can make of fourty quarters being well and truly made: (3) And alſo foraſmuch as divers and ſundry perſons minding and ſeeking their own private and exceſſive gain and profit, forgetting thereby their duty, and the order or charity towards the Common-wealth and their neighbours in this behalf, do commonly uſe to put and mix good Malt and evil Malt together, and after put the ſame Malt to ſale as good Malt, whereby many of the Kings Subjects have been, and are like to be very often deceived; to their great loſs and hindrance, contrary to the honeſt, ſeemly and godly buying, ſelling, and commutation that ſhould or ought to be amongſt Chriſtian people, ſpecially in things concerning the ſuſtentation and ſuſtenance of mans body:

How long time Malt ſhall be in the fat, floor, ſteeping and drying.

II. For remedy whereof, it may pleaſe the Kings Majeſty, with the advice of his Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That it may be eſtabliſhed and enacted by the authority of the ſame, That no ſuch perſon or perſons at any time after the firſt day of March next coming, ſhall make any Barley-malt (the months of June, July and Auguſt only excepted) but that the ſame ſhall have in making thereof, that is to ſay, in the fat, floor, ſteeping, and ſufficient drying of the ſaid Malt, three weeks at the leaſt: (2) and that no ſuch perſon or perſons at any time within the ſaid months of June, July and Auguſt, ſhall make any Barley-malt, except the ſame have in the fat, floor, ſteeping, and ſufficient drying, the time and ſpace of ſeventeen days at the leaſt, under and without which time and times, the ſaid Malt cannot be well and perfectly made, nor wholſom for mans body, (3) upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every quarter of Malt which ſhall be made by any perſon or perſons, contrary to the tenor, purport, and true meaning of this Act, two ſhillings. (4) And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, after the firſt day of March next coming, ſhall mingle or put together any Malt, not being well and ſufficiently made, or being made of Mow-burnt or ſpired Barley, with other good Malt, and after put the ſame ſo mingled to ſale, upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every quarter ſo mingled and put to ſale, two ſhillings.

Malt ſhall be well troden, rubbed, and fanned. St. 17 R. 2. 4.

III. And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons after the laſt day of January next coming, ſhall put to ſale any Malt which ſhall not be ſufficiently and well troden, rubbed, and well fanned, whereby there may be conveniently fanned out of one quarter thereof half a Peck of duſt or more, That then the perſon ſo putting the ſame to ſale, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every quarter ſo put to ſale, twenty pence. (2) The moiety of all which forfeitures to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moiety thereof to the party that will Sue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of the Kings Courts, wherein no protection, wager of Law, or eſſoin, nor injunction ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Juſtices, Stewards of Leets, and officers of Towns, ſhall puniſh offenders.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Peace in every of their Seſſions, and alſo the Steward in every Leet, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to enquire, hear and determine, as well by preſentment of twelve men, as by accuſation or information of two honeſt witneſſes, of, for and upon all and every the offences and forfeitures aforeſaid, as well for the King, as for the party that ſhall ſue, procure or cauſe the ſame to be preſented, as is beforeſaid. (2) And that the Bayliffs and Conſtables of every Borough or Market Town, or other Town where any ſuch Malt ſhall be made, or put to ſale, ſhall have full power and authority from time to time, to view, ſearch, and ſurvey all ſuch Malt, as ſhall be made or put to ſale within any of the ſaid Towns: (3) And if any of them ſhall thereupon find any Malt ſo put to ſale, being evil made, or mingled with evil Malt, contrary to the tenour and true meaning of this preſent Act: that then the ſaid Bayliff or Conſtable ſo finding any ſuch Malt evil made, or mingled as is aforeſaid, with the advice of one Juſtice of Peace within the ſame Shire, ſhall cauſe the ſame to be ſold to ſuch perſon or perſons, and at ſuch a reaſonable price or prices, and under the common price of the Market, as to his diſcretion ſhall ſeem neceſſary and expedient.

Malt made for a mans own proviſion.

Within what time an offendor ſhall be preſented.

V. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to charge, or be to the making of Malt for any mans own proviſion for his own houſe or family, neither prejudicial to any perſon or perſons, for, or concerning any of the offences or forfeitures aforeſaid; except he or they ſo offending, ſhall happen to be ſued, preſented and accuſed for the ſame, in manner and form aforeſaid, within one year next after any ſuch offence or offences to be done or committed; any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. (2) This preſent Act to continue until the end of the next Parliament. 27 El. 14. 1 Jac. 25. 21 Jac. 28. & 3 Car. 4. continued.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch barren Heath or waſte ground, other then ſuch as be diſcharged for the payment of Tithes by Act of Parliament, which before this time have layen barren, and paid no Tithes by reaſon of the ſame barrenneſs, and now be, or hereafter ſhall be improved and converted into arable ground or medow, ſhall from henceforth, after the end and term of ſeven years next after ſuch improvement fully ended and determined, pay Tithe for the Corn and Hay growing upon the ſame; any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Tithe of barren heath or waſte ground. 1 El. Dyer f. 170. Coke pl. f. 462.

VI. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch barren, waſte or Heath ground, hath before this time been charged with the payment of any Tithes, and that the ſame be hereafter improved or converted into arable ground or medow, that then the owner or owners thereof, ſhall during the ſeven years next following, from and after the improvement, pay ſuch kind of Tithe as was paid for the ſame before the ſaid improvement; any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

VII. And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon exerciſing merchandiſes, bargaining and ſelling, clothing, handicraft, or other art or faculty, being ſuch kind of perſons, and in ſuch places as heretofore within theſe fourty years have accuſtomably uſed to pay ſuch perſonal Tithes, or of right ought to pay (other then ſuch as been common Day-labourers) ſhall yearly at or before the Feaſt of Eaſter, pay for his perſonal Tithes, the tenth part of his clear gains, his charges and expences, according to his Eſtate, condition or degree, to be therein abated, allowed and deducted.

Who ſhall pay their perſonal Tithes.

Handicrafts men having uſed to pay Tithes.

VIII. Provided always, and be it enacted, That in all ſuch places where handicrafts men have uſed to pay their Tithes within theſe fourty years, the ſame cuſtom of paiment of Tithes to be obſerved and to continue; any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Ordinary may examine him that refuſeth to pay his Tithe.

IX. And be it alſo enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon refuſe to pay his perſonal Tithes in form aforeſaid, That then it ſhall be lawful to the Ordinary of the ſame Dioceſs where the party that ſo ought to pay the ſaid Tithes is dwelling, to call the ſame party before him, and by his diſcretion to examine him by all lawful and reaſonable means, other then by the parties own corporal Oath, concerning the true paiment of the ſaid perſonal Tithes.

Payment of Offerings.

X. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons which by the Laws or Cuſtoms of this Realm ought to make or pay their Offerings, ſhall yearly from henceforth well and truly content and pay his or their Offerings, to the Parſon, Vicar, Proprietory, or their deputies or fermors of the pariſh or pariſhes where it ſhall fortune or happen him or them to dwell or abide: and that at ſuch four Offering-days, as at any time heretofore within the ſpace of four years laſt paſt, hath been uſed and accuſtomed for the payment of the ſame, and in default thereof to pay for the ſaid Offerings at Eaſter then next following.

Tithe of Fiſh.

XI. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any pariſh which ſtands upon, and towards the Seacoaſts, the Commodities and occupying whereof conſiſteth chiefly in Fiſhing, and have by reaſon thereof uſed to ſatisfie their Tithes by Fiſh; but that all and every ſuch pariſh and pariſhes, ſhall hereafter pay their Tithes according to the laudable cuſtoms, as they have heretofore of ancient time within theſe fourty years uſed and accuſtomed, and ſhall pay their Offerings as is aforeſaid.

Payment of Tithe by houſes.

XII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend in any wiſe to the Inhabitants of the City of London and Canterbury, and the Suburbs of the ſame, ne to any other Town or place that hath uſed to pay their Tithes by their houſes, otherwiſe then they ought or ſhould have done before the making of this Act; any thing contained in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Latch.

Suits for withholding of Tithes ſhall be in the Eccleſiaſtical Court.
1 Bulſtr. 67.

XIII. And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon do ſubſtract, or withdraw any manner of Tithes, Obventions, Profits, Commodities, or other duties before mentioned, or any part of them, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, or of any other Act heretofore made, that then the party ſo ſubſtracting or withdrawing the ſame, may or ſhall be convented and ſued in the Kings Eccleſiaſtical Court, by the party from whom the ſame ſhall be ſubſtracted or withdrawn, to the intent the Kings Judge Eccleſiaſtical ſhall and may, then and there, hear and determine the ſame according to the Kings Eccleſiaſtical Laws: (2) And that it ſhall not be lawful unto the Parſon, Vicar, Proprietory, Owner, or other their fermors or deputies, contrary to this Act, to convent or ſue ſuch withholder of Tithes, Obventions, and other duties aforeſaid, before any other Judge then Eccleſiaſtical. (3) And if any Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Chancellor, or other Judge Eccleſiaſtical, give any ſentence in the foreſaid cauſes of Tithes, Obventions, Profits, Emoluments, and other duties aforeſaid, or in any of them, (and no appeal ne prohibition hanging) and the party condemned do not obey the ſaid ſentence, that then it ſhall be lawful to every ſuch Judge Eccleſiaſtical to excommunicate the ſaid party ſo as afore condemned and diſobeying; (4) in the which ſentence of excommunication, if the ſaid party excommunicate wilfully ſtand and endure ſtill excommunicate by the ſpace of fourty days next after, upon denunciation and publication thereof in the pariſh Church, or the place or pariſh where the party ſo excommunicate is dwelling, or moſt abiding, the ſaid Judge Eccleſiaſtical may then at his pleaſure ſignifie to the King in his Court of Chancery, of the ſtate and condition of the ſaid party ſo excommunicate, and thereupon to require proceſs De excommunicato capiendo to be awarded againſt every ſuch perſon ae hath been ſo excommunicate.

Excommunication of the party condemned.

No Tithes of marriage goods ſhall be paid in Wales, &c.

CAP. XIV.

An Act againſt the ſhooting of hail-ſhot.

Whereas an Act was made in the Three and thirtieth year of the late King of famous memory Henry the Eighth, for ſome liberty to ſhoot in Hand guns, Haques and Harquebuts, by which Act nevertheleſs it was provided, That no perſon ſhould ſhoot in any of the abovesaid pieces, but at a bank of earth, and not at any Deer or Fowl, unleſs the party might diſpend an hundred pound by the year: (2) foraſmuch as the ſaid Act having been deviſed, as it was then thought, for neceſſary exerciſe tending to the defence of the Realm, is grown ſithen to the maintenance of much idleneſs, and to ſuch a liberty, as not only dwelling-houſes, Dove-cotes and Churches are daily damaged by the abuſe thereof, by men of light converſation, but that alſo there is grown a cuſtomable manner of ſhooting of Hail-ſhot, whereby an infinite ſort of Fowl is killed, and much Game thereby deſtroyed, to the benefit of no man, whereby alſo the meaning of the ſaid Statute is defrauded, for that the ſaid uſe of Hail ſhot utterly deſtroyeth the certainty of ſhooting, which in Wars is much requiſite: (3) Be it therefore enacted, That no perſon under the degree of a Lord of the Parliament, ſhall from henceforth ſhoot in any Hand-gun, within any City or Town, at any Fowl or other Mark, upon any Church, Houſe or Dove-cote: (4) neither that any perſon ſhall ſhoot in any place any Hail-ſhot, or any more Pellots then one at one time, (5) upon pain to forfeit for every time that he or they ſhall ſo offend contrary to this Act, ten pound, and impriſonment of his body during three months.

Guns 4. &c. No perſon may ſhoot with an hand-gun in City or Town, at a mark, or elſe ſhoot with hail-ſhot. Anno 33 H 8. 6.

II Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend or be prejudicial to any perſon or perſons authoriſed by value of land, to ſhoot in any Hand-gun or Croſs-bow, but that they may ſo do in ſuch form and order as they ſhould do, and might have done before the making of this Act, (Hail ſhot excepted) as indeed that kind of ſhot in the ſaid Act was not meant: (2) and that all and every other perſon or perſons authoriſed to ſhoot, or otherwiſe, if he inhabit in any Town Corporate, be preſented to the Mayor or other Officer of the ſame, and inhabiting in the Countrey, be preſented within one month after the publiſhing of this Act, to the next Juſtice of Peace adjoyning; (3) in which caſes the ſaid Mayor, Juſtice, or other Officer ſo taking their names as is aforeſaid, ſhall again preſent and record the ſame before a Juſtice of the Peace at the next Quarter Seſſions, to the intent the Clerk of the Peace of the County may keep a certain book or Roll of the names of all ſuch perſons, by the which the Kings Majeſty may from time to time be aſcertained, how many meet and able men exerciſed in that feat, be in every County, that the ſame may be employed in his Graces ſervice, as need and occaſſion ſhall require, (4) upon pain that every perſon offending in this Act, in preſuming to ſhoot in any Hand-gun or half-haque, without the preſenting of his name, as is aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit for every ſhot the ſum of twenty ſhillings, the one moiety whereof to be to our Sovereign Lord the King, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by bill, action, plaint, information, or otherwiſe: The Officer that ſhould take their names, and preſent the ſame, as is aboveſaid, to incur for the lack of his duty in this part, for every time ſo offending, like pain.

The names of thoſe that ſhoot in hand-guns ſhall be preſented to a Juſtice, and Recorded.

CAP. XV.

The Bill of Conſpiracies of victuallers and craftſmen.

Foraſmuch as of late divers ſellers of Victuals, not contented with moderate and reaſonable gain, but minding to have and to take for their Victuals ſo much as luſt them, have conſpired and covenanted together to ſell their Victuals at unreaſonable prices: (2) And likewiſe Artificers, Handicrafs-men and Labourers, have made confederacies and promiſes, and have ſworn mutual Oaths, not only that they ſhould not meddle one with others work, and perform and finiſh that another hath begun, but alſo to conſtitute, and appoint how much work they ſhall do in a day, and what hours and times they ſhall work, contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and to the great hurt and impoveriſhment of the Kings Majeſties Subjects: (3) For reformation thereof, it is ordained and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any Butchers, Brewers, Bakers, Poulterers,

Artificers 1. Victuallers conſpiring to ſell their victuals but at certain prices, and labourers conſpiring touching their works, ſhall be puniſhed.

terers, Cooks, Coſtermongers or fruiterers, ſhall at any time from and after the firſt day of March next coming, conſpire, covenant, promiſe or make any oaths, that they ſhall ʒon ſell their victuals but at certain prizes; (4) or if any Artificers, Workmen or Labourers, do conſpire, covenant or promiſe together, or make any oaths, that they ſhall not make or do their works, but at a certain price or rate, or ſhall not enterpriſe or take upon them to finiſh that another hath begun, or ſhall do but a certain work in a day, or ſhall not work but at certain hours and times, (5) that then every perſon ſo conſpiring, covenanting, ſwearing or offending, being lawfully convict thereof by witneſs, confeſſion or otherwiſe, ſhall forfeit for the firſt offence ten pound to the Kings Highneſs, and if he have ſufficient to pay the ſame, and do alſo pay the ſame within ſix days next after his conviction, or elſe ſhall ſuffer for the ſame offence, twenty days impriſonment, and ſhall only have bread and water for his ſuſtenance. (6) And for the ſecond offence ſhall forfeit twenty pound to the King, if he have ſufficient to pay the ſame, and do pay the ſame within ſix days next after his conviction, or elſe ſhall ſuffer for the ſecond offence puniſhment of the Pilory. (7) And for the third offence, ſhall forfeit fourty pound to the King, if he have ſufficient to pay the ſame, and alſo do pay the ſame within ſix days next after his conviction, or elſe ſhall ſit on the Pilory, and loſe one of his Ears, and alſo ſhall at all times after that be taken as a man infamous, and his ſayings, depoſitions or oath not to be credited at any time in any matters of Judgment.

A conſpiracy by a Society or Company of Victuallers.

II. And if it fortune any ſuch conſpiracy, covenant or promiſe to be had and made by any Society, Brotherhood or company of any Craft, Myſtery or Occupation, of the Victuallers above mentioned, with the preſence or conſent of the more part of them, that then immediately upon ſuch Act of conſpiracy, covenant or promiſe, had or made, over and beſides the particular puniſhment before in this Act appointed for the offendor, their Corporation ſhall be diſſolved to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes.

Which Magiſtrates may inquire of and puniſh offendors.

III. And it is further ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, Bailiffs, and Stewards of Leets, at all and every their Seſſions, Leets and Courts, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire, hear and determine all and ſingular offences committed againſt this Statute, and to puniſh, or cauſe to be puniſhed the offendor, according to the tenor of this Statute.

None of theſe Occupations ſhall be prohibited to work in any Town, though he doth not dwell therein. &c. 3 & 4 Ed. 6. 20.

IV. And it is ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall at any time after the firſt day of April next coming, interrupt, deny, let or diſturb any free Maſon, rough Maſon, Carpenter, Bricklayer, Plaiſterer, Joyner, Hardhewer, Sawyer, Tiler, Pavier, Glaſier, Lime-burner, Brick-maker, Tile-maker, Plummer, or Labourer, born in this Realm, or made Deniſen, to work in any of the ſaid Crafts in any City, Borough or Town Corporate, with any perſon or perſons that will retain him or them, albeit the ſaid perſon and perſons ſo retained, or any of them, do not inhabit or dwell in the City, Borough or Town Corporate where he or they ſhall work, nor be free of the ſame City, Borough or Town; any Statute, Law, Ordinance, or other thing whatſoever had or made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding; (2) and that upon pain of forfeiture of five pound for every interruption or diſturbance done contrary to this Statute, the one moiety of every ſuch forfeiture to be to the King, and the other moiety thereof to be to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by bill, plaint, action of debt, or information, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin nor protection ſhall be allowed.

CAP. XVIII.

Ibid. 8.

Sir Thomas Seymor, Lord Seymor, Lord Admiral, attainted of high Treaſon, for attempting to get into his cuſtody the perſon of the King, and the government of the Realm, for obtaining many Offices, retaining many men into his ſervice, for making great proviſion of money and victuals, and for endeavouring to marry the Lady Elizabeth the Kings ſiſter, and for perſwading the King in his tender age to take upon him the rule and order of himſelf. All perſons ſhall be paid ſuch debts as the ſaid Lord Seymor did owe them. PR.

CAP. XIX.

An Act touching abſtinence from Fleſh in Lent, and other uſual times.

Holidays 4. Eating of fleſh on certain days and times forbidden.

ALbeit the Kings Subjects now having a more perfect and clear light of the Goſpel, and true Word of GOD, through the infinite mercy and clemency of Almighty GOD, by the hands of the Kings Majeſty, and his moſt noble Father of famous memory, promulgate, ſhewed, declared and opened, and thereby perceiving, that one day, or one kind of meat of it ſelf is not more holy, more pure, or more clean then another, for that all days and all meats be of their nature of one equal purity, cleanneſs and holineſs, and that all men ſhould by them live to the glory of GOD, and at all times, and for all meats give thanks unto him, of which meats none can defile Chriſtian men, or make them unclean at any time, to whom all meats be lawful and pure, ſo that they be not uſed in diſobedience or vice: (2) Yet foraſmuch as divers of the Kings Subjects, turning their knowledge therein to ſatisfie their ſenſuality, where they ſhould thereby increaſe in virtue, have of late time more then in times paſt, broken and contemned ſuch abſtinence, which hath been uſed in this Realm upon the Fridays and Saturdays, the Embring days, and other days, commonly called Vigils, and in the time commonly called Lent, and other accuſtomed times: (3) the Kings Majeſty conſidering that due and godly abſtinence is a mean to virtue, and to ſubdue mens bodies to their ſoul and ſpirit, and conſidering alſo that Fiſhers, and men uſing the trade of living by fiſhing in the Sea, may thereby the rather be ſet on work, and that by eating of Fiſh much Fleſh ſhall be ſaved and increaſed, (4) and alſo for divers other conſiderations and commodities of this Realm, doth ordain and enact, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all manner of Statutes, Laws, Conſtitutions and Uſages, concerning any manner of faſting or abſtinence from any kinds of meats, heretofore in this Realm made or uſed, ſhall from the firſt day of May next enſuing, loſe their force and ſtrength, and be void and of none effect.

Embring days, Lent.

All laws concerning faſting repealed.

II. And alſo that no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree or condition he or they be, ſhall at any time after the firſt day of May, in the year of our Lord God MDXLIX. willingly and wittingly eat any manner of Fleſh, after what manner of kind or ſort it ſhall be ordered, dreſſed or uſed, upon any Friday or Saturday, or the Embring days, or in any day in the time commonly called Lent, nor at any ſuch other day as is or ſhall be at any time hereafter commonly accepted and reputed as a Fiſh-day, within this Realm of England, wherein it hath been commonly uſed for to eat Fiſh and not Fleſh, (2) upon pain that every perſon eating any manner of Fleſh upon any of the ſaid days or times prohibited by this Act, to forfeit for the ſaid firſt offence ten ſhillings of lawful money of England, and alſo to ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of ten days, and during the time of his or her ſaid Impriſonment, to abſtain from eating any manner of fleſh.

The penalty for eating of fleſh upon any day uſed commonly as a fiſh-day, 5 El. 5. 27 El. 11.

III. And if any perſon, after he ſhall be lawfully convict of any offence contrary to this Act, doth eftſoons offend contrary to this Act, and be thereof lawfully convict, that then every perſon ſo offending the ſecond time, ſhall for his ſecond offence forfeit twenty ſhillings of lawful money of England, and alſo ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of twenty days, and during the time of his or her ſaid Impriſonment to abſtain from eating of any manner of Fleſh, and ſo like pain and impriſonment as often as he or ſhe afterwards ſhall offend.

The penalty for the ſecond offence.

IV. And furthermore it is ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That Juſtices of Goal-delivery, and Juſtices of Peace, in all and ſingular Counties, Cities, Towns-corporate and other places within this Realm of England, and other the Kings Dominions, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire, hear and determine all and all manner offences that ſhall be committed or done contrary to this Act, in like manner and form as they may enquire, hear and determine any treſpaſs, or other offence againſt the Kings Peace committed or done within the limits or place where they then ſhall be Juſtices of Goal-delivery, or Juſtices of Peace: (2) And the moiety of every ſuch forfeiture ſhall be eſtreated into the Court of Exchequer, in like manner and form as fines for any treſpaſs, or other offence committed againſt the Kings Peace, ought or ſhould be eſtreated: and the other moiety of the ſaid forfeiture ſhall be to him that will ſue for the ſame by bill, plaint, information or otherwiſe, in any of the Kings Courts of Record, in which no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Juſtices of Goal delivery and Peace ſhall determine theſe offences.

V. Provided always, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any perſon or perſons that heretofore hath, or hereafter ſhall have obtained any licence of our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, (2) nor to any perſon being in great age, and in debility and weakneſs thereby, (3) nor to any perſon being ſick or notably hurt, without fraud or covin, during the time of his or her ſaid ſickneſs, (4) nor to any woman being with child, or lying in child-bed, for eating of ſuch one kind of fleſh as ſhe ſhall have great luſt unto: (5) nor to any perſon being in priſon, for any other offence then for any offence contrary to this Act; (6) neither to any that is, or hereafter ſhall be the Kings Highneſs Lieutenant, Deputy or Captain of any his Majeſties Army, Hold or Fortreſs: but the ſame themſelves may eat Fleſh and licence and permit their Souldiers to do the ſame in times prohibited, upon the want and lack of other kind of victual: (7) neither ſhall extend to St. Laurence Even, St. Marks day, or any other day or even being abrogate, (8) neither to any ſuch as heretofore have obtained any licence in due form of the Archbiſhop of Canterbury.

To what perſons this Statute ſhall not extend.

St. Laurence even, and St. Marks day.

VI. And further be it Enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Archdeacons, and other Officers, or the Officers of any of them, ſhall have power to enquire of the offendors in the premiſſes, and preſent the ſame to ſuch from time to time, as by virtue of this Act have authority to hear and determine the ſame.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted, That no manner of perſon or perſons be impeached, moleſted or troubled, or ſhall incur any pain, penalty or forfeiture for any offence contrary to the Act before rehearſed, committed or done, except he or they be accuſed, convented or indicted, of and for the ſaid offence, according to the tenour of this Statute, within three months next after the committing of the ſaid offence. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 3.

Within what time the offendors ſhall be indicted.

CAP. XX.

An Incumbent, for not paying of his Tenths due to the King, the ſame being demanded, ſhall be deprived of that benefice.

WHere in the Parliament holden upon Prorogation at Weſtminſter, the third day of November, in the Six and twentieth year of the Reign of the moſt excellent Prince, King Henry the Eighth, Father to our Sovereign Lord the Kings Majeſty that now is, amongſt other things concerning the Payment of one annual penſion of the tenth part of all poſſeſſions of the Church, Spiritual and Temporal, granted to the Kings Highneſs and his Heirs, it was enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed, That every Eccleſiaſtical perſon and other, having any Eccleſiaſtical promotion or dignity, ſpecified in the ſaid Act, which did not duly pay the ſaid tenth part, and by reaſon thereof were certified by the Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or other authoriſed in the ſaid Act, ſhould upon ſuch certificate made according to the tenor of the ſaid Act, be judged deprived ipſo facto of all ſuch dignities and promotions Spiritual, that any ſuch Incumbent, making ſuch default, had at the time of any ſuch Certificate made, or at any time after, as by the ſaid Act more plainly may appear.

Eccleſiaſtical perſons 29.

II. Foraſmuch as the pain limitted in the ſaid Statute, in ſuch form and manner as in the ſame is expreſſed, is very ſore and dangerous unto all the Kings faithful and obedient Subjects of the Clergy, whereof divers ſithen the making of the ſaid Statute, intending none other touching deprivation of all a mans Spiritual livings for lack of payment of the Tenth of one.

otherwiſe then moſt willingly and with good heart that payment ſhould be made of the ſaid Tenth by them due, without fraud or delay, to ſuch Officers, and at ſuch time as by the ſaid Statutes is appointed and declared, by the default and negligence of their farmors, and other whom they have truſted to make payment thereof, and by divers other ſiniſter means being certified, or making default of payment thereof, have incurred the pain and danger of the ſaid Statute, with the loſs or deprivations of all the Spiritual promotions whereof they were then Incumbents, being alſo made unable to take any other, to the utter undoing of ſuch perſons and the like peril and danger of many other the Kings moſt humble and faithful Subjects of the Clergy, againſt whom the like things may be practiſed and attempted hereafter: (2) for the moderation of which pain, and to the end that the Kings Majeſty, our Sovereign Lord that now is, and his Heirs and Succeſſors, may be truly anſwered and ſatisfied of the ſaid yearly Penſion or annual Rent of the tenth part, united and knit to his Imperial Crown in manner and form as in the ſaid Act is contained:

The penalty for default of payment of tenths, ſhall be the forfeiture of that only Benefice out of the which the ſame is due.

III. The Kings ſaid faithful and moſt obedient Subjects, the Clergy of this Realm, do moſt humbly beſeech his Majeſty, that it may be enacted and eſtabliſhed by his Highneſs, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any ſum of the ſaid Annual Penſion, being once due, and demanded according to the manner and form ſpecified in the ſaid Act, be not truly contented and paid unto ſuch Archbiſhop or Biſhop, or their Miniſters and Officers, or to ſuch other perſon or perſons, or their miniſters or ſervants, as ſhall have the charge and collection thereof every year yearly at the time of the ſaid Act expreſſed, and thereupon Certificate made into the Kings Majeſties Court of firſt fruits and Tenths, in Writing under the Seals of any Archbiſhop or biſhop, or of ſuch as be limitted and charged to the collection of the ſaid Penſion, by the ſaid former Act, then every Incumbent ſo making default and certified, ſhall be judged deprived ipſo facto of that only Dignity, Benefice, or other Eccleſiaſtical promotion, by what name ſoever it be called, whereof ſuch Certificate ſhall be made; (2) So that ſuch Dignity, Benefice, or other Eccleſiaſtical promotion, whereof any Incumbent making ſuch default of payment, ſhall be judged deprived, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be clearly void and deſtitute of Incumbent in the Law, to all intents and purpoſes, as if ſuch Incumbent making ſuch default of payment, were dead indeed.

IV. And that no Incumbent making ſuch default of payment, ſhall be therefore made unable to take or enjoy any other Benefice or promotion Spiritual, or incur any penalty, forfeiture or loſs to be paid by them, their Executors or Aſſigns for the ſame default, other then in this preſent Act is heretofore expreſſed; any thing in the ſaid former Act, or any other Statutes or Acts contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

V. Provided alway, That the ſaid former Act concerning the payment of the ſaid yearly Rent and Penſion, amounting to the tenth part of every ſuch Dignity, Benefice or promotion Spiritual, and every other Act touching the ſame, and all Articles, Clauſes and Sentences in them, or any of them mentioned, expreſſed or contained, now being in his or their force and effect, other then ſuch as by this preſent Act be already qualified or moderated, ſhall ſtand and abide in all his or their full ſtrength, effect and virtue; any thing in this preſent Act contained notwithſtanding. 1 El. 4.

CAP. XXI.

An Act to take away all poſitive Laws made againſt Marriage of Prieſts.

Matrimony 2. All Laws prohibiting Spiritual perſons to marry, who by Gods Law may marry, ſhall be void.

The benefits which would enſue if Prieſts and Miniſters did live chaſte ſole and unmarried.

ALthough it were not only better for the eſtimation of Prieſts, and other miniſters in the Church of God, to live chaſte, ſole and ſeparate from the company of women, and the bond of marriage, but alſo thereby they might the better intend to the adminiſtration of the Goſpel, and be leſs intricated and troubled with the charge of houſhold, being free and unburdened from the care and coſt of finding wife and children, and that it were moſt to be wiſhed, that they would willingly and of their ſelves endeavour themſelves to a perpetual chaſtity and abſtinence from the uſe of women: (2) yet foraſmuch as the contrary hath rather been ſeen, and ſuch uncleanneſs of living, and other great inconveniencies, not meet to be rehearſed, have followed of compelled chaſtity, and of ſuch Laws as have prohibited thoſe (ſuch perſons) the godly uſe of marriage: It were better and rather to be ſuffered in the Commonwealth, that thoſe which could not contain, ſhould after the counſel of Scripture live in holy marriage, then feignedly abuſe with worſe enormity outward chaſtity or ſingle life:

II. Be it therefore enacted by our Sovereign Lord the King, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every Law and Laws poſitive, Canons, Conſtitutions and ordinances heretofore made by authority of man only, which do prohibit or forbid marriage to any Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, condition, or degree they be, or by what name or names ſoever they be called, which by Gods Law may lawfully marry, in all and every Article, Branch and Sentence, concerning only the prohibition for the marriage of the perſons aforeſaid, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect, (2) And that all manner of Forfeitures, Pains and Penalties, Crimes or Actions which were in the ſaid Laws contained, and of the ſame did follow, concerning the prohibition for the marriage of the perſons aforeſaid, be clearly and utterly void, fruſtrate and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as well concerning marriage heretofore made by any of the Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual perſons aforeſaid, as alſo ſuch which hereafter ſhall be duly and lawfully had, celebrate and made betwixt the perſons, which by the Laws of God may lawfully marry.

C A P. XXII.

An Act concerning colouring of Cuſtoms in other mens names, to the deceit of the King.

Where at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the firſt year of the Reign of the noble King of famous Memory, Henry the Eighth, it was ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, That it ſhould be lawful from thenceforth, that every Engliſhman, and all other the Kings Subjects, might in every Port or Haven within this Realm of England, Ireland, and Wales, and the Marches of the ſame, and in the Town of Berwick, where it ſhould happen any merchandiſe to arrive, or to be charged and carried out to cuſtom in his name, all manner of goods and merchandiſe of another Engliſhman, or the Kings Subject: (2) and in like form every merchant ſtranger to cuſtom in his name any goods or merchandiſe of any other merchant ſtranger, ſo that the ſaid merchant ſtranger that cuſtoms the goods of another merchant ſtranger, and the very owner or proprietary of the goods ſo cuſtomed, be charged with like cuſtom, ſubſidy, and other things, ſo that the Kings Grace were not defrauded of his right. Cuſtoms 19.

II. And if any merchant ſtranger or denizen, or any other the Kings ſubject, cuſtom any goods or merchandiſe of any other ſtranger or denizen, or of any other the Kings ſubject, whereby the Kings Grace ſhould loſe his cuſtom, ſubſidy, or other his right or duty; that then the ſaid merchant ſtranger or denizen, or any other the Kings ſubject that ſo taketh upon him or them to do, ſhould forfeit to the King the goods or merchandiſe ſo cuſtomed, (2) and over that, to forfeit to the party or parties in that behalf grieved, as much money as the goods or merchandiſe of the merchant ſtranger, denizen or other the Kings ſubject ſo cauteloſly cuſtomed, amounted unto. A confirmation of the Statute of 1 H. 8. 5. touching cuſtoming of goods in the name of others.

III. And that no Citizen of London, or other the Kings ſubjects inhabiting in the Cinque-ports, or any other being free of Priſage or Butlarage of Wines, by grant, cuſtom, or otherwiſe, ſhould cuſtom no Wines of any perſon or perſons, not being free of any Priſage or Butlarage. (2) And if any perſon free of the ſaid Priſage or Butlarage ſo did; that then the ſaid perſon or perſons that ſo did, ſhould forfeit to the King the double value of the Priſage of the ſaid Wines ſo cuſtomed. (3) And further, that it ſhould be lawful to any perſon and perſons grieved contrary to the ſaid Act, to have an action of debt againſt any perſon or perſons that ſo cuſtomed the goods or merchandiſe in his name, and not in the owners name, of the ſum of the value of the ſaid merchandiſe ſo cuſtomed and forfeited: in the which action no eſſoin or protection ſhould lie, nor the defendant to wage his Law, as by the ſaid former Act more at large doth appear: (4) Sithence the making of which Act, divers perſons, as well ſtrangers and denizens, as the Kings ſubjects, forgetting their bounden duties, to the Kings Highneſs, and nothing fearing the penalties and forfeitures mentioned in the ſaid former Act, do daily deceive the King as well in his cuſtoms and ſubſidies, by payment of cuſtoms and ſubſidies in the names of ſuch perſons, other then ſuch as be the very owners or proprietaries of the goods, wares and merchandiſe of the Priſage or Butlarage of Wines due to the King.

IV. Wherefore be it ordained and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any ſtranger born, denizen or not denizen, or any the Kings ſubjects, do at any time from or after the laſt day of March next coming, any thing or Act contrary to the true meaning, tenour and purport of the ſame former Act and Statute, that then he and they ſo offending, ſhall loſe and forfeit all his and their own goods and chattels perſonal for ever: (2) the moiety of which forfeiture ſhall be to the King, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by bill, plaint, action of debt or information, in which bill, plaint, action or information, no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be admitted or allowed. The penalty for cuſtoming of other mens goods, whereby the King loſeth his duty.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority abovesaid, That every ſuch bill, plaint, action or information, ſhall be had and purſued within three years next enſuing any ſuch offence committed or done, or elſe the offenders to be clearly free and diſcharged thereof; any Law or Statute to the contrary had or made notwithſtanding. St. 1 H. 8. 5. 3 H. 7. 7. 1 El. 11.

C A P. XXIII.

The Repeal of an Act made in the 32 year of King Henry the Eighth, which was made, That Marriage contracted in the face of the Church, and conſummate with bodily knowledge, to be deemed lawful, any former Contract notwithſtanding.

Whereas in the two and thirtieth year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, becauſe that many inconveniences had chanced in this Realm, by breaking and diſſolving of good and lawful marriages, yea, whereupon alſo ſometime iſſue and children had followed, under the colour and pretence of a former contract made with another, the which contract divers times was but very ſlenderly proved, and often but ſurmiſed by the malice of the party who deſired to be diſſolved from the marriage which they liked not, and to be coupled with another, There was an Act made, That all and every ſuch marriages as within the Church of England ſhould be contracted and ſolemnized in the face of the Church, and conſummate with bodily knowledge, or fruit of chil- Matrimony. Part of the Statute of Pre-contracts repealed. 2 & 3 Ed. 6. 2 Sect. 3. N. 1.

dren or child being had between the parties ſo married, ſhould be by the authority of the ſaid Parliament deemed, judged and taken to be lawful, good, juſt and indiſſoluble, notwithſtanding any pre-contract or pre-contracts of matrimony, not conſummate with bodily knowledge, which either of the perſons ſo married, or both, had made with any other perſon or perſons, before the time of contracting that marriage which is ſolemnized or conſummated, or whereof ſuch fruit is enſued or may enſue, as by the ſame Act more plainly may appear: (2) Sithence the time of which Act, although the ſame was godly meant, the unrulineſs of men hath ungodly abuſed the ſame, and divers inconveniences (intolerable in manner to Chriſtian ears and eyes) followed thereupon, women and men breaking their own promiſes and faiths made by the one unto the other, ſo ſet upon ſenſuality and pleaſure, that if after the contract of matrimony, they might have whom they more favoured and deſired, they could be content by lightneſs of their nature to overturn all that they had done afore, and not afraid in manner, even from the very Church door and marriage-feaſt, the man to take another ſpouſe, and the eſpouſe to take another husband, more for bodily luſt and carnal knowledge, then for ſurety of faith and truth, or having God in their good remembrance, contemning many times alſo the commandment of the Eccleſiaſtical Judge forbidding the parties having made the contract to attempt or do any thing in prejudice of the ſame:

A repeal of ſo much of the Statute of 32 H. 8. 38. as maketh that marriage indiſſoluble which is ſolemnized in the Church, and conſummated with bodily knowledge, and fruit of child.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the Kings Highneſs, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That as concerning pre-contracts, the ſaid former Statute ſhall from the firſt day of May next coming, ceaſe, be repealed, and of no force or effect, and be reduced to the eſtate and order of the Kings Eccleſiaſtical Laws of this Realm, which immediately before the making of the ſaid Eſtatute in this caſe were uſed in this Realm: (2) ſo that from the ſaid firſt day of May, when any cauſe or contract of marriage is pretended to have been made, it ſhall be lawful to the Kings Eccleſiaſtical Judge of that place, to hear and examine the ſaid cauſe: and (having the ſaid contract ſufficiently and lawfully proved before him) to give ſentence for matrimony, commanding ſolemnization, cohabitation, conſummation and tractation, as it becometh man and wife to have, with inflicting all ſuch pains upon the diſobedients and diſturbers thereof, as in times paſt before the ſaid Statute the Kings Eccleſiaſtical Judge by the Kings Eccleſiaſtical Laws ought and might have done, if the ſaid Statute had never been made; any clauſe, article or ſentence in the ſaid Statute to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

III. Provided always, and be it enacted, That this Act do not extend to diſanul, diſſolve, or break any marriage that hath or ſhall be ſo ſolemnized and conſummated before the ſaid firſt day of May next enſuing, by title or colour of any pre-contract, but that they be, and be deemed of like force and effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had ne made; any thing in this preſent Act notwithſtanding.

A confirmation of the reſidue of the ſaid Statute of 32 H. 8. 38.

IV. Provided alſo, That this Act do not extend to make good any of the other cauſes, to the diſſolution or diſanulling of matrimony, which be in the ſaid Act ſpoken of and diſanulled, but that in all other cauſes and other things there mentioned, the ſaid former Act of the two and thirtieth year of the late King of famous memory, do ſtand and remain in his full ſtrength and power; any thing in this Act notwithſtanding. Sta. 1 El. 1.

CAP. XXIV.

An Act for Trial of Murders and Felonies committed in ſeveral Counties.

Trials 1. Trials of murders may be in ſeveral Counties.

Foraſmuch as the moſt neceſſary office and duty of Law is to preſerve and ſave the life of man, and condignly to puniſh ſuch perſons that unlawfully and wilfully murder, ſlay, or deſtroy men, and alſo that another office and duty of Law is, to puniſh robbers and thieves, which daily endeavour themſelves to rob and ſteal, or give aſſiſtance to the ſame, and yet by craft and cautele do eſcape from the ſame without puniſhment:

No indictment by the Common Law of the death of him who is ſtricken in one County, and dieth in another.

II. And where it often happeneth and cometh in ure in ſundry Counties of this Realm, That a man is feloniouſly ſtricken in one County, and after dieth in another County: in which caſe it hath not been founden by the laws and cuſtoms of this Realm, that any ſufficient indictment thereof can be taken in any of the ſaid two Counties, for that by the cuſtom of this Realm, the Jurors of the County where ſuch party died of ſuch ſtroke, can take no knowledge of the ſaid ſtroke being in a foreign County, although the ſame two Counties and places adjoyn very near together: ne the Jurors of the County where the ſtroke was given cannot take knowledge of the death in another County, although ſuch death moſt apparently come of the ſame ſtroke: ſo that the Kings Majeſty within his own Realm, cannot, by any Laws yet made or known, puniſh ſuch murderers or manquellers, for offences in this form committed and done; (2) nor any appeal at ſome time may lie for the ſame, but doth alſo fail, and the ſaid murderers and manquellers eſcape thereof without puniſhment, as well in caſes where the Counties where ſuch offences be committed and done, may joyn, as otherwiſe where they may not joyn. (3) And alſo it is a common practice amongſt arrant thieves and robbers in this Realm, that after they have robbed or ſtoln in one County, they will convey their ſpoil, or part thereof ſo robbed and ſtoln, unto ſome of their adherents, into ſome other County, where the principal offence was not committed ne done, who knowing of ſuch felony, willingly and by falſe covin receiveth the ſame: (4) In which caſe, although the principal felon be after attainted in the one County, the acceſſary eſcapeth, by reaſon that he was acceſſary in another County, and that the Jurors of the ſaid other County, by any Law yet made, can take no knowledge of the principal felony, ne attainder in the firſt County, and ſo ſuch acceſſaries eſcape thereof unpuniſhed, and do often put in ure the ſame, knowing that they may eſcape without puniſhment: (5) For redreſs and puniſhment of which offences, and ſafeguard of mans life, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That where any perſon or perſons hereafter ſhall be feloniouſly ſtricken, or poyſoned in one County, and die of the ſame ſtroke or poyſoning in another County, that then an indictment thereof founden by Jurors of the County where the death ſhall happen, whether it

The trial of a manqueller, that poiſoneth or ſtriketh a man in one County, which dieth thereof in another ſhall be founden before the Coroner, upon the ſight of ſuch dead body, or before the Juſtices of Peace, or other Juſtices, or Commiſſioners which ſhall have authority to enquire of ſuch offences, ſhall be as good and effectual in the Law, as if the ſtroke or poiſoning had been committed and done in the ſame County where the party ſhall die, or where ſuch indictment ſhall be ſo founden; any law or uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Raſt. pla. f. 51. Co. Inſt. 3. par. 133.

III. And that the Juſtices of Goal-delivery, and Oyer and Terminer, in the ſame County where ſuch Indictment at any time hereafter ſhall be taken, and alſo the Juſtices of the Kings Bench, after ſuch indictment ſhall be removed before them, ſhall and may proceed upon the ſame in all points, as they ſhould or ought to do, in caſe ſuch felonious ſtroke and death thereby enſuing, or poiſoning and death thereof enſuing, had grown all in one and the ſame County: (2) And that ſuch party to whom appeal of murder ſhall be given by the Law, may commence, take and ſue appeal of murder in the ſame County where the party ſo feloniouſly ſtricken or poiſoned ſhall die, as well againſt the principal or principals, as againſt every acceſſary to the ſame offences, in whatſoever County or place the acceſſary or acceſſaries ſhall be guilty to the ſame. (3) And further, the Juſtices before whom any ſuch appeal ſhall be commenced, ſued and taken, within the year and day after ſuch murder and manſlaughter committed and done, ſhall proceed againſt all and every ſuch acceſſary and acceſſaries in the ſame County where ſuch appeal ſhall be ſo taken in like manner and form, as if the ſame offence or offences of acceſſary or acceſſaries had been committed or done in the ſame County where ſuch appeal ſhall be ſo taken, as well concerning the trial by the Jurors, or twelve men of ſuch County where ſuch appeal or appeals ſhall be hereafter taken upon the plea of Not guilty pleaded by ſuch offender or offenders, as otherwiſe.

Where an appeal of murder in the caſe aforeſaid ſhall be purſued. 3 Leonard. 146.

Appeal againſt the acceſſary.

IV. And further be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That where any murder or felony hereafter ſhall be committed and done in one County, and another perſon or mo ſhall be acceſſary or acceſſaries in any manner of wiſe to any ſuch murder or felony in any other County, that then an indictment found or taken againſt ſuch acceſſary and acceſſaries upon the circumſtance of ſuch matter before the Juſtices of the Peace, or other Juſtices or Commiſſioners, to enquire of felonies in the County where ſuch offences of acceſſary or acceſſaries in any manner of wiſe ſhall be committed or done, ſhall be as good and effectual in the Law, as if the ſaid principal offence had been committed or done within the ſame County where the ſame indictment againſt ſuch acceſſary ſhall be found: (2) And that the Juſtices of Goal-delivery, or Oyer and Terminer, or two of them, of, or in ſuch County where the offence of any ſuch acceſſary ſhall be hereafter committed and done, upon ſuit to them made, ſhall write to the Cuſtos Rotulorum, or keepers of the Records where ſuch principal ſhall be hereafter attainted or convict, to certifie them whether ſuch principal be attainted, convicted, or otherwiſe diſcharged of ſuch principal felony; who upon ſuch writing to them, or any of them directed, ſhall make ſufficient certificate in writing under their ſeal or ſeals to the ſaid Juſtices, whether ſuch principal be attainted, convicted, or otherwiſe diſcharged, or not: (3) And after that they ſo ſhall have the cuſtody of ſuch Records, do certifie that ſuch principal is attainted, convicted, or otherwiſe diſcharged of ſuch offence by the Law: That then the Juſtices of Goal-delivery, or of Oyer and Terminer, or other there authorized, ſhall proceed upon every ſuch acceſſary, in the County where ſuch acceſſary or acceſſaries became acceſſary, in ſuch manner and form, as if both the ſaid principal offence and acceſſary had been committed and done in the ſaid County where the offence of acceſſary was, or ſhall be committed or done: (4) And that every ſuch acceſſary, and other offenders above expreſſed, ſhall anſwer upon their arraignments, and receive ſuch trial, judgment, order and execution, and ſuffer ſuch forfeitures, pains and penalties, as is uſed in other caſes of felony; any law or cuſtom to the contrary heretofore uſed in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Trial of an acceſſary in one County to a felony done in another. 1 Leonard. 27. 3 Inſt. 48.

CAP. XXV.

A Bill for keeping of County-Courts.

Where heretofore in the moſt part of all Shires and Counties within this Realm, the County-court is and hath been uſually kept and holden from month to month, and ſo at every months end, one County: yet albeit in ſome Countries (though not many) the ſaid County-courts are holden from ſix weeks to ſix weeks, by force whereof, the Officers award out proceſs as well for the King, as proceſs for the Peace out of the Kings Bench, as alſo other common proceſs betwixt party and party, and the Atturneys and Solicitors (who ſue the ſame) not knowing the private cuſtom of their particular Shires, which have and uſe their Counties to be holden every ſix weeks, give their proceſs like return as in thoſe Shires which have common cuſtom to hold and keep County-courts every month, whereby the Kings Suits be not only deferred, the Plaintiffs and Demandants delayed of their lawful Actions and Demands, but alſo the ſaid Plaintiffs and Demandants thereby put to double coſt and charge, to the great ignominy and ſlander of the Law, incouraging of the offenders and tranſgreſſors, and the continual impoveriſhing of all thoſe who have cauſe of Suit:

County r. Sheriffs ſhall keep their County-courts monthly.

II. In conſideration whereof, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after the firſt day of October next enſuing this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, no County-court or Courts hereafter to be kept within this Realm, ſhall be longer deferred but one month from Court to Court, and ſo the ſaid Courts from henceforth ſhall be kept every month, and none otherwiſe; Any uſage, cuſtom, ſtatute or law heretofore had or made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

County-courts ſhall be kept monthly.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Sheriff of Northumberland, from thenceforth ſhall keep the County-court of that Shire in the Town or Caſtle of Alnewick, and in none other place; any latter uſe lately begun and brought in to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Where the County-court of Northumberland ſhall be kept.

An Act againſt the carrying of White Aſhes out of the Realm.

White Aſhes I. White Aſhes ſhall not be ſhipped or carried over the Sea.

CONſidering that white Aſhes made within the Realm, and other the Kings Dominions and Territories, are very neceſſary and expedient for the making of Sope and Salt-Petre, and for the whiting of Linen Cloth, dying and ſcowring of Woollen Cloth, and for other needful things in the Realm, and that the ſame Aſhes now of late have been commonly conveyed over the Seas, and thereby enhanced in price, and ſo ſcarce, that the Kings loving Subjects cannot have ſufficient of the ſame for any convenient prices: (2) Wherefore be it ordained and enacted by the Kings Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons after the firſt day of April next coming, ſhall ſhip, lade, carry or convey any White Aſhes towards the parts beyond the Seas, upon pain of forfeiture of ſix ſhillings eight pence for every buſhel of ſuch Aſhes ſo to be ſhipped or laded to be carried or conveyed into the parts beyond the Seas: (3) The moiety of which forfeiture ſhall be to the King, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by Action, Bill, Plaint, or Information, in the which Action, Bill, Plaint, or Information, no wager of Law, Eſſoin or Protection ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The penalty.

The Bill againſt falſe forging of Iron Gadds, inſtead of Gadds of Steel.

Steel I. None may forge nor ſell Gadds of Iron like in faſhion to Gadds of Steel.

WHere divers perſons of late have deceitfully forged and made of certain Iron called Bilbow Iron, like to the faſhion and manner of Gadds of Steel, and have ſold the ſame ſo forged to divers of the Kings ſubjects for Steel, whereby the greateſt part of edged Tools, Weapons, and other neceſſary things having edges, are of little or no value or goodneſs, to the great hurt of the Kings loving ſubjects: (2) For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the Kings Highneſs, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon after the firſt day of May next coming, do forge or make any ſuch Gadds of Iron, or do utter or put to ſale any ſuch Gadds of any Iron, he ſhall forfeit for every Gadd ſo forged, or uttered, or put to ſale, four pence: (3) The moiety of which forfeiture ſhall be to the King, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by action, bill, plaint, or information, in the which action, bill, plaint, or information, no wager of Law, protection or eſſoin ſhall be allowed or admitted.

The penalty.

For Fines with Proclamation in the County Palatine of Cheſter.

Fines 13. The force of fines levied of lands in Cheſhire, before the high Juſtice of Cheſter, or the Deputy or Lieutenant.

IN humble wiſe ſhewn unto your Excellent Majeſty, your true and faithful ſubjects and liege men, the inhabitants of your Graces County Palatine of Cheſter, That whereas heretofore by authority of Parliament, divers neceſſary and beneficial Statutes have been made for and concerning the levying of fines with proclamation, which are not only neceſſary for the preſervation of quietneſs and concord amongſt your loving ſubjects, and for the avoiding of ſtrife and contention, but alſo for the great and perfect aſſurance of all ſuch perſons to whom any ſuch fines are levied of any lands, tenements and hereditaments, which ſaid beneficial and neceſſary Statutes do not extend to any fines to be levied within your ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter: (2) In tender conſideration whereof, pleaſeth it your moſt Excellent Majeſty, that it may be enacted by your Highneſs, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular fines, which at any time hereafter are to be levied or knowledged before the High Juſtice of our Sovereign Lord the King, or of his Heirs and Succeſſors, of his County Palatine of Cheſter for the time being, or before the Deputy or Lieutenant Juſtice there for the time being, of any lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, lying or being within the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, (3) which ſhall be openly read and proclaimed three ſeveral days in the open Seſſions, in the preſence of the Juſtice of the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter for the time being, or before the Deputy or Lieutenant Juſtice there at the ſame Seſſions that the ſame fine ſhall fortune to be ingroſſed, and alſo that ſhall be openly read and proclaimed in the preſence of the Juſtice of the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, or before the Deputy or Lieutenant Juſtice there for the time being, at the two next general Seſſions that ſhall be holden in the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, before the Juſtice of the ſaid County Palatine, or before the Deputy or Lieutenant Juſtice there, next after the levying and ingroſſing of ſuch ſaid fine, at three ſeveral days in either of the ſaid two Seſſions, after ſuch manner and form as is commonly uſed in the Kings Court of Common Pleas at Weſtminſter, (4) ſhall be of like force, ſtrength and effect in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as fines being duly levied with proclamations before the Kings Juſtices of his Common Pleas be, or ought to be of. 43 El. 15.

CAP. XXXI.

In the City of Cheſter touching the taking of Recogniſance of Statute Merchant or Acton Burnel.

In their moſt humble wiſe ſhewen unto your Highneſs, your true, faithful and obedient Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Sheriffs and Commonalty of your Graces City of Cheſter, That where before this time the Mayors of the City of Cheſter were appointed and authoriſed to take and receive before the ſaid Mayors, Recogniſances according to the Statutes Merchant, and of Acton Burnel, whereupon were delivered unto the ſaid Mayor, by the Kings Majeſties Progenitors that than were, a ſpecial Seal concerning the ſame; by force whereof the Mayors and other Officers there appointed (time out of mind) have continually uſed and practiſed to take Recogniſances before them, of Statutes Merchant, and Acton Burnel, and enrolled the ſame, which ever hitherto was allowed, permitted, and taken to be good and effectual in the Law; (2) until now of late that ambiguity and doubt hath riſen, by means of certain ſiniſter perſons, more for the defrauding of right, equity and juſtice, then upon any good ground or matter, for their private commodity, becauſe that in all points it doth not follow and agree, according to all the ſtrait words of the Statutes Merchant, and Acton Burnel, as well to the great hurt and ſlander of the ſaid City, as alſo to the decay of the Merchants which have and ſhall lend their Livings, Wares and Money, and great boldneſs of the Debtors to detain the ſame in their hands, to the great decay of the City: (3) Wherefore for the inconvenience thereof, and alſo for the avoiding of the ſaid ambiguity and doubt, It may pleaſe your Highneſs, that it may be by your Grace, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, ordained, and be it enacted by the authority of the ſame, That all and every ſuch Recogniſance of Statutes Merchant, and Acton Burnel, which after the firſt day of May next coming ſhall be taken, knowledged, enrolled, had and ſealed with the ſaid Seal appointed to the ſaid City of Cheſter, before the Mayor of the ſame City for the time being, in like manner as heretofore the Predeceſſors Mayors, and other Officers in the ſaid City have accuſtomed to take, and enroll, and ſeal, ſhall be as good, effectual, and of force in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the taking of ſuch Recogniſance did fully agree and accord to all intents and purpoſes, with the ſtrait words of the ſaid Statutes of Acton Burnel, and the Statute Merchant: (4) And that upon all Certificates of the ſaid Mayors hereafter, like Proceſs and Execution to be awarded and directed out of the High Court of Chancery and Common place, to all Sheriffs, Mayors, Bailiffs, or other Officers in England or Wales, in as ample manner and form as is uſed elſewhere within this Realm, for any Recogniſance taken upon any of the Statutes aforeſaid; any Law, Statute, Liberty, Franchiſes or Uſage had or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Statutes 1. Recogniſances acknowledged before the Mayor of Cheſter, ſhall be good.

All Recogniſances of Statute Merchant, &c. acknowledged before the Mayor of Cheſter, ſhall be good in Law.

A Bill for Horſe and Horſe-ſtealers.

Foraſmuch as it is and hath been ambiguous and doubtful upon the words mentioned in one Act of Parliament, made in the firſt year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord the King, Whether that any perſon being in due form of the Laws found guilty, or othewiſe attainted or convicted for felonious ſtealing of one Horſe, Gelding or Mare, ought to be admitted to have or enjoy the priviledge and benefit of his Clergy and Sanctuary; (2) Therefore it is declared and enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords and Commons in this preſent Perliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, That all and ſingular perſon and perſons feloniouſly taking or ſtealing any Horſe, Gelding or Mare, ſhall not be admitted to have or enjoy the priviledge or benefit of his or their Clergy or Sanctuary, but ſhall be put from the ſame, in like manner and form as though he or they had been indicted or appealed for felonious ſtealing of two Horſes, two Geldings, or two Mares, or any other, and thereupon found guilty by verdict of twelve men, or confeſſed the ſame upon their arraignment, or ſtand wilfully, or of malice mute. 37 H. 8. 8. 1 Ed. 6. 12. 5. 10.

CAP. XXXIV.

An Act touching the Sheriff of Northumberland to be accomptable for his Office, as other Sheriffs be.

Sheriffs 39.

FOraſmuch as the Sheriffs of the County of Northumberland, which have been named now of long time paſſed, have not accounted to the Kings Highneſs of the iſſues and profits of their Bailiwick in the Kings Highneſs Exchequer, or elſewhere, as other Sheriffs of the ſaid County in old time paſſed have done, nor as the Sheriffs of other Counties of this Realm do at this time, but do yearly receive and take the whole profits thereof to their own uſes, to the great detriment and loſs of the King our Sovereign Lord, both of his Vicountels, and other Ferms anſwerable by the hands of the ſaid Sheriff, and of all other debts, iſſues, fines and amerciaments within the ſaid County, and of all alienations and intruſions, wards, marriages, relief, and ſuch other:

The Sheriff of Northumberland ſhall put in ſureties in the Exchequer for his accompt, as other Sheriffs do.

II. Wherefore be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth all and every ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall be hereafter named to be Sheriff of the ſaid County of Northumberland, forthwith before he receive his Patent, and before he do exerciſe any part of the ſaid Office, ſhall put in ſufficient ſureties by himſelf, or by his ſufficient deputy or deputies, into the Kings Exchequer, there to enter in Recogniſances in ſuch ſum, and upon ſuch conditions, as to the Lord Treaſurer, and Barons of the ſaid Exchequer ſhall ſeem convenient, in manner and form as all other Sheriffs of other Counties of this Realm do, upon pain of every ſuch Sheriff making default, to forfeit to the Kings Majeſty an hundred pound, to be levied of his goods and chattels, lands and tenements, whereſoever they may be found, to the Kings Highneſs uſe: (2) And that the ſaid Barons from time to time, ſhall cauſe ſuch Proceſs to be made for the King, for the levying of the ſaid hundred pound ſo to be forfeited, to be directed to ſuch perſon and perſons, and in ſuch nature and ſort as to them ſhall ſeem beſt for the King, for the levying thereof; Any thing in this Act, or any other Law, Statute, Uſe, Proviſion or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

How far the Sheriff of Northumberland ſhall be charged.

III. Provided always, and be it enacted by the ſaid authority, That any ſuch Sheriff being ſo bounden as is aboveſaid, ſhall not be accomptable but for his own time, and for the year of his Sheriffwick only, neither ſhall be charged in or upon his Accouut, by any Proceſs, with any Arrearages or Duties due to the Kings Majeſty by any his Predeceſſors in the ſaid Office of Sheriff; Any thing in this Act, or any Law or Uſage, or Prerogative to the contrary notwithſtanding.

An Act for carrying of Bell-metal out of the Realm.

Braſs 1. No perſon ſhall carry bell-metal, &c. out of this Realm. 33 H. 8. 7.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the three and thirtieth year of our late Sovereign Lord of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, it was enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhould carry or convey by water or otherwiſe, any braſs, copper, latton, bell-metal, pan-metal, or gun-metal, or ſhroff-metal, whether it be clean or mixed (tin and lead only excepted) into any part beyond the ſea, or into any outward Realm or Dominion whatſoever it be, upon pain of forfeiture of double the value thereof: (2) And where alſo by the ſaid Statute it was likewiſe enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhould at any time ſhip or carry any of the ſaid metals, to carry or diſcharge the ſame in any part of this Realm, unleſs ſuch perſon or perſons before the ſhipping thereof did declare and manifeſt unto the Cuſtomers of ſuch a Port or Creek where the ſame metal ſhould be ſhipped, the true weight of all ſuch metal as ſhould be ſhipped, (3) and ſhould alſo make a ſufficient obligation in the Law, in the which he ſhould be bounden to the ſaid Cuſtomer, to the Kings uſe, in ſuch ſum as ſhould amount to the double value of the ſaid metal ſo declared and manifeſted, with condition that the ſame ſhould be diſcharged at ſome Port or Creek within this Realm, and in no other place, upon pain to forfeit the ſame, in manner and form above rehearſed, as by the ſaid Act, amongſt other things, more plainly appeareth.

The penalty for carrying, or for ſhipping to carry any braſs, latton, &c. beyond the ſea.

II. Foraſmuch as the pains and forfeitures in the ſaid Eſtatute are not great enough, and foraſmuch alſo as divers covetous and greedy perſons, having no reſpect or obedience to the Laws, have craftily, and by all ſiniſter means practiſed to defraud the ſaid Eſtatute, ſome by bribing and rewarding the Searchers, Maſters, Purſers, or other Officers of Ships, ſome by ſecret conveying thereof in ſmall Creeks, Sugar-cheſts, Hogſheads or otherwiſe: (2) Be it therefore ordained and enacted, That from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, no perſon or perſons ſhall carry or convey, or ſhip, to the intent to carry or convey any braſs, copper, latton, bell-metal, pan-metal, gun-metal, or ſhroff-metal, whether it be clear or mixed, (tin and lead only excepted) into any part beyond the ſea, or into any outward Realm or Dominion whatſoever it be, (3) upon pain to forfeit the double value thereof, and ten pound for every thouſand weight of the ſame metal ſo carried and conveyed, or ſhipped, to the intent to be carried or conveyed; the trial whereof ſhall be in like manner and form as in the ſaid former Act is expreſſed.

What he muſt do that ſhippeth metals into one Port of this Realm, to carry to another.

III. And be it further enacted, That no perſon or perſons after the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall ſhip or carry any of the ſaid metals prohibited by this Statute, to carry or diſcharge the ſame in any part of this Realm, unleſs ſuch perſon or perſons before the ſhipping thereof, do declare and manifeſt to the Cuſtomer of ſuch Port or Creek where the ſame metal ſhall be ſhipped, the true weight of all ſuch metals as ſhall be ſhipped, and ſhall alſo before the ſhipping thereof, make a ſufficient obligation in the Law, in which he ſhall be bounden to the ſaid Cuſtomer to the Kings uſe, in ſuch ſum as ſhall amount to the double value, and x. l. for every M. weight ſo declared and manifeſted, with condition, as in the ſaid Statute is appointed and enacted, and ſhall make certificate of the diſcharge thereof, in like manner as in the ſaid Statute is further ordained and enacted.

The penalty of a Cuſtomer offending.

IV. And be it further enacted, That if any Cuſtomer, Comptroller, or their Deputy or Deputies, by covin, or by any other undue mean, will ſuffer any perſon after that the metal is ſhipped or carried, contrary to the meaning of this Act, to make obligation or obligations without dates, for the diſcharge and certificate of their metal, as is aforeſaid, that then ſuch Cuſtomer ſo ſuffering, or receiving ſuch obligation or obligations, ſhall loſe his Office, and the value of the metal, ſo ſhipped or carried.

The penalty of the Maſter of a ſhip which carrieth the metal.

IV. And be it further enacted, That if any Maſter, Owner, Purſer, or Boatſwain of any Ship, do willingly permit or ſuffer any of the metals aboveſaid to be ſhipped contrary to the tenor of this Act, or elſe perceiving any ſuch metals to be ſhipped, do not diſcloſe the ſame within three days after knowledge had, to the Cuſtomer or Comptroller of the ſame Port, or his or their Deputy or Deputies where the ſame is ſhipped, that then every ſuch Owner, Maſter, Purſer or Boatſwain, ſo willingly putting the ſame metal to be ſhipped, or concealing the ſame when he perceiveth it to be ſhipped, ſhall forfeit the double value of the ſame metal ſo ſhipped or carried: (2) And if any Cuſtomer or Searcher do willingly ſuffer any of the metals aforeſaid, to be ſhipped contrary to the meaning of this Act, or elſe having knowledge that it is ſecretly ſhipped or carried, do not ſeiſe the ſame to the Kings uſe, then every Cuſtomer or Searcher ſo offending, ſhall loſe his Office, and the value of the metal ſo ſhipped or carried.

No metal ſhall be laden but where there is a Cuſtomer.

VI. And be it further enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt, lade, ſhip, or carry into any part beyond the ſea, any of the metals aforeſaid, but only out of ſuch Port or Creek where the Cuſtomer or his Deputy is reſident and dwelling, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid metal, and ten pound for every thouſand weight ſo ſhipped or carried; (2) the moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to our Sovereign Lord the King, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by bill, plaint, information, action of debt, or otherwiſe, in any of the Kings Courts, in which no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

A confirmation of the Statute of 33 H. 8 7.

VII. And be it further enacted, That the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſaid three and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, and every Article and Proviſion, being not altered by this Eſtatute, ſhall be good and effectual. 21 H. 8. 10.

Anno tertio & quarto EDWARDI Sexti.

ACTS made in the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, holden upon prorogation at Weſtminſter the fourth day of November, in the third year of the Reign of our moſt dread Sovereign Lord, Edward the Sixth, by the Grace of God, King of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and of the Church of England, and alſo of Ireland, in Earth the Supream Head, and there continued and kept till the firſt day of February, in the fourth year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act that the Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being, to name and appoint the Cuſtos Rotulorum throughout all Shires of England, according as in time paſt hath been accuſtomed.

Cuſtos Rotulorum 1. The Lord Chancellor, &c. ſhall name the Cuſtos Rotulorum in every Shire of England and Wales. 37 H. 8. 1.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the ſeven and thirtieth year of the Reign of the moſt excellent Prince of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, it was enacted, that no perſon or perſons ſhould from the making of the ſaid Act, be nominated and appointed to the Office or Offices of Cuſtos Rotulorum, within any Shire of this Realm of England, Wales, or other the Kings Dominions, Marches or Territories of the ſame, but ſuch as ſhould have a Bill ſigned with the Kings hand for the ſame, (2) which Bill ſigned ſhould be a ſufficient Warrant by Authority of the ſaid Act, to the Lord Chancellor of England, and Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being, to make from time to time Commiſſion or Commiſſions aſſigning and authoriſing thereby, the ſame perſon to be Cuſtos Rotulorum, until the King had by another Bill aſſigned with his own hand, appointed and ordained another perſon to have, occupy and exerciſe the ſame Office of Cuſtos Rotulorum, (3) and that the ſaid perſon appointed and aſſigned to be Cuſtos Rotulorum, as is aboveſaid, ſhould and might occupy, exerciſe and enjoy the ſaid Office of Cuſtos Rotulorum by himſelf, or by his ſufficient Deputy learned in the Laws of this Realm, and meet and able to ſupply the ſaid Office, according to the tenor of the ſaid Grant or Commiſſion, as by the ſame Act, among other things, more at large it doth and may appear.

Reaſons why the Cuſtos Rotulorum ſhould be aſſigned by the Lord Chancellor, and not by the King.

II. Since the making of which Statute, divers and many perſons being in the ſaid Offices of Cuſtos Rotulorum, in divers Shires of the Realm, have departed this preſent life, and died, ſo that there hath not come to the hands of the Chancellor of England, or Lord Keeper of the Geat Seal, any bill or bills aſſigned with the Kings Majeſties hand, for the naming, appointing or aſſigning of any new Cuſtos Rotulorum, in the ſame Shires, and ſo the ſaid Offices have remained void for a long time, to the great let of Juſtice; (2) and alſo for that it ſhall be very tedious and much to the moleſting of the Kings Majeſty upon every avoidance of ſuch Cuſtos Rotulorum, by death or otherwiſe, to move his Majeſty for the ſigning of bills for other perſons to be elected, named, choſen and appointed to ſupply the ſaid Offices of Cuſtos Rotulorum, being void: (3) And for that the nomination and appointing of the ſaid Office of Cuſtos Rotulorum, long before the making of the ſaid Statute laſt before rehearſed, did appertain and belong to the Office of the Chancellor of England, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being:

The L. Chancellor, or, &c. ſhall appoint the Cuſtos Rotulorum in every Shire.

III. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that the Chancellor of England, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being, ſhall at all time and times hereafter, and from time to time without any bill or bills to be aſſigned with the Kings hand, name, elect, aſſign and appoint ſuch perſon and perſons to be Cuſtos Rotulorum within every Shire of this Realm of England, Wales, and other the Kings Dominions, Marches and Territories of the ſame, or by any of them, as by the diſcretion of the ſaid Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being, ſhall be thought able and meet to have and exerciſe the ſame: (2) and that the ſaid perſon and perſons ſo to be appointed, elected, named, and aſſigned by the ſaid Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being, ſhall and may occupy, exerciſe and enjoy the ſame Office of Cuſtos Rotulorum, by himſelf, or by his ſufficient Deputy or Deputies, in as ample and large manner and form, as if the ſaid Act had never been had ne made; the before rehearſed Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Cuſtos Rotulorum may exerciſe his office by himſelf or his deputy.

IV. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch as now have any of the ſaid Offices of Cuſtos Rotulorum, by the Kings Letters Patents, or Commiſſion to them or any of them made, ſhall and may enjoy, have and exerciſe their ſaid Offices by virtue of the ſame Letters Patents or Commiſſion, by himſelf, or his ſufficient and able Deputy, inſtructed in the Laws of this Realm; any thing in this preſent Act had or made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The right of other ſaved which have authority to name the Cuſtos Rotulorum,

V. Provided alſo, that it be enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Archbiſhop of York, the Biſhop of Durham, the Biſhop of Ely, and every of their Succeſſors, the Chancellor of the Dutchy of Lancaſter for the time being, and all and every perſon and perſons, Corporations and bodies corporated, to whom the Kings Majeſty, or any of his noble Progenitors, by his or their Letters Patents, or Act of Parliament, have given and granted any liberty and authority, or otherwiſe have authority by other lawful means or ways, to ordain, make and conſtitute any of the ſaid Officers of Cuſtos Rotulorum, within any County Palatine or other place, ſhall and may have and enjoy the ſame liberty and authority, according as they have had and enjoyed the ſame; any thing in this preſent Act had or made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. II.

An Act for true making of Woollen Clothes.

Drapery 45. &c. In Towns not corporate, Juſtices of Peace ſhall appoint Overſeers for the true making of woollen Cloth, &c. The Clothier ſhall ſet his ſeal of lead to his cloth.

FOraſmuch as by the ſleight and ſubtile making of Clothes and Colours within divers parts of this Realm now of late practiſed and uſed, not only great infamies and ſlanders have grown to the ſame Realm, but alſo the Kings Majeſties faithful and true Subjects have ſuſtained great loſs in the uſe and wearing of the ſame Clothes ſo ſleightily and ſubtilly made: (2) For remedy and reformation whereof, be it ordained and enacted by the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every Clothier and Cloth-maker, ſhall from the Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady next coming, ſet his Seal of Lead to his Cloth, declaring thereby the juſt lengths thereof to be tried by the water.

Stretching of cloth.

II. And that no perſon ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt, ſtrain or ſtretch any ſet Clothes, or any other Cloth above one yard and an half in length, and a quarter of a yard in breadth, upon pain to forfeit xl. s. for every default.

Alt. 5 Ed. 6. 6. 39 El. 20. 43 El. 10. Shrinking of cloth.

III. And that no perſon or perſons ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt, upon pain laſt before remembred, put to ſale any Cloth, which when it ſhall be wet, ſhall ſhrink more then one yard and an half in all the length, and a quarter of a yard in the breadth: (2) and that narrow Streits and Kerſies ſhall not from the ſaid Feaſt be ſtretched above a yard in length, and half a quarter of a yard in breadth, (3) upon the pain for every default therein, xx. s. (4) nor ſhall put to ſale any Cloth, narrow Streit, or Kerſie, the pieces whereof being wet, ſhall ſhrink more then after the ſame ſeveral rates in the whole piece, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch offence, xx. s.

Dying of cloth.

IV. And further, That no perſon or perſons occupying the Feat of Dying, ſhall dye or alter into Colours, or cauſe to be dyed or altered into Colours, any woollen Clothes, as brown Blews, Pewks, Tawnies or Violets, except the ſame woollen Clothes be perfectly boyled, greined or maddered upon the Woad, and ſhot with good and ſufficient Cork or Orchal, after a due, ſubſtantial and ſufficient manner of workmanſhip, according to the ancient workmanſhip in time paſt uſed, upon pain for every default to forfeit xx. s.

Dying of wooll.

V. Nor that any perſon ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt, dye any wooll to be converted into Cloth, called ruſſets, muſters, marbles, grays, ropes, and ſuch like colours, or to be converted and made into Hats or Caps, unleſs the ſame wooll be perfectly woaded, boyled and maddered according to the true and ancient uſage, upon the pain of forfeiture for the falſe dying of every ſuch Cloth, or of as much wooll as ſhall ſerve for the making of every Cloth contrary to the true meaning hereof, xl. s. (2) Nor ſhall dye with Braſel, to the intent to make a falſe Colour in Cloth or Wooll, Hats nor Caps, upon pain for every default to forfeit xx. s.

No deceivable thing ſhall be put upon cloth.

VI. And that no perſon or perſons ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt, put any flocks, chalk, flower or ſtertch, or any other deceivable thing, upon any ſet Cloth, or upon any other Cloth or Clothes coloured or uncoloured, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch offence, xl. s.

No iron cards or picards.

VII. And that no perſon ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt, occupy any Iron Cards, or Picards, in rowing of any ſet Cloth, or any manner of woollen Cloth, upon pain to forfeit as well the ſaid Iron Cards, or Picards, as alſo the ſum of xx. s. for every ſuch offence.

Meaſure of cloth. 6 H. 8. 6.

VIII. Nor that any perſon ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt, ſell any Cloth by any leſs meaſure then after the true content thereof, to be meten and meaſured by the yard, adding to every yard one inch of the rule, according to the Statute made in the ſixth year of the Reign of the moſt worthy Prince of moſt famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, Father unto our

Sovereign

Preſſed cloth.

Sovereign Lord the King that now is, upon pain to forfeit for every yard of cloth ſo put to ſale by any leſs meaſure, ſix ſhillings eight pence: (2) And that no perſon ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt, put to ſale here within the Realm, either by retail or otherwiſe, any cloth being preſſed, to be occupied and worn here within the Realm of England, Wales, or Ireland, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame cloth, or the value thereof, that have been ſo preſſed and put to ſale, as is laſt before remembred.

Overſeers appointed by Juſtices of Peace, or chief Governours of Corporate Towns.

IX. And for the better execution of this Statute, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in every Town, Village or Hamlet, being not corporate, where any cloth ſhall be made or ſold, the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame Shire where any ſuch Town, Village or Hamlet is, or two of them at the leaſt; and in every City, Borough or Town-corporate, the head Officer or Officers of every of the ſame City, Borough or Town-corporate, together with the Wardens of the Cloth workers, or two of them at the leaſt, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, once every year to convent, and call before them by their precept or otherwiſe, two, four, ſix, eight or more, as they ſhall think good by their diſcretion, of the moſt honeſt, diſcreet, and indifferent men of every ſuch City, Borough, Town, Village or Hamlet where any cloth ſhall be made or ſold, and them ſhall conſtitute, ordain and appoint to be Overſeers for one whole year then next following, within the City, Borough, Town, Village or Hamlet where the ſame Overſeers ſhall be dwelling, charging them alſo upon their Oaths, and as they do tender the honour of the Realm, and the Commonwealth of the ſame, that they do endeavour themſelves for that year, as much as in them ſhall lie, to ſee that this Statute be truly obſerved and kept within the limits of their charge in every part thereof.

The Overſeers duty.

The forfeiture for defaults in cloth, and who ſhall have them.

X. And that the ſame Overſeers, or two of them, ſhall every quarter of the ſaid year at the leaſt, or ſo often as need ſhall require, by their diſcretions, by force hereof, viſit, and go into every Clothiers, Drapers, Clothworkers, Dyers, and Preſſors Houſes, Shops, and other places where cloth or dyed wooll ſhall be, and there to make due ſearch, and to view the clothes and woolls made or dyed, or remaining to be ſold, and to ſearch and try, as well whether the ſaid clothes be drawn or ſtrained, or falſly dyed, as alſo of all other the defaults before ſpecified, committed or done contrary to the true meaning of this Act: (2) And if upon the ſearch, the clothes be found drawn or ſtrained, or the cloth or woolls falſly dyed or coloured, or any other of the ſaid faults committed or done contrary to the true meaning of this ſtatute; that then the ſaid ſeveral forfeitures to incur upon the party or parties which ſhall offend in the ſame or in any of them; (3) the one half of all which forfeitures to be unto the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other half to ſuch of the ſaid Overſeers as doth find the ſaid defaults or cauſes of forfeitures, and that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, or before the Juſtices of Peace within any ſuch City, Borough or Town-corporate, or before the Juſtices of Peace within any Shire where any ſuch forfeitures ſhall be had out of any City, or Town-corporate; the ſame ſuit to be purſued by Bill, Plaint, Action of Debt, Information, or otherwiſe; and in which ſuit no Wager of Law, Eſſoin or Protection ſhall be allowed for the Defendant.

XI. And if the ſaid Overſeers ſhall be negligent, and will not ſue for the ſame forfeitures by the ſpace of one half year next after the cauſe of the ſame forfeitures committed and done, that then the one half of the ſame forfeiture to be unto our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other half for him which will ſue for the ſame, as is aforeſaid, within one other half year next after ſuch default be had by the ſaid Overſeers.

The forfeiture of him which refuſeth to be Overſeer.

XII. And if any the ſaid perſons ſo commanded to appear to be made Overſeers, as is aforeſaid, and having no reaſonable excuſe do refuſe to come, and to take upon him or them to be an Overſeer, as is aforeſaid, that then every ſuch perſon refuſing, and having no reaſonable excuſe ſo to do, to forfeit for every ſuch refuſing, fourty ſhillings, the one half thereof to be to the King our ſaid Sovereign, his Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other half to the Juſtices of Peace, or other head officer or officers by whoſe commandment he was commanded to appear, or to be an Overſeer, (2) and the ſame Overſeer ſo offending, to remain in the ward of the Sheriff, until ſuch time as he have made payment of the ſaid forfeiture, or otherwiſe put in ſufficient bond for the ſatisfaction of the ſame. (3) And if the ſame Overſeers, or two of them at the leaſt, do not once every quarter of the year, make due ſearch for the true executing of this Statute; That then every of the ſaid Overſeers to forfeit for every ſuch default ten pound, the one half to be to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame by Bill, Plaint, Action of Debt, Information, or otherwiſe; In which ſuit no Eſſoin or Protection ſhall be allowed for the Defendant. (4) And if the ſaid Overſeers ſhall be interrupted, and, and not ſuffered to enter into the ſaid Houſes, Shops, or other places where any ſuch clothes or woolls ſhall be made or dyed, or any other of the ſaid defaults ſhall happen to be done or committed, there to make ſearch for the better executing of this Statute, that then every one that ſo ſhall make any ſuch interruption, ſhall forfeit twenty pound, the one half of which forfeiture to be to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other half thereof to be to the ſaid Overſeers to whom any ſuch interruption ſhall be made, and the ſame to be obtained and purſued for, in ſuch manner and form as before in this Act is expreſſed, for the recovery of other the ſaid forfeitures.

The forfeiture for the interruption of the Overſeers.

XIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful to every perſon and perſons, to put to ſale any Cloth or Clothes, made, dyed, or preſſed, which before the ſaid Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady, ſhall be made, dyed, or preſſed at any time within one year next after the ſaid Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady, ſo as the Aulnager or his Deputy, or other head Officer in any ſuch City, Borough, Town, Village or Hamlet, do put ſome notorious mark to every ſuch Cloth, whereby the ſame may be known to be made before the ſaid Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady next coming.

XIV. Provided alſo, That no manner of perſon ſhall take any advantage of any of the ſaid for-

Within what time the forfeiture ſhall be taken.

forfeitures by reaſon of this Statute, unleſs the ſame perſon doth commence his ſuit within one year next after the ſaid offences and forfeitures committed.

Clothes ſhall be marked with the letter E crowned.

XV. And to the intent that all ſuch clothes as ſhall be made within this Realm, or any other of the Kings Dominions, after the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall be the better known from the other clothes made before the ſame time, Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Clothier ſhall before ſuch time as he ſhall put his cloth to ſale, being made after the ſaid Feaſt, cauſe every cloth to be marked with a letter E crowned, wrought in the cloth, upon pain of forfeiture for every cloth ſo being ſold, and not marked with the ſaid letter E by any ſuch clothier, xx. s. the one half of which forfeiture to be to our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame in manner and form before rehearſed.

CAP. III.

An Act concerning the Approvements of Moors and waſte grounds.

Approvements 5. Every perſon bringing an Aſſiſe upon any branch of either of the ſtatutes touching approvement of waſtes, &c. ſhall have treble damages. 20 H. 3. 4.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Merton in the twentieth year of the Reign of King Henry the third, it is contained, That for becauſe many great men of England which had enfeoffed Knights, and other their free Tenants of ſmall Tenements in their great Manors, did complain that they might not make their profits of the reſidue of their Manors, as of waſte Woods and Paſtures, where the ſame Feoffees had ſufficient Paſture, as much as belonged unto their tenements, (2) it was provided and granted, That whatſoever perſons ſo enfeoffed, brought Aſſiſe of novel diſſeiſin, of their common of paſture, and before the Juſtices it were Recognized, that they had as much paſture as did ſuffice unto their tenements, (3) and that they had free ingreſs and egreſs into and from their tenements unto their paſture, that then they ſhould therewith be contented, and that they upon whom they had complained, ſhould depart quiet with that, that they might make their profit of their Lands, Waſtes, Woods and Paſtures; (4) and if it were ſaid that they had not ſufficient Paſture, or ſufficient ingreſs and egreſs, as much as doth belong unto their Tenements, as is aboveſaid, that then the truth thereof ſhould be enquired by Aſſiſe; (5) and if it were recognized by the Aſſiſe, that their ingreſs and egreſs were in any thing letted by the ſame deforciators, or that they had not ſufficient paſture, and ſufficient ingreſs and egreſs, as is aboveſaid, that then they ſhould recover their ſeiſin by view of the Jurors, ſo that by the diſcretion and oath of them, the complainants ſhould have ſufficient paſture, and ſufficient ingreſs and egreſs, in form aforeſaid, and that the diſſeiſors ſhould be in amerciament of the King, and ſhould yield damages as they were wont to do before the ſame proviſion: (6) And if it were recognized by the Aſſiſe, that the complainants had ſufficient paſture, with free ingreſs and egreſs, as is above mentioned, That then the other might lawfully do their profit of the reſidue, and ſhould go quit from the ſame Aſſiſe, as in the ſaid Eſtatute more plainly appeareth:

By the Stat. 13 Ed. 1. c. 46. Lords of manors may approve againſt their neighbours.

II. And where alſo in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter after Eaſter, the thirteenth year of the Reign of King Edward the firſt, it was ordained, That where in the ſtatute made at Merton, it was agreed, That Lords of Waſtes, Woods and Paſtures, might approve themſelves of their Waſtes, Woods and Paſtures, notwithſtanding the gainſaying and contradiction of their tenants, while the ſame tenants had ſufficient paſture to their tenements, with free ingreſs and egreſs into and from the ſame; (2) And for that no mention was made between neighbour and neighbour, many Lords of Waſtes, Woods and Paſtures, unto that time were let by contradiction or gainſaying of neighbours, having ſufficient Paſture: (3) And forasmuch as foreign tenants have no greater right of commoning in the Wood, Waſte or Paſture of any Lord, then the proper tenants of the ſame Lord, (4) it was from henceforth ordained, That the ſaid ſtatute provided at Merton, between the Lord and his tenants, ſhould have place from thenceforth between the Lords of Waſtes, Woods and Paſtures, and Neighbours; ſaving ſufficient paſture to their men and neighbours, ſo that the Lords of the ſame Waſtes, Woods and Paſtures, may approve themſelves of the reſidue, (5) and that the ſame ſhould be obſerved of them that claim paſture, as pertaining to their tenements; (6) But if any man claim common of paſture by ſpecial Feoffment or Grant, to a certain number of Beaſts, or otherwiſe then of common right he ought to have it, where covenant doth abrogate the law, he ſhall have ſuch recovery as he ought to have by form of the grant to him made: (7) And that by occaſion of a Windmill, Sheephouſe, Dairy, augmentation or increaſe of any Court neceſſary, or Curtilage, from thenceforth no man ſhould be grieved by Aſſiſe of novel diſſeiſin of common paſture. (8) And forasmuch as it happeneth ſometime, that ſome man having right to approve to himſelf, hath made or levied a ditch or a hedge, and other by night, or ſuch other time, when they believe their deed ſhould not be known, do or will caſt down the ſame ditch or hedge, and that it cannot be known by verdict of Aſſiſe or Jury, who did caſt down the ſame ditch or hedge, nor the men of the next Town will indict them that be guilty of the ſame deeds, then the next Townſhip adjoyning about the ſame ſhall be diſtrained to levy and make up the ſame ditch or hedge at their proper coſts, and to yield damages, as in the ſaid eſtatute amongſt other things more plainly appeareth:

For what cauſes any may approve common. A ditch or hedge of ground approved, caſt down by perſons unknown.

A confirmation of the foreſaid Stat. of Merton and Weſt. 2.

III. And forasmuch as the aforeſaid eſtatutes been thought beneficial for the Common wealth of this Realm of England, Be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every the ſaid Statutes, and all branches, clauſes, articles, ſentences, matters and points contained and ſpecified in them, and every of them, now not repealed, ſhall from henceforth be good and effectual, and alſo ſtand and be in their full ſtrength, force and effect.

Treble damages upon an Aſſiſe of common of paſture, &c.

IV. And becauſe that ſuch perſons as ſhall bring an Aſſiſe of novel diſſeiſin upon the ſaid eſtatutes, or upon any of them, ſhall by force of the eſtatute, recover but only ſingle damages, which is thought to be a ſmall recompence for the ſame: (2) Therefore be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall at any time hereafter bring Aſſiſe upon any branch or article of the ſaid eſtatutes, or any of them, and have judgment to recover, ſhall have his or their damages trebled by the judgment of the Court where ſuch Aſſiſe and judgment ſhall be had.

V. And where in divers Countries of this Realm, there hath been builded upon Commons or waſte grounds, certain neceſſary houſes with ground, under the quantity of three acres, and not above three acres encloſed to and with the ſame; and in ſome place there is encloſed a Garden, Orchard or Pond, out of, or in ſuch waſtes or grounds, which exceed not the quantity of two acres, or thereabouts, which doth no hurt, and yet is much commodity to the owner thereof, and to others, (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the two former Acts, nor any of them, nor any thing in them contained, ſhall extend to any ſuch houſe, ground, or other thing ſo incloſed, as is laſt herein before mentioned, ne ſhall cauſe any perſon or perſons to loſe or forfeit any pain, damage or penalty for the ſame.

Houſes builded upon waſtes with three acres of ground.

VI. Provided always, and be it enacted, That if any ſuch houſe hath been heretofore builded upon any ſuch waſte ground as is aforeſaid, and that there be above the number of three acres encloſed to the ſame, that then the ſaid houſe and three acres, parcel of the ſame encloſure, ſhall ſtill remain, ſtand, abide and continue in like, and the ſame form and degree as it now doth, and that the overplus of the ſaid three acres ſo encloſed, as is aforeſaid, ſhall and may be laid open by the owner or owners of the ſame waſtes; Any thing in this Act, or in any of the ſaid former Acts to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The overplus above three acres ſhall be laid open.

CAP. IV.

An Act concerning Grants and Gifts made by Patentees out of Letters Patents.

Where the right Noble and famous King of full worthy memory, King Henry the Eighth, Father to our moſt dread and now natural Sovereign liege Lord, ſithence the fourth day of February, in the ſeven and twentieth year of his late Reign, and alſo the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, by their ſeveral Letters Patents, have given, granted, bargained, ſold and exchanged, to and with divers and ſundry the Subjects of this Realm, bodies politick and corporate, in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, for term of life or years, divers honours, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments and offices; (2) after and ſince which grants, bargains, ſales and exchanges, divers of the ſaid Patentees, their heirs, ſucceſſors or aſſigns, have bargained, ſold, given, exchanged, or demiſed divers particular parts, parcels or portions of the ſaid Honours, Caſtles, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments and Offices, or other things thereunto appertaining or belonging, to other perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, that is to ſay, to ſome of them in fee-ſimple, to ſome other in fee-tail, for term of life or years, or otherwiſe, (3) and after the ſame Patentees, for conſiderations them moving, have ſurrendred or given up their ſaid Letters Patents into the Chancery, or otherwiſe the ſame Letters Patents have been forfeited by attainder, loſt, cancelled, imbeziled, or by other ways or means have come to the hands of the Kings Majeſty his late Father; (4) And thereupon oft-times the enrollment of the ſame hath been made void and fruſtrate, ſometime in part, and ſometime in the whole, (5) by reaſon whereof ſuch perſons, bodies politick or corporate, as have had intereſt or title in or to the ſame caſtles, manors, or particular portions or parcels of the ſame ſo to them given and granted, have been in times paſt, and in time to come are like to be diſherited, or in danger of loſs of their intereſt, in or to the ſame, to their no little hinderance and peril:

Exemplification I. Grants made by Patentees, out of Patents, ſhall be good.

II. For remedy whereof, be it ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by the Authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick or corporate, which lawfully ſhall or may claim by force of any Patent or Patents made ſithence the fourth day of February, or hereafter to be made by the Kings Majeſty, his heirs or ſucceſſors Kings of this Realm, or by any of them, (2) and all other that now have, or hereafter ſhall happen to have any good or lawful eſtate, right, title, rent, profit, intereſt or poſſeſſion, of, in, to (3) or out of any Honours, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, or Offices, or of other things, to any of the premiſſes appertaining or belonging, or to any part, parcel or member of them or any of them, by, from or under any ſuch Patentee or Patentees, or any of them, or by, from, or under the heirs, ſucceſſors or aſſigns of them or any of them, (4) or by, from, or under the eſtate of any others which had, have, or hereafter ſhall have the eſtate, title, or intereſt of any ſuch Patentee or Patentees, or by any other means under the date of ſuch Letters Patents, (5) ſhall and may at all times hereafter, in any the Kings Courts, his heirs or ſucceſſors, and elſewhere, by virtue of this preſent Act, make and convey unto themſelves Title by way of Declaration, Plaint, Avowry, Title, Barr, or otherwiſe, as well againſt the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors, and every of them, as againſt any other perſon or perſons, unto the ſaid Honours, Caſtles, Manors, Lands, Tenements, Offices, and other the premiſſes, or any part or parcel of the ſame, unto them, or any their predeceſſors or anceſtors, or others whoſe eſtate they have in the ſame, by, from or under the ſaid Patentees, or any of them, or the heirs, anceſtors or aſſigns of any of them, or otherwiſe under the date of the ſaid Letters Patents, compriſed and contained in any exemplification or conſtat thereof made or to be made, by the ſhewing forth of the ſaid exemplification or conſtat of the Roll, or of ſo much thereof as ſhall ſerve for the matter in variance, under the great Seal of England: (6) And the ſame exemplification or conſtat of the ſaid enrollment ſo (as is aforeſaid) pleaded and ſhewed, ſhall be of like and the ſame force and effect, to all intents and conſtructions in the Law, as the ſaid firſt Letters Patents were and ſhould be of, if the ſame were or ſhould be pleaded or ſhewed. 13 El. 6.

3 Leonard. 165. An exemplification of the Kings Letters Patents under the great Seal, ſhall be of as good force as if the ſame Letters Patents were ſhewed.

CAP. V.

It ſhall be high Treaſon for twelve perſons or above, being aſſembled together, to attempt to kill or impriſon any of the Kings Council, or to alter any laws, and to continue together by the ſpace of an hour, being commanded by a Juſtice of Peace, Mayor, Sheriff, &c. to return. And it ſhall be Felony for twelve perſons or above, to practiſe to deſtroy any Park, Pond, Conduit, or Dove-houſe, or to have common or way in any ground: Or to pull down any Houſes, Barns or Mills: Or to burn any ſtack of Corn: Or to abate the Rents of any Lands, or the prices of any Victual, and to continue together an hour, being commanded by a Juſtice of Peace, Sheriffs, Bailiff, &c. by Proclamation, to return, EXP. St. 7 Ed. 6. 11. & REP. 1 M. 12.

CAP. VI.

Cordwayners, Raſt. 21.

All Artificers uſing the cutting of Leather, may buy and ſell all tanned Leather, ſo that they convert the ſame into made wares, notwithſtanding the Statute of 2 & 3 Ed. 6. 9. EXP. St. 1 M. 13.

CAP. VII.

An Act for the Repeal of the Statute made in the 25th of King Henry the Eighth, touching the taking of Wild Fowl at certain times of the year.

Wild Fowl, Raſt. 1. Part of the Statute concerning taking of Wild Fowl with nets and other engines, repealed. 25 H. 8. 11.

Whereas in the five and twentieth year of the reign of your Majeſties Father, of moſt famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, an Act was made containing two branches, whereof the one was againſt the taking of Wild Fowl between the laſt day of May and the laſt day of Auguſt, with any nets or engines, upon a pain limited thereupon, as in the ſaid Statute more largely doth appear: (2) Foraſmuch as the occaſion of the ſaid branches appeareth ſithen to have riſen but upon a private caſe, and that no manner of common commodity is ſithen perceived to be grown of the ſame, being notably by daily experience found and known, that there is at this preſent leſs plenty of fowl brought unto the markets then was before the making of the ſaid Act, which is taken to come of the puniſhment of God, whoſe benefit was thereby taken away from the poor people that were wont to live by their ſkill in taking of the ſaid fowl, whereby they were wont at that time to ſuſtain themſelves, with their poor houſholds, to the great ſaving of other kinds of victual, of the which aid they are now deſtitute, to their great and extream impoveriſhing. (3) Humbly beſeeching your Grace your Majeſties true and faithful Subjects, eſpecially ſuch as have their places of Habitation nigh unto the Fens, that all that branch of the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid five and twentieth year of your Graces ſaid Father of moſt noble memory, touching the taking of Wild Fowl, in manner as is aboveſaid, may be from henceforth by your Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, repealed, and utterly void and of none effect, with all and every article, ſentence, matter, pains and forfeitures contained, or otherwiſe mentioned in the ſaid branch, as if the ſame Act had never been had ne made.

No perſon ſhall deſtroy or take away the eggs of any Wild Fowl.

II. Provided, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That one other branch contained in the ſaid Act, concerning ſuch perſons as ſhall preſume by day or night willingly to withdraw, purloyn, take, deſtroy, or convey any manner of eggs of any kind of Wild Fowl, from or in any neſt, place or places where they ſhall chance to be layed by any kind of Wild Fowl, with every article, ſentence, matter, pains, forfeitures and proviſions contained or mentioned in this ſaid laſt branch, ſhall ſtand in full ſtrength and effect, to all purpoſes, intents and conſtructions, as if this preſent Act had never been had nor made.

CAP. VIII.

An Act for continuance of the Statute of Sewers.

Sewers, 1. 8, 19 The Statute of Sewers ſhall be continued 23 H. 8. 5.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter by Prorogation, the fifteenth day of January, in the three and twentieth year of the moſt victorious Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, among other things, one general Act concerning Commiſſions of Sewers, to be directed into all parts within this Realm, was enacted and made to continue and endure for twenty years then next following, as by the ſame Act more at large it doth and may appear: (2) And foraſmuch as the ſame Act is thought good and beneficial for the Common-wealth of this Realm, Be it therefore enacted and ordained by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Act, and all clauſes, articles and proviſions in the ſame contained, ſhall continue and endure in their force and ſtrength, and to be obſerved and kept for ever, in ſuch manner and form as ſhall and may ſtand with the ſequel and additions hereafter mentioned.

All ſums of money rated by force of the Commiſſion of Sewers, upon any of the Kings Land, ſhall be leviable by diſtreſs.

II. And be it further enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſcots, lots, and ſums of money hereafter to be rated and taxed by virtue of ſuch Commiſſion of Sewers, upon any of the Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments of our Sovereign Lord the King, his heirs or ſucceſſors, for any manner of thing or things concerning the articles of the ſaid Commiſſion of Sewers, ſhall be gathered and levied by diſtreſs, or otherwiſe, in like manner and form as ſhall or may be done in the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments of any other perſon or perſons; (2) And that all Bills of Acquittance, ſigned with the hand or hands of ſuch Collector or Receiver as ſhall have the Collection thereof by the appointment of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or ſix of them, ſhall be as well a ſufficient diſcharge to the Tenants, Fermors, and Occupiers of the ſame grounds ſo to be charged for the ſaid ſum wherewith their grounds ſhall be ſo charged, as alſo ſufficient warrant to all and every the Receivers, Auditors, and other whatſoever Officer or Officers of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his heirs and ſucceſſors, for the allowance to ſuch Tenant, Fermor, or Occupier for the ſame: (3) Adding moreover unto this Act, by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſuch and like Fees, and none other nor more, ſhall be at any time paid or demanded for any Commiſſion or Commiſſions, or Writs of dedimus poteſtatem, hereafter to be ſued out, or obtained under the Seal of the Dutchy, but only ſuch and like Fees as been mentioned in the ſaid former Act, to be paid in the Chancery, for Commiſſions and Writs of dedimus poteſtatem, to be obtained from the ſame Court of Chancery: (4) Adding moreover thereunto by the authority aforeſaid, That every Commiſſion and Commiſſions hereafter to be awarded for Sewers, ſhall continue and endure for term of five years next after the Teſte of ſuch Commiſſion, unleſs the ſame Commiſſion and Commiſſions ſhall be otherwiſe diſcharged within the ſame, by Superſedeas; any thing or things mentioned or contained in the ſaid former Act, contrary to the additions before mentioned, or any of them, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

An Act for aboliſhing and putting away diverſe Books and Images.

Books, Raſt. 3. Certain Books and Images ſhall be aboliſhed.

2 & 3 Ed. 6. c. 1. St. 3 Jac. 5.

WHere the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty hath of late ſet forth, and eſtabliſhed by authority of Parliament, an uniform, quiet and godly Order of Common and open Prayer, in a Book Entituled, The Book of Common Prayer, and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies after the Church of England, to be uſed and obſerved in the ſaid Church of England, agreeable to the Order of the Primitive Church, much more comfortable unto his loving Subjects, then other diverſity of Service, as heretofore of long time hath been uſed, being in the ſaid Book ordained nothing to be read but the very pure Word of God, or which is evidently grounded upon the ſame, (2) and in the other, things corrupt, untrue, vain, and ſuperſtitious, and as it were a preparation to Superſtition: which for that they be not called in, but permitted to remain undefaced, do not only give occaſion to ſuch perverſe perſons, as do impugn the order and godly meaning of the Kings ſaid Book of Common Prayer, to continue in their old acccuſtomed ſuperſtitious Service, but alſo miniſter great occaſion to diverſity of Opinions, Rites, Ceremonies and Services: (3) Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That all Books called Antiphoners, Miſſales, Grailes, Proceſſionals, Manuals, Legends, Pies, Portuaſſes, Primers, in Latin and Engliſh, Couchers, Journals, Ordinals, or other Books or Writings whatſoever heretofore uſed for Service of the Church, Written or Printed in the Engliſh or Latin Tongue, other then ſuch as ſhall be ſet forth by the Kings Majeſty, ſhall be by authority of this preſent Act clearly and utterly aboliſhed, extinguiſhed, and forbidden for ever to be uſed or kept in this Realm, or elſewhere within any the Kings Dominions.

Images taken out of, or yet remaining in Churches, ſhall be deſtroyed.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, of what degree, eſtate or condition ſoever he, ſhe or they be, bodies politick or corporate, that now have, or hereafter ſhall have in his, her, or their cuſtody, any the Books or Writings of the ſorts aforeſaid, or any Images of ſtone, timber, alabaſter or earth, graven, carved or painted, which heretofore have been taken out of any Church or Chappel, or yet ſtand in any Church or Chappel, and do not before the laſt day of June next enſuing, deface and deſtroy, or cauſe to be defaced and deſtroyed the ſame Images, and every of them, and deliver, or cauſe to be delivered all and every the ſame Books to the Mayor, Bailiff, Conſtable or Church wardens of the Town where ſuch Books then ſhall be, to be by them delibered over openly within three months next following after the ſaid delivery, to the Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Chancellor, or Commiſſary of the ſame Dioceſs, to the intent the ſaid Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Chancellor, or Commiſſary, and every of them, cauſe them immediately after, either to be openly burnt, or otherwiſe defaced and deſtroyed, ſhall for every ſuch Book or Books willingly retained in his, her, or their hands or cuſtody within this Realm, or elſewhere within any the Kings Dominions, and not delivered, as is aforeſaid, after the ſaid laſt day of June, and be thereof lawfully convict, forfeit and loſe to the King our Sovereign Lord, for the firſt offence, ten ſhillings, and for the ſecond offence ſhall forfeit and loſe (being thereof lawfully convict) four pounds: and for the third offence, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment at the Kings will.

Popiſh Books ſhall be firſt delivered to the Mayor, &c. and then by him to the Biſhop, &c. to be burnt, or otherwiſe defaced.

The penalty of Mayor, &c. or Biſhop, &c. omitting their duty herein.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Mayors, Bailiffs, Conſtables, or Church-wardens, do not within three months after receit of the ſame Books, deliver, or cauſe to be delivered ſuch Books ſo by them received, to the Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Chancellor, or Commiſſary of their Dioceſs; (2) And if the ſaid Archbiſhop, Biſhops, Chancellor, or Commiſſaries, do not within fourty days after the receit of ſuch Books, burn, deface and deſtroy, or cauſe to be burned, defaced, or deſtroyed the ſame Books, and every of them, (3) that then they and every of them ſo offending, ſhall loſe and forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King, being thereof lawfully convict, fourty pounds: (4) The one half of all which forfeitures ſhall be to any of the Kings Subjects that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by bill, plaint, action of debt, or information; in which action no eſſoin, protection, wager of law, or other delay ſhall be allowed.

Juſtices of Aſſiſe and Peace ſhall hear and determine theſe offences.

IV. And for better execution of the ſaid Act, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Circuits, as Juſtices of Peace within the limits of their Commiſſion in the general Seſſions, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire of the offences aforeſaid, and to hear and determine the ſame, in ſuch form as they may do in other ſuch like caſes.

Images upon Tombs ſhall ſtill remain.

V. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any Image or Picture, ſet or graven upon any Tomb in any Church, Chappel, or Church-yard only for a Monument of any King, Prince, Noble man, or other dead perſon, which hath not been commonly reputed and taken for a Saint, but that all ſuch Pictures and Images may ſtand and continue in like manner and form, as if this Act had never been had nor made; any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Primers ſet out by H. 8. being purged may be ſtill retained.

VI. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That any perſon or perſons may uſe, keep, have and retain any Primers in the Engliſh or Latin tongue, ſet forth by the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, ſo that the ſentences of Invocation, or Prayer to Saints in the ſame Primers, be blotted, or clearly put out of the ſame; any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. An Act for buying and ſelling of Rother Beaſts and Cattel.

Cattel 2. No Cattel ſhall be bought but in open Fair or Market but by a Butcher, or for proviſion of houſhold, &c.

BE it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons at any time from and after the Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady next coming, ſhall buy, or commune and conclude to buy any manner of Oxen, Steers, Ronts, Kine, Heifers or Calves, but only in the open Fair or Market where the ſame ſhall happen to be brought and put to ſale, (2) and ſhall not ſell the ſame again on live, at, and in the Market or Fair where he bought the ſame, during the time of the ſaid Fair or Market, (3) upon pain of forfeiture of the double value of ſuch Cattel bought or ſold contrary to the tenor of this preſent Act.

For what purpoſes Cattel may be bought out of a Fair or Market. Exp.

II. Provided alway, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for all and every perſon and perſons, to buy any Oxen, Steers, Ronts, Kine, Heifers, and Calves, or any of them, out of any open Fair or Market, for his or their proviſion for their houſhold, teem or dairy, at his or their will and pleaſure, to be imployed and ſpent only in keeping and maintenance of his or their houſe, or for their teem or dairy, and not otherwiſe.

A Butcher ſhall not buy Cattel, and ſell them alive.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon being a Butcher, and uſing the Craft or Myſtery of Butchery, ſhall at any time after the ſaid Feaſt, buy any fat Oxen, Steers, Ronts, Kine, Heifers, Calves or Sheep, and ſell or cauſe to be ſold the ſame again on live, upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch Ox, Steer, Ront, Cow, Heifer, Calves or Sheep bargained or ſold contrary to the form of this preſent Act.

IV. Provided alway, That all and every perſon and perſons, being a Butcher, and uſing the Act and Myſtery of Butchery, ſhall and may at his and their will and pleaſure buy any fat Oxen, Steers, Ronts, Kine, Heifers, Calves and Sheep, or any of them, out of any open Fair or Market: So that ſuch Butcher ſell not, nor cauſe to be ſold the ſame again on live, as is aforeſaid; any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding: (2) The one moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed for tht Defendant or Defendants. Some part of the Stat. 2 Ed. 6. 15. repealed, containing the denial of certain Artificers to work in Cities or Towns where they dwell not.

Artificers, Raſt. 2. 2 & 3 Ed. 6. 15.

WHere by a certain Act made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter by Prorogation the fourth day of November, in the Second year of the Reign of our moſt dread Sovereign Lord the King that now is, it is enacted and eſtabliſhed, That no perſon or perſons ſhould at any time after the firſt day of April then next enſuing, interrupt, deny, let or diſturb any free Maſon, rough Maſon, Carpenter, Bricklayer, Plaiſterer, Joyner, Hard-hewer, Sawyer, Tiler, Pavier, Glaſier, Lime-burner, Brick-maker, Tile-maker, Plummer, or Labourer, born in this Realm, or made Denizen, to work in any of the ſaid Crafts in any City, Borough, or Town-corporate, with any perſon or perſons that will retain him or them, albeit the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo retained, or any of them, do not inhabit or dwell in the City, Borough, and Town-corporate, where he or they ſhall work, nor be free of the ſame City, Borough or Town; any Statute, Law, Ordinance, or other thing whatſoever before had or made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding, (2) and that upon pain of forfeiture of five pounds for every interruption or diſturbance done contrary to the ſaid Eſtatute; the one moiety of every ſuch forfeiture to be to the King, and the other moiety thereof to be to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by bill, plaint, action of debt, or information, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoign, nor protection ſhall be allowed, as by the ſaid Act of Parliament amongſt other things more plainly appeareth:

II. And foraſmuch as the City of London, being the Kings Chamber, and moſt ancient City of this Realm, the Artificers and Craftſmen of the Arts, Crafts and Myſteries aforeſaid, are at great coſts and charges, as well in bearing and paying of taxes, tallages, ſubſidies, ſcot, lot, and other charges, as well to the Kings Majeſty, as to the ſaid City, and at many and ſundry triumphs, and other times for the Kings honour, and that if Foreigners ſhould come and work among them, within the liberties of the ſaid City, contrary to their ancient priviledges, that the ſame ſhould be a great decay of Cunning, and an impoveriſhment and driving away of the Free-men, being Artificers of the Crafts, and Arts and Myſteries aforeſaid, within the ſaid City of London, to the great hurt or deſtruction of the ſaid City:

III. For Reformation whereof, the Kings Majeſty is pleaſed and contented, that it be enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That the ſaid Act only touching the Article and Clauſe aforeſaid, and all and every Sentence and Branch contained in the ſaid Act, concerning the ſame Article, ſhall from henceforth be reſumed, repealed, adnulled, revoked, adnihilated, and utterly made void for ever; Any thing contained in the ſaid former Act touching the Clauſe or Article aforeſaid, in any wiſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

So much of the Stat. of 2 & 3 El. 6. 15 Sect. 4. repealed as concerneth the denial of Artificers to work in a Town where they dwell &c.

CAP. XXI.

An Act concerning the buying and ſelling of Butter and Cheeſe.

BE it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons after the Feaſt of the Annunciation of our Lady next coming, ſhall buy to ſell again any Butter or Cheeſe, unleſs he or they ſell the ſame again by Retail in open Shop, Fair or Market, and not in Groſs, (2) upon pain of forfeiture of the double value of the ſame Butter and Cheeſe ſo ſold contrary to the tenor of this preſent Act: the one moiety of all which forfeiture to be to our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed for the defendant or defendants.

Butter 1. Butter or Cheeſe ſhall not be bought to be ſold again, except it be by retail in open Shop, Fair, or Market.

II. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid word of Retail mentioned in this Act, ſhall be expounded, declared and taken, only where a weight of Cheeſe, or a barrel of Butter, or of leſs quantity, and not above, ſhall be ſold at any time to any perſon or perſons in open Shop, Fair or Market, and that to be done without fraud or covin.

Retailing. 21 Jac. 22.

III. Provided alway, that this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any Inn-holder or Victualler, for ſuch Butter or Cheeſe as ſhall be ſpent or uttered by Retail in any of their houſes; any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. (2) This Act to endure to the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 14 Car. c. 6.

Inn-holders & Victuallers.

Anno quinto & ſexto EDWARDI ſexti.

ACTS made in the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, holden upon Prorogation at Weſtminſter the three and twentieth day of January, in the Fifth year of our moſt dread Sovereign Lord, Edward the Sixth, by the Grace of God, King of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and of the Church of England, and of Ireland, in Earth the Supream Head: and there continued and kept till the Fifteenth of April, in the ſixth year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lord, as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act for the Uniformity of Service and Adminiſtration of Sacraments throughout the Realm.

WHere there hath been a very godly Order ſet forth by the Authority of Parliament, for Common Prayer and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, to be uſed in the mother-tongue within this Church of England, agreeable to the Word of God, and the primitive Church, very comfortable to all good people deſiring to live in Chriſtian converſation, and moſt profitable to the Eſtate of this Realm, upon the which the mercy, favour and bleſſing of Almighty God is in no wiſe ſo readily and plenteouſly poured, as by Common Prayers, due uſing of the Sacraments, and often preaching of the Goſpel, with the devotion of the hearers: (2) and yet this notwithſtanding, a great number of people in divers parts of this Realm, following their own ſenſuality, and living either without knowledge or due fear of God, do wilfully and damnably before Almighty God, abſtain and refuſe to come to their Pariſh Churches, and other places, where Common-Prayer, Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, and preaching of the Word of God, is uſed upon Sundays and other days ordained to be Holy-days:

Sacraments 2. Uniformity of Prayer, and Adminiſtration of Sacraments ſhall be uſed in the Church.

II. For Reformation hereof, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that from and after the Feaſt of All Saints next coming, all and every perſon and perſons inhabiting within this Realm, or any other the Kings Majeſties Dominions, ſhall diligently and faithfully (having no lawful or reaſonable excuſe to be abſent) endeavour themſelves to reſort to their Pariſh Church or Chappel accuſtomed, (2) upon reaſonable let thereof, to ſome uſual place where Common-prayer, and ſuch ſervice of God ſhall be uſed in ſuch time of let, (3) upon every Sunday, and other days ordained and uſed to be kept as Holy-days, (4) and then and there to abide orderly and ſoberly during the time of Common-prayer, Preachings, or other Service of God there to be uſed and miniſtred, (5) upon pain of puniſhment by the cenſures of the Church.

Every perſon ſhall reſort to his Pariſh Church or Chappel upon Sundays and Holy-days.

III. And for the due execution hereof, the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Temporal, and all the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, doth in Gods name earneſtly require and charge all the Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other Ordinaries, that they ſhall endeavour themſelves to the uttermoſt of their knowledges, that the due and true execution thereof may be had throughout their Dioceſſes and Charges, as they will anſwer before God for ſuch evils and plagues, wherewith Almighty God may juſtly puniſh his people, for neglecting this good and wholſom Law.

They which come not to the Church may be puniſhed by the cenſures of the Church.

IV. And for their authority in this behalf, be it further likewiſe enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular the ſame Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and all other their Officers exerciſing Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, as well in place exempt as not exempt, within their Dioceſſes, ſhall have full power and authority by this Act, to reform, correct and puniſh, by cenſures of the Church, all and ſingular perſons which ſhall offend within their Juriſdictions or Dioceſſes, after the ſaid Feaſt of All Saints next coming, againſt this Act and Statute; any other Law, Statute, Priviledge, Liberty or Proviſion heretofore made, had or ſuffered to the contrary notwithſtanding.

V. And becauſe there hath riſen in the uſe and exerciſe of the aforeſaid Common Service in the Church, heretofore ſet forth, divers doubts for the faſhion and manner of the miniſtration of the ſame, rather by the curioſity of the Miniſter and miſtakers, then of any other worthy cauſe; (2) therefore, as well for the more plain and manifeſt explanation thereof, as for the more perfection of the ſaid Order or Common Service, in ſome places where it is neceſſary to make the ſame Prayer and faſhion of Service more earneſt and fit to ſtir Chriſtian people to the true honouring of Almighty God, (3) the Kings moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, hath cauſed the aforeſaid Order of Common Service, entituled, The Book of Common-Prayer, to be faithfully and godly peruſed, explained, and made fully perfect, and by the aforeſaid authority hath annexed and joyned it, ſo explained, and perfected, to this preſent Statute; (4) adding alſo a form and manner of Making and Conſecrating of Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Prieſts and Deacons, to be of like force, authority and value, as the ſame like aforeſaid Book, Entituled, The Book of Common Prayer, was before, and to be accepted, received, uſed, and eſteemed in like ſort and manner, and with the ſame clauſes of proviſions and exceptions, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as by the Act of Parliament made in the Second year of the Kings Majeſties Reign, was ordained, limited, expreſſed and appointed for the uniformity of Service and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments throughout the Realm, upon ſuch ſeveral pains as in the ſaid Act of Parliament is expreſſed: (5) And the ſaid former Act to ſtand in full force and ſtrength, to all intents and conſtructions, and to be applied, practiſed, and put in ure, to and for the eſtabliſhing of the Book of Common Prayer, now explained, and hereunto annexed, and alſo the ſaid form of making Archbiſhops, Biſhops, or Prieſts and Deacons hereunto annexed, as it was for the former Book.

2 & 3 Ed. 6. 1.

The penalties for being preſent at any other Common-prayer or Sacraments. Alt. 1 El. 2.

VI. And by the authority aforeſaid it is now further enacted, That if any manner perſon or perſons, inhabiting and being within this Realm, or any other the Kings Majeſties Dominions, ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt of All Saints, willingly and wittingly hear and be preſent at any other manner or form of Common-Prayer, or Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, of making of Miniſters in the Churches, or of any other Rites contained in the Book annexed to this Act, then is mentioned and ſet forth in the Book, or that is contrary to the form of ſundry Proviſions and Exceptions contained in the foreſaid former Statute, and ſhall be thereof convicted, according to the Laws of this Realm, before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions, or any of them, by the verdict of twelve men, or by his or their own confeſſion or otherwiſe, ſhall for the firſt offence ſuffer impriſonment for ſix months, without bail or mainpriſe (2) and for the ſecond offence, being likewiſe convicted as is abovesaid, impriſonment for one whole year, and for the third offence, in like manner, impriſonment during his or their lives. (3) And for the more knowledge to be given hereof, and better obſervation of this Law, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Curates, ſhall upon one Sunday every quarter of the year, during one whole year next following the foreſaid Feaſt of All Saints next coming, read this preſent Act in the Church at the time of the moſt Aſſembly, and likewiſe once in every year following; at the ſame time declaring unto the people by the authority of the Scripture, how the mercy and goodneſs of God hath in all ages been ſhewed to his people in their neceſſities and extremities, by means of hearty and faithful Prayers made to Almighty God, eſpecially where the people be gathered together with one faith and mind to offer up their hearts by Prayer, as the beſt Sacrifices that Chriſtian men can yield. 1 Mar. 2. 1 El. 2. 13 El. 12. 8 El. 1. 1 Jac. 25.

CAP. III.

An Act for the keeping Holy-days and Faſting-days.

Foraſmuch as at all times men be not ſo mindful to laud and praiſe God, ſo ready to reſort and hear Gods holy Word, and to come to the holy Communion, and other laudable Rites, which are to be obſerved in every Chriſtian Congregation, as their bounden duty doth require: (2) therefore to call men to remembrance of their duty, and to help their infirmity, it hath been wholſomly provided, that there ſhould be ſome certain times and days appointed, wherein the Chriſtian ſhould ceaſe from all other kind of labours, and ſhould apply themſelves only and wholly unto the aforeſaid holy works, properly pertaining unto true Religion; that is, to hear, to learn, and to remember Almighty Gods great benefits, his manifold mercies, his ineſtimable gracious goodneſs, ſo plenteouſly poured upon all his creatures, and that of his infinite and unſpeakable goodneſs, without any mans deſert; And in remembrance hereof, to render unto him moſt high and hearty thanks, with prayers and ſupplications for the relief of all our daily neceſſities: (3) And becauſe theſe be the chief and principal works wherein man is commanded to worſhip God, and do properly pertain unto the firſt Table; therefore as theſe works are both moſt commonly, and alſo may well be called Gods Service, ſo the times appointed ſpecially for the ſame, are called holy-days; not for the matter and nature either of the time or day, nor for any of the Saints ſake whoſe memories are had on thoſe days (for ſo all days and times conſidered are Gods creatures, and all of like holineſs) but for the nature and condition of thoſe godly and holy works, wherewith only God is to be honoured, and the Congregation to be edified, whereunto ſuch times and days are ſanctified and hallowed; that is to ſay, ſeparated from all prophane uſes, and dedicated and appointed, not unto any Saint or Creature, but only unto God and his true Worſhip: (4) Neither is it to be thought that there is any certain time or definite number of days preſcribed in holy Scripture, but that the appointment both of the time, and alſo of the number of the days, is left by the authority of Gods Word, to the liberty of Chriſts Church, to be determined and aſſigned orderly in every Countrey, by the diſcretion of the Rulers and Miniſters thereof, as they ſhall judge moſt expedient to the true ſetting forth of Gods glory, and the edification of their people: (5) Be it therefore Enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the Authority of the ſame, That all the days hereafter mentioned, ſhall be kept, and commanded to be kept Holy-days, and none other; that is to ſay, all Sundays in the year, the days of the Feaſt of the Circumciſion of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, of the Epiphany, of the Purification of the Bleſſed Virgin, of Saint Matthie the Apoſtle, of the Annunciation of the Bleſſed Virgin, of Saint Mark the Evangeliſt, of Saint Philip and Jacob the Apoſtles, of the Aſcenſion of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt, of Saint Peter the Apoſtle, of Saint James the Apoſtle, of Saint Bartholomew the Apoſtle, of Saint Matthew the Apoſtle, of Saint Michael the Archangel, of Saint Luke the Evangeliſt, of Saint Simon and Jude the Apoſtles, of All Saints, of Saint Andrew the Apoſtle, of Saint Thomas the Apoſtle, of the Nativity of our Lord, of Saint Stephen the Martyr, of Saint John the Evangeliſt, of the holy Innocents, Monday and Tueſday in Eaſter-week, and Monday and Tueſday in Whitſun-week; And that none other day ſhall be kept and commanded to be kept Holy-day, or to abſtain from lawful bodily labour.

Holy-days 1. Which days, only in the year ſhall be Holy-days, and which ſhall be Faſting-days.

Wherefore ſome days are more called Holy-days then other.

All theſe days ſhall be kept Holy-days, and none other.

II. And it is alſo enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That every Even or Day next going before any of the aforeſaid days of the Feaſts of the Nativity of our Lord, of Eaſter, of the Aſcenſion of our Lord, Pentecoſt, and the Purification, and the Annunciation of the aforeſaid Bleſſed Virgin, of All Saints, and of all the ſaid Feaſts of the Apoſtles, (other then of Saint John the Evangeliſt, and of Philip and Jacob) ſhall be Faſted, and commanded to be kept and obſerved, and that none other Even or Day ſhall be commanded to be Faſted.

Which days ſhall be commanded and kept Faſting-days.

III. And it is enacted by the authority abovesaid, That it ſhall be lawful to all Archbiſhops and Biſhops in their Dioceſſes, and to all other having Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual Juriſdiction, to enquire of every perſon that ſhall offend in the premiſſes, and to puniſh every ſuch offender by the Cenſures of the Church, and to enjoyn him or them ſuch penance as ſhall be to the Spiritual Judge by his direction thought meet and convenient.

Puniſhment of offenders by the Eccleſiaſtical Law.

IV. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to abrogate or take away the abſtinence from Fleſh in Lent, or on Fridays and Saturdays, or any other day which is already appointed ſo to be kept, by virtue of an Act made and provided in the third year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord the Kings Majeſty that now is, ſaving only of thoſe Evens or Days whereof the Holy-day next following is abrogated by this Statute; Any thing above mentioned to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Abſtinence from Fleſh in Lent, Fridays, and Saturdays, 2 & 3 Ed. 6. 19.

V. Provided alſo, and it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That when and ſo often as it ſhall chance any of the ſaid Feaſts, (the Evens weereof be by this Statute commanded to be obſerved and kept Faſting-days) to fall upon the Monday; That then as it hath always been heretofore accuſtomably uſed, ſo hereafter the Saturday then next going before any ſuch Feaſt or Holy-day, and not on the Sunday, ſhall be commanded to be Faſted for the Even of any ſuch Feaſt or Holy-day; Any thing in this Statute before mentioned or declared to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

When the Saturday ſhall be faſted in ſtead of the Sunday.

VI. Provided always, and it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to every husbandman, labourer, fiſherman, and to all and every other perſon and perſons, of what eſtate, degree or condition he or they be, upon the Holy-days aforeſaid, in Harveſt, or at any other times in the year when neceſſity ſhall require, to labour, ride, fiſh, or work any kind of work, at their free wills and pleaſure; Any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

In what caſes ſome perſons may labour upon the Holy-day.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to the Knights of the right honourable Order of the Garter, and to every of them, to keep and celebrate ſolemnly the Feaſt of their Order, commonly called St. Georges Feaſt, yearly from henceforth the xxij, xxiij, and xxiv. days of April, and at ſuch other time and times, as yearly ſhall be thought convenient by the Kings Highneſs, his heirs and ſucceſſors and the ſaid Knights of the ſaid honourable Order, or any of them now being, or hereafter to be; Any thing in this Act heretofore mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding. REP. 1 M. 2. 1 Jac. 25. Revived, becauſe 1 M. 2. is Repealed by 1 Jac. 25.

It ſhall be lawful for the Knights of the Garter to ſolemnize Saint Georges Feaſt.

CAP. IV.

Againſt quarrelling and fighting in Churches and Church-yards.

Fighting, Raſt 1. The penalty for ſtriking or drawing a weapon in Church or Church-yard.

1 Inſt. Hetley

FOraſmuch as of late divers and many outragious and barbarous behaviours and acts have been uſed and committed by divers ungodly and irreligious perſons, by quarrelling, brawling, fraying and fighting openly in Churches and Church-yards; (2) Therefore it is Enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon whatſoever, ſhall any time after the firſt day of May next coming, by words only, quarrel, chide or brawl in any Church or Church-yard, that then it ſhall be lawful unto the Ordinary of the place where the ſame offence ſhall be done, and proved by two lawful witneſſes, to ſuſpend every perſon ſo offending; that is to ſay, if he be a Layman, ab ingreſſu Eccleſiæ, and if he be a Clerk, from the miniſtration of his Office for ſo long time as the ſaid Ordinary ſhall by his diſcretion think meet and convenient, according to the fault.

The penalty for ſmiting in a Church, &c.

Dyer, Cro. 219.

II. And further be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid firſt day of May, ſhall ſmite or lay any violent hands upon any other, either in any Church or Church-yard, That then ipſo facto, every perſon ſo offending ſhall be deemed excommunicate, and be excluded from the fellowſhip and company of Chriſts Congregation.

CAP. VI.

An Act for the true making of Woollen Cloth.

Drapery 5. The true length, breadth and weight of Woollen Clothes.

Several abuſes practiſed in making of Cloth.

WHere heretofore divers and many goodly Statutes have been made for the true making of Cloth within this Realm, which nevertheleſs foraſmuch as Clothiers, ſome for lack of knowledge and experience, and ſome of extream covetouſneſs, do daily more and more ſtudy rather to make many then to make good Clothes, (2) having more reſpect to their private commodity and gain, then the advancement of truth, and continuance of the Commodity in eſtimation according to the worthineſs thereof, (3) have and do daily in ſtead of truth practice falſhood, and in ſtead of ſubſtantial making of Cloth, do practice ſleight and ſlender making, ſome by mingling of Yarn of divers ſpinnings in one Cloth, (4) ſome by mingling Fell-wool, and Lambs wooll, or either of them, with Fleece-wooll, (5) ſome by putting too little Stuff, (6) ſome by taking them out of the Mill before they be full thicked, (7) ſome by overſtretching them upon the Tentor, and then ſtopping with Flocks ſuch bracks as ſhall be made by means thereof; (8) finally by uſing ſo many ſubtile ſleights and untruths, as when the Clothes ſo made be put in water to try them, they riſe out of the ſame neither in length nor breadth as they ought to do, and in ſome place narrower then ſome, (9) beſide ſuch cockeling, bandoning, and divers other great and notable faults, as almoſt cannot be thought to be true;

II. And yet nevertheleſs, neither fearing the Laws in that caſe provided, nor regarding the eſtimation of their Countrey, do not only procure the Aulneger to ſet the Kings Seal to ſuch falſe, untrue and faulty Cloth, but do themſelves weave into the ſame, the likeneſs and ſimilitude of the Kings Highneſs moſt noble and Imperial Crown, and alſo the firſt Letter of his Name, which ſhould be teſtimonies of truth, and not a defence of untruth, to the great ſlander of the King our Sovereign Lord, and the ſhame of this Land, and to the utter deſtruction of ſo great and notable Commodity, as the like is not in any foreign Nation:

III. Our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King therefore, minding to advance all truth, and to abandon falſhood, and alſo to provide for the continuance of the ſaid Commodity of Cloth-making, to his honour, and the common profit of the Realm, hath by the advice of the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, cauſed as well divers honeſt Clothiers, as alſo divers Drapers, Merchant-taylors, Clothworkers, Sheremen, and other Artificers to whom it appertaineth, ts be examined by certain wiſe, diſcreet and ſage Knights and Burgeſſes of this preſent Parliament, of ſuch matters as touch as well the falſe as the true making of Clothes, by whoſe declaration, conſent, agreement and advice, after divers and ſundry meetings, and great deliberate advice taken in the premiſſes, (2) by authority of this preſent Parliament, it is enacted as hereafter followeth, to remain firm and perfect, notwithſtanding any ſuggeſtions hereafter to be made by any Clothier and Clothmaker to the contrary, as they have in like caſes heretofore done: that is to ſay, that every Cloth, Kerſie, piece of Frieze and Cotton, ſhall be made in ſuch ſort and form, and ſhall contain in length, breadth and weight, as is herein hereafter particularly mentioned, upon ſuch pains, penalties and forfeitures as be hereafter expreſſed and appointed.

The councel of ſeveral ſage, diſcreet and men of experience, and of the ſame trades, uſed in the making of this Statute.

XXX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Draper, Merchant-taylor, Cloth-worker, or other perſon, which ſhall retail any of the Clothes or Kerſies, Friezes, Rugs or Cottons of the ſeveral makings aforeſaid, ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt, put to ſale any of the Clothes afore mentioned, whereunto the Aulneger ſhall have ſet to the Kings Seal, and the owner his Seal, till ſuch time as he or they have made trial, as well by the water, as by the weight and meaſure, whether they and every of them ſhall be made according to the purport and meaning of this Act, or no.

Every Retailer ſhall try his cloth, and preſent that which is faulty.

XXXI. And if any perſon or perſons ſhall find any defective or faulty Cloth in length, weight or meaſure, made contrary to the Order aforeſaid, That then he or they ſhall preſent every ſuch Cloth to every Mayor, Bailiff, or other head Officer or head Officers of every City, Borough, or Town corporate, or two Juſtices of Peace next adjoyning out of a City, Borough, or Town corporate, where ſuch Cloth ſhall be found faulty, as is aforeſaid, to the intent the ſame Cloth may be cut into three equal parts and pieces; (2) the one piece thereof to be forfeited to our Sovereign Lord the King, another piece to the preſenter thereof, and the third part reſidue to ſuch perſon or perſons as it ſhall then be preſented to, (3) upon pain that every ſuch perſon as ſhall not ſo ſearch every of the Clothes, Kerſies, Cottons or Friezes aforeſaid, ſo by him to be bought and ſold, and ſhall not ſeize and preſent ſuch Cloth or Clothes as he or they ſhall find defective, as is aforeſaid, and ſhall forfeit and loſe the double value of every ſuch Cloth.

XXXII. And be it further enacted, That every Clothier or other perſon whatſoever, which ſo ſhall ſell any ſuch faulty Kerſie, Cotton or Frieze, whereunto the Aulneger and the Owner ſhall have ſet to their Seals, and ſhall be Sealed as is aforeſaid, ſhall within fourteen days next after requeſt made in writing, meſſage, or otherwiſe, by ſuch perſon which ſhall ſo buy ſuch Cloth, making payment of ſuch ſums of money as he received for the ſame, or ſhall otherwiſe, ſatisfie, diſcharge and acquit him for ſo much money as he ſhall, or ſhould have received for the ſame, (2) upon pain of forfeiture to the party grieved for every non-payment or not acquittal, as is aforeſaid, the double value of the money ſo received, or to be received, the ſame to be recovered by bill, plaint, action of debt, or otherwiſe, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The Clothier ſhall repay his money to the buyer of faulty cloth.

XXXIII. And for the further avoiding of much untruth practiſed by ſtretching of Clothes, be it enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt, ſtrain or ſtretch, or cauſe to be ſtrained or ſtretched, any Cloth above one yard in length, and one half quarter in breadth, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch default, five pounds.

Stretching of clothes.

XXXIV. And be it further enacted, That no perſon which ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt, keep, have, uſe or occupy any tentor, ſhall have, uſe or occupy any wrinch, rope or ring with the ſame tentor, or ſhall uſe any other engine unlawfully, to ſtrain or ſtretch any Cloth or Clothes, upon pain that every offendor that ſhall uſe or occupy any tentor, or other engine to the contrary, ſhall forfeit twenty pounds.

The penalty for uſing a tentor with a wrinch, rope, or ring.

XXXV. And be it alſo enacted by like authority, That if any Merchant ſhall by any means tranſport or carry over into the parts beyond the Sea, any Cloth, Kerſie, Frieze or Cotton, Tranſporting defective Cloth. Alt. 4 & 5 P & M. 5. Stat. 43 El. 10.

which ſhall be found defective or faulty, either in length, breadth or weight, or elſe ſhall have any of the faults aforeſaid, That then the Merchant, or other perſon which ſhall ſo tranſport the ſame, ſhall return again the ſame Cloth ſo found defective, into England, at the coſts and charges of the Clothier or Cloth-maker that ſold the ſame; (2) the ſame coſts and things to be recovered againſt ſuch Cloth-maker or Clothier, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of the Kings Courts; any promiſe or bargain to the contrary notwithſtanding: (3) Upon pain that every Merchant, or other perſon that ſhall not ſo return ſuch faulty or defective Cloth, (if through miſfortune by tempeſts, pirates or enemies he be not letted) ſhall forfeit and loſe the value of the Cloth ſo ſhipped and tranſported, and not returned as is aforeſaid: The one moiety thereof to the King, and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in which action no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be admitted for the defendant.

XXXVI. And to the intent that it may be perfectly known which Clothes are perfectly dreſſed, dyed and preſſed with the cold preſs, without fraud, covin and deceit, as well within the City of London, as elſewhere, and have ſufficient workmanſhip:

Two ſearchers ſhall be appointed in every City, Borough, &c. of Cloth, and their Authority. 2 & 3 P & M. 12.

XXXVII. Be it further enacted, That as well the Mayor of the City of London, and Aldermen, or moſt part of them for the time being, as all and every other Mayor, Bailiff, and other head Officer or Officers of every City, Borough or Town corporate within this Realm, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act to nominate, depute and appoint from time to time, as occaſion ſhall ſerve, and ſhall ſo from time to time nominate, depute and appoint two or mo honeſt, diſcreet and expert perſons, which ſhall from time to time upon their Oaths, view and ſearch every ſuch Cloth and Clothes that ſhall be dreſſed, dyed or preſſed with the cold preſs within every ſuch City, Borough, Town-corporate, or Port-Town, (2) and view and ſearch whether the ſame Cloth or Clothes be well and ſufficiently dreſſed, and preſſed with the cold preſs, without putting thereto flocks, ſollace, chalk, flour, or any other deceitful thing, (3) and alſo whether the ſame ſhall be well and ſubſtantially dyed with good and perfect colours, without any deceivable thing, or whether it ſhall be ſtretched or ſtrained any more then is above ſpecified; (4) and ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to enter into all and every perſons houſe or houſes, where they ſhall think meet to ſearch, and to ſeize all and every ſuch Cloth or Clothes as they ſhall find defective in the premiſſes, as forfeited, in whoſe hands ſoever they ſhall be found: The moiety of which forfeiture ſhall be to the uſe of our Sovereign Lord the King, and the other moiety to the uſe of the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of London, or to the uſe of every City, Borough, Town-corporate, Port-Town, or Market-Town where the ſame ſhall be ſeized.

A remedy for the loſer where the Cloth is faulty.

XXXVIII. And be it further enacted, That every perſon or perſons in whoſe hands and poſſeſſion ſuch defective and faulty Cloth, either by evil or deceivable dying, dreſſing or preſſing, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be found and ſeized, as is aforeſaid, ſhall have his, her, or their remedy by action of debt, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed for the defendant, againſt all and every ſuch perſon or perſons, by whoſe defaults or negligence ſuch Cloth ſhall be ſo found faulty, (2) and ſhall thereby recover all ſuch coſts, loſſes and damages as he ſhall ſuſtain by occaſion thereof.

A ſeal of lead for a Town-corporate.

XXXIX. And be it further enacted by the ſame authority, That as well the ſaid Mayor of the City of London, as every other Mayor, Bailiff, Port-rieve, or other head Officer of every City, Borough, Town-corporate, or Port-Town, ſhall on this ſide the ſaid Feaſt, cauſe to be prepared a Seal of Lead, wherein as well the Arms as the Name of every ſuch City, Borough, Town-corporate, and Port-Town, ſhall be graven, which the ſame Searchers ſhall cauſe to be fixed to every Cloth that they ſhall find after the ſaid Feaſt, well and ſufficiently dreſſed, dyed and preſſed with the cold preſs, without any of the deceits aforeſaid, (2) and ſhall have for their pains and travels therein to be taken by the owner there, for the ſealing of every Cloth, two pence.

The Seal of faulty Cloth.

XL. And be it further enacted, That if any Searcher or Searchers ſo to be appointed, do after the ſaid Feaſt find any of the Clothes, being coloured or dyed, ſo made after the ſaid Feaſt, either cockely, purſie, bandy, ſqually or rowy, or evil burled, or waſted in the mill, or full of holes or bracks, That then the ſame Searcher or Searchers, ſhall beſides the Seal of the City, Borough or Town-corporate where the ſame Cloth ſhall be found, put another Seal of Lead at every end of the ſaid Cloth, wherein ſhall be graven the Letter F, and ſhall alſo ſet a Mark in the Liſt, right againſt ſuch place where any of the faults aforeſaid ſhall be, with the print of a Letter, or mark of an inch compaſs at the leaſt, whereby every buyer may well know what and where the fault is.

Forfeiture where the ſeal is ſet to cloth not ſufficiently dreſſed.

XLI. And be it further enacted, That if any of the Searchers aforeſaid ſhall ſet the Seal of any City, Borough, Town-corporate, or Port-Town, to any coloured Cloth, which ſhall not be ſufficiently dreſſed, dyed, preſſed and wrought, as is aforeſaid, That then the Mayor and Commonalty, or Bailiffs or Commonalty, or other Corporation of the Townſhip, by whatſoever name or names they ſhall be incorporated, where ſuch Cloth ſhall be ſealed, ſhall forfeit and loſe the whole value of the Cloth ſo ſealed.

Forfeiture where the ſeal is ſet to faulty cloth.

XLII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the Searchers aforeſaid, after the ſaid Feaſt, do ſet the Seal of the City, Borough or Town-corporate, within the limits of their ſearch, to any Cloth which ſhall be cockely, purſie, bandy, ſqually, rowy, evil burled, waſted in the mill, or full of holes, as is aforeſaid, and not ſet at every end of the ſaid Clothes, one Seal with the Letter F, as is aforeſaid, and alſo declare by the Liſts, as is aforeſaid, what and where the faults of the Clothes be; That then the Mayor and Commonalty, or other the Corporation of every ſuch Borough, City or Town-corporate, where ſuch Searcher ſhall be appointed, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch omiſſion, or not ſetting to of any ſuch Seal as is aforeſaid, five pound.

XLIII. And be it further enacted, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever they be, which commonly

Cloth retailed which is unſealed.

commonly uſe to retail Cloth or Kerſie, ſhall put to ſale in groſs or by retail, to any manner of perſon, any manner of Cloth which ſhall be made after the ſaid Feaſt, being dreſſed, dyed and preſſed, as is aforeſaid, except there be fixed thereunto at every end of the ſame Cloth, the Seal of ſuch City, Borough, or Town-corporate where the ſame Cloth ſhall be ſo dyed, dreſſed and preſſed, or the ſeveral Seal of every ſuch City, Borough, or Town-corporate where it ſhall be dyed, dreſſed or preſſed, to remain at the laſt end of every the ſaid Cloth which ſhall be ſold, during and by all the time that any piece or remnant of ſuch Cloth is to be ſold, upon pain of forfeiture of the whole value of ſuch whole Cloth.

The forfeiture of the chief Officer of a City, Borough, &c. for not appointing Searchers.

XLIV. And be it further enacted, That every Mayor, Bailiff, or other head Officer of any City, Borough, or Town-corporate, in which any ſuch Cloth or Clothes after the ſaid Feaſt ſhall be made, dyed, dreſſed or preſſed with the cold preſs, as is aforeſaid, which doth not, or ſhall not after the ſaid Feaſt of St. Michael, nominate and appoint from time to time ſo many Searchers as ſhall be requiſite, to view and ſearch Clothes upon their Oaths, as is aforeſaid, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every default, ten pound.

The penalty for refuſing to be a Searcher.

XLV. And be it further enacted, That if any of the ſaid Searchers ſo to be appointed by the Mayor, being a free-man of the ſaid City, or by the Mayor, Bailiff, or other head Officer of any City, Borough or Town-corporate, as is aforeſaid, having no reaſonable excuſe, do refuſe to take upon him to be a Searcher, and do not uſe the Office of a Searcher, as is aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch refuſal, and not executing of his Office ſo to him appointed, five pound, the one half thereof to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to the uſe of the Commonalty of every City, Borough or Town corporate where he ſhall be ſo aſſigned, and to remain in ward till ſuch time as he hath made payment of the ſaid forfeiture, or otherwiſe put in ſufficient Bonds for his ſatisfaction of the ſame.

No coloured cloth ſhall be put to ſale but theſe within named REP. 21 Jac. 28. St. 4 & 5 P. & M. 5.

XLVI. And foraſmuch as there be now in this time many falſe and deceivable colours made in divers places of this Realm, whereby many of the Kings loving Subjects are deceived, (2) Be it enacted, That from and after the ſaid Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming, no perſon or perſons ſhall put to ſale by retail within this Realm, any Cloth or Clothes which ſhall be made after the ſaid Feaſt, of any other Colour or Colours then is hereafter expreſſed: That is to ſay, Scarlet, Red, Crimſon, Murry, Violet, Puke, Brown-blew, Blacks, Greens, Yellows, Blews, Orange-tauney, Ruſſet, Marble-gray, Sad new Colour, Azure, Watchet, Sheeps colour, Lion-colour, Motley or Iron-gray, (3) upon pain that every perſon offending to the contrary, ſhall loſe and forfeit the value of the Cloth ſold by retail, which ſhall be of any other colour.

Preſſing of cloth.

XLVII. And be it further enacted, That no perſon or perſons after the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, ſhall preſs any kind of Cloth with the hot preſs, or in any other kind of deceivable manner, but only with the cold preſs, as is above ſpecified, upon pain of forfeiture of the whole Cloth ſo preſſed contrary to the meaning of this Statute, or the value thereof.

Counterfeiting, ſetting to, or taking away ſeals.

XLVIII. And be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, but ſuch as are appointed, aſſigned, and permitted by this Act, do at any time after the ſaid Feaſt, counterfeit, ſet to, or take away from any of the Clothes, Kerſies, Frizes, Rugs or Cottons aforeſaid, any of the Seals ſo to be fixed as is above recited, That then every perſon ſo offending, ſhall for the firſt offence (being thereof duly convicted by verdict of twelve men, by two ſufficient witneſſes, or by confeſſion of the party) forfeit and loſe ten pound; And for the ſecond offence (being likewiſe thereof convicted) ſhall ſit on the Pillory, and loſe and forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King, all ſuch his goods and chattels (his debts being duly and truly paid without fraud or covin) as he had, or ſhall have at the time of his conviction.

A Clothier ſhall not give over the making of cloth without licence.

XLIX. And be it further enacted, That if between the firſt day of May next coming, and the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel then next coming, any perſon or perſons which now doth uſe the Art or Myſtery of Draping or Cloth-making, ſhall give over Draping or Cloth-making, except he be licenſed ſo to do by three Juſtices of Peace at the leaſt, of the City, County, Borough or Town corporate where he dwelleth, upon ſome reaſonable cauſe ſhewed unto the ſaid Juſtices, ſhall never after take upon him to make or cauſe to be made any kind of Cloth or Kerſie, to ſell the ſame again, upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch Cloth, or Kerſie that he ſhall ſo ſell.

A repeal of all former ſtatutes touching the making, dying, and dreſſing, &c. of cloth.

L. And be it further enacted, That all and every Article, Clauſe or Sentence in any Act of Parliament thereof made, concerning making, dying, dreſſing, preſſing, ſearching or ſealing any of the kinds of Clothes, broad or narrow, white or coloured, Kerſies, Frizes, Rugs or Cottons, heretofore in this Act mentioned, and being repugnant or contrariant to any Article or Sentence in this Statute, ſhall from the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next, be utterly void and of none effect. (2) And to the intent that all ſuch Clothes as ſhall be made within this Realm, or any other the Kings Dominions, after the ſaid Feaſt, ſhall be the better known from the other Clothes made before the ſame,

A mean to diſcypher faulty clothes by the want of the E crowned. St. 3 & 4 Ed. 6. 2.

LI. Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from and after the ſaid Feaſt, the Letter E crowned ſhall not be wrought into the Cloth, for and by the ſpace of two years then next enſuing, upon pain of forfeiture of twenty ſhillings for every Cloth or Kerſie, wherein the ſaid Letter E ſhall be ſo wrought, (2) the moiety of all which forfeitures, and of all other forfeitures before expreſſed, and not otherwiſe appointed by this preſent Act, ſhall be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, detinue, bill, plaint or information in any of the Kings Courts of Record, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be admitted nor allowed for the defendant.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means.

No boiling of wools.

LII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful to any perſon or perſons, at any time after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming, to boil or cauſe to be boiled any kind of Wools, to be converted into any kind of Broadcloth or Kerſie, with any kind of gauls, rinds, or barks of trees, or ſaw-duſt, upon pain to forfeit all ſuch Wooll, or the value thereof, to be recovered, and had in ſuch form and ſort, as in the aforeſaid Act is limited and expreſſed.

Taveſtock-clothes.

LIII. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any Cloth or Clothes made in the Town of Taveſtock in the County of Devonſhire, or elſewhere within the ſaid County, commonly called Taveſtock-clothes, but that it ſhall be lawful to all and every Inhabitants of the ſaid Town, or makers of the ſaid Clothes commonly called Taveſtocks, to make and ſeal the ſame with the accuſtomed Seal, as they have heretofore been accuſtomed; Any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. An Act limiting what perſons ſhall weave or make broad Woollen Cloth.

Drapery, Rait. 54. What perſons may weave or make woollen cloth.

BE it enacted by the aſſent of the Kings Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons within this Realm of England, Wales, or other the Kings Dominions, after the Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next enſuing, ſhall weave or make, or put to weaving or making, any manner of broad Woollen Clothes to be ſold, unleſs that ſuch perſon or perſons that ſhall ſo weave or make, or put to weaving or making the ſaid broad Woollen Cloth or Clothes ſo to be made to be ſold, have been an Appentice to the Occupation of broad Woollen Cloth-making, or Clothes-weaving, or have been exerciſed and practiſed in and with Broadcloth making or Clothes-weaving, by the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt, before the ſame perſon or perſons ſhall ſo take upon him or them to make or weave, or to put to weaving or making the ſaid broad Woollen Clothes, (2) upon pain to forfeit all and every ſuch Cloth and Clothes ſo woven or made contrary to the form of this Act:

II. The one half of which forfeiture ſhall be to our Sovereign Lord the King, and the other half to him or them that will or ſhall ſue for the ſame, by Bill, Plaint, Action of Debt, or Information, in any Court of Record within this Realm of England or Wales; in which Action, Suit, Plaint, Bill or Information, no Eſſoin, Protection or Plea to the Juriſdiction of the Court ſhall be allowed for the Defendant. An Act for the taking away of the benefit of the Clergy from certain Offenders.

Clergy 13. No perſon robbing any houſe, &c. ſhall have the benefit of his Clergy. 23 H. 8. 1.

3 Inſt. 6

WHere at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter by Prorogation the Three and twentieth year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, it was among other things then and there enacted, eſtabliſhed and ordained by authority of the ſame Parliament, That no perſon or perſons, which after that time ſhould happen to be found guilty, after the Laws of this Realm, for any manner of petty Treaſon, or for any wilful murther of malice prepenſed, or for robbing of any Churches, Chappels, or other holy places, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in their dwelling-houſes, or dwelling-places, the owner or dweller in the ſame houſe, his wife, his children or ſervants then being within, and put in fear or dread by the ſame, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in or near about the highways, or for wilful burning of any dwelling-houſes or barns wherein any Grain or Corn ſhould happen to be, nor any perſon or perſons being found guilty of any abetment, procurement, maintaining, or concealing of any, or to any ſuch pety Treaſon, murthers or felonies, ſhould from thenceforth be admitted to the benefit of his or their Clergy, but utterly to be excluded thereof, and ſuffer death in ſuch manner and form, as they ſhould have done for any the cauſes or offences aboveſaid, if they were no Clerks, ſuch as be within the holy Orders, that is to ſay, of the Orders of Sub-deacon, or above, all only excepted, as by the ſame Act among other things more plainly appeareth; (2) which Act was made to endure until the laſt day of the next Parliament; and after that at the Seſſion of the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter by Prorogation, in the Two and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, the ſame Act with other Acts, was made to continue for ever:

32 H. 8. 3.

Three ſeveral doubts & queſtions moved upon the Stat. of 23 H. 8. 1.

II. Sithen the making of which Statute it hath been doubted, That if ſuch robberies and felonies have been committed and done in dwelling-houſes, and dwelling-places, the owner or dweller in the ſame houſe, his wife, his children or ſervants being then put in fear or dread by the ſame, ſhall not loſe the benefit of their Clergy, if the offenders be therein found guilty by the Laws of this Realm, unleſs the ſame robbery or felony be committed and done in the very chamber, houſe or place where the owner or dweller in the ſame houſe, his wife, children or ſervants ſhall happen to be or lie at the time of ſuch robbery and felony committed and done, and put in fear and dread, although the owner and dweller in ſuch houſe and houſes, his wife, his children or ſervants, at the time of ſuch robbery and felony committed and done, were or lay in other places within the precinct of the ſame dwelling-houſes, nigh unto the houſe or place where ſuch robbery and felony ſhall happen to be done: (2) Or if it happen that the owner or dweller within the ſame houſe where ſuch robbery or felony ſhall happen to be done, his wife, children or ſervants to be aſleep at the time of ſuch robbery and felony committed and done, although the ſame robbery were done in the chamber or place where the owner or dweller in the ſame houſe, his wife, children or ſervants then lay, the offenders being found guilty thereof, according to the Laws of the Land, ſhould not loſe the benefit and advantage of their Clergy.

Poth. 84. Coron. 16.

III. And where alſo it hath been in queſtion and doubted, That if ſuch robberies and felonies happen to be committed and done in any booth or booths, tent or tents, in any fair or market, the owner of the ſame, his wife, children or ſervants happening to be within the ſame at the time of the committing of ſuch felonies, and put in fear and dread, the offenders therein being found guilty after the Laws of this Realm, ſhould not loſe the benefit of their Clergy:

IV. For the true declaration and explication of the ſame doubts or queſtions before recited, be it enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if it happen any perſon or perſons to be found guilty according to the Laws of this Realm, for robbing of any perſon or perſons after the firſt day of May next enſuing, in any part or parcel of their dwelling-houſes, or dwelling-places, the owner or dweller in the ſame houſe, or his wife, his children or ſervants being then within the ſame houſe or place where it ſhall happen the ſame robbery and felony to be committed and done, or in any other place within the precinct of the ſame houſe or dwelling-place, that ſuch offenders ſhall in no wiſe be admitted to their Clergy, whether the owner or dweller in the ſame houſe, his wife or children then and there being, ſhall be waking or ſleeping.

Burglary, the owner &c. being in another part of the houſe, or aſleep.

V. And that no perſon or perſons which after the ſaid firſt day of May ſhall happen to be found guilty after the Laws of this Realm, of and for robbing any perſon or perſons, in any booth or tent, in any Fair or Market, the owner, his wife, his children or ſervants, or ſervant then being within the booth or tent, ſhall not from henceforth be admitted to the benefit of his or their Clergy, but utterly be excluded thereof, and ſuffer death in ſuch manner and form as is before mentioned in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid three and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſame late King, for robberies and felonies committed and done in dwelling-houſes and dwelling-places, the owner or dweller in the ſame, his wife, children or ſervants then being within the ſame, and put in fear and dread, without having any reſpect or conſideration whether the owner or dweller in ſuch booths and tents, his wife, children or ſervants being in the ſame booths or tents at the time of ſuch robberies and felonies committed, ſhall be ſleeping or waking.

Burglary in a tent or booth, in a Fair or Market.

CAP. X.

An Act for the avoiding of Clergy from divers perſons.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter upon prorogation, the xv. day of January, in the xxv. year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord, King Henry the Eighth, It is recited, that at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the xxiii. year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, amongſt other things it was ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted, That no perſon or perſons, which after that time ſhould happen to be found guilty after the Laws of this Land, of any manner of petit Treaſon, or for any wilful murder of malice prepenſed, or for robbing of any Churches, Chappels, or other holy places, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in their dwelling-houſes or dwelling-place, the owner or dweller in the ſame houſe, his wife, his children or ſervants then being within, and put in fear and dread by the ſame, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in or near about the high-way, or for wilful burning of any dwelling-houſes or barns wherein any grains of corn ſhould happen to be, nor any perſon or perſons being found guilty of any abetment, procurement, helping, maintaining or concealing of, or to any ſuch petit Treaſon, murders or felonies, ſhould from thenceforth be admitted to the benefit of his or their Clergy, but ſhould utterly be excluded thereof, and ſuffer death in ſuch manner and form as they ſhould have done for any the cauſes or offences aboveſaid, if they were no Clerks; (2) which Act extended but only where ſuch offender was convicted in ſuch County or place where ſuch offence was ſo committed and done, and not where he or they did ſuch offence in one County, and were taken with the manner in another County: (3) Wherefore it was conſidered, That foraſmuch as divers and many felons and robbers, that commit and do divers and many great hainous robberies and burglaries in one Shire, and convey the ſpoil and robbery into any other Shire and there be taken, indicted, and arraigned of felony, of the felonious ſtealing of the ſame goods in the ſame other Shire then where the ſame robberies or burglaries were done and committed, and not of the ſame robbery nor burglary, for that it was not done or committed in the ſame Shire where they be ſo indicted and arraigned, and that by reaſon thereof ſuch felons, robbers and burglarors had and enjoyed the priviledge and advantage of their Clergy:

Clergy 17. Such as rob in one Shire, and flie into another, ſhall not have their Clergy. 25 H. 8. 3. 23 H. 8. 1.

II. For redreſs whereof, it was enacted in the ſaid Parliament holden in the ſaid five and twentieth year of the ſaid late King, That if any perſon or perſons after that time, after ſuch robbery or burglary by him or them done in any one County, ſhould be indicted of felony for ſtealing of any goods or chattels in any other County within this Realm, and thereupon arraigned and found guilty, or ſtand mute of malice, or challenge peremptorily above the number of twenty perſons, or would not upon his or their ſaid arraignment directly anſwer to the ſame felony, That then the ſame perſon and perſons ſo arraigned and found guilty, or ſtanding mute of malice, or challenging peremptorily above the number of twenty perſons, or that would not directly anſwer to the Law, ſhould loſe and be put from the benefit of his or their Clergy, in like manner and form as they ſhould have been, if they had been indicted, arraigned and found guilty in the ſame County where ſuch robbery or burglary as is aforeſaid, was done or committed, if it ſhould appear to the Juſtices before whom any ſuch felons or robbers ſhould be arraigned, by evidence given before them, or by examination, that the ſame felons and burglarors ſhould have been put from their Clergy in caſe they had been indicted, arraigned and found guilty in the ſame County where the ſame robberies or burglaries were committed or done, as in the ſame Statute made in the ſaid five and twentieth year, among other things, more plainly appeareth.

III. And where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the fourth day of November, in the firſt year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, it is ordained and enacted amongſt other things, That no perſon or perſons that before that time had been, or at any time hereafter ſhould be in due form of the Laws attainted or convict of murther of malice prepenſed, of poiſoning of malice prepenſed, (2) or of breaking of any houſe by day or by night, any perſon being then in the ſame houſe where the ſame breaking had been, or after that time ſhould be committed, being put in fear or dread, (3) or of, or for robbing of any perſon or perſons in the high-way, or near the high-way, or for felonious ſtealing of Horſes, Geldings or Mares, (4) or of felonious taking of any goods out of any Pariſh Church, or other Church or Chappel, (5) or being indicted or appealed of any of the ſame offences, and thereupon found guilty by verdict of twelve men, or ſhould confeſs the ſame upon his or their arraignment, or would not anſwer directly according to the Laws of this Realm, or ſhould ſtand wilfully or of malice mute, (6) ſhould not be admitted to have or enjoy the priviledge or benefit of his or their Clergy or Sanctuary, but ſhould be put from the ſame.

IV. And that in all other caſes of felony, other then ſuch as be before mentioned, all and ſingular perſon and perſons, which after the firſt day of March then next following, ſhould be arraigned or found guilty upon his or their arraignment, or ſhould confeſs the ſame, or ſtand mute in form aforeſaid, or would not anſwer directly in form abovesaid, ſhould have and enjoy the priviledge and benefit of his or their Clergy, and the liberty and priviledge of Sanctuary, in like manner and form as he or they might or ſhould have done before the twenty fourth day of April, in the firſt year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, as in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid firſt year, among other things more plainly appeareth: (2) By reaſon of which Article and Clauſe contained in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid firſt year, the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid twenty fifth year of the ſaid late King, which did put ſuch felons and burglarors from their Clergy, that do ſuch offence in one County, and after are taken with the goods ſtollen in another County, and there indicted, arraigned, and found guilty, was made void; By reaſon whereof divers and many perſons that ſithen the ſaid firſt year have committed ſuch robberies and burglaries in one County, and after have been taken with the manner in another County, and there indicted, arraigned, and found guilty, have had and enjoyed their Clergy, which they would not have had, in caſe the ſaid Act made in the ſaid twenty fifth year had ſtood in force, to the great bolding and comfort of ſuch offenders: (3) For redreſs whereof from henceforth to be had, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Act made in the ſaid twenty fifth year, touching the putting of ſuch offenders from their Clergy, and every Article, Clauſe and Sentence contained in the ſame touching Clergy, ſhall from henceforth, touching ſuch offences from henceforth to be committed and done, ſtand, remain and be in full ſtrength and virtue, in ſuch manner and form as it did before the making of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid firſt year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King that now is; Any Clauſe, Article or Sentence compriſed in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid firſt year, to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The Statute of 25 H. 8. 3. ſhall ſtand in force, notwithſtanding a clauſe compriſed in the Statute of 1 Ed. 6. 12.

CAP. XI.

An Act for the puniſhing of divers kinds of Treaſons.

Treaſon 10.

IT ſhall be high Treaſon for any perſon directly to affirm by Writing, Printing, Painting, Carving or Graving, that the King is an Heretick, Schiſmatick, Tyrant, Infidel, or Uſurper of the Crown: or rebelliouſly to detain from the King any of his Caſtles or holds, or any of his Ships, Ordnance, Artillery, or other Fortifications of War. Exp. & Rep. 1 M. 1.

Before whom treaſons committed out of the Realm ſhall be tried. Stat. 26 H. 8. 13. 35 H. 8. 2.

(VI.) II. And over that, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the Kings Subjects, Denizens or other, do commit or practiſe out of the limits of this Realm, in any outward parts, any the offences which by this Act are made, or heretofore, now ſtanding in force, have been made Treaſon, That then ſuch Treaſons, whatſoever they be, or whereſoever they ſhall happen to be done or committed, ſhall be enquired and preſented by the Oaths of twelve good and lawful men, upon good and probable evidence and witneſs, in ſuch Shire and County of this Realm, and before ſuch perſons as it ſhall pleaſe the King, his ſaid Heirs or Succeſſors, to appoint by Commiſſion under his Great Seal, in like manner and form as Treaſons committed within this Realm have been uſed to be enquired of and preſented: (2) And that upon every indictment and preſentment founden and made of ſuch Treaſons, and certified into the Kings Bench, like proceſs and other circumſtance ſhall be there made and had againſt the offenders, as if the ſame Treaſon ſo preſented, had been lawfully found to be done and committed within the limits of this Realm.

Proceſs of outlawry awarded againſt an offender in treaſon, being out of the Realm. Stat. 26 H. 8. 13.

III. And that all Proceſs of outlawry hereafter to be made and had within this Realm, againſt any offenders in Treaſon, being reſiant or inhabitant out of the limits of this Realm, or in any the parts beyond the Sea, at the time of the Outlawry pronounced againſt them, ſhall be as good and effectual in the Law to all intents and purpoſes, as if any ſuch offenders had been reſident and dwelling within this Realm at the time of ſuch Proceſs awarded, and Outlawry pronounced.

The party outlawed yieldeth himſelf to the Chief Juſtice of England. 3 Inſt. 216.

IV. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the party ſo hereafter to be owtlawed, ſhall within one year next after the ſaid Outlawry pronounced, judgment given upon the ſaid Outlawry, yield himſelf to the Chief Juſtice of England for the time being, and offer to traverſe the Indictment or Appeal whereupon the ſaid Outlawry ſhall be pronounced, as is aforeſaid, That then he ſhall be received to the ſaid Traverſe, and being thereupon found Not guilty by the verdict of twelve men, he ſhall be clearly acquitted and diſcharged of the ſaid Outlawry, and of all penalties and forfeitures by reaſon of the ſame, in as large and ample manner and form as though no ſuch Outlawry had been made; Any thing herein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Forfeiture by attainder of treaſon of lands in fee-tail.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every offender or offenders, being hereafter lawfully convict of any manner of high Treaſon, by preſentment, confeſſion, verdict or proceſs of Outlawry, according to the due courſe and cuſtom of the Laws of this Realm, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors aforeſaid, all ſuch Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments which any ſuch offender or offenders ſhall have of any Eſtate of Inheritance in his own right, in uſe or poſſeſſion within this Realm of England, or elſewhere within any the Kings Dominions, at the time of any ſuch Treaſons committed, or any time after.

VI. And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall in any wiſe be impeached for any the offences aboveſaid, committed only by open preaching or words, unleſs the offender or offenders be thereof accuſed within three months next after the ſame open preaching and words, and that the ſame Accuſation or Accuſations be had, made and declared to one of the Kings Councel, or to one of the Kings Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or elſe to one of the Kings Juſtices of the Peace being of the Quorum, or to two Juſtices of the Peace within the Shire where the ſame offence or offences ſhall happen to be done or committed; Any thing contained in this Act to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Within what time, and before whom the offender muſt be accuſed.

VII. Provided alſo, and be it declared and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That concealment or keeping ſecret of any High Treaſon, be deemed and taken only miſpriſion of Treaſon, and the offender therein to forfeit and ſuffer as in caſes of miſpriſion of Treaſon, as heretofore hath been uſed; Any thing above mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Concealment of high treaſon is miſpriſion of treaſon.

VIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons after the firſt day of June next coming, ſhall be indicted, arraigned, condemned, convicted or attainted for any of the Treaſons or Offences aforeſaid, or for any other Treaſons that now be, or hereafter ſhall be, which ſhall hereafter be perpetrated, committed or done, unleſs the ſame offender or offenders be thereof accuſed by two lawful Accuſers; (2) which ſaid Accuſers at the time of that arraignment of the party accuſed, if they be then living, ſhall be brought in perſon before the party ſo accuſed, and avow and maintain that that they have to ſay againſt the ſaid party, to prove him guilty of the Treaſons or Offences contained in the bill of indictment laid againſt the party arraigned, unleſs the ſaid party arraigned ſhall willingly without violence confeſs the ſame: (3) Saving to every perſon and perſons, their heirs and ſucceſſors, other then the offenders and their heirs, and ſuch perſon and perſons as claim to any of their uſes, all ſuch Rights, Titles, Intereſt, Poſſeſſions, Leaſes, Rents, Reverſions, Offices and other Profits which they or any of them ſhall have at the day of committing ſuch Treaſons, or at any time after, in as large and ample manner as if this Act had never been had or made.

No perſon ſhall be attainted of treaſon, but upon the teſtimony of two lawful accuſers.
1 Ed. 6. 12. Sect. 22 N. 1.
1 & 2 P. & M. 10 Sect. 12.

The right of others ſaved.

IX. Provided alſo, And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the wife or wives, whoſe husband or husbands hereafter ſhall be attainted of Treaſons ſpecified in this Act, or of any other Treaſons whatſoever they be, ſhall in no wiſe be received to ask, challenge, demand, or have dowry of any the lands, tenements, or hereditaments of any the perſon or perſons to be attainted of Treaſon as is aforeſaid, during the ſaid attainder in his force; Any thing before mentioned to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The wife ſhall loſe her dower where the husband is attainted of Treaſon.
Stat. 1 Ed. 6. 12.

CAP. XII.

An Act touching the Declaration of a Statute made for the Marriage of Prieſts, and for the Ligitimation of their Children.

ALbeit that at the Seſſion of this Parliament holden by Prorogation at Weſtminſter the fourth day of November, in the ſecond year of the Reign of the Kings Majeſty that now is, it was ordained and enacted by the Authority of the ſame Parliament, That all and every Law and Laws poſitive, Canons, Conſtitutions and Ordinances before that, made by the authority of Man only, which then did prohibit and forbid Marriage to any Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, condition or degree they then were, or by what name or names ſoever they then were called, which by Gods Law might lawfully marry, and all and every Article, Branch and Sentence, concerning only the prohibition for the marriage of the perſons aforeſaid, ſhould be utterly void and of none effect; (2) And that all manner of Forfeitures, Pains, Penalties, Crimes or Actions which were in the ſaid Laws contained, or of the ſame did follow concerning the prohibition for the marriage of the perſons aforeſaid, ſhould be clearly and utterly void, fruſtrate, and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as well concerning marriage afore that time made by any of the Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual perſons aforeſaid, as alſo ſuch which hereafter ſhould be duly and lawfully had, celebrated and made betwixt the perſons which by the Laws of God might lawfully marry: (3) Yet ſince the making of the ſaid Act, divers evil diſpoſed perſons perverſly taking occaſion of certain Words and Sentences in the ſame Act compriſed, have and do untruly and very ſlanderouſly report of Prieſts Matrimony, ſaying that the ſame Statute is but a permiſſion of Prieſts Matrimony as Uſury, and other unlawful things be now permitted for the eſchewing of greater inconvenience and evils, ſo that thereby the lawful Matrimony of Prieſts in the opinion of many, and the Children procreate and born in ſuch lawful Matrimony, rather be of a greater number of the Kings Subjects accounted as Baſtards, then lawfully born, to the great ſlander, peril and diſheriſon of ſuch Children: (4) Which untrue, ſlanderous report of holy Matrimony, doth not only redound to the high diſhonour of Almighty God, but alſo to the Kings Majeſties diſhonour, and his high Court of Parliament, and the learned Clergy of this Realm, who have determined the ſame to be moſt lawful by the Law of God in their Convocation, as well by the common aſſent, as by the Subſcription of their Hands: (5) And that moſt of all is to be lamented, through ſuch uncomely railings of Matrimony, and ſlanderous reproaches of the Clergy, the Word of God is not heard with reverence, followed with diligence, the godly proceedings of the Kings Majeſty not received with due obedience, and thereby the wealthy men of this Realm diſcouraged to nouriſh and bring up their Children in Learning, ſo as it is to be feared, leſt in place of good Learning and Knowledge, ſhall creep in Ignorance, and for learned men, unlearned ambitious men and flatterers, to the great diſpleaſure of Almighty God, and to the peril of the whole ſtate of Gods true Religion within this Realm, if ſpeedy remedy be not provided herein:

Matrimony. The marriage of Prieſts and other Spiritual perſons ſhall be adjudged lawful.
2 & 3 Ed. 6. 21.

II. Therefore it is enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the Authority of the ſame Parliament, That the Matrimony of all and every Prieſt, and other Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual perſon and perſons heretofore had, celebrated and made, and the Matrimony of every Prieſt, and other Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual perſon, which ſhall hereafter duly be had, celebrated and made, ſhall be adjudged, deemed and taken for true, juſt and lawful Matrimony, to all intents conſtructions and purpoſes: (2) And that all and every children and child born in any ſuch Matrimony, ſhall be deemed, judged, reputed and taken, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, to be born in lawful Matrimony, and to be legitimate, and inheritable to lands, tenements and other hereditaments, from and by any of their fathers, mothers and other anceſtors, in like manner and form, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as any other children born in lawful Matrimoney betwixt any of the Kings lay Subjects be inheritable: (3) And that by the authority aforeſaid, as well all and every Prieſt, and other Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual perſon and perſons, be and ſhall be enabled to be Tenants by the courteſie, after the death of their Wives, of ſuch lands, tenements and other hereditaments as their Wives ſhall happen to be ſeiſed of, of eſtate in fee-ſimple, or eſtate in fee-tail general, during the ſpouſals; (4) and alſo every Wife of every ſuch Prieſt and other Eccleſiaſtical perſon, ſhall be enabled to claim, demand, have and enjoy dower of the lands, tenements and other hereditaments whereof her Husband during the ſpouſals between them was ſeiſed, of eſtate in fee-ſimple, or fee-tail general in his own right, in like manner and form, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as any other Husband or Wife may or might claim, demand, have or enjoy; Any law, ſtatute, ordinance, canon, conſtitution, preſcription or cuſtom had, made, exerciſed or uſed in this Realm, to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Prieſts children ſhall be legitimate and inherit their anceſtors lands.

Prieſts ſhall be tenants by the courteſie, and their wives endowable of their lands.

Asking in the Church.

III. Provided alway, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to give liberty to any perſon to Marry without Asking in the Church, or without the Ceremonies according to the Book of Common Prayer and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, (2) nor ſhall make any ſuch Matrimony already made, or hereafter to be made, good, which are prohibited by the law of God for any other cauſe.

Divorces already made.

IV. Provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to alter, change, revoke, repeal, or otherwiſe to diſanul any decree, judgment or ſentence of divorce heretofore had or made, or to change or alter the poſſeſſion of inheritance of any lands or tenements already deſcended: but that they and every of them ſhall remain, continue and be of ſuch like force, effect, ſtrength and degree, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as they were before the making of this Act; This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. REP. 1 M. 2. 1 Jac. 25. Revived.

CAP. XIII.

An Act for the declaration of an Act made in the xxxj. year of King Henry the Eighth, touching Religious Perſons.

Ability 3. Monaſteries, Raſt 1. Every religious perſon ſhall be inheritable to his anceſtor, only from the time of his deraignment. 31 H. 8. 6.

Where by on Act of Parliament made the one and thirtieth year of the Reign of the moſt noble Prince of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, for and concerning the enablement of profeſſed and religious perſons to purchaſe to them and to their heirs, in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, for term of life, for years or at will, manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, and other hereditaments and things whatſoever: (2) and that they and every of them ſhould or might from thenceforth uſe and exerciſe, receive, take, have and enjoy all and every lawful thing and things to be grown, fallen or happened to them or any of them after the ſame deraignment or departing out of Religion: (3) And in which ſaid Act of Parliament there is a Proviſo contained, That none of the ſame religious perſons ſhould or might at any time after the making of the ſame Act, be taken, deemed, or judged for, or as his heir or heirs, or inheritable to any perſon or perſons, to any purpoſe, reſpect, conſtruction or intent in the Law, as by the ſame Act, among other things therein contained, more fully at large it may and doth appear:

II. And forasmuch as ſith the time of the making of the ſaid Act, there hath been certain ambiguities and doubts grown and riſen, and hereafter are like to grow and ariſe upon the expoſition of the ſaid Act, whether the ſaid late religious and profeſſed perſons ſhould or might be adjudged able to inherit, and to be inheritable as heir or heirs to any of his or their anceſtor or anceſtors, and to have and enjoy all and every thing and things deſcended, grown, fallen or happened to them or any of them, after the ſaid deraignment or departing out of Religion, yea or no:

III. For the full and plain declaration whereof, be it enacted, declared and expounded by this preſent Parliament, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every of the ſame late religious and profeſſed perſon and perſons, ſhall and may by authority of this Act, be enabled to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, at all time and times hereafter to be taken, deemed and adjudged as heir or heirs, and inheritable to all and every their anceſtor or anceſtors, and to have, challenge or enjoy, receive and take all manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, and every other thing and things to them or any of them fallen, come, grown or deſcended from any their anceſtors, by any manner of ways, ſince the time of their ſeveral deraignments or departing out of their Religion, in as ample and large manner, form and condition, as they had never been profeſſed or entred into Religion, the ſame Profeſſion of Religion, or any Law, Cuſtom or Uſe within this Ream, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

No religious perſon ſhall inherit by force of any former right grown before his deraignment.

IV. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That none of the ſaid religious perſons, ſhall or may by virtue of this Act, at any time hereafter, be taken, deemed or judged for heir or heirs, or inheritable to any perſon or perſons, to any conſtructions and intent in the Law, by reaſon of any former right, title, intereſt, matter or cauſe had, made, done, deſcended or grown to any reſpect or purpoſe, before their ſaid ſeveral deraignments or departing out of their Religion; Any thing before in this Act, or in the ſaid former Act contained to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XIV.

An Act againſt Regrators, Foreſtallers and Ingroſſers.

Foreſtallers 1. Cattel 1. Who ſhall be judged a foreſtaller, who a regrator, and who an ingroſſer; and the puniſhment of them.

Statutes made againſt foreſtallers, Stat. 31 Ed. 1. 25 Ed. 3. 3. 2 Roll. 3. 2. 2 Bulſtr. 317. Godbolt 131. pl. 148.

ALbeit divers good Statutes heretofore have been made againſt Foreſtallers of Merchandiſes and Victuals, yet for that good Laws and Statutes againſt Regrators, and Ingroſſers of the ſame things have not been heretofore ſufficiently made and provided, and alſo for that it hath not been perfectly known what perſon ſhould be taken for a Foreſtaller, Regrator or Ingroſſer, the ſaid Statutes have not taken good effect, according to the minds of the makers thereof: (2) Therefore be it enacted and declared by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That whatſoever perſon or perſons that after the firſt day of May next coming, ſhall buy or cauſe to be bought, any Merchandiſe, Victual, or any other thing whatſoever, coming by land or by water toward any Market or Fair to be ſold in the ſame, or coming toward any City, Port, Haven, Creek or Rode of this Realm or Wales, from any parts beyond the Sea to be ſold, (3) or make any bargain, contract or promiſe for the having or buying of the ſame, or any part thereof, ſo coming, as is aforeſaid, before the ſaid Merchandiſe, Victuals or other things, ſhall be in the Market, Fair, City, Port, Haven, Creek or Rode, ready to be ſold: (4) or ſhall make any motion by word, letter, meſſage or otherwiſe, to any perſon or perſons, for the inhaunſing of the price, or dearer ſelling of any thing or things above mentioned, (5) or elſe diſſwade, move or ſtir any perſon or perſons coming to the Market or Fair, to abſtain or forbear to bring or convey any of the things above rehearſed, to any Market, Fair, City, Port, Haven, Creek or Rode to be ſold, as is aforeſaid, (6) ſhall be deemed and taken, and adjudged for a Foreſtaller.

II. Further be it enacted and declared by the authority aforeſaid, That whatſoever perſon or perſons that after the ſaid firſt day of May, ſhall by any means regrate, obtain, or get into his or their hands or poſſeſſion, in any Fair or Market, any Corn, Wine, Fiſh, Butter, Cheeſe, Candles, Tallow, Sheep, Lambs, Calves, Swine, Pigs, Geeſe, Capons, Hens, Chickens, Pigeons, Conies, or other dead Victual whatſoever, that ſhall be brought to any Fair or Market within this Realm or Wales to be ſold, and do ſell the ſame again in any Fair or Market holden or kept in the ſame place, or in any other Fair or Market within four miles thereof, ſhall be accepted, reputed and taken for a Regrator or Regrators.

III. And be it alſo enacted and declared by the authority aforeſaid, That whatſoever perſon or perſons, that after the ſaid firſt day of May ſhall ingroſs or get into his or their hands, by buying, contracting or promiſe-taking, other then by demiſe, grant or leaſe of land or tithe, any Corn growing in the fields, or any other Corn or Grain, Butter, Cheeſe, Fiſh, or other dead Victuals whatſoever within the Realm of England, to the intent to ſell the ſame again, ſhall be accepted, reputed and taken an unlawful Ingroſſer or Ingroſſers.

The puniſhment of the offenders aforeſaid for the firſt offence.

IV. And if any perſon or perſons ſhall at any time after the ſaid firſt day of May, offend in any of the things before recited, and being thereof duly convicted and attainted by the Laws of this Realm, or after the form hereafter mentioned, ſhall for his or their firſt offence have or ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of two months, without bail or mainpriſe, (2) and ſhall alſo loſe and forfeit the value of the goods, cattel and victual ſo by him or them bought or had.

The puniſhment for the ſecond offence.

V. And if any perſon lawfully convicted or attainted of or for any the offences aboveſaid, be thereof eftſoons lawfully convicted or attainted, that then every perſon or perſons ſo offending, ſhall have and ſuffer for his or their ſaid offence, impriſonment by the ſpace of one half year, without bail or mainpriſe, and ſhall loſe the double value of all the goods, cattel and victual ſo by him bought or had, as is aforeſaid.

The puniſhment for the third offence.

VI. And if any perſon being lawfully twice convicted or attainted of or for any of the ſaid offences, ſhall eftſoons offend the third time, and be thereof lawfully convicted or attainted, that then every ſuch perſon for the ſaid third offence, ſhall be ſet on the Pillory in the City, Town or place where he ſhall then dwell and inhabit, and loſe and forfeit all the goods and cattel that he or they have to their own uſe, and alſo be committed to priſon, there to remain during the Kings Majeſties pleaſure.

To what retailing or other acts this Statute doth not extend. 13 El. 25. Godbolt 144. pl. 180.

VII. Provided alway, and it is enacted and declared by the authority aforeſaid, That the buying of any ſuch Barley, Bigge or Oats, as any perſon or perſons (not foreſtalling) ſhall buy to convert into Malt or Oatmeal, in his or their own houſe or houſes, and ſo ſhall be converted indeed, (2) Or the buying of any ſuch thing by any ſuch Fiſhmonger, Butcher or Poulterer, as concern his or their own Faculty, Craft or Myſtery (otherwiſe then by foreſtalling) which ſhall ſell the ſame again upon reaſonable prices by retail, (3) Or the taking of any Cattel, Corn, Grain, Butter, Cheeſe, or any other thing above mentioned, reſerved without fraud or covin, upon any Leaſe for term of life or lives, year or years, heretofore made, or hereafter to be made, (4) Or the buying of any Wine or other dead Victual above mentioned, being apt and meet for mans ſuſtenance, by any Inholder or other Victualler, to ſell the ſame by retail within his houſe, or to any of his neighbours for their ſuſtenance, for reaſonable prices, (5) Or the buying of any dried or ſalted Fiſh, Herring or Sprats (not foreſtalled) and ſold for reaſonable prices, (6) Or the buying of any Corn, Fiſh, Butter or Cheeſe, by any ſuch Badger, Lader, Kidder or Carrier, as ſhall be aſſigned and allowed to that Office or doing, by three Juſtices of Peace of the Countrey where the ſaid Badger, Lader, Kidder or Carrier ſhall dwell, which ſhall ſell or deliver in open Fair or Market, (7) or to any other Victualler, or to any other perſon or perſons, for the Proviſion of his or their houſe or houſes, all ſuch Corn, Grain, Butter and Cheeſe, as any ſuch perſon ſhall buy or cauſe to be bought, and that within one month next after he ſhall ſo buy any ſuch Corn, Grain, Butter or Cheeſe, ſo that the ſame ſhall be bought without foreſtalling, (8) Or elſe that any common proviſion made, or hereafter to be made without fraud or covin, by any perſon or perſons, of any of the things aforeſaid, for any City, Borough, or Town-corporate, or for proviſion of victualling of any Ship, Caſtle or Fort within the Kings Dominions, without foreſtalling, which ſhall be employed only to that uſe and purpoſe, (9) or the buying and providing of any the victuals above mentioned, neceſſary and requiſite for the furniture and proviſion of the Inhabitants of Calice, Guiſnes, and other the Marches of the ſame, or of the Town of Berwick, Holy Iſland, or the Marches of England againſt Scotland, which without fraud or covin ſhall be tranſported and conveyed as ſoon as wind and weather may ſerve, to ſuch of the places aforeſaid for the which the ſame ſhall be ſo provided, (10) ſhall not be in any wiſe deemed, adjudged or taken any offence contrary to this Act.

Changing of Seed-corn. Moor 595. pl. 810. 2 Browwl. 108. pl. 110.

VIII. And it is alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid firſt day of May next coming, having ſufficient Corn and Grain for the proviſion of his or their own houſe or houſes, and ſowing of their grounds for one year, do buy any Corn in any Fair or Market, for the change of his or their Seed, and do not bring to the ſame Fair or Market the ſame day, ſo much Corn as he ſhall fortune to buy for his Seed, and ſell the ſame if he can, as the price of Corn then goeth in the ſaid Market or Fair, That then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo buying Corn or Seed, ſhall forfeit and loſe the double value of the Corn ſo bought.

No perſon may ſell his cattel within five weeks after he bought them.

IX. Or if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid firſt day of May, ſhall buy any manner of Oxen, Ront, Steers, Kine, Heifers, Calves, Sheep, Lambs, Goats or Kids living, and ſell the ſame again alive, unleſs he or they do keep and feed the ſame by the ſpace of five weeks, in his or their own houſes, ground, ferm-ground, or elſe in ſuch ground or grounds where he or they have the herbage or common of paſture by grant or preſcription, That then every perſon or perſons ſo buying and ſelling again, ſhall loſe the double value of the Cattel or things ſo bought and ſold again: (2) The moiety of all which forfeitures afore rehearſed ſhall be to the King, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by bill, plaint, action of debt or information; in which bill, plaint, action, or information, no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be admitted.

The Juſtices of Peace may enquire, hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

X. Be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of the Peace in every County within this Realm or Wales, at their Quarter Seſſions, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to enquire, hear and determine all and every the defaults and offences perpetrated, committed or done contrary to this Act, within the County where any ſuch Seſſions ſhall be kept, by inquiſition, preſentment, bill or information before them exhibited, and by examination of two lawful witneſſes, or by any of the ſame ways or means, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices, (2) and to make proceſs thereupon, as though they were indicted before them by inquiſition, or by verdict of twelve men or more; (3) and upon the conviction of the offender, by information or ſuit of any other then the King, to make extracts of the one moiety of the forfeitures to be levied to the Kings uſe, as they uſe to do of other fines, iſſues, and amerciaments grown in the Seſſions of Peace, (4) and to award execution of the other moiety for the complainant or the informer againſt the offender, by Fieri facias, or Capias, as the Kings Juſtices at Weſtminſter may do and uſe to do: (5) And if any ſuch conviction or attainder ſhall hereafter happen to be at the Kings ſuit only, that then the whole forfeitures to be extracted and levied to the Kings uſe only.

But one puniſhment for one offence.

XI. And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That whatſoever perſon ſhall at any time hereafter be puniſhed by virtue of this Act, for any thing mentioned in this Act, that then the ſame perſon ſhall not otherwiſe be vexed, troubled, ſued, or put to any pain or puniſhment for that thing wherefore he or they ſhall have been ſo puniſhed.

Tranſporting Corn, &c. from one part to another by licence of the Juſtices.

XII. Provided always, and it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to every perſon or perſons which ſhall be aſſigned and allowed by three Juſtices of the Peace of the County where he ſhall dwell, thereunto, to buy (otherwiſe then by foreſtalling) Corn, Grain or Cattel, to be tranſported or carried by water from any Port or place within this Realm or Wales, unto any other Port or place within the ſaid Realm or Dominions, if he or they ſhall without fraud or covin, ſhip or embark within fourty days next after he or they ſhall have bought the ſame, or taken covenant or promiſe for the buying thereof, and with ſuch expedition and diligence as wind and weather will ſerve to carry and tranſport the ſame to ſuch Port or place as his or their Cockets ſhall declare, and there to diſbark, unlade and ſell the ſame, and do bring a true Certificate thereof from one Juſtice of Peace of the County, or Mayor or Bailiff of the Town-corporate where the ſame ſhall be unladen, and alſo of the Cuſtomer of the Port where ſuch unlading ſhall be, of the place and day where the ſaid Corn or Cattel ſhall be diſbarked, unladen and ſold, to be directed unto the Cuſtomer and Controller of the Port where the ſame were embarked; Any thing mentioned in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Every man may engroſs Corn being at theſe prices.

XIII. And over that, that at all times hereafter, when Wheat ſhall be commonly at the price of ſix ſhillings eight pence the Quarter or under, (2) Malt and Barley at three ſhillings four pence the Quarter or under, (3) Oats, or Oats malted, at the price of two ſhillings the Quarter or under, (4) Peaſe or Beans at the price of four ſhillings the Quarter or under, (5) and Rye or Miſteline at the price of five ſhillings the Quarter or under, (6) (all which Quarters ſhall be intended to be of London meaſure.) (7) that then it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſous (not foreſtalling) to buy, engroſs and keep in his or their Granaries or Houſes, ſuch Corn of the kinds aforeſaid, as without fraud or covin ſhall be bought at or under the prices afore expreſſed; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Within what time the offender muſt be ſued.

XIV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, extend not to charge any perſon or perſons for any the offences above mentioned, unleſs he or they be ſued for the ſame within two years next after ſuch offence done or committed. This Act to endure until the end of the next Parliament.

Regrating of freſh Fiſh.

XV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to all and every of the Kings Majeſties Subjects, now dwelling and inhabiting, or that hereafter ſhall dwell or inhabit within one mile of the main Sea, to buy all manner of Fiſh, freſh or ſalted, (not foreſtalling the ſame) and to ſell the ſame again at reaſonable prices;

This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

XVI. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to all and every perſon and perſons, known for a common Drover or Drovers, being licenſed, authoriſed and allowed in writing by three Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum of the County or Counties where the ſame Drover or Drovers ſhall be moſt abiding and dwelling, to buy Cattel in ſuch Shires or Counties where Drovers have been wont in times paſt accuſtomably to buy Cattel at their free liberty and pleaſure, and to ſell the ſame, as is aforeſaid, at reaſonable prices in common Fairs and Markets diſtant from the place or places where he or they ſhall buy the ſame, fourty miles at the leaſt, ſo that the ſame Cattel be not bought by way of foreſtalling; This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Drovers of Cattel licenſed by the Juſtices, may buy and ſell again.

XVII. Provided always, That ſuch Licence of Juſtices of Peace ſhall not endure above one year, unleſs the ſame be yearly renewed by ſo many Juſtices as is aforeſaid. 13 El. 25. made perpetual. Stat. 5. 31 El. 5. 21 Jac. 22.

CAP. XV.

An Act againſt Regrators and Ingroſſers of Tanned Leather.

Where by the covetouſneſs of divers and greedy perſons, regrating and engroſſing all kinds of Tanned Leather into their hands, and ſelling the ſame again at exceſſive prices to Sadlers, Girdlers, Cordwainers, and ſuch other Artificers and Handicrafts-men as make Wares of Tanned Leather, the Kings loving Subjects are inforced to buy the ſaid Wares at unreaſonable prices: (2) For remedy and reformation whereof, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after the firſt day of May next coming, no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever he or they be, ſhall buy or ingroſs, or cauſe to be bought or ingroſſed any kind of Tanned Leather, to the intent to ſell the ſame again, (3) upon pain to forfeit the ſaid Leather ſo bought, or the juſt price thereof; The one moiety of which forfeiture ſhall be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moiety to him or them that ſhall ſeiſe or ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, information or otherwiſe, wherein no wager of law, eſſoin, protection or injunction ſhall be admitted or allowed for the defendant.

Leather 51. By what perſons, and for what purpoſes, Tanned Leather may be bought and ingroſſed.

II. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Sadlers, Girdlers, Cordwainers, and all other Artificers, ſuch as make Males, Bougets, Leather Pots, Tankerds, Barhides, or any other Wares of Leather, ſhall or may buy all ſuch kind of Tanned Leather, as is or ſhall be neceſſary for their occupying, to be wrought or made by them or by their ſervants, in or about the ſaid Wares; Any thing before mentioned in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Sadlers, &c. may buy Leather, &c. Rep. 1 M. 8.

III. Provided alſo, That every Girdler, and other Artificer before mentioned in this Act, may at his free will and pleaſure ſell their necks, wombs and ſhreds of Tanned Leather, (ſuch as they or any of them cannot occupy about the Wares they uſe to make) to any perſon or perſons, without incurring any forfeit, pain or penalty before expreſſed in this Act; Any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Artificers may ſell their wombs, ſhreds and necks.

IV. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to or for every perſon or perſons which now have, or hereafter ſhall have the Kings Majeſties ſpecial Licence or Licences, to tranſport, carry or convey over the Sea, any kind of Tanned Leather, to buy for the furniture of their ſaid Licence or Licences, in open Fair or Market, ſuch and ſo much Tanned Leather as he or they be or ſhall be licenſed to tranſport, carry or convey: So that the ſame Licence or Licences be preſented and ſhewed unto the chief Officer or Officers that now have, or hereafter ſhall have the Governance of any City, Town, Fair or Market where the ſaid Leather, or any part thereof ſhall be bought: (2) And ſo that the ſaid Officer or Officers ſeeing the ſame Licence to be good and perfect, do juſtly and truly write upon the backſide of every ſuch Licence or Licences, how much Tanned Leather he or they ſhall there have bought, and the certain day, time and place of buying the ſame, that thereby it may manifeſtly appear how and when every ſuch Licence and Licences be or ſhall be ſatisfied; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Buying of ſo much Tanned Leather as the party hath licence to tranſport.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the ſaid firſt day of May next coming, no perſon or perſons ſhall ſhip, or cauſe to be ſhipped (to the intent to carry, tranſport or convey over the Seas, as merchandiſe to be ſold or exchanged there) any ſhoes, boots, buskins, ſtertups or ſlippers, (2) upon pain to forfeit all and every ſuch ſhoes, boots, buskins, ſtertups or ſlippers ſo ſhipped contrary to the true meaning of this Act, or the value of the ſame; the one moiety of the ſaid forfeiture to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moiety to him or them that ſhall ſeiſe or ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Majeſties Courts of Record, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, Information, or otherwiſe; wherein no Wager of Law, Eſſoin, Protection or Injunction ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant.

No perſon ſhall tranſport ſhoes, boots, &c. 14 Car. 2. Cap. 7. Sect. 6.

VI. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, ne any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to be prejudicial or hurtful to any perſon or perſons being the Kings Subjects, for tranſporting or carrying over the Seas unto Calice or the Marches of the ſame, and unto the Iſle of Man, ſo much, or as many of the aforeſaid made Wares (as boots, buskins, ſtertups and ſlippers heretofore recited) as ſhall be neceſſary and convenient for the wearing and furniture of the Kings Subjects in them or any of them; any thing in this laſt Act contained to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Rep. 5 El. 8. & 1 Jac. 22.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Sadler, Girdler, Cordwainer, nor other Artificer dwelling within the City of London and Suburbs of the ſame, which ſhall cut the ſame Tanned Leather (as is aforeſaid, to the intent to make Wares thereof)

No cutter of Leather in London ſhall curry it in his houſe.

CAP. XVIII.

An Act for repealing of an Act made in the fourth year of King Henry the Seventh, againſt the bringing in of Wine and Woad in Strangers Bottoms.

Ships, Raſt. 12. Gaſcoin or Guyen Wines, Tholouſe Woad, may be brought into this Realm by any other Ships as well as Engliſh. 4 H. 7. 10.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the thirtieth day of January, in the fourth year of the Reign of the famous Prince of worthy memory, King Henry the Seventh after the Conqueſt, Grandfather to our now moſt gracious and natural Sovereign Liege Lord, it was amongſt other things ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted, That no manner of perſon, of what degree or condition that he were, ſhould convey or bring into this Realm, Ireland, Wales, Calice or the Marches thereof, or Berwick, from the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt, that after that was in the year of our Lord God, One thouſand four hundred and ninety, any manner Wines growing of the Dutchy of Guyen or Gaſcoin, or Woad called Tholouſe Woad, but ſhould be conveyed, adventured and brought in Ship or Ships, whereof the ſaid late King, or ſome of his Subjects of this Realm of England, Ireland, Wales, Calice or Berwick, where owners, poſſeſſors, and proprietaries, the Maſter under God, and the Mariners of the ſame Ship or Ships, Engliſh, Iriſh, Welſh, or men of Berwick, or men of Calice, or of the Marches of the ſame, for the more party, upon pain to forfeit the ſame Wines or Woad ſo brought contrary to the ſaid Act, as in the ſaid Act more at large it doth and may appear:

The reaſons of the making of the Statute of 4 H. 7. and the contrary events thereof.

II. The which Act was ſuppoſed to be made for the maintenance of the Navy of this Realm, and alſo to the intent, and upon good hope and truſt, to have had the ſame Wines and Woad at more eaſie prices then before they had been, the experience whereof hath ever ſithence (and now of late moſt of all) appeared to the contrary, for that the ſaid Wines and Woad be daily ſold at ſuch exceſſive prices, as hath not before been ſeen within this Realm, and the Navy of the Realm thereby never the better maintained:

An Alteration of the Stat. of 4 H. 7 touching bringing into this Realm of Wine and Woad. Alt. 5 El. 5.

III. In conſideration whereof, be it enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from the firſt day of February next coming after the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, unto the firſt day of October then following, and ſo yearly, and from year to year, beginning at and between the firſt day of February and the firſt day of October, it ſhall and may be lawful to all and every perſon and perſons being of the parts or Countries in amity with our Sovereign Lord the King, to convey or bring into this Realm, Ireland, Wales, Calice, or the Marches of the ſame, or Berwick, any manner of Wines, of the growing of the Dutchy of Guyen, or Gaſcoin, or any other parts of France, or Tholouſe Woad, or any of them, in whatſoever Ship or Ships, Crayer or Crayers, Boat or Boats, or by any other mean, whoſoever be, or ſhall be thereof owner, poſſeſſor or proprietary, being of the parts or Countries in amity of our Sovereign Lord, or whoſoever be thereof Maſter, Mariner or Mariners in the ſame, without any forfeiture or penalty thereof to be had; the ſaid Statute, or any thing therein contained, to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. St. 1 El. 13.

CAP. XIX.

An Act touching the Exchange of Gold and Silver.

Money 1. The penalty for exchanging of gold and ſilver. St. 25 Ed. 3. 12.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the five and twentieth year of the Reign of King Edward the Third, it was accorded, That it ſhould be lawful for every man to exchange Gold for Silver, or Silver for Gold, or for Gold and Silver, ſo that no man did hold the ſame as exchanged, nor take no profit for making of ſuch exchange, upon pain of forfeiture of the Money ſo exchanged, except the Kings Exchangers, which take profit of ſuch exchange, according to an Ordinance before that time made: (2) Which Statute notwithſtanding, divers covetous perſons of their own authorities have of late taken upon them to make exchanges, as well of Coined Gold as of Coined Silver, receiving and paying therefore more in value then hath been declared by the Kings Proclamation to be currant for, within this Realm, and other his Dominions, to the great hinderance of the Common-wealth of this Realm:

II. Be

The penalty for giving or receiving for money more then it is currant for.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, by the aſſent of the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons after the firſt day of April next coming, exchange any coined Gold, coined Silver or Money, giving, receiving, or paying any more in value, benefit, profit or advantage for it, then the ſame is or ſhall be declared by the Kings Majeſties Proclamation to be currant for, within this his Highneſs Realm, and other his Dominions, That then all the ſaid coined Gold, Silver, and Money ſo exchanged, and every part and parcel thereof, ſhall be forfeit, and the parties ſo offending ſhall ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one whole year, and make fine at the Kings pleaſure: (2) The one moiety of the ſaid Gold, Silver, or Coin ſo forfeited, to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other moiety to be to the party that ſeiſeth the ſame, or will ſue for it by bill, plaint, original, action of debt, information or otherwiſe, in any of the Kings Courts of Record; in which ſuit, no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall lie, be allowed or admitted.

CAP. XX.

Uſury, Raſt. 6.

The Statute of 37 H. 8. 9. repealed. No perſon by any means ſhall lend or forbear any ſum of money for any manner of uſury or increaſe, to be received or hoped for, above the ſum lent, upon pain to forfeit the ſum lent, and the increaſe, impriſonment and fine at the Kings pleaſure. Rep. 13 El. 8.

CAP. XXI.

Pedlers, Raſt. 6.

No Tinker, Pedler, or petit Chapman, ſhall wander about from the Town where he dwelleth, or exerciſe the Trade of Tinker but ſuch as ſhall be licenſed by two Juſtices of Peace or more, under their Hands and Seals, upon pain of fourteen days impriſonment. Rep. 1 Jac. 25.

CAP. XXII.

An Act for the putting down of Gig-Mills.

Drapery 66. None ſhall occupy any Gig-Mill in the workmanſhip of woollen Clothes.

The penalty for uſing of a Gig-mill in working of woollen Cloth.

FOraſmuch as true Drapery of woollen Cloth is to be commended as well in foreign Realms, as in this Realm of England, and all ways and means uſed to the contrary are to be eſchewed and taken away; (2) And foraſmuch as in many parts of this Realm is newly and lately deviſed, erected, builded and uſed certain Mills called Gig-mills, for the perching and burling of Cloth, by reaſon whereof the true Drapery of this Realm is wonderfully impaired, and the Cloth thereof deceitfully made, by reaſon of the uſing of the ſaid Gig-mils: (3) For the remedy whereof, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no manner of perſon or perſons, after the laſt day of May next coming, ſhall uſe or occupy any of the ſaid Gig-mills, for the working of any woollen Cloth, or Clothes made or to be made within this Realm, (4) upon pain of forfeiture for every Cloth ſo wrought in or by any of the ſaid Mills called Gig-mills, five pound: The moeity of all and every ſuch forfeiture and forfeitures, penalty and penalties, to be to the uſe of our Sovereign Lord the King and his Heirs, and the other moiety to the uſe of him that ſhall ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts, be it by Writ, Bill, Plaint or Information, wherein the Defendant ſhall not be admitted to wage his Law, nor any Protection, Eſſoin or Injunction ſhall be to him allowed.

CAP. XXIII.

An Act for ſtuffing of Feather-beds, Bolſters, Mattreſſes and Cuſhions.

Upholſters 1. What ſtuff ſhall be put in Feather-beds, Bolſters, Pillows, Quilts, Mattreſſes and Cuſhions. 2 Bulſtr. 188.

FOr the avoiding of the great deceit uſed and practiſed in ſtuffing of Feather-beds, Bolſters, Pillows, Mattreſſes, Cuſhions and Quilts, (2) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the laſt day of June next coming, no perſon or perſons whatſoever ſhall make, (to the intent to ſell, or offer to be ſold) any Feather-bed, Bolſter or Pillow, except the ſame be ſtuffed with dry pulled Feathers, or clean Down only, without mingling of ſcalded Feathers, Fen-Down, Thiſtle-down, Sand, Lime, Gravel, unlawful or corrupt Stuff, Hair, or any other, (3) upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Feather-beds, Bolſters and Pillows, and every of them ſo offered to be ſold, or the value thereof.

II. And be it further enacted by the ſame authority, That from and after the ſaid day, no perſon or perſons ſhall make (to the intent to ſell or offer, or put to ſale) any Quilt, Mattreſs or Cuſhions, which ſhall be ſtuffed with any other Stuff then Feathers, Wooll, or Flocks alone, (2) upon pain of forfeiture of all and every ſuch Quilt, Mattreſſes or Cuſhions ſo ſold, or offered to be ſold, or the value thereof;

III. The moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to any ſuch perſons as will ſue for the ſame in any of the Kings Courts of Record, or in any other Court; wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed for the defendant or defendants. 11 H. 7. 19.

CAP. XXIV.

An Act for making of Hats, Dornecks and Coverlets, at Norwich, and in Norfolk.

Coverlets 5. Who may make Felts, Hats, &c. at Norwich, and in Norfolk, and in what places there.

WHere the making of Hats, Dornecks and Coverlets have of late been begun to be practiſed within the City of Norwich, in which City there be good and profitable Ordinances and Conſtitutions provided and ordained for the preſervation and continuance of the good making of the ſame Hats, Dornecks and Coverlets, by reaſon whereof the young and idle people of the ſaid City, to a great number, have been, and yet be well occupied, maintained and ſet on work; (2) And foraſmuch as divers evil and covetous diſpoſed perſons, exerciſing the Myſteries of making Hats, and weaving of Coverlets and Dornecks within the ſaid City, and not being brought up, or practiſed in the ſaid Arts or Myſteries, to the intent they might occupy and exerciſe the ſaid Myſteries out of the ſaid City of Norwich, where no ſuch Ordinances and Conſtitutions be made or provided, have withdrawn themſelves from the ſaid City, into certain Towns nigh about the ſame City, where they do and may occupy and exerciſe the making of Hats, weaving of Coverlets and Dornecks deceitfully and inſufficiently without controlment, to the utter decay as well of the ſaid Crafts and Myſteries, as of the ſaid City, if remedy be not therein provided:

II. It may therefore be enacted by the Kings Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon by himſelf, or by his ſervant or apprentice, ſhall from and after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming, make or work any Felts or thrummed Hats, or weave or make any Coverlets or Dornecks, or occupy, uſe or exerciſe the Myſteries or Occupations of making of Felts or thrummed Hats, or weaving of Dornecks and Coverlets, or any of them, within the City of Norwich, or within the County of Norfolk, unleſs he or they that ſhall ſo make or work any ſuch Felts or Hats, or ſo occupy the Occupation or Myſtery of making of Felts or Hats as aforeſaid, within the ſaid City or County, be licenſed and admitted ſo to do, by the Mayor, Recorder, Steward, and two Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid City, or by four of them, or that have been Apprentice to the ſame Occupation or Myſtery of Felts and Hats making, by the ſpace of ſeven years: (2) And in like caſe, unleſs ſuch perſon or perſon that ſhall ſo make or weave Dornecks, or ſo occupy the Occupation or Myſtery of Dornecks weaving within the ſaid City or County, be licenſed or admitted ſo to do by the Mayor, Recorder, Steward, and two Juſtices of the Peace of the ſaid City, or by four of them, or that have been Apprentice to the ſaid Myſtery and Occupation of Dornecks weaving by the term of ſeven years; (3) And unleſs he or they that ſhall ſo make or weave Coverlets, or ſo occupy the Art or Myſtery of Coverlets weaving or making, be licenſed and admitted ſo to do by the Mayor, Recorder, Steward, and two Juſtices of the Peace of the ſaid City, or by four of them, or that have been Apprentice to the Occupation and Myſtery of Coverlets weaving, or making, by the ſpace or term of ſeven years.

Who only may make Hats, Coverlets and Dornecks in Norfolk and Norwich.

III. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall from henceforth make any Felts or Hats, or weave or make any Dornecks or Coverlets, as aforeſaid, or occupy, exerciſe or uſe the Occupation, Arts or Myſteries of making of Hats or Felts, or weaving or making of Dornecks or Coverlets, or any of them as aforeſaid, in any place out of the ſaid City of Norwich within the ſaid County of Norfolk, but only in a Corporate or Market-Town, (2) upon pain of forfeiting as well of the Felts, Hats, Dornecks and Coverlets, and every of them, which ſhall be made, wrought or woven contrary to the form, effect and tenour of this Act, or of any part or clauſe thereof, as alſo ten ſhillings for every half dozen of the ſaid Felts or Hats, and of three ſhillings four pence for every Coverlet, and of ſix ſhillings eight pence for every ſix yards of Dornecks, ſo as is aforeſaid to be made, woven or wrought contrary to this Act; (3) the one half of which forfeitures to be to the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half thereof to the perſon or perſons that ſhall or will ſeiſe the ſame, or that will or ſhall ſue for the ſame, or for any part thereof, in the Kings Court of the Guild-Hall within the ſaid City of Norwich, or in any other of the Kings Courts of Record, within this Realm of England, by Action of Detinue, Debt, Plaint, Bill, Information, or otherwiſe; In which ſaid Action or Actions, Suit, Bill, Plaint, or Information, no Eſſoin, Wager of Law, Protection, or foreign Plea to the Juriſdiction of the Court, ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Hats, Dornecks, Coverlets, &c. ſhall be made only in a Corporation or Market Town.

IV. Provided alway, That all and every ſuch perſon or perſons as do now dwell, or hereafter ſhall dwell and exerciſe the Myſtery of Dornecks and Coverlets making within the Town of Pulham in the ſaid County of Norfolk, ſhall and may occupy and exerciſe the making of Dornecks and Coverlets within the ſaid Town of Pulham, as they have heretofore uſed to do; Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The inhabitants of Pulham in Norfolk.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the Mayor, Recorder, Steward, or Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid City for the time being, or any of them, ſhall take any ſum of money or reward, for admitting of any perſon to occupy or uſe any of the Arts or Myſteries aforeſaid, that for every ſuch time, and every ſuch caſe, the perſon ſo offending ſhall loſe and forfeit five pound, the one half of which forfeiture to be to our Sovereign Lord the King, and the other half to him or them that ſhall ſue for the ſame, as is aforeſaid.

The penalty for an Officer to take money for admitting one to occupy.

CAP. XXV.

For keepers of Ale-houſes and Tipling-houſes to be bound by Recogniſance.

Foraſmuch as intolerable hurts and troubles to the Common wealth of this Realm, doth daily grow and increaſe through ſuch abuſes and diſorders as are had and uſed in common Ale-houſes, and other houſes called Tipling-houſes: (2) It is therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Juſtices of Peace within every Shire, City, Borough, Town-Corporate, Franchiſe or Liberty within this Realm, or two of them at the leaſt, (whereof one of them to be of the Quorum) ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, within every Shire, City, Borough, or Town-corporate, Franchiſe and Liberty where they be Juſtices of Peace, to remove, diſcharge, and put away common ſelling of Ale and Beer in the ſaid common Ale-houſes and Tipling-houſes, in ſuch Town or Towns, and places where they ſhall think meet and convenient: (3) And that none after the firſt day of May next coming, ſhall be admitted or ſuffered to keep any common Ale-houſe or Tipling-houſe, but ſuch as ſhall be thereunto admitted and allowed in the open Seſſions of the Peace, or elſe by two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof the one to be of the Quorum: (4) And that the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace, or two of them, (whereof one to be of the Quorum) ſhall take Bond and Surety from time to time by Recogniſance, of ſuch as ſhall be admitted and allowed hereafter to keep any common Ale-houſe or Tipling-houſe, as well for and againſt the uſing of unlawful Games, as alſo for the uſing and maintenance of good Order and Rule to be had and uſed within the ſame, as by their diſcretion ſhall be thought neceſſary and convenient; (5) for making of every which Recogniſance, the party or parties that ſhall be bound, ſhall pay but twelve pence.

Ale-houſe 1. None ſhall ſell Ale or Beer without licence, and they ſhall be bound by Recogniſance.

The Juſtices of Peace may diſcharge common ſelling of Ale and Beer, 1 Bulſtr. 109.

Recogniſance with ſurety by thoſe which do keep Ale-houſes.

Twelve pence for making the Recogniſance,

II. And the ſaid Juſtices ſhall certifie the ſame Recogniſance at the next Quarter Seſſions of the Peace to be holden within the ſame Shire, City, Borough, Town-corporate, Franchiſe or Liberty where ſuch Ale-houſe or Tipling-houſe ſhall be; (2) The ſame Recogniſance there to remain of Record before the Juſtices of Peace of that Shire, City, Borough, Town-corporate, Franchiſe or Liberty, (3) upon pain of forfeiture to the King for every ſuch Recogniſance taken and not certified, three pound ſix ſhillings eight pence.

Inquiry of thoſe which have forfeited their Recogniſance.

III. And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Peace of every Shire, City, Borough, Town-corporate, Franchiſe and Liberty where ſuch Recogniſance ſhall be taken, ſhall have power and authority by this Act, in their Quarter Seſſions of the Peace, by Preſentment, Information, or otherwiſe by their diſcretion, to enquire of all ſuch perſons as ſhall be admitted and allowed to keep any Ale-houſe or Tipling-houſe, and that be bound by Recogniſance, as is aboveſaid, if they or any of them have done any act or acts whereby they or any of them have forfeited the ſame Recogniſance: (2) And the ſaid Juſtices of every Shire, and places where they be Juſtices, ſhall upon every ſuch Preſentment or Information, award Proceſs againſt every ſuch perſon ſo preſented or complained upon before them, to ſhew why he ſhould not forfeit his Recogniſance, (3) and ſhall have power and authority by this Act, to hear and to determine the ſame by all ſuch ways and means as by their diſcretion ſhall be thought good.

The puniſhment of thoſe which contrary to the commandment of the Juſtices, do keep Ale-houſe.

IV. And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, other then ſuch as ſhall be hereafter admitted or allowed by the ſaid Juſtices, ſhall after the ſaid firſt day of May, obſtinately, and upon his own authority, take upon him or them to keep a common Ale-houſe or Tipling-houſe, or ſhall contrary to the commandment of the ſaid Juſtices, or two of them, uſe commonly the ſelling of Ale and Beer: that then the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or two of them, (whereof one to be of the Quorum) ſhall for every ſuch offence, commit every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo offending, to the common Gaol within the ſaid Shire, City, Borough, Town-corporate, Franchiſe or Liberty, there to remain without Bail or Mainpriſe, by the ſpace of three days; (2) And before his or their deliverance, the ſaid Juſtice ſhall take Recogniſance of him or them ſo committed, with two ſureties, that he or they ſhall not keep any common Ale-houſe, Tipling-houſe, or uſe commonly ſelling of Ale or Beer, as by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices ſhall ſeem convenient.

Certificate of the Recogniſance and offence at the Quarter Seſſions.
The Fine of thoſe which keep Ale-houſe without Licence.

V. And the ſaid Juſtices ſhall make Certificate of every ſuch Recogniſance, and offence, at the next Quarter Seſſions that ſhall be holden within the ſame Shire, City, Borough, Town-corporate, Franchiſe or Liberty where the ſame ſhall be committed or done: (2) which Certificate ſhall be a ſufficient conviction in the Law, of the ſame offence; (3) And the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, upon the ſaid Certificate made, ſhall in open Seſſions aſſeſs the Fine for every ſuch offence at twenty Shillings.

A proviſo for Towns where Fairs be kept.

VI. Provided alway, That in ſuch Towns and places where any Fair or Fairs ſhall be kept, that for the time only of the ſame Fair or Fairs, it ſhall be lawful for every perſon and perſons to uſe common ſelling of Ale or Beer in Booths, or other places there, for the relief of the Kings Subjects that ſhall repair to the ſame, in ſuch manner and ſort as hath been uſed in time paſſed; this Act, or any thing therein contained, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XXVI.

An Act for Writs of Proclamation upon Exigend, to be currant in the County Palatine of Lancaſter.

Exigent 6. &c. Writs upon Exigends and Proclamations ſhall be currant in Lancaſter.
6 H. 8. 4.

WHere the County of Lancaſter is, and of long time hath been one ancient County Palatine of it ſelf, in which County the Kings Writ hath not, nor yet doth not run, ſo that the Writ of Proclamation awarded upon any Exigend againſt any perſon or perſons inhabiting within the ſame County, in any Action wherein Proceſs of Outlawry doth lie, according to the Statute made in the ſixth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord of famous memory King Henry the Eighth, cannot be directed to the Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine, but unto the Sheriff of the County next adjoyning unto the ſaid County Palatine, ſo that the party dwelling within the ſaid County Palatine, againſt whom any ſuch Exigend and Proclamation hath been, or ſhall be awarded, hath not had, nor hereafter can have any knowledge of the ſame Suit or Proceſs, by reaſon whereof many perſons inhabiting within the ſaid County Palatine, without knowledge have been outlawed, and hereafter be in like manner like to be outlawed, to their utter undoings, if ſome ſpeedy remedy be not the ſooner provided:

A Proclamation upon an Exigend awarded againſt any perſon dwelling in the County of Lancaſter.

II. Be it therefore, and for divers other good conſiderations, enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the King our Sovereign Lord, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if, and whenſoever any Writ of Exigend, at any time after the firſt day of April next coming, ſhall be awarded at the Suit of the King, his Heirs or Succeſſors, Kings of this Realm, or at the Suit or Suits of any other perſon or perſons, Plaintiff or Plaintiffs, in any Action or Suit in any of the Courts of our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, Kings of this Realm, commonly called the Kings Bench and the Common Place, againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling within the ſaid County Palatine: that then immediately upon the awarding of every ſuch Exigend, the Juſtice or Juſtices before whom any ſuch Writ of Exigend upon ſuch Suit or Action ſhall be ſued, ſhall have full power and authority of this Act, to award one Writ of Proclamation, (according to the tenor and effect of Writs of Proclamation awarded upon Exigends, and commonly directed out of any of the ſaid Courts into London, or into any other Shires of this Realm, againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling in other Shire or Shires of this Realm where the Kings Writs do run, according to the order and form of the ſaid Statute made in the ſixth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King) to be directed to the Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, where it ſhall happen the ſaid Defendant againſt whom any ſuch Action ſhall be ſued as is aforeſaid, to be dwelling, and not to the Sheriff of any other Shire next adjoyning to the ſaid County Palatine, latine; any Law, cuſtom or uſage heretofore uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding: (2) And that every ſuch Writ of Proclamation ſo to be hereafter awarded to the Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine, ſhall have the ſame Teſte and day of Return as the Exigends whereupon every ſuch Writ of Proclamation ſhall be awarded, ſhall have.

III. And that every ſuch Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, to whom any ſuch Writ or Writs of Proclamation ſhall be directed, ſhall make Proclamations of the ſaid Writ and Writs of Proclamation, according to the tenour of the ſame, and ſhall make true Returns of the ſame, in ſuch Court and Courts, and before ſuch Juſtices as the Tenour of the ſame Writ and Writs of Proclamations ſhall require and demand: (2) And that all Outlawries hereafter to be promulged, or pronounced againſt any perſon or perſons, upon any ſuch Exigend or Exigends awarded againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling in the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, and no Writ of Proclamations awarded in form abovesaid, to the Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, where the party defendant ſhall be as is aforeſaid, dwelling, or not returned, to be clearly void, and of none effect nor force in the Law.

The Sheriff of the County of Lancaſter ſhall make Proclamation according to the tenor of his Writ.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, ſhall have in every of the ſaid Courts of the Kings Bench, and of the Common Place, one ſufficient Deputy at the leaſt, to receive all ſuch Writs of Proclamations which ſhall be hereafter directed to every ſuch Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine, for whom the ſame Deputy or Deputies ſhall be appointed in like manner and form, and upon like pains, as by the former Statutes and Laws of this Realm, other Sheriffs of other Shires or Counties within this Realm of England, be bounden to have in either of the ſaid Courts: (2) And that all ſuch Writs of Proclamations aforeſaid, ſhall be delivered unto every ſuch Deputy or Deputies of Record in the ſame Courts, and either of them, (3) and alſo like Fees ſhall be paid for making every ſuch Writ of Proclamations, and for enrolling the ſame of Record, as is limited in the ſame Statute made in the ſaid ſixth year of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth.

The Sheriff of Lancaſhire ſhall have a Deputy in the Kings Bench, and another in the Common Place.

V. Be it further enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch Writ or Writs of Proclamations hereafter to be directed to any Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, be delivered unto any of the Sheriffs of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, or to his or their Deputy or Deputies, in manner and form aforeſaid, and the ſame Sheriff or Sheriffs do not make true return of every ſuch Writ and Writs of Proclamations into ſuch Court and Courts out of which the ſaid Writ or Writs of Proclamations ſhall be awarded, that for every ſuch default of non-return, every ſuch Sheriff for the time being, ſhall loſe and forfeit five pounds, the one half whereof ſhall be to our Sovereign Lord the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half thereof to any ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame in one Action of Debt to be grounded upon this Act, in any of the Kings Courts of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection or wager of Law ſhall be allowed or admitted.

The Sheriffs forfeiture for not returning of a Proclamation.

VI. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend or be prejudicial to the ſame County Palatine of Lancaſter, for or concerning ſuch Liberties, Franchiſes or Privileges as belong to the ſame, or to any Miniſters or Officers of the ſame County Palatine, otherwiſe or in any other manner, than by the true meaning of this Act is before provided and declared; any thing in this Act mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

This Statute ſhall not prejudice the Liberties of the County of Lancaſter.

VII. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons dwelling within the ſaid County Palatine, after the aforeſaid firſt day of April, ſhall be outlawed in any ſuch ſuit or Action as is aforeſaid, that then all Writs of ſpecial Capias utlagatum, ſingle Capias utlagatum, non moleſtandum, and all other Proceſs, for or againſt any perſon or perſons ſo outlawed, ſhall and may from henceforth be directed from time to time, to the Chancellor of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, who ſhall make like Writs and Proceſs thereupon, and of like effect, ſealed with the Seal of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, to be directed to the Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, as heretofore hath been uſed and accuſtomed in ſuch caſes. 1 Ed. 6. 10.

Proceſs awarded againſt any perſon outlawed, dwelling in the ſaid County Palatine.

Anno ſeptimo EDWARDI ſexti.

ACTS made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the firſt day of March, in the ſeventh year of the reign of our moſt redoubted Sovereign Lord, Edward the Sixth, by the Grace of God, King of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and of the Church of England, and alſo of Ireland, in Earth the Supreme Head, and there continued to the Diſſolution of the ſame, being the laſt day of the ſaid month of March, as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act for the true anſwering of the Kings Majeſties Revenues.

Foraſmuch as the Kings Majeſties Treaſurers, and general and particular Receivers and Bailiffs of his Honours, Caſtles, Lordſhips, Manors, Lands and Tenements, Reverſions, Poſſeſſions, and other his Hereditaments in England, Wales and Calice, and the Marches of the ſame, or elſewhere within the Kings Dominions, have not ſo juſtly, ſpeedily, neither duly made yearly payments of ſuch ſum and ſums of money as hath been by them, and every of them, received of the Kings Majeſties Revenues, poſſeſſions and profits, into the Kings Majeſties Treaſury, according to their duties, but yearly do detain and keep the ſame to their own gain, profit and lucre, contrary to all right, truth and equity, and to the manifeſt injury, wrong and hindrance of, and to the King our Sovereign Lord:

Account 10. Certain Officers accomptable to the King, ſhall be bound with Sureties for their true Accompt and payment.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the Every Officer that now is accomptant to the King ſhall be bound for his true accompt and payment.

ſame, That every Treaſurer, and general and particular Receiver, Collector and Bailiff, and other Miniſter accomptant, which now is charged or chargeable with, or for the Receipt of any of the Kings Majeſties money, rents or revenues whatſoever, not being bound with Surety or Sureties by Obligation, Recogniſance or otherwiſe, to our late Sovereign Lord the King, or to our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, for or concerning their Office or Offices, before the twentieth day of December next coming, or at any time or times before the ſame twentieth day of December, if they or any of them be reaſonably required, ſhall upon pain of forfeiture of his Office, be bound to the Kings Majeſty by ſufficient writing obligatory in reaſonable ſum or ſums of money: (2) the ſame writing obligatory to be made with or upon condition, that the perſon which ſo ſhall be bounden, his Heirs, Executors, Adminiſtrators, Deputy or Deputies, or one of them from time to time, ſhall yield a perfect and true accompt of all ſums of money, and other things that the ſame Treaſurer, and general and particular Receiver, Collector, Bailiff, or other Miniſter accomptant, ſhall, may, or reaſonably might be charged with, concerning, or by reaſon of his or their Office or Offices: (3) And alſo ſhall make payment of the ſame ſums of money at ſuch days and times, and in ſuch manner and form, as hereafter in this Act is expreſſed and declared.

Every Officer to the King accomptant hereafter to be named, ſhall be bound with ſureties for his true accompt and payment.

III. And be it further enacted, That all and every perſon and perſons hereafter to be named, aſſigned or appointed to be Treaſurer, or general or particular Receiver, Collector or Bayliff, or Miniſter accomptant of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, ſhall before any their entry, executing, uſing or exerciſing of his or their Office or Offices whereunto he or they ſhall be ſo nominated or appointed, together with Surety or Sureties, acknowledge and make ſufficient and lawful Bond or Bonds to the Kings Majeſty, in ſuch Court of Record where the ſame Officer or Officers is or ſhall be accomptable and chargeable, that they, their Heirs, Executors, Adminiſtrators, Aſſigns or Deputies, ſhall truly accompt and pay all ſuch ſums of money as ſhall come to their hands, or ſhall, may, or reaſonably might be charged with concerning his or their Office or Offices, to the Kings uſe, within the circuit of their ſeveral Receipts and Collections, at ſuch or like days and times, and in ſuch manner and form as is abovesaid, to be contained in the Conditions of every of the ſaid Bonds, upon pain of loſs and forfeiture of his or their Office or Offices, and of his and their Letters Patents of the ſame Office or Offices.

Receivers precepts unto accomptants to make payment of their collections due to the King at Eaſter.

IV. Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Receiver of the Kings Majeſties Honours, Manors, Lands, Poſſeſſions, Rents and Revenues, for the time being, or his Deputy or Deputies, ſhall yearly make his ſeveral Precepts to all and ſingular the Collectors, Miniſters and Bailiffs accomptant within the circuit of his Office, charging and commanding them in the Kings Majeſties behalf, by the ſame Precept, to appear before them perſonally, or by their ſufficient Deputy or Deputies for whom they will anſwer, within the County where the ſame Offices, Bailiwicks, Receipts or Collections do lie, at a certain day and place in the ſame Precept to be limited, and to pay to the Kings Majeſties uſe ſuch ſums of money as they ought to do by reaſon of any of their ſaid Offices, being due to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, at or before the Feaſt of Eaſter, which they have, or may by any lawful or due mean levy or receive within, or by reaſon of their ſaid Offices or Collections: (2) And that the ſame Precepts ſhall be ſeverally delivered to every of the ſaid Officers, Miniſters and Bailiffs accomptant, or to their Deputy or Deputies, or elſe be left at their dwelling-houſes, or at the Manor, Lordſhip or place where their Receipt or Collection is or ought to be, twelve days at the leaſt before the day of appearance to them given and prefixed in the ſame Precept or Precepts.

The penalty wherein an accomptant maketh default of appearance or payment.

V. And if any of the ſaid Miniſters, Collectors or Bailiffs accomptant, upon or after any ſuch Precept or Precepts at any time hereafter made by any ſuch Receiver, and being delivered and left in form aforeſaid, do make default at the ſame day and place aſſigned and appointed in and by the ſaid Precept or Precepts, that then the ſame Collector, Miniſter or Bailiff accomptant ſo making default and not appearing as is aforeſaid, and being thereof duly and lawfully convicted in the Court where the Revenue is or ſhall be anſwered, ſhall for the firſt offence loſe and forfeit to the King our Sovereign Lord, his whole Fee for that year wherein he ſhall ſo make default, or the value thereof; (2) And for non-payment of the ſaid money due and payable at or before the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, unto our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, within or by reaſon of his ſaid Office, Collection or Bailiwick, ſhall loſe and forfeit for the firſt offence of non-payment, ſix pence of the pound, in the name of a pain, for every month after the ſaid day of appearance, until the ſame money ſhall be by him or his Deputy paid to the hands of the ſaid Receiver, to the Kings Majeſties uſe.

The penalty for the ſecond offence.

VI. And after the firſt default of appearance made by any of the ſaid Officers, and another like Precept by the ſaid Receiver be made and delivered, or left in form aforeſaid, then the ſaid Officer or Officers making again default, and being thereof lawfully convicted as is aforeſaid, for the ſecond default and offence of non-appearance, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the King our Sovereign Lord, his Office and Fee: (2) And for the ſecond offence in the non-payment of the ſaid money due, and payable within, and by reaſon of his Office, Collection or Bayliwick, at or before the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, ſhall loſe and forfeit twelve pence of every pound, in the name of a pain, for every month after the ſaid laſt day of appearance, and default made as is aforeſaid, until the ſame money ſhall be by him or his Deputy paid to the hands of the ſaid Receiver, to the uſe of our Sovereign Lord the King.

The Auditors precepts to accomptants to make payment of their collections due at Michaelmas.

VII. And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Auditor and Auditors of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, of his Majeſties Honors, Manors, Lands, Poſſeſſions, Rents and Revenues, for the time being, or his or their ſufficient Deputy or Deputies, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, yearly to make their Precept or Precepts to all Miniſters, Collectors and Bayliffs accomptant, commanding them on the behalf of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, to appear and accompt before him or them perſonally, or elſe by their ſufficient Deputy or Deputies, at a place certain within the County where the ſame Lands and Poſſeſſions do lie, at the Kings Majeſties Audit, to be holden there yearly between the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, and the Nativity of our LORD GOD, of and for all Rents, Revenues and Profits due and payable within or by reaſon of the ſaid Offices, Collections or Bayliwicks, at or before the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next before the ſame Audit, expreſſing in the ſame precept or precepts, the time and place when and where the ſame Miniſters, Collectors and Bailiffs accomptable, or their ſufficient Deputy or Deputies, for whom they will anſwer, ſhall appear; (2) the ſame precepts to be delivered to the ſame Miniſters, Collectors or Bailiffs accomptant, or their Deputy or Deputies, or left at their dwelling-houſes, or at the Manor, Lordſhip, or place where their Receipts or Collections is or ought to be, twelve days at the leaſt before the day of appearance to him or them prefixed in the ſame precept or precepts. (3) And if any Miniſter, Collector, or Bailiff accomptant do not appear before the ſaid Auditor or Auditors, or his or their Deputy or Deputies at the ſaid Audit, according to the ſaid precept, or elſe if he do appear, and refuſe to accompt for his ſaid Receipt, Collection or Bailiwick, before the ſaid Auditor or Auditors, or his or their Deputy or Deputies: that then the ſaid Miniſter, Collector or Bailiff accomptant ſo making default and not appearing, or ſo refuſing to accompt as is aforeſaid, and being thereof duly and lawfully convicted in the Court where the Revenue is or ſhall be anſwerable, ſhall for his firſt offence loſe and forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King, his whole Fee for that year wherein he ſhall ſo make default, or the value thereof: (4) And for the non-payment of the ſaid money due and payable within his Collection, Office or Bailiwick, at or before the ſame Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the King our Sovereign Lord for his ſaid firſt offence, ſix pence of every pound in the name of a pain, for every month after the ſaid day of appearance and default made as is aforeſaid, until he or his ſufficient Deputy or Deputies ſhall accompt before the ſaid Auditor or Auditors, or his or their Deputy or Deputies, for his ſaid Collection, Receipt or Bailiwick, and alſo pay unto the hands of the ſaid Receiver or Receivers, all and every of ſuch ſum and ſums of money as ſhall be juſtly found due by the ſaid accomptant before the ſaid Auditor or Auditors, or his or their Deputy or Deputies, to the Kings Majeſty, upon the foot and determination of his Accompt: (5) And after the firſt default of Appearance made before the ſaid Auditor or Auditors, or his or their Deputy or Deputies, by any of the ſaid Officers accomptant being ſo warned as is aforeſaid, and after another like precept made and delivered, or left in form aforeſaid, that then the ſaid Officer or Officers that ſo ſhall make again default of appearance, for the ſaid ſecond offence in making default in his appearance as is aforeſaid, and being thereof duly and lawfully convicted in the Court where the Revenue of his ſaid Office is or ſhall be anſwerable, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the King our Sovereign Lord his Office and Fee.

The penalty where an Accomptant maketh default of appearance or payment.

VIII. And for the ſecond offence in non-payment of the ſaid money due and payable with and by reaſon of his Receipt, Collection or Bailiwick, at or before the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, ſhall loſe and forfeit to our Sovereign Lord the King, twelve pence of every pound in the name of a pain, for every month after the ſaid laſt day of appearance and default made as is aforeſaid, until he or his ſufficient Deputy or Deputies ſhall accompt before the ſaid Auditor or Auditors, or his or their Deputy or Deputies, for the ſaid Receipt, Collection or Bailiwick, and alſo pay unto the hands of the ſaid Receiver or Receivers, or his or their Deputy or Deputies, to the Kings uſe, all ſuch ſums of money as ſhall be juſtly due by the ſaid Accomptant, upon the foot and determination of his ſaid Accompt.

The penalty for the ſecond offence.

IX. And further be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That all and every Receiver and Receivers of the Kings Majeſties honours, manors, lands, poſſeſſions, rents or revenues, ſhall make ready and full payment yearly to the Treaſurer, or general Receiver of the Court where the ſaid Revenue is or ſhall be anſwerable, or otherwiſe, as he or they are or ſhall be appointed and aſſigned by ſufficient Warrant, of all ſuch ſums of money as he or they ſhall know to be due to our Sovereign Lord the King, and can by any lawful or due mean obtain, get, have or receive, of the rents or revenues of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, with or by reaſon of their Offices, being due at or before the Feaſt of Eaſter, by the twentieth day of June then next following at the furtheſt: (2) And alſo ſhall make like payment yearly of all their like receipts of the rents and revenues of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King that ſhall be due at or before the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, by the twentieth day of January then next following at the furtheſt, upon pain of loſs and forfeiture for every default at any of the ſaid days, two pence of every pound, for every day that the ſaid money ſo by them or any of them ſhall be unpaid.

Within what times the Kings Receivers ſhall make payment of the money by them received.

X. And alſo it is further enacted, That all and every the ſaid Receiver and Receivers, or their Deputy or Deputies for whom they will anſwer, ſhall enter into their accompt yearly in the term of St. Hillary, and fully and clearly finiſh the ſame accompt before the tenth day of March then next following, and make full and ready payment of the money that ſhall appear to be due, upon the foot and determination of the ſame accompt, before the twentieth day of the ſaid month of March, upon pain of forfeiture to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, his Offices and Fees, and four pence of the pound for every day that they ſhall detain and withhold the ſame money without making any payment thereof as is aforeſaid.

When the Kings Receivers ſhall accompt.

XI. And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Receivers, Collectors and Bailiffs of any of the Kings honours, manors, lands, tenements, rents or revenues, for lack of payment and levying of their ſaid rents, iſſues and revenues within their Offices and Charges, ſhall and may have power and authority from henceforth by virtue of this Act, to diſtrain for the ſame, and to uſe and order the ſame diſtreſſes in ſuch ſort and form, as any Officer or Officers of the Kings Court of the Exchequer, for levying and lack of payment of the Kings rents and revenues anſwerable in the ſame Court, heretofore have lawfully done, and may lawfully uſe to do, delivering to the party diſtrained the ſurpluſage and overplus of the value of every ſuch diſtreſs, if any ſhall be, the Kings debts and duties being firſt paid, and the diſtrainant anſwered of reaſonable coſts.

The Kings Receivers, Bailiffs, &c. may diſtrain for the arrearages of rent.

Amercing of Sheriffs for not returning of Writs touching the levying of the Kings rents, &c.

XII. And that the head and chief Officer or Officers of every of the Kings Court of Revenue, being of Record, or that ſhall be of Record, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to ſet and aſſeſs reaſonable fines and amerciaments upon any Sheriff or Sheriffs for not returning, or miſreturning of any Writ to them directed, and delivered out of any of the ſame Courts, touching or concerning the levying or anſwering of any of the ſaid iſſues, rents or revenues, or of any debt due to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, in ſuch ſort, and after ſuch manner and form as now is, or heretofore hath been lawfully uſed in the like, and ſuch other caſes in the Kings Highneſs Court of the Exchequer.

Theſe accomptants upon warning, ſhall accompt and make ready payment.

XIII. Be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Treaſurers and Chamberlains, and general Receivers of any of the Kings Graces Courts of Revenue for the time being, and all Cuſtomers and Collectors of Cuſtoms, or certain and ſtalled Subſidies within any Port, Haven or Creek of this the Kings Realm of England, that now be, or hereafter ſhall be, within ten days next after notice to him or them given from the King, or ſix of his moſt honourable Privy Council, in writing ſigned with their hands, ſhall by themſelves, or their ſufficient deputy or deputies for whom they will anſwer, declare in writing what ſums of money then being due unto our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, be at that time in his or their hands or cuſtody, (2) and ſhall make ready and full payment of all the ſaid ſums of money as then ſhall remain in his or their hands or cuſtody, over and above the ordinary payments and ſums of money contained and expreſſed in ſufficient warrant or warrants, reſting and remaining in his or their office or offices, and being in their full force, ſtrength and effect, and not lawfully countermanded nor revoked to their knowledge, to the uſe of our Sovereign Lord the King, at ſuch time, and in ſuch ſort as he or they ſhall be commanded and appointed by ſufficient warrant, upon pain of forfeiture of his or their office or offices.

Within what time theſe accomptants ſhall yearly accompt.

XIV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſame Treaſurers, Chamberlains, and general Receivers, by themſelves, or by their deputy or deputies for whom they will anſwer, ſhall yearly before the twentieth day of June, make a perfect account of all ſuch money or treaſure as hath come to their hands to the Kings uſe, yearly, at or before the twentieth day of March then next before the ſaid twentieth day of June, and ſhall make a perfect and whole declaration in writing, of the money remaining in every of their hands, to the Kings Majeſty, or to his Privy Council yearly before the laſt day of June then next following, and make payment of the ſame at ſuch time, and in ſuch ſort as he or they ſhall be commanded or appointed by ſufficient Warrant, upon pain of forfeiture of his or their office or offices.

The penalty of an accomptant taking more then his due for the payment of any penſion, &c. Raſt. pl. f. 191.

XV. And be it further enacted, That if any Treaſurer, Receiver, or Miniſter accomptant, or their deputy or deputies, do take or receive of any perſon or perſons, any ſum or ſums of money, or other profit of and for the payment of any fees, annuities, penſions, duties or warrants, more or otherwiſe then he or they may lawfully do by former Laws and Statutes therein provided; That then the ſaid Treaſurer, Receiver and Miniſter ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every peny or penyworth ſo to be taken or received, vi. s. viii. d. to the party grieved, to be recovered in any of the Kings Courts of Record, by bill, plaint, or action of debt, in which ſuit no wager of law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed.

The penalty if the Auditors refuſe or delay to take an accompt.

XVI. And be it alſo enacted, That if any Auditor or Auditors, or his or their deputy or deputies which ought to take the accompt of any Treaſurer, Chamberlain, Receiver, or other Officer accomptable before him or them, do refuſe, or willingly protract and delay the taking of the ſame accompt, in ſuch wiſe as it cannot be finiſhed within the time or times limited and appointed by this Act for the taking and finiſhing thereof, that then every Auditor ſo refuſing, or protracting and delaying, as is aforeſaid, and being thereof duly and lawfully convict in the Court where the Revenue or charge of the ſame accompt is or ſhall be anſwerable to the King, ſhall incur, forfeit and loſe with like pain, loſs and forfeiture as the Treaſurer, Chamberlain, Receiver or other Officer abovesaid, ſhall and ought to do by this Act, for not accompting of and for their charges and office or offices: (2) And thereby the ſame Treaſurer, Chamberlain, Receiver and other Officer that ſhould accompt, and ſhall be refuſed, or ſhall be protracted and delayed, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be diſcharged of any pain, loſs or forfeiture for not accompting as is abovesaid.

The copy of the accompt ſhall be delivered to the accomptant.

XVII. And be it further enacted, That the duplicate or copy of every accompt that ſhall be made by any Treaſurer or Receiver, or by their deputy or deputies, in form aforeſaid, within convenient time after the finiſhing of the ſame accompt, and at the reaſonable requeſt and coſts of ſuch accomptant, ſhall be delivered to them or any of them, ſubſcribed with the hands of the Auditor or Auditors that ſhall take the ſame accompt, or of his or their deputy or deputies for whom he or they will anſwer, upon pain that the ſame Auditor or Auditors ſhall loſe and forfeit to the Kings Majeſty ten pound for every ſuch default.

Biſhops accompt and payment of Tenths

XVIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to charge any Archbiſhops or Biſhops of this Realm, or of any other the Kings Majeſties Dominions, or any of them at any time hereafter, to make any manner of bonds, or to make their accompt and payment of the Tenths ariſing and growing within any of their Dioceſſes, due, or to be due to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, otherwiſe, or in any other manner and form then they or any of them heretofore have been charged, or accomptable and chargeable by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm; any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The ſevenues of Calice.

XIX. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to cauſe the rents, profits and revenues, riſing and growing to the Kings Majeſty within the Town or Marches of Calice, to be anſwered or paid otherwiſe, or at any other days or times then heretofore hath been uſed and accuſtomed; any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Which offences ſhall not be chargeable by this Statute.

XX. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to touch or charge any Sheriff, Eſcheator or Collector of any Diſmes, Quindiſmes, Benevolences, Contributions or Subſidies, (Subſidies of Tonnage and Poundage only except) but that they and every of them ſhall and may do and exerciſe their ſaid ſeveral Offices, and pay ſuch ſums of money as they or any of them be, or hereafter ſhall be charged withal by their ſaid ſeveral Offices, in ſuch and like ſort, manner and form, as they and every of them have uſually done, or ſhould or ought to do, if this Act had never been had or made; This Act, or any thing therein contained, in any wiſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. II.

An Act for the eſtabliſhing, uniting or diſſolving of certain Courts newly erected by the King that dead is.

Where in the ſeven and twentieth year of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, Father to the Kings Majeſty that now is, there was ordained, made, eſtabliſhed and enacted by authority of Parliament, a certain Court, commonly called the Court of Augmentations of the Revenues of the Kings Crown: (2) And where alſo in the two and thirtieth year of the ſaid late King, there was made and erected by authority of Parliament, two ſeveral Courts, the one commonly called the Court of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, and the other the Court of the Kings Wards: (3) And where alſo in the three and thirtieth year of the ſaid late King, there was made, ſtabliſhed and erected by authority of Parliament, one Court commonly called the Court of the general Surveyors of the Kings lands: (4) And where there is one other Court commonly called the Court of the Dutchy of Lancaſter; Courts, Raſt. 1. The Kings power to diſſolve or unite certain Courts erected by the late King.

27 H. 8. 27.
32 H. 8. 45.
32 H. 8. 46.
33 H. 8. 39.
32 H. 8. 20. Sect. 10. N. 1.

II. After which ſaid ſeveral Courts ſo erected, as is aforeſaid, the ſaid late King did repeal and diſſolve, extinguiſh and determine, as well the ſaid Court of Augmentation of the Revenues of the Kings Crown, as alſo the ſaid Court of general Surveyors of the Kings lands, (2) and the Officers of the ſaid late Courts of the Augmentations of the Kings Crown, and general Surveyors of the Kings lands, did ſurrender their Patents and Offices into the ſaid late Kings hands:

The Courts of Augmentations and general Surveyors were diſſolved.

III. And after, the ſaid late King did by his Letters Patents erect one other Court, called the Court of Augmentation and Revenues of the Kings Crown, and did by the ſame his Letters Patents conſtitute and appoint divers Officers and Miniſters for the ſupplying thereof, as by the ſame Letters Patents more plainly at large it may and doth appear:

A ſecond Court of Augmentations erected.

IV. And foraſmuch as ſince the erection of the ſaid Court of Augmentations and Revenues of the Kings Crown, ſtabliſhed and erected by Letters Patents as is aforeſaid, divers ambiguities and doubts have riſen and grown among ſuch as be learned in the Laws of the Realm, whether the diſſolving, extinguiſhing and repealing of the ſaid late Courts erected by authority of Parliament, as is aforeſaid, might by the order of the Law be diſſolved, extinguiſhed and repealed by Letters Patents, conſidering that the commencement of them were firſt had and made by authority of Parliament, yea or no: Whereupon great inconveniences might enſue, as well to the Kings Majeſty, as to divers of his Graces moſt loving and obedient Subjects, who have had by exchange, purchaſe, gift or otherwiſe, divers manors, lands, tenements and other hereditaments:

Queſtion about the diſſolution of the firſt Court of Augmentation by Letters Patents only.

V. For remedy and declaration whereof, be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, and the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Letters Patents ſo made by the ſaid late King, and all and every thing and article therein contained, ſhall be as good, available and effectual in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as though the ſame had been made and done by authority of Parliament.

The Kings Letters Patents for the erection of the ſecond Court of Augmentations ſhall be good.

VI. And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Majeſty ſhall or may at any time during his natural life (which GOD long preſerve) by his Graces Letters Patents, under his Great Seal of England, at his moſt gracious will and pleaſure, alter, change, unite, tranſpoſe, diſſolve or determine all or any of the ſaid Court or Courts, and to reduce the ſame Courts, or any of them, into one, two or more Court or Courts, or to unite and annex the ſaid Courts, or any two or more of them together, or to any other of his Majeſties Courts of Record; Or to erect any other new Court or Courts, as to his Highneſs ſhall be thought moſt convenient and beſt, for the better, ſurer, and more ſpeedy anſwering of his yearly revenues, caſualties or profits now anſwerable in the ſaid Courts, or in any of them: (2) And that all and ſingular ſuch alterations, changings, unitings, annexings, tranſpoſings, diſſolvings or determinations of the ſaid Courts, or of any of them ſo to be altered, changed, united, annexed, tranſpoſed, diſſolved or determined, or otherwiſe newly to be erected, as is aforeſaid, as concerning an order for the true payment of the revenues, rents, iſſues, caſualties and profits of our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King, as ſhall be ſet forth and declared in any ſuch Letters Patents or Writings under his Great Seal of England hereafter to be made, ſet forth and declared, ſhall be of ſuch like, and of the ſame force and ſtrength, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as though the ſame were or ſhould have been ſet forth or declared by authority of Parliament, the ſaid ſeveral erections, or any other thing heretofore had or made to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

VII. Provided alway, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That any thing contained in the ſaid Letters Patents made by the ſaid late King, or in the Letters Patents hereafter to be made by the Kings Highneſs that now is, concerning any pains, penalties, rules or orders, made or to be made for the levying of the Kings revenues, rents, iſſues, caſualties or profits, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to charge any of the Kings Subjects in any other manner or form then they or any of them ought lawfully to have been charged by the Laws of the Realm, before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, or by any Statute made or to be made in this preſent Seſſion of Parliament.

No Orders made for the levying of the Kings debts ſhall be prejudicial to any.

VIII. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Letters Patents made in the time of the ſaid late King, or any other Letters Patents hereafter to be made by the Kings Highneſs that now is, or any thing or matter contained in this Act, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to give any power or authority to the Chancellor and general Surveyors of the ſaid Court of the Augmentation and Revenues of the Kings Crown, or to any Officer or Officers of the ſame Court, or to any other Court or Courts hereafter to be erected by the Kings Majeſty, as is aforeſaid, or to any other Officer or Officers to be appointed in any of the ſame Courts hereafter to be erected by the Kings Highneſs, as is aforeſaid, to hear or determine any plea, matter or cauſe between any of the Kings Subjects, but only in ſuch caſe where the Kings Highneſs is only a meer and a ſole party: (2) ſaving to all and every perſon and perſons, and bodies politick and corporate, and to every of them, ſuch Offices of Stewardſhips, Offices of Maſterſhips of any Game or Games, Keepers of Foreſts, Chaſes, Parks, Houſes and Caſtles, and the profits thereunto belonging, and all rents, annuities and fees, as they or any of them have or ought to have, if this Act had never been had ne made.

The officers of theſe Courts ſhall hear and determine cauſes only where the King is a party.

A ſaving of all mens offices in certain caſes.

A ſaving of the annuities, fees, penſions, &c. of others.

IX. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in no wiſe extend or be conſtrued to take away, extinct or determine from any perſon or perſons, their heirs, ſucceſſors or aſſigns, or from any of them, any Fees, annuities, penſions, ſtipends or annual payments of any ſums of money, which they or any of them have, or of right might or ought lawfully to have by any Letters Patents, or other ſufficient Writing made before the ſix and twentieth day of March, in the ſeventh year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, (2) but that all and every perſon and perſons, their heirs, ſucceſſors, executors and aſſigns, and every of them, which now, or hereafter ſhall have any fee, annuity, ſtipend, penſion or annual payment of any ſum or ſums of money payable yearly in any of the ſaid Courts, or by the hands of any Officer or Officers of any of the ſame Courts, ſhall and may perceive, take and receive the ſame, and ſhall yearly thereof be paid of the Kings Treaſure at the days and times compriſed in ſuch Letters Patents or other Writings, in any of the ſaid Courts where now the ſame is or ought to be payable, as long as the ſaid Court ſhall remain and have any being, and after in ſuch Court or Courts as ſhall pleaſe the King newly to erect, by the hands of the Officers of the ſame Court, and for default thereof in any of the Kings Courts wherein ſufficient revenue ſhall be to anſwer the ſame of the Kings Treaſure there, by the hands of the Officers of the ſame Court, in ſuch like manner and form as the ſame perſon and perſons, their heirs, executors and aſſigns, or any of them, ſhould and might have done, or been paid in any other place or Court, if this Act had never been had or made; any thing in this Act contained, or any other thing hereafter to be done by reaſon, colour or authority of this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. St. 1 M. 10.

CAP. III.

An Act for the Confirmation of Letters Patents, notwithſtanding the miſ-naming of any thing contained in the ſame.

Patents 22. Confirmation of certain Letters Patents of bargain & ſale made by King H. 8. ſince the fourth of February, Anno 27. of his Reign: and by King Ed. 6. ſince the xxviij. of January, An. 1. of his Reign, notwithſtanding his minority.

34 H. 8. 21.

A bill ſhall be ſigned and ſealed by the Patentee of thoſe lands which the King ſhall after grant to him by his bill ſigned.

By what means the King ſhall be ſatisfied for the overplus of land by him ſold, exchanged or given.

Whereas in the Seſſion of Parliament holden upon Prorogation at Weſtminſter, the two and twentieth day of January, in the four and thirtieth year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, and there continued, kept until the twelfth day of May, in the five and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, amongſt divers and ſundry, and many Statutes, there was then one Statute made for the Confirmation of Letters Patents, notwithſtanding any miſ-naming, miſ-priſion or miſ-rehearſal, or any other default contained or rehearſed in the ſame Act: Wherein it was provided and enacted by the authority of the ſame Parliament, That all and ſingular ſuch Patentees, Grantees, and Donees, as at any time from the making of the ſame Statute, during ſeven years then next following, ſhould fortune to have or obtain any caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, tithes, penſions, portions or other hereditaments, of the gift, grant, ſale or exchange of the Kings Majeſty, or of the only gift of the Kings Majeſty, of his moſt liberal diſpoſition, and not ſold, which at the day of the date of the Letters Patents thereof made, ſhould be of more and better yearly value to the King in yearly rent and ferm, then ſhould be contained, mentioned or ſpecified in any ſuch Letters Patents, and particulars thereof made by the Auditor or Auditors, and in ſuch bill or bills as ſhould be ſigned and ſealed with the hand or hands of the Patentee or Patentees thereof, to be exhibited to the Kings Majeſty, or his Officer or Officers, within whoſe ſurvey the ſaid manors, lands and tenements, and other the premiſſes, or any part thereof, ſhould be, or within any of them, which bill ſhould be ſigned, ſealed, had and made, as is aforeſaid, before any bills ſhould be thereof Signed by the Kings Majeſty, That then every of the ſaid Patentees, Grantees and Donees, their heirs, executors and adminiſtrators, within one year next after due proof and decree thereof had and made in the Court within whoſe ſurvey the ſame caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, and other the premiſſes, or any parcel thereof then ſhould be, ſhould content and pay unto the King for the ſame overplus, and more value for the ſame manors, lands, tenements, tithes, penſions, portions, and other hereditaments to him ſold or exchanged, after ſuch rate as the other lands and tenements were before to him ſold or exchanged, (2) and for the overplus and more value of ſuch lands and tenements as ſhould happen to be given by the Kings Majeſty, and not ſold, as is abovesaid, the ſaid Patentee, his heirs, executors or adminiſtrators, ſhould content and pay to the King after the rate of twenty years purchaſe: (3) So that the ſame proof and decree were had and made in form abovesaid, within ten years next after the date of the ſaid Letters Patents, as by the Statute more at large it doth and may appear:

1 Ed. 6. 8.

A confirmation of Patents, notwithſtanding miſ-naming, miſ-rehearſal, or other default, made by King Ed. 6.

II. And alſo, whereas in the Parliament begun at Weſtminſter, the fourth day of November, in the firſt year of the reign of our moſt dread Sovereign Lord the King that now is, King Edward the Sixth, and from thence continued to the four and twentieth day of December then next enſuing; that is to ſay, the firſt Seſſion of the ſame Parliament, amongſt divers and ſundry Statutes, there was then alſo one other Statute made for the confirmation of Letters Patents, notwithſtanding any miſ-naming, miſ-rehearſal, or any other default contained or rehearſed in the ſame Act: wherein it was alſo provided and enacted by the authority of the ſame Parliament, That all and ſingular ſuch Patentees, Grantees and Donees, as at any time after the ſaid Parliament, and during the life of our ſaid Sovereign reign Lord, King Edward the Sixth, ſhould fortune to have or obtain any caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, tithes, penſions, portions, or other hereditaments, of the gift, grant, ſale or exchange of the Kings Majeſty, or of the only gift of the Kings Majeſty, of his moſt liberal diſpoſition, and not ſold, which at the day of the date of the Letters Patents thereof made, ſhould be of more or better yearly value to the King in yearly rent and ferm, then ſhould be contained, mentioned and ſpecified in any ſuch Letters Patents, and particulars thereof made by the particular Surveyor or Surveyors thereof, and in ſuch bill or bills as ſhould be ſigned and ſealed with the hand or hands of the Patentee or Patentees thereof, to be exhibited to the Kings Majeſty, or his Officer or Officers, within whoſe ſurvey the ſaid manors, lands and tenements, and other the premiſſes or any part thereof ſhould be, or within any of them, which bill ſhould be ſigned, ſealed, had and made, as is aforeſaid, before any bill ſhould be thereof ſigned by the Kings Majeſty, That then every of the ſaid Patentees, Grantees and Donees, their heirs, executors or adminiſtrators, , within one year next after due proof, and decree thereof made and had in the Court within whoſe ſurvey the ſame caſtles, manors, lands, tenements and other the premiſſes, or any parcel thereof, before the ſaid gifts and grants were, ſhould content and pay to the King for the ſame overplus, and more value of the ſame manors, lands, tenements, tithes, penſions, portions, and other hereditaments to him ſold and exchanged, after ſuch rate as other lands and tenements were before him ſold or changed, (2) and for the overplus and more value of ſuch lands and tenements as ſhould happen to be given by the Kings Majeſty, and not ſold, as is aboveſaid, the ſaid Patentee, his heirs, executors or adminiſtrators, ſhould content and pay to the King after the rate of twenty years purchaſe; (3) ſo that the ſame proof and decree were had and made in manner and form aforeſaid, within ten years next after the date of the ſame Letters Patents, as by the ſame Statue more at large it doth and may appear:

III. Sithence the making of which Statutes, divers of the ſaid Patentees, Grantees, and Donees, according to the true meaning and intent of the ſaid Statutes, and Proviſions of the ſame, have by their bills ſeverally ſigned and ſealed with the hands and ſeals of the ſaid Patentees, exhibited to the Kings Majeſty, or to his Officer mentioned in the ſaid ſeveral Acts and Proviſions, before the ſame bill were ſigned by the ſaid late King, or by the Kings Highneſs that now is: Which bills ſigned by the ſaid Patentees, ſometime by the negligence of the ſame Officers or their Clerks, ſometime by the death of the ſame Officers, and ſometime by the alteration and change of the ſaid Officers, many of the ſaid bills ſo ſigned and ſealed, be now by negligence imbezelled and loſt, and many times there have been no ſuch bills made, but omitted and forgotten: by reaſon whereof divers queſtions, ambiguities and doubts may ariſe, as well for the Kings ſurety and ſatisfaction, as for the Patentees, their heirs and aſſigns:

Several inconveniences enſuing to the Kings Patentees by the Statute of 34 H. 8. 21. & 1 Ed. 6. 8.

IV. For the avoiding of all which ambiguities, queſtions and doubts, Be it enacted by the King our Sovereign Lord, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that as well all and ſingular Letters Patents made by the ſaid late King, as by the Kings Majeſty that now is, ſithence the making of the ſaid ſeveral Statutes and Acts, or that hereafter ſhall be made by our Sovereign Lord the King that now is, during his life (whoſe life GOD long preſerve) ſhall be good and effectual to all and every Patentee, their heirs and aſſigns, the lack or want of any ſuch bill or bills, or whether the particular or particulars were had or made, or hereafter to be had or made by any of the Kings Auditor or Auditors, Surveyor or Surveyors, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A confirmation of the Letters Patents of King H 8. and King Ed. 6. made and to be made during his life.

V. And that the ſame Patentees, Grantees and Donees, their heirs and aſſigns, and every of them, ſhall from henceforth have and take all and ſingular ſuch profits, benefits, commodities and advantages mentioned in the ſaid ſeveral Statutes, as though the ſaid bills had been ſigned and ſealed, and were ready to be ſhewed, according to the true intent of the ſaid Statutes, or any of them.

VI. And to the intent the King ſhall be truly anſwered of the overplus of the yearly value of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, contained or to be contained in any ſuch Letters Patents as is aforeſaid, according to the true meaning of the ſaid Act or Acts, and the proviſions of the ſame, (2) Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular ſuch Patentees, Grantees and Donees, as at any time from the making of the ſaid ſeveral Statutes, have obtained or gotten, or hereafter ſhall obtain or get any caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, tithes, penſions, portions or other hereditaments, of the gift, grant, ſale or exchange of the ſaid late King, or of the King that now is, or of the only gift of the ſaid Kings, or of any of them, of his or their moſt liberal diſpoſition, or of any of them, and not ſold, which at the date of the Letters Patents thereof made, or hereafter to be made, ſhall be of more or better yearly value to the ſaid late King, or to the King that now is, in yearly rent and ferm, then is or ſhall be contained, mentioned or ſpecified in any ſuch Letters Patents, or particulars thereof made by the ſaid Auditor or Auditors, Surveyor or Surveyors, or other Officers, That then every of the ſaid Patentees, Grantees and Donees, their executors and aſſigns, within one year next after due proof, and decree thereof made and had in the Court within whoſe ſurvey the ſame caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, and other the premiſſes, or any parcel thereof, then were or ſhall be, ſhall content and pay unto the King for the ſame overplus, and more value for the ſame manors, lands, tenements, tithes, penſions, portions and other hereditaments to him or them ſold or exchanged, after ſuch rate as the other lands and tenements were before to him ſold or exchanged, or hereafter to be ſold or exchanged, or that hereafter ſhall be ſo ſold or exchanged, (3) and for the overplus and more value of ſuch lands and tenements as hath been given by the ſaid late King, or the Kings Majeſty that now is, or that hereafter ſhall be given by the King that now is, and not ſold, as is aboveſaid, the ſaid Patentee and Patentees, and his and their heirs, executors and aſſigns, ſhall content and pay to the King, after the rate of twenty years purchaſe, (4) ſo that the ſame proof and decree be, or ſhall be made in form aforeſaid, within ſixteen years next after the date of ſuch and the ſame Letters Patents made or to be made in form aforeſaid.

A mean to ſatisfie the King of the overplus of the lands ſold, exchanged or given by him to other.

Leaſes of lands parcel of the Dutchy of Lancaſter made in reverſion, or whereof the old rent is not reſerved.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any proviſion therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to confirm, ratifie or make good any leaſe or leaſes, made or hereafter to be made for term of life, lives or years, whereupon the old and accuſtomed rents, or more, be not, or hereafter ſhall not be reſerved, and yearly payable during the time and term of the ſaid leaſe and leaſes, nor to any leaſe or leaſes made in reverſion, of any part or parcel of any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, parcel of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, or within the ſurvey of the ſame Dutchy.

What Letters Patents only this Statute doth extend unto.

VIII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to confirm, ratifie or make good any Letters Patents heretofore made, or hereafter to be made, of eſtate of inheritance, by any King or Kings of this Realm, but to ſuch Letters Patents as were made by the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, ſince the ſaid fourth day of February, in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of his Reign, or hath been, or hereafter ſhall be made by the Kings Majeſty that now is, during his life (which GOD long preſerve) Any thing or matter contained in this Act, or in any of the proviſions before rehearſed to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

IX. And where alſo the late King of famous memory, Henry the Eighth, and alſo our Sovereign Lord the Kings Majeſty that now is, as well by divers bargains and ſales, for divers great ſums of money, as by gifts, exchanges or otherwiſe, have given and granted by their ſeveral Letters Patents under the Great Seal of England, or under the Great Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, divers manors, lands, tenements, and other hereditaments, with the appurtenances, to divers and ſundry their loving Subjects, of any eſtate of inheritance, to hold in ſoccage only, and not in capite, for all manner of Services, and without reſervation of any Tenths or rents in the ſame Letters Patents, as by the ſame ſeveral Letters Patents may appear: (2) And foraſmuch as by certain Statutes heretofore made, doubts and ambiguities may ariſe upon ſuch Letters Patents for lack of tenures in capite, or reſervations of Tenths or rents, which might be hereafter to the unquietneſs of ſuch Patentees, their heirs, aſſigns or ſucceſſors, contrary to the intents and mind of the ſaid late King, and of our Sovereign Lord the Kings Majeſty that now is:

A confirmation of the Kings Letters Patents notwithſtanding his nonage, or any Statute made for Tenures, Rents or Tenths.

X. For the avoiding of all doubts and ambiguities, and for the quietneſs of the Kings loving Subjects, Be it alſo enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That all Letters Patents ſealed, or hereafter to be ſealed with the Great Seal of England, or with the Great Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, ſhall be good, perfect and available in Law, to all intents and purpoſes, according to the ſaid Letters Patents, (2) the nonage of our Sovereign Lord the Kings Majeſty that now is, as Duke of Lancaſter, albeit always as King he is of full age, (3) or any Act, Statute or Laws, for or concerning any tenures or reſervations of rents or Tenths, to the contrary notwithſtanding: (4) Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs, ſucceſſors, executors, and aſſigns, and to every of them, (other then the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, as Kings of this Realm, or as Dukes of Lancaſter) (5) all and every ſuch rights, titles, leaſes, conditions, rents and intereſts whatſoever, as they or any of them ſhould, ought or might have had, if this Act had never been had or made; This Act, or any thing therein contained, to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. CAP. IV.

An Act that all Patentees of Collectorſhips of Tenths be bound by Recognizance.

Collector 1. Eccleſ. perſ. a 9. Patentees of Collectorſhips of Tenths ſhall be bound for their Collectors St. 26 H. 8. 3. 2 Eliz. 4.

Where the Archbiſhops and Biſhops of this Realm of England, are bound to the Kings Majeſty for the collecting and true payment of the Diſmes or Tenths due to his Highneſs, for all and ſingular Benefices, and other Eccleſiaſtical promotions whatſoever, being within their ſeveral Dioceſſes: For the collection whereof, divers of the predeceſſors of the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops have by their Letters Patents (confirmed with the Chapiter Seal) given and granted to ſundry perſons, without proviſion of ſufficient bonds, for the true collection and payment of the ſaid Diſmes, or Tenths to our Sovereign Lord, or otherwiſe to diſcharge the granters of the ſaid Patents, and their Succeſſors, whereby the Kings Majeſty hath been greatly defrauded of his ſaid duties, and many of the ſaid Biſhops ſore troubled, to their great hindrance and utter undoing:

St. 14 El. 7.

II. Be it therefore enacted by our Sovereign Lord the King, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all Collectors of the ſaid Tenths, under any Archbiſhop or Biſhop within this Realm of England, or other the Kings Dominions, having Letters Patents, or other writings of their ſaid Office of Collectorſhip of the ſaid Tenths, ſhall before the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next coming, be bound by their ſufficient Writing obligatory or Recognizance, in the Court of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, or in any other Court where the Kings Revenues of the Tenths ſhall be anſwerable, in ſuch ſum or ſums of money as ſhall be due and growing yearly to our Sovereign Lord the King, within their ſaid collection or office, to ſave and keep the ſaid Archbiſhops or Biſhops, and every of them harmleſs, and without hurt or damage againſt the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, of and for all manner of accompts and payments of money, which they or any of them have, ſhall or may conveniently receive, during the time of their ſeveral collections, and that may be lawfully demanded or required of the ſaid Archbiſhops or Biſhops, or any of them, for or concerning the ſaid Tenths, by reaſon of the Statute of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, or elſe their ſaid Letters Patents and other Writings to be utterly void and of none effect.

The Tenths ſhall be paid the laſt day of May.

III. And for that the Parſons, Vicars and Curates within this Realm, for the moſt part be not able to pay their Tenths before that they ſhall have received the profits of their Benefices, which yearly groweth and reneweth to them at the Feaſt of Eaſter, which Feaſt in many years falleth after the firſt day of April, which ſaid firſt day of April is now the day that is ſtalled and appointed to the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, to make payment to the Kings Majeſty of the ſaid Tenths: (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and every of them, ſhall from henceforth make yearly payment of the ſaid Tenths unto our ſaid Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, in the Court of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, or elſe where it ſhall pleaſe the Kings Majeſty to appoint the payment of the ſame before or at the laſt day of May, and not otherwiſe: (3) And that the Certificate of Recuſants made by any of the ſaid Archbiſhops or Biſhops, or any of them, before or at the laſt day of May yearly, ſhall be as good and effectual in the Law, to all intents conſtructions and purpoſes, as though it had been made at the days and times heretofore limited and appointed by the Statute made the ſix and twentieth year of the Reign of his moſt noble Father of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, for payments of Tenths and Firſt-fruits; any Law or Statute heretofore had or made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Certificate of Recuſants made in May.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Promotion Spiritual be now, or ſhall chance hereafter to be or remain in ſuch ſort void, that no Incumbent is or can be conveniently provided for the ſame, That then the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and every of them, ſhall and may certifie yearly before the laſt day of May, the ſame Vacations ſpecially and according to the truth of the matter, into the ſaid Court of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, or in any other Court where the Kings Revenues of Tenths ſhall be anſwerable; (2) upon which Certificate the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and every of them, ſhall be diſcharged towards and againſt the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, in like ſort as they now be upon their Certificate of the Recuſants; (3) And that then, and from thenceforth it ſhall be lawful to the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, to levy and take all the glebe lands, tithes, iſſues or profits, of the ſaid Benefice, or Spiritual Promotion ſo eſpecially certified, as is aforeſaid, until his Grace, his Heirs and Succeſſors may be fully anſwered, ſatisfied and paid of the whole arrearages of the ſaid Tenths then due to his Majeſty, (4) and the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and every of them, to be from the time of the ſaid eſpecial Certificate, clearly exonerated and diſcharged againſt the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, of the ſame arrearages: Any Law or Statute heretofore had or made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A Spiritual promotion void, for which no Incumbent can be provided.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Grant, Patent or Writing whatſoever, that ſhall hereafter be made to any perſon or perſons, by any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, by themſelves, or elſe by any Archbiſhop or Biſhop confirmed by Chapter ſeal, within the Realm of England, or elſewhere within the Kings Dominions, of the Office of Collectorſhip of the Tenths, growing or ariſing yearly to be due unto our Sovereign Lord the King, within the Dioceſs and Biſhoprick of any ſuch Grantor, by reaſon of the Statute of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths, ſhall ſtand, abide and endure in his or their force, ſtrength and effect, no more nor longer time then the ſaid Grantor ſhall be and remain Archbiſhop or Biſhop of the ſame See and Biſhoprick whereof he was poſſeſſed at the time of his ſaid Grant, any confirmation of the ſaid Grant, or any cuſtom, uſage, law or ſtatute at any time heretofore had, uſed or made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Patent of a Collector ſhall be good no longer then during the continuance of the Grantor in the See.

CAP. V.

The Act to avoid exceſs of Wines.

FOr the avoiding of many inconveniences, much evil rule and common reſort of miſruled perſons uſed and frequented in many Taverns of late newly ſet up in very great number, in back-lanes, corners and ſuſpicious places within the City of London, and in divers other Towns and Villages within this Realm, (2) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever, inhabiting within any of the Kings Majeſties Dominions of England and Wales, ſhall after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, utter by retail by ſmall meaſure; that is to ſay, by gallon, or any other meaſure of greater or leſs quantity, any Wines called Gaſcoin, Guyon or French Wines, but after the rate of eight pence the gallon at the moſt, by any manner of means, colour, engine or craft: (3) nor any Rochel Wines at greater prices or valuation, then after the rate of four pence the gallon at the moſt, (4) nor any other Wine or Wines at greater price or valuation then after the rate of twelve pence the gallon at the moſt, (5) upon pain that every perſon doing the contrary, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence five pounds of lawful money of England.

How many Taverns may be licenſed in one Town, &c.

No man ſhall retail Wine to be ſpent in his houſe.

Who ſhall have the forfeiture.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever, from and after the Feaſt of St. Michael, ſhall ſell or utter by Retail any kind of Wine or Wines, to be drunk or ſpent in his or their manſion houſe or houſes, or other place in his or their tenour or occupation, by any colour, craft, engine or mean, (2) upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch offence ten pound of lawful money of England, (3) the one half of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the King our Sovereign Lord, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of the Kings Courts of Record, in which action or ſuit no eſſoin, wager of Law, or protection ſhall be allowed.

Who may have Wines to ſpend in their houſes.

V. Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful for all and every Merchant and Merchants adventuring for the ſame at his or their own coſts and charges, to have and keep to ſpend in his or their houſe or houſes, ſuch Wine or Wines as he ſhall tranſport, or cauſe to be tranſported into this Realm, or any part thereof, not taking any money or other recompence for the ſame that ſhall be ſo ſpent in his or their houſes: (2) And that it ſhall be lawful to every High Sheriff of every County, Mayor, Bailiff and Sheriff of every City and Town-corporate within this Realm of England, and other the ſaid Dominions for the time being, during his or their Office of charge, and to every other perſon inhabiting or dwelling in any of the Kings Majeſties Forts or Towns fortified and kept for the Wars, during his or their dwellings in any ſuch Fort or Town of War, to have Wine in their houſes by the Veſſel, to ſpend the ſame in his or their houſes, without taking any money, or other recompence for the ſame ſo ſpent in his or their houſes, or other place in their tenour or occupation; this Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Which Officers may enquire of the offences aforeſaid.

VI. And it is further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Peace of every Shire or County, City, and Town-corporate, in their ſeveral Seſſions, and the Steward in every Leet, and the Sheriff in his turn, and every Eſcheator, ſhall have full power and authority of this preſent Act, to enquire by the Oaths of twelve men, of all and every offence and offences perpetrated or done contrary to the form of this Act: (2) And that every enquiry and preſentment taken and had by the Oaths of twelve lawful men, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be of ſuch force and effect, as if the ſame were taken or had before the King in his Majeſties Bench: (3) And that every of the pains, penalties and forfeitures aforeſaid, to be due by force of this Act, for any offence to be committed or done by any perſon or perſons, contrary to the form of this preſent Act, as ſhall be found by preſentment before the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, Eſcheators, Sheriff or Steward, by verdict of twelve men, as is aforeſaid, (4) and no bill, plaint, action or information thereof commenced in any of the Kings Courts of Record, ſhall be divided equally in two parts, whereof the one ſhall be to the King our Sovereign Lord, his Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other to be to the poor people of the Town or place where ſuch Preſentment ſhall be found.

VII. Pro-

Within what time an offender muſt be ſued.

VII. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to charge any perſon or perſons with any penalty or forfeiture for and concerning any offence to be done contrary to the tenour of this Act, unleſs he or they ſo offending be ſued, indicted or preſented for the ſame, within one year next after the ſame offence be done and committed as is aforeſaid; Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

None of the Liberties of Oxford or Cambridge ſhall be impaired.

VIII. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe be prejudicial or hurtful to any of the Univerſities of Oxford and Cambridge, or to the Chancellor or Scholars of the ſame, or their ſucceſſors, or any of them, to impair or take away any of the liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, juriſdictions, powers and authorities to them or any of them appertaining or belonging: (2) but that they and every of them, and their ſucceſſors, may have, hold, uſe and enjoy all their liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, juriſdictions, powers and authorities, in ſuch large and ample wiſe, as though this Act had never been had ne made, (3) ſo always, that there be not any more or greater number of Taverns kept or maintained within any of the ſaid Towns of Oxford or Cambridge, then may be lawfully kept and maintained by the proviſion, true meaning and intent of this Statute; Any thing in this proviſo mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

An Act for the Aſſiſe of Fuel.

Fuel. 1. What ſhall be the Aſſiſe of Fuel of all ſorts. 34 H. 8. 4.

Where the Aſſiſe and meaſure of talwood, billet, fagot, coles, and other fuel appointed, and aſſiſed by an Act of Parliament made at Weſtminſter the two and twentieth day of January, in the four and thirtieth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, is the ſame aſſiſe that was kept in the time of King Edward the Fourth, which aſſiſe hath not been kept, ne could conveniently be kept theſe threeſcore years, nor at theſe days can be kept, by reaſon of the great ſcarcity of woods that is happened ſince the time of the ſaid King Edward the Fourth: (2) And alſo by reaſon of the greatneſs of the ſaid aſſiſe, the ſame fuel nor coles cannot be carried at theſe days without alteration of the carts wherein ſuch fuel and coles are now carried; by reaſon whereof, and for that in the ſaid Statute, the penalty, which is the forfeiture of the ſaid fuel or coles, lacking the ſaid aſſiſe contained in the ſaid Act, dependeth upon the buyer thereof, and not upon the ſeller, ne maker, marker, or ſeller of the ſame; By reaſon whereof divers Cities and Countries are like preſently to lack fuel and coles, unleſs ſpeedy remedy be ſhortly had in this behalf:

The Aſſiſe of talwood, billet, fagot and coles, to be ſold in London and Weſtminſter, and the ſuburbs thereof.

II. For redreſs whereof, be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons ſhall ſuſtain any loſs, pain or penalty, for buying or ſelling of any talwood, billet or fagot, now cut and made, although the ſame be not of the aſſiſe contained in the ſaid Act; any thing contained in the ſame Act notwithſtanding: (2) And that all talwood, billet, fagot and coles to be made and put to ſale in the Cities of London, Weſtminſter, or in the Suburbs of the ſame, after the laſt day of September next coming, ſhall keep the aſſiſes hereafter expreſſed, that is to wit, That every ſack of coles contain four buſhels of good or clean coles: (3) And that every talſhide contain in length four foot, beſides the carfe: (4) And every talſhide named of one, to contain in greatneſs within a foot of the midſt, ſixteen inches about: (5) And every talſhide named of two, to contain in greatneſs within a foot of the midſt, three and twenty inches obout: (6) And every talſhide named of three, to contain in greatneſs within a foot of the midſt, eight and twenty inches about: (7) And every talſhide named of four, to contain in greatneſs within a foot of the midſt, three and thirty inches about: (8) And every talſhide named of five, to contain in greatneſs within a foot of the midſt, eight and thirty inches about: (9) And every billet to contain in length three foot and four inches: And every billet named a ſingle, to contain ſeven inches and a half about: (10) And every billet named to be a caſt, to contain ten inches about: (11) And every billet named of two caſt, to contain fourteen inches about: (12) And every fagot bound, to contain in length three foot: (13) And the band of every ſuch fagot to be of four and twenty inches about, beſides the knot: (14) which aſſiſes are leſs then the aſſiſes contained in the ſaid former Act, and alſo are much greater then any aſſiſe that now is, or of long time hath been commonly kept.

The forfeiture for lacking of the Aſſiſes aforeſaid.

III. And be it further enacted, That it ſhall be lawful from henceforth for every owner, without danger of any forfeiture, to make billets of two caſts: And that all billets of two caſts from henceforth to be made and put to ſale, ſhall be of the aſſiſe herein compriſed, or more, and ſhall be marked only within ſix inches of the midſt thereof: (2) And that every billet of one caſt from henceforth to be made and put to ſale, ſhall be only marked within four inches of the end thereof, (3) upon pain that every maker and every ſeller that ſhall make any ſuch fuel or coles, and put the ſame to ſale, to forfeit for every ſhide of talwood, billet, fagot, or ſack of coles from henceforth put to ſale, lacking of the aſſiſe aforeſaid, three ſhillings four pence: (4) And that this preſent Statute only, and no other Statute of Aſſiſe of fuel or coles, ſhall from henceforth ſtand in force, ne take place.

Rep. 43 El. 14. All other Statutes for Aſſiſe of Fuel repealed.

IV. And foraſmuch as by the greedy appetite and covetouſneſs of divers perſons, fuel, coles and wood runneth many times through four or five ſeveral hands or more before it cometh to the hands of them that for their neceſſity do burn or retail the ſame:

None ſhall buy fuel, but ſuch as will burn or retail the ſame.

V. Be it further enacted, That from the firſt day of May next coming, no perſon or perſons ſhall buy any ſuch wood, coles or fuel, but only ſuch as will burn or conſume the ſame, or ſuch perſons as ſhall ſell the ſame again, by retail, to ſuch as ſhall burn or conſume the ſame for their own occupying without fraud or covin, or wharfingers, or bargemen, (2) upon pain to forfeit the treble value of all ſuch wood, coles and fuel as ſhall be otherwiſe bought for any lucre or gain: (3) And that no perſon or perſons ſhall alter any mark or aſſiſe of any of the ſaid fuel marked or aſſiſed according to this Statute, in pain of like forfeiture as is aforeſaid: (4) the one half of all which forfeiture herein contained, ſhall be to the King our Sove-

No perſon ſhall alter any mark or aſſiſe of fuel marked.

Within what time an offender ſhall be ſued. The puniſhment of an offender not able to pay the forfeiture.

VI. Provided always, and be it enacted, That no perſon or perſons ſhall yield ne forfeit any penalty herein contained, unleſs action or ſuit be commenced for the ſame, within one whole year next after the offence thereof committed or done: (2) And that if any cutter or maker, as aforeſaid, or other that ſhall forfeit any ſum herein contained, ſhall not be able to yield ſuch forfeiture or ſum as is aforeſaid, that then ſuch perſon thereof convicted by witneſſes or otherwiſe, to be ſet on a Pillory in the next Market-Town to the place where he ſhall ſo offend, by a Juſtice of the Peace, or any other of the Kings Officers at eleven of the Clock upon the Market-day, with a billet or fagot bounden to ſome part of his body, and ſo to be diſcharged of the ſaid forfeiture.

Proviſion for Calice.

VII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſons to buy, ſell, make and cut billets for the only ſerving of the Town of Calice, and the Marches of the ſame, ſo that they contain in length thirty inches at the leaſt, as hath been there moſt accuſtomed xl. years laſt paſt, without forfeiture of any penalty herein contained; any thing herein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Anno primo MARIÆ, Seſſio prima.

ACTS made in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the Fifth day of October, in the firſt year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady MARY, by the Grace of God Queen of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and of the Church of England, and alſo of Ireland, in Earth the Supreme Head, and there continued to the one and twentieth day of the ſame month; that is to ſay, in the firſt Seſſion of the ſame Parliament, as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act repealing and taking away certain Treaſons, Felonies, and caſes of Premunire.

Accuſation, Raſt. 10. The ſtate of a King ſtandeth more aſſuredly by the love of his Subjects, than in fear of Laws.

FOraſmuch as the State of every King, Ruler and Governour of any Realm, Dominion or Commonalty, ſtandeth and conſiſteth more aſſured by the Love and Favour of the Subject toward their Sovereign Ruler and Governour, than in the Dread and Fear of Laws made with rigorous pains and extreme puniſhment, for not obeying of their Sovereign Ruler and Governour: (2) And Laws alſo juſtly made for the preſervation of the Commonweal without extream puniſhment or great penalty, are more often, for the moſt part obeyed and kept, then Laws and Statutes made with great and extream puniſhments, and in ſpecial ſuch Laws and Statutes ſo made, whereby not only the ignorant and rude unlearned people, but alſo learned and expert people, minding honeſtly, are often and many times trapped and ſnared, yea many times for words only, without other fact or deed done, or perpetrated:

II. The Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, calling to remembrance that many, as well honourable and noble perſons, as other of good reputation within this her Graces Realm of England, have of late, (for words only without other opinion, fact or deed) ſuffered ſhameful death, not accuſtomed to Nobles, her Highneſs therefore of her accuſtomed clemency and mercy, minding to avoid and put away the occaſion and cauſe of like chances hereafter to enſue, truſting her loving Subjects will for her clemency to them ſhewed, love, ſerve, and obey her Grace the more heartily and faithfully, then for dread or fear of pains of body, is contented and pleaſed that the ſeverity of ſuch like extream, dangerous and painful Laws, ſhall be aboliſhed, annulled and made fruſtrate and void.

III. Be

No Act or offence ſhall be treaſon, petit treaſon, or miſpriſion, but ſuch as be declared by the Statute of 25 Ed. 3. 2.

III. Be it therefore ordained and enacted by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth none act, deed or offence being by Act of Parliament or Statute, made treaſon, petit treaſon, or miſpriſion of treaſon, by words, writing, ciphering, deeds or otherwiſe whatſoever, ſhall be taken, had, deemed or adjudged to be high treaſon, petit treaſon, or miſpriſion of treaſon, but only ſuch as be declared and expreſſed to be treaſon, petit treaſon, or miſpriſion of treaſon, in or by the Act of Parliament, or Statute made in the Five and twentieth year of the Reign of the moſt noble King of famous memory, King Edward the Third, touching or concerning treaſon, or the declarations of treaſons, and none other; (2) nor that any pains of death, penalty or forfeiture in any wiſe enſue, or be to any offendor or offendors for the doing or committing any treaſon, petit treaſon, or miſpriſion of treaſon, other than ſuch as be in the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſaid Five and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid King Edward the Third ordained and provided; any Act or Acts of Parliament, Statute or Statutes, had or made at any time heretofore, or after the ſaid Five and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Edward the Third, or any other declaration or matter to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Certain perſons exempted out of the benefit of this Statute.

IV. Provided always, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act of Parliament, or any thing therein mentioned, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to give any manner of benefit, advantage, or commodity to any perſon or perſons, being the laſt day of September laſt paſt arreſted or impriſoned for treaſon, petit treaſon, or miſpriſion of treaſon, or to any perſon or perſons heretofore being indicted of treaſon, petit treaſon, or miſpriſion of treaſon, or being outlawed or attainted of treaſon, petit treaſon, or miſpriſion of treaſon, before the ſaid laſt day of September laſt paſt, or being commanded to keep his or their houſes, or other mens houſes, or otherwiſe excepted out of the Queens Highneſs moſt gracious Pardon given the day of her Coronation, but that they and every of them, for any offences before mentioned, perpetrated, committed, or done by them or any of them, before the ſaid laſt day of September, ſhall ſuffer ſuch pains of death, loſſes, and forfeitures of lands and goods, as in caſes of treaſon, as though this Act had never been had ne made; any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

All offences made felony, or in the caſe of Premunire, ſithence Anno 1 H. 8. repealed.

V. And be it further ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all offences made felony, or limited or appointed to be within the caſe of Premunire, by any Act or Acts of Parliament, Statute or Statutes, made ſithence the firſt day of the firſt year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, not being felony before, nor within the caſe of Premunire, and alſo all and every branch, article and clauſe mentioned, or in any wiſe declared in any of the ſame Eſtatutes, concerning the making of any offence or offences to be felony, or within the caſe of Premunire not being felony, nor within the caſe of Premunire before, and all pains and forfeitures concerning the ſame, or any of them, ſhall from henceforth be repealed, and utterly void, and of none effect.

Anno primo MARIÆ, Seſſio ſecunda.

ACTS made in the ſecond and laſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, holden upon Prorogation at Weſtminſter, the four and twentieth day of October, in the Firſt year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady MARY, by the Grace of God, Queen of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and in Earth Supreme Head of the Church of England, and of Ireland, and there continued and kept to the diſſolution of the ſame, being the ſixth day of December then next enſuing, as followeth.

All ſuch Divine Service and Adminiſtration of Sacraments as were moſt commonly uſed in England in the laſt year of King HENRY the Eighth, ſhall be uſed thorow the Realm, after the 20. day of December, Anno Dom. 1553. and no other kind of Service, nor Adminiſtrations of Sacraments. REP. 1 Jac 25. Stat. 1 El. 2.

Biſhops. Raſt. 10

CAP. III.

An Act againſt Offendors of Preachers and other Miniſters in the Church.

Preachers 3. The penalty of diſturbing of Preachers and Miniſters in the Church.

FOraſmuch as it is moſt neceſſary in every Chriſtian Commonwealth, to provide that tranquility and Peace may be preſerved and continued amongſt the people, and ſpecially in holy Church, in the time of Divine Service, and Adminiſtration of the Sacrament and Sacramentals, as before this time it hath been accuſtomed in holy Church within this Realm, and that all things being contrary thereunto, or that are, or may be in diſturbance thereof, may by foreſight be eſchewed and avoided, and remedy therefore in due time provided, as well for the preſervation of the Queens Highneſs peace, as for an univerſal quietneſs and order to be uſed within this Realm:

Diſturbing by word or deed a Preacher in his Sermon. 2 Bulltr. 47, 53.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons of their own power and authority, at any time or times after the twentieth day of December next coming, do, or ſhall willingly and of purpoſe, by open and overt word, fact, act or deed, maliciouſly or contemptuouſly moleſt, let, diſturb, vex or trouble, or by any other unlawful ways or means, diſquiet or miſuſe any Preacher or Preachers that now is, or that at any time or times hereafter ſhall be licenſed, allowed or authoriſed to Preach by the Queens Highneſs, or by any Archbiſhop or Biſhop of this Realm, or by any other lawful Ordinary, or by any of the Univerſities of Oxford and Cambridge, or otherwiſe lawfully authoriſed or charged by reaſon of his or their cure, benefice, or other Spiritual promotion or charge, in any of his or their open Sermon, Preaching or Collation that he or they ſhall make, declare, preach or pronounce in any Church, Chappel, Church-yard, or in any other place or places, uſed, frequented or appointed, or that hereafter ſhall be uſed or appointed to be preached in.

Moleſting a Prieſt preparing or celebrating Maſs or other Service.

III Or if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid twentieth day of December next coming, ſhall maliciouſly, willingly, or of purpoſe moleſt, let, diſturb, vex, diſquiet, or otherwiſe trouble any Parſon, Vicar, Pariſh-prieſt or Curate, or any lawful Prieſt, preparing, ſaying, doing, ſinging, miniſtring or celebrating the Maſs, or other ſuch Divine Service, Sacraments or Sacramentals, as was moſt commonly frequented and uſed in the laſt year of the reign of the late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, or that at any time hereafter ſhall be allowed, ſet forth or authoriſed by the Queens Majeſty.

Abuſing the bleſſed Sacrament of the body and blood of Chriſt, or breaking any Altar or Crucifix.

IV. Or if any perſon or perſons, at any time or times after the ſaid twentieth day of December, ſhall contemptuouſly, unlawfully or maliciouſly, of their own power or authority, pull down, deface, ſpoil, abuſe, break, or otherwiſe unreverently handle or order the moſt bleſſed, comfortable and holy Sacrament of the Body and Blood of our Saviour Jeſus Chriſt, commonly called the Sacrament of the Altar, being, or that ſhall be in any Church or Cappel, or in any other decent place, or the pix or canopy wherein the ſame Sacrament is or ſhall be: (2) or unlawfully, contemptuouſly or maliciouſly of their own power and authority, pull down, deface, ſpoyl, or otherwiſe break any Altar or Altars, or any Crucifix or Croſs, that now or hereafter ſhall be in any Church, Chappel or Church-yard: (3) that then every ſuch offendor and offendors in any the premiſſes, his or their aidor, procuror or abettor, aidors, procurors or abettors, immediately and forthwith after any of the ſaid Act or Acts, or other the ſaid miſdemeanors ſo committed, done or made, or any time or times after, ſhall be apprehended, arreſted and taken by any Conſtable or Conſtables, Churchwarden or Churchwardens of the ſaid Pariſh, Town or place where the ſaid offence or offences ſhall be ſo committed, made or done, or by any other Officer or Officers, or by any other perſon or perſons then being preſent at the time of the ſaid offence or offences ſo unlawfully committed, made or done:

V. Which perſon or perſons ſo apprehended, taken or arreſted, with convenient ſpeed ſhall be brought and carried to any Juſtice of Peace within the ſaid Shire, or within any City, Borough, Liberty or Town-corporate wherein Juſtices of Peace be, where the ſaid offence or offences ſhall be ſo committed, done and made: (2) and that the ſaid Juſtice of Peace, upon due accuſation thereupon had and made by the apprehendor or apprehendors, or other perſon or perſons, of any of the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo offending, forthwith ſhall commit the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo apprehended, arreſted and taken, to ſafe keeping and cuſtody, as by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtice ſhall be thought moſt meet and convenient, (3) and that within ſix days next and immediately after the ſaid accuſation ſo had and made to the ſaid Juſtices, the ſaid Juſtice, with one other Juſtice of Peace in the ſaid Shire, City, Borough, Liberty, or Town-corporate, ſhall diligently examine the Act or Acts, offence or offences aforeſaid.

The puniſhment of the offendor for any of the crimes aforeſaid.

VI And if they the ſaid two Juſtices of Peace, ſhall upon their ſaid examination, find or perceive the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo accuſed, guilty of any the ſaid offence or offences whereof he or they ſhall be ſo accuſed, and that by two ſufficient witneſſes, or by his or their own confeſſion or confeſſions, that then and immediately with convenient ſpeed, the ſaid two Juſtices ſhall commit and award the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo accuſed, as is aforeſaid, to the Goal of or for the ſaid Shire, City, Borough, Liberty or Town-corporate where the ſaid offence or offences was ſo committed, made or done, there to remain without Bail or Mainpriſe, by the ſpace of three months then next enſuing, and further to the next Quarter-Seſſions to be holden within the ſaid Shire, City, Borough, Liberty or Town-corporate, next after the end of the ſaid three months; (2) at which ſaid Quarter-Seſſions, the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo committed to the Goal, as is aforeſaid, upon his or their reconciliation and repentance in that behalf, before the ſaid Juſtice of Peace, at the ſaid Seſſions, ſhall be delivered and diſcharged out of Priſon and Goal, upon ſufficient ſurety of his good abearing and behaviour, to be then and there taken by the ſaid Juſtices for one whole year then next enſuing, as by diſcretion or diſcretions of the ſaid Juſtices then and there being, or of the more part of them, ſhall be thought meet and convenient: (3) And if the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo in Goal, as is aforeſaid, will not be reconciled and repent at the ſaid Quarter-Seſſions, that then the ſaid perſon or perſons immediately in time convenient ſhall be further awarded and committed to the ſaid Goal by the ſaid Juſtices, or by the more part of them, there to remain without Bail or Mainpriſe, untill he or they ſo committed and awarded to Goal, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be reconciled, and be penitent for his or their ſaid offence or offences.

Godbolt. 246. pl. 343.

The Penalty for reſcuing an offendor, or diſturbing the arreſt.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons at any time or times after the ſaid twentieth day of December, of their own authority and power, willingly and unlawfully do reſcue any offendor or offendors ſo apprehended, taken or arreſted, as is aforeſaid, or will diſturb, hinder or let the ſaid offendor or offendors ſo offending, as is aforeſaid, to be apprehended, taken or arreſted, that then every one of the ſaid reſcuers, or diſturbers ſhall ſuffer like impriſonment, as is aforeſaid, and further ſhall pay, forfeit and loſe for a fine, for every of his or their ſaid offences, five pounds to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors.

The Penalty if an offendor be not taken, but doth eſcape.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any the ſaid offendors aforeſaid be not taken, apprehended or arreſted immediately in time convenient, as is aforeſaid, but do eſcape or go away, that then the ſaid eſcape ſhall be lawfully preſented before the Juſtices of Peace, in the ſaid Shire, City, Borough, Liberty or Town-corporate, at the next Quarter-Seſſions to be holden where the ſaid eſcape was made and ſuffered, and that then the inhabitants of the Pariſh where the ſaid eſcape was ſo ſuffered, ſhall forfeit and loſe to the Queens

Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, for every ſuch offence five pounds, to be levied and taken as other like amerciaments before this time hath and been levied and taken upon any Village, Hundred or Town, for the eſape of any murderer, or other felon, for not making purſuit upon Hue and Cry, according to the Eſtatute of Wincheſter, and the Eſtatute made and provided in the Third year of the worthy King Henry the Seventh.

13 Ed. 1. 1.

What Magiſtrates ſhall have authority to enquire of, and puniſh the offenders.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Juſtices of Peace, Juſtices of Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, and all and ſingular Mayors, Bayliffs, and Juſtices of Peace, within any City, Borough or Town-corporate, in any parts within this Realm, within the limits of their Commiſſion or Commiſſions, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, after the ſaid twentieth day of December, to enquire of all and ſingular the offences and miſdemeanours aforeſaid, and to hear and determine the ſame, and to ſet the fines and amerciaments of the ſaid offender or offenders, as is aforeſaid.

The juriſdiction of the Law Eccleſiaſtical ſaved.

X. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to abrogate and take away the authority, juriſdiction, power and puniſhment of the Eccleſiaſtical Laws now ſtanding and remaining in their force, of or for the puniſhment of any the offences and miſdemeanours aforeſaid; but that the authority, power, juriſdiction and puniſhments of the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical Laws, of and for any of the offences and miſdemeanours aforeſaid, ſhall ſtand in full power and ſtrength, and to be uſed and exerciſed in all and in every thing, as though this Act had never been had and made; This preſent Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

There ſhall be but one puniſhment for one offence.

XI. Provided always, and be it enacted, That whatſoever perſon offending in the premiſſes, ſhall for any the offences afore recited, receive puniſhment of the Ordinary, having a teſtimonial thereof under the ſaid Ordinaries Seal, ſhall not for the ſame offence eftſoons be convicted before the Juſtice: (2) and in like wiſe receiving for the ſaid offences puniſhment by the Juſtice, he ſhall not for the ſame offence eftſoons receive puniſhment of the Ordinary; any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. IV.

An Act touching certain Writings made from the ſixth day of July laſt paſt, to the firſt day of Auguſt next enſuing.

Deeds, Raſt r. Writings, &c. made from the ſixth of July laſt, and before the firſt of Auguſt, ſhall be good and effectual: excepting ſuch as were made by the Lady Jane Dudley.

Where it hath pleaſed Almighty GOD the ſixth day of July laſt paſt, to call out of this tranſitory life unto his mercy, our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, by and immediately after whoſe deceaſe, the Imperial Crown of this Realm, with all dignities, dominions, honors, preeminences, prerogatives, ſtiles, authorities and juriſdictions to the ſame united, annexed or belonging, did not only deſcend, remain, and come unto our moſt dread Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, but alſo the ſame was then immediately and lawfully inveſted, deemed and adjudged in her Highneſs moſt royal perſon, by the due courſe of inheritance, and by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm:

II. Nevertheleſs, the ſame her Highneſs moſt lawful poſſeſſion was for a time diſturbed and diſquieted, by the traiterous rebellion and uſurpation of the Lady Jane Dudley, Wife unto Guilford Dudley Eſquire, otherwiſe called the Lady Jane Grey, and other her complices, during the time of the which ſaid rebellion and uſurpation, divers Eſtatutes, Recognizances, Indentures, Obligations, Acquittances, Grants, Patents, Evidences, and other Writings were made and deviſed between, and to ſundry of the Subjects of this Realm, whereupon divers queſtions, ſuits and doubts, may hereafter ariſe, grow and enſue, to many of the Queens Highneſs true loving Subjects: For the avoiding of all which ambiguities and doubts, which by reaſon thereof may be ſtirred and moved,

III. Be it ordained and enacted, That all Eſtatutes, Recognizances, Indentures, and other writings whatſoever, knowledged or made by or to any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, being the Queens Subjects, ſince the ſixth day of July laſt paſt, and before the firſt day of Auguſt then next following, under the name of the Reign of any other perſon, than under the name of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, ſhall be as good and effectual in the Law, to all intents, purpoſes, conſtructions and meanings, as if upon the making thereof the name of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, with her ſtile appropriate and united unto her Majeſties Imperial Crown, had been fully and plainly expreſſed and contained in the ſame Obligation, Recognizances, Indentures, Eſtatutes, and other writings: (2) And that the ſame Obligations, Recognizances, Indentures, Eſtatutes, and other writings, ſhall and may be ſued and miniſtred in Bar, exhibited, averred, uſed and pleaded in the name, title and ſtile of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, in ſuch and the ſame manner and form, as though the name of the ſame our Sovereign Lady the Queen, with her Graces uſual ſtile, had been expreſſed, written and contained in the ſame; the lack of the naming or mentioning of the name of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, of her Majeſties ſtile in the date or time of the making of the ſaid Eſtatutes, Recognizances, Indentures, or other writings in the ſaid Eſtatutes, Recognizances, or other writing in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

No writings made by the Lady Jane Dudley ſithence the vj. day of July laſt ſhall be good.

IV. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to make good any Letters Patents, commiſſions, gifts, grants, leaſes, deviſes, or other writings made by the ſaid Lady Jane Dudley, otherwiſe called the Lady Jane Grey, ſithence the ſaid ſixth day of July laſt paſt, of any manors, lands, tenements, hereditaments, offices, fees or other writings whatſoever, now or then being by any ways or means, parcel, member, or belonging to the ſaid Imperial Crown, or to make good any other writings whatſoever made by the ſaid Lady Jane ſithence the ſaid ſixth of July: But that they and every of them ſhall remain and be utterly void, and of none effect, any thing aforeſaid to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. V.

An Act for the limitation of Preſcription in certain caſes.

Limitation 7. Certain Writs and Acts whereunto the Statute of Limitation made 32 H. 8. 2. ſhall not extend.

WHere at a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the twenty fourth day of July, in the Two and thirtieth year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, it was enacted, That no manner of perſon or perſons ſhould from thenceforth ſue, have or maintain any writ of right, or make any preſcription, title or claim, of, to or for any manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, commons, penſions, portions, corrodies, or other hereditaments, of the poſſeſſion of his or their Anceſtor or Predeceſſor, and delcare and alledge any further ſeiſin or poſſeſſion of his or their Anceſtor or Predeceſſor, but only of the ſeiſin or poſſeſſion of his Anceſtor or Predeceſſor which hath been, or then was, or ſhall be ſeiſed of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, rents, annuities, commons, penſions, portions, corrodies, or other hereditaments, within threeſcore years next before the teſte of the ſame Writ, or next before the ſaid preſcription, title or claim, ſued, commenced, brought, made, or had after the making of the ſame Act.

A rehearſal of part of the Statute of 32 H. 8. 2. touching limitation of preſcription.

II. And where alſo it was further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, amongſt other things, That no perſon or perſons ſhould after that make any avowry or cognizance for any rent, ſuit or ſervice, or alledge any ſeiſin of any rent, ſuit or ſervice in the ſame avowry or cognizance in the poſſeſſion of his or their Anceſtors, or Predeceſſor or Predeceſſors, or in his own poſſeſſion, or in the poſſeſſion of any other whoſe eſtate he ſhould after that pretend or claim to have above fifty years next before the making of the ſaid avowry or cognizance.

III. And where by the ſame Act it was alſo further enacted, amongſt other things, That if any perſon or perſons, at any time after that, did ſue any of the ſaid actions or writs for any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, or make any avowry, cognizance, preſcription, title or claim, of or for any rent, ſuit, ſervice or other hereditaments, and could not prove that he or they, or his or their Anceſtors or Predeceſſors, were in actual poſſeſſion and ſeiſin, of and in the ſame manors, lands, tenements, rents, ſuits, ſervices, annuities, commons, penſions, portions, corrodies, or other hereditaments, at any time or times within the years before limited and appointed in the ſame Act, in manner and form as is aforeſaid, (2) that if the ſame ſeiſin were traverſed or denied by the party Plaintiff, Demandant or Avowant, or by the party Tenant or Defendant, that then, and after ſuch trial therein had, all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, and their Heirs, ſhould from thenceforth be utterly barred for ever of all and every the ſaid writs, actions, avowries, cognizance, preſcription, title and claim after that to be ſued, had or made, of and for the ſame manors, lands, tenements, hereditaments, or other the premiſſes, or any part of the ſame, for the which the ſame action, writ, avowry, cognizance, preſcription, title or claim, that ſhould at any time be had, ſued or made:

Certain doubts moved upon the ſaid Statute of 32 H. 8. 2.

IV. Upon which ſaid Act, doubt and ambiguity hath riſen and been moved, Whether a Writ of Right, of Advowſon, a Quare Impedit, Jure Patronatus, or Aſſiſe of Darein Preſentment, may be maintained by any perſon or perſons, bodies politick and corporate, whereas the ſame perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, their Anceſtor or Predeceſſor, or he or they by whom he or they do claim, cannot lay the Eſplees, ſeiſin or preſentment in him or themſelves, or the Anceſtor or Predeceſſor of them, or any of them, or in him or them by whom he or they do claim, within threeſcore years next before the teſte of the ſame Writ of Right, of Advowſon, Quare Impedit, or Aſſiſe of Darein Preſentment, and Jure Patronatus; (2) And alſo whether any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, having a Seigniory by reaſon of any caſtles, honours, manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments of him or them, holden by Knights ſervice, may maintain a writ of right of ward, or a writ of raviſhment of ward, for any caſtles, honours, manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, holden by Knights ſervice, or for the body of any ward that he or they claim by reaſon of any ſuch tenure by Knights ſervice, whereas he or they have not been ſeiſed of the ſame ſervices within threeſcore years next before the teſte of any ſuch writs: (3) For the explanation and plain declaration whereof, and in avoiding of the ſaid ambiguities and doubts, Be it enacted and declared by the Queens Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid former Act made in the Two and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry, or any article, clauſe, ſentence or matter therein contained, ſhall not extend to any writ of right, of advowſon, Quare Impedit, or Aſſiſe of Darein Preſentment, nor Jure Patronatus, (2) nor to any writ of right of ward, writ of raviſhment of ward, for the wardſhip of the body, or for the wardſhip of any caſtles, honors, manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments holden by Knights ſervice, nor to the ſeiſor of the wardſhip of the body of any ward or wards, or to the ſeiſor or wardſhip of any caſtles, honors, manors, lands, tenements or hereditament holden by Knights ſervice; (5) but that all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them, ſhall and may have, maintain and purſue all and ſingular the ſaid writs of right, of advowſon, Quare Impedit, Aſſiſe of Darein Preſentment, Jure Patronatus, writs of right of ward, raviſhment of ward, and alſo ſeiſe the wardſhip both of the body, and of the caſtles, honors, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments holden by Knights ſervice, in like manner and form, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as they or any of them ſhould or might have done, made or purſued, before the making of the ſaid Act made in the Two and thirtieth year, as though the ſame Act had never been had or made; any thing in the ſaid former Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. Stat. 21 Jac. 16.

Certain writs and acts whereunto the ſaid Statute ſhall not extend.

CAP. VI.

An Act that the Counterfeiting ſtrange Coyns, being current within the Realm, the Queens Highneſs Sign Manual, Signet, or Privy Seal, to be adjudged Treaſon.

Treaſon 2.

FOraſmuch as by the Laws of this Realm, ſmall and no due and condign puniſhment is at this preſent time provided for ſuch evil diſpoſed perſons as ſhall Counterfeit or forge ſuch kind of Gold or Silver of other Realms, as is not the proper Coyn of this Realm, yet permitted and ſuffered by the Queen our Sovereign Ladies conſent, and heretofore hath been permitted and ſuffered by the conſent of her moſt noble Progenitors, to be currant in payment within this her Realm, nor for ſuch perſons as ſhall counterfeit the Queens Highneſs Sign Manual, or privy Signet, or privy Seal; By reaſon whereof divers evil diſpoſed perſons are encouraged and boldned daily to perpetrate and commit the ſaid ſeveral offences:

II. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by our Sovereign Lady the Queen, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons hereafter falſely forge and counterfeit any ſuch kind of Coyn of Gold or Silver as is not the proper Coyn of this Realm, and is or ſhall be currant within this Realm, by the conſent of the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors: (2) Or if any perſon or perſons at any time hereafter, do falſely forge or counterfeit the Queens Sign Manual, privy Signet, or privy Seal, (3) that then every ſuch offence ſhall be deemed and adjudged high Treaſon, (4) and the offenders therein, their counſellers, procurers, aiders and abetters, being convict according to the Laws of this Realm, of any of the ſaid offences, ſhall be likewiſe deemed and adjudged Traytors againſt the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the Realm, and ſhall ſuffer and have ſuch pains of death, forfeiture of lands, goods and cattels, and alſo loſe the priviledge of all Sanctuary, as in the caſe of high Treaſon it is uſed and ordained.

Treaſon to forge the coyn of other Realms current in this Realm, or the Kings ſign Manual, &c.

CAP. VII.

An Act touching Proclamations upon Fines.

Whereas upon Fines levied with Proclamations, doubts have of late riſen by occaſion of Adjournment of Terms, in which Proclamation ſhould have been made according to the form limited for Proclamations upon Fines, by the Statute made in the Fourth year of King Henry the Seventh, and were not by reaſon of ſuch Adjournments had ne made, according to the purvey of the ſame Eſtatute,

Fines 11.
Fines levied before the Juſtices of the Common place ſhall be of force notwithſtanding Proclamations be not made.
4 H. 7. 24.

II. Be it therefore enacted, That all Fines, as well heretofore levied, as hereafter to be levied before the Juſtices of the Common place, of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, whereupon the Proclamations hath not, or ſhall not, by reaſon of adjournment of any Term by Writ, be duly made, ſhall be of as good force, effect and ſtrength to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if any Term heretofore ſo Adjourned, or that at any time hereafter ſhall be ſo Adjourned, had been holden and kept from the beginning to the end thereof, not Adjourned, and Proclamations therein made, according to the form and effect of the ſaid Statute.

III. Provided always, That this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any Fine heretofore levied of any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments now in ſuit, demand or variance in any of the Queens Courts, or whereof any Charters, Evidences or Muniments concerning the ſame, be now in demand in the Queens high Court of Chancery, (2) nor to any Fine or Fines heretofore levied of any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, which before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament have been recovered, gotten or obtained, by reaſon of any judgment, entry, decree, arbitrament, or other lawful means, contrary to the purport, intent or effect of any ſuch Fine or Fines thereof heretofore levied.

Certain fines to which this Statute ſhall not extend.

CAP. VIII.

An Act that Sheriffs ſhall not be Juſtices of the Peace during that Office.

Where in one Act of Parliament, intituled, An Act for the continuance of actions after the death of any king, made in the Firſt year of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, amongſt other things it is ordained and enacted, That albeit any perſon or perſons being Juſtice of Aſſiſe, Juſtice of Gaol delivery, or Juſtice of Peace within any of the Kings Dominions, or being in any other of the Kings Commiſſions whatſoever, ſhall fortune to be made Duke, Archbiſhop, Marqueſs, Earl, Viſcount, Baron, Biſhop, Knight, Juſtice of the one Bench or of the other, or Serjeant at the Law, or Sheriff, yet that notwithſtanding he and they ſhould remain Juſtice and Commiſſioner, and have full power and authority to execute the ſame in like manner and form as he or they might and ought to have done before the ſame, as in the ſaid Act more plainly appeareth; (2) Sithence the making of the which Act, divers perſons being in the Commiſſion of the Peace in one County, have been made Sheriffs of the ſame County, and have exerciſed either of the ſaid Offices, which ſeemeth not to be convenient:

Sheriffs 21.
No Sheriff ſhall be Juſtice of Peace, where or when he is Sheriff.
1 Ed. 6. 7.
2 Bulſtr. 328.

II. Wherefore be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no manner of perſon or perſons having, uſing or exerciſing the Office of the Sheriff of any County or Counties, ſhall uſe or exerciſe the Office of the Juſtice of the Peace, by force of any Commiſſion, or otherwiſe, in any County or Counties where he or they ſhall be Sheriff, during the time only that he or they ſhall uſe or exerciſe the ſaid Office or Sheriffwick; any thing in the ſaid former Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding: And that all and every Act and Acts to be done by any ſuch Sheriff and Sheriffs, by authority of any Commiſſion of the Peace, during the time aboveſaid, ſhall be void and of none effect; The ſaid former Act notwithſtanding.

CAP. IX.

An Act touching the Corporation of the Phyſicians in London.

Whereas in the Parliament holden at London the fifteenth day of April, in the Fourteenth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord, King Henry the Eighth, and from thence Adjourned to Weſtminſter the laſt day of July, in the Fifteenth year of the Reign of the ſame King, and there holden: It was enacted, That a certain grant by Letters

Phyſicians 4. &c.

Patents of incorporation made and granted by our ſaid late King to the Phyſicians of London, and all Clauſes and Articles contained in the ſame Grant, ſhould be approved, granted, ratified and confirmed by the ſame Parliament:

A confirmation of the Stat. of 14 H. 8. 5. touching the corporation of Phyſicians of London.

II. For the conſideration thereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Statute or Act of Parliament, with every Article and Clauſe therein contained, ſhall from henceforth ſtand and continue ſtill in full ſtrength, force and effect; Any Act, Statute, Law, Cuſtom, or any other thing made, had or uſed to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

III. And for the better reformation of divers enormities happening to the Commonwealth, by the evil uſing and undue adminiſtration of Phyſick, and for the enlarging of further Articles for the better execution of the things contained in the ſaid Grant enacted, Whoſoever ſhall be committed to priſon by the Preſident of the Colledge of Phyſicians in London ſhall be received and kept thereby.

IV. Be it therefore now enacted, That whoſoever the Preſident of the Colledge, or Commonalty of the Faculty of Phyſick of London for the time being, or ſuch as the ſaid Preſident and Colledge ſhall yearly according to the tenor and meaning of the ſaid Act, authorize to ſearch, examine, correct and puniſh all offenders and tranſgreſſors in the ſaid Faculty, within the ſame City and Precinct, in the ſaid Act expreſſed, ſhall ſend or commit any ſuch offender or offenders for his or their offences or diſobedience contrary to any Article or Clauſe contained in the ſaid Grant or Act, to any Ward, Gaol or Priſon within the ſame City and Precinct (the Tower of London except) That then from time to time the Warden, Gaoler, or Keeper, Wardens, Gaolers or Keepers of the Wards, Gaols and Priſons within the City or Precinct aforeſaid (except before excepted) ſhall receive into his or their Priſons, all and every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo offending, as ſhall be ſo ſent or committed to him or them, as is aforeſaid, (2) and there ſhall ſafely keep the perſon or perſons ſo committed, in any of their Priſons, at the proper coſts and charges of the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo committed, without Bail or Mainpriſe, until ſuch time as ſuch offender or offenders, or diſobedient, be diſcharged of the ſaid Impriſonment, by the ſaid Preſident, and ſuch perſons as by the ſaid Colledge ſhall be thereunto authorized, (3) upon pain that all and every ſuch Warden, Gaoler and Keeper, doing the contrary, ſhall loſe and forfeit the double of ſuch fine and amerciament as ſuch offender and offenders, or diſobedient, ſhall be aſſeſſed to pay, by ſuch as the ſaid Preſident and Colledge ſhall authoriſe, as aforeſaid, ſo that the ſame fine and amerciament be not at any one time above the ſum of twenty pound, the moiety thereof to be employed to the uſe of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moiety unto the ſaid Preſident and Colledge: (4) All which forfeitures to be recovered by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or Information in any of the Queens, her Heirs and Succeſſors Courts of Record, againſt any ſuch Warden, Gaoler, or Keeper ſo offending; in which Suit, no Eſſoign, Wager of Law, nor Protection ſhall be allowed, ne admitted for the Defendant.

The offenders forfeiture, and who ſhall have it, and by what means.

Searching in London for Apothecary wares. 22 H. 8. 40.

V. And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, for the better execution of the ſearch and view of Poticary Wares, Drugs and Compoſitions, according to the tenour of a Statute made in the Two and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, That it ſhall be lawful for the Wardens of the Grocers, or one of them, to go with the ſaid Phyſicians in their view and ſearch, that if the ſaid Warden or Wardens, do refuſe or delay his or their coming thereunto, forthwith and immediately when the ſaid Preſident, or four of his Colledge elect, as aforeſaid, do call upon him or them, that then the ſaid Phyſicians may and ſhall execute that ſearch and view, and the due puniſhment of the Poticaries, for any their evil and faulty ſtuff, according to the Statute laſt before mentioned, without the aſſiſtance of any of the ſaid Wardens; any clauſe in the forenamed Statute,, to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding, (2) And every ſuch perſon or perſons as will or ſhall reſiſt ſuch ſearch, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch reſiſtance xl. the ſame penalty to be recovered in form aforeſaid, without any of the delays aforeſaid to be had in Suit thereof.

The penalty for reſiſting of ſearch of Apothecary wares.

Other Magiſtrates ſhall aſſiſt the Phyſicians in their ſearch.

VI. And further be it enacted, That all Juſtices, Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, Conſtables, and other Miniſters and Officers within the City and Precincts above written, upon requeſt of them made, ſhall help, aid and aſſiſt the Preſident of the ſaid Colledge, and all perſons by them (from time to time) authoriſed for the due execution of the ſaid Acts or Statutes, upon pain for not giving of ſuch aid, help and aſſiſtance, to run in contempt of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors.

ACTS made in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond day of April, in the Firſt year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady MARY, by the Grace of God, Queen of England, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, and there continued and kept to the diſſolution of the ſame, being the Fifth day of May then next enſuing, as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act that the Regal Power of this Realm is as fully in the Queens Majeſty, as ever it was in any her moſt Noble Anceſtors.

Foraſmuch as the Imperial Crown of this Realm, with all dignities, honours, prerogatives, authorities, juriſdictions and preheminences thereunto annexed, united and belonging, by the divine providence of Almighty GOD, is moſt lawfully, juſtly and rightfully deſcended and come unto the Queens Highneſs that now is, being the very true and undoubted Heir and Inheretrix thereof, and inveſted in her moſt Royal Perſon, according unto the Laws of this Realm: (2) And by force and virtue of the ſame, all Regal power, dignity, honour, authority, preheminence and juriſdictions doth appertain, and of right ought to appertain and belong unto her Highneſs, as to the Sovereign, Supream Governour and Queen of this Realm, and the Dominions thereof, in as full, large and ample manner, as it hath done heretofore to any other her moſt noble Progenitors Kings of this Realm: (3) Nevertheleſs, the moſt ancient Statutes of this Realm being made by Kings then Reigning, do not only attribute and refer all prerogative, preheminence, power and juriſdiction Royal unto the name of King, but alſo do give, aſſign and appoint the correction and puniſhment of all offenders againſt the Regality and Dignity of the Crown, and the Laws of this Realm, unto the King: (4) By occaſion whereof, the malicious and ignorant perſons may be hereafter induced and perſwaded unto this error and folly, to think that her Highneſs could, ne ſhould have, enjoy, and uſe ſuch like royal authority, power, preheminence, prerogative and juriſdiction, nor do, execute and uſe all things concerning the ſaid Statutes, and take the benefit and priviledge of the ſame, nor correct and puniſh offenders againſt her moſt Royal Perſon, and the Regality and Dignity of the Crown of this Realm, and the Dominions thereof, as the Kings of this Realm, her moſt noble Progenitors have heretofore done, enjoyed, uſed, and exerciſed:

Crown 1. Queen, Raſt. 1. The Regal power is in the Queens Majeſty as fully as it hath been in any her Progenitors.

Several cauſes why this Stat. was made.

II. For the avoiding and clear extinguiſhment of which ſaid error or doubt, and for a plain declaration of the Laws of this Realm in that behalf,

III. Be it declared and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Law of this Realm is, and ever hath been, and ought to be underſtood, that the Kingly or Regal Office of this Realm, and all dignities, prerogative royal, power, preheminencies, priviledges, authorities and juriſdiction thereunto annexed, united or belonging, being inveſted either in male or female, are and be, and ought to be as fully, wholly, abſolutely and entirely deemed, judged, accepted, inveſted and taken in the one as in the other; (2) ſo that what,

The Regal power of this Realm, and all the dignities of the ſame, ſhall be as well in a Queen as in a King.

or whenſoever Statute or Law doth limit and appoint, that the King in this Realm may or ſhall have, execute and do any thing as King, or doth give any profit or commodity to the King, or doth limit or appoint any pains or puniſhment for the correcting of offenders or tranſgreſſors againſt the regality and dignity of the King or of the Crown, the ſame the Queen (being Supream Governeſs, Poſſeſſor and Inheritrix to the Imperial Cown of this Realm, as our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen moſt juſtly preſently is) may by the ſame authority and power likewiſe have, exerciſe, execute, puniſh and correct, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, without doubt, ambiguity, ſcruple or queſtion; any cuſtom, uſe or ſcruple, or any other thing whatſoever to be made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

An Act touching Cloth making in Corporate-Towns and Market-Towns.

Drapery, Raſt. 56. Making of cloth uſed at any time of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. in Cities, Boroughs, Corporate-towns, or Market-towns may be continued, &c. The inconveniences enſuing the Statute of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 8.

Where the City of Worceſter, and divers other Cities, Boroughs, and Towns-corporate, within this Realm of England, of long time have been upholden, repaired, and only maintained by making of broad Clothes, called long Clothes, ſhort Clothes, and coloured Clothes, and the Citizens, Freemen and Inhabitants of the ſame Cities, Towns, and Boroughs Corporate, have thereby been greatly enriched, and the poor people and Handicraftſmen of the ſame, and the Countries adjoyning, daily ſet a work, as Weavers, Walkers, Fullers, Fulling-mill-men, Shear-men, and Dyers, forcers of Wools, caſters of Wools, and ſorters of Wools, Spinners, Carders, and Spullers of Yarn, and have had their only living thereby, till now of late in the Fifth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, that an Eſtatute was made, That no man ſhould occupy Cloth making, ne put any broad Cloth or Clothes to Weaving or Walking, except he hath been Apprentice to Cloth making by the ſpace of ſeven years, or elſe have occupied and practiſed Cloth making by the ſpace of ſeven years or more, under pain of forfeiture of great penalties in the ſame Eſtatute limited; (2) by reaſon whereof, divers and many good Clothiers dwelling in the ſaid Cities and Towns corporate, which had occupied and made Cloth by the ſpace of five or ſix years, and ſome that have married Clothiers wives, which had occupied Cloth making by the ſpace of twenty years before, by reaſon of the ſame Eſtatute have been enforced to leave off, and clearly diſcontinue their Cloth making, to their great impoveriſhment, and to the utter undoing of a great number of poor people and Handicraftſmen, which daily had their living by the ſaid Clothiers; (3) And foraſmuch as the perfect and principal ground of Cloth making, is the true ſorting of Wools, and the experience thereof conſiſting only in women, as Clothiers wives, and their women-ſervants, and not in Apprentices, they be thereby very like to be utterly undone for ever, unleſs ſpeedy remedy be therein provided:

Certain perſons not reſtrained of making of broad Clothes, notwithſtanding the Statute of 5 Ed. 6. 8.

II. In conſideration whereof, be it enacted, eſtabliſhed and ordained by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, That every perſon or perſons inhabiting in any of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs or Towns-corporate, or in Market-Towns within the Realm of England, where Cloth making at any time before the making of the ſaid Act hath been uſed, ſhall or may from henceforth lawfully make all manner of broad Clothes aforeſaid, and put them to weaving, walking, fulling, dying and ſhearing, without any impediment, ſo that the ſame Cloth be ſubſtantially made, bearing lawful length, breadth, and weight, according to the Statute for good and true Cloth making, made in the Fifth year of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth; any article or clauſe in the ſaid former Eſtatute, or any other Eſtatute for Cloth making, made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. CAP. VIII.

An Act touching the buying and currying of Leather.

Where at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, upon the Prorogation the fifteenth day of April, in the Sixth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, it was amongſt other things enacted, That no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be, ſhould buy, engroſs, or cauſe to be bought or engroſſed any kind of tanned Leather to ſell the ſame again, ſaving only Sadlers, Girdlers, Cordwainers, and certain other Artificers, as by the ſame Act more plainly may appear; (2) Sithence the making whereof, foraſmuch as many poor Artificers, Shoomakers and Coblers, who afore that, might buy from time to time their ſtuff of the Currier ready provided, and wrought ſufficiently, and to buy the ſame at a price reaſonable, and now being very poor men, and not able to buy two or three Hides, or backs of Leather at one time, nor to pay ready money for the ſame, are inforced to give up their Occupations in great number, to their utter impoveriſhment and undoing; (3) and foraſmuch alſo as ſithence the making of the ſaid Eſtatute, all kind of ſtuff made of Leather, is more ſlenderly and deceitfully wrought and made then ever it was, and nevertheleſs as dear, or rather the dearer; whereby it may appear that the ſaid former Act was procured for the ſingular commodity of a few rich Shoomakers, and other Artificers that are now common Regrators, and Ingroſſers of Leather, without reſpect of perfect Workmanſhip, or of the Commonwealth, which is well perceived both in mens purſes, and alſo in their ſhoes: (4) The experience is well proved, for they having the only Trade of buying of Leather, Stuff and Tallow in their hands, do notwithſtanding deliver to the Currier ſo little Stuff and Tallow, whereby the Leather cannot be ſufficiently wrought; (5) And foraſmuch as the Curriers are by divers Laws bound to the ſufficient Workmanſhip and Currying of Leather upon divers pains, whereas they may buy no Leather, and the Shoomaker will not allow them ſufficiently to do the ſame:

Cordwainers, Raſt. 17. Curriers as well as other Artificers may buy Leather. A rehearſal of a branch of the Statute of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 15.

The inconveniences of the ſame branch.

II. Be it therefore enacted, That from henceforth it ſhall be lawful, as well for the Currier, Shoomaker, Girdler, Sadler, Budget-maker, and all other Artificers occupying the Craft or Myſtery of Leather buying, lawfully to buy all kinds of tanned Leather, in Fairs and Markets within all places of this Realm accuſtomed to be ſold, it being lawfully tanned and dreſſed, (2) ſo that the ſaid Curriers, Shoomakers and Girdlers, nor any perſon for them, nor for their uſe, ſhall buy any kind of tanned Leather to ſell again to any Merchant, or other ſtranger, to be conveyed over the Sea, ne ſhall ſend or convey any Leather beyond the Sea, upon the forfeiting of all ſuch Leather ſo bought, the one half of the ſame to be to the Queens Highneſs, and the other half to him that preſenteth the ſame: (3) And further, the aforeſaid Act from henceforth to be repealed, made void and of none effect concerning the Curriers, Shoomakers, Sadlers, Budget-makers, Girdlers, and all other Artificers occupying the Myſtery of Leather buying, curried and dreſſed.

Curriers, Shoomakers, &c. may buy Leather, but not to convey beyond Sea.

A repeal of the aforeſaid branch of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 15.

III. And be it further enacted, That from henceforth no perſon or perſons (occupying the Feat or Myſtery of currying of tanned Leather) within the City of London, or the Suburbs of the ſame, ſhall occupy about the currying of the ſame Leather, any other Stuff or Tallow brought unto him by any other perſon or perſons, but ſuch as ſhall be his own, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Leather ſo curried, contrary to the true meaning thereof.

The Curriers of London and the Suburbs thereof ſhall uſe their own ſtuff.

IV. And furthermore, That no Currier ſhall carry any Hides for any Shoomaker, to make Shoos or Boots of, from the Feaſt of St. James the Apoſtle, unto the five and twentieth day of March, but ſuch as ſhall be ſufficiently dipped twice in the pan, for the true and juſt workmanſhip thereof, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Leather as ſhall be wrought to the contrary, the one half of the ſame to the Queens Highneſs, and the other moiety to him that ſhall find and preſent the ſame; all the ſame penalties to be recovered in form aforeſaid, by him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoin or Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant.

How the Leather ſhall be ordered that the Curriers ſhall dreſs.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That when and as often as any Shoomaker or his Deputy, doth bring any Leather ſufficiently tanned, to any Currier to be curried, delivering ſufficient liquor for well dreſſing of the ſame, the ſame ſhall be by every ſuch Currier well and ſufficiently curried, and made ready for the Shoomaker, within the ſpace of five days in ſummer, that is to ſay, from the firſt day of March, to the laſt day of September, and alſo in like manner within the ſpace of ten days in Winter, that is to ſay, from the firſt day of October, unto the laſt day of February, (2) upon pain to forfeit to the party grieved, for every Hide not curried and dreſſed in manner and form aforeſaid, the ſum of ten ſhillings.

Within what time Leather ſhall be curried.

VI. Provided further, That this Proviſo ſhall not extend to bind any Currier to dreſs any Leather, which he doing his beſt, is not able to dreſs within every of the times aforeſaid, but ſhall extend to all ſuch Leather as he conveniently may dreſs after the common rate of dreſſing. Stat. 1 El. 8. 5 El. 8. 1 Jac. 22.

CAP. IX.

The Queen during her life, ſhall have authority by writing to be ſealed with the Great Seal of England, to make and preſcribe to all thoſe Churches Cathedral and Collegiate, that were erected and eſtabliſhed by King Henry the Eighth, to the Deans, Prebendaries and Miniſters of the ſame, and to their ſucceſſors, ſuch Statutes and Orders for the good governance of every of them, and of the lands and poſſeſſions of every of the ſame Churches, as ſhall ſeem good to her; and to alter, change, augment or diminiſh the ſame as occaſion ſhall ſerve; and to ordain and eſtabliſh Statutes, Ordinances and Foundations for the Government of ſuch Grammar Schools as were erected by King H. 8. or by King Ed. 6. and of the Miniſters and Scholars, of the ſame; and to alter and tranſpoſe other Statutes and Ordinances there heretofore made. CAP. XI.

An Act touching the Sea-ſands in Glamorgan Shire.

Sewers 6. The Commiſſioners of Sewers in the County of Glamorgan, ſhall take order for ſaving the land from deſtruction by ſand riſing out of the Sea.
The effect of the Statute of 23 H. 8. 5.

Where in the three and twentieth year of the Reign of the excellent Prince of famous memory King Henry the Eighth, it was enacted and eſtabliſhed, That Commiſſions of Sewers from time to time, when need ſhould require, ſhould be directed to ſuch ſubſtantial and indifferent perſons as ſhould be named by the Lord Chancellor of England, the Lord Treaſurer, the Lord Privy Seal, and the two chief Juſtices, or three of them, whereof the Lord Chancellor to be one, authorizing them, or ſix of them, to ſurvey walls, ſtreams, ditches, banks, gutters, ſewers, guttees, cauſeys, bridges, trenches, mills, mill-dams, flood-gates, ponds, cocks, ebbing wears, and other lets and nuſances, by reaſon of the outragious courſe and rage of the Sea, in and upon Mariſhes and other low places; (2) which good law doth not extend, nor is not taken to give authority and power unto the ſaid Commiſſioners of Sewers to reform the great hurt, nuſance and loſſes that cometh and chanceth to the Queens Highneſs and her Subjects, by reaſon of Sand riſing out of the Sea, and driven to land by ſtorms and winds, whereby much good ground lying on the Sea Coſts in places of this Realm, and eſpecially in the County of Glamorgan, is covered with ſuch Sand riſing out of the Sea, that there cometh no profit of the ſame, to the great loſs of the Queens Highneſs and her loving Subjects, and more is like to enſue, if ſpeedy remedy be not therein provided:

II. May it therefore pleaſe the Queens Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, Be it enacted, That as well the ſaid Act of Sewers made in the three and twentieth year, as all Commiſſions of Sewers hereafter to be directed according to the tenor of the ſaid Act, may extend and give authority, that the Commiſſioners therein named for the County of Glamorgan, or ſix of them, whereof three to be of the Quorum, ſhall by this Act, and the ſaid former Act and Commiſſion to them directed, have full power and authority from time to time to make laws, proviſions, ordinances, judgments and decrees within the ſaid County of Glamorgan, for the redreſs and ſaving of the ſaid grounds from hurt and deſtruction by reaſon of the ſaid Sands, as they might or may do by the ſaid former Act and Commiſſion for the withſtanding and avoiding the outragious courſe and rage of the Sea, or other Waters; any uſage or cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. I.

An Act touching Letters Patents, and other Writings to be Signed by the Queen.

Queen, Raſt. 2. A branch of a Statute made 1 M. 2. touching the ſigning of Letters Patents, &c. with the Queens ſign Manual repealed, &c.

Where in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the ſecond day of April, in the Firſt year of the Reign of our moſt dread and gracious Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and there continued and kept till the diſſolution of the ſame, being the fifth day of May then next following, one Act was made touching the Articles of her Highneſs moſt noble Marriage, in the which Act among other things it was enacted, ordered and eſtabliſhed by the authority of the ſaid Parliament, That all and ſingular gifts, grants, Letters Patents, exchanges, confirmations, leaſes, and other writings, which after the ſaid Marriage, and during the ſame, ſhould paſs and be made of any benefices, offices, lands, revenus and fruits, or of any of them, ſhould be intituled and made in the names of our Sovereign Lord the King, and of her moſt excellent Highneſs, whether his Majeſty ſhould be preſent within the Realms and Dominions of her Highneſs, or within any of them, or abſent: (2) And that the ſame gifts, grants, Letters Patents, exchanges, confirmations, leaſes, and other writings ſo ſet forth and made, ſhould be ſealed and firmed with the Sign Manual of her Highneſs, (3) and the ſame ſo Signed and Sealed with the Great Seal of this Realm, or with ſuch Seal as hath been accuſtomed, ſhould be by the authority of the ſaid Parliament deemed, adjudged, declared and pronounced to be as good, perfect, and of like force, ſtrength and effect in the Law to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, againſt our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queens Majeſties, and her Highneſs Heirs and Succeſſors, as if her Majeſty had been at the time of the making thereof, ſole and unmarried, (4) and that all gifts, grants, Letters Patents, exchanges, confirmations, leaſes, and other writings, which after the ſaid Marriage, and during the time of the ſame, ſhould paſs and be made of the ſaid benefices, offices, lands, revenues and fruits, or of any of them, whereunto the Sign Manual of her Highneſs ſhould not be ſet, made or put, ſhall be by the authority of the ſaid Parliament from time to time deemed, adjudged, accepted, taken and decreed to be of no force ne effect, but utterly fruſtrate and void in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes; the ſaid Marriage, or any law, uſage or cuſtom to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding, as by the ſaid Act more at large doth appear:

II. Sithence the making of which Statute, and ſolemnization of the ſaid Marriage, the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty hath been greatly moleſted, grieved and troubled with often ſigning of Letters Patents, gifts, grants, exchanges, leaſes and other writings, concerning and touching benefices, offices, lands, revenues and fruits, made and granted by and from our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King and her Highneſs, to ſundry of their moſt loving Subjects, to whom alſo it hath been, and is no ſmall charge to attend, until ſuch time as they may procure and obtain the ſign manual of her Highneſs unto their ſaid Letters Patents, gifts, grants, exchanges, confirmations and leaſes, without which ſign the ſame are utterly void by force of the ſaid Statute, to the great danger, loſs and utter undoing of divers perſons that have lately bought, purchaſed or obtained of our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady, the King and Queens Majeſties, divers lands, tenements and other hereditaments, to their great coſts and charges:

The inconveniences enſuing to the Queen and the Subjects, by the ſaid Stat. of 1 M. 2.

III. For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid branch or article touching or concerning only the ſigning of Letters Patents, gifts, grants, exchanges, confirmations, leaſes, or of other writings, for any benefices, offices, revenues, fruits or other hereditaments, ſhall be from henceforth clearly repealed, and made fruſtrate and void to all intents and purpoſes.

A repeal of the before rehearſed branch of the Stat. of 1 M. 2.

IV. And be it further enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and ſingular Letters Patents, touching or concerning any gift, grant, exchange, confirmation, leaſe or other writing, the which ſithence the ſaid marriage hath paſſed and been made of any benefices, offices, manors, lands, tenements, revenues, fruits, liberties, or other hereditaments, or of any of them, in the names of our moſt dread Sovereign Lord and Lady, the King and Queens Majeſties, (the warrant or writing, or warrants or writings whereof, being ſigned with her Highneſs ſign Manual, in ſuch form, order and degree, as the ſame heretofore hath been accuſtomed to be ſigned when her Highneſs was ſole and unmarried) ſhall be by authority of this preſent Parliament, of the ſame like force, ſtrength and effect in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſame were or had been ſigned by her Highneſs ſign Manual, and as if her Majeſty had been at the making thereof ſole and unmarried, and as they were before the making of the ſaid Act; the ſaid eſtatute, or any branch or article therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A confirmation of former grants or writings ſealed with the Queens ſign Manual.

CAP. II.

Whoſoever ſhall wear Silk in or upon his Hat, Bonnet, Girdle, Scabbard, Hoſe, Shoes or ſpurleathers, ſhall be three months impriſoned, and forfeit x. l. except Mayors, Aldermen, &c. If any perſon knowing his ſervant to offend, do not put him forth of his ſervice within fourteen days, or do retain him again, he ſhall forfeit C. l. REP. 1 Jac. 25.

CAP. IV.

An Act againſt certain Perſons calling themſelves Egyptians.

Where in a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the Two and twentieth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth (for the avoiding and baniſhing out of this Realm of certain Outlandiſh people, calling themſelves Egyptians, uſing no craft nor feat of Merchandizes for to live by, but going from place to place in great companies, uſing great, ſubtile and crafty means to deceive the Kings Subjects, bearing them in hand, that they by Palmiſtry could tell mens and womens Fortune, and ſo many times by craft and ſubtilty deceive the people of their money, and committed divers great and hainous Felonies and Robberies, to the great hurt and deceit of the people,) (2) It was amongſt other things then enacted, That from the time of the making of the ſaid Act, no ſuch perſons ſhould be ſuffered to come within this the Kings Realm, upon pain of forfeiture to the King of all their Goods and Chattels, and then to be commanded to avoid the Realm within fifteen days next after the Commandment, upon pain of impriſonment: (3) and ſuch perſons calling themſelves Egyptians, as then were within this Realm, ſhould depart within ſixteen days next after Proclamation of the ſaid Act, upon pain of impriſonment and forfeiture of all their Goods and Chattels, with divers other clauſes and articles contained in the ſaid Act, as by the ſaid Act more at large it appeareth: (4) Foraſmuch as divers of the ſaid company, and ſuch other like perſons, not fearing the penalty of the ſaid Statute, have enterpriſed to come over again into this Realm, uſing their old, accuſtomed, diviliſh and naughty practiſes and devices, with ſuch abominable living as is not in any Chriſtian Realm to be permitted, named or known, and be not duly puniſhed for the ſame, to the perillous and evil example of our Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and the Queens Majeſties moſt loving Subjects, and to the utter and extream undoing of divers and many of them, as evidently doth appear:

Egyptians 1. Puniſhment, for bringing Egyptians into this Realm, &c. 22 H. 8. 10.

II. For reformation whereof, be it ordained and enacted by the King and Queen our Sovereign Lord and Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons after the laſt day of January next coming, do willingly tranſport, bring or convey into this Realm of England or Wales, any ſuch perſons calling themſelves, or commonly called Egyptians, that then he or they ſo tranſporting, bringing or conveying in any ſuch perſons contrary to the true meaning of this Act, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every time ſo offending, fourty pounds of lawful money of England.

The Penalty for bringing of Egyptians into this Realm.

It ſhall be felony for Egyptians to remain in England a month.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid perſons called Egyptians, which ſhall be tranſported and conveyed into this Realm of England or Wales, as is aforeſaid, do continue and remain within the ſame by the ſpace of one month, that then he or they ſo offending, ſhall by virtue of this Act be deemed and judged a Felon and Felons, (2) and ſhall therefore ſuffer pains of death, loſs of Lands and Goods, as in caſes of Felony, by order of the Common Law of this Realm, (3) and ſhall upon the trial of them, or any of them therein ſo tried in the County, and by the inhabitants of the County or place where they or he ſhall be apprehended or taken, and not per medietatem linguæ, (4) and ſhall loſe the benefit and priviledge of Sanctuary and Clergy.

The penalty for the Egyptians that now be, to tarry in England.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the Egyptians, or other perſons commonly calling themſelves Egyptians, and every of them now being within this Realm of England or Wales, do not depart out of the ſame within twenty days next after Proclamation of this preſent Act ſhall be made, that then he or they which ſhall not depart within the ſaid time, according to the true meaning of this Act, ſhall forfeit and loſe all his and their Goods and Chattels, and that then it ſhall be lawful to all and every the Kings and Queens Subjects to ſeiſe the ſame; the one moiety thereof to be to the uſe of our Sovereign Lord and Lady, the King and the Queen, and the other moiety thereof to be to the uſe of him or them that ſhall ſo ſeiſe the ſame.

The penalty for Egyptians not to depart within xl. days.

V. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid; That if the Egyptians, and other perſons commonly called Egyptians, and every of them now being within this Realm of England or Wales, do not depart out and from the ſame within fourty days next after the Proclamation ſhall be made of this Act, that then he or they which ſhall not depart and avoid within the ſaid time of fourty days, according to the true meaning of this Act, ſhall be judged and deemed according to the Laws of this Realm of England, a Felon and Felons, and ſhall ſuffer therefore pains of death, loſs of Lands and Goods, as in other caſes of Felony, and ſhall be tried, as is aforeſaid, and without having any benefit or priviledge of Sanctuary or Clergy.

The penalty for ſuing of licence for Egyptians to tarry in England.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon after the firſt day of January next coming, ſhall ſue for the obtaining of any Licence, Letter or Paſport, for any of the ſaid perſons called Egyptians, to abide or continue within this Realm of England or Wales, contrary to the tenor of this Act, that then every ſuch perſon ſo ſuing, ſhall forfeit and loſe for the ſame, fourty pounds of lawful money of England, (2) and that every ſuch Licence, Letter and Paſport, ſhall be by virtue of this Act void to all intents and purpoſes; (3) the one moiety of all which ſums of money to be forfeited as is aforeſaid, ſhall be to the King and Queen our Sovereign Lord and Lady, and the other moiety thereof to be to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, wherein no eſſoin, wager of Law, nor protection ſhall be admitted and allowed.

A proviſo for Egyptians which leave their naughty trade.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this preſent Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend nor be hurtful to any of the ſaid perſons commonly called Egyptians, which within the ſaid time of twenty days next after the ſaid proclamation to be made, as is beforeſaid, ſhall leave that naughty, idle, and ungodly life and company, and be placed in the Service of ſome honeſt and able inhabitant or inhabitants within this Realm, or that ſhall honeſtly exerciſe himſelf in ſome lawful Work or Occupation, but that he or they ſo continuing in ſervice, or other lawful Work or Occupation, ſhall (during ſuch time as he or they ſhall ſo continue) be diſcharged of all pains and forfeitures contained in this Act.

To what perſons this ſtatute doth extend.

VIII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any Child or Children, being not above the age of thirteen years, nor to any of the ſaid perſons being now in priſon; ſo that he or they ſo being in priſon, do depart out of this Realm within fourteen days next after his or their delivery out of priſon, (2) nor ſhall extend to charge any manner of perſon or perſons, as acceſſary to any offence or offences contained or ſpecified in this Statute. Stat. 5 Eliz. 20.

CAP. V.

An Act to Reſtrain carrying of Corn, Victuals and Wood over the Seas.

Corn 1. No corn, &c. ſhall be tranſported out of this Realm without licence. St. 25 H. 8. 4.

Whereas ſundry good Eſtatutes and Laws have been made within this Realm in the time of the Queens Highneſs moſt noble Progenitors, That none ſhould tranſport, carry or convey out of this Realm into any place in the parts beyond the Seas, any Corn, Butter, Cheeſe, or other Victual, (except only for the Victualling of the Town of Calice, Hames and Guiſnes, and the Marches of the ſame) upon divers great pains and forfeitures in the ſame contained; (2) that notwithſtanding many and ſundry covetous and unſatiable perſons, ſeeking their only lucres and gains, have and daily do carry and convey innumerable quantity of Corn, Cheeſe, Butter, and other Victual, and of Wood out of this Realm, into the parts beyond the Seas: By reaſon whereof, the ſaid Corn, Victual and Wood are grown unto a wonderful dearth, and extreme prices, to the great detriment of the Common wealth of this your Highneſs Realm, and your faithful Subjects of the ſame:

The penalties for tranſporting corn, butter, cheeſe, &c. out of this Realm. St. 5 El. 5.

II. For remedy whereof, it may pleaſe your Highneſs, that it may be enacted, and be it enacted by your Highneſs, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no manner of perſon or perſons, after the twentieth day of January next coming, ſhall carry and tranſport out of this Realm by any Ship, Crayer or other veſſel whatſoever, into any place in the parts beyond the Seas, or into the Realm of Scotland, any Wheat, Rye, Barley, or other Corn or Grain growing within this Realm, or any Malt made within the ſame, or any Beer, Butter, Cheeſe, Herring or Wood (except only to and for the Victualling and furniture of the Towns of Calice, Hames, and Guiſnes, and to the Town of Berwick, and the Marches of the ſame) without ſufficient and lawful authority ſo to do, (2) upon the pains and penalties hereafter enſuing; that is to ſay, The Owner and Owners of the ſaid Ships and other Veſſels, to forfeit the ſaid Ships, Crayers, and other Veſſels, with all their Apparels to them or any of them belonging, wherein the ſaid Corn, Butter, Cheeſe, Herring, Victual or Wood ſhall be ſo tranſported and carried, (3) And the Owner and Owners of the ſaid Corn, Butter, Cheeſe, Herring and Wood, to forfeit the double value of the ſame ſo carried and conveyed: (4) and the Maſter and Mariners of every of the ſaid Ships, Crayers and Veſſels, for every ſuch offence, to forfeit all their Goods, and to be impriſoned by the ſpace of one whole year, without bail or mainpriſe.

The penalties for carrying of any Corn, Butter, &c. to any Ship to be tranſported.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforſaid, That if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid twentieth day of January, do carry and convey away by Boat, Crayer, or other Veſſel, or otherwiſe, any Wheat, Rye, Barley, Mault, or other Corn or Grain, or any Beer, Butter, Cheeſe, Herring or Wood, to any Ship or Veſſel being on the Seas, or within any Haven, Creek, or other place of the border of this Realm, to be tranſported, carried and conveyed into any place in the parts beyond the Seas, or into the Realm of Scotland, without ſufficient authority ſo to do, that then every Owner of the ſaid Victuals, Corn, or other things aforeſaid ſo tranſported or carried, and the Owner and Owners of every ſuch Boat or Veſſel, and the Boatman and Mariners of the ſame, ſhall loſe, forfeit and ſuffer all ſuch forfeitures, pains and penalties, as is above rehearſed: (2) The one moiety of all and every which forfeiture and forfeitures to be to the King and Queens Highneſs, their Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by bill, information, action of debt, or otherwiſe, in any of the King and Queens Highneſs Courts of Record, in which action, bill or ſuit, the Defendant, ſhall not wage his law, nor have any eſſoin or protection to him allowed.

The penalty for tranſporting more Corn, &c. then the party is licenſed to do.

IV. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall obtain of the King and Queens Majeſties, their Heirs or Succeſſors, or any of them, any Licence to carry and tranſport any Corn, Victual or Wood into any parts beyond the Seas, that if he or they to whom any ſuch Licence ſhall be granted, or any other, to whom ſuch perſon or perſons having ſuch Licence, ſhall give, grant or ſell his or their ſaid Licence unto, ſhall carry and convey, or cauſe to be carried and conveyed any more Corn, Victual or Wood, then ſhall be contained in his or their ſaid Licence, he ſhall forfeit the treble value of the ſaid Corn, Victual or Wood ſo carried and tranſported without ſufficient authority, and ſhall ſuffer impriſonment for one whole year in the common Goal where he ſhall be apprehended, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe.

They which have licence ſhall lade all at one place.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon or perſons after the ſaid twentieth day of January, that ſhall obtain or have any ſuch Licence for tranſporting and carrying any Corn, Victual or Wood into any parts beyond the Seas, ſhall ſhip, lade and fraught the ſame, or any part thereof, at ſundry places within this Realm, but at one place certain, (2) upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid Corn, Victual and Wood, and all his goods and chattels; the one moiety thereof to the King and Queens Majeſties, their Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, wherein no wager of law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be to him or them allowed.

Juſtices of Peace may hear and determine theſe offences.

VI. And for the better execution of this Act, be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Juſtices of Peace, as well within the Liberties as without, within their ſeveral Authorities and Commiſſions, at any time within three years next after ſuch offence committed, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire, as well by the oaths of twelve lawful men, as alſo to hear and examine the Maſter, Maſters and Mariners of the ſaid Ships, Crayers and other Veſſels, and all and every other perſon and perſons, of all and ſingular the offenders againſt this preſent Act, and to hear and determine the ſame offences, as they may and ought to hear and determine any other treſpaſſes or offences.

The prices of Corn when they may be tranſported.

An Act that perſons dwelling in the Countrey ſhall not ſell divers Wares in Cities or Towns-corporate by Retail.

Merchants 11.

No countrey perſon ſhall ſell Wares by retail in any City or Town corporate, but in open Fairs. The rich eſtate wherein Cities, Boroughs and market Towns did heretofore flouriſh.

The Cauſe of the decay of Cities, Boroughs and market Towns.

Where before this time the ancient Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate, and Market Towns within this Realm of England, have been very populous, and chiefly inhabited with Merchants, Artificers, and Handicrafts-men, during which time the children in the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate, and Market Towns, were civilly brought up and inſtructed, and alſo in the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns-corporate, kept in good order and obeyſance, and the Inhabiters of the ſame well ſet on work, and kept from idleneſs; (2) By reaſon whereof, the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns-corporate, did then proſper in riches and great wealth, and were as then not only able to ſerve and furniſh the King and Queens Majeſties, and other their noble Progenitors, Kings of this Realm, as well with great numbers of good able perſons, and well furniſhed, meet for the wars, as alſo then charged and yet chargeable with fee-ferms, Quindiſmes, taxes, and divers other payments to the King and Queens Majeſties, which at this preſent they be not able to pay and bear, but to their utter undoing, being few in number to pay and bear the ſame, but alſo the ſame Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate, are likely to come very ſhortly to utter deſtruction, ruine and decay; (3) by reaſon whereof the occupiers, Linen Drapers, Woollen Drapers, Haberdaſhers and Grocers dwelling in the Countries out of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate and Market Towns, do not only occupy the art and myſtery of the ſaid Sciences in the places where they dwell and inhabit, but alſo come unto the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate and Market Towns, and there ſelleth their Wares, and take away the relief of the inhabitants of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate and Market Towns, to the great decay, and utter undoing of the inhabitants of the ſame, if ſpeedy reformation therein be not had in time convenient: (4) For remedy whereof, and for the better amendment of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate, and Market Towns, and to the end the ſame Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate may be the better able to pay the ſaid fee-ferms, and alſo to bear the other ordinary charges within the ſame Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate, and to furniſh the King and Queens Majeſties with number of able perſons, like as they heretofore have done in times paſt in times of war:

II. Be it therefore enacted by our Sovereign Lord and Lady, the King and Queen, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That any perſon or perſons which do now inhabit and dwell, or hereafter ſhall inhabit or dwell in the Country any where, or County within this Realm of England, out of any the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate, or Market Towns, from and after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, ſhall not ſell or cauſe to be ſold by retail, any woollen cloth, linen cloth, Haberdaſh wares, Grocery wares, Mercery wares, at or within any of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate or Market Towns, or within the ſuburbs or liberties of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate and Market Towns within the ſaid Realm of England, (except it be in open Fairs) (2) upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every time ſo offending, the ſum of vj. s. viij. d. and the whole wares ſo ſold, proffered, and offered to be ſold contrary to the form, intent and effect of this preſent Act, as above is ſaid; (3) the one moiety of all which forfeitures to be to the uſe of our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady, the King and Queens Majeſties, and the other half to him or them that ſhall ſeiſe and ſue for the ſame in any of the King and Queens Courts of Record, by bill, plaint, action of debt, information, or otherwiſe, wherein no eſſoin, protection, or wager of law ſhall be allowed.

Selling by whole-ſale in groſs, and not by retail.

III. Provided alway, That this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend nor be hurtful to any perſon or perſons, that bring any of the ſaid Woollen Cloth, Linen Cloth, Haberdaſh, Grocery, Mercery Ware or Wares, to any of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate or Market Towns, to be ſold, or cauſe to be ſold by whole-ſale in groſs and not by retail; but they and every of them may lawfully ſell the ſame in as large and ample manner, form and condition, by whole-ſale in groſs, and not by retail, as they and every of them might have done at any time or times before the making of this Act; any thing herein to the contrary notwithſtanding.

3 Inſt.

One dwelling in the Countrey doth after become free of a City, Borough, &c.

IV. Provided alway, That this preſent Act ſhall not extend to any perſon or perſons that now dwell or inhabit in the Countrey, or hereafter ſhall dwell or inhabit out of any of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate or Market Towns, but that they and every of them at any time hereafter, when they or any of them ſhall be free of any of the Guilds and Liberties of any of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate or Market Towns, and dwell or inhabit within any of the ſame Cities, Boroughs, Towns-corporate or Market Towns, that they and every of them ſo being free, ſhall and may ſell, or cauſe to be ſold any of the wares aforeſaid, by retail, in as ample and large manner as they and every of them might have done, being free of the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns aforeſaid, before the making of this Act; any clauſe or article in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Any perſon may ſell cloth of his own making.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to all perſons to ſell, or cauſe to be ſold by retail, or otherwiſe, all manner of Cloth, linen or woollen of their own making, in every City, Borough Town-corporate and Market Town within this Realm, as freely and frankly as they might have done before the making of this Act; any thing in the ſame contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The Liberties of Cambridge and Oxford.

VI. Provided alway, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not be prejudicial or hurtful to the Liberties and Priviledges of the Univerſities of Cambridge and Oxford, or either of them; any thing in this Act heretofore mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. VIII.

An Act repealing all Articles and Proviſions made againſt the See Apoſtolick of Rome, ſince the twentieth year of King Henry the Eighth, and for the eſtabliſhment of all Spiritual and Eccleſiaſtical Poſſeſſions and Hereditaments conveyed to the Laity

Whereas ſince the twentieth year of King Henry the Eighth of famous memory Father unto your Majeſty, our moſt natural Sovereign and gracious Lady and Queen, much falſe and erroneous Doctrine hath been taught, preached and written, partly by divers the natural born Subjects of this Realm, and partly being brought in either from ſundry other foreign Countreys, hath been ſowen and ſpread abroad within the ſame: (2) by reaſon whereof, as well the Spiritualty as the Temporalty of your Highneſs Realms and Dominions have ſwerved from the obedience of the See Apoſtolick, and declined from the unity of Chriſts Church, and ſo have continued, until ſuch time as your Majeſty being firſt raiſed up by God, and ſet in the Seat royal over us, and then by his divine and gracious providence knit in marriage with the moſt noble and vertuous Prince, the King our Sovereign Lord your Husband, the Popes Holineſs and the See Apoſtolick ſent hither unto your Majeſties (as unto perſons undefiled, and by Gods goodneſs preſerved from the common infection aforeſaid) unto the whole Realm, the moſt Reverend Father in God the Lord Cardinal Pool, Legate de latere, to call us home again into the right way from whence we have all this long while wandred and ſtrayed abroad; (3) and we, after ſundry long and grievous plagues and calamities, ſeeing by the goodneſs of God our own errors, have knowledged the ſame unto the ſaid moſt Reverend Father, and by him have been, and are the rather at the contemplation of your Majeſties, received and embraced into the unity and boſom of Chriſts Church, and upon our humble ſubmiſſion and promiſe made for a declaration of our repentance, to repeal and abrogate ſuch Acts and Statutes as had been made in Parliament ſince the ſaid xx. year of the ſaid King Henry the Eighth, againſt the Supremacy of the See Apoſtolick, as in our ſubmiſſion exhibited to the ſaid moſt Reverend Father in God by your Majeſties, appeareth: The tenour whereof enſueth.

Monaſteries 32.

All Statutes againſt the See of Rome, repealed.

Much falſe doctrine hath been preached and written ſince the xx. year of King H. 8.

Cardinal Pool ſent from Rome to call the Realm into the right way from whence it hath ſtrayed.

II. We the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons aſſembled in this preſent Parliament, repreſenting the whole body of the Realm of England, and the Dominions of the ſame, in the name of our ſelves particularly, and alſo of the ſaid body univerſally, in this our ſupplication directed to your Majeſties, with moſt humble ſuit, that it may by your Graces interceſſion and mean be exhibited to the moſt Reverend Father in God, the Lord Cardinal Pool, Legate, ſent ſpecially hither from our moſt Holy Father the Pope, July the third, and the See Apoſtolick of Rome, do declare our ſelves very ſorry and repentant of the Schiſm and diſobedience committed in this Realm and Dominions aforeſaid againſt the ſaid See Apoſtolick, either by making, agreeing, or executing any Laws, Ordinances, or Commandments againſt the Supremacy of the ſaid See, or otherwiſe doing or ſpeaking, that might impugne the ſame, (2) offering our ſelves and promiſing by this our ſupplication, that for a token and knowledge of our ſaid repentance, we be, and ſhall be always ready, under, and with the authorities of your Majeſties, to the uttermoſt of our powers, to do that ſhall lie in us for the abrogation and repealing of the ſaid Laws and ordinances in this preſent Parliament, as well for our ſelves, as for the whole body whom we repreſent: (3) whereupon we moſt humbly deſire your Majeſties, as Perſonages undefiled in offence of his body towards the ſaid See, which nevertheleſs God by his providence hath made ſubject to you, ſo to ſet forth this our moſt humble Suit, that we may obtain from the See Apoſtolick, by the ſaid moſt Reverend Father, as well particularly as generally, abſolution, releaſe and diſcharge from all danger of ſuch cenſure and ſentences, as by the Laws of the Church we be fallen into; (4) and that we may as children repentant, be received into the boſom and unity of Chriſts Church, ſo as this noble Realm, with all the members thereof, may in this unity and perfect obedience to the See Apoſtolick, and Popes for the time being, ſerve God and your Majeſties, to the furtherance and advancement of his honour and glory. (5) We are at the interceſſion of your Majeſties, by the authority of our Holy Father Pope July the third, and of the See Apoſtolick, aſſoyled, diſcharged, and delivered from excommunications, interdictions, and other Cenſures Eccleſiaſtical, which hath hanged over our heads for our ſaid defaults ſince the time of the ſaid Schiſm mentioned in our ſupplication: (6) The which time the ſaid Lord Legate, and we do all declare, recogniſe and mean by this Act to be only ſince the xx. year of the Reign of your moſt noble Father King Henry the Eighth. (7) It may now like your Majeſties, that for the accompliſhment of our promiſe made in the ſaid Supplication, that is, to repeal all Laws and Statutes made contrary to the ſaid Supremacy and See Apoſtolick, during the ſaid Schiſm, the which is to be underſtood ſince the xx. year of the reign of the ſaid Late King Henry the Eighth, and ſo the ſaid Lord Legate doth accept and recogniſe the ſame.

The ſupplication of the Parliament to the King and Queen, to be a mean to reduce them into the Catholick Church.

A repeal of all Statutes made againſt the Supremacy and See Apoſtolick ſince ehe time of ſchiſm.

III. Where in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, in the xxi. year of the reign of the late King of moſt famous memory King Henry the Eighth, one Act was then and there made againſt pluralities of Benefices, for taking of ferms by Spiritual men, and for nonreſidence, in which Act, amongſt other things, it was ordained and enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, at any time after the firſt day of April, in the year of our Lord God, one thouſand five hundred and thirty, contrary to the ſame Act, ſhould procure and obtain at the Court of Rome, or elſewhere, any licence or licences, union, toleration or diſpenſation, to receive and take any more benefices with cure then was limited and appointed by the ſame Act, or elſe at any time after the ſaid day ſhould put in execution any ſuch licence, toleration or diſpenſation before that time obtained contrary to the ſaid Act, that then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo after the ſaid day ſuing for himſelf, or receiving and taking ſuch benefice by force of ſuch licence or licences, union, toleration or diſpenſation, that is to ſay, the ſame perſon or perſons only, and no other, ſhould for every ſuch default incur the danger, pain and penalty of twenty pound ſterling, and ſhould alſo loſe the whole profits of every ſuch

A repeal of part of the Stat. of 1 Ed. 6. 12 hereafter ſpecified.

XXV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all clauſes, ſentences, and articles of every other Statute or Act of Parliament, made ſithence the ſaid twentieth year of the Reign of King Henry the Eighth, againſt the Supreme authority of the Popes Holineſs, or See Apoſtolick of Rome, or containing any other matter of the ſame effect only, that is repealed in any of the Statutes aforeſaid, ſhall be alſo by authority hereof from henceforth utterly void and of none effect.

A repeal of all Statutes made againſt the Supremacy of the Pope or See Apoſtolick.

(2) And where we your moſt humble Subjects, The Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, have exhibited to your Majeſties one other Supplication in form following:

XXVI. We the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, repreſenting the whole Body of this Realm, reduced and received by your Majeſties interceſſion, to the unity of Chriſts Church, and the obedience of the See Apoſtolick of Rome, and the Popes Holineſs governing the ſame, make moſt humble ſuit unto your Majeſties, to be likewiſe means and interceſſors, that all occaſions of contention, hatred, grudge, ſuſpicion and trouble, both outwardly and inwardly in mens conſciences, which might ariſe amongſt us by reaſon of diſobedience, may by authority of the Popes Holineſs, and by miniſtration of the ſame unto us, by the moſt reverend Father in God, the Lord Cardinal Pool, by diſpenſation, toleration, or permiſſion, reſpectively, as the caſe ſhall require, be aboliſhed and taken away, and by authority ſufficient theſe articles following, and generally all others, when any occaſion ſhall require, may be provided for and confirmed.

A Supplication by the Parliament, that theſe Articles may be confirmed.

XXVII. Firſt, That all Biſhopricks, Cathedral Churches, Hoſpitals, Colledges, Schools, and other ſuch Foundations now continuing, made by authority of Parliament, or otherwiſe eſtabliſhed according to the order of the Laws of this Realm, ſithence the ſchiſm, may be confirmed, and continued for ever.

Eccleſiaſtical foundations made ſithence the ſchiſm, ſhall continue.

XXVIII. Item, That Marriages made infra grados prohibitos conſanguinitatis, affinitatis, cognationis ſpiritualis, or which might be made void propter impedimentum publicæ honeſtatis, Juſtitiæ, or for any other cauſe prohibited by the Canons only, may be confirmed, and children born of thoſe marriages declared legitimate, ſo as thoſe marriages were made according to the Laws of the Realm for the time being, and be not directly againſt the Laws of God, nor in ſuch caſe as the See Apoſtolick hath not uſed to diſpenſe withall.

Marriages.

XXIX. That inſtitutions of Benefices, and other promotions Eccleſiaſtical, and diſpenſations made according to the form of the Act of Parliament, may be likewiſe confirmed, Inſtitutions of Benefices, and diſpenſations.

XXX. That all Judicial proceſs made before any Ordinaries of this Realm, or before any Delegates upon any appeals, according to the order of the Laws of the Realm, may be likewiſe ratified and confirmed.

Judicial proceſſes made.

XXXI. And finally, where certain Acts and Statutes have been made in the time of the late Schiſm, concerning the lands and hereditaments of Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks, the ſuppreſſion and diſſolution of Monaſteries, Abbeys, Priories, Chantries, Colledges, and all other the goods and Chattels of Religious Houſes; ſince the which time the right and dominion of certain lands and hereditaments, goods and chattels belonging to the ſame, be diſperſed abroad, and come to the hands and poſſeſſions of divers and ſundry perſons, who by gift, purchaſe, exchange, and other means, according to the order of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm for the time being, have the ſame: (2) For the avoiding of all ſcruples that might grow by any the occaſions aforeſaid, or by any other ways or means whatſoever, It may pleaſe your Majeſties to be interceſſors and mediators to the ſaid moſt reverend Father Cardinal Pool, that all ſuch cauſes and quarrels, as by pretence of the ſaid Schiſm, or by any other occaſion or mean whatſoever might be moved by the Popes Holineſs, or See Apoſtolick, or by any other Juriſdiction Eccleſiaſtical, may be utterly removed and taken away, (3) ſo as all perſons having ſufficient conveyance of the ſaid lands and hereditaments, goods and cattels, as is aforeſaid, by the Common Laws, Acts or Statutes of this

The lands and goods of Biſhopricks, Monaſteries, Chantries, &c. diſperſed, ſhall ſo continue.

Realm, may without ſcruple of conſcience, enjoy them without impeachment or trouble by pretence of any general Council, Canons, or Eccleſiaſtical Laws, and clear from all dangers of the Cenſures of the Church.

XXXII. And conformably hereunto, the Biſhops and Clergy of the Province of Canterbury, have preſented to your Majeſties a Supplication, in this tenour that followeth.

The Clergies Petition, that the lands and goods of the Clergy, late diſperſed amongſt the Temporalty, might ſo remain.

Reginaldus Cardinalis Polus Legatus.

(23) We the ſaid Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, rendring moſt humble thanks to your Majeſties, by whoſe interceſſion and means we have obtained the ſaid diſpenſations of the Popes Holineſs, by the ſaid moſt reverend Father in God, his Legate, moſt humbly beſeech the ſame, that it may be ordained as followeth:

The Cardinals diſpenſation confirmed by Parliament.

XXXIV. And therefore be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and ſingular articles and clauſes contained in the ſaid diſpenſation, as well touching the eſtabliſhment of Biſhopricks and Cathedral Churches, (2) as alſo the confirmation of marriages in degrees prohibited by the Canons of the Church, the legitimation of children, (3) and the ratification of proceſs, and of ſentences in matters Eccleſiaſtical, touching the invalidity of them for want of juriſdiction, (4) and the inſtitutions and deſtitutions of and in benefices and promotions Eccleſiaſtical, diſpenſations and graces given by ſuch order as the publick Laws of the Realm then approved, (5) and all other things before contained in the ſaid Letters of diſpenſation, (6) ſhall remain and be reputed and taken to all intents and conſtructions in the Laws of this Realm, lawful, good and effectual to be alledged and pleaded in all Courts Eccleſiaſtical and Temporal, for good and ſufficient matter, either for the Plaintiff or defendant, without any allegation or objection to be made againſt the validity of them, by pretence of any general Council, Canon or Decree to the contrary made or to be made in that behalf.

XXXV. And whereas divers and ſundry late Monaſteries, Priories, Commandries, Nunneries, Monaſteries, and all their lands and hereditaments were given to King H. 8. by the Statutes made 27 H. 8. & 31 H. 8. 12.

nunneries, deanaries, prebends, colledges, hoſpitals, houſes of Fryers, chantries, and other religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes and places, and the manors, granges, meſſuages, lands, tenements, rectories, tithes, penſions, portions, vicarages, churches, chappels, advowſons, nominations, patronages, annuities, rents, reverſions, ſervices, and other poſſeſſions and hereditaments to the ſaid late monaſteries, priories, nunneries, commandries, deanaries, chantries, prebends, houſes of Fryers, colledges, hoſpitals, and other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes and places, and ſundry Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks within this Realm, late appertaining and belonging, came as well to the hands and poſſeſſions of the ſaid King of famous memory, Henry the Eighth, Father unto your Majeſty our ſaid Sovereign Lady, by diſſolution, gift, grant, ſurrender, attainder, or otherwiſe, as alſo to the hands and poſſeſſion of divers and ſundry other perſons, and bodies politick and corporate, by ſundry means, conveyances and aſſurances, according to the order of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm.

Chantries, Colledges, free Chappels, and their lands, were given to King Ed. 6. The Stat. of 1 Ed. 6. 14.

XXXVI. And where alſo divers manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, parcel of the poſſeſſions af Archbiſhopricks, and Biſhopricks, and many and ſundry late deanaries, colledges, chantries, rectories, prebends, free chappels, guilds and fraternities, manors, houſes, granges, lands, tenements, rents, ſervices, and other Eccleſiaſtical poſſeſſions and hereditaments, goods and chattels to the ſaid Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, deanaries, colledges, chantries, free-chappels, rectories, guilds and fraternities late appertaining and belonging, or appointed to and for the finding of Prieſts, obits, lights, or other like purpoſe, came as well to the hands and poſſeſſions of the ſaid late noble King Edward the ſixth, brother unto your Majeſty our Sovereign Lady, by virtue of an Act of Parliament thereof made, or otherwiſe, as alſo to the hands and poſſeſſion of divers and ſundry other perſons and bodies politick and corporate, by ſundry means, conveyances and aſſurances, according to the order of the Laws of this Realm; (2) a great number of which ſaid late monaſteries, priories, nunneries, commandries, deanaries, colledges, hoſpitals, prebends, chantries, free chappels, guilds and fraternities, and the manors, granges, meſſuages, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices, tithes, penſions, portions, vicarages, churches, chappels, advowſons, nominations, patronages, annuities and hereditaments, goods and chattels to the ſaid monaſteries, priories, nunneries, commandries, deanaries, colledges, hoſpitals, chantries, free chappels, guilds, fraternities, and other Eccleſiaſtical houſes, Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks belonging, as well for great ſums of money, as for other good and reaſonable cauſes and conſiderations, have been conveyed and aſſured to divers the ſubjects and bodies politick of this Realm, as well by the ſaid King Henry the Eighth, the ſaid King Edward Sixth, and by your Highneſs our Sovereign Lady, and joyntly by both your Majeſties, as alſo by divers owners of the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical poſſeſſions; which ſaid conveyances and aſſurances by their ſundry Letters Patents, and other writings more plainly do and may appear. (3) Foraſmuch as the ſaid moſt reverend Father hath alſo by the ſaid diſpenſations, removed and taken away all matter of impeachment, trouble and danger, which by occaſion of any general Council, Canon or Decree Eccleſiaſtical, might touch and diſquiet the poſſeſſions of ſuch goods moveable, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions and hereditaments, as were of late belonging to any of the ſaid Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, monaſteries, priories, nunneries, commandries, deanaries, colledges, chantries, prebends, rectories, hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, or other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes and places, of what nature, name, kind or quality ſoever they be of; (4) Yet for that the title of all lands, poſſeſſions and hereditaments in this your Majeſties Realm and Dominions, is grounded in the laws, ſtatutes and cuſtoms of the ſame, and by your high juriſdiction, authority Royal, and Crown Imperial, and in your Courts only to be impleaded, ordered, tried and judged, and none otherwiſe; (5) and underſtanding that the whole, full, and moſt gracious intents, mind and determination of your moſt excellent Majeſties be, That all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns, and every of them, ſhall have, keep, retain and enjoy all and every their eſtates, rights, poſſeſſions and intereſts that they and every of them now have, or hereafter ſhall have, of and in all and every the manors, granges, meſſuages, lands, tenements, tithes, penſions, portions, advowſons, nominations, patronages, annuities, rents, reverſions, ſervices, hundreds, wapentakes, liberties, franchiſes, and other the poſſeſſions and hereditaments of the ſaid monaſteries, abbeys, priories, nunneries, commandries, deanaries, colledges, prebends, hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, chantries, rectories, vicarages, Churches, Chappels, Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks, and other Religious or Eccleſiaſtical houſes, or places, or of any of them within this Realm, or the Dominions of the ſame, by ſuch Laws and Statutes as were in force before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, and by other lawful conveyance to them thereof made.

The Cardinals diſpenſations hath only removed all trouble which by any Eccleſiaſtical decree might diſquiet the poſſeſſions of lands or goods.

The title of all land is grounded upon the Laws of the Realm, and to be impleaded and tried only in the Kings Courts.

The Queen and all other ſhall enjoy ſuch ſcites of Monaſteries, &c. and their lands, as they now have, or ſhall have.

XXXVII. That it may be enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That as well your Majeſty, Sovereign Lady, your heirs and ſucceſſors and alſo all and every other perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their heirs, ſucceſſors, and aſſigns, now having, or that hereafter ſhall have, hold or enjoy any of the Scites of the ſaid late Monaſteries, and other the Religious or Eccleſiaſtical houſes or places, and all the ſaid manors, granges, meſſuages, lands, tenements, tithes, penſions, portions, glebe lands, advowſons, nominations, patronages, annuities, rents, reverſions, ſervices, hundreds, wapentakes, liberties, franchiſes, profits, commodities, and other the poſſeſſions and hereditaments of the ſaid late monaſteries, abbeys, priories, nunneries, commandries, deanaries, colledges, prebends, hoſpitals, houſes of Friers, rectories, vicarages, chantries, Churches, Chappels, Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, and other Religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes and places, or any of them, of what name, nature or kind ſoever they be, ſhall have, hold, poſſeſs, retain, keep and enjoy all and every the ſaid Scites, manors, granges, meſſuages, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, profits, commodities, and other hereditaments, according to ſuch intereſts and eſtates as they and every of them now have or hold, or hereafter ſhall have or hold, of and in the ſame, by the due order and courſe of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, which now be, or were ſtanding in force before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, in manner and form as they ſhould have done if this Act had never been had ne made; This Act or any thing herein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

XXXVIII. Saving to you our ſaid Sovereign Lady, your heirs and ſucceſſors, and every of them, and to all and every other perſon and perſons ſubjects of this Realm, and bodies politick and corporate, and to their heirs and ſucceſſors, and to the heirs and ſucceſſors of all and every of them (other then ſuch whoſe right, title or intereſt is bounded or taken away, undone, or extinct by any Act of Parliament heretofore made, or otherwiſe) (2) all ſuch right, title, claim, poſſeſſion, intereſts, rents, annuities, commodities, commons, offices, fees, leaſes, liveries, livings, penſions, portions, debts, duties, and other profits which they or any of them lawfully have, or of right ought to have, or might have had, in, of or to any of the premiſes, or in, of or to any part or parcel thereof, in ſuch like manner and form, and condition, to all intents, reſpects, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had ne made.

Other mens titles ſaved.

XXXIX. And that it may be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every article, clauſe, ſentence and proviſo contained or ſpecified in any Act or Acts of Parliament concerning or touching the aſſurance or conveyance of any the ſaid monaſteries, priories, nunneries, commandries, deanaries, prebends, colledges, chantries, hoſpitals, houſes of Fryers, rectories, vicarages, Churches, Chappels, Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, and other religious and Eccleſiaſtical houſes and places, or any of them, or in any wiſe concerning any manors, lands, tenements, profits, commodities, hereditaments, or other the things before ſpecified to the ſaid King Henry the Eighth, or King Edward the Sixth, or either of them, or any other perſon or perſons, or body politick or corporate, and every of them, and all and every writing, deed and inſtrument concerning the aſſurance of any the ſame, ſhall ſtand, remain and be in as good force, effect and ſtrength, and ſhall be pleaded and taken advantage of, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as the ſame ſhould, might or could have been by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, in caſe this preſent Act had never been had ne made.

A confirmation of all Statutes concerning the aſſurance of Abbey Lands, or Chantries, &c. of King H. 8. & K. Ed. 6.

XL. And that all feoffments, fines, ſurrenders, forfeitures, aſſurances, conveyances, eſtates and intereſts in any wiſe conveyed, had or made to our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, or to our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Edward the ſixth, or either of them, or to any other perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, or to any of them, by deed or deeds, Act or Acts of Parliament, or otherwiſe, of any the ſcites, manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions, profits, commodities or hereditaments of any of the ſaid Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, late monaſteries, priories, nunneries, commandries, deanaries, houſes of Fryers, colledges, chantries, hoſpitals, prebends, free chappels, or of any manors, lands, tenements, reverſions, ſervices, tithes, penſions, portions, annuities, and of any other hereditaments, of, by or from any eccleſiaſtical or ſpiritual perſon or perſons, or by, or from any ſpiritual or eccleſiaſtical corporation or body politick, ſhall be as good and available in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as they were by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm ſtanding in force before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament: (2) And that the ſame may and ſhall be pleaded, alledged and taken advantage of, in ſuch ſort, and to ſuch effect, as they ſhould, could or might have been by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm ſtanding in force before the ſaid firſt day of this preſent Parliament; (3) And that all and every clauſe and article of ſaving, contained in all and every the ſaid Acts and Statutes, ſhall ſtand, remain and be in ſuch force, ſtrength and effect, as they were before the ſaid firſt day of this preſent Parliament; any thing contained in this preſent Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A confirmation of aſſurances to King H. 8. Ed. 6. and all other perſons of Abbey Lands.

XLI. And that it may be in like manner enacted by authority aforeſaid, That whoſoever ſhall by any proceſs, obtained out of any eccleſiaſtical Court within this Realm or without, or by pretence of any ſpiritual Juriſdiction, or otherwiſe, contrary to the Laws of this Realm, inquiet or moleſt any perſon or perſons, or body politick, for any manors, lands, tenements, hereditaments, or things above ſpecified, contrary to the words, ſentences and meaning of this Act, ſhall incur the danger of the Act of Præmunire, made the xvi. year of King Richard the Second, and ſhall ſuffer and incur the forfeitures and pains contained in the ſame.

The penalty for moleſting any perſon for any Abbey Lands. This clauſe is not repealed. Anno 1 El. 1. Sect. 32. N. 2.

XLII. Provided alway, That it ſhall and may be lauful to any perſon or perſons, body politick and corporate, to ſue in any competent Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual Court within this Realm, for tithes, rights and duties that they or any of them ſhall pretend to have, of or out of any the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, and other the premiſes, and to have full and perfect remedy for the ſame, in ſuch manner and form as they or any of them might or ought to have done or had by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, before the making of this Act, and as though this Act had never been had or made.

Suits for tithes of Abbey Lands ſhall be lawful.

XLIII. And that it may be further provided, and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That albeit the title or ſtile of ſupremacy, or ſupreame head of the Church of England, and of Ireland, or either of them, never was, ne could be juſtly or lawfully attributed or acknowledged to any King and Sovereign Governour of this Realm, nor in any wiſe could or might rightfully, juſtly or lawfully by any King or Sovereign Governour of this Realm, be claimed, challenged or uſed; (2) Yet foraſmuch as the ſaid title and ſtile, ſithenc the third day of November, in the xxvi. year of the Reign of the ſaid King Henry the Eighth hath been uſed, and is mentioned and contained in divers and ſundry writs, letters patents, records, exemplifications, court-rolls, charters, deeds, inſtruments, evidences, books and writings; (3) It ſhall be lawful as well to and for your Majeſties and your Sovereign Ladies heirs and ſucceſſors, as to and for any other perſon or perſons, and bodies politick and corporate, at all time and times hereafter, to have, retain and keep the ſaid writs, letters patents, records, exemplifications, court-rolls, charters, deeds inſtruments, evidences, books and writings,

The title of ſupream head of the Church never could be juſtly attributed to any King or Governour.

Writs, Letters Patents, and other writings with the title of ſupream Head, may be kept and pleaded.

writings, and them to ſue, exhibit, uſe, alledge and plead in all times and places requiſite or needfull, without any danger, penalty, loſs, forfeiture, trouble, vexation or impeachment for the ſame; any thing in this Act, or in any Act or Acts to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

35 H. 8. 3.

XLIV. And where your Highneſs, Sovereign Lady, ſince your coming to the Crown of this Realm, of a good and Chriſtian conſcience, omitted to write the ſaid ſtile of Supremacy, ſpecified in one Act made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter by prorogation in the xxv. year of the Reign of your late Father King Henry the Eighth, as well in gifts, grants, letters patents, as in Commiſſions and other writings, and alſo other have in their writings done the ſame, as well in your time as before: (2) And foraſmuch as notwithſtanding any Law made concerning the ſaid ſtile of Supremacy, it was in the free choice, liberty and pleaſure of the King of this Realm, and of your Highneſs, whether you would expreſs the ſame in the ſaid ſtile or not:

Writings wherein the Queens ſtile of the Church is omitted.

XLV. Be it therefore declared and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all grants, letters patents, commiſſions, indictments, records and writings made in your our Sovereign Ladies name, or in the names of yours, Sovereign Lord and Lady, or any other wherein the ſaid ſtile of Supremacy is omitted, is and ſhall be to all intents and purpoſes, as good and effectual as if the ſame had been therein expreſſed, and may be detained, kept, pleaded and alleadged without any danger, pain, penalty or forfeiture to enſue to any perſon or perſons, or body politick, for or concerning the omiſſion of the ſame ſtile, or any part thereof in any ſuch writing; and that no perſons ſhall be impeached, moleſted or dammified for or by reaſon of any ſuch omiſſion.

28 .H. 8.16.

XLVI. And where in an Act of Parliament made ſince the ſaid twentieth year of King Henry the Eighth, all Bulls, diſpenſations and writings which were before that time obtained, from the See of Rome, ſhould be void, aboliſhed and extinguiſhed, with a clauſe nevertheleſs, that the matter of them, by virtue of letters patents from the King then being, ſhould and might be alledged, pleaded and allowed, as if the ſame had not been ſo aboliſhed and extinguiſhed, Foraſmuch as the ſaid Act is here before amongſt other, Reapealed and made void:

What Bulls, diſpenſations and licences obtained from Rome, may be put in execution.

XLVII. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Bulls, diſpenſations and priviledges obtained before the ſaid twentieth year, or at any time ſithence, or which ſhall hereafter be obtained of the See of Rome, not containing matter contrary or prejudicial to the authority, dignity or preheminence Royal or Imperial of the Realm, or to the Laws of this Realm now being in force, and not in this Parliament repealed, may be put in execution, uſed and alledged in any Court within this Realm, or elſewhere, whether the ſame remain yet whole, or can appear to have been cancelled, in as available and effectual manner, to all intents and purpoſes, As if the ſaid Act had never been had or made; Any objection by pretence of extinguiſhment, or cancelling of the ſaid Bulls, diſpenſations or priviledges, or any other matter or cauſe by the pretence of the Laws of this Realm whatſoever, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

XLVIII. And whereas by diſſolution of Monaſteries and other religious houſes, certain Pariſh Churches and Chappels which were before exempt from the juriſdiction of the Archbiſhop and Biſhop of the Dioceſs, and by ſpecial exemption and priviledge from Rome, which were under the government and order of the Abbots and Priors of thoſe religious houſes, which ſaid Churches by colour of the ſaid exemptions, be now of ſpecial grant from King Henry and King Edward, under the rule and government, and juriſdiction of temporal and lay-men, who can no more enjoy that ſupremacy over thoſe particular Churches, then the King might over the whole Realm:

Who ſhall have the juriſdiction of Churches and Cappels exempt from Biſhops, &c.

XLIX. Be it therefore enacted, That all Archbiſhops and Biſhops in their Dioceſs, and all other ſpiritual perſon and perſons having juriſdiction, and their Miniſters and Officers, and no lay-perſon or perſons, in every Church and place within the precinct of the ſame, being exempt, or not exempt, may freely, and without impediment, execute their ſpiritual juriſdiction in all points and articles, as though no ſuch exemption or grant had never been made.

The priviledges of certain perſons and places reſerved.

L. Provided alway, And be it enacted, That this Act extend not to take away or diminiſh the priviledges of the Univerſities of Cambridge and Oxford, (2) ne the priviledges or prerogatives granted heretofore to the Churches of Weſtminſter and Windſor, (3) ne the Tower of London, (4) ne prejudicial to ſuch Temporal Lords and poſſeſſioners in this Realm as by ancient cuſtom have enjoyed probate of Teſtaments of their tenants or other.

By the reconciliation of the Realm to Gods Church, devotion is hoped for.

LI. And foraſmuch as after this reconciliation and unity of this noble Realm to the body of Chriſts Church, it is to be truſted that by the abundance of Gods mercy and grace devotion ſhall increaſe and grow in the hearts of many the Subjects of this Realm, with deſire to give and beſtow their wordly poſſeſſions, for the reſuſcitating of alms, prayer, and examples of good life in this Realm, to the intent ſuch Godly motions and purpoſes ſhould be advanced:

Lands may be given to ſpiritual bodies politick or corporace.

LII. Be it therefore enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That it ſhall be lawfull to ſuch as ſhall be ſeiſed of any mannors, lands, tenements, parſonages, tithes, penſions, portions, or other hereditaments whatſoever, in fee-ſimple, in poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, in their own rights, not being Copyhold, may thereof make feoffments, grants, or any other aſſurances, or by his laſt Will and Teſtament in writing, may bequeath and give in fee-ſimple, all and every the ſaid manors, lands, tenements, parſonages, tithes, penſions, portions, or other hereditaments, to any ſpiritual body politick or corporate in this Realm, or Dominions of the ſame, now erected or founded, or hereafter to be erected or founded, without any licence of mortmain therein to be obtained, or any Writ of ad quod damnum to be ſued out for the ſame; the Acts de terris ad manum mortuam non ponendis, or any other Act or Statute heretofore had or made in any wiſe notwithſtanding;

Saving to the Lords of the fee, all rent-ſervices due, or going out of any of the ſaid lands, tenements or hereditaments ſo to be amortized as is aforeſaid.

LIII. Provided alway, That this clauſe of this Act, for giving the liberty of or for the amortizing of lands or tenements, ſhall continue for and during the ſpace of twenty years next and immediately following, and no longer.

LIV. And foraſmuch as we your Majeſties humble and obedient Subjects, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, neither by the making or delivering of either the ſupplications aforeſaid, nor by any clauſe, article or ſentence thereof, or of any other clauſe, article or ſentence of this or any other Statute, or any of the preambles of the ſame, made or agreed upon in this Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, by any manner of interpretation, conſtruction, implication or otherwiſe, extend to derogate, impair or diminiſh any of the prerogatives, liberties, franchiſes, preeminences, or juriſdictions of your Crown Imperial of this Realm, and other the Dominions to the ſame belonging; (2) we do moſt humbly beſeech your Majeſties, that it may be declared and ordained, and be it enacted and declared by authority of this preſent Parliament, That neither the making, exhibiting or inſerting in this preſent Statute, or in the preamble of the ſame, of the ſupplication or promiſe aforeſaid, or either of them, nor any other thing or things, words, ſentences, clauſes or articles in the preambles or body of the Acts aforeſaid, ſhall be conſtrued, underſtanded or expounded to derogate, diminiſh, or take away any the Liberties, priviledges, prerogatives, preheminences, authorities or juriſdictions, or any part or parcel thereof, which were in your Imperial Crown of this Realm, or did belong to your ſaid Imperial Crown the twentieth year of the Reign of yours, the Queens Majeſties moſt noble Father, or any of your moſt noble Progenitors, before the ſaid twentieth year; (3) and the Popes Holineſs and See Apoſtolick to be reſtored, and to have and enjoy ſuch authority, preheminence and juriſdiction as his Holineſs uſed and exerciſed, or might lawfully have uſed and exerciſed by authority of his Supremacy, the ſaid twentieth year of the Reign of the King your Father, within this your Realm of England, and other your Dominions, without diminution or inlargement of the ſame, and none other; (4) and the Eccleſiaſtical juriſdictions of the Archbiſhops, Biſhops and Ordinaries, to be in the ſame ſtate for proceſs of ſuits, puniſhment of crimes, and execution of cenſures of the Church, with knowledge of cauſes belonging to the ſame, and as large in theſe points as the ſaid juriſdiction was the ſaid twentieth year.

Nothing done or moved in this Statute, ſhall be prejudicial to the Liberties of the Crown.

The Pope and See Apoſtolick reſtored to the authority that they had.

The Juriſdiction of the Biſhops of this Realm.

LV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in and upon every ſuch gift and deviſe to be made to ſuch ſpiritual corporations or perſons as is aforeſaid, the Donor, Feoffer or Diviſor thereof may reſerve to him and to his heirs for ever, a tenure in franke almoigne, or a tenure by Divine Service, and to have all Remedies and Actions for and upon the ſaid Gifts or Deviſes, and Tenures, in like manner and form as was uſed before the Eſtatute of Weſtminſter third, commonly called Quia emptores terrarum; The ſaid Eſtatute, or any Law or Cuſtom now being to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

What tenure ſhall be reſerved upon gifts to be made to Spiritual Corporations.

LVI. Provided always, and be it enacted, That all and every perſon and perſons, and bodies politick and corporate, which now have, or hereafter ſhall have any eſtate of inheritance, freehold, term or Intereſt, of, in or to any portion, penſion, tythes glebe-lands, or other Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual profit, which by this Act, and letters of diſpenſation rehearſed in the ſame, be permitted and ſuffered to remain and continue in Lay-mens poſſeſſions, ſhall and may have like remedy for the recovery of the ſame, and every part thereof, as they and every of them might have had before the firſt day of this preſent Parliament; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Stat. 1. El. 1.

The remedy to recover any penſion, tithes, glebe-lands.

CAP. IX.

If any perſon ſhall pray and deſire that God will ſhorten the Queens days, or take her out of the way, or any ſuch, malicious prayer, amounting to the ſame effect, he, his Procurators and Abettors ſhall be adjudged Traytors. Exp. 1 El. 6. 23 El. 2.

Treaſon, Raſt. 22.

CAP. X.

It ſhall be Treaſon to compaſs the death of the King or the Queen, or to deprive either of them of the Stile or Kingly honour of this Realm: or to affirm, That any other then they, and the Heirs of her body, ought to be King or Queen. An Order for the Government of the Queens Iſſue. EXP. Trial of Treaſons ſhall be according to the courſe of the Common Laws. 33 H. 8. 23. 32 H. 8. 4. 33 H. 8. 20.

Treaſon, Raſt. 23.

CAP. XI.

An Act for the puniſhment of the bringing in of the Counterfeit Coin of Foreign Realms, being Currant within this Realm.

Where divers and ſundry Coins of Gold and Silver of other Realms, not being of the proper Coin of this Realm of England, and yet by the ſufferance and conſent of the King and Queen our Sovereign Lord and Lady, be currant in payment within this Realm, many ill diſpoſed perſons, for their own corrupt lucre and advantage, have now of late brought into this Realm, from the parts beyond the Sea, great quantity of forged and counterfeit money, like to the ſaid Coin of other foreign Realms, and have uttered the ſame here, by merchandizing and otherwiſe, to divers of the Subjects of this Realm, to their great deceit, hurt and damage, (2) becauſe the ſaid ill diſpoſed perſons have received and underſtanded, that there was not, nor yet is any ſufficient Law or Statute made or provided for the condign puniſhment of the offenders in that behalf:

Treaſon, Raſt. 24. Bringers in of counterfeit Coin into this Realm, ſhall be puniſhed as Traytors.

II. Wherefore be it enacted and eſtabliſhed by the Authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons after the twentieth day of January next coming, ſhall bring from the parts of beyond the Sea, into this Realm, or into any of the Dominions of the ſame, any ſuch falſe and counterfeit Coin of Money, being currant within this Realm, as is aforeſaid, knowing the ſame Coin or Money to be falſe and counterfeit, to the intent to utter or make payment with the ſame within this Realm, or any the Dominions of the ſame, by merchandizing or otherwiſe; That all and every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo offending as is aforeſaid, their Counſellors, Procurors, Aiders and Abettors in that behalf, ſhall be deemed and judged to be offenders in high Treaſon, and ſhall ſuffer, after lawful conviction or attainder thereof, ſuch pains of death, loſs and forfeiture of lands, goods and cattels, as other offenders ſhall do in caſes of high Treaſon.

The manner of indictment, trial, &c. of an offender for impairing or forging of coin.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon or perſons that ſhall at any time after the ſaid twentieth day of January, be accuſed or impeached of any the offences contained and provided for in this Eſtatute, or of any other offence or offences concerning the impairing, counterfeiting or forging of any Coin current within this Realm, ſhall and may be indicted, arraigned, tried, convicted or attainted by ſuch like evidence, and in ſuch manner and form as hath been uſed and accuſtomed within this Realm, at any time before the firſt year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord, King Edward the ſixth; Any Statute, Cuſtom, Law or Uſage to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Stat. 9 Ed. 3. 2.

CAP. XII.

An Act for the impounding of Diſtreſſes.

Diſtreſs 1. Where Diſtreſs taken, ſhall be impounded. Stat. 52 H. 3. 4. 3 Ed. 1. 16. Cok. pla. fol. 43. Raſt. pla. fol. 164. Cro. 1 480. 646. Diſtreſs, Br. 33. (32)

FOr the avoiding of grievous vexations, exactions, troubles and diſorder in taking of diſtreſſes, and impounding of cattel, (2) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the firſt day of April next coming, no diſtreſs of cattel ſhall be driven out of the hundred, rape, wapentake or lathe where ſuch diſtreſſes is or ſhall be taken, except that it be to a pound overt within the ſame Shire, not above three miles diſtant from the place where the ſaid diſtreſs is taken: (3) and that no cattel or other goods diſtrained or taken by way of diſtreſs, for any manner of cauſe at one time, ſhall be impounded in ſeveral places, whereby the owner or owners of ſuch diſtreſs ſhall be conſtrained to ſue ſeveral replevies for the delivery of the ſaid diſtreſs ſo taken at one time, (4) upon pain every perſon offending contrary to this Act, ſhall forfeit to the party grieved, for every ſuch offence, an hundred ſhillings, and treble damages.

How much may be taken for poundage.

II. And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the ſaid firſt day of April, no perſon or perſons ſhall take for keeping in pound, impounding or poundage of any manner of diſtreſs, above the ſum of four pence for one whole diſtreſs, that ſhall be ſo impounded; and where leſs hath been uſed, there to take leſs, (2) upon the pain of five pounds to be paid to the party grieved, over and beſide ſuch money as he ſhall take above the ſum of four pence; any uſage or preſcription to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Sheriff ſhall appoint four Deputies to make replevies.

III. And for the more ſpeedier delivery of cattel taken by way of diſtreſs, it is further enacted by the ſaid authority, That every Sheriff of Shires, being no Cities nor Towns made Shires, ſhall at his firſt County day, or within two months next after he hath received his Patent of his Office of Sheriffwick, depute, appoint and proclaim in the Shire-Town within his Bayliffwick, four Deputies at the leaſt, dwelling not above twelve miles one diſtant from another; (2) which ſaid Deputies ſo appointed and proclaimed, ſhall have authority in the Sheriffs name to make replevies and deliverance of ſuch diſtreſſes in ſuch manner and form as the Sheriff may and ought to do, (3) upon pain that every Sheriff for every month that he ſhall lack ſuch Deputy or Deputies, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence, five pounds, (4) the one half of which forfeitures ſhall be to the King and Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame by bill, plaint, information or action of debt, in any of the King and Queens Courts of Record, in which no Eſſoin, Protection, nor wager of Law ſhall be admitted.

CAP. XIII.

An Act touching Bailment of perſons.

Juſtice of Peace 107. Removing 1. In what manner Juſtices of Peace may bail perſons arreſted of Felony, or ſuſpicion thereof, &c. Stat. 3 H. 7. 3.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſtſter in the third year of the Reign of the noble Prince, King Henry the Seventh, it was among other things ordained and enacted, That no priſoner arreſted for Felony, ſhould be letten to bail or mainpriſe, by any one Juſtice of Peace, but by the whole Juſtices, or at leaſt by two of them, whereof one to be of the Quorum, (2) ſince the making of which Eſtatute, one Juſtice of Peace in the name of himſelf and one other of the Juſtices his Companion, not making the ſaid Juſtice party nor privy unto the caſe wherefore the priſoner ſhould be bailed, hath often times by ſiniſter labour and means, ſet at large the greateſt and notableſt Offenders, ſuch as be not replevisable by the Laws of this Realm; (3) and yet the rather to hide their affections in that behalf, have ſignified the cauſe of their apprehenſion to be but only for ſuſpicion of Felony, whereby the ſaid Offenders have eſcaped unpuniſhed, and do daily, to the high diſpleaſure of Almighty God, the great peril of the King and Queens true Subjects, and encouragement of all Thieves and evil doers:

None ſhall be let to bail, which be forbidden to be bailed by the Statute of 3 Ed. 1. 15.

II. For reformation whereof, Be it ordained and enacted by the King and Queens Majeſties, the Lords ſpiritual and temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That from and after the firſt day of April next coming, no Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace ſhall let to bail or mainpriſe any ſuch perſon or perſons, which for any offence or offences by them or any of them committed, be declared not to be replevised or bailed, or be forbidden to be repleviſed or bailed by the Statute of Weſtminſter primer, made in the Parliament holden in the third year of the Reign of King Edward the firſt.

3 Bulſtr. 113.

III. And furthermore, That any perſon or perſons arreſted for man-ſlaughter or felony, or ſuſpicion of man-ſlaughter or felony, being bailable by the Law, ſhall not after the ſaid firſt day of April, be let to bail or mainpriſe by any Juſtices of Peace, if it be not in open Seſſions, except it be by two Juſtices of Peace at the leaſt, whereof one to be of the Quorum, and the ſame Juſtices to be preſent together at the time of the ſaid bailment or mainpriſe; (2) which bailment or mainpriſe they ſhall certifie in writing ſubſcribed or ſigned with their own hands, at the next general Goal-delivery to be holden within the County where the ſaid perſon or perſons ſhall be arreſted or ſuſpected.

The Juſtices duty in bailment of a priſoner

IV. And that the ſaid Juſtices, or one of them, being of the Quorum, when any ſuch priſoner is brought before them for any man ſlaughter or felony, before any bailment or mainpriſe, ſhall take the examination of the ſaid priſoner, and information of them that bring him, of the fact and circumſtances thereof, and the ſame, or as much thereof as ſhall be material to prove the felony, ſhall put in writing before they make the ſame bailment; (2) which ſaid examination, together with the ſaid bailment, the ſaid Juſtices ſhall certifie at the next general Goal-delivery to be holden within the limits of their Commiſſion.

in examination of him and others, and certifying thereof. Stat. 2 & 3 Phil. & Mar. 10.

V. And that every Coroner, upon any Inquiſition before him found, whereby any perſon or perſons ſhall be indicted for murder or manſlaughter, or as acceſſary or acceſſaries to the ſame, before the murder or manſlaughter committed, ſhall put in writing the effect of the evidence given to the Jury before him, being material: (2) and as well the ſaid Juſtices, as the ſaid Coroner, ſhall have authority by this Act, to bind all ſuch by recognizance or obligation, as do declare any thing material, to prove the ſaid murder or manſlaughter, offences or felonies, or to be acceſſary or acceſſaries to the ſame, as is aforeſaid, to appear at the next general Goal-delivery to be holden within the County, City or Town-corporate where the trial thereof ſhall be, then and there to give evidence againſt the party ſo indicted at the time of his trial, (3) and ſhall certifie as well the ſame evidence, as ſuch bond or bonds in writing, as he ſhall take, together with the inquiſition or indictment before him taken and found, at or before the time of his ſaid trial thereof to be had or made: (4) and likewiſe the ſaid Juſtices ſhall certifie all and every ſuch bond taken before them, in like manner as before is ſaid of bailments and examination: (5) And in caſe any Juſtice of Peace of Quorum, or Coroner, ſhall after the ſaid firſt day of April, offend in any thing contrary to the true intent and meaning of this preſent Act, that then the Juſtices of Goal-delivery of the Shire, City Town or place where ſuch offence ſhall happen to be committed, upon due proof thereof by examination before them, ſhall for every ſuch offence ſet ſuch fine on every of the ſame Juſtices of Peace and Coroner, as the ſame Juſtices of Goal-delivery ſhall think meet, and eſtreat the ſame, as other fines and amerciaments aſſeſſed before Juſtices of Goal-delivery ought to be.

The Coroners duty upon an Inquiſition found before him.

The penalty of any Juſtice of Peace or Coroner omitting his duty.

VI. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That Juſtices of Peace and Coroners within the City of London, and the County of Middleſex, and in other Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate within this Realm and Wales, ſhall within their ſeveral juriſdictions, have authority to let to bail felons and priſoners, in ſuch manner and form as they have been heretofore accuſtomed; this Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding: (2) And alſo ſhall take examinations and bonds, as is aforeſaid, upon every bailment by them or any of them to be made, (3) and ſhall certifie every ſuch bailments, bonds and examinations by them or any of them taken or made, at the next Goal-delivery to be holden within the Shire, City, Borough or Town where their ſeveral juriſdictions extendeth, upon like pain and forfeiture as is before limited in this preſent Act.

Juſtices of Peace of London, Middleſex, &c.

VII. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Writs of Habeas Corpus or Certiorari, ſhall be hereafter granted to remove any priſoner out of any Goal, or to remove any recognizance, except the ſame Writs be ſigned with the proper hands of the Chief Juſtice, or in his abſence, one of the Juſtices of the Court out of which the ſame Writs ſhall be awarded or made, (2) upon pain that he that writeth any ſuch Writs. not being ſigned as is aforeſaid, to forfeit to our ſaid Sovereign Lord the King and the Queen, for every ſuch Writs, five pounds.

Removing of a priſoner, or recogniſance.

CAP. XIV.

An Act for making of Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples in Norwich.

Where of late years paſſed, Ruſſels, called Ruſſels Sattens, and Sattens Reverſes, have been practiſed to be made beyond the Seas, of the Wolls bred in the County of Norwich, and by reaſon thereof ſo great quantity of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, and Sattens Reverſes have been brought into this Realm, ſold and worn as well in every part of this Realm, as in the Parts beyond the Seas, that thereby the Myſteries of Worſted making and weaving, whereby Merchants and Inhabitants of the City of Norwich have heretofore been well maintained and relieved, is now at this preſent almoſt wholly decayed and brought out of eſtimation, and very little worn, either within this Realm, or in any other foreign Realms, to the great hinderance and decay of the ſaid City, and Citizens of the ſame City: (2) For remedy whereof Thomas Marſham Mayor of the City of Norwich, John Corbet Eſquire, Auſtin Steward, Robert Leche, Robert Rugge, John Ball, and Alexander Mather, Aldermen of the ſaid City, Thomas Wale, Thomas Pecke, Ralph Marſham, Robert Henry, John Sutton, Richard Tomſon, Citizens and Merchants of the ſaid City, at their great coſts and charges, as well in bringing of certain Strangers from the Parts beyond the Seas into the ſaid City, as alſo in making of Lombes, and all other proviſion for the ſame; (3) and alſo have called unto them eight perſons of the moſt diſcreet and worthy men of the Myſtery of Worſted-weaving, within the ſaid City, that is to ſay, John Cook, James Lin, John Croſs, Simon Petit, John Marſhal, Roger Lecke, Edmund Barker, and Edmund Selers, being the number of one and twenty perſons, which have not only made Ruſſels Sattens, and Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples within the ſaid City of Norwich, of Norfolk Woolls; but alſo have learned and taught other Citizens and Inhabitants of the ſaid City to make the ſame, in ſuch good and perfect manner, that much better Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples, and ſuch like, and for eaſier prices, be now at this preſent wrought and made within the ſaid City, then heretofore have been, or now be made in any of the Parts beyond the Seas, whereby the ſaid City and Inhabitants thereof may, and be in like again to be relieved and brought to the old eſtate, to the great advancement of the Commodities of this Realm, and enriching the ſame, if ſome good and politick Laws and Ordinances were made for the good continuance of the true making of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples, and ſuch like:

Norwich, Raſt. 4. In what order Ruſſels Sattens, &c. ſhall be made in Norwich.

II. In conſideration whereof, Be it enacted, by the aſſent of the King and Queens Highneſs, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, and Sattens Rever-

By what names Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples, made in Norwich ſhall be called.

ſes, and Fuſtians of Naples hereafter to be made only within the ſaid City, may from henceforth bear the name, and be called by the name of Norwich Sattens, and Norwich Fuſtians; and that the Mayor and the aforementioned Citizens of the ſame City, which before this time have been at the coſts and charges of the bringing of the ſaid Strangers into the ſame City, for the making of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, and Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples, and ſuch the forementioned eight perſons that they have called unto them, ſhall be a Fellowſhip of themſelves, (2) and ſhall yearly the third day of February chooſe of their Fellows, four Wardens within the Guild-hall of the ſaid City, or any other common and convenient place of the ſame City; (3) and the ſame Wardens ſo being choſen, ſhall ſtand and be Wardens of the ſame Fellowſhip during one whole year next enſuing the ſaid Election, (4) and that the ſame Wardens, after the ſaid Election, ſhall come before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, yearly the Munday next after the ſaid third day of February, and before the ſaid Mayor ſhall be ſworn, diligently to view, ſearch and ſee all the Ruſſel Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples then made, or that ſhall be made within the ſaid City during the ſaid year: (5) And ſuch of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples, as ſhall appear and be deemed by them to be lawfully, truly and workmanly wrought, ſhall ſeal with a Seal of Lead, bearing the Arms of the City of Norwich, whereby it may be known to the Merchant or buyer of them, that the ſame be allowed, and truly made.

There ſhall be a Body Corporate and four Wardens to ſee and ſeal Ruſſels Sattens, &c.

By whom, and what means offenders ſhall be inquired and puniſhed.

III. And that it alſo may be enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Wardens and Fellowſhip ſhall be a Body Corporate, and to be named and enabled by this Act to ſue and be ſued, and to give and to take, by the name of Wardens and Fellowſhip of the Myſtery of Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich making, within the ſaid City of Nowich: (2) And if any default at any time ſhall be found in any of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, or any of them, by the ſaid Wardens, that the ſame default ſhall be reformed, and the offender or offenders therein, to be puniſhed according to ſuch Rules and Ordinances as hereafter from time to time ſhall be made within the ſaid City, by the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, and by the ſaid four Wardens, and the Fellowſhip of the ſaid Occupation or Myſtery, or the greateſt number of the ſaid Fellowſhip, for and concerning the ſame; (3) and that the ſame defaults from time to time, as occaſion ſhall ſerve, ſhall be enquired of, and tried for the Mayor of the ſaid City of Norwich for the time being, by the Oaths of twelve honeſt men of the foreſaid Fellowſhip.

The authority of the four Wardens.

IV. And that the ſaid Four Wardens ſo choſen and ſworn, ſhall have full power and authority to do, execute, preſent and reform all and ſingular thing and things, of, for and concerning the ſaid Myſtery, making, working and occupying of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, within the ſaid City, in ſuch manner and form as in or by the ſaid Ordinances ſhall be expreſſed and declared; (2) and that at all times hereafter, and from time to time, it ſhall be lawful to the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, and to the before named Fellowſhip and Wardens of the ſame Myſtery, and the more part of them, and to their ſucceſſors, to make and ordain from time to time, Rules, Laws and Ordinances meet and neceſſary for the good order and governance of the ſaid Myſtery, and for the true and well making of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich: (3) and the ſame Ordinances ſo made, to be at all times obeyed by all the Inhabitants of the ſaid City, or Suburbs of the ſame, and to be put in due execution by the ſaid Mayor and Wardens, and their Succeſſors for the time being, in ſuch manner and form as by the ſaid Ordinance ſhall be ordained and declared.

Who may occupy the Trade of making Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, &c.

V. And that ſuch as now be, and that hereafter ſhall be makers of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, and every of them within the ſaid City, ſhall not from henceforth occupy the ſaid Myſtery and making of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, nor any of them within the ſaid City, by themſelves, or by any other, before he or they ſo occupying the ſaid Myſtery within the ſaid City, be made free of the ſaid City, and admitted to be of the ſaid Fellowſhip by the Mayor of the ſaid City, and Wardens and Fellowſhip of the ſaid Myſtery for the time being: (2) And that no perſon do occupy by himſelf, or any other for him, out of the ſaid City, the ſaid Myſtery of making Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples, or of any of them, before he or they ſo occupying the ſame, have been Prentice to the ſaid Myſtery by the term of ſeven years, or elſe admitted by the ſaid Mayor and Fellowſhip, or the more part of them, (3) upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, by them or any of them to be made contrary to the form of this Act.

The Mayor and Wardens ſhall take nothing to their own uſe for admittance.

VI. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Mayor and Wardens for the time being, ſhall not take any ſum of money or reward, to their own proper uſes, for the admitting of any perſon or perſons to occupy the ſaid Myſtery, upon pain of forfeiture of treble the value of the reward or ſum of money ſo by them or any of them to be taken.

VII. Provided alſo, That it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid Wardens, and to every of them for the time being, by all ways and means, and at all lawful times, diligently from time to time to make ſearch, by due and ordinary ways, for all manner of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, that ſhall happen to be found by them defective, for lack of good and true workmanſhip.

The preſentment inquiry, and trial of Ruſſels Sattens &c. ſuſpected to be defective.

VIII. And that it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid Wardens, and every of them for the time being, by vertue of this Act, to ſeiſe and take the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians, and bring and preſent the ſame Clothes ſo ſeiſed and taken, to the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, and unto his Succeſſors, to the intent that twelve honeſt, lawful, and expert men of the ſaid Myſtery and Fellowſhip, being ſworn before the ſaid Mayor, may by vertue of their Oaths, make enquiry, and preſent the manner of the ſaid defaults before the ſaid Mayor for the time being, according to ſuch good and wholſom Ordinances and Rules as ſhall be ordained and made for conſervation and good continuance of the ſaid Occupation and Myſtery, and the true making and working of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich: (2) And that all and every perſon and perſons that ſhall occupy, uſe and exerciſe the ſaid Myſtery, or making of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, or any of them, contrary to the form, tenour, plain meaning and intent of this Act, and of the Rules and Ordinances that at any time hereafter by authority of this Act ſhall be ordained and made for the continuance of the true and perfect making of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every time ſo offending, or making any Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, contrary to the meaning, tenour and effect of the ſaid Act, Rules and Ordinances concerning the ſame, ſuch fines, amerciaments and pains as ſhall be adjudged, aſſeſſed and affered by twelve expert men of the ſaid Fellowſhip upon their Oaths, the ſame twelve perſons to be ſworn before the ſaid Mayor and Wardens, to enquire and make true verdict and preſentment of ſuch defaults; (3) the one half of the which forfeiture to be to the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, and his ſucceſſors, and the other moiety to the ſaid Wardens for the time being, and their ſucceſſors, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information in any Court of Record; in which action, bill, plaint or information, no wager of law, protection, injunction, or foreign plea ſhall be allowed.

The penalty where the ſaid Sattens &c. be found by verdict to be defective.

IX. And in caſe it ſhall fortune hereafter, that any of the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Norwich, ſhall lack of ſuch lengths and breadths, or of the true and enſuing making or ſorting of the Yarn, as ſhall be appointed and ſet forth by the ſaid Rules and Ordinances, and the ſame ſo to be found defective by verdict of twelve men of the ſaid Fellowſhip, before the ſaid Mayor and Wardens, and their ſucceſſors, That then the ſaid Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples, and every of them ſo found defective, to be cut in two pieces, and to pay ſuch fine or fines as ſhall be offered and affered by the ſaid twelve expert men, by vertue of their Oaths; (2) the one moiety of which fine or fines to be to the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, and to his ſucceſſors, and the other moiety to the Wardens of the ſaid Fellowſhip of the time being, and to their ſucceſſors.

The forfeiture of a Warden that doth ſeal any Ruſſels Sattens &c. being defective.

X. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Warden or Wardens for the time being, of the ſaid Myſtery or Occupation of making Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, and Fuſtians of Naples, ſhall at any time hereafter ſeal, or cauſe to be ſealed any Ruſſels Sattens, Sattens Reverſes, or Fuſtians of Naples, that ſhall not be well, ſufficient and truly wrought and made according to the true intent and meaning of this preſent Act, he ſhall forfeit and loſe for every piece ſo ſealed, being not well, ſufficient, and truly wrought and made, the whole value of every ſuch piece ſo ſealed; (2) the one half of which forfeitures to be to the King and Queens Majeſties, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to be to ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall ſue for the ſame by bill, action or information in any of the King and Queens Courts of Record; in which bill, action or information, no eſſoin, protection, or wager of law ſhall be allowed.

CAP. XV.

An Act to confirm the Liberties of the Lord Marchers of Wales.

Wales 122. 27 H. 8. 26.

HUmbly beſeechen your excellent Majeſties, your true and faithful Subjects, the Lords Marchers, both Spiritual and Temporal, within your Highneſs Dominion of Wales, That whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, the ſeven and twentieth year of the Reign of King Henry the Eighth, Father unto you our natural Sovereign Lady, amongſt other things, one Act was made and eſtabliſhed, for Laws and Juſtice to be miniſtred in the ſaid Dominion of Wales, in like form as it is in this Realm of England: (2) In the which Act one Article is, That, for that the Lords Marchers before the Parliament, had uſed to put their Tenants within their Lordſhips Marchers under common mainpriſe and ſurety of apparance, and have had the forfeitures thereof, which for ever, from and after the Feaſt of All Saints then next enſuing the ſaid Parliament, ſhould utterly ceaſe, and be determined,

What Liberties the Lords Marchers in Wales ſhall have.

II. It was Enacted, That after the ſaid Feaſt of All Saints, every lay and temporal perſon then being a Lord Marcher, ſhould have the moiety or half of every forfeiture of all and every common mainpriſe, recogniſance for the peace or apparance, forfeited by any of their Tenants inhabiting within any of their Lordſhips Marchers, (2) and they to be paid the ſame moiety or half by the hands of the Sheriff of every of the Counties where ſuch forfeiture ſhall be, if the Sheriff can levy the ſame; (3) and the ſame Sheriff to accompt to our ſaid late Sovereign Lord the King for the other half or moiety, in ſuch Exchequer as they can be accomptant:

By the Stat. of 27 H. 8. 26. every Lord Marcher Temporal in Wales, ſhall have for moiety of the forfeiture of his Tenant.

III. And further it was Enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That all and every lay and temporal perſon or perſons, then being Lords Marchers, and having any Lordſhips Marchers, or Lordſhips Royal, ſhould from and after the ſaid Feaſt of All Saints, have all ſuch miſes and profits of their Tenants, as they have had, or uſed to have at their firſt entry into their Lands in times paſt: (3) And alſo ſhould have, hold and keep within the precinct of their ſaid Lordſhips, Courts Baron, Courts Leet, and Lawdays, and all and every thing to the ſaid Courts belonging; (3) and alſo ſhould have within the precinct of their ſaid Lordſhips or Lawday, waife, ſtraife, infang-thefe, outfang-thefe, treaſure trove, deodands, goods and cattels of felons, and of perſons condemned or outlawed of felony or murder, put in exigent for felony or murder, and alſo wreck de mere, wharfage, and cuſtoms of ſtrangers, as they have had in time paſt, and as though ſuch priviledges were granted unto them by point of Charter; Any thing in that Act to the contrary notwithſtanding, as in the ſaid Act of Parliament more at large it may appear.

IV. And foraſmuch as Biſhops and other Eccleſiaſtical perſons being Lords Marchers, having the like liberties, caſualties, profits and commodities within their Lordſhips Marchers, and Lordſhips Royal, within the ſaid Dominion or Principality of Wales, were not provided for by the expreſs letter of the ſaid Statute, in like ſort as the Lay and Temporal Lords Marchers were, but rather of purpoſe, as it ſhould ſeem, forgotten and left out of the ſaid Act, againſt all reaſon and good equity: (2) And foraſmuch alſo as the heirs and ſucceſſors of the Lay and Temporal Lords Marchers then being, were not provided for by the limitation and expreſs words of the ſaid Act, as well as their anceſtors and predeceſſors were, as reaſon would they ſhould have been:

What forfeitures and benefits the Lords Marchers, both Spiritual and Temporal in Wales, ſhall have of their Tenants. Coke pla. fol. 550.

V. It may pleaſe your Majeſties of your moſt gracious favours and benignity, at the humble ſuit and ſupplication of your ſaid faithful Subjects, the Lords Marchers that now are in the ſaid Dominion of Wales, both Spiritual and Temporal, to grant that it may by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, be ordained, eſtabliſhed, and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That as well your ſaid Spiritual and Eccleſiaſtical Subjects, Lords Marchers, now having Lordſhips Marchers, or Lordſhips Royal in Wales aforeſaid, and their ſucceſſors, and the ſucceſſors of every of them, as alſo the heirs and ſucceſſors of the Lords Temporal Marchers that then were, or now be, and the heirs and ſucceſſors of every of them, being, or which hereafter ſhall be Lords Marchers, within their Lordſhips Marchers, and Lordſhips Royal in the Dominion or Principality of Wales, ſhall have and enjoy to them, and to their heirs and ſucceſſors, reſpectively and ſeverally for ever, the moiety and half of every forfeiture of all and every common Mainpriſe, Recogniſance for the Peace, or Apparance, forfeited by any their Tenants inhabiting within any of their Lordſhips Marchers, or Lordſhips Royal, (2) and they to be paid the ſame moiety or half by the hands of the Sheriff of the County for the time being, after ſuch form and ſort as the ſaid Lay or Temporal Lords Marchers have been, or ought to have been paid the ſame by force of the ſaid Statute:

The miſes, profits, liberties, and franchiſes of Lords Marchers, reformed.

VI. And further, ſhall have all ſuch miſes and profits of their Tenants, as the Lords Marchers, Spiritual or Temporal, reſpectively or ſeverally had, or uſed to have at their firſt entry into their Lands in times paſt before the making of the ſaid Act or Statute: (2) And alſo ſhall have, hold and keep within the precinct of the ſaid Lordſhips, all ſuch Courts Baron, Court Leet, and Lawdays, and all and every thing and things to the ſame Courts belonging: (3) And alſo ſhall have within the precinct of their ſaid ſeveral Lordſhips, or Lawdays, all ſuch waſte, ſtraife, infang-thefe, outfang-thefe, treaſure trove, deodands, goods and chattels of Felons, and of perſons condemned or outlawed of Felony or Murder, put in exigent for Felony or Murder, and alſo all ſuch wreck de mere, wharfage, and cuſtoms of Strangers, as the Lords Marchers Spiritual and Temporal, reſpectively and ſeverally had and uſed in times paſt, before the making of the ſaid Statute.

CAP. III.

An Act for keeping of Milch kine, and for breeding and rearing of Calves.

Cattel 3.

FOraſmuch as of late years a great number of perſons within this Realm have laid their lands, farms and paſtures to feeding of Sheep, Oxen, Runts, Schrubs, Steers, and Heifers, and ſuch other like Cattel, having no regard or care to breed and rear up young Beaſts and Cattel, whereby is grown great ſcarcity of Cattel, and victual neceſſary for the ſuſtenance of divers ſorts of people within this Realm, and more is like to be, if ſpeedy remedy be not provided:

II. It is therefore by the authority of this preſent Parliament Enacted, That every perſon which from the Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady next enſuing, ſhall keep or feed above the number of ſixſcore Sheep for the moſt part of the year, upon his or her ſeveral paſtures, lands, feedings or ferms apt or meet for Milch Kine, and wherein no other perſon hath at the making of this preſent Act, Common for any Cattel at any time of the year, ſhall by authority of this Act, yearly ſo long as he ſhall keep or feed the ſaid number of ſixſcore ſhere Seep, for every threeſcore ſhere Sheep ſo kept or fed, keep one Milch Cow, and ſhall breed and rear up yearly for every ſixſcore Sheep ſo kept as is aforeſaid, one Calf, (2) upon pain of forfeiture for every month that any ſuch perſon ſhall not for every threeſcore ſhere Sheep as is aforeſaid, keep and feed one Milch Cow, Twenty ſhillings for every Cow ſo not kept: (3) And for lack of rearing and breeding of one Calf for every ſixſcore ſhere Sheep, to forfeit likewiſe Twenty ſhillings for every Calf ſo not reared and fed.

By the Stat. of 7 Jac. 8. this Statute ſhall extend to Grounds hereafter to be encloſed.

A Cow ſhall be kept for 60. Sheep, and a Calf reared for 120 Sheep.

III. And that every perſon which after the aforeſaid Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady, upon his or her ſeveral paſtures as afore is ſaid, ſhall keep or feed above the number of twenty Oxen, Runts, Schrubs, Steers, Heifers or Kine, ſhall by the authority of this Act, for every ten Beaſts of the ſaid ſorts ſo kept or fed, keep and nouriſh one Milch Cow, and breed, rear and waine yearly, and keep for one whole year, one Calf for every two Milch Kine ſo charged to be kept, upon the ſeveral pains and forfeitures afore rehearſed, except the ſaid Calf or Calves ſhall chance to die within the ſaid year, without covin or fraud thereto added; (2) the one half of which ſaid forfeitures ſhall be to the uſe of our Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queens Majeſties; and the other half to the uſe of the party that within one year after the offence committed, will ſue for the ſame in any of the King and Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, or before the Juſtices of Peace in the ſame Shire where any ſuch cauſe of forfeiture ſhall be had, at the general Seſſions (who by authority of this Act ſhall have power to hear and determine the ſaid offences) by Bill, Information, Preſentment, Action of Debt or Detinue; in which Action or Suit, no Eſſoin, Protection, Wager of Law or Licenſe to the contrary, ſhall be allowed.

A Milch Cow ſhall be kept for 10 Beaſts fed, and for two Kine, a Calf reared.

IV. Provided always, That this Act, nor any Clauſe thereof, ſhall be extended to bind any perſon to keep Milch Kine, nor yet to breed or rear up Calves, as afore is expreſſed, for ſuch Sheep or other Beaſts as the ſame perſons ſhall keep or feed, to the intent only to be ſpent in his or their houſe or houſes, without fraud or covin. (2) This Act to endure only unto the end of ſeven years next following the Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady aforeſaid, and from thence to the end of the Parliament then next following. 13 Eliz. 25 made perpetual.

Sheep kept, or Beaſts fed, to be ſpent in the owners houſe.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful to any perſon or perſons, their deputy or deputies, or any of them which ſhall be authoriſed by ſuch Commiſſion or Commiſſions hereafter to be granted as is aforeſaid, to levy, take or purvey any beeves, wethers, lambs, calves, any kind of ſalt fiſh, kind or kinds of grain, butter in barrels or other veſſels, cheeſe, bacon, conies, pigs, geeſe, capons and hens, or any of them, otherwiſe, or in any other ſort and manner then is in ſeveral Eſtatutes heretofore for Purveyors made, ordained, provided, limited and expreſſed, upon ſuch pain and pains as in the ſaid ſeveral Eſtatutes is contained and expreſſed.

VIII. And foraſmuch as the good and neceſſary Laws heretofore made and provided againſt the abuſes and evil doings of Purveyors, are not taken to extend to the undertakers, deputies and ſervants of any ſuch Purveyors, by whom therefore the people of this Realm be oftentime very uncharitably and unlawfully uſed and oppreſſed:

IX. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every ſuch Laws, Statutes and Proviſions as heretofore have been made and ordained againſt Purveyors, and all and every the pains, penalties, forfeiture and loſs contained, mentioned or appointed, in any of the ſame Laws or Statutes againſt Purveyors and Takers, or any of them, ſhall alſo be extended and executed upon every of their undertakers, deputies and ſervants, and all other which by colour ſhall after the firſt day of January next coming take any victual, or any other thing by vertue or force of any ſuch Commiſſion, from any the King and Queens Majeſties Subjects, contrary to the tenor and effect of any the ſaid Laws or Statutes, in like manner and form to all intents and purpoſes as the ſame Laws and Eſtatutes, or any of them, and the pains and forfeitures therein contained, ſhould, might, or ought to be executed and extended againſt Purveyors and Takers themſelves, or any of them, and as ſtrongly and amply, as if the ſaid undertakers, deputies and ſervants were ſpecially and particularly recited and named in every the ſame Eſtatutes.

Statutes provided for Purveyors, ſhall extend to their deputies.

X. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, for the better execution of this Act, or all other Acts concerning Purveyors, That all and every Commiſſion and Commiſſions that from henceforth ſhall be made and granted unto any Purveyor or Purveyors, ſhall be written and ſet forth from time to time in the Engliſh Tongue, and not otherwiſe.

The purveyors Commiſſion ſhall be written in Engliſh.

CAP. VII.

An Act againſt the buying of ſtollen Horſes.

Foraſmuch as ſtollen Horſes, Mares and Geldings, by Thieves and their Confederates, be for the moſt part ſold, exchanged, given, or put away in Houſes, ſtables, back-ſides, and other ſecret and privy places of Markets and Fairs, and the toll alſo privily paid for the ſame, whereby the true Owners thereof, being not able to try the falſhood and covin betwixt the buyer and ſeller of ſuch Horſe, Mare, or Gelding, is by the Common Laws of this Realm without remedy:

Fairs 4.
In what manner Horſes ſhall be ſold in Fairs or Markets.
The former miſuſe in ſale of ſtollen Horſes.

II Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Owner, Governor, Ruler, Fermor, Steward, Bailiff, or chief keeper of every Fair, and Market overt within this Realm, and other the Queens Dominions, ſhall before the Feaſt of Eaſter next, and ſo yearly appoint and limit out a certain and ſpecial open place within the Town, Place, Field or Circuit where Horſes, Mares, Geldings and Colts have been, and ſhall be uſed to be ſold in any Fair or Market overt; (2) in which ſaid certain and open place, as is aforeſaid, there ſhall be, by the ſaid Ruler or Keeper of the ſaid Fair or Market, put in and appointed one ſufficient perſon or more, to take toll, and keep the ſame place from ten of the clock before noon, until Sun-ſet of every day of the foreſaid Fair and Market, upon pain to loſe and forfeit for every default, fourty ſhillings: (3) And that every Toll-gatherer, his Deputy or Deputies, ſhall during the time of every the ſaid Fairs and Markets, take their due and lawful tolls for every ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt, at the ſaid open place to be appointed as is aforeſaid, and betwixt the hours of ten of the clock in the morning, and Sun ſet of the ſame day, if it be tendered, and not at any other time or place, (4) and ſhall have preſently before him or them at the taking of the ſame toll, the parties to the bargain, exchange, gift, contract, or putting away of every ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt; and alſo the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding and Colt ſo ſold, exchanged or put away, (5) and ſhall then write, or cauſe to be written in a Book to be kept for that purpoſe, the names, ſurnames, and dwelling-places of all the ſaid parties, and the colour, with one ſpecial mark at the leaſt, of every ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding and Colt, (6) in pain to forfeit at and for every default contrary to the tenor thereof, Fourty ſhillings.

A place ſhall be appointed for a Horſe-Fair, and alſo a Toll-taker.

When, where and of whom toll for Horſes ſhall be taken.

III. And the ſaid Toll-gatherer or keeper of the ſaid Book ſhall within one day next after every ſuch Fair or Market, bring and deliver his ſaid Book to the Owner, Governour, Ruler, Steward, Bailiff or chief Keeper of the ſaid Fair or Market, who ſhall then cauſe a note to be made of the true number of all Horſes, Mares, Geldings and Colts ſold at the ſaid Market or Fair, and ſhall there ſubſcribe his name, or ſet his mark thereunto, (2) upon pain to him that ſhall make default therein, to loſe and forfeit for every default Fourty ſhillings, and alſo to anſwer the party grieved by reaſon of the ſame, his negligence in every behalf.

A note of all Horſes ſold in a Fair or Market.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſale, gift, exchange, or putting away after the laſt day of February now next coming, in any Fair or Market overt, of any Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt that is or ſhall be thieviſhly ſtollen, or feloniouſly taken away from any perſon or perſons, ſhall not alter, take away, nor exchange the property of any perſon or perſons to or from any ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt, unleſs the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt ſhall be in the time of the ſaid Fair or Market wherein the ſame ſhall be ſo ſold, given, exchanged, or put away, openly ridden, led, walked, driven or kept ſtanding by the ſpace of one hour together at the leaſt, betwixt ten of the clock in the morning, and the Sun-ſetting, in the open place of the Fair or Market wherein Horſes are commonly uſed to be ſold, and not within any Houſe, Yard, Backſide, or other privy or ſecret place, and unleſs all the parties to the bargain, contract, gift or exchange, preſent in the ſaid Fair or Market, ſhall alſo come together, and bring the Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt ſo ſold, exchanged, given, or put away, to the open place appointed for the Toll-taker, or for the Book-keeper, where no Toll is due, and there enter or cauſe to be entred their names and dwelling places, in manner as is aforeſaid, with the colour or colours, and one ſpecial mark at the leaſt of every the ſame Horſes, Mares, Geldings or Colts, in the Toll-takers Book, or in the keepers Book for that purpoſe, whereunto no Toll is due, as is aforeſaid, and alſo pay him their Toll, if they ought to pay any; and if not, then the Buyer to give one peny for the entry of their names, and executing the other circumſtances afore rehearſed, to him that ſhall write the ſame in the ſaid Book.

The uſing of a ſtollen Horſe in a Fair or, &c. before the owners property ſhall be taken away.

V. And if any Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt that is or ſhall be thieviſhly ſtollen or taken away, ſhall after the ſaid laſt day of February next coming, be ſold, given, exchanged, or put away in any Fair or Market, and not uſed in all points according to the tenour and intent of this Eſtatute, that then the Owner of every ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt, ſhall and may by force of this Eſtatute, ſeiſe or take again the ſaid Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt, or have an Action of Detinue or Replevin for the ſame; Any ſale, gift, exchange or putting away of any ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding or Colt, other then according to this Eſtatute, in any wiſe notwithſtanding;

VI. The one half of all which forfeitures to be to the King and Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other to him or them that will ſue for the ſame before the Juſtices of Peace, or in any of the King and Queens Majeſties ordinary Courts of Record, by Bill, Plaint, Action of Debt, or Information, in which Suits no Protection, Eſſoin or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

The Juſtices of Peace ſhall hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

VII. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Peace of every place and County, as well within Liberties as without, ſhall have authority in their Seſſions, within the limits of their authority and Commiſſion, to inquire, hear and determine all offences againſt this Eſtatute, as they may do any other matter triable before them.

The allowance of the keeper of the book where no toll is due.

VIII. Provided always, That in every ſuch Fair and Market where any toll is or ſhall be due, ne leviable by reaſon of the freedom, liberty or priviledge of the ſaid Fair or Market, the Keeper or Keepers of the Book touching the execution of this preſent Act, ſhall take nor exact but one peny upon and for every contract, for his labour in writing the Entry concerning the premiſſes, in manner and form as is before declared. Stat. 31 El. 12.

CAP. VIII.

C A P. IX.

An Act to avoid divers Licences for houſes where unlawful Games be uſed.

MOſt humbly beſeecheth the Queens moſt excellent Highneſs, your loving and obedient Subjects, the Commons in this your preſent Parliament aſſembled, That where by reaſon of divers ſundry Licences heretofore granted to divers perſons, as well within the City of London and the Suburbs of the ſame, as alſo in divers other places within your Highneſs Realm, for the having, maintaining and keeping of Houſes, Gardens and places for Bowling, Tennis, Dicing, White and Black, Making and Marring, and other unlawful Games prohibited by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, divers and many unlawful Aſſemblies, Conventicles, Seditions and Conſpiracies have and been daily ſecretly practiſed by idle and miſruled perſons repairing to ſuch places; of the which, Robberies, and many other miſdemeanors have enſued, to the breach of your Highneſs Peace: (2) For remedy whereof, it may pleaſe your Highneſs that it may be enacted by your Highneſs, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That from and after the Feaſt of the Birth of our Lord next coming, every Licence, Placard or Grant made to any perſon or perſons, for the having, maintenance, or keeping of any Bowling-Allies, Dicing-houſes, or other unlawful Games, prohibited by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, ſhall be from the ſaid Feaſt utterly void, and of none effect. Stat. 33 H. 8. 9.

Plays Raſt. 3. All Licences to keep Houſes for unlawful Games, ſhall be void. The inconveniences of permitting Houſes for unlawful Games.

All Licences to keep ſuch Houſes, ſhall be void.

CAP. X.

An Act to take Examination of Priſoners ſuſpected of any Manſlaughter or Felony.

WHere in the laſt Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, amongſt other things it was enacted, That ſuch Juſtices of the Peace as have authority to bail any Priſoner brought before them for any Manſlaughter or Felony, before any bailment or mainpriſe, ſhould take the Examination of the ſaid priſoner, and Information of them that bring him, of the Fact and circumſtances thereof, and the ſame, or as much thereof as ſhall be material to prove the Felony, ſhall put in writing before they make the ſame bailment; (2) which ſaid Examination, together with the ſaid Bailment, the Juſtices ſhall certfie at the next general Gaol-delivery to be holden within the limits of their Commiſſion, as by the ſame Act more plainly is contained, and may appear.

Juſtice of Peace, 108. Juſtices of Peace ſhall examine perſons arreſted of Felony, &c and ſhall bind their accuſers to give evidence againſt them. 1 & 2 P. & M. 13.

II. And foraſmuch as the ſaid Act doth not extend to ſuch Priſoners as ſhall be brought before any Juſtice of Peace for Manſlaughter or Felony, and by ſuch Juſtices ſhall be committed to ward for the ſuſpicion of ſuch Manſlaughter or Felony, and not bailed, in which caſe, examination of ſuch Priſoner, and of ſuch as ſhall bring him, is as neceſſary, or rather more then where ſuch Priſoner ſhall be let to bail or mainpriſe: (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from henceforth ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices before whom any perſon ſhall be brought for Manſlaughter or Felony, or for ſuſpicion thereof, before he or they ſhall commit or ſend ſuch Priſoner to ward, ſhall take the examinaton of ſuch Priſoner, and information of thoſe that bring him, of the Fact and Circumſtances thereof, and the ſame, or as much thereof as ſhall be material to prove the Felony, ſhall put in Writing within two days after the ſaid examination, (3) and the ſame ſhall certifie in ſuch manner and form, and at ſuch time as they ſhould and ought to do if ſuch Priſoner ſo committed or ſent to ward had been bailed or let to mainpriſe, upon ſuch pain as in the ſaid former Act is limited and appointed for not taking or not certifying ſuch examinations as in the ſaid former

A Juſtice of Peace ſhall examine him that is ſuſpected of Felony, and to be committed to priſon.

Binding of the accuſers to give evidence againſt the priſoner.

former Act is expreſſed. (4) And be it further enacted, That the ſaid Juſtices ſhall have authority by this Act, to bind all ſuch by recogniſance or obligation, as do declare any thing material to prove the ſaid Manſlaughter or Felony againſt ſuch Priſoner as ſhall be ſo committed to ward, to appear at the next general Gaol-delivery to be holden within the County, City or Town-Corporate where the trial of the ſaid Manſlaughter or Felony ſhall be, then and there to give evidence againſt the party, (5) and that the ſaid Juſtices ſhall certifie the ſaid bonds taken before them, in like manner as they ſhould and ought to certifie bonds mentioned in the ſaid former Act, upon pain as in the ſaid former Act is mentioned, for not certifying ſuch bonds as by the ſaid former Act is limited and appointed to be certified.

CAP. XI.

An Act touching Weavers.

Drapery 69. Who ſhall uſe the Trade of Weaving.

FOraſmuch as the Weavers of this Realm have as well at this preſent Parliament, as at divers other times, complained that the rich and wealthy Clothiers do many ways oppreſs them, ſome by ſetting up and keeping in their houſes divers Looms, and keeping and maintaining them by Journeymen and perſons unſkilful, to the decay of a great number of Artificers which were brought up in the ſaid Science of Weaving, their Families and Houſhold; (2) ſome by ingroſſing of Looms into their hands and poſſeſſions, and letting them out at ſuch unreaſonable rents, as the poor Artificers are not able to maintain themſelves, much leſs their Wives, Families and Children; (3) ſome alſo by giving much leſs wages and hire for the weaving and workmanſhip of Clothes, then in times paſt they did, whereby they are inforced utterly to forſake their Art and Occupation wherein they have been brought up:

No Clothier ſhall keep above one woollen Loom.

II. It is therefore for remedy of the premiſſes, and for the avoiding of a great number of inconveniences which may grow (if in time it be not foreſeen) ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon uſing the Feat or Myſtery of Cloth-making, and dwelling out of a City, Borough, Market-Town, or Corporate-Town, ſhall from the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel now next enſuing, keep, retain or have in his or their houſe or poſſeſſion, any more, or above one woollen Loom at one time; (2) nor ſhall by any means, directly or indirectly receive or take any manner profit, gain or commodity, by letting or ſetting any Loom, or any houſe wherein any Loom is or ſhall be uſed and occupied, which ſhall be together by him ſet or let, (3) upon pain of forfeiture for every week that any perſon ſhall do contrary to the tenour and true meaning hereof, Twenty Shillings.

No Weaver ſhall have above two woollen Looms.

III. And be it further ordained and enacted by like authority, That no woollen Weaver uſing or exerciſing the Feat or Myſtery of Weaving, and dwelling out of a City, Borough, Market Town, or Town-corporate, ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt have or keep at any time above the number of two Wollen Looms, or receive any profit, gain or commodity, directly or indirectly, as is aforeſaid, by any more then two Looms at one time, upon pain to forfeit for every week that any perſon ſhall offend or do to the contrary, Twenty ſhillings.

No Weaver ſhall have a Tucking Mill.

IV. And it is further ordained and enacted by like authority, That no perſon which ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt uſe, exerciſe or occupy only the Feat or Myſtery of a Weaver, and not Cloth making, ſhall during the time that he ſhall uſe the Feat or Myſtery of a Weaver, keep or have any Tucking-Mill, or ſhall uſe or exerciſe the Feat or Myſtery of a Tucker, Fuller, or Dyer, upon pain to forfeit for every week that he ſhall ſo do, Twenty ſhillings.

No Tucker or Fuller ſhall have above one Loom.

V. And it is further ordained and enacted by like authority, That no perſon which after the ſaid Feaſt ſhall uſe, exerciſe or occupy the Feat or Myſtery of a Tucker or Fuller, ſhall during the time that he ſhall ſo uſe the ſaid Feat or Myſtery, keep or have any Loom in his houſe or poſſeſſion, or ſhall directly or indirectly take any profit or commodity by the ſame, upon pain to forfeit for every week, Twenty ſhillings.

In what places onely woollen Clothes may be woven. 4 & 5 P. & M. 5.

VI. And it is further ordained and enacted by like authority, That no perſon whatſoever, which heretofore hath not uſed or exerciſed the Feat, Myſtery or Art of ſuch Cloth-making, ſhall after the ſaid Feaſt make or weave, or cauſe to be made or woven, any kind of broad white woollen Clothes, but only in a City, Borough, Town-corporate, or Market Town, or elſe in ſuch place or places where ſuch Clothes have been uſed to be commonly made by the ſpace of ten years next before the making of this Act, upon pain to forfeit for every Cloth otherwiſe made, Five pound.

A Weaver ſhall have but two Apprentices. Rep. 5 El. 4.

VII. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful to any perſon or perſons, being a Weaver, or that doth or ſhall uſe the Art or Myſtery of a Weaver or Weaving, dwelling out of a City, Borough, Town-corporate, or Market Town, to have in his and their ſervice any more, or above the number of two Apprentices at one time, upon pain to foreit for every time that he ſhall offend or do contrary to this Branch or Article, the ſum of Ten pound.

None ſhall be a Weaver, but he which hath been an Apprentice. 5 Ed. 6. 8.

VIII. And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful to or for any perſon or perſons, to ſet up the Art or Myſtery of Weaving, after the ſaid Feaſt of St. Michael, unleſs the ſame perſon or perſons ſetting up the ſame Art or Myſtery of Weaving, have been Apprentice to the ſame Art or Myſtery, or exerciſed the ſame by the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt, upon pain of Twenty pounds to be forfeited to the King and Queens Majeſties, her Graces Heirs or Succeſſors; (2) the one moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the King and Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plant or Information; wherein no Wager of Law, Eſſoin or Protection ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant.

The Inhabitants of certain Counties which ſhall not be prejudiced by this Statute.

IX. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend or be prejudicial to any perſon or perſons that doth or ſhall dwell in the Counties of York, Cumberland, Northumberland, and Weſtmerland, but that they and every of them ſhall and may have and keep Looms in their houſes and do and exerciſe all and every thing and things, for or concerning ſpinning, weaving, Cloth-working and Cloth-making in the ſaid Counties, as they or any of them might have done or exerciſed lawfully before the making of this Eſtatute; Any thing contained in this Eſtatute to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XII.

An Act for the ſealing and viewing of Clothes, commonly called Bridgwaters.

Drapery 41. In what manner Clothes called Bridgwaters, ſhall be uſed before they ſhall be bought and ſold.

WHere before this time, the Boroughs and Towns of Bridgwater, Taunton, and Card, in the County of Sommerſet, have been well and ſubſtantially inhabited, occupied, maintained and upholden, for the moſt part by reaſon of the making of Woollen Clothes, commonly called Bridgwater, Taunton, and Card Clothes, which in time paſt were much deſired, as well beyond the Seas, as in the Realm of England, and thereby the inhabitants and poor people of the ſaid Boroughs and Towns, and of the Countrey thereabouts, were daily ſet on work, and had ſufficient living by the ſame; and where alſo the ſaid Towns in times paſt were of great force and ſtrength to ſerve the King and Queens Highneſs Progenitors and Anceſtors, Kings of this Realm: (2) Foraſmuch as of late divers perſons inhabiting and dwelling in Villages, Hamlets, and ſmall Towns of Husbandry in the ſaid County of Sommerſet, which were never Prentices, or ſkilful in making the ſaid Clothes, as well for their private wealths and Commodity, as alſo becauſe they would be out of due ſearch of their Clothes to be made according to the Statute therefore provided, not regarding the maintenance of the ſaid Boroughs and Towns, nor the common wealth of the Handicraftſmen, and other poor people which chiefly had their living and ſuſtenance by making of the ſaid Cloth, have of late days exerciſed, uſed and occupied the Myſteries of Cloth-making, weaving, fulling and ſhearing, within their Houſes, and have ſo deceitfully made, wrought and ſtretched the ſaid Clothes, to the infamy and ſlander of Cloth-making in ſuch ſort and manner, that not only the ſame ſort of Clothes are grown out of eſtimation, but alſo the ſaid Towns are in great decay, ruine and depopulation:

No Bridgwater Cloth ſhall be ſold before it is viewed, ſearched and ſealed.

II. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon whatſoever inhabiting, or which ſhall hereafter inhabit within the ſaid County, ſhall after the Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady next coming, commonly called Candlemas, put to ſale any kind of ſuch Clothes as is aforeſaid, or Clothes of like nature, making and ſort, made or to be made within the ſaid County, except ſuch Cloth be firſt viewed, ſearched and ſeen in one of the Boroughs or Towns aforeſaid, whether the ſame be perfectly and truly made according to the Statute, (2) and alſo that the ſame be ſealed with the Seal of one of the ſaid Boroughs or Towns, in ſuch ſort, manner and form, as in the Statute made in the fifth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord, King Edward the Sixth, Entituled, An Act for the true making of Woollen Cloth, is for ſealing of Clothes provided and enacted, (3) upon pain that every perſon offending or doing contrary to the true meaning of this Act, ſhall forfeit the Cloth ſold, or the value thereof: (4) The moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to our Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queens Majeſties, the Heirs and Succeſſors of the Queens Majeſty, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the King and Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, her Heirs and Succeſſors, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed. CAP. XV.

An Act that Purveyors ſhall not take Victuals within five miles of Cambridge or Oxford.

Purveyors 22. Cambridge and Oxford, and five miles circuit have been free of Purveyors.

HUmbly ſue to your Majeſties, the Societies, Colledges and Companies of your true and faithful Subjects and daily Orators, the Scholars and Students of both your Majeſties Univerſities, Cambridge and Oxford, That where it hath been accuſtomed time out of mind, That both the ſaid Market Towns of Cambridge and Oxford, within the ſaid two Univerſities be ſet, and the circuit of five miles next adjoyning, hath been free from any charge or moleſtation of any common Takers or Purveyors for Victual, whereby the ſaid Markets were more plentifully ſerved with Victual, and the poor eſtate of a great multitude of Scholars having very bare and ſmall ſuſtentation, thereby relieved: (2) and now by the means that contrary to the ſame laudable cuſtom, divers Purveyors and Takers, have of late exceſſively frequented the ſame Markets, and thereby given occaſion to make Victuals both more ſcant and much dearer, to a notorious decay of Scholars, which alſo daily in this great dearth is like to increaſe and be more lamentable, to the hinderance of Gods ſervice, to the diſhonour of the Realm, the diſcomfort of all good and holy men loving Learning and Vertue:

Purveyors ſhall not take victual in Cambridge or Oxford or within five miles thereof.

II. It may therefore pleaſe your Majeſties of your great pity and abundant favour and love towards your ſaid two Univerſities, being the very two only Nurſes of good Learning in this Realm, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, to enact, ordain and eſtabliſh, That from henceforth no manner of Purveyor, Taker, Badger, Loader, or other Miniſter, may or ſhall take or bargain for any kind of Victual or Grain, in any of the ſaid Markets or Towns of Cambridge and the City of Oxford, nor ſhall take or bargain for any Victual within the compaſs of five miles thereto adjoyning, without the conſent, agreement, or good will of the owner or owners, (2) neither ſhall attempt to carry, take away or bargain for any manner of Grain or other Victual, bought or provided within the ſaid ſpace of five miles, by any common Miniſter of any Colledge, Hoſtell or Hall, to be ſpent within any of the ſaid Colledges, Hoſtels or Halls, (3) upon pain of the forfeiture of the quadruple value of any ſuch manner of Grain or Victual ſo taken or bargained for, in any of the ſaid Markets, or within the ſaid ſpace of five miles (againſt the will of the owners) as is aboveſaid, or attempted to be taken, carried away or bargained for, being provided as is aboveſaid, for to be ſpent in any the Colledges, Hoſtels or Halls, and further ſhall ſuffer impriſonment for the ſpace of three months, without bail or mainpriſe: (4) And that the Chancellor or Vicechancellor, or his Commiſſary for the time being, in either of the ſaid Univerſities, with two Juſtices of Peace of the County wherein the ſaid Univerſities be ſet, ſhall have full power by authority of this Act, to enquire by the Oaths of twelve men, of and upon the defaults, and offences committed contrary to the tenour thereof, and to ſee due puniſhment and reformation thereof in form aforeſaid from time to time; (5) the one half of which aforeſaid forfeitures to be to the common Treaſurer of either of the ſaid Univerſities, reſpectively to the fault committed againſt this their Priviledge, the other half to the party that will ſue for the ſame by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or otherwiſe, in any Court of Record, or before the aforeſaid Chancellor, his Vicechancellor or Commiſſary for the time being, and two Juſtices of Peace, as is before expreſſed.

Who may enquire of, and puniſh the offences.

This Act ſuſpended during the Queens preſence.

III. Provided, That this Act ſhall not be put in execution at any time or times whenſoever your Majeſties, or the Heirs and Succeſſors of your Majeſty our Sovereign Lady ſhall pleaſe to come to any of both the ſaid Univerſities, or within ſeven miles of either of them, but ſhall be in ſuſpence during that time only, and not longer.

The liberties of Oxford and Cambridge ſaved.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe be prejudicial or hurtful to the Mayor, Bailiffs and Commonalty of the City of Oxford, nor to the Mayor and Commonalty of the Town of Cambridge, or to their ſucceſſors, for and concerning any Liberties or Priviledges; but that they and every of them, and their ſucceſſors reſpectively, may have and uſe the ſame in ſuch manner and form, as they or any of them might or ought to have done before the making of this Act; Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. 13 El. 21. 18 El. 20. 12 Car. 2. cap. 24.

CAP. XVI.

An Act touching Watermen and Bargemen upon the River of Thames.

Boatmen 1. The Office and Duty of the eight Overſeers of Watermen Rowing between Graveſend and Windſor.

WHereas heretofore for lack of good government and due order among Wherry men and Watermen exerciſing, uſing and occupying Rowing upon the River of Thames, there have divers and many misfortunes and miſchances happened and chanced of late years paſt, to a great number of the King and Queens Subjects, as well to the Nobility as to other the common People that hath paſſed and repaſſed and been carried by Water, by reaſon of the rude, ignorant and unskilful number of Watermen, which for the moſt part been maſterleſs men, and ſingle men of all kinds of Occupations and Faculties, which do work at their own hands; and many boys being of ſmall age, and of little skill, and being perſons out of the rule and obedience of any honeſt Maſter and Governour, and do for the moſt part of their time uſe Dicing and Carding, and other unlawful Games, to the great and evil example of other ſuch

Several abuſes committed by young, unskilful and lewd Watermen.

ſuch like, and againſt the Common-wealth of this Realm: (2) And all which ſaid evil and ignorant perſons in the time of preſſing by Commiſſion, for the ſervice of the King and Queens moſt Royal Majeſties upon the Sea, for that they have no known place of abiding, do for the moſt part abſent and convey themſelves into the Countrey, and other ſecret places, practiſing there robberies and felonies, and other evil deteſtable facts, to the great annoyance of the Common-wealth: And ſo after the ſaid Commiſſion of preſſing ended, oft times the ſaid evil perſons do repair again to their former trade of rowing, colouring their evil Deeds; (3) and alſo divers of them being very ignorant, for lack of convenient time of learning and exerciſe, in the which they might obtain ſufficient knowledge of their Occupation, do oftentimes preſume and enterpriſe to receive divers of our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queens Majeſties loving Subjects into their Boats and Wherries, and do carry and convey their ſaid Subjects from place to place by water upon the ſaid River of Thames, whereby divers perſons have been robbed, and ſpoiled of their goods, and alſo drowned.

II. And for and by the occaſion aforeſaid, be daily put in fear and peril of their lives, the which is very lamentable, and not to be permitted or ſuffered in any Common-wealth: (2) And by reaſon alſo, that a great number, and the moſt part of the Wherries and Boats now occupied and uſed, and of late time made for Rowing upon the ſaid River, been made ſo little and ſmall in portion, and ſo ſtraight and narrow in the bottom, varying much from the old ſubſtantial ſort and ſure making of Boats and Wherries which was uſed before the ſpace of twenty years laſt paſt, inſomuch, as the moſt part of Boats and Wherries uſed at this day, been ſo ſhallow and tickle, that thereby great peril and danger of drowning hath many times enſued, and daily is like to enſue, unleſs ſome ſpeedy remedy be herein had and provided:

There ſhall be eight Overſeers of Watermen upon the River of Thames.

III. For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the King and Queens Majeſties, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That there ſhall be yearly appointed, choſen and elected by the Mayor and the Court of Aldermen of the City of London for the time being, the number of eight perſons of the moſt wiſe, diſcreet and beſt ſort of Watermen, being Houſholders, and occupying as Watermen upon the ſaid River, between Graveſend and Windſor; (2) which Election ſhall be yearly at the firſt Court of Aldermen to be holden within the ſaid City next after the firſt day of March: (3) And the ſaid eight perſons ſo elected, ſhall be named and called, The Overſeers and Rulers of all the Wherrimen and Watermen that from and after the ſaid firſt day of March, ſhall uſe, occupy, or exerciſe any Rowing upon the ſaid River of Thames, betwixt Graveſend and Windſor aforeſaid; (4) which ſaid Overſeers and Rulers, ſhall keep and maintain good order and obedience amongſt the ſaid Watermen, according to the true meaning of this preſent Act.

Two Watermen ſhall not carry any, but where one of them is allowed by the Overſeers, and two years hath exerciſed, &c.

IV. And alſo be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, no perſon nor perſons where two Watermen, and not above the number of two, ſhall row together in one Boat or Wherry, in any place or places betwixt Graveſend and Windſor aforeſaid, ſhall preſume or enterpriſe to receive or take any perſon or perſons into his or their Boat or Wherry, to the intent to carry or convey him or them therein, unleſs one of the ſame two Watermen have been for the moſt part exerciſed and uſed in rowing upon the ſaid River of Thames, by the ſpace of two whole years before that time, and that alſo one of the ſame two Watermen at leaſt, be duly admitted and allowed by the ſame eight Overſeers and Rulers, or the moſt part of them, by writing under their known Seal, to be a ſufficient and able Waterman, (2) upon pain that every perſon and perſons preſuming or offending contrary to the true meaning of this preſent Act, ſhall by the ſaid eight Overſeers or Rulers be committed to Priſon in one of the Counters of the City of London, there to remain by the ſpace of one month or leſs, as the offence ſhall require.

No ſingle man ſhall be a Waterman, &c.

V. And alſo be it further enacted, That no perſon or perſons being ſingle men, not keeping Houſhold and not retained, ſhall from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, uſe or exerciſe to row between Graveſend and Windſor aforeſaid, unleſs he or they be Prentice or Prentices, or in ſervice retained with a Maſter by the whole year at the leaſt, upon pain of like impriſonment.

Who ſhall have authority to puniſh offenders.

VI. And alſo be it further enacted, That the Lord Mayor of London and the Aldermen of the ſame City, and the Juſtices of Peace within the Shires next adjoyning to the ſaid River of Thames, every of them within their ſeveral juriſdictions and authorities, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this preſent Act, upon complaint made to them or any of them by the ſaid Overſeers and Rulers, or two of them, or the Maſter or Maſters of any ſuch ſervants, not only to examine, hear and determine all complaints or offences to be done or committed by any ſuch perſon or perſons that ſhall offend contrary to the true meaning of this preſent Act, and to ſet at large all and every ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall fortune to be impriſoned by the ſaid Overſeers and Rulers according to this Act, if juſt cauſe ſhall appear unto them ſo to do; but alſo by their good diſcretions and wiſdom to puniſh, correct, and reform the ſaid Overſeers and Rulers, and every of them that ſhall unjuſtly, or without good cauſe or ground, puniſh any perſon or perſons by colour of this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained.

The length, breadth, and goodneſs of Boats.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons whatſoever, from henceforth do or ſhall make any wherry or Boat, to the intent commonly to uſe rowing and carrying people upon the ſaid River of Thames, which ſhall not be two and twenty foot and a half in length, and four foot and a half broad in the midſhip, or which ſhall not be ſubſtantially and well able, and ſufficient to carry two perſons on one ſide right, according to the old quantity, ſcantling, thickneſs of bord, goodneſs and good proportion heretofore had and uſed, that then the ſame Boat or Boats ſo being made contrary to the proportion and ſort before expreſſed, ſhall be taken as forfeit, the one half thereof to the King and Queens Majeſties, our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Ladies uſe, and to the uſe of the Heirs and Succeſſors of the Queens Majeſty: and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the King and Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, by action of detinue, bill, plaint, information or otherwiſe; wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin, protection or injunction ſhall be allowed for the Defendant.

The puniſhment of Watermen withdrawing themſelves in the time of Preſſing.

VIII. And be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons which from and after the ſaid Feaſt ſhall uſe and exerciſe the Occupation of Rowing betwixt Graveſend and Windſor aforeſaid, which in the time of the execution of any Commiſſion of Preſſing that ſhall be had for the ſervice of the King and Queens Majeſties, and the Heirs and Succeſſors of the Queens Majeſty, in their affair, ſhall willingly, voluntarily and obſtinately withdraw, hide or convey him or themſelves in the ſame time of Preſſing, into ſecret places and out-corners, and after when ſuch time of Preſſing is overpaſſed, ſhall return and come again to the ſaid River of Thames, to Row betwixt Graveſend and Windſor aforeſaid, and that duly proved by two indifferent witneſſes, before the ſaid Lord Mayor and Court of Aldermen or Juſtices of the Peace, and two of the ſaid Rulers, that then he or they ſo doing and offending, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of two weeks, and be baniſhed any more to Row from thenceforth upon the ſaid River of Thames, by the ſpace of one whole year and day then next following.

The Overſeers ſhall correct the Watermen and regiſter their Names.

Overſeers ſhall view the Boats before they be lanched forth.

IX. And be it further enacted, That it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid eight Rulers for the time being, and their Succeſſors from time to time, to convent and call before them at ſome convenient place by them to be appointed, all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, which from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt, ſhall uſe and occupy the ſaid Trade and Occupation of Rowing betwixt Graveſend and Windſor aforeſaid, (2) and ſhall enter and Regiſter the name and names of them and every of them that ſhall be by them allowed or admitted for Watermen to Row betwixt Graveſend and Windſor aforeſaid, in a Book to be made for the ſame intent and purpoſe, (3) and to take ſuch further order and direction therein with every the ſaid parties, by the authority of this preſent Act, as it ſhall ſeem meet and neceſſary by the diſcretion of the ſaid Overſeers and Rulers for the time being: (4) And alſo that the ſaid Overſeers and Rulers ſhall and may by the authority of this Act, overſee, view and ſurvey at all and every time and times hereafter, all manner Boats and Wherries that ſhall from and after the ſaid Feaſt be made, before the ſaid Boat or Boats, Wherry or Wherries, be lanched out of the yard or ground wherein the ſame Boat or Boats, Wherry or Wherries ſhall fortune to be made, into the ſaid River of Thames, to the intent that they and every of them may be made and prepared in ſuch manner and form, and according to the goodneſs, proportion, and quantity in this preſent Act before limited and expreſſed.

The penalty of Overſeers refuſing their place, or being negligent therein.

X. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons which at any time hereafter ſhall be elected or choſen to be a Ruler or Overſeer as before is expreſſed, do happen negligently to uſe and exerciſe his or their room or place, or that will obſtinately refuſe to take upon him or them the room or rooms, place or places of the ſaid Overſeers or Rulers, that then all and every ſuch offender or offenders, ſhall loſe and forfeit the ſum of five pound of lawful money of England, the one half whereof ſhall be to our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queens Majeſties uſe, and to the uſe of the Heirs and Succeſſors of the Queens Majeſty; and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the King and Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, by action of debt, or by any other the ways or means above ſpecified, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin, protection, or injunction ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant or Defendants.

Aſſeſment what fares Watermen ſhall take for rowing between Graveſend and Windſor. 6 H. 8. 7.

XI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Mayor and Court of Aldermen of the ſaid City of London for the time being, ſhall from time to time at their diſcretions, limit, let and aſſeſs the price or prices, and ſums of money that every perſon or perſons ſo authorized to Row as is aforeſaid, betwixt Graveſend and Windſor aforeſaid, ſhall take for his or their labour or fare from place to place, particularly betwixt Graveſend and Windſor aforeſaid; (2) and the ſame prices and aſſeſments to be ſet, ſhall bring or cauſe to be brought to the Privy Council of our Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queen, to be viewed and ſeen by ſome of the ſaid Privy Council; and after that, the ſaid aſſeſments and prices ſhall be ſigned and ſubſcribed with the hands of two of the ſaid Privy Council at the leaſt, (3) and the ſaid Mayor and Court of Aldermen for the time being, ſhall cauſe the ſaid prices and aſſeſments to be written and ſet up in Tables in the Guild-hall in the City of London, Weſtminſter-Hall and elſewhere, where the ſaid Mayor and Court of Aldermen ſhall think convenient: (4) And every perſon and perſons that ſhall take for his or their fare or labour above the prices that ſhall be aſſeſſed, viewed, written and ſet up in form aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence forty ſhillings, and alſo ſhall ſuffer impriſonment by one half year: (5) the one moiety of the ſaid forfeiture to be to the King and Queens Majeſties, their Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the King and Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, by action of debt, or any other the ways or means above ſpecified, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin, protection, or injunction ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant or Defendants.

The ſervants of Weſtern Bargemen. Rep. 5 El. 4.

XII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons occupying or uſing any Weſtern Barge, ſhall retain, take or receive into his or their ſervice, any ſingle perſon not keeping houſe or houſhold, but only ſuch as ſhall be retained with him or them by the whole year, and no houſholder but ſuch as he or they will and ſhall anſwer for, for his or their good behaviour, (2) upon pain of forfeiture for every ſuch offence, forty ſhillings: the one moiety thereof to be to the King and Queens Majeſties, her Heirs and Succeſſors; and the other moiety thereof to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the King and Queens Courts of Record, by action of debt, or by any other the ways or means above ſpecified, wherein no wager of Law, eſſoin, protection, or injunction ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant or Defendants. An Act touching Commiſſions of Peace and of Gaol-delivery, in Towns-corporate not being Counties.

Juſtices of Peace 110.

WHere the King and Queens moſt excellent Highneſs, and their noble Progenitors Kings of this Realm, have heretofore granted their ſeveral Commiſſions directed as well unto the Mayors, Recorders, and other grave men, and Inhabitants of certain ancient and famous Cities and Towns-corporate within this Realm of England, not being Counties in themſelves, as alſo unto divers other worſhipful and learned men dwelling out of the ſame Cities and Towns-corporate, as well for the keeping of their peace, good ordering of their people, and executing of their Laws and Statutes within the ſame Cities and Towns-corporate, as alſo for the delivery of their Majeſties Priſoners remaining in the Gaols there, and after the granting of ſuch Commiſſions, their Majeſties have granted divers other like Commiſſions unto certain worſhipful and learned men of the Shires, Lathes, Rapes, Ridings, and Wapentakes of this Realm of England, for the confirmation of their peace, and alſo delivering of their Priſoners remaining in their Gaols within the ſame Shires, Lathes, Rapes, Ridings, and Wapentakes; (2) which Commiſſions ſo bearing a later date, have been a Superſedeas and clear diſcharge unto all and ſingular the ſaid former Commiſſions granted unto the ſaid Cities and Towns-corporate, not being Counties in themſelves; (3) ſo that the ſaid Mayor and other grave and chiefeſt Officers of every ſuch City and Town-corporate, have been charged to ſue for the renewing again of ſuch Commiſſions, both for the Peace and Gaol-delivery, to the great expences, coſt and charges of the ſaid Mayor and other the Inhabitants of ſuch Cities and Towns-corporate, and to the great protracting and delay of Juſtice there in the mean time: For reformation whereof, and for the advancement of Juſtice in the premiſſes:

A Commiſſion of the Peace and Gaol-delivery, ſhall not be a Superſedeas to a former like Commiſſion granted to a City or Town-corporate. Cok. Inſtitut. 4 part 169.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the King and Queens Majeſties, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular Commiſſion and Commiſſions granted or to be granted to any ſuch City or Town-corporate, not being as is aforeſaid, a County in it ſelf, for the keeping of their peace and delivery of the Priſoners remaining in the Gaols of any ſuch City or Town-corporate, not being a County in it ſelf, ſhall ſtand, remain, and be good and available and effectual in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, the granting of any like Commiſſion of Peace or Gaol-delivery to any Commiſſioner or Commiſſioners for the conſervation of the Peace, or delivery of the Priſoners remaining in the Gaol of any Shire, Lathe, Rape, Riding, or Wapentake within the Realm of England, bearing date after the ſaid Commiſſion or Commiſſions granted as is aforeſaid, to any ſuch City or Town-corporate, not being as is aforeſaid, a County in it ſelf, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Lancaſter, Raſt. 5. The decay of the revenues of the Dutchy of Lancaſter.

FOraſmuch as the King and Queen our Sovereign Lord and Lady conſidering and regarding the Eſtate of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, being one of the moſt famous, princelieſt and ſtatelieſt pieces of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens ancient Inheritance, do perceive and conſider, that the poſſeſſions and yearly Revenues of the ſaid Dutchy, are and have been of late greatly diminiſhed, as well by reaſon of ſundry Gifts, Grants, and Sales made by the late Kings of famous memory, Henry the Eighth, and Edward the Sixth, late Kings of England, Father and Brother to our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Highneſs, as alſo by reaſon of ſundry Exchanges made with divers their loving Subjects, of ſundry manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions and hereditaments lately belonging to the ſame Dutchy, and the manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions and hereditaments, being received in recompence of the ſaid exchanges, be not annexed to the ſaid Dutchy, but been in the order, ſurvey and governance of other Courts and places ſo by their Highneſſes taken and received in exchange:

II. And foraſmuch alſo as their Majeſties do mind and intend to preſerve, advance, maintain and continue the ancient and honourable Eſtate of the ſaid Dutchy, our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady therefore be pleaſed and contented, that it be enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by their Majeſties with the aſſents of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all honours, caſtles, lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements, poſſeſſions and hereditaments within this Realm of England, which at any time ſince the Eight and twentieth day of January, in the Firſt year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, were parcel of the poſſeſſion of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, or which were united and annexed to the ſaid Dutchy, by authority of Parliament, Letters Patents, or otherwiſe, and which at any time ſince the ſaid Eight and twentieth day of January, have been given, granted, alienated, bargained, ſold, exchanged, or otherwiſe ſevered from the ſaid Dutchy by our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, or by our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen that now is, or by our Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queens Majeſties that now be, to or with any perſon or perſons, and which ſaid honours, caſtles lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, and ſuch gifts, grants, alienations, bargains, ſales, exchanges, or ſeverance thereof ſo made as is aforeſaid, been comen, or returned again to the hands of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, or to the hands of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, or to the hands of our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queen, or to the hands of her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, in poſſeſſion, reverſion, remainder, or otherwiſe, by attainder, eſcheat, forfeiture, purchaſe, remainder, or otherwiſe: And which now be or remain in the hands of our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queens Majeſties, of any eſtate of inheritance, ſhall from the time the ſame came and reverted again to the hands of our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queen, by authority and force of this Act, be united and annexed for ever unto the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, and ſhall be adjudged, deemed and taken for ever, for and as parcels and members of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter; (2) and that all ſuch and thoſe of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments which be lying within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, ſhall be of the ſame nature, quality, kind and condition, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as others the ancient poſſeſſions of the ſaid Dutchy, lying and being within the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, be and ought to be; (3) and all thoſe and ſuch of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments which be lying out of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, ſhall be of the ſame nature, quality, kind and condition, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as other ancient poſſeſſions of the ſaid Dutchy, lying and being out of the County Palatine of Lancaſter, be and ought to be; (4) and ſhall be in the letting, ſetting, order, rule, ſurvey, receit and governance of the Chancellor, Councel, and Officers of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter for the time being for ever more, in like and the ſame manner and form, to all intents and purpoſes, as others the ſaid ancient poſſeſſions belonging to the ſaid Dutchy, been, have been, or owen to be.

The new annexed Lands ſhall paſs under the Seal of the Dutchy, and with the ſame ceremonies.

III. And that all the ſaid honours, caſtles, lordſhips, manors, lands tenements and hereditaments, united and annexed to the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, by authority and force of this Act, and all and ſingular gifts, grants, leaſes, Letters Patents and Writings thereof, or of any parcel thereof hereafter to be made by the King and Queens Highneſs, or by the Heirs or Succeſſors of her Majeſty, ſhall for evermore paſs and be made under ſuch of the Seals of the ſaid Dutchy, as other the ancient poſſeſſions of the ſaid Dutchy have uſed to paſs and be made, and not under any other Seal or otherwiſe, and with the like and the ſame livery of ſeiſin, atturnements, ceremonies, orders and circumſtances in the Law, and in the ſame manner and form as other the ancient poſſeſſions of the ſaid Dutchy, and the Letters Patents, Charters and Writings thereof heretofore of ancient made, have uſed and ought to be made and paſſed, and not otherwiſe, nor in any other manner and form; Any law, eſtatute, uſage or cuſtom to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Other Lands may be annexed to the Dutchy of Lancaſter.

IV. And be it further enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queen that now be, and the Heirs and Succeſſors of her Majeſty, may from time to time hereafter at their liberties and pleaſures, by their Graces Letters Patents, to be ſealed with the Great Seal of England, unite, annex, limit, aſſign and appoint any other their honours, caſtles, lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, lying and being within this their ſaid Realm of England, unto their ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, for the further augmentation, honour and eſtate of the ſaid Dutchy, at their wills and pleaſures.

V. And that all and every ſuch annexing, limiting, aſſignment and appointment made or to be made by our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queen, or by the Heirs or Succeſſors of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, of any their honours, caſtles, lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, unto the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, by any their ſaid Letters Patents under the Great Seal of England, ſhall be as good and available as if it were done by authority of Parliament.

Lands to be annexed lying within the County Palatine.

VI. And that all ſuch honours, caſtles, lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments lying and being within the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, which ſhall happen to be united and annexed to the ſaid Dutchy by force of any ſuch Letters Patents, ſhall from the teſte of the ſaid Letters Patents, be within the order, ſurvey, rule, governance, juriſdiction, letting and ſetting of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter for the time being, as other poſſeſſions of the ſaid Dutchy, lying and being within the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, have uſed and owen to be.

Lands to be annexed to the Dutchy, lying out of the County Palatine of Lancaſter.

VII. And that all other honours, caſtles, lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments, lying and being out of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, which ſhall happen to be united and annexed to the ſaid Dutchy by force of any ſuch Letters Patents, ſhall be from the teſte of the ſaid Letters Patents, within the order, ſurvey, rule, governance, juriſdiction, letting and ſetting of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, as others the poſſeſſions of the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, lying and being out of the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, have uſed and owen to be; (2) Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, to their heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns, and to the heirs, ſucceſſors and aſſigns of every of them, all ſuch right, title, intereſt, entries, conditions, occupations, poſſeſſion, leaſe and leaſes, fees, annuities, offices, ſervices, commons, profits, commodities, eaſements, actions, ſuits, demands, thing and things whatſoever, which they or any of them ſhould, might or ought to have had into or out of any the premiſſes, before the making of this Act, in like and in the ſame manner, form and condition, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had or made; any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A ſaving of the right of others.

Certain lands excepted which are not to be annexed to the Dutchy of Lancaſter.

VIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing or things therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to enable or give any liberty to our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queen, nor to the Heirs and Succeſſors of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, to unite and annex to the Dutchy of Lancaſter, by their Letters Patents, any honors, caſtles, lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, being any part or parcel of the ancient inheritance of the Crown, or of the Principality of Wales, or of the Dutchy of Cornwall, or of the Earldom of Cheſter, or any their honors, caſtles, lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, ſet, lying, or being within the Counties of Cheſter and Flint, or either of them; nor to give, annex or aſſign to the ſaid Dutchy of Lancaſter, any honors, caſtles, lordſhips, manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, exceeding and amounting in the whole, above the yearly value of two thouſand pounds; any clauſe, article or thing in this Act rehearſed, contained or ſpecified to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

IX. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the farms, rents, ſutes and ſervices of ſuch and as many of the ſaid manors, lands, tenements and hereditaments mentioned in this Act, belonging to the Dutchy of Lancaſter, and County Palatine of Lancaſter, or to either of them, ſhall be anſwered and paid in the Court of the Dutchy Chamber at Weſtminſter, or to the Receivers General and other Miniſters of the ſame Court, in like manner and form as heretofore have been uſed and accuſtomed; (2) and that all Leaſes hereafter to be made of any of the ſame manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments belonging to the ſaid Dutchy, ſhall be made under the Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, in like manner and form as heretofore have been uſed; This Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Anno quarto & quinto Philippi & Mariæ.

ACTS made at a Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the one and twentieth day of January, in the Fourth and Fifth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord and Lady Philip and Mary, by the Grace of God, King and Queen of England, Spain, France, both the Sicilies, Jeruſalem and Ireland, Defenders of the Faith; Princes of Spain and Sicily, Arch-Dukes of Auſtria, Dukes of Millain, Burgandy and Brabant, Counties of Haſpurg, Flanders, and Tyroll: And there continued and kept until the ſeventh day of March then next following, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act for confirmation of Letters Patents.

Where ſithence the ſeventh day of July, in the Firſt year of the Queens Majeſties Reign, divers and ſundry honors, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices and other hereditaments, have been conveyed and aſſured to her Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, by or from divers and ſundry perſons, and bodies politick, as well for the diſcharge and ſatisfaction of great debts and ſums of money, as for other good conſiderations: For the perfect aſſurance, confirmation, and further ſurety whereof, Patents 21. Confirmation of all Letters Patents, &c. made by the King & Queen, or by the Queen ſince the 7 of July. 1 M. or to be made ſeven years after, &c.

II. Be it enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the King and Queens Majeſties, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all feoffments, fines, ſurrenders, aſſurances, conveyances and eſtates in any wiſe conveyed, had or made, to or for our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady, the King and Queens Majeſties, or to or for our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, by or from any ſuch perſon or perſons, bodies politick, and corporate, of any ſuch honors, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices or other hereditaments, for any debt, ſum or ſums of money, or other conſideration whatſoever, ſhall ſtand, remain and be good and available in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, according to the true meaning, intent and purport of the ſame:

III. Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, and to their heirs, bodies politick and corporate, and to their ſucceſſors, and to every of them, (other then ſuch perſon or perſons, and their heirs and wives, and every of them, bodies politick and corporate, and their ſucceſſors, and every of them, of or from whom the King and Queens Highneſs, or the Queens Highneſs only hath obtained or purchaſed the ſaid premiſſes, or any parcel thereof, by change, gift, bargain, fine, feoffment, recovery, deed enrolled or otherwiſe) (2) all ſuch right, title, intereſt, uſe, poſſeſſion, rents, reverſions, remainders, offices, fees, commons, profits and commodities whatſoever, which they or any of them have, might or ought to have had, of, in or to the premiſſes, or any part thereof, in as large and ample manner, form and condition, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had ne made; this preſent Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Other perſons rights ſaved.

IV. And where, as well our Sovereign Lord and Lady, as our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Highneſs, ſithence the ſaid ſeventh day of July, in the firſt year of her Majeſties Reign, as well for divers and great ſums of money, as alſo for divers and ſundry other conſiderations, have, and hath bargained, ſold, given or granted by their or her Graces ſundry Letters Patents, Indentures or other Writings ſealed under the Great Seal of England, and the Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, as well to bodies politick and corporate, as to divers and ſundry other their loving and obedient Subjects, divers and ſundry honors, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices and other hereditaments, in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, and for term of life, lives or years, as in the ſame Letters Patents, Indentures and other Writings, is mentioned and declared: (2) And to the intent the ſame Letters Patents, Indentures and other Writings, ſhould be good, available, and of perfect force and effect, to all and every her Highneſs loving Subjects, according to the true meaning and effect of the ſame,

V. Our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady, the King and Queen are contented and pleaſed, That it be enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament; And therefore by our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queens Majeſties, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, Be it enacted and eſtabliſhed, That as well all and ſingular Letters Patents, Indentures or other Writings ſealed under the Great Seal of England, or under the Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, and heretofore made or granted by our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady the King and Queen, or by our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, for any ſums of Money, or for or upon other conſiderations, as all other Letters Patents hereafter to be made by our ſaid Sovereign Lord and Lady, for any ſum or ſums of money during the ſpace of ſeven years next enſuing the making of this Act, to any body politick or corporate, or to any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, of any honors, caſtles, manors, lordſhips, granges, meaſes, lands, tenements, meadows, paſtures, rents, reverſions, ſervices, woods, advowſons, nominations, patronages, annuities, rights, intereſts, entries, conditions, leets, courts, liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, or of any other hereditaments with their appurtenances, or of any part or parcel of them, ſealed with or under the Great Seal of England, or under the Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, of whatſoever kind, nature or quality, they or any of them be or ſhall be reputed, known, or taken, with their appurtenances, or any part or parcel of them, ſhall be good, perfect and effectual in the Law, and ſhall ſtand, be taken, reputed, deemed and adjudged good, perfect, ſure, available and effectual in the Law, as well againſt the King and Queens Majeſties, as againſt the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, according to the tenor of the ſaid Letters Patents, (2) the ſame to be expounded, conſtrued, deemed and adjudged moſt beneficial for the Patentees and Grantees of the ſame, according unto the words and purport of every of the ſaid Letters Patents, without any confirmation, licence or toleration of the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors: (3) any miſnaming, miſ-recital, or non-recital of any of the ſaid honors, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements and other the premiſſes, or any parcel thereof: (4) or any lack of finding Offices, or inquiſitions, of and in the premiſſes, whereby the title of the Queens Highneſs therein ought to have been found before making of the ſame Letters Patents, or other Writings: (5) or any miſ-recital, or non-recital of Leaſes thereof before made, as well of Record as not of Record: (6) or any lack of the certainty, miſ-caſting, rating or ſetting forth of the yearly values and rates of the premiſſes, or of the yearly rents reſerved of and for the premiſſes, or any parcel thereof, mentioned or contained in any the ſaid Letters Patents, or other Writing: (7) or for that the premiſſes be, or any part thereof is valued to a more or leſs value in the ſaid Letters Patents or Writings, than the ſaid manors, lands, tenements and other the premiſes then were or ſhall be in yearly value: (8) or any miſ-naming of towns, hamlets, pariſhes or countreys where the ſame honors, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, rents, hereditaments and other the premiſſes, and every parcel thereof, or any parcel thereof lien or been: (9) or any lack of the true naming of the lands, tenements or hereditaments, or of the natures, kinds, ſorts, or quantities of the ſaid poſſeſſions or hereditaments, or any parcel thereof: (10) or any lack of the true naming of the corporation: or any lack of atturnment, livery and ſeiſin: (11) or any miſnaming of any the late tenants or fermors of the ſame ſo ſold or given notwithſtanding.

Defects in the Letters Patents ſaved.

An Act for the taking of Muſters.

WHere heretofore Commandment hath been given by the King and Queens Majeſties, and other the Progenitors of the Queens Majeſty, Kings of this Realm, to divers and ſundry perſons, to Muſter their Majeſties people and ſubjects of this their Realm of England, and to levy a number of them for the ſervice of their Majeſties and of this Realm in their Wars, ſuch as were moſt able and likelieſt to ſerve well in the ſame: (2) which ſervice hath been greatly hindred, as well for that a great number have abſented them from the ſaid Muſters, which ought to have come to the ſame, as alſo for that many of the moſt noble and likely men for that ſervice, have been through friendſhip or reward releaſed, forborn and diſcharged of the ſaid ſervice; (3) and ſome other not being able or meet, taken, appointed and choſen thereunto, and yet the ſame diſability and unaptneſs, notwithſtanding the ſame unable and unmeet perſons, upon ſums of money, or other kind of rewards or exactions by them paid to ſome ſuch as had the Order of the ſaid Muſters, have been alſo releaſed and diſcharged of the ſaid ſervice, to the great impoveriſhment of the Subjects, and chiefly to the great peril and danger of this noble Realm, in the hindrance of the true and neceſſary ſervice thereof:

Captains, 3, 12, &c.

The penalty for a Souldier departing from his Captain without his licence, and for not appearing at Muſters, &c.

Several cauſes of hindrance of due ſerving in War.

II. For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the King and Queen our Sovereign Lord and Lady, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, that ſhall be commanded at any time hereafter, generally or ſpecially to Muſter afore any ſuch as ſhall have authority or commandment for the ſame, by or from the King and Queens Majeſties, or by the Heirs or Succeſſors of the Queens Majeſty, or by any Lieutenant, Warden, or other perſon or perſons authorized for the ſame, do willingly abſent him or themſelves from the ſame Muſters, having no true and reaſonable excuſe of ſickneſs, or other lawful impediment: or at their appearance at ſuch Muſters do not bring with them ſuch their beſt furniture or array, and armor, as he or they ſhall then have for his or their own perſon in readineſs, ſhall for every ſuch default and offence have and ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of ten days without bail or mainpriſe, by the Commandment of ſuch as ſhall have authority, as is aforeſaid, to take the ſame muſters, unleſs he or they ſo offending, as is aforeſaid, do agree to or with the Commiſſioners, or two of them, to pay to the uſe of the King and Queen our Sovereign Lord and Lady, or of the Heirs and Succeſſors of the ſame our Sovereign Lady, for every ſuch offence fourty ſhillings for a Fine; (2) which ſaid Fine after agreement for the payment of the ſame, [illegible] certified and eſtreated into the Court of the Exchequer at Weſtminſter, by ſuch as ſhall have power to take the ſaid Muſters, as is aforeſaid, or by two of them, under their Seals, or the Seals of two of them, within the ſpace of two months next after ſuch agreement to pay the ſaid Fine had or made, and the ſame Fine ſo eſtreated, to be levied in ſuch form as Fines aſſeſſed by the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or of Goal-delivery, in their Circuits are uſed to be levied.

The penalty of Muſter-maſters taking reward to diſcharge them.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons which at any time or times hereafter ſhall be commanded or appointed by the King and Queen our Sovereign Lord and Lady, or by the Heirs and Succeſſors of the ſame our Sovereign Lady, by their Commiſſion, Letters, or otherwiſe authoriſed to levy, muſter or make any man to ſerve in their Wars, or otherwiſe, for the defence of this Realm, do by any mean exact, levy, receive, or take, or cauſe to be taken any ſum or ſums of money, or other reward or thing whatſoever, of any perſon or perſons, for ſervice in the Wars, or that ſhall be appointed, named or muſtered to ſerve in any ſuch ſervice, or for the ſparing, releaſing or diſcharging of ſuch perſon or perſons from the ſaid ſervice, that then every ſuch perſon that ſo ſhall offend in exacting, receiving or taking by any ways or means, any ſum or ſums of money or other reward or thing whatſoever, as is aforeſaid, ſhall for ſuch offence forfeit ten times ſo much as he ſhall ſo receive, exact or take.

The penalty of a captain, licenſing his ſouldier to depart, or not paying his wages.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Captain, petty Captain, or other, having charge of men for ſerving in War, ſhall for any advantage, lucre or gain by him to be taken or received, diſcharge or licenſe any of the Souldiers, or men appointed to ſerve in the Wars under his rule or order, to depart from the ſame ſervice, or ſhall not pay unto his Souldiers, and to every of them their full and whole wages, conduct and coat-money, within ten days next after that ſuch Captain, petty Captain, or other having charge of men, as is aforeſaid, ſhall have received the ſame, that then the party ſo offending in giving any ſuch licenſe or diſcharge, as is aforeſaid, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every ſuch offence, ten times the value of the thing ſo taken or received, and ſhall alſo pay to every Souldier from whom he ſhall ſo withhold any of the ſaid wages, conduct or coat-money, treble the ſum ſo withholden; (2) the one moiety of all which forfeitures; other then ſuch as before by this Act is limited or given to the Souldier or Souldiers, as is aforeſaid, for their wages coat or conduct-money withdrawn, ſhall be to the King and the Queens Majeſties, and the Heirs and Succeſſors of the Queens Majeſty, and the other moiety thereof to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by Action of debt, bill, plaint, information or otherwiſe, in any Court of Record; in which action or ſuit, no eſſoin, protection or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Who ſhall have the forfeiture.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Juſtices of Aſſizes in their Circuits, and all Juſtices of Peace within the limits of their Commiſſion, in their Aſſizes and Seſſions, and Stewards of the Leets, Law-days and Liberties, at their Leets and Law-days, ſhall and may from time to time enquire, hear and determine every of the ſaid offences committed or done contrary to this Act, within the precincts of their Commiſſion, Leet or Liberty: (2) and if any perſon or perſons ſhall be, before the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize, Juſtices of Peace, or any of them, preſented or indicted of any the offences aforeſaid, that then the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize, or Juſtices of Peace before whom ſuch indictment or preſentment ſhall be taken or had, ſhall and may by the authority of this Act, award ſuch proceſs againſt every ſuch perſon or perſons indicted, as upon indictments of Treſpaſs is uſed and accuſtomed to be made: (3) and if any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo indicted do appear before the ſaid Juſtices, and confeſs the ſame, or plead to the ſame Indictments, and after by verdict of twelve men, ſhall be of any of the ſaid offences contained in ſuch indictment or Indictments, convicted, that then the ſaid Juſtices before whom any ſuch conviction ſhall be ſo had, ſhall and may award ſuch perſon and perſons ſo convicted, unto priſon, there to remain without Bail or Mainpriſe, until ſuch time as he or they have payed or ſatisfied the moiety of the forfeiture aforeſaid, unto the King and Queens Majeſties uſe, and the other moiety thereof unto him or them that ſhall come before the ſaid Juſtices, and give evidence againſt the party to be convicted at the time of the ſaid conviction, and by whoſe evidence he ſhall be of the ſaid offence convicted: (4) And if any ſuch conviction ſhall be had without any evidence openly given by any perſon or perſons, that then the party convicted, as is aforeſaid, ſhall remain in priſon, as is aforeſaid, untill he have ſatisfied the whole forfeiture to the King and Queens Majeſties uſe.

Offences committed during the time of ſervice.

VI. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any the offences aforeſaid, touching Captains, petty Captains, or other having charge of men, ſhall be committed during the time that any Army or number of men being under a Lieutenant, ſhall be aſſembled and continue together, or by any Captain, petty Captain, or other having charge of men that ſhall ſerve under any Lord-warden or other Chieftain, that then upon complaint thereof the Lord-lieutenant, or the Lord-warden, or other Chieftain during the time of any his or their Commiſſion, ſhall and may hear, order, and determine the offences, by his or their diſcretions.

Service in reſpect of tenure of land.

VII. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to take away or diſcharge any tenant or fermor of his ſervice or covenant toward his Lord, for the finding of horſe, armour or weapon, or for doing of ſervice by himſelf, or by any other, which by the tenure of his land otherwiſe is bounden to do before the making of this Act; but that he ſhall yield, do, and pay the ſame in as ample manner and form as though this Act had never been had or made.

He that is once convicted ſhall not be again troubled.

VIII. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch Captain, petty Captain, or other having charge of men, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be at any time hereafter convicted, or ordered by virtue of this Act, for any his offences aforeſaid, that then the ſame Captain, petty Captain, or other having charge of men, as is aforeſaid, ſo convicted, ſhall not otherwiſe or eftſoons he vexed, troubled, ſued, or convicted for the ſame offence, whereof he ſhall be ſo before convicted.

A reviver of the Statute of 2 & 3 Ed. 6. 2.

IX. And where one branch or article contained in the Statute made in the ſecond and third year of the Reign of the late King Edward the Sixth, intituled, An Act touching the true ſervice of Captains and Souldiers, whereby the departure of any Souldier, ſerving as in the ſaid Act is expreſſed, without licence of the Lieutenant, or other Officer or Officers named in this ſaid Act, or in their abſence, of their deputies, was made felony, is of no force, ſtrength, ne effect, at this preſent, by reaſon of the Act of Repeal of certain Treaſons, Felonies, and Præmunire, made in the firſt Seſſions of the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the Firſt year of the Queens Majeſties Reign: (2) Be it for good and reaſonable conſiderations enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid branch or article, and every ſentence and matter therein contained, be from henceforth wholly revived and recontinued, and be and remain in full ſtrength and effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, the ſaid Act of Repeal notwithſtanding: (3) And that all and every other article, clauſe, proviſo and matter contained in the ſame Act, ſhall ſtand, remain, and be in their full force, ſtrength and effect; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

1 M. 1.

X. And yet nevertheleſs where in the ſaid Act it is provided, That no perſon or perſons ſhould be charged for the taking and receiving of any gift or reward of any of his or their Tenants or friends towards the relief, aid or help of the ſame perſons being commanded to ſerve in Wars, or otherwiſe to find men on horſeback or on foot, within this Realm or without, (2) or for the gift, reward, aid or help reſerved, or covenanted to be paid or given to any perſon appointed to ſerve in Wars, or to find horſe and men to ſerve, by reaſon of any grant, covenant, reſervation, cuſtom or tenure; any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary notwithſtanding, as by the ſaid Act and Proviſo more plainly it doth and may appear: (3) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons ſhall or may by colour of the ſaid Proviſo, or of any words or matter therein contained, exact or demand, or levy any ſum or ſums of money, horſe, armour, or any other thing, other then ſhall be imployed forthwith in the preſent ſervice of thoſe Wars, of the King and Queens Majeſties, her Heirs and Succeſſors, for which it is levied; the which ſum or ſums of money, horſe, armour or other thing, or as much thereof as ſhall not be ſpent, loſt or conſumed in the ſaid ſervice, ſhall be rendred and reſtored to ſuch perſon or perſons as payed or delivered the ſame, upon the penalties and forfeitures contained in the ſaid Act.

What relief of friends or tenants may be taken toward ſervice in war.

XI. Provided always, That no perſon or perſons, inhabiting within any City, Borough or Town corporate, being a County of it ſelf, or in which any Juſtices of Peace be, or hereafter ſhall be, by Charter, ſhall be compellable by virtue of this Act, to make his or their appearance with ſuch furniture as is aforeſaid, at any Muſter hereafter to be had or taken, out of the Suburbs, Precinct or Liberties of the ſame City, Borough or Town, nor before any perſon or perſons authoriſed by Commiſſion or otherwiſe, as is aforeſaid, unleſs the Mayor, or other head Officer of ſuch City, Borough or Town, and one other diſcreet Inhabitant of the ſame at the leaſt, be joyned in the ſame Commiſſion, or other authority, as is aforeſaid, with the ſame other perſon or perſons ſo authoriſed; any thing before mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. IV.

An Act that Acceſſaries in Murder and divers Felonies, ſhall not have benefit of Clergy.

For the due puniſhment of ſuch as command, counſel, or hire any perſon or perſons, to commit, perpetrate, or do any pety Treaſon, wilful Murder, or any of the offences in this preſent Act mentioned: (2) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every perſon and perſons, that after the firſt day of March next coming, ſhall maliciouſly command, hire, or counſel any perſon or perſons, to commit or do any pety Treaſon, wilful Murder, or to do any robbery in any dwelling houſe or houſes, or to commit or do any robbery in or near any High-way in this Realm of England, or in any other the Queens Dominions, or to commit or do any robbery in any place within the Marches of England againſt Scotland, or wilfully to burn any dwelling houſe, or any part thereof, or any barn then having Corn or Grain in the ſame, that then every ſuch offender or offenders, and every of them being outlawed thereof, or being thereof arraigned and found guilty by the order of the Law, or being otherwiſe lawfully attainted or convicted of the ſame offence, or by being arraigned thereof, do ſtand mute of malice or froward mind, or do challenge peremptory above the number of twenty perſons, or will not anſwer directly to ſuch offence, ſhall not have the benefit of his or their Clergy.

Clergie 6. Acceſſaries in pety Treaſon, Felony, Murder, ſhall not have their Clergy. St. 2 & 3 P. & M. 17.

II. Provided always, and be it enacted, That every Lord and Lords of the Parliament, and Peer and Peers of this Realm, having place and voice in the Parliament, upon every Indictment for any of the offences aforeſaid, ſhall be tried by their Peers, as hath been accuſtomed by the Laws of this Realm.

Tryal of a Lord by his Peers.

CAP. V.

An Act touching the making of Woollen Clothes.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the Fifth and Sixth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, there was, by great deliberation and advice, one good Act made for the true and perfect making of Woollen Cloth within this Realm; (2) ſithence the making whereof, divers Clothiers found themſelves agrieved, alledging, That it is impoſſible for them to obſerve the ſame Act in all points, and have in this preſent Parliament prayed ſome mitigation thereof: It is therefore at their ſpecial inſtance and requeſt, ordered, eſtabliſhed, enacted and provided, in manner and form following:

Drapery 5. &c. How woollen Clothes ſhall be made in length, breadth and weight, and how the offenders therein ſhall be puniſhed. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 6.

II. Imprimis, That every white Cloth and Clothes commonly called long Worceſters, and all like Clothes of like making mentioned in the ſaid Act, which by the ſame was limited to weigh eighty four pounds, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled and fully dryed, ſhall weigh threeſcore and fifteen pounds at the leaſt.

Long Worceſters.

III. Item, Every white Cloth which ſhall be made in the Counties of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, and Somerſet, or any of them, or elſewhere of like making, being appointed by the ſaid Act to weigh ſixty four pounds, ſhall weigh, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled and fully dried, ſixty one pounds at the leaſt.

White clothes of Glouceſter, Wiltſhire, Somerſet.

IV. Item,

The weight of broad clothes.

IV. Item, That every broad Cloth made in the Shires of Kent and Suſſex, or at the Town of Reading, or any of them, or elſewhere of like making mentioned in the ſaid Act, which by the ſame was limited to weigh xc. pounds at the leaſt, ſhall weigh, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and full dryed, lxxxvi. l. at the leaſt.

Courſe ſhort cloth.

V. Item, That every courſe ſhort Cloth made in the Shires of Suffolk, Norfolk and Eſſex, or any of them, or elſewhere of like ſort: And every courſe Cloth to be made within the Shire of Kent, not exceeding the price of vi. l. all which by the ſaid Act are appointed to contain ſeven quarters of a yard at the leaſt in breadth, ſhall contain and be at the water, being thorow wet, ſix quarters and a half within the Liſt thorow and by all the whole Cloth.

Handywarp.

VI. Item, Every yard of Cloth commonly called Handywarp, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dried, ſhall contain the breadth ſpecified in this Act, and ſhall weigh two pounds and a half at the leaſt.

Liſts of Handywarps.

VII. And foraſmuch as many perſons do counterfeit the making of Cockſal, Bocking, and Braintre Clothes, commonly called Handywarps, adding thereunto ſuch like Liſts as the makers of ſuch Clothes do, to the great deceit of the King and Queens Majeſties Subjects: (2) Be it therefore enacted, That no perſon or perſons from the firſt day of May next coming, ſhall add unto any Cloth or Clothes, any ſuch Liſt or Liſts, except the warp thereof be ſpun upon the Rock or Diſtaff, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſame Cloth or Clothes, or the very value thereof. (3) Provided, That the Cloth-makers within the City of Worceſter may make Liſts as they have done heretofore.

Broad Cloth made in the Weſt-riding in Yorkſhire.

VIII. Item, That no perſon or perſons inhabiting within the Weſt-riding in the County of York, ſhall make, or cauſe to be made any broad Cloth or Cloths called pewkes, tawnies, violets, or greens, except the wooll thereof before it be converted into yarn be firſt dyed, litted, and coloured with the colour blew, of the value of ii. d. a pound, upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch coloured Cloth, or the value thereof, whereof the wooll ſhall not be firſt dyed, litted, and coloured the colour with blew, of ij. d. a pound, as is aforeſaid.

Ordinary Kerſie.
Sorting Kerſie
14 El. 10. 3 Jac. 16.

IX. Item, That every ordinary Kerſie mentioned in the ſaid Act, ſhall contain in length in the water betwixt xvi. and xvii. yards, yard and inch, and being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, dreſſed, and fully dried, ſhall weigh nineteen pounds the piece at the leaſt; (2) And every Kerſie called ſorting Kerſie, mentioned in the ſaid Act, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, dreſſed, and fully dried, ready to be ſhewed, ſhall weigh xxii. pound at the leaſt.

Devonſhire Kerſie.

X. Item, That every Devonſhire Kerſie, called Doſon, the which is appointed by the ſame Statute to weigh, being dry, xiv. pounds at the leaſt, ſhall weigh being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dried, after the rate of every yard, one pound at the leaſt.

Welſh lynings.
5 Ed. 6. 6.

XI. Item, That one Article mentioned in the ſaid Statute concerning Welſh Cottons, touching the length and weight, ſhall be clearly void, (2) and every gode of Welſh lyning ſhall contain and be three quarters of a yard in breadth in the water, and ſhall weigh one pound and a half quarter; (3) and every yard of Cotton being fully wrought and cottoned, ſhall weigh one pound at the leaſt.

None that buyeth to ſell again ſhall work any Welſh lyning.
8 El. 7.

XII. And be it further enacted, That no perſon or perſons which ſhall buy to ſell again by way of retail, or otherwiſe, any of the Welſh lynings, ſhall dreſs or work, or cauſe to be dreſſed or wrought within his or their dwelling-houſe or houſes, or in any other place, by himſelf or his ſervant or ſervants, any of the ſaid Welſh lynings, but ſhall put the ſame to ſome ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be of the Art or Science of Sheermen, Cottoners or Friſers, to be by them wrought and dreſſed, upon pain of forfeiture of every Welſh Cotton or Lyning friſed or cottoned to the contrary, vi. s. viii. d.

Cottons, Rugs, and Frizes, may be divided into two pieces.

XIII. Item, That all and every Cotton or Cottons called Mancheſter, Lancaſhire, and Cheſhire Cottons, and all Clothes called Mancheſter Rugs, or Mancheſter Friſes, may be divided into two half pieces, and ſhall contain and be after the rate of ſuch breadth and weight as in the ſaid Act is limited and appointed to a whole piece of every the ſeveral pieces of Cottons and Rugs aforeſaid; any thing in the ſaid former Statute to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Forfeiture for defaults in lengths and meaſures.

XIV. And if any Cloth or Kerſie of the ſeveral kinds of makings mentioned in the ſaid former Act, or this Statute, do exceed the ſeveral lengths mentioned in the ſame, that then every yard ſo exceeding, ſhall weigh after ſuch rate as every yard of ſuch Cloth or Kerſies containing the ſaid ſeveral lengths, ſhall or ought to weigh, upon pain of forfeiture for every yard not weighing after ſuch rate, v. s.

XV. And if any ſuch Cloth or Kerſies ſhall lack of ſuch weight as by the ſaid Statute or this Act it ought and is appointed to have, then the maker thereof, or other perſon in whoſe hands or poſſeſſion the ſame ſhall be found, ſhall forfeit for every pound lacking, above iv. l. v. s. and alſo for every pound exceeding, not above iv. l. ij. s. in manner and form as in the ſaid former Act is appointed.

The Aulnegers Seal.
5 Ed. 6. 6.

XVI. Item, One Article mentioned in the ſaid Statute, wherein the Aulneger is prohibited to ſet his Seal to any Cloth or Kerſie which ſhall prove purſie, bandy, ſqually, in or by warp or woof, or elſe ſhall happen to be evil burled, or waſted in the Mill, or otherwiſe to be full of holes, or to have bracks, or to be holely, ſhall be void and of none effect.

How faulty cloth ſhall be uſed.

XVII. Item, It is enacted, That if at any time after the firſt day of May, any Cloth or Kerſie, through the default or negligence of the Carders, Spinners, Weavers, or any of them, ſhall, or do prove either purſie, cockly, bandy, ſqually or rowy, by warp or woof, or elſe ſhall happen to be evil burled, or waſted in the Mill, or elſe through the default or negligence of the Mill-man or otherwiſe, to be full of holes, Mill-bracks, or to be holely, that then the maker of every ſuch Cloth or Kerſie ſo being defective and faulty as is aforeſaid, ſhall fix unto every end of the ſaid Cloth or Kerſie ſo being defective and faulty, and offered to be ſold, one Seal of Lead; in the which Seal ſhall be ingraved this word (Faulty) upon pain of forfeiture of ſuch Cloth or Kerſie, or the value thereof, ſo offered to be ſold, whereunto ſuch Seal ſhall not be ſet.

XVIII. Item, The Article mentioned in the ſaid former Act, of returning defective Clothes, Kerſies, Friſes, or Cottons being tranſported over the Seas by the Merchants, ſhall be utterly void. (2) But nevertheleſs, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if it ſhall fortune hereafter any Merchant or Merchants, to tranſport any Cloth or Clothes, Kerſies, Friſes or Cottons, whereunto the Seal with this word (Faulty) was not annexed at the time of the ſale thereof by the Clothier, and the ſame Clothes, Kerſies, Friſes, or Cottons ſo tranſported, or any of them to be found faulty or defective, and the ſame Merchant or Merchants thereof, within two years after ſuch ſale, bring a certificate ſealed with the Seal of any Town, or Company in the parts beyond the Seas, or ſigned by a Notary there after the accuſtomed manner, teſtifying and declaring thereby the loſs and damage which the Merchants ſhall have ſuſtained by ſuch defective and faulty Cloth or Clothes ſo tranſported, (3) that then the Clothier or Clothiers, or other perſon of whom the Cloth or Clothes was bought, their Executors or Adminiſtrators ſhall within ſix weeks next after requeſt made by the ſaid Merchant, his Executors, Adminiſtrators or Aſſigns, well and truly ſatisfie, content, and pay to ſuch Merchant, his Executors or Adminiſtrators, or Aſſigns, all and every ſuch ſum and ſums of money as ſhall be mentioned, expreſſed and declared in the ſaid Certificate, (4) upon pain of forfeiture to the party grieved for every non-payment upon ſuch requeſt, double the value of ſuch ſum or ſums mentioned in the ſaid Certificate.

No defective Cloth ſhall be returned, but the Merchant ſhall be recompenſed upon a Certificate brought. Rep. 43 El. 10. Sect. 9. N. 5.

XIX. Provided always, That ſuch Merchant ſhall not in any wiſe have by virtue of this Act, any recompence for lack of length, breadth, or weight, of or for any Cloth whereunto the Seal of any City, Borough, or Town corporate ſhall be fixed.

Cloth wanting length, &c. whereunto the ſeal of a City, &c ſhall be affixed.

XX. Item, If any perſon ſhall by himſelf, or by any other perſon by him procured, counterfeit, ſet to, or take away from any Cloth, Kerſie, Friſe, Rug, or Cotton, any Seal appointed to be fixed to any Cloth, Kerſie, Friſe, Rug or Cotton, either by this Act, or by the ſaid former Eſtatute, that then every ſuch perſon ſo offending, ſhall incur and have like penalties, forfeitures and puniſhments, as in the ſaid former Act is appointed and limited for the like offence.

Counterfeiting ſetting to, or taking away of any Seal.

XXI. And for the better execution as well of this preſent Act as of the ſaid former Eſtatute, and to the intent that all kind of Kerſies, Cottons, Friſes, Rugs, and other woollen Cloth made in any Town, ſhall be better known, (2) it is further enacted, That the Seal of every Borough or Town-corporate, appointed or to be appointed for the ſealing of any ſuch kind of Cloth, ſhall be fixed to all and every ſuch kind of Cloth being well and ſubſtantially made within ſuch City, Borough, or Town-corporate: (3) which Cloth ſo ſealed with the Seal of any City, Borough or Town-corporate, ſhall not be ſearched, tried, or viewed by any Searcher or Sealer of any other City, Borough or Town-corporate, by virtue of his ſaid Office; any thing in this Act, or in the ſaid former Eſtatute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Town Seal ſhall be ſet to Clothes.

XXII. Item, Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons not dwelling and inhabiting within any City, Borough, or Corporate Town, and making any of the Clothes or Kerſies aforeſaid, may lawfully bring the ſame to the ſame City, Borough or corporate Town where any ſuch kind of Clothes or Kerſies be, or ſhall be commonly made, there to be ſealed in manner and form as is before expreſſed.

Clothes made out of Towns-corporate, ſhall be ſealed in the next Towns-corporate, &c.

XXIII. Item, If any Searcher or Sealer, appointed or to be appointed by virtue of this preſent Act, or of the ſaid former Statute, ſhall ſet the Seal of any City, Borough or Town-corporate to any Cloth which ſhall not contain ſuch length, weight, and breadth as in the ſaid former Statute, or in this preſent Act is appointed, that then the Mayor and Commonalty, or Bailiff and Commonalty, or other Corporation of the Townſhip, by whatſoever name or names it or they ſhall be incorporate where ſuch Cloth, Kerſie, Friſe, Cotton, or Rug, ſhall be ſo ſealed, ſhall forfeit and loſe the whole value of the Cloth ſo ſealed.

The forfeiture where a ſealer ſetteth his ſeal to Cloth wanting length.

XXIV. It is alſo enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Searchers or Sealers, and every of them, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, in the day-time to enter into all and every houſe and houſes of every perſon and perſons where he or they ſhall think meet, to ſearch and to try all and every kind of Clothes, Kerſies, Friſes, and Rugs as they ſhall find defective, either in length, breadth or weight, and the ſame to try by water and weight, (2) and alſo to ſearch and ſeiſe as forfeit, all and every Cloth and Clothes made of other colours than in the ſaid former Act is appointed; Fryers gray, Crane colour, Purple, and old medley colours, moſt commonly uſed to be made before twenty years laſt paſt only excepted,

The ſearchers and ſealers may enter into any mans houſe to ſearch. St. 21 Jac. 28.

XXV. And if any manner of perſon or perſons at any time after the firſt day of May next coming, ſhall deny, withſtand, or with-hold any Cloth or Clothes, Kerſies, Friſes, Rugs, or any of them from the ſaid Sealers or Searchers, or any of them, or will not ſuffer them to enter into their Shops, Warehouſes, houſes or places where their Clothes, Kerſies, Friſes, or Rugs ſhall be, the ſame to be ſearched and tried as is aforſaid, that then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo denying or withſtanding, for every ſuch withſtanding, with-holding or denial, to forfeit and loſe ten pounds.

The penalty for denying of ſearching or ſealing.

XXVI. Be it likewiſe further enacted, That it ſhall not be lawful for any of the ſaid Searchers or Sealers, or any other perſon, to ſearch any manner of Woollen Cloth or Kerſie whereunto the Seal of a City, Borough or Town-corporate ſhall be fixed, within the common Cloth-Market of London, commonly called Blackwell-Hall, or in any common Cloth-Fair, or Cloth-Market of any other City, Borough or Town-corporate, in and during the time of the Fair or Market; Any Act or Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

No ſearching in common Markets or Fairs.

XXVII. Be it further enacted, That all and every Article, Clauſe and Sentence in the ſaid former Statute made in the fifth and ſixth years of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, being not repugnant or contrary to any Article, Clauſe or Sentence contained in this preſent Act, ſhall ſtand in full force and effect.

A confirmation of the Stat. of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 6.

XXVIII. Provided always, That no perſon or perſons ſhall incur the danger, penalty or forfeiture limited and appointed for any offence in the ſaid former Act, the which is already mitigated or otherwiſe appointed by this preſent Act.

Penalties in the former Act altered in this.

XXIX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Clothier ſhall cauſe every Cloth which ſhall be put to ſale from and after the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next enſuing, to be marked with the letter M. crowned, wrought in the Cloth, upon pain to forfeit xx. s. for every Cloth being ſold or put to ſale by any ſuch Clother after the ſaid Feaſt, not marked with the ſaid letter M. as is aforeſaid.

Every Cloth marked with M.

No coloured Cloth ſhall be put to ſale, but theſe within. Rep. 21 Jac. 28.

XXX. And moreover, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt, ſhall ſet, or put to ſale within the Realm of England, any ſuch coloured Cloth of any other colour or colours then are hereafter in this Act mentioned, that is to ſay, Scarlet, red, crimſon, morrey, violet, pewke, brown, blew, black, green, yellow, blew, orange, tawney, ruſſet, marble gray, ſad new colour, azney, watchet, ſheeps colour, lion colour, motley, iron gray, friers gray, crane colour, purple, and old medley colour, moſt commonly uſed to be made above and before twenty years laſt paſt.

XXXI. Item, Whereas divers ancient Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate within this Realm of England, have been in times paſt well and ſubſtantially inhabited, occupied, maintained and upholden, as well by reaſon of making of broad Woollen Clothes and Kerſies, as alſo by divers other Artificers inhabiting then in the ſaid Towns, at which time alſo the Villages and Husband-Towns flouriſhed, and Husbandry and Tillage was well maintained, to the great benefit of the Realm and all the people therein: (2) Foraſmuch as divers years paſt, ſuch perſons as do uſe the Feat or Myſtery of Cloth-making, not contented to live as Artificers, and with the Trade wherein they have been brought up, do daily plant themſelves in the Villages and Towns, being no Cities, Boroughs, nor corporate Towns, and there occupying the feat and place of an Husbandman, do not only engroſs divers Ferms and Paſtures into their hands, diſpleaſing the Husbandman, and decaying the Ploughs and Tillage, but alſo draw with them out of Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate, all ſorts of Artificers, whereby not only divers ancient Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate are utterly decayed, deſtroyed and depopulated, but alſo Husbandry and Tillage much decayed, to the great hurt, damage and prejudice of this Realm and the people therein, if ſpeedy remedy be not foreſeen: (3) And foraſmuch alſo as the Weavers and Workmen of Clothiers, when they have been trained up in the Trade of Cloth-making and Weaving three or four years, do forſake their Maſters, and do become Clothiers and Occupiers for themſelves without ſtock, ſkill or knowledge, to the great ſlander of the true Cloth making, beſide a great number of inconveniences which do grow to the Common-wealth of this Realm thereby, as daily experience teacheth:

None ſhall make Cloth to ſell, but in a City, Borough, and where it hath been uſed to be made. St. 25 H. 8. 18. 1 El. 14. 18 El. 16. 27 El. 23. 1 M. 7. Rep. 21 Jac. 28.

XXXII. Be it therefore ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the firſt day of May next coming, no perſon or perſons whatſoever ſhall uſe or exerciſe the Feat or Myſtery of making, weaving or rowing of Woollen Cloth, long or ſhort, or Kerſies, pinned whites, or plain ſtreights, to the intent to put the ſame to ſale, but only in a Market-town where Cloth hath commonly been uſed to be made by the ſpace of ten years laſt paſt, or in a City, Borough or Town-corporate, upon pain of forfeiture for every ſuch woollen Cloth or Kerſie made, woven or rowed out of the City, Borough, Town-corporate or Market-town, v. l.

Who only may weave Cloth to be ſold.

XXXIII. And it is further enacted, That from and after the firſt day of May, no perſon whatſoever ſhall weave or make, or put to weaving or making, any woollen Clothes or Kerſies laſt rehearſed, to be ſold, unleſs ſuch perſon ſhall have been Apprentice to the Occupation of making, weaving and rowing of Cloth or Kerſies, or have been exerciſed therein by the ſpace of ſeven years before, upon pain of forfeiture of ſuch Cloth, or the value thereof.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures.

XXXIV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every pains, penalties and forfeitures to be due by force of this Statute, or of the ſaid former Act, being not otherwiſe appointed, ſhall be divided equally into two parts, whereof the one ſhall be to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other to him that will ſeiſe (in caſes where ſeiſure is limited or appointed,) or elſe to him or them that will ſue for the ſame pains, penalties and forfeitures, or any of them, by action, bill, plaint, information, or otherwiſe, in any Court of Record, wherein no eſſoin, protection, wager of Law, or injunction ſhall be admitted, allowed or obeyed.

XXXV. Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful to any perſon now uſing or exerciſing the Feat or Myſtery of making, weaving or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, to inhabit and dwell where he now doth, and there to uſe the making, weaving or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, as he hath done heretofore; any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Who may make Cloth out of a Market-town.

XXXVI. An Act to make up the Jury with Circumſtantibus, where the King and Queens Majeſties, or the Queens Majeſty is a party.

Jurors 24.

A Tales de Circumſtantibus ſhall be granted upon requeſt in a ſuit commenced upon any penal Statutes. 35 H. 8. 6. S. 6. N. 1.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the fourteenth day of January, in the five and thirtieth year of the Reign of the noble and victorious Prince King Henry the Eighth, late King of England, among other things, it was enacted and eſtabliſhed, for the ſpeedy trial of Iſſues joyned between party and party, in any of the Kings Courts of Record holden at Weſtminſter, to be tried by the verdict of twelve men, before the Juſtices of Aſſize, or Niſi prius,, (2) that in every Writ of Habeas corpora, a Diſtringas with a Niſi prius delivered of the Record to the Sheriff or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the making of the return ſhall appertain, where a full Jury ſhall not appear before the Juſtices of Aſſize or Niſi Prius, or elſewhere after appearance of a full Jury, by challenge of any of the parties, the Jury is like to remain untaken for default of the Jurors, that then the ſame Juſtices upon requeſt made by the parties plaintiff or demandant, ſhall have authority, by virtue of the ſaid Act, to command the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the making of the ſaid return ſhall appertain, to name and appoint as often as need ſhall require, ſo many of ſuch other able perſons of the ſaid County, then preſent at the ſaid Aſſizes or Niſi Prius, as ſhall make up a full Jury; which perſons ſo to be named and impannelled by ſuch Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, ſhall be added to the former pannel, and their names annexed to the ſame; as by the ſaid Act more at large appeareth: (3) which Statute was made to endure till the end of the next Parliament, and after was, and is from time to time continued and doth now remain, ſtand, and be in effect; (4) which Act doth not extend to any Jury impanelled to try an Iſſue joyned between the King and the party, or between ſuch as purſue any matter for the King and themſelves:

2 Ed. 6. 32.

II. Be it therefore enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the King and Queens Majeſties, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after the firſt day of June next coming, the Juſtices of Aſſize and Niſi Prius before whom any trial ſhall be made, by virtue of any Writ of Habeas corpora, or Diſtringas, with a Niſi Prius, where a full Jury ſhall not appear, or after appearance of a full Jury by challenge, the Jury is like to remain untaken for default of Jurors, ſhall have authority by virtue of this Act, upon requeſt made for the King and Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, by any authoriſed thereunto, or Aſſigned by the Juſtices of the Court before whom the ſaid Enqueſt ſhall be taken, or upon requeſt to be made by the party that followeth as well for the King and Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, as for himſelf upon any penal Statute, or his or their Attorney, to command the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the making of the ſaid return ſhall appertain, to name and appoint, as often as need ſhall require, ſo many of ſuch other able perſons of the ſaid County, then preſent at the ſaid Aſſiſes, or Niſi Prius, and to add and annex the names to the former pannel, as ſhall make up a full Jury of twelve men, for the trial of every ſuch Iſſue:

III. And that all and every clauſe, ſentence, article, and proviſo compriſed in the ſame former Act, ſhall be taken, interpreted and expounded, to give the like and the ſame advantage and commodity to the King and Queens Majeſties, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and all ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall purſue any action, bill, plaint or information for the King and Queens Majeſties, her Heirs and Succeſſors only, or for them and the party, as the party Plaintiff in any other action ſhould or might have, by virtue of the ſaid Act, in ſuch form and condition to all intents and purpoſes, as if ſuch action or ſuits for the King had been ſpecially and particularly mentioned and declared in the ſaid Act.

An Act for the puniſhment of ſuch as ſhall take away young women that be Inheritors, being within the age of Sixteen years, or marry them without conſent of their Parents.

Car. 365. n.

Women 6. Puniſhment of ſuch as take away maidens, &c. within ſixteen years of age.

WHere Maidens and women children of Noblemen, Gentlemen and others, as well ſuch as be Heirs apparent to their Anceſtors, as others, having left unto them by their Father, or other Anceſtor and Friends, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, or other great ſubſtances in goods and chattels moveable, for, and to the intent to advance them in marriage, ſomewhat like according to their degrees, and as might be moſt for their ſurety and comfort, as well for themſelves as of all other their friends or kinsfolks, be oftentimes unawares to their ſaid friends and kinsfolks, by flattery, trifling, gifts, and fair promiſes, of many unthrifty and light perſonages, and thereto by the intreaty of perſons of lewd demeanour, and others that for rewards buy and ſell the ſaid maidens and children ſecretly allured and won to contract Matrimony with the ſaid unthrifty and light perſonages, and thereupon either with ſleight or force, often times be taken and conveyed away from their ſaid parents, friends or kinsfolks, to the high diſpleaſure of Almighty God, diſparagement of the ſaid children, and extream continual heavineſs of all their friends: which ungodly dealing, for lack of wholſom Laws to the redreſs thereof, remaineth a great, familiar, and common miſchief in this our Common-wealth:

II. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the King and Queens Majeſties, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That it ſhall not be lawful to any perſon or perſons, to take or convey away, or cauſe to be taken or conveyed away, any maid or woman child unmarried, being within the age of ſixteen years, out of, or from the poſſeſſion, cuſtody or governance, and againſt the will of the father of ſuch maid or woman child, or of ſuch perſon or perſons to whom the father of ſuch maid or woman child, by his laſt Will and Teſtament, or by any other Act in his life-time, hath, or ſhall appoint, aſſign, bequeath, give or grant the order, keeping, education or governance of ſuch maid or woman child, excepting ſuch taking and conveying away as ſhall be had, made or done, by or for ſuch perſon or perſons, as without fraud or covin be or then ſhall be the maſter or miſtreſs of ſuch maid or woman child, or the Guardian in ſoccage, or Guardian in Chivalry, of or to ſuch maid or woman child.

The penalty for taking a maid under ſixteen years of age.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons above the age of fourteen years, ſhall from and after the firſt day of April next coming, unlawfully take or convey, or cauſe to be taken or conveyed, any maid or woman child unmarried, being within the age of ſixteen years, or out of, or from the poſſeſſion, and againſt the will of the father or mother of ſuch child, or out of, or from the poſſeſſion, and againſt the will of ſuch perſon or perſons as then ſhall happen to have, or by any lawful ways or means, the order, keeping, education or governance of any ſuch maiden or woman child; that then every ſuch perſon and perſons (ſo offending) being thereof lawfully attainted and convicted by the order and due courſe of the Laws of this Realm, (other then ſuch of whom ſuch perſon taken away ſhall hold any Lands or Tenements by Knights ſervice) ſhall have and ſuffer impriſonment of his and their bodies by the ſpace of two whole years, without bail or mainpriſe, or elſe ſhall pay ſuch fine for his or their ſaid offence as ſhall be aſſeſſed by the Councel of the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succuſſors, in the Star-chamber at Weſtminſter.

The penalty for taking away, deflowring or contracting matrimony with a woman under xvi. years of age.

Co. 1. 3.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid day, ſhall ſo take away, or cauſe to be taken away as is aforeſaid, and deflowr any ſuch maid or woman child, as is aforeſaid, or ſhall againſt the will, or unknowing of or to the father of any ſuch maid or woman child, if the father be in life, or againſt the will, or unknowing of or to the mother of any ſuch maid or woman child (having the cuſtody or governance of ſuch child if the father be dead) by ſecret Letters, Meſſages, or otherwiſe, contract Matrimony with any ſuch maiden or woman child, except ſuch contracts of Matrimony as ſhall be made by the conſent of ſuch perſon or perſons as by the title of Wardſhip ſhall then have or be intituled to have the marriage of ſuch maid or woman child; that then every ſuch perſon or perſon ſo offending, being thereof lawfully convicted, as is aforeſaid, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment of his or their bodies by the ſpace of five years, without bail or mainpriſe, or elſe ſhall pay ſuch fine for his or their ſaid offence, as ſhall be aſſeſſed by the ſaid Councel in the ſaid Star-chamber; (2) the one moiety of all which fines ſhall be to the King and Queens Majeſties, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moiety to the parties grieved.

Who may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

V. And be it further enacted by the ſaid Authority, that the King and Queens Highneſs honourable Councel of the Star-chamber, by bill of complaint or information, and Juſtices of Aſſize by Inquiſition or indictment, ſhall have authority by virtue of this Act, to hear and determine the ſaid offences; (2) upon every ſuch indictment and inquiſition, ſuch proceſs ſhall be awarded and lie, as upon an indictment of treſpaſs at the Common Law.

The forfeiture of a woman conſenting to an unlawful contract.

VI. And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any woman child or maiden, being above the age of twelve years, and under the age of ſixteen years, do at any time conſent or agree to ſuch perſon that ſo ſhall make any contract of Matrimony, contrary to the form and effect of this Statute, that then the next of the kin of the ſame woman child or maid, to whom the inheritance ſhould deſcend, return, or come after the deceaſe of the ſame woman child and maid, ſhall from the time of ſuch aſſent and agreement, have, hold, and enjoy all ſuch lands, tenements and hereditaments as the ſame woman child and maiden had in poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, at the time of ſuch aſſent and agreement, during the life of ſuch perſon that ſhall ſo contract Matrimony: (2) and after the deceaſe of ſuch perſon ſo contracting Matrimony, that then the ſaid lands, tenements and hereditaments, ſhall deſcend, revert, remain, and come to ſuch perſon or perſons, as they ſhould have done in caſe this Act had never been had ne made, other then to him only that ſo ſhall contract Matrimony.

Orders for Orphans.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to take away or diminiſh any Liberty, Cuſtom or Authority, touching or concerning any Orphan or Orphans, which now be, or hereafter ſhall be within the City of London, or any other City, Borough or Town where Orphans are commonly uſed to be provided for, either by Grant, or by Cuſtom, but that the Lord Mayor of the ſaid City of London, and the Aldermen of the ſame for the time being, and all and every other Head-Officers of any other City, Borough or Town where ſuch Orphans be provided for, ſhall and may have and take like rule, order, keeping and charge of ſuch Orphan and Orphans, and of all their lands, tenements, goods and chattels, as heretofore they or any of them lawfully had or uſed, or lawfully might have had and uſed, if this Act had not been made.

CAP. I.

An Act to reſtore to the Crown the ancient Juriſdiction over the Eſtate Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual, and aboliſhing all Foreign powers repugnant to the ſame.

Crown 2. All ancient juriſdictions reſtored to the Crown. A repeal of divers Statutes, and revivor of others, and all Foreign Power aboliſhed.

MOſt humbly beſeech your moſt excellent Majeſty, your faithful and obedient Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this your preſent Parliament aſſembled, That where in the time of the Reign of your moſt dear Father of worthy memory, King Henry the Eighth, divers good Laws and Statutes were made and eſtabliſhed, as well for the utter extinguiſhment and putting away of all uſurped and foreign Powers and Authorities out of this your Realm, and other your Highneſs Dominions and Countries, as alſo for the reſtoring and uniting to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, the ancient Juriſdictions, Authorities, Superiorities and Preheminencies to the ſame of right belonging and appertaining, by reaſon whereof, we your moſt humble and obedient Subjects, from the five and twentieth year of the Reign of your ſaid dear Father, were continually kept in good order, and were diſburdened of divers great and intolerable charges and exactions before that time unlawfully taken, and exacted by ſuch foreign Power and Authority as before that was uſurped, until ſuch time as all the ſaid good Laws and Statutes by one Act of Parliament made in the firſt and ſecond years of the Reigns of the late King Philip, and Queen Mary your Highneſs Siſter, intituled, An Act repealing all Statutes, Articles and Proviſions made againſt the See Apoſtolick of Rome, ſince the twentieth year of King Henry the Eighth, and alſo for the eſtabliſhment of all Spiritual and Eccleſiaſtical poſſeſſions and hereditaments conveyed to the Laity, were all clearly repealed and made void, as by the ſame Act of Repeal more at large doth and may appear; By reaſon of which Act of Repeal, your ſaid humble Subjects were eftſoons brought under an uſurped foreign Power and Authority, and yet do remain in that bondage, to the intolerable charges of your loving Subjects, if ſome redreſs (by authority of this your High Court of Parliament, with the aſſent of your Highneſs) be not had and provided:

1 & 2 P. & M. 8.

II. May it therefore pleaſe your Highneſs, for the repreſſing of the ſaid uſurped foreign Power, and the reſtoring of the Rites, Juriſdictions and Preheminencies appertaining to the Imperial Crown of this your Realm, that it may be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Act made in the firſt and ſecond years of the Reign of the ſaid late King Philip and Queen Mary, and all and every branches, clauſes and articles therein contained (other then ſuch branches, clauſes and ſentences, as hereafter ſhall be excepted) may from the laſt day of this Seſſion of Parliament, by authority of this preſent Parliament, be repealed, and ſhall from thenceforth be utterly void and of none effect.

A repeal of the Statute of 1 & 2 P. & M. 8.

III. And that alſo for the reviving of divers of the ſaid good Laws and Statutes made in the time of your ſaid dear Father, it may alſo pleaſe your Highneſs, That one Act and Statute made in the three and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, intituled, An Act, That no perſon ſhall be cited out of the Dioceſs where he or ſhe dwelleth, except in certain caſes.

A revivor of the Statutes hereafter ſpecified, viz. 23 H. 8. 9.

IV. And one other Act made in the four and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, intituled, An Act, That appeals in ſuch caſes as hath been uſed to be purſued to the See of Rome, ſhall not be from henceforth had ne uſed, but within this Realm. 24 H. 8. 12.

V. And one other Act made the five and twentieth year of the ſaid late King concerning reſtraint of payment of Annates, and Firſt-fruits of Archbiſhopricks and Biſhoprick to the See of Rome. 25 H. 8. not printed.

VI. And one other Act in the ſaid five and twentieth year, Intituled, An Act concerning the ſubmiſſion of the Clergy to the Kings Majeſty. 25 H. 8. 19.

VII. And alſo one Act made in the five and twentieth year, Intituled, An Act reſtraining the payment of Annates, or Firſt-fruits to the Biſhop of Rome, and of the electing and conſecrating of Archbiſhops and Biſhops within this Realm. 25 H. 8. 1.

VIII. And one other Act made in the ſaid five and twentieth year, intituled, An Act concerning the exoneration of the Kings Subjects from exactions and impoſitions heretofore paid to the See of Rome, and for having Licences and Diſpenſations within this Realm, without ſuing further for the ſame. 25 H. 8. 21.

IX. And one other Act made in the ſix and twentieth year of the ſaid late King, intituled, An Act for nomination and conſecration of Suffragans within this Realm. 26 H. 8. 14.

X. And alſo one other Act made in the eight and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, intituled, An Act for the releaſe of ſuch as have obtained pretended Licences and diſpenſations from the See of Rome, (2) and all and every branches, words and ſentences in the ſaid ſeveral Acts and Statutes contained, by authority of this preſent Parliament, from and at all times after the laſt day of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be revived, and ſhall ſtand and be in full force and ſtrength, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes; (3) And that the branches, ſentences and words of the ſaid ſeveral Acts, and every of them, from thenceforth ſhall and may be judged, deemed and taken to extend to your Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors, as fully and largely as ever the ſame Acts or any of them did extend to the late King Henry the Eighth, your Highneſs Father.

28 H. 8. 16. Sect. 1. N. 1.

The ſentences and branches in the foreſaid Statutes ſhall extend to the Queen.

XI. And that it may alſo pleaſe your Highneſs, that it may be enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſo much of one Act or Statute made in the two and thirtieth year of the Reign of your ſaid dear Father King Henry the Eighth, intituled, An Act concerning pre-contracts of marriages, and touching degrees of conſanguinity, as in the time of the late King Edward the Sixth, your Highneſs moſt dear Brother, by one other Act or Statute, was not repealed.

32 H. 8. 38. 2 Ed. 6. 23.

XII. And alſo one Act made in the ſeven and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, intituled, An Act that Doctors of the Civil Law being married, may exerciſe Eccleſiaſtical juriſdiction, (2) and all and every branches and articles in the ſaid two Acts laſt mentioned, and not repealed in the time of the ſaid late King Edward the Sixth, may 37 H. 8. 17.

from henceforth likewiſe ſtand and be revived, and remain in their full force and ſtrength, to all intents and purpoſes; any thing contained in the ſaid Act of Repeal before mentioned, or any other matter or cauſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What Stat. repealed by the Stat. of 1 & 2 P. & M. 8. ſhall continue repealed.

XIII. And that it may alſo pleaſe your Highneſs, That it may further be enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that all other Laws and Statutes, and the branches and clauſes of any Act or Statute repealed and made void by the ſaid Act of Repeal made in the time of the ſaid late King Philip and Queen Mary, and not in this preſent Act ſpecially mentioned and revived, ſhall ſtand, remain and be repealed and void, in ſuch like manner and form as they were before the making of this Act; any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A reviver of the Statute of 1 Ed. 6. 1.

XIV. And that it may alſo pleaſe your Highneſs that it may be enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That one Act and Statute made in the firſt year of the Reign of the late King Edward the Sixth, your Majeſties moſt dear Brother, entituled, An Act againſt ſuch perſons as ſhall unreverently ſpeak againſt the Sacrament of the Body and Bloud of Chriſt, commonly called, The Sacrament of the Altar, and for the receiving thereof under both kinds, and all and every branches, clauſes and ſentences therein contained, ſhall and may likewiſe from the laſt day of this Seſſion of Parliament, be revived, and from thenceforth ſhall and may ſtand, remain and be in full force, ſtrength and effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, in ſuch like manner and form as the ſame was at any time in the firſt year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Edward the Sixth; any Law, Statute, or other matter to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A repeal of the Statute of 1 & 2 P. & M. 6. 5 R. 2. 5. 2 H. 4. 15. 2 H. 5. 7. Moor 755. pl. 1043.

XV. And that alſo it may pleaſe your Highneſs that it may be further eſtabliſhed and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That one Act and Statute made in the firſt and ſecond years of the late King Philip and Queen Mary, entituled, An Act for the reviving of three Statutes made for the puniſhment of hereſies; and alſo the ſaid three Statutes mentioned in the ſaid Act, and by the ſame Act revived, (2) and all and every branches, articles, clauſes and ſentences contained in the ſaid ſeveral Acts and Statutes, and every of them, ſhall be from the laſt day of this Seſſion of Parliament, deemed and remain utterly repealed, void and of none effect, to all intents and purpoſes; any thing in the ſaid ſeveral Acts, or any of them contained, or any other matter or clauſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The aboliſhing of foreign authority.

XVI. And to the intent that all the uſurped and foreign power and authority Spiritual and Temporal, may for ever be clearly extinguiſhed, and never be uſed and obeyed within this Realm, or any other your Majeſties Dominions or Countries, (2) May it pleaſe your Highneſs that it may be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Foreign Prince, Perſon, Prelate, State or Potentate Spiritual or Temporal, ſhall at any time after the laſt day of this Seſſion of Parliament, uſe, enjoy or exerciſe any manner of power, juriſdiction, ſuperiority, authority, preheminence or priviledge Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical, within this Realm, or within any other your Majeſties Dominions or Countreys that now be, or hereafter ſhall be, but from thenceforth the ſame ſhall be clearly aboliſhed out of this Realm, and all other your Highneſs Dominions for ever; any Statute, Ordinance, Cuſtom, Conſtitutions, or any other matter or cauſe whatſoever to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

And that it may alſo be Enacted, That if any ſuch Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or other Eccleſiaſtical Officer or Miniſter, or any of the ſaid Temporal Judges, Juſticiaries, or other Lay-officer or Miniſter, ſhall peremptorily or obſtinately refuſe to take or receive the ſaid Oath, that then he ſo refuſing, ſhall forfeit and loſe only during his life, all and every Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual Promotion, Benefice and Office, and every Temporal and Lay-promotion and Office, which he hath ſolely at the time of ſuch refuſal made; and that the whole title, intereſt and incumbency, in every ſuch Promotion, Benefice, and other Office, as againſt ſuch perſon only ſo refuſing, during his life, ſhall clearly ceaſe and be void, as though the party ſo refuſing were dead.

XXI. And that alſo all and every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo refuſing to take the ſaid Oath, ſhall immediatly after ſuch refuſal, be from thenceforth during his life, diſabled to retain or exerciſe any office or other promotion which he at the time of ſuch refuſal hath jointly, or in common with any other perſon or perſons.

XXII. And that all and every perſon and perſons, that at any time hereafter ſhall be preferred, promoted or collated to any Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick, or to any other Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Benefice, promotion, dignity or office, or miniſtry; or that ſhall be by your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, preferred or promoted to any Temporal or Lay-office, miniſtry or ſervice within this Realm, or in any your Highneſs Dominions, before he or they ſhall take upon him or them to receive, uſe, exerciſe, ſupply or occupy any ſuch Archbiſhoprick Biſhoprick, promotion, dignity, office, miniſtry or ſervice, ſhall likewiſe make, take and receive the ſame corporal Oath before mentioned, upon the Evangeliſts, before ſuch perſons as have or ſhall have authority to admit any ſuch perſon to any ſuch office, miniſtry or ſervice, or elſe before ſuch perſon or perſons as by your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, by Commiſſion under the Great Seal of England, ſhall be named, aſſigned or appointed to miniſter the ſaid Oath.

XXIII. And that it may likewiſe be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch perſon or perſons as at any time hereafter ſhall be promoted, preferred or collated to any ſuch promotion Spiritual, or Eccleſiaſtical Benefice, Office or Miniſtry, or that by your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall be promoted or preferred to any Temporal or Lay-office, Miniſtry or Service, ſhall and do peremptorily and obſtinately refuſe to take the ſame Oath ſo to him to be offered, that then he or they ſo refuſing, ſhall preſently be judged diſabled in the Law to receive, take or have the ſame promotion Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical, or the ſame Temporal Office, Miniſtry or Service within this Realm, or any other your Highneſs Dominions, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes.

He that ſueth Livery, or Ouſtre le maine.

He that doth homage to the Queen.

He that ſhall be received into the Queens ſervice.

XXIV. And that it may be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons Temporal, ſuing Livery, or Ouſtre le maine, out of the hands of your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, before his or their Livery, or Ouſtre le maine, ſued forth and allowed (2) and every Temporal perſon or perſons doing any Homage to your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, or that ſhall be received into ſervice with your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, (3) ſhall make, take and receive the ſaid corporal Oath before mentioned, before the Lord Chancellor of England, or the Lord Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being, or before ſuch perſon or perſons, as by your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall be named and appointed to accept or receive the ſame.

He that taketh Orders.

He that taketh degrees in any Univerſity.

XXV. And that alſo all and every perſon and perſons taking Orders, and all and every other perſon and perſons which ſhall be promoted or preferred to any degree of learning in any Univerſity within this your Realm or Dominions, before he ſhall receive or take any ſuch Orders, or be preferred to any ſuch degree of learning, ſhall make, take and receive the ſaid Oath by this Act ſet forth and declared, as is aforeſaid, before his or their Ordinary, Commiſſary, Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor, or their ſufficient Deputies in the ſaid Univerſity.

He that hath eſtate of inheritance in a temporal Office, firſt refuſeth, and then taketh the Oath.

XXVI. Provided always, and that it may be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon having any eſtate of inheritance, in any Temporal Office or Offices, ſhall hereafter obſtinately and peremptorily refuſe to accept and take the ſaid Oath, as is aforeſaid, and after at any time during his life, ſhall willingly require to take and receive the ſaid Oath, and ſo do take and accept the ſame Oath before any perſon or perſons that ſhall have lawful authority to miniſter the ſame; that then every ſuch perſon immediately after he hath ſo received the ſame Oath, ſhall be veſted, judged and deemed in like eſtate and poſſeſſion of the ſaid Office as he was before the ſaid refuſal, and ſhall and may uſe and exerciſe the ſaid Office in ſuch manner and form as he ſhould or might have done before ſuch refuſal; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

XXVII. And for the more ſure obſervation of this Act, and the utter extinguiſhment of all foreign and uſurped power and authority, (2) may it pleaſe your Highneſs, that it may be enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons dwelling or inhabiting within this your Realm, or in any other your Highneſs Realms or Dominions, of what eſtate dignity or degree ſoever he or they be, after the end of thirty days next, after the determination of this Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, ſhall by writing, printing, teaching, preaching, expreſs words, deed or act, adviſedly, maliciouſly, and directly affirm, hold, ſtand with, ſet forth, maintain or defend the authority, preheminence, power or juriſdiction, Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical, of any Foreign Prince, Prelate, Perſon, State or Potentate whatſoever heretofore claimed, uſed or uſurped within this Realm, or any Dominion or Countrey being within or under the power, dominion or obeyſance of your Highneſs; (3) or ſhall adviſedly, maliciouſly and directly put in ure, or execute any thing for the extolling, advancement, ſetting forth, maintenance or defence of any ſuch pretended or uſurped juriſdiction, power, preheminence and authority, or any part thereof; (4) that then every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo doing and offending, their abettors, aiders, procurers and counſellours, being thereof lawfully convicted and attainted, according to the true order and courſe of the Common Laws of this Realm, for his or their firſt offence, ſhall forfeit and loſe unto your Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors, all his and their goods and chattels, as well real as perſonal.

The forfeiture for the firſt offence.

XXVIII. And if any perſon ſo convicted or attainted, ſhall not have, or be worth of his proper goods and chattels to the value of twenty pound, at the time of his conviction or attainder; that then every ſuch perſon ſo convicted and attainted, over and beſides the forfeiture of all his ſaid goods and chattels, ſhall have and ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one whole year, without bail or mainpriſe.

XXIX. And that alſo, all and every the Benefices, Prebends, and other Eccleſiaſtical promotions, and dignities whatſoever, of every Spiritual perſon ſo offending, and being attainted, ſhall immediately after ſuch attaindour be utterly void to all intents and purpoſes, as though the Incumbent thereof were dead, (2) and that the Patron and Donour of every ſuch Benefice, Prebend, Spiritual promotion and dignity, ſhall and may lawfully preſent unto the ſame, or give the ſame in ſuch manner and form as if the ſaid Incumbent were dead; (3) and if any ſuch offendor or offendors, after ſuch conviction or attaindour, ſo eftſoons commit or do the ſaid offences, or any of them in manner and form aforeſaid, and be thereof duly convicted and attainted, as is aforeſaid; that then every ſuch offendor and offendors, ſhall for the ſame ſecond offence, incur into the dangers, penalties and forfeitures ordained and provided by the Statute of Proviſion and Præmunire, made in the ſixteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the ſecond.

Forfeiture of the ſecond offence.

The penalty of the third offence.

XXX. And if any ſuch offendor or offendors, at any time after the ſecond conviction and attaindour, do the third time commit and do the ſaid offences, or any of them, in manner and form aforeſaid, and be thereof duly convicted and attainted, as is aforeſaid; that then every ſuch offence or offences, ſhall be deemed and adjudged high Treaſon, and that the offendor or offendors therein, being thereof lawfully convicted and attainted, according to the Laws of this Realm, ſhall ſuffer pains of death, and other penalties, forfeitures and loſſes, as in caſe of high Treaſon by the Laws of this Realm.

Within what time an offender ſhall be impeached.

XXXI. And alſo that it may likewiſe pleaſe your Highneſs, that it may be enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon or perſons ſhall be moleſted or impeached for any of the offences ſo committed or perpetrated only by preaching, teaching or words unleſs he or they be thereof lawfully indicted within the ſpace of one whole year next after his or their offences ſo committed: (2) And in caſe any perſon or perſons ſhall fortune to be impriſoned for any of the ſaid offences committed by preaching, teaching, or words only, and be not thereof indicted within the ſpace of one half year next after his or their ſuch offence ſo committed and done, that then the ſaid perſon ſo impriſoned ſhall be ſet at liberty, and be no longer detained in priſon for any ſuch cauſe or offence.

All things touching the Præmunire in the Stat. 1 & 2. P. & M. 8 Sect. 41. do continue in force.

XXXII. Provided always, and be it Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to repeal any clauſe, matter or ſentence contained or ſpecified in the ſaid Act of Repeal made in the ſaid firſt and ſecond years of the Reign of the ſaid late King Philip and Queen Mary, as doth in any wiſe touch or concern any matter or cauſe of Præmunire, or that doth make or ordain any matter or cauſe to be within the caſe of Præmunire, (2) but that the ſame for ſo much only as toucheth or concerneth any caſe or matter of Præmunire, ſhall ſtand and remain in ſuch force and effect, as the ſame was before the making of this Act; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Offences committed againſt Statutes revived.

XXXIII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend, or be prejudicial to any perſon or perſons for any offence or offences committed or done, or hereafter to be committed or done contrary to the tenour and effect of any Act or Statute now revived by this Act, before the end of thirty days next after the end of the Seſſion, of this preſent Parliament; any thing in this Act contained, or any other matter or cauſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Trial of Peers.

XXXIV. And if it happen that any Peer of this Realm ſhall fortune to be indicted of and for any offence that is revived or made Præmunire or Treaſon by this Act, that then he ſo being indicted, ſhall have his Trial by his Peers, in ſuch like manner and form as in other caſe of Treaſon hath been uſed.

No matter of Religion, &c. made by this Parliament ſhall be adjudged error, hereſie or ſchiſm.

XXXV. Provided always, and be it enacted as is aforeſaid, that no manner of Order, Act or Determination for any matter of Religion, or cauſe Eccleſiaſtical, had or made by the authority of this preſent Parliament, ſhall be accepted, deemed, interpreted or adjudged at any time hereafter to be any error, hereſie, ſchiſm, or ſchiſmatical opinion; any order, decree, ſentence, conſtitution or law, whatſoever the ſame be, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What things the Commiſſioners may adjudge to be hereſie.

XXXVI. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſuch perſon or perſons to whom your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall hereafter by Letters Patents, under the Great Seal of England, give authority to have or execute any juriſdiction, power or authority Spiritual, or to viſit, reform, order or correct any errors, hereſies, ſchiſms, abuſes or enormities by virtue of this Act, ſhall not in any wiſe have authority or power to order, determine, or adjudge any matter or cauſe to be hereſie, but only ſuch as have heretofore determined, ordered or adjudged to be hereſie, by the authority of the Canonical Scriptures, or by the firſt four General Councels, or any of them, or by any other General Council wherein the ſame was declared hereſie by the expreſs and plain words of the ſaid Canonical Scriptures, or ſuch as hereafter ſhall be ordered, judged or determined to be hereſie, by the high Court of Parliament of this Realm, with the aſſent of the Clergy in their Convocation; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Scripture Four general Councels.

None ſhall be indicted or arraigned but by witneſſes.

XXXVII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be hereafter indicted or arraigned for any of the offences made, ordained, revived or adjudged by this Act, unleſs there be two ſufficient witneſſes or more, to teſtifie and declare the ſaid offences whereof he ſhall be indicted or arraigned: (2) And that the ſaid witneſſes, or ſo many of them as ſhall be living, and within this Realm at the time of the arraignment of ſuch perſon ſo indicted, ſhall be brought forth in perſon face to face, before the party ſo arraigned, and there ſhall teſtifie and declare what they can ſay againſt the party ſo arraigned, if he require the ſame.

A Proviſo for them that give relief to offendors.

XXXVIII. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall hereafter happen to give any relief, aid or comfort, or in any wiſe be aiding, helping or comforting to the perſon or perſons of any that ſhall hereafter happen to be an offendor in any matter or caſe of Præmunire or Treaſon revived or made by this Act; that then ſuch relief, aid or comfort given ſhall not be judged or taken to be any offence, unleſs there be two ſufficient witneſſes at the leaſt, that can and will openly teſtifie and declare that the perſon or perſons that ſo give ſuch relief, aid or comfort, had notice and knowledge of ſuch offence committed and done by the ſaid offendor, at the time of ſuch relief, aid or comfort ſo to him given or miniſtred; any thing in this Act contained, or any other matter or cauſe to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Chetwoods Appeal to the Court of Rome.

XXXIX. And where one pretenced ſentence hath heretofore been given in the Conſiſtory in Pauls before certain Judges Delegate, by the authority Legantine of the late Cardinal Poole, by reaſon of a foreign uſurped power and authority, againſt Richard Chetwood Eſquire, and Agnes his wife, by the name of Agnes Woodhull, at the Suit of Charles Tyrril Gentleman, in a cauſe of Matrimony ſolemnized between the ſaid Richard and Agnes, as by the ſame pretenced ſentence more plainly doth appear, from which ſentence the ſaid Richard and Agnes have appealed to the Court of Rome; which Appeal doth there remain, and yet is not determined:

XL. May it therefore pleaſe your Highneſs, that it may be enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if ſentence in the ſaid Appeal ſhall happen to be given at the ſaid Court of Rome, for and in the behalf of the ſaid Richard and Agnes, for the reverſing of the ſaid pretenced ſentence, before the end of threeſcore days next after the end of this Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, that then the ſame ſhall be adjudged and taken to be good and effectual in the Law, and ſhall and may be uſed, pleaded, and allowed in any Court or place within this Realm; any thing in this Act, or in any other Act or Statute contained to the contrary notwithſtanding:

XLI. And if no ſentence ſhall be given at the Court of Rome in the ſaid Appeal, for the reverſing of the ſaid pretenced ſentence, before the end of the ſaid threeſcore days, that then it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Richard and Agnes, and either of them, at any time hereafter to commence, take, ſue, and proſecute their ſaid Appeal from the ſaid pretenced ſentence, and for the reverſing of the ſaid pretenced ſentence, within this Realm, in ſuch like manner and form as was uſed to be purſued, or might have been purſued within this Realm, at any time ſince the twenty fourth year of the Reign of ehe ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, upon ſentences given in the Court or Courts of any Archbiſhop within this Realm.

XLII. And that ſuch Appeal as ſo hereafter ſhall be taken, or purſued by the ſaid Richard Chetwood and Agnes, or either of them, and the ſentence that herein or thereupon ſhall hereafter be given, ſhall be judged to be good and effectual in the Law, to all intents and purpoſes; any Law, Cuſtom, Uſage, Canon, Conſtitution, or any other matter or cauſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

An Appeal between Robert Harcourt and Anthony Fydel.

XLIII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That where there is the like Appeal now depending in the ſaid Court of Rome, between one Robert Harcourt, Merchant of the Staple, and Elizabeth Harcourt, otherwiſe called Elizabeth Robins of the one party, and Anthony Fydel, Merchant Stranger on the other party; that the ſaid Robert, Elizabeth and Anthony, and every of them, ſhall and may for the proſecuting and trying of their ſaid Appeal, have and enjoy the like remedy, benefit and advantage in like manner and form as the ſaid Richard and Agnes, or any of them hath, may or ought to have and enjoy; this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Stat. 23. El. 1.

C A P. II.

An Act for the Uniformity of Common Prayer, and Service in the Church, and adminiſtration of the Sacraments.

Sacraments 2. Stat. 14 Car. 2. cap. 4

Where at the death of our late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Sixth, there remained one Uniform Order of Common Service and Prayer, and of the Adminiſtration of Sacraments, Rites and Ceremonies of the Church of England, which was ſet forth in one Book intituled, The Book of Common Prayer, and Adminiſtration of Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies in the Church of England, authorized by Act of Parliament, holden in the fifth and ſixth years of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth intituled, An Act for the Uniformity of Common Prayer, and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments; the which was repealed and taken away by Act of Parliament in the firſt year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lady Queen Mary, to the great decay of the due honour of God, and diſcomfort to the profeſſors of the truth of Chriſts Religion:

Stat. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 1. Stat. 1 M. 2.

A repeal of the Statute of 1 M. 2. and the Book of Common Prayer ſhall be of effect.

II. Be it therefore Enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Eſtatute of Repeal, and every thing therein contained, only concerning the ſaid Book, and the Service, Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, Rites and Ceremonies, contained or appointed in or by the ſaid Book, ſhall be void and of none effect, from and after the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next coming; (2) And that the ſaid book with the order of Service, and of the adminiſtration of Sacraments, Rites and Ceremonies, with the alterations and additions therein added and appointed by this Eſtatute, ſhall ſtand and be from and after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt, in full force and effect, according to the tenour and effect of this Eſtatute; any thing in the foreſaid Eſtatute of Repeal to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Book of Common Prayer ſhall be uſed. 8 Eliz. 1. Godb. 162. pl. 95.

The alteration of the Book ſet forth. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 1.

III. And further be it enacted by the Queens Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and ſingular Miniſters in any Cathedral or Pariſh Church, or other place within this Realm of England, Wales, and the Marches of the ſame, or other the Queens Dominions, ſhall from and after the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next coming, be bounden to ſay and uſe the Mattens, Even-ſong, Celebration of the Lords Supper, and adminiſtration of each of the Sacraments, and all the Common and open prayer, in ſuch order and form as is mentioned in the ſaid Book ſo authoriſed by Parliament, in the ſaid fifth and ſixth years of the Reign of King Edward the ſixth, with one alteration or addition of certain Leſſons to be uſed on every Sunday in the year, and the form of the Litany altered and corrected, and two Sentences only added in the delivery of the Sacrament to the communicants, and none other or otherwiſe.

The forfeiture of thoſe which uſe any other ſervice then the Book of Common Prayer. Godbolt. 118. pl. 137.

The penalty for depraving the Book of Common Prayer.

IV. And that if any manner of Parſon, Vicar, or other whatſoever Miniſter, that ought or ſhould ſing or ſay Common Prayer mentioned in the ſaid Book, or miniſter the Sacraments, from and after the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next coming, refuſe to uſe the ſaid Common Prayers, or to miniſter the Sacraments in ſuch Cathedral or Pariſh Church, or other places as he ſhould uſe to miniſter the ſame, in ſuch order and form as they be mentioned and ſet forth in the ſaid Book; (2) or ſhall wilfully or obſtinately, ſtanding in the ſame, uſe any other Right, Ceremony, Order, Form, or manner of Celebrating the Lords Supper, openly or privily, or Mattens, Evenſong, Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, or other open Prayers, then is mentioned and ſet forth in the ſaid Book, (3) (open Prayer in and throughout this Act, is meant that Prayer which is for others to come unto, or hear, either in common Churches or Private Chappels or Oratories, commonly called, the Service of the Church) (4) or ſhall preach, declare, or ſpeak any thing in the derogation or depraving of the ſaid Book, or any thing therein contained, or of any part thereof, (5) and ſhall be thereof lawfully convicted, according to the Laws of this Realm, by verdict of twelve men, or by his own confeſſion, or by the notorious evidence of the fact, ſhall loſe and forfeit to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, for his firſt offence, the profit of all his Spiritual benefices or promotions coming or ariſing in one whole year next after his conviction: (6) And alſo that the perſon ſo convicted, ſhall for the ſame offence, ſuffer impriſonment for the ſpace of ſix months, without bail or main priſe.

The penalty for the ſecond offence.

Hob. 9

V. And if any ſuch perſon once convict of any offence concerning the premiſſes, ſhall after his firſt conviction eftſoons offend, and be thereof in form aforeſaid lawfully convict, that then the ſame perſon ſhall for his ſecond offence ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one whole year, (2) and alſo ſhall therefore be deprived, ipſo facto, of all his Spiritual promotions, (3) and that it ſhall be lawful to all Patrons or Donors of all and ſingular the ſame Spiritual promotions, or of any of them, to preſent or collate to the ſame, as though the perſon or perſons ſo offending were dead.

The penalty for the third offence.

VI And that if any ſuch perſon or perſons after he ſhall be twice convicted in form aforeſaid, ſhall offend againſt any of the premiſſes the third time, and ſhall be thereof in form aforeſaid lawfully convicted, and then the perſon ſo offending and convicted the third time, ſhall be deprived ipſo facto, of all his Spiritual promotions, and alſo ſhall ſuffer impriſonment during his life.

The penalty of an offendor having no Spiritual promotion.

VII. And if the perſon that ſhall offend, and be convicted in form aforeſaid, concerning any of the premiſſes, ſhall not be beneficed, nor have any Spiritual promotion, that then the ſame perſon ſo offending and convict, ſhall for the firſt offence ſuffer impriſonment during one whole year next after his ſaid conviction, without bail or mainpriſe.

VIII. And if any ſuch perſon not having any Spiritual promotion, after his firſt conviction ſhall eftſoons offend in any thing concerning the premiſſes, and ſhall in form aforeſaid be thereof lawfully convicted, that then the ſame perſon ſhall for his ſecond offence ſuffer impriſonment during his life.

The forfeiture of them which do any thing, or ſpeak in the derogation of the Book of Common Prayer. Cauſing other Prayer to be ſaid or ſung. Coke pla fol. 362.

IX. And it is ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons whatſoever, after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next coming, ſhall in any Enterludes, Plays, Songs, Rymes, or by other open words, declare or ſpeak any thing in the derogation, depraving or deſpiſing of the ſame Book, or of any thing therein contained, or any part thereof, (2) or ſhall by open fact, deed, or by open threatnings, compel or cauſe, or otherwiſe procure or maintain any Parſon, Vicar, or other Miniſter in any Cathedral or Pariſh Church, or in Chappel, or in any other place, to ſing or ſay any Common or open Prayer, or to miniſter any Sacrament otherwiſe, or in any other manner and form than is mentioned in the ſaid Book (3) or that by any of the ſaid means ſhall unlawfully interrupt, or let any Parſon, Vicar or other Miniſter in any Cathedral or Pariſh Church, Chappel, or any other place, to ſing or ſay Common and open Prayer, or to miniſter the Sacraments or any of them, in ſuch manner and form, as is mentioned in the ſaid Book; (4) that then every ſuch perſon being thereof lawfully convicted, in form aboveſaid, ſhall forfeit to the Queen our Sovereign Lady, her Heirs and Succeſſors, for the firſt offence an hundred marks.

The forfeiture of an hundred marks for the firſt offence. 3 Inſt. 198.

The forfeiture of four hundred Marks for the ſecond offence.

Dyer f.

X. And if any perſon or perſons being once convict of any ſuch offence, eftſoons offend againſt any of the laſt recited offences, and ſhall in form aforeſaid be thereof lawfully convict; that then the ſame perſon ſo offending and convict, ſhall for the ſecond offence forfeit to the Queen our Sovereign Lady, her Heirs and Succeſſors, four hundred marks.

XI. And if any perſon after he in form aforeſaid, ſhall have been twice convict of any offence concerning any of the laſt recited offences, ſhall offend the third time, and be thereof in form aboveſaid lawfully convict, That then every perſon ſo offending and convict, ſhall for his third offence forfeit to our Sovereign Lady the Queen, all his goods and chattels, and ſhall ſuffer impriſonment during his life.

The forfeiture for the third offence.

XII. And if any perſon or perſons, that for his firſt offence concerning the premiſſes, ſhall be convict in form aforeſaid, do not pay the ſum to be paid by virtue of his conviction, in ſuch manner and form as the ſame ought to be paid, within ſix weeks next after his conviction; that then every perſon ſo convict, and ſo not paying the ſame, ſhall for the ſame firſt offence, inſtead of the ſaid ſum, ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of ſix months, without bail or mainpriſe.

The penalty if the party convicted do not pay his forfeiture within the time limited.

XIII. And if any perſon or perſons, that for his ſecond offence concerning the premiſſes, ſhall be convict in form aforeſaid, do not pay the ſum to be paid by virtue of his conviction and this Eſtatute, in ſuch manner and form as the ſame ought to be paid, within ſix weeks next after his ſaid ſecond conviction, That then every perſon ſo convicted, and not ſo paying the ſame, ſhall for the ſame ſecond offence, inſtead of the ſaid ſum, ſuffer Impriſonment during twelve months, without bail or mainpriſe.

XIV. And that from and after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next coming, all and every perſon and perſons inhabiting within this Realm, or any other the Queens Majeſties Dominions, ſhall diligently and faithfully, having no lawful or reaſonable excuſe to be abſent, endeavour themſelves to reſort to their Pariſh Church or Chappel accuſtomed, or upon reaſonable let thereof, to ſome uſual place where Common Prayer, and ſuch Service of God ſhall be uſed in ſuch time of let, upon every Sunday, and other days ordained and uſed to be kept as holy-days, and then and there to abide orderly and ſoberly, during the time of the Common Prayer, Preaching, or other Service of God there to be uſed and miniſtred, (2) upon pain of puniſhment by the cenſures of the Church, and alſo upon pain that every perſon ſo offending, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence, twelve pence, to be levied by the Church-wardens of the Pariſh where ſuch offence ſhall be done, to the uſe of the poor of the ſame Pariſh, of the goods, lands and tenements of ſuch offender, by way of Diſtreſs.

Every perſon ſhall reſort to the Church upon the Holy-days. Godbolt 148. pl. 191.

The forfeiture for not coming to Church. 23 El. 1.

XV. And for due execution hereof, the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Temporal, and all the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, do in Gods Name earneſtly require and charge all the Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other Ordinaries, that they ſhall endeavour themſelves to the uttermoſt of their knowledges, that the due and true execution hereof may be had throughout their Dioceſs and Charges, as they will anſwer before God, for ſuch evils and plagues wherewith Almighty God may juſtly puniſh his people for neglecting this good and wholſom Law.

XVI. And for their authority in this behalf, be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular the ſaid Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and all other their Officers exerciſing Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, as well in place exempt as not exempt, within their Dioceſs, ſhall have full power and authority by this Act, to reform, correct and puniſh by cenſures of the Church, all and ſingular perſons which ſhall offend within any their Juriſdictions or Dioceſs, after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next coming, againſt this Act and Statute; any other Law, Statute, Priviledge, Liberty or Proviſion, heretofore made, had or ſuffered to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Ordinary may puniſh offenders by the cenſures of the Church.

XVII. And it is ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, or Juſtices of Aſſize, ſhall have full power and authority in every of their open and general Seſſions, to enquire, hear and determine all and all manner of offences that ſhall be committed or done contrary to any Article contained in this preſent Act, within the limits of the Commiſſion to them directed, and to make Proceſs for the execution of the ſame, as they may do againſt any perſon being indicted before them of treſpaſs, or lawfully convicted thereof.

Which Juſtices may puniſh theſe offences.

XVIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Archbiſhop and Biſhop, ſhall or may at all time and times, at his liberty and pleaſure, joyn and aſſociate himſelf by virtue of this Act, to the ſaid Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, or to the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize, at every of the ſaid open and general Seſſions to be holden in any place within his Dioceſs, for and to the enquiry, hearing and determining of the offences aforeſaid.

A Biſhop may joyn with the Juſtices to enquire of offenders.

XIX. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Books concerning the ſaid Services, ſhall at the coſts and charges of the Pariſhioners of every Pariſh and Cathedral Church, be attained and gotten before the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next following, (2) and that all ſuch Pariſhes and Cathedral Churches, or other places, where the ſaid Books ſhall be attained and gotten before the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt, ſhall within three weeks next after the ſaid Books ſo attained and gotten, uſe the ſaid Service, and put the ſame in ure according to this Act.

At whoſe charges the Books of Common Prayer ſhall be gotten.

XX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be at any time hereafter impeached, or otherwiſe moleſted of, or for any of the offences above mentioned, hereafter to be committed or done contrary to this Act, unleſs he or they ſo offending, be thereof indicted at the next general Seſſions to be holden before any ſuch Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, or Juſtices of Aſſiſe, next after any offence committed or done contrary to the tenour of this Act.

Within what time offenders ſhall be impeached. Godbolt. 148. pl. 191.

XXI. Provided always, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular the Lords of the Parliament, for the third offence above mentioned, ſhall be tryed by their Peers.

Trial of Peers.

XXII. Provided alſo, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Mayor of London, and all other Mayors, Bailiffs, and other head-officers of all and ſingular Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate within this Realm, Wales, and the Marches of the ſame, to the which Juſtices of Aſſize do not commonly repair, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to enquire, hear and determine the offences aboveſaid, and every of them, yearly within fifteen days after the Feaſts of Eaſter, and Saint Michael the Archangel, in like manner and form as Juſtices of Aſſiſe, and Oyer and Determiner may do.

The Ordinaries juriſdiction in theſe caſes.

XXIII. Provided always, and be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and every of their Chancellors, Commiſſaries, Archdeacons, and other Ordinaries, having any peculiar Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, as well to inquire in their Viſitation, Synods and elſewhere within their Juriſdiction, at any other time and place, to take accuſations and informations of all and every the things above mentioned, done, committed, or perpetrated within the limits of their Juriſdictions and Authority, aud to puniſh the ſame by admonition, excommunication, ſequeſtration or deprivation, and other cenſures & proceſs, in like form as heretofore hath been uſed in like caſes by the Queens Eccleſiaſtical Laws.

None ſhall be puniſhed above once for one offence.

XXIV. Provided always, and be it enacted, That whatſoever perſons offending in the premiſſes, ſhall for their offences, firſt receive puniſhment of the Ordinary, having a teſtimonial thereof under the ſaid Ordinaries Seal, ſhall not for the ſame offence eftſoons be convicted before the Juſtices: (2) And likewiſe receiving for the ſaid offence puniſhment, firſt by the Juſtices, ſhall not for the ſame offence eftſoons receive puniſhment of the Ordinary; any thing contained in this Act, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Ornaments of the Church and Miniſters.

XXV. Provided always, and be it Enacted, That ſuch ornaments of the Church and of the Miniſters thereof, ſhall be retained and be in uſe, as was in this Church of England, by authority of Parliament, in the ſecond year of the Reign of King Edward the Sixth, until other order ſhall be therein taken by the authority of the Queens Majeſty, with the advice of her Commiſſioners appointed and authorized under the Great Seal of England for cauſes Eccleſiaſtical, or of the Metropolitan of this Realm.

XXVI. And alſo, That if there ſhall happen any contempt or irreverence to be uſed in the Ceremonies or Rites of the Church, by the miſuſing of the Orders appointed in this Book, the Queens Majeſty may by the like advice of the ſaid Commiſſioners or Metropolitan, ordain and publiſh ſuch further Ceremonies or Rites as may be moſt for the advancement of Gods glory, the edifying of his Church, and due reverence of Chriſts holy Myſteries and Sacraments.

All Laws and Ordinances made for other ſervice ſhall be void.

XXVII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Laws, Statutes and Ordinances, wherein or whereby any other Service, Adminiſtration of Sacraments or Common Prayer, is limitted, eſtabliſhed, or ſet forth to be uſed within this Realm, or any other the Queens Dominions or Countries, ſhall from henceforth be utterly void and of none effect. Coke pla. fol. 352.

CAP. III.

An Act for Recognition of the Queens Highneſs to the Imperial Crown of this Realm.

Crown, Raſt. 7. The Recognizing the Queen to the Crown.

AS there is nothing under God (moſt dread Sovereign Lady) whereof we your moſt humble, faithful and obedient Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, have, may or ought to have more cauſe to rejoyce then in this only, that it hath pleaſed God of his merciful providence and goodneſs towards us and this our Realm, not only to provide, but alſo to preſerve and keep for us and our wealths, your Royal Majeſty our moſt rightful and lawful Sovereign Liege Lady and Queen, moſt happily to Reign over us; for the which we do give and yield unto him from the bottoms of our hearts, our humble thanks, lauds and praiſes; (2) even ſo there is nothing that we your ſaid Subjects for our parties can, may or ought toward your Highneſs more firmly, entirely and aſſuredly in the purity of our hearts think, or with our mouths declare and confeſs to be true, then that your Majeſty our ſaid Sovereign Lady is, and in very deed, and of moſt meer right ought to be by the Laws of God, and the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, our moſt rightful and lawful Sovereign Liege Lady and Queen; (3) and that your Highneſs is rightly and lineally, and lawfully deſcended and come of the bloud Royal of this Realm of England, in and to whoſe Princely perſon, and the Heirs of your body lawfully to be begotten, after you, without all doubt, ambiguity, ſcruple or queſtion, the Imperial and Royal Eſtate, Place, Crown and Dignity of this Realm, with all Honours, Stiles, Titles, Dignities, Regalities, Juriſdictions and Preheminences to the ſame now belonging and appertaining, are and ſhall be moſt fully, rightfully, really and intirely inveſted and incorporated, united and annexed, as rightfully aud lawfully, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as the ſame were in the late King Henry the Eighth, or in the late King Edward the Sixth, your Highneſs Brother, or in the late Queen Mary your Highneſs Siſter, at any time ſince the Act of Parliament made in the xxxv. year of the Reign of your ſaid moſt noble Father King Henry the Eighth, Intituled, An Act concerning the eſtabliſhment of the Kings Majeſties Succeſſion in the Imperial Crown of this Realm:

Queen Elizabeth is, and ought to be our lawful Queen.

35 H. 8. 1.

II. For which cauſes we your ſaid moſt loving, faithful and obedient Subjects, repreſenting the three Eſtates of your Realm of England, as thereunto conſtrained by the Law of God and man, except we ſhould overmuch forget our duties to your Highneſs, and to the heirs of your body lawfully begotten, can no leſs do, but moſt humbly beſeech your Highneſs, That by the authority of this preſent Parliament it may be enacted, eſtabliſhed and declared, That we do Recogniſe, Acknowledge and Confeſs the ſame your Eſtate, Right, Title and Succeſſion as is aforeſaid, to be in and to your Highneſs, and the heirs of your body to be begotten, throughoutly, aud in the whole, and in every part thereof, in ſuch manner and form as before is mentioned, declared or confeſſed; and thereunto moſt humbly and faithfully we do ſubmit our ſelves, our heirs and poſterities for ever.

III. And further do make our moſt hearty and humbly petition unto your Highneſs, That it may pleaſe the ſame, not only to accept this our ſaid Recognition, but alſo our faithful promiſes, that we, according to our duties, ſhall and will ſtand to, aſſiſt and defend your Royal Majeſty, and the heirs of your body to be begotten, being Kings and Queens of this Realm, and your ſaid rights and titles in and to the ſaid Imperial Eſtate, Place, Crown and Dignity in all things thereto belonging, at all times, to the uttermoſt of our poſſible powers, and therein to ſpend our bodies, lands and goods, againſt all perſons whatſoever, that any thing ſhall attempt to the contrary.

Queen Elizabeths Title to the Crown of England, recogniſed by Parliament.

IV. And that it may be enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well this our declaration, confeſſion and recognition, as alſo the limitation and declaration of the ſucceſſion of the Imperial Crown of this Realm, mentioned and contained in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid five and thirtieth year of the Reign of your ſaid moſt noble Father, ſhall ſtand, remain, and be the Law of this Realm for ever.

The limitation of the Crown contained in the St. of 35 H. 8. 1. ſhall be the Law for ever.

V. And that all Sentences, Judgments and Decrees, had, made, declared, ſet forth, publiſhed and promulged, and alſo as much of every clauſe, article, branch, matter or thing contained and expreſſed in any Act or Acts of Parliament, as be in any thing repugnant, contrary, or derogatory to this our ſaid confeſſion, declaration and recognition, or to any part or parcel thereof, or contrary to the ſaid limitation of the ſucceſſion of the Imperial Crown, eſtabliſhed and made by the ſaid Act, in the ſaid xxxv. year of the Reign of the late King Henry the Eighth, by whatſoever power or authority the ſame been, or have been had or made, ſhall be utterly fruſtrate, void, and of none effect: and alſo ſhall and may be cancelled, defaced, and put in perpetual oblivion at your Highneſs will and pleaſure, as if the ſame had never been had, made, declared, ſet forth, publiſhed or promulged.

CAP. IV.

An Act for the Reſtitution of the Firſt-fruits to the Crown.

IN their moſt humble wiſe beſeech your moſt excellent Majeſty, your faithful and humble Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this your Realm in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That where in the Parliament of your moſt noble Father of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, holden at Weſtminſter upon prorogation the third day of November, in the ſix and twentieth year of his proſperous Reign, it was enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the authority of the ſame Parliament, amongſt other things, That his Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors Kings of this Realm, ſhould have and enjoy from time to time, to endure for ever, of every ſuch perſon and perſons which at any time after the firſt day of January then next enſuing, ſhould be nominated, elected, preſected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed to have any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Colledge, Hoſpital, Archdeaconry, Deanary, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chantry, Free-chappel, or other Dignity, Benefice, Office or Promotion ſpiritual within this Realm, or elſewhere within any of the Kings Dominions, of what name, nature, or quality ſoever they were, or to whoſe foundation, patronage, or gift ſoever they did belong, the Firſt-fruits, Revenues and Profits for one year of every ſuch Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Colledge, Hoſpital, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chantry, Free-chappel, or other Dignity, Benefice, Office, or Promotion Spiritual aforenamed, whereunto any ſuch perſon or perſons ſhould after the ſaid firſt day of January be nominated, elected, perfected, preſented, collated, or by any other means appointed: (2) And that every ſuch perſon and perſons, before any actual or real poſſeſſion, or medling with the profits of any ſuch Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Colledge, Hoſpital, Deanry, Provoſtſhip, Prebend, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chantry, Free-chappel, Priory, or other Dignity, Benefice, Office, or Promotion Spiritual, ſhould ſatisfie, content and pay, or compound or agree to pay to the Kings uſe at reaſonable days, upon good ſureties, the ſaid Firſt-fruits and Profits for one year.

Firſt-fruits, Raſt. 10.

A rehearſal of the Statute of 26 H. 8. cap. 3. touching Firſt-fruits and Tenths given to the King.

The Firſt-fruits.

II. And it was further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Firſt-fruits of Benefices, before that time accuſtomed to be paid to the Biſhop of Norwich within his Dioceſs, and to the Archdeacon of Richmond within his Archdeaconry, or any other perſon or perſons within this Realm, or any other the Kings Dominions, ſhould from the ſaid firſt day of January, ceaſe and be extinct, and no longer be paid, but only to the Kings Highneſs, his Heirs and Succeſſors, in ſuch form as is before mentioned.

III. And further it was Enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That the Kings Majeſty, his Heirs and Succeſſors, for more augmentation and maintenance of the Royal Eſtate of this Imperial Crown, ſhould yearly have, take, enjoy and receive, united and knit to his Imperial Crown, for ever, one yearly rent or penſion, amounting to the value of the tenth part of the revenues, rents, ferms, tithes, offerings, emoluments, and of all other profits, as well called ſpiritual as temporal, appertaining or belonging, or that from henceforth ſhould belong to any Archbiſhoprick, Biſhoprick, Abbacy, Monaſtery, Priory, Archdeaconry, Deanry, Hoſpital, Colledge, Houſe Collegiate, Prebend, Cathedral Church, Collegiate Church, Conventual Church, Parſonage, Vicarage, Chantry, Free-Chappel, or other Benefice or Promotion Spiritual, of what name, nature or quality ſoever they were, within any Dioceſs of this Realm, or in Wales, (2) the ſaid penſion or annual rent to be yearly paid for ever, to the ſaid late King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, at the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord GOD, and firſt payment thereof to begin at the Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord GOD, which ſhould be in the year of our Lord God 1535. and to be paid yearly by ſuch as ſhould be appointed to have the collection thereof, before the firſt day of April next following, after the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of our Lord God, as in the ſaid Act more plainly doth appear:

The Tenths.

IV. And where alſo one other Act was made and eſtabliſhed in the ſaid Parliament the ſaid xxvj. year, That no Farmour of ſpiritual perſons, ſhould be compelled or charged to pay for their Leſſors Firſt-fruits or yearly penſion for the tenth granted unto the Kings Highneſs, notwithſtanding any covenant, contract, bond or other thing made to the contrary, as by the ſame Act more plainly appeareth.

Anno 26 H. 8. 17.

V. And

27 H. 8. cap. 8. V. And where alſo at one other Seſſion of the ſame Parliament, holden by prorogation at Weſtminſter in the xxvij. year of the Reign of your ſaid Father, one other Act was made and eſtabliſhed, That the Kings Spiritual Subjects ſhould be deducted and allowed of the tenth of their Spiritual Promotions for that firſt year for which they ſhould pay the Firſt-fruits, as in the ſaid Act more at large appeareth.

28 H. 8. 11. VI. And where alſo in one other Parliament of the ſad late King, holden at Weſtminſter in the xxviij. year of his Reign, amongſt other things, it was enacted and ordained, That the year in which the Firſt-fruits of every Benefice and Spiritual promotion ſhould be paid, ſhould begin and be accounted immediately after the avoidance thereof: (2) And that the tithes, commodities, revenues, caſualties and profits thereof (Chantries only except) in the time of vacation, ſhould belong and afferre to the next Incumbent, towards the payment of the Firſt-fruits; as by the ſame Act more at large appeareth.

32 H. 8. 22. VII. And where alſo in one other Parliament, holden upon prorogation at Weſtminſter in the thirty ſecond year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, one Act was made and eſtabliſhed, That Biſhops upon their accounts of, and for the ſaid yearly Tenth, ſhould be diſcharged by their Oaths, of payment of ſuch ſum or ſums of money of the ſaid annual rent, or tenth, as they could not lawfully levy: (2) and alſo an order appointed how the King ſhould be anſwered of the tenth of any Benefice and ſpiritual promotion, omitted in the original or former certificate of Benefices and Spiritual promotions made in the Exchequer; as by the ſame Act laſt mentioned more at large appeareth.

32 H. 8. 45. VIII. And where alſo in the ſame Seſſion and Parliament, holden in the ſaid thirty ſecond year of the Reign of your Highneſs ſaid noble Father, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, one Court was erected, eſtabliſhed and made, for the better anſwering of the ſaid Firſt-fruits and Tenths unto the King, called The Court of Firſt-fruits and Tenths; as in the ſame Act of erection thereof more fully appeareth.

32 H. 8. 47. IX. And where alſo in the ſame Seſſion and Parliament one other Act was made, whereby the Biſhop of Norwich for the time being (being before that diſcharged from the Collection of the Tenth within his Dioceſs) ſhould be charged and chargeable for ever, for and with the collection of the ſame Tenth within his Dioceſs, and make payment thereof, as other Biſhops ſhould or ought to do within their Dioceſſes; as by the ſame Act more plainly appeareth.

34 H. 8. 2. X. And where alſo in one other Parliament of the ſaid late King, holden at Weſtminſter, upon prorogation in the thirty fourth year of his Reign, one Act was eſtabliſhed and made concerning Collectors and Receivers, to make payment of their Receits within three months next after the ſame ſhould be due and paid to the Kings uſe, under certain penalties therein expreſſed; as by the ſame Act more at large appeareth.

34 H. 8. 17. XI. And where alſo in the ſame Seſſion and Parliament it was enacted and eſtabliſhed, That the new erected Biſhops of Cheſter, Glouceſter, Peterborough, Briſtol, Oxford, and their Succeſſors for ever, ſhould pay their Tenths reſerved upon their Letters Patents on their ſeveral Erections, only in the ſaid Court of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths for ever; as by the ſame Act more at large appeareth.

37 H. 8. 23. XII. And where alſo in the Parliament of the ſaid late King, holden at Weſtminſter in the xxxvij. year of his Reign, one Act entituled, An Act for the union of Churches not exceeding the value of ſix pound, was eſtabliſhed and made, wherein is contained a Saving to the King of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths of all Churches and Chappels not exceeding the value of ſix pound, that then were, or from thenceforth ſhould be united and conſolidate in one; as in the ſame Act and Saving more largely appeareth.

2 Ed. 6. 20. XIII. An dwhere alſo in the Parliament of your Highneſs deareſt Brother of worthy memory, King Edward the Sixth, holden at Weſtminſter upon prorogation in the ſecond year of his Reign, one Act was made, That by the Certificate of the Biſhop of any Dioceſs within this Realm, or any of the Dominions of the ſame, of recuſance or non-payment of any Tenth of any Benefice or Spiritual Promotion, the Incumbent ſhould leeſe but that Benefice or promotion only; as by the ſame Act more plainly appeareth.

7 Ed. 6. 4. XIV. And where alſo in one other Parliament of the ſaid late King Edward,, holden at Weſtminſter in the ſeventh year of his Reign, one Act was made and eſtabliſhed, declaring how and in what ſort the under-Collectors of the Tenth in every Dioceſs, appointed by the Biſhop, ſhould be bound to diſcharge the Biſhops of that collection, and a longer day given for the payment of the Tenth: (2) and how the King ſhould be anſwered of the Tenth for the time of vacation of every Benefice and Spiritual promotion, and that the Patents of the collection of Tenths, ſhould be good only during the Incumbency of the Grantors; as in the ſame Act more at large is contained.

1 Mar. 10. XV. And where alſo in the ſecond Seſſion of Parliament of our late Sovereign Lady Queen Mary, your Majeſties deareſt Siſter, holden at Weſtminſter in the Firſt year of her Reign, one Act was made and eſtabliſhed, whereby full power and authority was given and appointed unto her Highneſs, at her will and pleaſure to alter, change, unite, tranſport, diſſolve, or determine, as well the ſaid Court of Firſt-fruits and Tenths, as the Court of Augmentations of the Revenues of the Kings Crown, and other Courts therein expreſſed, and to reduce the ſame Courts, or any of them, into one, two, or more Court or Courts, or to unite and annex the ſaid Courts or any two or more of them together, or to any other of her Majeſties Courts of Record, as to her it ſhould be thought moſt convenient and beſt, for the better, ſure, and more ſpeedy anſwering of her yearly revenues, caſualties, and profits then anſwerable in the ſaid Courts, or any of them, as in the ſame Act more at large is expreſſed: (2) By vigour and authority of which Act, the ſaid late Queen by her Graces four ſeveral Letters Patents, whereof two bear date the three and twentieth day of January, in the firſt year of her Reign, and the other two, the four and twentieth of January in the ſame year, did not only diſſolve, determine and extinguiſh the ſaid Courts, commonly called and entituled, The Court of Augmentations and Revenues of the Kings Crown, and the Courts of the Firſt-fruits and Tenth, and the juriſdiction and authority thereof; (3) but alſo did unite, tranſpoſe and annex the ſaid Courts of Augmentations ons and Revenues of the Kings Crown, and of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths ſo diſſolved, to the ſame Court of the Exchequer, there to be and continue as a member and parcel of the ſame Court of the Exchequer: (4) and did appoint all and ſingular the Revenues, Caſualties, Profits and Hereditaments then anſwerable in the ſaid Courts, to the Order, Rule, Survey, and Governance of the ſaid Court of the Exchequer, there to be anſwered and accounted for ever, in ſuch order, manner and form, as in the ſaid Letters Patents, and two Schedules unto the ſaid Letters Patents annexed, is mentioned and declared, as by the tenour and purport of the ſaid Letters Patents and Schedules ſigned with her Highneſs hand, more plainly may appear.

and annexed them to the Exchequer.

XVI. By reaſon of all which ſaid premiſſes, not only the ſaid perpetual Revenues of the Firſt-fruits and Tenths granted by the ſaid Act in the Twenty ſixth year of the Reign of your Highneſs moſt noble Father, in augmentation and maintenance of the Crown of this Realm, but alſo the Tenths and yearly Rents reſerved nomine Decimæ, by any Letters Patents of your ſaid noble Father, ſithence the ſaid ſix and twentieth year of his Reign, and of your ſaid deareſt Brother and Siſter, or of any of them, made to any Biſhop and his Succeſſors, or to any Cathedral Church, Dean and Chapter, Colledge, or any other Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual perſon or perſons, or Corporations, and their ſucceſſors for ever: (2) And alſo all and every the Rents, Revenues, Iſſues and Profits of all and ſingular Rectories, Parſonages and Benefices impropriate, glebe-lands, tithes, oblations, penſions, portions, and other profits and emoluments Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual to the ſame belonging, being in the hands and poſſeſſion of your ſaid deareſt Siſter, at the ſaid Four and twentieth day of January, were ordered, anſwerable, and accounted for in the ſaid Court of the Exchequer, and were therein well and juſtly anſwered and paid unto her Highneſs uſe and behoof, like as the ſame had been unto the ſaid two noble Kings her ſaid Father and Brother, by the ſpace of Twenty years, without grief or contradiction of the Prelates and Clergy of the Realm, to the great aid, relief and ſupportation of the ineſtimable charges of the Crown of this Realm, which daily ſince the time of the making of the ſaid firſt Act have increaſed and grown more and more.

XVII. Which thing although the ſaid late Queen might and did manifeſtly feel and perceive to be moſt true, yet ſhe upon certain zealous and inconvenient reſpects, not ſufficiently, nor politickly enough weighing that matter, nor having due conſideration and regard to the maintenance and upholding, and good continuance of the Eſtate of the Imperial Crown of this Realm in ſucceſſion, which rather needed an augmentation, then any diminution, procured and willed an Act of Parliament to be made and provided in the ſecond and third years of the Reign of King Philip her late Husband, and her, That all payments of the ſaid Firſt-fruits, ſhould from thenceforth ceaſe and be clearly extinct and determined for ever: (2) and that as well all the ſaid Benefices and Spiritual Promotions, as the Poſſeſſors, Owners, and Incumbents thereof, and their Succeſſors, ſhould from and after the Eighth day of Auguſt in the ſaid ſecond and third years, and ſo from thenceforth at all times for ever, be clearly exonerate, acquitted and diſcharged againſt the ſaid late King Philip and Queen Mary, her Heirs and Succeſſors, of and from the payment and payments of all and every the ſaid Firſt-fruits, in as ample and large manner and form as they were before the making of the ſaid Act of the firſt and original Grant thereof, in the ſaid Six and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King your noble Father, and as though the ſame had never been had ne made.

Queen Maries zealous, but not politick reſpect.

By the Statute made 2 & 3 P. & M. 4. Sect. N. 2. the payment of Firſt-fruits and Tenths ceaſed.

XVIII. And further, That neither the ſaid perpetual Penſion, annual Rent or Tenth granted by the ſaid firſt Act of the Six and twentieth year of the ſaid noble King Henry: nor alſo the ſaid ſeveral annual Rents or Tenths reſerved nomine Decimæ by and upon the ſaid ſeveral Letters Patents of the ſaid late King and Queen, made to Spiritual perſons and Corporations as is aforeſaid, or any of them, from and after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel then laſt paſt, ſhould any more be paid or payable unto the ſaid late King Philip and Queen Mary, her Heirs or Succeſſors; (2) but that as well all the ſaid Archbiſhopricks, Biſhopricks, and other Benefices, Dignities, Deans and Chapters, Colledges, Corporations, and Spiritual Promotions aforeſaid, as alſo the Poſſeſſors, Owners, Provietaries and Incumbents of the ſame, and their Succeſſors, from and after the ſaid Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, ſhould be clearly exonerate, acquitted and diſcharged of and from the payment thereof, againſt them, and the Heirs and Succeſſors of the ſame late Queen for ever.

XXIX. And furthermore, That the ſaid late King Philip and Queen Mary, her Heirs and Succeſſors, from and after the ſaid Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, ſhould not receive, perceive, take and enjoy any the Iſſues, Revenues, Profits or Commodities of the ſaid Rectories, Parſonages, Benefices, Glebe lands, Tithes, Pblations, Penſions, Portions, and other Profits and Emoluments Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual aforeſaid, or of any of them, or of the Reverſion or Reverſions of them or any of them: (2) but in and by the ſaid Act, the ſame late King and Queen, clearly gave over, renounced and relinquiſhed as well the ſaid Rectories, Parſonages, Benefices, Glebe-lands, Tithes, Oblations, Penſions, Portions, and other Profits and Emoluments Eccleſiaſtical and ſpiritual aforeſaid, and every of them, and the Reverſion and Reverſions of them, and every of them, and all their Right, Title, Uſe, Intereſt and Demand of, in or to the ſame, from them and the Heirs and Succeſſors of the ſaid late Queen for ever, as alſo the ſaid perpetual Penſion, annual Rent and Tenth, and alſo the ſaid yearly Rents reſerved nomine Decimæ upon the ſaid ſeveral Letters Patents, and all their Right, Title and Intereſt which they or either of them, or the Heirs and Succeſſors of the ſaid late Queen, had or might have had, in or to the ſame.

XX. The ſame yearly Penſion, Tenths, yearly Rents, Parſonages, Emoluments and Profits to be perceived, taken, received, counted, employed, uſed and diſpoſed by the late Reverend Father in God Reginald Poole, late Cardinal and Legate, and ſuch other perſons as he ſhould name and appoint, and ſuch other as been ſpecially limited in the ſaid Act, to and for certain uſes, purpoſes and intents mentioned in the ſame Act, with divers Proviſions, and a Saving, in the ſame expreſſed and contained, as by the ſame more at large appeareth.

The Statute.

XXI. We your ſaid humble and obedient Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this your preſent Parliament aſſembled, calling to our remembrance the huge, innumerable and ineſtimable Charges of the Royal Eſtate, and Imperial Crown of this Realm, and how the ſame is left unto your Majeſty, at this your firſt entry thereunto, greatly diminiſhed, as well by reaſon of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid ſecond and third years of the ſaid King Philip and Queen Mary, as otherwiſe, do conceive at the bottom of our hearts great ſorrow and heavineſs, as Subjects careful of their natural and Liege Sovereign Lady, upon whom dependeth the ſurety, worldly joy, and wealth of us all; (2) and being no leſs affected towards your Majeſties moſt Royal Perſon, and the preſervation and maintenance of the ſame, and of the Eſtate and Succeſſion of your Majeſties ſaid Crown, then were the firſt Grantors of that ſaid Firſt-fruits and Tenths towards your Highneſs moſt noble Father, and his ſaid Royal Eſtate, at the time of their ſaid Grant thereof to him made, do account of very right and good congruence no leſs then our moſt bounden duty, to move your Highneſs, and therewith moſt humbly to beſeech the ſame, that the great diſheriſon and decay committed and done to the Crown, and Eſtate Royal of this your Realm, and the Succeſſion thereof, by reaſon of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid ſecond and third years of the Reign of the ſaid King Philip and Queen Mary, may at this Parliament be reformed and avoided, and that with your Highneſs favour and Royal aſſent, it may be enacted, ordained, eſtabliſhed and provided by authority of this Parliament, in manner and form hereafter enſuing:

A repeal of the Statute of An. 2 & 3 P. & M. 4.

XXII. That is to ſay, That the ſaid Act made in the ſecond and third years of the Reign of the ſaid late King Philip and Queen Mary, and all Articles, Clauſes and Sentences therein contained, ſhall be, from and after the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, utterly and clearly repealed, made void, and of no force ne effect: (2) and all Authorities and Liberties granted, limited and appointed in and by the ſaid Act, to the ſaid late Cardinal Pool, or made, or derived, by force, ſtrength or colour of the ſame Act, by or from the ſaid late Cardinal, to any other perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, to ceaſe and be utterly void and determined: (3) and that the ſaid Firſt-fruits, and all payments thereof, from and after the ſaid firſt day of this Parliament, ſhall be revived, and have their being and continuance again, and be deemed and adjudged to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes in the Queens Highneſs moſt Royal perſon, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and united and annexed to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, of and in ſuch like and the ſame eſtate, intereſt, title, quantity, ſort, degree and condition, and in as ample and beneficial manner and form, as the ſame was or were in the perſon and poſſeſſion of the ſaid late Queen Mary, at and before the ſaid eighth day of Auguſt, in the ſaid Act of Extinguiſhment mentioned and expreſſed; the ſame Act of Extinguiſhment, or any Letters Patents, or any other matter or thing had, done or ſuffered by the ſaid late Queen, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The First-fruits revived.

XXIII. Merchants 5. Cuſtoms 18.

MOſt humbly ſhewing, beſeechen your Highneſs, your Lords and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That where the ſums of money paid in the name of Cuſtoms, Subſidies of Wares and Merchandiſes, tranſported out, and brought into this your Highneſs Realm of England, by any Merchant, Stranger or Denizen, is an antient Revenue annexed and united to your Imperial Crown, (2) and hath in the time of King Edward the Third, and other your moſt noble Progenitors, amounted to great and notable ſums of money, till of late years many greedy and covetous perſons, reſpecting more their private gain and commodity, then their duty and allegiance, or the common profit of the Realm, have and do dayly as well by conveying the ſame their Wares or Merchandiſes out of creeks and places where no cuſtomer is reſident, as alſo by or through the negligence or corruption of the cuſtomer, ſearcher or other officer where they be reſident, as by divers other fraudulent, undue and ſubtile practices and devices, convey their Goods and Merchandiſes as well brought from the parts beyond the Sea, as tranſported out of this your Realm of England, without payment or agreeing for the payment of the cuſtoms and ſubſidies therefore due, (3) whereby the yearly Revenue aforeſaid is very much impaired and diminiſhed, to the great loſs and damage of your Highneſs, and to the great burden and charge of your loving Subjects, who by occaſion thereof have of late years been more charged with ſubſidies, and payment for the ſupplement of the ſaid loſs and damage, then elſe ſhould have been:

Several cauſes of the diminiſhing of the Queens Cuſtoms.

No goods ſhall be laden or diſcharged but in the day-light, and in open place.

II. That it may therefore be enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That it ſhall not be lawful to or for any perſon or perſons whatſoever from and after the firſt day of September next coming, to lade or put, or cauſe to be laden or put off from any Wharf, Key, or other place on the Land, into any Ship, Veſſel, Crayer, Lighter or Bottom, any Goods, Wares or Merchandiſes whatſoever (Fiſh taken by your Highneſs ſubjects only excepted) to be tranſported into any place of the parts beyond the Seas, or into the Realm of Scotland, (2) or to take up, diſcharge and lay on Land, or cauſe or procure to be taken up or diſcharged out of any Lighter, Ship, Crayer, Veſſel or Bottom, being not in a leke or wreck, and laid on Land, any Goods, Wares or Merchandiſes whatſoever (Fiſh taken by any of your Highneſs Subjects, and Salt only excepted) to be brought from any the Parts beyond the Sea, or the Realm of Scotland by way of Merchandiſes, (3) but only in the day-light; that is to ſay, from the firſt of March unto the laſt of September, betwixt the ſun-riſing and ſun-ſetting; and from the laſt of September until the firſt of March, between the hours of ſeven in the morning and four at the afternoon, (4) and in and upon ſome ſuch open Place, Key or Wharf, Places, Keys or Wharfs, as your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall on this ſide the ſaid firſt day of September, therefore aſſign and appoint by virtue of your Highneſs Commiſſion or Commiſſions, within your Graces Ports of London, Southampton, Briſtol, Weſtcheſter, Newcaſtle, and the Suburbs of the ſame, and every of them, (5) and in ſome open Place, Key, Wharf, Places, Keys or Wharfs, in all other Ports, Creeks, Havens or Roads (Hull only excepted) where a Cuſtomer, Controller and Searcher of ſuch Ports, Havens, Creeks or Roads, and every of them, or the ſervants of any of them, have by the ſpace of ten years laſt paſt been accuſtomably reſident, or hereafter ſhall be reſident, (6) upon pain of forfeiture of ſuch Goods, Wares or Merchandiſes ſo laden or diſcharged contrary to the true meaning of this Act; or the value thereof.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon or perſons after the ſaid day, ſhall receive or take into any Ship, Crayer or other Veſſel, any Goods, At what times and places only the Maſter of a Ship ſhall receive or diſcharge his loading.

Wares or Merchandiſes (except before excepted) to be tranſported into any place beyond the Sea, or into the Realm of Scotland by way of Merchandize: (2) nor ſhall diſcharge nor lay on Land out of any Ship, Crayer or other Veſſel, any Goods, Wares or Merchandiſe (except before excepted) being brought from any place beyond the Sea, or out of the Realm of Scotland by way of Merchandiſe, in any other place or places, or at any other hours or times then is before limited and appointed, (3) upon pain that the owner and owners, maſter and maſters, or other perſon or perſons which ſhall take charge or guiding of any ſuch Ship, Crayer or Veſſel, or of the Merchants Goods during and for that voyage, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence, C. li. of lawful money of England.

A Shipper ſhall give notice to the Cuſtomer, of his departure.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Maſter, Shipper or Purſer, or other perſon or perſons taking charge of the voyage, or of the Merchants Goods, ſhall after the ſaid day receive or take into any Ship, Crayer or other Veſſel, any Goods, Wares or Merchandiſe (except before excepted) to be carried or tranſported into any of the parts beyond the Sea, or into the Realm of Scotland, before he ſhall have ſignified to the Cuſtomer of the Port where he ladeth, and other Officers there, in the open Cuſtom houſe, if any ſuch be there, or elſe where the ſaid Officers, their deputies or ſervants, or any of them, be or ſhall be uſually reſident, that he intendeth to lade, and to what place he intendeth to paſs; (2) nor ſhall after his or their full lading, depart out of the Port, Creeks or Stream where he ſhall ſo lade, before he do in like manner ſignifie unto the Cuſtomer and other Officers, as is aforeſaid, of his lading, and what Merchants and other perſons ſhall have lading with him, or in his Ship, Crayer, Veſſel or Bottom, and further truly do anſwer to ſuch queſtions as ſhall be miniſtred to him or them by the Cuſtomer or other Officer, concerning ſuch Wares or Merchandiſes as he ſhall have laden, being examined upon his or their Oath, or otherwiſe, in the open Cuſtom-houſe or otherwiſe, as is aforeſaid, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch default not truly advertiſing nor anſwering, as is aforeſaid, an C. li.

No maſter of a ſhip ſhall diſcharge the ſame before he hath certified the Cuſtoms.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Owner, Maſter, Purſer or other perſon taking charge of any Ship, Crayer, Veſſel or Bottom, wherein any Goods, Wares or Merchandiſes (except before excepted) ſhall be laden and brought from any the parts beyond the Sea, or the Realm of Scotland, ſhall after the ſaid day diſcharge into any Lighter or Bottom, and lay on Land, or procure, cauſe or willingly ſuffer to be diſcharged into any Lighter or Bottom, and to be laid on Land out of ſuch Ship, Crayer, Veſſel or Bottom, any Goods, Wares or Merchandiſe whatſoever, before ſuch Owner, Maſter, Purſer, or other perſon or perſons taking charge of the Ship, Crayer, Bottom or Veſſel, or the Merchants goods for that voyage, ſhall have ſignified and declared, to the Cuſtomer or other Officer of the Port, Haven or Creek where he arriveth, the names of every of the Merchants or Laders, and ſhall have truly anſwered to ſuch queſtions and interrogatories touching or concerning ſuch Goods, Wares or Merchandiſe as ſhall be then laden in any Ship, Veſſel or Bottom, as ſhall be to him miniſtred by ſuch Cuſtomer or other Officer, openly in the Cuſtom-houſe, or in ſuch other places as is aforeſaid, upon his or their Oath if need ſo require, (2) upon pain that every Maſter, Purſer, or other perſon or perſons taking charge of ſuch Ship, Crayer or other Veſſel for that voyage, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch default not advertiſing nor anſwering, as is aforeſaid, an C. li.

No man ſhall enter Goods in the Cuſtomers Book, but in the Owners name.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Cuſtomer of Hull ſhall have a ſervant or deputy continually reſident at the City of York, (2) and every other Cuſtomer, Comptroller and Searcher of every Port, ſhall from and after the day aforeſaid, aſſign and appoint to and in every of the places above mentioned, and in all and every Port, Creek or Road where the ſervant or any of them have been continually reſident by the ſpace of ten years, or hereafter ſhall be, as is aforeſaid, one able and ſufficient Deputy or ſervant at the leaſt; (3) and that as well all and every of the Cuſtomers, Comptrollers and Searchers, as all and every his or their deputy or deputies, ſervant and ſervants, ſhall from time to time do his and their diligent attendance, at the hours, times and places afore appointed, as well in the Cuſtom-houſe, as elſewhere, as it ſhall be moſt expedient and convenient for the ſpeedy diſpatch of the Merchant, and his Goods, Wares and Merchandiſe, and for the due execution of this Act, in ſuch things as to him or them ſhall appertain, without concealment or conſenting to any thing or things which may be to the hurt or damage of your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors, in the juſt anſwering of your Highnes due Cuſtoms and Subſidies, (4) upon pain that every ſuch Cuſtomer, Comptroller and Searcher ſhall forfeit and loſe for every offence by him or them committed or done, his or their ſeveral Office or Offices, and an C. li. of lawful money of England; the one moiety of all which forfeiture ſhall be to your Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any your Highneſs Courts; wherein no Eſſoin, Protection, Wager of Law or Injunction ſhall be admitted and allowed.

IX. And where of late years there hath been much greater quantity of ſweet Wines brought into this Realm then in time paſt hath been accuſtomed, which have been alſo brought from the ſame place where the Wine commonly called Malmſey is brought, and is of the ſame nature of Grape; and nevertheleſs, either by negligence, ignorance, or corruption of the Officers, there hath not been ſuch Cuſtom and Subſidy received for the ſame, to the uſe of your Highneſs and your Progenitors, as is due, and ought of very right to be paid for ſuch ſweet Wines coming through the Streights, commonly called the Straights of Marrock, otherwiſe Mallegay, to the great loſs and hindrance of your Highneſs, and the burden of us your loving Subjects:

X. For the avoiding of all ambiguities and doubts, and to the intent the Officers may more certainly know what they ought to receive for ſuch kind and nature of Merchandiſe, Be it enacted and declared by this preſent Act, and by the authority aforeſaid, That like Cuſtom and Subſidy is of very right to be paid, and ſhall from henceforth be paid for ſuch ſweet Wines as is aforeſaid, as is and hath been accuſtomed to be paid for Malmſies; any negligence, non-payment, uſage or cuſtom to the contrary in anywiſe notwithſtanding: (2) Saving to all and every Lord Marcher, and other perſon and perſons whatſoever, Body politick and corporate, all and every ſuch right, title and intereſt as they or any of them have, and of right ought to have in the payment or having of any ſuch franchiſe, liberty, cuſtom and ſubſidy, or any of them; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Such Cuſtom ſhall be paid for ſweet Wines as had wont to be paid for Malmſeys.

XI. Provided always, and be it enacted, That it ſhall be lawful to ſhip, lade and tranſport into the Ports beyond the Sea, all manner of Corn and Grain out of the Counties of Norfolk and Suffolk, and either of them, at ſuch places as heretofore hath been accuſtomed, and between the hours in this Act appointed, when the ſame Corn and Grain ſhall not exceed the ſeveral prices mentioned in the Statute made in the fifth and ſixth year of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, intituled, An Act againſt Regrators, Foreſtallers and Engroſſers, the Cuſtoms and Subſidies thereof due, being well and truly paid; Any thing in this Act, or any other Act or Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

When Corn may be tranſported out of Norfolk and Suffolk.

An Act againſt the deceitful uſing of Linen Cloth.

Where certain evil diſpoſed and deceitful perſons, uſing to buy and ingroſs into their hands great ſtore of Lined Cloth, do uſe to caſt the pieces of Cloth over a beam or piece of timber made for their purpoſe, and do by ſundry devices rack, ſtretch and draw the ſame both of length and breadth; and that done, do then with battledoors, pieces of timber and wood, and other things, ſore beat the ſame, ever caſting thereupon certain deceitful liquors mingled with Chalk and other like things, whereby the ſaid Cloth is not only made to ſeem much finer and thicker to the eye then it is indeed, but alſo the threeds thereof to be looſed and made weak, that after three or four waſhings it will ſcarcely hold together, to the great deceit, hindrance and loſs of the Subjects of this Realm: (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons, ſhall hereafter willingly uſe or cauſe to be uſed the foreſaid deceits, or any other Act or Acts, mean or means, to, in or with any kind of Linen Cloth, whereby the ſame ſhall be deceitful or worſe, to and for the good uſe thereof, that then the ſaid Cloth ſhall be forfeited, and the offender therein to be puniſhed by one months impriſonment at the leaſt, and ſhall pay ſuch fine as ſhall be aſſeſſed for his or their offence or offences, by the Juſtices before whom he or they ſhall be condemned, according to the tenour of this Act.

Linen 2. The inconveniences enſuing the deceitful uſing of Linen Cloth.

The Penalty for ſtretching or impairing of Linen Cloth.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, and Juſtices of Aſſiſes in all their Seſſions, and all Juſtices of Peace in every County and Place of this Realm, or three of them at the leaſt, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire, hear and determine the offences aforeſaid in their Seſſions, by Information, indictment, or upon the traverſe of any preſentment or indictment found before the ſaid Juſtices, or any of them.

Which Juſtices may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, ſhall at the next Seſſions of the Peace after the ſaid ſeiſure (to be kept within the ſhire or Place where the ſeiſure was made, or before two Juſtices of Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum,) make due information of the offence and of the ſeiſure of the ſaid Cloth; (2) or elſe ſhall procure the offenders to be thereof indicted at the ſaid next Seſſions after the ſaid ſeiſure; (3) and ſhall alſo be bound before the ſaid Juſtices by Recogniſance or Obligation, to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, in ſuch form as the ſaid Juſtices, or any of them ſhall think meet for the greatneſs of the matter, and to purſue the ſame matter with effect, and to give evidence as of right appertaineth, and alſo to pay and give the moiety of all that he or they ſhall ſo recover and receive, to the Sheriff or other Accomptant, to the

An Act for ſhipping in Engliſh Bottoms.

Ships, Raſt. 12. The Statute of 5 R. 2. 3. & 4 H. 7. 10. prohibiting the bringing in, or carrying out of Merchandiſes but in Engliſh Ships, repealed. 6 R. 2. 8, 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 18.

WHere by divers Statutes made in the time of the Queens Majeſties moſt noble Progenitors, it hath been enacted and provided, That no perſon born within the Realm of England, or being of the legiance of the Prince of the ſaid Realm, or any the Dominions of the ſame, ſhould ſhip any manner of Merchandiſe, either out of the Realm, or into the ſame, but only in a Ship or Bottom whereof the ſaid Prince, or ſome other of their Subjects were Owners, Poſſeſſioners, Proprietaries and Maſters, and the Mariners of the ſame Veſſel, for the more part to be alſo their Subjects, upon divers pains and penalties, as in the ſaid Statutes more plainly appeareth; (2) Since the making of which ſaid Statutes, other foreign Princes finding themſelves agrieved with the ſaid ſeveral Acts, as thinking that the ſame were made to the hurt and prejudice of their Countrey and Navy, have made like penal Laws againſt ſuch as ſhould ſhip out of their Countreys in any other Veſſels then of their ſeveral Countreys and Dominions; by reaſon whereof there hath not only grown great diſpleaſure betwixt the foreign Princes and the Kings of this Realm, but alſo the Merchants have been ſore grieved and endamaged:

A repeal of the Statute of 5 R. 2. 3. & 4 H. 7. 10.

II. For reformation whereof, and for increaſe of continuance of amity, Be it enacted, That the ſeveral Acts made in the fifth year of King Richard the Second, the third Chapter, and in the fourth year of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Seventh, intituled, Of Wine and Tholouſe Woad, ſhall be from hence forth clearly void and of none effect: (2) And nevertheleſs, for avoiding of great deceit practiſed, and now adays uſed by ſundry Subjects born within this Realm of England, and Dominions of the ſame, which enter in the Cuſtomers Books, Wares and Merchandiſes of Aliens born, in their own name, whereby the Queens Majeſty is defrauded in her Cuſtoms and Subſidies, to the great decay of the ancient Revenues of the Crown, (3) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every perſon and perſons, being Owner or Owners of any Goods, Wares or Merchandiſes, which after the firſt day of January next enſuing the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, ſhall in time of Peace, and when there is no reſtraint made in Engliſh Ships, embark, ſhip, lade, or diſcharge by way of Merchandiſe, any Wares or Merchandiſe (Maſts, Ruff, Pitch, Tar and Corn only excepted) out of, or into any Ship, Bark, Hoye, Veſſel or Bottom whereof our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, or ſome of her or their Subjects of this Realm, or the Dominions of the ſame, be not Poſſeſſioners and Proprietaries, and the Maſters under God, and the Mariners of the ſame Ship or Ships, for the moſt part, be not Subjects of our ſaid Sovereign Lady her Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall anſwer, yield and pay to the uſe of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, ſuch Cuſtom and Subſidy for ſuch Wares and Merchandiſes ſo ſhipped, laden or diſcharged as is aforeſaid, rate and rate like, as ſtrangers and aliens born out of the obeyſance of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, do and ought to pay for Wares and Merchandiſes of like nature and kind.

The penalty where any Merchandiſe ſhall be ſhipped or diſcharged, but in Engliſh Ships, St. 14 R. 2. 6.

There ſhall be no croſſing of the Sea with any Hoye or Plate of any Engliſh Subjects. 5 El. 5. 13 El. 15.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Hoye or Plate whereof any Engliſh Subject or Subjects is, be or ſhall be Owner or Owners at any time after the firſt day of January aforeſaid, from any Port, Creek or Place of this ſaid Realm of England, or any of the Dominions of the ſame, ſhall traverſe or croſs the Seas, in, to or for any of the Ports beyond the Seas, with any Wares, Goods or Merchandiſe, upon pain that the ſaid Owner or Owners ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſame Hoye or Plate, with all and every the Munition, Tackling, and other Neceſſaries pertaining thereunto: whereof the one moiety to be to the uſe and behoof of the Queens ſaid Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to the perſon or perſons which will ſue for the ſame, by Bill, Plaint, Action or Information, in any her Highneſs Courts at Weſtminſter; in which caſe no Wager of Law, Protection or Eſſoin ſhall be admitted.

In what caſe Merchants may uſe ſtrangers Ships.

IV Provided always, and be it enacted, That it ſhall be lawful to the Merchants commonly called Merchant adventurers, and Merchants of the Staple, and every of them, at their ſeveral Fleets or Shippings of Cloth and Wooll, and either of them, from and out of the River of Thames only, being made twice in one year at the moſt, to embark, ſhip and lade any Goods, Wares or Merchandiſe, in or to any Ship, Veſſel or Bottom belonging or appertaining to any ſtranger or alien born, ſo long, and at ſuch time as there be not Ships, Veſſels or Bottoms belonging to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, or any of her Subjects, in the ſaid River of Thames, ſufficient in number, and apt and meet for the ſure and ſafe conveyance of the Wares and Merchandiſe, into the Parts of Flanders, Holland, Zealand, or Brabant, or any of them, without paying any greater or more Cuſtom and Subſidy then Engliſhmen do and ought to pay; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. (2) This Act to continue and ſtand in force for the ſpace of five years only, next immediately following this Seſſion of Parliament, and from thence to the end of the Parliament then next following.

V. Provided, That foraſmuch as the Merchants of the City of Briſtol have ſuſtained of late great loſſes at the Sea, by the enemies, by reaſon of taking of all their beſt ſhips with much ſubſtance, ſo that they be not of ability to provide ſufficient Ships and Veſſels of their own, within the time limited in this preſent Act: that they for lack of their own Ships, or any other Veſſels of the Queens Dominions, within fourty miles of the City of Briſtol, may load or embark their own Wares and Merchandiſes in ſtrangers Bottoms, without paying any other Cuſtom then for Wares and Merchandiſes laden in Engliſh Bottoms; This Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

In what caſe Merchants of Briſtol may uſe ſtrangers ſhips.

C A P. XIV.

An Act for the continuing and making of Woollen Clothes in divers Towns in the County of Eſſex.

Whereas by a certain Act of Parliament begun at Weſtminſter the twentieth day of January, in the fourth and fifth years of the Reign of the late King Philip and Queen Mary, and there continued till the ſeventh day of March, in the ſaid fourth and fifth years of the Reign of the ſaid late King and Queen, amongſt other things it was enacted, That from and after the firſt day of May then next following, no perſon or perſons whatſoever ſhall uſe or exerciſe the Feat or Myſtery of making, weaving or rowing of Woollen Clothes, long or ſhort, or Kerſies, pinned Whites, or plain Streights, to the intent to put the ſame to ſale, but only in a Market Town where Cloth hath continually been uſed to be made by the ſpace of ten years then laſt paſt, or in a City, Borough or Town-corporate, upon pain of forfeiture for every ſuch Woollen Cloth or Kerſie made, woven or rowed out of ſuch City, Borough, Town-corporate or Market-Town, Five pounds:

Drapery 79. What perſons of Bocking, Weſtbarfold, Cockſhall and Dedham, may uſe the making of Cloth or Kerſie, as they might have done before the Statute of 4 & 5 P. & M. 5.

By the Statute 4 & 5 P. & M. 5. no Cloth ſhall be made to ſell, but in a Market Town, &c.

II. And where alſo it is provided in the ſaid Act, That it ſhall be lawful to any perſon, then uſing or exerciſing the Feat or Myſtery of making, weaving or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, to inhabit or dwell where he then did dwell, and there to uſe the making, weaving or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie as he hath heretofore; Any thing in the ſaid Act notwithſtanding.

III. And where it is further provided by the ſaid Act, That it ſhall be lawful to all and every perſon or perſons which then did, or after that time ſhould inhabit or dwell in any of the Shires of North-Wales, or South-Wales, Cheſhire or Lancaſhire Weſtmerland, Cumberland, Northumberland, Biſhoprick of Durham, Cornwall, Suffolk, Kent, the Town of Goddelmine in the County of Surrey, or Yorkſhire, being not within twelve miles of the City of York, or in any of the Towns or Villages near adjoyning to the Water of Strowd in the County of Glouceſter, where Clothes hath been uſually made by the ſpace of twenty years then laſt paſt, and having been Apprentice to the Occupation of Cloth-making, or uſed the ſame by the ſpace of ſeven years, to ſet up, uſe and exerciſe the Feat or Myſtery of making, weaving or rowing of Woollen Cloth, out of a City, Borough or Market Town, as before that time they might have done; Any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Inhabitants of what places may make Cloth out of a Market Town.

IV. And foraſmuch as the Towns or Villages of Bocking, Weſtbarfold, Dedham and Cockſhall in the County of Eſſex, be fair large Towns, and as well planted for Cloth-making as the ſaid Town of Goddelmine, or better, and few Towns in this Realm better planted for that purpoſe, and have been inhabited of a long time with Cloth-makers, which have made, and daily do make good and true Cloth, to the great Common-weal of the Countrey there, and nothing prejudicial to or for the Common-wealth of this Realm: (2) Be it therefore ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That it ſhall be lawful to all and every ſuch perſon and perſons which now do inhabit or dwell, or hereafter ſhall dwell in the ſaid Towns or Villages of Bocking, Weſtbarfold, Cockſhall and Dedham, or in any of them, now uſing or exerciſing, or that hereafter ſhall uſe or exerciſe the Feat or Myſtery of making, weaving or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, by the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt, or have been Prentice thereto by the ſaid ſpace of ſeven years, to inhabit and dwell in the ſaid Towns and Villages of Bocking, Weſtbarfold, Cockſhall and Dedham, and in every or any of them, and to uſe the making, weaving or rowing of Cloth or Kerſie, as before this time they might have done if the ſaid Act had never been made; Any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary thereof made, or any other Act, Statute or Law heretofore made, or hereafter to be made to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. 27 El. 23.

An Act for preſervation of Spawn and Fry of Fiſh.

Fiſh 3, &c. The penalty for taking of the Spawn or Fry of any Fiſh or Salmons, or Trouts not ſeaſonable, &c.

None ſhall take any Salmons or Trouts not in ſeaſon.

FOr the preſervation hereafter of Spawn, Fry, and young Breed of Eels, Salmons, Pikes, and of all other Fiſh which heretofore hath been much deſtroyed in Rivers and Streams ſalt and freſh within this Realm, inſomuch that in divers places they feed Swine and Dogs with the Fry and Spawn of Fiſh, and otherwiſe (lamentable and horrible to be reported) deſtroy the ſame, to the great hinderance and decay of the Common-wealth: (2) Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever he or they be, from and after the firſt day of June next coming, within any manner of Net, Weele, But, Taining, Keppet, Lime, Creele, Raw, Fagnet, Trolnet, Trimenet, Trimboat, Saltbote, Webliſter, Seur, Lammet, or with any Device or Engine made of Hair, Wooll, Line, or Canvas, (3) or ſhall uſe any Heling-net, or Trimboat, or by any other Device, Engine, Cawtel, ways or means whatſoever heretofore made or deviſed. or hereafter to be made or deviſed, ſhall take and kill any young Brood, Spawn or Fry of Eels, Salmon, Pike or Pikerel, or of any other Fiſh in any Fludgate, Pipe at the Tail of a Mill, Wear, or in any Straits, Streams, Brooks, Rivers freſh or ſalt, within this Realm of England, Wales, Berwick, or the Marches thereof; (4) nor ſhall from and after the firſt day of June next coming, by any of the ways and means aforeſaid, or otherwiſe in any River or place above ſpecified, take and kill any Salmons or Trouts not being in ſeaſon, being kepper Salmons or kepper Trouts, ſhedder Salmons or ſhedder Trouts.

Of what length Fiſhes muſt be that ſhall be taken and killed.

II. And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree or condition he or they ſhall be of, from and after the ſaid firſt day of June, by any of the means aforeſaid, in any of the Rivers or places above named, ſhall take and kill any Pike or Pikerel, not being in length ten inches Fiſh or more; (2) nor any Salmon not being in length ſixteen inches Fiſh or more; (3) nor any Trout not being in length eight inches or more: (4) nor any Barbel not being in length twelve inches or more.

Of what meſhe each Net ſhall be.

III. And to the intent the ſaid young Fry, Brood or Spawn may be preſerved according to the true meaning hereof, be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon or perſons, from and after the firſt day of June next coming, ſhall fiſh, or take Fiſh with any manner of Net, Tramel, Kepe, Wore, Hivie, Creele, or by any other engine, device, ways or means whatſoever, in any River or other places above mentioned, but only with Net or Tramel, whereof every meſhe or mask ſhall be two inches and a half broad, Angling excepted.

What Nets or other devices may be uſed for the taking of ſmall Fiſh.

IV. Provided nevertheleſs, and be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That in all ſuch places where Smelts, Loches, Minnels, Bulheads, Gudgions or Eels, have been uſed to be taken and killed, that in all ſuch places it ſhall be lawful only for the taking of Smelts, Loches, Minnels, Gudgions and Eels, to uſe ſuch Nets, Lepes and other Engines, Devices, ways and means as heretofore have been uſed for the taking of the ſame: (2) ſo that ſuch perſon or perſons uſing or occupying ſuch Nets or other Engines as is laſt afore mentioned, do not take, kill or deſtroy any other Fiſh with the ſaid Nets or Engines, contrary to the tenour and form above in this Statute contained.

The penalty of the offender.

V. And be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons after the aforeſaid day limited in this preſent Act, offend in any of the points before rehearſed, contrary to the tenour, form and purpoſe of any part of the ſame, that then every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every time of his or their offence, the ſum of Twenty pounds, and the Fiſh ſo taken contrary to the tenour hereof, and alſo the unlawful Nets, Engines, Devices and Inſtruments whatſoever they be, wherewith or whereby ſuch offence ſhall fortune to be made, committed or done.

What perſons ſhall have authority to enquire of, and determine the offences aforeſaid, and who ſhall have the forfeitures.

VI. And to the intent that a perfect execution may be had of this preſent Act, be it further ordained by authority aforeſaid, That the Lord Admiral of England, and the Mayor of the City of London for the time being, and all and every other perſon and perſons, bodies politick and corporate, which by grant or other lawful ways or means, lawfully have, or ought to have any conſervation or preſervation of any Rivers, Streams or Water, or puniſhments and corrections of offences committed in any of them, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to enquire of all the offences to be committed and done contrary to the effect and true meaning of this Act, within his or their ſuch lawful Rule, Government, Juriſdiction and Conſervancy, by the Oaths of twelve men or more, and to hear and determine all and every the ſame offences committed within his or their Juriſdiction, Conſervancy, Rule and Government.

VII. And that all ſuch pains and forfeitures as ſhall riſe or grow by reaſon of any ſuch conviction for any the offences aforeſaid, ſhall be to the uſe of every of the ſaid perſon and perſons being no body politick or corporate, nor head of any body politick or corporate before whom ſuch conviction as is aforeſaid ſhall be had, and to the uſe of every ſuch body politick and corporate as heretofore have lawfully had any fines, forfeitures and amerciaments for any offence unlawfully committed or done in any ſuch their Juriſdiction or Conſervancies upon conviction had before the head of any ſuch body politick or corporate.

VIII. And that alſo the Lord of every Leet within this Realm of England and Wales, or the Dominions of the ſame, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire of all the offences contrary to the purport, tenour and form of this Eſtatute within the precinct of their ſaid Leet: ſuch enquiry to be had in manner and form, and after ſuch ſort as common amerciaments, or other things inquirable in their Court Leet, have been lawfully uſed and accuſtomed to be had and made.

IX. And that upon every ſuch preſentment had in any Court or Leet, by the Oath of twelve men or more as is aforeſaid, of any offence or offences made contrary to the tenour of this Eſtatute: that then all ſuch forfeiture above in this Eſtatute limited and appointed for ſuch offence, ſhall be unto the Lord of the ſaid Leet for the time being, to his own uſe for ever, and ſhall be levied in ſuch manner and form as amerciaments for Affraies committed within the precinct of ſuch Leet, have been uſed and accuſtomed to be levied.

X. And if any Leet after the ſaid firſt day of June, be kept within this Realm of England or Wales, or the Dominions thereof, and the Steward of the ſaid Leet for the time being, or other for him, do not charge the Jury ſworn in ſuch Leet, to enquire of all the offences done within the precinct of the ſaid Leet, contrary to the tenour and form of this Eſtatute: that then the Steward of the ſaid Leet to loſe and forfeit Fourty ſhillings; the one moiety of which forfeitures ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame. (2) And if any Jury ſworn in any Leet, and being charged to enquire of the offences committed within the precinct of that Leet, do wilfully and willingly conceal and make default in preſentment, or do not preſent the offence and offenders: that then it ſhall be lawful to the Steward, or Bailey of the Leet, or his or their Deputy for the time being, to impanel one other Jury within the ſaid Leet, and to enquire of ſuch concealment, default, or non-preſentment, (3) and that upon ſuch concealment, default, or non-preſentment found and preſented, every of the ſaid Jurors which ſo did conceal, make default, or not preſent, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every ſuch offence Twenty ſhillings to the Lord of the ſaid Leet, the ſame to be levied in manner and form as is abovesaid for the other offences limited and expreſſed.

The forfeiture of the Steward of a Leet, that doth not give this Statute in charge.

The forfeiture of a Jury in a Leet, that doth conceal any offence.

XI. And it is further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if the offences above mentioned touching the taking, killing, or deſtroying of Fiſh, or Fry and Spawn, be not preſented at the Leet where they ſhall be committed, within one year next after the offences committed, that the Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions, Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, and Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their ſeveral Circuits, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire thereof, and to hear and determine all the offences committed contrary to tenour of this Eſtatute:

Who may puniſh the ſaid offences, if they be not preſented in the Leet.

XII. Saving always to all and every perſon or perſons, bodies politick and corporate, and every of them, all ſuch Right, Title, Intereſt, Claim, Priviledge, and Conſervation, and enquiry, and puniſhment of and for the offences aforeſaid, as they or any of them lawfully have and enjoy, or of right ought to have and enjoy, by any manner of means; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. (2) This Act to endure to the end of the next Parliament.

A ſaving of the Liberties of all perſons having right to enquire of, and puniſh the ſaid offences.

XIII. Anno quinto Reginæ ELIZABETHÆ.

AT the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the Twelfth day of January, in the Fifth year of our Sovereign Lady Elizabeth, by the Grace of God, of England, France and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c. To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and the weal-publick of this Realm, were Enacted as followeth.

C A P. I.

An Act for the aſſurance of the Queens Royal Power over all Eſtates and Subjects within her Dominions.

FOr preſervation of the Queens moſt excellent Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the Dignity of the Imperial Crown of this Realm of England, and for avoiding both of ſuch hurts, perils, diſhonours and inconveniences, as have beforetime befallen, as well to the Queens Majeſties noble Progenitors, Kings of this Realm, as for the whole Eſtate thereof, by means of the juriſdiction and power of the See of Rome, unjuſtly claimed and uſurped within this Realm and the Dominions thereof, and alſo of the dangers by the Fautors of the ſaid uſurped Power, at this time grown to marvellows outrage and licentious boldneſs, and now requiring more ſharp reſtraint and correction of Laws, then hitherto in the time of the Queens Majeſties moſt mild and merciful Reign have been had, uſed, or eſtabliſhed:

Rome 1. Crown 5

II. Be it therefore enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That if any perſon and perſons, dwelling, inhabiting, or reſiant within this Realm, or within any other the Queens Dominions, Seigniories, or Countries, or in the Marches of the ſame, or elſewhere, within or under her obeyſance and power, of what eſtate, dignity, preheminence, order, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be, after the firſt day of April, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God One thouſand five hundred ſixty three, ſhall by writing, cyphering, printing, preaching or teaching, deed or act, adviſedly and wittingly, hold or ſtand with, or extol, ſet forth, maintain, or defend the authority juriſdiction, or power of the Biſhop of Rome, or of his See, heretofore claimed, uſed, or uſurped within this Realm, or in any Dominion or Countrey being of, within or under the Queens power or obeyſance, (2) or by any ſpeech, open deed or Act, adviſedly and wittingly attribute any ſuch manner of juriſdiction, authority, or preheminence to the ſaid See of Rome, or to any Biſhop of the ſame See for the time being, within this Realm, or in any the Queens Dominions or Countries: (3) that then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo doing or offending, their abetters, procurors and counſellors, and alſo their aiders, aſſiſtants, and comforters, upon purpoſe, and to the intent to ſet forth, further, and extol the ſaid uſurped power, authority or juriſdiction of any of the ſaid Biſhop or Biſhops of Rome, and every of them, being thereof lawfully indicted or preſented within one year next after ſuch offences by him or them committed, and being lawfully convicted or attainted at any time after, according to the Laws of this Realm, for every ſuch default and offence, ſhall incur into the dangers, penalties, pains and forfeitures ordained and provided by the Statute of Proviſion and Præmunire, made in the ſixteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the ſecond.

The penalty for maintaining the authority of the Biſhop or See of Rome.

16 R. 2.

Which Juſtices may enquire of, and certifie the offences aforeſaid.

III. And it is alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Circuits, as Juſtices of Peace within the limits of their Commiſſion and Authorities, or two of every ſuch Juſtices of Peace at the leaſt, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, in their quarter or open Seſſions, to enquire of all offences, contempts and tranſgreſſions, perpetrated, committed or done contrary to the true meaning of the premiſſes, in like manner and form as they may of other offences againſt the Queens Peace, (2) and ſhall certifie every preſentment afore them or any of them had or made concerning the ſame, or any part thereof, before the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, in her or their Court commonly called the Kings Bench, within fourty days next after any ſuch preſentment had or made, if the Term be then open; and if not, at the firſt day of the full Term next following the ſaid fourty days, (3) upon pain that every of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or Juſtices of the Peace before whom ſuch preſentment ſhall be made, making default of ſuch Certificate contrary to this Statute, to loſe and forfeit for every ſuch default, one hundred pounds to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors.

The penalty for default of certificate of the ſaid offences.

The Juſtices of the Kings Bench may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

IV. And it is enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of the Kings Bench, as well upon every ſuch Certificate, as by enquiry before themſelves, within the limits of their authorities, ſhall have full power and authority to hear, order, and determine every ſuch offence done or committed contrary to the true meaning of this preſent Act, according to the Laws of this Realm, in ſuch like manner and form to all intents and purpoſes, as if the perſon or perſons againſt whom any preſentment ſhall be had upon this Eſtatute, had been preſented upon any matter or offence expreſſed in the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſaid ſixteenth year of King Richard the ſecond.

Theſe ſhall take the Oath ſet forth Anno 1 Eliz. 1.

V. And moreover, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well all manner of perſons expreſſed and appointed in and by the Act made in the firſt year of the Queens Majeſties Reign that now is, intituled, An Act reſtoring to the Crown the ancient Juriſdiction over the Eſtate Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual, and aboliſhing all Foreign Powers repugnant to the ſame, to take the Oath expreſſed and ſet forth in the ſame: (2) and all other perſons which have taken, or ſhall take Orders, commonly called Ordines Sacros, or Eccleſiaſtical Orders, have been, or ſhall be promoted, preferred, or admitted to any degree of Learning in any Univerſity within this Realm or Dominions to the ſame belonging: (3) And all Schoolmaſters, and publick and private Teachers of Children, (4) as alſo all manner of perſon and perſons that have taken, or hereafter ſhall take any Degree of Learning in or at the Common Laws of this Realm, as well Utter Barreſters, as Benchers, Readers, Ancients in any Houſe or Houſes of Court, (5) and all Principal Treaſurers, and ſuch as be of the grand Company of every Inn of Chancery, and all Attorneys, Protonotaries, and Philizers towards the Laws of this Realm, (6) and all manner of Sheriffs, Eſcheators, and Feodaries, and all other perſon and perſons which have taken, or ſhall take upon him or them, or have been or ſhall be admitted to any Miniſtry or Office, in, at, or belonging to the Common Law, or any other Law or Laws, of, to, or for the execution of them, or any of them, uſed or allowed, or at any time hereafter to be uſed or allowed within this Realm, or any of the Dominions or Countries belonging, or which hereafter ſhall happen to belong to the Crown or Dignity of the ſame, (7) and all other Officers or Miniſters of, or towards any Court whatſoever, (8) and every of them, ſhall take and pronounce a corporal Oath upon the Evangeliſts, before he or they ſhall be admitted, allowed, or ſuffered to take upon him or them to uſe, exerciſe, ſupply, or occupy any ſuch Vocation, Office, Degree, Miniſtry, Room or Service, as is aforeſaid, and that in the open Court whereunto he doth or ſhall ſerve or belong: (9) And if he or they do not or ſhall not ſerve or belong to any ordinary or open Court, then he or they ſhall take and pronounce the Oath aforeſaid, in an open place before a convenient aſſembly to witneſs the ſame, (10) and before ſuch perſon and perſons as have or ſhall have authority by common uſe, or otherwiſe, to admit or call any ſuch perſon or perſons as is aforeſaid, to any ſuch Vocation, Office, Miniſtry, Room or Service, or elſe before ſuch perſon or perſons as by the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs or Succeſſors, by Commiſſion under the Great Seal of England ſhall be named or aſſigned, to accept and take the ſame according to the tenour, effect, and form of the ſame Oath Verbatim, which is, and as it is already ſet ſet forth to be taken in the aforeſaid Act made in the Firſt year of the Queens Majeſties Reign.

VI. And alſo be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every Archbiſhop and Biſhop within this Realm, and Dominions of the ſame, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to tender or miniſter the Oath aforeſaid, to every or any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical perſon within their proper Dioceſs, as well in places and juriſdictions exempt, as elſewhere.

The Biſhop may tender the Oath to any Spiritual perſon.

VII. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Lord Chancellor or Keeper of the Great Seal of England for the time being, ſhall and may at all times hereafter by virtue of this Act, without further warrant, make and direct a Commiſſion or Commiſſions under the Great Seal of England, to any perſon or perſons, giving them or ſome of them thereby authority to tender and miniſter the Oath aforeſaid to ſuch perſon or perſons as by the aforeſaid Commiſſion or Commiſſions, the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall be authorized to tender the ſame Oath unto.

The Lord Chancellor may direct Commiſſion to take the Oath of any perſon.

VIII. And be it alſo further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons appointed or compellable by this Act, or by the ſaid Act made in the ſaid firſt year to take the ſaid Oath: or if any perſon or perſons to whom the ſaid Oath by any ſuch Commiſſion or Commiſſions ſhall be limited and appointed to be tendred, as is aforeſaid, do or ſhall at the time of the ſaid Oath ſo tendred, refuſe to take or pronounce the ſaid Oath, in manner and form aforeſaid, that then the party ſo refuſing, and being thereof lawfully indicted or preſented within one year next after any ſuch refuſal, and convicted or attainted at any time after, according to the Laws of this Realm, ſhall ſuffer and incur the dangers, penalties, pains and forfeitures, ordained and provided by the Statute of Proviſion and Præmunire aforeſaid, made in the Sixteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the Second. Cap. 5. Sect. 2. N. 6.

The penalty for the firſt refuſal of the Oath.

IX. And furthermore, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every ſuch perſon and perſons, having authority to tender the Oath aforeſaid, ſhall within forty days next after ſuch refuſal or refuſals of the ſaid Oath, if the term be then open, and if not, then at the firſt day of the full Term next following the ſaid forty days, make true certificate under his or their ſeal or ſeals, of the names, places, and degrees of the perſon and perſons ſo refuſing the ſame Oath, before the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, in her or their Court commonly called the Kings Bench, (2) upon pain that every of the ſaid perſons having ſuch authority to tender the ſaid Oath, making default of ſuch certificate, ſhall for every ſuch default, forfeit an hundred pound to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs or Succeſſors: (3) And that the Sheriff of the County where the ſaid Court commonly called the Kings Bench, ſhall for the time be holden, ſhall or may by virtue of this Act impannel a Jury of the ſame County, to enquire of and upon every ſuch refuſal and refuſals: (4) which Jury ſhall or may upon every ſuch certificate, and other evidence to them in that behalf to be given, by virtue of this Act proceed to indict the perſon and perſons ſo offending in ſuch ſort and degree, to all intents and purpoſes, as the ſame Jury may do of any offence or offences againſt the Queens Majeſties peace, perpetrated, committed or done within the ſame County, of and for which the ſame Jury is ſo impannelled.

Certificate of refuſal into the Kings Bench.

Indictment of the offender.

X. And for ſtronger defence and maintenance in this Act, it is further ordained, enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch offender or offenders, as is aforeſaid, of the firſt part or branch of this Eſtatute, that is to ſay, by Writing, Cyphering, Printing, Preaching or Teaching, Deed or Act, adviſedly and wittingly hold or ſtand with, to extoll, ſet forth, maintain or defend the authority, Juriſdiction or Power of the Biſhop of Rome or of his See, heretofore claimed, uſed, or uſurped within this Realm, or in any Dominion or Countrey, being of, within or under the Queens power or obeyſance: (2) Or by any ſpeech, deed or act, adviſedly and wittingly attribute any ſuch manner of juriſdiction, authority or preheminence of the ſaid See of Rome, or to any Biſhop of the ſame See for the time being, within this Realm, or in any the Queens Dominions or Countreys, (3) or be to any ſuch offender or offenders abetting, procuring or counſelling, or aiding, aſſiſting or comforting, upon purpoſe, and to the intent to ſet forth, further, and extoll the ſaid uſurped power, authority or juriſdiction, after ſuch conviction and attainder, as is aforeſaid, do eftſoons commit or do the ſaid offences, or any of them, in manner and form aforeſaid, and be thereof duly convicted and attainted, as is aforeſaid.

It ſhall be Treaſon the ſecond time to maintain the authority of the Biſhop or See of Rome, or to refuſe the Oath.

XI. And alſo, That if any the perſons above named and appointed by this Act to take the Oath aforeſaid, do after the ſpace of three months after the firſt tender thereof, the ſecond time refuſe to take and pronounce, or do not take and pronounce the ſame, in form aforeſaid to be tendred; that then every ſuch offender or offenders, for the ſame ſecond offence and offences, ſhall fofeit, loſe, and ſuffer ſuch like and the ſame pains, forfeitures, judgment and execution, as is uſed in caſes of High Treaſon.

XII. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, nor any attainder to be had by force and virtue of this Act, ſhall not extend to make any corruption of bloud, the diſheriting of any heir, forfeiture of dower, nor to the prejudice of the right or title of any perſon or perſons, other then the right or title of the offender or offenders, during his, her, or their natural lives only.

No corruption of bloud or forfeiture of dower for any attainder of this Act.

XIII. And that it ſhall and may be lawful to every perſon and perſons, to whom the right or intereſt of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, after the death of any ſuch offender or offenders, ſhould or might have appertained, if no ſuch attainder had been, to enter into the ſame, without any Ouſter le main to be ſued, in ſuch ſort as he or they might have done, if this Act had never been had ne made.

XIV. Provided alſo, That the Oath expreſſed in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid firſt year, ſhall be taken and expounded in ſuch form as is ſet forth in an admonition annexed to the Queens Majeſties Injunctions, publiſhed in the firſt year of her Majeſties Reign, That is to ſay, to confeſs and acknowledge in her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, none other authority then that was challenged and lately uſed by the noble King Henry the Eighth, and

How the Oath expreſſed Anno 1 El. ſhall be expounded.

King Edward the Sixth; as in the ſaid Admonition more plainly may appear.

In what Courts and places this Act ſhall be publiſhed.

XV. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall be openly read and publiſhed, and declared at every Quarter Seſſions by the Clerk of the Peace, and at every Leet and Law-day by the Steward of the Court, and once in every Term in the open Hall of every Houſe and Houſes of Court and Chancery, at the times, and by the perſons thereunto to be limited and appointed by the Lord Chancellor or Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being.

Every Knight, Citizen and Burgeſs of the Parliament, ſhall take the ſaid Oath before the Lord Steward or his Deputy.

XVI. And be it further enacted, That every perſon which hereafter ſhall be elected or appointed a Knight, Citizen, or Burgeſs, or Baron for any of the five Ports, for any Parliament or Parliaments hereafter to be holden, ſhall from henceforth, before he ſhall enter into the Parliament Houſe, or have any voice there, openly receive and pronounce the ſaid Oath before the Lord Steward for the time being, or his Deputy or Deputies for that time to be appointed: (2) And that he which ſhall enter into the Parliament Houſe without taking the ſaid Oath, ſhall be deemed no Knight, Citizen, Burgeſs, nor Baron for that Parliament, nor ſhall have any voice, but ſhall be to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if he had never been returned nor elected Knight, Citizen, Burgeſs, or Baron for that Parliament, and ſhall ſuffer ſuch pains aud penalties, as if he had preſumed to ſit in the ſame without Election, Return or Authority.

None of or above the degree of a Baron, ſhall be compelled to take the ſaid Oath.

XVII. Provided alway, That foraſmuch as the Queens Majeſty is otherwiſe ſufficiently aſſured of the Faith and Loyalty of the Temporal Lords of her High Court of Parliament; therefore this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to compell any Temporal perſon, of or above the degree of a Baron of this Realm, to take or pronounce the Oath abovesaid, nor to incur any penalty limited by this Act, for not taking, or refuſing the ſame; any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Charitable giving of alms to offenders, ſhall be no cauſe of forfeiture.

XVIII. Provided, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That charitable giving of reaſonable Alms to any of the offender or offenders above ſpecified, without fraud or covin, ſhall not be taken or interpreted to be any ſuch abetment, procuring, counſelling, aiding, aſſiſting or comforting, as thereby the giver of ſuch Alms ſhall incur any pain, penalty, or forfeiture appointed in this Act.

Peers offending, ſhall be tried by their Peers.

XIX. Provided alſo, And be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any Peer of this Realm ſhall hereafter offend contrary to this Act, or any branch or article thereof, that in that and all ſuch caſe and caſes they ſhall be tried by their Peers, in ſuch manner and form as in other caſes of Treaſons they have uſed to be tried, and by none other means.

Who only ſhall be compelled to take the Oath upon the ſecond tender.

XX. Provided alſo further, and be it enacted, That no perſon ſhall be compelled by virtue of this Act to take the Oath abovementioned, at or upon the ſecond time of offering the ſame, according to the form appointed by this Statute, except the ſame perſon hath been, is, or ſhall be an Eccleſiaſtical perſon, that had, hath, or ſhall have in the time of one of the Reigns of the Queens Majeſties moſt noble Father, Brother or Siſter, or in the time of the Reign of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, charge, cure, or office in the Church; (2) or any perſon or perſons as had, hath, or hereafter ſhall have any office or Miniſtry in any Eccleſiaſtical Court of this Realm, under any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, in any the times or Reigns aforeſaid; (3) or ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall wilfully refuſe to obſerve the orders and rites for Divine Service, that be authorized to be uſed and obſerved in the Church of England, after that he or they ſhall be publickly by the Ordinary or ſome of his Officers for Eccleſiaſtical cauſes, admoniſhed to keep and obſerve the ſame; (4) Or ſuch as ſhall openly and adviſedly deprave by words, writings, or any other open fact, any of the rites and ceremonies at any time uſed, and authoriſed to be uſed in the Church of England; (5) Or that ſhall ſay or hear the private Maſs prohibited by the Laws of this Realm, (6) and that all ſuch perſons ſhall be compellable to take the Oath upon the ſecond tender or offer of the ſame, and incur the penalties for not taking of the ſaid Oath, and none other.

It is not lawful to ſlay one attainted in a Premunire.

XXI. And foraſmuch as it is doubtful, whether by the Laws of this Realm there be any puniſhment for ſuch as kill or ſlay any perſon or perſons attainted in or upon a Præmunire, (2) Be it therefore enacted by authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful to any perſon or perſons to ſlay or kill any perſon or perſons in any manner attainted, or hereafter to be attainted, of, in, or upon any Præmunire, by pretence, reaſon, or authority of any judgment given, or hereafter to be given in or upon the ſame, or by pretence, reaſon, or force of any word or words, thing or things contained or ſpecified in any Statute, or Law of Proviſion and Præmunire, or in any of them; any Law or Statute, or opinion or expoſition of any Law or Statute to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding:

Puniſhments inflicted by former laws.

XXII. Saving always the due execution of all and every perſon and perſons attainted, or to be attainted for any offence whereupon judgment of death now is, or ought to be, or hereafter may lawfully be given, by reaſon of this Statute, or otherwiſe: (2) And ſaving always all and every ſuch pains of death, or other hurt or puniſhment as heretofore might without danger of Law, be done upon any perſon or perſons that ſhall ſend or bring into this Realm, or any other the Queens Dominions, or within the ſame ſhall execute any ſummons, ſentence, excommunication, or other Proceſs againſt any perſon or perſons, from the Biſhop of Rome for the time being, or by or from the See of Rome, or the authority or juriſdiction of the ſame See.

Upon what proof only any perſon may be indicted.

XXIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall hereafter be indicted for aſſiſting, aiding, maintaining, comforting, or abetting of any perſon or perſons for any the ſaid offences, in extolling, ſetting forth, or defending of the uſurped power and authority of the Biſhop of Rome, unleſs he or they be thereof lawfully accuſed by ſuch good and ſufficient teſtimony or proof, as by the Jury by whom he ſhall ſo be indicted, ſhall be thought good, lawful and ſufficient, to prove him or them guilty of the ſaid offences. Stat. 23 Eliz. 1.

CAP. II.

The Statute of 4 H. 7. 19. 7 H. 8. 1. and 27 H. 8. 22. ordained for the keeping in repair of Towns and houſes of husbandry, and maintaining of Tillage, ſhall be put in execution. The Statute of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 5. and 2 & 3 P. & M. 2. provided for the re-edifying of houſes of husbandry, and the increaſe of Tillage, ſhall be repealed. Such lands, or ſo much in quantity, as in any Town, Village, Hamlet, Lordſhip, place known, or pariſh, as hath been put in Tillage, and eared in any one year, and ſo kept four years ſithence the Feaſt of Saint George the Martyr, Anno 20 H. 8. ſhall be eared and kept in Tillage according to the nature of the ſoil, and cuſtom of the Countrey, by the Occupier thereof, upon pain that every offender ſhall forfeit ten ſhillings an Acre yearly, to the next remainder or reverſion for the term of life, lives, or in tail; for the which he may diſtrain, or have A. B. P. or I: And in his default by the ſpace of one year, then he in the reverſion or remainder in fee-ſimple ſhall have the ſame remedy: And in his default, the immediate Lord of the Fee: And in his default, the Queen, or the Queen and Informer. But this Act ſhall not extend to any land converted from Tillage into Paſture, for the only keeping of his own horſes, draught oxen, kine, or other cattel, for the only victuals to be ſpent in his own houſe, ſo that he hath not other ſufficient paſture within five miles, nor to any Park, Warren of Conies, &c. ut ſupra. 5 Ed. 6. 5. CAP. III.

A Reviver of the Statute of 22 H. 8. 12. & 2 & 4 Ed. 6. 16. touching relieving poor and impotent perſons, and puniſhment of Vagabonds. The poor and impotent perſons of every pariſh ſhall be relieved of that which every perſon will of their charity give weekly: And the ſame relief ſhall be gathered in every pariſh by Collectors aſſigned, and weekly diſtributed to the poor; for none of them ſhall openly go or ſit begging. And if any pariſhioner ſhall obſtinately refuſe to pay reaſonably towards the relief of the ſaid poor, or ſhall diſcourage others; then the Juſtices of Peace at the Quarter-Seſſions may tax him to a reaſonable weekly ſum, which if he refuſe to pay, they may commit him to priſon. And if any pariſh have in it more impotent poor perſons then they are able to relieve, then the Juſtices of the Peace of the County may licenſe ſo many of them as they ſhall think good, to beg in one or more Hundreds of the ſame County. And if any poor beg in any other place then he is licenſed, he ſhall be puniſhed as a Vagabond, according to the Statute of 22 H. 8. EXP. Stat. 14 Eliz. 5.

CAP. IV.

An Act containing divers Orders for Artificers, Labourers, Servants of Husbandry, and Apprentices.

Although there remain and ſtand in force preſently, a great number of Acts and Statutes concerning the retaining, departing, wages, and orders of Apprentices, Servants and Labourers, as well in Huſbandry, as in divers other Arts, Myſteries and Occupations; (2) yet partly for the imperfection and contrariety that is found, and doth appear in ſundry of the ſaid Laws, and for the variety and number of them, (3) and chiefly for that the wages and allowances limited and rated in many of the ſaid Statutes, are in divers places too ſmall, and not anſwerable to this time, reſpecting the advancement of prices of all things belonging to the ſaid ſervants and labourers, (4) the ſaid Laws cannot conveniently, without the great grief and burden of the poor labourer, and hired man, but put in good and due execution: (5) And as the ſaid ſeveral Acts and Statutes were at the time of the making of them, thought to be very good and beneficial for the Common-wealth of this Realm (as divers of them yet are:) ſo if the ſubſtance of as many of the ſaid Laws as are meet to be continued, ſhall be digeſted and reduced into one ſole Law and Statute, and in the ſame an uniform order preſcribed and limited concerning the wages and other orders for Apprentices, Servants and Lobourers, there is good hope that it will come to paſs, that the ſame Law (being duly executed) ſhould baniſh idleneſs, advance Huſbandry, and yield unto the hired perſon both in the time of Scarcity, and in the time of Plenty, a convenient proportion of wages.

Labourers 1. Juſtices of Peace, 66, &c. A repeal of ſo much of former Statutes as concern the hiring, keeping, departing, working, or order of ſervants, labourers, &c. And a declaration who ſhall be compellable to ſerve in handicrafts, and who in huſbandry, and their ſeveral duties, &c. Townſends Table 34.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That as much of all the Eſtatutes heretofore made, and every branch of them, as touch or concern the hiring, keeping, departing, working, wages, or order of Servants, Workmen, Artificers, Apprentices and Labourers, or any of them, and the penalties and forfeitures concerning the ſame, ſhall be from and after the laſt day of September next enſuing, repealed and utterly void and of none effect, (2) and that all the Statutes, and every branch thereof, or any matter contained in them, and not repealed by this Statute, ſhall remain and be in full force and effect; Any thing in this Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon or perſons after the aforeſaid laſt day of September now next enſuing, ſhall retain, hire or take into ſervice, or cauſe to be retained or hired, or taken into ſervice, nor any perſon ſhall be retained, hired or taken into ſervice, by any means or colour, to work for any leſs time or term then for one whole year, in any of the Sciences, Crafts, Myſteries or Arts of Clothiers, Woollen Cloth Weavers, Tuckers, Fullers, Clothworkers, Sheermen, Dyers, Hoſiers, Taylors, Shoemakers, Tanners, Pewterers, Bakers, Brewers, Glovers, Cutlers, Smiths, Farriers, Curriers, Sadlers, Spurriers, Turners, Cappers, Hatmakers, or Feltmakers, Bowyers, Fletchers, Arrow-head makers, Butchers, Cooks or Millers.

No perſon ſhall retain a ſervant in theſe ſciences, under one whole year.

IV. And be it further enacted, That every perſon being unmarried, (2) and every other perſon being under the age of thirty years, that after the Feaſt of Eaſter next, ſhall marry, (3) and having been brought up in any of the ſaid Arts, Crafts or Sciences, (4) or that hath uſed or exerciſed any of them by the ſpace of three years or more, (5) and not having lands, tenements, rents, or hereditaments, Copy-hold, or Free-hold, of one eſtate of inheritance, or for term of any life or lives, of clear yearly value of fourty ſhillings; (6) nor being worth of his own goods the clear value of ten pound, (7) and ſo allowed by two Juſtices of the Peace of the County where he hath moſt commonly inhabited by the ſpace of one whole year, and under their hands and ſeals, (8) or by the Mayor or other Head-officers of the City, Borough, or Town-corporate where ſuch perſon hath moſt commonly dwelt by the ſpace of one whole year, and two Aldermen, or two other diſcreet Burgeſſes of the ſame City, Borough or Town-corporate, if there be no Aldermen, under their hands and ſeals; (9) nor being retained with any perſon in Huſbandry, or in any of the aforeſaid Arts and Sciences, according to this Statute; (10) nor lawfully retained in other Art or Science; (11) nor being lawfully retained in houſhold, or in any office with any Nobleman, Gentleman, or others, according to the Law of this Realm; (12) nor have a convenient farm, or other holding in tillage, whereupon he may employ his labour, (13) ſhall during the time that he or they ſhall be ſo unmarried, or under the age of thirty years, upon requeſt made by any perſon uſing the Art or Myſtery wherein the ſaid perſon ſo required hath been exerciſed, (as is aforeſaid) be retained, (14) and ſhall not refuſe to ſerve according to the tenour of this Statute, upon the pain and penalty hereafter mentioned.

No perſon ſhall put away his ſervant nor any ſervant ſhall depart from his Maſter, before the end of his time.

V. And be it further enacted, That no perſon which ſhall retain any ſervant, ſhall put away his or her ſaid ſervant, (2) and that no perſon retained according to this Statute, ſhall depart from his Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame, before the end of his or her term, (3) upon the pain hereafter mentioned, (4) unleſs it be for ſome reaſonable and ſufficient cauſe or matter, or be allowed before two Juſtices of Peace, or one at the leaſt, within the ſaid County, or before the Mayor or other chief Officer of the City, Borough or Town-corporate, wherein the ſaid Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame inhabiteth, to whom any of the parties grieved ſhall complain; (5) which ſaid Juſtices or Juſtice, Mayor or chief Officer, ſhall have and take upon them or him, the hearing and ordering of the matter betwixt the ſaid Maſter or Miſtreſs, or Dame and Servant, according to the equity of the cauſe.

The cauſe of the ſervants putting away, or departing, to be determined by a Juſtice of Peace, Mayor, Bailiff, &c.

No ſervant ſhall depart or be put away but upon a quarters warning.

VI. And that no ſuch Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame, ſhall put away any ſuch Servant at the end of his term, or that any ſuch ſervant ſhall depart from his ſaid Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame at the end of his term, without one quarters warning given before the end of his ſaid term, either by the ſaid Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame, or Servant, the one to the other, upon the pain hereafter enſuing.

What ſort of perſons are compellable to ſerve by the year in huſbandry.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon between the age of twelve years, and the age of ſixty years, not being lawfully retained, nor Apprentice with any Fiſherman or Mariner haunting the Seas, (2) nor being in ſervice with any Kidder or Carrier of any Corn, Grain or Meal for proviſion of the City of London, (3) nor with any Huſbandman in Huſbandry, (4) nor in any City, Town-corporate, or Market Town, in any of the Arts or Sciencies limited or appointed by this Eſtatute to have or take Apprentices, (5) nor being retained by the year, or half the year at the leaſt, for the digging, ſeeking, finding, getting, melting, fining, working, trying, making of any Silver, Tin, Lead, Iron, Copper, Stone, Sea-coal, Stone-coal, Moor-coal, or Cherk-coal, (6) nor being occupied in or about the making of any Glaſs, (7) nor being a Gentleman born, nor being a Student or Scholar in any of the Univerſities, or in any School, (8) nor having lands, tenements, rents, or hereditaments, for term of life, or of one eſtate of inheritance, of the clear yearly value of forty ſhillings, (9) nor being worth in goods and chattels to the value of ten pound, (10) nor having a father or mother then living, or other anceſtor whoſe heir apparent he is, then having lands, tenements or hereditaments, of the yearly value of ten pound, or above, or goods or chattels of the value of fourty pound, (11) nor being a neceſſary or convenient Officer or Servant lawfully retained, as is aforeſaid, (12) nor having a convenient farm or holding, whereupon he may or ſhall imploy his labour; (13) nor being otherwiſe lawfully retained, according to the true meaning of this Eſtatute, (14) ſhall after the aforeſaid laſt day of September now next enſuing, by virtue of this Eſtatute, be compelled to be retained to ſerve in Huſbandry by the year, with any perſon that keepeth Huſbandry, and will require any ſuch perſon ſo to ſerve within the ſame Shire where he ſhall be ſo required.

The forfeiture for putting away his ſervant within his term or at the end of his term, without warning.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon after he hath retained any ſervant, ſhall put away the ſame ſervant before the end of his term, unleſs it be for ſome reaſonable and ſufficient cauſe, to be allowed as is aforeſaid; (2) or if any ſuch Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame, ſhall put away any ſuch ſervant at the end of his term, without one quarters warning given before the ſaid end, as is above remembred, (3) that then every ſuch Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame ſo offending, unleſs he or they be able to prove by two ſufficient witneſſes, ſuch reaſonable and ſufficent cauſe of putting away of their ſervant or ſervants, during their term, or a quarters warning given afore the end of the ſaid term, as is aforeſaid, before the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, Juſtices of the Aſſiſe, Juſtices of Peace in the quarter Seſſions, or before the Mayor or other Head-Officer of any City, Borough or Town-corporate, and two Aldermen, or two other diſcreet Burgeſſes of the ſame City, Borough, or Town-corporate, if there be no Aldermen, or before the Lord Preſident and Council eſtabliſhed in the Marches of Wales, or before the Lord Preſident and Council for the time being eſtabliſhed in the North parts, ſhall forfeit the ſum of xl. s.

The puniſhment of a ſervant which performeth not his duty in ſervice or departure.

IX. And if any ſervant retained according to the form of this Eſtatute, depart from his Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dames ſervice, before the end of his term, unleſs it be for ſome reaſonable and ſufficient cauſe, to be allowed as is aforeſaid; (2) or if any ſervant at the end of his term, depart from his ſaid Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dames ſervice without one quarters warning given before the end of his ſaid term, in form aforeſaid, and before two lawful witneſſes; (3) or if any perſon or perſons compellable and bounden to be retainers, and to ſerve in Huſbandry, or in any other the Arts, Sciences or Myſteries above remembred, by the year or otherwiſe, do (upon requeſt made) refuſe to ſerve for the wages that ſhall be limited, rated and appointed, according to the form of this Statute, (4) or promiſe or covenant to ſerve, and do not ſerve according to the tenour of the ſame, (5) That then every ſervant ſo departing away, and every perſon ſo refuſing to ſerve for ſuch wages, upon complaint thereof made by the Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame of the ſaid ſervant, or by the party to or with whom the ſaid refuſal is made, or promiſe not kept, to two Juſtices of Peace of the County, or to the Mayor or other Head-officer of the City, Borough or Town-corporate, and two Aldermen, or two other diſcreet Burgeſſes of the ſame City, Borough or Town-corporate, if there be no Aldermen, where the ſaid Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame, or the ſaid party to or with whom the ſaid refuſal is made, and promiſe not kept, dwelleth, or to either of the Lords Preſidents and Council of Wales, and the North, the ſaid Juſtices, Lords Preſidents and Councils, and alſo the ſaid Mayors or other Head-officers, and other perſons of Cities, Boroughs, or Towns-corporate, or any of them, as is aforeſaid, ſhall have power by force of this Statute, to hear and examine the matter; (6) and finding the ſaid ſervant, or the ſaid party ſo refuſing faulty in the premiſſes, upon ſuch proofs and good matter as to their diſcretions ſhall be thought ſufficient to commit him or them to ward, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until the ſaid ſervant or party ſo offending ſhall be bound to the party to whom the offence ſhall be made, to ſerve and continue with him for the wages that then ſhall be limited and appointed, according to the tenour and form of this Eſtatute, and to be diſcharged upon his delivery, without paying any fee to the Goaler where he or they ſhall be ſo impriſoned.

X. And be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That none of the ſaid retained perſons in Huſbandry, or in any the Arts or Sciences above remembred, after the time of his retainer expired, ſhall depart forth of one City, Town, or Pariſh to another, (2) nor out of the Lath, Rape, Wapentake or Hundred; (3) nor out of the County or Shire, where he laſt ſerved, to ſerve in any other City, Town-corporate, Lath, Rape, Wapentake, Hundred, Shire, or County, (4) unleſs he have a Teſtimonial under the Seal of the ſaid City or Town-corporate, or of the Conſtable or Conſtables, or other Head-officer or Officers, and of two other honeſt Houſholders of the City, Town, or Pariſh where he laſt ſerved, declaring his lawful departure, and the name of the Shire and place where he dwelled laſt before his departure, according to the form hereafter expreſſed in this Act: (5) which Certificate or Teſtimonial ſhall be written and delivered unto the ſaid ſervant, and alſo Regiſtred by the Parſon, Vicar, or Curate of the Pariſh where ſuch Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame doth or ſhall dwell, taking for the doing thereof, two pence and not above: And the form thereof ſhall be as followeth;

None may depart forth of the City, Town, Pariſh, &c. without a teſtimonial.

Memorandum, That A. B. ſervant to C. D. of E. Huſbandman, or Taylor, &c. in the ſaid County, is licenſed to depart from his ſaid Maſter, and is at his liberty to ſerve elſewhere, according to the Statute in that caſe made and provided. In witneſs whereof, &c. Dated the day, month, year, and place, &c. of the making thereof.

The form of the teſtimonial.

XI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons that ſhall depart out of a ſervice, ſhall be retained or accepted into any other ſervice, without ſhewing before his retainer, ſuch Teſtimonial as is above remembred, to the chief Officer of the Town-corporate, and in every other Town and Place, to the Conſtable, Curate, Churchwarden, or other Head-officer of the ſame, where he ſhall be retained to ſerve, (2) upon the pain that every ſuch ſervant ſo departing without ſuch Certificate or Teſtimonial, ſhall be impriſoned until he procure a Teſtimonial or Certificate; (3) the which if he cannot do within the ſpace of one and twenty days next after the firſt day of his impriſonment, then the ſaid perſon to be whipped and uſed as a vagabond, according to the Laws in ſuch caſe provided: (4) And that every perſon retaining any ſuch ſervant, without ſhewing ſuch Teſtimonial or Certificate, as is aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence five pounds: (5) And if any ſuch perſon ſhall be taken with any counterfeit or forged Teſtimonial, then to be whipped as a vagabond.

No ſervant ſhall be retained without ſhewing his teſtimonial.

The maſter ſhall pay v. li. which retaineth a ſervant without a teſtimonial.

Counterfeit teſtimonial.

XII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Artificers and Labourers, being hired for wages by the day or week, ſhall betwixt the midſt of the months of March and September, be and continue at their work, at or before five of the clock in the morning, and continue at work, and not depart, until betwixt ſeven and eight of the clock at night (except it be in the time of breakfaſt, dinner, or drinking, the which times at the moſt ſhall not exceed above two hours and a half in a day, that is to ſay, at every drinking one half hour, for his dinner one hour, and for his ſleep when he is allowed to ſleep, the which is from the midſt of May, to the midſt of Auguſt, half an hour at the moſt, and at every breakfaſt one half hour:) (2) And all the ſaid Artificers and Labourers, between the midſt of September, and the midſt of March, ſhall be and continue at their work from the ſpring of the day in the morning, until the night of the ſame day, except it be in time afore appointed for breakfaſt and dinner, (3) upon pain to loſe and forfeit one peny for every hours abſence, to be deducted and defaulked out of his wages that ſhall ſo offend.

How long Labourers ſhall continue at their work.

XIII. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Artificer and Labourer that ſhall be lawfully retained in and for the building or repairing of any Church, Houſe, Ship, Mill, or every other piece of work taken in great, in taſk, or in groſs, or that ſhall hereafter take upon him to make or finiſh any ſuch thing or work, ſhall continue and not depart from the ſame, unleſs it be for not paying of his wages or hire agreed on, or otherwiſe lawfully taken or appointed to ſerve the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, or for other lawful cauſe, or without licence of the Maſter or Owner of the work, or of them that have the charge thereof, before the finiſhing of the ſaid work, (2) upon pain of impriſonment by one month without bail or mainpriſe, (3) and the forfeiture of the ſum of five pounds to the party from whom he ſhall ſo depart; for the which, the ſaid party may have his action of debt againſt him that ſhall ſo depart, in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, over and beſides ſuch ordinary coſts and damages as may or ought to be recovered by the Common Laws, for or concerning any ſuch offence: In which Action, no Protection, wager of Law, or Eſſoin ſhall be admitted.

No Artificer or Labourer ſhall depart before his work be finiſhed.

XIV. And that no Artificer or Labourer retained in any ſervice, to work with the Queens Majeſty, or any other perſon, depart not from her ſaid Majeſty, or from the ſaid other perſon, until ſuch time as the work be finiſhed, if the perſon ſo retaining the Artificer or Labourer ſo long will have him, and pay him his wages or other duties; upon pain of impriſonment of every perſon ſo departing, by the ſpace of one month.

XV. And for the declaration and limitation what wages Servants, Labourers, and Artificers, either by the year or day, or otherwiſe, ſhall have and receive, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Juſtices of Peace of every Shire, Riding, and Liberty within the limits of their ſeveral Commiſſions, or the more part of them, being then reſiant within the ſame, and the Sheriff of that County, if he conveniently may, and every Mayor, Bailiff, or other Head-officer within any City or Town-corporate, wherein is any Juſtice of Peace within the limits of the ſaid City, or Town-corporate, and of the ſaid Corporation, ſhall before the tenth day of June next coming, and afterward ſhall

Proclamations ſhall be made of the rates of the wages of ſervants, &c.

Continuance or alteration of the rates of wages at the Juſtices diſcretion.

XVI. And if the ſaid Sheriffs, Juſtices of Peace, or the Mayor or Head-officer, ſhall at their ſaid general Seſſions, or at any time after, within ſix weeks then following, upon their aſſembly and conference together, think it convenient to retain and keep for the year then to come, the rates and proportions of wages that they certified the year before, or to change or reform them or ſome part of them; then they ſhall before the ſaid twelfth day of July, yearly certifie into the ſaid Court of Chancery their reſolutions and determinations therein, to the intent that Proclamations may accordingly be renewed and ſent down. (2) And if it ſhall happen, that there be no need of any reformation or alteration of the rates of the ſaid wages, but that the former ſhall be thought meet to be continued; then the Proclamations for the year paſt, ſhall remain in force, until new Proclamations upon new rates concerning the ſaid wages, ſhall be ſent down according to the form of this Eſtatute.

The fine of the Juſtices, Mayors, Balliffs, &c. which be abſent at the taxing of ſervants wages

XVII. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if all the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, reſiant within the Counties where they are or ſhall be Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, and Head-officers, do not before the tenth day of June next coming, and afterward yearly appear and aſſemble at the ſaid general Seſſions, or within ſix weeks next after the ſaid general Seſſions, and limit and rate the wages of the ſaid ſervants and labourers, or ſhall not conſider whether the former rates made, be meet to be continued, or to be altered and reformed in manner and form aforeſaid, or be negligent or remiſs in the Certificate thereof, in form above written, that then every Juſtice of Peace of the County, and every Mayor or Head-officers of the City or Town-corporate, in whom any ſuch default or negligence ſhall be found, being within the ſaid County, City, or Town-corporate at the time of the ſaid next aſſembly, or at the time of the ſaid Seſſions, or at the times of the ſaid rates of wages to be ſet, within ſix weeks next after every ſuch Seſſions, and not viſited with any ſuch ſickneſs as he could not travel thither without peril and danger of his life; or not having any other lawful and good excuſe, to be allowed by the Juſtices then aſſembled for the rating and taxing of wages, as is aforeſaid, or by the more part of them, upon a Corporal Oath and Affidavit, to be taken and made openly before the ſaid Juſtices upon the holy Evangeliſts, by ſome credible perſon aſſeſſed and taxed in the Book of Subſidy of that County, to the clear value of five pounds at the leaſt, or by ſuch other perſon as the moſt part of ſuch Juſtices ſhall allow and accept to take ſuch Oath, ſhall for ſuch default or negligence, forfeit unto the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Ten pounds of lawful money of England.

The puniſhment of him which giveth more wages than is taxed by the Juſtices, &c.

XVIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon, after the ſaid Proclamation ſhall be ſo ſent down and publiſhed, ſhall by any ſecret ways or means, directly or indirectly retain or keep any ſervant, workman or labourer, or ſhall give any more or greater wages, or oher commodity, contrary to the true intent and purpoſe of this Eſtatute, or contrary to the rates or wages that ſhall be aſſeſſed or appointed in the ſaid Proclamations; that then every perſon that ſhall ſo offend, and be thereof lawfully convicted before any the Juſtices, or other Head-officers above remembred, or either of the ſaid Preſidents and Councels, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of ten days, without bail or mainpriſe, and ſhall loſe and forfeit five pounds of lawful money of England.

XIX. And that every perſon that ſhall be ſo retained and take wages, contrary to this Eſtatute, or any branch thereof, or of the ſaid Proclamation, and ſhall be thereof convicted before the Juſtices aforeſaid, or any two of them, or before the Mayor or other Head-officers aforeſaid, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one and twenty days, without bail or mainpriſe.

The puniſhment of the ſervant, labourer, &c. which taketh more wages than is taxed.

XX. And that every retainer, promiſe, gift, or payment of wages, or other thing whatſoever, contrary to the true meaning of this Eſtatute, and every writing and bond to be made for that purpoſe, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect.

Every retainer contrary to this Statute, ſhall be void.

XXI. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that if any ſervant, workman or labourer, ſhall wilfully or maliciouſly, make any aſſault or affray upon his Maſter, Miſtreſs or Dame, or upon any other that ſhall at the time of ſuch aſſault or affray, have the charge or overſight of any ſuch ſervant, workman or labourer, or of the work wherein the ſervant, workman, or labourer is appointed or hired to work, and being thereof convicted before any two of the Juſtices, Mayor or other Head-officer aforeſaid, where the ſaid offence is committed, or before either of the ſaid Lords Preſidents and Councel before remembred, by confeſſion of the ſaid ſervant, workman or labourer, or by the teſtimony, witneſs and Oath of two honeſt men; that then every ſuch offendor ſhall ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one whole year or leſs, by the diſcretion of two Juſtices of Peace, if it be without a Town-corporate; (2) and if it be within a Town-corporate, then by the diſcretion of the Mayor or Head-officer of the ſame Town-corporate, with two others of the diſcreeteſt perſons of the ſame Corporation, at the leaſt: (3) And if the offence ſhall require further puniſhment, then to receive ſuch other open puniſhment, ſo as it extend not to life or limb, as the Juſtices of Peace in open Seſſions, or as the more part of them, or the ſaid Mayor or Head-officer, and ſix or four at the leaſt, of the diſcreeteſt perſons of the ſame Corporation before whom the offence ſhall be examined, ſhall think convenient for the quality of the ſaid offence ſo done or committed.

The puniſhment of the ſervant which maketh aſſault upon his Maſter, Miſtreſs, Overſeer.

XXII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in the time of Hay or Corn Harveſt, the Juſtices of Peace, and every of them, and alſo the Conſtable or other Head-officer of every Townſhip, upon requeſt, and for the avoiding of the loſs of any Corn, Grain, or Hay, ſhall and may cauſe all ſuch Artificers and perſons as be meet to labour, by the diſcretions of the ſaid Juſtices or Conſtables, or other Head-officers, or by any of them, to ſerve by the day, for the mowing, reaping, ſhearing, getting or inning of Corn, Grain, and Hay, according to the skill and quality of the perſon; (2) and that none of the ſaid perſons ſhall refuſe to do, upon pain to ſuffer impriſonment in the Stocks, by the ſpace of two days and one night: (3) and the Conſtable of the Town, or other Head-officer of the ſame, where the ſaid refuſal ſhall be made, upon complaint unto him made, ſhall have authority by virtue hereof, to ſet the ſaid offendor in the Stocks for the time aforeſaid, and ſhall puniſh him accordingly, upon pain to loſe and forfeit for not doing thereof, the ſum of fourty ſhillings.

Artificers compellable to work in Hay-time and Harveſt.

XXIII. Provided alſo, That all perſons of the Counties where they have accuſtomed to go into other Shires for Harveſt-work, and having at that time no Harveſt-work ſufficient in the ſame Town or County where he or they dwelt in the Winter then laſt paſt, bringing with him or them a Teſtimonial under the Hand and Seal of one Juſtice of the Peace of the Shire, or other Head-officer of the Town or place that he or they come from, teſtifying the ſame, for the which he ſhall pay not above one peny (other then ſuch perſons as ſhall be retained in ſervice according to the form of this Eſtatute) may repair and reſort in Harveſt of Hay or Corn, from the Counties wherein their dwelling places are, into any other place or County for the only mowing, reaping, and getting in of Hay, Corn, or Grain, and for the only working of Harveſt-works, as they might have done before the making of this Eſtatute; any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A proviſo for ſome which do go into other Shires for work in Hay-time and Harveſt.

XXIV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That two Juſtices of Peace, the Mayor or other Head-officer of any City, Borough, or Town-Corporate, and two Aldermen, or two other diſcreet Burgeſſes of the ſame City, Borough, or Town-corporate, if there be no Aldermen, ſhall and may by virtue hereof, appoint any ſuch woman as is of the age of twelve years, and under the age of fourty years, and unmarried, and forth of ſervice, as they ſhall think meet to ſerve, to be retained or ſerve by the year, or by the week or day, for ſuch wages, and in ſuch reaſonable ſort and manner as they ſhall think meet; (2) and if any ſuch woman ſhall refuſe ſo to ſerve, then it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, Mayor, or Head-officers, to commit ſuch woman to ward, until ſhe ſhall be bounden to ſerve as is aforeſaid.

Women compellable to ſerve which be above twelve, and under forty years old, unmarried, and forth of ſervice.

XXV. And for the better advancement of Husbandry and Tillage, and to the intent that ſuch as are fit to be made Apprentices to Husbandry may be bounden thereunto, (2) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon being an Houſholder, and having and uſing half a Plough-land at the leaſt in Tillage, may have and receive to an Apprentice any perſon above the age of ten years, and under the age of eighteen years, to ſerve in Husbandry, until his age of one and twenty years at the leaſt, or until the age of twenty four, as the parties can agree, and the ſaid retainer and taking of an Apprentice, to be made and done by Indenture.

Husbandmen may take Apprentices.

XXVI. And be it further enacted, That every perſon being an Houſholder, and twenty four years old at the leaſt, dwelling or inhabiting, or which ſhall dwell and inhabit in any City or Town-corporate, and uſing and exerciſing any Art, Myſtery, or manual Occupation there, ſhall and may after the Feaſt day of Saint John Baptiſt next coming, during the time that he ſhall ſo dwell or inhabit in any ſuch City or Town-corporate, and uſe and exerciſe any ſuch

XXXVI. Provided always, and be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon ſhall by force or colour of this Eſtatute, be bounden to enter into any Apprenticeſhip, other then ſuch as be under the age of xxi. years.

None ſhall be bound to be Apprentices but thoſe which be under xxi. years of age.

XXXVII. And to the end that this Eſtatute may from time to time be carefully and diligently put in good execution, according to the tenour and true meaning thereof, Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Juſtices of Peace of every County, dividing themſelves into ſeveral limits, and likewiſe every Mayor and Head-officer of any City or Town-corporate, ſhall yearly between the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, and the Nativity of our Lord, and between the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt, by all ſuch ways and means as to their wiſdoms ſhall be thought moſt meet, make a ſpecial and diligent enquiry of the Branches and Articles of this Eſtatute, and of the good execution of the ſame, and where they ſhall find any default, to ſee the ſame ſeverely corrected and puniſhed, without favour, affection, malice or diſpleaſure.

Aſſembly of the Juſtices twice in the year for the due execution of this Statute.

XXXVIII. And in conſideration of the pains and travel that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, and the ſaid Mayor and Head-officer ſhall take and ſuſtain in and about the execution of this Eſtatute, it is further ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That every Juſtice of Peace, Mayor or Head-officer, for every day that he ſhall ſit in and about the execution of this Eſtatute, ſhall have allowed unto him five ſhillings, to be allowed and paid unto him, or unto the ſaid Mayor or Head-officer, of the fines and forfeitures of the XXXIX. And be it enacted by authority aforeſaid, That the one half of all forfeitures and penalties expreſſed and mentioned in this Eſtatute, other then ſuch as are expreſly otherwiſe appointed, ſhall be to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that ſhall ſue for the ſame in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, or before any of the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or before any other Juſtices, or Preſident and Council before remembred, by action of debt, information, bill of complaint, or otherwiſe; in which actions or ſuits, no protections, wager of Law or Eſſoin ſhall be allowed; (2) and that the ſaid Juſtices, or two of them, whereof one to be of the Quorum, and the ſaid Preſidents and Council as is aforeſaid, and the ſaid Mayors or other Head-officers of Cities or Towns-corporate, ſhall have full power and authority to hear and determine all and every offence and offences that ſhall be committed or done againſt this Eſtatute, or againſt any branch thereof, as well upon indictment to be taken before them in the Seſſions of the Peace, as upon information, action of debt, or bill of complaint to be ſued or exhibited by any perſon, (3) and ſhall and may by virtue hereof, make proceſs againſt the defendant, and award execution, as in any other caſe they lawfully may by any the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, (4) and ſhall yearly in Michaelmas Term certifie by Eſtreat, the fines and forfeitures of every the offences contained in this Eſtatute, that ſhall be found before them, into the Court of Exchequer, in like ſort and form as they be bound to certifie the Eſtreats for other offences and forfeitures to be loſt before them; any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Juſtices of Peace, Mayor, &c. may hear and determine all offences committed againſt this Statute. 21 El. 5.

A proviſo for the Cities of London and Norwich.

XL. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained or mentioned, ſhall not be prejudicial or hurtful to the Cities of London and Norwich, or to the lawful liberties, uſages, cuſtoms or priviledges of the ſame Cities, for or concerning the having or taking of any Apprentice or Apprentices; but that the Citizens and Freemen of the ſame Cities ſhall and may take, have and retain Apprentices there, in ſuch manner and form as they might lawfully have done before the making of this Statute; this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The forfeiture of him that taketh a Prentice otherwiſe then is limited by this Statute.

XLI. And be it alſo further enacted, That all indentures, covenants, promiſes and bargains of or for the having, taking or keeping of any Apprentice, otherwiſe hereafter to be made or taken, then is by this Statute limited, ordained and appointed, ſhall be clearly void in the Law to all intents and purpoſes; (2) and that every perſon that ſhall from henceforth take or newly retain any Apprentice contrary to the tenour and true meaning of this Act, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every Apprentice ſo by him taken, the ſum of ten pounds.

He that is bound Prentice within the age of xxi. years, is compellable to ſerve.

XLII. And becauſe there hath been, and is ſome queſtion and ſcruple moved, whether any perſon, being within the age of one and twenty years, and bounden to ſerve as an Apprentice, in any other place then in the ſaid city of London, ſhould be bounden, accepted and taken as an Apprentice;

XLIII. For the reſolution of the ſaid ſcruple and doubt, Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every ſuch perſon or perſons that at any time or times from henceforth ſhall be bounden by Indenture, to ſerve as an Apprentice in any Art, Science, Occupation or Labour, according to the tenour of this Eſtatute, and in manner and form aforeſaid, albeit the ſame Apprentice, or any of them, ſhall be within the age of one and twenty years, at the time of the making of their ſeveral Indentures, ſhall be bounden to ſerve for the years in their ſerveral Indentures contained, as amply and largely to every intent, as if the ſame Apprentice were of full age at the time of the making of ſuch Indentures; any law, uſage or cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A proviſo for the inhabitants of Godalming in Surrey.

XLIV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the inhabitants now dwelling or inhabiting, or that hereafter ſhall dwell or inhabit within the Town of Godalming within the County of Surrey, within the limits of the watch of the ſaid Town, may uſe and exerciſe ſuch Arts, Myſteries and Occupations, and take and uſe Apprentices and Servants, in ſuch manner and form as the inhabitants within Market-towns, by this Statute may lawfully do.

Who ſhall have the forfeiture in Cities and Towns-corporate.

XLV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all manner amerciaments, fines, iſſues and forfeitures which ſhall ariſe, grow, or come by reaſon of any offences or defaults mentioned in this Act, or any branch thereof, within any City or Town-corporate, ſhall be levied, gathered and received by ſuch perſon or perſons of the ſame City or Town-corporate, as ſhall be appointed by the Mayor, or other Head-officers mentioned in this ſaid Act, to the uſe and maintenance of the ſame City or Town-corporate, in ſuch caſe and condition as any manner other amerciaments, fines, iſſues or forfeitures have been uſed to be levied and imployed within the ſame City or Town-corporate, by reaſon of any Grant or Charter from the Queens Majeſty that now is, or of any her Graces noble Progenitors, made and granted to the ſame City, Borough, or Town-corporate; any thing or clauſe before mentioned and expreſſed in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Retainings and covenants made before this Statute.

XLVI. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any lawful retainings or covenants had or made before the making of this Act, but that all and every the parties to ſuch retainings or covenants, ſhall and may have the ſame and like advantages of ſuch retainings and covenants, and of the Statutes heretofore in that behalf provided, as if this Act had never been had or made; any clauſe of repeal or other matter whatſoever in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A remedy for thoſe ſervants which depart

XLVII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Servant or Apprentice of Husbandry, or of any Art Science or Occupation aforeſaid, unlawfully depart or flee into any other Shire, that it ſhall be lawful to the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, and to the ſaid Mayors, Bailiffs, and other Head-Officers of Cities and Towns-corporate, for the time being Juſtices of Peace there, to make and grant Writs of Capias, ſo many, and ſuch as ſhall be needful, to be directed to the Sheriffs of the Counties, or to other Head Officers of the places whither ſuch Servants or Apprentices ſhall ſo depart or flee, to take their bodies, returnable before them, at what time ſhall pleaſe them; ſo that if they come by ſuch Proceſs, that they be put in priſon till they ſhall find ſufficient ſurety, well and honeſtly to ſerve their Maſters, Miſtreſſes or Dames from whom they ſo departed or fled, according to the order of the Law.

from their maſters, and do flee into other Shires.

XLVIII. Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful to the High Conſtables of Hundreds in every Shire, to hold, keep and continue petty Seſſions, otherwiſe called Statute-Seſſions, within the limits of their authorities, in all Shires wherein ſuch Seſſions have been uſed to be kept, in ſuch manner and form as heretofore hath been uſed and accuſtomed, ſo as nothing be by them done therein contrary or repugnant to this preſent Act.

High Conſtables may keep Statute-Seſſions.

CAP. V.

An Act touching Politick Conſtitutions for the maintenance of the Navy.

IV. Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Purveyor or other perſon whatſoever, ſhall from the ſaid firſt day of May, by virtue of any Commiſſion, or otherwiſe, take any Herring or Sea-Fiſh from any of the Subjects aforementioned, that ſhall take the ſame in the Ships or other Veſſels of the ſaid Subjects, as is aboveſaid, otherwiſe then by agreement of the owners or ſellers of the ſame Fiſh, upon pain for every Purveyor, and other perſon whatſoever, offending contrary to the tenour of this Act, to forfeit the double value of the Herrings or Fiſh ſo to be taken: (2) And it ſhall be lawful for any perſon, being owner or ſeller of any ſuch Sea-Fiſh ſo taken, as is aforeſaid, to withſtand any perſon that will (by any colour of purveying or otherwiſe) demand any ſuch Fiſh, or the Toll of any ſuch Fiſh, without the good will of the owner or ſeller, as aforeſaid.

No Purveyors ſhall take any Sea-fiſh of any that ſhall take the ſame in any Subjects ſhip.

V. Provided, That the Fiſh, called Compoſition-Fiſh, heretofore granted to the Queens Majeſty by the Subjects of this Realm travelling into Iſland, ſhall be taken by her Majeſties Officers and Purveyors, in ſuch ſort as the ſame hath been lawfully uſed to be taken before the making of this Act, (2) and ſaving to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and to all other perſons, ſuch Fiſhes as be known and uſed to be called Regal Fiſhes, whereunto her Majeſty, or the ſaid other perſons have, or ſhall have, right or intereſt, for ſuch recompence as heretofore hath been accuſtomed.

XI. And be it further enacted, That from the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next following, no perſon or perſons whatſoever, ſhall bring into this Realm of England, or any part of the ſame, any Wine coming out of any the Dominions or Countries belonging to the Crown of France, or any Woad called Tholouſe-Woad, in any other Veſſel or Veſſels, but only in ſuch Veſſel and Veſſels, whereof ſome Subject or Subjects of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall be then only owner, or part owner, (2) upon pain to forfeit all Wines and Woad brought contrary to the meaning hereof, according to the meaning of an Eſtatute made in the time of the Reign of King Henry the Seventh, concerning Wine of the Dutchy of Gaſcoign and Guyen, (except that there may be brought into Wales, or any Port within the County of Monmouth, Rochel Wines.)

Owners of Ships, Fiſhers on the Sea, Gunners and Shipwrights, may take Apprentices.

XII. Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from henceforth it ſhall be lawful to all and every owner and owners of Ships or Veſſels, and to every houſholder, uſing and exerciſing the Trade of the Seas by Fiſhing, or otherwiſe, and to every Gunner or Gunners, commonly called Cannoneers, and to every Shipwright, to take and keep one or more Apprentice or Apprentices to be brought up in the ſaid Trade or Trades, every of the ſame Apprentice or Apprentices to be to them bound for ten years or under: (2) And every Apprentice ſo taken, being above ſeven years of age, ſhall be by the ſame Covenants bound, ordered, and uſed to all intents, according to the Cuſtom of the City of London: ſo that the ſame Covenant or Bond of Apprentiſhip be made by writing indented, and inrolled in the Town where the ſame Apprentice ſhall be then inhabiting, if it be a Town-corporate, and if the Town be not incorporate, then to be inrolled in the next Town incorporate to the habitation of every ſuch Apprentice: (3) And that the Officers of every ſuch Town-corporate, ſhall take for every ſuch Inrolment not above twelve pence; any Law, Statute, or other matter whatſoever to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A repeal of part of the Stat. of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 14. made againſt Regrators, &c.

XIII. And be it further enacted, That ſo much of the Statute made in the Fifth and Sixth years of the late King Edward the Sixth, intituled, An Act againſt Regrators, Foreſtallers and Ingroſſers, and ſo much of all other Eſtatutes againſt Regrators, Foreſtallers and Ingroſſers, as doth and may concern the buying of Sea-fiſh unſalted, or mudde Fiſh, or any Wine, Oyl, or Salt, to be taken and brought in any Engliſh Subjects Ships, Crayers or other Veſſel, unto any Port, Creek or place of this Realm, ſhall from henceforth to all intents, conſtructions, and purpoſes, be utterly repealed and void, for ſo much of the ſaid Oyls, Wine, Sea-fiſh, mudde-fiſh, and Salt, as any buyer or buyers upon the Sea, by way of Foreſtalling or Regrating, ſhall and do bring and diſcharge in any Port or Haven within this Realm.

Every wedneſday ſhall be fiſh-day. Exp. St. 17 El. 1. St. 3 Car. 4.

XIV. And for the increaſe of proviſion of Fiſh by the more uſual and common eating thereof, Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, in the year of our Lord God M.D.LXIV. every Wedneſday in every week throughout the whole year, which heretofore hath not by the Laws or Cuſtoms of this Realm been uſed and obſerved as a Fiſh day, and which ſhall not happen to fall in Chriſtmas week, or Eaſter week, ſhall be hereafter obſerved and kept, as the Saturdays in every week be or ought to be: (2) And that no manner of perſon ſhall eat any fleſh on the ſame day, otherwiſe then ought to be upon the common Saturday.

All fiſh-days ſhall be obſerved.

Forfeiture of three pound, or three months cloſe impriſonment, for eating of fleſh upon days prohibited. Alt. 25 El. 7.

XV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, for the benefit and commodity of this Realm, to grow as well in maintenance of the Navy, as in ſparing and increaſe of fleſh victual of this Realm, That from and after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, it ſhall not be lawful to any perſon or perſons within this Realm, to eat any fleſh upon any days now uſually obſerved as Fiſh-days, or upon any Wedneſdays now newly limited to be obſerved as Fiſh-day, (2) upon pain that every perſon ſo offending herein, ſhall forfeit three pound for every time he or they ſhall offend, or elſe ſuffer three months cloſe impriſonment without bail or mainpriſe.

Forfeiture of a houſholder where fleſh is eaten.

How the forfeiture ſhall be beſtowed.

XVI. And every perſon or perſons within whoſe houſe any ſuch offence ſhall be done, and being privy or knowing thereof, and not effectually publiſhing or diſcloſing the ſame to ſome publick Officer, having authority to puniſh the ſame, for every ſuch offence to forfeit forty ſhillings; (2) All which forfeitures for not abſtaining from meats, ſhall be divided into three equal parts; that is, one part to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, the other part to the Informer, the third to the common uſe of the Pariſh where the offence is or ſhall be committed, and to be levied by the Churchwardens, after any conviction in that behalf.

XVII. Provided always, and be it enacted, That this Act, nor any thing herein contained concerning eating of fleſh, ſhall in any wiſe extend to any perſon or perſons that ſhall hereafter have any ſpecial licence, upon cauſes to be contained in the ſame Licence, and to be granted according to the Laws of this Realm in ſuch caſes provided;

A proviſo for them which have Licences to eat fleſh.

XVIII. All and every which ſaid Licence and Licences ſhall be void to all intents, unleſs the ſame contain the Conditions hereafter mentioned; that is to ſay, every Licence made to any perſon or perſons being of the degree of a Lord of Parliament, or of their Wives, ſhall be upon condition, that every ſuch perſon ſo to be licenſed, ſhall pay to the poor mans Box within the Pariſh where they ſhall dwell or remain, in the Feaſt of the Purification of the bleſſed Virgin Mary, or within ſix days after the ſame Feaſt, Six and twenty ſhillings and eight pence, the ſame to be paid within one month next after the ſame Feaſt, upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch Licence. (2) And every Licence to any perſon of the degree of a Knight, or a Knights Wife, ſhall be upon condition, that every ſuch perſon ſo licenſed, ſhall pay yearly Thirteen ſhillings and four pence, to the uſe aforeſaid, and in form aforementioned. (3) And every Licence to any perſon or perſons being under the degrees aboveſaid, ſhall be upon condition, that every ſuch perſon ſo licenſed, ſhall pay yearly Six ſhillings and eight pence to the ſaid uſe, and in form aforementioned.

How much every perſon ſhall pay for his Licence.

XIX. Provided always, That no Licence ſhall extend to the eating of any Beef at any time of the year, nor to the eating of any Veal in any year, from the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel, unto the firſt day of May.

XX. Provided alſo, That all perſons which by reaſon of notorious ſickneſs ſhall be enforced for recovery of health to eat fleſh for the time of their ſickneſs, ſhall be ſufficiently licenced by the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, (2) or by the Parſon, Vicar or Curate of the Pariſh where ſuch perſon ſhall be ſick, or of one of the next Pariſh adjoyning, if the ſaid Parſon, Vicar, or Curate of his or their own Pariſh be wilful, or if there be no Curate within the ſame Pariſh; (2) which Licence ſhall be made in writing ſigned with the hand of the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or of the Parſon, Vicar or Curate, and not endure longer then the time of the ſickneſs: (3) And that if the ſickneſs ſhall continue above the ſpace of eight days after ſuch Licence granted, then the Licence ſhall be regiſtred in the Church Book, with the knowledge of one of the Churchwardens, (5) and the party licenſed ſhall give to the Curate Four pence for the entry thereof, and that Licence to endure no longer, but only for the time of his, her, or their ſickneſs.

Licences in times of ſickneſs.

XXI. And if any Licence by any Parſon, Vicar or Curate, be granted to any perſon or perſons, other then ſuch as evidently appear to have need thereof, by reaſon of their ſickneſs, not only every ſuch Licence ſhall be void, but alſo every ſuch Parſon, Vicar or Curate, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch Licence otherwiſe granted, Five marks.

XXII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That all Licences heretofore granted to any Subject of this Realm, by any of the late Kings, or by the late Queen Mary, or the Queens Majeſty now being, or by any Archbiſhop of this Realm, having authority ſo to do, ſhall be of as good force in Law for the Wedneſday now limited, and other accuſtomed Fiſh-days, as they were before the making of this Act for the ſaid other accuſtomed fiſh-days, ſo as the parties licenſed, do hereafter obſerve all ſuch conditions as be limited in this Eſtatute to ſuch as ſhall hereafter obtain any Licences.

The Licences granted to any perſons before the making of this Act, ſhall extend to the Wedneſdays.

XXIII. And ſuch perſons alſo as heretofore were or ought to be licenced by reaſon of age, or other impediment or cauſe, by order of the Eccleſiaſtical Laws, ſhall enjoy the ſame priviledge and accuſtomed Licences; Any thing in this Act to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Licences by the Law Eccleſiaſtical.

XXIV. And be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no forfeiture of Ship, Crayer or other Veſſel, or of any apparel of the ſame, nor any other penalty or forfeiture, ſhall be extended or grow againſt any Owner or Owners of any Ship, Crayer, or other Veſſel, for the tranſporting or carrying of any Wheat or other Corn, or things prohibited by the Eſtatute made in the Parliament holden the firſt and ſecond years of King Philip and Queen Mary, unleſs the ſame Owner or Owners ſhall be witting, knowing, aiding, or conſenting to the prohibiting, tranſporting or carrying; The ſaid Statute, or any thing therein mentioned to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Stat. 21 Jac. 28.
Stat. 3 Car. 4.

XXV. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every perſon and perſons, which be or ſhall be by the Laws and Eſtatutes of this Realm, or otherwiſe authoriſed to ſell Wines by retail, in the ſeveral Counties and places where they be or ſhall be ſo authoriſed, ſhall and may from henceforth ſell the ſaid Wines by pint, quart, pottle, gallon, or otherwiſe at ſuch price or prices, and in ſuch form as ſhall be limited by the Queens Majeſties Proclamation in that County or place, made with the aſſent of ſuch Lords and other perſons, as by the Statute made in the xxviij. year of the Reign of King Henry the Eighth, were authoriſed to ſet price upon Wines in groſs, without any pain or forfeiture for the ſame; Any Law, Uſage, or Eſtatute heretofore made or had to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Wines ſhall be ſold at ſuch prices as ſhall be limited by the Queens Proclamation,
28 H. 8. 14.

XXVI. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, it ſhall be lawful to all and every perſon and perſons, being Subjects to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors only out of ſuch Ports and Creeks, as by the Queens Majeſties Proclamation hereafter ſhall be publiſhed and appointed, and not elſewhere, to load, carry, or tranſport, any Wheat, Rye, Barley, Malt, Peace or Beans, into any Parts beyond the Seas, to ſell as a Merchandiſe, in Ships, Crayers, or other Veſſels, whereof any Engliſh-born Subjects then ſhall be the only Owners, (2) ſo that the price of the ſaid Corn or Grain ſo carried or tranſported, exceed not the prices hereafter following, at the times, havens and places where and when the ſame Corn or Grain ſhall be ſhipped and laden; viz. The quarter of Wheat at ten ſhillings; (3) the quarter of Rye, Peaſe or Beans; at eight ſhillings; (4) the quarter of Barley or Malt at ſix ſhillings eight pence of current money of England; Any Law, Uſage or Eſtatute heretofore made to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Statute of 18 H. 6. 19. ordained againſt Souldiers ſhall extend to Mariners and Gunners.

XXVII. And where doubt hath heretofore been, whether the Statute in the eigteenth year of the Reign of King Henry the Sixth, heretofore made againſt Souldiers retained which depart from their Captains without licence, did or ought to extend unto Mariners and Gunners ſerving on the Seas, taking wages of the King or Queen of this Realm, (2) Be it expreſſed, ordained, enacted and declared by authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſaid eighteenth year of the Reign of King Henry the Sixth, in all pains, forfeitures, and other things, did, doth, and hereafter ſhall extend, as well to all and every Mariner and Gunner having taken, or that ſhall hereafter take preſt or wages to ſerve the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, to all intents and purpoſes, as the ſame did or doth unto any Souldier; Any diverſities of opinion, doubt, matter or thing to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding.

In what caſes and places the Statute of 24 H. 8. 4. provided for the ſowing of Hemp and Flax, ſhall be revived. Rep. 35 Eliz. 7.

XXVIII. And where an Eſtatute concerning ſowing of Flax and Hemp, was made and provided in the Parliament holden in the three and twentieth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, to be univerſal through every County of this Realm, for the better proviſion of Nets, for help and furtherance of Fiſhing, and for eſchewing of idleneſs, XXIX. Be it ordained and enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That in every ſuch County of this Realm, or part of ſuch County, where by the Queens Majeſties Proclamation it ſhall hereafter be publiſhed, the ſaid Eſtatute to be commodious or profitable for the Commonwealth, the ſaid Eſtatute, and every Clauſe, Article and Proviſion therein contained, be and ſhall be revived, and ſtand in full force and ſtrength to be executed and performed, from the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming, in all things other then in the proportion of a Rood or fourth part of an Acre, and in the pain of three ſhillings and four pence, by the ſaid Eſtatute limited: (2) In place whereof, Be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that in every caſe and degree where by the ſaid former Eſtatute, one Rood or fourth part of an Acre is limited to be ſown with Lin-ſeen, otherwiſe Flax-ſeed, or Hemp-ſeed, from the ſaid Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next coming: in ſtead and lieu of the ſaid Rood or fourth part of an Acre, one whole Acre or leſs, as by Proclamation in form aforeſaid ſhall be limited, ſhall be ſown with Lin-ſeed, otherwiſe Flax-ſeed or Hemp-ſeed, upon pain of forfeiture of Five pounds for every ſuch default or offence.

Which Magiſtrates ſhall enquire of, hear and determine the offences aforeſaid. 28 H. 8. 15.

XXX. And further, Be it ordained and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every of ſuch offences before mentioned, as hereafter ſhall be done on the main Sea, or coaſts of the Sea, being no part of the body of any County of this Realm, and without the precinct, juriſdiction and liberties of the Cinque Ports, and out of any Haven or Pier, ſhall be tryed and determined before the Lord Admiral of England or his Lieutenant, Deputy or Deputies, and other Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, according to the form of the ſaid Eſtatute of Anno 28 Henrici 8. for cauſes of Piracy: (2) And if the ſame ſhall be done on the main Sea, or coaſts of the Sea, within the juriſdiction or liberty of the Cinque Ports, and out of any Haven or Port, then the ſame to be tried and determined before the ſaid Lord Warden of the ſaid Cinque Ports, or his Lieutenant or Judge, or before Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, according to the true form of the ſaid Eſtatute of Anno 28 Henrici 8. for the cauſes of Piracy: (3) And for all and ſingular ſuch other of the offences before mentioned, as ſhall be done in the Land, or within any Haven or Pier, all Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions, and Mayors, Sheriffs and Bailiffs, and other Head-Officers' in Cities and Towns-corporate, in their Seſſions, or other Courts within the limits of their Commiſſions or Authorities, ſhall have full power and authority to enquire of the offenders of this Act, as well by the Oaths of twelve men, as otherwiſe by information, and thereupon to hear and determine the ſame.

Who ſhall have the benefit of all the forfeitures aforeſaid.

XXXI. And if any perſon or perſons ſhall be preſented before the ſaid Judges, Juſtices or Officers, within the limits of their Authorities, or any information given to them of any offender of this Act, that then they ſhall have full power and authority upon any ſuch preſentment or information, to make Proceſs againſt the offenders of this Act, like as is commonly uſed upon indictment of Treſpaſs: (2) And if any be preſented, and afterward be convicted, by confeſſion or otherwiſe, that then every ſuch perſon ſhall ſuffer no leſs forfeiture or puniſhment then herein is before limited: (3) All which forfeitures to be levied in manner and form following; That is to ſay, ſuch forfeitures concerning eating of Fleſh, as are before limited to certain uſes, to be to the ſame uſes in that behalf before expreſſed; (4) and all ſuch forfeitures as according to the tenour of this Act ſhall be determinable before the ſaid Judges, Juſtices, or other Officers of the Admiralties aforeſaid, or before Commiſſioners of Oyer and Terminer in that behalf, ſhall be to the uſe of the Lord Admiral of England, or Lord Warden of the Cinque-Ports where ſuch offence ſhall be preſented, or where as the juriſdiction of the cauſe ſhall appertain:

XXXII. And all ſuch forfeitures as according to the tenour of this Act, ſhall be determinable before the Mayors, Sheriffs, Bailiffs, or other Head-Officers of Cities or Towns-corporate, ſhall be to the common uſe of the Corporation of the ſaid City or Town-corporate where ſuch offences ſhall be preſented, or whereas the juriſdiction of the Cauſe ſhall appertain.

XXXIII. And all ſuch forfeitures as according to the tenour of this Act, ſhall be determinable before the Juſtices of the Peace, ſhall be to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors: (2) And if any perſon ſhall be convict by confeſſion, or otherwiſe upon any information made by any perſon or perſons, againſt any offender or offenders of this Act, in any cauſe (ſave for the eating of Fleſh firſt before ſpecially limited) that then every ſuch perſon ſo convict upon any information, ſhall loſe ſuch forfeiture as is before limited; the one half to ſuch as ſhall make the information, and the other half to thoſe which upon preſentment without ſpecial information, are before limited to have the whole forfeiture.

XXXIV. And that for the levying of every forfeiture growing by this Eſtatute, as well the ſaid Lord Admiral of England, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, their Lieutenants and Judges, as the ſaid Juſtices, Mayors, Sheriffs, Bayliffs, and other Head-Officers within the limits of their Commiſſions or Authorities, have and ſhall have full power and authority to make ſuch Proceſs as they ſhall think good by their diſcretions.

What Proceſs ſhall be awarded againſt offenders.

XXXV. Provided always, That none information at the ſuit of any perſon concerning this Act, ſhall be of any effect to put any perſon to anſwer or loſs of forfeiture, except the ſaid information be commenced within half a year next after the offence done contrary to this Act; (1) nor that any information or preſentment for the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, or for the Admiral, Warden of the Cinque Ports, Mayors or other Officers aforeſaid, be of any effect, to put any perſon to any anſwer or loſs of any forfeiture by virtue of this Act, except the ſaid information or preſentment be within one year next after the offence done and committed contrary to this Act.

Within what time an information ſhall be made after the offence committed

XXXVI. Provided, and be it likewiſe enacted, That it ſhall be lawful to any perſon or perſons, to have at his or their Table, upon every Wedneſday being ordered by this Eſtatute to be obſerved as a Fiſh-day, one only uſual competent Diſh of Fleſh of one kind, and no more, ſo that he, ſhe, or they have alſo ſerved to the ſame Table and Meat at the ſame Meal, three full competent uſual Diſhes of Sea-fiſh of ſundry kinds, either freſh or ſalt, and that without fraud or covin, and ſo ſhall alſo order that the ſame Fiſh be meet and ſeaſonable, and that it ſhall be eaten or ſpent in like manner as upon Fridays or Saturdays in like caſe are uſed.

What diet each perſon muſt have upon his Table on the Wedneſday, which ſhall have licence to eat Fleſh.

XXXVII. And alſo ſuch perſons as have, or hereafter ſhall have, upon good and juſt conſideration, any lawful licence to eat Fleſh upon any Fiſh day (except ſuch perſons as for ſickneſs ſhall for the time be licenſed by the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or by their Curates, or ſhall be licenſed by reaſon of age, or other impediment, allowed heretofore by the Eccleſiaſtical Laws of this Realm) ſhall be bound by force of this Statute, to have for every one Diſh of Fleſh ſerved to be eaten at their Table, one uſual Diſh of Sea-fiſh, freſh or ſalt, to be likewiſe ſerved at the ſame Table, and to be eaten or ſpent without fraud or covin, as the like kind is or ſhall be uſually eaten or ſpent on Saturdays.

XXXVIII. And that theſe two Articles and Clauſes next above, ſhall be taken and interpreted from time to time, in the favour of expence of Sea-fiſh, and that the offender or offenders herein, ſhall be puniſhed in like manner as is ordered by this Eſtatute, for puniſhment of ſuch as ſhall eat Fleſh upon Fridays, Saturdays, or other Fiſh-days.

XXXIX. And becauſe no manner of perſon ſhall miſ-judge of the intent of this Eſtatute, limiting orders to eat Fiſh, and to forbear eating of Fleſh, but that the ſame is purpoſely intended and meant politickly for the increaſe of Fiſhermen and Mariners, and repairing of Port Towns and Navigation, and not for any ſuperſtition to be maintained in the choice of Meats:

The intent of this Statute touching eating of Fiſh, and forbearing of Fleſh.

XL. Be it enacted, That whoſoever ſhall by preaching, teaching, writing, or open ſpeech notifie, that any eating of Fiſh, or forbearing of Fleſh mentioned in this Statute, is of any neceſſity for the ſaving of the ſoul of man, or that it is the Service of God, otherwiſe then as other politick Laws are and be; that then ſuch perſons ſhall be puniſhed as ſpreaders of falſe News are and ought to be.

Spreaders of falſe News.

XLI. Be it enacted in the favour of Fiſhermen and Mariners, haunting the Sea as Fiſhermen or Mariners, That none of them ſhall hereafter at any time be compelled againſt his or their will, to ſerve as any Soldiers upon the Land, or upon the Sea, otherwiſe then as a Mariner, except it ſhall be to ſerve under any Captain of ſome Ship or Veſſel, for landing to do ſome ſpecial Exploit, which Mariners have uſed to do; or under any other perſon having authority, to withſtand any Invaſion of Enemies, or to ſubdue any Rebellion within the Realm, and alſo except all ſuch perſons as by tenure, lawful cuſtom or covenant, be or ſhall be otherwiſe bound to ſerve.

Fiſhermen and Mariners ſhall not be compelled to ſerve as Soldiers, but in ſome caſes.

XLII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to take away or diminiſh any liberty, priviledge, franchiſe, forfeiture or amerciament, fines, iſſues, wrecks of the Sea, or any other lawful inheritance or freehold, from any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, their heirs or ſucceſſors, for or touching any lawful liberty, authority or juriſdiction Admiral, or for conſervation of any Water that they or any of them now have lawfully, or hereafter ſhall have; any thing in the ſame to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A ſaving of the Liberties of all perſons.

XLIII. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Fiſhermen uſing or haunting the Sea, ſhall be taken by the Queens Majeſties Commiſſion, to ſerve her Highneſs as a Mariner on the Sea; but that the ſaid Commiſſion be firſt brought by her Highneſs Taker or Takers, to two Juſtices of Peace next inhabiting to the ſaid Sea-coſts, Towns or other Places where the ſaid Mariners are ſo to be taken, to the intent the ſaid Juſtices may chooſe out, and cauſe to be returned ſuch ſufficient number of able men, as in the ſaid Commiſſion ſhall be contained, to ſerve her Majeſty, as is aforeſaid:

In what caſes a Fiſherman ſhall be taken by Commiſſion to ſerve on the Sea as a Mariner.

XLIV. Saving always to the Cinque-Ports, and alſo to the Town of great Yarmouth, all ſuch lawful liberties as they juſtly have before the making of this Act, touching the Free Fair kept at Yarmouth, other then in buying of Strangers, and taking of Toll, as the ſame be before prohibited.

The Liberties of the five Ports and great Yarmouth in ſome caſes reſerved.

XLV. Provided always, That any thing in this Act contained, ſhall not be hurtful or prejudicial to any authority, ſtile, preheminence, dignity or juriſdiction belonging to the Office of the Lord Warden of the Cinque-Ports.

The Authority of the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports.

XLVI. Provided always, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for any perſon or perſons being Strangers born, to bring yearly in any Ship, Bottom or Veſſel whereof any Stranger or Strangers born, is or ſhall be Owner or Owners, into the Havens, Ports and Towns of the Iſle of Man, or into any of them, any of the Wines made in any of the Dominions or Countries belonging to the Crown of France; and in the ſame Ports and Towns, or any of them, to diſcharge the ſaid Wines ſo to be brought, ſo that there be not brought and diſcharged by the ſame ſtrangers, in any ſuch ſtrangers Ships, Bottoms or Veſſels, in any one year, in or at the ſaid Havens, Ports and Towns, or any of them, above one hundred Tons at the moſt; This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

What Wine may be brought in Strangers Ships into the Iſle of man.

Wine brought in Strangers Ships into Chepſtow,

XLVII. Provided alſo, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for any perſon or perſons being ſtrangers born, to bring yearly in any Ship, Veſſel or Bottom, whereof any ſtranger or ſtrangers born, is or ſhall be owner or owners, into the Haven, Port and Town of Chepſtow in the County of Monmouth, any Wines made in any of the ſaid Dominions or Countries belonging to the ſaid Crown of France, over and beſides all Rochel Wines heretofore in this Act allowed to be brought, and in the ſame Port and Town to diſcharge the ſaid Wines, ſo that there be not brought and diſcharged by the ſame ſtrangers, in any ſuch ſtrangers Ships, Bottoms, or Veſſels, in any one year, in or at the ſaid Haven, Port and Town, above one hundred Tons at the moſt; This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What Wine may be brought in Strangers Ships into Wales and Newport,

XLVIII. Provided alſo, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for any perſon or perſons being ſtrangers born, to bring yearly in any Ship, Veſſel or Bottom, whereof any ſtranger or ſtrangers born, is or ſhall be Owner or Owners, into the Havens, Ports and Towns of Cardiff, Canarvan, Bewmarris, and other Havens, Ports and Towns of South-Wales, and North-Wales, or any of them; and into the Haven, Port and Town of Newport in the ſaid County of Monmouth, any of the ſaid Wines made in any of the ſaid Dominions or Countries belonging to the ſaid Crown of France, over and beſides all Rochel Wines heretofore in this Act allowed to be brought, and in and at the ſame Ports and Towns, or any of them, to diſcharge the ſaid Wines ſo to be brought, ſo that there be not brought and diſcharged by the ſame ſtrangers, in any ſuch ſtrangers Ships, Bottoms or Veſſels, in any one year, in or at the ſaid Havens, Ports and Towns, or any of them, above one hundred Tons at the moſt; This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding:

A ſaving of the Queens Duties.

XLIX. Saving unto the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, all ſuch duties and things which her Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors ought to have and enjoy, be anſwered and paid for the ſaid three hundred Tons of Wines mentioned in the three laſt Proviſoes, to be brought and diſcharged, as in the ſame three Proviſoes been mentioned and declared; Any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The Lord Admiral, &c. ſhall have no greater authority then he had before.

L. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing or things therein contained, ſhall not in any manner of wiſe extend to give unto the Lord Admiral of England for the time being, or to any his Vice-Admiral, Judge or Judges of the Admiralty, his or their Deputy or Deputies, or to any other the Officers or Miniſters of the Admiralty, or to any others having or claiming any Admiral power, juriſdiction or authority within this Realm and Wales or any other the Queens Dominions, any other power, right, juriſdiction, preheminence or authority, then he or they, or any of them lawfully have, hath or had, or ought to have or enjoy before the making of this Act, other then for ſuch of the offences ſpecified in this Act, as hereafter ſhall be done upon the main Sea, within the juriſdiction of the Admiralty; This Act, or any Article, Branch, Clauſe, Proviſion or thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

LI. This Act ſhall continue and endure until the end of ten whole years, to be accounted from the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1564, and from thence to the end of the next Parliament then following the end of the ſaid ten years. An Act avoiding divers Foreign Wares made by Handicraftmen beyond the Seas.

Merchants 3. No perſon ſhall bring into this Realm to be ſold, Girdles, Rapiers, Daggers, &c. ready wrought and made beyond the Seas.

WHereas heretofore the Artificers of this Realm of England (as well within the City of London, as within other Cities, Towns and Boroughs of the ſame Realm) that is to wit, Girdlers, Cutlers, Sadlers, Glovers, Pointmakers, and ſuch like Handicraftſmen, have been in their ſaid Faculties greatly wrought, and greatly ſet on work, as well for ſuſtentation of themſelves, their Wives and Families, as for a good education of a great part of Youth of this Realm, in good Art and laudable Exerciſe, beſides the manifold Benefits, that by means or by reaſon of their Knowledges, Inventions, and continual Travel, daily and univerſally came to the whole Eſtate of the Commonwealth of the ſaid Realm:

The ſeveral inconveniences of bringing wares ready wrought, into England.

II. Yet notwithſtanding, ſo now it is, that by reaſon of the abundance of Foreign Wares brought into this Realm from the Parts of beyond the Seas, the ſaid Artificers are not only leſs occupied, and thereby utterly impoveriſhed, the Youth not trained in the ſaid Sciences and Exerciſes, and thereby the ſaid Faculties, and the exquiſite knowledges thereof, like in ſhort time within this Realm to decay; but alſo divers Cities and Towns within this Realm of England much thereby impaired, the whole Realm greatly endamaged, and other Countries notably enriched, and the people thereof well ſet on work, to their commodities and livings, in the Arts and Sciencies aforeſaid, and to the great diſcouragement of ſkilful Workmen of this Realm, being in very deed nothing inferiour to any Stranger in the Faculties aforeſaid.

III. For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by our Sovereign Lady the Queens Highneſs, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever, from or after the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt now next enſuing, ſhall bring or cauſe to be brought into this Realm of England from the parts of beyond the Seas, any Girdles, Harneſs for Girdles, Rapiers, Daggers, Knives, Hilts, Pummels, Lockets, Chapes, Dagger-blades, Handles, Scabbards, and Sheaths for Knives, Saddles, Horſe-harneſs, Stirrups, Bits, Gloves, Points, Leather-laces or Pins, being ready made or wrought in any parts of beyond the Seas, to be ſold, bartred or exchanged, within this Realm of England or Wales, (2) upon pain to forfeit all ſuch Wares ſo to be brought contrary to the true meaning of this Act, in what hands ſoever they or any of them ſhall be found, or the very value thereof: The one half of the forfeiture to be to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to him or them that will ſeiſe the ſame, or ſue therefore in any Court of Record of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, Information or otherwiſe, where no Wager of Law, Eſſoin or Protection, ſhall be to him or them allowed. (3) This Act to continue and endure to the end of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. continued till the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

None ſhall bring into this Realm the Wares within mentioned ready wrought.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid tenth day of April next coming, either by the ſubornation, unlawful procurement, ſiniſter perſwaſion, or means of any other, or by their own act, conſent or agreement, wilfully and corruptly commit any manner of wilful Perjury, by his or their depoſition in any of the Courts before mentioned, or being examined Ad perpetuam rei memoriam, that then every perſon and perſons ſo offending, and being thereof duly convict or attainted by the Laws of this Realm, ſhall for his or their ſaid offence, loſe and forfeit Twenty pounds, and to have impriſonment by the ſpace of ſix months without bail or mainpriſe; (2) and the Oath of ſuch perſon or perſons ſo offending, from thenceforth not to be received in any Court of Record within this Realm of England or Wales, or the Marches of the ſame, until ſuch time as the Judgment given againſt the ſaid perſon or perſons ſhall be reverſed by Attaint or otherwiſe: (3) And that upon every ſuch reverſal, the parties grieved to recover his or their damages againſt all and every ſuch perſon and perſons as did procure the ſaid Judgment ſo reverſed to be given againſt them or any of them, by Action or Actions to be ſued upon his or their Caſe or Caſes, according to the courſe of the common Laws of this Realm.

VII. And if it happen the ſaid offendor or offendors ſo offending, not to have any Goods or Chattels to the value of Twenty pounds; that then he or they to be ſet on the Pillory in ſome Market-place within the Shire, City or Borough where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, by the Sheriff or his Miniſters, if it ſhall fortune to be without any City or Town-Corporate; (2) And if it happen to be within any ſuch City or Town-Corporate, then by the ſaid Head Officer or Officers of ſuch City or Town-Corporate, or by his or their Miniſters, and there to have both his Ears nailed, and from thenceforth to be diſcredited and diſabled for ever to be ſworn in any of the Courts of Record aforeſaid, until ſuch time as the Judgment ſhall be reverſed, and thereupon to recover his damages in manner and form before mentioned:

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means. Hetley, 75.

VIII. The one moiety of all which ſums of money, goods and chattels to be forfeited in manner and form aforeſaid, to be to the Queen our Sovereign Lady, her Heirs and Succeſſors; and the other moiety to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be grieved, hindred or moleſted by reaſon of any the offence or offences before mentioned, that will ſue for the ſame by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, Information or otherwiſe, in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, in the which no Wager of Law, Eſſoin, Protection or injunction to be allowed.

Who ſhall have authority to hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

IX. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That as well the Judge and Judges of every of the ſaid Courts where any ſuch Suite is or ſhall be, and whereupon any ſuch perjury is or ſhall happen to be committed, as alſo the Juſtices of Aſſiſes and Goal-delivery in their ſeveral Circuits, and the Juſtices of Peace in every County within this Realm, or in Wales, at their Quarter Seſſions, both within the Liberties and without, ſhall have full power and authority, by vertue hereof, to enquire of all and every the defaults and offences perpetrated, committed, or done contrary to this Act, by inquiſition, Preſentment, Bill or Information before them exhibited, or otherwiſe, lawfully to hear and determine the ſame and thereupon to give judgment, award proceſs, and execution of the ſame, according to the courſe of the Laws of this Realm.

This Statute ſhall be proclaimed at all Aſſizes.

X. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Aſſize of every Circuit within this Realm, or elſewhere within the Queens Dominions, ſhall in every County within their Circuits, two times in the year, that is to ſay, in the time of their Sittings, make open Proclamation of this Eſtatute, or of the effect thereof, to the intent no perſon or perſons ſhall be ignorant or miſcogniſant of the penalties therein contained.

This Act ſhall not extend to any Court Eccleſiaſtical.

XI. Provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Court or Courts within this Realm of England or Wales, or the Marches of the ſame; But that all and every ſuch offendor or offendors as ſhall offend in form aforeſaid, ſhall and may be puniſhed by ſuch uſual and ordinary Laws as heretofore hath been and yet is uſed and frequented in the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical Courts; Any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Proceſs ſerved upon witneſſes to teſtifie. 1 Leond. 122. March 18.

XII. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, upon whom any Proceſs out of any of the Courts of Record within this Realm or Wales, ſhall be ſerved to teſtifie or depoſe, concerning any Cauſe or Matter depending in any of the ſame Courts, (2) and having tendred unto him or them, according to his or their countenance or calling, ſuch reaſonable ſums of money for his or their coſts and charges, as having regard to the diſtance of the places, is neceſſary to be allowed in that behalf, (3) do not appear according to the tenour of the ſaid Proceſs, having not a lawful and reaſonable let or impediment to the contrary; (2) that then the party in making default, to loſe and forfeit for every ſuch offence, Ten pound, and to yield ſuch further recompence to the party grieved, as by the diſcretion of the Judge of the Court out of the which the ſaid Proceſs ſhall be awarded, according to the loſs and hindrance that the party which procured the ſaid Proceſs ſhall ſuſtain, by reaſon of the non-appearance of the ſaid witneſs or witneſſes; (5) the ſaid ſeveral ſums to be recovered by the party ſo grieved againſt the offendor or offendors by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or Information, in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Records, in which no Wager of Law, Eſſoin or Protection to be allowed.

The authority to puniſh perjury, given by the Statute of 11 H. 7. 25. ſaved.

XIII. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend in any wiſe to reſtrain the power and authority given by Act of Parliament made in the time of King Henry the Seventh, to the Lord Chancellor of England, and others of the Kings Counſel for the time being, to examine and puniſh Riots, Routs, hainous Perjuries, and other offences and miſdemeanings; which Lord Chancellor, and others ſithence the making of the ſaid Act, have moſt commonly uſed to hear and determine ſuch matters in the Court of Weſtminſter, commonly called the Star-chamber; (2) nor to reſtrain the power or authority of the Lord Preſident and Council in the Marches of Wales, or of the Lord Preſident and Council in the North, nor of any other Judge, having abſolute power to puniſh Perjury before the making of this Eſtatute; (3) But that they and every of them ſhall and may proceed in the puniſhment of all offences heretofore puniſhable, in ſuch wiſe as they might have done, and uſed to do, before the making of this Act, to all purpoſes, ſo that they ſet not upon the offendor or offendors leſs puniſhment then is contained in this Act. (4) This Act to continue to the end of the next Parliament. 29 Eliz. 5. made perpetual. 1 Jac. 25. continued. 21 Jac. 28. made perpetual. Coke lib 5. fol. 50, 99. Dyer fol. 242, 302, 323.

CAP. X.

An Act reviving a Statute made Anno 21 H. 8. touching Servants imbezelling their Maſters Goods.

WHere in the Parliament holden at London the third day of November, in the one and twentieth year of the Reign of the late King of moſt famous and worthy memory King Henry the Eighth, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, and there holden and continued by divers Prorogations unto the Diſſolution thereof, it was ordained and enacted among other things, That all and ſingular ſervants to whom any Caskets, Jewels, Money, Goods or Chattels, by his or their Maſter or Maſters ſhould from henceforth be delivered to keep, that if any ſuch Servant or Servants withdraw him or them from their ſaid Maſters or Miſtreſſes, and go away with the ſaid Caskets, Jewels, Money, Goods or Chattels, or any part thereof, to the intent to ſteal the ſame, and defraud his or their ſaid Maſters and Miſtreſſes thereof, contrary to the truſt and confidence to him or them put by his or their Maſters and Miſtreſſes; or elſe being in Service of his ſaid Maſters or Miſtreſſes, without the aſſent or commandment of his Maſters or Miſtreſſes, imbezel the ſame Caskets, Jewels, Money, Goods or Chattels, or any part thereof, or otherwiſe convert the ſame to his own uſe, with like purpoſe to ſteal it, that if the ſaid Caskets, Jewels, Money, Goods or Chattels that any ſuch Servant ſhall go away with, or which he ſhall imbezel, with purpoſe to ſteal it, as is aforeſaid, be of the value of Fourty ſhillings or above; That then the ſame falſe, fraudulent, and untrue act and demeanor, ſhould from thenceforth be deemed and adjudged Felony, and that he or they ſo offending, ſhould be puniſhed as other Felons for Felony committed, by the courſe of the Common Law, as by the ſaid Act among other things therein contained, more at large it doth and may appear:

Felony 10. 21 H. 8. 7.

II. Which ſaid Act, in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the fifth day of October, in the firſt year of the Reign of the late Queen Mary, and there continued to the one and twentieth day of the ſame month, that is to ſay, in the firſt Seſſion of the ſame Parliament, by the general words of one Act then and there made, intituled, An Act repealing certain Treaſons, Felonies, and Præmunire, was from thenceforth utterly repealed and made void:

1 Mar. 1.

III. And foraſmuch as ſithence the repeal of the ſame, the Act is thought neceſſary for the Common-wealth of this Realm, (2) Be it therefore enacted by our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Act made in the One and twentieth year, and every Clauſe, Article, Branch, Sentence, and Proviſion therein contained, be from henceforth revived, and put in due execution, according to the intent and meaning thereof, and from thenceforth ſhall ſtand good, and continue for ever. Stat. 27 H. 8. 17.

A reviver of the Statute of 21 H. 8. 7 whereby it is made felony for a ſervant to imbezel his maſters goods to the value of xl. s. or above.

CAP. XI.

An Act againſt the clipping, waſhing, rounding, and filing of Coins.

WHereas the offences of clipping, rounding, waſhing and filing of Money or Coins of this Realm, was declared by an Act of Parliament in the time of King Henry the Fifth, to be Treaſon to the King and the Realm, and according to the ſaid Act, the ſame offences were and did continue Treaſon until the firſt year of the Reign of Queen Mary; At which time the pains and penalties due for the ſaid offences, were abrogated and taken away by the general Act of repeal then made; (2) By reaſon whereof, divers falſe and evil diſpoſed perſons, perceiving themſelves to be looſe and free from the ſeverity and danger of the ſaid Law and penalty, have been of late the more hardy and bold, to attempt and practiſe, for wicked lucre and gains ſake, to diminiſh, impair and falſifie the Moneys and Coins currant within this Realm, and the Dominions of the ſame, by ſuch clipping, waſhing, rounding and filing thereof, not only to the great diſhonour of the Queens Majeſty our Sovereign Lady that now is, by whoſe great goodneſs new Moneys or Coins of the ſame are now reduced to as much fineneſs as ever hath been in any time of her noble Progenitors, but alſo to the great loſs and damage of the good Subjects of this Realm, and more is like to be hereafter, if the ſame be not ſpeedily met withall:

Treaſon 5. The clipping, &c. of Coins for gains ſake, ſhall be high Treaſon. Stat. 3 H. 5. 6. 1 Mar. 1. The prejudices redounding to the Queen, and the Realm by clipping, waſhing, &c. of money.

II. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted, declared and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the firſt day of May next coming, clipping, waſhing, rounding, or filing for wicked lucre or gains ſake, of any the proper Moneys or Coins of this Realm, or the Dominions thereof, or of the Moneys or Coins of any other Realm, allowed and ſuffered to be currant within this Realm, or the Dominions thereof, at this preſent, or that hereafter at any time ſhall be the lawful Moneys or Coins of this Realm, or of the Dominions thereof, or of any other Realm, and by Proclamation allowed and ſuffered to be currant here, by the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhall be taken, deemed, and adjudged by vertue of this Act to be Treaſon, (2) and the offenders therein, their Counſellors, Conſentors and Aiders, ſhall be from and after the ſame firſt day of May, taken, deemed and adjudged as offendors in Treaſon, and being thereof lawfully convicted or attainted, according to the due order and courſe of the Laws of this Realm, ſhall ſuffer pains of death, and loſe and forfeit all his and their Goods and Chattels, (3) and alſo ſhall loſe and forfeit all his and their Lands and Tenements, during his and their natural life or lives only.

The clipping, waſhing, rounding or filing of currant money, ſhall be adjudged Treaſon.

They which have forfeitures of Lands or Goods by grant, ſhall in this caſe enjoy them.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons which have any lawful grant to have and enjoy the forfeiture of Lands, Tenements, Goods or Chattels of offendors, and men attainted in high Treaſon, within any Manor, Lordſhip, Town, Pariſh, Hundred, or other Precinct within this Realm of England or Wales, ſhall and may at all times hereafter have like liberty to take, ſeiſe, and enjoy all ſuch forfeitures of Lands, Tenements, Goods and Chattels, as ſhall come to grow within their Liberties, by force of the Attainder of any perſon or perſons, for and upon any offence or offences made Treaſon by this Act, as they or any of them ſhould, ought, or might have, by vertue of any good and lawful grant to them or any of them heretofore had or made.

Theſe offences make no corruption of bloud, or forfeiture of Dower.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, nor any Attainder or Attainders of any perſon or perſons, for any offence or offences, made Treaſon by this Act, ſhall in any wiſe extend or be judged, interpreted or expounded, to make any corruption of bloud, to any the heir or heirs of any ſuch offendor or offendors, or to make the wife of any ſuch offendor to loſe or forfeit her dower, of or in any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, or other Title, Action, or intereſt in the ſame; Any thing in this Act contained, or any Attainder or Attainders, hereafter to be had for any offence or offences made Treaſon by this Act, to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Tryal of a Peer by Peers.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the Lords of the Parliament, or Peer of this Realm for the time being, ſhall fortune at any time hereafter to be indicted of any offence made Treaſon by this Act; that then they and every of them ſhall have his or their Trial by their Peers, as hath been uſed heretofore in caſes of high Treaſon. 18. Eliz. 1.

C A P. XII.

An Act touching Badgers of Corn, and Drovers of Cattel to be Licenſed.

Badger 1. Who ſhall be accounted an Ingroſſer by the Statute of 5 & 6 Ed 6. 14.

Where in the Seſſion of Parliament holden upon Prorogation at Weſtminſter, the three and twentieth day of January, in the fifth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, amongſt other things it was enacted, That whatſoever perſon or perſons after the firſt day of May then next enſuing, ſhould ingroſs or get into his or their hands, by buying, contracting, or promiſe taking (other then by Demiſe, Grant, or Leaſe of Land, or Tithes) any Corn growing in the Fields, or any other Corn or Grain, Butter, Cheeſe, Fiſh, or other dead Victuals whatſoever, within the Realm of England, to the intent to ſell the ſame again, ſhall be accepted, reputed, and taken an unlawful Engroſſer or Engroſſors; (2) with a Proviſo, and Ordinance contained in the ſame Act, that it ſhould be lawful to every perſon or perſons being a common Badger, Kidder, Lader, or Carrier, which ſhall be licenſed, aſſigned, and allowed thereunto by three Juſtices of the Peace of the County where the ſaid Badger, Lader, Kidder, or Carrier ſhall dwell, which ſhall ſell or deliver in open Fair or Market, or to any other Victualler, or to any other perſon or perſons for the proviſion of his or their houſe or houſes, all ſuch Corn, Butter, or Cheeſe, as any ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall buy or cauſe to be bought, and that within one month next after he or they ſhall ſo buy any ſuch Corn, Grain, Butter or Cheeſe, ſo that the ſame ſhall be bought without foreſtalling; ſhall not be in any wiſe deemed, adjudged or taken any offence contrary to the ſaid Act:

A proviſo for a Badger, Carrier, &c. licenſed.

A Proviſo for a Drover of Cattel, or for buying of Corn to be tranſported from one Port to another.

II. And where alſo it is provided and enacted by the ſame Act of Parliament, That it ſhall be lawful to all and every perſon and perſons known for a common Drover or Drovers, being licenſed, authorized and allowed in writing by three Juſtices of Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, of the County or Counties where the ſame Drover or Drovers ſhall be moſt abiding and dwelling, to buy Cattel in ſuch Shires or Counties where Drovers have been wont in times paſt accuſtomarily to buy Cattel, at their free liberty and pleaſure, and to ſell the ſame again. (2) And that it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſons which ſhall be aſſigned and allowed by three Juſtices of the Peace of the County where he ſhall dwell, to buy (otherwiſe then by foreſtalling) Corn, Grain, or Cattel to be tranſported or carried by Water from any Port or place within this Realm or Wales, unto any other Port or place within the ſaid Realm or Dominions, as in the ſaid Act amongſt other things doth appear:

The inconveniencies enſuing the number of Drovers of Cattel, and Badgers, &c. of Corn and other Victuals.

III. Since the making of which Act, ſuch a great number of perſons ſeeking only to live eaſily, and to leave their honeſt labour, have and do daily ſeek to be allowed and licenſed to the ſaid Offices or doings, being moſt unfit and unmeet for thoſe purpoſes, and alſo very hurtful to the Common-wealth of this Realm, as well by the enhaunſing of prices of Corn and Grain, and other the ſaid Victuals, as alſo by the diminiſhing of the number of good and neceſſary husbandmen; which ſaid number of Drovers of Cattel, and Badgers, Laders, Kidders, and Carriers of Corn or Grain, are many times without good orders, and due conſideration, aſſigned and allowed thereunto, to the great prejudice of the Common-wealth:

To what kind of perſons, and at what places only, licence ſhall be granted to the Badgers, Drovers, &c. Savill 58.

IV. In conſideration whereof, Be it enacted by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliamend aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no Drover of Cattel, Badger, Lader, Kidder, Carrier, Buyer or Tranſporter of Corn or Grain, Butter and Cheeſe, be from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter next after the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, licenſed, admitted, aſſigned, or allowed to thoſe Offices or doings, or to any of them, but only in the general and open Quarter Seſſions of the Peace, to be holden in the Shire where ſuch perſon or perſons ſo to be admitted, aſſigned, or allowed, doth or ſhall dwell, and hath or ſhall have dwelled there by the ſpace of three years next before the Teſte of his ſaid licence. (2) And that no perſon or perſons after the firſt day of May next coming, be admitted to the ſaid

Offices

Officers or doings, or to any of them, but ſuch only as be or have been married men, and ſhall be at the time of ſuch licence to be granted, Houſholders, and not houſhold-ſervants, nor retainers to any perſon or perſons, and of the age of xxx. years at the leaſt: (3) And that all licences being made and granted, as is abovesaid, ſhall have continuance and be good only for one year next after the date hereof, and for no more nor longer time.

The date of the licences, and the Juſtices hands and ſeals.

V. Which ſaid licences, and every of them, ſhall bear date of the day and place where the ſaid Seſſions ſhall be holden, and ſhall be ſigned and ſealed with the proper hands and ſeals of three of the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace, being preſent at the ſame Seſſions, at the leaſt; whereof one to be of the Quorum, (2) upon pain that every perſon or perſons that ſhall take any licence contrary to this Ordinance, to loſe and forfeit to our Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Five pounds ſterling: (3) And that all licences made and granted, or hereafter to be made and granted, otherwiſe then is before expreſſed, ſhall from and after the ſaid firſt day of May next coming, be void and of none effect.

Bonds with ſureties ſhall be taken of Drovers, Carriers, &c. not to infringe this Act.

VI. And further, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of the Peace, in the ſaid general and open Seſſions, ſhall or may, by their diſcretions, take bond and ſurety from time to time by Recogniſance, of ſuch as ſhall be admitted or allowed hereafter a common Drover of Cattel, Badger, Lader, Kidder, Carrier or Buyer of Corn, Grain, Butter or Cheeſe, that they nor any of them, ſhall by colour of his or their licence, foreſtall or ingroſs, or otherwiſe practiſe or do any any Act or thing contrary to the tenour and true meaning, or in defrauding the ſaid former Eſtatute, or of any matter or thing therein contained: (2) All which Licences, and every of them, and the ſaid Recogniſances, ſhall be made and written by the Clerk of the Peace of every County where ſuch Licence ſhall be granted, or by his lawful deputy, and by none other perſon or perſons: (3) And every perſon that ſhall have any ſuch Licence, ſhall pay to the Clerk of the Peace, or his deputy, for making thereof, Twelve pence at the moſt; and for every Recogniſance in form abovesaid, to be made and acknowledged, Eight pence at the moſt; and for regiſtring of the ſame Licence and Recogniſance, Four pence at the moſt: (4) For which ſaid Fee, the ſaid Clerk or his Deputy ſhall have and keep one Regiſter Book, and therein ſhall regiſter and write all the names, ſurnames, and dwelling-places of ſuch as ſhall be licenſed as aforeſaid, with a brief declaration or entry of the ſaid Licence, and of the day, time and place where ſuch Licence or Licences ſhall be granted: (5) Which Book or Regiſter the ſaid Clerk of the Peace or his Deputy ſhall have and bring to every Seſſions, to the intent that it may appear what number of Licences be and ſhall be from time to time granted, whereby the better conſideration may be had thereof.

The fees of the Clerk of the Peace.

None ſhall buy Corn to ſell again without ſpecial licence.

VII. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons, ſhall or may by authority of any ſuch Licence above mentioned, buy any Corn or Grain out of open Fair or Market to ſell again, unleſs ſuch perſon and perſons ſhall be thereunto licenſed, and ſhall have ſpecial and expreſs words contained in ſuch Licence or Licences, that he or they may ſo do, (2) upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch time that any ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall do the contrary, Five pounds: (3) the moiety of which forfeitures afore rehearſed, ſhall be to the Queen our Sovereign Lady, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any of the Queens Courts of Record, by Bill, Plaint, Action of Debt or Information, in the which Bill, Plaint, Action or Information, no Wager of Law, Eſſoin or Protection, ſhall be admitted.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures.

Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions ſhall enquire of, and determine theſe offences.

VIII. Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Peace in every County within this Realm or Wales, at the Quarter Seſſions, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to enquire, hear and determine all and every the defaults and offences perpetrated, committed or done contrary to this Act, within the County where any ſuch Seſſions ſhall be kept, by inquiſition, preſentment, bill or information before them exhibited, and by examination of two lawful witneſſes, or by any of the ſame ways or means, by the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices, and to make Proceſs thereupon, as though they were indicted before them by inquiſition, or by verdict of twelve men or more: (2) And upon the conviction of the offender, by information or ſuit of any other then the Queen, to make extracts of the moiety of the forfeitures to be levied to the Queens uſe, as they uſe to do of other fines and amerciaments grown in the Seſſions of Peace, and to award execution of the other moiety for the complainant or Informer againſt the offender, by Fieri facias or Capias, as the Queens Juſtices at Weſtminſter may do, and uſe to do; (3) and if any ſuch conviction or attainder ſhall hereafter happen to be at the Queens ſuit only, that then the whole forfeitures to be extracted and levied to the Queens uſe only.

A City, &c. may appoint Purveyors for their proviſion.

IX. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to the prejudice of the liberty of any City or Town-corporate, but that they and every of them ſhall and may lawfully a[illegible]gn and licenſe Purveyors for the proviſion of the ſame City or Town-corporate, in ſuch manner and form as they might lawfully have done before the making of this Act.

To the Inhabitants of which Counties this Statute doth not extend.

X. Provided further, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall be in any wiſe hurtful or prejudicial unto any the Inhabitants within the Counties of Weſtmerland, Cumberland, Lancaſter, Cheſter and York, or any of them, but that they may do as heretofore they have lawfully uſed to do; Any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. 13 Eliz. 25.

C A P. XIII.

An Act for the continuance of the Statute made 2 & 3 P. & M. for the amendment of Highways.

Highways 1. The Statute of 2 & 3 P. & M. 8. touching amending of Highways, continued, and the authorities of Superviſors of Highways enlarged.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the ſecond and third years of the Reign of the late Princes, King Philip and Queen Mary, amongſt other good Acts then had and made, one neceſſary Statute was provided and eſtabliſhed for the amendment and reparation of the Highways within this Realm; which Act was made to endure and continue for ſeven years, and after the expiration of the ſaid ſeven years, to the end of the Parliament then next enſuing, as by the ſame Statute more plainly appeared; which ſeven years, foraſmuch as they be now expired and ended, and the ſaid Act is very beneficial, and moſt neceſſary to be continued for the eaſe and commonweal of the people of this Land; (2) Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority thereof, That the ſaid Act made in the ſaid ſecond and third years of the Reign of King Philip and Queen Mary, touching and concerning the reparation and amendment of the Highways, and every Article and Branch of the ſame, ſhall from henceforth be, ſtand and continue in full force, effect and ſtrength, for and during the term of twenty years next following, from and after the beginning of this preſent Parliament, and after the expiration of the ſaid Twenty years, to the end of the Parliament then next after the end of the ſaid Twenty years to be holden and kept.

II. And foraſmuch as the ſaid Statute made in the ſecond and third years of King Philip and Queen Mary, in divers parts of this Realm ſerveth not to ſo good purpoſe and effect as it may be made, for that ſuch ſubſtance and matter as is moſt fit and convenient for the reparations of the ſaid ways, cannot be lawfully had, fetched and taken out of the ſeveral grounds and ſoyl thereunto nigh or adjoyning, being no great loſs or detriment to the owners of the ſame ſeveral grounds and ſoil, whereby the amendment of the ſaid ways is little increaſed, or elſe of very ſmall and ſlender continuance, to the great and continual charge and trouble of the poor people inhabiting thereabouts:

The Superviſors may take rubbiſh in other mens grounds for the mending of ways.

III. For reformation whereof, and that the reparations of the ſaid Highways may hereafter in good due manner, well and ſufficiently be made, (2) Be it further by the authority of this preſent Parliament enacted, That from henceforth it ſhall and may be lawful to all and every Superviſor and Superviſors, and Orderers of the works for the time being, for the amendment of the ſaid Highways, thereunto elected and appointed, according to the Statute made in the ſecond and third years of King Philip and Queen Mary, for the better reparation and amendment of the ways within their ſeveral Pariſhes and Limits where they ſhall be ſo made Superviſors (if it ſhall be ſo to them thought neceſſary,) to take or carry away of the rubbiſh or ſmalleſt broken ſtones of any quarry or quarries lying and being within the Pariſh where they ſhall be Superviſors, without licence, controllment or impeachment of the owner or owners. ſo much as by their diſcretions ſhall be deemed and adjudged neceſſary for the amendment of the ſaid ways: (3) And that for default of any quarry or quarries not being within their ſaid Pariſh or limits, or in default of rubbiſh not to be found in any ſuch quarry or quarries, it ſhall and may be lawful to every ſuch Superviſor or Superviſors, for the uſe aforeſaid, in the ſeveral grounds of any perſon or perſons being within the Pariſh and limits where they ſhall be Superviſors, and nigh adjoyning to the way or ways wherein ſuch reparations ſhall be thought neceſſary to be made, and wherein gravel, ſand or ſinders is likely to be found, to dig or cauſe to be digged, for gravel, ſand or ſinders, and likewiſe to gather ſtones lying upon any lands or grounds within the Pariſh, and meet to be uſed to ſuch ſervice and purpoſe, and thereof to take and carry away ſo much as by the diſcretion of the ſaid Superviſors ſhall be thought neceſſary to be employed in the amendment of the ſaid Highways.

What rubbiſh Superviſors may not dig, nor in what places.

IV. Provided always, That it ſhall not be lawful to any ſuch Superviſor or Superviſors by virtue of this Act, to cauſe any rubbiſh to be digged out of any quarry or quarries, but only ſhall extend to ſuch rubbiſh as ſhall be found there ready digged by the owner or owners of the ſaid quarry or quarries, or otherwiſe by his or their licence and commandment; (2) nor ſhall not extend or give authority to any Superviſor or Superviſors, to dig or cauſe to be digged, any gravel, ſand or ſinders, in the houſe, garden, orchard or meadow of any perſon or perſons; (3) nor that it ſhall be lawful by this Act to any ſuch Superviſor or Superviſors, to cauſe any more pits to be digged for gravel in any ſeveral and encloſed ground then one only; and that the ſame pit or hole ſo digged for gravel, as is aforeſaid, ſhall not by any way be in breadth or length, above ten yards over at the moſt: (4) And that every ſuch Superviſor as ſhall cauſe any ſuch pit to be made and digged for gravel, ſand or ſinders, as is aboveſaid, ſhall within one month next after any ſuch digging or pit made, cauſe the ſame to be filled and ſtopped up with earth, at the coſts and charges of the Pariſhioners, (5) upon pain to forfeit to the owner or owners of the ſoil wherein any ſuch pit ſhall be made and digged, for every default, Five marks, to be recovered by Action of Debt, as in other like caſes of debt hath been accuſtomed.

A Superviſor ſhall cauſe a pit digged for gravel, &c. to be ſtopped up again.

V. And foraſmuch as the Highways in ſundry places of this Realm, be full of continual Springs and Water-courſes, by continual increaſe and ſinking whereof into the ground, the ſaid ways are not only very deep and dangerous; but alſo for the moſt part impoſſible to be amended and repaired in any good and ſufficient manner, without ſome further remedy provided for the ſame:

Turning of a water-courſe into anothers ground.

VI. Be it therefore by the authority aforeſaid further enacted, That from henceforth every ſuch Superviſor and Superviſors, as is aforeſaid, ſhall by force of this Act, within the Pariſh or limits where he or they ſhall be Superviſors, have full power and authority to turn any ſuch Water-courſe, or Spring of Water being in any of the ſaid Highways, into any Ditch or Ditches of the ſeveral ground or ſoil of any perſon or perſons whatſoever next adjoining to the ſaid ways, in ſuch manner and form as by the diſcretions of the ſaid Superviſors ſhall be thought meeteſt and moſt convenient.

Fences and Ditches near the ways, ſhall be repaired, and the woods cut down.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Heyes, Fences, Dikes, or Hedges next adjoining on either ſide to any high or common fairing way, ſhall from time to time be diked, ſcowred, repaired and kept low, and all Trees and Buſhes growing in the Highways, cut down by the owner or owners of the Ground or Soil which ſhall be incloſed with the ſaid Heyes, Fences, Dikes or Hedges aforeſaid, whereby the ſaid ways may be open, and the people have more ready and eaſie paſſage in the ſame: (2) And whereas in the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid ſecond and third years of the Reign of the ſaid King Philip and Queen Mary, there are but four days yearly appointed for the reparations and amendment of the ſaid High-ways, (3) Be it further by this preſent Parliament enacted, That from henceforth there ſhall be yearly ſix days, during the time and force of this Eſtatute, obſerved, uſed, and employed in reparation and amendment of the ſaid High-ways, in like manner and form as the ſaid four days were limited and appointed to be obſerved and kept, by the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſecond and third years of King Philip and Queen Mary.

Six days appointed for the amending of High-ways.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from henceforth all and every ſuch Superviſor and Superviſors for the time being, within one month next after default or offence made, done or committed by any perſon or perſons, contrary to the proviſion, purport, and true meaning of the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſecond and third years of King Philip and Queen Mary, or contrary to the proviſion, purport and true meaning of this preſent Act, ſhall preſent every ſuch default or offence, to the next Juſtice of Peace for the time being, (2) upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch default or offence, in ſuch ſort not by them preſented, Fourty Shillings: (3) And that every ſuch Juſtice of Peace to whom any ſuch default or offence ſhall be preſented, as is aforeſaid, ſhall certifie the ſame preſentment ſo to him made, at the next general Seſſions within the ſaid County then next after to be holden, (4) upon pain to forfeit for not certifying of every ſuch preſentment of every ſuch default or offence, as is aforeſaid, a C. pounds: (5) And that the Juſtices of Peace of every County where the ſaid defaults or offences ſhall be committed, ſhall immediately have authority to enquire of any ſuch default or offence committed within the limits of their Commiſſion, at every their Quarter Seſſions, and to aſſeſs ſuch fines for the ſame, as they or two of them, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall think meet.

The Superviſors ſhall preſent every offence to the next Juſtice.

Certificate of every offence preſented at the next Seſſions.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Juſtice of Peace ſhall have authority by this Statute, upon his own proper knowledge, in the open general Seſſions, to make preſentment of any Highway not well and ſufficiently repaired and amended, or of any other default or offence committed and done within the County and limits of his Commiſſion, contrary to the proviſion and intent of this Statute, or the ſaid Statute made in the ſecond and third years of King Philip and Queen Mary: (2) And that every ſuch preſentment made by any ſuch Juſtices of Peace, upon his own knowledge, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be as good, and of the ſame force, ſtrength and effect in the Law, as if the ſame had been preſented, found, and adjudged by the Oath of twelve men: (3) And that for every ſuch default ſo preſented, as is aforeſaid, the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſaid County ſhall immediately, at the ſaid general Seſſions, have authority to aſſeſs ſuch fines as to them, or two of them, whereof the one to be of the Quorum, ſhall be thought meet: (4) Saving every perſon and perſons that ſhall be touched by any ſuch preſentment, to have his or their lawful Traverſe to the ſame preſentment as they might have upon any indictment of Treſpaſs, or forcible Entry, by the Laws of this Realm, before the making of this Eſtatute.

Every Juſtice of Peace may preſent defaults upon his own knowledge.

Aſſeſſing of fines for defaults.

Traverſe to a preſentment.

X. And that all ſuch fines, forfeitures and amerciaments to be aſſeſſed by the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace at their general Seſſions in any the caſes aforeſaid, ſhall be eſtreated by the Clerk of the Peace of the ſaid County, and ſhall be levied in ſuch manner and form, and employed to ſuch uſes and Intents, as in the ſaid Statute made in the ſecond and third years of King Philip and Queen Mary, is limited and appointed. (2) This Act to continue for twenty years next after the beginning of this preſent Parliament, and from thence until the end of the Parliament then next after to be holden. 29 El. 5. made perpetual. 18 El. 10. 27 El. 24.

Eſtreating and levying of the fines and amerciaments.

CAP. XIV.

An Act againſt forgers of falſe Deeds and Writings.

Foraſmuch as the wicked, pernicious, and dangerous practice of making, forging and publiſhing falſe and untrue Charters, Evidences, Deeds and Writings, hath of late time been very much more practiſed, uſed, and put in ure in all parts of this Realm, then in times paſſed, not only to the high diſpleaſure of God, but alſo to the great injury, wrong, hurt, damage, diſheriſon, and utter undoing of divers of the Queens Majeſties Subjects of this Realm, and to the great ſubverſion of Juſtice and Truth, (2) which ſeemeth to have grown and happened chiefly by reaſon that the pains and puniſhments limited for ſuch great and notable offences, by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, before this time, have been, and yet are ſo ſmall, mild, and eaſie, and ſuch evil people have not been, nor yet are afraid to enterpriſe the practiſing and doing of ſuch offences:

Forging 1. The ſeveral penalties for forging of Deeds the firſt or ſecond time, &c.

Townſends Table 35.

The mildneſs of the Law hath increaſed the forging of Deeds.

II. Be it therefore Enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons whatſoever, after the firſt day, of June now next coming, upon his or their own head or imagination, or elſe by falſe conſpiracy and fraud with others, ſhall wittingly, ſubtilly, and falſly forge or make, or ſubtilly cauſe, or wittingly aſſent to be forged or made, any falſe Deed, Charter, or Writing ſealed, Court-roll, or the Will of any perſon or perſons in writing, (2) to the intent that the ſtate of Freehold or Inheritance of any perſon or perſons, of, in, or to any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, Freehold or Copyhold, or the right, title, or intereſt of any perſon or perſons, of, in, or to the ſame, or any of them, ſhall or may be moleſted, troubled, defeated, recovered or charged; (3) or after the ſaid firſt day of June, ſhall pronounce, publiſh, or ſhew forth in evidence any ſuch falſe and forged Deed, Charter, Writing, Court-roll, or Will, as true, knowing the ſame to be falſe and forged, as is aforeſaid, to the intent above remembred, (4) and ſhall be thereof convicted, either upon Action or Actions of forger of falſe Deeds, to be founded upon this Statute at the ſuit of the party grieved, or otherwiſe according to the order and due courſe of the Laws of this Realm, or upon bill or information to be exhibited into the Court of the Star-Chamber, according to the order and uſe of that Court, (5) ſhall pay unto the party grieves his double coſts and damages, to be found or aſſeſſed in that Court where ſuch conviction ſhall be, (6) and alſo ſhall be ſet upon the Pillory in ſome open Market Town, or other open place, and there to have both his Ears cut off, and alſo his Noſtrils to be ſlit

The penalty for forging or publiſhing of a falſe Deed, whereby anothers Free-hold ſhall be troubled.

and cut, and ſeared with a hot Iron, ſo as they may remain for a perpetual note or mark of his falſhood, (7) and ſhall forfeit to the Queen our Sovereign Lady, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the whole iſſues and profits of his Lands and Tenements during his life, (8) and alſo ſhall ſuffer and have perpetual impriſonment during his life; (9) The ſaid damages and coſts to be recovered at the ſuit of the party grieved, as is aforeſaid, to be firſt payed and levied of the Goods and Chattels of the Offender, and of the iſſues and profits of the ſaid Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, of ſuch party convicted, or of one or both of them; the ſaid Title of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors to the ſame, notwithſtanding.

Forging of a Deed, whereby a leaſe or annuity may be claimed.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid firſt day of June, upon his or their own head or imagination, or by falſe conſpiration or fraud had with any other, ſhall wittingly, ſubtilly and falſly forge or make, or wittingly, ſubtilly and falſly cauſe or aſſent to be made and forged, any falſe Charter, Deed or Writing, (2) to the intent that any perſon or perſons ſhall or may have or claim any eſtate or intereſt, for term of years, of, in, or to any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, not being Copyhold, or any annuity in Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, or for term of life, lives, or years; (3) or after the ſaid day, ſhall, as is aforeſaid, forge, make, or cauſe or aſſent to be made or forged, any obligation, or bill obligatory, or any acquittance, releaſe, or other diſcharge of any Debt, Accompt, Action, Suit, Demand, or other thing perſonal; (4) or if any perſon or perſons, after the ſaid firſt day of June, ſhall pronounce, publiſh, or give in evidence, any ſuch falſe and forged Charter, Deed, Writing, Obligation, Bill obligatory, Acquittance, Releaſe, or Diſcharge, as true, knowing the ſame to be falſe and forged, (5) and ſhall be thereof convicted by any the ways or means aforeſaid, that then he ſhall pay unto the party grieved his double coſts and damages, to be found and aſſeſſed in ſuch Court where the ſaid conviction ſhall be, (6) and ſhall be alſo ſet upon the Pillory in ſome open Market Town, or other open place, and there to have one of his Ears cut off, (7) and alſo ſhall have and ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one whole year, without bail or mainpriſe.

Forging of an obligation, acquittance, releaſe, or &c. Godbolt 62. pl. 75. 2 Brownl. 49.

The ſeveral remedies of the party grieved againſt the offendor.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the party and parties grieved, by reaſon of any the offences aforeſaid, ſhall and may at his and their pleaſure, have and ſue his Action of forger of falſe Deeds, upon this Statute, againſt any the offenders in the ſame, by original Writ out of the Queens Highneſs Court of Chancery, and ſhall and may have like Proceſs upon the ſame, as in caſes of Treſpaſs at the Common Law, (2) or may at his pleaſure take his Suit againſt any ſuch offenders, in any the premiſſes, by Bill before the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, in her Court commonly called the Kings-Bench, or in the Court of the Exchequer; in which Suits no Eſſoin, Injunction or Protection ſhall be allowed for the party Defendant.

He that is once puniſhed for an offence, ſhall not after, be impeached for the ſame.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the party Defendant ſhall be convicted for any the offences aforeſaid, according to the order and form above limited, and ſhall have received thereupon puniſhment corporal, according to this Act: that then he ſhall not eftſoons be impeached for the ſame offence.

The plaintiffs releaſe ſhall diſcharge only his own remedy.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That although the party or parties Plaintiff in any ſuch Action or Bill to be ſued, as is aforeſaid, ſhall after verdict paſſed againſt the Defendant or Defendants, happen to releaſe or diſcharge the judgment or execution upon the ſame, or otherwiſe ſuffer the ſame to be diſcontinued: that yet nevertheleſs the ſame releaſe, diſcharge or diſcontinuance, ſhall extend only to diſcharge ſuch coſts and damages as the ſame Plaintiff ſhould have had againſt the Defendant; (2) and that the Judges before whom the ſaid Action or Suit ſhall be taken, ſhall and may proceed to judgment of, and upon the reſidue of the ſaid penalties and forfeitures, and to command execution upon the ſame; the ſaid releaſe, diſcontinuance, or other diſcharge had, made, done or ſuffered by the party Plaintiff, in any wiſe notwithſtanding; This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The puniſhment for the ſecond offence, is felony.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons being hereafter convicted or condemned of any the offences aforeſaid, by any the ways or means above limited, ſhall after any ſuch his or their conviction or condemnation, eftſoons commit or perpetrate any of the ſaid offences in form aforeſaid; that then every ſuch ſecond offence or offences, ſhall be adjudged felony, (2) and the parties being thereof convicted or attainted according to the Laws of this Realm, ſhall ſuffer ſuch pains of death, loſs and forfeiture of their goods, chattels, lands and tenements, as in caſes of felony, by the common Laws of this Realm, ought to be loſt or forfeited, (3) without having any advantage or benefit of Clergy or Sanctuary: (4) Saving to every perſon and perſons, Bodies Politick and Corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors, other then the ſaid offenders, and ſuch as claim to their uſes, all ſuch rights, titles, intereſts, poſſeſſions, liberties of diſtreſſes, leaſes, rents, reverſions, offices, and other profits and advantages which they or any of them ſhall have at the time of ſuch conviction or attainder, of, in, or to any the lands, tenements, or hereditaments of any ſuch perſon ſo as is aforeſaid convicted or attainted, or at any time before, in as large and as ample manner, to all intents and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had ne made.

There ſhall be no forfeiture of Dower, or corruption of blood, for this felony.

VIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That any ſuch conviction or attainder of felony, as is aforeſaid, or any forfeiture by reaſon of the ſame, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to take away the Dower of the Wife of any ſuch perſon attainted, nor to the cor-corruption of blood, or diſheriſon of any the heir or heirs of any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo attainted; This Act or any thing therein contained, or any other Statute, Law, Uſage, Cuſtom, or thing heretofore uſed to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Officials or Regiſters putting a ſeal to a will.

IX. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to charge any Ordinary, or any their Commiſſaries, Officials, Regiſters, or any other their Officers or Miniſters, with any the offences aforeſaid, for putting their Seal of Office to any will to be exhibited, unto them, not knowing ing the ſame to be falſe or forged, for Writing of the ſaid Will or Probate of the ſame; this Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Which Juſtices may hear and determine theſe offences.

X. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, and Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Circuits, and every of them, ſhall have full power and authority in every of their open and general Seſſions, to enquire, hear and determine of all and every the offences aforeſaid committed, or done within the limits of their Commiſſion, and to make Proceſs for the execution of the ſame, as they may do againſt any perſon being indicted before them of Treſpaſs, or lawfully convicted thereof.

A Repeal of all other Statutes made againſt forgery. 1 H. 5. 3.

XI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all other Statutes heretofore made and provided for forgery of falſe Deeds, Charters, Muniments or Writings, and all and every penalty appointed by the ſame, ſhall from and after the ſaid firſt day of June, be void and of none effect in the Law; Any ſuch Statute or thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

To what perſons this Statute ſhall not extend.

XII. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend or be hurtful in any wiſe to any Proctor, Advocate or Regiſter of any Eccleſiaſtical Court within this Realm, for the writing, ſetting forth, or pleading of any Proxie made according to the Eccleſiaſtical Laws or Cuſtoms heretofore uſed and allowed by the Eccleſiaſtical Courts of this Realm, for the appearance of any perſon or perſons being cited to appear in any of the ſaid Courts Eccleſiaſtical, nor to any Archdeacon, or Official, for putting their authentique Seal to the ſaid Proxies or Proxie, neither yet to any Judge Eccleſiaſtical for admitting of the ſame: (2) But that they, and every of them may hereafter do in all points concerning the ſame, as they and every of them might lawfully have done before the making of this Act; Any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Forging of Deeds before this Statute, or preſently after.

XIII. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons whatſoever, that hath of his or their own head, or by falſe conſpiracy and fraud with any other, wittingly, ſubtilly and falſly forged or made, or ſhall before the ſaid firſt day of June, forge and make any falſe Deed, Charter or Writing ſealed, or the Will of any perſon in Writing, or any Court-roll, to the intent that the Eſtate of freehold or inheritance, or the right, title, or intereſt of inheritance, or freehold of any perſon or perſons, of, in, or to any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments, being freehold or copyhold, (3) or that by any ſuch forged Deed, Charter, Court-roll or Writing, before the ſaid firſt day of June, ſhall or may be moleſted, troubled or defeated of any the ſaid Eſtates of any lands tenements or hereditaments, being freehold or copyhold: (4) or if any perſon or perſons have heretofore publiſhed or ſhewed forth in evidence, or before the ſaid firſt day, ſhall publiſh or ſhew in evidence for the proof of any Title, any falſe or forged Deed, Charter, Writing, Will or Court-roll, as true, knowing the ſame to be falſe and forged as is aforeſaid, to the intent above remembred, (5) and ſhall be thereof attainted or convicted, according to the order of the Laws of this Realm, either in an Action of forger of falſe faits, or in an Action upon the Caſe at the Suit of the party grieved, his heirs, executors or aſſigns, that then the party ſo convicted, ſhall pay and yield damages and coſts of Suit to the Plaintiff, as ſhall be aſſeſſed according to the order of the Laws of this Realm in any ſuch like Action or Suit, (6) and ſhall ſuffer impriſonment, and pay Fine and Ranſom at the pleaſure of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors.

The penalty for pleading or publiſhing a forged Deed made before this Statute or ſhortly after.

XIV. And if any perſon or perſons, ſhall after the ſaid firſt day of June, plead, publiſh or ſhew forth in evidence or otherwiſe, for the proof of any Title, any falſe and forged Deed, Charter, Writing, Will or Court-roll (heretofore falſly made and forged, or to be falſly made and forged before the ſaid firſt day of June) as true, knowing the ſame to be falſe and forged, (2) to the intent to have or claim thereby an Eſtate of inheritance, freehold or leaſe of years, in or to any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any annuity, rent or profit, forth of any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments, (3) or to the intent to alter, defeat, moleſt, trouble, charge or recover the Eſtate of inheritance, freehold or for years, of any perſon, in any manors, lands, tenements, rents or hereditaments, (4) That then every perſon and perſons that ſhall ſo offend, and ſhall be thereof convicted in form firſt above remembred, ſhall pay unto the party grieved, double coſts and damages, (5) and ſhall have impriſonment, loſs of ears, ſlitting and ſearing of noſe, and forfeiture of lands, in the ſame manner and form as above is limited for any perſon that ſhall offend by forging or publiſhing of any falſe Deed or Writing as is aforeſaid, after the aforeſaid firſt day of June.

A Lawyer or Attorney pleading a forged Deed.

XV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any pain, forfeiture, or thing therein contained, ſhall extend to any Attorney, Lawyer, or Counſelor that ſhall for his Clyent plead, ſhew forth, or give in evidence any falſe and forged Deed or Charter, Will, Court-roll, or other Writing for true or good, being not party or privy to the forging of the ſame, for the pleading, ſhewing forth, or giving in evidence of the ſame; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Pleading a writing exemplified, or ſetting a ſeal to the ſame.

XVI. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any perſon or perſons that ſhall plead or ſhew forth any Deed or Writing exemplified under the great Seal of England, or under the Seal of any other authentique Court of this Realm: (2) nor ſhall extend to any Judge or Juſtice, or other perſon that ſhall cauſe any Seal of any Court to be ſet to any ſuch Deed, Charter, or Writing enrolled, not knowing the ſame to be falſe or forged; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. Cok. l. 5. f. 50. Dyer f. 323.

CAP. XV.

An Act againſt fond and fantaſtical Prophecies.

Prophecies 1. Penalty for publiſhing any falſe and fantaſtical Prophecy upon Arms, Fields, Badges, &c. St. 3 Ed. 6. 15. St. 33 H. 8. 14.

FOraſmuch as ſithence the expiration and ending of the Statute made in the time of King Edward the Sixth, entituled, An Act againſt fond and fantaſtical Prophecies, divers evil diſpoſed perſons enclined to the ſtirring and moving of Factions, Seditions and Rebellions within this Realm, have been the more bold to attempt the like practice in feigning, imagining, inventing and publiſhing of ſuch fond and fantaſtical Prophecies, as well concerning the Queens Majeſty, as divers honourable Perſonages, Gentlemen and others of this Realm, as was uſed and practiſed before the making of the ſaid Statute, to the great diſquiet, trouble and peril of the Queens Majeſty, and of this her Realm:

The penalty for publiſhing of any phantaſtical Prophecy upon arms, &c. to make inſurrection, &c.

II. For remedy whereof, Be it ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon and perſons after the firſt day of May next coming, do adviſedly and directly advance, publiſh and ſet forth by Writing, Printing, Singing, or any other ſpeech or deed, to any perſon or perſons, any fond, phantaſtical or falſe Prophecy, upon or by the occaſion of any Arms, Fields, Beaſts, Badges, or the like things accuſtomed in Arms, Cogniſances or Signets, or upon, or by reaſon of any time, year or day, name, bloudſhed or war, (2) to the intent thereby to make any Rebellion, Inſurrection, Diſſention, loſs of Life, or other diſturbance within this Realm, and other the Queens Dominions, (3) that then every ſuch perſon being thereof lawfully convicted according to the courſe of the Laws of this Realm, for every ſuch offence ſhall ſuffer impriſonment of his body, by the ſpace of one year without bail or mainpriſe, and ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence, the ſum of ten pounds.

The penalty for the ſecond offence.

III. And if any ſuch offender do after ſuch conviction eftſoons offend in any of the premiſſes, and be thereof lawfully convicted as is aforeſaid, that then every ſuch offendor ſhall for his ſecond offence, and conviction as is aforeſaid, ſuffer impriſonment of his body without bail or mainpriſe during his life, and ſhall forfeit all his goods and chattels reals and perſonals: (2) The moieties of every which forfeitures ſhall be to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moieties thereof to him that ſhall or will ſue for the ſame in any of the Queens Courts of Record, by action, bill, plaint or information; in which caſe no eſſoin, wager of Law, or protection ſhall be allowed or admitted.

Which Juſtices may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Juſtice of Aſſiſe, Juſtice of Oyer and Determiner, and Juſtice of Peace, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue hereof to enquire, hear and determine all and every offence or offences abovesaid, committed or done within the limits of their Commiſſion, contrary to the tenor and meaning of this Act.

Within what time an offender muſt be accuſed.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall at any time hereafter be impeached of any offence hereafter to be committed or done contrary to this Act, unleſs he be therefore impeached or accuſed within ſix months next enſuing any ſuch offence by him or them committed or done.

Conjuration 55. 13 Co. 59.

The ſeveral penalties of Conjuration, or Invocation of wicked Spirits, and Witchcraft, Enchantment, Charm or Sorcery. Rep. 1 Jac. 12. Stat. 33 H. 8. 8. 1 Ed. 6. 12.

CAP. XVII.

An Act for the puniſhment of the Vice of Buggery.

Felony 9. The Stat. of 25 H. 8. 6. whereby the committing of Buggery with mankind or beaſt, is made felony, revived. 1 Mar. 1. Sect. 5. N. 1.

Where in the Parliament begun at London the third day of November, in the one and twentieth year of the late King of moſt famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, and after by Prorogation holden at Weſtminſter, in the Five and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, there was one Act and Statute made, intituled, An Act for the puniſhment of the Vice of Buggery, whereby the ſaid deteſtable Vice was made Felony, as in the ſaid Eſtatute more at large it doth and may appear: (2) For as much as the ſaid Statute concerning the puniſhment of the ſaid crime and offence of Buggery, ſtandeth at this preſent repealed and void by virtue of the Statute of Repeal made in the firſt year of the Reign of the late Queen Mary: Sithence which Repeal ſo had and made, divers evil diſpoſed perſons, have been the more bold to commit the ſaid moſt horrible and deteſtable Vice of Buggery aforeſaid, to the high diſpleaſure of Almighty God;

II. Be it enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, and by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Statute before mentioned, made in the Five and twentieth year of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, for the puniſhment of the ſaid deteſtable Vice of Buggery, and every branch, clauſe, article and ſentence therein contained, ſhall from and after the firſt day of June next coming, be revived, and from thenceforth ſhall ſtand, remain, and be in full force, ſtrength, and effect for ever, in ſuch manner, form and condition as the ſame Statute was at the day of the death of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth; the ſaid Statute of Repeal made in the ſaid firſt year of the ſaid late Queen Mary, or any words general or ſpecial therein contained, or any other Act or Acts, thing or things to the contrary notwithſtanding. St. 2 & 3 Ed. 6. 29. Coke pla. fol. 391.

CAP. XVIII.

An Act declaring the Authority of the Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, and the Lord Chancellor of England to be one.

Keeper of, &c. Rast.. 1.

Where ſome queſtion hath of late riſen, Whether like Place, Authority, Preheminence, Juriſdiction, and Power doth belong, and of right ought to belong to the Officer of the Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England for the time being, as of right doth and ought to belong to the Office of the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, or not:

The authority of the Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, and the Lord Chancellor, is all one.

Co. In. par. 87.

II. For declaration whereof, and in avoiding ſuch queſtion hereafter, Be it enacted and declared by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Common Law of this Realm is, and always was, and ought to be taken, that the Keeper of the Great Seal of England for the time being, hath always had, uſed and executed, and of right ought to have, uſe and execute, and from henceforth may have, perceive, take, uſe and execute, as of right belonging to the Office of the Keeper of the Great Seal of England for the time being, the ſame and like place, authority preheminence, juriſdiction, execution of Laws and all other cuſtoms, commodities and advantages as the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, lawfully uſed, had, and ought to have, uſe and execute, as of right belonging to the Office of the Lord Chancellor of England for the time being, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, and as if the ſame Keeper of the Great Seal for the time being, were Lord Chancellor of England.

CAP. XIX.

An Act to Repeal a Branch of a Statute made Anno primo Edw. 6. touching the conveying of Horſes out of the Realm.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the Firſt year of the Reign of the late King Edward the Sixth, Brother to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, amongſt divers other Statutes, there was one Act and Statute made againſt the carrying and conveying of any Horſes, Geldings, or Mares out of this Realm: In which Act, among other things, there is one Proviſo or Branch contained in theſe words hereafter following; That is to ſay, Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful to every of the Kings Subjects, that ſhall paſs over beyond the Sea, to Ship and carry with them Horſes or Geldings for their only occupation in their journeys, and not to the intent to ſell the ſame beyond the Sea, (2) and that intent to be judged by Oath of him or them that ſo will carry over any Horſe or Gelding; which Oath ſhall be taken before the Cuſtomers or their Deputies, or Searcher of every ſuch Port where the ſame Horſe or Gelding ſhall be Shipped, before the Shipping thereof, as by the ſame Act and Proviſo it doth and may appear: (3) And although the ſame Act and Statute, in all parts thereof (except the ſaid Proviſo) is very beneficial and profitable for this Realm: yet nevertheleſs, by colour of the ſaid Proviſo and Branch contained in the ſaid Statute, many evil diſpoſed perſons of a covetous and greedy deſire, do daily tranſport out of this Realm very great number of Horſes and Geldings, and do exchange and ſell the ſame in the parts beyond the Seas, for their own private lucre and gain; (4) And becauſe the trial of ſuch offences is by force of the ſaid Proviſo and Branch mentioned in the ſaid Statute, no otherwiſe to be tried or judged, but only by the Oath of the offender himſelf; therefore the offenders therein do eſcape unpuniſhed, and thereby many perſons are greatly incouraged daily to commit the like offences, contrary to the true meaning and intent of the ſaid Statute:

Horſes, Raſt. 10. In the Stat. of 1 Ed. 6. 5. touching carrying of horſes out of this Realm, this branch ſhall be repealed, viz. (for their only occupation in their journeys, and not to the intent to ſell) 1 Ed. 6. 5.

II. For redreſs whereof, Be it enacted by the Queens Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by authority of the ſame, That all the ſaid Proviſo and Branch before rehearſed and mentioned, and contained within the ſaid Act and Statutes, and every Article and Sentence contained within the ſaid Proviſo, ſhall from henceforth be repealed, made void, and of none effect: And that all the reſidue of the ſaid Act and Statute ſhall ſtand, remain, and be in full force and ſtrength; Any thing herein ſpecified to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XX.

An Act for further puniſhment of Vagabonds, calling themſelves Egyptians.

Whereas ſithence the Act made in the Firſt and Second years of the late King Philip and Queen Mary, for the puniſhment of that falſe and ſubtile company of Vagabonds, calling themſelves Egyptians, there is a ſcruple and doubt riſen, whether ſuch perſons as being born within this Realm of England, or other the Queens Highneſs Dominions, and are or ſhall become of the fellowſhip or company of the ſaid Vagabonds, by transforming or diſguiſing themſelves in their Apparel, or in a certain counterfeit ſpeech or behaviour, are puniſhable by the ſaid Act in like manner as others of that ſort are, being ſtrangers born, and tranſported into this Realm of England.

Egyptians 2.

II. Therefore for the avoiding of all doubts and ambiguities in that behalf, and to the intent that all ſuch ſturdy and falſe vagabonds of that ſort, living only upon the ſpoil of the ſimple people, may be condignly met withal and puniſhed, (2) Be it enacted by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Statute made in the Firſt and Second years of the ſaid late King and Queen, concerning thoſe Vagabonds calling themſelves Egyptians, ſhall continue, remain and be in full force, ſtrength and effect.

The Stat. of 1 & 2 P. & M. 5. concerning Egyptians ſhall continue in force.

III. And yet moreover, be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons, which from and after the firſt day of May now next enſuing, ſhall be ſeen or found within this Realm of England or Wales, in any company or fellowſhip of Vagabonds, commonly called, or calling themſelves Egyptians, or counterfeiting, transforming or diſguiſing themſelves by their apparel, ſpeech, or other behaviour, like unto ſuch Vagabonds, commonly called, or calling themſelves Egyptians, and ſo ſhall or do continue and remain in the ſame, either at one time, or at ſeveral times, by the ſpace of one month: that then the ſaid perſon or perſons, ſhall by virtue of this Act be deemed and judged a felon and felons; (2) and ſhall therefore ſuffer pains of death, loſs of lands and goods, as in caſes of felony by the order of the Common Laws of this Realm, (3) and ſhall upon the trial of them, or any of them therein, be tried in the County, and by the inhabitants of the County or place where they or he ſhall be apprehended or taken, and not per medietatem linguæ, (4) and ſhall loſe the priviledge and benefit of Sanctuary and Clergy.

It ſhall be felony for Egyptians or others counterfeiting themſelves like to them, to remain a month in this Realm.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any child or children being within the age of fourteen years, nor to any of the ſaid perſons being in priſon the laſt day of this preſent Parliament, ſo that he or they ſo being in priſon, do within fourteen days next after his or their delivery out of priſon, either depart out of this Realm of England and Wales, or put him or themſelves to ſome honeſt ſervice, or exerciſe ſome lawful work, trade or occupation, and utterly forſake the ſaid idle and falſe trade, converſation and behaviour of the ſaid counterfeit and diſguiſed Vagabonds, commonly called, or calling themſelves Egyptians.

To what perſons this Act ſhall not extend.

V. Provided

None born in the Realm, compellable to depart thence.

V. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Act made in the Firſt and Second years of the ſaid late King and Queen, ſhall not extend to compel any perſon or perſons born within any the Queens Majeſties Dominions, to depart out of this Realm of England or Wales, but only to bind them and every of them to leave their ſaid naughty, idle, and ungodly life and company, and to place themſelves in ſome honeſt ſervice, or to exerciſe themſelves at home with their Parents, or elſewhere honeſtly in ſome lawful work, trade or occupation; Any thing mentioned in this ſaid former Act to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XXI.

An Act for puniſhing of unlawful taking of Fiſh, Deer, or Hawks.

Fiſh 7. Hawks 1. How perſons for unlawful fiſhing, hunting in a Park, and taking of Hawks or Hawks eggs out of anothers ground, ſhall be puniſhed.

Where as well the Queens Majeſty, and her moſt noble Progenitors, as alſo the Noblemen, Gentlemen, and divers other perſons of great Dominions, Lordſhips, Manors and Poſſeſſions within this Realm, have of ancient and long time had, and many of them now of late, to their great coſts and charges, for the neceſſary and better proviſion and maintenance of their houſholds, have erected and made in and upon their ſeverll demeans, grounds and poſſeſſions, as well Pools, Stagnes, Stewes, Motes, Pits or Ponds, for the only increaſe of Fiſh, and have ſtored the ſame with Pickerel, Breme, Tench, Carp, and divers other good kinds of Fiſh, for the neceſſary increaſe of Victuals, and for the better maintenance and proviſion of their houſes, as is aforeſaid, (2) and alſo have emparked, environed and encloſed many parcels of their ſaid demeans, ſoils, grounds and poſſeſſions, for the breeding, cheriſhing and encreaſe, as well of Red, as Fallow Deer within their ſeveral Parks and Incloſures, for the clauſes afore declared; (3) and alſo have breeding within their Woods and Grounds, divers Eyries of Hawks of ſundry kinds, to their great pleaſure and commodity: (4) Yet nevertheleſs, the ſaid ſeveral Waters, Grounds, Parks and Incloſures ſo being had, erected and made, and alſo being ſo ſtored and repleniſhed, have been from time to time by evil diſpoſed perſons, of a very evil, wilful and inſolent diſpoſition, and of malice and diſpleaſure, not only by night-time broken and entred into, but alſo the heads and dammes of the ſaid Ponds, Pools, Stagnes, Motes, Stewes, or ſeveral Waters, have been maliciouſly, wilfully and unlawfully cut out, and the pales, fences and incloſures of the ſaid Parks and Grounds broken, caſt down, and ſet open, and the Fiſh, Deer, and Hawks within the ſame, taken, deſtroyed, carried away, and ſtollen, (5) not only to the great loſs and damage of the owners thereof, and to the ſmall incouragement of other good Subjects, minding the careful proviſion of ſuch neceſſary Victuals, but alſo to the manifeſt emboldning of many like wilful malefactors and malicious offenders, whereby many riots, man-ſlaughters, miſchiefs, and other inconveniences have been daily perpetrated, and are like to be committed and done, if circumſpect remedy be not hereunto provided:

31 H. 8. 2.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the Queens Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, ſhall at any time by day or by night, unlawfully without authority, break, cut down, cut out or deſtroy any head or heads, dam or dams of any ponds, pools, motes, ſtagnes, ſtewes or ſeveral pits, wherein Fiſh are, or ſhall happen to be put in or ſtored withal, by the owners or poſſeſſioners thereof, (2) or do or ſhall wrongfully fiſh in any of the ſaid ſeveral ponds, pools, motes, ſtagnes, ſtewes or pits, (3) to the intents to deſtroy, kill, take or ſteal away any of the ſame Fiſh againſt the will, mind or pleaſure of the owners, or poſſeſſioners of the ſame, (4) not having any lawful title or authority ſo to do, and thereof be lawfully convicted, at the Suit of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, or the party grieved, ſhall ſuffer impriſonment of his or their bodies by the ſpace of three month, (5) and ſhall yield and pay to the party grieved his treble damages; (6) and after the ſaid three months expired, ſhall find ſufficient Sureties for his or their good abearing againſt the Queen our Sovereign Lady, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and all her Leige people, for the ſpace of ſeven years after; or elſe remain and continue ſtill in priſon without bail or mainpriſe, until ſuch time as he or they ſo offending can and ſhall find ſufficient Sureties, during the ſaid time and ſpace of ſeven years, as is aforeſaid.

3 Jac. 13. 1.
2 Jac. 27.
Co. pl. f. 361.

III. And be it alſo enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons, after the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, at any time by night or by day, in manner aforeſaid, wrongfully or unlawfully break or enter into any Park impaled, or any other ſeveral ground cloſed with wall, pale or hedge, and uſed for the breeding and cheriſhing of Deer, and ſo wrongfully hunt, drive or chaſe out, or take, kill, or ſlea any Deer within any ſuch empaled park, or cloſed ground, with wall, pale or other incloſure, and uſed for Deer, as is aforeſaid, (2) or do or ſhall take away any Hawk or Hawks, or the eggs of any of them, by any ways or means unlawfully out of any the Woods or Ground of any perſon or perſons, (not having lawful authority or licence ſo to do) (3) and thereof be lawfully convicted at the Suit of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, or the party grieved, as is aforeſaid, ſhall likewiſe ſuffer impriſonment of his or their bodies by the ſpace of three months, (4) and ſhall yield and pay to the party grieved his treble damages; (5) and after the ſaid three months expired, ſhall find good Sureties for his or their good abearing, for the ſpace of ſeven years after, againſt the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and all her Liege people, as is aforeſaid; or elſe ſhall remain and continue ſtill in priſon, without bail or mainpriſe, until ſuch time as he or they ſo offending, can and ſhall find ſufficient Sureties during the ſaid time of ſeven years as is afore rehearſed.

A Park incloſed by the licence of the Queen or, &c.

IV. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, extend not to any Park or incloſed ground, hereafter to be made and uſed for Deer, without the Grant or Licence of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs, Succeſſors or Progenitors.

The remedy of the party grieved, and before whom.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for the party grieved, to ſue and take his further remedy againſt all and every ſuch offender and offenders, for his loſs and damages, and to recover the treble value of the ſame in this behalf, half, as well before Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, Juſtices of Aſſiſes in their Circuits, and Juſtices of the Peace, as elſewhere in any other the Queens Courts of Record; (2) and that upon the true ſatisfaction of the ſaid treble damages to the party grieved, or upon the confeſſion and knowledge thereof by the ſame party, before the ſaid Juſtices in open Seſſions to be holden within the County where the offence was committed, it ſhall be at the liberty of the ſame party grieved, to whom the ſaid offence was committed, to releaſe at his pleaſure the ſaid ſuretiſhip of good abearing, at any time within the ſaid ſeven years or before; Any thing in this preſent Act before ſpecified or expreſſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The party grieved may releaſe the ſuretiſhip of good abearing.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Oyer and Determiner, Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Circuits, and Juſtices of the Peace and Goal delivery in their Seſſions, ſhall by virtue hereof have power and authority to enquire, hear and determine all and ſingular the offences aforeſaid, and to make and award Proceſs thereupon, as well upon indictments taken before them, as by bill of complaint, information, or any other action; in which ſuit or action, no eſſoin, wager of Law, nor protection ſhall be allowed.

Which Juſtices may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, at any time hereafter ſhall fortune to be bound before any of the Juſtices before mentioned, to the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, for his or their good abearing, for ſeven years, according to the tenor of this Act, and the ſame party or parties ſo bound, ſhall afterwards within the ſaid ſeven years, come before the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſaid County where the ſaid offence was committed, or ſome of them, in open Seſſions, and there in the ſaid open Seſſions confeſs and acknowledge his or their ſaid offence or offences, and be ſorry therefore, and ſatisfie the party or parties grieved, according to the tenor of this Act, that then the ſaid Juſtices before whom the confeſſion ſhall be ſo made, ſhall and may have power and authority by virtue of this Act, in the ſame open Seſſion, or in any other open Seſſion afterwards to be holden before the ſaid Juſtices in the ſaid County, within the ſaid term of ſeven years, if it ſhall ſeem good to their diſcretions, to diſcharge the ſaid Recognizance and Bond ſo taken, and alſo the ſaid party and parties ſo bound; This Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary nothwitſtanding.

In what caſe the Juſtices of Peace may releaſe the offendor of the good abearing.

CAP. XXII.

An Act againſt carrying over Seas, Sheep-skins and Pelts, not being Staple-ware.

For reformation of many griefs, lamentably declared this preſent Parliament, by divers Artificers of this Realm working Leather, It may pleaſe your Royal Majeſty, that it may be enacted and eſtabliſhed with the aſſent of this high Court of Parliament, That it ſhall not be lawful to or for any manner of perſon or perſons whatſoever, from and after the firſt day of May next coming, to make any Pelts, that is to ſay, to pull, ſhear, clip or take away the Wooll of any Sheep-skin or Lamb-skin, or to buy any skin of any Stag, Hind, Buck, Doe, Goat, Fawn or Kid, or the Pelts or Skins of any of them, unleſs ſuch perſon or perſons ſo making any Pelts, or buying ſuch Skins, as is aforeſaid, do make or cauſe to be made thereof, tawed or lawfully tanned Leather or Parchment, or otherwiſe convert the ſame into ſemits, pannels, or other their own neceſſary uſes, (2) upon pain that every perſon ſo making Pelts, or buying any of the Skins or Pelts aforeſaid, contrary to the meaning of this Act, ſhall forfeit and loſe the value of all ſuch Pelts or Skins ſo made and bought, and two ſhillings ſix pence for every Skin or Pelt ſo bought, or Pelt ſo made as is aforeſaid.

Merchants, Raſt. 48. Forfeiture of him who ſhall tranſport any skins of Stag, Hind, Buck, Doe, &c. or the Leather made of them, and for what purpoſes they be made and brought within this Realm.

II. And be it further enacted, That it ſhall not be lawful to or for any perſon or perſons whatſoever, from and after the Feaſt aforeſaid, to ſhip or convey, or cauſe or procure to be ſhipped or conveyed, in or to any ſhip, Boat or veſſel, in or upon the Sea, or in or upon any Haven, River, Creek or place within the Realm of England and Wales, or either of them, any manner of Sheep-skins, Woollfels, Shorlings, Morlings, or the skins of any Stag, Hind, Buck, Doe, Goat, Fawn or Kid, or the pelts or skins of any of them, or the Leather made of them, or any of them, to the intent to tranſport or carry the ſame into the parts beyond the Seas, there to be uttered, bartered or ſold by way of Merchandiſe or otherwiſe, (2) upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch skins or pelts, bought, laden, ſhipped or tranſported contrary to the tenor and true meaning of this Act, or the value of them; (3) and alſo two ſhillings ſix pence of lawful money of England, for every ſuch Fell, Shorling, pelt or skin aforeſaid, bought, laden, ſhipped or tranſported contrary to the tenor and true meaning of this preſent Act: (4) The moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors; and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action, bill, plaint, information or otherwiſe, in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts: In which action no eſſoin, protection or injunction ſhall be admitted or allowed.

The penalty for tranſporting of ſheep-skins, lamb-skins, &c. REP. 8 El. 14.

III. Provided always, That it ſhall and may be lawful to the Merchants of the Staple, the Merchants of Newcaſtle upon Tine, Hartlepool and Berwick, their ſervants, factors and atturneys, and every of them, to carry and tranſport all ſuch lawful Wares as heretofore they have been accuſtomed and lawfully might; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Wares that may be lawfully tranſported by any Merchant.

CAP. XXIII.

An Act for the due execution of the Writ de Excommunicato capiendo.

Foraſmuch as divers perſons offending in many great crimes and offences appertaining meerly to the juriſdiction and determination of the Eccleſiaſtical Courts and Judges of this Realm, are many times unpuniſhed for lack and want of the good and due execution of the Writ de Excommunicato capiendo, directed to the Sheriff of any County, for the taking and apprehending of any ſuch offendors: (2) The great abuſe whereof, as it ſhould ſeem, hath grown, for that the ſaid Writ is not returnable in any Court that might have the judgment of the well executing and ſerving of the ſaid Writ, according to the contents thereof; (3) but hitherto have been left only to the diſcretion of the Sheriffs and their Deputies, by whoſe negligences and defaults, for the moſt part, the ſaid Writ is not executed upon the offendors as it ought to be:

Excommengement. 1. The order of awarding and returning the writ of Excommunicato capiendo: what is to be done upon the parties appearance, and what if he cannot be found, and the cauſe of awarding this writ. Co. Inſt. 4. p. 219. Cro. El. 144. 1 Bulſtr. 182. 3 Bulſtr. 91.

(4) By reaſon whereof, ſuch offendors be greatly encouraged to continue their ſinful and criminous life, much to the diſpleaſure of Almighty God, and to the great contempt of the Eccleſiaſtical Laws of this Realm:

Awarding and returning of Excommunicato capiendo.

II. Wherefore, for the redreſs thereof, be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after the firſt day of May next coming, every Writ of Excommunicato capiendo that ſhall be granted and awarded out of the high Court of Chancery, againſt any perſon or perſons within the Realm of England, ſhall be made in the time of the Term, (2) and returnable before the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, in the Court commonly called the Kings Bench, in the Term next after the Teſte of the ſame Writ, (3) and the ſame Writ ſhall be made to contain at the leaſt twenty days between the Teſte and the return thereof: (4) And after the ſame Writ ſhall be ſo made and ſealed, that then the ſaid Writ ſhall be forthwith brought into the ſaid Court of the Kings Bench, and there in the preſence of the Juſtices, ſhall be opened and delivered of Record to the Sheriff or other Officer to whom the ſerving and execution thereof ſhall appertain, or to his or their Deputy or Deputies: (5) And if afterwards it ſhall or may appear to the Juſtices of the ſame Court for the time being, that the ſame Writ ſo delivered of Record, be not duly returned before them at the day of the return thereof, or that any other default or negligence hath been uſed or had in the not well ſerving and executing of the ſaid Writ; that then the Juſtices of the ſaid Court ſhall and may by authority of this Act, aſſeſs ſuch amerciament upon the ſaid Sheriff or other Officer in whom ſuch default ſhall appear, as to the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtices ſhall be thought meet and convenient; which amerciament ſo aſſeſſed ſhall be eſtreated in the Court of Exchequer, as other amerciaments have been uſed.

The Sheriff ſhall be amerced for not returning of the Writ.

What ſhall be done with the body of the excommunicate.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Sheriff or other Officer to whom ſuch Writ of Excommunicato capiendo, or other Proceſs by virtue of this Act ſhall be directed, ſhall not in any wiſe be compelled to bring the body of ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be named in the ſaid Writ or Proceſs, into the ſaid Court of the Kings Bench at the day of the return thereof, (2) but ſhall only return the ſame Writ and Proceſs thither, with declaration briefly how and in what manner he hath ſerved and executed the ſame, to the intent that thereupon the ſaid Juſtices may then further therein proceed, according to the tenor and effect of this preſent Act.

If the Sheriff return Non eſt inventus.

Capias 1. Cro. Jac. 566.

IV. And if the ſaid Sheriff or other Officer to whom the execution of the ſaid Writ ſhall ſo appertain, do or ſhall return that the party or parties named in the ſaid Writ cannot be found within his Bailiwick; that then the ſaid Juſtices of the Kings Bench for the time being, upon every ſuch return, ſhall award one Writ of Capias againſt the ſaid perſon or perſons named in the ſaid Writ of Excommunicato capiendo, (2) returnable in the ſame Court in the Term time, two months at leaſt next after the Teſte thereof, (3) with a Proclamation to be contained within the ſaid Writ of Capias, that the Sheriff or other Officers to whom the ſaid Writ ſhall be directed, in the full County Court, or elſe at the general Aſſiſes and Goal delivery to be holden within the ſaid County, or at a quarter Seſſions to be holden before the Juſtices of the Peace within the ſaid County, ſhall make open Proclamation ten days at the leaſt before the return, that the party or parties named in the ſaid Writ, ſhall within ſix days next after ſuch Proclamation, yield his or their body or bodies to the priſon of the ſaid Sheriff or other ſuch Officer, there to remain as a priſoner, according to the tenor and effect of the firſt Writ of Excommunicato capiendo, upon pain of forfeiture of ten pounds: (4) And thereupon after ſuch Proclamation had, and the ſaid ſix days paſt and expired, then the ſaid Sheriff or other Officer to whom ſuch Writ of Capias ſhall be directed, ſhall make return of the ſame Writ of Capias into the ſaid Court of the Kings Bench, of all that he hath done in the execution thereof, and whether the party named in the ſaid Writ have yielded his body to priſon or not.

Ten pounds forfeiture for not appearance upon the firſt Capias.

V. And if upon the return of the ſaid Sheriff, it ſhall appear, that the party or parties named in the ſame Writ of Capias, or any of them, have not yielded their bodies to the Goal and Priſon of the ſaid Sheriff or other Officer, according to the effect of the ſame Proclamation; that then every ſuch perſon that ſo ſhall make default, ſhall for every ſuch default forfeit to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, ten pounds, (2) which ſhall likewiſe be eſtreated by the ſaid Juſtices into the ſaid Court of Exchequer, in ſuch manner and form as fines and amerciaments there taxed and aſſeſſed, are uſed to be.

2 Capias

VI. And thereupon the ſaid Juſtices of the Kings Bench ſhall alſo award forth one other Writ of Capias againſt the ſaid perſon or perſons that ſo ſhall be returned to have made default, with ſuch like Proclamation as was contained in the firſt Capias, and a pain of twenty pounds, to be mentioned in the ſaid ſecond Writ and Proclamation: (2) And the Sheriff or other Officer to whom the ſaid ſecond Writ of Capias ſhall be ſo directed, ſhall ſerve and execute the ſaid Writ, in ſuch like manner and form, as before is expreſſed for the ſerving and executing of the ſaid firſt Writ of Capias. (3) And if the Sheriff or other Officer ſhall return upon the ſaid ſecond Capias, that he hath made the Proclamation according to the tenor and effect of the ſame Writ, and that the party hath not yielded his body to priſon, according to the tenor of the ſaid Proclamation; that then the ſaid party that ſo ſhall make default, ſhall for ſuch his contempt and default, forfeit to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the ſum of twenty pounds; (4) which ſaid ſum of twenty pounds, the ſaid Juſtices of the Kings Bench for the time being ſhall likewiſe cauſe to be eſtreated into the ſaid Court of Exchequer, in manner and form aforeſaid.

Twenty pound forfeiture upon the ſecond Capias.

3 Capias.

VII. And then the ſaid Juſtices ſhall likewiſe award forth one other Writ of Capias againſt the ſaid party, with ſuch like Proclamation and pain of forfeiture, as was contained in the ſaid ſecond Writ of Capias: (2) and the Sheriff or other Officer to whom the ſaid third Writ of Capias ſhall be ſo directed, ſhall ſerve and execute the ſaid third Writ of Capias, in ſuch like manner and form as before in this Act is expreſſed and declared, for the ſerving and executing of the ſaid firſt and ſecond Writs of Capias. (3) And if the Sheriff or other Officer to whom the execution of the ſaid third Writ ſhall appertain, do make return of the ſaid third Writ of Capias, that the party upon ſuch Proclamation, hath not yielded his body to priſon, according to the tenor thereof; that then every ſuch party for every ſuch contempt and default, ſhall likewiſe forfeit to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, other xx. li. (4) which ſum of xx. li. ſhall likewiſe be eſtreated into the ſaid Court of the Exchequer, in manner and form aforeſaid: (5) and thereupon the ſaid Juſtices of the Kings Bench ſhall likewiſe award forth one Writ of Capias againſt the ſaid party, with like Proclamation, and like pain of forfeiture of xx. li. (6) And that alſo the ſaid Juſtices ſhall have authority by this Act, infinitely to award ſuch Proceſs of Capias, with ſuch like Proclamation, and pain of forfeiture of xx. li. as is before limited, againſt the ſaid party that ſo ſhall make default in yielding of his body to the priſon of the Sheriff, until ſuch time as by return of ſome of the ſaid Writs before the ſaid Juſtices, it ſhall and may appear, that the ſaid party hath yielded himſelf to the cuſtody of the ſaid Sheriff or other Officer, according to the tenor of the ſaid Proclamation, (7) and that the party upon every default and contempt by him made againſt the Proclamation of any of the ſaid Writs ſo infinitely to be awarded againſt him, ſhall incur like pain and forfeiture of xx. li. which ſhall likewiſe be eſtreated in manner and form aforeſaid.

Twenty pound forfeit upon the third Capias.

Awarding of Capias infinitely, and xx. li. forfeit upon every of them.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That when any perſon or perſons ſhall yield his or their body or bodies to the hands of the Sheriff or other Officer, upon any of the ſaid Writs of Capias, that then the ſaid party or parties that ſhall ſo yield themſelves, ſhall remain in the priſon and cuſtody of the ſaid Sheriff or other Officer, without bail, baſton or mainpriſe, in ſuch like manner and form, to all intents and purpoſes, as he or they ſhould or ought to have done, if he or they had been apprehended and taken upon the ſaid Writ of Excommunicato capiendo.

The offendor yielding his body, ſhall be committed to priſon.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Sheriff or other Officer by whom the ſaid Writ of Capias, or any of them, ſhall be returned, as is aforeſaid, do make an untrue return upon any the ſaid Writs, that the party named in the ſaid Writ hath not yielded his body upon the ſaid Proclamations, or any of them, where indeed the party did yield himſelf according to the effect of the ſame, That then every ſuch Sheriff or other Officer, for every ſuch falſe and untrue return, ſhall forfeit to the party grieved and damnified by the ſaid return, the ſum of fourty pounds; (2) for the which ſum of fourty pounds, the ſaid party grieved ſhall have his recovery and due remedy by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in any of the Queens Courts of Record; in which action, bill, plaint or Information, no eſſoin, protection or wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed for the party defendant:

The forfeiture of a Sheriff for a falſe return.

X. Saving and reſerving to all Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and all others having authority to certifie any perſon excommunicated, and like authority to accept and receive the ſubmiſſion and ſatisfaction of the ſaid perſon ſo excommunicated, in manner and form heretofore uſed, (2) and him to abſolve and releaſe, and the ſame to ſignifie, as heretofore it hath been accuſtomed, to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, into the high Court of Chancery, (3) and thereupon to have ſuch Writs for the deliverance of the ſaid perſon ſo abſolved and releaſed from the Sheriffs cuſtody or priſon, as heretofore they or any of them had, or of right ought or might have had; Any thing in this preſent Statute ſpecified or contained to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Biſhops authority to receive ſubmiſſion, and deliver the excommunicate.

XI. Provided always, That in Wales, the Counties Palatines of Lancaſter, Cheſter, Durham and Ely, and in the Cinque-ports, being juriſdictions and places exempt, where the Queens Majeſties Writ doth not run, and Proceſs of Capias from thence not returnable into the ſaid Court of the Kings Bench, after any Significavit being of Record in the ſaid Court of Chancery, the tenor of ſuch Significavit by Mittimus ſhall be ſent to ſuch of the head Officers of the ſaid Countrey of Wales, Counties Palatines, and places exempt, within whoſe Offices, charge or juriſdiction the offendors ſhall be reſiant; that is to ſay, to the Chancellor or Chamberlain for the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter and Cheſter, and for the Cinque-Ports, to the Lord Warden of the ſame, and for Wales and Ely, and the County Palatine of Durham, to the chief Juſtice or Juſtices there: (2) And thereupon every of the ſaid Juſtices and Officers to whom ſuch tenor of Significavit with Mittimus ſhall be directed and delivered, ſhall by virtue of this Eſtatute have power and authority to make like Proceſs to the inferior Officer and Officers to whom the execution of Proceſs there doth appertain, returnable before the Juſtices there, at their next Seſſion or Courts, two months at the leaſt after the Teſte of every ſuch Proceſs: (3) So always as in every degree they ſhall proceed in their Seſſions and Courts againſt the offendors, as the Juſtices of the ſaid Court of Kings Bench are limited by the tenor of this Act, in Term times to do and execute.

Proceſs out of liberties where the Queens Writ runneth not.

XII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That any perſon at the time of any Proceſs of Capias aforementioned, awarded, being in priſon, or out of this Realm in the parts beyond the Sea, or within age, or of non ſanæ memoriæ, or woman covert, ſhall not incur any of the pains or forfeitures afore mentioned, which ſhall grow by any return or default happening, during ſuch time of nonage, impriſonment, being beyond the Sea, or non ſanæ memoriæ; (2) And that by virtue of this Eſtatute, the party grieved may plead every ſuch cauſe or matter in bar of and upon the diſtreſs or other Proceſs that ſhall be made for levying of any of the ſaid pains or forfeitures.

Certain perſons diſcharged of the penalty aforeſaid.

Car. 199. 174.

XIII. And that if the offendor againſt whom any ſuch Writ of Excommunicato capiendo ſhall be awarded, ſhall not in the ſame Writ of Excommunicato capiendo have a ſufficient and lawful addition, according to the form of the Eſtatute of Primo of Henry the Fifth, in caſes of certain Suits, whereupon Proceſs of exigent are to be awarded: (2) Or if in the Significavit it be not contained, that the excommunication doth proceed upon ſome cauſe or contempt of ſome original matter of hereſie, or refuſing to have his or their child baptized, or to receive the holy Communion as it is now commonly uſed to be received in the Church of England, or to come to Divine Service now commonly uſed in the ſaid Church of England, or error in matters of Addition according to the Statute of Anno 1 H. 5.

Religion or Doctrine now received and allowed in the ſaid Church of England, incontinency, uſury, ſimony, perjury in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, or idolatry, (3) That then all and every pains and forfeitures limited againſt ſuch perſons excommunicate by this Eſtatute by reaſon of ſuch Writ of Excommunicato capiendo, wanting ſufficient addition, or of ſuch Significavit wanting all the cauſes aforementioned, ſhall be utterly void in Law, (4) and by way of plea to be allowed to the party grieved.

Cauſes of Excommunication.

Addition with a Nuper.

XIV. And if the addition ſhall be with a Nuper of the place, Then in every ſuch caſe, at the awarding of the firſt Capias with Proclamation according to the form mentioned, one Writ of Proclamation (without any pain expreſſed) ſhall be awarded into the County where the offendor ſhall be moſt commonly reſiant at the time of the awarding of the ſaid Capias with pain, in the ſame writ of Proclamation, to be returnable the day of the return of the ſaid firſt Capias with pain, and Proclamation thereupon at ſome one ſuch time and Court, as is preſcribed for the Proclamation upon the ſaid firſt Capias with pain: (2) And if ſuch Proclamation be not made in the County where the offendor ſhall be moſt commonly reſiant in ſuch caſes of additions of Nuper, That then ſuch offendor ſhall ſuſtain no pain or forfeiture by virtue of this Eſtatute, for not yielding his or her body, according to the tenor aforementioned; any thing before ſpecified, and to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. XXVI.

Priſons, Raſt. 8.

The Statute of 23 H. 8. 2. touching the making and repairing of Gaols, ſhall be revived, and continue ten years: And the Juſtices of Peace in the Counties of Pembroke, Glamorgan, Cardigan, Radnor and Montgomery in Wales, ſhall have power to do and execute all things concerning the new making of Gaols, as the Juſtices and other perſons mentioned in the ſaid Statute. EXP.

CAP. XXV.

An Act to fill up Juries lacking in Wales de Circumſtantibus.

Jurors 23. In certain caſes in Wales de Circumſtantibus may be granted in the 12 ſhires in Wales, and in the County Palatine of Cheſter, &c. by the Juſtices at their great Seſſions.

A Rehearſal of the Statute of 35. H. 8. 6. touching the filling up a Jury de Circumſtantibus.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the Thirty fifth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, Father to our moſt dear Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, one wholſom and profitable Act and Eſtatute, amongſt other was then eſtabliſhed and enacted, entituled by the name of an Act concerning the appearance of Jurors in Niſi prius: (2) where amongſt other things in the Act, it was eſtabliſhed, That where a full Jury returned betwixt party and party, did not appear before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or Niſi prius, or elſe after appearance of a full Jury, by challenge of any of the parties, the Jury was like to remain untaken for default of Jurors, that the ſame Juſtices upon requeſt made by the party Plaintiff or Demandant, ſhould have authority by virtue of the ſame Act, to command the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the making of the ſaid return ſhould appertain, to name and appoint, as often as need ſhould require, ſo many of ſuch other able perſons of the ſaid County, then preſent at the ſaid Aſſiſe or Niſi prius, as ſhould make up a full Jury: which perſons ſo to be named and impannelled by ſuch Sheriffs, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, ſhould be added to the former panel, and their names annexed to the ſame, and further, as in the ſame Act more plainly may appear: (3) Which ſaid beneficial Act doth not extend unto the twelve Shires of Wales, ne to the County Palatine of Cheſter, nor to the County Palatine of Lancaſter, nor to the County Palatine of Durham, by reaſon whereof, many Juries remain untaken betwixt the parties, what for lack of appearance of Jurors, and ſome becauſe of challenges, to the great hindrance of Juſtice, and great expences and charges to the parties:

Co. li. 5 Cro. Ja.

II. For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That in every of the Shires of Wales, that is to ſay, Pembroke, Carmarthen, Cardigan, Brecknock, Radnor, Glamorgan, Mountgomery, Denbigh, Flint, Merioneth, Angleſey, Carnarvan, and in the Palatine of Cheſter, and in the ſaid County Palatine of Durham, and in the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, where a full jury ſhall not appear before the Juſtices of the great Seſſion in any of the ſaid Shires or Counties Palatines, or their Deputies there, or elſe after appearance of a full Jury, by challenge of any of the parties, the Jury is like to remain untaken for default of Jurors, That then the ſame Juſtices, in every of the ſaid Shires and Counties Palatines, for the time being, or their Deputy or Deputies, upon requeſt made by the party Plaintiff or Demandant, ſhall have full authority by virtue of this Act, to command the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the making of the ſaid return ſhall appertain, to name and appoint as often as need ſhall require, ſo many of ſuch other able perſons of the ſaid Counties, then preſent at the ſaid great Seſſions, as ſhall make up a full Jury: which perſons ſo to be named and impannelled by ſuch Sheriffs, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, ſhall be added to the former Panel, and their names annexed to the ſame: (2) And that every of the parties ſhall or may have his or their Challenge to the Jurors ſo named, added and annexed to the ſaid former Panel, by the ſaid Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, in ſuch wiſe as if they had been impannelled upon the Venire facias awarded to try the ſaid Jue: (3) And that the ſaid Juſtices, and every of them, and their Deputy or Deputies, ſhall and may proceed to the trial of every ſuch Iſſue with thoſe perſons that were before impannelled and returned, and with thoſe newly added and annexed to the ſaid former Panel by virtue of this Act, in ſuch wiſe as they might or ought to have done, if all the ſaid Jurors had been returned upon the Writ of Venire facias awarded to try the ſaid Iſſue: (4) and that all and every ſuch trial had, ſhall be as good and effectual in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if ſuch trial had been had and tried by twelve of the Jurors, impannelled and returned upon the Writ of Venire facias awarded to try ſuch Iſſue: (5) And in caſe ſuch perſons as the ſaid Sheriff, Miniſter or Miniſters ſhall name and appoint, as is aforeſaid, or any of them, after they ſhall be called, be preſent, and do not appear, or after his or their appearance, do wilfully withdraw him or themſelves from the preſence of the Court, That then ſuch Juſtices, or their Deputies, ſhall and may ſet ſuch fine upon every ſuch Juror making default, or wilfully withdrawing himſelf, as aforeſaid, as they ſhall think good by their diſcretions; (6) the ſaid fine to be levied in ſuch manner and form as Iſſues

Challenge to the Jurors newly named.

A Juror newly impannelled, doth withdraw himſelf.

forfeited and loſt by Jurors for default of their appearance, as is provided by the Law and Cuſtom of the ſaid Countries of Wales, and Counties Palatines aforeſaid, where ſuch Iſſues are forfeited.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That where any Jury that ſhall be returned by the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, ſhall be made full by the commandment of the ſaid Juſtices or their Deputies, by virtue of this preſent Act, that yet nevertheleſs, ſuch perſons as were returned in the ſaid Panel, by the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, to try any ſuch Iſſue, that ſhall not appear, but make default, ſhall loſe the Iſſues upon them returned, in ſuch wiſe as though the ſame Jury had remained for default of Jurors.

The firſt Jurors making default, ſhall loſe their Iſſues.

IV. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That upon a reaſonable excuſe for the default of appearance of any Juror or Jurors, ſufficiently proved before the Juſtices of the great Seſſions, or their Deputies, in the Countries and Counties Palatines aforeſaid, at the day of their appearance, by the Oaths of two lawful and honeſt witneſſes, that the ſame Juſtices ſhall have authority by their diſcretions, to diſcharge every ſuch Juror of every ſuch forfeiture of Iſſues upon him returned, (2) and that the ſaid Sheriff or Sheriffs, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, having commandment by the ſaid Juſtices, to omit the returning of ſuch Iſſues, as is aforeſaid, upon ſuch Juror or Jurors, ſhall be therein diſcharged of the penalties aforeſaid for the non-returning of the ſaid Iſſues, and that yet notwithſtanding, the ſaid return to be good and effectual in the Law; Any Law, Uſage, Ordinance or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Upon a reaſonable excuſe Jurors ſhall be diſcharged of Iſſues,

V. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if the ſaid Juſtices, or their Deputies, afore whom any ſuch Jury ſhould appear in the Shires or Counties Palatines where ſuch Iſſue is to be tried, do not come at the day and place appointed, That then every one of the ſame Jurors ſhall be diſcharged for forfeiting of any Iſſues upon him returned in the ſame Writ: (2) And the Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters, ſhall be likewiſe diſcharged of the penalties of this Eſtatute, for the non-returning of ſuch Iſſues as are before limited in this Act; Any article or ſentence herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

If the Juſtices come not, the Jury ſhall be diſcharged of their Iſſues.

VI. And alſo be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if upon any ſuch Writ of Habeas corpora, or Diſtringas, Iſſues be returned upon any Hundredors, Juror or Jurors, by the Sheriffs, or other Miniſter or Miniſters to whom the execution of the ſame Writ or Writs ſhall appertain, whereas the ſame Hundredors and Jurors ſhall not be lawfully ſummoned, warned or diſtrained in that behalf, That then every ſuch Sheriff, or other Miniſter or Miniſters aforeſaid, ſhall loſe for every ſuch offence ſo committed, double ſo much as the ſaid Iſſues returned upon ſuch Hundredors or Jurors not lawfully ſummoned, warned or diſtrained, ſhall amount unto: (2) The moiety of all which forfeitures contained in this preſent Act, other then the Iſſues to be returned upon the Jurors, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be to the Queen our Sovereign Lady, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half to him that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in the Queen her Graces great Court within the ſaid County where ſuch forfeiture ſhall happen to be, before the ſaid Juſtices, his or their Deputy or Deputies; in which no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed ne admitted: (3) Saving to all manner perſons, and bodies politick and corporate, their heirs and ſucceſſors, having lawful right, title and intereſt, to have ſuch Iſſues to be before any ſuch Juſtices or their Deputies, at any time or times hereafter loſt and forfeited, all ſuch right, title and intereſt as they or any of them ſhould or ought to have had to ſuch Iſſues to be loſt and forfeited, as though this Act had never been had or made.

The Sheriffs forfeiture for returning of Iſſues, upon a Juror not warned.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means they ſhall be recovered.

VII. Provided alſo, That this Act nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any City or Town-corporate, or to any Sheriff, Miniſter or Miniſters in the ſame, for the return of any Inqueſt or Panel to be made and returned of perſons inhabiting in the ſaid Cities or Town-corporate, but that they and every of them ſhall and may return ſuch perſons in every ſuch Inqueſt and Panel, as before this time they might and have been accuſtomed to do, and as if this Act had never been had or made, ſo that the ſame Sheriff, Miniſter or Miniſters, return upon ſuch perſons as ſhall be impanelled, ſuch reaſonable Iſſues as they ought to return; Any thing in the ſame contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. 2 Ed. 6. 32.

Returning of Inqueſts in Cities and Towns-corporate.

C A P. XXVI.

Indentures of Bargain of Manors, Lands, &c. Enrolled ſix months after the Date of them in the Courts of the Counties of Lancaſter, Cheſter, and Biſhoprick of Durham, ſhall be good in Law.

FRom the Feaſt of Eaſter next, all Enrolments of ſuch Writings indented (viz. as be mentioned 27 H. 8. 16.) of any bargain and ſale after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, to be made of any manors, lands, tenements, or other hereditaments, ſet, lying or being in the Counties of Lancaſter, Cheſter, and Biſhoprick of Durham, being made and enrolled within ſix months next after the date of any ſuch Writings indented in the Queens Court of Chancery at Lancaſter, or before the Queens Juſtice or Juſtices of Aſſiſes at Lancaſter aforeſaid, concerning any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments within the ſaid County of Lancaſter, or in the Queens Court of the Exchequer at Cheſter, or before the Queens Juſtice or Juſtices of Aſſiſes at Cheſter aforeſaid, concerning any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments within the ſaid County of Cheſter, or in the Court of Chancery at Dureſme, or before the Juſtice or Juſtices of Aſſiſes at Dureſme aforeſaid, concerning any manors, lands, tenements or hereditaments within the ſaid County of the Biſhoprick of Dureſme, ſhall be accepted, deemed, reputed and taken to be as good and available in Law, to all intents, as if the ſame Writings indented had been made and enrolled in any of the Queens Courts at Weſtminſter; Any thing in the ſaid former Act, &c. notwithſtanding.

Enrolments 4. Enrolments in Lancaſter, Cheſter, Durham.

II. Provided always, That this Act ſhall not extend to any manors, lands, tenements, or hereditaments lying within any City, Borough, or Town-corporate within any of the ſaid Counties, wherein the Mayors, Recorders, Bailiffs, or other Officer or Officers have authority, and have lawfully uſed to enroll any Evidences, Deeds or other Writing, within their their Precinct or Limits; Any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Corporate Towns.

CAP. XXVII.

Fines levied before the Juſtices of the County Palatine of Durham, of Lands lying in the ſame County, ſhall be good.

Fines 12. Fines levied before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe at Durham.

ALL and ſingular fines which at any time hereafter ſhall be levied or knowledged before the Juſtice or Juſtices of the County Palatine of Durham for the time being, authoriſed for that purpoſe and cauſe, of any lands, tenement, or other hereditaments, lying or being within the ſaid County Palatine of Durham, which ſhall be openly read and proclaimed two ſeveral days in the open Seſſions in the preſence of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe at Durham, or one of them for the time being, at the ſame Seſſions that the ſame ſhall fortune to be ingroſſed, (2) and alſo that ſhall be openly read and proclaimed in the preſence of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe at Durham, or one of them for the time being, at two general Seſſions that ſhall be holden in the County Palatine of Durham, before the Juſtices of the ſame County, commonly called Juſtices of Aſſiſes at Durham, or one of them, next after the levying or ingroſſing of ſuch ſaid Fine, (3) ſhall be of like, and of the ſame force, ſtrength and effect in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as Fines being duly levied with Proclamations before the Queens Juſtices of her Common Pleas at Weſtminſter, be or ought to be.

CAP. XXVIII.

By whoſe Order the Bible, and Book of Common Prayer, ſhall be tranſlated into the Welſh Tongue.

Wales 125. The Bible and Book of Common Prayer tranſlated into the Welſh Tongue.

THe Biſhops of Hereford, Saint Davies, Aſaph, Bangor and Landaff, and their Succeſſors, ſhall take ſuch order amongſt themſelves for the Souls health of the Flocks committed to their charge within Wales, That the whole Bible containing the New Teſtament and the Old, with the Book of Common Prayer, and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments, as is now uſed within the Realm in Engliſh, to be truly and exactly tranſlated into the Britiſh or Welſh Tongue, (2) and that the ſame ſo tranſlated, being by them viewed, peruſed and allowed, be imprinted to ſuch number at the leaſt, that one of every ſort may be had for every Cathedral, Collegiate and Pariſh Church, and Chappel of Eaſe, in ſuch places and Countries of every the ſaid Dioceſſes where that Tongue is commonly ſpoken or uſed, before the firſt day of March, An. Dom. 1566. (3) And that from that day forth, the whole Divine Service ſhall be uſed and ſaid by the Curates and Miniſters throughout all the ſaid Dioceſſes where the Welſh Tongue is commonly uſed, in the ſaid Britiſh or Welſh Tongue, in ſuch manner and form as is now uſed in the Engliſh Tongue, and differing nothing in any order or form from the Engliſh Book: (4) for the which Books ſo imprinted, the Pariſhioners of every of the ſaid Pariſhes ſhall pay the one half or moiety, and the ſaid Parſon and Vicar of every of the ſaid Pariſhes (where both be) or elſe the one of them, where there is but one, ſhall pay the other half or moiety: (5) the prices of which Books ſhall be appointed and rated by the ſaid Biſhops and their Succeſſors, or by three of them at the leaſt; (6) The which things if the ſaid Biſhops or their Succeſſors neglect to do, then every one of them ſhall forfeit to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the ſum of xl. li. to be levied of their goods and chattels.

A Bible and Book of Common Prayer in Engliſh ſhall be in every Church in Wales.

II. And one Book containing the Bible, and one other Book of Common Prayer in the Engliſh Tongue, ſhall be brought and had in every Church throughout Wales, in which the Bible and book of Common Prayer in Welſh is to be had by force of this Act (if there be none already) before the firſt day of March, One thouſand five hundred ſixty ſix; (2) and the ſame books to remain in ſuch convenient places within the ſaid Churches, that ſuch as underſtand them may reſort at all convenient times to read and peruſe the ſame: And alſo ſuch as do not underſtand the ſaid Language. may, by conferring both Tongues together, the ſooner attain to the knowledge of the Engliſh Tongue, any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Anno octavo Reginæ ELIZABETHÆ.

AT the Parliament by Prorogation holden at Weſtminſter, the laſt day of September, in the eighth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady Elizabeth, by the Grace of God, of England, France and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c. And there continued until the diſſolution of the ſame, To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and weal publick of this Realm, amongſt other were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act declaring the making and conſecrating of the Archbiſhops and Biſhops of this Realm, to be good, lawful and perfect.

Biſhops 5. All Acts made by any perſon ſince 1 El. for the conſecrating, inveſting, &c. of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, ſhall be good. A queſtion whether the making of Biſhops were duly and orderly done.

Cro. Ja.

FOraſmuch as divers queſtions by overmuch boldneſs of ſpeech and talk, amongſt many of the common ſort of people being unlearned, hath lately grown upon the making and conſecrating of Archbiſhops and Biſhops within this Realm, whether the ſame were and be duly and orderly done according to the Law or not, which is much tending to the ſlander of all the ſtate of Clergy, being one of the greateſt ſtates of this Realm: (2) Therefore for the avoiding of ſuch ſlanderous ſpeech, and to the intent that every man that is willing to know the truth, may plainly underſtand that the ſame evil ſpeech and talk is not grounded upon any juſt matter or cauſe, It is thought convenient hereby partly to touch ſuch authorities as do allow and approve the making and conſecrating of the ſame Archbiſhops and Biſhops to be duly and orderly done according to the Laws of this Realm, and thereupon further to provide for the more ſurety thereof, as hereafter ſhall be expreſſed.

II. Firſt, it is very well known to all degrees of this Realm, that the late King of moſt famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, as well by all the Clergy then of this Realm in their ſeveral Convocations, as alſo by all the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons aſſembled in divers of his Parliaments, was juſtly and rightly recogniſed and knowledged to have the ſupream Power, Juriſdiction, Order, Rule, and Authority over all the Eſtate Eccleſiaſtical of the ſame, and the ſame Power, Juriſdiction and Authority did uſe accordingly: (2) And that alſo the ſaid late King in the Five and twentieth year of his Reign, did by authority of Parliament, amongſt other things, ſet forth a certain Order of the manner and form how Archbiſhops and Biſhops within this Realm, and other his Dominions, ſhould be elected and made, as by the ſame more plainly appeareth: (3) And that alſo the late King of worthy memory, King Edward the Sixth, did lawfully ſucceed the ſaid late King Henry his Father, in the Imperial Crown of this Realm, and did juſtly poſſeſs and enjoy all the ſame Power, Juriſdiction and Authority before mentioned, as a thing to him deſcended with the ſame Imperial Crown, and ſo uſed the ſame during his life: (4) And that alſo the ſaid late King Edward the Sixth in his time, by authority of Parliament, cauſed a godly and virtuous Book, entituled, The Book of Common Prayer, and Adminiſtration of Sacraments, and other Rites and Ceremonies in the Church of England, to be made and ſet forth, not only for one uniform order of Service, Common Prayer, and the Adminiſtration of Sacraments, to be uſed within this Realm, and other his Dominions, but alſo did add and put to the ſame Book, a very good and godly order, and the manner and form how Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Prieſts, Deacons, and Miniſters ſhould from time to time be Conſecrated, Made and Ordered within this Realm, and other his Dominions, as by the ſame more plainly will and may appear: (5) And although in the time of the late Queen Mary, as well the ſaid Act and Statute made in the Five and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, as alſo the ſeveral Acts and Statutes made in the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth years of the Reign of the ſaid late King Edward, for the authorizing and allowing of the ſaid Book of Common Prayer, and other the Premiſſes, amongſt divers other Acts and Statutes touching the ſaid Supream Authority, were repealed: Yet nevertheleſs, at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the Firſt year of the Reign of our Sovereiugn Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, by one other Act and Statute there made, all ſuch Juriſdictions, Priviledges, Superiorities, Preheminences Spiritual and Eccleſiaſtical, as by any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Power or Authority hath heretofore been, or may lawfully be uſed over the Eccleſiaſtical Eſtate of this Realm, and the order, reformation and correction of the ſame, is fully and abſolutely by the authority of the ſame Parliament, united and annexed to the Imperial Crown of this Realm: (6) And by the ſame Act and Statuts there is alſo given to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Kings and Queens of this Realm, full Power and Authority by Letters Patents under the Great Seal of England, from time to time to aſſign, name and authorize ſuch perſon or perſons as he or they ſhall think meet and convenient to exerciſe, uſe, occupy and execute under her Highneſs, all manner of Juriſdictions, Priviledges, Preheminences and Authorities, in any wiſe touching or concerning any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Power, or Juriſdiction within this Realm, or any other her Highneſs Dominions or Countries: (7) And alſo by the ſame Act and Statute, the ſaid Act made in the Five and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, for the order and form of the electing and making of the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, together with divers other Statutes touching the Juriſdiction over the State Eccleſiaſtical, is revived, and made in full force and effect, as by the ſame Act and Statute plainly appeareth: (8) And that alſo by another Act and Statute made in the ſaid Parliament, in the firſt year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lady, entituled, An Act for the Uniformity of Common Prayer, and Service in the Church, and Adminiſtration of Sacraments, the ſaid Book of Common Prayer, and the Adminiſtration of Sacraments, and other the ſaid Orders, Rites and Ceremonies before mentioned, and all things therein contained, with certain additions therein newly added and appointed by the ſaid Eſtatute, is fully ſtabliſhed and authorized to be uſed in all places within this Realm, and all other the Queens Majeſties Dominions and Countries; as by the ſaid Act amongſt other things, more plainly appeareth: (9) Whereupon, our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, being moſt juſtly and lawfully inveſted in the Imperial Crown of this Realm, with all Authorities, Preheminences and Dignities thereunto appertaining; And thereby having in her Majeſties order and diſpoſition, all the ſaid Juriſdictions, Powers and Authorities over the State Eccleſiaſtical and Temporal, as well in caſes Eccleſiaſtical as Temporal, within this Realm, and other her Majeſties Dominions and Countries, hath by her Supream Authority, at divers times ſithence the biginning of her Majeſties Reign, cauſed divers and ſundry grave and well learned men to be duly Elected, Made and Conſecrated Archbiſhops and Biſhops of divers Archbiſhopricks and Biſhopricks within this Realm, and other her Majeſties Dominions and Countries, according to ſuch order and form, and with ſuch Ceremonies in and about their Conſecrations, as were allowed and ſet forth by the ſaid Acts, Statutes and Orders annexed to the ſaid Book of Common Prayer before mentioned: (10) And further, for the avoiding of all ambiguities and queſtions that might be objected againſt the lawful Confirmations, Inveſting and Conſecrations of the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, her Highneſs in her Letters Patents under the Great Seal of England, directed to any Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or others, for the Confirming, Inveſting and Conſecrating of any perſon elected to the Office or Dignity of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, hath not only uſed ſuch words and ſentences as were accuſtomed to be uſed by the ſaid late King Henry and King Edward, her Majeſties Father and Brother, in their like Letters Patents made for ſuch cauſes, but alſo hath uſed and put in her Majeſties ſaid Letters Patents, divers other general words and ſentences, whereby her Highneſs by her Supream Power and Authority, hath diſpenſed with all cauſes or doubts of any imperfection or diſability, that can or may in any wiſe be objected againſt the ſame, as by her Majeſties ſaid Letters Patents remaining of Record, more plainly will appear: (11) So that to all thoſe that will well conſider of the effect and true intent of the ſaid Laws and Statutes, tutes, and of the ſupream and abſolute Authority of the Queens Highneſs, and which ſhe by her Majeſties ſaid Leters Patents hath uſed and put in ure in and about the Making and Conſecrating of the ſaid Archbiſhops and Biſhops, it is and may be very evident and apparent, that no cauſe of ſcruple, ambiguity or doubt, can or may juſtly be objected againſt the ſaid Elections, Confirmations or Conſecrations, or any other material thing meet to be uſed or had in or about the ſame; but that every thing requiſite and material for that purpoſe, hath been made and done as preciſely, and with as as great a care and diligence, rather more, as ever the like was done before her Majeſties time, as the Records of her Majeſties ſaid Father and Brothers time, and alſo of her own time, will more plainly teſtifie and declare:

A confirmation of the Statute of 1 El. 2. touching the Book of Common Prayer and Adminiſtration of the Sacraments.

III. Wherefore for the plain declaration of all the premiſſes, and to the intent that the ſame may the better be known to every of the Queens Majeſties Subjects, whereby ſuch evil ſpeech as heretofore hath been uſed againſt the high ſtate of Prelacy, may hereafter ceaſe, (2) Be it now declared and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that the ſaid Act and Statute made in the Firſt year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, whereby the ſaid Book of Common Prayer, and the Adminiſtration of Sacraments, with other Rites and Ceremonies, is authorized and allowed to be uſed, ſhall ſtand and remain good and perfect to all reſpects and purpoſes: (3) And that ſuch order and form for the Conſecrating of Archdiſhops and Biſhops, and for the making of Prieſts, Deacons and Miniſters, as was ſet forth in the time of the ſaid late King Edward the Sixth, and added to the ſaid Book of Common Prayer, and authorized by Parliament in the Fifth and Sixth years of the ſaid late King, ſhall ſtand and be in full force and effect, and ſhall from henceforth be uſed and obſerved in all places within this Realm, and other the Queens Majeſties Dominions and Countries:

A confirmation of the Statute of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 1. touching the form of conſecrating Archbiſhops, &c.

All Acts done by any perſon about conſecration or inveſting any perſon elected to be Biſhop by virtue of the Queens Letters Patents ſithence the beginning of her Reign, ſhall be good.

IV. And that all Acts and things heretofore had, made or done by any perſon or perſons, in or about any Conſecration, Confirmation or Inveſting of any perſon or perſons Elected to to the Office or Dignity of any Archbiſhop or Biſhop within this Realm, or within any other the Queens Majeſties Dominions or Countries, by virtue of the Queens Majeſties Letters Patents or Commiſſion ſithence the beginning of her Majeſties Reign, be and ſhall be by authority of this preſent Parliament, declared, judged and deemed, at and from every of the ſeveral times of the doing thereof, good and perfect to all reſpects and purpoſes; Any matter or thing that can or may be objected to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding:

All perſons made, and to be made Biſhops, Prieſts, Miniſters, &c. according to the Stat. of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 1. be rightly made S. 39 El. 8.

V. And that all perſons that have been, or ſhall be Made, Ordered or Conſecrate Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Prieſts, Miniſters of Gods holy Word and Sacraments, or Deacons, after the form and order preſcribed in the ſaid order and form how Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Prieſts, Deacons and Miniſters ſhould be Conſecrated made and Ordered, be in very deed, and alſo by authority hereof, declared and enacted to be, and ſhall be Archbiſhops, Biſhops, Prieſts, Miniſters and Deacons, and rightly Made, Ordered and Conſecrated; Any Statute, Law, Canon, or other thing to the contrary notwithſtanding.

No perſon ſhall be impeached by any Certificate of any Biſhop heretofore made, touching the Oath of Supremacy made 1 El. 1.

VI. Provided always, and nevertheleſs be it enacted by the anthority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons ſhall at any time hereafter be impeached or moleſted, in body, lands, livings or goods, by occaſion or mean of any Certificate by any Archbiſhop or Biſhop heretofore made, or before the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament to be made by virtue of any Act made in the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, touching or concerning the refuſal of the Oath declared and ſet forth by Act of Parliament in the Firſt year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady Queen Elizabeth; Any thing in this Act, or any other Act or Statute heretofore made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

VII. And that all tenders of the ſaid Oath made by any Archbiſhop or Biſhop aforeſaid, or before the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion to be made by authority of any Act eſtabliſhed in the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, and all refuſals of the ſaid Oath ſo tendered, or before the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion to be tendered by any Archbiſhop or Biſhop, by authority of any Act eſtabliſhed in the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, ſhall be void and of none effect or validity in the Law.

CAP. II.

An Act for avoiding of wrongful vexation touching the Writ of Latitat.

Damages I. The Defendant ſhall recover coſts and damages, where the Plaintiff doth delay or diſcontinue his Suit, or is nonſuit, &c. The inconvenience of purſuing of Suits upon malice without juſt cauſes. 1 Leon. 105.

1 Roll.

Where divers perſons, of their malicious minds, and without any juſt cauſe, do many times cauſe and procure others of the Queens Majeſties loving Subjects, to be very much moleſted and troubled, by attachments and arreſts made of their bodies, as well by Proceſs of Latitat, Alias and Pluries capias, ſued out of the Court commonly called the Kings Bench, as alſo by plaint, bill, or other Suit, in the Court commonly called the Marſhalſey, and within the City of London, and other Cities, Towns-corporate, and places where any liberty or priviledge is to hold pleas of Debt, Treſpaſs, and other perſonal Actions and Suits: (2) And when the parties that be arreſted or attached, are brought forth to anſwer to ſuch Actions and Suits as ſhould be objected againſt them, then many times there is no declaration or matter laid againſt the parties ſo arreſted or attached, whereunto they may make an anſwer, (3) and ſo the party arreſted is very maliciouſly put to great charges and expences, without any juſt or reaſonable cauſe: And yet nevertheleſs, hitherto, by order of the Law, the party ſo grieved and vexed, could never have any Coſts or Damages to him to be judged or awarded for the ſaid unjuſt vexation and trouble:

II. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted and ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That when and as often as any perſon and perſons, after the firſt day of January next coming, ſhall ſue forth, or by any mean cauſe or procure to be ſued forth of the ſame Court, commonly called the Kings Bench, any of the Writs of Proceſs before mentioned, againſt any perſon or perſons which upon the ſame Writ or Writs ſhall happen to be arreſted, or which ſhall appear upon the return of any the ſaid Writs or Proceſs, (2) and ſhall put in his or their Bail or Bails, to anſwer ſuch Suit as ſhall be objected againſt him, according to the common order of the Court, (3) That then in every ſuch caſe, if the party or parties at whoſe ſuit, means, or procurement, the ſame Writ, Writs or Proceſs was obtained or ſued forth, do not within three days next after ſuch Bail had and taken, put into the ſame Court his or their declaration againſt the ſame party or parties againſt whom ſuch Writs or Proceſs hath been or ſhall be ſued: (4) or if after declaration had and put into the ſame Court, the Plaintiff in ſuch Caſe ſhall not proſecute the ſame with effect, but ſhall willingly and apparently to the ſame Court ſuffer his or their ſaid Suit to be delayed, (5) or ſhall after declaration ſo had, ſuffer the ſame Suit to be diſcontinued, or otherwiſe ſhall be non-ſuit in the ſame; (6) That then, in every ſuch Caſe, the Judges of the ſaid Court for the time being, ſhall by their diſcretions from time to time, as they ſhall ſee or perceive any ſuch default to be in the party or parties at whoſe ſuit, means, or procurement, ſuch Writs or Proceſs was ſued forth, award and judge to every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo arreſted, vexed, moleſted, or troubled by ſuch Writs or Suit, his and their coſts, damages, and charges by any means ſuſtained by occaſion of any ſuch Writs, Proceſs, Arreſts, or Suits, taken, ſued, or had againſt him, to be paid by ſuch perſon or perſons that ſo doth, or ſhall cauſe or procure any ſuch Writs or Proceſs to be ſued forth, as is aforeſaid.

Coſts, damages, and charges ſhall be awarded where the Plaintiff doth delay his ſuit, doth diſcontinue, or is non-ſuit in the Kings Bench. 23 H. 8. 15. 4 Jac. 3. Cro. El. 69. Cro. Jac. 111.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons, ſhall after the ſaid firſt day of January, cauſe or procure any other perſon or perſons to be attached or arreſted to anſwer to any Bill, Plaint, Action or Suit, in the ſaid Court of the Marſhalſey, or in any Court within the ſaid City of London, or in any City, Borough, Town-corporate, or or other place or places where any Liberty or Priviledge is uſed to hold Plea, in any Action or Actions perſonal, and do not, in all Courts having their continuance De die in diem, within three days next afer ſuch time as the party Defendant or Defendants ſhall be Bailed, or otherwiſe appear in Court, by force of any Arreſt or Attachment had and returned, and in all other Courts, at the next Seſſions or Court to be holden after ſuch Arreſts or Attachments, and appearance of the party Defendant or Defendants, whereas the ſaid party Defendant or Defendants ſhall be compelled, or ought to appear (unleſs a further day ſhall be ſpecially given by the diſcretion of the Court from whence any Precept, Proceſs, or Attachment ſhall be awarded) put, and exhibit his Bill or Declaration againſt ſuch perſon or perſons, as ſo by his ſuit and means ſhall be attached or arreſted into ſuch Court where the party by ſuch Attachment or Arreſt is compellable, or ought to appear: (2) or if any ſuch perſon or perſons at whoſe ſuit or means any ſuch Attachment or Arreſt of any perſon or perſons ſhall be ſo had and made, after his Declaration, Bill, or Plaint, exhibited, do not from thenceforth proſecute the ſame his Suit with effect, or ſhall ſuffer the ſame to be diſcontinued, or ſhall after be non-ſuit in the ſame, or willingly and apparently to the ſame Court, ſhall for vexation of the Defendant in ſuch Suit, delay the ſame Suit: (3) That then in every ſuch caſe the Judge or Judges of every ſuch Court before whom any perſon or perſons ſhall ſo be ſued, moleſted, or troubled, by occaſion or mean of ſuch Attachment or Arreſt, or by ſuch Suit or Suits, ſhall forthwith by his or their diſcretion, from time to time, as he or they ſhall ſee or perceive any ſuch default or delay in the party that cauſed or procured any ſuch Attachment or Arreſt to be had, award and judge to every ſuch perſon or perſons, which after the ſaid firſt day of January, ſhall be ſo attached, arreſted, moleſted, vexed or troubled, his Coſts, Damages, and Charges, by any means ſuſtained by occaſion of any ſuch Attachment, Arreſt, or Suit ſo had and taken againſt him, to be paid by ſuch perſon or perſons that ſo doth, or ſhall cauſe or procure any ſuch Attachment or Arreſt to be ſo had or made.

A remedy, if the Plaintiff do delay, diſcontinue, or is non-ſuit in the Marſhalſey, or any City or Town-corporate.

IV. And if any perſon or perſons, at any time after the firſt day of January, ſhall by any way or mean, maliciouſly, or for vexation or trouble, cauſe or procure any other perſon or perſons to be arreſted, or attached to anſwer in any the Courts or places aforeſaid, at the ſuit, or in the name of any perſon or perſons, where indeed there is no ſuch perſon or perſons known, or without the aſſent, conſent, or agreement of ſuch perſon or perſons, at whoſe ſuit, or in whoſe name ſuch Arreſt or Attachment is or ſhall be ſo had or procured: that then every ſuch perſon or perſons, that ſo ſhall cauſe or procure any ſuch Arreſt or Attachment of any other perſon or perſons, to be had or made for vexation or trouble, as is aforeſaid, and ſhall thereof be convicted, or lawfully accuſed by Indictment, Preſentment, or by the teſtimony of two ſufficient Witneſſes, or more, or other due proof, ſhall for every ſuch offence by him or them committed, done, or procured, have, and ſuffer impriſonment of his or their Body or Bodies by the ſpace of ſix months, without Bail or Mainpriſe: (2) And before he or they ſhall be delivered out of priſon, ſhall pay unto the party or parties ſo arreſted or attached by his or their means or procurement, treble the coſts, charges, damages, and expences, that he or they ſhall be put unto, by reaſon or occaſion of ſuch Arreſt or Attachment ſo had, (3) and ſhall alſo forfeit and pay unto ſuch perſon or perſons, in whoſe name, or at whoſe ſuit he or they ſhall ſo procure ſuch Arreſt or Attachment to be had or made, if then there ſhall be any ſuch perſon known, the ſum of Ten pounds for every ſuch offence.

The penalty for arreſting of any perſon at the ſuit of another not knowing thereof. Coke pl. fol. 160. Raſt. pl. fol. 591. Cro. El. 234.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons to whom any coſt, charges, damages, forfeiture or payment of any ſum or ſums of money, by authority of this Act ſhall be awarded, judged, or forfeited, ſhall and may at all times hereafter have his or their remedy for the recovery thereof, by Action of Debt, Bill, or Plaint, in any Court of Record, againſt ſuch perſon or perſons, their Heirs, Executors, or Adminiſtrators, as ſhould or ought to pay the ſame by virtue or force of this Act; in which Action, Bill, or Plaint, no Eſſoin, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed to any the Defendant or Defendants in the ſame.

A remedy to recover the coſts and damages awarded. Raſt. pl. 598.

C A P. III.

An Act againſt carrying over Sea, Rambs, Lambs, or Sheep alive.

For ſundry good cauſes and conſiderations moved in this High Court of Parliament, Be it enacted by the authority of the ſame, That no manner of perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree, or condition ſoever he or they be, ſhall after the laſt day of February next enſuing, bring, deliver, ſend, receive, or take, or procure to be brought, delivered, ſent, or received into any Ship or Bottom, any Rams, Sheep or Lambs, or any manner of other kind of Sheep, being alive, to be carried and conveyed out of this Real of England, Wales, or Ireland, or out of any of the Queens Highneſs Dominions, (2) upon pain that every ſuch perſon or perſons, their Aiders, Abettors, Procurors and Comforters, ſhall for his or their firſt offence or offences, ſo done contrary to the true meaning of this Eſtatute, forfeit and loſe all his Goods for ever; whereof the one moiety ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection, nor Wager of Law for the Defendants ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Sheep 1. Penalty for conveying of any Sheep alive out of this Realm.

The ſecond offence Felony.

II. And further, every ſuch Offender or Offenders ſhall ſuffer impriſonment by the ſpace of one whole year, without bail and mainpriſe, and at the years end, ſhall in ſome open Market Town, in the fulneſs of the Market, on the Market day, have his left hand cut off, and that to be nailed up, in the openeſt place of ſuch Market: (2) And that every perſon or perſons eftſoons offending againſt this Statute, ſhall be adjudged a Felon, and ſhall ſuffer death as in caſes of Felony.

No corruption of Blood, or forfeiture of Dower.

III. Provided always, That this Act ſhall not extend to any corruption of blood, or be prejudicial or hurtful to any woman claiming Dower by or from any ſuch Offender or Offenders; Any thing in this Act to contrary notwithſtanding.

Which Juſtices may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, Juſtices of Goal-delivery, and Juſtices of Peace in every County and Shire within this Realm of England and Wales, and other the Queens Majeſties Dominious, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to enquire of every Offender and Offenders contrary to the form and effect of this Act, and to hear and determine every Offence and Offences, committed, perpetrated and done contrary to the form and effect of the ſame, according to the courſe of the Laws of this Realm. 3 H. 6. 2.

CAP. IV.

An Act to take away the benefit of Clergy from certain Offenders for Felony.

Clergy 1. He that taketh away privily from the perſon of another, Money or Goods, not knowing thereof, ſhall not have his Clergy, &c.

The impudent boldneſs of Cut-purſes and Pick-purſes.

Where a certain kind of evil diſpoſed perſons, commonly called Cut-purſes, or Pick-purſes, but indeed by the Laws of this Land, very Felons and Thieves, do confeder together, making among themſelves, as it were, a Brotherhood or Fraternity of an Art or Myſtery, to live idly by the ſecret ſpoil of the good and true Subjects of this Realm; (2) And as well at Sermons and Preachings of the Word of God, and in places and time of doing Service and Common Prayer in Churches, Chappels, Cloſets, and Oratories: and not only there, but alſo in the Princes Palace, Houſe, yea and Preſence, and at the places and Courts of Juſtice, and at the times of miniſtration of the Laws in the ſame, and in Fairs, Markets, and other Aſſemblies of the People: yea, and at the time of doing of execution of ſuch as been attainted of any Murder, Felony, or other criminal cauſe, ordained chiefly for terror and example of evil Doers, do without reſpect or regard of any time, place, or perſon, or of any fear or dread of God, or any Law or puniſhment, under the cloak of honeſty, by their outward apparel, countenance and behaviour, ſubtilly, privily, craftily, and feloniouſly take the Goods of divers good and honeſt Subjects, from their perſons, by cutting and picking their Purſes, and other felonious ſleights and devices, to the utter undoing and impoveriſhing of many:

II. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons, which hereafter ſhall happen to be indicted or appealed for felonious taking of any Money, Goods or Chattels, from the perſon of any other, privily without his knowledge, in any place whatſoever, and thereupon found guilty by verdict of twelve men, or ſhall confeſs the ſame upon his or their arraignment, or will not anſwer directly to the ſame, according to the Laws of this Realm, or ſhall ſtand wilfully, or of malice, or obſtinately mute, or challenge peremptorily above the number of twenty, or ſhall be upon ſuch indictment or appeal outlawed, ſhall from henceforth be admitted to have the benefit of his or their Clergy, but utterly be excluded thereof, and ſhall ſuffer death, in ſuch manner and form, as they ſhould if they were no Clerks.

Where one ſhall be arraigned for a former offence, having his Clergy for a latter. St. 18 Eliz. 7. 25 Ed. 3. 5.

III. And alſo, whereas divers perſons do oft times commit, and do divers and ſundry deteſtable Murders, hainous Robberies and Felonies, and other capital Offences, for the which Clergy is not allowable by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and after the ſame Offences ſo done, either fly out of the County, or other parts of this Realm, into the parts beyond the Seas, or keep themſelves ſecret in other places where they are not known, for a great time, and after happen to commit ſome other Felony, for the which they may have their Clergy, and being arraigned for the ſame, have their Clergy to them allowed, and thereupon committed to the cuſtody of the Ordinary, according to the Law and cuſtom of this Realm, the former Offence, wherein Clergy is not grantable, being then not known, (2) and ſo by that means cannot after be impeached for the ſaid other horrible and great Offences, by the Law and Cuſtom of this Realm, to the great encouraging of Offenders, uſing ſuch practices of foreknowledge and ſet purpoſe, for their diſcharge of the ſame:

IV. For reformation whereof, Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon or perſons, which ſhall hereafter upon his and their arraignment for any Felony, be admitted to the benefit of his Clergy, by the Laws of this Realm, and delivered to the Ordinary for the ſame, and ſhall make his due purgation for the ſame Offence or Offences, whereupon he was ſo admitted to his Clergy, and ſhall before the ſame admiſſion to his Clergy, have committed aup other ſuch Offence, whereupon Clergy by the Laws or Statutes of this Realm is not allowable, and not being thereof indicted and acquitted, convicted, or attainted, or pardoned, ſhall and may be indicted or appealed for the ſame, and thereupon put to anſwer, and ordered and uſed in all things according to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, in ſuch like manner and form, as though no ſuch admiſſion of Clergy had been; Any Law, Cuſtom, or Uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. V.

For the avoiding of tedious Suits in Civil and Marine Cauſes.

FOr the avoiding as well of long and tedious Suits, as alſo of great Charges and Expences in proſecuting of Civil and Marine Cauſes, by reaſon of divers Appeals permitted to be made by order of the Laws Civil in ſuch Cauſes, and to the intent that as well Strangers, as alſo others the Subjects of this Realm, that ſhall have cauſe of Suit in thoſe matters, may have ſuch expedition in the ſame, as their natures and qualities do require, Be it enacted by the Queens Majeſty our Sovereign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, all and every ſuch Judgment and Sentence definitive, as ſhall be given or pronounced in any Civil and Marine Cauſe, upon Appeal lawfully to be made therein to the Queens Majeſty in her Highneſs Court of Chancery, by ſuch Commiſſioners or Delegates as ſhall be nominated and appointed by her Majeſty, her heirs or Succeſſors, by Commiſſion under the half Seal, as it hath been heretofore uſed in ſuch caſes, ſhall be final, and no further Appeal to be had or made from the ſaid Judgment or Sentence definitive, or from the ſaid Commiſſioners or Delegates, for or in the ſame; Any Law, Uſage or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding. Cok. Inſt. 4 Part, 135.

Appeals 8. A Sentence definitive in a Civil and Marine Cauſe by Delegates appointed by Commiſſion, ſhall be final. 18 H. 6. 19.

CAP. VI.

An Act touching Clothworkers and Clothes ready wrought, to be Shipped over Sea.

FOr the better employment and relief of great multitudes of the Queens Subjects, uſing the Art and Labour of Cloth-working, It may pleaſe the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, at the moſt humble Suits of her ſaid Subjects, that it be enacted,

II. And be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from henceforth for every nine Clothes unwrought, hereafter to be ſhipped or carried into any the Parts beyond the Seas, contrary to the form of any Statute heretofore made, and now remaining in ſtrength, by force of any Licence hereafter to be granted, the party that ſhall ſhip and carry over the ſame, ſhall ſhip and carry over alſo one like woollen Cloth, of like ſort, length, breadth, and goodneſs, ready wrought and dreſſed; that is to ſay, rowed, barbed, firſt courſed and ſhorn from the one end to the other, ſo that every tenth Cloth paſſing over the Seas in form aforeſaid, may and ſhall be dreſſed within this Realm, before the ſame ſhall be ſhipped or tranſported over, (2) upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch nine Clothes ſo to be ſhipped or tranſported contrary to the meaning of this Act, Ten pounds.

Drapery 102. No Kentiſh nor Suffolk clothes ſhall be tranſported unwrought: and for every nine Clothes unwrought, tranſported by Licence, one Cloth ſhall be wrought of like ſort, length, breadth, and goodneſs. 7 Ed. 4. 3. 3 H. 7. 11. 27 H. 8. 13. 33 H. 8. 19.

III. Provided always, That every ſuch tenth Cloth ſo to be tranſported ready wrought, ſhall not be accounted any of the Clothes permitted to be tranſported by force of ſuch Licence, but that ſuch perſon as ſhall have ſuch Licence, may tranſport according to ſuch Licence, the full number of Clothes unwrought mentioned in the ſame Licence, over and above the number of ſuch tenth Clothes, which they ſhall be compelled to ſhip and carry over by force of this Statute.

The tenth Cloth ſhall be none of the Licence.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from the laſt day of February now next coming, no perſon ſhall ſhip or carry into the Parts beyond the Seas, contrary to the form of any Statute heretofore made, now remaining in force, any Cloth, commonly called Kentiſh Cloth, or Suffolk Cloth, made or to be made in the Counties of Kent or Suffolk, unwrought and undreſſed within this Realm, that is to ſay, not rowed, barbed, firſt courſed and ſhorn, (2) upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch Cloth, commonly called Kentiſh or Suffolk Cloth, made or to be made in either of the ſaid Counties, ſo to be ſhipped or tranſported contrary to the form of this Statute, Fourty ſhillings.

Kentiſh or Suffolk Cloth ſhall not be tranſported unwrought by any Licence.

V. And that no Licence for tranſporting of any Cloth or Clothes, ſhall be conſtrued or expounded to extend to any ſuch Kentiſh or Suffolk Cloth, made, or to be made in either of the ſaid Counties, to be from henceforth tranſported.

VI. And that all forfeitures appointed by this Statute for tranſporting of Clothes, ſhall be the one half to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to the Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid Company of Cloth-workers, to the relief of the Poor of the ſaid Company, to be recovered in any Court of Record, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or Information, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection, or Wager of Law for the Defendant ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Who ſhall have the forfeiture, and by what means.

CAP VII.

An Act touching Drapers, Cottoners and Frizers of Shrewsbury.

FOraſmuch as in the Town of Shrewsbury in the County of Salop, there hath been time out of mind of man, and yet is, a Company, Fraternity, or Guild of the Art and Myſtery of Drapers; which ſaid Company, Fraternity, or Guild, hath been by a great time lawfully Incorporated, and made a Body Politick: (2) which ſaid Corporation and Fraternity, hath by reaſon of a certain Trade and Occupation of buying and ſelling of Welſh Cloth and Lining, commonly called Cottons, Frizes, and Plains, which they have had and uſed amongſt them, been able not only to live thereby, but alſo have at their common coſts provided Houſes and other Neceſſaries for poor people within the ſaid Town of Shrewsbury, whom alſo with further relief they do weekly help and maintain: (3) And by the ſame their Trade aforeſaid, have uſed moſt commonly to ſet on work above ſix hundred perſons of the Art or Science of Sheermen, or Frizers, within the ſaid Town of Shrewsbury, whereby as well they, as their poor Wives and Families, are wholly maintained and kept; (4) To the impeachment and hinderance of which ſaid Trade, divers Artificers, and other perſons within the ſaid Town of Shrewsbury, not being of the ſaid Company or Myſtery, nor brought up in the uſe of the ſaid Trade, have of late with great diſorder, upon a meer covetous deſire Drapery 55. Who may uſe the Trade or Occupation of Drapers in Shrewsbury, or the Liberties thereof, &c. What benefit the ſame Company have received and done to others by buying and ſelling of Welſh Cloth and Lining.

The inconveniences that unſkilful perſons do, that deal in a Trade whereof they are ignorant.

and mind, intromitted with, and occupied the ſaid trade of buying Welſh Cloth or Lining, having no knowledge, experience or ſkill in the ſame; by reaſon whereof, the ſaid ignorant and unſkilful perſons have and do buy commonly and daily ſuch Welſh Cloth and Linings as is defective, and not truly made according to the good Laws and Statutes of this Realm in that behalf provided: (5) By means whereof, the ſaid Trade is greatly decayed and diſcredited, to the great loſs and hinderance of ſuch poor Sheermen and Frizers, as were wont to be ſet on work thereby, and of all others that were wont to be maintained and relieved by the ſaid Trade, as well in making as working of the ſaid Frizes, Cottons and Plains, and to the great deceit, damage and hinderance of all the Queens Majeſties Subjects that buy and provide the ſame, and to the ſlander and diſcredit of the ſaid Commodities in Foreign Parts, where, by the occaſion aforeſaid, they are grown out of eſtimation and credit.

The good intent of the Statute of 4 & 5 P. & M. 5.

II. And where moreover in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the fourth and fifth years of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord and Lady, King Philip and Queen Mary, upon good and deliberate advice, amongſt other things it was enacted, That no perſon or perſons which ſhould buy to ſell again, by way of retail, or otherwiſe, any of the ſaid Welſh Linings, ſhould dreſs or work, or cauſe to be dreſſed and wrought within his or their dwelling-houſe or houſes, or in any other place by himſelf or his ſervant, any of the ſaid Welſh Linings, but ſhould put the ſame to ſome ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhould be of the Art or Science of Sheermen, Cottoners, or Frizers, to be by them wrought and dreſſed, upon pain of forfeiture for every Welſh Cloth or Lining frized or cottoned to the contrary, Six ſhillings and eight pence, as in the ſame Act doth appear: (2) Sithence which time, divers perſons for the defrauding of the ſaid Statute, have cauſed others to buy the ſaid Frizes, Cottons and Plains, and then to take the workmanſhip thereof unto themſelves, of ſuch buyers, uſing the like fraud, by buying and turning work over unto the ſame perſons of whom they receive work, to the manifeſt defrauding of the good intent and meaning of the ſaid Statute:

By what fraudulent means the good intent of the ſaid Statute is defeated

No perſon inhabiting in Shrewſbury, ſhall occupy the Trade of buying of Welſh Cottons, &c. unleſs he be free thereof. Rep. 14 El. 12.

III. For remedy whereof, and for the benefit and relief of the poor men that be Sheermen and Frizers, (2) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter next enſuing, no manner of perſon or perſons whatſoever, inhabiting and dwelling within the ſaid Town of Shrewſbury, or the Liberties and Franchiſes of the ſame Town, other then ſuch as have, or ſhall have ſerved as Apprentices in the ſaid Occupation and Science of Drapers, or be, or ſhall be free of the ſaid Science or Myſtery, ſhall occupy, uſe, exerciſe or frequent the ſaid Trade, Art, Myſtery or Science of buying of the ſaid Welſh Cloth or Lining, Cottons, Frizes and Plains, nor having any Factor or doer for him or them in the ſame, nor by any colour, engine or fraud, by any Occupier of the ſaid Frizes, Cottons and Plains, (3) upon pain that every perſon and perſons, inhabiting as is aforeſaid, and occupying, uſing or exerciſing the ſaid Trade, Occupation or Science of buying of Welſh Cloth and Lining, and not authorized by this preſent Act, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every piece of the ſame Clothes ſo bought, Six ſhillings and eight pence.

He that occupieth the Trade of buying of Frizes, Cottons, &c. ſhall not exerciſe to Frize or Cotton.

IV. And over that, be it further enacted, That no perſon dwelling and inhabiting, as is aforeſaid, and uſing and occupying the ſaid Trade of buying of Frizes, Cottons or Plains, ſhall uſe or exerciſe the Faculty of Frizing or Cottoning, upon pain to incur ſuch like forfeitures for every offence, as is above mentioned: (2) The moiety of all ſuch pains and forfeitures above mentioned, ſhall be to our Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by Action, Bill or Plaint of Debt; wherein no Protection, Eſſoin, Injunction or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed and admitted.

A Proviſo for them that occupied before the Trade of buying of Welſh Cloth.

V. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this preſent Act, or any thing, ſentence or matter therein contained, ſhall not extend, or be in any wiſe prejudicial or hurtful to any ſuch perſon or perſons as have heretofore uſed, occupied, or frequented the ſaid Trade, Art, Myſtery or Science of buying or ſelling of Welſh Clothes or Linings aforeſaid, but that every ſuch perſon or perſons which hath or have uſed the ſaid Trade or Science as is aforeſaid, ſhall and may have and enjoy the like benefit, commodity and advantage, as well in buying and ſelling the ſaid Welſh Clothes and Linings as otherwiſe, in as large, free and ample manner and form, as if this Act had never been made.

Occupiers of the Trade of buying and ſelling Welſh Cloth, ſhall pay to their Sheermen ready money.

VI. And further, to the intent the ſaid poor Sheermen, Frizers and Cottoners, may be the better relieved and maintained, (2) Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons occupying and uſing, or which hereafter at any time ſhall occupy or uſe the ſaid Trade, Science or Art of buying and ſelling of Welſh Cloth and Linings aforeſaid, and ſhall from the Feaſt of Eaſter next enſuing, deliver any Welſh Cloth or Linings aforeſaid, to be cottoned, frized, dreſſed or wrough, to any Sheerman, Cottoner or Frizer, ſhall deliver, content and pay to the ſaid Sheerman, Cottoner or Frizer, ready and preſent money for all his ſaid work, without any colour, fraud or engine whatſoever, and ſhall not deliver any Ware or other thing whatſoever in contentation or ſatisfaction of his ſaid work, or any part thereof, (3) upon pain that every perſon offending in that behalf, ſhall forthwith loſe all ſuch Liberties, Freedoms and Privileges, which he hath or ſhall have, as one of the ſaid Company, Fraternity or Guild of the ſaid Art and Myſtery of Drapers; and alſo ſhall for ever after, be utterly diſabled and excluded to uſe, occupy or enjoy, by himſelf, or by any other for him, or to his uſe, the ſaid Trade, Art, Myſtery or Science of buying or ſelling of Welſh Clothes or Linings; This Act, or any other matter or thing whatſoever to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. VIII.

An Act for the Repeal of a Branch of a Statute made Anno 22 H. 8. touching the Stature of Horſes.

Horſes 3. The Statute of 3 . H. 8. 13. mentioning ſo much as the height of horſes feeding upon the mariſh grounds of the Counties of Huntington, Cambridge, Lincoln, &c. And of what height the horſes feeding there ſhall be.

WHere at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the two and thirtieth year of the Reign of the moſt victorious Prince of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, moſt dear Father unto the Queens moſt excellent Highneſs, our Sovereign Lady that now is, amongſt other things it was ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by the ſaid late King, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of the ſame Parliament aſſembled, for the increaſe and breed of greater and ſtronger Horſes from thence after to be had within this Realm of England, That no Commoner or Commoners within any Foreſt, Chaſe, Moor, Mariſh, Heath, Common, or waſte Ground, nor any Officer or Officers of or within any of the ſaid Foreſts or Chaſes, nor any other perſon or perſons whatſoever he or they be, at any time after the laſt day of March, which ſhould be in the year of our Lord God 1543 then next following the Seſſion of the ſame, ſhould have or put to paſture into or upon any ſuch Ground, Foreſt, Chaſe, Moor, Mariſh, Heath, Common or waſte Ground, any ſtoned Horſe or Horſes being above the age of two years, and not being of the altitude and height of fifteen handful, to be meaſured from the loweſt part of the Hoof, unto the higher part of the Wither, and every handful to contain four inches of the Standard, to paſture, feed, or to be nouriſhed in or upon any of the ſaid Foreſts, Chaſes, Commons, Moors, Mariſhes, Heaths or waſte Grounds within any of the ſaid Shires and Territories of Norfolk, Suffolk, Cambridge, Buckingham, Huntington, Eſſex, Kent, Southampton, Northwiltſhire, Oxford, Bark, Worceſter, Glouceſter, Somerſet, Northwales, Southwales, Bedford, Warwick, Northampton, Yorkſhire, Cheſhire, Stafford, the County of the City of York, the Town and Liberties of Glouceſter, the County of the Town of Kingſton upon Hull, the County Palatine of Lancaſter, the County of Salop, Leiceſter, Hereford and Lincoln, or within any of them, (2) nor ſhall put to feed or paſture, any ſtoned Horſe or Horſes, being above the ſaid age of two years, and not being in height of fourteen handful to be meaſured as is aboveſaid, within or upon any like Ground or Grounds, as hath been above written, lying or being within any other Shire of this Realm, neither yet any of them, (3) upon pain of forfeiture and loſs of the ſaid Horſe or Horſes which ſhall be found in or upon any ſuch Ground, Foreſt, Chaſe, Moor, Mariſh, Heath, Common or waſte Grounds, at any time after the ſaid laſt day of March, which was in the year of our Lord God 1543, contrary to the form of the ſaid late Eſtatute, and further, as by the ſaid Eſtatute more fully and at large may appear: (4) By reaſon whereof, and ſince which time, divers and ſundry great and manifold hurts, hindrances and loſſes have happened and chanced as well to the inhabitants of the Moors, Mariſhes and Fenn Grounds within the Iſle of Ely, ſituate, lying and being in the ſaid County of Cambridge, as alſo to the inhabitants of other the Moors, Mariſhes and Fenn Grounds within the ſaid Shire, together with the Counties of Huntington, Northampton, Lincoln, Norfolk and Suffolk, next adjoyning and bordering upon the ſame Iſle: For that the ſaid Moors, Mariſhes and Fenn Grounds, becauſe of the rottenneſs, unfirmneſs, moiſture and wateriſhneſs, were never able, ne yet are, to breed, bear, or bring forth ſuch great breed of ſtoned Horſes, of ſuch highneſs and high ſtature, as within the aforeſaid Statutes are expreſſed, without danger and peril of the miring, drowning and periſhing of the ſame. (5) Whereupon many Promoters, taking occaſion by reaſon of the aforeſaid Eſtatute, have as well entred into the ſaid Iſle, as alſo other the Moors, Mariſhes and Fenn Grounds, in all the Countrey next bordering and adjoyning unto the ſame, and taking away by virtue and purvey of the ſaid Eſtatute, from divers poor men, not being able otherwiſe to remedy the ſame, their Horſe not being comparable of like ſtature to the ſaid Eſtatute, as well to the great loſs and hindrance of all the breed of Horſes there, no man daring to put any ſuch forth on the ſaid Ground, for fear of ſuch perſons; as alſo to the utter ſubverſion and decay of all the Tillage and Carriage within the ſaid Iſle, and others the Countreys round about the ſame, in time to come:

The inconveniences which enſued to divers perſons by the Statute of 32 H. 8. 13.

A repeal of ſo much of the Statute of 32 H. 8 13 as doth concern certain Counties and places.

II. For reformation and redreſs whereof, be it further enacted by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That as much of the aforeſaid Eſtatute, made in the ſaid two and thirtieth year of King Henry the Eighth, or yet any part, branch or article, or any parcel thereof, touching or concerning any the Mariſhes and ſeggy Fenn Grounds within the ſaid Iſle, ſituate, lying and being in the ſaid County of Cambridge, together with all other the Mariſhes and ſeggy Fenn Grounds within the ſaid Shires of Cambridge, Huntington, Northampton, Lincoln, Norfolk. ſhall be from hence forth utterly repealed, fruſtrate, void and of none effect in the Law; Any thing in the ſaid former Act expreſſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Of what height horſes ſhall be, feeding upon the Commons in the Iſle of Ely, &c.

III. Nevertheleſs, be it ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons whatſoever he or they be, at any time after the laſt day of March next coming, ſhall have or put to paſture into or upon any Mariſh or ſeggy Fenn Ground within the ſaid Iſle of Ely, or into or upon any Mariſh or ſeggy Fenn Grounds within the ſaid Counties of Cambridge, Huntington, Northampton, Lincoln, Norfolk and Suffolk, or any of them, any ſtoned Horſe or Horſes, being above the age of two years, and not being of the altitude and height of thirteen handful, to be meaſured from the loweſt part of the Hoof of the Forefoot, unto the higher part of the Wither, and every handful to contain four inches of the Standard, to paſture, feed, or to be nouriſhed in or upon any the ſaid Mariſhes, or ſeggy Fenn Grounds within the ſaid Iſle, and within the ſaid Counties of Cambridge, Huntington, Northampton, Lincoln, Norfolk and Suffolk, or any of them, upon ſuch and the like pain, as by the ſaid former Act is limited and expreſſed.

CAP. IX.

An Act to repeal a Branch of the Statute made in the Twenty third year of King Henry the Eighth, touching the prices of Barrels and Kilderkins.

Coopers 1. So much of the Statute of 23 H. 8. 4. as concerneth the prices of Veſſels for Ale and Beer repealed, &c.

IN their moſt humble wiſe ſhewen unto the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, and unto the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and unto the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, the Coopers of the City of London, and of all other Cities and Towns within this Realm of England, That where in the Parliament holden by Prorogation at Weſtminſter the fifteenth day of January, in the three and twentieth year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, Father to our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Highneſs that now is, there was one Statute made and enacted, Entituled, An Act that no Brewers of Beer or Ale, ſhall make their Barrels, Kilderkins nor Firkins within them; and how much the ſame Barrels, Kilderkins and Firkins ſhall contain: (2) In which Statute, amongſt other things therein contained, It is enacted, That no Artificer of the Coopers ſhall inhaunce the prices of any ſuch Barrels, Kilderkins, Firkins, or other Veſſels, in the ſale of them to any Ale-brewer or Beer-brewer, or other perſon, as in the ſaid Act are mentioned, but ſhould keep the rates of ſuch prices, as in the ſame Act are expreſſed, and not above, (3) upon pain to forfeit for every Barrel, Kilderkin and Firkin defective or inhaunced in price, in any point contrary to the ſaid Act, Three ſhillings and four pence: That is to ſay, for every Beer-barrel, Nine pence, for every Beer-kilderkin, Five pence, for every Beer-firkin, Three pence, and the Ale-barrel, Sixteen pence, the Ale-kilderkin, Nine pence, and the Ale-firkin Five pence, as by the ſame Act amongſt divers other things therein contained, more fully and at large doth and may appear: (4) Since which time the Clove-board, and Stuff whereof the ſaid Veſſels and the Hoops thereof ſhould be made, are riſen and grown to ſuch exceſſive prices, that ſuch as do make the ſaid Veſſels, cannot make and ſell any ſuch Barrels Kilderkins, Firkins, or other veſſels, at the prices expreſſed in the ſaid Eſtatute, but to their great loſs and hindrance, whereby the Myſtery, Trade and Faculty of the ſaid Coopers is utterly overthrown, to the impoveriſhment and utter undoing of them, their Wives, Children and Families, as is moſt evident:

The difference between the old and new prices of Barrel-boards and Hoops.

II. Foraſmuch as at the time of the making the ſaid Eſtatute, the Coopers might have bought a thouſand of Barrel-boards for Twelve ſhillings, or thirteen ſhillings and four pence; and a thouſand of Kilderkin-boards for Nine ſhillings or Ten ſhillings, and a load of Hoops for Nine ſhillings or Ten ſhillings; and now a thouſand of Barrel-boards cannot be bought under Three and thirty ſhillings and four pence, and Fourty ſhillings; and a thouſand of Kilderkin-boards under Six and twenty ſhillings and eight pence, and a load of Hoops under Three and thirty ſhillings and four pence, and Fourty ſhillings, as is right well and notoriouſly known:

A repeal of ſo much of the Statute of 23 H. 8. 4. as toucheth the prices of Veſſels for Ale and Beer.

III. Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, The Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That as much of every Article, Clauſe and Sentence compriſed in the ſaid Eſtatute, made in the ſaid three and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, as doth touch and concern the prices of Barrels, Kilderkins, Firkins, and other Veſſels, and all and every pain and forfeiture expreſſed and declared in the ſaid Act, for ſelling of any of the ſaid kind of Veſſels above the prices before ſpecified, from the time of new prices to be ſet in form hereafter expreſſed, for ſuch places only as the ſame new prices ſhall be ſet, ſhall be clearly repealed, fruſtrate and made void.

Who ſhall rate the prices of Veſſels for Ale and Beer.

IV. And that from henceforth the prices of all Barrels, Kilderkins, Firkins, and other Veſſels to be ſold, for Ale, Beer or Sope to be uttered therein, ſhall be rated and taxed by Mayors, Bayliffs, and other Head-officer or Officers of every City and Town-corporate, where any ſuch veſſels ſhall be made, or offered to be ſold.

V. And where ſuch veſſels ſhall be made or ſold out of any City, Borough or Town-corporate, the prices thereof ſhall be rated and taxed by the Juſtices of the Peace, or the more part of them, being preſent in the general Quarter Seſſions, yearly next after Eaſter, at ſuch reaſonable prices as they ſhall think reaſonable by their diſcretions; The ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſaid three and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, or any other Law, Cuſtom or Uſage to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The forfeiture of Coopers not ſelling their Veſſels at the prices rated.

VI. And be it further enacted, That if the ſaid Coopers, or any of them, ſhall not make ſale according to ſuch prices as ſhall be rated as is aforeſaid, after Proclamation thereof made, that then every perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall for the ſame incur the pains and forfeitures mentioned in the ſaid Statute made the ſaid three and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King; That is to wit, for every Barrel, Kilderkin and Firkin which ſhall be ſold at greater price then ſhall be rated and taxed as is aforeſaid, the ſum of Three ſhillings and four pence, of lawfull money of England, whereof the one moiety to be to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame by action of Debt in any Court of Record, wherein no Protection, Eſſoin or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed or admitted.

CAP. X.

An Act for Bowyers.

Bows 4. The Statutes made in the Reigns of Ed. 4. H. 7 & H. 8. concerning ſo much as the prices of Bows repealed.

MOſt humbly complaining, ſheweth unto your Highneſs, and to your High Court of Parliament, your obedient Subjects, the Bowyers dwelling and inhabiting within the City of London, and the Suburbs of the ſame, That where in the Parliament of the late King of moſt famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the ſixteenth day of January, in the three and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, and there continued untill the firſt day of April then next following, there was one Act and Statute then made and provided, Entituled, An Act for the maintenance of Artillery, and debarring of unlawfull Games; (2) In which Act and Statute, amongſt other things, there is one branch contained and ſpecified, the tenour whereof is as hereafter followeth: That is to ſay, and to the intent that every perſon may have Bows of mean price, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Bowyer dwelling out of the City of London, ſhall after the Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady then next coming, for every Bow that he maketh of Yew, make three other Bows meet to ſhoot in, of Elm, Witchhaſel, Aſh, and other Wood apt for the ſame, under the pain to loſe and forfeit for every ſuch Bow ſo lacking, Three ſhillings and four pence. (3) And every Bowyer dwelling within the City and Suburbs of London, ſhall from and after the ſaid Feaſt of the Purification of our Lady then next coming, for every Bow of Yew, make two other Bows apt for ſhooting, of Aſh, Elm, Witchhaſel, or other Wood meet for the ſame, under the like pain and forfeiture, as by the ſaid Statute more plainly it doth and may appear: (4) And although the ſaid branch of the ſaid Statute be needful and expedient to remain and continue for ſuch Bowyers as do dwell and inhabit in the Countrey, and other places out of the City of London, and the Suburbs of the ſame; yet foraſmuch as there be very few or no Bows of Elm, Witchhaſel or Aſh, or any other Wood, then only of Yew, uſed or occupied by any perſon within the ſaid City and Suburbs of the ſame; therefore the ſaid branch of the ſaid Act and Statute before rehearſed, was not, ne is needful to be had and made for the Bowyers dwelling within the ſaid City and Suburbs.

And who may be Bowyers in London or the Suburbs thereof, &c.

II. And yet nevertheleſs your ſaid Subjects, for the avoiding of the danger and penalty contained in the ſaid branch, are daily inforced to make ſuch great number of Bows of Elm, Witchhaſel and Aſh, that they cannot in convenient time utter and ſell the ſame, but are conſtrained to keep ſuch Bows by them ſo made, until they be putrified, and not meet for any good uſe and purpoſe:

III. By reaſon whereof, much of the ſaid Wood of Elm, Witchhaſel and Aſh, is dayly waſted and conſumed in making of the ſaid Bows, and your ſaid Subjects, by ſuch loſſes as they dayly ſuſtain in making ſuch Bows, greatly impoveriſhed, and the Commonwealth thereby nothing advanced, but rather hindred.

IV. And where alſo the ſeveral Statutes of the noble King of famous memory, King Edward the Fourth, made in the two and twentieth year of his Reign, and in the third year of the Reign of King Henry the Seventh, Grandfather to our ſaid Soverign Lady, the Queens Majeſty, and in the ſaid xxxiii. year of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, Father to our ſaid Sovereign Lady, there is mention made of the prices of Bows, which at thoſe ſeveral times was appointed to be but Three ſhillings and four pence, and not above, to ſell the beſt;

22 Ed. 4. 6.
3 H. 7. 13.
23 H. 8. 9.

V. At which ſaid times ſuch Bows might well have been ſo ſold to any perſon or perſons, according to the rates and prices expreſſed in the ſaid ſeveral Acts, until now, within this twenty years, the prices of Bow-ſtaves have diverſly been raiſed and enhaunced from Five pounds a hundred, to Twelve pounds, or thereabouts; for which cauſes the prices contained in the ſaid ſeveral ſtatutes, cannot be obſerved; and yet your Majeſties ſaid Subjects, the Bowyers, are preſently in danger of the ſaid ſeveral Statutes concerning the prices of Bows, which they humbly beſeech your Majeſty, with the aſſent of your High Court of Parliament; may be releaſed unto them, and the penalties appointed for the ſame.

VI. Be it therefore enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the Queens Majeſty our Sovereign Lady, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Eſtatutes of King Edward the Fourth, and King Henry the Seventh, concerning the prices of Bows, and all the branches contained in the ſaid Statute of King Henry the Eighth, ſo far forth as the ſame extendeth to the prices of Bows, therein expreſſed only, from the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, and ſo for ever, be thereby clearly repealed, and made void and fruſtrate, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, (2) and alſo all and every clauſe and ſentence of the ſaid Statute of King Henry the Eighth before recited, tending to the making of Bows of Elm, Witchhaſel, Aſh, and other Wood, beſides Yew before rehearſed, or any penalty therein contained, for any the laſt rehearſed premiſſes, from henceforth for ever, ſhall not be intended, conſtrued or taken to extend to any Bowyer now dwelling or inhabiting, or which hereafter ſhall happen to dwell or inhabit within the Cities of London and Weſtminſter, or the Suburbs of any of them, or in the Borough of Southwark in the County of Surrey; The ſaid Statutes, or any thing in them, or any of them contained in any wiſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A repeal of ſo much of the Statutes of 24 Ed. 4. 4. 3 H. 7. 13. & 33 H. 8. 9. as do concern the prices of Bows, and the making of Bows of Elm, &c. in London, &c.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every the ſaid Bowyers within the ſaid Cities and Suburbs of London and Weſtminſter, and Borough of Southwark, ſhall from henceforth from time to time, and all times hereafter, provide and have in his or their cuſtody, the number of fifty good and able Bows of Elm, Witchhaſel or Aſh, at the leaſt, well and ſubſtantially made and wrought, (2) upon pain that every of the ſaid Bowyers, which by the ſpace of twenty days, ſhall not have in his cuſtody ſuch number of the ſaid Bows of Witchhaſel, Elm or Aſh ready made, and meet to be ſold and uſed, as aforeſaid, ſhall hereafter for every Bow lacking of the number aforeſaid, forfeit Ten ſhillings; the one moiety of which forfeiture ſhall be to our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and the other moiety thereof ſhall be to him or them uſing the Art of an Armourer, Fletcher or maker of Bow-ſtrings that will ſue for the ſame, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or otherwiſe, in any Court of Record; in which Action and Suit, no Protection or Wager of Law ſhall in any wiſe be admitted or allowed for the Defendant.

A Bowyer dwelling in London or the Suburbs, ſhall have fifty Bows of Elm, &c.

VIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Bowyer, after the firſt day of May next coming, do ſell any Bows meet for mens ſhooting, being outlandiſh Yew, and of the beſt ſort, over and above the price of Six ſhillings and eight pence; (2) or do ſell any Bows meet for mens ſhooting, being of the ſecond ſort, over and above the price of Three ſhillings and four pence; (3) or ſhall ſell any Bows for men, as is aforeſaid, being of the courſer ſort, called Livery Bows, for and above the price of Two ſhillings apiece; or that ſhall after the ſaid firſt day of May, ſell any Bows being Engliſh Yew, over and above the

The ſeveral prices of ſeveral ſorts of Bows.

the price of two ſhillings the piece; (5) That then the Seller or Sellers of ſuch Bows, ſhall forfeit for every Bow ſo ſold over and above the price aforeſaid, Fourty ſhillings, the one moiety thereof to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to the party uſing the Art of an Armourer, Fletcher, or maker of Bow ſtrings, that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or otherwiſe, wherein no Wager of Law, Eſſoin or Protection ſhall be admitted or allowed; Any thing in this Act, or in any other Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. (6) This Act to continue untill the laſt day of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XI.

An Act for uttering of Caps, and for the true making of Hats and Caps.

Hats 1. Corporations 18. Who may make Hats and Caps, and how they ſhall be made.

Where great multitudes of the Queens Majeſties true Subjects, uſing the Art of making woollen Caps, are impoveriſhed and decayed by the exceſſive uſe of Hats and Felts, and thereby divers good Cities and Towns brought to deſolation, great plenty of ſtrange Commodities, without neceſſity conſumed, and great numbers of people enforced to depend upon the having of Foreign Wools, to the diſcommodity of this Realm, the diſfurniture of ſervice to be done to the Queens Majeſty, and greater evident dangers, if remedy be not provided.

None ſhall work Hats with foreign wool, but which hath been Apprentice to the myſtery of Hat-making.

II. It may therefore pleaſe the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, at the lamentable ſuit and complaint of her ſaid poor Subjects, That it be enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon, by him or herſelf, or by any other, ſhall after the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next coming, make or work any Felt or Hat, of or with any Foreign Wooll or Stuff, unleſs ſuch perſon ſhall firſt have been Apprentice or Covenant-ſervant to ſuch Myſtery of Felt or Hat-making, by the ſpace of ſeven years at the leaſt, upon pain to forfeit for all ſuch Hats or Felts as he ſhall make, or cauſe to be made while he worketh contrary to the form of this Act, and Five pounds in money for every month that he ſhall ſo continue.

Caps of Felt, or of woollen Cloth not knit.

III. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from the firſt day of April next coming, no perſon whatſoever ſhall make, ſell, or cauſe to be made or ſold, any Cap or other thing of Felt, but only Hats, (2) nor ſhall make, ſell, or cauſe to be made or ſold, any Cap of any woollen Cloth not knit. (3) And that no perſon, after the ſaid firſt day of April, ſhall dye, or cauſe to be dyed black, any Cap, with Bark or Swarf, but only with Copperas and Gall, or with Woad and Madder.

Dying of Caps

Thicking or fulling of Caps

IV. And (for the ſetting of many poor and impotent perſons to work, and for the better making of Caps) that no perſon, after the ſaid firſt day of April, ſhall thick or full in any Mill, or cauſe to be thicked or fulled in any Mill, any Cap, until ſuch time as the ſame Cap be firſt well ſcoured and cloſed upon the Bank, and half thicked at leaſt in the Footſtock.

Who only may wear a Hat or upper Cap of Velvet. Rep. 1 Jac. 25.

Who ſhall have the forfeiture. An. 1 Jac. 17.

V. And that no man under the degree of a Knight, or of a Lords Son, ſhall after the ſaid firſt day of April, wear any Hat or upper Cap of Velvet, or covered with Velvet, (2) on pain to forfeit for every Hat, Cap, or other thing to be made, dyed, thicked, fulled, ſold or worn contrary to the meaning of this Act, Ten ſhillings, whereof the one moiety ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moiety to ſuch perſon then uſing the Feat of Cap-making, as will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection, or Wager of Law for the Defendant, ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Who may ſearch and reform Cappers and Hatters.

VI. And for the better and truer making of Caps or Hats within this Realm, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful to the Maſter and Wardens of the Company of Haberdaſhers within the City of London, and to their Succeſſors for the time being, calling to them one of the Company of Cappers, and another of the makers of Hats, as often as need ſhall require, within the ſaid City, or within three miles of the ſame, to ſearch all and all manner of Cappers and makers of Hats, and the offendors and defaults by them found, to correct and puniſh by Fines, and otherwiſe, as in like caſes they do other offendors, and defaults within the ſaid Company: (2) And that it ſhall be lawful for all Mayors, Bayliffs, and other Head-officers in all other Cities and Towns corporate, to do the like.

Who may be Hat-maker, though he hath not been an Apprentice.

VII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Hat-maker, that now is a maker or worker of Hats, and being a Houſholder, Apprentice, Covenant-ſervant, or Journeyman, ſhall or may, during ſuch perſons natural life, continue making of Hats and Felts, albeit ſuch perſon were not bounden Apprentice to the ſame Art for the ſpace of ſeven years.

How many Apprentices Hat-makers may take.

VIII And be it enacted, That no maker or worker of Hats, ſhall take or receive any Apprentices contrary to the true meaning of this Act; that is to ſay, above two Apprentices at one time, nor thoſe for any leſs time then ſeven years at the leaſt, on pain to ſuffer for every Apprentice to be taken or received againſt the form of this Act, one months impriſonment in the Common Goal, without bail or mainpriſe: (2) And that every taking or receiving of an Apprentice contrary to this Act, ſhall be void; (3) and alſo ſuch perſon ſo taking or receiving, ſhall be from thenceforth diſabled to have any more Apprentices then one at one time.

A Hat-maker may uſe his own Child.

IX. Provided alway, That nothing in this Act ſhall extend to charge any perſon allowed to be Felt-maker or Hat-maker, with any pain or forfeiture, for ſetting or uſing his or their own Children to the making or working of Felts or Hats in his or their own Houſes. Provided that this Act ſhall not extend to any making of Hats with Worſted Yarn, in the City of Norwich. 1 Jac. 17.

CAP. XII.

An Act for the Aulnegers Fees in Lancaſter, and for length, breadth and weight of Cottons, Frizes and Rugs.

Drapery 3. & 95., &c.

Foraſmuch as divers Clothiers inhabiting within the County Palatine of Lancaſter, ſeeking inordinately their own ſingular gains, have of late practiſed privily, to convey and carry away out of the ſaid County divers Cottons, Frizes and Rugs there made to be ſold, before ſuch time as the Queens Aulneger of the ſaid County, hath fixed unto every ſuch Cloth the Queens Seal in that behalf appointed, and ſometime counterfeiting and ſetting to ſuch their Clothes, Seals of their own, (2) minding thereby, not only to defraud the ſaid Aulneger of his accuſtomable Fees, due to be paid to the Queens Highneſs uſe, for the ſealing of every ſuch Cloth, Cotton, Frize or Rug; but alſo to cover and hide the untrue and deceitful making of many of the ſaid Clothes, contrary to the true meaning of ſundry good and wholſom Eſtatutes and Laws heretofore made, as well for the true making of the Clothes beforeſaid, as alſo for the ſearching, trying and ſealing of the ſame, (3) to the no little prejudice and damage of the ſaid Aulneger, who ſtandeth charged with the payment of a great annual Farm to the Queens Majeſty for the ſaid Aulnege in deceit of her Highneſs Subjects, and diſcredit of the commodity of the ſaid Clothes:

No cloth ſhall be ſold before the party and Aulneger have ſet to their Seals.

II. For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons, from and after the firſt day of April next coming, ſhall ſell or put to ſale within the ſaid County, or convey or carry or cauſe to be conveyed and carried out of the ſaid County of Lancaſter, any kind of Clothes, Cottons, Frizes or Rugs hereafter to be made within the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, to be ſold, before ſuch time that the Owner or Maker of every ſuch Cloth, Cotton, Frize or Rug, ſhall fix and put to, or cauſe to be fixed or put to every ſuch Cloth, Frize, Cotton or Rug, one Seal of Lead, having the Mark of every ſuch Owner or Clothier engraved on the one ſide thereof, and the true length of every ſuch Cloth, Frize, Cotton, or Rug, as it is found being wet, to be engraved on the other ſide of the ſaid Seal: (2) And alſo the Queens Highneſs Aulneger of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, upon trial of the weight of every ſuch Cotton, Frize and Rug, ſhall fix and put, or cauſe to be fixed and put to every ſuch Cotton, Frize or Rug, the Queens Highneſs Seal of Lead, having the Portcullis crowned, engraved on the one ſide thereof, and the true weight of every ſuch Cotton, Frize or Rug, to be engraved on the other ſide of the ſame Seal, (3) upon pain and forfeiture of all and every ſuch Clothes, Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, conveyed, carried, ſent, ſold and put to ſale, or to the intent to be ſold, being unſealed, contrary to the meaning of this preſent Act: the one moiety thereof to be to the uſe of the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to ſuch perſon or perſons that ſhall ſeiſe the ſame Cloth, Cotton, Frize or Rug, or will ſue for the ſame, to be recovered in any of the Queens Highneſs Courts of Record, by Bill, Plaint, Information or otherwiſe; wherein no Eſſoin, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed for the Defendant.

Certain Towns in the County of Lancaſter wherein the Aulneger ſhall have his Deputies.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Aulneger, after the ſaid firſt day of April, ſhall appoint and have his lawful Deputy within every of the ſeveral Towns of Mancheſter, Rachdale, Bolton, Blackborn and Bery, in the ſaid County where the ſaid Aulneger hath been accuſtomed to have his Deputy heretofore, (2) there to be ready upon lawful requeſt unto him made, without Delay, to weigh every of the ſaid Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, as ſhall be brought unto every ſuch Deputy, and ſealed with the Seal of the Owner or Maker of every of the ſame Clothes, in form aforeſaid, (3) and to fix and ſet to every of the ſaid Clothes, Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, the Queens Highneſs Seal beforeſaid, to be engraven in manner and form before mentioned, (4) upon pain of forfeiture of Twenty ſhillings for every Pack of Cottons, Frizes or Rugs ſealed by the ſaid Aulneger, or any of his ſaid Deputies, before the ſame be weighed in form aforeſaid: The one moiety whereof to be to the uſe of the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety thereof to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, by Bill, Plaint, Information, Action of Debt, or otherwiſe; wherein no Wager of Law, Protection or Eſſoin ſhall be allowed.

How much the Aulneger may take for ſealing of Clothes.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Aulneger or his Deputy, to have and take of the Owner or Maker of every of the ſaid Clothes, Cottons, Frizes or Rugs, for the weighing and ſealing of every Pack of the ſaid Clothes, Cottons, Frizes or Rugs, iii. d. (2) and for every piece of ſuch courſe Clothes, Cottons, Frizes and Rugs not amounting to a whole Pack, one Halfpeny, (3) and the ſame to be paid by the Owner or Bringer of the ſaid Clothes, at the weighing or ſealing of the ſame; Any Cuſtom, Uſe or Preſcription to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

V. And forasmuch as ſuch perſons as commonly do uſe to utter and ſell the ſaid ſeveral kinds of Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, have been, and are daily moleſted, vexed and troubled, to their great loſs and hinderance, by means of the cruelty of Informers and Searchers, ſeeking continually their own private gain, by finding of the ſaid Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, at no time made according to ſuch form of weight, lengths and breadths, as by the former Statutes of this Realm lately made for the true making of woollen Cloth, is limited and appointed; (2) And for that the ſame perſons do alledge, That the makers of the ſaid Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, can by no means be reduced to obſerve the ſaid weights, lengths and breadths, in making of the ſaid Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, according to the form of the ſaid former Eſtatutes, without the utter undoing of great numbers of poor people, that are commonly the makers of ſuch kind of Clothes; and that by means hereof, the ſaid Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, ſithence the making of the ſaid Eſtatutes, hath been, and are more ſcarce and dearer then they were before the making of the ſaid Eſtatutes, and in nothing at all amended in ſubſtance or form of making:

The weight, length, and breadth of Cottons.

VI. For reformation thereof, Be it enacted, That from and after the firſt day of April next coming, every of the ſaid Cottons being ſufficiently milled or thicked, clean ſcoured, well wrought, and fully dried, ſhall weigh xxi. pound at the leaſt, and ſhall contain in length xxi. goads, or xx. goads at the leaſt, and in breadth at the moſt, three quarters of the yard, or within one nail of three quarters of the yard at the leaſt: (2) And that every of the ſaid Frizes or Rugs being thicked and fully dried, ſhall weigh xliv. pound at the leaſt, and ſhall contain in length, betwixt xxxv. yards, and xxxvii. yards, and ſhall contain in breadth at the moſt three quarters of the yard, or within one nail of three quarters at the leaſt, and not to be ſtrained upon the Tentors above one nail in breadth: (3) And alſo if any of the ſaid Cottons, Frizes or Rugs, ſhall be of any greater length then is before ſeverally expreſſed, that then every goad or yard ſo exceeding the ſaid ſeveral lengths, ſhall weigh after ſuch rate, as every goad or yard of ſuch Cottons, Frizes or Rugs, containing the ſaid ſeveral lengths, ſhall or ought to weigh, (4) upon pain of forfeiture for every goad or yard not weighing after ſuch rate, xii. d.

VII. And alſo if any of the ſaid Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, ſhall be of any leſs weight then is before ſeverally limited and appointed, that then all and every ſuch perſon and perſons that ſhall ſo ſell, or cauſe to be ſold any ſuch Cotton, Frize or Rug, ſhall forfeit for every pound lacking under iii. li. xii. d. (2) and for every pound weight lacking above iii. li. v. s. (3) The one half of which forfeitures ſhall be to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half thereof to ſuch perſon or perſons that ſhall ſue for the ſame, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, in any of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant.

All Acts made for the ſealing and making of Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, ſhall be void. 34 H. 8. 11.

VIII. And further, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every branch, clauſe, ſentence and article, ſpecified and contained in any other Acts of Parliament before this time made, concerning the ſealing and making of the ſaid Cottons, Frizes and Rugs, ſhall be from henceforth utterly repealed, void, and of none effect; Any thing in the ſaid Acts contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Liberties of Towns-corporate in Lancaſhire, ſaved.

IX. Provided always, That this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to be prejudicial or hurtful unto any Charter, or Liberty of any Borough or Corporate Town within the ſaid County Palatine of Lancaſter, concerning the making and putting to ſale of any woollen Cloth; Any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XIII.

Mariners, Raſt. 2. Co. Inſt. 4 part, 49.

The Maſter, Wardens, and Aſſiſtants of the Trinity Houſe at Deptford Strond, may at their coſts from time to time, erect ſuch and ſo many Beacons, Marks and Signs for the Sea, in ſuch places of the Sea-ſhores, and Uplands near to the Sea-coaſts, only for the Sea-marks, as to them ſhall ſeem requiſite: And the ſame ſhall be continued, and renewed at their coſts. PR.

CAP. XIV.

An Act touching the tranſporting of Tawed Leather, made of Sheep-skins and Lamb-skins.

Marchants, Raſt. 49.

5 Eliz. 22.

FOraſmuch as in one Act made in the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, Intituled, An Act againſt the carrying of Sheepskins and Pelts over the Sea, not being Staple-ware, there is contained one Branch againſt the making of any Pelts by any perſon, other then ſuch as are permitted to make the ſame by the ſaid Statute: (2) The execution of which branch hath been put in ſuſpence, by reaſon that ſome other parts of the ſame Statute are ſuppoſed to be againſt the entercourſe of the Low-Countries of the King of Spain:

A repeal of ſo much only of the Stat. of 5 El. 22. as touching the tranſporting of tawed Leather of Sheep-ſkins and Lamb-ſkins.

II. Be it therefore declared and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid firſt branch of the ſaid Statute, being not againſt the ſaid entercourſe, ſhall from henceforth be put in due execution: (2) And foraſmuch as great multitudes of the Queens Majeſties Liege People have been ſet on work, by converting of Sheeps-skins and Lamb-skins into tawed Leather and Parchment, here within this Realm, which by one other branch of the ſaid Statute is prohibited to be tranſported out of the Realm in Leather: (3) And where the converting of ſuch Skins into Leather and Parchment, hath been great maintainance of many thouſands of the Subjects of this Realm, and greater daily will be, to the great benefit of this Realm, if the ſaid firſt branch concerning making of Pelts, ſhould be duly put in execution, where otherwiſe, if the ſaid Pelts ſhould be tranſported into other Realms, the ſame would be an occaſion of the impoveriſhing of many of the natural Engliſh people of this Realm: (4) Be it therefore enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſo much of the ſaid Statute as concerneth the tranſporting of tawed Leather to be made of Sheep-skins and Lamb-skins, ſhall from henceforth, as touching only the tranſporting of ſuch tawed Leather, be repealed and void; Any thing in the ſaid Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding. St. 14 Car. 2. cap. 7.

CAP. XV.

Crows, Raſt. 2. 14 Eliz. 11. 2 Bulſt. 60.

The Branch only of the Statute of 24 H. 8. 10. ſhall be revived, which concerneth the proviſion, uſe, and maintenance of Nets and Shrops for the deſtruction of Crows, &c. And all the reſt of that Statute ſhall be repealed. Several Rewards aſſigned for the taking and bringing of the Heads and Eggs of divers ravenous Birds and Vermine. EXP.

CAP. XVI.

An Act that in divers Counties there ſhall be but one Sheriff of one County.

Sheriffs, 29.

The Sheriffwick of ſeveral Counties divided into two Sheriffs which before had but one.

The reaſons for both.

WHereas the Counties and Shires of Surry and Suſſex, Eſſex and Hertford, Somerſet and Dorſet, Warwick and Leiceſter, Nottingham and Derby, Oxon and Berks, of long time have had but one Sheriff to ſerve for two of the ſaid Counties; that is to ſay, one for Surry and Suſſex, and one other for Eſſex and Hertford, and one other for Somerſet and Dorſet, and one other for Warwick and Leiceſter, and one other for Nottingham and Derby, and one other for Oxon and Berks: (2) The occaſion whereof, in the beginning (as it ſhould ſeem) was, for that every of the ſaid ſeveral Counties were not then ſo well inhabited with Gentlemen of good ability to ſerve in the ſaid Office, as (thanks be to God) they be at this preſent: (3) And foraſmuch as the Service and Charges of that Office of Sheriffwick of the ſaid Counties, is more then in times paſt it hath been, and is now commonly greater then one Sheriff is able to ſerve and ſupply; therefore ſuch Gentlemen as do dwell in the ſaid ſeveral Counties, are very deſirous to have for every of the ſaid Counties one Sheriff to be yearly made and appointed for the ſame: (4) And for that the having of ſeveral Sheriffs accordingly, cannot be hurtful to any, but thereby may grow ſome eaſe of charges and trouble to ſuch as ſhall hereafter after be appointed to ſuch Office, and alſo the ſaid Office better ſerved and executed, then heretofore hath been:

II. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Kings or Queens of this Realm, ſhall and may from and after the firſt day of November, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, One thouſand five hundred threeſcore and ſeven, yearly chuſe and make for every of the ſaid Counties before named, one ſufficient and able perſon to be Sheriff of the ſame, in ſuch like manner and form as is and hath been uſed to be choſen, made, and done for any other County or Shire within this Realm; any Law, Cuſtom or Uſage heretofore had or uſed to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding: (2) And that every perſon which after the ſaid firſt day of November, ſhall be made and appointed Sheriff for any of the ſaid Counties, ſhall be accomptable and uſed in the order of his Account, and all other things and allowance to him to be made in the Court of Exchequer, and all other Courts and Places, in ſuch manner and form as is commonly uſed for Sheriffs in like caſes.

There ſhall be one Sheriff of every the Counties aforeſaid.

III. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Barons of the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, of the Court of Exchequer, for the time being, calling unto them as well her or their Graces Officers of Remembrancer, and the Treaſurers Remembrancer, together with the Clerk of the Pipe of the ſame Court, as alſo the ſeveral Sheriffs, the which next after the ſaid firſt day of November, ſhall be by her Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, conſtituted, named and appointed of every the ſaid ſeveral Counties of Surry and Suſſex, Eſſex and Hertford, Somerſet and Dorſet, Warwick and Leiceſter, Nottingham and Derby, Oxon and Barks, ſhall have by virtue of this Act of Parliament, full power and authority, to ſever and divide by the diſcretion and judgment of the ſaid Barons, all and ſingular the Proffers of the ſaid Counties of Surry and Suſſex, Eſſex and Hertford, Somerſet and Dorſet, Warwick and Leiceſter, Nottingham and Derby, Oxon and Barks. (2) The which ſaid ſeverance and diviſion of the ſaid Proffers, ſhall be entred of Record in the ſaid Court of Exchequer, and ſhall be final and perpetual, during ſo long time as this preſent Act of Parliament ſhall endure and have continuance.

The ſeverance of the proffers of the aforeſaid Sheriffwicks divided.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in ſuch and the ſame manner and form as the ſaid Proffers ſhall be divided, even ſo the tail of reward of every of the aforeſaid Countries, where any tail of reward hereafter ſhall be taken, ſhall be ſevered and divided in manner and form aforeſaid.

The tail of reward ſhall be ſevered.

V. And be it likewiſe further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Barons for the time being, of the Queens Highneſs ſaid Court of Exchequer, and of her Heirs and Succeſſors, calling unto them the ſaid Officers of the Treaſurers Remembrancer, and the Clerk of the Pipe, ſhall have full power and authority from time to time, to take order and appointment for the true and ſpeedy payment and contentation of ſuch Creation Money, Fees and Annuities, and all other ſums of money as have been accuſtomed to have been paid, or of right ought to have been paid to any perſon or perſons, by the hands of the ſaid ſeveral Sheriffs: (2) And that ſuch order, direction, and appointment ſo made, had, and taken by the ſaid Barons, in manner and form laſt before recited, ſhall be obſerved, performed, fulfilled and kept yearly, as well by both the Sheriffs of the ſaid ſeveral Counties of Surry and Suſſex, for the time being, as by the ſaid ſeveral Sheriffs for the time being of the ſaid Counties of Eſſex and Hertford, and Somerſet, and Dorſet, and of Warwick and Leiceſter, and of Nottingham and Derby, and of Oxon and Barks; Any Uſage, Law or Cuſtom to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Order for the payment of Creation money, Fees, and other money accuſtomed to be paid.

VI. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Sheriff hereafter to be choſen and made of any one of the ſaid Counties in this Act mentioned, ſhall pay in any Court of Record for any duty belonging properly to the Office of Sheriff, any other fees or charges, then only the one half of the charges and fees which he ſhould be compelled to have paid, if he had been Sheriff of two of the ſaid Shires and Counties, as before the making of this Act was uſed; any Law, Uſage, or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

But half the charges ſhall be paid by Sheriffwicks divided in any Court of Record.

VII. This Act to continue and endure unto the end of three whole years, to be accounted from the Feaſt of All Saints, in the year of our Lord God, A thouſand five hundred threeſcore and ſeven, and from thence to the end of the next Parliament then next following the end of the ſaid three years. 13 El. made perpetual, ſaving for the Sheriffs of Suſſex and Surry.

CAP. II.

An Act againſt the bringing in, and putting in execution of Bulls, Writings, or Inſtruments and other Superſtitious things from the See of Rome.

Rome 2. A rehearſal of the Statute of 5 El. 1. touching the aboliſhing of the authority of the Biſhop and See of Rome.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the fifth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, by one Act and Statute then and there made, Entituled, An Act for the aſſurance of the Queens Majeſties Royal Power over all States and Subjects within her Highneſs Dominions, it is among other things very well ordained and provided, for the aboliſhing of the uſurped Power and Juriſdiction of the Biſhop of Rome, and of the See of Rome, heretofore unlawfully claimed and uſurped within this Realm, and other the Dominions to the Queens Majeſty belonging, That no perſon or perſons ſhall hold or ſtand with, to ſet forth, maintain, defend or extoll the ſame uſurped power, or attribute any manner of juriſdiction, authority or preheminence to the ſame to be had or uſed within this Realm, or any the ſaid Dominions, upon pain to incur the danger, penalties and forfeitures ordained and provided by the Statute of Proviſion and Præmunire, made in the ſixteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the Second, as by the ſame Act more at large it doth and may appear: (2) And yet nevertheleſs, divers ſeditious and very evil diſpoſed people, without the reſpect of their Duty to Almighty GOD, or of the Faith and Allegiance which they ought to bear and have to our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, and without all fear and regard had to the ſaid good Law and Statute, or the pains therein limited, but minding as it ſhould ſeem, very ſeditiouſly and unnaturally, not only to bring this Realm, and the Imperial Crown thereof (being in very deed of it ſelf moſt free) into the thraldom and ſubjection of that foreign, uſurped, and unlawful juriſdiction, preheminence and authority claimed by the See of Rome, (3) but alſo to eſtrange and alienate the minds and hearts of ſundry her Majeſties Subjects from their dutiful obedience, and to raiſe and ſtir ſedition and rebellion within this Realm, to the diſturbance of the moſt happy peace thereof, (4) have lately procured and obtained to themſelves from the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, and his ſaid See, divers Bulls and Writings, the effect whereof hath been, and is, to abſolve and reconcile all thoſe that will be contented to forſake their due obedience to our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and to yield and ſubject themſelves to the ſaid feigned, unlawful and uſurped authority; (5) and by colour of the ſaid Bulls and Writings, the ſaid wicked perſons very ſecretly, and moſt ſeditiouſly, in ſuch parts of this Realm where the people for want of good inſtruction are moſt weak, ſimple and ignorant, and thereby fartheſt from the good underſtanding of their Duties toward GOD and the Queens Majeſty, have by their lewd and ſubtil practiſes and perſwaſions, ſo far forth wrought, that ſundry ſimple and ignorant perſons have been contented to be reconciled to the ſaid uſurped authority of the See of Rome, and to take abſolution at the hands of the ſaid naughty and ſubtil practiſers, (6) whereby hath grown great diſobedience and boldneſs in many, not only to withdraw and abſent themſelves from all divine Service, now moſt godly ſet forth and uſed within this Realm, but alſo have thought themſelves diſcharged of, and from all Obedience, Duty and Allegiance to her Majeſty, whereby moſt wicked and unnatural rebellion hath enſued, and to the further danger of this Realm is hereafter very like to be renewed, if the ungodly and wicked attempts in that behalf be not by ſeverity of Laws reſtrained and bridled:

16 R. 2. 5.

The effect of Bulls brought from Rome.

Putting in ure any Bull of abſolution or reconciliation from the Biſhop of Rome.

II. For remedy and redreſs whereof, and to prevent the great miſchiefs and inconveniences that thereby may enſue, Be it Enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, after the firſt day of July next coming, ſhall uſe, or put in ure in any place within this Realm, or in any the Queens Dominions, any ſuch Bill, Writing, or Inſtrument written or printed, of abſolution or reconciliation, at any time heretofore obtained and gotten, or at any time hereafter to be obtained or gotten from the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, or any his Succeſſors, or from any other perſon or perſons authorized, or claiming authority by or from the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, his Predeceſſors or Succeſſors, or See of Rome; (2) Or if any perſon or perſons after the ſaid firſt day of July, ſhall take upon him or them by colour of any ſuch Bull, Writing, Inſtrument, or Authority, to abſolve or reconcile any perſon or perſons; Or to grant or promiſe to any perſon or perſons within this Realm, or any other the Queens Majeſties Dominions, any ſuch abſolution or reconciliation, by any ſpeech, preaching, teaching, writing, or any other open deed: (3) Or if any perſons within this Realm, or any the Queens Dominions, after the ſaid firſt day of July, ſhall willingly receive and take any ſuch abſolution or reconciliation:

Apprehending an offendor, or diſcloſing his name.

VIII. Provided nevertheleſs, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon to whom any ſuch Agnus Dei, or other the things aforeſaid, ſhall be tendred and offered to be delivered, ſhall apprehend the party ſo offering the ſame, and bring him to the next Juſtice of Peace of that Shire where ſuch tender ſhall be made, if he ſhall be of power, and able ſo to do; or for lack of ſuch ability, ſhall within the ſpace of three days next after ſuch offer made as is aforeſaid, diſcloſe the name and names of ſuch perſon or perſons as ſo ſhall make the ſame offer, and the dwelling place, or place of reſort of the ſame perſon or perſons (which he ſhall endeavour himſelf to know by all the ways and means he can) to the Ordinary of that Dioceſs, or to any Juſtice of Peace of that Shire were ſuch perſon or perſons to whom ſuch offer ſhall be made as is aforeſaid, ſhall be reſiant: (2) and alſo if ſuch perſon or perſons to whom ſuch offer ſhall be made, ſhall happen to receive any ſuch Agnus Dei, or other thing above remembred, and ſhall within the ſpace of one day next after ſuch receit, deliver the ſame to any Juſtice of Peace within the ſame Shire where the party ſo receiving ſhall be then reſiant, or ſhall happen to be: (3) that then every ſuch perſon or perſons doing any the acts or things in this proviſion above mentioned, in form above declared, ſhall not by force of this Statute incur any danger or penalty appointed by this Statute, or any other pain or penalty; this Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Delivering an Agnus Dei received to the Ordinary, or a Juſtice of Peace.

A pardon to them that ſhall bring in to be cancelled thoſe bulls which before they received.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons which at any time ſince the beginning of the firſt year of the Queens Majeſties Reign that now is, have brought or cauſe to be brought into this Realm any ſuch bulls, writings, or inſtruments of reconciliation only as are above mentioned, and now have any of the ſame bulls, Writings, or inſtruments in his or their hands or cuſtody, and ſhall and do within the ſpace of three months next after the end of any Seſſion, or diſſolution of this preſent Parliament, bring and deliver all ſuch bulls, writings and inſtruments which they or any of them now have in his or their cuſtody, to the Biſhop of the Dioceſs where ſuch abſolution hath been given and received, to the intent that the ſame bulls, writings or inſtruments may be cancelled and defaced, and ſhall openly and publickly before ſuch Biſhop, confeſs and acknowledge his or their offence therein, and humbly deſire to be received, reſtored and admitted to the Church of England, ſhall ſtand and be clearly pardoned and diſcharged of all and every offence and offences done or committed in any matter or cauſe concerning any of the ſaid bulls, writings or inſtruments, for or touching ſuch abſolution or reconciliation only. (2) And that all and every perſon or perſons which have received or taken any abſolution from the ſaid Biſhop of Rome, or his ſaid See of Rome, of any reconciliation unto the ſaid Biſhop or to the ſaid See of Rome, ſithence the ſaid firſt year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lady

A pardon of all thoſe that have been reconciled to the Biſhop of the Queen, and ſhall within the ſaid ſpace of three months next after any Seſſion, or diſſolution of this preſent Parliament, come before the Biſhop of the Dioceſs of ſuch place where ſuch abſolution or reconciliation was had or made, and ſhall publickly and openly before the ſame Biſhop, confeſs and acknowledge his or their offence therein, and humbly deſire to be received, reſtored, and admitted to the Church of England, ſhall likewiſe ſtand and be clearly pardoned and diſcharged of all and every offence and offences done or committed in any matter or cauſe concerning the ſaid Bulls, Writings or Inſtructions, for or touching only receiving of ſuch abſolution or reconciliation, and for and concerning all abſolution or reconciliation had or received by colour of any the ſaid Bulls, Writings or Inſtruments only.

Rome, and do confeſs it, and ſubmit themſelves.

The penalty of a Juſtice of Peace, not diſcloſing an offence declared unto him.

X. Provided alſo and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Juſtice of Peace, to whom any matter of offence before mentioned, ſhall be uttered, ſhewed or declared as is aforeſaid, do not within the ſpace of xiv. days next after it ſhall be to him ſhewed or uttered, ſignifie or declare the ſame to ſome one of the Queens Majeſties Privy Council, that then the ſame Juſtice of Peace ſhall incur the danger, pain and forfeiture provided by the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid ſixteenth year of King Richard the Second.

Tryal of a Nobleman by his Peers.

XI. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Nobleman being a Peer of this Realm, ſhall at any time hereafter happen to be indicted for any the offence or offences aforeſaid, that then every ſuch Nobleman and Peer of this Realm, ſhall have his tryal by his Peers, as in caſes of high Treaſon, and miſpriſion of Treaſon hath heretofore been accuſtomed or uſed:

A ſaving of the right of others.

XII. Saving to all and every perſon or perſons, bodies politick and corporate, their Heirs and Succeſſors, and the Heirs and Succeſſors of every of them, other than the ſaid offenders and their Heirs, claiming only as Heir or Heirs to any ſuch offenders, and ſuch perſon and perſons as claim to any their uſes, (2) all ſuch Rights, Titles, Intereſts, Poſſeſſions, Leaſes, Rents, Reverſions, Remainders, Offices, Fees, and all other Profits, Commodities, and Hereditaments, as they or any of them ſhall have at the day of the committing of ſuch offence or offences or any time before, in as large and ample manner to all intents and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had or made; any thing herein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. 23 Eliz. 1.

2. Roll.

II. And foraſmuch as many times it may come to paſs, that the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall not or may not be conveniently ſatisfied of the debt to be determined or due upon any Accompt or Farm as is aforeſaid, by way of extent, for that the yearly value of the Lands extended will not ſatisfie her Highneſs, her Heirs or Succeſſors, within the compaſs of many years, ſo as thereby great loſs might enſue to her Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors; (2) For remedy thereof be it further enacted, That if any Treaſurer, Receiver Collector, Farmer, Cuſtomer, Teller, Collector of Cuſtom, Subſidy or Impoſt, or other perſon accomptant before mentioned, which ſhall from and after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel now next coming, receive or be chargeable with money or treaſure of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, (3) and ſhall upon the determining of his or their accompt (all his and their due petitions to them upon the ſame accompt being allowed) or by reaſon of any farm as aforeſaid, be found in arrearages, to owe unto our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, any ſum or ſums of money, (4) and ſhall not within the ſpace of ſix months next after his or their accompts finiſhed, or debt known, (having allowance of his or their due and reaſonable Petitions as is aforeſaid) truly ſatisfie and pay all ſuch arrearages and ſums of money as he or they ſhall owe, upon determination of his or their accompt, or upon his or their debt known as is aforeſaid, (5) that then it ſhall and may be lawful to the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, at any time, and from time to time after the ſaid ſix months ended, to make ſale by her or their Letters Patents under the Great Seal of England, of ſo much of the lands, tenements and hereditaments of every ſuch accomptant or Debtor ſo being found in arrearages, or in debt as is above mentioned, as may ſuffice our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, for the ſatisfaction of his or their debt or arrearages, to be determined or adjudged upon his or their accompt or farm as is aforeſaid, (all due petitions being allowed as is aforeſaid) until her Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, be by ſuch ſale fully ſatisfied and paid, of ſuch arrearages and debt to be found upon accompt or farm as is aforeſaid.

III. And if any overplus of money ſhall be reſerved or had upon any ſuch ſale, then the ſame ſhall be paid and delivered to the Accomptant or Farmer, or his Heirs, by the Officer that ſhall receive the money upon any of the ſaid ſales, without any further or other warrant in that behalf to be made or obtained.

Delivery of the overplus to the owner of the Land.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all the ſaid ſales to be made by the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors as is aforeſaid, ſhall be good and available in Law againſt the party accomptant indebted as is aforeſaid, and his heirs claiming as heirs, and againſt the Queens Majeſty, her heirs and ſucceſſors, notwithſtanding any former charge or incumbrance to her Majeſty, her heirs and ſucceſſors, by the perſon or perſons for whoſe debt or duty the ſame ſhall fortune to be ſold.

The ſale good againſt the Queen and Accomptant.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons accomptant, or indebted as is aforeſaid, ſhall at any time after he or they ſhall become accomptant or chargeable as is aforeſaid, purchaſe and buy, or cauſe to be purchaſed and bought, any lands, tenements or hereditaments, and cauſe the aſſurance thereof to be made in the name of any other perſon or perſons, where the ſame is indeed meant or intended to the uſe, profit or behoof of ſuch perſon accomptant or indebted, or of any other perſon or perſons, and that the ſame manner of purchaſing, and ſecret uſes, profits or behoof, ſhall be found by office or inquiſition, That then all and every lands, tenements and hereditaments ſo to be bought or purchaſed, or cauſed to be purchaſed (as is before mentioned in this laſt proviſo) ſhall by virtue of this Act, be taken, deemed and uſed for the ſatisfaction of the arrearages and debt of every ſuch accomptant or debtor as is above mentioned, to all intents and purpoſes, as though the perſon or perſons indebted, upon his or their accompt or farm, were thereof actually ſeiſed of ſuch eſtate that was conveyed to any perſon or perſons, by any ſuch accomptant or debtor, or by his means as is aforeſaid: (2) And that all ſales to be thereof made by the Queens Majeſty, her heirs or ſucceſſors, for ſatisfaction of ſuch debt or arrearages as ſhall be found, as is aforeſaid, to be due and owing to our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, her heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall be of the like effect, and be uſed and done in ſuch like manner and form as is before expreſſed.

Accomptant purchaſeth Lands in others names.

VI. And whereas heretofore ſome Treaſurers, Tellers, Receivers, Collectors and others, having had charge of the Queens Majeſties money and treaſure, have gotten into their hands great ſums of the Queens Majeſties money and treaſure, ſithence the beginning of her Majeſties Reign, and have moſt fraudulently imployed her Majeſties money and treaſure, which they had in their charge, in ſundry wiſe to their own uſes, partly in the purchaſing her Majeſties own Lands, and partly in purchaſing Lands of others: (2) and to the intent the ſame ſhould not be liable to ſatisfie and pay her Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors of that which to her or them ſhould appertain, have purchaſed the ſame ſometimes in their own names, and ſometimes in the names of ſundry their friends and kinsfolks, wives or children, and yet nevertheleſs have taken and received the rents and revenues thereof to their own uſes:

Lands purchaſed by accomptants ſince the beginning of the Queens Reign.

VII. Be it therefore further enacted and ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That all and ſingular Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, which any Treaſurer, Receiver, Teller, Cuſtomer, Collector, Officer or Accomptant before named, hath heretofore ſince the beginning of the Queens Majeſties Reign, purchaſed or cauſe to be purchaſed, to the intent the ſame ſhould not be liable as is aforeſaid (the fraud and covin aforeſaid, being firſt found by Office or Inquiſition) ſhall and may be ſeized and taken by her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and retained by her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, in fee-ſimple, to be ſold or otherwiſe uſed at her and their wills and pleaſures, towards the payment and ſatisfaction of all and every arrearages already ſet or determined and adjudged, or that hereafter ſhall be ſet, determined or adjudged, upon his or their accompt (all reaſonable and due petitions being allowed) at ſuch rate and value as the ſame were purchaſed or bought, or cauſed to be purchaſed or bought by any ſuch Treaſurer, Receiver, Teller, Cuſtomer or Collector before named, or by any other perſon to their uſe.

VIII. Provided always, That if the Lands and Tenements ſo to be ſeized, taken or ſold by her Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, as is laſt above mentioned, do ſurmount after the rate and value aforeſaid, the debt and arrearages to be ſet, determined and adjudged upon the accompt of any Treaſurer, Receiver,, Teller, Cuſtomer, Collector or Accomptant before named, that then her Majeſty, her heirs and ſucceſſors, ſhall take and ſeize only ſo much as ſhall amount after the rate and value aforeſaid, to the juſt payment and ſatisfaction of ſuch debt and arrearage as hath been or ſhall be ſet, determined or adjudged upon his or their accompt as is aforeſaid.

The Queen ſhall ſeize only ſo much Land as will ſatisfie her.

No Biſhops lands ſhall be chargeable.

IX. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Biſhop having the collection of any Subſidy or Tenths, or any his Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, whereof he is ſeiſed in the right of his Biſhoprick, ſhall be charged by virtue of this Act, for any arrearages of Tenths or Subſidy, otherwiſe or in any other manner then he might lawfully have been before the making of this Act; any thing herein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

Accomptants whoſe receipt exceedeth not 300 l.

X. And be it alſo further provided and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to charge any Treaſurer, Receiver, Teller, Cuſtomer, Collector or Accomptant aforeſaid, having any yearly Receipt, (2) nor any their Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, whoſe yearly Receipt, Collection and Charge, or whoſe whole Receipt from the beginning of his Charge, is not or hath not been, or hereafter ſhall not be above the ſum of CCC li. (3) otherwiſe, or in any other manner and form then he or they might lawfully have been charged before the making of this Act; any thing herein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

XI. And foraſmuch as ſundry the Accomptants before named, namely, The Treaſurer of the Chamber, and Cofferer of the houſhold of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Treaſurers of Wars or Gariſons, Treaſurers of the Navy, Treaſurers or Receivers of any ſums of money for proviſion of Victual, or for fortifications, or for Buildings, and Maſter of the Wardrobe, are by order of their Offices and charge, after their Accompts ended and determined, to diſburſe, expend and defray the debt remaining upon their Accompts, in ſuch charges as are neceſſarily and incidently to be ſpent and provided in their Offices and Charges, ſo as they are not of ſuch ſums of money, or debt remaining upon their accompt, to make preſent payment and ſatisfaction as other Accomptants are:

Accomptants which are not to make preſent payment.

XII. Be it therefore enacted and ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to give any power or authority to make ſale of any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, for any ſuch debt to be ſet and adjudged in any of his or their Accompts mentioned in this branch, unleſs the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, upon the ending or determining of his or their Accompts (all his or their due petitions to them upon the ſame Accompts being allowed) require or command preſent payment thereof, or therwiſe eftſoons require a new Accompt of the ſame debt, ſo ſet or remaining in any the Accompts mentioned in this branch; and that then the ſame debt, or any part thereof, ſhall be found to be owing and unexpended in the matters or charges pertaining to any of their ſaid Offices or Charges mentioned in this branch, and the ſame debt remain unpaid by the ſpace of ſix months after ſuch requeſt or commandment.

This Act ſhall not charge any Sheriff, Eſcheator or Bailiff of Liberties.

XIII. Provided alway, That this Act ſhall not extend to charge any Sheriff, Eſcheator or Bailiff of Liberties, or the Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments of any Sheriff, Eſcheator or Bailiff of Liberties, nor of any their Heirs or Aſſigns, for any thing touching his or their Office of Sheriffwick, Eſcheatorſhip or Bailiffwick, nor for any money by him or them received, or to be received by reaſon of any their ſaid Offices, otherwiſe, or in any other manner then he or they might lawfully have been charged before the making of this Act; any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Lands purchaſed bona fide.

XIV. Provided alſo, That this Act as touching only the ſale of any Lands or Tenements, ſhall not extend to any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, which any perſon or perſons now have or enjoy, and have purchaſed or obtained bona fide, and not being privy or conſenting unto any ſuch intent to defraud the Queens Majeſty as is abovesaid: (2) And that it ſhall be lawful to every perſon and perſons whoſe Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, ſhall by any Office or Inquiſition, be found to be fraudulently conveyed or aſſured as is abovesaid, to have his or their lawful Traverſe to every ſuch Office or Inquiſition; (3) and if it be found with the party that tendereth the Traverſe, that then he ſhall have the ſaid Lands out of the Princes hands without any Petition, Livery, or Ouſtre le maine, or any other Suit to be had, made, or uſed: (4) and the ſame being found for ſuch perſon or perſons ſo traverſing the ſame Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, ſhall be adjudged as not liable, chargeable, nor to be ſold by force of this Statute.

Any party grieved may have the Traverſe.

If the Queen do ſell the Accomptants lands, his ſureties ſhall be diſcharged for ſo much.

XV. Provided alſo, and be it enacted, That if the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, ſhall by any ſale of Lands by force of this Statute, be fully ſatisfied of the debt or arrearages of any ſuch accomptant, or debtor, or any part thereof, then the ſureties of ſuch accomptant or debtor ſhall be diſcharged of ſo much of the debt, forfeiture and arrearages as ſo ſhall be ſatisfied, and ſo for the reſidue only, ſhall be ratably according to their abilities charged; Any thing in this or any other Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Certain perſons not chargeable by this Act.

XVI. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to charge Henry Golding Eſquire, and Thomas Neale, one of the Queens Majeſties Auditors, or the Lands or Tenements of either of them, to whom the Queens Majeſty hath demiſed any Cuſtoms, Subſidies or Impoſts, in any thing only touching the ſaid Demiſes and Leaſe, otherwiſe, or in any other manner than they might have been lawfully charged if this Act had never been had or made, except they or either of them do hereafter take any of the profits of the ſaid Subſidies, Cuſtoms or Impoſts, by force of the ſaid Demiſe; any thing herein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. 14 Eliz. 7. 27 Eliz. 3. 1 Jac. 25.

CAP. V.

An Act touching Orders for Bankrupts.

Bankrupts 1. Who is a Bankrupt, how and by whom his body, lands, and goods ſhall be ordered for payment of the Creditors. 34 H. 8. 8. Co. Inſt. 4 part. 277. Cro El. 13. pl. 6. 1 Bulſtr. 131. Who ſhall be ſaid a Bankrupt.

FOraſmuch as notwithſtanding the Statute made againſt Bankrupts in the xxxiv. year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, thoſe kind of perſons have and do ſtill increaſe into great and exceſſive numbers, and are like more to do, if ſome better proviſion be not made for the repreſſion of them, and for a plain declaration to be made and ſet forth, who is and ought to be taken and deemed for a Bankrupt: (2) Therefore be it enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any Merchant or other perſon, uſing or exerciſing the Trade of Merchandize, by way of Bargaining, Exchange, Rechange, Bartry, Cheviſance, or otherwiſe, ingroſs or by retail, (3) or ſeeking his or her trade of living, by buying and ſelling, (4) and being Subject born of this Realm, or of any the Queens Dominions or Denizen (5) ſithence the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, hath, or at any time hereafter ſhall depart the Realm, (6) or begin to keep his or her houſe or houſes, or otherwiſe to abſent him or her ſelf, (7) or take Sanctuary, (8) or ſuffer him or her ſelf willingly to be arreſted for any debt or other thing, not grown or due for money delivered, ware ſold, or any other juſt or lawful Cauſe, or good conſideration or purpoſes, (9) hath or will ſuffer him or her ſelf to be outlawed, or yield him or her ſelf to priſon, or depart from his or her dwelling houſe or houſes, (10) to the intent or purpoſe to defraud or hinder any of his or her Creditors, being alſo a Subject born as is aforeſaid, of the juſt debt or duty of ſuch Creditor or Creditors, ſhall be reputed, deemed and token for a Bankrupt.

The Lord Chancellor may grant a Commiſſion to take order for Bankrupts Bodies, lands and goods The authority of the Commiſſioners. 2 Bulſtr 26. 236, &c.

II. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Lord Chancellor of England, or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal of England for the time being, upon every complaint made to him in Writing, againſt ſuch perſon or perſons being Bankrupt as is before defined, ſhall have full power and authority by Commiſſion under the Great Seal of England, to name, aſſign and appoint ſuch wiſe and honeſt diſcreet perſons, as to him ſhall ſeem good: (2) Who, or the moſt part of them, by virtue of this Act and of ſuch Commiſſion, ſhall have full power and authority to take by their diſcretions ſuch order and direction with the body and bodies of ſuch perſon wherſoever he or ſhe may be had, either in his or her houſe or houſes, Sanctuary or elſewhere, as well by impriſonment of his or her body or bodies, (3) as alſo with all his or her Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, as well Copy or Cuſtomary-hold, as Free-hold, which he or ſhe ſhall have in his or her own right before he or ſhe became Bankrupt, (4) & alſo with all ſuch Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments as ſuch perſon ſhall have purchaſed, or obtained for money, or other recompence, joyntly with his wife, children or child, to the only uſe of ſuch offendor or offendors, (5) or of, or for ſuch uſe, intereſt, right or title as ſuch offendor or offendors then ſhall have in the ſame, which he or ſhe may lawfully depart withall, (6) or with any perſon or perſons of truſt to any ſecret uſe of ſuch offendor or offendors, (7) and alſo with his or her money goods, chattels, wares, merchandizes and debts whereſoever they may be found or known, (8) and cauſe the ſaid lands, tenements, fees, annuities, offices, goods, chattels, wares, merchandizes and debts to be ſearched, viewed, rented and appriſed to the beſt value they may, (9) and by Deed indented, inrolled in one of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, to make ſale of the ſaid lands, tenements and hereditaments, and of all deeds, writings and evidences touching only the ſame, belonging to ſuch offendor or offendors, debtor or debtors; and alſo of all fees, annuities, offices, goods and chattels, (10) or otherwiſe to order the ſame for true ſatisfaction, and payment of the ſaid Creditors; that is to ſay, To every of the ſaid Creditors a portion, rate like, according to the quantitie of his or their debts: (11) and that every direction, order, bargain ſale and other thing done by the ſaid perſons ſo authorized as is aforeſaid, ſhall be good and effectual in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, againſt the ſaid offendor or offendors, debtor or debtors, his or their wife or wives, heir or heirs, child and children, and ſuch perſon and perſons as by ſuch jont-purchaſe with the ſaid offendor or offendors as is aforeſaid, have or ſhall have any eſtate or intereſt in the premiſes, (12) and againſt all other perſon or perſons claiming by, from, or under ſuch offendor or offendors, debtor or debtors, by any act or acts had, made or done after any ſuch perſon ſhall become Bankrupt as is aforeſaid, (13) and alſo againſt the Lords of the Manors, whereof the ſaid Copy hold or Cuſtomary Lands been holden, their Heirs, Succeſſors and Aſſigns, and every of them.

The Commiſſioners may ſell Bankrupts lands, goods, &c.

Againſt what perſons the Commiſſioners ſale of a Bonkrupts lands, goods, &c. ſhall be evailable.

III. Provided

Vendees of Copy-hold lands ſhall compound with the Lord of the manor for their Fines.

III Provided always and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon or perſons to whom the ſale of Copy-hold or Cuſtomary Lands or Tenements ſhall be made, ſhall, before ſuch time as they or any of them ſhall enter or take any profit of the ſame Lands or Tenements, agree and compound with the Lords of the Manors of whom the ſame ſhould be holden, for ſuch Fines or Incomes as heretofore hath been moſt uſual and accuſtomed to be yielded or paid therefore: (2) and that upon every ſuch agreement or compoſition, the ſaid Lords for the time being, at the next Court to be holden at or for the ſaid Manors, ſhall not only grant unto the ſaid Vendee or Vendees upon requeſt, the ſame Copy or Cuſtomary Lands or Tenements, by Copy of Court-roll of the ſame Manors for ſuch Eſtate or Intereſt as to them ſhall be ſo ſold, and reſerving the antient Rents, Cuſtoms and Services: but alſo in the ſame Court admit them Tenants of the ſame Copy or Cuſtomary Lands, as other Copy-holders of the ſame Manors have been wont to be admitted, and to receive their fealty accordingly.

The Commiſſioners ſhall declare to the Bankrupt how they have beſtowed his lands and goods.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſuch of the ſaid Commiſſioners as ſhall put the ſaid Commiſſion in execution, ſhall upon lawful requeſt to them made by the ſaid bankrupts, not only make a true declaration to the ſame Bankrupts, of the imploying and beſtowing of their ſaid Lands, Tenements, Offices, Fees, Goods, Chattels and Debts. ſo paid and ſatisfied to their ſaid Creditors, but alſo make payment of the overplus of the ſame, if any ſuch ſhall be, to the ſaid Bankrupts, their Executors, Adminiſtrators or Aſſigns.

The remedy where goods or debts of Bankrupts be in the hands of others.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if after any ſuch act or offence committed and complaint thereof made to the ſaid Commiſſioners ſo to be appointed as is aforeſaid, or the more part of them. by any party grieved as is aforeſaid, concerning the premiſſes, knowing, ſuppoſing, or ſuſpecting any of the goods, chattels, wares, merchandiſes, or debts of ſuch offendor or offendors, debtor or debtors, to be in the cuſtody, uſe, occupying, keeping or poſſeſſion of any perſon or perſons; or any perſon or perſons to be indebted to any ſuch offendor or offendors, do make relation thereof, to the ſaid Commiſſioners ſo to be appointed, or the more part of them, that then the ſaid Commiſſioners or the moſt part of them, ſhall by virtue hereof and of the ſaid Commiſſion, have full power and authority to ſend for, and call before them by ſuch proceſs, ways or means as they ſhall think convenient by their diſcretions, all and every ſuch perſon and perſons ſo known, ſuſpected, or ſuppoſed to have any ſuch goods, chattels, wares, merchandiſes, or debts in his or their cuſtody, uſe, occupation, keeping or poſſeſſion, or ſuppoſed or ſuſpected to be indebted to ſuch offendor or offendors, (2) and upon their appearance, to examine them and every of them, as well by their oaths as otherwiſe, by ſuch ways and means as the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the more part of them by their diſcretions ſhall think meet and convenient, for and upon the ſpecialty, certainty, true declaration and knowledge of all and ſingular ſuch goods, chattels, wares, merchandizes, and debts of any ſuch offendor or offendors as ſuppoſed or ſuſpected to be in his or their cuſtody, uſe, occupation or poſſeſſion, and all ſuch debts as by them ſhall be ſuppoſed or ſuſpected to be owing to any ſuch offendor or offendors.

The penalty of ſuch as be examined, that will not diſcloſe the truth, or refuſe to ſwear.

VI. And if any ſuch perſon or perſons upon ſuch examination, do not diſcloſe and plainly declare, and ſhew the whole truth of ſuch things as he or they ſhall be examined of concerning the premiſſes to his knowledge, or do deny to ſwear, then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo denying to ſwear, or being examined, do not declare the plain and whole truth concerning the premiſſes, upon due proof thereof to be made before the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the more part of them ſo to be appointed as is aforeſaid, by witneſs, examination, or otherwiſe, as to the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the more part of them, ſhall ſeem ſufficient in that behalf, ſhall loſe and forfeit double the value of all ſuch goods, chattels, wares, merchandizes and debts, by them or any of them ſo concealed, and not wholly and plainly declared and ſhewed: (2) which forfeiture ſhall be levied by the ſaid Commiſſioners, or the more part of them, of the Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, Goods and Chattels of ſuch perſon ſo denying to ſwear, or not diſcloſing the whole truth as is aforeſaid, by ſuch ways and means, and in ſuch manner and form as is before limited and appointed for the principal offendor or offendors, debtor or debtors, (3) and the ſame forfeiture or forfeitures to be diſtributed or imployed to and for the ſatisfaction ann payment of the debts of the ſaid Creditor or Creditors, in ſuch like manner, rate, and form as is before declared concerning the ordering of the Lands and Tenements, Offices, Fees, Goods and Chattels of ſuch Offendor or Offendors, Debtor or Debtors as is aforeſaid.

How the forfeiture ſhall be recovered and imployed.

A remedy againſt them which do detain the goods of Bankrupts.

VII. And be it further enacted, That if at any time before or after that any ſuch perſon or perſons departeth the Realm, or ſhall keep his or their houſe or houſes, or otherwiſe abſent him or themſelves, or take Sanctuary, or ſuffer him or themſelves to be arreſted, outlawed, or yield his or their bodies to priſon as is aforeſaid, any perſon or perſons ſo fradulently by covin or colluſion, claim, demand, recover, poſſeſs, or detain any debts, duties, goods, chattels, lands or tenements, by writing, truſt or otherwiſe, which were or ſhall be due, belonging or appertaining to any ſuch offendor or offendors, other then ſuch as he or they can and do prove to be due by right and conſcience in form aforeſaid for money paid, wares delivered, or other juſt conſideration, or cauſe reaſonable to the juſt value thereof, before the ſaid Commiſſioners ſo to be appointed, or the more part of them as is aforeſaid, and the ſame to proceed (bona fide) without fraud or covin: that then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo craftily demanding, claiming, having, poſſeſſing, or detaining any ſuch debt, duty or other thing as is aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit and loſe double as much as he or they ſo claim, demand, detain, or poſſeſs: which ſaid forfeiture ſhall be levied, recovered, and imployed in manner and form as is afore rehearſed.

How the forfeitures ſhall be beſtowed after the Bankrupts debts be paid.

VIII. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if it ſhall fortune the Creditors of any ſuch Bankrupt as is aforeſaid, to be ſatisfied and paid off their Debts and Duties of or with the proper Lands, Tenements, Goods, Chattels and Debts of the ſaid Bankrupts, or of, or with the ſame, and ſome part of the forfeitures of the ſaid double values to be forfeited, as is aforeſaid, and there ſhall remain an overplus of the ſaid forfeiture of the ſaid double values, That then the one moiety of the ſaid overplus of the ſaid forfeitures of the double values ſo remaining, ſhall be by the ſaid Commiſſioners ſo executing the ſaid Commiſſion, within convenient time after the levying thereof, paid unto the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors; and the other moiety thereof ſhall be by the ſaid Commiſſioners, employed and diſtributed to and amongſt the poor within the Hoſpitals in every City, Town or County where any ſuch Bankrupt ſhall happen to be; Any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

A remedy againſt him which withdraweth himſelf from his dwelling place

IX. And be it further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch perſon or perſons which is or ſhall be indebted, do of purpoſe withdraw him or themſelves out of or from his or their uſual Manſion-houſe or houſes, That then upon complaint thereof made to the ſaid Commiſſioners having authority, as is aforeſaid, the ſame Commiſſioners, or the more part of them, ſhall by virtue and authority of this preſent Act, have full power and authority to award five Proclamations to be made in the Queens name, upon five ſundry Market-days, in ſuch places near the place where ſuch Bankrupt hath moſt commonly dwelled or made his abode, commanding him or them by the ſame Proclamation in the Queens name, to return with all convenient ſpeed, and to yield his or their body before the ſaid Commiſſioners having authority, as is aforeſaid, or one of them, at ſuch time and place as by the ſaid Proclamation ſhall be appointed: (2) and if the ſaid perſon do not according to ſuch Proclamation, repair and yield his or their body, as is aforeſaid, That then the body of all and every ſuch offendor or offendors, ſhall be adjudged, taken and deemed to all intents and purpoſes, out of the Queens Protection: (3) And that alſo every perſon and perſons that ſhall willingly and wittingly help to hide or convey, or ſhall willingly and wittingly receive, detain, or keep ſecretly, any perſon or perſons ſo demanded by Proclamation, as is aforeſaid, ſhall ſuffer ſuch pains by impriſonment of his or their bodies, or pay ſuch fine to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, as to the ſaid Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal (being informed thereof) by the Commiſſioners ſo to be appointed as is aforeſaid, or the more part of them, ſhall ſeem meet and convenient for their ſaid offence or offences.

The penalty of a Bankrupt not yielding himſelf after Proclamation, and of ſuch as do hide or receive him.

A remedy for the creditor, if he be not ſatisfied of his whole debt.

X. Provided always, and be it further Enacted, That if the creditors of any ſuch offendor or offendors, debtor or debtors, which ſo do depart the Realm, keep his or their Houſe or Houſes, or otherwiſe abſent, or withdraw him or themſelves into places unknown, or take Sanctuary, or will ſuffer him or themſelves to be arreſted or outlawed, or yield his or their bodies into priſon purpoſely, and for the cauſes aforeſaid, be not fully ſatisfied, or otherwiſe contented for their Debts and Duties, by the ways and means before ſpecified and declared, that then the ſaid creditor or creditors, and every of them, ſhall and may have their remedy for the recovery and levying of the reſidue of their ſaid Debts or Duties, whereof they ſhall not be fully ſatisfied, paid or otherwiſe contented in form aforeſaid, againſt the offendor or offendors, in like manner and form as they ſhould and might have had before the making of this Act: (2) And that the ſaid creditor or creditors, and every of them, ſhall be only barred and excluded by virtue of this Act, of and for every ſuch part and portion of the ſaid Debts and Duties as ſhall be paid, ſatisfied, diſtributed or delivered unto him or them, by order of the ſaid perſons, as is aforeſaid, and of no more portion or parcel thereof; Any thing herein ſpecified that may be taken or conſtrued to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Lands, &c. extendable, which be purchaſed, or do deſcend to a Bankrupt.

XI. Provided always, and be it alſo Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons which is or ſhall be publiſhed and declared to be a Bankrupt by virtue of this Act, ſhall at any time after, purchaſe any Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, free or copy, offices, fees, goods or chattels: (2) or that any Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, free or copy, offices, fees, goods or chattels, ſhall deſcend, revert, or by any means come to any ſuch perſon or perſons being Bankrupts, as is aforeſaid, before ſuch time as their debts due to their creditors, ſhall be fully ſatisfied and paid, or otherwiſe agreed for, (3) That then the ſaid Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, as well free as copy offices, fees, goods, and chattels, ſhall by virtue of this Act, by the ſaid Commiſſioners to be appointed, as is aforeſaid, or the more part of them, be bargained, ſold, extended, delivered and uſed for and towards the payment of the ſaid creditors, in ſuch like manner and form as other the Lands, Tenements, Hereditaments, free or copy, offices, fees, goods and chattels, of the ſaid Bankrupts, which they had when they were declared firſt to be Bankrupts, ſhould or might have been bargained, ſold, diſpoſed, or uſed by virtue of this Act. 1 Cro. 558.

Lands conveyed away before the party become Bankrupt. Moor 594. pl. 805.

XII. Provided always, That this Act ſhall not extend to any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, free, or copy hold, which heretofore have been aſſured by any ſuch Bankrupt, or hereafter ſhall be aſſured by any Bankrupt before he become Bankrupt: ſo that always ſuch aſſurance to be made bona fide, and not to the uſe of the Bankrupt himſelf only, or of his Heirs: (2) And that the parties to whoſe uſe ſuch aſſurance hath or ſhall be made, be not at or before the making of ſuch aſſurance, privy or conſenting to the fraudulent purpoſe of any ſuch Bankrupt, to deceive his creditors. 1 Jac. 15. 21 Jac. 19. CAP. VIII.

An Act againſt Uſury.

Uſury 6. The Statute of 37 H. 8. 9. revived, and the Statute of 5 Ed. 6. 20. repealed; both which were made againſt Uſury, &c. Seld. de Jure Nat. & Gent. &c. lib. 6. cap. 9. pag. 748.

Whereas in the Parliament holden the ſeven and thirtieth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, of famous memory, there was then made and eſtabliſhed one good Act for the reformation of Uſury: by which Act the vice of Uſury was well repreſſed, and ſpecially the corrupt cheviſance and bargaining by way of ſale of wares, and ſhifts of intereſt: And where ſince that time by one other Act made in the fifth and ſixth years of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the ſixth, the ſaid former Act was repealed, and new Proviſoes for repreſſing of Uſury deviſed and enacted: which ſaid latter Act hath not done ſo much good as was hoped it ſhould, but rather the ſaid vice of Uſury 3 Inſt. 151. 2 Roll. 142.

Uſury, and eſpecially by way of ſale of wares, and ſhifts of intereſt hath much more exceedingly abounded, to the utter undoing of many Gentlemen, Merchants, Occupiers and others, and to the importable hurt of the Commonwealth, (4) as well for that in the ſaid later Act, there is no proviſion againſt ſuch corrupt ſhifts and ſales of Wares, as alſo for that there is no difference of pain, forfeiture or puniſhment upon the greater or leſſer exactions and oppreſſions, by reaſon of lones upon uſury:

II. Be it therefore enacted, That the ſaid later Statute made in the fifth and ſixth years of the Reign of King Edward the Sixth, and every Branch and Article of the ſame, from and after the five and twentieth day of June next coming, ſhall be utterly abrogated, repealed and made void: (2) and that the ſaid Act made in the ſeven and thirtieth year of King Henry the eighth, from and after the five and twentieth day of June next coming, ſhall be revived, and ſtand in full force, ſtrength and effect.

The Stat. of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 20. repealed, and the Stat. of 37 H. 8. 9. revived.

III. And be it further enacted, That all Bonds, contracts and aſſurances, collateral or other, to be made for payment of any principal, or money to be lent, (2) or covenant to be performed, upon or for any uſury in lending or doing of any thing againſt the ſaid Act now revived, (3) upon or by which lone or doing there ſhall be reſerved or taken above the rate of x. l. for the hundred for one year, ſhall be utterly void. Hob. 72. 1 Bulſtr. 17. 2 Bulſtr. 34.

All Contracts and Aſſurances whereby above 10 li. in the 100 li. ſhall be reſerved ſhall be void.

Noy 2.

Raſt. pl. f. 689.

IV. And be it further enacted, That all Brokers, Solicitors, and Drivers of Bargains for Contracts, or other doings againſt the ſaid Statute now revived, whereupon ſhall be reſerved or taken more then after the rate of ten pound for the lone of one hundred pound for a year, ſhall be to all intents and purpoſes judged, puniſhed and uſed as Councellors, Attorneys or Advocates, in any caſe of Præmunire.

The penalty of Brokers and Drivers of uſurious Bargains.

Golsb. 39. pl. 15.

VI. And be it further enacted, That Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, and Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Circuits, Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions, Mayors, Sheriffs, and Bailiffs of Cities, ſhall alſo have full power and authority to enquire, hear and determine of all and ſingular offences committed againſt the ſaid Statute now revived.

Which Magiſtrates may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

VII. And be it further enacted, That the ſaid Statute now revived ſhall be moſt largely and ſtrongly conſtrued for the repreſſing of Uſury, againſt all perſons that ſhall offend againſt the true meaning of the ſaid Statute, by any way or device, directly or indirectly.

The Stat. of 37 H. 8. 9. ſhall be conſtrued ſtrongly for the repreſſing of Uſury.

VIII. Provided alway, that this Statute doth not extend, nor ſhall be expounded to extend unto any allowances or payments for the finding of Orphans, according to the ancient rates or cuſtoms of the City of London, or any other City where like order is for the cuſtody of Orphans and their Goods, as in the ſaid City of London.

X. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall from and after the ſaid five and twentieth day of June, offend contrary to the ſaid Statute revived by this preſent Act, made in the ſeven and thirtieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, That then all and every ſuch offender and offenders, ſhall and may alſo be puniſhed and corrected according to the Eccleſiaſtical Laws heretofore made againſt Uſury: (2) And that all and every perſon and perſons offending in Uſury, Shifts or Cheviſance, againſt this preſent Act, and not taking or receiving but only after the rate of ten pounds in the hundred, or under, for a year, ſhall be only puniſhed by the pains and forfeitures provided and appointed by this Act, againſt ſuch as ſhall not take or receive over and above the rate of ten pound in the hundred for a year, and not otherwiſe. (3) This Act to continue and endure for and during the ſpace of five years next after the end of this preſent Parliament, and from thence unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the Parliament then next enſuing.

In what caſe an offender ſhall be alſo puniſhed by the Eccleſiaſtical Law.

X. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if this preſent Act ſhall not be continued in the firſt Seſſion of the Parliament next enſuing the ſaid term of five years, and then in the ſame Seſſion no other Statute or Proviſion made againſt Uſury or corrupt Cheviſance, That then all and every the Laws and Statutes repealed by this Act, ſhall remain and be of ſuch like force and effect, as if this preſent Act had never been had ne made. 39 Eliz. 18. made perpetual. CAP. IX.

An Act for the Commiſſion of Sewers.

FOraſmuch as no Commiſſion of Sewers, by the Statutes heretofore made, may have continuance above the ſpace of five years, (2) Be it therefore Enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth all and every Commiſſion and Commiſſions of Sewers now ſtanding in force, or that hereafter ſhall be granted and made, ſhall ſtand and continue in force for the term of ten years next enſuing the Date of every ſuch Commiſſion, unleſs the ſame Commiſſion or Commiſſions be, or hereafter ſhall be repealed or determined, by reaſon of any new Commiſſion in that behalf made, or by Superſedeas: (3) And that all ſuch Laws, Ordinances and Conſtitutions as be or ſhall be duly made by force of any ſuch Commiſſion, according to the Sewers 12. &c.

Stat. 3 Ed. 6. 9.

Stat. 23 H. 8. 5.
A Commiſſion of Sewers ſhall continue ten years.

The orders of the Commiſſioners of Sewers ſhall be of force without the certificate of them or the Royal aſſent.

the tenour and effect limited in any former Statute heretofore made touching Commiſſion or Commiſſions of Sewers, and being written in Parchment indented, and under the Seals of the ſaid Commiſſioners, or ſix of them (whereof the one part ſhall remain with the Clerk appointed and to be appointed for the Commiſſion of Sewers for the time being, and the other part in ſuch place as the ſame Commiſſioners, or ſix of them, ſhall order and appoint) ſhall without any Certificate thereof to be made into the Court of Chancery, and without the Royal aſſent to the ſame had, ſtand and continue in full force and effect, notwithſtanding any determination of any ſuch Commiſſion by Superſedeas, until ſuch time as the ſame Laws, Conſtitutions and Ordinances ſhall be altered, repealed, or made void by the Commiſſioners after to be aſſigned and appointed for Sewers in thoſe parts where the ſame Laws, &c. Ordinances and Conſtitutions were made, ordained and conſtituted, or by ſix of them.

The Commiſſioners of Sewers orders ſhall continue though the Commiſſion do expire.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That at all times from and after the end and expiration of the term of ten years next enſuing the Date or Teſte of any Commiſſion of Sewers hereafter to be made, all ſuch Laws, Ordinances and Conſtitutions as were made by virtue of any ſuch Commiſſion, and written in Parchment indented and ſealed, as is above mentioned, without certificate thereof, or the aſſent Royal to the ſame had, as is aforeſaid, ſhall notwithſtanding the determination of any ſuch Commiſſion by the expiration of the term of ten years next enſuing the Date of any ſuch Commiſſion of Sewers, likewiſe continue in force for and by the ſpace of one whole year then next enſuing: (2) And that the Juſtices of Peace in the Shire and Shires where the ſame Laws, Ordinances and Conſtitutions are to be executed within their ſeveral Coommiſſions or Limits, or ſix of them, whereof two to be of the Quorum, ſhall have power and authority by the ſpace of one whole year next after the expiration of every ſuch Commiſſion, to execute the ſame Laws, Ordinances and Conſtitutions, and every of them, as fully, and in as ample manner and form as the Commiſſioners, or any of them named and appointed in every or any Commiſſion ſo expired, might or ſhould have done, to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſaid Commiſſion or Commiſſions had continued in force.

The Juſtices of Peace may for one year execute the Commiſſion of Sewers, unleſs a new Commiſſion be granted.

III. Provided always, and be it nevertheleſs enacted, That if any new Commiſſion of Sewers ſhall be made within the ſaid year, that then immediately from and after ſuch Commiſſion newly made and publiſhed, the power of the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace, and every of them, in any wiſe concerning the execution of any ſuch Laws, Ordinances and Conſtitutions of Sewers, ſhall utterly ceaſe; Any thing or things in this Act to the contrary expreſſed in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

A Farmer of Lands chargeable, ſhall not be Commiſſioner within the ſame Precinct.

IV. And be it further enacted, That no Farmer or Farmers for term of years, of any Manors, Lands or Tenements, lying or being within the precincts or limits of any ſuch Commiſſion of Sewers, which be, or hereafter may be ordered and chargeable by any Laws, Ordinances or Conſtitutions made or to be made by virtue of any ſuch Commiſſion wherein he or they ſhall be named or appointed Commiſſioner or Commiſſioners, not having Eſtate of freehold within the Realm of England, of or in Manors, Lands or Tenements, of the yearly value of forty pounds, ſhall at any time hereafter have power to ſit, or in any wiſe intermeddle with the execution of ſuch Commiſſion or Commiſſions, during the time he or they ſhall continue or be ſuch Farmer or Farmers of any ſuch Manors, Lands or Tenements, and ſhall not have Eſtate of freehold, as is aforeſaid; (2) but that every ſuch Commiſſion, as having reſpect only to every ſuch perſon or perſons, for ſuch and ſo long time as he or they ſhall be and continue Farmer or Farmers, of any ſuch Manors, Lands or Tenements, ſhall be deemed and adjudged in Law, to be as void and of none effect; Any thing in the ſame Commiſſion, or any Statute or Law heretofore made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

There ſhall be no certificate or return of the Commiſſion.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from henceforth the ſaid Commiſſioners, or any of them, ſhall not be compelled or compellable to make any Certificate or Return of the ſaid Commiſſions, or any of them, or of any their Ordinances, Laws or Doings, by the authority of any the ſaid Commiſſions, nor ſhall have any Fine, Pain or Amerciament ſet upon them, or any of them, or any ways to be moleſted in Body, Lands or Goods, for that cauſe.

The fines and amerciaments ſhal be eſtreated into the Exchequer.

VI. And yet nevertheleſs, to the intent the Queens Majeſty our Sovereign Lady, her heirs and ſucceſſors, may at all times hereafter be truly anſwered of all ſuch Iſſues, Fines, and Amerciaments as ſhall happen, grow or be forfeited by virtue of any ſuch Commiſſion, or by the execution thereof, (2) Be it alſo enacted, That the Clerk and Clerks appointed, and hereafter to be appointed, for and in any ſuch Commiſſion and Commiſſions of Sewers, ſhall yearly truly eſtreat all the ſaid Iſſues, Fines, Penalties, Forfeitures and Amerciaments that ſhall be due and anſwerable to her Highneſs, her heirs and ſucceſſors, (3) and the ſame Eſtreats ſhall yearly deliver into the Court of the Exchequer, at ſuch time and times, and in ſuch manner and form as Juſtices aſſigned to and for the conſervation of the Peace in any wiſe ſhould or ought to do by virtue of their Commiſſion, (4) upon pain to forfeit to our Sovereign Lady the Queen her heirs and ſucceſſors, for every default in that behalf made, five pound.

In what caſe a Farmer of Lands chargeable may be a Commiſſioner.

VII. Provided always, That it ſhall be lawful for any Commiſſioner, being alſo a Farmer, and not having Lands and Tenements to the clear yearly value of forty pounds of freehold, to ſit by virtue of the ſaid Commiſſion, and have his voice and full authority with others, to make and eſtabliſh Ordinances for Sewers according to the tenor of the Commiſſion touching and concerning all Lands and Tenements within the Precinct of every ſuch Commiſſion, other then ſuch Lands and Tenements as he or they, for the time being, hold and enjoy as Farmer, as he or they might have done before the making of this Statute; Any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. X.

Fraudulent Deeds made by Spiritual Perſons to defeat their Succeſſors of remedy for Dilapidations, ſhall be void, &c.

Eccleſiaſtical perſ0 1s 7. Dilapidat. 1. 3 Bulſtr 290. Wrongs and frauds practiſed by divers Eccleſiaſtical perſons.

WHere divers and ſundry Eccleſiaſtical perſons of this Realm, being endowed and poſſeſſed of ancient Palaces, Manſion-houſes, and other Edifices and Buildings belonging to their Eccleſiaſtical Benefices or Livings, have of late years not only ſuffered the ſame for want of due reparations, partly to run to great ruine and decay, and in ſome part utterly to fall down to the ground, converting the Timber, Lead and Stones to their own benefit and commodity, (2) but alſo have made deeds of gift, colourable alienations, and other conveyances of like effect, of their goods and chattels in their lives time, to the intent and of purpoſe after their deaths to defeat and defraud their Succeſſors of ſuch actions and remedies as otherwiſe they might and ſhould have had for the ſame againſt their Executors or Adminiſtrators of their goods, by the Laws Eccleſiaſtical of this Realm, (3) to the great defacing of the State Eccleſiaſtical, and intolerable charges of their Succeſſors, and evil precedent and example for others, if ſpeedy remedy be not provided:

How the ſucceſſor ſhall have remedy where the predeceſſor doth make a fraudulent Deed to defeat him for Dilapidations. Stat 14. El. 5. 1 Leond. 307, 330.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any Archbiſhop, Biſhop, Dean, Archdeacon, Provoſt, Treaſurer, Chaunter, Chancellor, Prebendary, or any other having any Dignity or Office in any Cathedral or Collegiate Church within this Realm; (2) or if any Parſon, Vicar, or other Incumbent of any Eccleſiaſtical Living whereunto do belong any Houſe or Houſes, or other Buildings, which by Law or Cuſtom he is bound to keep and maintain in reparation, (3) do from henceforth make any Deed or Deeds of gift or alienation, or other like Conveyances of his moveable goods or Chattels, to the intent and purpoſe aforeſaid; That then the Succeſſor and Succeſſors of him that ſhall make ſuch Deed or Deeds of gift or alienation, ſhall and may commence Suit, and have ſuch remedy in any Court Eccleſiaſtical of this Realm, competent for the matter againſt him or them to whom ſuch Deed or Deeds of gift or alienation ſhall be ſo made, for the amendment and reparation of ſo much of the ſaid dilapidations and decays, or juſt recompence for the ſame, as hath happened by his fact or default, (4) in ſuch ſort as he might, ſhould or ought lawfully to have, if he or they to whom ſuch Deed or Deeds of gift or alienation ſhall be ſo made, were Executor or Executors, of the Teſtament and laſt Will of him that made ſuch Deed or Deeds of gift or alienation, or were Adminiſtrator or Adminiſtrators of his goods or Chattels; Any Law, Cuſtom or other thing to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

III. And for that long and unreaſonable Leaſes made by Colledges, Deans and Chapters, Parſons and Vicars, and other having Spiritual Promotions, be the chiefeſt cauſes of the Dilapidations, and the decay of all Spiritual Livings and Hoſpitality, and the utter impoveriſhing of all Succeſſors Incumbents of the ſame, (2) Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from henceforth all Leaſes, Gifts, Grants, Feoffments, Conveyances or Eſtates, to be made, had, done, or ſuffered (3) by any Maſter and Fellows of any Colledge, Dean and Chapter of any Cathedral or Collegiate Church, Maſter or Guardian of any Hoſpital, Parſon, Vicar or any other having any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Living, or any Houſes, Lands, Tythes, Tenements, or other Hereditaments, being any parcel of the Poſſeſſions of any ſuch Colledge, Cathedral Church, Chappel, Hoſpital, Parſonage, Vicarage, or other Spiritual Promotion, or any ways appertaining or belonging to the ſame, or any of them, to any perſon or perſons, Bodies politick or corporate, (4) (other then for the term of one and twenty years, or three lives, from the time as any ſuch Leaſe or Grant ſhall be made or granted, whereupon the accuſtomed yearly Rent or more ſhall be reſerved, and payable yearly during the ſaid term) (5) ſhall be utterly void and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes; Any Law, Cuſtom, or Uſage to the contrary any ways notwithſtanding.

Terms aſſigned by the private Statute of any Colledge in an Univerſity.

IV. Provided nevertheleſs, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall be taken or conſtrued to make good any Leaſe, or other Grant to be made by any ſuch Colledge or Collegiate Church within either of both the Univerſities of Oxford and Cambridge, or elſewhere within the Realm of England, for more years then are limited by the private Statutes of the ſame Colledge.

New Leaſes made upon the ſurrender of old or former covenants. 1 Anderſ. 65.

V. Provided always, That this Act ſhall not extend to any Leaſe hereafter to be made upon ſurrender of any Leaſe heretofore made, or by reaſon of any covenant or condition contained in any Leaſe heretofore made, and now continuing, ſo that the Leaſe to be made do not contain more years then the reſidue of the years of the former Leaſe now continuing ſhall be at the time of ſuch Leaſe hereafter to be made, nor any leſs Rent then is reſerved in the ſaid former Leaſe. CAP. XI.

An Act for the maintenance of Navigation.

Navigation 1 Ships 1. Fiſh 9. So much of the Stat of 5 El. 5. as concerneth the tranſporting of Sea-fiſh and Herring in Engliſh Ships with croſs ſails, without the payment of Cuſtom, revived, &c.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fifth year of your Majeſties Reign, there was, among other, made and provided an Act touching certain politick Conſtitutions made for the maintenance of the Navy, and in the ſame, amongſt other things, it was enacted, That from the firſt day of April in the year of our Lord God, M. D. lxiv. and ſo from thenceforth, it ſhould be lawful to all and every the Subjects of your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, at his and their will and pleaſure, to carry and tranſport out of this Realm, in their Ships and other Veſſels of any the Subjects aforeſaid, all and every kind of Herring, and other Sea-fiſh to be taken upon the Sea by any the Subjects aforeſaid; any Act of Parliament or Law to the contrary notwithſtanding: (2) And that all and every Perſon and Perſons which ſhould by virtue of that Act tranſport or carry any Herring or Sea-fiſh from out of any Port or Harbour of this Realm, to any place out of the Dominions of your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, ſhould be free from payment of any Cuſtoms, Subſidy, or Poundage-money, for the ſame Fiſh ſo carried or tranſported during the ſpace of four whole years, beginning at the ſaid firſt day of April, M D. lxiv, and ſo further during your Majeſties pleaſure; which term of four years is now expired and ended:

A continuance of part of the Stat. of 5 El. for ſix years. EXP.

II. And where it is by experience found, that the ſaid Act hath been a very good Act, and greatly increaſed the Navy and Fiſhermen and cauſeth many poor men to be ſet a work, and is in great likelihood daily to increaſe the ſame more and more. (2) It may pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, of your abundant grace, that it may be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſo much of the ſaid Act as is above recited for liberty of tranſporting of Herring and Sea-fiſh, by the natural born Subjects of your Majeſty, your Heirs or Succeſſors, and for freedom from paying of any Cuſtom, Subſidy or Poundage-money, ſhall be revived, and ſhall from thence forth continue for the ſpace of ſix years from the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, and from thenceforth during your Majeſties moſt gracious pleaſure, ſo that ſuch tranſporting be in Veſſels, with croſs Sails.

5 Eliz.5.Sect.10, N. 1.

III. And where alſo in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fifth year, amongſt other things, all manner of perſons are generally forbidden to bring into this Realm any Cods or Lings, in Barrels or other Casks, upon pain of forfeiture of all the Cods and Lings ſo to be brought in, or the value thereof contrary to the tenour of this Act: (2) Foraſmuch as by that Branch of the ſaid Statute, it was well intended and meant to meet with the fraud of Strangers and other which brought into this Realm great quantity of Cods and Lings deceitfully packed in Barrels, and not meant to hinder any the Queens Majeſties Subjects uſing uprightneſs and truth in the barrelling of ſuch Fiſh: (3) May it therefore pleaſe your Majeſty, that it be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the Feaſt of Eaſter, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God one thouſand five hundred ſeventy five, it ſhall be lawful from thenceforth to all your Majeſties loving Subjects born within this Realm, or within any other your Majeſties Dominions, (uſing no fraud or deceit in packing or barrelling thereof) for the term of ſix years next enſuing, to bring into this Realm, or any other your Highneſs Dominions, all ſuch Cods and Lings as they ſhall happen to take upon the Sea by their own fiſhing in Veſſels with croſs Sails, without incurring any forfeiture or penalty therefore; Any thing in the ſaid Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What Cods may be brought into the Realm in barrels and casks, EXP. 27 Eliz. 15.

IV. And for the avoiding of the lewd Outrages committed and done upon the Sea-coaſts of Norfolk and Suffolk, by the Catches, Mongers and Picards pretending to buy freſh Herrings, and which do cut in ſunder divers pieces of Fiſhermens Nets travelling the high Seas to take freſh Herrings, to the utter undoing of the ſaid poor Fiſhermen, (2) Be it therefore enacted, ordained, and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons uſing any Ship, Boat or Veſſel called Catch, Monger or Picard, or other Veſſel of like uſe, ſhall in time of common fiſhing upon the ſaid Sea-coaſts of Norfolk and Suffolk, between the fourteenth day of September and the fourteenth day of November, from Sun-ſetting to Sun-riſing, ankor upon the main Sea, or in the common Stream or Trade of fiſhing, where the Fiſhermen uſe to drive, (3) upon pain to forfeit their Catch, Monger, Picard or Veſſel, with the Tackle and all the Fiſh in the ſame, or the value thereof; the one half to your Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, the other half to the Bailiffs, Burgeſſes and Commonalty of the Town of great Yarmouth, to be imployed to the recompenſing his damages to the Party whoſe nets ſhall ſo be cut, and to the building and repairing of the decayed Haven there, and to be taken by way of ſeizure, or otherwiſe to be recovered by Bill, Action, or Information, in any of your Majeſties Courts of Record; Any Statute, Law or Uſe to the contrary notwithſtanding.

What kind of ſhips ſhall not ankor upon the ſea in the time of common fiſhing.

V. And where your Subjects uſing the Trade of fiſhing for Herring, having of many years, and time out of mind, uſed to pack their Herring in Cask of Barrels, containing about two and thirty Gallons of uſual Wine meaſure, and with ſuch Aſſize hath been uſually gaged and allowed at your honourable City of London, and do contain the ſame meaſure of two and thirty Gallons, according to ſuch uſual Braſs meaſure as is out of your honourable Court of Exchequer delivered to your ſaid honourable City of London, (2) which meaſure yet hath lately been quarrelled at by certain Informers, for that the ſame contain not two and thirty Gallons, by the old meaſure of Standard, which they never did, though peradventure the extremity of old Statutes in words, by ſome mens conſtruction, might be ſtretched to require ſo much: (3) And for that the uſual Barrels now be as great as ever within the time of any memory they have been known to be, and the alteration thereof would be a great decay and peril of undoing to the ſaid Fiſhermen: (4) It may alſo pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, that it be alſo enacted and declared, That the ſaid Aſſize of two and thirty Gallons of Wine meaſure, which is about eight and twenty Gallons by old Standard well packed, and containing in every Barrel uſually a thouſand full Herrings at the leaſt, is and ſhall be taken for good, true and lawful Aſſize of Herring Barrels, throughout the whole Liberty of the ſaid Town of great Yarmouth, and elſewhere; Any ancient or former Law or Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Aſſize of Herring barrels.

No foreing fiſh ſhall be dried within England to be ſold.

VI. Be it further enacted, That no Fiſh hereafter to be taken or brought into this Realm by any Stranger, nor any fiſh commonly called Scottiſh Fiſh, or Flemiſh Fiſh, ſhall be dried within England to be ſold, upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Fiſh to be dried contrary to the meaning of this Act, or the value thereof: (2) which forfeiture ſhall be to ſuch perſon dwelling at any Town where is any Port, Peer or Haven, as will ſeize the ſame Fiſh, or will ſue for the ſame value in any Court of Record, to be imployed to the reparation and maintenance of ſuch Port, Peer or Haven as is next to the place where the offence ſhall be committed.

An Act for the bringing of Bowſtaves into this Realm.

Bows 1. The benefit of Archery and the cauſe of the decay thereof.

Whereas the uſe of Archery not only hath ever been, but alſo yet is, by Gods ſpecial gift to the Engliſh Nation, a ſingular defence of this Realm, and an occaſion of many noble Victories, and both a very wholſom exerciſe for the health and ſtrength of mens bodies, and a maintenance of a great number of the Queens true Subjects and Artificers, as Bowyers, Fletchers, Stringers, Arrowhead-makers, and others of this Realm: and for that among other cauſes of the decay of Archery, one great cauſe is, the exceſſive price of Bowſtaves, which groweth principally by the ſcarcity of Bowſtaves brought into this Realm; (2) For reformation whereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all the Statutes made in the Twelfth year of the Reign of King Edward the Fourth, concerning bringing in of a certain number of Bowſtaves, according to the weight or value of other Wares to be brought into this Realm, ſhall from henceforth be duly put in execution: (3) And be it enacted & declared by this preſent Statute, That all Merchant-ſtrangers uſing to bring Wares into this Realm from the eaſt-parts, as well from the ſeventy two Hanſe Towns, be comprized and meant under the name of, and bound as the Merchants mentioned and bound by the ſaid Statute, to bring in Bowſtaves, upon like pains and forfeitures as by the ſaid Statutes are appointed. (4) And where the greateſt cauſe of not putting the ſaid Statute in execution, hath been, that the forfeitures thereby limited, are by the ſaid Statute given only to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, without any reward to the perſon that ſhall ſue for the ſame; (5) be it enacted, That from henceforth all the forfeitures appointed by the ſaid Statutes, ſhall be imployed in form following; that is to ſay, the one half thereof to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other half to ſuch perſons as ſhall ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, wherein no eſſoign, protection, nor wager of Law for the Defendant ſhall be admitted or allowed. (6) And it may pleaſe the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, That it be on her Highneſs part ſtraightly charged and commanded, That all the Statutes now remaining in force, for repreſſing of unlawful Games, and for the maintenance and uſe of Archery, ſhall be duly put in execution for ever, under the pains in the ſaid Statutes contained.

An Act that no Hoy or Plate ſhall croſs the Seas.

Where at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the Firſt year of your Highneſs Reign, it was amongſt other things enacted, That no Hoy or Plate, whereof any Engliſh Subject then was or ſhould be Owner or Owners, at any time after the firſt day of January next enſuing the Seſſion of the ſame Parliament, from any Port, Creek or place of this Realm of England, or any of the Dominions of the ſame, ſhould traverſe or croſs the Seas into or for any of the Ports beyond the Seas, with any Wares, Goods and Merchandiſes, (2) upon pain that the ſaid Owner or Owners ſhould forfeit and loſe the ſame Hoy or Plate, with all and every the munition, tackling, and other neceſſaries pertaining thereunto, as by the ſame Statute more at large doth and may appear: (3) And whereas by an Eſtatute made in the Fifth year of your Highneſs Reign, it is amongſt other things enacted, That from thenceforth all Engliſh Hoys and Plates might croſs the Seas as far as Cane in Normandy, and Eaſtward as far as Norway; the ſaid Statute made in the Firſt year of your Highneſs Reign, to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. (4) And foraſmuch as the ſaid branch in the ſaid Eſtatute made in the Fifth year of your Reign, tendeth greatly to the decay of Mariners and Ships, by the marvellous increaſe of Hoys; (5) Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That from the Feaſt of S. Michael, the Archangel next coming, the ſaid clauſe contained in the ſaid Eſtatute made in the ſaid Fifth year of your Reign, for the croſſing of the Seas by Hoys and Plates, ſhall be utterly Repealed and made void and of none effect: (6) And that from the ſaid Feaſt of S. Michael the Archangel next, the ſaid Eſtatute made in the Firſt year of your Reign, prohibiting the croſſing of the Seas by Hoys and Plates, be obſerved and kept; the ſaid Eſtatute made in the Fifth year of your Majeſties Reign, to the contrary hereof notwithſtanding. An Act for Reviving and Continuance of certain Statutes.

Woods 1. Divers Statutes for winding of wool, touching attaints, for preſervation of Woods againſt Foreſtallers &c. keeping of milch kine, and breeding of calves made perpetual; and other Statutes revived &c. 21 H. 8. 17. 23 H. 8. 3. 35 H. 8. 17. 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 14. 2 & 3 P. & M. 3.

Where in the Parliament begun and holden at London the third day of November, in the One and twentieth year of the Reign of our late moſt dread Sovereign Lord of famous memory King Henry the Eighth, and from thence adjourned to Weſtminſter, and there holden and continued by divers Prorogations, until the Diſſolution thereof, an Act was made for the true winding of Wools.

II. And where alſo in the ſame Parliament, one other Act was made, and eſtabliſhed for attaints to be ſued for the puniſhment of perjury upon untrue verdicts.

III. And where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the xxxv. year of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, one Act was made for the preſervation of Woods.

IV. And where alſo at the Seſſion of Parliament by Prorogation holden at Weſtminſter the three and twentieth day of January, in the Fifth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, one Act was then and there made againſt Regrators, Foreſtallers and Ingroſſers.

V. And where alſo at a Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the xxi. day of October, in the Second and Third years of the Reign of the late King Philip and Queen Mary, and there continued until the Diſſolution of the ſame, one Act was made then and there for keeping of Milch Kine, and for the breeding and rearing of Calves; (2) all which Acts were by ſundry Acts of Parliament continued in force and effect, until the end and Diſſolution of the laſt Parliament of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, at which time the ſame ſeveral Acts, and every of them were diſcontinued, and loſt their force and effect; (3) Which Acts above mentioned, and every of them, by proof and experience, have ſince the making of the ſame, been tried and found to be very neceſſary, beneficial and profitable for the Common wealth, and therefore are thought good to be made perpetual: (4) Be it therefore enacted by the Queens Majeſty our ſaid Sovereign Lady, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſaid Acts above remembred, and every of them, and all and every the branches, clauſes and proviſions in them and every of them contained, ſhall be revived, and from henceforth remain and continue in force and effect for ever.

3 & 4 Ed. 6. 19.

VII. And where in the Seſſion of a Parliament ended at Weſtminſter in the firſt day of February, in the Fourth year of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, one Act was made concerning the buying and ſelling of Rother Beaſts.

3 & 4 Ed. 6. 21.

VIII. And alſo one other Act was then and there likewiſe made, entituled, An Act for buying and ſelling of Butter and Cheeſe; (2) all which Acts were continued until the end of the laſt Parliament of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, at which time the ſame were likewiſe for defect of further continuance, diſcontinued, and loſt their force and effects.

5 El. 2.

IX. And where alſo an Act was made in the firſt Seſſion of the ſaid Parliament, holden in the Fifth year of her Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act for the maintenance and increaſe of Tillage.

5 El. 3.

X. And one other Act then alſo made, entituled, An Act for the relief of the poor; which were to endure to the end of the next Seſſion of the ſame Parliament, and then alſo in the end of the ſaid Parliament, diſcontinued and loſt their force and effect, for defect of further continuance.

XI. And where alſo in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, in the xxiii. day of January, in the firſt year of the reign of the Queens Majeſty that now is, and there continued by Prorogation until the diſſolution thereof, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for the Preſervation of Spawn and Fry of Fiſh: which Act was to endure to the end of the next Parliament, and then in the ſame next Parliament was not any further continued, and ſo likewiſe loſt his force and effect.

1 El. 17.

XII. Foraſmuch as all the ſaid ſeveral Acts, and every of them laſt recited, do ſeem by tryal and experience of them hitherto had, to be good, profitable, and neceſſary for the Commonwealth of this Realm, and therefore to be revived, and to have further continuance, (2) Be it therefore enacted by our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that all the ſaid laſt mentioned Acts, and every of them, and all the articles, clauſes and proviſions in them and every of them contained, ſhall be likewiſe revived, and ſhall from henceforth continue and endure in full force and effect, until the end of the next Parliament.

The laſt mentioned ſix Acts revived and continued until the end of the next Parliament.

XIII. And where alſo one Act entituled, An Act for the making of Gaols in divers Shires of this Realm, was made in the aforeſaid Parliament, begun and holden in the third day of November, in the Three and twentieth year of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lord King Henry the Eighth, and ſithence by divers Act continued until the death of the ſame late King; (2) and after in the laſt Seſſion of the Parliament begun and holden upon Prorogation at Weſtminſter, the four and twentieth day of October, in the Firſt year of the Reign of our ſaid late Sovereign Lady, Queen Mary, the ſame Act, and all clauſes and ſentences therein contained, was then made to continue and endure until the end of ten years then next enſuing to the ſame Parliament; (3) which Act afterwards in the Firſt Seſſion of Parliament, begun and holden at Weſtminſter the twelfth day of January, in the Fifth year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, and there by Prorogation continued until the Diſſolution thereof, was by one Act then and there made and entituled, An Act for the reviving of a Statute made Anno 23 Henrici octavi, touching the repairing of Gaols, made to continue and endure in full force and effect, and to be obſerved and kept in all things, unto the end and term of ten years next enſuing the laſt day of the ſame Parliament, and was alſo by the ſaid Act made in the Fifth year of her Majeſties Reign, in certain points and articles enlarged, as by the ſaid Act more fully appeareth: (4) And foraſmuch as the ſaid Acts made in the ſaid Three and twentieth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Henry the Eighth, and in the ſaid Seſſion of Parliament holden in the Fifth year of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, touching the making and repairing of Gaols, are thought to be very good and beneficial for the Commonwealth of this Realm, and do not yet extend to the County of Cambridge, (5) Be it therefore enacted, That the ſaid Acts ſhall extend to the ſaid County of Cambridge, and to and for the making and repairing of Gaols in the ſame County, in all and every thing and Article, as fully and in as ample manner and form as the ſame Acts, and either of them, do extend to the Counties and Gaols in them, and either of them, ſpecially mentioned, and as though the ſaid County of Cambridge, and the Gaol in the ſame County, had been in the ſame Acts, and either of them ſpecially mentioned; (6) and that the ſaid Acts, and every clauſe, ſentence and proviſion in them, and in either of them contained ſhall continue and endure, and be obſerved in all things, as well within the ſaid County of Cambridge as in other the Counties or Shires in the ſame Acts, and in either of them ſpecified for ten whole years next enſuing the end and determination of the ten years mentioned in the ſaid Act, made in the ſaid Fifth year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is.

An Act for the Continuation, Explanation, Perfecting and Enlarging of divers Statutes.

Ecclesiastical perſons 8, &c. Several Statutes made in the Reigns of King H. 8. King Ed. 6. & Queen Eliz. revived, continued and explained, &c.

WHere in the Parliament holden upon Prorogation at Weſtminſter the fourth day of February, in the Four and twentieth year of the Reign of the late King Henry the Eighth, one Act was there made, entituled, An Act to continue and renew the Act made againſt killing of Calves; and one other Act, entituled, An Act againſt killing of young beaſts, called wainlings. 24 H. 8. 7.

II. And where in the Seſſion of a Parliament ended at Weſtminſter on the firſt day of February, in the Fourth year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, one Act was made concerning the buying and ſelling of Rother Beaſts. 21 H. 8. 9. Anno 3 & 4 Ed. 6. 19.

III. And alſo one other Act was then and there likewiſe made, entituled, An Act for the buying and ſelling of Butter and Cheeſe. 3 & 4 Ed. 6. 21.

IV. And where alſo an Act was made in the firſt Seſſion of the Parliament holden in the Fifth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act for the maintenance and increaſe of Tillage. 5 El. 2.

V. And where alſo in the Parliament begun at Weſtminſter on the three and twentieth day of January, in the Firſt year of the Reign of the Queens Majeſty that now is, and there continued by Prorogation until the Diſſolution thereof, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for the preſervation of ſpawn and fry of Fiſh. 1 El. 17.

VI. And where alſo in the firſt Seſſion of the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, in the Fifth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, and from thence continued by Prorogation until the Diſſolution thereof, one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for the avoiding of divers foreign Wares made by handicraftſmen beyond the Seas. 5 El. 7.

VII. An one other Act, entituled, An Act for the puniſhment of ſuch perſons as ſhould procure or commit any wilful perjury; which Acts were limited to endure to the end of the next Parliament. 5 El. 9.

VIII. And where alſo in the firſt Seſſion of the ſame Parliament holden by Prorogation at Weſtminſter, in the Eighth year of the Reign of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty that now is one Act was then and there made, entituled, An Act for Bowyers, and the prices of Bows, and was made to continue to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 8 El. 10.

IX. And alſo one other Act was then made, entituled, An Act for the preſervation of Grain; (2) all which ſeveral Acts and Statutes were made to continue but for certain times; and all which Acts made in the ſaid Fourth year of king Edward the Sixth, and in the ſaid Firſt, Fifth and Eighth years of the Queens Majeſties Reign, were at the laſt Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond of April, in the Thirteenth year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, made to continue and ſtand in force unto the end of the next Parliament then next following. 8 El. 15. 13 25.

X. And where alſo in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond day of April, in the Thirteenth year of the Reign of our ſaid Sovereign Lady the Queen, one Act and Statute was then and there made, for the avoiding and aboliſhing of feigned, covenous and fraudulent feoffments, gifts, grants, alienations, conveyances, bonds, ſuits, judgments, and executions, entituled, An Act againſt fraudulent deeds, gifts, grants, alienations, &c. which Act and Statute was then made to endure unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament, as by the ſaid Act more plainly will appear. 13 El. 5.

XI. And where alſo in the ſaid Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the ſaid ſecond day of April, there was alſo one other Act and Statute made for the avoiding of ſome Leaſes in certain caſes, to be made of Eccleſiaſtical promotions with Cure, entituled, An Act touching Leaſes of Benefices, with other Eccleſiaſtical Livings with Cure; which Act was likewiſe made to continue to the end of the next Parliament. 13 El. cap. 20.

XII. And where alſo there was one other Act and Statute made in the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter the ſaid ſecond day of April, in the ſaid Thirteenth year, entituled, An Act that Purveyors may take Grain, Corn or Victuals within five miles of Cambridge and Oxford, in certain caſes, which was made likewiſe to continue to the laſt day of the next Parliament. 33 El. 21.

A repeal of a Proviſo contained in the Statute of 13 El. 25.

XIII. And where in the Statute made in the Thirteenth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act for the reviving and continuance of certain Statutes, is contained one Proviſo, That the ſaid Act concerning the avoiding of foreign Wares made by Handicraftſmen beyond the Seas, or any clauſe, article or meaning therein contained, ſhould not in any wiſe extend or be prejudicial to any entercourſe, or treaties of any entercourſe then ſtanding in force, had or made between the Progenitors of the Queens Majeſty or her Highneſs, and any others: (2) Now for good conſiderations, and ſpecially that ſtrangers may not be at liberty, and the Queens Majeſties natural Subjects reſtrained, be it enacted, That the ſaid Proviſo, and every clauſe, article and matter therein contained, ſhall from henceforth be Repealed and utterly Void.

Certain Words contained in the Statute of 13 El. 10 Sect. 1, N. 2. diſcontinued.

XIV. Provided alſo and be it enacted, That theſe words, [So ſoon as it, or any part thereof, come to any poſſeſſion or uſe above forbidden, or] which words are contained in the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid Thirteenth year, touching Leaſes or Benefices, and other Eccleſiaſtical Livings with Cure, ſhall not be revived by this Act, but remain diſcontinued, and ſhall from henceforth be omitted out of the ſaid Act; any thing in the ſaid Act, or in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Co pl. f. 205. Bonds and covenants for the enjoying of leaſes, ſhall be void

XVII. And where in one other Act made in the ſaid Thirteenth year, entituled An Act againſt fraudulent gifts, to the intent to defeat dilapidations of Eccleſiaſtical Livings, and for Leaſes to be granted by Collegiate Churches, there is one branch to avoid certain Leaſes to be made by Maſters and Fellows of Colledges, Deans and Chapters of Cathedral or Collegiate Churches, Maſters or Guardians of any Hoſpital, or by any Parſon, Vicar, or any other having any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Living, (2) be it enacted, That the ſaid branch, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to any Grant, Aſſurance, or Leaſe of any Houſes belonging to any perſons, or bodies politick or corporate aforeſaid, nor to any grounds to ſuch houſes appertaining, which houſes be ſituate in any City, Borough, Town-corporate, or Market-town, or the Suburbs of any of them, (3) but that all ſuch houſes and grounds may be granted, demiſed and aſſured, as by the Laws of this Realm and the ſeveral Statutes of the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Churches and Hoſpitals, they lawfully might have been before the making of the ſaid Statute, or lawfully might be, if the ſaid Statute were not, (4) ſo alway that ſuch houſe be not the capital or dwelling houſe uſed for the habitation of the perſons aboveſaid, nor have ground to the ſame belonging, above the quantity of ten Acres; any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Leaſes made by ſpiritual perſons, of houſes in Cities or Corporate-Towns. 2 Leond. 188. 1 Roll. 161.

Money recovered for dilapidations, ſhall be imployed in repair of the ſame houſes.

XVIII. And be it further Enacted, that all ſums of money hereafter to be recovered, for or in name of Dilapidations, by ſentence, compoſition or otherwiſe, ſhall within two years after ſuch receipt, be truly imployed upon the buildings and reparations, in reſpect whereof ſuch money for dilapidations ſhall be paid, (2) on pain that every perſon ſo receiving, and not imploying as aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit double as much as ſo ſhall be by him received, and not imployed; the which forfeiture ſhall be to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors.

Certain obſervations in the Leaſes to be made by ſpiritual perſons, according to this Statute.

No Colledge ſhall alien any houſe without preſent and ſufficient ſatisfaction.

XIX. Provided alway, and be it enacted, That no Leaſe ſhall be permitted to be made by force of this Act, in reverſion, (2) nor without reſerving the accuſtomed yearly rent at the leaſt, (3) nor without charging the Leſſee with the reparation, (4) nor for longer term then fourty years at the moſt; (5) nor any houſes ſhall be permitted to be aliened, unleſs that in recompence thereof, there ſhall be afore, with or preſently after ſuch alienation, good, lawful and ſufficient aſſurance made in Fee-ſimple abſolutely to ſuch Colledges, Houſes, bodies politick or corporate, and their ſucceſſors of lands of as good value, and of as great yearly value at the leaſt, as ſo ſhall be aliened; any Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The firſt mentioned 13 Stat. continued until the end of the next Parliament.

XX. And foraſmuch as all the ſame ſeveral Acts and Statutes, and every of them, do ſeem good, beneficial and needful to be further continued, for the weal and profit of this Realm, (2) be it therefore now enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſame ſeveral Acts and Statutes, and every of them, and all and every article, clauſe and ſentence in them and every of them contained, ſhall continue, be and endure in full force and effect, until the end of the next Parliament. Stat. 39 El. 18.

CAP. XII.

An Act for the repeal of a Statute made in the Town of Shrewsbury, in Anno octavo of the Queens Majeſty.

Drapery, Raſt. 63. So much of the Stat of 8 El. 7. as reſtraineth any of the Inhabitants of Shrewsbury to buy Welſh Cloth, Cottens or Frizes, repealed.

Where at the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the laſt day of September, in the Eighth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, there was an Act made, entituled, An Act touching Drapers, Cottoners, and Frizers in the Town of Shrewsbury, in the County of Salop: and in the ſame Act there is contained matter then ſuppoſed for the benefit of the ſaid Town of Shrewsbury, in advancing the Corporations, of Drapers, Cottoners, and Frizers of the ſaid Town: (2) And it was thereby enacted, That from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter then next enſuing, no manner perſon or perſons whatſoever, inhabiting and dwelling within the ſaid Town of Shrewsbury, or the liberties or franchiſes of the ſame Town (other than ſuch as then had, or then after ſhould ſerve as Apprentice in the Occupation and Science of Drapers, or then had been, or thereafter ſhould be free of the ſaid Science or Myſtery) ſhould occupy, uſe, exerciſe or frequent the ſaid Trade, Art, Myſtery or Science of buying of the ſaid Welſh Cloth, or Lining, Cottons, Frizes or Plains, nor have any Factor or doer for him or them in the ſame, nor by any colour, engine or fraud, buy any of the ſaid Frizes, Linings, Cottons and Plains, (3) upon pain that every perſon and Perſons inhabiting, as is aforeſaid, and occupying, uſing or exerciſing the ſaid Trade, Art, Myſtery, Occupation or Science of buying of Welſh Clothes and Linings, &c, and not authorized by the ſaid Act ſhould loſe and forfeit for every piece of the ſaid Cloathes bought, ſix ſhillings eight pence:

The inconveniences enſuing upon the making of the aforeſaid Act to the poor Inhabitants of Shrewsbury, and others.

II. And where ſithence the making of the ſaid Act, experience hath plainly taught in the ſaid Town, that the ſaid Act hath not only not brought the good effect that then was hoped and ſurmiſed, but alſo hath been, and now is likely to be the very greateſt cauſe of the impoveriſhing and undoing of the poor Artificers and others, at whoſe Suit the ſaid Act was procured, for that there be now ſithence the making of the ſaid Statue, much fewer perſons to ſet them a work than before; (2) and by reſtraining all other inhabitors of the ſaid Town of Shrewsbury, from the former lawful Trade ever heretofore uſed of buying of Welſh Clothes, Frizes, Cottons, Linings and Plains (leaving the ſame nevertheleſs free of all the Subjects of England without any reſtraint, ſaving for the ſaid Inhabitants of the Town of Shrewsbury, and the liberties and franchiſes of the ſame Town only) hath been the evident occaſion of great decay, not only to the ſaid Town, and the liberties and franchiſes of the ſame, but alſo to a great and infinite number of poor people in Northwales, that is to ſay, in the Counties of Montgomery, Denbigh, Merioneth, and alſo the Town of Oſweſter, and the greateſt part of the Countrey thereabouts, where the ſaid Welſh Clothes, Frizes, Cottons, Linings and Plains, are made and ſold, which were wont to be maintained and relieved by Trade of making or working of the ſaid Frizes, Cottons, &c. contrary to the expectation that then was wrongfully received:

III. Be it therefore at, the humble Suit of the Inhabitants of the ſaid Town, and alſo of the ſaid Artificers, for whoſe benefit the ſaid Act was ſuppoſed to be provided, enacted, That the ſaid Act, and all the matter in the ſaid Act contained, ſhall from henceforth be Repealed and made void; Any thing in the ſaid Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A Repeal of part of the Star. of 8 El. 7. and a confirmation of the reſidue.

IV. Provided always, That ſo much of the ſaid Statute of the Eighth year of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, and every article and branch therein contained as toucheth the preſent and ready payment of money to Sheermen, Cottoners and Frizers, for their work, and alſo as toucheth the reſtraint of ſuch as ſhall, or do occupy or uſe the trade of buying of Frizes, Cottons of Plains, from the uſe or exerciſe of the faculty of Frizing or Cottoning, ſhall ſtand and be in force; Any thing in this Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

IV. And be it alſo enacted, That if any perſon or perſons (except the Clerks of the Court only, for making out of proceſs otherwiſe then is above appointed) ſhall offend in ſuing out of proceſs, making of compoſition, or other miſdemeanour, contrary to the true intent and meaning of this Statute, or ſhall by colour or pretence of proceſs, or without proceſs, upon colour or pretence of any matter of offence againſt any penal Law, make any compoſition, or take any money, reward or promiſe of reward, for himſelf, or to the uſe of any other, without order or conſent of ſome of her Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, that then he or they ſo offending, being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall ſtand on the Pillory in ſome Market Town next adjoyning where the ſame offence ſhall be committed, in the open Market time, and therein remain by the ſpace of two hours, (2) and ſhall from and after ſuch conviction, for ever be diſabled to purſue, or be Plaintiff or informer in any Suit or Information upon any Statute popular or penal, (3) and ſhall alſo for every ſuch offence forfeit and loſe Ten pounds of lawful Engliſh money, the one half thereof to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half to the party grieved thereby, to be recovered in any Court of Record, by action of debt or information; in which no eſſoin, protection, injunction or wager of Law, ſhall be permitted or allowed: (4) And that Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Circuits, and Juſtices of Peace in their quarter Seſſions, ſhall have full power and authority to hear and determine all offences to be committed or done contrary to the true intent and meaning of this preſent Act.

Which Juſtices may hear and determine them.

Purſuing upon the Statute againſt Maintenance, Champerty, &c.

V. Provided always, and nevertheleſs be it enacted, That it ſhall and may be lawful and for any perſon or perſons grieved by means of any manner of Maintenance, Champerty, buying of titles or imbracery, to purſue upon any the Statutes provided and ſet forth againſt Maintenance, Champerty, buying of titles or imbracery, as he or they might have done before the making of this Act; Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Penalties given to perſons certain, and not generally.

VI. Provided alſo, That this Act ſhall not extend to any Suit already depending, (2) nor ſhall reſtrain any certain perſon, body politick or corporate, to whom or to whoſe uſe any forfeiture, penalty or ſuit is or ſhall be ſpecially limited or granted by virtue of any Statute, and not generally to any perſon that will ſue, but that every ſuch certain perſon, body politick or corporate which might ſue or inform, as if this Act were not made, may in ſuch caſe ſue, inform and purſue, as he or they might have done, if this Act were never had nor made.

Officers uſing to exhibit Informations.

VII. And provided alſo, that neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall in any wiſe extend to any ſuch Officers of Record, as have in reſpect of their Offices heretofore lawfully uſed to exhibit informations, or ſue upon penal Laws, (2) nor to any Officers informing or purſuing for matters only concerning his or their Offices, (3) but that they and every of them may inform and purſue in that behalf, as they might have done before the making of this Act; Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

VIII. This Act to take force and effect from the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, and from thenceforth to endure unto the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 27 El. 10. made perpetual. 31 El. 5.

C A P. VI.

An Act for maintenance of the Colledges in the Univerſities, and of Wincheſter and Eaton.

Leaſes 4, &c. Upon Leaſes made by Colledges, a third part of the rent ſhall be reſerved in Corn. 1 Leon. 307, 330. Savil 129.

FOr the better maintenance of Learning, and the relief of Scholars in the Univerſities of Cambridge and Oxford, and the Colledges of Wincheſter and Eaton, (2) Be it enacted by the Queens Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no Maſter, Provoſt, Preſident, Warden, Dean, Governor, Rector or chief Ruler of any Colledge, Cathedral Church, Hall or Houſe of Learning in any of the Univerſities aforeſaid, nor any Provoſt, Warden, or other Head-officer of the ſaid Colledges of Wincheſter or Eaton, nor the Corporation of any of the ſame, by what title, ſtile or name ſoever they now be, ſhall or may be called, after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall make any Leaſe for life, lives or years, of any Farm or any their lands, tenements or other hereditaments to the which any tithes, arable land, meadow or paſture, doth or ſhall appertain, except that the one third part at the leaſt of the old Rent be reſerved in Corn for the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls and Houſes; that is to ſay, in good Wheat, after vj. s. viij. d. the quarter, or under, and good Mault at v. s. the quarter or under, to be delivered yearly upon days prefixed, at the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Churches, Halls or Houſes; (3) and for default thereof, to pay to the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls or Houſes, in ready money, at the election of the ſaid Leſſees, their Executors, Adminiſtrators and Aſſigns, after the rate of the beſt Wheat and Mault in the Market of Cambridge, for the Rents that are to be paid to the uſe of the Houſe or Houſes there; and in the Market of Oxford, for the Rents that are to be paid to the uſe of the Houſe or Houſes there; and in the Market of Wincheſter, for the Rents that are to be paid to the uſe of the Houſe or Houſes there; and in the Market at Windſor, for the Rents that are to be paid to the uſe of the Houſe or Houſes at Eaton, is or ſhall be ſold the next Market day before the ſaid Rent ſhall be due, without fraud or deceit: (4) And that all Leaſes otherwiſe hereafter to be made, and all collateral Bonds, or aſſurance to the contrary by any of the ſaid Corporations, ſhall be void in Law to all intents and purpoſes: (5) The ſame Wheat, Mault or Money coming of the ſame, to be expended to the uſe of the relief of the Commons and Diet of the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls and Houſes only, (6) and by no fraud or colour, let or ſold away from the profit of the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Hall and Houſes, and the Fellows and Scholars in the ſame, and the uſe aforeſaid, upon pain of deprivation of the Governour and chief Rulers of the ſaid Colledges, Cathedral Church, Halls and Houſes, and all other thereunto conſenting.

Mouncken Barn in Suſſex.

II. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend, or be in any wiſe prejudicial to any Leaſe to be made of a Barn called Mouncken Barn, with a certain portion of Tithes, riſing, growing and being in the Pariſh of Southweek in the County of Suſſex, being parcel of the Poſſeſſions of Maudlin Colledge in Oxford, ſo that the term demiſed in and by the ſaid Leaſe exceed not the number of ten years, from and after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next coming; Any thing therein ſpecified to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Fifield demiſed to White.

III. Provided alſo, That this Act ſhall not extend to any Leaſe to be made by the Preſident and Scholars of the Colledge of Saint John Baptiſt in Oxford, to any Heir-male of Sir Thomas White, late Knight and Alderman of London, Founder of the ſaid Colledge; which Leaſe ſhall be made according to the meaning of the Foundation and Statutes of the ſaid Colledge of the Manor of Fifield, and no other Hereditaments.

CAP. VII.

An Act to take away Clergy from the Offenders in Rape and Burglary, and an Order for the delivery of Clerks convict without purgation.

Clergy 10. 3 Inſt. 65, 214.

None ſhall have Clergy that committeth Rape or Burglary.

For the repreſſing of the moſt wicked and felonious Rapes or Raviſhments of Women, Maids, Wives and Damoſels, and of felonious Burglaries, and for the avoiding of ſundry perjuries and other abuſes, in and about the purgation of Clerks convict, delivered to the Ordinaries, (2) Be it enacted and ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament, that if any perſon or perſons ſhall fortune at any time after the firſt day of June next enſuing, to commit or do any manner of felonious Rape, Raviſhment or Burglary, and to be found guilty by Verdict, of any ſuch felonious Rape or Burglary, (3) or that any perſon or perſons ſhall fortune to be outlawed for any the offences aforeſaid, (4) or upon his or their Arraignment ſhall confeſs any ſuch felonious Rape or Burglary, (5) That in every ſuch caſe, every perſon and perſons ſo being found guilty, outlawed, or confeſſing any of the ſaid felonious Rapes or Burglaries, ſhall ſuffer pains of death, and forfeit, as in caſes of felony hath been uſed and accuſtomed by the common Laws of this Realm, without any allowance of the priviledge or benefit of Clergy; Any Law, Cuſtom or Uſage heretofore had, made or uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Hob. 291. Co. l. 11. f.

No man allowed his Clergy, ſhall be committed to the Ordinary, but preſently delivered. 4 H. 7. 13. 3 Ed. 1. 2.

II. And moreover, be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons, which at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be admitted and allowed to have the benefit or priviledge of his or their Clergy, ſhall not thereupon be delivered to the Ordinary, as hath been accuſtomed, but after ſuch Clergy allowed, and burning in the Hand, according to the Statute in that behalf provided, ſhall forthwith be enlarged and delivered out of priſon by the Juſtices before whom ſuch Clergy ſhall be granted, that cauſe notwithſtanding.

Hob. 294. Co. l. 5. l. Cro. Jac.

The Juſtices may retain offenders in priſon for a time. 2 Bulſtr. 137.

III. Provided nevertheleſs, and be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices before whom any ſuch allowance of Clergy ſhall be had, ſhall and may for the further correction of ſuch perſons to whom Clergy ſhall be allowed, detain and keep them in priſon for ſuch convenient time as the ſame Juſtices in their diſcretions ſhall think convenient, ſo as the ſame do not exceed one years impriſonment; Any Law or Uſage heretofore had or uſed to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

To know a woman carnally under the age of ten years, ſhall be Felony.

IV. And for plain declaration of Law, Be it enacted, That if any perſon ſhall unlawfully and carnally know and abuſe any woman-child under the age of ten years, every ſuch unlawful and carnal knowledge ſhall be felony, and the offender thereof being duly convicted, ſhall ſuffer as a Felon without allowance of Clergy.

He that is allowed his Clergy, ſhall anſwer to other Felonies. 25 Ed. 3. 5. 8 Eliz. 4.

V. Provided always, That all and every perſon and perſons, which ſhall hereafter be admitted to have the benefit of his or their Clergy, ſhall notwithſtanding his or their admiſſion to the ſame, be put to anſwer to all other Felonies whereof he or they ſhall be hereafter indicted or appealed, and not being thereof before acquitted, convicted, attainted or pardoned, (2) and ſhall in ſuch manner and form be arraigned, tried, adjudged and ſuffer ſuch execution for the ſame, as he or they ſhould have done, if, as Clerk or Clerks convict, they had been delivered to the Ordinary, and there had made his or their purgations; Any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. VIII.

An Act for the appointing of Juſtices in the Shires of Wales.

Wales 5. The Queen may appoint Juſtices of Aſſiſes in Wales, and of what things they may hold Plea. 27 H. 8. 26. 34 H. 8. 26.

12 Co.

Whereas by divers laudable Statutes, Uſages and Laws of this Realm, for the good Government and Adminiſtration of Juſtice within the Principality and Dominion of Wales, and the County Palatine of Cheſter, it hath been eſtabliſhed, uſed and enacted among other things, That there ſhall be holden and kept Seſſions twice in every year, in every of the Shires in the ſaid Dominion and Principality of Wales; that is to ſay, in the Shires of Glamorgan, Brecknock, Radnor, Caermarthen, Pembroke, the Town and County of Haverford-weſt, Cardigan, Montgomery, Denbigh, Flint, Caernarvon, Merioneth and Angleſey, and in the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter; the which Seſſions are called the Kings great Seſſions: (2) And that the Juſtice of Cheſter for the time being, ſhall hold and keep Seſſions twice in every year in the Shires of Cheſter, Denbigh, Flint and Montgomery: (3) And likewiſe that the Juſtice of North-wales ſhall hold and keep Seſſions twice every year, in every of the ſaid Shires of Caernarvon, Merioneth and Angleſey; (4) And that alſo one perſon learned in the Laws of this Realm of England, by the Queens Majeſty to be appointed, ſhall be Juſtice of the Shires of Radnor, Brecknock and Glamorgan, and ſhall in likewiſe hold and keep Seſſions twice in every year in every of the ſame Shires: (5) And that one other perſon learned in the Laws of this Realm, to be appointed as is aforeſaid, ſhall be Juſtice of the Shires of Caermarthen, Pembroke and Cardigan, and the Town and County of Haverford-weſt, and ſhall likewiſe hold and keep Seſſions twice in every year in every of the ſaid Shires: (6) And that the ſaid perſons or Juſtices, and every of them then being, or that hereafter ſhould be, ſhould have ſeveral Letters Patents and Commiſſions for their Offices under the Great Seal of England, to be exerciſed by themſelves, or their ſufficient Deputies, according to the purports and intents in the Ordinances ſpecified:

II. Foraſmuch as by the good adminiſtration of Juſtice within the ſaid Shires and Counties, the ſame Principality and Dominion of Wales, and the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, are reduced to great obedience of her Majeſties Laws, and the ſame greatly inhabited, manured and peopled, (2) and for all and all manner of Cauſes, Pleas, Actions, as well real, perſonal, and mixt, as Treaſons, Pleas of the Crown, Attaints, Conſpiracies, Aſſiſes, Quare impedit, Appeals of Murder, Maims, and Felony, and Trial upon all Murders, Manſlaughters and Felonies whatſoever ariſing within the ſaid ſeveral Circuits, are by the ſaid Laws, Uſages and Statutes impleadable, impleaded and determinable before one only Juſtice, as is aforeſaid: (3) And for that many great and weighty cauſes, matters, queſtions, demurrers and ambiguities in Law do hereupon daily ariſe, increaſe, and are like more and more to increaſe within the ſaid Shires, to the infinite trouble of ſuch one Juſtice within every of the ſaid ſeveral Circuits, and to the great decay and hindrance of adminiſtration of Juſtice:

The benefits enſuing by the adminiſtration of Juſtice in Wales, Cheſhire, &c.

To have one Judge overcharged with the hearing of many cauſes, is a great delay of Juſtice.

III. For the better and more ſpeedy remedy whereof, her Majeſties Subjects of the ſaid Principality and Dominion of Wales, and County Palatine of Cheſter, have made their moſt humble Petition and Suit to her Highneſs, to have two Juſtices learned in the Laws in every of the ſaid ſeveral Circuits: (2) And foraſmuch as ſame queſtion, ambiguity and doubt hath been heretofore made, whether her Highneſs by her Letters Patents under the Great Seal of England, might or may authorize, conſtitute or appoint two perſons or more, to be her Highneſs Juſtices in every of the ſaid ſeveral Circuits, or Grant Commiſſion or Commiſſions of aſſociation or aſſociations, to or with every or any ſuch ſeveral Juſtice and Juſtices, or no: and alſo whether after ſuch Grant, the adminiſtration of Juſtice in thoſe Offices and Function done by two, may be ſufficiently rewarded by Law, or no: (3) For plain explanation whereof, and for the better redreſs, and more ſpeedy adminiſtration of Juſtice to be had touching the premiſſes, Be it declared, explained, enacted and eſtabliſhed by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, may and ſhall at her and their will and pleaſure, have full power, prerogative and authority from time to time, to conſtitute, authorize, name or appoint two or more learned, as aforeſaid, in the Laws of this Realm, to the Juſtices of and for the ſaid Counties of Cheſter, Flint, Denbigh and Montgomery: (4) and two or more learned, as aforeſaid, to be Juſtices of North-wales, viz. of and for the ſaid Shires of Angleſey, Caernarvon and Merioneth: (5) and likewiſe two or more learned, as aforeſaid, to be Juſtices of and for the ſaid Circuit and Shires of Radnor, Glamorgan and Brecknock: (6) and alſo two more learned, as aforeſaid, to be Juſtices of and for the ſaid Circuit and Shires of Cardigan, Caermarthen, and Pembroke, and the Town and County of Haverford-weſt; Any Law, Uſage, Opinion, or Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

IV. And that her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, may and ſhall, at her and their good will and pleaſure, from time to time, aſſociate and grant Commiſſion and Commiſſions of aſſociation or aſſociations under the Great Seal of England, to any perſon or perſons learned, as aforeſaid, to be aſſociate to or with every or any ſucy ſeveral Juſtice or Juſtices for the time being, of the ſaid ſeveral Circuits and Counties aforeſaid, or in any of the ſaid Counties: (2) And that all and every ſuch two Juſtices or more, within every of the ſaid ſeveral Circuits and Counties, and alſo that every ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices, together with ſuch perſon or perſons aſſociate (if any ſuch aſſociation or aſſociations ſhall happen to be, as aforeſaid) during ſuch aſſociation, and after ſuch aſſociation ended, or without ſuch aſſociation, ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices ſhall have the like full power, preheminence, authority and juriſdicition from henceforth, to all intents, conſtructions, purpoſes and effects, as any one Juſtice within any the ſaid Circuits or Shires aforeſaid, now hath, or at any time heretofore had or ought to have; (3) And alſo ſhall have like power, authority, preheminence and juriſdiction to keep and hold the ſeveral Seſſions aforeſaid, twice in every year, in every of the ſaid Shires within their ſeveral Circuits aforeſaid, (4) and to hear, determine, order, award, adjudge, receive, take knowledge of, and execute all and ſingular cauſes, matters, pleas of Aſſiſes, treaſons, murders, felonies, indictments, appeals of murder, felony and maims, actions real, perſonal and mixt ſuits, plaints, informations, quarrels, attaints, conſpiracies, quare impedit, and all actions grounded upon any Statute or Statutes, Writs, Proceſſes, Returns, Eſſoins, Verdicts, Judgments, Fines, Acknowledges, Confeſſions, Warrants and Executions, Actions and Acts whatſoever, and to do, perform, obſerve, accompliſh, and make all and every other act and acts, matter and matters, thing and things whatſoever, in like, and in as ample, beneficial, lawful and effectual manner and form, to all conſtructions, qualities, intents and purpoſes, as any of the now ſeveral Juſtices, or any of the now Juſtice or Juſtices within the ſame ſeveral Circuit or Ciruits, and Counties aforeſaid, may, ought, hath or might lawfully do by force of any Law, Uſage or Statute heretofore had, made or uſed before the making of this Act: (5) and that from henceforth all and ſingular Writs, Proceſſes, Returns, Eſſoins, Verdicts, Judgments, Fines, Recoveries, Recogniſances, Acknowledges, Confeſſions, Act and Acts, Thing and Things, Matter and Matters, as aforeſaid, had, made, taken, done, returned, heard, determined, awarded, adjudged or executed by or before any ſuch two Juſtices or more, or any ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices, and Aſſociate or Aſſociates, as aforeſaid, to be appointed, nominated, authorized or conſtituted, as aforeſaid, ſhall be allowed, taken, conſtrued, expounded and adjudged as good effectual and available, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſame had been made, taken, done, returned, heard, determined, awarded, adjudged or executed by or before any ſuch one Juſtice, or one of the Juſtices now, or late being Juſtice or Juſtices of the ſame Circuit, or ſeveral Circuits aforeſaid; Any Law, Uſage, Statute, Act, Ordinance or Preſcription to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Queen may grant Commiſſions of Aſſociations to any perſon licenced to be aſſociate with Juſtices.

Of what things the two Juſtices, or they with the Aſſociates, may hold Seſſions.

CAP. IX.

An Act againſt the Tranſporting of Leather, Tallow, and raw Hides.

Cordwainers, Rait. 18. Leather 50. 1 El. 10. 14 El. 4.

5 El. 8. A repeal of the Stat. of 1 El. 8. and 14 El. 4. prohibiting the tranſporting of Leather, &c.

A revivor of the Stat. of 1 El. 8. touching the tranſporting of Leather. Rep. 1 Jac. 22.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the firſt year of the Reign of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, one Act was made, that the carrying of Leather, Tallow and raw Hides, out of the Realm for Merchandiſes, ſhould be felony: which Act was made to endure but for a certain time, and afterwards was diſcontinued, and ſithence, viz. in the firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament renewed to have continuance for certain years yet to come: (2) And where alſo in the Parliament holden in the fifth year of her Majeſties Reign, one other Act was made, upon great advice, conference and deliberation, concerning Tanners, Curriers, Shoemakers and other Artificers occupying the cutting of Leather, (3) and thereby all former Acts were repealed concerning the ſame, by which means it was hoped that the goodneſs of Leather, and the exceſs prices thereof, as alſo of Tallow, ſhould have been remedied, which notwithſtanding daily hath increaſed, and yet doth; the cauſe whereof is, that being ſhipped for foreign parties, or tranſported out of the Realm, no forfeiture is given to him or them that will ſeiſe or ſue for the ſame: (4) For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, and by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Act made in the ſaid firſt year, and continued in the ſaid firſt Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, ſhall be repealed, (5) and that ſo much of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fifth year, and Proviſoes therein contained, as do or doth concern the tranſporting of Leather or Hides, ſhall be continued and duly put in execution.

The penalty for ſhipping or loading of any Leather, Tallow, or raw Hides, to the intent to be tranſported.

The forfeiture of the owner of a Ship Maſter and Mariners offending.

II. And be it further enacted, That it ſhall not be lawful for any perſon or perſons, to lade, ſhip or carry in any Veſſel or Ship, or otherwiſe, any Leather, Tallow or raw Hides, of intent to tranſport or carry the ſame into any place or places of the Parts beyond the Seas, or into the Realm of Scotland, by Land or by Sea, other then Scottiſh Hides, according to the ſaid Proviſo in the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fifth year, (2) upon the pain and forfeitures hereafter enſuing; that is to ſay, upon the pain of the forfeiture of the ſaid Leather, Tallow or raw Hides ſo laden or tranſported, and treble the value thereof, to be forfeited by the owner or owners: (3) and alſo the owners of the ſaid Ships or Veſſels, knowing of ſuch offence, to forfeit the ſaid Ships or Veſſels, with all their apparel and furniture to them and every of them belonging; (4) and the Maſter and Mariners knowing of ſuch offence, to forfeit all their goods and chattels, and to have impriſonment by the ſpace of one year without Bail or Mainpriſe; (5) the one moiety of all which forfeitures to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt or information in any Court of Record; in which ſuit, no protection nor wager of Law ſhall be admitted.

By what means the Maſter or Owner of a Ship or Mariner may eſcape the penalty aforeſaid.

III. Provided always, That if any owner of any ſuch Ship or Veſſel, or any Maſter or Mariner knowing any ſuch tranſportation of Leather, Tallow or raw Hides, ſhall within three months next after his knowledge thereof, or after his return into this Realm, give good information bona fide, before any of the Barons of the Queen Majeſties Court of the Exchequer, or before the Lord Preſident or Council in the North, or in the Marches of Wales, or before the Head-Officer of any Port where he ſhall firſt arrive, upon his or their Oath, of the Number and quantity of Leather, Tallow, raw Hides, ſo carried, conveyed or tranſported, and whom, where and in what Ship or Veſſel, and afterwards ſhall be ready upon reaſonable warning by proceſs, to juſtifie and prove the ſame for the Queens Majeſty, that then ſuch owner or owners, Maſter, Mariner or Mariners, ſhall not forfeit his or their Ship, Veſſel or Veſſels, nor incur the forfeitures aforeſaid; Any thing herein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Subſidy of Hides Calves-skins, and Tallow tranſported.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon or perſons whatſoever, that ſhall ſhip or carry any Leather, Tallow or raw Hides, otherwiſe than by force of the ſaid Proviſo made in the ſaid fifth year, into the Parts of beyond the Seas from henceforth, ſhall pay to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors for every Hide ſo to be carried by the name of Subſidy, the ſum of Ten ſhillings, (2) and for every dozen of Calveskins, Three ſhillings four pence, (3) and for every hundred pound weight of Tallow, Six ſhillings eight pence.

Cuſtomers, Comptrollers and Farmers ſhall be accomptant for the ſaid Cuſtoms.

V. And further, That Cuſtomers, Comptrollers, Farmors and Superviſors of Cuſtoms and Subſidy ſhall be accomptant to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, to pay the ſaid Cuſtom and Subſidy for all ſuch Goods entred and laden, upon the pains and penalties contained in the Statute made for falſe concealment of Cuſtoms and Subſidy, in the third year of the Reign of King Henry the Sixth. CAP. X.

An Act of Addition unto the former Acts for amending and repairing of High-ways.

High-ways 12, &c.

Who, and for what every perſon ſhall be charged toward the amending and maintenance of High-ways.

2 & 3 P&M, 8. 5 El. 13.

WHere in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the ſecond and third year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord and Lady King Philip and Queen Mary, an Act was made and ordained for the amending and repairing of the High-ways:

The charge of each perſon towards the repairing of High-ways, having v. l. in goods, or xl. s. in lands.

II. And whereas there is one other Act made in the fifth year of our Sovereign Lady the Queen that now is, for the better amendment of High-ways, wherein ſome doubts and defects had been: (2) For explanation thereof, and better proviſion hereafter to be made for amendment of High-ways, Be it explained and enacted by the Queens Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every perſon or perſons (except ſuch as ſhall dwell in the City of London) that ſhall be aſſeſſed to the payment of any Subſidy to her Majeſty to Five pounds in Goods, or Fourty ſhillings in Lands, or above, during all ſuch time as he ſhall ſtand ſo aſſeſſed and not altered, and being none of the parties chargeable for the amendment of High-ways, by any former Law, but as a Cottager, ſhall find two able men yearly to labour in the High-ways, at ſuch days and times as by the ſaid ſeveral Statutes are limited and appointed.

The charge of him that hath one plough-

III. And every other that hereafter ſhall occupy a Plough-land in Tillage or Paſture, lying and being in ſeveral Pariſhes, ſhall be chargeable, to the making of the ways within the Pariſh where he dwelleth, as far forth, and in ſuch manner and form as any perſon having a Plough-land in any one Pariſh, is, or ought to be chargeable by reaſon of the ſaid former Statutes or either of them.

land in ſeveral Pariſhes.

IV. And that every perſon or perſons occupying and keeping in his or their hands or poſſeſſion, ſeveral or divers Plough-lands, as aforeſaid, in ſeveral or divers Towns, ſhall be charged to find in each Town or Pariſh (where the Plough-lands, being in his occupying, do lie) one Cart, Wain, Tumbrel, Dungpot or Court, Sleads, Cars or Drag, furniſhed for the amendment and repairing of the High-ways within the ſeveral Pariſhes where the ſaid Plough-lands do lie, in ſuch manner and form, as if he or they were a Pariſhioner dwelling within the Pariſhes where the ſame ſeveral Plough-lands lie.

The charge of him that hath ſeveral plough-lands in ſeveral Pariſhes.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every perſon and perſons that ſhall not repair, ditch or ſcour any hayes, fences, ditches or hedges adjoyning to any High-way or common Fairing-way, or ſhall not cut down or keep low all trees and buſhes growing in, or next adjoyning to any the ſaid Ways, according to the true intent and meaning of the above recited Act made in the fifth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign that now is, for every offence committed therein, contrary to the true intent thereof, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every default, Ten ſhillings.

The penalty for not ſcouring ditches, hayes, and fences, or not cutting down of buſhes.

VI. And that all and every perſon or perſons that ſhall accupy any Lands adjoyning to the ſaid ground ſo adjoyning to any ſuch High-way, or common Fairing-way, where any ditching or ſcouring ſhould or ought to be, as aforeſaid, ſhall from time to time, as need ſhall require, ditch and ſcour in his and their ground ſo adjoyning, whereby the water conveyed from the ſaid High-way or common Fairing-way over the ground next adjoyning, may have paſſage over the ſaid ground ſo next adjoyning, upon pain of forfeiture for every time ſo offending, for every rod not ſo ditched and ſcoured, Twelve pence.

VII. And for the better keeping of the High-ways paſſable for her Majeſties people, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons having any ground by Leaſe or otherwiſe, adjoyning to any High-way or common Fairing-way, leading to any Market-town, ſhall caſt or ſcour any ditch, and throw or lay the ſoyl thereof into the High-way, and ſuffer it to lie there by the ſpace of ſix months, to the annoyance of the ſaid High-way or common Fairing-way, upon pain of forfeiture for every load of ſoyl ſo caſt into the High-way or common Fairing-way, in ditching or ſcouring, Twelve pence: (2) And where any heretofore have been ſo caſt into the High-way or common Fairing-way, that there is a bank between the ſaid way and the ditch, it ſhall be lawful for the Surveyors and Workmen, by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm apointed for the amendment of the ſaid ways, to make ſluces and other devices by their diſcretions, to convey the water out of the ſaid way into the ditch; Any Law, Right, Intereſt, Cuſtom or Uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The penalty for caſting of ſoyl into the way.

Making of ſluces to convey the water.

VIII. And that all and every penalty, ſum or ſums of money forfeited for any cauſe within this Statute, ſhall be levied in every Pariſh by the Surveyors of the ways within that Pariſh for the time being, by diſtreſs and ſale of diſtreſs, in manner and form as fines or amerciaments in Leets have been uſed, and the money ſo levied to be employed upon the High-way or common Fairing-way where the offence was committed: (2) And if the Surveyors ſhall not or will not levy and employ the ſame within one year after the offence ſo committed, that then the ſaid ſum or ſums, forfeiture or forfeitures, ſhall be levied in form aforeſaid, by the Conſtables or Church-wardens of the Town or Pariſh where the work ought to be done in the High-ways (as aforeſaid) (3) and that he or they ſo levying any of the ſaid penalties or forfeitures, ſhall make and yield ſuch account appointed in the before recited Statutes, or either of them.

How the forfeitures ariſing by this Statute ſhall be levied and employed.

IX. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Juſtices of Aſſize, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, Juſtices of the Peace in the Seſſions, and Stewards of Leets and Lawdays, in their Leets and Lawdays, ſhall hear and determine all and every offence, matter and cauſe that ſhall grow, come or riſe by reaſon of this Statute.

CAP. XI.

An Act for explanation of the Statutes Entituled, againſt defeating of Dilapidations, and againſt Leaſes to be made of Spiritual Promotions in ſome reſpects.

Eccleſiaſtical perſons 7. A Leaſe or other conveyance to be made of any Spiritual Living, whereof there is a Leaſe in being, not to be determined within three years, and all bonds and covenants for renewing thereof, ſhall be void, &c. A rehearſal of the Statute of 13 El. 10. touching aſſurances made by Spiritual perſons, of their Lands, Tithes, &c.

Whereas by the Statute made in a Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond day of April, in the thirteenth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady, Entituled, An Act againſt fraudulent Gifts, to the intent to defeat Dilapidations of Eccleſiaſtical Livings, and for Leaſes to be granted by Collegiate Churches, It was amongſt other things enacted by the authority of Parliament, That from thenceforth all Leaſes, Gifts, Grants, Feoffments, Conveyances of Eſtates to be made, had, done or ſuffered (2) by any Maſter and fellows of any College, or by any Dean and Chapter of any Cathedral or Collegiate Church, Maſter or Guardian of any Hoſpital, Parſon, Vicar, or any other having any Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Living, or any Houſes, Lands, Tithes, Tenements or other Hereditaments, being any parcel of the Poſſeſſions of any ſuch College, Cathedral Church, Chapter, Hoſpital, Parſonage, Vicarage, or other Spiritual Promotion, or any ways appertaining or belonging to the ſame, or of any of them, to any perſon or perſons, Bodies Politick or Corporate, (3) other then for the term of xxj. years, or three lives, from the time of any ſuch Leaſe or Grant ſhall be made or granted, whereupon the accuſtomed yearly Rent or more ſhall be reſerved, and payable yearly during the ſaid term, (4) ſhall be utterly void and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes; Any Law, Cuſtom or Uſage to the contrary notwithſtanding, as in the ſaid Act more plainly appeareth:

Practices to defeat the mending of the foreſaid Stat. 1 And. 65 Leaſes by Spiritual perſons of their Lands in Leaſe.

II. Sithence the making of which ſaid Eſtatute, divers of the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual perſons, and others, having Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical Livings, having from time to time made Leaſes for the term of xxj. years, or three lives, long before the expiration of the former years, contrary to the true meaning and intent of the Statute: (2) Be it therefore enacted by this preſent Parliament, That all Leaſes hereafter to be made by any of the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical, Spiritual or Collegiate perſons or others, of any the ſaid Eccleſiaſtical, Spiritual or Collegiate lands, tenements or hereditaments whereof any former Leaſe for years is in being, not to be expired, ſurrendred or ended within three years next after the making of any ſuch new Leaſe, ſhall be void, fruſtrate and of none effect; Any Law, Uſage or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A bond or covenant for the renewing of a Leaſe. Moor 789. pl. 1089.

III. And be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every Bond and Covenant whatſoever hereafter to be made, for renewing or making of any Leaſe or Leaſes, contrary to the true intent of this Act, or of the ſaid Act made in the ſaid xiij. year, ſhall be utterly void; Any Law, Statute, Ordinance or other thing whatſoever to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

Leaſes made before this Statute.

IV. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend or be prejudicial to make fruſtrate or void any Leaſe or Leaſes heretofore made by any of the ſaid Spiritual or Eccleſiaſtical perſon or perſons, or any of them, but that the ſame, and every of them are of the like force and effect, as they or any of them were before the making of this preſent Statute; This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Sir Thomas White Founder of St. Johns College in Oxford.

V. And where Sir Thomas White, late Knight and Alderman of London, for advancement of good Learning, hath founded one College in the Univerſity of Oxford, called St. John Baptiſts College, and being ſeiſed of the Manor of Fiſhyde, alias Fifield, in the County of Berks did together with all other his Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, give and aſſure the ſaid Manor, with all the appurtenances, to the Preſident and Scholars of the ſaid College, for ever: (2) And nevertheleſs, the ſaid Sir Thomas White having then one Ralph White his Brother living, and ſundry Kinſmen, to whom by courſe of the common Law his Lands might have deſcended, did deviſe and order, and by the Statutes which he provided for the ſaid Houſe, and by order of the now Viſitor of the ſaid College, it is ordained, That the ſaid Manor of Fiſhyde, alias Fifield, with the appurtenances, ſhould be demiſed by the ſaid Preſident and Scholars for the time being, to the ſaid Ralph, for the term of xcix. years, if the ſaid Ralph ſhould ſo long live, and ſo it is intended, that from heir-male to heir-male of the ſaid Sir Thomas White, new deviſes ſhould from time to time be made of the ſaid Manor with the appurtenances, to every ſuch heir-male ſucceſſively, for the term of xcix. years, if ſuch heir-male ſhould ſo long live, yielding to the ſaid Preſident and Scholars for the time being, ſuch Rent as now is reſerved, with ſuch further covenants and conditions, as by the ſaid Sir Thomas White or Viſitor is agreed and appointed:

VI. And where ſince the deceaſe of the ſaid Sir Thomas White, the ſaid aſſurances to the ſaid Preſident and Scholars, in all, or the moſt part of the lands, tenements and hereditaments of the ſaid Founder, were found in ſome reſpect unperfect, and inſufficient in Law, and that thereupon the ſaid Ralph White, to whom the advantage of ſuch imperfection came by Law did nevertheleſs take no ſuch advantage, but did willingly make perfect the ſaid aſſurances, according to the true meaning of the ſaid Sir Thomas White his Brother, accepting only one Leaſe of the ſaid Manor, in ſuch ſort by the ſaid Viſitor was appointed, with the Copyholds, and other Appurtenances of the ſaid Manor: (2) For remedy whereof, be it enacted, That the Preſident and Scholars of the ſaid Colledge may from time to time demiſe the ſaid Manor, Copyholds, and other Appurtenances, to every Heir-male of the ſaid Sir Thomas White ſucceſſively, according to the form of Leaſe thereof already made to the ſaid Ralph, and that every ſuch Leaſe ſo to be made, and every Covenant made, or to be made for the performance of the ſame, ſhall be good in Law, as if the ſaid Act made in the ſaid xiij. year had never been had nor made; Any thing in the ſaid Act made in the xiij. year, or any other Act or matter whatſoever to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A Leaſe may be made to Ralph White of the Manor of Fifield, by St. Johns Colledge in Oxford.

VII. And whereas in one other Statute made in the ſaid xiij. year of her Majeſty, entituled, An Act touching Leaſes of Benefices, and other Eccleſiaſtical Livings with Cure, one clauſe is contained, That the Incumbent offending the purport of the ſaid Statute, ſhall for the ſame loſe one years profit of his ſaid Benefice, to be diſtributed by the Ordinary among the poor of the Pariſh, as by the ſaid branch in the ſaid laſt recited Statute appeareth: (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after complaint made to the Ordinary, and ſentence given upon any offence committed by the Incumbent, whereby he ſhall or ought to loſe one years profit of his Benefice, as aforeſhewed, that the Ordinary within two months after ſuch ſentence given, and requeſt to him made by the Church-wardens of the ſaid Pariſh, or one of them, ſhall grant the ſequeſtration of ſuch profits, to ſuch Inhabitant or Inhabitants within the Pariſh where ſuch Benefice ſhall be, as to him ſhall ſeem meet and convenient; (3) and upon default therein by the Ordinary, that it may and ſhall be lawful to every Pariſhioner where the Benefice is, to retain and keep his or their Tithes, and likewiſe for the Church-wardens of the ſaid Pariſh, to enter and take the profits of the Glebe-lands, and other Rents and Duties of every ſuch Benefice, to be employed to the uſe of the poor, as aforeſaid, until ſuch time as Sequeſtration ſhall be committed by the Ordinary, and then as well the Church-wardens as Pariſhioners, to yield account of, and make payment to him or them to whom ſuch Sequeſtration ſhall be committed; (4) and that he or they to whom ſuch Sequeſtration ſhall be committed from time to time, ſhall juſtly and truly employ and beſtow the ſaid Profits, or the true and juſt value thereof, without fraud or guile, to ſuch uſes as by the ſaid Statute is limited and appointed, (5) upon pain of forfeiture of the double value of ſuch withholden Profits, to be recovered in the Eccleſiaſtical Court by the poor of the ſaid Pariſh. AT this preſent Seſſion of Parliament by Prorogation holden at Weſtminſter, the Sixteenth day of January in the Three and twentieth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady Elizabeth, by the Grace of God, of England, France and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c. And there continued until the Eighteenth of March following; To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and the weal-publick of this Realm, were Enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act to retain the Queens Majeſties Subjects in their due Obedience.

Rome 7. Sacraments 11 Recuſants 1. 13 Eliz. 2.

3 Inſt. 19

WHere ſithence the Statute made in the thirteenth year of the Reign of the Queen our Sovereign Lady, Entituled, An Act againſt the bringing in, and putting in execution of Bulls, Writings and Inſtruments, and other Superſtitious things from the See of Rome, divers evil affected perſons have practiſed, contrary to the meaning of the ſaid Statute, by other means then by Bulls or Inſtruments, Written or Printed, to withdraw divers the Queens Majeſties Subjects from their natural Obedience to her Majeſty, to obey the ſaid uſurped authority of Rome, and in reſpect of the ſame, to perſwade great numbers to withdraw their due obedience from her Majeſties Laws, eſtabliſhed for the due Service of Almighty God:

Treaſon to withdraw any from the Religion eſtabliſhed, to the Romiſh Religion. St. 3 Jac. 4. 1 Leond. 239.

II. For reformation whereof, and to declare the true meaning of the ſaid Law, be it declared and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all perſons whatſoever, which have or ſhall have, or ſhall pretend to have power, or ſhall by any ways or means put in practice to abſolve, perſwade, or withdraw any of the Queens Majeſties Subjects, or any within her Highneſs Realms and Dominions, from their natural obedience to her Majeſty: (2) or to withdraw them for that intent from the Religion now by her Highneſs Authority eſtabliſhed within her Highneſs Dominions, to the Romiſh Religion, (3) or to move them or any of them, to promiſe any Obedience to any pretended Authority of the See of Rome, or of any other Prince, State or Potentate, to be had or uſed within her Dominions, (4) or ſhall do any overt act to that intent and purpoſe, and every of them, ſhall be to all intents adjudged to be Traytors, and being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall have Judgment, ſuffer and forfeit as in caſe of High Treaſon. (5) And if any perſon ſhall after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, by any means be willingly abſolved or withdrawn as aforeſaid, or willingly be reconciled, or ſhall promiſe any Obedience to any ſuch pretended Authority, Prince, State or Potentate as is aforeſaid, that then every ſuch perſon, their Procurers and Counſellers thereunto, being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall be taken, tried and judged, and ſhall ſuffer and forfeit as in caſes of High Treaſon.

It ſhall be treaſon to be reconciled or withdrawn to the Romiſh Religion.

The penalty of Aiders, Maintainers, and Concealers.

III. And be it likewiſe enacted and declared, That all and every perſon and perſons that ſhall wittingly be aiders or maintainers of ſuch perſons ſo offending as is above expreſſed, or of any of them knowing the ſame, or which ſhall conceal any offence as aforeſaid, and ſhall not within twenty days at the furtheſt, after ſuch perſons knowledge of ſuch offence, diſcloſe the ſame to ſome Juſtice of Peace, or other higher Officer, ſhall be taken, tried and judged, and ſhall ſuffer and forfeit as offenders in miſpriſion of Treaſon.

The forfeiture for ſaying or hearing of Maſs.

IV. And be it likewiſe enacted, That every perſon which ſhall ſay or ſing Maſs, being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall forfeit the ſum of Two hundred marks, and be committed to priſon in the next Goal, there to remain by the ſpace of one year, and from thenceforth till he have paid the ſaid ſum of Two hundred marks: (2) And that every perſon which ſhall willingly hear Maſs, ſhall forfeit the ſum of One hundred marks, and ſuffer impriſonment for a year.

The penalty for not coming to the Church by the ſpace of Hob. 97. 206. Co. l. 11. f. 56. Cro. Jac. 12 Co. 131. 1 Roll

V. Be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon above the age of ſixteen years, which ſhall not repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, but forbear the ſame, contrary to the tenour of a Statute made in the firſt year of her Majeſties Reign, for Uniformity of Common Prayer, and being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall forfeit to the Queens Majeſty for every month after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament which he or ſhe ſhall ſo forbear, Twenty pounds of lawful Engliſh money; (2) and that over and beſides the ſaid forfeitures, every perſon ſo forbearing, by the ſpace of twelve months as aforeſaid, ſhall for his or her obſtinacy, after Certificate thereof in Writing made into the Court commonly called the Kings Bench, by the Ordinary of the Dioceſs, a Juſtice of Aſſiſe and Gaol-delivery, or a Juſtice of Peace of the County where ſuch Offendor ſhall dwell or be, be bound with two ſufficient Sureties in the ſum of Two hundred pounds at leaſt, to the good behaviour, (3) and ſo to continue bound, until ſuch time as the perſons ſo bound do conform themſelves and come to the Church, according to the true meaning of the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid firſt year of the Queens Majeſties Reign. 2 Bulſtr. 324. 3 Bulſtr. 87.

a month, according to the Stat. 1 El. 2. Stat. 29. Eliz. 6. 35 Eliz. 1. 1 Jac. 4. 3 Jac. 4. 5. Hob 127. 1 Leond. 241. 2 Leond. 5. 1 Anderſ. 138.

VI. And be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, body politick or corporate, after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next coming, ſhall keep or maintain any School-maſter which ſhall not repair to Church as is aforeſaid, or be allowed by the Biſhop or Ordinary of the Dioceſs where ſuch School-maſter ſhall be ſo kept, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every month ſo keeping him, Ten pounds.

The forfeiture for keeping of a Schoolmaſter not repairing to the Church, or be allowed by the Ordinary. 1 Jac. 4.

VII. (Provided, That no ſuch Ordinary, or their Miniſters, ſhall take any thing for the ſaid allowance.) (2) And ſuch School-maſter or Teacher, preſuming to teach contrary to this Act, and being thereof lawfully convict, ſhall be diſabled to be a Teacher of Youth, and ſhall ſuffer impriſonment without bail or mainprize for one year.

VIII. And be it likewiſe enacted, That all and every offences againſt this Act, or againſt the Acts of the firſt, fifth, or thirteenth years of her Majeſties Reign, touching acknowledging of her Majeſties Supream Government in cauſes Eccleſiaſtical, or other matters touching the Service of God, or coming to Church, or eſtabliſhment of true Religion in this Realm, ſhall and may be enquirable, as well before Juſtices of Peace, as other Juſtices named in the ſame Statutes, within one year and a day after every ſuch offence committed; Any thing in this Act, or in any other Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Which Juſtices may enquire of offences done againſt the Statute of 1 Eliz. 1. 5 Eliz. 1. 23 Eliz. 2.

IX. Be it likewiſe enacted, That the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, and Juſtiſes of Aſſiſe, and of Gaol-delivery, in their ſeveral limits, ſhall have power to enquire, hear and determine of all offences againſt this Statute: (2) And Juſtices of Peace in their open Quarter Seſſions of Peace, ſhall have power by virtue of this Act to enquire, hear and determine of all offences againſt this Act (except Treaſon, and miſpriſion of Treaſon.)

29 Eliz. 6.

X. Provided alway, That every perſon guilty of any offence againſt this Statute, other then Treaſon, and miſpriſion of Treaſon, which ſhall before he be thereof indicted, or at his arraignment or tryal before judgment, ſubmit and conform himſelf before the Biſhop of the Dioceſs where he ſhall be reſident, or before the Juſtices where he ſhall be indicted, arraigned or tried, (having not before made like ſubmiſſion at any his tryal, being indicted for his firſt like offence) ſhall upon his recognition of ſuch ſubmiſſion in open Aſſiſes or Seſſions of the County where ſuch perſon ſhall be reſident, be diſcharged of all and every the ſaid offences againſt this Act (except Treaſon and miſpriſion of Treaſon) and of all pains and forfeitures for the ſame.

A remedy for a guilty perſon conforming himſelf. Co. pla. fo. 569. St. 29 Eliz. 6.

XI. And be it likewiſe enacted, That all forfeitures of any ſums of money limited by this Act ſhall be divided in three equal parts, whereof one third part ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty to her own uſe, one other third part to the Queens Majeſty, for relief of the poor in the Pariſh where the offence ſhall be committed, to be delivered by Warrant to the principal Officers in the Receipt of the Exchequer without further Warrant from her Majeſty, and the other third part to ſuch perſon as will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information; in which Suit, no Eſſoin, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed. (2) And that every perſon which ſhall forfeit any ſums of money by virtue of this Act, and ſhall not be able, or ſhall fail to pay the ſame within three months after Judgment thereof given, ſhall be committed to priſon, there to remain until he have paid the ſaid ſums, or conform himſelf to go to Church, and there do as is aforeſaid.

Who ſhall have the money forfeited by this Statute.

He ſhall be impriſoned that is not able, or doth not pay the forfeiture.

XII. Provided alſo, That every perſon which uſually on the Sunday ſhall have in his or her houſe Divine Service which is eſtabliſhed by the Law of this Realm, and be thereat himſelf or her ſelf uſually or moſt commonly preſent, and ſhall not obſtinately refuſe to come to Church, and there to do as is aforeſaid, and ſhall alſo four times in the year at the leaſt be preſent at the Divine Service in the Church of the Pariſh where he or ſhe ſhall be reſident, or in ſome other common Church, or ſuch Chappel of eaſe, ſhall not incur any pain or penalty limited by this Act for not repairing to Church.

Service in a mans private houſe.

XIII. And be it likewiſe enacted and declared, That every grant, Conveyance, Bond, Judgment and execution had or made ſince the beginning of this Seſſion of Parliament, or hereafter to be had or made, of covenous purpoſe to defraud any Intereſt, Right or Title, that may or ought to grow to the Queen, or to any other perſon, by means of any Conviction or judgment by virtue of this Statute, or of the ſaid Statute of the ſaid thirteenth year, ſhall be, and be adjudged to be utterly void againſt the Queen, and againſt ſuch as ſhall ſue for any part of the ſaid penalties in form aforeſaid.

Fraudulent aſſurances to defeat forfeitures. 2 Leond. 132. Moor 523. pl. 691.

XIV. Provided always, That if any Peer of this Realm ſhall happen to be indicted of any offence made Treaſon or miſpriſion of Treaſon by this Act, he ſhall have his trial by his Peers, as in other like caſes is accuſtomed.

Tryal of a Peer by his Peers. 29 Eliz. 6.

XV. Provided alſo, That neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to take away or abridge the authority or juriſdiction of the Eccleſiaſtical Cenſures for any cauſe or matter, but that the Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and other the Eccleſiaſtical Judges may do and proceed, as before the making of this Act they lawfully did or might have done; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding. Stat. 5 Eliz. 1.

Eccleſiaſtical Cenſures.

CAP. II.

News, Raſt. 6. 3 Inſt. 6. Savil. 49.

If any perſon ſhall adviſedly and with a malicious intent, of his own imagination, ſpeak any falſe and ſlanderous News or Tales againſt the Queen that now is, then he ſhall have both his ears cut off, except he pay two hundred pounds to the Queens uſe in the Exchequer within two months after Judgment: And if he ſpeak ſuch ſlanderous News of the report of any other, he ſhall have one of his ears cut off, except he pay Two hundred Marks, &c. And if any perſon once convict, ſhall offend again, it ſhall be adjudged Felony. And if any perſon within this Realm or without, ſhall deviſe, write, print, or ſet forth any Book, Rime, Ballad, Letter or Writing, containing any falſe, ſeditious and ſlanderous matter, to the defamation of the Queen; or to the ſtirring or moving of any Rebellion: Or ſhall cauſe any ſuch Book, Rime, Writing, &c. to be written, printed or publiſhed: Or ſhall by ſetting of any Figure, caſting of Nativity, or by Calculation, Propheſying, Witchcraft, Conjuration, &c. ſeek to know, and ſhall ſet forth by expreſs words, deeds or writings, how long the Queen ſhall live: Or who ſhall Reign as King or Queen after her deceaſe: Or ſhall utter any Propheſies to any ſuch intent: Or ſhall wiſh or deſire the death or deprivation of the Queen, or any thing to the ſame effect: Then every ſuch offence ſhall be adjudged Felony. Exp. 1 & 2 P. & M. 9. 1 Eliz. 6.

CAP. III.

An Act for the reformation of Errors in Fines and Recoveries.

Fines 22.

Inrolment of Fines and Recoveries. Hetley 147.

The validity of the Inrolment.

FOr the appeaſing of Suits, the avoiding of falſe practices, deceits, devices and miſdemeanours, and for helping of negligences and miſpriſions of Clerks and Officers, dangerous to the aſſurance of mens Lands and Hereditaments, (2) Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty our Sovereign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every Writ of Covenant, and other Writ, whereupon any Fine heretofore hath been levied, or hereafter ſhall be levied, the return thereof, the Writ of Dedimus poteſtatem, made for the knowledging of any of the ſame Fines, the return thereof, the concord, note and foot of every ſuch Fine, the Proclamations made thereupon, and the Kings Silver: (3) and alſo every Original Writ of Entry in the Poſt, or other Writ, whereupon any common Recovery hath been ſuffered, or hereafter ſhall be ſuffered or paſſed, the Writs of Summon. ad Warrantizandum, the Returns of the ſaid Originals and Writs of Summon. ad Warrantizandum, and every Warrant of Atturney, had or to be had, as well of every Demandant and Tenant, as Vouchee extant and remaining, or that ſhall be extant and in being, (4) may upon the requeſt or election of any perſon, be inrolled in Rolls of Parchment by ſuch perſons, and for ſuch conſiderations, as hereafter in this Act ſhall be mentioned; and that the Inrolments of the ſame, or of any part thereof, ſhall be of as good force and validity in law, to all intents, reſpects and purpoſes, for ſo much of every of them ſo inrolled, as the ſame being extant and remaining, were or ought by Law to be.

For what Errours, Fines and Recoveries are not reverſable.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Fine, Proclamations upon Fines, or common Recovery heretofore had, levied, ſuffered or paſſed, or hereafter to be had, levied, ſuffered or paſſed, ſhall be reverſable by any Writ of Error, or falſe incongrue Latine, raſure, interlining, miſ-entring of any Warrant of Atturney, or of any Proclamation, miſ-returning or not returning of the Sheriff, or other want of form in words, and not matter of Subſtance.

What perſons may have Writs of Error to reverſe Fines or Recoveries, and in what caſes.

III. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall bar or exclude any perſon or perſons from any Writ of Error which ſhall be had, taken or purſued, within five years next after the end of the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, upon any Fine or Recovery heretofore, had or ſuffered, nor from any Writ of Error which ſhall be had, taken, or purſued upon any Fine or Recovery heretofore levied, knowledged or had; Which Fine or Fines, Recovery or Recoveries, or any part or parcel of them, or any of them now is, or at any time before the firſt day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, One thouſand five hundred eighty two, ſhall be exemplified under the Great Seal of England, at and by the ſuit of any perſon that is or may be entituled to have or ſue any Writ of Error upon any the Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed: (2) Nor to bar any Feme covert, or any perſon within the age of one and twenty years, or to any that is non compos mentis, in Priſon or beyond the Seas, of or from any Writ of Error to be had or proſecuted, for the reverſing any Fine or Recovery, heretofore paſſed, levied or ſuffered, ſo that ſuch Feme Covert, or her Heirs, within ſeven years next after that ſhe become ſole; and ſuch perſon within the age of one and twenty years, and ſuch perſon that is non compos mentis, within ſeven years next after he ſhall become of ſane memory, and in default thereof, the Heirs of ſuch perſon that is non compos mentis, within ſeven years next after the death of ſuch perſon being non compos mentis; And ſuch perſon in Priſon, or his Heirs, within ſeven years next after the ſame perſon ſhall be at liberty; And ſuch perſon beyond the Seas, or his Heirs, within ſeven years next after the return of ſuch perſon into this Realm of England, or the death of the ſaid perſon, if he ſhall before his return die in any foreign Countrey, ſhall ſue, take and proſecute their Writs of Error, as their caſes ſeverally ſhall require, for reverſing of any the ſaid Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed, levied or ſuffered.

A remedy for the Heir, where the Anceſtor dies hanging the Suit.

IV. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall within the time and years before mentioned, commence or ſue his or their Writs of Error, for the reverſing of any the ſaid Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed, which Suit ſhall fortune to abate by the death of any the parties to the ſame, That then it ſhall and may be lawful for his and their Heirs, at any time within one year next after the ſaid ſeven years expired, to have, ſue and take the Writ of Error, for the reverſing of every ſuch Fine and Recovery: (2) And if ſuch Heir be an Infant within the age of one and twenty years, then within one year next after the full age of ſuch Infant; Any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The day and year ſhall be certified of the knowledge of a Fine or Warrent of Atturney, for the ſuffering of a Recovery.

Cro. El.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon that ſhall at any time hereafter take the knowledge of any Fine or Warrant of Atturney of any Tenant or vouchee, for ſuffering any common Recovery, or ſhall certifie them or any of them, ſhall with the Certificate of the Concord or Warrant of Atturney, certifie alſo the day and year wherein the ſame was knowledged: (2) And that no perſon that taketh any ſuch knowledge of any Fine or Warrant for any Recovery, ſhall be bounden, or by any means inforced to certifie any ſuch knowledge or Warrant, except it be within one year next after the ſaid knowledge taken: (3) And that no Clerk or Officer ſhall receive any Writ of Covenant or Writ of Entry, whereupon any Fine or common Recovery is hereafter to paſs, unleſs the day of the knowledge of the ſame Fine and Warrant ſhall appear in or by ſuch Certificate, (4) upon pain that every Clerk that ſhall receive any ſuch Writ, ſhall forfeit for every time that he ſhall ſo offend, the ſum of five pounds: (5) And that no Atturnment in or upon any Fine be entred upon Record, except the party mentioned to Atturn therein, firſt have appeared in the Court in perſon, or by Atturney warranted by the hand of one of the Juſtices of the one Bench or the other, or of one Juſtiſe of Aſſiſe, upon a Writ of Quid juris clamat, Quem Redditum reddit, or per quæ ſervitia, as the caſe requireth: (6) And that every Entry of Atturnment hereafter to be made, where there ſhall be no appearance as afore is ſaid, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect, without any Writ of Error, or other means to be uſed for the avoiding thereof.

Atturnment upon a Fine.

VI And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That there ſhall be for ever, one Office for the Inrolment aforeſaid, which ſhall be and continue an Office for ever, called the Office of Inrolments of Writs for Fines and Recoveries: (2) And that the Juſtices of the Common Pleas for the time being (other then the Chief Juſtice) ſhall have and take the care and charge of and for the Inrolments aforeſaid, and ſhall have and enjoy the ſaid Office, and the diſpoſition thereof, and carefully ſee and look to the execution thereof: (3) And in conſideration of their charges, pain and travel there, ſhall have and take the ſums of money hereafter following, and no more: That is to ſay, for the Inrolment and examination of every Fine, and the parts thereof before mentioned, the ſum of Six ſhillings eight pence: (4) And for the Inrolment of the ſaid parts of every Recovery, and the examination thereof, Six ſhillings eight pence: (5) And for every Exemplification of the Inrolment of any Fine, Five ſhillings: (6) And for the Exemplification and Returns of every Writ of Entry, Summons, and Warrantizands and Warrants, Five ſhillings: (7) And for the ſearch of the Rolls of one year, Four pence: (8) And for the Copy of one Sheet of Paper containing Fourteen Lines, Four pence: (9) And that the ſaid Juſtices, or one of them, ſhall examine the Inrolments of every ſuch Fine and parts of Recoveries, and forthwith after examination thereof, and immediately after the Inrolment of every ſuch Fine and parts and Recoveries, write his Name that ſo examineth, with his own hand in the Roll thereof (10) upon pain that the ſaid Juſtices ſhall forfeit to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, the ſum of Five pounds, for every time that they, or ſome one of them ſhall make default of ſuch examination, or writing of his or their Name as afore is ſaid: (11) And that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Juſtices of the ſaid Court of Common pleas, from time to time to take order in all things that ſhall be convenient and needful for the Inrolments aforeſaid, and upon examination in the ſaid Court, to Aſſeſs ſuch Fine or Amerciament upon any Clerk, Sheriff, Deputy, Atturney, and other perſon, for his and their miſpriſion, contempt and negligence for not doing, or miſdoing in any thing, of, in, or concerning the ſaid Fines and Recoveries, or any part of them, or either of them, as by the ſaid Juſtices of the ſaid Court of Common Pleas for the time being, ſhall be thought meet and convenient: (12) The ſaid Fine and Amerciament to be Extreated amongſt other Fines and Amerciaments of that Court where ſuch offence or miſpriſion ſhall be committed.

The Officer of Inrolments of Writs for Fines and Recoveries.

The Fees for Inrolment of Fines and Recoveries.

The Juſtices may aſſeſs Fines for miſpriſion, contempt, negligence.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Chirograhper of Fines of the Common Pleas for the time being, for ever ſhall write and make, or cauſe to be written and made for every County where her Majeſties Writ runneth, one Table, wherein ſhall be contained ſuch Contents of every Fine that ſhall paſs in any one Term, as hereafter is mentioned: that is to ſay, The Name of the County wherein the Tenements mentioned in any Fine be, the Name of every Plaintiff and Deforciant, and of every Manor named in the Fine, if any ſuch be, and of the Towns and places where the Tenements in ſuch Fine compriſed do lie: (2) And the firſt day of the next Term after the Ingroſſing of every ſuch Fine, ſhall fix every of the ſaid Tables upon ſome open place in the Court of Common Pleas, and ſo every day of the ſaid Term, during the time of ſitting of the ſaid Court: (3) And that the ſaid Chirographer ſhall deliver to every Sheriff of every County, his Under-Sheriff or Deputy, fair written in Parchment, a perfect Content of the Table ſo to be made for that Shire, in the Term that ſhall next before the Aſſiſes be holden in the ſaid County, or elſe where, between that Term and the ſaid Aſſiſes: (4) And that every ſuch Sheriff to whom ſuch Parchments with the Contents aforeſaid ſhall be delivered, the firſt day of the next Aſſiſes after the delivery thereof unto him, and every day during the ſaid Aſſiſes, ſhall fix and ſet up the ſame Writing undefaced, in ſome open place in the Court where the Juſtiſes of Aſſiſe of that County ſhall ſit, and ſhall ſee the ſame to continue there during ſuch time as the ſaid Juſtices ſhall ſit there in Court, (5) upon pain that every Chirographer and Sheriff offending againſt any thing in this Act contained, ſhall forfeit to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty the ſum of Five pounds, the one moiety whereof ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record; wherein no Eſſoin, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed: (6) And that the Chirographer for the time being, ſhall have and take for every ſuch Content of every Fine ſo ſet down in the Table aforeſaid, Four pence.

A Table containing the Content of every Fine, ſhall be ſet up in the Common Pleas, and at every Aſſiſes.

The Chirographers Fee for writing the Content of a Fine.

VIII. And foraſmuch as upon great examinaton it appeareth, that divers Fines and Recoveries have been heretofore levied and ſuffered of divers Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments which ſometime were the Inheritance of George, ſomtimes Earl of Kent, great Grandfather to Henry now Earl of Kent, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, whereunto the ſaid now Earl of Kent, pretendeth title, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, which if they be erronious, as is pretended, do much vary from the general cauſe and miſchief for which this Statute meaneth to provide: (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That neither this Statute, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to take away any Writ of Errour whereunto any perſon or perſons is now, or hereafter ſhall be lawfully entituled, for the reverſing of the ſaid Fines and Recoveries, or any of them, heretofore levied or ſuffered of any of the ſaid Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments which late were any part or parcel of the Inheritance of the ſaid George, ſometime Earl of Kent, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder; Any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

IX. CAP. VIII.

An Act touching the true making, melting, and working of Wax.

Wax I. Penalty for uſing deceit by mixture in melting of Wax, &c.

Where by the goodneſs of God this Land doth yield great plenty of Hony and Wax, as not only hath and doth ſuffice the neceſſary uſes of the Queens Majeſty and her Subjects, to be ſpent within this Realm, but alſo a great quantity to be ſpared, to be tranſported unto the Realms and Countries beyond the Seas, by way of Merchandiſe, to the great benefit of her Majeſty and the Realm; (2) And yet nevertheleſs, a great part of the Wax, made and melted within this Realm, hath been found to be of late very corrupt, by reaſon of the deceitful mixture thereof, and the makers and ſellers of Hony alſo have not only uſed to put the ſaid Hony in Cask of deceitful aſſiſe, but have uſed alſo deceitfull mixtues of the ſame: (3) Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon within this Realm, or the Dominions of the ſame, which ſhall after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next enſuing, in the making and melting of Wax, by any way or means uſe or practiſe, or cauſe to be be uſed or wractiſed any manner of deceit by mixture and mingling the ſame with Roſin, Tallow, Turpentine, or any other deceitful thing, to the intent to ſell and utter the ſame, or offer the ſame to be ſold or uttered for Wax, to any perſon or perſons whatſoever, ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſame mingled or corrupted Wax: (4) And if the ſame corrupted Wax ſhall happen to be ſold before ſuch fault and corruption ſhall be found, that then the ſaid melter, mingler or corrupter, cauſer or procurer thereof, ſhall forfeit for every pound Two ſhillings, whereof the one half to the Queens Majeſty, the other half to the party deceived, if he will ſue for it, or any other perſon or perſons that will ſue for the ſame, in any the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record.

Every melter of Wax ſhall have a Mark.

II. And to the intent that the offenders in theſe kinds of deceits, may be the better and ſooner known and found out, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every melter and maker up of unwrought Wax, ſhall have for himſelf a Stamp or Mark of the breadth of Six pence, wherein two Letters ſhall be plainly graven, ſignifying his Name and Sirname, and with the ſame ſhall Stamp every piece of Wax to be printed or ſtamped triangle, in three places upon the out ſide of the upper part of every piece ſo melted and caſt, upon the pain to forfeit the value of every piece or Cake ſold or offered to be ſold, and not ſo ſtamped or marked.

Wrought Wax ſhall be good Stuff, and marked with a Stamp or Seal.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon ne perſons within this Realm, or the Dominions thereof, ſhall from the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt, melt, mix, work or ſell any manner of wrought Wax, Stuff, or Wares wrought with Wax, as in Lights, Staff-torches, red Wax, or Sealing Wax, Book Candle, Searing-Candle, Searing of dead Corps, Links, green Wax, red Wax, or any other work or thing whatſoever, to be done or wrought with Wax to be put to ſale, but with good, wholſom, pure, and convenient Stuff, meet in ſuch wares or Work in convenient quantity to be uſed: (2) And that every perſon or perſons that ſhall work or ſell ſuch Stuff, or Wares of Wax, have a Mark, Stamp, or Seal, to ſet on his or their Work, by him or them wrought or ſold, to the intent, that if any deceit be uſed or done, it may be known who were the workers thereof, (3) and ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be found or known to work or ſell, or to ſale put any ſuch falſe Wax, or Wares wrought with Wax to be put to ſale, ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſame corrupted or deceitful Wax and Wares, the one half to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other to the party deceived, if he ſhall ſue for the ſame; or otherwiſe to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information in any the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

The forfeiture of him that will work or ſell wrought Wax corrupted.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons whoſoever, which after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt aforeſaid, ſhall ſell or offer to be ſold, any corrupted and falſe mingled Wax, ſhall loſe and forfeit the ſaid Wax: The one moiety thereof to be to the Queens Majeſty, and the other to the party deceived, if he ſhall ſue for the ſame; or otherwiſe to him or them that will ſue for the ſame as is aforeſaid: (2) And that all Barrels, Kilderkins and Firkins filled with Hony by the maker and filler, ſhall be marked with two Letters ſtanding for his Name and Sirname, each Letter of an inch and half of length at the leaſt, burnt upon the head of the Cask with a hot Iron, (3) upon the pain to forfeit Six ſhillings eight pence for every Barrel, Kilderkin, Firkin or Cask ſold or offered to be ſold, and not ſo marked: (4) And that if any perſon or perſons do, or ſhall after the four and twentieth day of Auguſt next coming, after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, fill and ſell, or cauſe to be filled or ſold, or offered to be ſold, any Barrel, Kilderkin or Firkin with Hony, for or in the name of a Barrel, Kilderkin, or Firkin, containing leſs then two and thirty Wine Gallons the Barrel; ſixteen Wine Gallons the Kilderkin; and eight Wine Gallons the Firkin: every perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every half Gallon ſo lacking, Five pounds of Engliſh money: (5) And every perſon and perſons that ſhall corrupt the Honey ſo ſold or to be ſold, with any deceitful mixture, ſhall forfeit the Barrel or Veſſel, and Honey therein contained: the one moiety whereof to be to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and the other to him or them that will ſue for the ſame as aforeſaid.

Veſſels of Hony ſhall be marked with two Letters.

The Content of every veſſel for Hony to be ſold.

The penalty for corrupting of Hony.

Selling Wax of their own Bees.

V. Provided always, That this Act as touching the marking of Wax, ſhall not extend to any perſon or perſons, ſelling the Wax of their own Bees in open market, in ſmall pieces, (2) nor to any ſervant or ſervants, or other perſons mingling or corrupting any Wax by commandment of their Maſter or other perſon having authority over them, ſo as they will confeſs the ſame.

The penalty for counterfeiting of Marks, or marking with anothers Mark.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall at any time hereafter counterfeit any the marks above mentioned, or ſhall ſet to the mark or marks of any other perſon or perſons, without the conſent of the ſame perſon or perſons whoſe names the ſaid marks ſhall ſignifie; that every ſuch offender in the premiſſes, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default v. li. (2) The one moiety thereof to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to the party deceived, if he will ſue for the ſame; or otherwiſe to any other perſon or perſons that ſhall ſue for the ſame, by Bill, Action, or Information, in any the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be admitted or allowed for the Defendant: (3) And for non-ſufficiency of payment thereof, to be ſet on the Pillory, in the next Market Town to the place where ſuch offence ſhall be committed, and to ſuffer three months impriſonment without bail or mainpriſe, for every ſuch offence committed contrary to this Article of this preſent Act.

CAP. IX.

An Act for aboliſhing of certain deceitful Stuff uſed in Dying of Cloth, &c.

Dyers I.

WHereas of late years there hath been brought into this Realm of England from beyond the Seas, a certain kind of Ware or Stuff called Logwood, alias Blockwood, wherewith divers Dyers, Clothiers, Hatmakers and others, have and do Dye daily, divers woad Clothes, Kerſies, Wolls, Peniſtones, Bays, Cottons, Hoſe-yarn, Hats, Caps, Flannels, Woodmalls, Mockadoes, Raſhes, Buffins, Tuft Mockadoes and other things; (2) Foraſmuch as the Colours made with the ſaid Stuff called Logwood, alias Blockwood, is falſe and deceitful, and the Clothes and other things therewith dyed, are not only ſold and uttered, to the great deceit of the Queens loving Subjects within this her Realm of England. but alſo beyond the Seas, to the great diſcredit and ſlander, as well of the Merchants, as the Dyers of this Realm:

Logwood ſhall be forfeited, openly burned, and no Cloth or Wooll ſhall be dyed therewith.

II. For reformation whereof, be it ordained, enacted and eſtabliſhed by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, and by the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all ſuch Logwood, alias Blockwood, in whoſe hands ſoever the ſame ſhall be found, after the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Archangel next enſuing, ſhall be forfeited, and openly burned by authority of the Mayor or other Head-Officer, of the City or Town-corporate; or two Juſtices of Peace of the County where it ſhall be found: (2) And that from and after twenty days after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, no perſon of what degree ſoever he be, ſhall dye or cauſe to be dyed, any Cloth, Wool, or any other of the Premiſſes above mentioned, or any thing whatſoever, with any of the ſaid Ware or Stuff called Logwood, alias Blockwood, (3) upon pain that the Dyer of every ſuch ſeveral thing ſo dyed, ſhall forfeit the value of the thing ſo dyed, the one moiety to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or Information, in any Court of Record, in which Suit, no Eſſoin, Protection, Wager of Law, nor Writ of Privilege for the Defendant ſhall be admitted or allowed: (4) and the party offending being thereof convicted, to remain in priſon without bail or mainpriſe, till he have ſatisfied the ſame value.

III. And where Clothes, Kerſies, and Hoſen, have been dyed with a colour which is commonly called a galled and mathered black, or with a colour commonly called a ſhoomake and mathered black; which colours, although they carry a ſhew of a good, true and perfect colour of woaded and mathered black, and of ſuch as do buy the ſaid colours, either in Cloth, Kerſie, or Hoſe, taken ſo to be notwithſtanding in proof and wearing prove contrary, to the great deceit of the Queens Subjects, and diſcrediting of the Cloth and other things ſo dyed: (2) For reformation whereof, be it enacted, That no kind of Cloth or Clothes, Kerſies, Bays, Friſadoes broad or narrow, Hoſen, or other things being in the nature of Cloth, ſhall from henceforth be mathered for a black, except the ſame be firſt grounded with Woad only, or with Woad and a Nele, alias blew Inde, unleſs the madder be put in with the ſhoomake or gallis (3) And that from and after twenty days after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, no perſon of what degree ſoever he be, ſhall dye or cauſe to be dyed any Cloth or Clothes, or other things aboveſaid, of what kind or nature ſoever, mathered for a black, not having a ground of Woad only, or of Woad and a Nele, alias blew Inde, unleſs the madder be put in with the ſhoomake or gallis, (4) upon pain that the Dyer of every ſuch ſeveral thing ſo dyed, ſhall forfeit the value of the ſame thing ſo dyed, the one moiety thereof to the uſe of the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any Court of Record; in which ſuit, no eſſoin, protection, wager of Law, nor writ of privilege for the Defendant ſhal be admitted or allowed, (5) and the party offending being thereof convicted, to remain in priſon without bail or mainpriſe, till he have ſatisfied the ſame value.

No Cloth ſhall be mathered for black, unleſs it be firſt grounded with Woad.

Galle black. ſhoomake black, plainblack.

IV. Provided always, That it ſhall and may be lawful to dye all manner of galle black, ſhoomake black, alias plain black wherein no mather ſhall be uſed, as heretofore lawfully hath been done; this, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A Dyer ſhall fix a Seal of Lead to his Cloth with the Letter M.

V. Provided always, that every Dyer that ſhall after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt next enſuing the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, dye any of the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, or Friſadoes mathered and not woaded, ſhall before he deliver any of the ſame forth of his hands, fix a Seal of Lead to every of them, in which the Letter M. ſignifying Mathered, ſhall be contained, (2) upon pain that every Dyer offending to the contrary, ſhall forfeit for every yard of the ſaid Cloth, Kerſies, Bays, or Friſadoes, the ſum of iii. s. iv. d. (3) And that if any perſon ſhall ſell any Cloth, Kerſies, Bays, or Friſadoes mathered and not woaded, after the ſaid Feaſt of Pentecoſt, and ſhall not firſt give notice to the buyer thereof, that the ſame is not woaded, ſhall forfeit alſo the double value of ſuch Cloth, Kerſies, Bays and Friſadoes as he ſhall ſo ſell, (4) which forfeitures ſhall be to the party that ſhall ſue for the ſame in any Court of Record, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall lie. CAP. X.

An Act for the preſervation of Pheaſants and Partridges.

WHere the Game of Pheaſants and Partridges is within theſe few years in manner utterly decayed and deſtroyed in all parts of this Realm, by means of ſuch as take them with nets, ſnares, and other engines and devices, as well by day as by night, (2) and alſo by occaſion of ſuch as do uſe hawking in the beginning of Harveſt, before the young Pheaſants and Partridges be of any bigneſs, to the great ſpoil and hurt of Corn and Graſs then ſtanding and growing in the Fields:

II. For reformation thereof, be it enacted, eſtabliſhed, and ordained by the Queen our Sovereign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no manner of perſon or perſons, of what eſtate, degree or condition ſoever, ſhall at any time or times, from and after the firſt day of April next enſuing, take, kill, or deſtroy any Pheaſants or Partridges with any manner of nets, ſnares, gins, engines, rowſting, lowſing, or other devices whatſoever, in the night time, (2) upon pain of forfeiture for every Pheaſant ſo taken, killed or deſtroyed, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, the ſum of xx. s. (3) and for every Partridge ſo taken, killed or deſtroyed, the ſum of x. s. (4) the which ſaid penalties and forfeitures, if every perſon or perſons ſo offending, do not pay within ten days next after his or their conviction, then to have one months impriſonment without bail or mainpriſe; (5) and further over and beſides ſuch forfeiture or impriſonment, to put in Bond with good Sureties for the ſpace of two years, that he ſhall not take, kill, or deſtroy any Partridges or Pheaſants, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, (6) the ſame Bond to be taken by ſome Juſtice of the Peace of the County where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed: (7) the one half of all which ſaid ſeveral forfeitures to be to the chief Lord or Lords of the Liberties, Lordſhips or manors upon and in which the ſame ſhall be ſo taken, killed or deſtroyed, and the other moiety to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame in any of her Majeſties Courts of Record, by bill, plaint, or information; in which ſuit, no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

The penalty for taking or killing of Pheaſants or Partridges in the night. 11 H. 7. 17. 3 Bulſtr. 178.

Who ſhall have the forfeitures, and by what means they ſhall be recovered.

III. Provided always, That if ſuch perſon to whom the one half of the ſaid forfeiture is appointed for the taking, killing, or deſtroying of Partridges or Pheaſants, contrary to the tenour and true meaning of this Act, ſhall diſpence with, licence or procure any taking, killing, or deſtroying of any Partridges or Pheaſants, contrary to the form of this Act, That then all ſuch forfeitures and penalties as ſuch perſon or perſons ſhould have by virtue of this Act, ſhall be to the poor of the Pariſh where ſuch taking, killing, or deſtroying ſhall be committed, and that to be levied or recovered in manner and form aforeſaid, by any one of the Church-wardens of the Pariſh where the offences ſhall be committed.

IV. And be it likewiſe further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no manner of perſon or perſons from and after the ſaid firſt day of April, ſhall hawk, or with his Spaniels hunt in any ground where Corn or other Grain ſhall then grow, (except it be in his own ground) at ſuch time as any eared or codded Corn or Grain ſhall be ſtanding and growing upon the ſame, nor before ſuch time as ſuch Corn and Grain ſhall be ſhocked, cocked, hilled, or copped, (2) upon pain of forfeiture for every time that he ſhall ſo hawk or hunt as aforeſaid (without the conſent of the owner of the Corn or Grain) to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be owner of the ſaid eared or codded Corn or Grain, xl. s. and the ſame to be levied or recovered in manner and form aforeſaid.

The forfeiture for hawking in eared or codded Corn ſtanding, or before the Corn ſhall be ſhocked.

V. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Aſſiſes in their Circuits, and Juſtices of the Peace in every Shire, County and Town-corporate within this Realm, in their Seſſions, within their ſeveral limits of their Commiſſion, and Stewards of Leets, Liberties and Lawdays, within their ſeveral Juriſdictions, ſhall and may by virtue hereof, hear, enquire and determine of all and every offence or offences which ſhall be committed within the precinct of their Liberties, Juriſdictions or Franchiſes, againſt the tenour of this Act: (2) And further, That every Juſtice of the Peace within every County of this Realm, ſhall within the limits of his Commiſſion have power and authority by virtue hereof, to examine all offendors in the premiſſes within the County where he is or ſhall be Juſtice, if ſo be that the ſaid offence or offences ſhall not before be heard or determined by the Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Circuits, or by the Stewards of Leets, Liberties, or Lawdays within their ſaid ſeveral Juriſdictions, (3) and alſo take Bond with good Sureties for his and their appearance that ſhall ſo offend, to appear at the next general Seſſions of the Peace, to be holden in the ſame County where the ſame offence ſhall be committed, to anſwer the ſaid offence, and to pay the penalties, or receive the puniſhment by this Act appointed or limitted.

Which officers may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

A Juſtice of Peace may examine an offendor, and bind him to appear at the next Seſſions.

VI. Provided always, That this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to Lowbellers, Tramellers or others, which ſhall unwillingly happen to take any Partridges or Pheaſants by night under any Tramel, Lowbel, Roadnet or other Engine, ſo as they and every of them do preſently looſe and let go every Pheaſant and Partridge ſo taken, and ſuffer them preſently to fly and go at large at the place where they ſhall happen ſo to be taken, without willingly killing, or wilfully hurting any ſuch Pheaſant or Partride ſo taken in any manner of ſort; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding. 1 Jac. 27. 7 Jac. 11.

Pheaſants or Partridges unwillingly taken and let go again.

For reformation whereof, be it ordained, eſtabliſhed and enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, That all and every Jeſuits, Seminary Prieſts, and other Prieſts whatſoever made or ordained out of the Realm of England, or other her Highneſs Dominions, or within any of her Majeſties Realms or Dominions, by any authority power or juriſdiction derived, challenged or pretended from the See of Rome, ſince the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt, in the firſt year of her Highneſs Reign, ſhall within forty days next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, depart out of this Realm of England, and out of all other her Highneſs Realms and Dominions, if the wind, weather and paſſage ſhall ſerve for the ſame, or elſe ſo ſoon after the end of the ſaid forty days as the wind, weather and paſſage ſhall ſo ſerve.

No Jeſuits or Prieſts ſhall come into, or remain in this Realm.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful to or for any Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon whatſoever being born within this Realm, or any other her Highneſs Dominions, and heretofore ſince the ſaid Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt, in the Firſt year of her Majeſties Reign, made, ordained or profeſſed, or hereafter to be made, ordained or profeſſed by any authority or juriſdiction derived, challenged or pretended from the See of Rome, by or of what name, title or degree ſoever the ſame ſhall be called or known, to come into, be or remain in any part of this Realm, or any other her Highneſs Dominions, after the end of the ſame forty days, other than in ſuch ſpecial caſes, and upon ſuch ſpecial occaſions only, and for ſuch time only as is expreſſed in this Act; and if he do, that then every ſuch offence ſhall be taken and adjudged to be high Treaſon, and every perſon ſo offending, ſhall for his offence be adjudged a Traitor, and ſhall ſuffer, loſe and forfeit as in caſe of high Treaſon.

Receiving or relieving a Jeſuit or Prieſt ſhall be Felony. 1 Bulſtr. 181.

IV. And every perſon which after the end of the ſame forty days, and after ſuch time of departure as is before limited and appointed, ſhall wittingly and willingly receive, relieve, comfort, aid or maintain any ſuch Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon, as is aforeſaid, being at liberty, or out of hold, knowing him to be a Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon, as is aforeſaid, ſhall alſo for ſuch offence be adjudged a Felon, without benefit of Clergy, and ſuffer death, loſe and forfeit as in caſe of one attainted of Felony.

They which be in Seminaries, ſhall after Proclamation return and take the Oath.

12 Co. 11. Latch. 1.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, If any of her Majeſties Subjects (not being a Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon, as is before mentioned) now being, or which hereafter ſhall be of, or brought up in any Colledge of Jeſuits, or Seminary already erected and ordained, or hereafter to be erected or ordained in the parts beyond the Seas, or out of this Realm in any foreign parts, ſhall not within ſix months next after Proclamation in that behalf to be made in the City of London, under the Great Seal of England, return into this Realm, and thereupon within two days next after ſuch return, before the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or two Juſtices of Peace of the County where he ſhall arrive, ſubmit himſelf to her Majeſty and her Laws, and take the Oath ſet forth by Act in the Firſt year of her Reign, That then every ſuch perſon which ſhall otherwiſe return, come into, or be in this Realm, or any other her Highneſs Diminions, for ſuch offence of Returning or being in this Realm, or any other her Highneſs Dominions, without ſubmiſſion, as aforeſaid, ſhall alſo be adjudged a Traitor, and ſuffer, loſe and forfeit as in caſe of high Treaſon.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, If any perſon under her Majeſties ſubjection or obedience, ſhall at any time after the end of the ſaid forty days, by way of exchange, or by any other ſhift, way or means whatſoever, wittingly and willingly, either directly or indirectly, convey, deliver or ſend, or cauſe or procure to be conveyed or delivered, to be ſent over the Seas, or out of this Realm, or out of any other her Majeſties Dominions or Territories, into any foreign parts, (2) or ſhall otherwiſe wittingly or willingly yield, give or contribute any money or other relief, to or for any Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt or ſuch other Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon as is aforeſaid, (3) or to or for the maintenance or relief of any Colledge of Jeſuits, or Seminary already erected or ordained, or hereafter to be erected or ordained in any the parts beyond the Seas, or out of this Realm in any foreign parts, (4) or of any perſon then being of or in the ſame Colledges or Seminaries, and not returned into this Realm with ſubmiſſion, as in this Act is expreſſed, and continuing in the ſame Realm, (5) That then every ſuch perſon ſo offending, for the ſame offence ſhall incur the danger and penalty of Præmunire, mentioned in the Statute of Præmunire made in the Sixteenth year of the Reign of King Richard the Second.

Sending relief to any Jeſuit, Prieſt or other perſon abiding in a Seminary.

16 R. 2. 5.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful for any perſon of, or under her Highneſs obedience, at any time after the ſaid forty days, during her Majeſties life (which God long preſerve,) to ſend his or her Child, or other perſon being under his or her Government, into any the parts beyond the Seas out of her Highneſs obedience, without the ſpecial licence of her Majeſty, or of four of her Highneſs Privy Council, under their Hands in that behalf firſt had or obtained (except Merchants, for ſuch only as they or any of them ſhall ſend over the Seas, only for or about his, her or their Trade of Merchandize, or to ſerve as Mariners, and not otherwiſe) upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every ſuch their offence, the ſum of one C. l.

None ſhall ſend his child or other beyond the Seas, without licence.
EXP. 3 Jac. 5.

VIII. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every offence to be committed or done againſt the tenor of this Act, ſhall and may be enquired of, heard and determined as well in the Court commonly called the Kings Bench, in the County where the ſame Court ſhall for the time be, as alſo in any other County within this Realm, or any other her Highneſs Dominions where the offence is or ſhall be committed, or where the offendor ſhall be apprehended and taken.

Where the offences committed againſt this Act ſhall be enquired of and determined.

IX. Provided alſo, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful for and to every Owner and Maſter of any Ship, Bark or Boat, at any time within the ſaid forty days, or other time before limited for their departure, to tranſport into any the parts beyond the Seas, any Jeſuit, Seminary prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt aforeſaid, ſo as the ſame Jeſuit, Seminary prieſt, or other Prieſt aforeſaid ſo to be tranſported, to deliver unto the Mayor, or other chief Officer of the Town, Port or place where he ſhall be taken in to be tranſporten, his Name, and in what place he received ſuch Order, and how long he hath remained in this Realm, or in any other her Highneſs Dominions, being under her obedience.

Tranſporting of Jeſuits, Prieſts, &c.

X. Provided alſo, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to any ſuch Jeſuit, Seminary Prieſt, or other ſuch Prieſt, Deacon, or Religious or Eccleſiaſtical perſon, as is before mentioned, as ſhall at any time within the ſaid forty days, or within three days after that he ſhall hereafter come into this Realm, or any other her Highneſs Dominions, ſubmit himſelf to ſome Archbiſhop or Biſhop of this Realm, or to ſome Juſtice of Peace within the County where he ſhall arrive or land, and do thereupon truly and ſincerely before the ſame Archbiſhop, Biſhop, or ſuch Juſtice of Peace, take the ſaid Oath ſet forth in Anno primo, and by writing under his hand confeſs and acknowledge, and from thenceforth continue his due obedience unto her Highneſs Laws, Statutes and Ordinances made and provided, or to be made or provided in cauſes of Religion.

A Jeſuit or Prieſt ſubmitting himſelf, and taking the Oath and obeying the Laws.

XI. Provided always, if it happen at any time hereafter, any Peer of this Realm to be indicted of any offence made Treaſon, Felony or Præmunire by this Act, that he ſhall have his Tryal by his Peers, as in other caſes of Treaſon, Felony or Præmunire is accuſtomed.

XII. Provided nevertheleſs, and it is declared by authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch Jeſuit, Seminary prieſt, or other Prieſt abovesaid, ſhall fortune to be ſo weak or infirm of body, that he or they may not paſs out of this Realm by the time here limited without imminent danger of life, and this underſtood as well by the corporal Oath of the party, as by other good means, unto the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, and two Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County where ſuch perſon or perſons do dwell or abide, That then and upon good ſufficient Bond of the perſon or perſons, with Sureties, of the ſum of CC li. at the leaſt, with condition that he or they ſhall be of good behaviour towards our Sovereign Lady the Queen, and all her liege people, Then he or they ſo licenſed, and doing as is aforeſaid, ſhall and may remain and be ſtill within this Realm, without any loſs or danger to fall on him or them by this Act, for ſo long time as by the ſame Biſhop and Juſtices ſhall be limited and appointed, ſo as the ſame time of abode exceed not the ſpace of ſix months at the moſt: (2) And that no perſon or perſons ſhall ſuſtain any loſs, or incur any danger by this Act, for the receiving or maintaining of any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo licenſed, as is aforeſaid, for and during ſuch time only as ſuch perſons ſhall be ſo licenſed to tarry within this Realm; Any thing contained in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

XIII. And be it alſo further enacted by authority aforeſaid, That every perſon or perſons being Subjects of this Realm, which after the ſaid forty days ſhall know and underſtand that any ſuch Jeſuit, Seminary prieſt, or other prieſt abovesaid, ſhall abide, ſtay, tarry, or be within this Realm, or other the Queens Dominions and Countries, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, and ſhall not diſcover the ſame unto ſome Juſtices of the Peace, or other higher Officer, within twelve days next after his ſaid knowledge, but willingly conceal his knowledge therein, That every ſuch offendor ſhall make fine and be impriſoned at the Queens pleaſure; (2) And that if ſuch Juſtice of Peace, or other ſuch Officer to whom ſuch matter ſhall be diſcovered, do not within eight and twenty days then next following, give information thereof to ſome of the Queens Privy Counſel, or to the Preſident of the Queens Council ſtabliſhed in the North, or in the Marches of Wales, for the time being, That then he or they ſo offending, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit the ſum of two hundred Marks.

One knowing a Jeſuit or Prieſt to remain in the Realm, doth not diſcover it to a Juſtice of Peace.

XIV. And be it likewiſe enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That ſuch of the Privy Council, Preſident or Vice-preſident to whom ſuch information ſhall be made, ſhall thereupon deliver a note in writing ſubſcribed with his own hand, to the party by whom he ſhall receive ſuch information, teſtifying that ſuch information was made unto him.

All Oaths, Bonds and Submiſſions certified into the Chancery.

XV. And be it alſo enacted, That all ſuch Oaths, Bonds and Submiſſions as ſhall be made by force of this Act, as aforeſaid, ſhall be certified into the Chancery by ſuch parties before whom the ſame ſhall be made, within three months after ſuch ſubmiſſion, (2) upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence, C l. of lawful Engliſh money; the ſaid forfeiture to be to the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors:

None ſubmitting himſelf, ſhall come within ten miles of the Queen.

XVI. And that if any perſon ſo ſubmiting himſelf as aforeſaid, do at any time within the ſpace of ten years after ſuch ſubmiſſion made, come within ten miles of ſuch place where her Majeſty ſhall be, without the ſpecial licence from her Majeſty in that behalf to be obtained in Writing under her Hand, That then, and from thenceforth, ſuch perſon ſhall take no benefit of his ſaid ſubmiſſion, but that the ſame ſubmiſſion ſhall be void, as if the ſame had never been. 1 Jac. 4. 3 Jac. 5.

CAP. III.

An Act for the explanation of an Act made in the Thirteenth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign, Entituled, An Act to make the Lands, Tenements, Goods and Chattels of Tellers, Receivers, &c. liable to the payment of their Debts.

Accompt 42. A queſtion ariſing upon the expoſition of Statute of 13 El 4.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the ſecond day of April in the Thirteenth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady Queen Elizabeth, there was amongſt other things An Act made, entituled, An Act to make lands, tenements, goods and chattels of Tellers, Receivers, &c. liable to pay their debts; (2) upon which Act ſome doubt and queſtion hath been moved, whether the Queens Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, might for the ſatisfaction of her and their debts and farms, by her or their Letters Patents under the Great Seal of England, make ſale of all the lands, tenements and hereditaments whereof her Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, have power or authority to make ſale by virtue of the ſame Act, after the Death of ſuch Accomptant or Debtor, as is mentioned in the ſaid Act, or where the Accompt of ſuch Accomptant or Debtor was not or is not made, or his or their Debt known in the life-time of the ſame Accomptant or Debtor:

Sale of the accomptants lands after his death.

II For declaration and explaining whereof, Be it ordained and enacted by the authority of this Preſent Parliament, That the ſaid Act, in every part thereof, touching the power given by that recited Act unto her Highneſs, her Heirs and Succeſſors, to make ſale of any the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments by the ſame Act limited to be ſold, is, ſhall and ought to be expounded and intended as well in caſe where the ſale is to be made after the death of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as where it is to be made in his or their life-time; (2) and alſo as well in caſe where the accompt is made, or the debt known within eight years after the death of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as where the ſame accompt is made, or the debt known in the life-time of the ſame accomptant or debtor; Any ambiguity or queſtion that hath riſen or grown, or may ariſe, grow or be conceived upon the letter of the ſame Act, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The Accomptants debt known within eight years after his death.

Proceſs againſt the accomptants heir before the ſale of his lands.

III. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after the death of ſuch accomptant and debtor as is mentioned in the ſaid recited Act, and before ſuch time as any the Lands, Tenements and hereditaments deſcended unto the heir of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as heir unto the ſame accomptant or debtor, ſhall be ſold as aforeſaid, a Scire facias ſhall be awarded out of her Majeſties Court of Exchequer, unto the Sheriff of the County where any ſuch Lands do lie, to garniſh the ſame heir, to ſhew cauſe why the ſame Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments ſo to him deſcended as aforeſaid, ſhould not be put to ſale for ſatisfaction of the ſaid debts or farms in the ſame Act mentioned, according to the tenour of the ſaid Act; whereupon if the heir do not within a convenient time upon a Garniſhment or two Nichils returned, ſhew and prove unto the ſaid Court, that the Executors or Adminiſtrators of ſuch accomptant or debtor have ſufficient which ought to anſwer or be liable for the ſame debt or farm, and whereby the ſaid debt or farm ſhall and may be duly and fully ſatisfied, That then after ten months next after ſuch two Nichils, or Garniſhment returned, the ſame Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments ſhall be ſold by her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the money hereof coming, diſpoſed according to the true intent and meaning of the ſaid former recited Act.

The heirs ſale good to him which is not conſenting to defraud the Queen.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, that the ſaid recited Act, and this Statute of explanation alſo, as touching only the ſale of any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments to be made after the death of ſuch accomptant or debtor as aforeſaid, ſhall not extend to any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments which any perſon or perſons not being privy or conſenting unto any ſuch intent to defraud the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, as in the ſaid recited Act is mentioned, now have or enjoy, or have purchaſed or obtained, or before any Scire facias ſo to be awarded, as aforeſaid, ſhall have or enjoy, purchaſe or obtain bona fide, and upon good conſideration; Any thing in this Act, or in the before-mentioned Act, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

V. Provided always, and be it enacted, that this Act of explanation ſhall extend only unto ſuch as have been, or ſhall be Tellers, Receivers, Treaſurers, Cuſtomers, Cofferers of the Houſholds, Farmors of Impoſt, Collectors, Bailiffs, Victuallers, and other Officers of Receipts and Accompts unto our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and to every of them, their Heirs, Executors and Adminiſtrators, and to no other.

To which Accomptants this Statute of explanation ſhall extend.

Proceſs againſt the heir, where the debt groweth in the Court of Wards or Dutchy.

VI. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in ſuch caſes where any accompt ſhall or ought to be made, or any debts ſhall be owing in the Courts of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, and Wards and Liveries, or in any of them, Then after the death of ſuch accomptant or debtor as is mentioned in the ſaid former Act, in any of the ſaid laſt mentioned Courts, and before ſuch time as any of the Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments deſcended unto the heir of ſuch accomptant or debtor, as heir unto the ſame accomptant or debtor, ſhall be ſold as aforeſaid, ſuch Proceſs ſhall be awarded as hereafter is expreſſed; that is to wit, Firſt a privy Seal, commanding the ſame heir to make perſonal appearance in the Court out of which the ſame privy Seal ſhall be awarded, to ſhew cauſe as in the Writ of Scire facias to be awarded out of the Exchequer is before appointed: (2) And if the ſame heir ſhall make default at the day of return of the ſame privy Seal, That then upon the Affidavit made, that the ſame privy Seal was duly ſerved, either upon the perſon of the ſame heir, or left at the place of his or her dwelling or moſt uſual abode, an Attachment with Proclamation ſhall be awarded againſt the ſame heir, and ſhall be openly publiſhed and proclaimed in ſome Market Town in the County where the ſame heir was laſt dwelling, or made his or her uſual abode, upon ſome Market-day there in the open time of Market, twenty days at the leaſt before the return thereof: (3) And if upon return thereof the ſaid heir ſhall eftſoon make default, That then all things ſhall be done and executed for the ſale of the ſame Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, and for the full ſatisfaction of the ſame debt or farm, in like and as large and ample manner and form, to all intents and purpoſes as before in this Act is limited and appointed in caſes where default is made upon a Garniſhment, or two Nichils returned upon a Scire facias awarded out of the ſaid Court of Exchequer.

No ſale of the heirs lands during his minority.

VII. Provided alſo, and be it likewiſe enacted, That if the heir of any accomptant or debtor before mentioned, ſhall happen to be within the age of one and twenty years when any ſuch Proceſs ſhall fortune to be awarded, that then during the time of his or her nonage, this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe be extended, executed or put in ure as touching or concerning only the ſelling of Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments of any ſuch Heir; any thing in the ſame Act contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding: (2) And yet nevertheleſs, after ſuch time as any ſuch heir ſhall accompliſh the full age of twenty one years, all and ſingular the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments deſcended unto the ſame Heir from any ſuch debtor or accomptant as aforeſaid, ſhall at all times during the ſpace of eight years then next enſuing, be ſubject and liable to be ſold for the payment and ſatisfaction of her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, according to the intent and true meaning of this Act, in ſuch manner and form, to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſame heir had been of full age at the time of the death of ſuch debtor or accomptant.

The Heirs lands liable to ſale eight years after he ſhall accompliſh his full age.

No ſale of lands where the accomptant hath a Quietus eſt.

VIII. Provided always, and be it further enacted, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to the ſale of the Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments of any ſuch heir, for or by reaſon of any accompt, debt or farm whereof any ſuch debtor or accomptant have or ſhall have a Quietus eſt, or Diſcharge in his or her life-time. VII. Provided alſo, That this Act ſhall not extend to any Juries or Iſſues to be returned in any City or Town-corporate, or other Town or place priviledged to hold Plea, or in the twelve Shires of Wales, but that they ſhall and may be returned, as heretofore they lawfully might have been; this Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. Stat. 35. H. 8. 6. 2 Ed. 6. 32.

CAP. VII.

An Act for reformation of Abuſes in collection of Iſſues loſt by Jurors.

Jurors 33. No Juror ſhall be returned without addition of his dwelling-place, and how Iſſues loſt ſhall be levied.

Whereas there are within this Realm of England, in ſundry Counties of the ſame, divers Freeholders of one Name, and often ſundry times ſome one or mo of them been returned and impannelled in Juries, for trial of matters between party and party, (2) and if it happen any one of them ſo returned to make default, or loſe Iſſues, when the ſame are eſtreated to be levied, the Bayliff or other Collectors thereof, for lucre and gain, do demand and require the ſame of every one within the ſame County that is of that Name, (3) and do perſwade every perſon that is dwelling in that County, and ſo named, that he is the party that hath loſt thoſe Iſſues, and compel him to pay the ſame, by the diſtreſs of his or their Goods and Chattels, to their great moleſtation and trouble, (4) and yet nevertheleſs many times do detain and keep all or the more part of the Iſſues ſo collected, to their own uſe, in contempt of the Queens Majeſties Laws, and to the great grievance of her loving Subjects, and contrary to all equity and good conſcience:

The dwelling-place of every Juror ſhall be returned.

II. For remedy whereof, be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after fourty days after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, no Sheriff, Coroner or other perſon to whom it ſhall appertain to make return of any Writ, ſhall return any Juror dwelling out of any Liberty without the true addition of the place of his dwelling or abode at the time of the ſaid return, or within one year next before the making of any ſuch return, or ſome other addition, by which the party returned may be known; (2) nor any Juror within any Liberty, with other addition then ſuch as ſhall be delivered to him by the Bayliff of the ſaid Liberty, or his Deputy, certified under his or their hand; (3) nor any Bayliff of any Liberty, nor any his or their Deputy or Deputies, ſhall of himſelf return any Juror, or deliver to the Sheriff, his Under-ſheriff, Deputy or Deputies, the names of any perſons to be returned upon any Pannel or Jury, without the true addition certified under his or their hands to the Sheriff, of the place of dwelling or abode of every perſon ſo to be returned at the time of the ſaid return, or within one year next before the ſaid return, or ſome other addition, by which the party returned may be known: (4) And that no extract of Iſſues againſt any Juror returned as aforeſaid, ſhall be delivered out, received or put in ure, without ſuch addition as is put in the original Pannel or Tales, wherein ſuch Juror ſhall be ſo returned: (5) And that no Under-ſheriff, Bayliff, or other Officer or perſon whatſoever, ſhall collect, levy or gather any Iſſues ſo eſtreated, of any other perſon or perſons, then of ſuch perſon and perſons as by vertue of the ſaid Eſtreat is of right charged or chargeable with the payment of the ſaid Iſſues, (6) upon pain that every Clerk that ſhall write or deliver, or cauſe or procure any ſuch Eſtreat, to be delivered out, received or put in ure, and every other perſon offending contrary to the intent and meaning of this Act, ſhall forfeit to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Five marks, and to the party grieved, or which ſhall ſuſtain any loſs thereby, the ſum of Five marks of lawful Engliſh money; (7) all which forfeitures and penalties ſhall and may be recovered by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or Information in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection, or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

In every extract of Iſſues againſt a Juror, his addition ſhall be put.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That juſtices of Oyer and Terminer within the Limits of their Commiſſion, Juſtices of Aſſiſe in their Circuits, and Juſtices of Peace, as well within Liberties as without, within the limits of their Commiſſion, ſhall by virtue of this preſent Act, have full power and authority to enquire, hear and determine all and every the offences aforeſaid committed, or to be committed within the ſeveral limits, circuit or precinct of their ſeveral Commiſſion or Commiſſions, and to award forth proceſs of execution for the levying of the forfeitures. (2) This Act to endure to the end of the next Parliament. 39 Eliz. 18. made perpetual.

Which Officers have authority to hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

C A P. VIII.

An Act for redreſs of erroneous Judgments in the Court commonly called the Kings Bench.

El. 731. Jac. 171, 314. Car. 286, 72. Roll 139, 294, Roll 75, 140.

FOraſmuch as erroneous Judgments given in the Court called the Kings Bench, are only to be reformed by the high Court of Parliament, (2) which Court of Parliament is not in theſe days ſo often holden, as in ancient time it hath been, neither yet (in reſpect of greater affairs of this Realm) ſuch erroneous Judgments can be well conſidered of, and determined during the time of the Parliament, whereby the Subjects of this Realm are greatly hindered and delayed of Juſtice in ſuch caſes:

Error 3. Erroneous judgments given in the Kings Bench by the Common Laws, are only reverſible in Parliament.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That where any Judgment ſhall at any time hereafter be given in the ſaid Court of the Kings Bench, in any Suit or Action of Debt, Detinue, Covenant, Account, Action upon the Caſe, Ejectione firmæ, or Treſpaſs firſt commenced, or to be firſt commenced there, (other then ſuch only, where the Queens Majeſty ſhall be party) the Party Plaintiff or Defendant, againſt whom any ſuch Judgment ſhall be given, may at his election ſue forth out of the Court of Chancery, a ſpecial Writ of Error to be deviſed in the ſaid Court of Chancery, (2) directed to the Chief Juſtice of the ſaid Court of the Kings Bench for the time being, commanding him to cauſe the ſaid Record, and all things concerning the ſaid Judgment, to be brought before the Juſtices of the Common Bench, and the Barons of the Exchequer, into the Exchequer-Chamber, there to be examined by the ſaid Juſtices of the Common Bench, and Barons aforeſaid; (3) which ſaid Juſtices of the Common Bench, and ſuch Barons of the Exchequer as are of the degree of the Coyf, or ſix of them at the leaſt, by vertue of this preſent Act, ſhall thereupon have full power and authority to examine all ſuch errors as ſhall be aſſigned or found in or upon any ſuch Judgment, (4) and thereupon to reverſe or affirm the ſaid Judgment, as the Law ſhall require, other then for errors to be aſſigned or found for or concerning the Juriſdiction of the ſaid Court of Kings Bench, or for any want of form in any Writ, Return, Plaint, Bill, Declaration, or other Pleading, Proceſs, Verdict or Proceeding whatſoever; (5) and that after the ſame ſhall be removed and brought back into the ſaid Court of the Kings Bench, that ſuch further Proceeding may be thereupon, as well for Execution as otherwiſe, as ſhall appertain.

3 Bulſtr. 331. Moor 694. pl. 963.

Before whom Judgments given in certain Actions in the Kings Bench, may be examined. 2 Roll 434.

III. And be it further enacted, That ſuch Reverſal or Affirmation of any ſuch former Judgment ſhall not be ſo final, but that the party who findeth him grieved therewith, ſhall and may ſue in the high Court of Parliament, for the further and due examination of the ſaid Judgment, in ſuch ſort as is now uſed upon erroneous Judgments in the ſaid Court of Kings Bench. of Dedimus poteſtatem, made for the acknowledging of any of the ſame Fines, the return thereof; the Concord, Note and Foot of every ſuch Fine, the Proclamations made thereupon, and the Kings Silver; (4) and alſo every Original Writ of Entry in the Poſt, or other Writ whereupon any common Recovery hath been ſuffered, or hereafter ſhall be ſuffered or paſſed; the Writs of Summon. ad Warrantizandum, the Returns of the ſaid Originals and Writs of Summon. ad Warrantizandum, and every Warrant of Atturney, had or to be had, as well of every Demandant and Tenant, as Vouchee extant and remaining, or that ſhall be extant and being in the Courts of Aſſiſes or great Seſſions within the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-weſt, and Counties Palatines, or in the cuſtody of the Officers to whom the charge of keeping thereof doth appertain, (6) may upon the requeſt or election of any perſon or perſons, be inrolled in Rolls of Parchment by ſuch perſons, and for ſuch conſiderations as hereafter in this Act ſhall be mentioned: (7) And that the Inrollments of the ſame, or any part thereof, ſhall be of as good force and validity in Law, to all intents, reſpects and purpoſes, for ſo much of any of them ſo inrolled, as the ſame being extant and remaining, were or ought by Law to be.

For what Errours Fines and Recoveries are reverſible.

II. Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Fine, Proclamations upon Fines, or common Recovery heretofore had, levied ſuffered or paſſed, or hereafer to be had, levied, ſuffered or paſſed in any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverdford-weſt or Counties Palatine, ſhall be reverſed or reverſible by any Writ of Error, for falſe or incongrue Latine, raſure, interlining, miſ-entring of any Warrant of Atturney, or of any Proclamation miſ-returning, or not returning of the Sheriff, or other want of form in words, and not in matter of ſubſtance.

In what caſes, and what perſons may have Writs of Errour to reverſe Fines or Recoveries.

III. Provided always That neither this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall bar or exclude any perſon or perſons from any Writ of Error which ſhall be had, taken or purſued within five years next after the end of the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, upon any Fine or Recovery heretofore had or ſuffered in any of the Courts aforeſaid; nor from any Writ of Error which ſhall be had, taken or purſued, upon any Fine or Recovery heretofore levied, acknowledged or had in any of the ſaid Courts aforeſaid, within any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, or Town and County of Haverford-weſt: (2) Which Fine or Recovery, or any part or parcel thereof now is, or at any time before the firſt day of June, whith ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1585, ſhall be exemplified under the Judicial Seal of the ſaid Courts, at or by the ſuit of any perſon that is or may be entituled to have or ſue any Writ of Error upon any the ſame Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed; nor from any Writ of Error which ſhall be had, taken or purſued upon any Fine or Recovery heretofore levied, acknowledged or had in any of the Courts aforeſaid, within any of the ſaid Counties Palatine: (3) which Fine or Recovery, any or part or parcel thereof now is, or at any time before the ſaid firſt day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, 1585. ſhall be exemplified under the Seal of the ſame County Palatine where the ſame Fine or Recovery ſhall be ſo levied, knowledged or had, at or by the ſuit of any perſon that is, or may be entituled, to have or ſue any Writ of Error upon the ſame fine or Recovery ſo heretofore paſſed; (4) Nor to bar any Feme Covert, or any perſon within the age of one and twenty years, or any perſon that is non compos mentis, in Priſon or beyond the Seas, or of, or from any Writ of Error to be had or proſecuted for the reverſing of any Fine or Recovery heretofore paſſed, levied or ſuffered in any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-weſt, or Counties Palatine, (5) So that ſuch Feme Covert or her heirs, within ſeven years next after that ſhe become ſole, and ſuch perſon within the age of one and twenty years, or his heirs within ſeven years next after he ſhall come and be of full age of one and twenty years; and ſuch perſon that is non compos mentis, within ſeven years next after he ſhall become of ſanæ memoriæ, and in default thereof, the heirs of ſuch perſon that is non compos mentis, within ſeven years next after the death of any ſuch perſon being non compos mentis; and ſuch perſon in Priſon, or his heirs within ſeven years next after the ſame perſon ſhall be at liberty, and ſuch perſon beyond the Seas, or his heirs within ſeven years next after the return of ſuch perſon into this Realm of England, or the death of the ſaid perſon, if he ſhall before his return die in any foreign Countrey, ſhall ſue, take and proſecute their Writs of Error, as their Cauſes ſhall ſeverally require, for reverſing of any of the ſaid Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed, levied or ſuffered.

A remedy for the heir, where the anceſtor dieth hanging the Suit.

IV. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall within the time and years aforeſaid, commence or ſue his or their Writs of Error, for reverſing of any the ſaid Fines or Recoveries heretofore paſſed, which Suit ſhall fortune to abate by the death of any of the parties to the ſame, that then it ſhall and may be lawful for his and their heirs, at any time within one year next after the ſaid ſeven years expired to have, ſue, and take their Writ of Error for the reverſing of every ſuch Fine and Recovery; (2) and if ſuch heir be an infant within the age of one and twenty years, then within one year next after the full age of ſuch infant; Any thing in this preſent Act contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The day and year of the knowledge of a Fine or Warrant of Atturney for a Recovery ſhall be certified.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon that ſhall at any time hereafter take the knowledge of any Fine or Warrant of Atturney, of any Tenant or Vouchee, for ſuffering any common Recovery to be levied, knowledged, paſſed or had, within any the twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-weſt, or Counties Palatine, or ſhall certifie them or any of them, ſhall with the Certificate of the Concord or Warrant of Atturney, certifie alſo the day and year wherein the ſame was acknowledged; (2) And that no perſon that taketh any ſuch knowledge of any Fine or Warrant for any Recovery, ſhall be bound, or by any means inforced to certifie any ſuch knowledge of any Fine or Warrant, except it be within one year next after the ſaid knowledge taken.

VI. And that no Clerk or Officer in any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-weſt, or Counties Palatine, ſhall receive any Writ of Covenant, or Writ of Entry, or any other Writ whereupon any Fine or common Recovery is hereafter to paſs, unleſs the day of the knowledge of the ſame Fine and Warrant ſhall appear in, or by ſuch Certificate, upon pain that every Clerk that ſhall receive any ſuch Writ, ſhall forfeit for every time that he ſhall ſo offend, the ſum of Fourty ſhillings: (2) And that no Attournment in or upon any ſuch Fine in any of the Courts aforeſaid, be entred upon Record, except the party mentioned to Attourn therein, firſt have appeared in the Court, in perſon, or by Atturney warranted by the hands of one of the Juſtices of the ſame Court, upon a Writ of Quid Juris Clamat, quem redditum redd. or per quæ ſervitia, as the caſe requireth: (3) And that every entry of Attournment hereafter to be made in any of the Courts aforeſaid, wherein there ſhall be no appearance as aforeſaid, ſhall be utterly void and of none effect, without any Writ of Error, or other means to be uſed for avoiding thereof.

Attornment.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That there ſhall be for ever an Office for the Inrollments aforeſaid, in every of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-weſt, and Counties Palatine, which ſhall be and continue an Office for ever, called the Office of Inrollments of Fines and Recoveries; and that the Juſtices of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-weſt, and Counties Palatine for the time being, that is to wit, every of them within the limits and precincts of their ſeveral Authorities and Commiſſions, ſhall have and take the care and charge of, and for the Inrollments aforeſaid, and ſhall have and enjoy the ſaid Office and the Diſpoſition thereof, and carefully ſee and look to the execution thereof; (2) and in conſideration of their charges pain and travel therein, ſhall have and take the ſums of money hereafter following, and no more, that is to ſay for the Inrollment and examination of every Fine and the parts thereof, Five ſhillings, (3) and for the Inrollment and examination of every Recovery and the parts thereof, Five ſhillings, (4) and for every exemplification of the Inrollment of every Fine and the parts thereof, Three ſhillings four pence, (5) and for every exemplification of the Inrollment of every Recovery and the parts thereof, Three ſhillings four pence, (6) and for the ſearch of the Rolls for one year, Four pence, (7) and for the Copy of one ſheet of Paper, containing fourteen Lines, Four pence: (8) And that the Juſtices of the ſaid Courts of Aſſiſes, or great Seſſions for the time being, within the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, Town and County of Haverford-weſt, and Counties Palatine, or any one of them, within the ſeveral limits and precincts or their ſaid ſeveral Commiſſions, ſhall examine the Inrollment of every ſuch Fine and Recovery and of the parts thereof, and after ſuch examination of the Inrollment of every ſuch Fine and Recovery and of the parts thereof, ſhall immediately write his Name that ſo examineth, with his own Hand in the Roll thereof, upon pain that the ſaid Juſtices ſhall forfeit to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, the ſum of Fourty ſhillings for every time that they or one of them ſhall make default of ſuch examination or writing of his or their Name as is aforeſaid; (9) and that it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Juſtices or any of them for the time being, to take order in all things that ſhall be convenient and needful for the Inrollments aforeſaid, (10) and upon examination in the ſaid Courts to aſſeſs ſuch Fine or Amerciament upon any Clerk, Sheriff, Deputy, Atturney, or any other perſon for his and their miſpriſion, contempt and negligence, for not doing, or miſ-doing in any thing, of, in or concerning the ſaid Fines or Recoveries, or any part of them, or either of them, as by the ſaid Juſtices for the time being, or any one of them ſhall be thought meet and convenient; (11) The ſaid Fine and Amerciament to be eſtreated amongſt other Fines and Amerciaments of that Court where ſuch offence or miſpriſion ſhall be committed.

The Office of Inrollments. Fees of Inrollments and Exemplifications of Fines and Recoveries.

Aſſeſſing of Fines for miſpriſion, contempt, or negligence.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the exemplification of any ſuch Inrollment of any Fine or Recovery, or of any part thereof, within any of the ſaid twelve Shires of Wales, or the ſaid Town and County of Haverford-weſt, under the Judicial Seal of the ſaid Shire, Town or County where ſuch Fine or Recovery was levied, had or paſſed, (2) and the exemplification of any ſuch Inrollment of any Fine or Recovery, or of any part thereof, within any of the ſaid Counties Palatine, under the Seal of that County Palatine where ſuch Fine or Recovery was levied, had, or paſſed, (3) ſhall be of as good force and validity in the Law, to all intents, reſpects and purpoſes, for ſuch part, and ſo much of any of them as ſhall be ſo exemplified, as the very original Record it ſelf being extant and remaining, were, or ought by Law to be.

The Exemplification of as good force as the original Record.

IX. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices Clerks authorized by their Warrant in the ſaid ſeveral Offices and Places where the ſame Records, or any of them do or ſhall remain, to write out or Inroll the ſame Records, and every part thereof, (2) and that the ſaid Records, nor any of them, for the writing out or making the Rolls thereof by the Clerks of the ſaid Juſtices, ſhall be brought or carried forth of the ſaid Offices or Places.

Records ſhall not be carried forth of the Offices.

X. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That none of the ſaid Fines or Recoveries aforeſaid, heretofore levied, paſſed or ſuffered, which ſhall be exemplified under any judicial Seal of any the ſaid Shires, of Wales, or Town or County of Haverford-weſt, or under the ſeal of any of the ſaid Counties Palatine, according to the form of this Act, ſhall after ſuch exemplifications had, be in any wiſe amended.

No fine or Recovery ſhall be amended after Exemplification.

XI. Provided always, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhould not in any wiſe extend to the prejudice of the heirs of Sir Edward Grey Knight, Lord Powys, deceaſed, or of Sir Edward Herbert Knight, or his heirs or aſſigns, Henry Vernon, or John Vernon, Eſquires, or their heirs or aſſigns, for or concerning any Fine levied, or Recovery ſuffered, by or againſt the ſaid Lord Powys, of any Baronies, Honors, Manors, Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments in the County of Montgomery, or any exemplification thereof, or for or concerning any Writ of Error, brought, or to be brought for the reverſing of any ſuch Fine or Recovery; But that they and every of them, ſhall have and enjoy the ſame right, title, benefit and advantage to all intents and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had or made.

The heirs of the Lord Powys, Sir Edward Herbert, Vernon.

The Earl of Kent his Title.

XII. And foraſmuch as upon great examination, it appeareth, That divers Fines and Recoveries have been heretofore levied and ſuffered of divers Caſtles, Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, which ſometime were the Inheritance of George, ſometime Earl of Kent, great Grandfather to Henry now Earl of Kent, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder, whereunto the ſaid now Earl of Kent pretended title, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder; which if they be Erronious as is pretended, do much vary from the general cauſe and miſchief for which this Statute meaneth to provide; Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That neither this Statute nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend to take away any Writ of Error whereunto any perſon or perſons is now or hereafter ſhall be lawfully entituled to have, for the reverſing of the ſaid Fines and Recoveries, or any of them heretofore levied or ſuffered of any of the ſaid Caſtles, Manors, Meſſuages, Lands, Tenements, which late were any part or parcel of the Inheritance of the ſaid George ſometime Earl of Kent, in uſe, poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder; Any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding. 23 Eliz. 3.

CAP. X.

An Act for the continuance of a former Statute, Entituled, An Act to redreſs Diſorders in common Informers upon Penal Laws, made in the Eighteenth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign.

Action p. 3. The Stat. of 18 Eliz. 5. touching Informers upon penal Statutes, made perpetual.

Where in the Parliament holden at Weſtmiſter the eighth day of February, in the eighteenth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady Queen Elizabeth, there was amongſt others, an Act made, entituled, An Act to redreſs diſorders in common Informers upon penal Laws; which Act is to continue in force and effect but unto the end of this Seſſion of this preſent Parliament; Foraſmuch as the ſaid Act is found by experience ſince the making of the ſame Act to be very neceſſary, beneficial, and expedient for the Commonwealth:

II. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the ſame Act above remembred, and all and every the branches, clauſes and proviſions in the ſame contained, ſhall remain, continue, and be from henceforth in full force and effect for ever.

CAP. XI.

Fiſh 13. Raſt. 16.

Certain Statutes, viz. xix. made in the Reigns of King Hen. 8. King Ed. 6. and Queen Eliz. revived, and made to continue until the end of the next Parliament. EXP. A repeal of ſo much of the Statute of 5 Eliz. 5. as concerneth the eating of Fiſh, and reſtraineth the eating of Fleſh upon the Wedneſday. Sea-fiſh may be ſold any day in the week ſaving Sunday. Victuallers ſhall utter no Fleſh in Lent, nor upon Fridays or Saturdays. All manner of Pins may be brought into this Realm. EXP. 35 Eliz. 7. 39 Eliz. 18. Cock. pl. fol. 371.

CAP. XII.

An Act for Swearing of Under-Sheriffs and other Under-Officers and Miniſters.

Sheriffs 82. Under-ſheriffs, Bayliffs of Liberties, Sheriffs Clerks and Deputies, ſhall be twice ſworn. Complaints of the miſdemeanor of Under-ſheriffs.

Foraſmuch as grievous complaints are many times made of the miſdemeanour and evil behaviour of Under-ſheriffs, who oftentimes having to them committed by the High-ſheriff, the whole or part of the exerciſing and executing of the Office of the High-ſheriff, and not taking any corporal Oath as the High-ſheriff doth, for the executing and diſcharging of the ſame Office, do therefore daily moſt injuriouſly, through corruption and affection, impannel Jurors for the Queens Majeſty, and betwixt party and party, to the great loſs, damage and hinderance of divers her Majeſties loving Subjects of this Realm:

2 Eliz. 1. The Oath of Supremacy.

The Under-ſheriffs Oath touching the impannelling of Juries.

II. For reformation whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this Parliament, That all and every perſon and perſons that from and after the laſt day of the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, ſhall be admitted to, or take upon him the executing of the Office of an Under-ſheriff in any Shire or County within this Realm of England, before he intermeddle with the uſe or exerciſe of the ſaid Office, ſhall receive and take a corporal Oath upon the holy Evangeliſts, before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or one of them of the ſame Circuit wherein that County is whereof he ſhall be Under-ſheriff, or before the Cuſtos Rotulorum, or two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum of the ſaid County whereof he ſhall be Under-ſheriff as aforeſaid, (2) for and concerning the Supremacy, in ſuch manner and form, as that Oath is expreſſed and declared in one Act of Parliament made and ordained in the firſt year of the Reign our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, (3) together with which Oath he ſhall in like ſort, before the ſame perſon or perſons, receive and take another corporal Oath as followeth, (that is to ſay,) I A B. ſhall not uſe or exerciſe the Office of under-Sheriff corruptly, during the time that I ſhall remain therein, neither ſhall or will accept, receive or take by any colour, means or device whatſoever, or conſent to the taking of any manner of fee or reward of any perſon or perſons for the impannelling or returning of any Inqueſt, Jury or Tales in any Court of Record, for the Queen, or betwixt party and party, above Two ſhillings, or the value thereof, or ſuch fees as are allowed and appointed for the ſame by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, but will according to my power, truly and indifferently with convenient ſpeed impannel all Jurors, and return all ſuch Writ or Writs touching the ſame as ſhall appertain to be done by my Duty or Office, during the time that I ſhall remain in the ſaid Office. So help me God. (4) And likewiſe be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That this Act ſhall be a ſufficient warrant to the perſons appointed by this Act to miniſter the Oath aforeſaid, for the minſtring thereof accordingly.

The Under-ſheriff choſen at the time of the Statute making.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Under-ſheriff that is already choſen and appointed for the executing of the ſaid Office of Under-ſheriff for the year or time begun, of, or upon the laſt change of Sheriffs, ſhall within fourty days next enſuing the Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, receive and take the Oaths mentioned in this Act, before ſuch perſon or perſons as by this Act is, or are or limited appointed to miniſter the ſame.

Bayliffs of Franchiſes Sheriffs Clerks and Deputies, ſhall take the aforeſaid Oath.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Bailiff of Franchiſes, Deputy and Clerk of every Sheriff and Under-ſheriff, and every other perſon and perſons which after fourty days after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall have authority, or take upon him to impannel or return an Inqueſt, Jury or Tales, or to intermeddle with execution of Proceſs in any Court of Record, ſhall before he or they intermeddle with any further execution thereof, receive and take the Oaths aforeſaid, corporally before the perſon or perſons appointed by this Act to miniſter the ſame, or before the Head-Officer of the Place, if it be a Town-Corporate, changing only the words (the Office of the Under-ſheriff) contained in the Oath expreſſed in this Act, to ſuch words as are convenient for the Deputation, Office or Place in which the party which taketh the Oath is to be exerciſed in: (2) And if any the ſaid perſons limited to take the Oath aforeſaid, do take upon him to impannel or return an Inqueſt, Jury or Tales, or to intermeddle with the execution of Proceſs, not having before taken the Oaths aforeſaid, that then every ſuch perſon ſhall loſe and forfeit the ſum of Fourty pounds of currant Engliſh money, the one moiety to be to the uſe of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame.

The forfeiture of the offenders, and how it may be recovered.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if an Under-ſheriff or other perſon mentioned in this Act, or any of them, at any time and times, from and after fourty days next enſuing the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall do or commit any act or Acts contrary to the Oaths aforeſaid, or either of them, or contrary to the true intent and meaning of this Act, that then every ſuch perſon ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence to the party or parties grieved, his or their treble damages: (2) All which ſeveral forfeitures before mentioned, ſhall or may by the authority of this preſent Act, be recovered, had, and levied by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information in any of the Qeens Majeſties Court of Record; in which Actions, Suits, Plaints or Informations, nor Wager of Law, Eſſoin or Protection ſhall be allowed.

Which Officers may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, and Juſtices of Peace in their open Seſſions, ſhall have full power within their limits of their authority, to hear and determine the defaults done contrary to this Act, as well by Preſentment and Information as Indictment, (2) and upon conviction of the offenders, to award execution for the levying of the forfeitures aforeſaid, by Fieri facias, Attachment, Capias or Exigent.

CAP. XIII.

An Act for the following of Hue and Cry.

Hue and Cry: How and by whom Hue and Cries are to be made and the penalty for default thereof, &c. The effect of the Statutes of 13 Ed. 1. 1 & 2. & 28 Ed. 3. 11. touching anſwering for robbery.

Whereas by two ancient Statutes, the one made in the Parliament holden at Wincheſter, in the thirteenth year of the Reign of King Edward the Firſt, and the other in the eight and twentieth year of the Reign of King Edward the Third, it was for the better repreſſing of Roberies and Felonies (amongſt other things) enacted to this effect That if the Countrey do not anſwer for the Bodies of ſuch Malefactors, that then the pain ſhould be ſuch, that is to wit, that the people dwelling in the Countrey ſhall be anſwerable for the Robberies done, and the Damages, (2) ſo that the whole Hundred where the Robbery ſhall be done, with the Franchiſes which are within the precinct of the ſame Hundred ſhall anſwer the Robberies done; (3) And if the Robbery chance to be done in the diviſion of two Hundreds, that then both the Hundreds together, with the Franchiſes within the precinct of them, ſhall be anſwerable, as in the ſaid two ſeveral Statutes it doth more at large appear:

Several inconveniences enſuing the aforeſaid Statutes touching Hue and Cry.

II. Foraſmuch as the ſaid parts of the ſeveral Statutes being of late days more commonly put in execution, then heretofore they have been, are found by experience to be very hard and extream to many of the Queens Majeſties good Subjects, becauſe by the ſame Statutes they do remain charged with the penalties therein contained, notwithſtanding their inability to ſatisfie the ſame, and though they do as much as in reaſon might be required in purſuing ſuch Malefactors and offenders, (2) whereby both large ſcope of negligence is given to the Inhabitants and Reſiants in other Hundreds and Counties, not to proſecute the Hue and Cry made, followed and brought unto them, by reaſon they are not chargeable for any portion of the Goods robbed, nor with any Damages in that behalf given, (3) and alſo great encouragement and emboldening is likewiſe given unto the Offenders, to commit daily more Felonies and Roberies, as ſeeing it in manner impoſſible for the Inhabitants and Reſitants of the ſaid Hundred and Franchiſes wherein the Robbery is committed, to apprehend them without the aid of the other Hundreds and Counties adjoyning, (4) and for that alſo the party robbed having remedy by the aforeſaid Statutes for the recovering of his Goods robbed, and damages, againſt the Inhabitants and Reſiants of the hundred wherein the Robbery was committed, is many times negligent and careleſs in proſecuting and purſuing the ſaid Malefactors and Offenders: (5) Our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, not willing therefore that her people ſhould be impoveriſhed by any ſuch pain or penalty which ſhould be hard or grievous to them, and having ſpecial regard to abate the power of Felons, and to repreſs Felonies, (6) doth for remedy hereof, with the conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and of the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame Parliament, eſtabliſh, and enact, That the Inhabitants and Reſitants of every, or any ſuch Hundred (with the Franchiſes within the precinct thereof) wherein neligence, fault or defect of purſuit, and freſh ſuit, after Hue and Cry made, ſhall happen to be, from and after fourty days next after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall anſwer and ſatisfie the one moiety or half of all and every ſuch ſum and ſums of money and damages, as ſhall by force or virtue of the ſaid Statutes or either of them, be recovered or had againſt, or of the ſaid Hundred, with the Franchiſes therein, in which any Robbery or Flony ſhall at any time hereafter be committed or done: (7) And that the ſame moiety ſhall and may be recovered by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, in any ſuch Robbery and Recovery, for the party and parties robbed ſhall be, without naming the of the Queens Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, by, and in the name of the Clerk of the Peace for the time being, of, or in every ſuch County within this Realm where any ſuch Robbery and Recovery, by the party or parties robbed ſhall be, without naming the Chriſtian name or Surname of the ſaid Clerk of the Peace; (8) whith moiety ſo recovered, ſhall be to the only uſe and behoof of the Inhabitants of the ſaid Hundred where any ſuch Robbery or Felony ſhall be committed or done.

Hob. 246. The Inhabitants of the hundred where freſh ſuit ſhall not be made, ſhall anſwer half damages.

The moiety ſhall be recovered by the Clerk of the Peace.

III. And

The death or removing of the Clerk of the Peace ſhall not ceaſe the ſuit.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Clerk of the Peace, of or in any County within this Realm, ſhall at any time hereafter commence or prefer any ſuch Suit, Action or Information, and ſhall after the ſame ſo ſued, commenced or preferred, happen to die, or to be removed out of his Office, before recovery and execution had; that yet no ſuch Action, Bill, Plaint or Information, ſued, commenced, or preferred, ſhall by ſuch diſplacing or death be abated, diſcontinued or ended, (2) but that it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Clerk of the Peace next ſucceeding in the ſaid County, to proſecute, purſue, and follow all and every ſuch Action, Bill, Plaint, Suit and Information, for the cauſes aforeſaid, ſo hanging and depending, in ſuch manner and form, and to all Intents and purpoſes, as that the Clerk of the Peace might have done which firſt commenced or preferred the ſaid Suit, Bill, Plaint or Information.

IV. And although the whole Hundred where ſuch Robberies and Felonies are committed, with the Liberties within the precinct thereof, are by the ſaid two former Statutes, charged with the anſwering to the party robbed his damages; yet nevertheleſs, the recovery and execution by and for the party or parties robbed, is had againſt one or a very few perſons of the ſaid Inhabitants, and he and they ſo charged, have not heretofore by Law had any mean or way to have any contribution of or from the reſidue of the ſaid Hundred where the ſaid Robbery is committed, to the great impoveriſhment of them againſt ſuch recovery or execution is had;

A remedy for thoſe againſt whom recovery and execution is had to have contribution.

V. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after execution of damages by the party or parties ſo robbed had, it ſhall and may be lawful (upon complaint made by the party or parties ſo charged) to and for two Juſtices of the Peace (whereof one to be of the Quorum) of the ſame County, inhabiting within the ſaid Hundred, or near unto the ſame where any ſuch execution ſhall be had, to aſſeſs and tax rateably and proportionably, according to their diſcretions, all and every the Towns, Pariſhes, Villages and Hamlets, as well of the ſaid Hundred where any ſuch Robbery ſhall be committed, as of the Liberties within the ſaid Hundred, to, and towards an equal contribution to be had and made for the relief of the Inhabitant or Inhabitants againſt whom the party or parties robbed, before that time had his or their execution; (2) And that after ſuch taxation made, the Conſtables, Conſtable, Headboroughs, or Headborough of every ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village and Hamlet, ſhall by virtue of this preſent Act, have full power and authority within their ſeveral limits, rateably and proportionably to tax and aſſeſs according to their abilities, every inhabitant and dweller in every ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village and Hamlet for and towards the payment of ſuch Taxation and Aſſeſſment, as ſhall be ſo made upon every ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village and Hamlet, for and towards the payment of ſuch Taxation and Aſſeſſment, as ſhall be ſo made upon every ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village and Hamlet as aforeſaid, by the ſaid Juſtices: (3) And that if any Inhabitant of any ſuch Town, Pariſh, Village or Hamlet, ſhall obſtinately refuſe and deny to pay the ſaid Taxation and Aſſeſſment, ſo by the ſaid Conſtables, Conſtable, Headboroughs or Headborough Taxed and Aſſeſſed, that then it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Conſtables and Headboroughs, and every of them within their ſeveral limits and juriſdictions, to diſtrain all and every perſon and perſons ſo refuſing and denying, by his and their Goods and Chattels, (4) and the ſame Diſtreſs to ſell, and the money thereof coming, to retain to the uſe aforeſaid; (5) and if the goods or Chattels ſo diſtrained and ſold, ſhall be of more value then the ſaid Taxation ſhall come unto, that then the reſidue of the ſaid money, over and above the ſaid Taxation ſhall be delivered unto the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo diſtrained.

The taxation of the Towns by the Juſtices.

The taxation of the inhabitants by the Conſtables.

Diſtraining and ſale of diſtreſs for default of payment.

The Conſtables ſhall deliver the money collected, to the Juſtices.

VI. And be it further enacted, That all and every the ſaid Conſtables and Headboroughs, after that they have within their ſeveral limits and Juriſdictions, levied and collected their ſaid Rates and ſums of money ſo Taxed, ſhall within ten days after ſuch Collection, pay and deliver the ſame over unto the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or one of them, to the uſe and behoof of the ſaid Inhabitant or Inhabitants for whom ſuch Rate, Taxation and Aſſeſſment ſhall be had or made as aforeſaid; (2) which money ſo paid, ſhall by the Juſtices or Juſtice ſo receiving the ſame, be delivered over (upon requeſt made) unto the ſaid Inhabitant or Inhabitants to whoſe uſe the ſame was collected.

Levying of the contribution in the Hundred where default of purſuit ſhall be.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the like Taxation, Aſſeſſment, levying by diſtreſs and payment, as aforeſaid, ſhall be had and done within every Hundred where default or negligence of purſuit, and freſh ſuit ſhall be, for and to the benefit of all and every Inhabitant and Inhabitants, of the ſame Hundred where ſuch default ſhall be, that ſhall at any time hereafter by virtue of this preſent Act, have any damages or money levied of them, for or to the payment of the one moiety, or half of the money recovered againſt the ſaid Hundred where any Robbery ſhall be hereafter committed.

No penalty where any of the offenders be apprehended.
March 10, 11.

Cok. lib. fol. 7.

VIII. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That where any Robbery is, or ſhall be hereafter committed by two, or a greater number of Malefactors, and that it happen any one of the ſaid Offenders to be apprehended by purſuit to be made according to the ſaid former mentioned Laws and Statutes, or according to this preſent Act, that then, and in ſuch caſe, no Hundred or Franchiſe ſhall in any wiſe incur, or fall into the penalty, loſs or forfeiture mentioned either in this preſent Act, or in any the ſaid former Statutes, although the reſidue of the ſaid Malefactors ſhall happen to eſcape, and not be apprehended; Any thing in this Statute, or in the ſaid former Statutes to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Suit ſhall be commenced within one year after the Robbery.

Hob.

IX. Provided alſo, That no perſon or perſons hereafter robbed, ſhall take any benefit by virtue of any the ſaid former Statutes, to charge any Hundred where any ſuch Robbery ſhall be committed, except he or they ſo robbed, ſhall commence his or their Suit or Action within one year next after ſuch Robbery ſo to be committed.

In what ſort Hue, and Cry, and purſuit of Felons ſhall be made.

Dyer fol.

X. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no Hue and Cry, or purſuit hereafter to be done or made by the County, or Inhabitants of any Hundred, ſhall be allowed and taken to be a lawful Hue and Cry, or purſuit, upon or after the ſaid Felons or Offenders, except] the ſame Hue and Cry, or purſuit be done and made by Horſemen and Footmen; Any Uſage or Cuſtom to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The party robbed ſhall give notice thereof to the Inhabitants of ſome Town, &c.

Cok. lib. 7. fol. 7. Cro. Jac. 41.

XI. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon or perſons that ſhall hereafter happen to be robbed, ſhall have or maintain any Action, or take any benefit by virtue of the ſaid two mentioned Statutes, or either of them, except the ſame perſon and perſons ſo robbed, ſhall with as much convenient ſpeed as may be, give notice and intelligence of the ſaid Felony or Robbery ſo committed, unto ſome of the Inhabitants of ſome time, Village or Hamlet near unto the place where any ſuch Robbery ſhall be committed; (2) nor ſhall bring or have any Action upon and by virtue of any the Statutes aforeſaid, except he or they ſhall firſt within twenty days next before ſuch Action to be brought, be examined upon his or their corporal Oath to be taken before ſome Juſtice of the Peace of the County where the Robbery was committed, inhabiting within the ſaid Hundred where the Robbery was committed, or near unto the ſame, whether he or they do know the parties that committed the ſaid Robbery, or any of them; (3) And if upon examination it be confeſſed, that he or they do know the parties that committed the ſaid Robbery, or any of them, That then he or they ſo confeſſing, ſhall before the ſaid Action be commenced or brought, enter into ſufficient Bond by Recognizance before the ſaid Juſtice before whom the ſaid examination is had, effectually to proſecute the ſame perſon and perſons ſo known to have committed the ſaid Robbery by Indictment, or otherwiſe, according to the due courſe of the Laws of this Realm. 29 Eliz., 25.

Cro. El. 142, 212.

The party robbed examined before a Juſtice, whether he knew any of the offenders. Cok. pla. fo. 348, Raſt pla. fo. 406.

CAP. XIV.

An Act for reviving of a former Statute made for the true making of Malt.

Malt 1.

WHereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, upon Prorogation the Fourth day of November, in the ſecond year of the Reign of the late King of moſt famous memory King Edward the Sixth, moſt dear brother to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, there was amongſt other things, one good and neceſſary Act of Parliament made and eſtabliſhed, entituled, An Act for the true making of Malt; (2) which ſaid Statute was after diſcontinued, and ſo reſteth and remaineth as yet, albeit in truth, during the continuance thereof, the ſame did much good to the Commonwealth, and ſo would it do ſtill, if the ſame might be revived and ſtand in force as heretofore it hath done:

A reviver of the Statute made 2 Ed. 6 10. for the making of Malt.

II. In conſideration whereof, may it pleaſe her Highneſs, with the conſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, that it may be enacted, That the ſaid former Act and Statute above mentioned, and every Branch, Article and Proviſo therein contained, ſhall be revived, and from henceforth continue, ſtand and endure in force and ſtrength, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, and ſhall be obſerved and kept in all things, according to the tenor, effect and true meaning of the ſame. (2) This Act to continue for the time of three years now next following, after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament; and after the end of the ſaid three years, then to the end of the Parliament then next following. 3 Car. 4. Continued untill the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XV.

An Act touching the breadth of white Woollen Clothes made within the Counties of Wilts, Glouceſter, Somerſet and Oxon, &c.

Drapery 12. &c. Of what length, breadth and weight Whites made in the Counties of Glouceſter, Somerſet, and Wiltſhire, and elſewhere, ſhall be. 5 & 6 Ed. 6 6.

WHereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fifth and ſixth years of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the Sixth, one Statute was made, Entituled, An Act for the true making of Woollen Cloth, whereby (amongſt other things) it was enacted, That all Whites and Reds, which after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel then next coming, ſhould be made in the Shires or Counties of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter and Somerſet, or any of them, or elſewhere of like making, and all other Whites which ſhould be made in any other parts of this Realm of England, and not before in the ſame Statute remembred, ſhould contain in length, being thorow wet, between ſix and eight and twenty yards, and ſhould be ſeven quarters of the yard in breadth within the Liſts, at the leaſt, and liſted according to the ancient cuſtom; and being well ſcoured, thicked, milled and fully dried, ſhould weigh every piece lxiv. li. being white, and lx. li. being coloured, at the leaſt, as by the ſaid Act, among other Clauſes, Articles and Proviſions contained in the ſame, more plainly is expreſſed.

The weight of the ſaid Clothes. 4 & 5 P. & M. 5.

II. And whereas alſo in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fourth and fifth years of the Reigns of our late Sovereign Lord and Lady King Philip and Queen Mary, one other Statute was made, Entituled, An Act touching the making of Woollen Clothes, whereby alſo (amongſt other things) it was ordained, eſtabliſhed, enacted and provided, That every white Cloth which ſhould be made in the Counties of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter and Somerſet, or any of them, or elſewhere of like making, appointed by the ſaid Act made in the ſaid fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the Sixth, to weigh threeſcore and four pound, ſhould weigh, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled and fully dryed, threeſcore and one pound at the leaſt, (2) with a Proviſion in the ſame laſt recited Act contained, That no perſon or perſons ſhould incur the danger, penalty or forfeiture limited and appointed for any offence in the ſaid former recited Act, which was mitigated, or otherwiſe appointed by the ſame Act made in the fourth and fifth years of King Philip and Queen Mary, as by the ſame Act made in the fourth and fifth years of King Philip and Queen Mary, amongſt divers Clauſes, Articles and Proviſoes therein contained, more plainly is expreſſed: (3) Sithence the making of which ſaid ſeveral Statutes, although the makers of the ſaid Clothes have endeavoured themſelves according to their beſt skill and induſtry, to perform and fulfil the ſaid recited Statute in every of their Clothes, as much as in them did lie, as touching the breadth of Clothes, and to that end and purpoſe have allowed, and do allow ſo much Yarn and Stuff to every ſuch Cloth as might ſufficiently ſerve to make all the ſaid Clothes full out in length and breadth, according to the ſaid former Statute made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the Sixth, and in weight according to the ſaid Branch of the ſaid Statute made in the fourth and fifth years of the Reigns of the late King Philip and Queen Mary; (4) yet notwithſtanding many times, by reaſon of the divers natures in the Wools, and by the great diverſities in the Spinning, Carding and Milling, many of the ſaid Clothes made within the ſaid Counties of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, Somerſet, and Oxon, and elſewhere of like making, do not contain full ſeven quarters in breadth, according to the ſaid Statute made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Ed. 6. and yet do hold their full weight or more, according to the former Statute made in the time of the ſaid King Philip and Queen Mary, and no default touching the breadth can juſtly be imputed to the maker thereof, for that the ſaid Cloth-makers (as experience daily ſheweth) cannot obſerve the ſaid former Statute in all the ſaid Clothes, as touching the breadth, although they endeavour themſelves never ſo much thereunto, (5) which Clothes not containing their full aſſiſe in breadth as is aforeſaid, are many times taken and ſeized by the Searchers of London, when they come to their Market at Blackwell-Hall, to the great loſs and damage of the ſaid Cloth-makers, and to the great hinderance of Cloth-making within the ſaid Counties.

The reaſons wherefore the foreſaid Stat. of 5 & 6. Ed. 6. & 4 & 5 P. & M. cannot be performed, and yet no default in the Clothier.

The breadth of Clothes made in Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, Somerſet and Oxfordſhire.

III. In conſideration whereof, albeit it is not hereby intended to repeal or make void the ſaid former recited Eſtatutes, or either of them, otherwiſe then is hereafter expreſſed, yet nevertheleſs, Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be hereafter Charged for any ſuch default which hereafter ſhall be in any of the ſaid Clothes mentioned in this Act, for want of breadth of ſeven quarters, ſo that the ſame Cloth do contain in breadth, being thorowly wet, ſix quarters and an half at the leaſt within the Liſts unwrought, and Liſted according to the ancient cuſtom; Any thing in any of the former Statutes mentioned to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The penalty if the Cloth do not contain in breadth, ſix quarters and an half.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid Clothes ſhall not contain ſix quarters and an half at the leaſt within the Liſts, as aforeſaid, that then every perſon offending in that behalf, ſhall for every ſuch Cloth be ſubject to ſuch pains, penalties and forfeitures, as were by force of the former recited Statute of the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the Sixth, to have been forfeited for want of breadth of ſeven quarters within the Liſts.

The weight of Narrow-liſted Whites, and Broad-liſted Whites.

V. And be it nevertheleſs enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Cloth to be made within any of the ſaid Counties, or elſewhere of like making, called Narrow liſted Whites, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dried, ſhall contain in weight any leſs then Sixty one pound at the leaſt; (2) or if any Cloth to be made within any of the ſaid Counties, or elſewhere of lie making, called Broad-liſted Whites, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dried, ſhall contain in weight any leſs then ſixty three pound at the leaſt, (3) or if any of the ſaid Clothes, called Narrow-liſted or Broad-liſted Whites, ſhall contain in length any more then twenty and eight yards at the moſt; (4) that then every of the ſaid Clothiers therein offending, ſhall incur double ſuch penalties and forfeitures for every pound ſo wanting of the ſeveral weights above limited, and for every yard ſo exceeding in length, and not weighing after ſuch rate as is before expreſſed, as by the ſaid Statute of the fourth and fifth years of King Philip and Queen Mary is provided and appointed. (5) This Act to endure and continue for the ſpace of five years next after the end of this Seſſion of this preſent Parliament, and from the end of the ſaid five years, until the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament then next enſuing 35 Eliz. 7. made to continue for ever.

CAP. VIII.

An Act concerning the making of Woollen Clothes in the Counties of Devon and Cornwall, called plain white Straight, and pinned white Straight.

Drapery 57. Part of the Statute of 5 Ed. 6. 6. and the whole Statute of 7 Ed. 6. 9. reſtraining the putting of hair, flocks, or Lambs-wool into plain white Straights, & pinned white Straights made in Devon and Cornwall, repealed, &c.

WHere in the Parliament upon Prorogation holden at Weſtminſter the twenty third of January, in the fifth year of the Reign of the late King of famous Memory, Edw, VI. one Act was made for true making of Woollen Clothes; by which Act, amongſt other things it was enacted, That from and after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel next enſuing the making of the ſaid Act, no perſon or perſons ſhould put any Hair, Flocks, or Yarn of Lambs-wooll into any Cloth, Kerſie, Frize, or Cotton made and ſold, or offered to be ſold, as in the ſaid Act is expreſſed, upon pain to forfeit every ſuch Cloth, Kerſis, Frize and Cotton, wherein any ſuch Yarn, Hair, or Flocks ſhould be put, or the value of ſuch Cloth, Kerſie, Frize or Cotton, as by the ſaid Act it doth and may appear:

II. And whereas by another Act made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the ſeventh year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, Entituled, An Act for the making of plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, in Devon and Cornwall, the ſaid former Act was altered, and liberty given to the Makers of the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, to uſe in making the ſaid Clothes, Flocks, Hair, or Yarn made of Lambs-wooll, and by the Statute divers Rules and Orders were appointed for making of the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, as by the ſaid Statute doth appear: (2) Now for that the Orders and Rules both by the ſaid Statute made in the ſaid fifth year, as alſo in the ſaid ſeventh year of the ſaid late King Edward the Sixth, tend to the utter undoing and decay of great numbers and multitudes of people which live by the Trade of Clothing, and are not profitable any longer to be kept in theſe Counties and Places, where the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights are uſually made, the ſame Clothes being but a baſe and courſe kind of Clothes, uſually made for the uſe of the poor people beyond the Seas, and moſt commonly ſhipped into Britain, and there uttered for a Merchandize, to ſerve the uſe of the poorer ſort there: (2) And eſpeſially for that ſithence the making of the ſaid Statute, the Yarn wherewith the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, are uſually made, to the great benefit of the poor people where the ſame are made, is grown ſmaller and finer, whereby many more poor people are ſet on work with ſpinning of the ſame, then either at or before the making of any the ſaid ſeveral Statutes they were, ſo that the Weight, length and breadth cannot agree, as before it did in making the ſaid Clothes:

III. Be it therefore enacted by the Queens Majeſty our Sovereign Lady, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the Branch made in the ſaid fifth year, which prohibiteth putting of Hair, Flocks, or Yarn made of Lambs-wool in any Cloth or Frize, having regard unto the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, be utterly repealed and made void.

IV. And that the ſaid Statute alſo made in the ſaid ſeventh year of the Reign of the ſaid late King, and every Branch, Article, and Clauſe therein, be from henceforth utterly repealed, and void for ever.

V. And that it be further enacted, That from henceforth it ſhall be lawful to all and every the Queens Majeſties Subjects inhabiting, or which ſhall hereafter inhabit within the ſaid Counties of Devon and Cornwall, as well in Towns Corporate, Market Towns, or elſewhere, to weave and make the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and pinned white Straights, and to uſe and occupy in making the ſaid Clothes, called plain white Straights, and Pinned white Straights, Flocks, Hair, and Yarn made of Lambs-wool, (2) and to have, keep and uſe in his or their houſes three Looms, and not above, for making of the Clothes aforeſaid, (3) and to make the ſame Clothes, of ſuch length, weight, and breadth, as the Merchant ſhall like or accept, to buy the ſame for Merchandizes, or appoint the ſame to be made for the uſe and moſt acceptable allowance of the Country people where the ſame ſhall be tranſported for Merchandizes, for that in truth none of the ſame are worn or occupied within this Realm; The ſaid Statute made in the ſaid fifth year of the Reign of the ſaid late King Edward the Sixth, or any other Law or Statute heretofore made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

VI. Provided always, That in defrauding of her Majeſties Cuſtom, no piece of the ſaid Clothes ſhall be made above twelve pounds in weight, or above fourteen yards in length, or one yard in breadth, (2) upon pain of forfeiture of all ſuch Clothes made over and above the ſaid length, breadth or weight, or the value thereof: The one moiety to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs, and Succeſſors, and the other Moiety thereof to him that will ſue for the ſame by Writ, Bill, Plaint, or Information in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection or Wager of Law ſhall be allowed. 43 El. 10.

In what caſe the Surveyors ſhall appoint where the gravel ſhall be laid

How the forfeitures ſhall be imployed.

A remedy where the offender doth not pay the forfeiture.

II. Provided always and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid,, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Owners of ſuch Trees (the bodies whereof have been, or ſhall be from time to time converted and employed to, or for any manner of Timber or Cleft-ware within the Wellds of Suſſex, Surrey, or Kent, or any of them, the ſame not being within eighteen miles of the City of London, or eight miles of the River of Thames, or four miles of the Towns of Rye, and Winchelſey, or within three miles of Haſtings, or within four miles of the foot of the Hills called the Downs, between Arundel, and Pemſey in the County of Suſſex aforeſaid, or any of them) to employ the tops and offals of all ſuch Trees, to or for Coals, or other Fewel ſerving to or for Iron-works, at their own will and pleaſures, this Statute, or any other to the contrary hereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding: (2) And foraſmuch as the Highways in the ſaid Counties of Suſſex, Surrey, and Kent, are in many places greatly impaired and ſpoiled by means of carriages of Coals, Mines and Iron, to and from the Iron-works in the ſaid Counties, to the great hinderance of the common paſſages of the Queens Majeſties Subjects travelling through the ſame: (3) For remedy whereof, Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Occupiers of all manner of Iron-works whatſoever, as Owners or Farmors of the ſame, by or for any Eſtate or Eſtates of Inheritance for life, lives, or for term of year or years, which ſhall at any time hereafter carry, or cauſe to be carried any Coals, Mine or Iron, to or for any their Iron-works between the twelfth day of October, and the firſt day of May yearly, ſhall likewiſe yearly carry and lay, or cauſe to be carried and laid for every ſix loads of Coals or Mine, as well as alſo for every Tun of Iron which ſhall be carried by any manner of Wayn or Cart, between the ſaid Twelfth day of October, and the firſt day of May, yearly, by the ſpace of one mile, thorow any High-ways, being under any the Hills commonly called the North Downs of Surrey, and Kent, to or from any manner of Iron-work, one uſual Cart-load of Cinder, Gravel, Stone, Sand or Chalk, meet for the repairing and amending of the ſaid High-ways, to be laid and employed in ſuch place and places of the ſaid High-ways, as by any Juſtice of the Peace of any of the Counties aforeſaid, dwelling near unto the places where the High-ways within the limits aforeſaid, ſhall be moſt annoyed by any the means aforeſaid, according to the greater and more preſent neceſſity ſhall be appointed or aſſigned; (4) or elſe pay or cauſe to be paid, for and in allowance of every Cart-load, in manner and form aforeſaid, to have been ſo carried and laid, Two ſhillings ſix pence, within eight days after the demand thereof, to the hands of the ſaid Juſtice of Peace, or his Aſſignee, the ſame to be levied after default of payment upon the demand thereof, from time to time, upon ſuch Iron as ſhall be by and thorow the ſame High-ways ſo carried, by way of diſtreſs. (5) And if ſuch Juſtice of Peace, by reaſon of abſence or other occaſion, do not or ſhall not within forty days next after the ſaid firſt day of May yearly, aſſign or appoint where, and in what place of the High-ways the ſaid cinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk, to be carried as aforeſaid, ſhall be laid, or where, and how the money thereof due, or ſo paid, ſhall be employed and beſtowed; that then the ſame cinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk, ſhall be laid and imployed by ſuch perſon and perſons as by this Act are to carry and lay the ſame, or to cauſe the ſame to be carried and laid in ſuch place and places of the High-ways, as the Surveyors of the Highways within the Pariſh for the time being, where the High-ways ſhall be moſt annoyed, as is aforeſaid, ſhall aſſign or appoint, (6) or in default thereof pay to the ſaid Surveyors for every ſuch load due, and uncarried, ii. s. vi. d. in manner and form aforeſaid, (7) upon pain of forfeiture of x. s. for every load of cinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk not carried, laid and imployed in the High-ways, or ii. s. vi. unpaid as is aforeſaid, to be forfeited and paid by the perſon and perſons which by this Act ought to carry and lay or cauſe to be carried and laid the cinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk, or therefore to have paid, as is aforeſaid, after due preſentment and conviction thereof had before the Juſtice of Oyer, and Terminer, or Juſtices of Peace in any of their open Seſſion or Seſſions to be holden before them, or any of them; (8) All which ſum and ſums of Money to be forfeited by reaſon of this Act, for or in default of carriage and laying of the ſaid cinder, gravel, ſtone, ſand or chalk, or payment thereof due, as aforeſaid, ſhall be likewiſe beſtowed and imployed upon the amendment and repairing of the High-ways in the ſaid Pariſhes, where the cauſe of forfeiture by default or refuſal grew, and was given, at and by the diſcretion of any ſuch Juſtice of Peace as ſhall dwell and be reſiant next unto the place or places being moſt annoyed by the Carriages aforeſaid, and where the money therefore due ſhould have been paid, as aforeſaid, (9) and the ſame to be levied by way of diſtreſs by any Conſtable, Tithing-man, Headborough, or other Officer thereunto to be aſſigned by warrant made in open Seſſions by any Clerk of the Peace of the County where any offence or offences aforeſaid ſhall be committed, or by any two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, which were preſent at the Seſſions wherein the ſaid conviction of or for any the offences aforeſaid ſhall be had: (10) And if no ſufficient diſtreſs can be found by the ſaid Officer appointed to levy the ſame, or if the ſaid offendor ſhall abſtinately refuſe to pay the ſame forfeiture, or do not pay the ſame within xx. days after a lawful demand of the ſame, by the ſaid Officer to be appointed for the levying thereof, as aforeſaid, that then every perſon ſo denying or refuſing, and not paying the ſame forfeiture within xx. days, as aforeſaid, to forfeit the double ſum he ſhould before have paid, to be levied by ſuch ways and means, as to two of the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall be thought moſt meet; (11) the ſame forfeiture to be likewiſe imployed upon the amendment of the High-ways, as the other forfeiture ſhould have been, if ſame had been levied according to the true intent and meaning of this Statute.

CAP. XXIV.

An Act for repairing and maintaining of the Sea-banks and Sea-works on the Sea Coaſts in the County of Norfolk.

Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the ſecond and third years of the Reign of the late King Philip and Queen Mary, one Act was made and ordained for the mending and maintaining of High-ways; which ſaid Act having no longer continuance but for ſeven years after the end of the ſame Parliament, was afterwards by one other Act of Parliament made in the fifth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign that now is, revived to have further continuance for a certain time yet enduring; in which ſaid Act made in the fifth year, and one other Act made in the eighteenth year of her Majeſties Reign, there were contained divers further Additions and Ordinances, tending to the amendment and maintenance of the ſaid High-ways: (2) And whereas the Sea-banks and Sea-works in ſundry parts of the Sea-coaſts within the County of Norfolk (not being within the particular charge of any perſon or perſons, or of any Townſhip, or to be maintained by any other common charge) are by the working of the Sea ruined and decayed, to the great hurt and prejudice of many Townſhips within three miles of the ſaid Banks and Sea-works, and likely daily more and more to grow in ruine and decay, if convenient remedy be not provided in that behalf: (3) And whereas the High-ways within three miles of the ſaid Sea-banks and Sea-works be ſo gravelly and ſandy, as neither need nor require for the amendment of the ſame, ſo many of the ſaid day-works as be limited and appointed by the ſaid Statutes; the ſurpluſage of which ſaid day-works, if it might be yearly imployed towards the repairing, amending, and maintenance of ſuch of the ſaid Sea-banks and Sea-works, as are not, or ought not to be made and maintained at the particular charge of any perſon or perſons, or at the charge of any Townſhip, or by acre ſhot, or other common charge, would be a ſingular benefit and help to the aforeſaid Townſhips within three miles of the ſaid Sea-banks and Sea-works ſo yearly to be made and maintained;

High-ways 4. Juſtices of Peace within the County of Norfolk ſhall take order for the keeping of the Sea-banks and Sea-works within the ſame County, in repair. 2 & 3 P. & M. 8. 5 Eliz. 13. 18 Eliz. 10.

II. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted and ordained by authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the Feaſt of Pentecoſt now next enſuing, the Juſtices of Peace within the County of Norfolk, ſhall and may yearly, at any general Seſſions to be holden within the ſaid County, for and towards the making and amending of the ſaid Sea-banks or Sea-works (now being, or that hereafter ſhall be in ruine or decay) limit and appoint ſo many of the ſaid day-works, as by their diſcretions ſhall be thought ſuperfluous, and not needful to be imployed towards the amendment of the aforeſaid High-ways within three miles of the ſaid Sea-banks or Sea-works, which ſhell needfully require any ſuch reparation or amendment.

The Juſtices of Peace in Norfolk ſhall take order for the repair of Sea-banks and Sea-works within the ſame County.

III. And be it further enacted, That every perſon and perſons dwelling within three miles of the ſaid Sea-banks and Sea-works needfully to be amended, as is aforeſaid, ſhall yearly upon reaſonable warning given, during ſo many days as ſhall be limited and appointed in the ſaid Seſſions, in reſpect of his and their labour and carriages, ſtand and be in that degree charged and chargeable towards the making, repairing, and amending of the ſaid Sea-banks or Sea-works, as by the aforeſaid Statutes they ſtand charged and chargeable for the amendment of any High-ways; and that they and every of them for the not doing and performing the ſame, ſhall incur the like pain, penalty and forfeiture, as is contained in the foreſaid Statutes made for the amendment of High-ways, and every of them: (2) And that the ſaid Juſtices likewiſe in their aforeſaid general Seſſions, ſhall and may nominate and appoint the High-Conſtables of every Hundred, that ſhall be charged or chargeable by force of this Act towards the making or amending of the ſaid Sea-banks or Sea-works, to be Surveyors of the ſaid Sea-works and Sea-banks, (3) and that they and every of them ſhall take upon them the execution of the ſaid Charge and Office, aud duly perform the ſame, upon ſuch like pain and forfeitures as by the ſaid Statutes, or any of them, to be impoſed upon any Surveyor or Surveyors, for not taking upon him or them the Office of Surveyor for the amending of High-ways: (4) And that every perſon and perſons which ſhall be yearly charged to the making and maintenance of the ſaid Banks or Sea-works, ſhall be diſcharged of ſo many days towards the making of the ſaid High-ways, as ſhall be imployed and beſtowed towards the making and amending of the ſaid Sea-works and Sea-banks: all the ſaid penal-

Every perſon chargeable for the repair of Sea-banks, as they ſtand charged for the amending of High-ways.

III. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch offender in not repairing to Divine Service, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the ſaid Eſtatute, as hath been heretofore convicted for ſuch offence, and hath not made ſubmiſſion, and been conformable according to the true meaning of the ſaid Statute, ſhall without any other Indictment, or Conviction, pay into the Receipt of the ſaid Exchequer, all ſuch ſums of money as according to the rate of twenty pounds for every month ſithence the ſame conviction, do yet remain unpaid, in form as hereafter enſueth; that is to ſay, the one moiety thereof before the end of the next Trinity Term, and the other moiety thereof before the end of the next Hillary Term, or at any ſuch other times, as by the Lord Treaſurer, Chancellor, and Chief Baron of the Exchequer, or any two of them, ſhall by compoſition, upon good bond and ſurety taken, be limited before the end of the ſaid next Trinity Term, if any ſuch compoſition ſhall happen to be; (2) And ſhall alſo in every Eaſter and Michaelmas Term, until ſuch time as the ſame perſon do make ſubmiſſion, and be conformable, according to the true meaning of the ſaid Statute, pay into the ſaid Receit of the Exchequer twenty pounds for every month, which ſhall incur in all that mean time.

At what time the money forfeited for not going to the Church, ſhall be paid.

Cal. 11. d. 57.

IV. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch offender, in not repairing to Divine Service, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the ſaid Eſtatute, as hereafter ſhall fortune to be thereof once convicted, ſhall in ſuch of the Terms of Eaſter or Michaelmas, as ſhall be next after ſuch conviction, pay into the ſaid Receit of Exchequer after the rate of twenty pounds for every month, which ſhall be contained in the Indictment whereupon ſuch conviction ſhall be; (2) And ſhall alſo for every month after ſuch conviction, without any other Indictment or conviction, pay into the Receipt of the Exchequer aforeſaid, at two times in the year; that is to ſay, in every Eaſter Term, and Michaelmas Term, as much as then ſhall remain unpaid, after the rate of twenty pounds for every month after ſuch conviction: (3) And if default ſhall be made in any part of any payment aforeſaid, contrary to the form herein before limited, that then and ſo often the Queens Majeſty ſhall and may, by Proceſs out of the ſaid Exchequer, take, ſeize, and enjoy all the goods, and two parts as well of all the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments liable to ſuch ſeizures or to the penalties aforeſaid, by the true meaning of this Act, leaving the third part only of the ſame Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, Leaſes and Farms, to and for the maintenance and relief of the ſame offender, his wife, children and family.

A Proclamation, that the party indicted ſhall yield his body to the Sheriff.
Palmer 39.

VI. Provided always, That whenſoever any ſuch offender, as is aforeſaid, ſhall make ſubmiſſion, and become conformable, according to the form limited by the ſame eſtatute, made in the three and twentieth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign, or ſhall fortune to die; That then no forfeiture of twenty pounds for any month or ſeiſure of the Lands of the ſame offeneer, from and after ſuch ſubmiſſion and conformity, or death, and full ſatsfaction of all the arrearages of twenty pounds monthly, before ſuch ſeiſure due or liable, ſhall enſue, or be continued againſt ſuch offender, ſo long as the ſame perſon ſhall continue in coming to Divine Service, according to the intent of the ſaid Eſtatute.

The offender ſubmiting, or dying, no forfeiture ſhall enſue.
Savill 130.

VII. And where by the ſaid former Eſtatute, the third part of the forfeitures for not coming to Divine Service, is limited to the poor, (2) Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Lord Treaſurer of England, Chancellor, and chief Baron of the Exchequer for the time being, or two of them, to aſſign and diſpoſe of the full third part of the twenty pounds for every month paid or to be paid into the Receit of the Exchequer, as is aforeſaid, for the relief and maintenance as well of the poor, and of the Aſſurances made bona fide, not impeached.

VIII. Provided always, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend or be conſtrued to make void or impeach any Grant or Leaſe heretofore made bona fide, without fraud or covin, whereupon any yearly rent or payment is reſerved, or payable, (2) or any Grant or Leaſe hereafter to be made bona fide, without fraud or covin, whereupon the accuſtomed yearly rent or payment is reſerved, (3) or any other conveyance, aſſurance, or aſſignment whatſoever heretofore made bona fide, without fraud or covin, which is not or ſhall not be revokable at the pleaſure of ſuch offender, (4) otherwiſe than to give benefit and title to her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, to have, perceive, and enjoy ſuch rents, and payments during the continuace of ſuch Leaſe and Grant, according to the true meaning of this Act.

Seiſure of lands, whereof the offender hath but eſtate for life.

IX. And provided alſo, That this Act or any thing therein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend or be conſtrued to continue any ſeiſure of any Lands or Tenements of ſuch offender, in her Majeſties hands, or in the hands of her Heirs or Succeſſors, after the offenders death, which Lands or Tenements he ſhall have or be ſeiſed of only for term of his life, or in the right of his wife; Any thing in this Act to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding. 23 Eliz. 1. 3. 5 El. 1 & 2. 1 Jac. 4. 3 Jac. 4. 5.

An Act for abridging of Proclamations upon Fines to be levied at the Common Law.

Fines 3. A Fine levied in the Common Pleas, ſhall be proclaimed four times, viz. every Term once of four Terms. 4 H. 7. 24. 1 R. 3. 7. Co. Inſt. 2 part. 519.

Whereas the Statute made in the Fourth year of King Henry the Seventh hath ordained, That every Fine to be levied with proclamations in the Kings Court, afore his Juſtices of the Common Pleas, ſhould be proclaimed in the ſame Court that Term in which it is engroſſed, and in three Terms then next following, at four ſeveral days in every Term; By reaſon whereof they ought to be proclaimed four times in every of the four ſeveral Terms: And that during the time of proclamation of ſuch Fines, all Pleas ſhould ceaſe, (2) which to do according to the ſaid Statute (conſidering the multitudes of Fines now uſually levied) would require ſixteen days in every Term: And by reaſon of the many Cauſes and Suits in that Court, is a far greater trouble then heretofore hath been, ſo as ſcarcely one day in every Term can be ſpared for the proclaiming of Fines; (3) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Fines with Proclamations, from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter next enſuing, to be levied in the ſaid Court, ſhall be proclaimed four times; that is to ſay, once in the Term wherein it is engroſſed, and once in every of the three Terms holden next after the ſame engroſſing: (4) And that every Fine proclaimed as aforeſaid, ſhall be of as great force and effect in Law to all intents and purpoſes, as if the ſame had been ſixteen times proclaimed, according to the Statutes heretofore made.

CAP. III.

An Act for the avoiding of privy and ſecret Outlawries of the Queens Subjects.

Exigent 13. Proclamation 1. Three proclamations ſhall be made in every action perſonal, wherein any Writ of Exigent ſhall be awarded, &c. 31 Eliz. 9.

Scarſ. &c. Hetley 98. Goldsb. 128.

For the avoiding of ſecret Outlawries in actions perſonal againſt the Queens Subjects having known places of their dwellings, by reaſon that Proclamations are made in the County Courts, and in Quarter Seſſions, which are places remote from their dwellings, and thereby they have not any convenient notice of ſuch Suits againſt them, (2) Be it enacted and ordained by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That in every action perſonal wherein any Writ of Exigent ſhall be awarded out of any Court, in or after the Term of Eaſter next coming, one Writ of Proclamation ſhall be awarded and made out of the ſame Court, having day of Teſte and return, as the ſaid Writ of Exigent ſhall have, directed and delivered of Record to the Sheriff of the County where the defendant at the time of the Exigent ſo awarded, ſhall be dwelling, which Writ of Proclamation ſhall contain the effect of the ſame action (3) And that the Sheriff of the County unto whom any ſuch Writ of Proclamation ſhall be directed, ſhall make three Proclamations in this form following, and not otherwiſe; that is to ſay, one of the ſame Proclamations in the open County Court, and one other of the ſame Proclamations to be made at the general quarter Seſſions of the Peace in thoſe parts where the party Defendant at the time of the Exigent awarded ſhall be dwelling, (4) and one other of the ſame Proclamations to be made one month at the leaſt before the quint. exact. by virtue of the ſaid Writ of Exigent, at or near to the moſt uſual door of the Church or Chappel of that Town or Pariſh where the Defendant ſhall

The Sheriffs fee for the making of the proclamation at the Church door.

Hob. 133.

II. And for the avoiding of ſecret Summons in all real Actions, without convenient notice of the Tenants of the Freehold, Be it alſo ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That after every Summons upon the Land in any real Actions, fourteen days at the leaſt before the day of the return thereof, Proclamation of the Summons ſhall be made on a Sunday in form aforeſaid, at, or near to the moſt uſual door of the Churches or Chappel of that Town or Pariſh where the Land whereupon the Summons was made, doth lie, and that Proclamation ſo made as aforeſaid, ſhall be returned, together with the names of the Summoners; (2) and if ſuch Summons ſhall not be proclaimed and returned, according to the tenour and meaning of this Act, then no Grand Cape to be awarded, but an Alias and Pluries Summons, as the cauſe ſhall require, until a Summons and Proclamation ſhall be duly made and returned, according to the tenour and meaning of this Act.

A proclamation ſhall be of the ſummons in a real action at the Church door.

Jones 7 pl. 6.

III. And be it further enacted, That before any allowance of any Writ of Error, or reverſing of any outlawry be had by Plea, or otherwiſe, through or by want of any Proclamation to be had or made according to the form of this Statute, after the end of Easter Term next, the Defendant and Defendants in the Original Action ſhall put in Bail, not only to appear and anſwer to the Plaintiff in the former Suit, in a new Action to be commenced by the ſaid Plaintiff for the cauſe mentioned in the firſt Action, but alſo to ſatisfie the condemnation, if the Plaintiff ſhall begin his Suit before the end of two Terms next after the allowing the Writ of Error, or otherwiſe avoiding of the ſaid Outlawry.

The defendant upon a Writ of Error ſued, ſhall be bound to anſwer the plaintiff, and to ſatisfie the condemnation.

CAP. IV.

An Act againſt the Imbezelling of Armour, Habiliments of War, and Victual.

BE it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons having at any time hereafter the charge or cuſtody of any Armour, Ordnance, Munition, Shot, Powder or Habiliments of War, of the Queens Majeſties, her Heirs or Succeſſors, or of any Victuals provided for the victualling of any Souldiers, Gunners, Mariners, or Pioneers, ſhall for any lucre or gain, wittingly, adviſedly, and of purpoſe, to hinder or impeach her Majeſties ſervice, imbezil, purloyn, or convey away any of the ſame Armour, Ordnance, Munition, Shot or Powder, Habiliments of War, or Victuals, to the value of twenty ſhillings, at one or ſeveral times, that then every ſuch offence ſhall be judged Felony, and the offender or offenders therein to be tried, proceeded on, and ſuffer as in caſe of Felony.

Armour 3. Felony 33. Imbezilling the Queens Ordnance, Armour or Victuals, to the value of twenty ſhillings, provided for Souldiers, ſhall be felony.

3 Inſt. 79.

II. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That none ſhall be impeached for any offence againſt this Statute, unleſs the ſame impeachment be proſecuted or begun within the year next after the offence done: (2) And that this Act nor any thing therein contained, nor any attainder or attainders of any perſon or perſons, for any offence made Felony by this Act, ſhall in any wiſe extend or be adjudged, interpreted or expounded, to make the offender or offenders to forfeit and loſe any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments any longer then only during his or their life or lives, or to make any corruption of blood to any the heir or heirs of any ſuch offender or offenders, or to make the wife of any ſuch offender to loſe or forfeit her dower, or title of dower, of or in any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, or her action or intereſt to the ſame; Any thing in this Act contained, or any attainder or attainders hereafter to be had for any offence made Felony by this Act, to the contrary notwithſtanding: (3) And that ſuch perſon and perſons as ſhall be impeached for any offence made Felony by this Eſtatute, ſhall by virtue of this Act be received and admitted to make any lawful proof that he can, by lawful witneſs or otherwiſe, for his diſcharge and defence in that behalf; any Law to the contrary notwithſtanding. Stat. 22 Car. 2. cap. 5.

Within what time the offender ſhall be impeached.

No corruption of blood nor forfeiture of the inheritance of lands or dower for his felony.

3 Inſt. 47.

The defendant may bring proof for his diſcharge.

Cro. Jac. 603.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Actions, Suits, Bills, Indictments or Informations which after twenty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be had, brought, ſued, or exhibited for any forfeiture upon any Statute penal, made or to be made, whereby the forfeitures is or ſhall be limited to the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors only, ſhall be had, brought, ſued or exhibited within two years after the offence committed or to be committed againſt ſuch Act penal, and not after two years: (2) And that all actions, ſuits, bills, or informations which after the ſaid twenty days ſhall be had, brought, ſued or commenced for any forfeiture upon any penal Statute made, or to be made, except the Statutes of Tillage, the benefit and ſuit whereof is or ſhall be by the ſaid Statute limited to the Queen, her Heirs or Succeſſors, and to any other which ſhall proſecute in that behalf, ſhall be had, brought, ſued or commenced by any perſon that may lawfully purſue for the ſame, as aforeſaid, within one year next after the offence committed, or to be committed againſt the ſaid Statute; (3) and in default of ſuch purſuit, that then the ſame ſhall be had, ſued, exhibited or brought for the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, at any time within two years after that year ended. (4) And if any Action, Suit, Bill, Indictment or Information for any offence againſt any penal Statute made or to be made, except the Statute of Tillage, ſhall be brought after the time in that behalf before limited, That then the ſame ſhall be void and of none effect; any Act or Statute made to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Actions, informations, &c. limited by ſome ſtatutes to be ſued within a ſhorter time.

VI. Provided always, That where any Action, Information, Indictment, or other Suit, is or ſhall be limited by any Statute penal, to be had, ſued, commenced or brought within ſhorter time then is before rehearſed, That in in every ſuch Caſe, the Action, Information, Indictment, or other Suit ſhall be brought within the time limited by ſuch Eſtatute.

A repeal of the ſtat. of 7 H.8.3. touching informations.

Stat. 5 El. 4. Certain offences puniſhable only at the Aſſiſes, quarter-Seſſions, or in a Leet.

VII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Statute made in the ſeventh year of the Reign of the late King of famous memory, King Henry the Eighth, concerning the time of bringing Actions or Informations upon penal Laws, ſhall from and after twenty days after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament be utterly repealed, (2) and that all ſuits from and after the ſaid twenty days to be purſued upon any Statute, for uſing any unlawful Game, or for not uſing of any lawful Game, (3) or for not having Bows and Arrows according to the Law, (4) or for uſing any Art or Myſtery, in the which the party hath not been brought up according to the Statute in that behalf made, (5) ſhall be ſued and proſecuted in the general quarter Seſſions of the Peace, or Aſſiſes of the ſame County where the Offence ſhall be committed, or otherwiſe enquired of, heard and determined in the Aſſiſes, or general quarter Seſſions of the Peace of the ſame County where ſuch Offence ſhall be committed, or in the Leet within which it ſhall happen, and not in any wiſe out of the ſame County where ſuch Offence ſhall happen or be committed. No title to confer by lapſe, but after ſix months after notice.

VII. Provided always, That no title to confer or preſent by lapſe, ſhall accrue upon any voidance mentioned in this Act, but after ſix months next after notice given of ſuch voidance, by the Ordinary to the Patron.

The penalty for corrupt reſigning or exchanging of a Benefice with cure of ſouls.

VIII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Incumbent of any Benefice with cure of Souls, after the end of the ſaid fourty days, do, or ſhall corruptly reſign or exchange the ſame, or corruptly take for, or in reſpect of the reſigning or exchanging of the ſame, directly or indirectly, any penſion, ſum of money, or benefit whatſoever; That then as well the giver, as the taker of any ſuch penſion, ſum of money, or other benefit corruptly, ſhall loſe double the value of the ſum ſo given, taken or had, (2) the one moiety as well thereof, as of the forfeiture of double value of one years profit before mentioned, to be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill or information, in any of her Majeſties Courts of Record, in which no eſſoin, protection or wager of Law or Priviledge ſhall be admitted or allowed.

Penalties inflicted by the Eccleſiaſtical Law to be not taken away by this Statute.

IX. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing herein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to take away or reſtrain any puniſhment, pain or penalty limited, preſcribed or inflicted by the Laws Eccleſiaſtical, for any the offences before in this Act mentioned, but that the ſame ſhall remain in force, and may be put in due execution, as it might be before the making of this Act; this Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof, in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The penalty for giving or taking of rewards to make Miniſters, or to give licence to preach.

X. Provided further, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons whatſoever, ſhall, or do at any time after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, receive or take any money, fee, reward, or any other profit, directly or indirectly, or ſhall take any promiſe, agreement, covenant, bond, or other aſſurance, to receive any money, fee, reward, or any other profit, directly or indirectly, either to him or themſelves, or to any other of their or any of their friends, (all ordinary and lawful fees only excepted) for, or to procure the ordaining or making of any Miniſter or Miniſters, or giving of any Orders, or Licence or Licences to preach; that then every perſon and perſons ſo offending, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit and loſe the ſum of fourty pounds of lawful money of England, (2) and the party ſo corruptly ordained or made Miniſter, or taking Orders, ſhall forfeit and loſe the ſum of ten pounds: (3) And if at any time within ſeven years next after ſuch corrupt entring into the Miniſtry, or receiving of Orders, he ſhall accept and take any Benefice, Living, or Promotion Eccleſiaſtical, that then immediately from and after the induction, inveſting, or inſtallation thereof, or thereinto had, the ſame Benefice, Living, and Promotion Eccleſiaſtical, ſhall be eftſoons meerly void, (4) and that the Patron or perſon to whom the advowſon, gift, preſentation, or collation ſhall by Law appertain, ſhall and may by virtue of this Act, preſent or collate unto, give and diſpoſe of the ſame Benefice, Living, or Promotion Eccleſiaſtical, in ſuch ſort to all intents and purpoſes, as if the party ſo inducted, inveſted or inſtalled, had been, or were naturally dead; any Law, Ordinance, Qualification or Diſpenſation to the contrary notwithſtanding; (5) The one moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to our Sovereign Lady the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, in any of her Majeſties Courts of Record, in which no eſſoin, protection, priviledge, or wager of Law, ſhall be admitted or allowed. (2) This Act to continue to the end of the next Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. IX.

An Act for Writs upon Proclamations and Exigents to be current within the County Palatine of Durham.

Exigent 15.

6 H. 8. 4.

Where the Biſhoprick of Durham is, and of long time hath been an ancient County Palatine of it ſelf, in which Biſhoprick the Queens Writ hath not, nor yet doth run; ſo that the Writ of proclamation awarded upon any Exigent, againſt any perſon or perſons inhabiting within the ſame County, in any action wherein proceſs of Outlawry doth lie, according to the Statute made in the ſixth year of the Reign of the late King Henry the Eighth, cannot be directed to any Sheriff, or other Officer within the ſaid Biſhoprick, but unto the Sheriff of the County next adjoyning unto the ſaid Biſhoprick, ſo that the party dwelling within the ſaid Biſhoprick, againſt whom any ſuch Exigent and Proclamation hath been or ſhall be awarded, hath not had, nor hereafter can have any knowledge of the ſame ſuit or proceſs; (2) by reaſon whereof, many perſons inhabiting within the ſaid Biſhoprick, without knowledge have been outlawed, and hereafter are like to be outlawed in like manner, to their utter undoings, if ſome ſpeedy remedy be not the ſooner provided:

A Writ of proclamation upon an Exigent againſt any perſon dwelling in the Biſhoprick of Durham.

II. Be it therefore, and for divers other good conſiderations, enacted, ordained and eſtabliſhed by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That whenſoever any Writ of Exigent, at any time after the firſt day of April next coming, ſhall be awarded at the ſuit of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, Kings or Queens of this Realm, or at the ſuit or ſuits of any other perſon or perſons, plaintiff or plaintiffs, in any action or ſuit in any of the Courts of our ſaid Sovereign Lady, her Heirs or Succeſſors, Kings and Queens of this Realm, commonly called the Kings Bench, and the Commons Pleas, againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling within the ſaid Biſhoprick; That then immediately upon the awarding of every ſuch Exigent, the Juſtice or Juſtices before whom any ſuch Writ of Exigent, upon ſuch ſuit or action ſhall be ſued, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, to award one Writ of proclamation, according to the tenour and effect of Writs of proclamation awarded upon Exigents, and commonly directed out of any of the ſaid Courts into London, or into any other Shires of this Realm againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling in other Shire or Shires of this Realm where the Queens Writ doth run, according to the order and form of the ſaid Act made in the ſixth year of the reign of the ſaid late King, (2) to be directed to the Biſhop of Durham for the time being, and during the vacation of the Biſhoprick, then to the Chancellor of the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine for the time being, where it ſhall happen the ſaid defendant, againſt whom any ſuch action ſhall be ſued, as is aforeſaid, to be dwelling, and not to the Sheriff of any other Shire next adjoyning to the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, (any Law, Cuſtom, or Uſage heretofore uſed to the contrary notwithſtanding:) (3) And that every ſuch Writ of Proclamation ſo to be hereafter awarded to ſuch Biſhop or Chancellor of the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, ſhall have the ſame Teſte and day of return, as the Exigents whereupon every ſuch Writ of Proclamation ſhall be awarded, ſhall have: (4) And that every ſuch Biſhop or Chancellor, to whom any of the ſaid Writ or Writs of Proclamation ſhall be directed, ſhall by his or their Mandate directed to the Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine, cauſe proclamation to be made of the ſame Writs of Proclamation according to the tenour of the ſame, and ſhall make true returns of the ſame in ſuch Court and Courts, and before ſuch Juſtices as the tenour of the ſame Writ and Writs of Proclamation ſhall require and demand: (5) And that all Outlawries hereafter to be promulged or pronounced againſt any perſon or perſons, upon any ſuch Exigent or Exigents awarded againſt any perſon or perſons dwelling within the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, and no Writs of Proclamation awarded in form aforeſaid, to the Biſhop or Chancellor aforeſaid, where the party defendant ſhall be as is aforeſaid, dwelling, or not returned as aforeſaid, to be clearly void, and of none effect nor force in the Law.

The Biſhops Mandate to the Sheriff, to make Proclamation.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, , That every Biſhop of the ſaid Biſhoprick for the time being, and during the vacation of the ſaid Biſhoprick, the Chancellor of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, ſhall have in every of the ſaid Courts of the Kings Bench and Common Pleas, one ſufficient deputy at the leaſt, to receive all ſuch Writs of Proclamation which ſhall be hereafter directed to every ſuch Biſhop or Chancellor of the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, for whom the ſame deputy or deputies ſhall be appointed, in like manner and form, and upon like pains, as by the former Statutes and Laws of this Realm, the Sheriffs of other Shires or Counties within this Realm of England, be bound to have in either of the ſame Courts, (2) and that all ſuch Writs of Proclamation, as aforeſaid, ſhall be delivered unto every ſuch deputy or deputies of Record in the ſame Courts, and either of them, and alſo like Fees ſhall be paid for making of every ſuch Writ of proclamation, and for enrolling the ſame of Record, as is limited in the ſame Statute, made in the ſixth year of King Henry the eighth.

The Biſhop of Durham ſhall have a deputy in the Kings-Bench and Common-Pleas. 23 H. 6. 10.

IV. And be it further enacted and eſtabliſhed by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch Writ or Writs of Proclamation hereafter to be directed to any Biſhop or Chancellor of the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, be delivered unto any of the ſaid Biſhops for the time being, or during the vacation of the ſaid Biſhoprick, to the Chancellor of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, or to his or their deputy or deputies, in manner and form aforeſaid, the ſame for Biſhop the time being, (2) or during the vacation of the ſaid Biſhoprick, the ſaid Chancellor of the ſaid County Palatine, for the time being, do not make true return of every ſuch Writ and Writs of Proclamation to them directed into ſuch Court and Courts out of which the ſaid Writ or Writs of Proclamation ſhall be awarded, that for every ſuch default of non-return, every ſuch Biſhop for the time being, and during the vacation of the ſaid See, the ſaid Chancellor for the time being, ſo failing to make due return, ſhall loſe and forfeit five pounds, (3) the one half whereof ſhall be to the Queen, her Heirs, and Succeſſors, and the other half thereof to any ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame, in any Action of debt to be grounded upon this Act, in any of the Queens Courts of Record wherein no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed or admitted.

The forfeiture of the Biſhop or Chancellor that doth not return the proclamation.

V. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing herein contained, ſhall not in any wiſe extend, or be prejudicial to any Biſhop of the ſaid Biſhoprick of Durham, for or concerning ſuch liberties, franchiſes or priviledges as belong to the ſame Biſhops Biſhoprick or See, or to any miniſters or officers of the ſame Biſhoprick or County Palatine, otherwiſe, or in any other manner, then by the true meaning of this Act is before provided or declared; any thing in this Act mentioned to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A proviſion for the Biſhop of Durhams other Liberties.

VI. Provided alſo, That if any perſon or perſons dwelling within the ſaid Biſhoprick or County Palatine, after the foreſaid firſt day of April, ſhall be outlawed in any ſuch ſuit or action, as is aforeſaid, that then all Writs of ſpecial Capias utlagatum, ſingle Capias utlagatum, non moleſtandum, and all other proceſs, for or againſt any perſon or perſons ſo outlawed, ſhall and may from henceforth be directed from time to time to the Biſhop of the ſaid Biſhoprick and County Palatine for the time being, and during the vacation of the ſaid See, to the Chancellor there for the time being, who ſhall make like Writs and proceſs thereupon, and of like effect, ſealed with the ſeal of their ſaid offices, to be directed to the Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being, as hereto fore hath been uſed and accuſtomed in ſuch caſes.

To whom writs ſhall be directed againſt any perſon outlawed in the ſaid Biſhoprick.

VII. Provided alway, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That upon any Writ of Proclamation to be awarded by virtue of this Act, and the Mandate thereupon to be made to the Sheriff, and the Execution thereof, there ſhall be but one only fee taken, received or demanded for the ſame by the ſaid Biſhop, Chancellor, and Sheriff of the ſaid County Palatine for the time being.

One only Fee ſhall be taken for the Proclamation, Mandate and Execution.

CAP. XII.

An Act to avoid Horſe-ſtealing.

Co. Inſt. 2 p. 714.

Fairs 7.

Whereas through moſt Counties of this Realm, Horſe-ſtealing is grown ſo common, as neither in paſtures or Cloſe, nor hardly in Stables, the ſame are to be in ſafety from ſtealing, which enſueth by the ready buying of the ſame by Horſe-courſers and others, in ſome open Fairs or Markets far diſtant from the Owner, and with ſuch ſpeed, as the Owner cannot by purſuit poſſibly help the ſame; (2) and ſundry good Ordinances have heretofore been made touching the manner of ſelling and tolling of Horſes, Mares, Geldings and Colts in Fairs and Markets, which have not wrought ſo good effect for the repreſſing and avoiding of Horſe-ſtealing as was expected:

Sellers of Horſe in Fairs or Markets, muſt be known to the Toll-taker, or ſome other who will avouch the ſale which ſhall be entred into the Toll-book, &c. 2 & 3 P. & M. 7 Palmer 486, 487.

II Now for a further remedy in that behalf, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That no perſon after twenty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall in any Fair or Market, ſell, give, exchange or put away any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, unleſs the Toll-taker there, or (where no Toll is paid) the Book-keeper, Bailiff, or the chief Officer of the ſame Fair or Market, ſhall and will take upon him perfect knowledge of the perſon that ſo ſhall ſell, or offer to ſell, give or exchange any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, and of his true Chriſtian name, ſirname, and place of dwelling or reſiancy, and ſhall enter all the ſame his knowledge in a Book there kept for ſale of Horſes; (2) or elſe, that he ſo ſelling, or offering to ſell, give exchange, or put away any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly ſhall bring unto the Toll-taker, or other Officer aforeſaid of the ſame Fair or Market, one ſufficient and credible perſon that can, ſhall or will teſtifie and declare unto, and before ſuch Toll-taker, Book-keeper, or other Officer, That he knoweth the party that ſo ſelleth, giveth, exchangeth or putteth away ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, and his true name, ſirname, myſtery and dwelling place, and there enter, or cauſe to be entred in the Book of the ſaid Toll-taker, or Officer, as well the true Chriſtian name, ſirname, myſtery and place of dwelling or reſiancy of him that ſo ſelleth, giveth, exchangeth, or putteth away ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, as of him that ſo ſhall teſtifie or avouch his knowledge of the ſame perſon, (3) and ſhall alſo cauſe to be entred the very true price or value that he ſhall have for the ſame horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly ſo ſold: (4) And that no perſon ſhall take upon him to avouch, teſtifie or declare, That he knoweth the party that ſo ſhall offer to ſell, give, exchange or put away ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, unleſs he do indeed truly know the ſame party, and ſhall truly declare to the Toll-taker, or other Officer aforeſaid, as well the Chriſtian name, ſirname, myſtery and place of dwelling and reſiancy of himſelf, as of him, of and for whom he maketh ſuch teſtimony and avouchment: (5) And that no Toll-taker, or other perſon keeping any Book of Entry of any ſales of Horſes in Fairs or Markets, ſhall take or receive any toll, or make entry of any ſale, gift, exchange, or putting away of any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly unleſs he knoweth the party that ſo ſelleth, giveth, exchangeth or putteth away any ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt, or Filly, and his true Chriſtian name, ſirname, myſtery, and place of his dwelling or reſiancy, or the party that ſhall and will teſtifie and avouch his knowledge of the ſame perſon ſo ſelling, giving, exchanging or putting away ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt, or Filly, and his true Chriſtian name, ſirname, myſtery and place of dwelling or reſiancy, and ſhall make a perfect entry into the ſaid Book, of ſuch his knowledge of the perſon, and of the name, ſirname, myſtery, and place of the dwelling or reſiancy of the ſame perſon, and alſo the true price or value that ſhall be bona fide taken or had for any ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly ſo ſold, given, exchanged, or put away, ſo far as he can underſtand the ſame, (6) and then give to the party ſo buying, or taking by gift, exchange, or otherwiſe, ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, requiring and paying two pence for the ſame, a true and perfect note in writing, of all the full contents of the ſame, ſubſcribed with his hand, (7) on pain that every perſon that ſo ſhall ſell, give, exchange or put away any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, without being known to the Toll-taker, or other Officer aforeſaid, or without bringing ſuch a Voucher or Witneſs, cauſing the ſame to be entred, as aforeſaid, and every perſon making any untrue teſtimony or avouchment in the behalf aforeſaid, and every Toll-taker, Book-keeper, or other Officer of Fair or Market aforeſaid, offending in the premiſſes contrary to the true meaning aforeſaid, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default the ſum of five pounds; (8) but alſo that every ſale, gift, exchange, or other putting away of any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt, Filly, in Fair or Market, not uſed in all points according to the true meaning aforeſaid, ſhall be void; (9) the one half of all which forfeitures to be to the Queens Majeſty, her heirs and ſucceſſors, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame before the Juſtices of Peace, or in any of her Majeſties ordinary Courts of Record, by Bill, Plaint, Action of Debt, or Information; in which no Eſſoin or Protection ſhall be allowed.

A ſufficient and credible perſon ſhall avouch the horſe-ſeller.

The price of th horſe ſhall be entred into the Tollers Book.

A note in writing ſhall be given to the Buyer.

The penalt of the perſon offending in any of the caſes aforeſaid.

Every ſale otherwiſe made, ſhall be void.

The Juſtices of Peace may hear and determine the offences aforeſaid.

III. And be it further Enacted, That the Juſtices of Peace of every Place and County, as well within Liberties as without, ſhall have authority in their Seſſions, within the limits of their authority and commiſſion, to enquire, hear, and determine all offences againſt this Statute, as they may do any other matter triable before them.

The Owner may redeem a horſe ſtollen from him within ſix months after, paying the price.

IV. And be it further Enacted, That if any Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, after twenty days next enſuing the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be ſtollen, and after ſhall be ſold in open Fair or Market, and the ſame ſale ſhall be uſed in all points and circumſtances, as aforeſaid, that yet nevertheleſs, the ſale of any ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, within ſix months next after the Felony done, ſhall not take away the property of the Owner from whom the ſame was ſtollen, or ſo as claim be made within ſix months by the party from whom the ſame was ſtollen, or by his Executors or Adminiſtrators, or by any other by any of their appointment, at, or in the Town or Pariſh where the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt, or Filly ſhall be found, before the Mayor or other Head-Officer of the ſame Town or Pariſh, if the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly happen to be found in any Town Corporate, or Market Town, or elſe before any Juſtice of Peace of that countrey near to the place where ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly ſhall be found, if it be out of a Town Corporate, or Market Town, (2) and ſo as proof be made within fourty days then next enſuing, by two ſufficient witneſſes, to be produced and depoſed before ſuch Head-Officer or Juſtice (who by virtue of this Act ſhall have authority to miniſter an Oath in that behalf) that the property of the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly ſo claimed, was in the party, by, or from whom ſuch claim is made, and was ſtollen from him within ſix months next before ſuch claim of any ſuch Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, (3) but that the party from whom the ſaid Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly was ſtollen, his Executors or Adminiſtrators, ſhall and may at all times, after, notwithſtanding any ſuch ſale or ſales in any Fair or Market thereof made, have property and power to have, take again, and enjoy the ſaid Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, upon payment, or readineſs or offer to pay the party that ſhall have the poſſeſſion and intereſt of the ſame Horſe, Mare, Gelding, Colt or Filly, if he will receive and accept it, ſo much money as the ſame party ſhall depoſe and ſwear before ſuch Head-Officer or Juſtice of Peace, (who by virtue of this Act ſhall have authority to miniſter and give an Oath in that behalf) that he paid for the ſame bona fide, without fraud or colluſion; any Law, Statute, or other thing to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

V. And be it further Enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That after twenty days after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, not only all acceſſaries before ſuch felony done, but alſo all acceſſaries after ſuch felony, ſhall be deprived and put from all benefit of their Clergy, as the principal by Statute heretofore made, is, or ought to be.

An Act to retain the Queens Majeſties Subjects in their due obedience.

3 Inſt. 102, 158. Lane 105. Hutton 35, 61. 1 Roll. 93. pl. 41.

FOr the preventing and avoiding of ſuch great inconveniences and perils as might happen and grow by the wicked and dangerous practices of Seditious Sectaries and diſloyal perſons, (2) Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, and by the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the Authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons above the age of ſixteen years, which ſhall obſtinately refuſe to repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, to hear Divine Service eſtabliſhed by her Majeſties Laws and Statutes in that behalf made, and ſhall forbear to do the ſame by the ſpace of a month next after, without any lawful cauſe ſhall at any time after fourty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, by printing, writing or expreſs words or ſpeeches, adviſedly or purpoſely practice, or go about to move or perſwade any of her Majeſts, Subjects or any other within her Highneſs Realms or Dominions to deny, withſtand and impugne her Majeſties power and authority in caſes Eccleſiaſtical, united and annexed to the Imperial Crown of this Realm, (2) or to that end or purpoſe ſhall adviſedly and maliciouſly move or perſwade any other perſon whatſoever to forbear or abſtain from coming to Church to hear divine Service, or to receive the Communion according to her Majeſties Laws and Statutes aforeſaid,, or to come to, or to be preſent at any unlawful Aſſemblies, Conventicles or Meetings, under colour or pretence of any exerciſe of Religion, contrary to her Majeſties ſaid Laws and Statutes: (3) Or if any perſon or perſons which ſhall obſtinately refuſe to repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, and ſhall forbear by the ſpace of a month to hear Divine Service, as is aforeſaid, ſhall after the ſaid fourty days, either of him or themſelves, or by the motion, perſwaſion, inticement or allurement of any other, willingly joyn in, or be preſent at any ſuch Aſſemblies, Conventicles, or Meetings, under colour or pretence of any ſuch exerciſe of Religion, contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, as is aforeſaid; (4) That then every ſuch perſon ſo offending, as aforeſaid, and being thereof lawfully convicted, ſhall be committed to priſon, there to remain without bail or mainprize, until they ſhall Conform and yield themſelves to come to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, and hear Divine Service, according to her Majeſties Laws and Statutes afore ſaid, and to make ſuch open ſubmiſſion and declaration of their ſaid conformity, as hereafter in this Act is declared and appointed.

Recuſants 8. Puniſhment of perſons obſtinately refuſing to come to Church, and perſwading others to impugne the Queens authority in Eccleſiaſtical Cauſes.

The penalty for being preſent at unlawful Conventicles for Religion.

3 Inſt. 116.

II. Provided always, and be it further Enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch perſon or perſons which ſhall offend againſt this Act, as aforeſaid, ſhall not within three months next after they ſhall be convicted for their ſaid offence, conform themſelves to the obedience of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, in coming to the Church to hear Divine Service, and in making ſuch publick confeſſion and ſubmiſſion as hereafter in this Act is appointed and expreſſed, being thereunto required by the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or any Juſtice of the Peace of the County where the ſame perſon ſhall happen to be, or by the Miniſter or Curate of the Pariſh; That in every ſuch caſe every ſuch Offender, being thereunto warned or required by any Juſtice of the Peace of the ſame County where ſuch Offenders ſhall then be, ſhall upon his and their corporal Oath before the Juſtices of the Peace in the open Quarter-Seſſions of the ſame County, or at the Aſſiſes and Gaol-delivery of the ſame County, before the Juſtices of the ſame Aſſiſes and Gaol-delivery, abjure this Realm of England, and all other the Queens Dominions, for ever, unleſs her Majeſty ſhall licence the party to return; (2) and thereupon ſhall depart out of this Realm at ſuch Haven or Port, and within ſuch time as ſhall in that behalf be aſſigned and appointed by the ſaid Juſtices before whom ſuch abjuration ſhall be made, unleſs the ſame Offender be letted or ſtayed by ſuch lawful and reaſonable means or cauſes, as by the Common Laws of this Realm are permitted and allowed in caſes of abjuration for Felony; and in ſuch caſes of let or ſtay, then within ſuch reaſonable and convenient time after as the Common Law requireth in caſe of abjuration for Felony, as aforeſaid: (3) And that the Juſtices of Peace before whom any ſuch abjuration ſhall happen to be made, as is aforeſaid, ſhall cauſe the ſame preſently to be entred of Record before them, and ſhall certifie the ſame to the Juſtices of Aſſiſes and Gaol-delivery of the County, at the next Aſſiſes or Gaol-delivery to be holden in the ſame County.

An Offender not conforming himſelf ſhall abjure the Realm.

III. And

The puniſhment for refuſing to abjure, nor departing, or returning without licence

III. And if any ſuch Offender which by the tenor and intent of this Act is to be abjured, as is aforeſaid, ſhall refuſe to make abjuration, as is aforeſaid, or after ſuch abjuration made, ſhall not go to ſuch Haven, and within ſuch time as is before appointed, and from thence depart out of this Realm, according to this preſent Act, or after ſuch his departure, ſhall return or come again into any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions, without her Majeſties ſpecial licence in that behalf firſt had and obtained; That then in every ſuch caſe the perſon ſo offending, ſhall be adjudged a Felon, and ſhall ſuffer as in caſe of Felony, without benefit of Clergy.

An offender ſhall be diſcharged upon his open ſubmiſſion.

Latch. 16.

IV. And furthermore be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons that ſhall at any time hereafter offend againſt this Act, ſhall before he or they be ſo warned or required to make abjuration according to the tenour of this Act, repair to ſome Pariſh Church on ſome Sunday, or other Feſtival day, and then and there hear Divine Service, and at Service-time, before the Sermon, or reading of the Goſpel, make publick and open ſubmiſſion and declaration of his and their conformity to her Majeſties Laws and Statutes as hereafter in this Act is declared and appointed; That then the ſame offender ſhall thereupon be clearly diſcharged of and from all and every the penalties and puniſhments inflicted or impoſed by this Act, for any of the offences aforeſaid. The ſame ſubmiſſion to be as hereafter followeth; That is to ſay,

The form of the ſubmiſſion.

Stiles 26.

V. I A. B. do humbly confeſs and acknowledge that I have grievouſly offended God, in contemning her Majeſties godly and lawful government and Authority, by abſenting my ſelf from Church, and from hearing Divine Service, contrary to the godly Laws and Statutes of this Realm, and in uſing and frequenting diſordered and unlawful Conventicles and Aſſemblies, under pretence and colour of exerciſe of Religion: (2) and I am heartily ſorry for the ſame, and do acknowledge and teſtifie in my conſcience, that no other perſon hath, or ought to have any power or authority over her Majeſty: (3) And I do promiſe and proteſt, without any diſſimulation, or any colour or means of any diſpenſation, That from henceforth I will from time to time obey and perform her Majeſties Laws and Statutes, in repairing to the Chnrch, and hearing Divine Service, and do my uttermoſt endeavour to maintain and defend the ſame.

The miniſter ſhall enter the ſubmiſſion into a Book.

VI. And that every Miniſter or Curate of every Pariſh where ſuch ſubmiſſion and declaration of conformity ſhall hereafter be ſo made by any ſuch offender as aforeſaid, ſhall preſently enter the ſame into a Book to be kept in every Pariſh for that purpoſe, and within ten days next following ſhall certifie the ſame in writing to the Biſhop of the ſame Dioceſs.

The Offender ſubmitting falleth into a relapſe.

VII. Provided nevertheleſs, That if any ſuch Offender after ſuch ſubmiſſion made as is aforeſaid, ſhall afterwards fall into relapſe, or eftſoons obſtinately refuſe to repair to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, to hear Divine Service, and ſhall forbear the ſame as aforeſaid, or ſhall come or be preſent at any ſuch aſſemblies, Coventicles or Meetings, under colour or pretence of any exerciſe of Religion, contrary to her Majeſties Laws and Statutes; That then every ſuch Offender ſhall loſe all ſuch benefit as he or ſhe might otherwiſe by virtue of this Act have or enjoy by reaſon of their ſaid ſubmiſſion, and ſhall thereupon ſtand and remain in ſuch plight, condition and degree, to all intents, as though ſuch ſubmiſſion had never been made.

The forfeiture for the keeping a Recuſant in his houſe after notice.
Rep. 3 Jac. 4.

VIII And for that every perſon having houſe and family, is in duty bound to have ſpecial regard to the good government and ordering of the ſame, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall at any time hereafter relieve, maintain, retain, or keep in his or their houſe or otherwiſe, any perſon which ſhall obſtinately refuſe to come to ſome Curch, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, to hear Divine Service, and ſhall forbear the ſame by the ſpace of a month together, contrary to the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, That then every perſon which ſhall ſo relieve, maintain, retain, or keep any ſuch perſon offending as aforeſaid, after notice thereof to him or them given by the Ordinary of the Dioceſs, any Juſtice of Aſſiſes of the Circuit, or any Juſtice of Peace of the County or the Miniſter, Curate, or Church-wardens of the Pariſh where ſuch perſon ſhall then be, or by any of them, ſhall forfeit to the Queens Majeſty for every perſon ſo relieved, maintained, retained or kept, after ſuch notice as aforeſaid, x. li. for every month that he or they ſhall ſo relieve, maintain, retain or keep any ſuch perſon ſo offending.

What ſort of Recuſants may be kept in houſe.
Rep. 3 Jac. 4.

IX. Provided nevertheleſs, That this Act ſhall not in any wiſe extend to puniſh or impeach any perſon or perſons for releiving, maintaining, or keeping his or their wife, father, mother, child, or children, wards, brother or ſiſter, or his wives father or mother, not having any certain place of habitation of their own, or the husbands or wives of any of them; or for relieving, maintaining, or keeping any ſuch perſon as ſhall be committed by authority to the cuſtody of any by whom they ſhall be ſo relieved, maintained or kept; any thing in this Act contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The Queens remedy to recover forfeitures, &c.

The wife ſhall loſe no Dower, nor the heir any land for theſe offences.

CAP. II.

An Act for reſtraining of Popiſh Recuſants to ſome certain places of abode.

FOr the better diſcovering and avoiding of ſuch traiterous and moſt dangerous conſpiracies and attempts as are daily deviſed and practiſed againſt our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and the happy eſtate of this Common-weal, by ſundry wicked and ſeditious perſons, who terming themſelves Catholicks, and being (indeed) Spies and Intelligencers not only for her Majeſties Foreign enemies, but alſo for rebellious and traiterous Subjects born within her Highneſs Realms and Dominions, and hiding their moſt deteſtible and deviliſh purpoſes under a falſe pretext of Religion and Conſcience, do ſecretly wander and ſhift from place to place within this Realm, to corrupt and ſeduce her Majeſties Subjects, and to ſtir them to Sedition and Rebellion:

Recuſants 28. Penalty of a convicted Popiſh Recuſant removing above five miles from his houſe. Where a Recuſant having no houſe ſhall make his abode 3 Bulſtr. 87.

II. Be it ordained and enacted by our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That every perſon above the age of ſixteen years, born within any of the Queens Majeſties Realms and Dominions, or made Denizen, being a Popiſh Recuſant and before the end of this Seſſion of Parliament convicted for not repairing to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, to hear Divine Service there, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the tenor of the Laws and Statutes heretofore made and provided in that behalf, and having any certain place of dwelling and above within this Realm, ſhall within forty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament (if they be within this Realm, and not reſtrained or ſtayed nither by impriſonment, or by her Majeſties Commandment, or by order and direction of ſome ſix or more of the Privy Council, or by ſuch ſickneſs and infirmity of body, as they ſhall not be able to travel without imminent danger of life, and in ſuch caſes of abſence out of the Realm, reſtraint or ſtay, then within twenty days next after they ſhall return into the Realm, and be enlarged of ſuch impriſonment or reſtraint, and ſhall be able to travel) repair to their place of dwelling where they uſually heretofore made their common abode, and ſhall not at any time after paſs or remove above five miles from thence.

III. And alſo that every perſon being above the age of ſixteen years, born within any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions, or made Denizen, and having, or which hereafter ſhall have any certain place of dwelling and abode within this Realm, which being then a Popiſh Recuſant, ſhall at any time hereafter be lawfully convicted for not repairing to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer to hear Divine Service there, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the ſaid Laws and Statutes, and being within this Realm at the time that they ſhould be convicted, ſhall within forty days next after the ſame conviction (if they be not reſtrained or ſtayed by impriſonment, or otheriſe as is aforeſaid, and in ſuch caſes of reſtraint and ſtay, then within twenty days next after they ſhall be enlarged of ſuch impriſonment or reſtraint, and ſhall be able to travel) repair to their place of uſual dwelling and abode, and ſhall at any time after paſs or remove above five miles from thence (2) upon pain that every perſon and perſons that ſhall offend againſt the tenor and intent of this Act in any thing before mentioned, ſhall loſe and forfeit all his and their Goods and Chattels, and ſhall alſo loſe and forfeit to the Queens Majeſty all the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, and all the Rents and annuities of every ſuch perſon ſo doing or offending, during the life of the ſame Offender.

Recuſants which ſhall be convicted hereafter ſhall repair to their uſual dwelling.

Cro. Jac. 352.

The penalty of an offender.

IV. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon above the age of ſixteen years born within any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions, not having any certain place of dwelling and abode within this Realm, and being a Popiſh Recuſant, not uſually repairing to ſome Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the ſame Laws and Statutes in that behalf made, ſhall within fourty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament (if they be then within this Realm, and not impriſoned, reſtrained, or ſtayed as aforeſaid, and in ſuch caſe of abſence out of the Realm, impriſonment, reſtraint, or ſtay, then within twenty days next after they ſhall return into the Realm, and be enlarged of ſuch impriſonment or reſtraint, and ſhall be able to travel) repair to the place where ſuch perſon was born, or where the Father or Mother of ſuch perſon ſhall then be dwelling, and ſhall not at any time after remove or paſs above five miles from thence, (2) upon pain that every perſon and perſons which ſhall offend againſt the tenor and intent of this Act in any thing before mentioned, ſhall loſe and forfeit all his and their Goods and Chattels, and ſhall forfeit to the Queens Majeſty, all the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, and all the Rents and Annuities of every ſuch perſon ſo offending, during the life of the ſame perſon.

What a Recuſant ſhall do that hath no place of abode.

The forfeiture of a Recuſant removing above five miles from his place of abode.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſuch Offender as is before mentioned, which hath or ſhall have any Lands, Tenements or Hereditaments, by copy of Court Roll, or by any other cuſtomary tenure at the will of the Lord, according to the cuſtom of any Manor, ſhall forfeit all and ſingular his and their Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments ſo holden by copy of Court Roll, or cuſtomary tenure as aforeſaid, for and during the life of ſuch Offender, (if his or her eſtate ſo long continue) to the Lord or Lords of whom the ſame be immediately holden, (if the ſame Lord or Lords be not then a Popiſh Recuſant, and convicted for not coming to Church to hear Divine Service, but forbearing the ſame contrary to the Laws and Statutes aforeſaid, nor ſeiſed or poſſeſſed upon truſt to the uſe or behoof of any ſuch Recuſant as aforeſaid) and in ſuch caſe the ſame forfeiture to be to the Queens Majeſty.

A Recuſant Copyholder departing five miles from his place of abode.

Recuſants ſhall notifie their living, and deliver their names to the Curate.

VI. Provided always, and be it further enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch perſons as by the intent and true meaning of this Act, are to make their repair to their place of dwelling and abode, or to the place where they were born, or where their Father or Mother ſhall be dwelling, and not to remove or paſs above five miles from thence as is aforeſaid, ſhall within ten days next after their coming to any of the ſaid places (as the caſe ſhall happen) notifie their coming thither, and preſent themſelves, and deliver their true names in writing to the Miniſter or Curate of the ſame Pariſh, and to the Conſtable, Headborough or Tythingman of the Town, and thereupon the ſaid Miniſter or Curate ſhall preſently enter the ſame into a Book to be kept in every Pariſh for that purpoſe.

Recuſants names certified to the Juſtices.

VII. And after the ſaid Miniſter or Curate, and the ſaid Conſtable, Headborough or Tythingman, ſhall certifie the ſame in writing to the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County at the next general or quarter Seſſions to be holden in the ſame County, and the ſaid Juſtices ſhall cauſe the ſame to be entred by the Clerk of the Peace in the Rolls of the ſame Seſſions.

The penalty of a Recuſant of ſmall ability, not repairing to the place appointed, or departing thence.

VIII. And to the end that the Realm be not peſtered and overcharged with the multitude of ſuch ſeditious and dangerous people as is aforeſaid, who having little or no ability to anſwer or ſatisfie any competent penalty for their contempt and diſobedience of the ſaid Laws and Statutes, and being committed to priſon for the ſame, do live for the moſt part in better caſe there, then they could if they were abroad at their own liberty; (2) The Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, do moſt humbly and inſtantly beſeech the Queens Majeſty, that it may be further enacted, That if any ſuch perſon or perſons being a Popiſh Recuſant (not being a Feme Covert, and not having Lands, Tenements, Rents or Annuities, of an abſolute eſtate of Inheritance or Freehold, of the clear yearly value of twenty Marks, above all charges, to their own uſe and behoof, and not upon any ſecret truſt or confidence for any other, or Goods and Chattels in their own right, and to their own proper uſe and behoof; and not upon any ſuch ſecret truſt and confidence for any other, above the value of xl. pounds) ſhall not within the time before in this Act in that behalf limited and appointed, repair to their place of uſual dwelling and abode, if they have any, or elſe to the place where they were born, or where their Father or Mother ſhall be dwelling, according to the tenor and intent of this preſent Act; and thereupon notifie their coming, and preſent themſelves, and deliver their true names in writing, to the Miniſter or Curate of the Pariſh, and to the Conſtable, Headborough or Tythingman of the Town, within ſuch time, and in ſuch manner and form as is aforeſaid, or at any time after ſuch their repairing to any ſuch place, as is before appointed, ſhall paſs or remove above five miles from the ſame; (3) and ſhall not within three months next after ſuch perſon ſhall be apprehended or taken for offending as as is aforeſaid, conform themſelves to the obedience of the Laws and Statutes of this Realm, in coming uſually to the Church to hear Divine Service and in making ſuch publick confeſſion and ſubmiſſion as hereafter in this Act is appointed and expreſſed, being thereunto required by the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or any Juſtice of the Peace of the County where the ſame perſon ſhall happen to be, or by the Miniſter or Curate of the Pariſh; (4) that in every ſuch caſe, every ſuch offender being thereunto warned or required by any two Juſtices of the Peace or Coroner of the ſame County where ſuch offender ſhall then be, ſhall upon his or their corporal Oath before any two Juſtices of the Peace, or Coroner of the ſame County, abjure this Realm of England, and all other the Queens Majeſties Dominions for ever; (5) and thereupon ſhall depart out of this Realm at ſuch Haven and Port, and within ſuch time as ſhall in that behalf be aſſigned and appointed by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace or Coroner before whom ſuch abjuration ſhall be made, unleſs the ſame offenders be letted or ſtayed by ſuch lawful and reaſonable means or cauſes, as by the Common Laws of this Realm are permitted and allowed in caſes of abjuration for Felony; and in ſuch caſes of let or ſtay, then within ſuch reaſonable and convenient time after, as the Common Law requireth in caſe of abjuration for Felony, as is aforeſaid.

Recuſants abjuring and departing the Realm.
3 Inſt. 161.

Entring abjuration of record, and certifying the ſame.

IX. And that every Juſtice of Peace and Coroner before whom any ſuch abjuration ſhall happen to be made, as is aforeſaid, ſhall cauſe the ſame preſently to be entred of Record before them, and ſhall certifie the ſame to the Juſtices of Aſſiſes or Gaol-delivery of the ſaid County, at the next Aſſiſes or Gaol delivery to be holden in the ſame County.

It ſhall be felony for a Recuſant not to abjure, not going, or returning without licence.

X. And if any ſuch offender which by the tenor and intent of this Act, is to be abjured, as is aforeſaid, ſhall refuſe to make ſuch abjuration, as is aforeſaid, or after ſuch abjuration made, ſhall not go to ſuch Haven, and within ſuch time as is before appointed, and from thence depart out of this Realm, according to this preſent Act, or after ſuch his departure ſhall return or come again into any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions, without her Majeſties ſpecial licence in that behalf firſt had and obtained, That then in every ſuch caſe, the perſon ſo offending ſhall be adjudged a Felon, and ſhall ſuffer and loſe as in caſe of Felony, without benefit of Clergy.

A Jeſuite or Prieſt refuſing to anſwer ſhall be impriſoned.

XI. And be it further enacted and ordained by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon which ſhall be ſuſpected to be a Jeſuit, Seminary, or Maſſing Prieſt, being examined by any perſon having lawful authority in that behalf, to examine ſuch perſon as ſhall be ſo ſuſpected, ſhall refuſe to anſwer, directly and truly whether he be a Jeſuit or a Seminary, or Maſſing Prieſt, as is aforeſaid, every ſuch perſon ſo refuſing to anſwer, ſhall for his diſobedience and contempt in that behalf, be committed to priſon by ſuch as ſhall examine him, as is aforeſaid, and thereupon ſhall remain and continue in priſon without bail or mainpriſe, until he ſhall make direct and true anſwer to the ſaid queſtions whereupon he ſhall ſo be examined.

Licence to travel above five miles. ALT. 3 Jac. 5.

XII. Provided nevertheleſs, and be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the perſons which are hereby limited and appointed to continue and abide within five miles of their uſual dwelling-place, or of ſuch place where they were born, or where their Father and Mother ſhall be dwelling, as is aforeſaid ſhall have neceſſary occaſion or buſineſs to go and travel out of the compaſs of the ſaid five miles, That then and in every ſuch caſe, upon licence in that behalf to be gotten under the hands of two of the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County, with the privity and aſſent in writing, of the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, or of the Lieutenant, or of any Deputy-Lieutenant of the ſame County, under their hands, it ſhall and may be lawful for every ſuch perſon to go and travel about ſuch their neceſſary buſineſs, and for ſuch time only for their travelling, attending and returning, as ſhall be compriſed in the ſame licence; any thing before in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Perſons urged by proceſs or commandment.

XIII. Provided alſo, That if any ſuch perſon ſo reſtrained, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be urged by Proceſs, without fraud or covin, or be bounden without fraud or covin, to make appearance in any of her Majeſties Courts, or ſhall be ſent for, commanded or required by any three or more of her Majeſties Privy Council or by any four or more of any Commiſſioners to be in that behalf nominated and aſſigned by her Majeſty, to make appearance before her Majeſties ſaid Council or Commiſſioners, That in every ſuch caſe, every ſuch perſon ſo bounden, urged, commanded or required to make ſuch appearance, ſhall not incur any pain, forfeiture or loſs, for travelling to make appearance accordingly, nor for his abode, concerning the ſame, nor for convenient time for his return back again upon the ſame.

Perſons which are to yield their bodies to the Sheriff.

XIV. And be it further provided and enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo reſtrained, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be bound, or ought to yield and render their bodies to the Sheriff of the County where they ſhall happen to be, upon Proclamation in that behalf without fraud or covin to be made, That then in every ſuch caſe, every perſon which ſhall be ſo bounden, or ought to yield or render their body, as foreſaid, ſhall not incur any pain, forfeiture or loſs for travelling for that intent and purpoſe only, without any fraud or covin, nor for convenient time taken for their return back again upon the ſame.

An offender, upon open ſubmiſſion ſhall be diſcharged.

XV. And furthermore, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon or perſons that ſhall at any time hereafter offend againſt this Act, ſhall before he or they ſhall be thereof convicted, come to ſome Pariſh Church on ſome Sunday or other Feſtival day, and then and there hear Divine Service, and at Service-time, before the Sermon, or reading of the Goſpel, make publick and open ſubmiſſion and declaration of his and their conformity to her Majeſties Laws and Statutes, as hereafter in this Act is declared and appointed, That then the ſame Offender ſhall thereupon be clearly diſcharged of and from all and every pains and forfeitures inflicted or impoſed by this Act, or any of the ſaid offences in this Act contained, (2) the ſame ſubmiſſion to be made as hereafter followeth: That is to ſay,

The form of the ſubmiſſion.

XVI. I A B. do humbly confeſs and acknowledge, That I have grievouſly offended God, in contemning her Majeſties godly and lawful Government and Authority, by abſenting my ſelf from Church, and from hearing Divine-Service, contrary to the godly Laws and Statutes of this Realm; (2) and I am heartily ſorry for the ſame, and do acknowledge and teſtifie in my conſcience, That the Biſhop or See of Rome hath not, nor ought to have any power or authority over her Majeſty, or within any her Majeſties Realms or Dominions: (3) And I do promiſe and proteſt without any diſſimulation, or any colour or means of any Diſpenſation, That from henceforth I will from time to time obey and perform her Majeſties Laws and Statutes, in repairing to the Church, and hearing Divine Service, and do my uttermoſt endeavour to maintain and defend the ſame.

The Miniſter ſhall enter the ſubmiſſion.

XVII. And that every Miniſter or Curate of every Pariſh where ſuch ſubmiſſion and declaration of conformity ſhall hereafter be ſo made by any ſuch Offender as aforeſaid, ſhall preſently enter the ſame into a Book to be kept in every Pariſh for that purpoſe, and within ten days then next following, ſhall certifie the ſame in writing to the Biſhop of the ſame Dioceſs.

A Recuſant ſubmitting, falleth into a relapſe. 1 Bulſtr. 13.

XVIII. Provided nevertheleſs, That if any ſuch Offender after ſuch ſubmiſſion made, as is aforeſaid, ſhall afterward fall into relapſe, or eftſoons become a Recuſant, in not repairing to Church to hear Divine Service, but ſhall forbear the ſame, contrary to the Laws and Statutes in that behalf made and provided, That then every ſuch Offender ſhall loſe all ſuch benefit as he or ſhe might otherwiſe by virtue of this Act have or enjoy by reaſon of their ſaid ſubmiſſion, and ſhall thereupon ſtand and remain in ſuch plight, condition and degree to all intents, as though ſuch ſubmiſſion had never been made.

Women bound ſaving for abjuration. Bridgman. 120.

XIX. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all and every woman married, or hereafter to be married, ſhall be bound by all and every article, branch and matter contained in this Statute, other then the branch and article of abjuration before mentioned: (2) And that no ſuch woman married, or to be married, during marriage, ſhall be in any wiſe forced or compelled to abjure, or be abjured by this Act; any thing therein contained to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding. 23 Eliz. 1. 29 Eliz. 6. 1 Jac. 4. 3 Jac. 4. 5.

XXVII. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid That it ſhall be lawful for every perſon, for and during the ſpace of twenty years next enſuing, to make Feoffments, Grants, or any other Aſſurances, or by laſt Will in writing to give and bequeath in Fee ſimple, as well to the uſe of the poor, as for the proviſion, ſuſtentation or maintenance of any houſe of correction or abiding houſes, or of any ſtocks or ſtores, all or any part of ſuch his Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments, and in ſuch manner and form as he might have done, to and for the proviſion, ſuſtentation, or maintenance of any houſes of correction, or abiding-houſes, or of any ſtocks or ſtores, by force of the ſaid Statute.

or of the poor. 18 Eliz. 3. 39 Eliz. 5.

XXVIII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all Ships, Barks, Veſſels or Crayers, whereof any of her Majeſties Subjects ſhall be Owners or part-Owners, of the burden of twenty Tun, or upwards, loading or diſcharging within this Realm, and paſſing to and fro any foreign Countrey, that are of any Port, Haven or Creek in Severn, from the Lands end in Cornwall to Briſtol, and from thence to Glouceſter, and from Milford Haven to Cheſter, Lyrpool, and all the Ports and Creeks to them, or either of them belonging, in St. Georges Channel, and from the ſaid places back again, ſhall after the eighth day of May, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord God, one thouſand five hundred ninety and ſix, be diſcharged of the three pence of every Tun, for the reparation of Dover Haven, the ſaid Statutes made for the repairing of Dover Haven, or either of them, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding: Except any of the ſaid Ships, Barks, Veſſels or Crayers, ſhall go for Dover, or to the Eaſtward: (2) And that as well the ſaid Ships, Barks, Veſſels and Crayers that ſhall go for Dover, or to the Eaſtward, as alſo all the Ships, Barks, Veſſels and Crayers which ſhall croſs the narrow Seas, ſhall pay in manner and form as hereafter is expreſſed, and no more: that is to ſay, if they go forward with any manner of loading, not a quarter loaden, then to pay after the rate of a quarter loading, and ſo ratably upwards, according to their loading: but homeward to pay according to the full rate of the entry of their loading of every Ship, Bark, Veſſel or Crayer.

Merchants, 23 Eliz. 6. Repair of Dover Haven.

XXIX. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That one Act made in the ſeven and twentieth year of her Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act for the maintenance of the Pier and Cobbe of Lyme Regis, in the County of Dorſet, ſhall be renewed, and ſtand in his full force and ſtrength, for and during the ſpace of ten years next enſuing, and from thenceforth, to the end of the next Parliament then next enſuing.

Sewers. 27 El. not imprinted. for the maintenance of the Pier of Lyme Regis.

XXX. And be it further enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That one Act made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter the three and twentieth day of November, in the ſeven and twentieth year of her Highneſs Reign, entituled, An Act touching the breadth of white woollen Clothes, made in the Counties of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, Somerſet and Oxenford, &c. and all and every the branches, clauſes and proviſions in the ſame contained, ſhall from henceforth be, remain, and continue in force and effect for ever.

Drapery. 27 Eliz. 17. The breadth of woollen clothes in Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, Sommerſet and Oxfordſhire. 43 Eliz. 10.

XXXI. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not be prejudicial or hurtful to any former Letters Patents, or Licence granted by her Majeſty, to any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, for the tranſportation of any Corn or Grain, either at any leſſer Cuſtoms or Subſidies than is contained in this preſent Act, or without any Cuſtom or Subſidy, (2) but that they, and every of them, their Deputies and Aſſigns, ſhall and may tranſport Grain hereafter, for the time in their ſeveral Letters Patents ſpecified, either at ſuch prices and rates, or without Cuſtom or Subſidy, in ſuch manner and form as in the ſaid Letters Patents is contained, according to the form and effect of the ſame Letters Patents, and in ſuch manner and form, and not otherwiſe, to all intents and purpoſes, as if this preſent Act had never been had or made.

The Queens Licence for tranporting of corn at leſs cuſtom than is before expreſſed.

XXXII. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Queens Majeſty, her heirs and Succeſſors, may at all times by her and their Writ of Proclamation to be publiſhed generally in the whole Realm, or in any the Counties of the Realm where any Port Towns are, command, That no perſon ſhall by virtue of this Act tranſport or carry any manner of Grain out of her Highneſs Dominions generally, or out of any ſpecial Ports to be in the ſame Proclamation particularly named, for ſuch time as ſhall be therein limited and appointed.

The Queen may reſtrain tranſporting of Corn by Proclamation.

XXXIII. And that it ſhall not be lawful for any perſon to carry out any ſuch Grain, contrary to the tenor of the ſame Proclamation, upon ſuch pains and forfeitures as by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm are and have been provided and ordained in that behalf; This Act, or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding,

1 & 2 P. & M. 5. 13 Eliz. 13.

CAP VIII.

An Act for the avoiding of deceit uſed in making and ſelling of twice laid Cordage, and for the better preſerving of the Navy of this Realm.

Foraſmuch as it is found by common experience, that ſundry perſons uſing the trade of making Cables, Halſors, and other kind of Cordage within this Realm, have of late for their private lucre and gain uſed to make the ſame of old, caſt, and over-worn Cables, Halſors and Cordage, and yet have craftily and deceitfully uttered and ſold the ſame being tarred, as new, good and ſtrong, and as made of new and perfect Stuff, covering and hiding the falſe and corrupt making thereof, by tarring of them before the ſame be put to ſale; by reaſon whereof, not only divers Ships, Veſſels and Goods, as well of her Majeſties, as of ſundry her Highneſs Subjects, but alſo the lives of divers of her ſaid Subjects have been loſt, periſhed, and caſt away:

Cables, Raſt. 2. Several penalties for making of Cables of old ſtuff, being above or under ſeven inches in compaſs.

II. For remedy thereof, and for the avoiding ſuch great loſſes, inconveniences and dangers as might otherwiſe hereafter enſue by ſuch corrupt, falſe, and deceitful making of Cables, Halſors, and other Cordage as is aforeſaid,

III. Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That if any perſon or perſons, ſhall after forty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, make, or cauſe to be made any Cables of any old and over-worn ſtuff, which ſhall contain above ſeven inches in compaſs, then every perſon ſo offending ſhall forfeit and loſe four times the value of every ſuch Cable ſo by him or them made, or cauſed to be made

Old ſtuff put unto new Cables.

The penalty for tarring of Cables, Cordage, &c.

as is aforeſaid: (2) And if any perſon or perſons, after the ſaid forty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall tarre or cauſe to be tarred, any Halſors or other Cordage made within this Realm of ſuch old and over-worn ſtuff as aforeſaid, being of leſſer aſſize, and not containing in compaſs ſeven inches, and ſhall after by way of retail, ſell or put to ſale, or cauſe to be ſold or put to ſale the ſame being ſo tarred: That every perſon ſo offending, ſhall forfeit and loſe the treble value of every Cable, Halſor and other Cordage, being of leſſer aſſiſe, and made of ſuch old and over-worn ſtuff as is aforeſaid, which ſhall be ſo ſold or put to ſale, being tarred as aforeſaid: (3) The one moiety of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame by Action of debt, bill, plaint, or information, wherein no eſſoin, protection, or wager of Law ſhall be allowed.

Impriſonment.

IV. And furthermore, that every perſon which ſhall in any wiſe offend againſt the tenour and meaning of this Act, ſhall be impriſoned for the ſame during her Majeſties pleaſure.

CAP. IX.

An Act touching the breadth of Plunkets, Azures and blews, and other coloured Clothes, made within the County of Somerſet, and elſewhere of like making.

Drapery 13, 27. The effect of the Stat. of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 6. touching the making of Plunkets, &c. in Wiltſhire, Glouceſter, and Somerſetſhires.

The Stat. of 5 & 6 Ed. 6. 6. not performed for the breadth of Cloth, and yet no default in the Cloth-makers.

The Cloth ſix quarters and a half broad being wet.

Whereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter in the fifth and ſixth years of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord King Edward the ſixth, one Statute was made entituled, An Act for the true making of woollen Cloth, whereby (among other things) it was enacted, That all broad Plunkets, Azures, Blews, and other coloured Cloth, which after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Archangel then next coming, ſhould be made within the Shires of Wiltſhire, Glouceſter or Somerſet, or elſewhere of like making, ſhould contain in length, being through wet, betwixt xxv. and xxviii. yards, yard and inch of the Rule, and ſhould be ſeven quarters within the liſts at the leaſt, and liſted according to the ancient cuſtom, and being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dyed, ſhould weigh lxviii. pounds the piece, at the leaſt, as by the ſaid Act, amongſt divers Clauſes, Articles and Proviſions contained in the ſame, more plainly is expreſſed: (2) Sithence the making of which ſaid Statute, although the makers of the ſaid coloured Clothes have endeavoured themſelves, according to their beſt skill and induſtry, to perform and fulfil the ſaid recited Statute in every of their Clothes, as much as in them did lie, as touching the breadth of Clothes, and to that end and purpoſe have allowed, and do allow ſo much yarn and ſtuff to every ſuch Cloth as might ſufficiently ſerve to make all the ſaid coloured Clothes full out in length, breath and weight, according to the ſaid Statute made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth; Yet notwithſtanding many times, by reaſon of the divers natures in the woolls, and by the great diverſities in the ſpinning, carding and milling many of the ſaid coloured clothes made within the ſaid County of Somerſet, and elſewhere of like making, do not contain full ſeven quarters in breadth, according to the ſaid Statute made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth, and yet no default touching the ſaid breath can juſtly be imputed to the maker thereof, for that the ſaid Cloth-makers (as experience daily ſheweth) cannot obſerve the ſaid former Statute in all the ſaid clothes, as touching the breadth, although they endeavour themſelves never ſo much thereunto: (3) which clothes not containing their full breadth as is aforeſaid, are many times taken and ſeized by the ſearchers of London, when they come to their Market at Blackwell-Hall, to the great loſs and damage of the ſaid Cloth-makers, and to the great hindrance of Cloth-making within the ſaid County, (4) In conſideration whereof, albeit it is not hereby intended to repeal or make void the ſaid former recited Statute, otherwiſe then is hereafter expreſſed; yet nevertheleſs, Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That no perſon or perſons ſhall be hereafter charged for any ſuch default which hereafter ſhall be in any of the ſaid broad Plunkets, Azures, Blews, or other coloured Clothes, for want of breadth of ſeven quarters, ſo that the ſame Cloth do contain in breadth being throughly wet, ſix quarters and a half at the leaſt within the liſts unwrought, and liſted according to the ancient cuſtom, any thing in the ſaid former recited Statute mentioned to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

The penalty, if any of the ſaid clothes be not in breadth ſix quarters and a half.

II. Provided always, and be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid clothes ſhall not contain ſix quarters and an half at the leaſt within the liſts as is aforeſaid, that then every perſon offending in that behalf, ſhall for every ſuch cloth be ſubject to ſuch pains, penalties and forfeitures as were by force of the former recited Statute of the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth, to have been forfeited for want of breadth of ſeven quarters within the liſts.

The penalty for want of weight. Examined by the Parliament Roll.

III. And be it nevertheleſs enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the ſaid broad Plunkets, Azures, Blews, or other coloured clothes being well ſcoured, thicked, milled, and fully dyed, ſhall contain in weight any leſs than lxviii. pounds at the leaſt, that then every of the ſaid Clothiers therein offending, ſhall incur double ſuch penalties and forfeitures for every pound ſo wanting of the ſaid weight, and not weighing after ſuch rate as is before expreſſed in and by the ſaid Statute made in the fifth and ſixth years of King Edward the ſixth, is limitted and appointed.

Weight, 68 pounds. Length, 27 yards. Rep. 43 Eliz. 10.

IV. And be it nevertheleſs enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any of the Clothes to be made within the County of Somerſet, or elſewhere of like making, called Plunkets, Azures and Blews, being well ſcoured, thicked, milled and fully dyed, ſhall contain in weight any leſs then lxviii. pounds at the leaſt; or if any of the ſaid clothes ſhall contain in length any more than xxvii. yards at the moſt, That then every of the ſame Clothiers therein offending, ſhall incur double ſuch penalties and forfeitures for every pound ſo wanting, as by the ſaid Statute of the fifth and ſixth years of the Reign of King Edward the ſixth, are to ſuch defaults limitted and appointed: (2) And for every yard that any ſuch Cloth ſhall contain above 27 yards in length, and not weighing after ſuch rate as is before expreſſed, the maker of every ſuch Cloth ſhall incur double the penalties by the Statute of the fourth and fifth years of the Reign of King Philip and Queen Mary, to ſuch defaults limited and appointed.

CAP. X.

An Act for the reformation of ſundry abuſes in Clothes called Devonſhire Kerſies or Dozens, according to a Proclamation of the thirty fourth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady the Queen that now is.

Drapery 104. The weight and length of a Devonſhire Kerſie raw, and of a Rudge Waſh, Kerſie, &c.

IN their moſt humble and dutiful wiſe ſhewen, and beſeechen your Highneſs, your true and faithful Subjects, the Clothiers, Merchants and Chapmen of your County of Devon, and of the Counties adjoyning, That where in the month of January, in the four and thirtieth year of your Majeſties moſt happy Reign, as well at the humble Suit and Petition of ſundry your ſaid Subjects, as upon Certificate of divers Juſtices in your Highneſs ſaid County of Devon, and upon complaint of the States of Holland, it pleaſed your Highneſs, with the advice of your moſt honourable Privy Council, by your Highneſs Proclamation, for the reformation of the inſufficiencies grown in the Clothes called Devonſhire Kerſies or Dozens, (a commodity heretofore in great requeſt, price and eſtimation, both amongſt your natural Subjects, and in foreign Nations and Countries) but of late marvellouſly (and not without occaſion) diſcredited by the inventions and new devices of the Weavers, Tuckers and Artificers, To command that the Laws before that time made, and ſtanding in force not repealed, for and concerning the premiſſes, ſhould be duly accompliſhed in all things: And that every Officer ſhould diligently perform his Office accordingly: (2) And that the weight of the ſaid Kerſies or Dozens being raw, and wrought with clean ſtuff, without any deceitful addition, ſhould weigh fifteen pounds, and contain in the Market at the leaſt between fifteen and ſixteen yards in length, and that the ſame ſhould be ſewantly woven throughout of like ſorted yarn, forbidding all other deceits in weaving, and all diminiſhing and unreaſonable drawing, ſtretching, and other deceits in Tuckers: (3) And that each Weaver ſhould weave his Shop-mark in each Dozen, and a purrel in each end thereof: (4) And that Officers ſhould be appointed in Market Towns to view, weigh, and try the ſame Kerſies, whether they were in length, weight or goodneſs, according to the rate and proportion ſet forth in the ſame Proclamation: The ſame Proclamation to endure till the firſt day of this preſent Parliament, as by the ſame more at large may appear.

Se. 5 & 6 Ed. c. 6. 4 & 5 P. & M. c. 5.

II. Now moſt gracious Sovereign, foraſmuch as by the ſaid Proclamation, great order and better making of the ſaid Clothes for weight and length thereof hath enſued, and to the end that hereafter further diſcovery and reſtraint of all abuſes and deceits contrary to the former Laws and Statutes of this Realm may be provided for, to the reviving of the reputation of ſo good, profitable and neceſſary a commodity, (3) It may pleaſe your Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the whole Commonalty aſſembled in this preſent Parliament, and by the authority of the ſame, That it may be enacted and eſtabliſhed as followeth, that is to ſay, That from and after the firſt day of July now next coming, each Kerſie called Devonſhire Kerſie or Dozen, which ſhall be made and woven within the ſaid County of Devon, or any other County next adjoyning thereunto, being raw, unſcoured, untucked, and unwet, as it cometh from the Weavers beam, and being made of clean and perfect ſtuff, that is to wit, of Wooll ſhorn, cleanſed, and throughly waſhed or ſcoured after the ſhearing, and before the weaving, without any fraud, deceit, policy or device, or any ſtuff thereunto deceitfully or unlawfully added in the working, or after the working thereof, for increaſe of the weight, ſhall weigh in the Market fifteen pound or upwards.

The weight of a Devonſhire Kerſie or Dozen raw.

III. And that from and after the ſaid firſt day of July, every raw Devonſhire Kerſie or Dozen from thenceforth to be woven and made in the ſaid County of Devon, or any of the other Counties adjoyning, being a Rudge waſh Kerſie, that is to ſay, being made of Fleece Wooll waſhed only on the Sheeps back, and the Wooll not being cleanſed, waſhed and ſcoured after it is ſhorn, and before it is woven, ſhall (without any fraud, deceit, policy, device, or addition of ſtuff whatſoever, to increaſe the weight thereof) weigh in the Market ſeventeen pounds at the leaſt, being raw as it cometh off the Weavers beam, (2) and each, and every of the ſame Devonſhire Kerſies or Dozens ſo being raw, as it cometh forth of the Weavers Loom (without racking, ſtretching, ſtraining, or other device to encreaſe the length thereof) ſhall contain in length between fifteen and ſixteen yards by the meaſure of yard and inch by the Rule, (3) without which obſervation of weight being raw, they cannot fall out (after they be well ſcoured, thicked, and fully dryed) to contain the length and weight expreſſed and limited in the Statute of the fourth and fifth year of Philip and Mary, viz. twelve yards in length, and twelve pounds in weight, as hath been ſufficiently made known, and teſtified to your Highneſs ſaid Privy Council, before the ſaid Proclamation.

The weight and length of Rudge Waſh Kerſie.

4. Jac. 2.

IV. And if any Weaver ſhall work or make any of the ſaid kinds of Kerſies of leſs weight or meaſure than is before mentioned after their kind, every ſuch offendor ſhall forfeit for every quarter of a pound in weight which any of the ſaid raw Kerſies or Dozens which ſhall be brought to any Market, or ſold, or offered to be ſold, ſhall want of their weight aforeſaid, twelve pence: (2) and for every quarter of a yard which ſhall be wanting in length of either ſort of the ſaid Kerſies, likewiſe being ſold, or offered to be ſold, twelve pence: (3) And that each ſort of the ſaid Kerſies or Dozens ſhall be ſewantly woven throughout of well and lik ſorted yarn: (4) And that no Weaver ſhall uſe any diverſity in the bigneſs or goodneſs of his yarn in any part of the ſaid Kerſies, ſaving only in the liſts, nor uſe any other practice in edging or weaving of any the ſame Kerſies or Dozens, to make the ſame ſeem finer near the edge or liſts, than in any other part of the ſame Cloth.

The forfeiture of the offendor.

The Weavers duty in weaving of Dozens.

V. And that it may be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That each Weaver ſhall weave his Shop-mark of ſome coloured yarn, in the end of every Kerſie which he ſhall hereafter weave or make, and ſhall alſo at each end of the ſame Kerſies weave one purrel likewiſe of coloured yarn, of the breadth of three quarters of an inch at the leaſt, whereby the deceitful cutting and diminiſhing of ſuch Clothes by Tuckers or fullers heretofore uſed, may henceforth be prevented: (2) And if any Weaver ſhall uſe any deceit, in mingling his yarn, or ſhall omit his Shop-mark, or ſhall not weave in every Kerſie two purrels, according to the tenor of this Act, he ſhall forfeit and loſe for every offence to the contrary, ten ſhillings.

A Weavers Shop-mark. A purrel at each end.

Dozens ſhall be viewed, weighed and marked

VI. And to the end that the weight and goodneſs of all the ſaid Kerſies called Dozens, being raw, may be the better and more certainly known, It may further be enacted, That no Weaver nor any other perſon whatſoever, ſhall offer or put to ſale any of the ſame raw Kerſies, called Dozens, before the ſame have been viewed, weighed and marked in ſome City, Town-corporate or Market-Town, and allowed by ſuch Officer, and marked with ſuch marks as ſhall be there in ſuch City or Town, uſed and appointed for that purpoſe (2) upon pain to forfeit and loſe for every Cloth ſold, or offered to be ſold to the contrary, ten ſhillings: (3) the one half of all which forfeitures ſhall be to the uſe of your Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other half to the principal Officer or Magiſtrate of the City, Town-corporate, or Market-Town next adjoyning to the dwelling or working place of ſuch Weavers as ſhall offend in any of the premiſſes, if he the ſame Officer or Magiſtrate ſhall firſt make ſeiſure thereof: (4) or elſe to the principal Officer of that City, Town-corporate, or Market-Town where the ſame ſhall be ſold, or offered to be ſold, (5) to be recovered by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint or Information, with Coſts, in any Court of Record, wherein no Protection, Wager of Law, or Eſſoin ſhall be allowed.

Searchers of Devonſhire Kerſies, and their duties.

VII. And for the better diſcovery of the offences aforeſaid, and the more perfect accompliſhing of the premiſſes, it may be alſo enacted, That the principal Officer or Magiſtrate for the time being in every City, Town-corporate, or Market-Town of the ſaid County, or of any other of the Counties adjoyning, where any ſuch Kerſies called Devonſhire Kerſies or Dozens now are, or hereafter ſhall be woven, made, offered or put to ſale, ſhall every year from henceforth appoint and have in readineſs at all times needful, two or more diſcreet perſons, which ſhall be ſpecial and known Officers and Searchers, (2) which ſhall attend, and ſhall be at his or their entry into his or their ſaid Office, ſworn during his or their continuance in the ſaid Office, truly to view, weigh and mark each Kerſie called a Dozen, in ſuch City or Town, or any of them made, ſold or offered to be ſold, or put to ſale, and to preſent each offence or defect which ſhall there fall out contrary to the true meaning of this Statute: (3) Every which Searcher or Officer ſo to be hereafter appointed for this purpoſe in any ſuch City, Town-corporate, or Market-Town, ſhall by force of this Act have power and authority to enter in the day time into all Shops, Ware-houſes, Work-houſes, and other places convenient of the ſame City or Town where he or they ſhall be ſo appointed, there to view, ſearch, and ſee whether any Kerſie or Dozen be made, ſold, or offered to be ſold, contrary to the true meaning of this Act, and alſo to ſee what pains, penalties, and forfeitures ſhall be grown due to her Majeſty by any Weaver, ſeller or buyer, within the liberties and precincts of the ſame Town, taking only of and for the weighing and marking of every Kerſie, a Farthing for his pains, and ſo according to the number, and no more; which Farthing upon every Kerſie is to be paid by the ſeller of the ſame Kerſie.

What ſhall be forfeited, and by whom, if Searchers be not appointed, or not attendant.

VIII. And if the Searchers or Officers ſhall not be yearly appointed, and attendant at all times reaſonable and convenient, or ſhall neglect his or their duties in the true ſearch, weighing and marking of the ſaid Kerſies, or any of them, or ſhall mark any one Kerſie which wants of his weight as is aforeſaid, that then, and in every ſuch caſe, the chief Magiſtrate of every ſuch City and Town, ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence of their Searcher or Searchers, twenty ſhillings, and for every market day they ſhall want two, or one at the leaſt of ſuch Searchers, the ſum of forty ſhillings, to be levied as hereafter is expreſſed.

No Dozen ſhall be bought or dreſſed, before it be tried.

IX. And that it may further be enacted, That from and after the firſt day of July, no manner of perſon or perſons whatſoever ſhall buy any ſuch raw Kerſie, called Devonſhire Kerſie, or Dozen, in any Market or elſewhere, unleſs the ſame ſhall be firſt tryed, weighed and marked by the Officers of ſome City, or Town-corporate, or Market-Town as is aforeſaid: (2) And that no Weaver, Tucker, Fuller, or other whatſoever, ſhall dreſs or cauſe to be dreſſed any of the ſaid raw Clothes, called Devonſhire Kerſies or Dozens, unleſs the ſame be firſt tryed, weighed and marked in ſome one Market-Town by the Searcher or Searchers, there in that behalf appointed, (3) upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch Kerſie ſo bought, dreſſed, or put to dreſſing, which ſhall not be tryed and marked, as is afore mentioned.

The length of a Dozen ſhall not be diminiſhed.

X. And for the avoiding of deceit of Tuckers or Fullers, that it may be enacted, That no Clothier, Tucker, Fuller, or other perſon whatſoever, ſhall at any time from henceforth cut or diminiſh the length of any Kerſie, called a Devonſhire Kerſie or Dozen, and after offer or put the ſame to ſale as a whole Kerſie or Dozen, upon pain of forfeiture of twenty ſhillings for every of the ſame Kerſies or Dozens ſo cut or diminiſhed; (2) the one half of all and every which forfeitures, not before limited and appointed, ſhall be to our Sovereign Lady the Queen, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame, by Action of Debt, Bill, Plaint, or information, in any Court of Record, wherein the Plaintiff is to recover his Coſts: Alſo wherein no Protection, Wager of Law, or Eſſoin ſhall be allowed. (3) This Act to endure to the end of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

The forfeitures and who ſhall have them.

CAP. XI.

An Act for bringing in Clapboard from the parts beyond the Seas, and the reſtraining of tranſporting of Wine Casks for the ſparing and preſerving of Timber within the Realm.

Clapboard. A quantity of Clapboard ſhall be brought into this Realm, for Beer or Fiſh tranſported. Wine Cask ſhall not be tranſported, but for certain purpoſes.

WHereas of late years Timber is greatly decayed and conſumed within this Realm, the want whereof is greatly to be feared, and ſpeedily to be provided for, and foraſmuch as there is great occaſion of ſpending and conſuming thereof, by ſelling of great quantities of Timber, and converting the ſame into cloven Board for the making of Cask, which is uſually tranſported out of the Realm into the parts beyond the Seas: (2) And foraſmuch alſo as Wine Cask brought into this Realm, is very ſerviceable, as well for her Majeſties

Houſhold and Navy, in time of her Highneſs ſervice, for victualling of her Highneſs Ships, and alſo for victualling of Merchants Ships, and a great cauſe of ſparing Timber within this Realm:

II. Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every perſon and perſons, which ſhall after the Feaſt of the Nativity of St. John Baptiſt next enſuing, ſhip, carry or tranſport any Beer into the parts beyond the Seas, to be ſold or exchanged for other Merchandize, ſhall (if he be a ſtranger, then) before the ſame tranſporting, (if he be a ſubject born, then) either before the ſame tranſporting, or within four months after, bring or cauſe to be brought into this Realm, from the parts beyond the Seas, for every ſix Tuns of Beer, two hundred of Clapboard fit for to make Cask of, to contain in length, three foot and two inches at the leaſt, or elſe the ſame Cask again, or ſo much other good and ſweet Cask in quantity, and the ſame to be entred at the Cuſtom-houſe without any colouring; (2) or if the ſame tranſporting ſhall be into the Realm of Ireland, then to bring in, in manner and form as aforeſaid, ſo much of the Shaffold board in quantity as the ſaid Clap-board amounteth unto.

III. And alſo be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no ſtranger born, ſhall after the laſt day of June, which ſhall be in the year of our Lord, M. D. X C. IIII. ſhip, carry or tranſport beyond the Seas, any Pilchers or other fiſh in Cask, unleſs the ſame perſon have before ſuch ſhipping, brought or cauſe to be brought into this Realm, from the parts beyond the Seas, for every ſix Tuns of Pilchers, or other fiſh, according to the rate and manner aforeſaid, of Clap-board fit for Cask, or elſe Cask as aforeſaid, (2) upon pain of forfeiture of the ſaid Beer, Pilchers, and Cask that ſhall be ſhipped or laden, to be tranſported into the parts beyond the Seas.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall not be lawful for any perſon or perſons after the ſaid Feaſt of St. John the Baptiſt next enſuing, to tranſport or carry any Wine Cask out of this Realm with any Beer or Beereager, nor any Wine Cask ſhaken, and ſell the ſame Beer or Beereager, or Cask, except for the victualling of any Ship or portable Veſſel, or of any of her Majeſties Gariſons and Forces in the parts beyond the Seas, upon pain of forfeiture of the ſum of xl. s. for every Tun or Cask ſo carried or tranſported.

In what caſes only Wine Cask may be tranſported, 3 Jac. 11.

V. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to the tranſportation of any Herrings whatſoever in Casks. (2) This Act to continue to the end of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. VI.

An Act for puniſhment of Rogues, Vagabonds, and ſturdy Beggars.

3 Inſt. 102

FOr the ſuppreſſing of Rogues, Vagabonds, and ſturdy Beggars, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the Feaſt of Eaſter next coming, all Statutes heretofore made for the puniſhment of Rogues, Vagabonds or ſturdy Beggars, or for the erection or maintenance of houſes of Correction, or touching the ſame, ſhall for ſo much as concerneth the ſame, be utterly repealed: (2) And that from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, from time to time, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Juſtices of Peace of any County or City in this Realm, or the Dominions of Wales, aſſembled at any Quarter Seſſions of the Peace within the ſame County, City, Borough or Town-corporate, or the more part of them, to ſet down order to erect and cauſe to be erected, one or more houſes of Correction within their ſeveral Counties or Cities: (3) for the doing and performing whereof, and for the providing of ſtocks of money, and all other things neceſſary for the ſame, and for raiſing and governing of the ſame, and for correction and puniſhment of offendors thither to be committed, ſuch orders as the ſame Juſtices or the more part of them ſhall from time to time take, reform, or ſet down in any their ſaid Quarter Seſſions in that behalf, ſhall be of force, and be duly performed and put in execution.

Vagabonds 1. All former Statutes made for the puniſhment of Vagabonds, &c. repealed. Juſtices of Peace ſhall ſet down orders for erection of houſes of Correction, &c. 22 H. 8. 12. 27 H. 8. 25. 11 H. 7. 2. 14. El. 5. 18 El. 3. 7 Jac. 4.

II. And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all perſons calling themſelves Schollars, going about begging, (2) All Sea-faring men pretending loſſes of their Ships or Goods on the Sea, going about the Countrey begging, (3) All idle perſons going about in any Countrey either begging, or uſing any ſubtile Craft or unlawful Games or Plays, or faining themſelves to have knowledge in Phyſiognomy, Palmeſtry or other like crafty Science, or pretending that they can tell Deſtinies, Fortunes, or ſuch other like fantaſtical imaginations,

Who ſhall be accompted rogues, vagabonds and ſturdy beggars.

tions, (4) All perſons that be, or utter themſelves to be Proctors, Procurers, Patent-gatherers, or Collectors for Goals, Priſons or Hoſpitals, (5) All Fencers, Bear-wards, common Players of Enterludes, and Minſtrels wandring abroad, (other then Players of Enterludes, belonging to any Baron of this Realm, or any other honourable perſonage of greater degree, to be authorized to Play, under the Hand and Seal of Arms of ſuch Baron or perſonage) (6) All Juglers, Tinkers, Pedlers, and petty Chapmen wandring abroad, (7) All wandring perſons and common Labourers, being perſons able in body, uſing loytering, and refuſing to work for ſuch reaſonable wages as is taxed, or commonly given in ſuch parts where ſuch perſons do or ſhall happen to dwell or abide, not having living otherwiſe to maintain themſelves, (8) All perſons delivered out of Gaols that beg for their Fees, or otherwiſe do travel begging, (9) All ſuch perſons as ſhall wander abroad begging, pretending loſſes by fire or otherwiſe, And all ſuch perſons not being Felons, wandring, and pretending themſelves to be Egyptians, or wandring in the habit, form or attire of counterfeit Egyptians, (10) ſhall be taken, adjudged and deemed Rogues, Vagabends and ſturdy Beggars, and ſhall ſuſtain all pain and puniſhment, as by this Act is in that behalf appointed.

The puniſhment and uſing of a rogue. 2 Roll 172.

A teſtimonial for the puniſhment of a rogue.

A Teſtimonial regiſtred.

A rogue conveyed to the houſe of Correction, or to the gaol.

III. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon which is by this preſent Act declared to be a Rogue, Vagabond or ſturdy Beggar, which ſhall be at any time after the ſaid Feaſt of Easter next coming, taken begging, vagrant, wandring or miſordering themſelves in any part of this Realm, or the Dominions of Wales, ſhall upon their apprehenſion, by the appointment of any Juſtice of the Peace, Conſtable, Headborough or Tythingman of the ſame County, Hundred, Pariſh or Tything where ſuch perſon ſhall be taken, the Tything-man or Headborough being aſſiſted therein with the advice of the Miniſter, and one other of that Pariſh, be ſtripped naked from the middle upward, and ſhall be openly whipped until his or her body be bloody, (2) and ſhall be forthwith ſent from Pariſh to Pariſh, by the Officer of every the ſame, the next ſtraight way to the Pariſh where he was born, if the ſame may be known by the parties confeſſion or otherwiſe: And if the ſame be not known, then to the Pariſh where he or ſhe laſt dwelt before the ſame puniſhment, by the ſpace of one whole year, there to put him or her ſelf to labour as a true ſubject ought to do: Or not being known where he or ſhe was born or laſt dwelt, then to the Pariſh through which he or ſhe laſt paſſed without puniſhment: (3) After which whipping, the ſame perſon ſhall have a Teſtimonial ſubſcribed with the Hand, and ſealed with the Seal of the ſame Juſtice of the Peace, Conſtable, Headborough or Tything-man, and of the Miniſter of the ſame Pariſh, or of any two of them, teſtifying that the ſame perſon hath been puniſhed according to this Act, and mentioning the day and place of his or her puniſhment, and the place whereunto ſuch perſon is limited to go, and by what time the ſaid perſon is limited to paſs thither at his peril: (4) And if the ſaid perſon through his or her default do not accompliſh the order appointed by the ſaid Teſtimonial, then to be eftſoons taken and whipped, and ſo as often as any default ſhall be found in him or her contrary to the form of this Statute, in every place to be whipped, till ſuch perſon be repaired to the place limited: (5) the ſubſtance of which Teſtimonial ſhall be regiſtred by the Miniſter of that Pariſh, in a Book to be provided for that purpoſe, upon pain to forfeit v. s. for every default thereof: (6) and the party ſo whipped, and not known where he or ſhe was born, or laſt dwelt by the ſpace of a year, ſhall by the Officer of the ſaid Village where he or ſhe ſo laſt paſt through without puniſhment, be conveyed to the houſe of Correction of the Limit wherein the ſaid Village ſtandeth, or to the common Gaol of that County or place, there to remain, and be imployed in work, until he or ſhe ſhall be placed in ſome ſervice, and ſo to continue by the ſpace of one year; or not being able of body, until he or ſhe ſhall be placed, to remain in ſome Alms-houſe in the ſame County or place.

Rogues which be dangerous, or will not be reformed.

A rogue baniſhed the Realm, or adjudged to the Gallies.

A rogue baniſhed, returning without licence. 3 Inſt. 103.

IV. Provided always, and be it enacted, if any of the ſaid Rogues ſhall appear to be dangerous to the inferiour ſort of people where they ſhall be taken, or otherwiſe be ſuch as will not be reformed of their roguiſh kind of life by the former proviſions of this Act, that in every ſuch caſe it ſhall and may be lawful to the ſaid Juſtices of the Limit where any ſuch Rogue ſhall be taken, or any two of them, whereof one to be of the Quorum, to commit that Rogue to the houſe of Correction, or otherwiſe to the Gaol of the County, there to remain until the next Quarter Seſſions to be holden in that County; (2) and then ſuch of the ſame Rogues ſo committed, as by the Juſtices of the Peace then and there preſent, or the moſt part of them, ſhall be thought fit not to be delivered, ſhall and may lawfully by the ſame Juſtices, or the moſt part of them, be baniſhed out of this Realm, and all other the Dominions thereof, and at the charges of that Countrey, ſhall be conveyed unto ſuch parts beyond the Seas, as ſhall be at any time hereafter for that purpoſe aſſigned by the Privy Council unto her Majeſty, her Heirs or Succeſſors, or by any Six or more of them, whereof the Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, or the Lord Treaſurer for the time being, to be one, (3) or otherwiſe be judged perpetually to the Gallies of this Realm, as by the ſame Juſtices or the moſt part of them, it ſhall be thought fit and expedient: (4) And if any Rogue ſo baniſhed as aforeſaid ſhall return again into any part of this Realm, or Dominion of Wales, without lawful Licence or Warrant ſo to do, that in every ſuch caſe ſuch offence ſhall be felony, and the party offending therein ſuffer death as in caſe of felony: (5) the ſaid felony to be heard and determined in that County of this Realm or Wales, in which the offendor ſhall be apprehended.

The forfeit of the Officer not puniſhing rogues.

The penalty for diſturbance of the execution of the Statute.

V. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if in any Town, Pariſh or Village, the Conſtable, Headboroug or Tythingman be negligent, and do not his or their beſt endeavours for the apprehenſion of ſuch Vagabond, Rogue or ſturdy Beggar which there ſhall be found contrary to the form of this preſent Act, and to cauſe every of them to be puniſhed and conveyed according to the true meaning of this preſent Act, that then the ſaid Conſtable, Headborough or Tythingman in whom ſuch default ſhall be, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every ſuch default x. s. (2) And alſo if any perſon or perſons do in any wiſe diſturb or let the execution of this Law, or any part thereof, concerning the puniſhment or conveying of Rogues, Vagabonds, ſturdy Beggars, or the relief or ſetling of poor impotent perſons in any manner of wiſe, or making reſcous againſt any Officer, or perſon authorized by this preſent Act for the due execution of any the premiſſes, the ſame perſon ſo offending ſhall forfeit and loſe for every ſuch offence, the ſum of v. l. and ſhall be bound to the good behaviour.

VI. And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no perſon or perſons having charge in any Voyage, in paſſing from the Realms of Ireland or Scotland, or from the Iſle of Man, into this Realm of England, do wittingly or willingly bring or convey, or ſuffer to be brought or conveyed into any Veſſel or Boat from and out of the ſame Realm of Ireland, Scotland or Iſle of Man, into the Realm of England or Wales, or any part thereof, any Vagabond, Rogue or Beggar, or any ſuch as ſhall be forced, or very like to live by begging within the Realm of England or Wales, being born in the ſame Realms or Iſland, upon pain of every ſuch perſon ſo offending, to forfeit and loſe for every ſuch Vagabond, Rogue, Beggar, or other perſon like to live by begging, xx. s. to the uſe of the poor of the ſaid Pariſh in which they were ſet on Land: (2) And if any ſuch Manniſk, Scottiſh or Iriſh Rogue, Vagabond or Beggar, be already, or ſhall at any time hereafter be ſet on Land, or ſhall come into any part of England or Wales, the ſame, after he or ſhe ſhall be puniſhed as aforeſaid, ſhall be conveyed to the next Port or Pariſh in or near which they were landed or firſt came, in ſuch ſort as Rogues are appointed to be by this preſent Act, and from thence to be tranſported at the common charge of the Countrey where they were ſet on Land, into thoſe parts from whence they came or were brought: (3) And that every Conſtable, Headborough and Tythingman neglecting the due performance thereof, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence x. s.

No rogue ſhall be brought from Ireland, Scotland, or the Iſle of Man.

VII. Be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That no diſeaſed or impotent poor perſon ſhall at any time reſort or repair from their dwelling places to the City of Bath or Town of Buxton, or either of them, to the Bathes there, for the eaſe of their Griefs, unleſs ſuch perſons do forbear to beg, and be licenced to paſs thither by two Juſtices of the Peace of the County where ſuch perſon doth or ſhall then dwell or remain, and provided for to travel with ſuch relief, for or towards his or her maintenance as ſhall be neceſſary for the ſame perſon, for the time of ſuch his or her travel and abode at the City of Bath and Town of Buxton, or either of them, and return thence, and ſhall return home again as ſhall be limited by the ſaid Licence, upon pain to be reputed, puniſhed and uſed as Rogues, Vagabonds, and ſturdy Beggars, declared by this preſent Act: (2) And that the inhabitants of the ſame City of Bath and Town of Buxton ſhall not in any wiſe be charged by this Act with the finding or relief of any ſuch poor people.

None reſorting to Bath or Buxton ſhall beg.

VIII. Provided always, That the Juſtices of Peace within any County of this Realm or Wales, ſhall not intromit or enter into any City, Borough, or Towns-corporate, where be any Juſtice or Juſtices of the Peace for any ſuch City, Borough, or Town-corporate, for the execution of any branch, article or ſentence of this Act, for or concerning any offence, matter or cauſe growing or ariſing within the precincts, liberties or Juriſdiction of ſuch City, Borough, or Towns-corporate, (2) but that it ſhall and may be lawful to the Juſtice and Juſtices of the Peace, Mayors, Bayliffs, and other head-Officers of thoſe Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate where there be ſuch Juſtices of the Peace, to proceed to the execution of this Act within the precinct and compaſs of their liberties, in ſuch manner and form as the Juſtices of Peace in any County may or ought to do within the ſame County, by virtue of this Act; Any thing in this Act to the contrary thereof notwithſtanding.

The authority of Juſtices in Corporate Towns.

IX. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to the poor people for the time being in the Hoſpital called St. Thomas Hoſpital, otherwiſe called the Kings Hoſpital in the Borough of Southwark near adjoyning to the City of London, but that the Mayor, Commonalty and Citizens of the ſaid City of London, for the time being, ſhall and may have the rule, order and government of the ſaid Hoſpital, and of the poor people therein for the time being; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The poor in St. Thomas Hoſpital in Southwark.

X. Provided always, That this Act, or any thing therein contained, or any authority thereby given, ſhall not in any wiſe extend to diſinherit, prejudice or hinder John Dutton of Dutton in the County of Cheſter, Eſquire, his heirs or aſſigns, for, touching or concerning any liberty, preheminence, authority, juriſdiction or inheritance which the ſaid John Dutton now lawfully uſeth, or hath, or lawfully may or ought to uſe within the County Palatine of Cheſter, and the County of the City of Cheſter, or either of them, by reaſon of any antient Charters of any Kings of this Land, or by reaſon of any preſcription, uſage or title whatſoever.

43 El. 9. Sect. 27. John Dutton of Dutton in the County of Cheſter, his liberties.

XI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all fines and forfeitures appointed, or to grow by this preſent Act, (except ſuch as are otherwiſe limited and appointed by this preſent Act) ſhall wholly go and be imployed to the uſe of the reparations and maintenance of the ſaid Houſes of correction, and ſtock and ſtore thereof, or relief of the poor where the offence ſhall be committed, at the diſcretion of the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame limit, City, Borough or Town-corporate: (2) And that all fines and forfeitures appointed or to grow by conviction of any perſon according to this preſent Act, ſhall by Warrant under the hands and ſeals of any two or more of the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County, City, Borough or Town-corporate, be levied by diſtreſs and ſale of the goods and chattels of the offendor; which ſale ſhall be good in the Law againſt ſuch offendor: (3) And that if any of the ſaid offences ſhall be confeſſed by the offendor, or that the ſame ſhall be proved by two ſufficient and lawful witneſſes, before ſuch two or more Juſtices of the Peace, that then every ſuch perſon ſhall forthwith ſtand and be in the Law convicted thereof.

The imploying of the forfeitures.

Confeſſion or proof of an offence, ſhall be a conviction of the offendor.

XIII. And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That any two or more Juſtices of the Peace within all the ſaid ſeveral Shires, Cities, Boroughs or Towns-corporate, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall have full power by authority of this preſent Act, to hear and determine all cauſes that ſhall grow or come in queſtion by reaſon of this Act.

The Juſtices of Peace may hear and determine all cauſes in queſtion.

XII And be it alſo further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Lord Chancellor or Keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being, ſhall and may at all times hereafter, by virtue of this preſent Act, without further warrant, make and direct Commiſſion or Commiſſions under the great Seal of England, to any perſon or perſons, giving them or ſome of them thereby authority, as well by the oaths of good and lawful men, as of witneſſes

An Act concerning the confirmation and eſtabliſhment of the deprivation of divers Biſhops and Deans, in the beginning of her Majeſties Reign.

Whereas divers and ſundry perſons exerciſing the office and function of Biſhops and Deans of divers Sees and Biſhopricks, and Deanries within this Realm, in the Reign of our late Sovereign Lady Queen Mary, were before the tenth day of November, in the fourth year of the moſt happy and bleſſed Government of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſt that now is, lawfully and juſtly deprived from ſuch Biſhopricks and Deanries as they ſeverally enjoyed, and took upon them to hold, and in their ſteads and places ſundry excellent and worthy men duly preferred to the ſame: (2) and whereas the paties ſo deprived did notwithſtanding, as it is pretended, make ſecret Appeals, and uſed other ſecret means, pretending thereby to ſupport the continuance of their ſaid offices and functions:

II. Be it therefore declared and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and Biſhops 7. Every deprivation of any Biſhop or Dean made in the beginning of the Queens Reign, ſhall be good; and Archbiſhops, Biſhops and Deans made by the Queen, ſhall be adjudged lawful.

and every deprivation and deprivations, and all and every ſentence and ſentences of deprivation whatſoever, had, pronounced or given at any time between the beginning of the Reign of the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty that now is, and the tenth day of November in the fourth year of the ſame, againſt any perſon or perſons which was, or took upon him to be Archbiſhop or Biſhop of any See or Biſhoprick, or Dean of any Deanry within this Realm, or any the Dominions thereof, in the Reign of the ſaid late Queen Mary, from ſuch See or Biſhoprick ſhall be adjudged, deemed and taken good and ſufficient in Law, to all intents and purpoſes, and ſo ſhall remain and continue; Any appeal, exception, or other matter or thing whatſoever, to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding:

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all ſuch Archbiſhops and Biſhops, and Deans, as were ordained or made by the authority or licence of the Queens Majeſty that now is, at any time between the beginning of her Reign and the ſaid tenth day of November in the fourth year of her Majeſties Reign, ſhall be taken and adjudged to be lawful Archbiſhop or Biſhop of the See or Biſhoprick, and Dean of the Deanry unto the which he was ſo preferred, aſſigned or appointed: (2) And that the ſame See of Archbiſhoprick or Biſhoprick and Deanry unto which he was preferred, aſſigned or appointed, ſhall be deemed and adjudged to be meerly void to all reſpects and purpoſes, before ſuch preſentment, appointment or aſſignment ſo made as aforeſaid; Any ambiguity or queſtion in that behalf heretofore made, or hereafter to be made to the contrary in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

CAP. IX.

An Act for taking away of Clergy from offendors againſt a certain Statute made in the third year of the Reign of King Henry the Seventh, concerning the taking away of Women againſt their wills unlawfully.

Women 13. He that taketh away a woman againſt her will that hath lands or goods, or is heir apparent to her anceſtor, ſhall loſe his Clergy. 3 H. 7. 2.

Whereas of late times divers women, as well maidens, as widows and wives having ſubſtance, ſome in goods moveable, and ſome in lands and tenements, and ſome being heirs apparent to their anceſtors, for the lucre of ſuch ſubſtance, been oftentimes taken by miſdoers, contrary to their will, and afterward married to ſuch miſdoers, or to others by their aſſent, or defiled, to the great diſpleaſure of God, and contrary to your Highneſs Laws, and diſparagemen of the ſaid women, and great heavineſs and diſcomfort of their Friends, and ill example of others; (2) which offences, albeit the ſame be made felony by a certain Act of Parliament made in the third year of King Henry the ſeventh, yet foraſmuch as Clergy hath been heretofore allowed to ſuch offendors, divers perſons have attempted and committed the ſaid offences, in hope of life by the benefit of Clergy, Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporol, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That all and every ſuch perſon and perſons as at any time after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, ſhall be convicted or attainted of or for any offence to be committed after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, made felony by the ſaid Act of the third year of the Reign of King Henry the ſeventh, or which ſhall be indicted and arraigned of or for any ſuch offence, and ſtand mute, or make no direct anſwer, or challenge peremptorily above the number of twenty, ſhall in every ſuch caſe, loſe his and their benefit of Clergy, and ſhall ſuffer pains of death without any benefit of Clergy; Any former Law to the contrary notwithſtanding.

Principals, procurers, or acceſſaries before the offence.

II. Provided always, that this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall not extend to take away the benefit of Clergy, but only from ſuch perſon and perſons as hereafter ſhall be principals, or procurers or acceſſaries before ſuch offence committed.

CAP. X.

An Act for the increaſe of Mariners, and for maintenance of the Navigation, repealing a former Act made in the 23. year of her Majeſties Reign, bearing the ſame title.

Ships, Raſt. 21. Fiſh, The Stat. of 23 El. 7. reſtraining Engliſh-men to go or ſend into any foreign Countrey to buy or bring into this Realm ſalted Herring, or ſalted Fiſh, repealed, &c. A rehearſal of the ſaid Statute.

Where at the Parliament holden by prorogation the ſixteenth day of January, in the twenty third year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady Queen Elizabeth, an Act was made, (entituled, An Act for the increaſe of Mariners, and for maintenance of the Navigation) whereby, amongſt other things, it was enacted, That it ſhould not be lawful to any native Engliſh-man, woman, or denizen, at any time after a time limited in the ſame Act, directly or indirectly, by themſelves, their ſervants, factors, agents, deputies, or any of them whatſoever, to go or ſend into any other foreign Countrey, Realm or Dominion whatſoever, for the buying, providing or bringing into this Realm, out or from any the ſaid foreign Realms or Dominions out of the Queens obeyſance, of any ſalted Fiſh, or ſalted Herrings, nor ſhould make any agreement with any alien or ſtranger, or any other, for ſuch bringing into this Realm by any alien or ſtranger, of any ſalted Fiſh, or ſalted Herrings, (2) and that no ſalted Fiſh, nor ſalted Herrings ſhould be brought hither out of the ſaid foreign Realms and Dominions, but by the meer Owners thereof, or Deputies of them, being aliens and ſtrangers, without the procurement of any Subject of the Queens Majeſty, her heirs or ſucceſſors, or of any denizen, and by none other perſon or perſons; (3) upon pain that ſuch Engliſh perſon or denizen offending againſt that Act, ſhould forfeit the ſame ſalted Herrings and ſalted Fiſh, or the value thereof, with divers other clauſes and branches in the ſame Statute contained, touching the bringing of Fiſh into this Realm, and the buying and ſelling of Fiſh, as by the ſame Act at large appeareth: (4) Upon the making of which Act it was hoped and expected, that the Fiſhermen of this Realm would in ſuch ſort have employed themſelves to fiſhing, and to the building and preparing of ſuch ſtore of Boats and Shipping for that purpoſe, as that they ſhould long ere this time have been able ſufficiently to have victualled this Realm with ſalted Fiſh and Herrings of their own taking, without any ſupply of aliens and ſtrangers, to the great increaſe of Mariners, and maintenance of the Navigation within this Realm: (5) notwithſtanding, it is ſince found by experience, that the Navigation of this Land is no whit bettered by the means of that Act, nor any Mariners increaſed, nor like to be increaſed by it; but contrariwiſe, the natural Subjects of this Realm, not being able to furniſh the

What was expected by the aforeſaid Statute.

the tenth part of the ſame with ſalted Fiſh of their own taking, the chief proviſion and victualling thereof with Fiſh and Herrings, hath ever ſince the making of the ſame Statute, been in the power and diſpoſition of Aliens and Strangers, who thereby have much enriched themſelves, greatly increaſed their Navigation, and (taking advantage of the time) have extremely enhanced the prices of the victual, to the great hurt and impoveriſhing of the native Subjects of this Realm, and yet do ſerve the markets here in very evil ſort, by little and little, houſeing and keeping their Fiſh as well on this ſide, as beyond the Seas, till the prices be raiſed to their liking; (6) And the Merchants of this Realm having been wholly barred in their Trades of providing of Fiſh for the ſervice thereof, the Navigation of this Realm, which was intended to be augmented, hath been rather impaired then increaſed thereby, and the prices of Fiſh greatly enhanced, to the great and general prejudice of the Subjects of this Realm, to carry out into foreign Parts and Dominions ſuch ſalted Fiſh and Herrings as are taken and provided by the Subjects of this Realm, and therefore very unequal that the native Subjects of this Land ſhould not be at liberty to bring in alſo foreign proviſion of Fiſh for the victualling of their own Country, as well as to carry out, but that the ſtranger ſhould be wholly truſted therewith:

The inconveniencies enſuing the making of the ſaid Statute.

They which may carry fiſh forth of this Realm, may alſo bring in fiſh.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That the ſame Statute made in the ſaid three and twentieth year of her Majeſties moſt gracious Reign, and every clauſe, branch article and proviſo thereof, and all the penalties and forfeitures therein contained, ſhall from henceforth be clearly repealed, void, fruſtrate, and of none effect, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſame had never been had ne made; Any thing in the ſame Act contained to the contrary thereof in any wiſe notwithſtanding.

III. And be it further enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That it ſhall and may be lawful for all and every her Majeſties Subjects being Owners of any Ships, Barks or Veſſels ſailing with croſs Sails, to receive and take into their ſaid Ships, Barks or Veſſels, any Herrings or other Fiſh, which any alien or ſtranger ſhall buy and provide of any of her Majeſties Subjects within this Realm, and the ſame Herrings and Fiſh, or any of them, may tranſport into any parts beyond the Seas being in league or amity with her Majeſty, in their ſaid Ships or Veſſels with croſs Sails; ſo as the ſaid aliens or ſtrangers pay to her Majeſty her Cuſtoms and Duties for the ſame, in ſuch ſort as by the ſame former Act was limited and appointed.

The Queens Subjects may tranſport fiſh in ſhips with croſs ſails.

IV. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all aliens and ſtrangers ſhall from henceforth, and from time to time, pay to her Majeſty for all ſalted Fiſh and ſalted Herrings to be brought into this Realm, all ſuch like Cuſtoms and Impoſitions as are or ſhall be impoſed and ſet upon any her Majeſties Subjects in thoſe foreign Regions and Countries, Ports and Towns from whence the ſaid ſalted Fiſh and ſalted Herrings ſhall be ſhipped and brought, for the like Fiſhes and Herrings, over and beſides the ordinary Cuſtoms which have been paid to her Majeſty for the ſame, in manner and form as by the ſame Act was enacted and appointed.

What cuſtoms aliens ſhall pay to the Queen for fiſh brought into this Realm

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any alien or ſtranger born, or any denizen or natural born ſubject of this Realm, ſhall bring into any haven, port, creek or town of this Realm, any ſalt Fiſh or ſalt Herrings, which ſhall not be good, ſweet, ſeaſonable, and meet for mens meat, and ſhall offer the ſame to be ſold, and ſhall be warned by any Officer of ſuch port, haven or town where the ſame ſhall be offered to be ſold, that the ſame be not ſeaſonable nor meet for mens meat, That then if he or they ſhall after that, offer any of the ſaid unſeaſonable Fiſh to be ſold to any perſon within this Realm, or being an alien born, and no denizen, ſhall not depart with the ſame from the ſaid haven, port or town, ſo ſoon as conveniency will ſerve, That then all and every perſon, owners thereof, ſhall loſe and forfeit to our ſaid Sovereign Lady, all the ſaid unſeaſonable Fiſh unmeet for mens meat, as before is ſaid.

The penalty for bringing into this Realm and offering to ſell unwholſom fiſh.

VI. And be it likewiſe enacted, That all Ordinances of the Fiſhmongers of London, or of any other Company or Corporation whatſoever, made or to be made for reſtraint of any perſon to take or ſell fiſh, or to buy or provide any Fiſh of any Merchant, or other within this Realm, ſhall be repealed and void: (2) And that every perſon and body corporate that ſhall make or execute any ſuch Ordinance or Reſtraint, ſhall for every ſuch offence forfeit one hundred pounds; the one moiety thereof to the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to the party grieved that will ſue for the ſame by Action of Debt, in any Court of Record, wherein no Eſſoin, Protection or Wager of Law for the Defendant ſhall be allowed.

Ordinances to reſtrain the taking, ſelling, or buying of fiſh, ſhall be void. REP. 43 El. 9.

VII. Provided always, That this Act ſhall no longer endure then to the end of the next Parliament hereafter enſuing. 3 Car. 4. continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XI.

An Act for the better execution of the Statute made in the 23. year of the Queens Reign, for the aboliſhing of Logwood, alias Blockwood, in the dying of Cloth, Wool or Yarn.

Whereas by an Eſtatute lately made in the three and twentieth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign that now is, it was amongſt other things Enacted, That no perſon ſhould dye, or cauſe to be dyed, any Cloth, Wooll, or other things there mentioned, with any Stuff called Logwood, alias Blockwood, upon ſuch penalty as in the ſaid Statute is mentioned: (2) Since the making of which Statute, ſundry evil diſpoſed perſons have ſought to defraud the true meaning of the ſaid Statute, and to avoid the penalty therein contained, by cunning uſing or mixing of the ſaid Logwood, alias Blockwood, together with Woad or other Stuff; which is not only contrary to the true meaning of the ſaid former Act, and to the great deceit of her Majeſties loving Subjects, but alſo to the diſcredit of the Trade of Clothing, eſpecially in foreign Countries, where heretofore Engliſh Clothes have been had in good ac-

A Juſtice of Peace may examine the ſervants or workmen of a ſuppoſed offendor.

The penalty.

II. Be it therefore ordained and enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That if any perſon ſhall be ſo ſuſpected to offend, Then any Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County where the ſaid ſuppoſed offendor ſhall dwell, if he dwell out of a corporate Town or City, and if he dwell within any corporate Town or City, then the Mayor, Bayliff, or other head-Officer, being a Juſtice of Peace of ſuch corporate Town or City where ſuch ſuppoſed offendor ſhall dwell, upon notice or information to him or them given in that behalf, ſhall by authority of this Act, by his or their warrant or other commandment, cauſe to come before him or them, the ſervants and workmen of ſuch ſuppoſed offendors, and other perſons able to diſcloſe the ſaid deceit, and them to examine by their oath or otherwiſe; (2) and if upon the ſame examination they ſhall find any perſon or perſons after the firſt day of February next enſuing, to have uſed, or cauſed to be uſed, in the dying or colouring of any Cloth, wooll, yarn, grograins, buffins, or ſilk, or any thing made of woollen yarn or ſilk, any Logwood, alias Blockwood, or now, or heretofore reputed and taken for Logwood, alias Blockwood, that then the ſaid Juſtices or Juſtice, Mayor, Bayliff, or other head-Officer, being a Juſtice of Peace, ſhall not only bind with ſurety all ſuch perſon or perſons whom they ſhall find ſo ſuſpected to have offended, and ſuch others as may diſcover the ſame offence, to the next Quarter-Seſſions or Gaol-delivery which ſhall happen to be holden for that County, City or Town-corporate, but alſo to certifie all ſuch examinations and depoſitions as tend to the finding out or diſcovery of the ſaid offences, at the Gaol-delivery or Quarter-Seſſions: (3) And alſo if any ſuch perſon ſo ſuſpected to have offended, upon examination aforeſaid, ſhall refuſe to be bound as aforeſaid, then the ſaid perſon or perſons ſo refuſing, to be committed to the next Gaol, there to remain till he, ſhe or they, ſhall ſo become bound with ſureties: (4) And that the ſaid Juſtices of Aſſize, or Juſtices of Peace, at ſuch Gaol-delivery or Quarter-Seſſions ſhall have authority by this Act, to indict and try the offendors by the uſual courſe of indictments and trials in like caſes; (5) And after ſuch conviction, to adjudge the ſaid offendors to be ſet openly upon the Pillory, in the ſaid City or Market Town where the ſame offence ſhall be committed; and if it ſhall not be in any Market Town, then in the next Market Town adjoining in the ſame County, there to continue by all the time of the Market, one or mo days by their diſcretion, for every ſuch offence; (6) And further, that every ſuch offendor beſide his ſaid corporal puniſhment, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch offence the ſum of xx. l. The one moiety of which ſum of money ſhall be to our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, and the other moiety to him that will ſue for the ſame, by Action of debt, bill, plaint or information, in any Court of Record, in which Suit no eſſoin, protection, wager of Law nor Writ of priviledge for the Defendant ſhall be admitted or allowed; (7) And the party offending being thereof convicted, to remain in priſon without bail or mainprize, till he have ſatisfied the ſame. An explanation of an Act made in the Eleventh year of King Henry the Seventh, for Fuſtians.

Fuſtians 2. The Lord Mayor of London, &c. may ſearch all perſons occupying the broad ſhear. 11 H. 7. 27.

Shearmen and Fullers in London made one Company.

Whereas by an Act made in the eleventh year of King Henry the Seventh, the Mayor and Wardens of Shear-men of the City of London for the time being, ſhould have authority to enter and ſearch the workmanſhip of all manner of perſons occupying the broad Shear, as well Fuſtians as Cloth, and the execution of the ſaid Act for uſing any inſtruments of Iron, or other untrue mean or ſleight in dreſſing the ſame: (2) Since which time, for that the Lord Mayor of London cannot coveniently go in his own perſon to make the ſaid ſearch, by reaſon of his other weighty occaſions, divers have reſiſted the Wardens of the Shear-men going abroad in offering to make ſearch according to the ſaid Law, and for want of due and daily ſearch in that behalf, divers have of late days put in ure the Iron inſtruments, and other ſleights forbidden by the recited Act, to the great deceit of her Majeſties people, amongſt whom the wearing of Fuſtians is lately grown to more uſe, as may ſeem, than ever it was beforetime, (3) Which company of Shear-men, together with the company of Fullers, were ſince the ſaid Act made one Company by the name of Cloth-workers, and ſo no ſearch can be duly made: (4) For remedy hereof,

The Mayor and Cloth-workers of London, or their Deputies, may ſearch the work of all perſons there, &c.

The forfeiture of them which make reſiſtance to be ſearched.

II. Be it therefore enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the ſaid Lord Mayor of the City of London, or his ſufficient Deputy, and to and for the Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid Myſtery of Cloth workers of London, or ſuch diſcreet perſons as the ſaid Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid Myſtery of Cloth-workers for the time being, ſhall from time to time appoint, to enter and make ſearch, as the ſaid Mayor of London, and Wardens of Shear-men might have done together, by the ſaid Act in the ſaid xi. year of King Henry the Seventh, (2) upon pain that the perſon or perſons which ſhall make reſiſtance herein, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch reſiſtance, xx. s. of lawfull money of England, the one half to her Majeſty, and the other half to him or them that will ſue for the ſame by action of debt, bill, plaint, or information in any of the Queens Courts of Record where the ſame may be determined after the courſe of the Common Law; And that the defendant in ſuch caſe in no wiſe be admitted to wage his Law, nor that any protection or eſſoin be in the ſame allowable.

An Act to reſtrain the exceſſive making of Mault.

Mault 6. Juſtices of Peace may reſtrain exceſſive making of Mault.

WHereas greater quantity of Mault is daily made, than either in time paſt was, or is now needful, Be it enacted by the Authority of this preſent Parliament, That from time to time, and at all times hereafter, it ſhall and may be lawful for the Juſtices of Peace within this Realm, in their open quarter Seſſions, or the more part of them, by their diſcretions, to ſuppreſs, diſcharge or reſtrain the ſuperfluous and unneceſſary number of Maultſters in part, or in the whole, and alſo to reſtrain ſuch perſon and perſons, as to their diſcretions ſhall ſeem meet, from the buying of Barley to convert into Mault in part or in all, for ſuch time or times as to their diſcretions ſhall ſeem meet, (2) and if any perſon or perſons ſhall refuſe, diſobey or not perform ſuch ſuppreſſing, diſcharging or reſtraint, or any order whatſoever the ſaid Juſtices ſhall ſet down touching the ſame, That then, and ſo often ſuch perſon or perſons being thereof duly convicted before the ſaid Juſtices, or any two of them, by the teſtimony of two witneſſes, or by his own confeſſion, ſhall be by the ſaid Juſtices committed to the common Goal of the County, City or Corporate-town wherein the offence is committed, (3) there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, by the ſpace of three days, and from thence until he ſhall become bounden by recognizance in the ſum of xl. l. to be taken to the uſe of her Majeſty, before any Juſtice of Peace, to ſtand to, perform and obey ſuch ſuppreſſing, diſcharging or reſtraint taken by the ſaid Juſtices as aforeſaid.

The penalty of ſuch as ſhall diſobey the Juſtices verdict.

Chief Officers of Corporate-towns may reſtrain exceſſive making of Mault.

II. Provided always, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace within any County of this Realm, ſhall not intromit or enter into any City, Borough or Town-corporate, for execution of any article in this Act, except he be a Juſtice of Peace alſo in the ſaid City, Borough or Town-corporate, (2) But that it ſhall be lawful to the Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, Bailiffs and other Head-officers of thoſe Cities, Boroughs and Towns-corporate, where they keep Seſſions, to proceed to the execution of this Act, and every Article thereof, within the precincts of their liberties, at ſuch time and times, and as often as to them ſhall ſeem meet, in as large and ample manner as the Juſtices of Peace in any County may do.

Certain perſons not reſtrainable to make Mault by this Statute.

III. Provided alſo, That it ſhall and may be lawful to and for every perſon and perſons which ſhall have of his own any Barley or Corn growing, or any Tithe-corn, or Rent-corn reſerved upon any Leaſe or Demiſe, to convert into Malt, all, or any ſuch Barley or Corn; Any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

An offender of this Act ſhall not meddle in the Execution thereof.

IV. Provided alſo, That no manner of perſon or perſons ſhall deal or meddle in the execution of this Act, that uſe to buy Barley to convert to Malt, and to ſell the ſame again. (2) This Act ſhall not endure or continue any longer time, but until the end of the next Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. XVII.

An Act againſt lewd and wandring perſons, pretending themſelves to be Soldiers or Mariners.

Mariners 4. Wandring Mariners and Soldiers and other idle-perſons ſhall ſettle themſelves to work: they ſhall have teſtimonials, &c. 14 Car. 2. cap. 12.

3 Inſt. 85, 8

WHereas divers lewd and licentious perſons, contemning both Laws, Magiſtrates and Religion, have of late days wandred up and down in all parts of the Realm, under the name of Soldiers and Mariners, abuſing the title of that honourable profeſſion to countenance their wicked behaviours, and do continually aſſemble themſelves weaponed in the High-ways, and elſewhere in Troops, to the great terrour and aſtoniſhment of her Majeſties true Subjects, the impeachment of her Laws, and the diſturbance of the peace and tranquility of this Realm: (2) and whereas many hainous outrages, robberies and horrible murders are daily committed by theſe diſſolute perſons; and unleſs ſome ſpeedy remedy be had, many dangers are like by theſe means to enſue and grow towards the Common-wealth:

II. Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all idle and wandring Soldiers or Mariners, or idle perſons, which now are, or hereafter ſhall be wandring as Soldiers and Mariners, ſhall ſettle themſelves in ſome ſervice, labour or other lawful courſe of life, without wandring, or otherwiſe repair to the places where they were born, or to their dwelling-places, if they have any, and there remain, betaking themſelves to ſome lawful trade or courſe of life, as aforeſaid, (2) upon pain that all perſons offending contrary to this Act, to be reputed as Felons, and to ſuffer as in caſe of Felony, without any benefit of Clergy to be allowed.

Wandring Soldiers and Mariners ſhall have Teſtimonials.

III. And be it further enacted, That every idle and wandring Soldier or Mariner which coming from his Captain from the Seas, or from beyond the Seas, ſhall have a Teſtimonial under the hand of ſome one Juſtice of the Peace, of, or near the place where he landed, ſetting down therein the place and time when and where he landed, and the place of his dwelling or birth unto which he is to paſs, as aforeſaid, and a convenient time therein limited for his paſſage, or having ſuch Teſtimonial, ſhall wilfully exceed the time therein limited, above fourteen days: (2) And alſo as well every ſuch idle and wandring Soldier or Mariner, as every other idle perſon wandring, as Soldier or Mariner which ſhall at any time hereafter forge or counterfeit any ſuch teſtimonial, or have with him or them any ſuch teſtimonial forged or counterfeited, as aforeſaid, knowing the ſame to be counterfeited or forged, in all theſe caſes every ſuch act or acts to be felony, and the Offenders to ſuffer, as aforeſaid, without benefit of Clergy.

It ſhall be Felony to counterfeit a Teſtimonial.

Juſtices of Aſſize and Goal-delivery and Peace may hear and determine theſe offences.

IV. And be it further enacted, That it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices of Aſſizes, Juſtices of Goal-delivery, and the Juſtices of Peace of every County, and all Juſtices of Peace in Towns-corporate, having authority to hear and determine Felonies, to hear and determine all ſuch offences in their general Seſſions, (2) and to execute the Offenders which ſhall be convicted before them, as in caſes of Felony is accuſtomed; except ſome honeſt perſon valued at the laſt Subſidy next before the time, to x. l. in Goods, or xl. s. in Lands, or elſe ſome honeſt Freeholder as by the ſaid Juſtices ſhall be allowed, will be contented before ſuch Juſtices as ſuch perſon ſhall be arraigned of Felony, to take him or them into his Service for one whole year then next following, and then before the ſaid Juſtices will be bound by Recognizance of ten pounds to be levied of his Lands, Goods, Tenements and Chattels, to the uſe of our Sovereign Lady the Queen, if he keep not the ſaid perſon or perſons for one whole year, and bring him to the next Seſſions for the Peace and Goal-delivery next enſuing after the ſaid year: (3) And if any ſuch perſon retained depart within the year, without the licence of him that ſo retained him, then to be indicted, tried and adjudged as a Felon, and not to have the benefit of his Clergy.

Taking the offender into ſervice for a year.

The idle wanderer falling ſick by the way.

V. Provided always, That if any ſuch idle and wandring perſons, as aforeſaid, ſhall happen to fall ſick by the way, ſo that by reaſon of his weakneſs he cannot travel to his journeys end within the time limited within his teſtimonial, no ſuch to be within the danger of this Statute, ſo as he ſettle himſelf in ſome lawful courſe of life, as aforeſaid, to repair, as aforeſaid, to the place where he was born, or was laſt abiding, within convenient time after the recovery of his ſickneſs, and there remain, as aforeſaid; Any thing in this Statute contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

A remedy where the wanderer cannot get work.

VI. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted, That when any ſuch Soldier or Mariner coming from the Seas, or from beyond the Seas, as aforeſaid, ſhall repair to the place of his dwelling or birth, according to the purport of the ſaid teſtimonial, and cannot of himſelf get there any work, whereby to imploy himſelf to labour, or other lawful courſe of life, as aforeſaid, that then in every ſuch caſe, upon complaint made by ſuch Soldier or Mariner to two Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County, of, or near the ſaid place, the ſaid two Juſtices ſhall take order by their diſcretion, to ſet ſuch Soldier or Mariner to ſome ſuch honeſt labour or work as to them ſhall be thought meet: (2) And for want of ſuch work, the ſaid two Juſtices ſhall tax the whole Hundred by their diſcretion, for the relief of ſuch Soldier or Mariner, till ſuch ſufficient work may be had.

The hundred taxed for the relief of a Soldier or Mariner.

Examined by the Parliament roll.

VII. Provided alſo, That if any ſuch Soldier or Mariner coming from the Seas, or from beyond the Seas, as aforeſaid, ſhall not at the time of his landing, or in his travel to the place whereunto he is to repair, as aforeſaid, going the direct way, that then he reſort to ſome Juſtice of the Peace next adjoyning to the ſaid place of Landing or way, and make known unto to the ſaid Juſtice his poverty: (2) who upon perfect notice thereof had, ſhall have full power and authority by this preſent Act to licenſe the ſame Souldier or Mariner to paſs the next and direct way to the place where he is to repair, and to limit him ſo much time only as ſhall be neceſſary for his travel thither: (3) And that in ſuch caſe his licence being ſo made, and he purſuing the form of ſuch his licence, ſhall and may for his neceſſary relief in his ſuch travel, ask and take the relief that any perſon ſhall willingly give him, and in ſuch caſe, his ſuch travel and taking of Alms, as aforeſaid, ſhall not be taken as an offence againſt this Law.

The Souldier or Mariner licenſed, may ask and take relief.

VIII. Provided alſo, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained, ſhall extend or be interpreted to make or work any corruption of blood in any the heir or heirs of any ſuch Offender or Offenders; Any thing in this Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

No corruption of blood.

IX. Provided alſo, and be it further enacted, That this Act ſhall not take any force or effect, till forty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, and ſhall continue to the end of the Parliament next enſuing. 3 Car. 4 Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 1 Jac. cap. 7. 17 Car. 1. cap. 4. continued.

CAP. XIX.

An Act for the amendment of Highways in Suſſex, Surry and Kent.

Whereas in one Act of Parliament made in the ſeven and twentieth year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, in one Act then made, entituled, An Act for preſervation of Timber in the Wields of the Counties of Suſſex, Surrey and Kent, and for the amendment of High-ways decayed by carriage to and from Iron-Mills there, ſome remedy is provided for the impairing and ſpoiling of High-ways by the carriages of Coals, Mine and Iron, to and from the Iron-works within ſome part of the ſaid Counties of Surrey and Kent, and proviſions for the amending of High-ways decayed in the County of Suſſex, by the ſaid means is left out: And alſo the ſaid Act hath not taken the ſame good effect for the amendment of High-ways within the ſaid Counties of Surrey and Kent, as hath been expected:

Highways 19. A repeal of ſo much of the ſtat. of 27 El. 19. as concerneth the repairing of high-ways in Surry & Kent.

II. Be it therefore enacted by our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament Aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That ſo much of the ſaid Act of Parliament made in the ſaid ſeven and twentieth year of the Queens Majeſties Reign, as ſhall concern the amendment of High-ways in the ſaid Counties of Surrey and Kent, ſhall from henceforth be repealed.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Occupiers of all manner of Iron-works whatſoever, as Owners or Farmers of the ſame, by any eſtate of Inheritance for life, lives, or for term of year or years, or at will, which ſhall at any time hereafter carry or cauſe to be carried any Coals, Mine or Iron, to or for any their Iron-works, between the xii. day of October, and the firſt day of May in any year, ſhall for every three loads of Coal or Mine, as alſo for every Tun of Iron, which ſhall be carried by any manner of Wain or Cart, between the ſaid xii. day of October, and the firſt day of May, by the ſpace of one mile through any High-ways within the ſaid Wields of Suſſex, Surrey, Kent, or any of them, ſhall pay or cauſe to be paid unto the Juſtice of Peace dwelling near unto the places in the ſaid County where the Highways ſhall be moſt annoyed, or his aſſignee, the ſum of three ſhillings, (2) the ſame to be levied after default of payment thereof, by ſuch Juſtice of Peace or aſſign, by way of diſtreſs of any of the Goods and Chattels remaining in the ſaid County, of ſuch perſon as ſo ſhould have paid ſuch ſums.

What ſhall be paid for the repair of High-ways in the Wields of Suſſex, Surrey and Kent.

IV. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every perſon and perſons, occupier of Iron-work, as aforeſaid, which ſhall at any time hereafter carry, or cauſe to be carried any Coals, Mine or Iron, to or for any their Iron-works, between the firſt day of May, and the twelfth day of October in any year, for every thirty loads of Coals and Mine, or either of them, and for every ten Tuns of Iron, to be carried, as aforeſaid, one load of Cinder, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, meet for the repairing and amending of the ſaid High-ways, as aforeſaid, to be laid and imployed in ſuch place and places of the High-ways, as by any Juſtice of the Peace of any the Counties aforeſaid, dwelling near unto the places where the High-ways within the limits aforeſaid, ſhall be moſt annoyed by any of the means aforeſaid, according to the greater and more preſent neceſſity, ſhall be appointed and aſſigned, or elſe pay or cauſe to be paid, for and in allowance of every Cart load, in manner and form aforeſaid to have been ſo carried and laid, iij. s. within eight days after the demand thereof at any ſuch Iron-work made, to or from which Iron-work any ſuch carriage ſhall be, to the hand of the ſaid Juſtice of Peace, or his aſſigns, the ſame to be levied after default of payment upon the demand thereof, from time to time by way of diſtreſs: (2) And if ſuch Juſtice of Peace, by reaſon of abſence or other occaſion, do not, or ſhall not within fourty days next after the ſaid firſt day of May, yearly aſſign and appoint, where and in what place of the High-ways the ſaid Cinder, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, to be carried as aforeſaid, or where or how the money thereof due, or ſo paid, ſhall be imployed and beſtowed, That then the ſame Cinder, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, ſhall be laid and imployed by ſuch perſon or perſons as by Carriage of Coals, &c. for any Iron-work, between the firſt day of May, and the twelfth of October.

In default of the Juſtice of Peace, the Surveyors ſhall have the diſpoſition of the gravel, &c.

The forfeiture of the offender.

How the money forfeited ſhall be levied and imployed.

The penalty if no diſtreſs can be found, nor the offender do not pay within the time limited.

this Act are to carry and lay the ſame, or to cauſe the ſame to be carried and laid in ſuch place and places of the High-ways as the Surveyors within the Pariſh for the time being, where the High-ways ſhall be moſt annoyed, as aforeſaid, ſhall aſſign or appoint, (3) or in default thereof, pay to the ſaid Surveyors for every ſuch load due and uncarried, iii. s. in manner and form aforeſaid, (4) upon pain of forfeiture of x. s. for every load of Cinder, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, not carried, laid and imployed in the High-ways, or iij. s. unpaid, as is aforeſaid, to be forfeited and paid by the perſon and perſons which by this Act ought to carry and lay, or cauſe to be carried and laid, the Cinder, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, or therefore to have paid, as is aforeſaid, after due conviction and preſentment thereof had before the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or Juſtices of Peace, in any of their open Seſſion or Seſſions to be holden before them or any of them: (5) All which ſum and ſums of money to be forfeited by reaſon of this Act, for or in default of carriage and laying of the ſaid Cinder, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, or payment thereof, as aforeſaid, ſhall be likewiſe beſtowed and imployed upon the amendment and repairing of the High-ways, at and by the diſcretion of any ſuch Juſtice of Peace, as ſhall dwell and be reſident next unto the place and places being moſt annoyed by the carriages aforeſaid, (6) the ſame to be levied by way of diſtreſs, by any Conſtable, Tythingman, Headborough or other Officer thereunto to be aſſigned, by Warrant made in open Seſſions by any Clerk of the Peace of the County, where any the offence or offences aforeſaid ſhall be committed, or by any two Juſtices of the Peace, whereof one to be of the Quorum, which were preſent at the Seſſions wherein the ſaid conviction, of, or for any the offences aforeſaid ſhall be had: (7) And if no ſufficient diſtreſs can be found by the ſaid Officer appointed to levy the ſame, or if the ſaid Offender do not pay the ſame within twenty days after a lawful demand of the ſame, by the ſaid Officer to be appointed for the levying thereof, as aforeſaid, that then every perſon ſo denying or refuſing, and not paying the ſame forfeiture within twenty days aforeſaid, to forfeit the double ſum he ſhould before have paid, to be levied by ſuch ways and means, as to any two of the Juſtices of the Peace of the ſame County where the ſaid offence ſhall be committed, whereof one to be of the Quorum, ſhall be thought moſt meet: (8) the ſame forfeiture to be likewiſe imployed upon the amendment of the High-ways, as the other forfeitures ſhould have been, if the ſame had been levied according to the true intent and meaning of this Statute.

In what caſe the Surveyors ſhall appoint where the gravel, ſtone, &c. ſhall be laid.

Preſentment of offenders at the quarter Seſſions.

V. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Surveyor or Surveyors, from time to time for the time being, within the Pariſh where the High-ways ſhall be moſt annoyed, upon default of the ſaid Juſtices, as aforeſaid, within xx. days after ſuch default of the Juſtice of Peace, as aforeſaid, ſhall aſſign or appoint where and in what place of the High-ways, the ſaid Cinder, Gravel, Stone or Chalk, or the forfeiture of money to be beſtowed, ſhall be carried and laid as aforeſaid, and upon pain of forfeiture of every ſuch Surveyor or Surveyors, for every ſuch default, xl. s. (2) And the ſaid Surveyors ſhall make demand according to the limitation of this preſent Act, of all and every ſuch forfeiture and ſums of money limited to be paid in default of ſuch carriages, as aforeſaid, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch default, xl. s. (3) And ſhall alſo make preſentment of every ſuch default of carriage or payment, contrary to the tenor of this preſent Act, at the next Quarter Seſſion to be holden for the ſaid County, where ſuch default of carriage and payment ſhall be, upon pain to forfeit for every ſuch default of preſentment as aforeſaid, xl. s. (4) The one moiety of ſuch forfeiture and forfeitures to be to the Queens Majeſty, the other moiety to ſuch perſon or perſons as will ſue for the ſame, by action, bill, plaint or information, in any of her Majeſties Courts of Record, where no wager of Law, eſſoin or protection ſhall be allowed.

CAP. XX.

An Act againſt the deceitful ſtretching and tentering of Northern Cloth.

Drapery 112. No perſon on the north ſide of Trent ſhall ſtretch or ſtrain any Cloth made, nor uſe any Tenter, &c.

The enormities enſuing the ſtretching of Northern clothes, and the cauſes thereof.

5 Ed. 6. 6.
43 El. 10.

IN moſt humble and dutiful wiſe ſheweth, beſeeching your Highneſs, your true and faithful Subjects, the Clothiers and Chapmen of your Counties of York, Lancaſter, and other your Highneſs Counties on the North ſide of the River of Trent, That notwithſtanding the many good and wholſom Laws heretofore made for the true making of good and true Clothes and Kerſies, which Laws, either by ſome wants in the Statutes already made, or for lack of the due execution of the ſaid Laws, have not only not reſtrained the abuſe in making of Clothes and Kerſies, but rather have encreaſed the ſame, (2) inſomuch that the ſaid Northern Clothes and Kerſies do yearly and daily grow worſe and worſe, and are made more light, and much more ſtretched and ſtrained than heretofore they have been, to the great deceit of all Nations where the ſaid Clothes and Kerſies are ſold, and to the great ſhame and ſlander of the Countrey where the ſame is made, and within ſhort time like utterly to overthrow the Trade of Cloth-making in thoſe Countreys, whereupon ſo many thouſands of your Subjects do now live and are maintained: (3) which great enormities your faithful Subjects do chiefly impute to the great number of Tenters, and other Engines daily uſed and practiſed in the ſaid Counties for the ſtretching and ſtraining of the ſaid Clothes and Kerſies: (4) For remedy and redreſs whereof, your ſaid Subjects humbly beſeech your moſt excellent Majeſty, that it may pleaſe your Highneſs, with the aſſent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of tye ſame, it may be enacted, any Statute or Law whatſoever to the contrary notwithſtanding, That no perſon or perſons within any the Counties aforeſaid, from and after the twentieth day of September now next coming, ſhall ſtretch or ſtrain, or cauſe to be ſtretched or ſtrained any Cloths, Dozens, Kerſies, Peniſtones, Ruggs, Frizes, Kighley Whites, plain Grays, or any other Clothes by what name or names ſoever they be called, made, or hereafter to be made, within the ſaid County of York, Lancaſter, or any other the Counties on the north of Trent, upon pain to forfeit for every default, five pounds.

II. And further, That no perſon or perſons, from and after the ſaid xx. day of September, within the Counties aforeſaid, or any of them, ſhall have, uſe or occupy any Tenter, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of Wrinch, Rope, or other Engines, to ſtretch or ſtrain any Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Peniſtones, Ruggs, Frizes, Cottens, Kighley Whites, plain Grays, or any other Cloth, of what kind or name ſoever it or they be called, made, wrought, or to be made or wrought within the ſaid Counties, (2) upon pain that every Offender that ſhall have, or uſe, or exerciſe any ſuch Tenter, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of Rope, Wrinch, Ring-head or Engine, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch default, twenty pounds.

III. And further, That every perſon or perſons within the Counties aforeſaid, or any of them, which ſhall make or cauſe to be made any Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grays, Kighley Whites, Frizes or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever it or they be called, ſhall make the ſame of ſuch weights, lengths and breadths, as by the Statutes of this Realm already in force is provided, under the pains in the ſame Statutes contained: (2) And before the ſame be ſold, or ſuffered to be ſold, ſhall ſet his Seal of Lead unto every of the ſame Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, plain Grays, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites, Frizes, or by what name or names ſoever it or they be called: In which ſaid Seal of Lead ſhall be contained the true and juſt length, and the true and juſt weight at the leaſt of every ſuch Cloth, Kerſie, Dozen, Cotton, Peniſtone, plain Grays, Kighley Whites, Frizes, or by what name or names ſoever it or they ſhall be called, as it ſhall be duly found by due proof thereof to be tried by water or weight, (3) upon pain to forfeit every Cloth, Dozen, Cottons, Kerſie, Peniſtone, plain Grays, Kighley Whites, Frizes, or other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever it or they be called, which ſhall be made within any the Counties aforeſaid, whereunto ſuch Seal, as is aforeſaid, ſhall not be put and ſet: (4) And in caſe upon proof to be made by water or weight, of any ſuch Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grays, Kighley Whites, Frizes or any other Cloth, as is aforeſaid, ſhall be found of leſs weight, or of ſmaller content in length, than is contained or ſpecified in any of the ſaid Seals, that the owner of every ſuch Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grays, Keighly Whites and Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, as aforeſaid, or any other perſon or perſons, in whoſe hands and poſſeſſions any ſuch Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grays, Kighley Whites, Frizes or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, ſhall be found, ſhall forfeit for every Yard wanting in length, four ſhillings, and for every Pound wanting in weight, two ſhillings.

Northern Clothes ſhall be made of ſuch weights, lengths and breadths, as by former ſtatutes is appointed.

A ſeal of lead ſhall be ſet to every Northern Cloth containing the length and weight thereof.

The forfeitures for want of length and weight.

IV. And for the better and more ſpeedy and effectual reforming of all ſuch abuſes, as is aforeſaid, Be it further Enacted, That in every Pariſh, Town, Village and Hamlet within the Counties aforeſaid, where any Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, plain Grays, Kighley Whites, Frizes or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, ſhall be made or ſold, the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame Shire or Riding, or two of them at the leaſt, and in every City, Borough or Town-corporate, the head Officer or Officers of every of the ſame City, Borough or Town-corporate, together with ſome one or two of the Juſtices of the Peace of the Shire or Riding next adjoyning to ſuch City, Borough or Town-corporate, ſhall have full power and authority, and ſhall by virtue of this Act, once every year at the leaſt, and as often as they ſhall think good, to convent and call before them by their precept or otherwiſe, two, four, ſix or eight, or more, as they ſhall think good by their diſcretion, of the moſt honeſt, diſcreet and able men of every ſuch City, Town, Village, Hamlet or Pariſh, where any ſuch Cloth ſhall be made or ſold, and them ſhall conſtitute, ordain and appoint to be Overſeers for one whole year, or ſix months, or ſhorter time at their diſcretions, then next following, within the City, Borough, Town, Village, Hamlet, or Pariſh where the ſame Overſeers ſhall be dwelling, (2) and ſhall and may take them ſworn and bound in Recogniſance of fourty pounds a piece to the uſe of your moſt excellent Majeſty and your Succeſſors, to do their beſt endeavour by all lawful ways and means for that time, to ſee that this Statute in all points ſhall be truly obſerved and kept within the limits of their charge in every part thereof, (3) and that the ſame Overſeers, or two of them, ſhall once every month at the leaſt, or ſo often as need ſhall require, or they ſhall think fit by their diſcretions, by force hereof viſit and go into all, or any houſe or houſes, or other rooms of any Clothiers, Drapers, Clothworkers, or of any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, where any of the ſaid Cloth ſhall be, and there to make due ſearch, and view the ſame made, or remaining to be ſold, and to take, ſearch and try, as well by weight, water, or any other way whatſoever, the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Clothes, by what name or names they be called: (4) And if any Clothes aforeſaid, upon ſearch thereof, ſhall not be found to be ſealed with a ſeal, containing the length and weight, as aforeſaid, then the Clothier and every Owner of the ſaid Cloth, ſhall forfeit every ſuch Cloth, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, made within the Counties aforeſaid, not ſo ſealed, and ſold, or offered to be ſold, (5) and the ſaid Overſeers, and every of them, ſhall and may ſeiſe and carry away the ſame ſo forfeited, as aforeſaid, and preſent the ſame to the Juſtices of Peace at the next Quarter Seſſions, to be by them diſpoſed of as hereafter is in theſe preſents limited and appointed.

Overſeers of Clothmaking ſhall be appointed by the Juſtices of Peace, or Head-officer of Corporate-towns.

The Overſeers duty, and they ſhall make ſearch.

The forfeiture of the Cloth for default of ſealing.

V. And if the ſaid Overſeers ſhall find any falſe Seal or Mark to be ſet upon any Cloth aforeſaid, or ſhall upon ſearch, as aforeſaid, find the ſame Clothes aforeſaid to be ſtretched or ſtrained, then the ſame Overſeers ſhall preſent the ſame defaults unto the Juſtices at the next Quarter-Seſſions, and the names of the Owners or Poſſeſſors of ſuch Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Clothes, by what name or names they be called, ſo found defective; (2) And if any manner of perſon or perſons at any time after the ſaid twentieth day of September, ſhall deny, withſtand or withhold any Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, from the ſaid Overſeers, or any of them, or will not ſuffer them to enter into any of the houſes, ſhops, rooms or other places where any ſuch Clothes ſhall be, that then every ſuch perſon or perſons ſo denying or withſtanding, ſhall for the firſt offence, forfeit and loſe ten pound, and for the ſecond offence twenty pound,

The penalty for ſetting of a falſe ſeal, or for ſtraining and ſtretching of Cloth.

The forfeitures for withholding of faulty cloth, or denying of ſearch.

and

The forfeiture for refuſing to be Overſeer.

and for the third offence, being thereof lawfully convicted by verdict of twelve men, and two ſufficient witneſſes, ſhall ſtand upon the Pillory in the next Market Town: (3) And if any of the ſaid perſons ſo commanded to appear, to be made Overſeers, as aforeſaid, and having no reaſonable excuſe, refuſe to come, and take upon him or them to be Overſeers, as aforeſaid, that then every ſuch perſon ſo refuſing, and having no reaſonable excuſe ſo to do, ſhall forfeit for every ſuch refuſing, five pounds, the one half thereof to be to your moſt excellent Majeſty, and your Succeſſors, and the other half to the Juſtices of the Peace, or other Head-Officer or Officers by whoſe commandment he was appointed to be Overſeer; (4) and the Overſeers ſo offending, to remain in the Ward of the Sheriff, Bailiff or other Head-Officer, until ſuch time as he hath made payment of the forfeiture, or otherwiſe put in ſufficient Bond for the ſatisfaction of the ſame.

The Overſeers ſhall fix a ſeal of lead to the Clothes. 7 Jac. 16.

VI. And to the end that the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Clothes, by what name or names ſoever they be called, ſo to be viewed and ſearched, may be the better known; (2) It is therefore Enacted, That the ſaid Overſeers ſhall fix unto every kind of the Clothes aforeſaid, a Seal of Lead containing the length and the weight of every ſuch Clothes (together with this word Searched) (3) which Cloth ſo ſealed by the ſaid Overſeers, ſhall not be ſearched, tryed or viewed by any other Searcher or Overſeer of any other City, Borough, Town, Village, Pariſh or Hamlet, by virtue of his or their ſaid Office or Offices; Any thing in this Act, or in any other Statute to the contrary notwithſtanding.

The penalty for ſetting of ſeals to Clothes, or taking them away without warrant.

VII. And further, the ſaid Clothiers and other Inhabitants do humbly pray, that it may be likewiſe enacted, That if any perſon or perſons, but ſuch as are appointed, aſſigned and permitted by this Act, or their Servants or Deputies, do at any time after the ſaid twentieth day of September, counterfeit or ſet to, or willingly and wittingly take away from any the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites and Frizes, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, made within the Counties aforeſaid, any of the Seals ſo to be fixed, as above is recited, that then every perſon ſo offending, ſhall for the firſt offence forfeit and loſe x. l. (2) and for the ſecond offence, being thereof lawfully convicted by the verdict of twelve men, and two ſufficient witneſſes, ſtand upon the Pillory, and loſe and forfeit to your moſt excellent Majeſty, your Heirs and Succeſſors, twenty pound.

Juſtices of Peace, Head-Conſtables and Overſeers may ſearch for ropes, rings, winches, &c. and deface them.

The puniſhment for the ſecond offence.

The forfeiture for reſiſting of ſearch.

VIII. And to the end that the ſaid Statutes and Laws aforeſaid may be the more effectually executed, and all ſtretching and ſtraining, and falſifying of any the Clothes aforeſaid taken away, It may be alſo enacted, That every Juſtice of Peace, Head-Conſtable, or other the Overſeers aforeſaid, ſhall have full power and lawful authority to enter in, or upon any the Meſſuages, Tenements, Houſes, Buildings, Lands or Grounds of any perſon or perſons whatſoever, to ſearch for any ſuch Tenters, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of Ropes, Rings, Heads, Wrinches, or other Engines whatſoever, whereby any falſhood or deceit may be uſed in or about ſtretching and ſtraining of any the ſaid Clothes, Kerſies, Dozens, Frizes, Cottons, Peniſtones, Kighley Whites, or any other Cloth, by what name or names ſoever they be called, or any of them: (2) And if they ſhould find any ſuch Tenters, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of Ropes, Rings, Heads, Wrings or Engines, they ſhall and may utterly deface the ſame, in ſuch ſort as they cannot be imployed again to any ſuch uſe: (3) And if any perſon or perſons with whom any ſuch ſhall once have been found, ſhall after that be known to have or uſe any ſuch Tenter, of what ſort or kind ſoever, any manner of Rope, Ring, Head, Wrinch, Wring, or Engine, that then the ſaid Juſtices, Head-conſtables or Overſeers, or any of them, within the ſeveral Precincts, ſhall take and ſell the ſame to the beſt value thereof, and by the conſent of two Juſtices of Peace within the ſame County, diſpoſe the money thereof coming, to the poor of that Pariſh where the ſame ſhall be ſo taken: (4) and that upon complaint made, or information given of any ſuch Tenter, of what ſort or kind ſoever, or any manner of Rope, Head, Ring, Wrinch or Wring, or any other Engine, to any Juſtice of Peace, every one of them to whom ſuch complaint ſhall be made, or information given, ſhall within ſeven days next enſuing ſuch complaint or information given, repair to the place where the ſame ſhall be ſo had or uſed, and then and there to execute this Law, as aforeſaid, upon pain hereafter in this preſent Act expreſſed: (5) And that if any perſon or perſons ſhall withſtand or reſiſt any ſuch Juſtice of Peace, or other Head Officers, in, or about, touching or concerning the execution of the premiſſes, every ſuch perſon or perſons ſhall forfeit and ſuffer, as is before limited for reſiſting the Overſeers in the ſearch.

A Juſtices forfeiture for being negligent in the execution of his duty herein. Who ſhall have the forfeitures.

IX. And if any the Juſtices, or Juſtice of Peace, within the limits or bounds of his or their Commiſſion, ſhall be negligent or make default in doing of any thing touching or concerning the due or true execution of this Statute, or any thing therein contained, every ſuch Juſtice of Peace for every ſuch default, ſhall forfeit and loſe v. l. (2) And that all ſuch forfeitures as ſhall happen or grow by reaſon of this Act, ſhall be one third part thereof to ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be then Overſeers, one third part to the uſe of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty, and one third part to the uſe of the poor, to be imployed to the uſe of the poor, in ſuch ſort as the Juſtices of Peace in the Quarter-Seſſions to be holden next after Judgment had or given for the ſame, ſhall limit and appoint.

Juſtices of Peace ſhall hear and determine the aforeſaid offences.

X. And that the ſaid Juſtices of Peace in the Quarter-Seſſions, ſhall and may enquire, hear and determine every fault or offence made or done contrary to this preſent Act, or any thing therein contained, except the offences committed, and forfeitures made by the Juſtices of Peace, by preſentment, bill or information, and upon proof thereof made by the teſtimony of two ſufficient witneſſes openly given to the Jury, and then upon preſentment made by the Jury, to give order for the execution of this Statute, and every clauſe therein contained, and for the recovery of the penalties aforeſaid, to the uſes aforeſaid.

The Juſtices of Aſſiſe ſhall hear and determine the offences of the Juſtice of Peace.

XI. And that the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, ſhall and may enquire, hear and determine every fault or offence made or done by any Juſtice of Peace, contrary to this preſent Act, in neglect of their duty, in or about, touching or concerning the execution of this preſent Act, and upon proof thereof made by two ſufficient witneſſes, and by the preſentment of the Jury, ſhall and may give order for recovery and imployment of the penalties and made, to the uſes aforeſaid: (2) And for default of J

Anno quadrageſimo tertio Reginæ ELIZABETHÆ.

AT the Parliament begun and holden at Weſtminſter, the Seven and twentieth day of October, in the Three and fortieth year of the Reign of our moſt gracious Sovereign Lady Elizabeth, by the Grace of God, of England, France and Ireland, Queen, Defender of the Faith, &c. And there continued until the Diſſolution thereof, being the nineteenth of December next following, 1601. To the high pleaſure of Almighty God, and weal-publick of this Realm, were enacted as followeth.

CAP. I.

An Act for confirmation of Grants made to the Queens Majeſty, &c. and of Letters Patents made by her Highneſs to others.

Patents 8. Aſſurances made to or for the Queen of any lands, &c. ſince Feb. 8. Anno 25. of her Reign: and all Letters Patents made by the Queen to others ſince that time, &c. confirmed. To what Letters patents this Stat. doth extend, and to what not.

IN moſt humble wiſe beſeechen your moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this your Highneſs Parliament aſſembled, That whereas ſithence the eighth day of February, in the five and twentieth year of your Majeſties Reign, divers and ſundry honors, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices and other hereditaments, have been conveyed and aſſured to your Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors, by and from divers and ſundry perſons and bodies politick, as well for the diſcharge and ſatisfaction of great debts and ſums of money, as for other good conſiderations: (2) That for the better aſſurances, confirmation and ſurety thereof, it may be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That all feoffments, fines, ſurrenders, aſſurances, conveyances and eſtates, in any wiſe conveyed, had or made to or for your Highneſs, by or from any perſon or perſons, bodies politick or corporate, ſithence the ſaid eighth day of February, in the five and twentieth year of your Majeſties Reign, of any honors, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices and other hereditaments, for any debt, ſum or ſums of money, or other conſideration whatſoever (other then conveyances or eſtates heretofore had or made by any Eccleſiaſtical perſon or perſons, or bodies politick or corporate not having power or ability by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm to make the ſame) ſhall ſtand, remain and be good and available in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, according to the true meaning, intent and purport of the ſame: Co. El. 11 f. 75.

A ſaving of the right of others.

II. Saving to all and every perſon and perſons, and to their heirs, bodies politick and corporate, and to their ſucceſſors, and every of them (other than ſuch perſon or perſons, and their heirs and wives, being parties or privies to ſuch conveyances or aſſurances, and every of them, bodies politick and corporate, and their ſucceſſors, and every of them, of, or from whom the Queens Highneſs hath had, obtained or purchaſed any manors, meſſuages, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices or hereditaments, by exchange, gift, bargain, fee, feoffment, recovery, deed inrolled, or otherwiſe) (2) all ſuch right, title, intereſt, uſe, poſſeſſions, rents, reverſions, remainders, offices, fees, commons, profits, and commodities whatſoever, which they or any of them have, might or ought to have had, of, in or to the premiſſes, or any part thereof, in as large and ample manner, form and condition, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as if this Act had never been had ne made; This preſent Act or any thing therein contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

III. And whereas your excellent Majeſty, ſithence the ſaid eighth day of February, in the five and twentieth year of your Highneſs Reign, as well for divers and great ſums of money, as alſo for divers and ſundry other conſiderations, hath bargained, ſold, given and granted by your Highneſs ſundry Letters Patents, Indentures or other Writings, ſealed under the Great Seal of England, or the Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, or the Seal of the County Palatine of Lancaſter, as well to bodies politick and corporate, as to divers and ſundry other your Highneſs loving and obedient Subjects, divers and ſundry honors, manors, lands, tenements, rents, reverſions, ſervices and other hereditaments, in fee-ſimple, fee-tail, or for term of life, lives or years, as in the ſame ſeveral Letters Patents, Indentures and other Writings is mentioned and declared, That to the intent the ſame Letters Patents, Indentures and other Writings may be of good, available and perfect force and effect of all and every your Highneſs loving Subjects, according to the true meaning and effect of the ſame: (2) It may pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, that it may be enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That as well all and ſingular Letters Patents, Indentures and other Writings ſealed under the Great Seal of England, or under the Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, or the Seal of the County Palatine of Lancaſter, heretofore made and granted by your Highneſs for any ſums of money, or for and upon any other conſiderations, ſithence the ſaid eighth day of February, in the five and twentieth year of your Highneſs Reign, as all other Letters Patents hereafter to be made by your Highneſs, for any ſum or ſums of money, or other conſiderations, before the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament: (3) And moreover, all other Letters Patents within the ſpace of one year then next enſuing, to be made by force, or according to the purport or true meaning of the Commiſſion under the Great Seal of England, now in being, for ſale of your Highneſs Lands to any body politick or corporate, or to any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, of any honors, caſtles, manors, lordſhips, graunges, meaſes, lands, tenements, meadows, paſtures, rents, reverſions, ſervices, woods, advowſons, nominations, patronages, annuities, rights, intereſts, entries, conditions, leets, courts, liberties, priviledges, franchiſes, or of any other hereditaments with their appurtenances, or of any part or parcel of them, ſealed with, or under the Great Seal of England, or under the Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, or the Seal of the County Palatine of Lancaſter, of whatſoever kind, nature or quality they or any of them be, or ſhall be reputed, known or taken, with their appurtenances, or any part or parcel of them, (4) ſhall be good, perfect and effectual in the law, and ſhall ſtand, be taken, reputed, deemed and adjudged good, perfect, ſure, available and effectual in the law, againſt your Highneſs, your Heirs and Succeſſors, according to the tenor and effect of the ſaid Letters Patents, Indentures or other Writings: (5) The ſame to be expounded, conſtrued, deemed and adjudged moſt beneficially for the Patentees and Grantees of the ſame, and their heirs, aſſigns, executors and adminiſtrators, according unto the words and purport of every the ſaid Letters Patents, Indentures or other Writings, without any confirmation, licence or toleration of your Highneſs, your Heirs or Succeſſors; (6) Any miſ-naming, miſ-recital, nor non-recital of any the ſame honors, caſtles, manors, lands, tenements and other premiſſes, or of any parcel thereof: (7) Or any lack of finding of Offices or Inquiſitions, of, and in the premiſſes, or any part thereof, whereby the title of your Highneſs therein ought to have been found before the making of the ſame Letters Patents, Indentures or other Writings. An Act for the relief of the Poor.

Hil. 94. 1 Roll. 107.

Poor 2. Who ſhall be Overſeers for the poor; their office, duty, and account, &c. 39 Eliz. 3.

BE it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That the Churchwardens of every Pariſh, and four, three, or two ſubſtantial houſholders there, as ſhall be thought meet, having reſpect to the proportion and greatneſs of the ſame pariſh and pariſhes, to be nominated yearly in Eaſter week, or within one month after Eaſter, under the Hand and Seal of two or more Juſtices of the Peace in the ſame County, whereof one to be of the Quorum, dwelling in or near the ſame pariſh or diviſion where the ſame pariſh doth lie, ſhall be called Overſeers of the poor of the ſame pariſh: And they, or the greater part of them, ſhall take order from time to time, by and with the conſent of two or more ſuch Juſtices of Peace, as is aforeſaid, for ſetting to work the children of all ſuch whoſe parents ſhall not by the ſaid Churchwardens and Overſeers, or the greater part of them, be thought able to keep and maintain their children; and alſo for ſetting to work all ſuch perſons, married or unmarried, having no means to maintain them, and uſe no ordinary and daily trade of life to get their living by: And alſo to raiſe weekly, or otherwiſe (by taxation of every inhabitant, Parſon, Vicar, and other, and of every occupier of lands, houſes, tithes impropriate, propriations of tithes, coal-mines, or ſaleable Underwoods in the ſaid pariſh, in ſuch competent ſum and ſums of money as they ſhall think fit) a convenient ſtock of Flax, Hemp, Wooll, Thread, Iron, and other ware and ſtuff to ſet the poor on work: And alſo competent ſums of money for and towards the neceſſary relief of the lame, impotent, old, blind, and ſuch other among them, being poor, and not able to work, and alſo for the putting out of ſuch children to be apprentices, to be gathered out of the ſame pariſh, according to the ability of the ſame pariſh, and to do and execute all other things, as well for the diſpoſing of the ſaid ſtock, as otherwiſe concerning the premiſſes, as to them ſhall ſeem convenient:

Cro. Car. 29.

Who ſhall be taxed towards the relief of the poor.

A convenient ſtock ſhall be provided to ſet the poor on work. 3 Car. 4.

II. Which ſaid Churchwardens and Overſeers ſo to be nominated, or ſuch of them as ſhall not be let by ſickneſs, or other juſt excuſe to be allowed by two ſuch Juſtices of Peace, or more, as is aforeſaid, ſhall meet together at the leaſt once every month, in the Church of the ſaid pariſh, upon the Sunday in the afternoon, after Divine Service, there to conſider of ſome good courſe to be taken, and of ſome meet order to be ſet down in the premiſſes, (2) and ſhall within four days after the end of their year, and after other Overſeers nominated, as aforeſaid, make and yield up to ſuch two Juſtices of Peace, as is aforeſaid, a true and perfect account of all ſums of money by them received, or rated and aſſeſſed, and not received, and alſo of ſuch ſtock as ſhall be in their hands, or in the hands of any of the poor to work, and of all other things concerning their ſaid Office; (3) and ſuch ſum or ſums of money as ſhall be in their hands, and ſhall pay and deliver over to the ſaid Churchwardens and Overſeers newly nominated and appointed, as aforeſaid, (4) upon pain that every one of them abſenting themſelves without lawful cauſe, as aforeſaid, from ſuch monthly meeting for the purpoſe aforeſaid, or being negligent in their Office, or in the execution of the Orders aforeſaid, being made by and with the aſſent of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any two of them before mentioned, to forfeit for every ſuch default of abſence or negligence, twenty ſhillings.

The Overſeers ſhall meet once every month. 2 Bulſtr. 345. &c. 358.

The Overſeers account.

The Overſeers forfeiture for abſence or negligence.

III. And be it alſo enacted, That if the ſaid Juſtices of Peace do perceive, that the inhabitants of any pariſh are not able to levy among themſelves ſufficient ſums of money for the purpoſes aforeſaid; that then the ſaid two Juſtices ſhall and may tax, rate and aſſeſs, as, aforeſaid, any other of other pariſhes, or out of any pariſh within the Hundred where the ſaid pariſh is, to pay ſuch ſum and ſums of money to the Churchwardens and Overſeers of the ſaid poor pariſh for the ſaid purpoſes, as the ſaid Juſtices ſhall think fit, according to the intent of this Law: (2) And if the ſaid Hundred ſhall not be thought to the ſaid Juſtices able and fit to relieve the ſaid ſeveral pariſhes not able to provide for themſelves, as aforeſaid; then the Juſtices of Peace at their general quarter Seſſions, or the greater number of them, ſhall rate and aſſeſs, as aforeſaid, any other of other pariſhes, or out of any pariſh within the ſaid County for the purpoſes aforeſaid, as in their diſcretion ſhall ſeem fit.

A proviſion where the inhabitants of any pariſh are not able to relieve the poor. 2 Bulſtr. 351.

IV. And that it ſhall be lawful, as well for the preſent as ſubſequent Churchwardens and Overſeers, or any of them, by warrant from any ſuch two Juſtices of Peace, as is aforeſaid, to levy as well the ſaid ſums of money, and all arrearages, of every one that ſhall refuſe to contribute according as they ſhall be aſſeſſed, by diſtreſs and ſale of the offenders goods, as the ſums of money or ſtock which ſhall be behind upon any account to be made, as aforeſaid, rendring to the parties the over-plus; (2) and in defect of ſuch diſtreſs, it ſhall be lawful for any two Juſtices of the Peace to commit him or them to the common Goal of the County, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until payment of the ſaid ſum, arrearages and ſtock: (3) And the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any one of them, to ſend to the Houſe of Correction common Goal, ſuch as ſhall not imploy themſelves to work, being appointed thereunto, as aforeſaid:

A remedy for them which find themſelves grieved with any tax.

VI. Provided always, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall find themſelves grieved with any ſeſs or tax, or other Act done by the ſaid Churchwardens, and other perſons, or by the ſaid Juſtices of Peace; that then it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices of Peace, at their general quarter Seſſions, or the greater number of them, to take ſuch order therein, as to them ſhall be thought convenient; and the ſame to conclude and bind all the ſaid parties.

Poor perſons relieved by their parents or children. 2 Bulſtr. 344.

VII. And be it further enacted, That the Father and Grandfather, and the Mother and Grandmother, and the children of every poor, old, blind, lame and impotent perſon, or other poor perſon not able to work, being of a ſufficient ability, ſhall at their own charges relieve and maintain every ſuch poor perſon in that manner, and according to that rate, as by the Juſtices of Peace of that County where ſuch ſufficient perſons dwell, or the greater number of them, at their general quarter Seſſions ſhall be aſſeſſed, (2) upon pain that every one of them ſhall forfeit twenty ſhillings for every month which they ſhall fail therein.

Officers of corporate Towns have the authority of Juſtices of Peace.

VIII. And be it further hereby enacted, That the Mayors, Bailiffs, or other Head-Officers of every Town or place corporate, and City within this Realm, being Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace, ſhall have the ſame authority by virtue of this Act, within the limits and precincts of their Juriſdictions, as well out of Seſſions, as at their Seſſions, if they hold any, as is herein limited, preſcribed and appointed to Juſtices of the Peace of the County, or any two or more of them, or to the Juſtices of Peace in their quarter Seſſions, to do and execute for all the uſes and purpoſes in this Act preſcribed, and no other Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace to enter or meddle there: (2) And that every Alderman of the City of London within his Ward, ſhall and may do and execute in every reſpect, ſo much as is appointed and allowed by this Act to be done and executed by one or two Juſtices of Peace of any County within this Realm.

Aldermen of London.

A Pariſh extending into two Counties, or into two Liberties. 2 Bulſtr. 351.

IX. And be it alſo enacted, That if it ſhall happen any Pariſh to extend it ſelf into more Counties then one, or part to lie within the Liberties of any City, Town or place corporate, and part without, that then as well the Juſtices of Peace of every County, as alſo the Head-Officers of ſuch City, Town or place corporate, ſhall deal and intermeddle only in ſo much of the ſaid Pariſh as lieth within their Liberties, and not any further: (2) And every of them reſpectively within their ſeveral Limits, Wards and Juriſdictions, to execute the Ordinances before mentioned, concerning the nomination of Overſeers, the conſent of binding Apprentices, the giving warrant to levy taxations unpaid, the taking account of Churchwardens and Overſeers, and the committing to priſon ſuch as refuſe to accompt, or deny to pay the arrearages due upon their accompts; (3) and yet nevertheleſs, the ſaid Churchwardens and Overſeers, or the moſt part of them, of the ſaid Pariſhes that do extend into ſuch ſeveral Limits and Juriſdictions, ſhall without dividing themſelves, duly execute their Office and places within the ſaid Pariſh, in all things to them belonging, and ſhall duly exhibit and make one accompt before the ſaid Head-Officer of the Town or place corporate, and one other, before the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, or any ſuch two of them, as is aforeſaid.

The Juſtices Forfeiture for not naming of Overſeers.

X. And further be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if in any place within this Realm, there happen to be hereafter no ſuch nomination of Overſeers yearly, as is before appointed, That then every Juſtice of Peace of the County, dwelling within the diviſion where ſuch default of nomination ſhall happen, and every Mayor, Alderman, and Head-Officer of City, Town, or place corporate where ſuch default ſhall happen, ſhall loſe and forfeit for every ſuch default, v. l. to be imployed towards the relief of the poor of the ſaid Pariſh or place corporate, and to be levied as aforeſaid, of their goods, by warrant from the general Seſſions of the Peace of the ſaid County, or of the ſame City, Town, or place corporate, if they keep Seſſions.

XI. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all penalties and forfeitures before mentioned in this Act, to be forfeited by any perſon or perſons, ſhall go and be imployed to the uſe of the poor of the ſame Pariſh, and towards a ſtock and habitation for them, and other neceſſary uſes and relief, as before in this Act are mentioned and expreſſed, (2) and ſhall be levied by the ſaid Churchwardens and Overſeers, or one of them, by Warrant from any two ſuch Juſtices of Peace, or Mayor, Alderman, or Head-Officer of City, Town or place corporate reſpectively within their ſeveral limits, by diſtreſs and ſale thereof, as aforeſaid; (3) or in defect thereof, it ſhall be lawful for any two ſuch Juſtices of Peace, and the ſaid Aldermen and Head-Officers within their ſeveral limits, to commit the offender to the ſaid priſon, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, till the ſaid forfeitures ſhall be ſatisfied and paid.

How the Forfeiture ſhall be levied and imployed.

XII. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the Juſtices of Peace of every County or place corporate, or the more part of them, in their general Seſſions to be holden next after the Feaſt of Eaſter next, and ſo yearly as often as they ſhall think meet, ſhall rate every Pariſh to ſuch a weekly ſum of money as they ſhall think convenient, (2) ſo as no Pariſh be rated above the ſum of ſix pence, nor under the ſum of one halfpeny, weekly to be paid, and ſo as the total ſum of each taxation of the Pariſhes in every County, amount not above the rate of two pence for every Pariſh within the ſaid County: (3) Which ſums ſo taxed, ſhall be yearly aſſeſſed by the agreement of the Pariſhioners within themſelves, or in default thereof, by the Church-wardens and petty Conſtables of the ſame Pariſh, or the more part of them: or in default of their agreement, by the order of ſuch Juſtice or Juſtices of Peace as ſhall dwell in the ſame Pariſh, or (if none be there dwelling) in the parts next adjoyning.

The Juſtices ſhall rate every Pariſh to a weekly ſum. 2 Bulſtr. 353.

XIII. And if any perſon ſhall refuſe or neglect to pay any ſuch portion of money ſo taxed, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Churchwardens and Conſtables, or any of them, or in their default, for any Juſtice of Peace of the ſaid Limit, to levy the ſame by diſtreſs, and ſale of the goods of the party ſo refuſing or neglecting, rendring to the party the overplus: (2) And in default of ſuch diſtreſs, it ſhall be lawful to any Juſtice of that Limit, to commit ſuch perſon to the ſaid priſon, there to abide without bail or mainpriſe, till he have paid the ſame.

The penalty for refuſing to pay money taxed.

XIV. And be it alſo enacted, That the ſaid Juſtices of the Peace at their general quarter Seſſions to be holden at the time of ſuch taxation, ſhall ſet down what competent ſums of money ſhall be ſent quarterly out of every County or place corporate, for the relief of the poor priſoners of the Kings Bench and Marſhalſey, and alſo of ſuch Hoſpitals and Alms-houſes as ſhall be in the ſaid County, and what ſums of money ſhall be ſent to every one of the ſaid Hoſpitals and Alms-houſes, ſo as there be ſent out of every County yearly, xx. s. at the leaſt, to each of the ſaid priſons of the Kings Bench and Marſhalſey, (2) which ſums ratably to be aſſeſſed upon every Pariſh, the Churchwardens of every Pariſh ſhall truly collect and pay over to the High Conſtables in whoſe diviſion ſuch Pariſh ſhall be ſituate, from time to time, quarterly, ten days before the end of every quarter, (3) and every ſuch Conſtable at every ſuch quarter Seſſions in ſuch County, ſhall pay over the ſame to two ſuch Treaſurers, or to one of them, as ſhall by the more part of the Juſtices of Peace of the County, be elected to be the ſaid Treaſurers to be choſen by the Juſtices of Peace of the ſaid County, City or Town, or place corporate, or of others which were ſeſſed and taxed at v. li. lands, or x. li. goods at the leaſt, at the tax of Subſidy next before the time of the ſaid election to be made; (4) And the ſaid Treaſurers ſo elected, to continue for the ſpace of one whole year in their Office, and then to give up their charge, with a due accompt of their receipts and disburſements, at the quarter Seſſions to be holden next after the Feaſt of Eaſter in every year, to ſuch others as ſhall from year to year, in form aforeſaid, ſucceſſively be elected Treaſurers for the ſaid County, City, Town or place corporate, (5) which ſaid Treaſurers, or one of them, ſhall pay over the ſame to the Lord chief Juſtice of England, and the Knight Marſhal for the time being, equally to be divided to the uſe aforeſaid, taking their acquittance for the ſame, or in default of the ſaid chief Juſtice, to the next ancienteſt Juſtice of the Kings Bench as aforeſaid: (6) And if any Churchwarden or High Conſtable, or his Executors or Adminiſtrators ſhall fail to make payment in form above ſpecified, then every Churchwarden, his Executors or Adminiſtrators ſo offending, ſhall forfeit for every time, the ſum of x. s. (7) and every High Conſtable his Executors or Adminiſtrators, ſhall forfeit for every time, the ſum of xx. s. (8) the ſame forfeitures, together with the ſums behind, to be levied by the ſaid Treaſurer and Treaſurers, by way of diſtreſs and ſale of goods, as aforeſaid, in form aforeſaid, and by them to be imployed towards the charitable uſes compriſed in this Act.

Relief for the priſoners of the Kings Bench, Marſhalſey, Hoſpitals.

Treaſurers.

Lord chief Juſtice of England. Knight Marſhal.

The forfeiture of the Churchwardens or high Conſtables offending.

XV. And be it further enacted, That all the ſurpluſage of money which ſhall be remaining in the ſaid Stock of any County, ſhall by diſcretion of the more part of the Juſtices of Peace in their quarter Seſſions, be ordered, diſtributed and beſtowed for the relief of the poor Hoſpitals of that County, and of thoſe that ſhall ſuſtain loſſes by fire, water, the ſea, or other caſualties, and to ſuch other charitable purpoſes, for the relief of the poor, as to the more part of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace ſhall ſeem convenient.

How the ſurpluſage ſhall be beſtowed.

XVI. And be it further enacted, That if any Treaſurer elected, ſhall wilfully refuſe to take upon him the ſaid Office of Treaſurerſhip, or to refuſe to diſtribute and give relief, or to accompt, according to ſuch form as ſhall be appointed by the more part of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, That then it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices of Peace in their Quarter Seſſions, or in their default, for the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, at the Aſſiſes to be holden in the ſame County, to fine the ſame Treaſurer by their diſcretion; (2) the ſame fine not to be under three pound, and to be levied by ſale of his goods, and to be proſecuted by any two of the ſaid Juſtices of Peace, whom they ſhall authorize.

The penalty for refuſing to be Treaſurer, to give relief, or to accompt.

(3) Provided always, That this Act ſhall not take until the Feaſt of Eaſter next.

This Act to take effect at Eaſter.

XVII. And be it enacted, That the Statute made in the nine and thirtieth year of her Majeſties Reign, entituled, An Act for the relief of the poor, ſhall continue and ſtand in force until the Feaſt of Eaſter next; (2) and that all taxations heretofore impoſed and not paid, nor that ſhall be paid before the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next; and that all taxes hereafter before the ſaid Feaſt, to be taxed by virtue of the ſaid former Act, which ſhall not be paid before the ſaid Feaſt of

For what time, and to what purpoſe the Stat. of 39 El. 3. ſhall be put in execution.

Eaſter, ſhall and may after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter, be levied by the Overſeers and other perſons in this Act reſpectively appointed to levy taxations by diſtreſs, and by ſuch Warrant in every reſpect, as if they had been taxed and impoſed by virtue of this Act, and were not paid.

The Iſland of Fowlneſs in Eſſex.

XVIII. Provided always, That whereas the Iſland of Fowlneſs in the County of Eſſex, being environed with the Sea, and having a Chappel of Eaſe for the inhabitants thereof, and yet the ſaid Iſland is no Pariſh, but the lands in the ſame are ſituated within divers Pariſhes far diſtant from the ſaid Iſland, (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That the ſaid Juſtices of Peace ſhall nominate and appoint inhabitants within the ſaid Iſland, to be Overſeers for the poor people dwelling within the ſaid Iſland, and that both they the ſaid Juſtices and the ſaid Overſeers, ſhall have the ſame power and authority to all intents, conſiderations and purpoſes for the execution of the parts and Articles of this Act, and ſhall be ſubject to the ſame pains and forfeitures, and likewiſe that the inhabitants and occupiers of lands there, ſhall be liable and chargeable to the ſame payments, charges, expences and orders, in ſuch manner and form as if the ſame Iſland were a Pariſh; (3) In conſideration whereof, neither the ſaid Inhabitants or occupiers of land within the ſaid Iſland, ſhall not be compelled to contribute towards the relief of the poor of thoſe Pariſhes wherein their Houſes or Lands which they occupy within the ſaid Iſland are ſituated, for or by reaſon of their ſaid habitations or occupyings, other then for the relief of the poor people within the ſaid Iſland, neither yet ſhall the other inhabitants of the Pariſhes wherein ſuch Houſes or Lands are ſituated, be compelled, by reaſon of their reſiancy or dwelling, to contribute to the relief of the poor inhabitants within the ſaid Iſland.

The defendants plea in a ſuit commenced againſt him upon this Statute.

XIX. And be it further enacted, That if any action of treſpaſs, or other ſuit ſhall happen to be attempted and brought againſt any perſon or perſons, for taking of any diſtreſs, making of any ſale, or any other thing doing, by authority of this preſent Act, the defendant or defendants in any ſuch action or ſuit, ſhall and may either plead not guilty, or otherwiſe make avowry, cognizance, or juſtification for the taking of the ſaid diſtreſſes, making of ſale, or other thing doing by virtue of this Act, alledging in ſuch avowry, cognizance or juſtification, That the ſaid diſtreſs, ſale, treſpaſs, or other thing, whereof the plaintiff or plaintiffs complained, was done by authority of this Act, and according to the tenor, purport and effect of this Act, without any expreſſing or rehearſal of any other matter or circumſtance contained in this preſent Act: (2) To which avowry, cognizance or juſtification, the plaintiff ſhall be admitted to reply, That the defendant did take the ſaid diſtreſs, made the ſaid ſale, or did any other Act or treſpaſs ſuppoſed in his declaration, of his own wrong, without any ſuch cauſe alledged by the ſaid defendant, (3) whereupon the iſſue in every ſuch action ſhall be joyned, to be tried by verdict of twelve men, and not otherwiſe, as is accuſtomed in other perſonal actions: (4) And upon the trial of that iſſue, the whole matter to be given on both parties in evidence, according to the very truth of the ſame, (5) and after ſuch iſſue tried for the defendant, or nonſuit of the plaintiff after appearance, the ſame defendant to recover treble damages, by reaſon of his wrongful vexation in that behalf, with his coſts alſo in that part ſuſtained, and that to be aſſeſſed by the ſame Jury or Writ to enquire of the damages, as the ſame ſhall require.

Treble damages for the defendant and his coſts.

XX. Provided always, That this Act ſhall endure no longer then to the end of the next Seſſion of Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 17 Car. 1. cap. 4. Continued, and 14 Car. 2. cap. 12. Enlarged.

CAP. III.

An Act for the neceſſary relief of Souldiers and Mariners.

Captains 17. The Stat of 33 El. 4. and 39 El. 21. concerning the relief of Souldiers and Mariners, repealed. Who ſhall be hereafter charged with contribution for their relief; who ſhall receive it, and pay it to them, and how mariners or ſouldiers begging ſhall be puniſhed, &c.

Whereas in the xxxv. year of the Queens Majeſties Reign that now is, an Act was made, entituled, An Act for the neceſſary relief of Souldiers and Mariners, And whereas in the xxxix. year of her Majeſties Reign, there was alſo made another Act, entituled, An Act for the further continuance and explanation of the ſaid former, Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That both the ſaid Acts ſhall be and continue in force until the Feaſt of Eaſter next, and ſhall be from and after the ſaid Feaſt diſcontinued.

II. And foraſmuch as it is now found more needful then it was at the making of the ſaid Acts, to provide relief and maintenance to Souldiers and Mariners that have loſt their Limbs, and diſabled in their Bodies in the defence and ſervice of her Majeſty and the State, in reſpect the number of the ſaid Souldiers is ſo much the greater, by how much her Majeſties juſt and honourable defenſive wars are increaſed; (2) To the end therefore that they the ſaid Souldiers and Mariners may reap the fruits of their good deſervings, and others may be encouraged to perform the like endeavours,

Every Pariſh charged with a weekly ſum towards the relief of ſouldiers and mariners.

III. Be it enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the ſaid Feaſt of Eaſter next, every Pariſh within this Realm of England and Wales, ſhall be charged to pay weekly ſuch a ſum of money towards the relief of ſick, hurt and maimed Souldiers and Mariners, that ſo have been as afore is ſaid, or ſhall loſe their Limbs, or diſable their Bodies, having been preſt, and in pay for her Majeſties ſervice, as by the Juſtices of Peace, or the more part of them, in their general quarter Seſſions to be holden in their ſeveral Counties, next after the Feaſt of Eaſter next, and ſo from time to time at the like quarter Seſſions to be holden next after the Feaſt of Eaſter yearly, ſhall be appointed, ſo as no Pariſh be rated above the ſum of ten pence, nor under the ſum of two pence weekly to be paid, and ſo as the total ſum of ſuch taxation of the Pariſhes in any County where there ſhall be above fifty Pariſhes, do not exceed the rate of ſix pence for every Pariſh in the ſame County; (2) which ſums ſo taxed, ſhall be yearly aſſeſſed by the agreements of the Pariſhioners within themſelves, or in default thereof, by the Churchwardens, and the Petty Conſtables of the ſame Pariſh, or the more part of them, or in default of their agreement, by the order of ſuch Juſtices, or Juſtice of Peace, as ſhall dwell in the ſame Pariſh; or if none be there dwelling, in the parts next adjoyning.

The taxation of every Pariſh.

IV. And

The penalty for refuſing to pay the money taxed.

IV. And if any perſon ſhall refuſe or neglect to pay any ſuch portion of money ſo taxed, it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Churchwardens and petty Conſtables, and every of them, or in their defaults, for the ſaid Juſtices of Peace or Juſtice, to levy ſuch ſum by diſtreſs and ſale of the goods or chattels of the party ſo refuſing or neglecting, rendring to the party the overplus raiſed upon ſuch ſale.

Churchwardens, &c. ſhall pay to the High-Conſtables the money taxed.

V. And for the collecting and cuſtody of the ſums taxed in form aforeſaid, Be it enacted, That the Churchwardens and petty Conſtables of every Pariſh ſhall truly collect every ſuch ſum, and the ſame ſhall pay over unto the High Conſtable in whoſe diviſion ſuch Pariſh ſhall be ſcituate, ten days before the quarter Seſſions to be holden next before, or about the Feaſt of the Nativity of Saint John Baptiſt next, in the County where the ſaid Pariſh ſhall be ſcituate, and ſo from time to time quarterly, within ten days before every quarter Seſſions; (2) And that every ſuch High Conſtable, at every ſuch quarter Seſſions in ſuch County, ſhall pay over the ſame to ſuch Juſtices of Peace, or to two ſuch other perſons, or one of them, as ſhall be by the more part of the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County, elected to be Treaſurers of the ſaid Collection; (3) The ſame other perſons to be elected Treaſurers to be ſuch as at the laſt Taxation of the Subſidy next before the ſame election, ſhall be valued and ſeſſed at x. li. in lands yearly, or xv. li. in goods; (4) which Treaſurers in every County ſo choſen, ſhall continue but for the ſpace of one whole year, and then give up their Charge, with a due Accompt of their Receipts and Diſburſements, at their meeting in Eaſter quarter Seſſions, or within ten days after, to ſuch other as ſhall from year to year, in the form aforeſaid, ſucceſſively be elected.

Treaſurers.

Treaſurers account.

Churchwardens or Conſtables failing of payment.

VI. And if any Churchwarden, Petty Conſtable, or High Conſtable, or his Executors or Adminiſtrators, ſhall fail to make payment in form above ſpecified, Then every Churchwarden, and Petty Conſtable, his Executors or Adminiſtrators ſo offending, ſhall forfeit the ſum of xx. s. (2) And every High Conſtable, his Executors or Adminiſtrators, the ſum of fourty ſhillings: (3) to be levied by the Treaſurers aforeſaid, by diſtreſs and ſale in manner before expreſſed, and to be taken by the ſaid Treaſurers in augmentation of their ſtock, to the uſes aforeſaid.

A Treaſurer failing of his account, or neglecting his charge.

VII. And if any Treaſurer, his Executors or Adminiſtrators, ſhall fail to give up his Account within the time aforeſaid, or ſhall be otherwiſe negligent in the execution of his Charge, then it ſhall be lawful for the more part of the Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County in their Seſſions, to aſſeſs ſuch fine upon ſuch Treaſurer, his Executors or Adminiſtrators, as in their diſcretion ſhall ſeem convenient, ſo it be not under the ſum of v. li.

To which Treaſurer the ſouldier or mariner ſhall repair for relief.

VIII. And for the true and juſt diſtributing and imployment of the ſums ſo received, according to the true meaning of this Act; (2) Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every ſouldier and mariner, having had his or their limbs loſt, or diſabled in their bodies by ſervice, being in her Majeſties pay, as above is mentioned, or ſuch as ſhall hereafter return into this Realm hurt or maimed, or grievouſly ſick, ſhall repair, if he be able to travel, and make his complaint to the Treaſurers of the County out of which he was preſſed; (3) or if he were no preſt man, to the Treaſurer of the County where he was born, or laſt inhabited by the ſpace of three years, at his election; and if he be not able to travel, to the Treaſurer of the County where he ſhall land or arrive; (4) and ſhall bring a certificate unto any of the Treaſurers aforeſaid, under the Hand and Seal of the General of the Camp or Governour of the Town wherein he ſerved, and of the Captain of the Band under whom he ſerved, or his Lieutenant, or in the abſence of the ſaid General or Governour, from the Marſhal or Deputy of the Governour, or from any Admiral of her Majeſties Fleet, or in his abſence from any other the General of her Majeſties Ships at the Seas, or in abſence of ſuch General, from the Captain of the Ship wherein the ſaid mariners or ſouldiers did ſerve the Queens Majeſty, containing the particulars of his hurts and ſervices; (5) which certificate ſhall be alſo allowed by the general Muſter Maſter for the time being reſident here within this Realm, or Receiver general of the Muſter Rolls, the Treaſurer and Controller of her Majeſties Navy, under his Hand, for the avoiding of all fraud and counterfeiting; (6) Then upon ſuch certificate, ſuch Treaſurers as are before expreſſed, ſhall according to the nature of his hurt, and commendation of his ſervice, aſſign unto him ſuch a portion of relief as in their diſcretions ſhall ſeem convenient for his preſent neceſſity, until the next quarter Seſſions, (7) at the which it ſhall be lawful for the more part of the Juſtices of Peace under their Hands, to make an Inſtrument of Grant of the ſame, or like relief, to endure as long as this Act ſhall ſtand or endure in force, if the ſame ſouldier or mariner ſo long live, and the ſame penſion not be duly revoked or altered, which ſhall be a ſufficient warrant to all Treaſurers for the ſame County, to make payment of ſuch penſion unto ſuch perſons quarterly, except the ſame ſhall be afterward by the ſaid Juſtices revoked or altered: (8) So that ſuch relief as ſhall be aſſigned by ſuch Treaſurers or Juſtices of Peace, to any ſuch ſouldier or mariner having not born Office in the ſaid Wars, exceed not the ſum in groſs nor yearly penſion of x. li. Nor to any that hath born Office under the degree of a Lieutenant, the ſum of xv. l. Nor to any that hath ſerved in the Office of Lieutenant, the ſum of xx. li.

Who ſhall make the ſouldiers or mariners certificate.

Allowance of the certificate. The Treaſurer ſhall aſſign relief to the ſouldier.

The Juſtices of Peace ſhall grant relief to ſouldiers.

How much relief ſhall be aſſigned to either ſort of ſouldiers.

The Juſtices may revoke or alter the relief of ſouldiers.

IX. And yet nevertheleſs, it ſhall and may be lawful to and for the Juſtices of Peace and others, having authority by this Act, to aſſign penſions to ſouldiers and mariners, upon any juſt cauſe to revoke, diminiſh, or alter the ſame from time to time, according to their diſcretions in their general quarter Seſſions of the Peace, or general Aſſemblies for Cities or Towns-corporate where the ſame penſion ſhall be granted.

Souldiers arriving far from the place where they are to receive relief.

X. And whereas it muſt needs fall out, that many of ſuch hurt and maimed ſouldiers and mariners do arrive in Ports and places far remote from the Counties whence they are by virtue of this Act to receive their yearly annuities and penſions: (2) As alſo they are preſcribed by this Act to obtain the allowance of their certificates from the Muſter Maſter, or Receiver general of the Muſter Rolls, who commonly is like to abide about the Court of London, ſo as they ſhall need at the firſt, proviſion for the bearing of their charges to ſuch places; (3) Be it therefore enacted, That it may be lawful for the Treaſurers of the County where they ſhall arrive, in their diſcretion, upon their Certificate (though not allowed) to give them any convenient relief for their journey to carry them to the next County, with a teſtimonial of their allowance, to paſs on towards ſuch a place: And in like manner ſhall it be lawful for the Treaſurer of the next County to do the like; And ſo from County to County (in the direct way) till they come to the place where they are directly to find the maintenance, according to the tenor of this Statute.

The Treaſurers book of Computation and Regiſter.

XI. And for the better execution of this Act in all the branches thereof, Be it enacted, That every the Treaſurers in the ſeveral Counties, ſhall keep a true Book of computation of all ſuch ſums as they levied, and alſo a Regiſter of the names of every ſuch perſon unto whom they ſhall have diſburſed any relief: (2) and ſhall alſo preſerve or enter every certificate by warrant whereof ſuch relief hath been by them diſburſed: (3) And alſo that the Muſter Maſter, or Receiver general of the Muſter Rolls, ſhall keep a Book, wherein ſhall be entred the names of all ſuch whoſe certificates ſhall be by him allowed, with an abſtract of their certificates: (4) And that every Treaſurer returning, or not accepting the certificate brought unto him from the ſaid Muſter Maſter, ſhall write and ſubſcribe the cauſe of his not accepting, or not allowing thereof, under the ſaid certificate, or on the back thereof.

Muſter Maſter ſhall keep a book of Certificates.

The Treaſurer refuſing to give relief.

XII. And be it further enacted, That if any Treaſurer ſhall wilfully refuſe to diſtribute and give any relief, according to the form of this Act, That it ſhall be lawful for the Juſtices of Peace in their quarter Seſſions to fine ſuch Treaſurers by their diſcretions, as aforeſaid; The ſame fine to be levied by diſtreſs and ſale thereof, to be proſecuted by any two of them whom they ſhall authorize.

A ſouldier or mariner taken begging or counterfeiting a certificate.

XIII. And be it alſo enacted, That every ſouldier or mariner that ſhall be taken begging in any place within this Realm, after the Feaſt of Eaſter next, or any that ſhall counterfeit any certificate in this Act expreſſed, ſhall for ever loſe his annuity or penſion, and ſhall be taken, deemed, and adjudged as a common rogue, or vagabond perſon, and ſhall have and ſuſtain the ſame and the like pains, impriſonment, and puniſhment as is appointed and provided for common rogues and vagabond perſons.

How the ſurpluſage of the ſtock ſhall be beſtowed.
43 Eliz. 8.

XIV. Provided always, and be it enacted, That all the ſurpluſage of money which ſhall be remaining in the ſtock of any County, ſhall by the diſcretion of the more part of the Juſtices of Peace in their quarter Seſſions, be ordered, diſtributed, and beſtowed upon ſuch good and charitable uſes, and in ſuch form as are limited and appointed in the Statutes made and now in force, concerning relief of the poor, and puniſhment of rogues and beggars.

Chief Officers in Corporate Towns ſhall execute this Act there.

XV. Provided always, That the Juſtice of Peace within any County of this Realm or Wales, ſhall not intromit or enter into any City, Borough, place, or Town-corporate, where is any Juſtice of Peace for any City, Borough, place, or Town-corporate, for the execution of any Article of this Act; (2) But that it ſhall be lawful to the Juſtice and Juſtices of Peace, Mayors, Bailiffs, and other Head-Officers of thoſe Cities, Boroughs, places and Towns-corporate where there is any Juſtice of Peace, to proceed to the execution of this Act within the precinct and compaſs of their Liberties, in ſuch manner as the Juſtices of Peace in any County may do by virtue of this Act: (3) And that every Juſtice of Peace within every ſuch City, Borough, place, or Town-corporate, for every offence by him committed contrary to the meaning of this Statute, ſhall be fineable, as other Juſtices of Peace at the large in the Counties are in this Act appointed to be: (4) And that the Mayor and Juſtices of Peace in every ſuch City, Borough, place and Town-corporate, ſhall have authority by this preſent Act, to appoint any perſon for the receiving of the ſaid money, and paying the ſame within ſuch City, Borough, place or Town-corporate; which perſon ſo appointed, ſhall have authority to do all ſuch things, and be ſubject to all ſuch penalties, as High-Conſtables by virtue of this Act ſhould have or be.

How the forfeitures ſhall be imployed.

Out of what County relief ſhall be given to ſouldiers and mariners.

XVI. And be it enacted, That all forfeitures to be forfeited by any Treaſurer, Collector, Conſtable, Churchwarden, or other perſon, for any cauſe mentioned in this Act, ſhall be imployed to the relief of ſuch Souldiers and Mariners, as are by this Act appointed to take and have relief: (2) And after that relief ſatisfied, then the overplus thereof, with the overplus of the ſtock remaining in any of the ſaid Treaſurers hands, ſhall be imployed, as is before mentioned, to the charitable uſes expreſſed in the ſaid Statutes, concerning the relief of poor, and for puniſhment of rogues and beggars, (except the ſaid Juſtices, or the more part of them, ſhall think meet to reſerve and keep the ſame in ſtock for the maintenance and relief of ſuch Souldiers and Mariners, as out of the ſame County may afterwards be appointed to receive relief and penſions:) (3) And that the relief appointed to be given by this Act, ſhall be given to Souldiers and Mariners out of the County or place where they were preſſed, ſo far forth as the taxation limited by this Act will extend: (4) And if the whole Taxation there ſhall be before imployed according to the meaning of this Act, or that they ſhall not be preſt men, then out of the place where they were born, or laſt inhabited by the ſpace of three years, at his or their election.

Penſion aſſigned to ſtand in force, though the Statute be repealed.

CAP. V.

An Act to prevent Perjury, and ſubornation of Perjury, and unordinary expences in Suits of Law.

Removing 3. At what time a writ to remove a ſuit depending in the Court of a Town-corporate, ſhall be delivered to the Judge or Officer of the ſame Court.

WHereas within divers Cities and Towns-corporate, and other places within this Realm of England, and the Dominions thereof, there are Juriſdictions, Cuſtoms and Priviledges to hold plea in actions of debt, and other actions, plaints and ſuits between party and party, and divers of her Majeſties Subjects do daily commence many actions, plaints and ſuits in the ſaid Cities, Towns-corporate and places, according to the Juriſdictions, Cuſtoms and Priviledges of the ſaid places, (2) and many defendants in actions, plaints and ſuits there brought and commenced, will ſuffer the ſaid actions, plaints and ſuits to be proceeded in and proſecuted there, until the cauſe between the plaintiffs and them be at iſſue, and the Jury ſworn, and evidence given on the plaintiffs part, before the ſaid defendant will deliver into the Court where the ſaid actions, plaints or ſuits are to be tried, Writs formerly ſued forth by them, to remove the cauſe there depending, into ſome one or other of her Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter; (3) which keeping back of the ſaid Writ, is done by the defendant, to no other purpoſe or intent, but to put the parties plaintiffs to as great charges and expences as they the ſaid defendants can, and to know what proofs the parties plaintiffs can make for the proving of their iſſues, whereby the defendants that ſued forth the ſaid Writs, may have longer time to furniſh themſelves with ſome falſe witneſſes, to impugn thoſe proofs which the plaintiffs have openly made by their witneſſes and proofs, which is a great cauſe of perjury and ſubornation of perjury, and great expences to the plaintiffs:

II. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the Queens moſt excellent Majeſty, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and by the authority of the ſame, That from and after the end of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament, no writ or writs of Habeas Corpus, or any other writ or writs ſued forth, or to be ſued forth by any perſon or perſons whatſoever, out of any of her Majeſties Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, to remove any action, ſuit, plaint or cauſe depending, or to be depending in any Court or Courts within any City or Town-corporate, or elſewhere, which have, or ſhall have juriſdiction, power or authority to hold plea in any action, plaint or ſuit, ſhall be received or allowed by the Judge or Judges, Officer or Officers of the Court or Courts wherein, or to whom any ſuch writ or writs ſhall be delivered (but that he and they ſhall proceed in the ſaid cauſe and cauſes ready to be tried, as though no ſuch writ or writs were ſued forth, or delivered to him or them) except that the ſaid writ or writs be delivered to the Judge or Judges, Officer or Officers of the ſaid Court, before that the Jury which is to try the cauſe in queſtion between the party or parties plaintiffs, and the party or parties that ſued forth the ſaid writ or writs, or for whoſe benefit the ſaid writ or writs is or ſhall be ſued forth, have appeared, and one of the ſaid Jury ſworn to try the ſaid cauſe.

III. Provided always, That this Act ſhall continue no longer then until the end of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament.

CAP. VI.

An Act for avoiding trifling and frivolous Suits in Law in her Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter.

Damages 16. Penalty of a Sheriff, &c. arreſting or ſummoning without warrant.

No coſts for the plaintiff where action is brought for a ſum not exceeding xl. s.

Dyer f. 241.

Summoning or arreſting without warrant.

FOr avoiding the infinite number of ſmall and trifling Suits commenced or proſecuted againſt ſundry her Majeſties good and loving Subjects in her Highneſs Courts at Weſtminſter (which by the due courſe of the Laws of this Realm ought to be determined in inferiour Courts in the Countrey) to the tolerable vexation and charge of her Highneſs Subjects, (2) Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, If any Sheriff, Under-Sheriff, or other perſon, having authority, or taking upon him to break writs, after fourty days next after the end of this Seſſion of Parliament, do make any warrant for the ſummons of any perſon, as upon any writ, proceſs or ſuit, or for the arreſt or attaching of any perſon or perſons, by his or their body and goods, to appear in any her Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, or elſewhere, (not having before that the original writ or proceſs warranting the ſame) That then upon complaint thereof made to the Juſtices of Aſſiſe of the County where the ſame offence ſhall be committed, or to the Judges of the Court out of which the proceſs iſſued, not only the party that made ſuch Warrant, but all thoſe that were the procurers thereof, ſhall be ſent for before the ſame Judges or Juſtices, by attachment, or otherwiſe, as the ſame Judges or Juſtices ſhall think good, and allow of, and be examined thereof upon their oaths: (3) And if the ſame offence be confeſſed by the ſame offenders, or proved by ſufficient witneſſes, to the ſatisfaction of the ſame Judges or Juſtices, That then the ſame Judges or Juſtices that ſhall ſo examine the ſame, ſhall forthwith by force of this Act, commit every the ſame offenders to the Goal of the County or Court where the ſame ſhall be examined, (4) and there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until ſuch time as they amongſt them have fully ſatisfied and paid unto the party grieved by ſuch Warrant, not only the ſum of x. l. of lawful Engliſh money, but alſo all ſuch coſts and damages as the ſame Judges or Juſtices ſhall ſet down, that the ſame party hath ſuſtained thereby, and withall, twenty pound apiece for their offence to her Majeſty.

No coſts ſhall be awarded in any action brought for a ſum not exceeding xl. s.

II. And be further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, If upon any action perſonal to be brought in any her Majeſties Courts at Weſtminſter, not being for any title or intereſt of lands, nor concerning the freehold or inheritance of any lands, nor for any battery, it ſhall appear to the Judges for the ſame Court, and ſo ſignified or ſet down by the Juſtices before whom the ſame ſhall be tried, that the debt or damages to be recovered therein, in the ſame Court, ſhall not amount to the ſum of xl. s. or above, That in every ſuch caſe the Judges and Juſtices before whom any ſuch action ſhall be purſued, ſhall not award for coſts to the party plaintiff, any greater or more coſts then the ſum of the debt or damages ſo recovered ſhall amount unto, but leſs at their diſcretions. (2) This Act to endure to the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. 3 Car. 4. Continued until the end of the firſt Seſſion of the next Parliament. Stat. 6 El. 1. 8. Stat. 21 Jac. 16.

CAP. VII.

An Act to avoid and prevent divers miſdemeanours in lewd and idle perſons.

Treſpaſs 1. Puniſhment for cutting of Corn growing; or of ſuch other ſmall offences: and of a Conſtable refuſing to puniſh ſuch an offender, being commanded.

FOraſmuch as unlawful cutting or taking away of corn and grain growing, robbing of orchards and gardens, digging up or taking away fruit-trees, breaking of hedges, pales, or other fences, cutting or ſpoiling of woods or under-woods ſtanding and growing, and ſuch like offences, are now more commonly committed by lewd and mean perſons then in former times; and that the ſaid offences are great cauſes of the maintaining of idleneſs, and the perſons which commit the ſame, are not for the moſt part able, nor have wherewith to make recompence or ſatisfaction, (2) Be it therefore enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That all and every ſuch lewd perſon and perſons which from and after the laſt day of February now next following, ſhall cut, or unlawfully take away any corn or grain growing, or rob any orchards or gardens, or break or cut any hedge, pales, rails or fence, or dig, or pull up, or take up any fruit-tree or trees in any orchard, garden, or elſewhere, to the intent to take and carry the ſame away, or ſhall cut or ſpoil any woods or under-woods, poles or trees ſtanding, not being felony by the Laws of this Realm, (3) and their procurer and procurers, receiver or receivers knowing the ſame, (4) being thereof lawfully convicted by the confeſſion of the party, or by the teſtimony of one ſufficient witneſs, upon oath before ſome one Juſtice of Peace, Mayor, Bailiff, or other Head-Officers (of the County, City or Town-corporate, (5) which ſaid Juſtice or other Head-Officer ſhall have power by force of this Statute, to miniſter the ſaid oath where the offence ſhall be committed, or the party offending apprehended) (6) ſhall give the party and parties ſuch recompence and ſatisfaction for his and their damages, and within ſuch time, as by any one ſuch Juſtice of Peace of the ſaid County where ſuch offence ſhall be done, without the Liberty of any City or Town-corporate, or by ſuch Head-Officer or Juſtice of Peace within any City or Town-corporate, ſhall be ordered and appointed, and the ſame to be only for the firſt fault: (7) And if ſuch offender or offenders ſhall be thought in the diſcretion of the ſaid Juſtice or Juſtices, or other Head-Officers, not able or ſufficient, or do not make recompence or ſatisfaction for the ſaid damages, in manner and form aforeſaid, then the ſaid Juſtice or Head-Officer ſhall commit all and every the ſaid offender or offenders to ſome Conſtable or Conſtables, or other inferiour Officers of the City, Borough, Town or Hamlet where the offence ſhall be committed, or the party apprehended, to be whipped, (8) and for every ſuch offence, for, or of which the offender or offenders ſhall be eftſoons committed in form afore limited, the perſon and perſons ſo offending, to receive the ſaid puniſhment of whipping.

The puniſhment of a Conſtable refuſing to puniſh an offender.

II. And be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any Conſtable or inferior Officer do refuſe, or do not at the commandment of any Juſtice of Peace, or other Head-Officer, execute by himſelf, or ſome other to be by him appointed, upon the offender, the puniſhment limited by this Statute, that in that caſe it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid Juſtice of Peace to commit the Conſtable or other inferior Officer ſo refuſing, or not executing the ſaid puniſhment by himſelf or ſome other, to the common Goal of the ſaid County, City, or Town-corporate, there to remain without bail or mainpriſe, until the ſaid offender or offenders be by the ſaid Conſtable or Conſtables ſo refuſing, or not executing, or ſome other by his or their procurement, puniſhed and whipped, as is above limited and declared.

None ſhall puniſh an offence done unto himſelf.

III. Provided always, That no Juſtice of Peace, or other Head-Officer, do execute this Statute for any the offences aforeſaid done unto himſelf, unleſs he be aſſociated and aſſiſted with one or more other Juſtices of Peace whom the offence doth not concern. 15 Car. 2. cap. 2.

CAP. VIII.

An Act againſt fraudulent Adminiſtration of Inteſtates Goods.

Adminiſtrators 2. Fraud practiſed in taking of Adminiſtrations to deceive others of their lawful debts.

FOraſmuch as it is often put in ure, to the defrauding of Creditors, that ſuch perſons as are to have the Adminiſtration of the Goods of others dying Inteſtate, committed unto them, if they require it, will not accept the ſame, but ſuffer or procure the Aminiſtration to be granted to ſome ſtranger of mean eſtate, and not of kin to the Inteſtate, from whom themſelves, or others by their means do take Deeds of Gifts, and Authorities by Letter of Attorney, whereby they obtain the ſtate of the inteſtate into their hands, and yet ſtand not ſubject to pay any debts owing by the ſame inteſtate, and ſo the Creditors for lack of knowledge of the place of habitation of the Adminiſtrator, cannot arreſt him, nor ſue him; and if they fortune to find him out, yet for lack of ability in him to ſatisfie of his own goods, the value of that he hath conveyed away of the inteſtates goods, or releaſed of his debts by way of waſting, the creditors cannot have or recover their juſt and due debts:

By fraudulent adminiſtration of inteſtates goods, the party ſhall be charged as Executor of his own wrong.

II. Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That every perſon and perſons that hereafter ſhall obtain, receive, and have any goods or debts of any perſon dying inteſtate, or a releaſe or other diſcharge of any debt or duty that belonged to the inteſtate, upon any fraud, as is aforeſaid, or without ſuch valuable conſideration as ſhall amount to the value of the ſame goods or debts, or near thereabouts (except it be in or towards ſatisfaction of ſome juſt and principal debt of the value of the ſame goods or debts to him owing by the inteſtate at the time of his deceaſe) ſhall be charged and chargeable as Executor of his own wrong, (2) and ſo far only as all ſuch goods and debts coming to his hands, or whereof he is releaſed or diſcharged by ſuch Adminiſtrator, will ſatisfie, deducting nevertheleſs to and for himſelf allowance of all juſt, due and principal debts upon good conſideration, without fraud, owing to him by the inteſtate at the time of his deceaſe, and of all other payments made by him, which lawful Executors or Adminiſtrators may and ought to have and pay by the Laws and Statutes of this Realm.

Allowance of juſt debts, and other lawful payments.

CAP. XI.

An Act for the recovering of many hundred thouſand Acres of Mariſhes, and other grounds ſubject commonly to ſurrounding, within the Iſle of Ely, and the Counties of Cambridge, Huntington, Northampton, Lincoln, Norfolk, Suffolk, Suſſex, Eſſex, Kent, and the County Palatine of Durham.

WHereas it is apparent to ſuch as have travelled in the execution of Commiſſions of Sewers in the Iſle and Counties aforeſaid, that the Waſtes, Commons, Mariſhes, and Fenny Grounds there ſubject to ſurrounding, may be recovered by ſkilful and able Undertakers, whereby great and ineſtimable benefit would ariſe to her Majeſty, her Heirs and Succeſſors, diſburdening her Highneſs of many chargeable Banks and Works of Sewers within thoſe ſurrounded grounds, as the encreaſe of many able Subjects, by habitations being there erected, and in like ſort profitable unto many her Highneſs Subjects, both bodies politick and corporate, who have Eſtate of Inheritance, and other intereſt within the ſame: (2) And for that the draining and making dry and profitable of thoſe ſurrounded grounds is chiefly hindred, for that the greater part of them are Waſtes and Commons ſubject yearly to ſurrounding, wherein divers have Common by preſcription, by reaſon of their reſiancy and inhabitancy, which kind of Commons, nor their intereſt therein can by the Common Law be extinguiſhed, or granted to bind others which ſhould Inhabit there afterwards; (3) And in that alſo it appeareth, that the Commoners in reſpect of their poverty, are unable to pay the great charges to ſuch as ſhould undertake the recovery of the ſame:

Approvements S. Approvement may be made between Lords and Commoners of great Mariſhes in ſeveral Counties and the perſons undertaking to keep them perpetually dry, &c.

II. It may pleaſe your Majeſty, that by your Highneſs, and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, and the authority of the ſame, It may be enacted, That the Lord or Lords, as well bodies politick or corporate, as any other perſon or perſons whatſoever, of all and every the Waſtes and Commons aforeſaid, and the moſt of the Commoners for the particular Commons, and likewiſe the Owners, and ſuch as have, or ſhall have intereſt in any ſeveral ſurrounded grounds lying within or near the ſame, may contract or bargain for part of ſuch Commons, Waſtes, and Severals aforeſaid, with ſuch perſon and perſons which will undertake the draining and keeping dry perpetually the Severals, Waſtes and Commons of that Quality: (2) Which contract and bargain, and conveyances thereupon made, ſhall be good and available in Law to all conſtructions and purpoſes, againſt the ſaid Lords of the ſaid Soyl, and Owners of Several, and their hers, ſucceſſors and aſſigns, and all the Commoners, and ſuch as ſhall or might have Common or Intereſt there afterward, according to the contracts, covenants, proviſions and agreements in thoſe conveyances to be ſpecified, and for ſo much of ſuch Commons, Waſtes, or Severals as ſhall be ſo contracted or conveyed, to hold and enjoy in ſeveralty to ſuch perſon and perſons, his or their Aſſignee or Aſſignees, as ſhall or have undertaken the ſame in ſuch manner and form as his or their Eſtates and Intereſt are, or ſhall be, by or upon ſuch contracts or agreements, by ſuch conveyances limited and appointed.

A bargain between the Lords and Commoners, in waſtes, and undertakers.

III. CAP. XII.

An Act concerning matters of Aſſurances uſed among Merchants.

Merchants 15. The benefits enſuing by the encouragement of merchants. 3 Inſt. 105. Stiles. 166.

Whereas it ever hath been the policy of this Realm by all good means to comfort and encourage the Merchant, thereby to advance and encreaſe the general Wealth of the Realm, her Majeſties Cuſtoms, and the ſtrength of Shipping; which conſideration is now the more requiſite, becauſe Trade and Traffique is not at this preſent ſo open as at other times it hath been: (2) And whereas it hath been time out of mind an uſage amongſt Merchants, both of this Realm, and of foreign Nations, when they make any great Adventure (eſpecially into remote parts) to give ſome conſideration of money to other perſons (which commonly are in no ſmall number) to have from them aſſurance made of their Goods, Merchandizes, Ships, and things adventured, or ſome part thereof, at ſuch rates, and ſuch ſort, as the parties Aſſurers and the parties Aſſured, can agree, which courſe of dealing is commonly termed, A policy of aſſurance; (3) by means of which policies of aſſurance, it cometh to paſs, upon the loſs or periſhing of any Ship, there followeth not the undoing of any man, but the loſs lighteth rather eaſily upon many, than heavily upon few, and rather upon them that adventure not, than thoſe that do adventure, whereby all Merchants, eſpecially of the younger ſort, are allured to venture more willigly and more freely: (4) And whereas heretofore ſuch aſſurers have uſed to ſtand ſo juſtly and preciſely upon their credits, as few or no controverſies have riſen thereupon, and if any have grown, the ſame have from time to time been ended and ordered by certain grave and diſcreet Merchants appointed by the Lord Mayor of the City of London, as men by reaſon of their experience fitteſt to underſtand, and ſpeedily to decide thoſe cauſes, until of late years, that divers perſons have withdrawn themſelves from that arbitrary courſe, and have ſought to draw the parties aſſured to ſeek their moneys of every ſeveral aſſurer by Suits commenced in her Majeſties Courts, to their great charges and delays: (5) For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That it ſhall and may be lawful for the Lord Chancellor, or Lord keeper of the great Seal of England for the time being, to award forth under the Great Seal of England, one general or ſtanding Commiſſion, to be renewed yearly at the leaſt, and otherwiſe ſo oft as unto the ſaid Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper ſhall ſeem good, for the hearing and determining of cauſes ariſing and polices of aſſurances, ſuch as now are, or hereafter ſhall be entred within the Office of Aſſurances within the City of London, and whereof no Suit ſhall be depending the laſt day of this Seſſion of Parliament, in any of her Majeſties Courts; (6) Which Commiſſion ſhall be directed to the Judge of the Admiralty for the time being, the Recorder of London for the time being, two Doctors of the Civil Law, and two common Lawyers, and eight grave and diſcreet Merchants, or to any five of them: (7) which Commiſſioners, or the greater part of them, which ſhall ſit and meet, ſhall have by virtue of this preſent Act, full power and authority to hear, examine, order and decree all and every ſuch cauſe and cauſes concerning polices of aſſurances in a brief and ſummary courſe, as to their diſcretion ſhall ſeem meet, without formalities of pleadings or proceedings.

Commiſſions awarded to hear and determine touching polices of aſſurances.
Who ſhall be commiſſioners.

The Commiſſioners authority.

II. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That it ſhall be lawful for the ſaid Commiſſioners, as well to warn any of the parties to come before them, as alſo to examine upon Oath, any witneſs that ſhall be produced, and to commit to priſon without bail or mainpriſe, any perſon that ſhall wilfully contemn or diſobey their final Orders or Decrees: (2) And that the ſaid Commiſſioners ſhall once every week at the leaſt, meet and ſit upon the execution of the ſaid Commiſſion, in the Office of the Aſſurances, or in ſome other convenient publick place by them to be aſſigned: (3) And that no perſon by virtue of this Act may claim or exact any fee, for any matter or cauſe concerning the execution of the ſaid Commiſſion.

A remedy for the party grieved by the Commiſſioners Decree.

III. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That if any perſon ſhall be grieved by Sentence or Decree of the ſaid Commiſſioners, that ſuch perſon ſo grieved, may at any time within two months of the ſaid Decree ſo made, exhibit his bill into the high Court of Chancery for the re-examination of ſuch Decree; (2) So as every perſon Complainant, before he ſhall exhibit any ſuch Bill, do either execute and ſatisfie the ſaid Sentence ſo awarded, or at the leaſt lay down In depoſito with the ſaid Commiſſioners, ſuch ſums of money as he ſhall be awarded to pay, and that upon ſo doing, the ſaid Complainant ſhall be enlarged of his impriſonment: (3) And that the Lord Chancellor, or Lord Keeper for the time being, ſhall have full power and authority by virtue of this Act, upon every complaint made (in order as aforeſaid) to reverſe or affirm every ſuch Sentence or Decree, according to equity and conſcience: (4) And that the ſaid Lord Chancellor or Lord Keeper, in every Suit brought before him as aforeſaid, by ſuch aſſurers, and decreed againſt the ſaid aſſurers, ſhall award double coſts to the party aſſured.

No aſſurer or aſſured ſhall meddle in the Commiſſion. The Commiſſioners depoſed.

IV. Provided nevertheleſs, That no Commiſſioner ſhall intermeddle in the execution of any ſuch Commiſſion in any cauſe or matter of Aſſurance, where himſelf ſhall be either a party aſſurer, or aſſured, in the ſame aſſurance which is brought in queſtion: (2) Nor that any Commiſſioner (other than the ſaid Judge of the Admiralty, and the Recorder of London) ſhall deal or proceed in the execution of any ſuch Commiſſion, before he have taken his corporal Oath before the Lord Mayor and Court of Aldermen of the City of London, to proceed uprightly and indifferently between party and party. CAP. XIII.

An Act for the more peaceable Government of the parts of Cumberland, Northumberland, Weſtmerland, and the Biſhoprick of Dureſme.

Robbery 1.

Several outragious miſdemeanours committed in Cumberland, &c.

FOraſmuch as now of late years, very many of her Majeſties Subjects dwelling and inhabiting within the Counties of Cumberland, Northumberland, Weſtmerland, and the Biſhoprick of Dureſme, have been taken, ſome forth of their own houſes, and ſome in travelling by the high-way, or otherwiſe, and carried out of the ſame Counties, or to ſome other places within ſome of the ſaid ſeveral Counties, as Priſoners, and kept barbarouſly and cruelly, until they have been redeemed by great ranſoms: (2) And where now of late time there have been many Incurſions, Road Robberies, and burning and ſpoiling of Towns, Villages and Houſes, within the ſaid Counties, that divers and ſundry of her Majeſties loving Subjects within the ſaid Counties, and the inhabitants of divers Towns there, have been forced to pay a certain rate of Money, Corn, Cattel, or other conſideration, commonly there called by the name of Black-mail, unto divers and ſundry inhabiting upon or near the Borders, being men of name, and friended and allied with divers in thoſe parts, who are commonly known to be great Robbers and Spoil-takers within the ſaid Counties, to the end thereby to be by them freed, protected and kept in ſafety from the danger of ſuch as do uſually rob and ſteal in thoſe parts: (3) By reaſon whereof, many of the Inhabitants thereabouts being her Majeſties Tenants, or other good Subjects, are much impoveriſhed, and Theft and Robbery much encreaſed, and the maintainers thereof greatly encouraged, and the ſervice of thoſe Borders and Frontiers much weakened and decayed, and divers Towns thereabouts much diſpeopled and laid waſte, and her Majeſties own Revenue greatly diminiſhed: (4) Which heinous and outragious miſdemeanours there, cannot ſo well by the Ordinary Officers of her Majeſty in thoſe parts be ſpeedily prevented or ſuppreſſed, without further proviſion of Law:

Carrying away or detaining any perſon againſt his will.

Aſſenting or aiding to the taking or detaining of any perſon.

Receiving or carrying of Black-mail.

Giving of Black-mail for protection.

Burning of Barns or ſtacks of Corn.

The aforeſaid offences ſhall be felony without Clergy, &c. 3 Inſt. 66, 67.

II. For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That whoſoever ſhall at any time hereafter, without good and lawful warrant and authority, take any of her Majeſties Subjects againſt his or their will or wills, and carry them out of the ſame Counties, or to any other place within any of the ſaid Counties, or detain, force or impriſon him or them as Priſoners, or againſt his or their wills, to ranſom them, or to make a prey or ſpoil of his or their perſon or goods, upon deadly feude, or otherwiſe: (2) Or whoſoever ſhall be privy, conſenting, aiding or aſſiſting unto any ſuch taking, detaining, or carrying away, or procure the taking detaining, or carrying away of any ſuch perſon or perſons priſoners as aforeſaid: (3) Or whoſoever ſhall take, receive or carry, to the uſe of himſelf, or wittingly to the uſe of any other, any Money, Corn, Cattel, or other conſideration, commonly called Black-mail, for the protecting or defending of him or them, or his or their lands, tenements, goods or Chattels from ſuch Thefts, Spoils and Robberies as is aforeſaid: (4) Or whoſoever ſhall give any ſuch Money, Corn, Cattel, or other conſideration called Black-mail, for ſuch protection as is aforeſaid: (5) Or ſhall wilfully and of malice burn, or cauſe to be burned, or aid, procure, or conſent to the burning of any Barn, or Stack of Corn or Grain, within any the ſaid Counties or places aforeſaid, (6) and ſhall be of the ſaid ſeveral offences, or of any of them indicted, and lawfully convicted, or ſhall ſtand mute, or ſhall challenge peremptorily above the number of twenty before the Juſtices of Aſſiſes, Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or Juſtices of Peace within any of the ſaid Counties, at ſome of their general Seſſions within ſome of the ſaid Counties to be holden, ſhall be reputed, adjudged, and taken to be as Felons, (7) and ſhall ſuffer pains of death, without any benefit of Clergy, Sanctuary or abjuration, and ſhall forfeit as in caſe of Felony.

III. And where divers and ſundry perſons within the ſaid Counties, being indicted and outlawed for murders, robberies, burglaries, or other felonies, do notwithſtanding ordinarily reſort and come to Markets, Fairs, and other publick Aſſemblies and Meetings, and do there Converſe, Traffique and Trade with other her Majeſties Subjects, and are entertained, and have the priviledge as men obedient to Laws, and yet do never yield themſelves to tryal of Law, nor are apprehended, whereby the ordinary proceeding of Law, and execution of Juſtice in thoſe parts are grown into very great contempt:

The names of all Outlaws ſhall be declared to the Sheriff.

Proclamation of the Outlaws.

IV. Be it therefore likewiſe further enacted, That every Clerk of the Peace within every of the ſaid Counties, ſhall within the ſpace of two months next after any Outlawry within any of the ſaid Counties, deliver, or cauſe to be delivered by writing under his hand, the names of all and every ſuch as are or ſhall be hereafter Outlawed within their ſeveral Counties to all and every the Sheriffs of the ſaid ſeveral Counties: (2) And all and every the ſaid Sheriffs ſhall proclaim and publiſh them to be Outlawed in their ſeveral County Courts, and in the City of Carlile, the Towns of Penreth and Cokermouth in the County of Cumberland, and in the Towns of Appulby and Kendal in the County of Weſtmerland, and in the Town of Newcaſtle upon Tine in the County of the Town of Newcaſtle upon Tine, and in the Towns of Morpeth, Alnewick and Hexam in the County of Northumberland, and in the City of Dureſme, and Towns of Darlington, Biſhop-Awcland, and Bernard-Caſtle within the Biſhoprick of Dureſme, and in the Town of Berwick upon Tweed, (3) and that the ſaid Sheriffs having notice as aforeſaid, ſhall from time to time, once in the month at the Court, proclaim every of the ſaid perſons ſo Outlawed, or hereafter to be Outlawed, until they ſhall yield their bodies to priſon: (4) And likewiſe that the Mayors, Bailiffs, Aldermen and other chief Officers within the ſaid ſeveral Cities and Towns, ſhall proclaim the like at every Fair or Fairs to be kept within the ſaid Cities and Towns, and once every ſix weeks at their markets.

The puniſhment for relieving or conferring with an Outlaw for felony.

V. And be it alſo enacted, That if any perſon or perſons inhabiting within any the ſaid ſeveral Counties, ſhall wittingly and willingly have conference, talk, or in any ſort ſhall relieve, entertain, or confer with any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo Outlawed, or hereafter to be Outlawed for any ſuch Murders, Robberies, Burglaries or other Felonies, having knowledge of the ſame Outlawries, by reaſon of the ſame Proclamation, or otherwiſe, and then ſhall not with convenient ſpeed do his beſt endeavour to take and Arreſt any ſuch perſon or perſons ſo Outlawed, or to be Outlawed as is aforeſaid, ſhall ſuffer Impriſonment by the ſpace of ſix months without bail or mainpriſe, and be bound with two ſufficient Sureties for his good behaviour for the ſpace of one year after, before he be enlarged of his Impriſonment.

The enquiry and puniſhment of the Offenders.

VI. And be it further enacted, That the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, within any of the ſaid Counties, Juſtices of Gaol-delivery, Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, or Juſtices of Peace within any of the ſaid Counties, at any of their general Seſſions, ſhall have power and authority by virtue of this Act, to enquire, hear and determine of the offences and defaults of the ſaid Sheriffs, Mayors, Bayliffs, Aldermen, and other Officers, and of the Clerks of the Peace within the ſaid Counties, and proceed againſt them by Information or Indictment, and puniſh them by Fine, Impriſonment, or otherwiſe, as they ſhall think fit.

The authority of the Lords Wardens ſhall not be impeached.

VII. Provided always, That this Act, nor any thing therein contained ſhall not extend to abridge or impeach the Juriſdiction or Authority of any the Lords Wardens of any the Marches of England, for and anenſt Scotland; any thing in this preſent Act to the contrary notwithſtanding.

CAP. XIV.

An Act concerning the Aſſiſes of Fewel.

Fewel 1.
The penalty of the Statute of 7 Ed. 6. 7. for the Aſſize of Fewel, repealed, and another forfeiture aſſigned, &c.
A repeal of the forfeiture of 3 s. 4. d limited by the ſtat. of 7 Ed. 6. 7.
The aſſize of Talewood, Billet and Faggot, limited by the ſtat. of 7 Ed. 6. 7. ſhall continue.

WHereas in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter, in the Seventh year of King Edward the Sixth, One Act was made touching the aſſiſed Talewood, Billets and Faggots to be ſpent in London and Weſtminſter, the which aſſizes were very meet and convenient ſhould be kept in all places through this Realm, where ſuch Talewood, Billets and Faggots are uſed to be ſpent: (2) Nevertheleſs, the forfeiture contained in the ſaid Statute for every Shide of Talewood, Billet and Faggot, lacking the aſſize, being put to Sale, is three ſhillings and four pence; which penalty is over heavy and extream, conſidering the ſame dependeth upon the fault of poor labouring men, which do cut, mark, and make the ſame many times without the knowledge or conſent of the ſeller: (3) For remedy whereof, Be it enacted by the authority of this preſent Parliament, That ſo much of the ſaid Statute as concerneth the forfeiture of three ſhillings four pence for every Shide of Talewood, Billet or Faggot, lacking the aſſize contained therein, ſhall from henceforth be void and of none effect; (4) And yet the aſſize of the ſaid Talewood, Billet and Faggots, ſhall ſtill continue in force, not only for London and Weſtminſter, but alſo in all other Cities, Boroughs, and Towns-corporate of this Realm, where ſuch Talewood, Billet and Faggots are accuſtomed to be ſold.

Six charged to enquire of the defaults of talewood, &c.

The forfeiture ſhall be diſtributed to the poor.

II. And be it further enacted, That if any perſon or perſons ſhall after the firſt day of May now next enſuing, bring any Talewood, Billet or Faggot to any City, Borough, or Town-corporate within this Realm, are to be ſold, or being brought, ſhall put the ſame to ſale, neither being of the aſſize mentioned in the ſaid Statute made in the Seventh year of King Edward the Sixth, or agreeing with the meaſures hereafter in this Act limited, that then upon information thereof, given to the Mayor, Bailiff, or other Head-officer of the ſaid City, Borough or Town-corporate, they ſhall have power and authority to call before them ſix good and lawful men of the ſaid City, Borough or Town-corporate, and ſhall ſwear them upon their corporal Oaths, truly to enquire and preſent, whether all or any part of the ſaid Talewood, Billets or Faggots be of good and ſufficient aſſize, according to the ſaid Statute, and the limitation of aſſize herein contained, or not: (2) And if they ſhall preſent upon their Oaths, that any of the ſame Talewood, Billets or Faggots be not of ſuch good and ſufficient aſſize as aboveſaid, That then the ſaid Mayor, Bailiffs, and other Head-officers, of the Cities, Boroughs, and Towns-corporate, by force of this Act upon their preſentment, ſhall and may take ſuch of the ſame Talewood, Billets and Faggots as be falſe ſized, as forfeited, (3) and ſhall deliver the ſame unto ſome Overſeers for the Poor in the ſaid Cities, Boroughs, and Towns-corporate, to be by them given and diſtributed to the Poor there, according to their diſcretions, from time to time, as often as ſuch offences ſhall be preſented in manner and form aboveſaid.

III. And whereas in the ſaid former Statute it was enacted and limited, That every Taleſhide ſhall contain in length four foot beſides the Carff, (2) And every Taleſhide named one ſhould contain in greatneſs within one foot of the midſt, ſixteen inches about; (3) and every Taleſhide named of two, to contain in greatneſs within a foot of the midſt, twenty and three inches about; (4) and every Taleſhide named of three, to contain in greatneſs within one foot of the midſt, twenty and eight inches about; (5) and every Taleſhide named of four, to contain in greatneſs within one foot of the midſt, thirty three inches about; (6) and every Taleſhide named of five, to contain in greatneſs within one foot of the midſt, thirty eight inches about: (7) And every Billet to contain in length three foot four inches; and every Billet named a Single, to contain ſeven inches and an half about; (8) and every Billet named to be a Caſt, to contain ten inches about; (9) and every Billet named of two Caſt, to contain four inches about: (10) and every Faggot, bent or ſtick, to contain in length three foot; (11) and the bond of every ſuch Faggot to be of four and twenty inches about, beſides the knot: (12) In which Act it was further enacted, That all Billets of two Caſt ſhould be marked within ſix inches of the midſt thereof; (13) and every Billet of one Caſt to be marked only within four inches of the end thereof, as in the ſaid Act of Parliament amongſt divers other Clauſes, Articles and Proviſions, doth and may appear: (14) And whereas divers evil diſpoſed perſons, evading from the true intent, good meaning and purpoſe of the ſaid Act of Parliament, have cunningly deviſed, by cleaving of Wood made or to be marked for Talewood or Billet, and by ſtopping of Fagots with ſhort ſticks about the midſt thereof, ſo to deceive and abuſe the Subjects of this Realm, as many times they ſell the one half or little more for the whole, and yet ſo cunningly carried, that by the ſtrict Letter of the ſaid Statute they cannot be controlled, by reaſon the ſaid Statute, uſeth only the word (About) and warneth the word (Round:) (15) And whereas by the true intent of the ſaid Statute, every bend of Faggot ſhall be three foot, and the bond beſides the knot, four and twenty inches, the ſaid evil diſpoſed people do not only make the ſaid bends or Faggot ſticks much ſhorter, but if any chance to be of ſufficient length, then only one or two of thoſe ſhall be put in a Faggot, and the bond filled up with ſhort ſticks or bends ſcarce one foot long, to the gteat damage and deceit of her Majeſties Subjects buying the ſame.

Several deceitful practices to defraud the true meaning of the Statute of 7 Ed. 6. 7.

IV. For avoiding of all which deceits for ever hereafter, and to avoid all ſcruple, ambiguity, or doubt hereafter to be made of the ſaid Statute, or the true meaning thereof, and for that it muſt needs be permitted to cleave great Trees into Talewood or Billet, for conveniency of uſe: (2) Be it therefore (for explanation of the true intent of the ſaid Statute) enacted by authority of this preſent Parliament, That from and after the firſt day of May now next coming, every Taleſhide marked of one, being round bodied, ſhall contain ſixteen inches of aſſize in compaſs; being of half round, nineteen inches of aſſize about; being quarter cleft, eighteen inches and a half of aſſize about: (3) and that every Taleſhide marked two being round bodied, ſhall contain in compaſs three and twenty inches of aſſize about; being half round, ſeven and twenty inches of aſſize about; being of quarter cleft, ſix and twenty inches of aſſize about: (4) and that every Taleſhide marked three, ſhall contain in compaſs about (being round) eight and twenty inches of aſſize; being half round, to contain in compaſs three and thirty inches of aſſize; being of quarter cleft, two and thirty inches of aſſize about: (5) and every Taleſhide marked four, to contain in compaſs, being round, three and thirty inches of aſſize; being half round, nine and thirty inches of aſſize about; being of quarter cleft, eight and thirty inches of aſſize about: (6) and every Taleſhide marked five, ſhall contain in compaſs, being round, eight and thirty inches of aſſize about, and being half round, four and forty inches of aſſize about, and being quarter cleft, three and forty inches of aſſize about: (7) All which to be meaſured about within ſix inches of the midſt thereof, and to contain the length limited by the ſaid Statute: (8) And in all other forms and manners of cleaving of Wood to be hereafter marked and ſold for Talewood, which will not admit the former forms or manner of cleaving, nor any of theſe to obſerve the Letter of the ſaid Statute of An. 7 Ed 6. ca. 7.

The compaſs of Taleſhides marked.

V. And for the better underſtanding of the intent of this Statute, Be it enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That in every one of theſe forms, ſurpluſage of compaſs that ſhall happen between any two next meaſures, being above the one, and under the other in every kind, ſhall be deemed, allowed, and taken to be for and to the benefit of the Buyer, and not otherwiſe to be computable.

VI. And be it further enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That every Billet, named a Single, ſhall contain in compaſs, being round bodied, ſeven inches and a half of aſſize, and no Singles to be made or marked out of Cleft Wood: (2) And every Billet marked one, commonly called a Caſt, to contain in compaſs about eleven inches of aſſize, being round; and being half round, to contain in compaſs thirteen inches of aſſize about; and being quarter cleft, to contain in compaſs about twelve inches and an half: (3) And every Billet marked two, commonly called to Caſt, to contain in compaſs about, being round ſixteen inches of aſſize; and being half round, to contain in compaſs about nineteen inches of aſſize; and being of quarter cleft, to contain in compaſs about, eighteen inches and an half of aſſize: (4) And in all other forms or manner of cleaving of Billet to be hereafter marked and ſold for Billets, which ſhall not admit the former forms or manner of cleaving, nor any of them, and touching the length of all the ſaid Billets, to obſerve the Letter of the ſaid Statute of Anno 7 Ed. 6. ca. 7.

The compaſs of Billets.

VII. And be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That all Faggots hereafter to be made and put to ſale, ſhall contain in compaſs, beſides the knot of the bond, four and twenty inches of aſſize; and every Faggot-ſtick or bend within the ſaid bond, to contain in length full three foot of aſſize or more, excepting only one ſtick or bend to be one foot long, to ſtop or harden the binding thereof.

The compaſs of Faggots.

CAP. XV.

An Act for levying of Fines with Proclamations, of Lands within the County of the City of Cheſter.

Whereas by an Act made in the Parliament holden at Weſtminſter by Prorogation, in the Second year of the Reign of our late Sovereign Lord of famous memory, King Edward the Sixth, entituled, An Act for Fines with Proclamations in the County Palatine of Cheſter, it was enacted, That all Fines which at any time thereafter ſhould be levied or knowledged before the high Juſtice of the ſaid King, or of his Heirs and Succeſſors, of his County Palatine of Cheſter for the time being, or before the Deputy or Lieutenant Juſtice for the time being, of any lands, tenements or other hereditaments lying and being within the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, which ſhould be openly read and proclaimed in ſuch manner and form as in and by the ſaid Act is particularly appointed, ſhould be of like force, ſtrength and effect in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as Fines duly levied with Proclamations, before the ſaid Kings Juſtices of the Common Pleas, were:

Fines 14. Fines may be levied before the Mayor of the City of Cheſter, for Lands lying there, &c. The effect of the Statute of 2 Ed. 6. 28.

II. And foraſmuch as the ſaid Act doth not extend to any lands, tenements or other Hereditaments lying and being within the County of the City of Cheſter (the ſaid City, with the Suburbs

urbs

The City of Cheſter made a County of it ſelf, and divided from the County of Cheſter.

urbs and Hamlets thereof, and all the Land within the precinct and Circuit of the ſaid City, Suburbs and Hamlets, being long before, by our late Sovereign Lord of famous memory, King Henry the Seventh, by his Highneſs Letters Patents, bearing date at Cheſter the ſixth day of April, in the One and twentieth year of his Reign, divided, exempted, and in all things ſeparated from the ſaid County of Cheſter, and from thenceforth made and appointed to be a County by it ſelf, and in it ſelf, diſtinct and ſeparate from the ſaid County of Cheſter;) ſo that the Inhabitants within the ſaid City, and all others being owners of lands within the County of the ſaid City, have no means to levy any Fines of ſuch their ſaid lands in any of her Highneſs Courts of Record:

Fines levied of Lands within the County of the City of Cheſter.

III. May it therefore pleaſe your moſt excellent Majeſty, The Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Commons of this Realm, in this preſent Parliament aſſembled, That it may be enacted by the authority of the ſame, That from henceforth it ſhall and may be lawful to and for all and every perſon or perſons whatſoever, upon any original Writ or Writs of covenant, or any other original Writ or Writs whereupon Fines are or have been uſually levied, to be purchaſed out of her Highneſs Court of Exchequer within the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, returnable before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, in the Portmoot Court to be holden within the ſaid City, to levy any Fine or Fines of any lands, tenements or hereditaments lying or being within the ſaid County of the ſaid City of Cheſter, before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, in the ſaid Portmoot Court, in ſuch manner and form as Fines may be levied by any Laws or Statutes of this Realm, before the Queens Majeſties high Juſtice of her County Palatine of Cheſter, of lands within the ſame County Palatine: (2) And that the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, ſhall from henceforth have full power and authority to receive and record all and every ſuch Fine and Fines: (3) And that all and every ſuch Fine and Fines which ſhall be ſo levied, and which ſhall be openly read and proclaimed before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, in the ſaid Portmoot Court, once at the ſame Court-day that the ſaid Fine or Fines ſhall be engroſſed, and once at every of the nine next Court-days of Portmoot to be holden within the ſaid City, before the Mayor thereof for the time being, next after the levying and engroſſing of ſuch Fine or Fines, ſhall be of like force, ſtrength and effect in the Law, to all intents, conſtructions and purpoſes, as Fines duly levied with Proclamations, before her Majeſties ſaid High Juſtice of her County Palatine of Cheſter, of lands within the ſame County, are or ought to be of.

Proclamations of the Fine.

A Dedimus Poteſtatem granted to receive a Warrant of Atturney for the ſuffering of a Recovery.

IV. And whereas alſo the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, hath beeen ever heretofore (for and during all the time whereof the memory of man is not to the contrary) accuſtomed, in all and every common recovery or recoveries ſuffered before him in the ſaid Court of Portmoot, in abſence of the Tenant or Tenants, Vouchee or Vouchees in ſuch recovery or recoveries, to award and ſend forth of the ſaid Court, a Writ, Proceſs or Precept of Dedimus Poteſtatem, in the name of our Sovereign Lady the Queens Majeſty that now is, and of her Highneſs Progenitors, Kings and Queens of England for the time being, under the Teſte of the ſaid Mayor for the time being, and Sealed with the Seal of his Office, thereby authorizing thoſe to whom the ſame was directed, and ſome of them, to receive Warrants of Atturneys from ſuch Tenant or Tenants, Vouchee or Vouchees, to ſuch Atturney or Atturneys, as the ſaid Tenant or Tenants, Vouchee or Vouchees, would in his or their place or places, conſtitute for him or them to appear in the ſaid Court, and to gain or loſe the ſaid lands, tenements or hereditaments, in or by ſuch recovery or recoveries demanded or to be recovered.

A Dedimus poteſtatem granted by the Mayor of Cheſter, to take the acknowledgment of a fine.

V. Be it alſo enacted by the authority aforeſaid, That upon all and every ſuch original Writ or Writs hereafter to be purchaſed out of her Highneſs ſaid Court of Exchequer, as aforeſaid for the levying of any Fine or Fines within the ſaid City of Cheſter, the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being ſhall for ever hereafter have full power and authority to award and ſend forth ſuch like Writ or Writs, Proceſs or Precepts of Dedimus Poteſtatem, as is aforeſaid, to any two or more ſufficent perſous, authorizing them, or ſome of them, to receive and take the acknowledgment of ſuch perſon or perſons as ſhall be willing to levy ſuch Fine or Fines, and by reaſon of ſickneſs, or other reaſonable impediment, cannot come in perſon before the ſaid Mayor for the time being, to make ſuch acknowledgement: (2) And that all and every ſuch Fne and Fines as upon any ſuch acknowledgement made and certified into the ſaid Court of Portmoot, ſhall be hereafter engroſſed, recorded and proclaimed in ſuch manner and form as is formerly limited and appointed, before the Mayor of the ſaid City for the time being, in the ſaid Court of Portmoot, ſhall be of like force and effect, to all intents conſtructions and purpoſes, as if the ſame Fine or Fines had been perſonally acknowledged before the ſaid Mayor, and engroſſed, recorded, and proclaimed in ſuch manner and form as in and by this preſent Act is formerly limited, appointed, expreſſed and declared.

Where a fine levied in Cheſter may be reverſed by Writ of Error.

VI. Provided always, and be it enacted, That Fines to be levied by virtue of this Act, ſhall be ſubject to be reverſed, and may be reverſed upon Writs of Error to be ſued and proſecuted before the ſaid High Juſtice of the ſaid County Palatine of Cheſter, as other Judgments given by the ſaid Mayor in the ſaid Portmoot Court may be, and have uſed to be, if there ſhall be found Error in the ſame Fine or Fines.
